

'It Will Be A Hard Task To Convince the German People They Are Beaten--Henry

Editor's Note: Native of Palestine, ex-student of the University of Texas and graduate of West Point, Taylor Henry returned to Texas this week after internment in Germany following the break between Washington and the Vichy government which resulted in American correspondents being sent to Germany under armed guard. Henry will return to Europe after his Texas visit.

By TAYLOR HENRY
(Former Associated Press Bureau Chief at Vichy, France)

Texas' friend chicken, turnip greens and corn bread tastes just as good as it ever did—perhaps even better after 13 months internment by the Nazis inside Germany.

And the Texas climate is just as pleasant and the Texas people as friendly as they always have been.

The one sad thing is that many of my old friends are not here. Some of them are gone for good; others are gone forever. It is strange thing perhaps for someone who has been imprisoned by the Gestapo for more than a year, but the knowledge that those friends are gone has really brought the meaning of war home to me.

It has brought the real facts of the struggle to me more acutely than he never the facts which I was able to observe inside Germany. Facts which show that we still have a long, hard struggle ahead of us.

The first and perhaps the most important thing is that German morale is good. It is good primarily because living conditions inside Germany today are still good. They are good perhaps even better today than they were in 1939 at the beginning of the war.

They are good because Germany is living off the rest of Europe. It is an essential point for us to remember that Germany has conquered and still holds three-fourths of the European continent.

It will be a hard task to convince the German people that they are beaten. That it is no longer possible for them to continue the fight, so long as they continue to dominate such a large proportion of the continent.

Equally important from the point of view of morale is the continuing respect which the mass of the German people feel for Hitler. Eleven years of insidious Nazi propaganda has so impregnated the younger generations that there is virtually no one in Germany today younger than 26 or 27 years who can conceive of any other regime for Germany than Hitlerite Nazism.

Secondly it is explained by the memory of the older generations of the lean years of the 1920's, the years of unemployment, the years of starvation. They contrast that pre-Hitler period with that of today and even after four years of war they draw a comparison favorable to Hitler's Germany.

German morale has not been broken. Only a miracle will produce an internal German collapse. The German army is still a fighting army. We have got to get it out of our heads that we can win the war through a German internal collapse such as came in 1918. It means that we have got to win by force of arms.

During 13 months internment in the Reich I had an unusual amount of freedom under the circumstances. We were allowed to take long walks in the Black forest, to go on all-day picnics, where we stopped at little inns and were able to come in contact with the people.

We were allowed to go into the town of Baden-Baden on shopping expeditions, to the barber shop, to the dentist, to the doctor, to church. While there was always one Gestapo guard with us, it was impossible for the guard to prevent our overhearing conversations, to even talk with people ourselves.

It was certainly impossible to prevent us from observing the life of the people, their clothes, their food, the articles offered for sale in the shops.

In addition we were allowed some seven German newspapers daily as well as two published in France and one in Belgium. You will realize that a close analysis of such publications covering both national and regional press can give reasonably good insight into conditions.

Sometimes we were able to obtain more or less confidential information.

By all these means we were able to put together a composite picture of Germany today.

Country May Get Less Food, Due To Bad Weather

WASHINGTON, May 11—(AP)—Official and public optimism over the nation's food situation got a jolt today from an agriculture department report telling of serious delays in spring planting throughout much of the country.

In a report issued less than a week after the government took pretexts off the ration list the department declared flatly that hoped-for 1944 acreages can no longer be expected because of excessive rains, floods and unseasonably cold weather.

Spring planting is three and four weeks behind normal and because of labor shortages, lack of needed repairs for farm machinery, and other obstacles farmers will be unable, the department said, to make up the lost time.

The planting situation will have little or no effect on present food distribution programs, however, since supplies at the moment are in excess of demands and storage facilities.

A poor crop season this year would be reflected in reduced supplies later in the summer and in the fall and winter. Officials concede that present consumption for the future, but they point out there is not sufficient storage facilities particularly for perishable foods.

Crops that may be affected severely by the delayed farm work include oats for livestock feeds, corn, cotton, rice, tobacco, beans and vegetables for canning and processing.

Verdict Accidental Death of 2 Boys

AUSTIN, Texas, May 11—(AP)—Accidental death caused by suffocation, was the verdict after extensive justice of the Peace Mace Thurman, in the case of Dan Edwards, 7, and his step-brother, Dan Harrison, 9, whose bodies were found in a refrigerator stored in the garage of their home.

Joint funeral services were held here yesterday for the two youths, who had been found after extensive searching since Sunday afternoon.

2-Way Thrust Converging On Loyang Area

By RICHARD C. BERGHOLZ
AP War Editor

A Japanese menace to north-central China loomed larger today than at any time in six years, with the immediate objectives the historic city of Loyang and the rich wheatlands of northern Honan province.

Chinese headquarters announced strong enemy forces have crossed the Yellow river from Shansi province at Yuancheu, 45 miles northwest of Loyang. Another Japanese army has broken through Hulao pass and is within six or seven miles of Loyang from the east.

Japan's northeastern attack on Loyang threatens to outflank the stubborn defenders of the one-time Chinese capital and may force them to retreat westward to Sian, a natural gateway to the present provisional capital, Chungking.

Other Japanese troops appeared to have driven the Chinese from their last holdout on the Peiping-Hankow railroad but Chinese reports on the fighting were obscure.

Chinese were "nailed to Palm trees with iron spikes driven through their foreheads" after the fall of Singapore two years ago, rescued Indian Sikhs related in the south-west Pacific. The Sikhs, comprising the bulk of the 707 Japanese-held prisoners of war liberated by Allied forces in New Guinea, were quoted by the Australian department of information.

American planes scored with a 100-ton strike at the Wewak-Hansa bay sector of New Guinea, and raided the Schouten Islands northwest of Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea.

Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's Chinese troops have swept up two more villages in their drive on the key railroad towns of Myitkya and Mogaung in North-Central Burma.

Dive bombers "in great strength" are helping Allied defenders fight off the Japanese invaders of India around Imphal and Kohima.

Central Pacific islanders raided Ponape again and also struck isolated Japanese positions in the Marshalls. Ponape, Caroline Island guardian to 144 miles to the west, has been hit every day since March 31 with two exceptions.

Advertising Plan Rejected

WASHINGTON, May 11—(AP)—The house rules committee refused today to approve legislation providing for paid newspaper advertising of government war bond sales.

Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) said the committee voted the bill down, but he did not disclose the margin.

The measure would provide for an annual outlay of $15,000,000 to be spent in all weeklies and in dailies published in cities of less than 25,000 population.

Critics of the bill have contended that newspapers now grant much more space voluntarily to war bond promotion than the government ever could pay for.

The committee action kills the bill, at least temporarily, because the rules group decides which measures get the floor.

Pro-Roosevelt Force To Begin Campaign

AUSTIN, May 11—(AP)—Pro-Roosevelt forces in Travis county today disclosed plans for opening headquarters with the objective of uniting as many uncommitted delegates to the Democratic state convention for a fourth term nomination.

A spokesman who refused use of his name said it was apparent that numerous delegates in uncommitted groups did not oppose President Roosevelt's nomination.

If his is true, he said, apparently this element can be united with pro-Roosevelt delegations before the state convention meets on May 23. The headquarters would be opened as a clearing house for this purpose.

Senate Expected To Endorse Navy Secretary Soon

WASHINGTON, May 11—(AP)—Speedy senate approval was predicted today for President Roosevelt's promotion of Undersecretary James V. Forrestal to be Secretary of the Navy.

At the Navy department where Forrestal had served with the late Secretary Frank Knox for four years it was generally expected that the main line of administrative policies would continue unchanged.

Forrestal's chief task still will be that of getting production and delivery of ships, guns and supplies on time but to this he will have to add the responsibility of being the navy's principal spokesman to the public.

Forrestal's passion for anonymity undoubtedly will have to be forsaken now as he takes his place as a top-level public official and cabinet member.

In his response to public prominence, in politics and in many other ways Forrestal stands in sharp contrast to the man he succeeds.

Knox was a Republican; Forrestal is a Democrat. Knox starting work as a newspaper reporter, was active in journalism and public affairs throughout his life. Forrestal, also a reporter at first, went into business, developed a business man's desire for privacy and emerged as a leading figure in his field only when he became president of Dillon, Read and Co., Wall Street investment firm, in 1938.

Knox was a great talker, an outspoken man who coupled high administrative abilities with constant affability. The 52-year-old Forrestal, a hard-driving worker, is an economist of words, he deals almost

Carbon Company Workers Strike

All the employees of the Columbian Carbon company's plant, located in Pampa, Texas, went on strike today at 10 a. m. today in protest over the firing of a fellow worker, according to information received by The Pampa News from Borger.

District Supt. Daniel Glaxner, Pampa, was contacted in Borger but beyond confirming the fact that a strike was in progress at the Borger plant, with all employees walking out, had no comment.

He did not know, he said, the name of the man discharged, and there was no information forthcoming on the background of the case.

There was also a walkout of some employees at the Kingsmill plant of the company, located 20 miles west and two miles north of Pampa, according to information from Borger, but it was not known how general was this walk-out.

Fall-Like Weather Pervades Panhandle

Pampans started to believe today that there would be sunshine over the chocolate loam of Gray county about the same time the bluebirds are taking off by the thousands over the famed white cliffs of Dover.

Continuing the gloomy, fall-like atmosphere in mid-spring, the weatherman served Pampans another helping of rain and clouds today, forecast scattered showers, and added partly cloudy over the Panhandle tomorrow, as desert.

Precipitation here the past 24 hours totaled 1.18-inches.

Two Dead, Another Wounded in San Antonio Fracas

SAN ANTONIO, May 11—(AP)—One San Antonio detective was dead, another seriously wounded and a 57-year-old negro took his own life after having wounded a woman with whom he had quarreled all night at her home. The shootings occurred shortly after 7 a. m.

Mike Ellis, a detective, died at 9:35 a. m. in the Santa Rosa hospital from a gunshot wound in the left side.

Detective Bruce Weatherly, shot in the left arm, right hand, and chin, is under treatment at the county hospital.

Mac Belton Newton, who wounded both officers and shot a woman, is dead, having filed a charge from a .12 gauge shotgun into his own heart.

Sedelia Smith, 48, was shot in the left eye, chest and right hand and is being treated at the county hospital. Her hand, physicians said, will have to be amputated.

The officers had answered a call to the home where the shooting was reported.

Latin-American To Face Chicago Charge

CHICAGO, Ill., May 11—(AP)—A 26-year-old aircraft worker, Soviet Villegos, today awaited completion of extradition arrangements to bring him back here from Crystal City, Texas, after a Cook county grand jury had charged him with the slaying of his wife, Mrs. Louise Villegos.

Her body was found last Friday in Los Angeles in a trunk that had been shipped from Chicago.

Assistant States Attorney James V. Cunningham said he was preparing papers for extradition of the man who was arrested in Crystal City upon advice of Chicago police.

Deputy Sheriff Garrett Barnes of Crystal City said Villegos signed a confession that he had killed Mrs. Villegos by hitting her in the back of the head during an argument that followed a trip to a Chicago tavern.

Testifying before the grand jury yesterday were Edward Spiro, assistant state's attorney, Police Lt. Philip Breitzke, Arthur McCord, the trunk to the railroad station, and Frank Macias, a 46-year-old eighth grader, who told police he had helped the man move the trunk.

Coroner A. L. Brodie announced that Dr. A. Levinson, director of pathology for the coroner's office, would leave at noon today for Los Angeles to take charge of returning Mrs. Villegos' body here, and to begin post-mortem tests to determine officially the cause of her death.

Exorbitant Pay To Postoffice Workers Rumored

WASHINGTON, May 11—(AP)—Termining proposed increases of 5 to 20 per cent in the salaries of postal workers as "fantastic" and unjustified, Senator Reed (R-Kans.) today called upon Postmaster General Frank C. Walker to investigate the payment of overtime wages to postal workers during the last year.

Reed filed a minority report attacking the postmasters pay bill declaring it should be held up and that a thorough investigation by the postmaster general will find negligence and incompetence to an extent that will justify the removal of hundreds and perhaps thousands of postmasters now holding office.

The Kansas contended that most postmasters had "outrageously abused" the authority given them by congress in 1942 to pay overtime for Saturday work of postal employees, and said the cost of this overtime had jumped from $10,396,420 that year to $67,557,000 in fiscal 1944.

"The waste of public money is indicated, on the reports available, at around $60,000,000 annually," Reed's report declared.

In the light of this, he said, the recommendation made last week by a joint senate-house conference committee that postmasters' salaries be raised was "an astounding proposal to reward public officers."

New Deal Needs 56 Votes To Nominate Roosevelt in July

By The Associated Press

With 53 votes pledged or claimed for a fourth term, supporters needed only 56 additional today to supply the 589 needed for renomination of President Roosevelt on the first ballot at the July Democratic convention in Chicago.

Washington Democrats may furnish 18 of these in a state convention Saturday. With action of Tennessee Republicans in picking 19 delegates at a state convention tomorrow, this will complete the week's party activities.

Although the president has declined to say anything about a fourth term, there was accumulating evidence that party faithful who want him to run again have become increasingly confident that he will accept a draft nomination.

May 21 Is 'I Am An American Day'

AUSTIN, Texas, May 11—(AP)—Governor Coke Stevenson has designated May 21 as "I am an American Day" which was first established by President Roosevelt in 1940 in recognition of all who had reached their majority or been naturalized, within the preceding year.

On this day, said Stevenson, "citizens of long standing may reaffirm their faith in the ideals of a system of living which is known as 'I am an American Day.'"

"The chief value of new citizens [one of education]," the governor noted.

College Head To Address Seniors

Dr. J. A. Hill president of West Texas State College, Canyon, will be the speaker at the commencement program of the 1944 graduates of Pampa High school, Doyle F. Osborne said today, in listing the calendar of events marking the conclusion of the 1943-44 school year.

The program will be held on Tuesday, May 30, in the high school auditorium.

A prelude to the graduation will be the senior class sermon to be preached, also in the auditorium, by the Rev. E. B. Bowen, minister of the First Methodist church, at 5 p. m. May 28.

There will be more than 100 graduates in the 1944 class, but the exact number cannot be determined until after senior examinations are held on May 24 and 25, it was announced.

May 23 will be the last day for senior class examinations. The final class day for non-graduates. The non-graduates will have their examinations from May 26 to May 29.

Summer session at Pampa High school will open on June 1, and end on July 22, with Aubrey Steele, assistant high school principal, in charge.

The 1944-45 session will open on Sept. 5.

Flying Deuces Are Coming Home

Written by Staff Sgt. Alfred E. Sewisan Marine Corps Combat Correspondent.

(Distributed by the Associated Press) BOUGAINVILLE (Delayed)—The Flying Deuces, a Marine fighter squadron, recently completed its third tour of duty in the combat zone and headed for home after shooting down 49 Jap planes in 18 weeks of combat in the Solomon Islands.

The Flying Deuces accounted for 20 Jap planes in their last six-week tour, during which they escorted Allied medium and heavy bombers neutralizing the key Japanese bases of Rabaul, New Britain, and Kavlang, New Ireland.

The squadron, piloting the famous Corsair fighter plane, was one of the first to operate on Unsuandia airfield, former powerful Jap air base on New Georgia Island, and helped blast the way for the Marine invasion of Bougainville.

Later, operating from the American airfields on Bougainville the flying Deuces flew ground support and strafing missions to repel the Japs who were attempting to capture the fields.

Members of the squadron with Japanese planes to their credit include: Captain Richard L. Bobbs, Rice, Texas, one.

Sellers' Refusal To Reissue Bonds Holds

AUSTIN, May 11—(AP)—The supreme court ruled yesterday that Attorney General Grover C. Sellers properly refused to approve the re-issuance of four issues of Jefferson county bonds.

The decision, quickly following last week's oral arguments in the important test case, disposed of a question which had attracted wide attention from counties and from buyers and sellers of bonds.

The opinion, by Chief Justice James P. Alexander, held that none of the bonds in the four cases disposed of simultaneously were originally issued under the same chapter of the bond law applying to the Cochran county decision, and therefore the Cochran county opinion did not apply.

In the Cochran county case, the court held that courthouse bonds voted in 1924 could be redeemed at any time after five years after they were issued, even though the commissioners at the time of issuance had made no stipulation concerning the right to redeem the bonds before maturity.

Committee Seeks To Abolish FSA

WASHINGTON, May 11—(AP)—Abolition of the Farm Security Administration was recommended by a special house committee yesterday in a report which accused the agency of controlling its clients "to the extent of telling the borrower how to raise his children" and "how to plan his home life."

The FSA, the committee said, "has not been wisely administered and has been used as an experiment station of un-American ideas and economic and social theories of little or questionable value."

The committee, headed by Rep. Coolidge (D-N. C.), emphasized that its criticism applied to the administration of Rexford Guy Tugwell and C. B. Baldwin. It commended the recently-appointed administrator, Frank Hancock, for having made "substantial and worthwhile changes in both policies and personnel."

Nevertheless it called for abolition of the FSA and Regional Agricultural Credit corporations, discontinuance of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan offices, liquidation of FSA's Resettlement and Rural Rehabilitation project, and transfer of the federal aid to low-income farmers program to the Farmers' Home corporation.

Its investigation, the committee said, showed that beginning with the administration of Tugwell and continuing through the Baldwin regime, the FSA financed "Communist resettlement projects where the families could never own homes x x x and was supervising its borrowers to the extent of telling the borrowers how to raise children, how to plan his home life and, it is strongly suspected in some cases, how to vote."

The FSA's Rural Rehabilitation loan program was commended by the committee, which said it has actually relieved distress and human suffering in many stricken agricultural areas, "despite abuses in administration. The tenant purchase program, it added, also has "been operating efficiently" and should be continued and expanded under the Farmers' Home corporation.

Industrial Growth Is Seen For Texas

AUSTIN, May 11—(P)—The iron ore and steel industries of the United States are interested in the pros and cons of Texas ores, said at a meeting of the University of Texas industrial and commercial research council and railroad and utility industrial experts. Anderson predicted that both Daingerfield and Houston will become "important steel making centers supplying the needs of the southwest for steel products."

Steel, he said, was the cornerstone for industrial development in the southwest.

Victor Schoffelmayer, agriculture editor of the Dallas Morning News, predicted that a post-war housing boom will accelerate the Texas lumber and wood-processing industry; that paper manufacture will be stepped up, and new industries spring from sweet potato and other dehydrated and quick-freezing processes.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK WALL STREET
NEW YORK, May 10—(P)—Selected stocks, rails, motors and industrial specialties improved mildly in the stock market today although scattered dribbles of selling were evident.

While bidding was on the conservative side from a mixed opening, a number of prominent issues held advances of fractions to around a point toward the close. The pace slowed after a fairly fast start but turnover approximated 700,000 shares.

Great Western Sugar slipped after announcement of a cut in dividends to 40 cents quarterly from 50 cents would be recommended to directors.

In the plus column most of the session were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet and Tube, General Motors, Chrysler, Du Pont, Montgomery Ward, Douglas Aircraft, Cuban-American Sugar, West Indies Sugar, Park & Tilford, New York Central, Southern Pacific, Pacific Mills and White Sewing Machine.

Losers included Austin Nichols, which ran into profit taking, Union Carbide, Sears Roebuck and Kennecott.

Mother's Day Gift: Pawn Ticket Annulled

MEXICO CITY, May 11—(P)—The First Lady of Mexico yesterday made an unusual Mother's Day gift to 125,000 women—redemption of their pawnshop tickets.

She paid loans on flatirons, women's clothing, scrapes and bedding deposited by the women at the national pawnshop.

President Avila Camacho contributed to observance of Mother's Day by placing the first stone for the erection of a monument to mothers.

Mexico's Mother's Day observed half a week before that of the United States, included programs in all schools.

Even a bullfight had a feminine touch. Six seniorita bullfighters performed at the Mexico City building.

Vivisection was practiced as early as 300 B. C.

ODT Asked For Four Extra Taxicabs Here

If at first you don't succeed, try again.

The city commission made use of that maxim Tuesday when it authorized the city manager to ask the Office of Defense Transportation for permission to grant licenses for four extra taxicabs here.

That will make 16 in all as there are 12 now. The city commission some time ago asked the ODT for the extra taxis, but the ODT turned down the request. Reason the city is asking for four more is that the ODT rule is one taxicab per 1,000 population, and Pampa's population is estimated at 16,000.

Other business taken up by the city commission at its meeting Tuesday consisted in approving a tax adjustment certificate, and approving for payment city bills totaling $4,259.24.

It was voted that the salary of Ernest Baird, city tax collector and assessor, would be continued, despite Baird's illness that has kept him from work for the past few weeks. In the meantime, Roy McMillen, Pampa school district business manager, has been doing Baird's work for the city.

Baird is to settle with McMillen for this work, it was noted in the city commission order.

Cotton Interests Seek Price Rise in Wheat Crop

WASHINGTON, May 11—(P)—The national cotton council said yesterday rationing of clothing is possible unless cotton textile ceiling prices are raised sufficiently to insure parity for raw cotton.

Robert C. Jackson of Memphis, representing the council, told the house banking and currency committee that a definite formula should be written in the price control extension act guaranteeing parity to cotton producers.

Asserting that present office of price administration textile ceilings are "illegal" in that they fail to provide the parity level for raw cotton stipulated under the present price control act, Jackson added:

"While the argument goes on, the supply of much needed cotton goods for the civilian economy is growing less and less. If we depend on OPA to remedy the situation, rationing of clothing is likely to be forced upon the country through failure to select a residence outside the state so long as her husband stayed in New Jersey."

Herr held the decree "null, void and of no effect in New Jersey" in handing down the court's decision the advisory master challenged the 31-year-old tobacco heiress' competence as a married woman to select a residence outside the state so long as her husband stayed in New Jersey.

B.P.W. Hear Speaker; Elect New Officers

Captain Albert Hartman, PAAF, was guest speaker when Pampa Business and Professional Women's club met Tuesday night in the City club rooms.

Miss Ann Chapman, in charge of program, introduced Captain Hartman who spoke on malignant disease.

"The most common malignant disease is the cancer and the tumor," Hartman explained, telling of the early symptoms of the disease and explaining the difficulties in diagnosis of cancer.

The speaker brought out the fact that prior to our advance in medical treatment of cancer, many had cancer of the tongue and throat and that now the percentage of disease is and would continue to be less than ever before because dental treatment is now being given to men in service who have neglected their broken teeth until a constant irritation from the teeth caused cancer.

"The average age of those with cancer, until the past 25 years, was a person 45 years old. The average age of persons now is 62 and the bracket in which cancer starts in from 40 to 65, thus explaining the death rate in comparison to years ago. Neglect is the greatest danger," concluded Captain Hartman.

An election of officers followed the address with Maurine Jones, president, in charge. The club joined with other civic clubs to hold a monthly prayer service for the return of peace to our land.

New officers who will assume duties in July are as follows: president, Muriel Kitchens; vice-president, Tommie Stone; recording secretary, Vada Lee Olson; corresponding secretary, Lillian Jordan; treasurer, Vera Lard; parliamentary, Laura Belle Cornelius; education chairman, Margaret Dial; finance chairman, Lillian McKittrick; health chairman, Agnes Bergman; international relations, Alice Maxwell; publicity chairman, Ann Chapman; legislation chairman, Norma Pulp; membership chairman, Evelyn Crawford; publications chairman, Mary Lou Butler; program coordination, Bertha Chisum; social chairman, Doris Eaton.

Attending the meeting Tuesday night were: Muriel Elsie Gee, Lillian Jordan, Doris Eaton, Ida Hughey, Evora Crawford, Mildred Pickeit, Violet McAfee, Neva Burghal, Victoria Williams, Vada Lee Olson, Blanche Anderson, Pauline Lee, Madge Rusky, Madeline Johnson, Vera Lard, Maurine Jones, Laura Belle Cornelius, Ann Chapman, Jessye Stroup, Lillian McKittrick, Mildred Lafferty and Tommie Stone.

MOVIES HATH CHARMS TO CHEER BORED MEN

BELFAST, Ireland.—A free Sunday cinema has been set up here for Yanks who found Sundays boring. Pictures are secured through Army Special Services.

The free movie was opened after Gwen Nash McWilliam, of New York City, director of the American Red Cross at a nearby AAF station, discussed the problem of boring Sundays with two general Irishmen—William McConical, formerly of Boston, and G. McCullough. There's only one drawback—the G. I.'s can't take their dates.

Railway Workers' Union Is Approved

MEXICO CITY, May 11—(AP)—A new railway workers' union opposed to strikes and friendly to the national railway management was approved and given a legal status yesterday by the ministry of labor, officials of the ministry said that this organization, composed of the personnel operating trains and repairing boilers in the railroad yards, is called the brotherhood of train operators and boiler repairmen.

In the offices of the national railway management it was said that as soon as the ministry of labor recognition of the new union was received there, the management would be pleased to confer with the heads of the organization. Some of the latter said to press representatives that under no circumstances would their union participate in a six-hour strike called by the railway workers' union for May 10th as a protest against new regulations adopted by the management which curtailed power of that union.

Heads of dissident factions in the railways workers' union held meetings yesterday behind closed doors for the purpose of ironing out their disputes and bringing about unity in their organization. What they accomplished was kept secret.

In 1940, the Navy air arm had 1,744 planes; today after writing off 9,909 obsolescents, it still has more than 18,000.

Churchill Assumed Power 4 Years Ago

LONDON, May 10—(AP)—For Britons awaiting invasion D-Day and eventual victory and peace this was a memorable anniversary.

It was on May 10 four years ago that Winston Churchill replaced the late Neville Chamberlain as prime minister and began leading them through the darker days that still were to come and finally onto the road to victory.

More Men Urged To Attend Tire School

Emphasizing the need for trained repair men and pointing out that few vulcanizing shops have men trained in this work, Park Akers, regional tire examiner for the OPA in Dallas, urges every repair shop in this area to send a man to the tire repair and recapping school in Dallas.

Asserting that proper repairs on truck and bus tires is a great factor in getting additional miles for the operator, Akers pointed out that unless more trainees took advantage of this instruction, using the best and most modern equipment, the school will have to be closed.

Officials of the district office in Lubbock are urging all tire repair shops to send a man to the school, stating that proper, dependable repair of truck and bus tires is the only solution to the problem of conserving these tires.

butts and of seeing their comrades put to death because they were ill. Lance Nalk Gurman Singh related in this respect.

"A close friend of mine reported to me the death of Havildar Bahadur Khan. He had become ill and apparently the Japanese decided against wasting time and medical supplies on him.

"Bahadur Khan was given an injection and he died almost immediately. The same thing was done to at least 14 others that I know of in the same camp."

The prisoners were forced to build roads, repair airplanes and dig latrine trenches for the Japanese.

(Associated Press Correspondent Olen Clements said in a story from Monrovia airfield in the Admiralty Islands that Punjab and Sikh troops told from their hospital cots of cruelties at the hands of the Japanese.

Of the original 9,500 prisoners in the group, 1,200 died from lack of medical attention and maintenance, he said, and 300 others were down with malaria. For almost three years, they said, they lived on nothing but two spoonfuls of rice and salt a day.)

ing in to read about places where their sons and daughters are stationed. Parents, as such some hint of the location of their son is given, read all they can find about their sons' military careers, types of government and any other information to be found.

Others like to come in and study the language of the different countries and therefore the library has obtained a number of linguistic books.

One person came in with a letter signed in Spanish, "Ustedes Hermosa Bonita," meaning "Your Beautiful Sister."

People still like to read about where they come from, says Mrs. Snow. Out-of-state people in Pampa often come in and request books about their home state, or in some cases, on their foreign countries.

One man, a Coloradoan, requested "Silver Dollar," a book of the mining industry in that state. Even Texans often come in to read about other sections of the state.

Code messages are often interpreted in the library. Soldiers have learned to describe their locations without actually giving the name of the place.

Airplane identification books rate high among the popular books. A number of young boys frequent the library to learn types and makes. Mothers and fathers study "Lips," "Forts," "Milechells," "Corsairs," as soon as they find that perhaps their son is flying that specific ship.

Newspaper files have a well-known earmark through constant use by those in search of pre-war and war data. Various accounts of battles are copied on paper by persons who have received information from their sons overseas stating that they participated in a certain battle.

Books such as "This Is Our War" and "Guadalcanal Diary" have been among the most highly read books in the entire library. Post-war plans are a chief concern with many.

Harvester Backfield Shines Like Dozens of Silver Wings

CAMPBELL COFFEY

GRANTHAM McCRACKEN

WARREN WASHINGTON

Here they are, the spring edition of the 1944 Harvester backfield, the boys whose gridiron positions bring a glamor as silver wings do in the army.

Reading left to right, upper two are Johnny Campbell, No. 31, 125 pounds, one more season to play, a smart, heady back and signal caller, with more determination and spirit in his wiry body than there is in an E. F. squadron; and Junior Coffey, No. 24, 175 pounds, whose last name is the same as the athletic director, but no relation, who is showing plenty of promise as a backfield ace. He has two more years to play.

Middle row, Kenneth Granttham, No. 32, 147 pounds, as good an all-around blocker and tackler as there is on the entire squad, fiery, aggressive, good defensive player, and fine ball totter; Merle McCracken, No. 22, 168 pounds, one more season, rugged, determined, an expert line backer, fair kicker and passer, and a player who can hit that line like a 10-ton tank. When he hits the line there's always a gain for the Harvesters. 1944 will be his last season. He rams the line like Charlie Boyle and is a faster starter.

Lower row, Don (Somebody's Gonna Get Hurt) Warren, No. 14, 170 pounds, a fine blocker and tackler, not fast but he compensates for that by his expert shifty running. 1944 will be his last season. Billy Washington, No. 16, 145 pounds, two more seasons. This portside kicker and starboard passer is the fastest man on the squad. He's a scrapper all the way, the kind of player who gives everything he's got for his team. Fans who saw him play at Vernon last December will long remember the way Washington played his heart out. He put the same fight into every other game he was in last season, too.

Besides this sextet, Director Coffey has these backfield prospects: Kenneth Beetzley, expert kicker, good passer, fair runner, 175 pounds, two more seasons to play; Bobby Davis, 140 pounds, one more season, shifted from end, fast, rugged, determined, good open field blocker, smooth ball carrier.

Dee Griffin, 135 pounds, two more seasons, average speed, a boy who wants to equal the record of one of the Harvester greats, Jake Halter. Dee is going to do just that, too, if he consistently keeps up practice and training.

Russell (Rusty) Neef, 150 pounds, two more seasons to play. Has been playing regularly this spring. Came out latter part last season. Fans

Harvesters To Get 'Diplomas' In Game Friday

It's graduation day tomorrow for Director Coffey's spring edition of 1944 Harvesters.

At 4 p. m. tomorrow on the practice field east of the field where gridiron history was written in brilliant victories over Amarillo in 1941 by such stars as Halter, and again last November by Boyles and Robinsons, Pampa High schools football hopes of 1944 will clash with the mighty Exes.

The game will be the finale of spring drill and the chance the Harvesters have been waiting for since spring workouts started, the chance to show how good they are over the stronger and more experienced eleven.

Guerrillas are graduating one day ahead of the 1944 Harvesters. Their spring drill ended at 4 p. m. today.

Director Coffey has two Harvester teams lined up to battle the Exes, as well as some scattering subs.

Referring the spring class will be Tyson Cox, White Deer High school coach.

For the Harvesters, the first team will be Cree, lb.; Noblitt or Dunham, lb.; Lane, lg.; Blanton, c.; Allen, rg.; Turner, rt.; Bird, re; Granttham, lhb.; Clay, rhb.; Campbell, qb.; Davis, fb.

Exes lineup—Cornett, lb.; Burnett, lg.; Morris, lg.; Hart, c.; McKinley, rt.; Chesser, rt.; Fuller, rg.; Robbins, lhb.; Lard, rhb.; Glise, qb.; Hollis, fb.

Harvester second team—Morrison, lb.; Moore, lb.; Hood, lg.; Winborne, c.; Humphreys, rg.; Rowe, rt.; Beard, rt.; Griffin or Coffey, lhb.; Neef, rhb.; Vaughan, qb.; Lindsey, fb.

Fish may alternate with Rowe and Simpson with Moore at the tackle position.

Night Baseball Games Attended By 58,078 Fans

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Night baseball's first 1944 turnout totalling 58,078 for three games could be taken today as proof that the national pastime is strictly an after-dark and Sunday-business-in-wartime.

The five day games featuring similar openings of inter-sectional series, drew only 19,414 or a per game average of 3,883 as compared to 19,389 under the arcs.

Actual night results were overshadowed by the encouraging crowds but all the home teams won to make it perfect for the Moguls.

Bucky Walters made sure his 200th start for Cincinnati would be on the right side of the book by driving in Eddie Miller to break a tie in the ninth and beat the New York Giants, 3 to 2. In five starts Walters has pitched five complete games, with four including two shutouts, yielded six runs and 27 hits in 49 innings.

Jim Russell's double scoring Johnny Barrett and Frank Zaun made the big blow in Pittsburgh's three-run spurt in the 8th for a 4-2 nod over Boston.

Johnny Niggelng's knuckler was too tough for St. Louis as Washington triumphed, 5-1, and moved within a game of the second place Yankees and two and a half of the leading Browns. The Nats' last catcher Rick Ferrell who split his thumb in the second.

In the afternoon, the Yankees' six-game winning streak was capped by Detroit, 4-2 as Paul (Dizzy) Trout scattered seven safeties and weighed in with three singles in the Tigers' total of 13 off Ernie Bonham.

Luke Hamlin broke into the win column with a neat five-hit shut-out job against Chicago as the Athletics hammered out 16 blows for a 9-0 verdict.

Cleveland's Mel Harder hit the 200 win mark of his major league career, although Specs Kileman had to relieve in the eighth of a triumph over the Boston Red Sox.

Morton Cooper found his stuff again and pitched the Cardinals to a 4-2 edge over Brooklyn's Whit Wyatt and the Phils helped Chicago drop their 13th straight as Al Gerheuser outpawped a seven-hitter to win 7 to 1.

Steers, Aggies Open SWC Baseball Series

AUSTIN, May 11—(AP)—Texas and Texas A. and M., open a crucial Southwest conference baseball series today and if the Aggies lose just one of the games, they'll be virtually behind the eight-ball so far as the championship is concerned.

Texas has dropped only one game but has five more to play—counting a postponed tilt with the Aggies that would be made up if it had a bearing on the title.

But should Texas sweep the series today and tomorrow, the Longhorns would clinch at least a tie for the championship, because they could lose both their remaining games to Rice and the one to A. and M. and still finish even with the Aggies and Rice.

The Argentine newspaper La Prensa has made a decision consistent with its reputation as one of the world's most highly respected publications. ...

Such drastic punishment for what in a democratic country is no crime at all is a reflection of the influence and to the present Argentine government's temper.

This 35-year-old paper, large in circulation and in influence, has been the principal mouthpiece of democracy in Argentina. ...

La Prensa could have refused to print the humiliating retraction and probably won a sort of martyrdom. ...

So La Prensa chose the hard way, and has gone back to fight for its principles as long as it can.

Translated quotations from editorialists in the Argentine press have been published in this column. ...

It should encourage us here in America to stand up more strongly against a western hemisphere government using alarmingly Hitleresque methods against a free press. ...

So long as La Prensa is published and read, we have proof that the Argentine government does not represent the sentiment of all its people.

When a government agency was concerned themselves with such things—particularly the War Food Administration—begged farmers to produce to the absolute limit. ...

Some of this enormous production was placed in cold storage, and many thousands of pounds of eggs were dehydrated. ...

In the interim, the price of grain feeds and feed mixtures continued to rise, and eventually got to the place where farmers producing eggs were doing so at a loss. ...

The result has been that the market was glutted with this particular product, and the price of eggs consequently collapsed.

They are fighting for the complete nullification of the right of trial by jury. They are fighting to render the right of appeal a meaningless declaration. ...

They are fighting for the nullification of the rights promulgated by Magna Charta and vitiated by the American bill of rights.

And they are fighting for something that is completely unnecessary. It is not necessary to suspend the bill of rights in order to crush a black market. ...

The WFA had promised, in January, that it would "support prices to producers for eggs in no event less than the United States averaged . . . of 30 cents a dozen in the Spring and early Summer."

The net result is that a real shortage of both eggs and poultry may develop next year. If it does, the blame will be directly with the War Food Administration.

Our Educational System

At Fault: Mr. Sewell Avery of Montgomery Ward and Co., in an interview as quoted in the Los Angeles Examiner said, "I think the educational system is at fault in not telling young pupils that the government is made up of each and every one of them, that a Congress is elected by the people to serve them in their country's business."

"Freedom is guts—guts manifested by right-thinking people, by people who recognize their own rights and who question imposition of others upon those rights."

"This case now will go to the courts where it should have gone long ago. It will be a test case. Its outcome will determine definitely whether or not free enterprise is to be practiced without molestation, or whether all business men are to live in fear of confiscation and ruin."

"From childhood up, we should be taught to watch him who governs. If we are not vigilant, there may arise amongst us a dictator and we shall all be enslaved."

Mr. Avery hit the nail on the head when he said, in effect, our system is with our educational system.

However, Mr. Avery does not seem to realize that it is impossible for majority-rule education, as is the case in every school controlled and financed by boards of education elected by the majority, to teach respect for the rights of others.

It is impossible, of course, to get any textbooks in the schools that point out the tyranny and un-American principles of the majority having the right to coerce the minority to pay for an educational system they believe harmful.

State education is a hang-over from the Divine Right of kings; it is a hang-over from the totalitarianism of the church, which is unethical and uneconomic. It is the antithesis of liberty.

Can't Understand Liberty: Even if state schools did use textbooks that sponsored the rights of the individual, the teachers could not explain them. Teachers in state educational institutions cannot understand or believe in liberty or they would not be teachers. ...

So instead of having men and women of courage, those who believe in freedom educating our children, we have timid men and women who can write no impersonal role of human relations. ...

So losing our liberty, as we have been losing it in the last thirty years, and especially during the last ten, is a natural result of our state educational institution.

Rose Wilder Lane says that she has been saying for years, "The crash that is coming will smash our state educational system, thank God!"

Perhaps when we find that the present educational system will lead us to poverty and misery, we will discard it and then the children will have an opportunity to learn God's and nature's laws.

Everything is happening as could be expected. The Montgomery Ward case is a natural result of the way state schools have trained the youth of the land.

MAYBE IT'S HERE: Leaves From The Editor's Notebook

This story could be headlined "Jeeps-creepers" except that they really creep down. It is a funny story at all. Millions of dollars are involved, and when millions are involved it's no laughing matter.

The Federal Trade Commission is resuming hearings in Washington to determine what, if any, manufacturing company has the right to convey the impression that they are the producers of "jeeps" and will turn out these sturdy little vehicles after the war for numerous civilian purposes.

Editorial writers, some members of Congress and some industrialists have taken the FTC apart for spending money and the time of scores of witnesses, many of them in war work, to delve into this matter in the midst of global war. I think the FTC has been done a great injustice on this score.

So far as this case is concerned and many others for that matter, the sole responsibility of the FTC is to halt "false or misleading advertising" when complaints are laid before the commission which, on the surface, appear to have merit, it is the duty of that agency to act as soon as possible. To delay simply because of a fear that it might give "misleading" advertiser all the advantage he seeks.

If it is true, for example, that no one company has the right to convey the impression that it is the sole producer of jeeps, then to let that advertiser go on for the duration of the war would give him an unfair trade advantage. On the other hand, if any one company has the exclusive right to that advantage, to deprive him of it without a complete investigation would be to foster the very things we are fighting against.

While there is no intent here to anticipate the findings of the FTC, I'm reliably informed that FTC officials at this stage are convinced that the "jeep" as the Army and Navy know it today isn't a product of any one company. Although several had a hand in it, it was really the Army working out refinements principally at the Aberdeen, Md., proving grounds that gave it its final form.

A representative of the company being "investigated" (the claims of others are being checked, too) has informed me that he is convinced that the Army "jeep" won't be adaptable to civilian needs and that the post-war "jeep" may be as different from it as a tractor is from a tank.

There's only a slight possibility the hearings will develop what is named the "jeep." As far as I can find out no one really laid claim to a copyright on the word. Some are convinced that it came from a fantastic character in a comic strip. Others claim it's merely a diminutive of the old expression "jeepers" or "jeepers-creepers."

War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE: Associated Press War Analyst: Allied bombing and other preparations for D-day are slipping rapidly toward their peak.

It's evident that we are approaching the peak of preparedness. The true not only in the invasion zone but in all other European theatres. For this greatest land-water-sea operation of history ("Triumphian," in phrase-coining Winston Churchill calls it) is to be supported by the coordinated, all-out efforts of every fighting unit that can lend a useful hand, wherever it may be.

Everything seems to be gauged by its relation to D-day. The recapture of Sevastopol normally would have the world on tiptoe of excitement, since it has everything that makes for drama.

Yet we measure its fall by its relation to the invasion of western Europe.

The two events are related in a big way, for the recapture of this strategic Black sea base was essential to the perfect functioning of the great Russian war machine which will come into full action again as the Allies strike in the west. The Russian fleet now will be able to give full cooperation to the projected Red offensive through Romania into the Balkans, even landing reinforcements on the Romanian coast if necessary.

Meanwhile the Red Armies are getting set on other fronts for the concerted onslaught against Hitler's fortress and the fall of Sevastopol will expedite this.

Over in Italy, too, there are signs of Allied operations to support D-day. The Hitlerites are looking for offensives both on the Cassino front and from the Anzio beachhead.

Berlin, feverishly trying to check on the invasion machine, reports that the southeastern coast of England swarms with troops ready to embark, and that a huge invasion fleet as assembled in channel ports, consists of thousands of soldiers, trouble to deny that. You can keep D-day a dark secret, known by perhaps six or eight people; but you can't hide thousands of ships and hundreds of thousands of soldiers.

It needs no imagination, either, to believe that the greatest armada of warships ever assembled is ready for the titanic task of conveying its pre-arranged army of invasion to the hostile shores.

BUYS BONDS: ST. PAUL, Minn.—The Rev. C. H. Gessner will have to guess the length of his sermons—until he can find a new clock.

The Rev. Gessner's church clock, placed in a vestment room so that he could see it from the pulpit and hear his sermons, has been stolen.

AN AUTOMOBILE RIDE: AZARASKI grinned at Link and called him pal. "How are you, pal?" Azaraski said.

"The boy stood on the burning deck," Link said uneasily. "What is this pal stuff, anyway?"

"Sit down," said Azaraski pleasantly. "And try thinking that I could be just a nice guy. I could, you know."

"You sound too much like a guy propositioning his stenographer to suit me," Link said.

He took a chair. Azaraski sat down behind his big desk. This morning Azaraski still looked like an organ grinder's monkey about half out of a box, sitting there. He was in some papers and initialed them.

Link was not able to think of a thing but the chair on which he sat. The chair was upholstered and it was such a relief to have a chair to sit on for a change. In the cell, you sat on the floor. You were getting easy to please when you thought a chair was a luxury.

Captain Azaraski put down his pen. "That is that." He put the papers in a dossier. "How would you like to go for a drive?" he asked.

"Sounds all right," Link said suspiciously. "Is that?"

"Of course." "You don't mean an automobile, do you?"

"I'll be darned," Link said. "We'll go now." Azaraski put on his hat and a silver lip flask in his pocket. "Wait. You look a bit seedy," he said, examining Link. "I think you had better wear the uniform you wore last night."

Do We Detect A Note Of Impatience?

Behind the screen: The script of "Give Me This Woman" said that Hedy Lamarr should express "flustered embarrassment" for scene with Paul Henreid. But Hedy, seductive in a filmy white gown, wasn't quite up to the script.

Hedy stepped forward but before Director Jean Negulesco just shrugged his shoulders. "But let's try it again," he said in apparent resignation. "And this will be it."

Hedy stepped forward but before Director Negulesco ordered camera, Henreid whispered something into her ear. Hedy's flustered embarrassment, immediately caught by the camera, was genuine. At the director's suggestion, Henreid had whispered: "My dear, Hedy. That light behind you . . . you're quite nude!"

Jimmy Cagney had a bit of competition while giving a GI show at an air base in England the other day. The theater was an empty, empty hangar. There were dogs running loose and just as Cagney started his act one of the dogs came to bark at every line he opened his mouth to talk the dog decided to drop him out. Between barks Cagney managed to blurt out: "Either that dog has a perfect sense of timing or someone ought to throw him a tree."

CANTOR—ANOTHER HIT: For a healthy slice of nostalgic theater, don't miss Eddie Cantor's new movie, "Show Business." The plot may be corny, but the old-time songs, dances and vaudeville routines are great entertainment. For the first time Eddie takes a secondary role. George Murphy and Connie Moore are the central characters. The movie was wise one, with the comedian's stand-in in his comedy routines with Joan Davis, and when he's warbling "Dinah" and "Whoopee." Cantor can take a bow as both star and producer of "Show Business."

Movie audiences still love to shudder. After the first week's showing of "The Uninvited," Paramount added 75 feet of moans and sobs to the sound track. Exhibitors were united in reporting that the heartbroken weeping sounds which signify the nearness of one of the ghosts in the picture give audiences their biggest thrill. Betty Farrington, a radio actress whose voice was chosen for the original recording in reference to dozens of candidates, because she could outweep and out-wail at the cost was called in for another suffering session. Betty is twice a grandmother.

TECHNICOLOR ANKLES: Humfrey Bogart's socks, it seems are quite a problem to movie makers. A Warner script girl, Gloria Fayth, is our authority. "Bogart always wears loud, multi-colored socks," Gloria said. "And if they suddenly show during a serious scene, it sometimes throws members of the cast into a howl." Gloria said she always has to ask Bogart to change socks before a real serious scene. "He changes, too, but reluctantly," Gloria said.

"I'm a salesman," said the man. "What do you sell?" he was asked. "Oh," said the man, unabashed, "I sell a gadget that guarantees an increase in mileage for your car."

'Jerry' Is Very Unhappy at Our 'Doodle Bugs'

By SID FEEDER: ANZIO BEACHHEAD, May 4—(Delayed)—There are a lot of things about our guys that Jerry doesn't like, but most of all he doesn't like the way they ride around in "Doodle Bugs," also known as "Grasshoppers."

These are the little two-seater Piper Cub planes that are all over the beachhead like smoke over Pittsburgh.

These little bathtubs with wings have made such remarkable records spotting enemy artillery and directing our own big guns that they're considered even more valuable than a good man in the pot and pan department of your mess. After all, artillery is the big noise in this back yard brawl.

Naturally, it's quite the thing to take a ride in one of these Cubs to get the best look at the curved battle lines spread out like half of a giant apple pie. Those gopher holes down below are the Joe's foxholes and the soldiers who are out there looking like the biggest ornament on the Christmas tree is St. Peters, in Rome. The pilot is Sam Wellborn, of Bradley, Ark. who really knows the score in a Doodle Bug.

A VITAL MESSAGE

to EVERY PERSON in PAMPA

and the SURROUNDING TERRITORY

WHICH INCLUDES:

MIAMI, WHITE DEER, PANANDLE, SKELLYTOWN, LAKETON, KINSMILL, LEFORS, McLEAN, ALANREED, and, YES, AMARILLO, TOO!

This first message is a report . . . a report to be heard or read for the first time. This is a war report on the industries of Pampa. This is not made on the basis of promoting these particular industries that happen to be located in Pampa and surrounding Pampa. This report is made as a part of the program to keep a free America informed. This war is being fought on a different scale, with a different political and economic point of view and with the actual implements of war . . . different than has ever been recorded in history. War is being fought "total," what this means could fill volumes . . . the straight simple message our government wants us to understand, is that there are key industries that are contributing first-hand to the actual fighting of this war and that without these parts, the manpower to keep them going, it only lengthens the war.

A situation faces Pampa industries . . . namely, the carbon black industry, our gasoline refineries, and our machine shops that keep the tools, and equipment in this field operating to produce. Each unit, tied to the other in such a manner that it is one big unit that our fighting forces are depending on right this minute more than ever before.

In the issues of this paper to follow in the next twenty days, and also over Radio Station KPND, an appeal will be made to every man that might be available to take his share of this responsibility to our fighting men in keeping these industries producing on the status as needed by the fighting forces.

Why is carbon black needed so urgently? How does the gasoline picture affect the war from Pampa? Why are the machine shops here so vital to these industries? These questions and many more will be presented in radio commentary, news stories, and through space advertising.

This is not an individual program to further the one cause or gain for any one industry. This is a united appeal, for only one cause . . . our servicemen who are giving their lives . . . and need your help here at home in these industries to help get them back home.

Watch for this series and make another inventory of yourself as to "what you're doing to help win the war." If you are in just as vital an industry as possible in consideration of your particular status, then possibly you will know of some man or woman that could help. Talk to them, present the facts and get them into the fight, here "behind the lines."

Clark Awards Recognition To Wounded Ranger

TEMPLE, Texas, May 11 — (AP)—Lt. James P. Steen of Crowley, La., who has twice received the Purple Heart and has been recommended for the Silver Star, has received a citation from the general hospital from Lieut. Gen. Mark Clark, commanding general of the Fifth Army in Italy.

Lt. Steen, already is getting used to a new artificial leg here at the army's largest amputation center.

"As a member of the Ranger Battalion," the citation reads, Lt. Steen "on Sept. 12, 1943, led a harassing party of 30 men into Sala, Italy, where one bridge was destroyed, one headquarters annihilated and two enemy divisions heavily hit and scattered. Through exceptional leadership ability, he succeeded in bringing his men back to friendly lines without casualties."

Lt. Steen was in the first assault wave that took Gela, Italy, where his platoon stormed and knocked out coastal batteries. He was with an assault group that took and held the left flank in the Salerno Beach action and later with the group that took and held Chulini Pass.

At Chulini Pass, Steen was wounded in the head and leg by mortar fire but remained in action while his unit stopped 12 Nazi counterattacks in ten days.

Later his unit spearheaded a drive for a British armored regiment. While clearing a patch through a mine field, the night preceding the attack, the explosion took his right leg.

The lieutenant applied a tourniquet and lay where he fell for four hours until found by a fellow officer, Capt. Charles Shunstrom of New York City. At the risk of his own life, Captain Shunstrom removed Steen from the mine field and carried him to a British field hospital. He later was seriously wounded and now is reported a prisoner of war in Germany.

Lieutenant Steen's mother lives at Farnersville, Texas.

Nation's Housewives Haven't Made A Big Rush on the Meat Counters

By JAMES MARLOW and GEORGE ZIELKE WASHINGTON, May 11 — (AP)—Housewives apparently haven't felt any urge—because of meat rationing—to buy out the butcher shops.

The unrationing except on beef steaks and roasts, went into effect a week ago.

Now, after reports from all its regional offices around the country, the War Food Administration (WFA) says there has been no great buying rush.

One reason given: Before unrationing, meat points generally had been low enough to allow most families sufficient meat. This forestalled a desire to splurge when points were removed.

But it seems likely that more meat will be consumed now than before it was point free. Able to get unrationed meat as they want it, housewives can spread red points on the rationed kind.

OPA says the total anticipated supply of meat for civilians in May is 25 per cent greater than a year ago.

Two things can throw the picture out of focus:

1. Meat distribution had been geared to a rationed supply. It takes about four weeks for meat to move from packing house to neighborhood butcher shop. Any large increase in buying in one city could mean less meat generally for that city until the distribution system was able to cope with it.

This may be happening now in some places although, as noted above, according to WFA it is not general.

2. If there was heavy demand in the mid-west, near the packing plants, the areas most distant from the plants might feel a pinch. For if prices were fairly equal around the country, the packers could save shipping expenses by selling closer to home.

It was technically incorrect to say wage increases up to 50 cents hourly could be granted without board approval. No approval is needed up to 40 cents. From 40 cents to the regional boards. Those boards have been authorized by the national board to grant such increases.

When there is a dispute, however, the regional boards settle the increase from 40 to 50 cents according to the prevailing wage rate for the job or industry in that area.

He said the statement that under 50 cents is substandard is "right in a sense," Davis explained. It was hoped that voluntary requests to raise wages to 50 cents would tend to bring the prevailing rates "up to 50 cents."

Weatherman Has Bad News for Adolf

LONDON, May 11 — (AP)—Probably the driest and sunniest spring since Adolf Hitler overran the low countries four years ago has put the terrain of western Europe in good condition for invading ground and air forces.

An expert on operational weather gave that summary of conditions and added that good invasion weather probably would continue through May and June.

Besides the advantage in soldiers being able to move on a firm footing with the continued lack of rain, these specific benefits could be expected for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's invasion forces:

A long period of dry weather means rivers fairly low and perhaps fordable even though bridges are blasted.

"An army would be damned unlucky if it got bogged down after mid-May," the expert said.

Allied military men said, however, that weather is not as much of a factor in Western Europe as it is in Italy.

France and the low countries are criss-crossed with excellent roads, while the streams are generally small and offer no serious difficulties for a modern army.

The west wall also is well stocked with good airfields whose concrete runways are usable in all kinds of weather.

The big Allied worry is that bad weather may break on D-day.

A storm is certain to cost the lives of thousands of soldiers trying to land on the beaches.

One day of bad weather would more than offset months of good weather if it came at the wrong time.

Rainfall Helps, Hinders Farmers

(By The Associated Press) AUSTIN, May 11 — Rains made many fields too wet for planting of spring-sown crops and floods damaged growing crops in Central and East Texas counties in the week ended May 8.

The U. S. department of agriculture reported that surface moisture was adequate in most of the state although the Transpecos area, the south portion of the high plains and a strip along the Rio Grande remained dry.

Ranges, pastures and stockwater supplies were greatly improved in most sections but conditions remained seriously dry in a belt from southwest Texas along the Rio Grande to the south portion of the high plains.

Livestock generally was in fair to good condition on a statewide basis, however.

Practically all commercial vegetable areas felt the effect of rains. Some of the Rio Grande valley area, the Coastal Bend and the Panhandle and Yostum tomato districts were favored but damage resulted in East Central, East and Northeast Texas. Rains reached the lower valley tomato section but only scattered portions received heavy showers and the area as a whole needed more moisture.

Cotton planting progressed slowly and the weather was rather cool for crops that were already up. Much of the acreage outside of southern counties remained to be planted.

Wheat made good progress in the Panhandle and the condition of small grains in other western grain producing areas was fair to good. Small grains in North Central counties were beginning to head out.

Defense Commission En Route to Capital

MEXICO CITY, May 11 — (AP)—The U. S.-Mexico joint defense commission took leave of this capital Tuesday and began its return journey to Washington via Veracruz, Merida (Yucatan), Havana and Miami. High military officials with an escort of troops were at the airfield to see the commission off and a military band played music for the occasion.

The commissioners landed their transport plane at Veracruz before noon and were met by General Heriberto Jara, Minister of the Navy, who showed them the progress made in constructing the shipyards and great dry dock on the island of San Juan de Ulua (harbor of Vera Cruz).

After cordial speeches, in which Admiral Alfred L. Johnson, of the commission, congratulated Gen. Jara on the work just inspected and predicted a great future for the Mexican navy and merchant marine, the commissioners left for Merida, where they were to spend the night.

They were to arrive in Havana today to take on gasoline before proceeding to Miami, on their return to Washington.

Before leaving Mexico City, Gen. Guy W. Henry of the commission, said that he and his associates had found the military equipment sent here by the U. S. government to be in perfect condition. He has words of high praise for the fitness and discipline of the Mexican soldiers and the competence of their officers and declared that Mexico is in condition to meet any military emergency.
