Draft Board Is Delegated Added Powers

By JAMES MARLOW and GEORGE ZIELKE

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP)—Draft age men up to 38 in connection with the latest selective service (SS) notice to draft boards today should remember this: the authority of the local draft board is being delegated to a national policy. It greatly widens the deferment field for all boards, particularly in the case of men 30 through 37. And all boards undoubtedly will try to follow the spirit of the SS policy.

But, in the final analysis, each local board is boss in its own backyard and will apply the policy to fit its local conditions.

Virtual stoppage of calls by San Antonio draft boards has resulted from the issuance of the order to ease up on drafting men over 30 by selective service, according to chief clerks of 11 draft boards in San Antonio, the Associated Press said today.

The blanket draft deferment was ordered last night for all men 30 and over in essential industry.

Since no calls are now pending before the Gray county draft board, the order to ease up on drafting men over 30, is not of pressing importance, a member of the board said here this morning.

At the same time SS has placed a heavy responsibility on all boards through the decisions, explained below, that they will have to make hereafter.

This what SS told the boards:

1. All physically-fit men 18 through 25 should be drafted except those qualified for very special deferments. These deferments are comparatively so few and so rigid as almost to be taken out of the board's hands.
2. The only physically-fit men 26 through 30 to be drafted are those considered "necessary" men "regularly engaged in an activity in war production or in support of the national health and safety interest." The deferment of those "necessary" men is "for the time being."
3. All men 30 through 37, physically fit, are to be drafted.

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP)—The war department gave further indication today in support of earlier reports that when the invasion is begun the news will come from the European theatre. It had nothing to add to the news of the Italian offensive except the terse statement that there was no comment to be expected from Washington.

In the absence of many details of what was reported to be the heaviest offensive to have been thrown at the enemy in the Mediterranean theatre, the capital watched for two developments: (1) the use of a great number of American troops in the area of the offensive, and (2) the success of any tactical bombing.

Hitherto, American forces have centered chiefly around Anzio, and military observers noted that their presence in new areas would indicate major advances.

We Will Destroy The German Army--Clark

By RICHARD McMURRAY
Associated Press War Editor

The Fifth and Eighth armies, striking in the most powerful offensive in Mediterranean warfare after secret regrouping, advanced through flame and shell and artificial flood today along a 25-mile front from Cassino to the Tyrhenian sea.

Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark in an order of the day to the troops he is leading in the new major effort of the Italian campaign told the Fifth Army today he was fully confident "we can and will destroy the German armies."

"You have inflicted heavy losses upon their troops and have taken more than 13,000 prisoners," the commander of the Fifth Army declared in the order read to all troops seven hours before the offensive opened.

Clouds of American heavy bombers drove into the heart of Germany and Czechoslovakia exploding four synthetic oil plants as the mighty aerial invasion of the European fortress continued. Targets were in the Leipzig area, 90 miles southwest of Berlin and at Brux just inside Czechoslovakia, 600 miles from London. The raiding force included 1,500 Flying Fortresses and Liberators and 500 fighters and Berlin said great air battles were fought.

The Allies in Italy gained their first objectives in a determined drive upon the stout Gustav line. The Germans resisted bitterly with heavy shell fire, flame throwers and flood waters let down into the Rapido river from the reservoir system.

German radios cried out that this was the first act in the powerful onslaught against the Nazis and that the Italian campaign soon would be supplemented by massed forces.

Some diplomatic authorities consider this one of the two most urgent issues now confronting the three Allied powers. The other is formation of a postwar government to be imposed when Germany surrenders unconditionally.

To be effective the surrender will have to be accepted alike by Russia, Britain and the United States. Then there will have to be a statement of Armistice rules and finally a military occupation.

Formulation of joint plans on these points is the job of the European advisory commission, set up months ago in London.

London dispatches yesterday reported disclosure by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Allied commander of a new "G-5" or civil affairs section of his invasion general staff. It includes officers and men trained to rule in conquered German areas. Their initial job, of course, will be to govern towns and territories behind the advancing Allied forces.

Beyond that task is the occupation of postwar Germany. Present understanding of this problem by highly-placed officials here is that it need not require any large body of troops for long.

26,000 PLANES DOWNED
LONDON, May 12 (AP)—About 26,000 German and Italian planes have been shot down in air combat since the beginning of the war by Allied air forces, not counting those destroyed on the Russian front, Sir Archibald Sinclair, secretary of state for air, told commons today.

Ultimatum Is Sent to Axis' 4 Satellites

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP)—The United States, Britain and Russia today issued a virtual ultimatum to the four Axis satellites declaring that they must decide now whether they intend to go down to utter defeat with Germany.

Addressed to Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria and Finland, the three-power declaration stated "there is yet time for the people of these four satellites to contribute to the inevitable Allied victory."

While it extended no promises of easy treatment to the satellites if they jump off the German wagon now, the declaration made clear that every day they remain at Germany's side brings "more disastrous x x consequences to them and more rigorous x x terms which will be imposed upon them."

The four nations, the document said, still have it within their power—by throwing their whole weight against the Nazis—to shorten the war and contribute to the Allied victory.

"While these nations cannot escape their responsibility for having participated in the war at the side of Nazi Germany," the three powers warned, "the longer they continue at war in collaboration with Germany the more disastrous will be the consequences to them and the more rigorous will be the terms which will be imposed upon them."

Way to Get Into War Work Given

If you want to serve your country in the civilian front, where workers are badly needed in war essential industries, the time to do it is now, the War Manpower Commission, through its local representative, emphasized today.

At least 500 workers are needed in the Pampa area.

The first thing to do is to go to the United States Employment Service, 206 N. Russell. There you will be interviewed and the office will classify you according to the job you can do best.

Next, you are referred to a prospective employer. You are not obligated to take that special job if you don't want it.

It does not require a great deal of time to do all this. Ordinarily, you can apply at the U. S. E. S. office in the forenoon and be working the next morning.

Naturally, arrangements for physical examinations, required in some cases, are an exception to this time condition, but the average is 24 hours.

Sunday School Lesson

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
In comment upon last week's lesson I have stressed the value of reading the story in the Acts along with the Epistles that refer to the people mentioned in the lesson. We know something of the passage in the Acts with that in I Thessalonians that is unique; for here we find the description of Paul's journey.

It is in I Thessalonians, his description of his reception there, and his account of how he had conducted his ministry. It was in Philippi that Paul had been persecuted and thrown into prison with his companion, Silas. The conversion of the jailer may have compensated for their sufferings, but nevertheless they had suffered, and Paul contrasts their experience with the Christians at Thessalonica whom Paul commends so strongly, for one detects a note of defense in Paul's account.

He had neither flattered others nor sought glory for himself. He had coveted nothing, on the contrary he had labored "night and day," evidently at his trade as tentmaker, because the work was "chargeable unto any." He had lived among the Thessalonians "holy and just by the unblemished life he has sworn to perform, and he can be held liable under heavy penalties for their performance."

Paul considered his trust a privilege. God had "allowed" it. But it was none the less a duty and the call of Christian duty as his Christian duties as something to be done or undone, according to his mood, or whether or not he felt like it.

Perhaps that is the great difference between Paul and so many modern Christians taken into the church membership by the churches today, and you will find Paul like people who regard the gospel as a trust and not a duty. The work of the church is to be faithful in all things, but you will find many whose religion is of the fair-weather variety, for whom the voice of duty and the call of Christian duty are not imperative, but heard and responded to only as the mood and inclination are favorable.

It takes Paul-like Christians to make Christianity effective.

Christian Science Sunday Study Topic

"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 14.

The Golden Text is: "As we have borne the image of the earth, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly" (I Corinthians 15:49).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "When I consider thy heavens, the work of thy fingers, the moon and the stars, which thou hast ordained; What is man, that thou art mindful of him? and the son of man, that thou visitest him?" (Psalms 8:3-4).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The spiritual man's consciousness and individuality are reflections of God. They are the emanations of Him who is Life, Truth, and Love. Immortal man is not and never was material, but always spiritual and eternal" (page 336).

Army Will Probe Denison Project

WASHINGTON, May 12—(AP)—A project, which would utilize Lake Kemp and Diversion reservoir near Wichita Falls in maintenance of an ample water level at the Denison dam of the Red river to keep the hydro-electric turbines there in operation, is slated for investigation by army engineers.

A resolution just adopted by the house rivers and harbors committee authorizes the investigation, which Rep. Gossett (D-Texas) says will probably not be begun for some months because of the present policy of handling at this time only those projects which are directly connected with the prosecution of the war.

The new $54,000,000 combination flood control and power dam on the Red river near Denison, according to a report officials of the Wichita county water improvement districts is submitted to congressional committees, can be successfully operated only if proper consideration is taken of the Wichita river watershed. Both Lake Kemp and Diversion reservoir are located on the Wichita river.

Both were financed and constructed by the citizens of Wichita county, and in their report Wichita water district officials added that they could see no good reason why those districts were not entitled to re-imbursment through government assumption of $3,054,708 bonded indebtedness outstanding, which is the portion of the $4,500,000 bond issue which went into the construction of the Lake Kemp and Diversion dams.

Citizens Asked To Take Care Filling Out Questionnaire

Every family in Pampa and Gray County which has a child in school was being contacted by the Post War Planning committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce this week to assist in determining what the post-war purchasing potential will be in order to assist the men in the armed forces secure private employment after the war.

Pampa and Gray County citizens are urged to fill the questionnaires out carefully. C. A. Huff, president of the Chamber of Commerce, has announced.

"On first thought, one might think that this questionnaire wouldn't make any difference," Key said, "but the collective information from all people of Pampa and Gray County, added to the same data from other cities and counties of the United States will give a picture that is important to American industry."

Each school child has been given a questionnaire blank to be taken home for his parents to fill out.

In addition to the questions about plans for purchases of mechanical equipment, for residential construction, and other things which will provide jobs for returning servicemen, the Pampa Chamber of Commerce has asked for suggestions as to what can be done locally to improve Pampa and to provide jobs for our own men who will be coming back from the armed services.

Key also urges all business men who have not yet returned the post-war employment survey questionnaire to do so immediately.

Serving as Chairman Joe Key on the Post War committee are Sherman White, Glenn Hackney, W. B. Weathered, W. C. DeCordova, V. L. Boyles, Fred Shroyok, Hugh Burdette, and Carl Benefiel.

U. S. Commercial Air Plan Accepted

LONDON, May 12—(P) — An American-sponsored plan for international civilian post-war aviation control based on the four freedoms of the air—the right to fly, to land, to discharge passengers, mail and cargo and to pick them up anywhere in the world, has been accepted by Great Britain as the basis for future discussion.

Lord Beaverbrook, Lord Privy Seal, who was charged by Prime Minister Churchill to form a post-war aviation program for the British empire, said Wednesday that England had "reluctantly" abandoned a Canadian proposal which would have allocated routes and services. The United States had objected to the plan as too rigid for discussion at an international conference to be held later this year in Washington, at which an international convention on air navigation will be drawn up.

Miami, May 12—Rev. Harry E. Wilbanks, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Canadian, guest speaker, and 20 other Canadian men, were in attendance at the Men's Service club here Tuesday evening for the regular monthly banquet and club program.

Rev. Wilbanks discussed the subject of post war home life, and the problems which will face.

A number of songs were sung by the group. Two Miami service men home on furloughs, Sgt. C. E. McCasland, of the Marines, and Marlowe Hardin, radio technician of the Navy were special guests of the club. Each had had several months of foreign service.

About 50 were present.

The banquet tables were attractively arranged with cases of yellow tulips where the two-color banquet was served.

Young Plants are Tender—Take Care Not to Shock 'Em in Transplanting

By HENRY L. FREE Written for NEA Service

Because we depend upon seeds for our vegetables, by all means start with good seeds. It is always most economical to buy seeds of good quality and from reliable local and nationally recognized dealers. Avoid those who sell "cut-rate," as well as the door-to-door agent who is not an authorized representative of a well-known firm.

Seeds sown out of doors in the garden are usually sown in furrows or hills. A furrow is a shallow trench and the seed is sown rather close together, lightly covered with fine soil. Hill sowing is placing a few seeds close together at regularly distant intervals.

Beet, carrot, spinach, etc., are examples of furrow sowing, while seeds of squash, cucumbers and pole beans are sown in hills. No seed should be sown until the soil has been well prepared and the rows staked out according to your preconceived plan.

First, rake the surface of the soil to break up lumps and to remove any sticks or large stones which have worked up. Second, stretch a fairly stout line a couple of inches high along the row to be planted, making sure that it is straight and tight. Third, use the handle or corner of the hoe to make

Yanks Finally Gain Crest In American Loop

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Joe McCarthy today had his 1944 New York Yankees leading the American league for the first time, but it took a weird night fielding display by the St. Louis Browns and a peculiar quirk of the percentage tables to do the trick.

Although the Browns, who set the pace since opening day, hold a half game edge in games won and lead the payroll column over the standings shows the New Yorkers with .667 and St. Louis with .650.

Hank Borowy pitched the Yanks into the lead although he didn't know it until he read the morning paper accounts of Washington's 4-2 decision over the Browns.

When Borowy turned back Detroit with seven hits in the afternoon for a 5-2 decision, he was stretching his two-season win streak to 11 and upping his 1944 record to 4-0.

Lefty Mickey Heafner's seven-hit night effort against St. Louis topped the season's best, and he pitched but four costly errors, including two by catcher Joe Schultz, were equally disastrous. Jack Kramer's five-game win streak was lost in the wreckage.

Hal Trosky, the comeback kid, stole home in the 16th inning on Russ Christopher of the A's as Chicago grabbed a 4-2 verdict. Mike Tresh then doubled home Ralph Hodgin with a superluous score.

Cleveland's chunky sophomore outfielder, Pat Seery, was the big factor in the Indians' 7-6 triumph over Boston. Pat continued his heading spurt with two doubles, a single and a homer, batting in three runs.

Charley Grimm finally shook the Chicago Cubs out of their 13-game losing streak as Ed Hanyszewski hurled a seven-hit, 5-3 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies. Bill Nicholson, who hit 29 homers to lead the National in 1943, collected his first of the season and catcher Billy Holm broke into the hit column after going "0 for 25."

Bill Hart's relay of Paul Waner's throw caught Pepper Martin at the plate with the tying run to save Brooklyn's 2-1 edge over the Cardinals. The Dodger rookie shortstop scored one run and drove in the other.

Steve Mesner's eighth-inning double broke a 2-2 tie, giving Cincinnati a 4-3 shade over the New York Giants, and Boston broke out with 18 hits behind Jim Tobin for a 7-2 slaughter of Pittsburgh.

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, May 12.—(AP)—Overseas sports roundup:

ICELAND
Lieut. Dave Zinkoff comes the first report of the G.I.-sponsored Icelandic boxing championships, May 3. Soldiers, who have been building up boxing there, lent the natives the Andrews Memorial field house for the big show and some 2,000 Icelanders jammed the aisles.

PACIFIC AREA
When Gen. Douglas MacArthur learned that the baseball used to open the Syracuse Chiefs' season in MacArthur stadium was being sent to him, he replied wishing the Chiefs many home runs to "come when you need them."

Writing from New Caledonia, Major Kent Ryan, the Detroit Lions half-back, said that next to the armistice and another crack at the Chicago Bears, the thing that would give him the most satisfaction would be the arrival of his four brothers. Two are army captains, one in England and one in the Aleutians, and the two young ones are expected to receive their bars as army fliers in Texas.

ENGLAND
Corp. W. D. Gary of Birmingham, Ala. writes from the tight littleisle "I read where several soldiers were to return for the World Series from the second front. Well, I am not sure I will be on the same boat with them, because I intend to stop over here to teach the English how to play football this fall. However, I look forward to seeing a few double headers in basketball at the garden next spring."

Gil Radcliff, former Penn State football star, managed to retain his sense of humor (and his name) when he fell into Japanese hands in the Philippines. On one of those form postcards from a prison camp, written to a girl friend at State College, Gil typed the last line: "Give my regards to all the kids from school, and also all my creditors."

With the bases loaded and one out, the Cuban struck out Vidal Lopez, star Venezuelan hitter for Monterrey, and prevented further scoring. Aguirre to Mavory, first pitcher for Vera Cruz, was credited with the victory, and Lazaro Salazar was the loser.

Chico Hernandez, Vera Cruz catcher, hit his first home run in four basers.

White Deer Athlete Chosen To Play In All-Star Grid Game

Special To The NEWS
WHITE DEER, May 12—Willie Urbanczyk, one of White Deer's star athletes, continues to add honors to his already impressive list.

Recently he received an invitation to play in the All-Star game in Wichita Falls in August, an honor that seldom comes to a boy in a Class A school; and last week he was awarded a gold track shoe as the most valuable members of the local track team.

Not only does he play football, but he writes about it as well, and his sports story won first place in the sports writing contest sponsored by the Panhandle High School Press association this spring.

During his four years in high school Urbanczyk has been chosen on the all-district football team two years; was co-captain of the Bucks' team last fall; has been on the Student Council three years and is vice-president this year; was vice-president of the F. A. last year; was sports editor of the school paper last fall; has served as a class officer; and has maintained a "B" average throughout his high school career.

Tree Was Gone—Medic Wasn't

TEMPLE, Texas, May 12.—(AP)—Corporal Andy Armstrong could relax for the first time after 29 days of constant fighting.

His unit had been withdrawn from the Mount Maggio sector and was comfortably situated high up in the Italian hills just outside Mignano. Andy was cooking his supper and thinking about the folks back home at Leuders, Texas. A company medic was digging his foxhole at the base of a giant tree about 30 feet away. Other members of the unit were playing cards or writing letters. Then it happened.

An artillery shell, a huge one, exploded in their midst.

"I yelled for a medic," Corporal Armstrong yelled, as he grins at you at McCloskey general hospital here, "and I'll be doggone if I didn't walk out of the smoke. He was right under the tree when the shell hit it and only received a minor head wound. The tree was gone, all of it, but the guy must have had a charmed life."

Andy knew he was injured badly—his right leg was torn off and his left was badly mangled. But that charmed medic who was cool as a cucumber, fixed him up, he said.

Armstrong explained the Germans were using Monastery Hill as an observation post and could control their artillery fire with high accuracy. They were using 17 mm. guns mounted on railroad cars and were making them count.

The British captured the position on Dec. 7, the night Andy was wounded.

The 36th division veteran told of the heavy casualties suffered by his company and praised the replacements.

"The were mostly Yankees from New York, Ohio, New Jersey and other northern states—in fact, we had 'em from 26 states."

"But we made Texans out of 'em," he grinned.

Don't Plant Your Seed in Hills; 'Valley' Planting Retains Moisture

By HENRY L. FREE
Written for NEA Service

Planting in "hills" is a common phrase among farmers and gardeners but its real meaning is somewhat the reverse. Hills no longer mean actual mounds of soil. True hill planting is recommended only when the garden soil is wet and drains with difficulty. Creating small mounds of earth permits rapid drainage and drying out and insures quicker and surer germination than if the seed were sown in soggy soil.

Unless your soil is low or heavy, do not make a slight depression instead in which you sow your seeds. The depression be it in a row or a "hill," should be slightly deeper than recommended for that particular vegetable seed; then cover the seed with the required depth of soil. This leaves a depression which will catch water instead of permitting it to rapidly drain away as would be the case in true "hill" planting. As seedlings grow and the job of cultivation becomes part of the program, the depression is filled in to provide better support for the plants. Your garden should be more or less level at all times.

The potato is the only crop that needs a banking of soil, and this should be slight. Hilling of potatoes in most gardens should be avoided as it reduces yields by increasing the loss of soil moisture, which increases soil temperature. Shallow setting varieties, such as Katahdin, should be planted somewhat deeper, and a small amount of soil thrown to the rows when cultivating. In hot dry soil where overhead irrigation is practiced, it is advisable to ridge slightly to prevent sunburn.

BACK YARD BATTLEFIELD

In this quiet backyard scene, common to almost every city and town in our country, is a picture of something that Americans are fighting and dying for—freedom to think and act for ourselves.

Today, backyards are vital, with the war bringing hunger to millions in the conquered countries. There is a need for more food than the world can grow in the usual way. That puts it up to us as Americans, to help relieve the shortage by growing some of our own foods.

So the home vegetable garden becomes a symbol of freedom—and NECESSITY!

If you have available a piece of ground that you can turn into a Victory Garden, start doing so now! Visit your seed store. Locate your plot, get hold of a spading fork and go to work!

Every vegetable you grow will be a blessing to humanity, a blow to the Axis, and an act of devotion to our beloved United States of America, land of the free!

DRAFT BOARD

call-fit or otherwise, don't have to be "necessary." They are to be deferred if they are "regularly engaged in an activity in war production or in support of the national health, safety or interest." That deferment is for an indefinite time and might mean forever.

But what is a "necessary" man? And what occupation is in support of the national health, safety or interest? And what is an "activity in war production?"

Each board will have to answer those questions for itself. One might consider a 27-year old playground instructor "necessary" from a health viewpoint. Another might draft such a man. Thus decisions will vary from board to board.

Each board has a list of the 35 industries the war manpower commission considers essential. Most boards seem certain to follow that list. They don't have to. It's a guide. Not a mandate.

If any men are inducted by their board but think they are in the proper job categories for deferment, they can appeal.

But what of the present I-A class-sification of men 26-29 who are "necessary" under the new SS notice? And what of the I-A classification of the men 30-37 engaged in the jobs outlined above?

The boards have been told to review their classifications and place them in 2-A or 2-B, as the individual case deserves. Should these men just leave it up to the boards to reclassify them? No. Check with your boards to see that it is done.

SS particularly emphasizes, in the 30-37 group engaged in the outlined activities, that forms 42B may be used for making requests for their deferment to get them out of I-A. This is a job for their boss.

This should be noted: SS has notified the boards that all men, 18 through 37, who are physically disqualified for military service (4-P's) or qualified only for limited service may now be classified 2-A or 2-B if they are regularly engaged in an activity in war production in support of the national health, safety or interest.

Community Sing To Be Held on Sunday

A community sing will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Assembly of God church, 509 S. Cuyler, in honor of Cpl. Floyd Allen.

An invitation has been extended to the public to attend. Cpl. Allen is here for a short furlough visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Allen.

P. W. Goff, 85, Dies At Relative's Home

Pleasant William Goff, 85, retired farmer, and Pampa resident for the past three years, died at 3 p. m. Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Scott, 628 S. Faulkner. Mr. Goff was the father of Mrs. Scott.

The body will be taken overland tomorrow morning by Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral home to Clarita, Okla., where funeral services will be conducted at 3:30 p. m. Saturday. Burial will be in the Moore cemetery, 2 miles south of Clarita.

Mr. Goff had been a member of the Methodist church since he was 18 years old. He was born in Arkansas on May 26, 1858. The family moved to Indian territory in 1896, where they operated cotton gin and farm.

Survivors are three daughters, two sons, and a sister.

Daughters are Mrs. E. D. Scott, Pampa; Mrs. J. W. (Oreta) Foster, Bromide, Okla.; Mrs. Jewell McKray, San Bernardino, Calif.; W. C. Okemah, Okla., and Andy, who resides in California; sister, Mrs. Sarah Richardson, Tupelo, Okla.

Cost of interest on the public debt is expected to reach three billion dollars this fiscal year.

The refrigerator railway car used in transportation of perishable vegetables was devised in 1857.

A record potato crop, 89 million bushels more than last year, is being harvested in the U. S. in 1943.

GEN. CLARK

invasion from the west and Russian drives from the east.

Wily Gen. Sir Harold Alexander shifted his Eighth Army from the Adriatic sector, protected by floods loosed by the aerial breaching of the Pescara dam, to the inland fastness of Cassino and at 11 p. m. last night, troops of half dozen nations sprung with vigor at the enemy Gustav line.

Americans of the Fifth Army were along the Garigliano river which empties into the Tyrrhenian and plunging toward Gaeta and the Anzio beachhead just below the main objective of Rome.

The Eighth Army was composed of Britons, Indians, and Poles and there were French and Italians in the Allied lines. The Eighth was battering at Cassino and the swift Rapid river, striving to reach the broad and fairly level Liri valley leading 50 miles to the beachhead and to Rome beyond.

Sky-darkening Allied planes controlled the skies and kept enemy communications torn up. There was no report of offensive action in the Anzio beachhead.

Russia's great armies still were marking time preparing to spring through Central Poland and Romania, and perhaps through the Baltic states. The daughter of a regiment (2,000 to 3,000 men) of German infantry in a futile attack on a Dnieper bridgehead northwest of Triopol was announced by Moscow.

Radio Algiers said Romania and Russia were negotiating for peace.

The skies above the Italian battlefield were filled with hundreds of Allied war planes, giving support to the ground offensive. They combed the front and above Rome and destroyed eight German planes at the cost of one.

The Germans used flame throwers in defense when the Allies charged behind the barrage which they called "the most awesome and most impressive" invasion from Britain will be ever tougher.

The Germans said hurriedly that D-Day of invasion has arrived. They hinted at counter-invasion of Britain by parachute troops hand picked by Marshal Rommel.

If the Italian offensive is successful, London dispatches pointed out, it will drain off German reserves which might be used against Eisenhower in the west and Russia in the east. If it fails, the invader from Britain will be ever tougher.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

What Makes "A Real American Town?"

Visitor said to me the other day: "Joe, you've got a real American town here—a town you can be proud of."

Afterwards, I got to wondering just what he meant. We aren't much different from any other town our size. A few nice stores... a village green... and 27 blue stars on the Service Flag in Town Hall.

Not much exciting happens, either. We work hard... have our Friday evening socials at the Parish House... and the kids play baseball and go fishing...

In our private life, we live and let live. If we often disagree on politics... if some of us like beer, some buttermilk... we still respect one another's rights and opinions.

What makes our town "American"? From where I sit, it's not because we're different but because we're so much like all other towns that add up to America—where self respect and tolerance are guiding principles.

Short-Order Cook Smiles And Comes Up With "The Ghost Talks"

By JAMES MARLOW AND GEORGE ZIELKE

WASHINGTON, May 12—(P)—Charles Michelson has been a short-order cook in a political kitchen, cooking with gas. Now he's whipped up a book about it, "The Ghost Talks." A little mustard, a little butter, and served up cold. It's a chiller, if you're idealistic.

But at this time it's a good book to read. It will have done a service if it makes voters think twice about some of the products coming out of the political publicity ovens between now and next November.

Until about a year ago, when he retired to a consulting basis and went to work on this book, Michelson had been publicity director for the Democratic national committee since 1929.

He's an old man now. He sounds tired. Maybe that's why there's no great fervor in his book for anyone or anything. He calls himself merely a "political technician, a press agent."

His job was to try to make the Democrats look good and the Republicans terrible. "It was all quite lawful, if oblique," he says.

But still it's startling that he could turn out 236 pages and say so little of what he felt or thought of the principles of government evolved during the important years between 1929 and 1943.

Perhaps he explains why when he says "people vote for men rather than for principles."

He makes it plain that he regards political publicity as a shell-game. Now you see it, now you don't. His stuff moved under his own by-line. Not all of it. He could write to order on the drop of a hint.

Isn't this a good spot for Senator Blunk to say something for or against something? Call Charley Charley wrote it. Senator Blunk in all solemnity delivered it as his own.

You may be sure Michelson has his counterparts in the Republican camp at which he enjoyed heaving banana skins.

But politics on the inside must have been spooky sometimes even for a ghost like Michelson. He mentions the possibility that some of his own people planted a spy at his elbow.

There is little in the book which Democrats can crown at Michelson. He lived off them a long time and he isn't biting their hand, at least not hard enough to draw blood.

He swipes at Herbert Hoover. But he was hired to do that when Hoover was still president. So he's consistent. He takes a few not-too-heavy pokes at the presidential favorite, Harry Hopkins, and seems to wonder what the Hopkins' charm is.

Any chance that politics could get a thorough laundering? Michelson cocks a calm eye at the world as he knows it, grins a little, and murmurs something vague about "the misty future."

Clifton Fadiman Joins Book Club Editorial Board

NEW YORK—Clifton Fadiman, editor, book critic and master of ceremonies for the "Information Please" radio program has been made a member of the Editorial Board of the Month Club is de-Club, it was announced Wednesday by Harry Scherman, president of the Club.

Mr. Fadiman's appointment is the first addition to the Book-of-the-Month Club's board of editors since the organization was launched eighteen years ago, with Dorothy Canfield, Christopher Morley, Henry Seidel Canby, Heywood Brown, who died in 1939, and the late William Allen White, as the five judges.

As the new judge, Fadiman will help select the book-of-the-month from among the approximately 300 forthcoming books submitted by book publishers each month. He will vote for his first selection at the next monthly meeting of the board, to be held May 15th.

Pointing out that the function of the Editorial Board is not to choose books people "ought" to read, or to try to find the most likely best-sellers, but simply to select a book that appeals strongly to all the members of the committee, who have highly diverse tastes, Scherman stated.

"Clifton Fadiman's major interest has always been a deep concern with books, and the ceaseless cross-fertilization that goes on between literature and life. His highly individual book-judgments, and his acute critical conscience, fit beautifully into our editorial picture. The Book-of-the-Month Club is delighted to present him, in this new phase of his career, to its subscribers and the American reading public."

NEW YORK WALL STREET
NEW YORK, May 11—(AP)—It was another fair day for assorted stock market specialties but many leaders continued to operate indifferently in a cloudy area. Price variations of fractions either way ruled near the close. Transfers for the full proceedings were around 600,000 shares, with low and medium-quoted issues accounting for most of the volume. Ahead the greater part of the session were R-K-O Common and Preferred, Houston Oil, Gotham Motors, Gulf Mobile & Electric, White Motors, Chrysler, General Motors, American Can, American Telephone and Western Union "A," the last named aided by a good earnings statement. Down at intervals were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Southern Pacific, Du Pont, Montgomery Ward, United Aircraft, Anaconda and Eastman Kodak.

'Overstaffing' Probe To Begin

Washington, May 12. (AP)—A nationwide investigation of reported overstaffing of federal offices has been promised by chairman Ramspeck (D-Ok) of the house civil service committee.

Ramspeck said his committee, which received an additional $50,000 allocation this week, will send investigators to various cities where government offices are concentrated to check on reports he said he has received of "wasted manpower."

Ramspeck discounted fears expressed by some that the committee investigators would be regarded as "snoopers or gestapo men." The investigators, Ramspeck said, will study the work of various agencies and then make recommendations regarding practices "which can save time, money and effort." About 93 per cent of federal personnel, he estimated, is outside of Washington.

Relief Supplies May Get to US Prisoners

WASHINGTON, May 12—(AP)—Sec. of State Hull said yesterday the United States has received a note from Japan giving certain conditions about picking up American relief supplies which have been waiting at Vladivostok for distribution to American prisoners in the Orient.

The conditions now are being studied, Hull said, to determine their true significance.

He added that he hoped to find the Red Cross interpretation of the note—first mentioned in a Tokyo broadcast last week—that Japan now is willing to pick up the supplies to be correct.

About 1,500 tons of supplies have been sent to Vladivostok through Russian cooperation, but the United States has been unable to make satisfactory arrangements with Japan for their distribution.

The note came through the Swiss government, protecting power for the United States in Japan.

Hull did not disclose the contents of the Japanese note beyond stating that it set forth certain conditions about picking up supplies.

Spading Is An Art! You Have to Know When and How to Have Hardy Plants

Hold spading fork as nearly upright as possible, left, and be sure to break up all clods.

By HENRY FREE
Written for NEA Service

It is of utmost importance that garden soil be rather friable, reasonably rich in humus and well drained. Water-soaked soil is valuable, as it cannot be prepared for planting early in the spring. It is important to work the soil ready for seed sowing as early as possible.

Drainage may be achieved through surface ditches or by tile drain placed at least 30 inches in the soil. Back-fill over and about tile must be very porous; use slag, gravel or cinders to within eight inches of the surface.

Clearing and drainage should be done before manure and/or fertilizer is applied, and the soil spaded or plowed. Wait until the soil is workable before you start to dig; it should be neither too wet nor too dry. The easiest test is to take a good fistful and mold it into a ball. If it holds together and oozes moisture as you squeeze, then it is too wet; but if it crumbles easily in your hands, it is ready to work. Do not delay, otherwise the soil may dry out, or rain may come and force you to wait.

The first spading should be done where plot is most free of moisture. Use spading fork because it breaks up lumpy soil as you work, thus eliminating the need of harrowing.

Remember to dig the rows across the slope, thus forming a series of little dams to hold back the rain water. Rows running with the slope act as channels and carry away the topsoil from between the plants, thus exposing their roots to the drying air.

Heavy soils which have not been cultivated for several years, should be first plowed or broken up with a heavy mattock hoe. After spading, immediately rake the surface and pulverize the soil to a depth of two inches to prevent rapid drying out or hardening of large lumps. Do not spade more at one time than you can rake promptly and thoroughly.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Glad you dropped in, Judge. I was just trying to explain to Mary what you told us down at lodge last night...about all the grain used to distill war-alcohol not really being used up. She didn't realize it, either."

"It's true, Mary. Wherever the government has permitted distillers to purchase the equipment necessary to reprocess the used grain, at least 50% of the feed value (25% by weight) of the whole grain is being recovered and returned to farms like yours in the form of premium-quality livestock feed. Only the starch is removed during distilling...the part recovered is a highly-prized concentrate containing valuable proteins, fats and carbohydrates. The distilling industry really has taken a leading part in the development of new cattle and poultry feed products from reprocessed grain...rich in vitamins B<sub>1</sub> and B<sub>2</sub>...so essential to satisfactory growth and production. And the recovery of grain will apply also to the making of whiskey when production is resumed."

Precision Pays On Battlefield

Army Ordnance artillery is doing a grand job on the Cassino front in Italy, according to Col. George G. Eddy of the Ordnance Department, Army Service Forces.

Colonel Eddy, director of the Ordnance Research Center, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland, has just returned from a two-month tour of the North African, Italian and European theatres. He was accompanied by Lt. Col. August Schomberg of Denver, Colorado. Major D. W. Hoppock of Maplewood, New Jersey, and Lt. J. M. Davis of St. Louis.

The Germans fear the precision accuracy of our artillery and tank guns," Colonel Eddy informed Captain R. M. Smith, commanding Pantex Ordnance Plant, Amarillo. "This precision is attributable to the efforts of the Ordnance Department to develop guns and ammunition embodying the results of painstaking research and development work. The technique of fire employed by our combat artillery is designed to take full advantage of the veracity of our complete line of weapons and ammunition."

"We not only have air superiority in Italy but artillery superiority as well."

The classic all-out artillery duel between German and American artillery took place when the Germans tried desperately hard to drive our boys from the Anzio beachhead.

"We have guns and howitzers for every sort of target problem. The Germans didn't get far with their radio-controlled tanks. Our sharp-shooting artillery-men knocked them out before the German tanks really got going."

"Movable enemy pill-boxes are excellent—until our boys get the range."

The combat battalions of Gen. Mark Clark's Fifth Army are getting the best service from some of the best Ordnance soldiers in the world. Ordnance troops in Italy are veterans of the North African and Sicilian campaigns. They pass the ammunition right to the boys at the hot howitzers. Who knows?—This ammunition might have been produced right in your own backyard, at Pantex Ordnance Plant and these boys might be yours or friends of yours. They replace worn-out gun tubes wherever the guns are in action. They give 24-hour service on damaged tanks. Everywhere in Italy I heard only the highest commendation of the excellent work of Ordnance combat-mechanics, ammunition companies and depot companies."
