Ample Protein Feed Promised Plains Ranchers

FORT WORTH, Jan. 10 — (AP)—Texas Panhandle cattlemen can expect sufficient protein feed within the next 10 days to bring their cattle through the worst of the present weather conditions, B. F. Vance of College Station, chairman of the state AAA war board, told the Star-Telegram today by telephone. Vance said he was in Amarillo Friday when the blizzard struck, and got first-hand information from AAA county war chairmen on the protein feed needs of that area. "We already had ordered 150 carloads of cottonseed and soybean cake and meal shipped in there, and we have ordered more than 175 additional carloads, which already are beginning to move from crushing mills in Texas and the Mississippi valley," he said. Vance said reports he has received thus far indicate that cattle losses in the week-end blizzard were light, "but we realize that the stock must have feed before the next blizzard strikes or their losses will be heavy."

Three Cars Of Livestock Feed Due This Week

Three more cars of soybean cake were scheduled to arrive in Gray county this week, bringing further aid to Gray county ranchers, harassed by a shortage of protein feed for the herds. One of the cars is to come to Pampa, the other two to McLean. This will make eight cars that the county has received to date. The fifth car was on the track in Pampa Saturday and all of the feed has been issued. Meanwhile, a Panhandle area office to speed the distribution of cake to ranchers has been set up in Amarillo by Charles L. Thomas of Pampa, district director of the Texas AAA, and by Benjamin F. Vance, College Station, state AAA director, in charge of H. C. Stewart.

Clerks Will Read Report To Congress

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 — (AP)—President Roosevelt will send his annual message to congress at noon tomorrow rather than deliver it in person, but he will broadcast a shortened version to the country tomorrow night. Mr. Roosevelt arranged a late afternoon conference today with congressional leaders. Vice President Wallace, Speaker Rayburn, Senate Majority Leader Barkley and House Majority Leader McCormack. After formalities of the noon meeting of the 78th's second session, the president was expected to discuss with them the business ahead of the new session, which is confronted with a pair of legislative deadlines and a number of other provocative issues. Still shaking off vestiges of illness—White House officials described it today as influenza—Mr. Roosevelt was keeping all his engagements today in the White House proper. Presidential Secretary Early said his physician—Rear Admiral Ross T. McIntire, saw the chief executive this morning and asked him not to go before congress in person tomorrow and run the risk of a possible recurrence of his illness. "Consequently, the annual message 'on the state of the union' will be transmitted at noon tomorrow and read to the legislators by clerks."

Losi—Washington's Famed 'Farm Bloc'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 — (AP)—A newspaper publisher who came to Washington a year ago, Rep. Harris Ellisworth (R-Ore.) today questioned the existence of a farm bloc in congress, saying it can be found only in the imagination of some writers and commentators. "The statement sent this reporter on a search for the 'bloc,' and it was found that many lawmakers agree and disagree. "Farm state members did organize a formal bloc in the 1920's, with officers and a program. It encountered criticism, and one senator said it was composed of '12 lawyers and a well digger.' A senator back in that day had written in his biography: 'Well driller by occupation.' "There is not now on capitol hill a formal organization of farm state members. Frequently, however, various leaders behind agricultural legislation will call meetings of 'members interested in agriculture.' Such meetings often are set by Rep. Lemie (R-S. D.), but he said today 'there is no such thing as a farm bloc. I know of no such animal. There is more of a corporate bloc than a farm bloc, but nobody ever writes about it.'"

Reds Closing Jaw on Trap For Germans

MOSCOW, Jan. 10 — (AP)—Spearhead of Gen. Nikolai Vatutin's first Ukrainian army plunged within 15 miles of the Bug river today, and near Vinnytsa, rail city on the Bug serving as main control point for German communications to the Dnieper bend. Other Vatutin units slashing southward sent deeper one jaw of a possible trap for thousands of Germans in the Smola gap, a Nazi-held zone in the rear extending eastward to the Dnieper river. This southward drive was pushing toward a junction with Gen. Ivan S. Konev's second Ukrainian army, advancing westward through Alexandrovka above Kirovograd. Further north, the Soviets were within five miles of Sarny (35 miles inside old Poland). Vatutin's western advance guards seized Zhornishche, 15 miles from a bend of the Bug river. Zhornishche is 30 miles southeast of Vinnytsa and 33 miles from the important Odessa-Warsaw railway. (The Bug river, natural defense line, is the eastern border of Transnistria, the Soviet area warded Rumania by the Germans.) Other units pushed through Schastlivaya, 19 miles east of Vinnytsa itself, threatening to cut the most important east-west railway left the Germans in the Ukraine. (The German high command announced the Soviets attempted a landing west of Ochakov in the Black sea, between the Dnieper's mouth and the naval base of Odessa, but were thrown back. There was no Russian confirmation of the reported landing, which might be a flanking assault to bottle up the Germans in the Dnieper bend. (Berlin reported 'local fighting' west of Sarny in old Poland, and declared Russian attacks west of Berdichev had been frustrated. The Soviets were beaten back in the Kirovograd area, the communique added.) Vatutin's army was engaged in a complicated maneuver, pressing westward even while driving to the

Yanks Plunge Ahead Two Miles in Drive Along Rome Road

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers, Jan. 10 — (AP)—A heavy force of American Flying Fortresses bombed Sofia, the capital of Bulgaria today. The packed formations swept in about noon, it was announced, for the fifth heavy bomber assault in two months of the German-controlled capital. The raid was a close follow-up to yesterday's first announced Fortress operation from Italian bases, when the port and naval base at Pola in the northern Adriatic sea was hit severely. Sofia is a rail center for German troop and supply movements in Yugoslavia, Rumania and Bulgaria, while Pola is a shipping center used by the Germans to supply their Yugoslav front. Fifth Army forces bit deeper today into the tough defense belt of Cassino with American Doughboys plunging forward in a two-mile advance northeast of the stronghold and the British crossing the Peccia river and firmly holding a bridgehead to the southwest of the town. In a thrust from Mount Maiale the Yanks battered their way through strong opposition and captured the 3,500 peak of Katena Vecchio overlooking the road from fallen San Vittore to Cassino. Despite intense artillery fire, the British clung to the bridgehead they forged across the Peccia west of Mount Magliore near the western end of the 10-mile offensive front of L. Gen. Mark W. Clark's Fifth Army. Clark's troops also occupied other heights preparatory to an assault directly on Cassino itself. Americans captured 1,500-foot Mount Chiaia south of the Cassino road and still farther south they completed occupation of 900-foot Mount Porchia by mopping up surviving Germans entrenched on the mountain's western slopes after tanks had entered actively into the push. The Americans thus overlooked the village of Cervaro, four miles east of Cassino, both from the north and south. Their advanced elements were more than a third through the six-mile zone of fortifications between Cassino and the captured village of San Vittore. The Doughboys who captured Mount Chiaia continued their advance toward Cervaro supported by fighter bombers which attacked German positions. Deep snows in the mountainous sectors of the Eighth Army front restricted fighter patrol activity and heavy artillery and mortar fire exchanges. The air command said that a strong force of heavy bombers had struck across the northern neck of the Adriatic to smash at the naval base of Pola, on the tip of Italy's Istrian peninsula in support of Yugoslav patriots, and field dispatches disclosed the severity of the attacks. With Lightning fighters providing protection, the Fortresses dropped tons of bombs on the harbor and shipping facilities. One exchange of bombs. ## Japs Intensify Resistance In Pacific Zone

(By The Associated Press) Reports from Allied headquarters today indicated that the Japanese have rallied their forces and apparently don't intend giving up strategic territory in the Southwest Pacific without a stubborn fight. Contrasting with the comparative ease in establishing the original beachheads, American troops encountered stiffened enemy lines at both invasion points on New Britain. And an upsurge of Japanese resistance slowed the Australian advance up the north coast of New Guinea. In the air, too, the Nipponese threw in heavy interception forces in an attempt to beat off the knock-out blows aimed at their positions, but Allied fliers more than held their own in fierce sky battles. These developments provided timely emphasis for the words of Col. Warren J. Clear, army general staff expert on Japan, who told a London-based war conference at Los Angeles that Japan's army is stronger than ever and that, despite heavy losses, it has more planes than at the outbreak of the war. Gen. MacArthur's weekend communique told first of a Marine drive inland from Borgen bay east of Cape Gloucester, New Britain, in the face of Japanese machinegun fire, and then disclosed the Leathernets had reorganized to resume their attack Friday. ## Yugoslavs Strive To Hold up Germans

LONDON, Jan. 10 — (AP)—Yugoslav Partisan headquarters announced today that the forces of Marshal Josip Broz (Tito) are engaged in heavy fighting in western and central Bosnia to break up an attempted five-pronged German drive into Partisan territory. A broadcast communique said the general Nazi offensive, first disclosed yesterday, was employing infantry, armor, and tank units. The fighting centers around Banja Luka, from which the Partisans were forced to withdraw last week. The communique declared a Chetnik brigade was defeated decisively in Serbia and much war material captured. The Partisans battled in Macedonia with both German and Bulgarian troops. The war bulletin said the Bulgarians were defeated with 20 of the force killed and many taken prisoner. More than 70 Germans were said to have been killed in hard fighting in Slovenia. Routine Partisan attacks continued in Sanjak, (Bosnia) and Gercegovina. BUY BONDS Hereford Auction Gets High Prices ADA, OKLA., Jan. 10 (AP)—The two Hereford cattle auctions held here Sunday developed active bidding and very satisfactory prices. ## Beer Family's Heir Indicted

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 — (AP)—Curt Hans von Gontard, 37, identified by federal officials as a grandson of the late Adolphus Busch, St. Louis brewer, was indicted today with four other persons on charges of conspiring to violate the selective service law. The indictment returned by the federal grand jury charged that the five men conspired "to the making of false statements as to the unfitness and non-liability" of Von Gontard for selective service, and "to unlawfully, willfully and knowingly counsel, aid and abet" Von Gontard to evade service. Indicted with Von Gontard, also known as George Grant, were: John Edward Wilson, former chief clerk of local draft board 20; Dr. Arnold Aaron Hutschnecker, 45, a German refugee physician; Army Lieut. Francis X. Grotiano, a former New York City detective, and Michael Mangano, a navy spokesman said today. Results so far have been negative. The Okanogan, Wash., Marine flier disappeared Jan. 3 during a fighter sweep over the Japanese base of Rabaul, New Britain, after he had shot down 26 enemy planes to equal the record held by Major Joe Foss and Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker. BUY BONDS Search Continues For Boyington GUADALCANAL, Jan. 10 — (AP)—Search for Major Gregory Boyington, missing South Pacific air ace, is continuing, a navy spokesman said today. ## Air Activity Over Continent Drops

LONDON, Jan. 10 — (AP)—Allied air activity against continental targets from British bases over the week-end simmered down to small-scale forays and none were announced for last night, although radio silence in Vichy suggested attacks in that area. Maintaining the record that has sent aircraft to the attack on Germany every night since the new year, however, RAF Mosquito bombers again attacked the western coast Saturday night. Berlin said the ancient city of Aachen was the target. American heavy bombers have been idle since Friday's strong assault into southwest Germany which neutral reports described as a "death blow" to chemical plants at Ludwigshafen. The RAF's heavy bombers last were out in force to raid the Baltic port of Stettin on Jan. 5.

Taken by Nazis, Doughboy Bluffs 19 Germans into Surrendering

By KENNETH L. DIXON WITH THE AEF ON THE ITALIAN FRONT, Jan. 9 — (Delayed) — (AP)—Pvt. Billy Miller, 21, a fast-talking doughboy from Peoria, Ill., hoodwinked a German lieutenant and 18 enlisted men into believing they were surrounded and then marched them single-handed to captivity across 600 yards of no man's land. Pvt. Miller pulled the exploit when he went into action for the first time Thursday night as his company attacked a hill in the San Vittore area. Surrounded by 50 Germans while he and a few comrades were bringing some wounded and a prisoner to the rear, Billy and his mates had to surrender. A platoon of 19 Germans took charge of Billy. In a tunnelled-out cave they put up for the night. Next day the fighting was all over, so the German platoon moved

Solons Ordered Out of Uniform By President

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 — (AP)—President Roosevelt instructed the secretaries of war and navy today that members of congress "may not serve in the active components of the armed services." Mr. Roosevelt said in a formal statement that Attorney General Biddle had advised him that the constitution forbids simultaneous service in the armed forces and in congress. "Aside from the constitutional barrier," the president said, "there is also the question of evaluation of the nation. One of the greatest strengths of our democracy in the time of crisis is a strong, virile congress, to meet the problems arising from the demands of total war." The election of these congressmen after war was declared, showed that their constituents believed their service as legislators was their paramount contribution to the war effort. Mr. Roosevelt said that the desire of legislators to serve their country in arms was understandable and appreciated, and "does them honor." Presidential Secretary Stephen Early said that in issuing his instructions to Secretary of War Simon and Secretary of the Navy Knox the president was closing out a matter that had been dragging along for some time. A number of members of congress have gone into uniform, although some have given up their seats to do so. BUY BONDS Harry Hopkins Has Influenza WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 — (AP)—Harry L. ## Propaganda Of Nazis Retreats

LISBON, Jan. 10 — (AP)—German propaganda, once a powerful weapon in Adolf Hitler's arsenal, is retreating on a broad front in Europe after being forced onto the defensive by the reverses suffered by the Nazi armed forces. This is not merely a United Nations view, for it is supported by dispatches published in German papers. For instance, the Pariser Zeitung published recently under a Lisbon dateline a description of the steadily increasing pro-Allied tone of the Portuguese press and acknowledged that the trend was even more pronounced in Sweden and Switzerland. The story bemoaned the fact that Portuguese movie theaters are "completely dominated by Anglo-American films" and that bookstalls and newsstands are "flooded with English and American books and periodicals of all kinds. The dispatch added that while the Americans are newcomers in the propaganda field here they already have outdistanced the British. In the movie theaters the authorities at first banned the showing of any newsreels of the war, but the later relaxed this prohibition while maintaining a strict censorship over such films. The Germans then leased their own theater to insure showing of their films within the limits of censorship, but a casual glance at the movie advertisements today corroborates the Pariser Zeitung's assertion that British and American productions dominate the screens here.

Texas Boy's Need for Plasma Is Answered by Scores over Nation

DALLAS, Jan. 10 — (AP)—Persons he's never known today offered their life's blood to Billy Meers, a handsome youngster who plays with his boys here at Baylor hospital may live indefinitely with continued blood plasma. But Billy already is in debt 167 pints of blood to the hospital, whose officials said the plasma flow to the child would have to stop unless further donors were found, because of the drain on the hospital's blood bank. Billy's plight became known—and almost at once, from everywhere, offers came in: From nephritis sufferers who would give actual blood of the same type; offers of plasma, which has no type; offers of money. In Washington, a woman requesting that she remain unnamed, was to keep an appointment today with the Red Cross blood donor center to contribute blood for Billy. She persuaded two other women to make donations. Red Cross donor officials in the capital said all blood they collect is given to the army and navy for conversion into plasma, but expressed belief the armed forces might release some plasma from their depots in the Dallas region if the hospital made the request. Said Mrs. Charles Meers, Billy's mother, "I didn't realize people could be so kind to someone they don't know. New words would have to be invented to tell my gratitude."

Rail Accidents On Increase

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 — (AP)—Expressing concern over an increase in railway accidents, the interstate commerce commission today called upon the carriers to exercise utmost vigilance in enforcement of operating rules, and to provide safety installations "without waiting the occurrence of a disastrous accident." "It is particularly important under the stress of war-time conditions that the fundamental safety requirements be fully observed," the ICC said in its annual report to congress. The report, which covered the fiscal year ended June 30, 1943, said that in the first six months of last year 8,209 accidents were reported by steam railways, an increase of 31.72 per cent over the corresponding period of the previous year. Persons killed, 2,349, a decrease of 3.37 per cent; the number injured, 28,857, an increase of 37.99 per cent. (For statistical purposes, the ICC lists as a train accident any accident to moving cars or locomotives that causes damage to railway property of more than $150.) Train accidents ascribed to defects in or failure of equipment increased 46.66 per cent, and those reported as "due to negligence of employees" increased 29.51 per cent. The increase for the unclassified remainder was 10.33 per cent. The likelihood of accident has been increased by a shortage of experienced railway workers and an abnormal turnover in personnel, the ICC said, and many accidents could have been avoided "if the urge to keep trains moving were not permitted to take precedence over safety."

Trapped Nazis Fight Nearly To Last Man

By DON WHITEHEAD

SAN VITTORE, Italy, Jan. 10.—Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's Fifth Army was a step nearer Cassino and Rome today following the capture of San Vittore, one of the toughest German defense points in their entire winter line in Italy.

San Vittore, scene of savage fighting in one of the bitterest small-scale struggles of the Italian campaign, officially fell to Clark's men at 3:37 p. m. Thursday, but it really surrendered at 4 p. m.

The Germans had been ordered to fight to the last for the honor of the regiment, but under the relentless pressure of the Americans their commanding officer, a tall blond young Austrian Nazi, Vienna, said word to his men that they might surrender if they were trapped.

And the greater part of them were trapped, only a scattered few German soldiers slipping through the ring of steel which the Doughboys closed around the ruined village.

More than 100 prisoners were taken in the town alone during the battle which raged from house to house and along rooftops. Some of them surrendered without putting up a fight, but Americans had to make three attacks on one pillbox to silence it.

Hugging close to walls and dashing into doorways when shells whistled by, Homer Bigart of the New York Herald Tribune and I walked through the streets in one dark, cavernous dwelling found more than 100 men, women and children—Italian civilians—a wrecked people so poor they had been unable to flee from the town as hundreds had done.

They simply had no place to go except these cave-like cellars when the Germans ordered them from their homes months ago.

The only food I saw was a little cheese, onions, peppers and fruit. The children looked thin and emaciated and most of the men and women were gaunt and hollow-eyed from the nights of disturbed sleep and hunger.

Jap Prison Camp Conditions Are Reported Satisfactory

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—In one Japanese prisoner camp where 1,174 American soldiers are interned there has been no mail since May, 1942.

But the International Red Cross, reporting on the visits of its representatives to this and two other camps, describes conditions as "satisfactory."

The reports were made public today by Senator Thomas (D-Utah), chairman of a special senate committee on war prisoner treatment, who they were sent by Secretary of War Stimson.

"Undoubtedly," said the secretary "the camps reported on are 'show' camps. Nevertheless, there is some news that they were sent by Secretary of War Stimson.

"I have been a terrible thing for all of us," said this 51-year-old Glosu Vendtill who once lived in Scotland and spoke with a burr to his voice. Ironically, Vendtill had brought his wife and 12 children from Rome when he was a barber, to San Vittore because they were scared of the bombing raids.

"We come here last August," said the gray-haired little man, "but I have no home now." He pointed outside the door to the mass of rubble which had once been a house. "My family and I moved in here with other families. We had no other place to go."
