Common on Texas Split
The split at the Texas Democratic party convention at Austin recently drew comment from the nation's editorial writers.

CHICAGO SUN—This whole republic ought to understand the implications of the "anti-Roosevelt" result in Texas at the primary points.

KANSAS CITY STAR—There can be no doubt of an open revolt in Texas against the new deal.

CHICAGO TIMES—There's an atmosphere of local independence in Texas. So it's no surprise if a seceding group of Texas Democrats falls to go along with what seems to be the trend elsewhere to draft the president for another term.

OKLAHOMA CITY OKLAHOMAN—It is the Roosevelt supporters who are the bolters just now. They walked out of the convention at the last constituted Democratic convention after they had made their bid and lost.

OKLAHOMA CITY TIMES—On the very day that the elected delegates to the Texas State Democratic convention split...

The difference between governmental and private management is again explicitly demonstrated by the pouring of 1,000 gallons of milk into the sewers of Atlanta because of an ODT regulation that no milk should be delivered on Sunday.

WHAT CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS ARE TAKEN?
(Fort Wayne News-Sentinel)
In a heated exchange in the House, the other day, between Cong. Albert Gore, of Tennessee, and Cong. Stephen A. Day, of Illinois, Congressmen demanded of his colleague to know what Constitutional rights had been taken from the people by the New Deal.

Common Ground
By E. C. MOULDER
I speak the pass-word, however, I give the democratic motto. I give nothing which all cannot have their counterpart on the same terms.

Thinks He Has the Answer
A believer in the state owning the means of production thinks he has the answer for having each worker get all he produces.

From his writings he evidently thinks that only people who do the kind of work he thinks is necessary are workers.

Now this person seems to think that each man would get all he produces if there were no private ownership of property.

But neither he nor any one else ever has set down an impersonal rule by which to determine how much each man should get of the total production when the state owns the means of production.

Who would make the decisions? Would they not be arbitrary? Would not each man have to accept the arbitrary amount allotted him by the government?

How would the relative values of things be determined if there is no free market to establish them?

Would it not be the worst form of despotism? Would not the individual worker be denied an appeal in a choice of the work he is required to do or the amount he is to get?

Certainly no one would contend who would not try, or was not able to accomplish, much should get as much as the man who worked long and hard to learn to do a very difficult job.

As a matter of fact, if the government owned all means of production and established the rewards for each and every individual, not only would practically everybody (except those who made the decisions) be dissatisfied, but the total production would go down so materially that instead of having our present average income, the average would be little better than the lowest income under semi-private ownership of means of production.

Under private ownership a worker is not satisfied with his lot. He is free to do the things that he thinks will reward him greater. This could not be the case when the State made all decisions.

MAYBE IT'S HERE: Leaves From The Editor's Notebook

Not inconsiderable among the miracles promised and hoped for in our postwar world is individual heat control for apartment dwellers.

And as for the janitor—no more fights with the tenants. With their own thermostats they'll have no one but themselves to blame.

Even the apartment house owner is going to benefit according to the promise that he who have their sweat up their sleeve. They say he'll save money.

Yet, it will be a minor miracle, but a pleasant one. The cave dweller still won't be able to play the radio after 11, shake the dust mop out the window, or follow a guest many other independent pastimes of a householder.

We may have said some harsh words about OPA and WPB in the past, but today we are inclined to eat them. For OPA has made life more livable by taking the price ceiling off yoyos.

This is the third summer that the Office of Defense Transportation has asked the public not to travel during their vacations.

Is this much-wanted postwar housing development a sure shot or a myth? Is it necessary? Or is it a great field for postwar investment and employment?

Disregarding entirely the question of whether there shall be bigger and better public housing programs, the first question is whether there will be any super-duper housing development at all or just slow, steady growth.

Lately, however, a note of realistic caution has crept into this familiar jargon of optimism. The National Association of Real Estate Boards has just completed a survey in 376 cities covering half the urban population of the country and come up with the rather alarming prediction that the number of new dwell-

PINKY HARRISON was one of those who was sure he was not going to die. You'd watch him, after chow, at night, lying on the sand, propped on one elbow, his hair catching the flame of the desert sunset, and listen to the life he poured into that tiny harmonica and think, "Good God, how can anyone be that young!"

Pinky was always talking about his Martha, just as though he were going to see her tonight, tomorrow, next day. Ginning his eyes dancing. Playing his songs to her, reading her letters over and over. Martha was going to have a baby, any day now.

Not quite "bored." More realistically, it disturbed them a little. Pinky had only been here three weeks. Most of the others had been here three months. They had learned to be afraid, and that's what made them old.

THE night of the fourth, it was different. Lord knows how long the second barrage continued, but he still wasn't afraid—only eager. At ten-two, when the answering fire began, he dropped into a foxhole.

Afterwards Pinky remembered that he had reached the top. There had been the close, sharp, multiple report of a machine gun. Then the foxhole again, the close near feel of the sand...

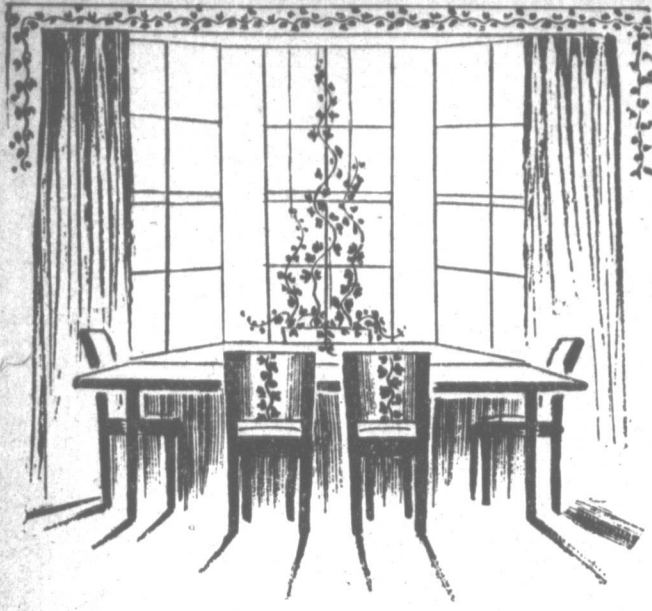

"Got your rifle ready? Bayonet in?" he asked finally. "I can't, Pinky... don't you hear him? Lean close. He's whispering something. Water—I guess he wants water." "No time for that. He must be hard about this, he must be. "I'm not going. Maybe I could do something for him," Steve said. "You yellow coward." "Not that! Suppose it was you, or me..." They heard a low whistle from somewhere. "I'm goin'." Pinky crouched, ready to move up over the embankment. "So long, yellow." Afterwards he remembered that he had reached the top. There had been the close, sharp, multiple report of a machine gun. Then the foxhole again, the close near feel of the sand... and his head lying in warm wetness.

Brighten The Corner

NEW YORK—Turning a drab or shabby room into the sprightliest spot in the house is a cinch, if you'll use gay wall paper applique — it comes in dozens of designs, is ready-cut and carries its own paste on its back—and repeat whatever applique design you pick in chintzes, potter plants and other easy-to-apply ideas.

Have you, for instance, a sunny breakfast nook that needs a beauty treatment? Pick ivy-leaf applique, brightened by red berries, to frame your window. A package of applique contains seven sections, which you can wet, paste on almost any kind of surface and make into a garland over your window. You also can use single motifs of ivy to paste on the doors of a built-in cabinet; use the ivy trim to run a single border up the back of a chair; make ivy-printed chintz into chair cushions; and put potted ivy in your plant stands.

Maybe you have a bedroom that needs a spruce-up? Pick a morning glory applique, put a wreath of it over the mirror of your dressing table and use some more of the applique as a border or to panel your closet door. Paste a couple of morning glory motifs under the glass top of your dressing table. Choose a morning glory chintz and make toss-on pillows for your bed; a cushion for your dressing table bench.

If your bathroom needs a decorating tonic, dose it up with lotus pool applique, used as wainscoting to give that effect. There are single fly-a-way birds in the lotus pool package which are clever to use for decorating a bathroom mirror or wall cabinet. Use them in pairs on each drawer of a clothes hamper. Go one step farther, and embroider or applique birds or lotus blossoms on your towels and wash rags.

"Pin Worms Can't Harm My Child!"

Better learn the Truth, Mother! You may think that Pin-Worms are just a harmless nuisance. Or you may think that this tormenting, embarrassing infection strikes only certain types of people. Don't you believe it! Rich or poor, young or old—anybody, anywhere can have Pin-Worms. And these crawling pests, living and growing inside the human body, can cause real distress. So watch out for the warning signs that may mean this nasty infection — the aggravating rectal itch; also, uneasy stomach, bedwetting, nervous fretting and uneven appetite.

If you suspect Pin-Worms, get a package of P-W tablets right away, and be sure to follow the directions. P-W is the new Pin-Worm treatment developed by the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son, America's leading specialists in worm medicines.

Important Scientific Discovery

The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets contain a remarkable drug (gentian violet) that is being hailed by high medical authorities as the most effective means ever discovered for dealing with Pin-Worms. Thanks to this important new scientific discovery, P-W works in a special, gentle way to destroy stubborn Pin-Worms.

Ask your druggist: P-W for Pin-Worms!

Lt. Mathay, now stationed at the Liberal Army Air Field, Liberal, Kans., was a member of the graduating class of 44-E class of the Pampa Army Air Field.

The marriage was solemnized in the home of Mrs. Ida Adams, 912 E. Browning, aunt of the bride, with the Rev. E. B. Bowen, minister of the First Methodist church, reading the ritual.

Floral arrangements decorated the room.

Mrs. C. J. Kilgus, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a navy blue two-piece dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

C. O. Pryor, cousin of the bride, served Lt. Mathay as best man.

The bride wore a black and white dressmaker suit with black accessories and carried a white Bible topped with gardenias and white satin streamers.

Mrs. Kidwell, mother of the bride, wore a black suit with a corsage of red roses.

Following the marriage ceremony a reception was held in the Adams home for the wedding party and a small group of friends.

Mrs. Mathay will remain in Pampa where she is employed at the Pampa News and Lt. Mathay will be stationed at Liberal.

The bride is a graduate of Pampa High school and was president of Quill and Scroll, news editor of the Little Harvester, school paper and a member and former president of the Sub Deb club.

The bridegroom graduated from Greenville High school, Greenville, Pa., and attended Teih college at Greenville three years before his enlistment in the Army.

Pampan a Leader In Bombing Run

Lt. Col. Webb was called to the telephone before he was out of bed this morning but it didn't make him any less excited. He was told by the telephone call that his son, who yesterday led one of the group of nearly 7,000 Allied warplanes that Sunday gave the Germans the heaviest series of daylight blows since the invasion began.

The Pampa doctor also learned that his son had been promoted from major to lieutenant colonel.

The telephone call giving this information came from The Pampa News. Dr. Webb hadn't known up to then that his son had been advanced a grade.

"I'm sure glad to know he's safe," Dr. Webb said.

Lt. Col. Roy Webb's group severely damaged a railroad, smashed at least eight locomotives with bombs, then skipbombed the roundhouse, shattering it. Four locomotives were inside.

An Associated Press dispatch today, dated Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary force, quotes Major Malcolm K. Smith of Graham, a group operations officer: "Operations have stepped up to the point where we are supporting the invasion by sending task forces from our base within a few minutes of each other. It is one steady continuous attack from the air."

Pineapple Shipment To Arrive in Pampa Tuesday Morning

Miss Millicent Schaub, Gray county home demonstration agent urges each homemaker to put up fruit for this next winter's food supply. She suggests that the hot-water-bath method of canning fruits be used because of the better in flavor, color, and food value. Recipes and bulletins giving the latest methods of canning fruits may be obtained by calling at the Gray county H. D. office at the courthouse.

Added Shoe Supplies Not in Prospect Now

There is no indication that any increase in shoe supplies will be available for civilians during the remainder of the year, according to a joint statement from the War Production Board and the Office of Price Administration.

Shoe rationing will continue in this country until there is a marked improvement in the supply situation, the officials stated in response to reports that shoes would be lifted from rationing on September 1.

Officials stated that inventories declined more than 53 million pairs in 1943 and that a further decline up to 25 million pairs is expected for this year.

Reds' McKechnie Can't See Cards Running Off With Flag

Tenth of a series
By BILL McKECHNIE
Manager of Reds

Now that I have seen every club in the National League, I feel confident that the Reds will be up there battling with the leaders when the season reaches its climax.

You can't discount the Cardinals. But I don't agree with the many predictions that the Cards will make a runaway race of it. They have a formidable club, possibly as strong as last season.

But anything can happen this year. If they should lose Stan Musial, Marty Marion or Walker Cooper, they would find it hard to obtain adequate replacements, even though they have great reserve strength.

The Cards outdistanced us last year, but we got off to a slow start, losing many double-headers early in the going. This year, in spite of being without two of our best pitchers, Elmer Riddle and Ray Starr having sore arms, we are ahead of our pace of a year ago. Our club always gets better as the season grows older.

Bill McKechnie... boss cools off.

PITCHING AND DEFENSE
Pittsburgh exceeds expectations. So does Boston. In our Cincinnati series with the Reds, it took a one-hitter by Bucky Walters and a no-hit, no-run performance by Clyde Shoun to give us an even break.

Bob Coleman has his boys playing heads up baseball. The Braves have a lot of robust left-hand hitters, should be tough for right-hand pitchers.

Our club is based on pitching and defense. When we get a well-pitch-

Eddie Miller... Vandy Williams... Ed game, we're mighty tough. And when Riddle and Starr come around, as I feel sure they will, we will be getting well pitched games almost every day.

It has been a pleasure to watch Walters, who seems headed for his greatest year.

MUELLER AND MILLER
Ray Mueller behind the plate and Eddie Miller at shortstop have helped us immeasurably. Mueller catches every day and in day out, handling the pitchers extremely well. Miller has been phenomenal, although this is nothing new for the Pittsburgh stylist. Woodrow Wilson Williams, a good hitter, has turned out to be a highly acceptable replacement for the accomplished Lonnie Frey at second base.

I have been surprised by the high caliber of play shown by all the clubs in the early running. In spite of losing so many star players to the armed forces, the games have been closely contested.

The fans are supporting the teams admirably.

I'm sure this is an indication that baseball will have a tremendous boom when the war is won.

Next: Luke Sewell of Browns.

SPORTS ROUNDUP
By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
NEW YORK, June 12—(AP)—Henry Armstrong and Al Davis, who likely will draw a lot of customers in Madison Square garden Thursday night, hold a notable collection of boxing records... and if they perform at all like they did on their last garden appearance, they'll establish another one that the garden's air conditioning system won't eliminate... when Henry lost to Ray Robinson (an retired for the second time) this corner was convinced that Henry could lick any welterweight who would step up within hitting range, and he couldn't lick anyone who could duck expertly off his recent loss to Willie Joyce, that still goes... Davis set a garden record by knocking out Bob Montgomery virtually with one punch. Then against Beau Jack, he couldn't even land one punch...

Eye Poppers

By JACK KEARNS
Famous Fight Manager

It wasn't the Dempsey-Carpentier fight itself, though it was exciting enough—it was the gate at Boyle's Thirty Acres in Jersey City, July 2, 1921, that gave me my biggest thrill in sports.

When the match was made, not even Tex Rickard believed my prophecy that it would draw a million dollars.

When I saw that crowd of 80,000 and Rickard told me the total take was $1,789,238, my eyes popped out with delight.

I had been criticized for not taking the 30 per cent Rickard offered for Dempsey in place of a $300,000 guarantee. Well, I ask you—who wouldn't have taken the guarantee at the time? Bill Brady and Charles E. Cochran, who were to have been co-promoters, walked out when Rickard guaranteed Dempsey $300,000 and Carpentier $200,000.

Harry Pollok walked into my hotel room, and caught me thinking heavily.

"What's bothering you?" asked Pollok, a fair hand with figures himself.

"Rickard wants to guarantee me $300,000," I began.

"What are you waiting for?" shouted Harry Pollok.

I signed the contract.

How Not to Steal Home

In football, Rip Russell might be guilty of illegal use of hands, but here first baseman is being tagged by Bill Raimondi of Oakland in attempt to steal home in Los Angeles. Laundering being what it is, perhaps ex-Cub does not care to risk soiling his best baseball suit.

Despite Slump, Yankees Still In Flag Race

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

They may be slipping, but don't count the world champion New York Yankees out of the running in the American league baseball race—not yet, anyway.

The Yanks lost a doubleheader to the Boston Red Sox yesterday, 2 to 1 and 4 to 1, extending their string of defeats to 11 of their last 13 starts. This is a record more characteristic of a tailend club than a pennant contender, but one need only recall last July when the Yanks were in the throes of a somewhat similar slump.

Then the Yanks were reeling on the ropes, barely hanging onto first place by a few percentage points. Just when things looked blackest they won eight in row and followed through by winning the flag and the series.

Tex Hughton and Clem Hausmann pitched the Red Sox to their double triumph. Hughton's effort was a three-hit masterpiece. In addition, he drove in the winning run in the opener by setting an infield hit with the bases loaded.

Meantime the St. Louis Cardinals, National league champs, gained two games over their nearest competitors by winning Cincinnati twice, 3 to 1 and 4 to 1, while the Chicago Cubs shut out Pittsburgh twice, 5 to 0 and 1 to 0.

The Cards set a league record for doubleheaders in a doubleheader by making nine twin killings, four in the opener and five in the nightcap, in backing up six-hit twirling by both George Mauer and Harry Kumbert. Walker Cooner, Whitey Kuroski and Danny Little hit consecutive homers for the Cards in the nightcap.

Paul Erickson turned in a two-hitter and Bob Chipman a five-hitter for the Cubs as they blanked the Pirates. Umpire George Magrarity, banished both Manager Frankie Frisch and outfielder Johnny Barrett, of the Pirates, after an argument in the opener.

The Chicago White Sox beat Detroit, 4 to 2, for their eighth straight triumph in the first game of a twin bill with Detroit, but had their streak snapped in the afterpiece when Stubby Overmire won, 1-0, on Rudy York's ninth inning single. Detroit thus climbed into third place as the Sox went into a fourth place 1st with the Yanks.

A grand slam seventh inning home run by pinch hitter Gene Moore gave the first place St. Louis Browns a split with Cleveland. The Indians easily took the opener, 13 to 1 behind Mel Harder, but Moore's round-tripper in the nightcap gave Bob Munchief and the Browns a 4 to 2 triumph. Umpire Charley Berry banished Manager Luke Sewell of the Browns, in the second game.

The New York Giants swept a doubleheader from the Phillies, both by scores of 6 to 3 with the second game going 12 innings, before Phil Weintraub singled Mel Ott home with the winning tally. Nap Reves' ninth inning single won the opener. Bobo Newton and Luman Harris, aided by Joe Berry's relief pitching, twirled the Philadelphia Athletics to a double win over Washington, 6 to 1 and 6 to 5, pushing the Senators back into the cellar.

Brooklyn and the Boston Braves divided their twin bill. The Dodgers won the opener, 5 to 4, in 10 innings record today with Ross Bush of Dallas.

16-Year-Old Texan Wins New England Tennis Tournament

HARTFORD, Conn., June 12—(AP)—A 16-year-old youngster from Sinton, Texas, Red Ray, today held the men's singles title of the New England tennis championship matches by virtue of a 6-1, 6-1 victory over Stephen Ogilvie of Bridgeport.

In downing Ogilvie in the finals yesterday at the Hartford Country club, the Texan displayed almost perfect tennis. In a morning match, Ray defeated John Gow of Simsbury in the lower bracket of the semifinals. Fourth-seeded Ogilvie gained the finals by coupling a match from top-seeded Al Stitt of Boston, 6-3, 6-6, 8-6, in the biggest upset of the tourney.

Byrd Wins Inquirer Golf Tournament

PHILADELPHIA, June 12—(AP)—The professional golfing brigade, richer by $17,500 in War Bonds—of which Detroit's Sam Byrd snatched $6,700—headed for New York and new gold and glory today.

Next step on the play-for-play parade is at the Wykagil club, just out of Gotham, where a $13,333 War Bond tourney for the Red Cross is scheduled Thursday through Sunday.

Byrd, the ex-outfielder of the New York Yankees, who turned pro in 1937, won the Inquirer's 72-hole medal play marathon here yesterday with 274—seven strokes ahead of second place Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, N. Y., and 10 under par.

HOW ABOUT RAISING WATER BUFFALOES?

"Could you assign me some extra homework, Miss Carter? I need some way to work off this extra energy I get from Wheaties."

There are other ways to work off extra energy. Cleaning out a paper and scrap, or working a garden—for example. Yes, there's work to be done. So give yourself something to work on. Start with a big bowl of milk, fruit, and Wheaties. "Breakfast of Champions."

to go along with the nominee, but the assurance that the platform declarations—especially with reference to foreign policy—are not a mere formality which might be ignored by the GOP nominee.

In his first article, Willie dealt with federal vs. state powers, a favorite topic with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, who has the support of more instructed convention delegates than any other candidate, and of John W. Bricker of Ohio, second in strength.

Willie took a mile road, advocating "the substitution of federal powers by law for government by caprice and unlimited discretions" rather than any "weakening" of federal powers. He said sufficient authority must be left in Washington to enable the United States to live and lead in the family of nations.

Another weekend development was announcement of Senator Reynolds (D-NC) of the formation of "the American nationalist committee of independent voters," which he said would attempt to prevail on both major parties to adopt "America first" platforms.

The Chinese announced that now the China end of the famed road could carry supplies to the Salween army, heretofore dependent on mountain trails.

After distinguishing itself in engagements there, this division made a "ghost move" by entering fifth army territory, passing swiftly through Rome despite the congestion of the city and then shooting northward more than 50 miles to the west bank of the Tiber.

"It is now quite clear," a headquarters announcement said, "that the original 14th army of (Col. Gen. Eberhard) von Mackensen has been dispersed to the four winds.

All that remains is a few scattered remnants who mainly are engaged in stealing one another's transport to get away as fast as possible. Prisoners describe the situation as wholly chaotic.

The doughboys were cracking the Cherbourg peninsula line in the center, and a Berlin broadcast reported seaborne forces had landed at St. Vaast in Hogue, 15 miles east of Cherbourg port.

In the widening hole in the center of the beachhead to the southeast, Berlin said British formations were concentrating in the Balleury area, 12 miles inland, flanking Cerisy forest to the east, thus in position to aid the American drive on St. Lo.

Headquarters said the beachhead from now had been lengthened to 60 miles, and said the German command had been forced to throw in reserves piecemeal, sapping potential strength for his anticipated major counterattack.

The Germans, however, halted the British drive in the Tilly sur Seules area southeast of Bayeux, and there were strong indications the Allies had lost the town of Tilly itself, 12 miles inland, although still occupying high ground around it.

Heavy fighting raged in this sector seven miles below Bayeux.

Despite the tattering there and the hard fight around Caen, headquarters described the general situation as "better than satisfactory."

radio declared.

Continuing a stream of reports of new Allied landings, Berlin's irate news agency said seaborne forces had been put ashore at St. Vaast La Hougue near the top of the peninsula and due east of Cherbourg yesterday.

The Germans said the Allies had crossed the Orne Estuary, ferrying over tanks and threatening Caen, which Marshal Erwin Rommel by his counterattacks had made a testing point.

The crossing of the Estuary forced the Germans to evacuate two towns before the Allied onslaught was checked near Troarn, nine miles east of Caen, by German accounts.

A breakthrough here would link up infantry with parachute troops which the Nazis said had landed in the Troarn area earlier.

Heightening the prospect of encirclement of Caen was the German report of other parachute troop landings south of the town.

To the west British troops also were flanking the town by a thrust through Tilly-sur-Seules where armored columns were engaged in fierce combat.

Are you a part of the Gasoline BLACK MARKET? BLACK MARKETS just don't happen. They are made by customers of the market... by people who want more than their share of the nation's desperately needed gasoline. Maybe you—a good, patriotic and conscientious American citizen—are a part of the black market and don't realize it. If you have ever bought or accepted more coupons or gasoline than your ration board allowed you, you are, wittingly or unwittingly, a part of the black market. It's true that America is producing and refining more crude oil than ever before. The oil industry has expanded its operations and facilities tremendously. But the war machines we've been building since Pearl Harbor—thousands of planes and tanks and trucks and ships—are up at the front and on the attack throughout the world. These machines must not run out of gas. Essential civilian needs on the home front must be supplied. There simply isn't enough gasoline to do both jobs without limit... Certainly there's not enough to support a black market that is siphoning off more than 2,500,000 gallons a day from our available supply. Your patriotism is on trial. The gasoline situation is serious. Every drop you use is precious. Less than three-fourths as much gasoline can be spared for the home front as in 1942. Rationing must cover essential needs first—farms, trucks, buses, industry, your doctor's car—and these are imperative; they cannot be reduced. We Americans cannot tolerate the black market—certainly we, as individuals, cannot have a part in it.
