Japanese, Bent on Dividing China, Besiege Hengyang

Report From Saipan Isle Still Good

By J. B. KRUEGER
AP Press War Editor

Japanese troops hammering at Hengyang have captured the U. S. airforce base there, thus reaping one of the first major fruits of their drive to slice China in two. It was partial recompense for the progressing American conquest of Saipan in the Pacific.

Chungking, conceding abandonment of the advance field, reported the vital Chinese city had burst into flames under the pressure of the greatest Japanese China offensive since 1938.

Loss of the base was a hard blow to the Allies, and Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault's fighters quickly retaliated, dropping 1,000-pound bombs from their P-51s and knocking out one runway.

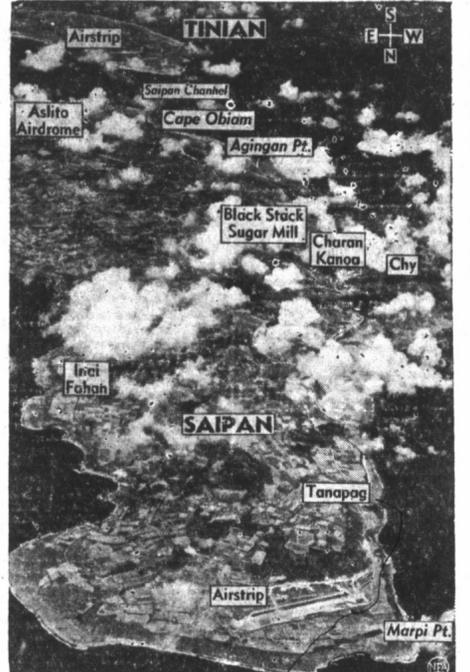

Hengyang, key point on the Hankow-Canton railway, is surrounded, its loss would greatly advance Japan's presumed aim of dissecting the country along the Railline and blocking the Allies out of coastal China.

Judge Deplores Acts Of the New Deal

FORT WORTH, Texas, June 29—(AP)—Federal Judge Edgar S. Vaughn of Oklahoma City says that "for an agent of the executive branch of our government) to act as investigator, prosecutor and judge is repugnant of our form of government."

"The positive duty of our courts is plain when such situations are properly presented to them," Judge Vaughn yesterday told a luncheon for district and appellate judges held during the State Bar of Texas convention.

The Oklahoman called on Texas judges and attorneys to be the "defenders of the constitutional rights of the judicial branch of our government."

Applause interrupted his remarks as he quoted the oath of office of the president to "preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States," and followed with quotations from numerous statesmen in American history who had insisted upon the independence of the judiciary.

Turbulent Colorado Defies Rescue Party

GRAND CANYON, Ariz., June 29—(AP)—The Colorado river raging at flood stage thwarted attempts of two rescue parties to have three parachutists encamped on a Grand Canyon plateau but seasoned rangers, a mountaineer and army personnel were descending into the gorge today hopeful by the hour of reaching the men.

Ed Laws, veteran ranger, and Dr. A. A. Macrae, expert mountaineer, left the north rim of the chasm yesterday and moved downward through fissures in the rock toward the marooned airmen's shelter. With luck, they expected to reach their goal today.

Army personnel and two rangers made up the second party still active today.

Cheeses, Lamb Cuts Are Back On Ration List

WASHINGTON, June 29—(AP)—Housewives will have to take their ration books to market again in buying choice lamb cuts and soft cheese, and the butcher will take one to two more points a pound for beef steaks and roasts.

The Office of Price Administration, announcing point values for the period from next Sunday through July 29, said today it was necessary to put choice lamb cuts—lamb chops, steaks and roasts—back under rationing because a highly organized and unified drive in distribution has been equitable. Values assigned range from three points a pound for some chuck roasts to 40 points for loin chops.

The supply of beef steaks and roasts will be smaller by 12 per cent in July, OPA explained in hiking the point values to a record high, a porterhouse steak, for example, will cost 14 points a pound, up two, while a seven-inch-cut standing rib roast goes from eight to 10 points a pound.

The decision to put points back on lamb was made, OPA said, when three out of four of the agency's 94 district offices reported that choice cuts were short of demand.

Because return of popular lamb cuts to the chart is counterbalanced by a sharp rise in price of beef, housewives will continue to get only 30 points a month for buying meats and fats. The allotment was 60 points a month before all meat except choice beef was made ration-free early in May.

All pork, veal and the cheaper cuts of beef and lamb remain point-free and butter and margarine continue at 12 and two points a pound, respectively.

Soft cheeses, the so-called perishable varieties including Swiss and cream, go from a point-free value to four points a pound.

Tom Dewey Sets Upon Task Of Launching National Campaign

CHICAGO, June 29—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey told what he called the "World's Biggest Press Conference" today that he hopes to confer with all of the nation's Republican leaders, including Wendell L. Willkie, on presidential campaign plans.

As the footweary convention crowds headed homeward, all signs pointed toward evolution of a highly organized and unified drive between now and November.

Jones Denies Part In Dem Convention

WASHINGTON, June 29—(AP)—Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones says in a letter to the Washington Post that "I had no part, either directly or indirectly, in plans for or proceedings of the Texas State Democratic convention."

Jones' letter yesterday replied to a Post editorial of June 22 saying Jones and William L. Clayton surplus war property administrator, "have been commonly reported in connection with the plot" to subvert electoral votes by having them cast against candidates they chose to support.

"I was not consulted, directly or indirectly, on the choice of delegates to the national convention or the electors of the State of Texas," Jones' letter said.

"I had no knowledge of the resolutions to be offered at or adopted by the Texas State Democratic convention."

The Post, in an accompanying editorial, said "We are glad to hear Mr. Jones' disclaimer."

"Our apologies are due Mr. Clayton," a later editorial continued, "if we seemed to give credence to the report (concerning him). It is established that he has not been active in organization of politics in Texas."

Plainview Concern Denied Tax Claim

NEW ORLEANS, June 29—(AP)—The U. S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals has held that the Staked Plains Trust, Ltd., of Plainview, Texas, was not entitled to deduct $29,750 as interest accrued on indebtedness on its income tax return for 1937. The deduction had been disallowed by the commissioner of internal revenue and the tax court.

Wounded Texan Says Japs Burrowed in at Saipan

A U. S. NAVY HOSPITAL, OAHU, June 29—(AP)—The first large detachment of wounded Marines from Saipan held today how the Japanese have literally dug themselves in on the northern end of the island—and may just as literally have to be dug out.

The wounded said that American considerations for Japanese civilians during the early days of the bitter fighting had cost the Marianas invaders a considerable amount of casualties and trouble.

Pfc. Jack D. Brown, 22, Omaha, Neb., said the Japanese had burrowed out a maze of caves and tunnels in Saipan's northern mountains.

"It's hard to get the Japs out because they've dug down so deep," said Brown.

"First our boys gave them grenades, then flame-throwers, then demolition bombs. They've burrowed in so well it'll take a lot of pounding to clean them out."

Others in the group of lightly-wounded Saipan veterans interviewed by Pacific Fleet headquarters correspondents today included Pfc. C. B. Blythe, 23, Sherman, Texas, pipe fitter.

The tall, husky Blythe was put out of action, after several narrow escapes by a bullet in his right foot after a busy three days with a Browning automatic rifle.

On the first day he was with a reconnoitering platoon, half a mile ahead of a force advancing on Aslito airdrome, when Japanese snipers left go with hand grenades, wounding eight of his companions. He was unhurt.

Two days later Blythe was caught with a detachment in a valley swept by enemy fire from hills on both sides. "A bullet hit my repair kit on my cartridge belt and burned my skin," said Blythe. "That was close. Brother, I was scared."

Blythe finally was hit while holding a defensive line well to the rear.

Russians Entrap 5 Nazi Divisions In New Advances

LONDON, June 29—(AP)—The Red army stormed closer to the White Russian capital of Minsk today after capturing three Nazi strongholds at Mogilev, Lepel and Ostipovichi in a swift, crushing offensive that in less than a week has reclaimed 25,000 square miles of Russian soil and cut deeply into Hitler's divisions on the eastern front.

A broadcast Moscow communique said that Bobruisk, last Nazi defense bastion on the crumpled "Fatherland Line" was encircled by Soviet troops losing in on five trapped Nazi divisions.

Capture of Kostritsa, eight miles north of the important railway junction of Borisov and about 50 miles northeast of Minsk, was announced in the communique. The fall of Borisov appeared imminent.

Capture of the railway junction of Ostipovichi on the Minsk-Bobruisk line established a strong salient less than 60 miles southeast of Minsk.

Moscow said Nazi troops were surrendering in large numbers and were being routed everywhere at a tremendous cost in German lives and equipment. Fighting for the capture of Lepel, above Kostritsa and 20 miles south of Polotsk, was characterized by mass annihilation of enemy manpower," the Soviet communique declared.

Mogilev fell to Gen. Matvei Zakharov's Second White Russian Army after 24 hours of bitter street fighting. In blasting the Nazis out of the Dnepr fortress they had held since July, 1941, the Russians captured two German generals, Lt. Gen. Bammler and Maj. Gen. Ermannsdorff, and routed completely the 12th German infantry division, a war bulletin said.

Capture of Lepel, announced in the communique, placed Gen. Ivan Bagramian's First Baltic Army within 20 miles of the old Polish border, the closest approach by Soviet troops to the frontier in northern Russia.

The Moscow communique also told of progress on the Finnish front, reporting enemy troops cleared from an island in the gulf of Finland southwest of Yppir, and an advance of 19 miles made between lakes Ladoga and Onegzskoe (Onega).

Texas Over Half Way in Drive To Raise 465 Million

DALLAS, June 29—(AP)—Chairman Nathan Adams of the Texas War Finance Committee says Texas is heading for the "home stretch" in Fifth War Loan sales, having passed the half way mark.

On June 27, official sales totaled $27,272,253 or 51.2 per cent of the over-all quota of $54,000,000, said Adams.

Meanwhile U. S. treasury officials reported that metropolitan Dallas had gone over the top. They were Andrews, Angelina, Archer, Callahan, Camp, Clay, Fisher, Harrison, Jim Hogg, Mills, Panola, Real, Stephens, Sutton, Taylor, Upshur and Wilkey counties.

In a bond rally at Commerce yesterday which netted over $187,000,000, an automobile tire sold for $5.00 and a pair of shoes for $2.00.

According to latest official reports, seventeen of the state's 254 counties had met their quota. They were Adams, Angelina, Archer, Callahan, Camp, Clay, Fisher, Harrison, Jim Hogg, Mills, Panola, Real, Stephens, Sutton, Taylor, Upshur and Wilkey counties.

Paper Discusses 'Rump' Situation

HOUSTON, Texas, June 29—(AP)—The Houston Post says today the "rump" situation in the Democratic Party is being discussed by the pro-Roosevelt "rump" group.

The paper stated further: That Woodville Rogers, San Antonio attorney who was named secretary to the rump delegation, in a letter to the group said he had been elected by the group's 42 delegates, 11 delegates at large and a similar number of alternates go to Chicago and seek to be seated.

That Roland Bradley, chairman of the Houston pro-Roosevelt group, desires the designation to try before the convention to learn whether it would be seated.

Bradley said he had asked Alvin J. Wirtz, former states senator from Seguin, to go to men who will be legal advisers of the national committee to learn the status of the rump and the regular delegations beforehand.

Should the rump delegates decide to make the attempt, they would be competing with a full slate of delegates selected by the regular convention from which the pro-Roosevelt forces bolted.

Farley Ends Visit, Leaves for New York

DALLAS, Texas, June 29—(AP)—Democratic national committee chairman James A. Farley planned to leave today for St. Louis en route to New York, following a business trip to Mexico City.

In an interview with a Dallas News reporter yesterday, Farley declined to comment on Republican presidential nominee Thomas E. Dewey except to say he had been a good governor of New York state.

Farley said he would remain in the Democratic party because "now and in the future, I want to be helpful to my party, my city and country."

Farmer Is Praised For Record Crops

DALLAS, June 29—(AP)—Under the government's support price system, on more than 40 commodities, farmers have a gross income of more than $30,000,000,000, says War Food Administrator Marvin Jones.

In a radio address here last night, Jones called that sum "the largest income farmers have ever had." He added that congressional assurance that support prices of not less than 90 per cent of parity would be continued for three years following the close of hostilities was of "tremendous value."

"We have 81,000,000 cattle, several million more than ever before," Jones told the radio audience. "We have 120,000,000 hogs, far more than there ever were. We have more eggs and more potatoes and more poultry than at any time before. Our nation, the allied nations owe the producer a debt of gratitude."

Although he did not comment on current politics, he said in an interview preceding the radio address that food rationing, perhaps in a milder form than now, would be necessary for a short time even after the war, but gave assurance that rationing in all forms would be abandoned as quickly as possible.

Secret Serviceman Heads Texas IAI

HOUSTON, June 29—(AP)—Forrest Sorrels, chief of the United States Secret Service bureau in Dallas, is the new president of the Texas Division of the International Association for Identification.

Elected with Sorrels yesterday in convention here were J. C. Vaughn, Amarillo, first vice-president; Tom C. Monroe, Austin, second vice-president and Oscar Nelson, El Paso, re-elected secretary-treasurer. San Antonio was chosen as the next convention city.

War Casualties Now 251,158

WASHINGTON, June 29—(AP)—American casualties in the war, including the first two weeks of the fighting in France, totaled 251,158. Of these, 55,206 are dead—35,104 soldiers and 20,102 navy, Marines and coast guard personnel.

Secretary of War Stimson reported today that through June 13 American army casualties were 179,923, of which 32,022 were killed, 73,668 wounded, 37,786 missing and 36,467 prisoners. These figures, he explained, did not include casualties in France because of a compilation of casualties from individual names transmitted from the field to the War Department lagged behind actual events.

To be added to them, however, was the report of supreme Allied headquarters that during the first two weeks of fighting in France American casualties totaled 24,162, with 3,082 killed, 13,121 wounded and 7,959 missing.

Only Three Days To Get Can Sugar

Gray counties have only three days in which to make application for their canning sugar allotments, the county rationing board office said today.

Only short notice was given due to the fact that a bulletin from the Lubbock OPA district office, dated a month ago, was not received until today.

This bulletin set May 15-July 1 as the period in which applications can be made. The maximum allotment is 10 pounds. Sugar allotments are granted semi-annually and an applicant might secure the entire allotment of 20 pounds at one time, if desired.

Democracy In Finland Is All But Lost to People

STOCKHOLM, June 29—(AP)—Finland was faced with the threatened collapse of virtually all semblance of democratic government today as Nazi troops swarmed through that tragic Baltic country, now plunged into full military collaboration with Germany.

At a parliament meeting today the five cabinet ministers of the dominant Social Democratic Party were scheduled to withdraw formally from the government of President Risto Pyti and Premier Erwin Linkomies, which opened the doors of southern Finland to Nazi troops.

Such action would strip the Finnish government of a Nazi segment of popular support. Associated Press Correspondent Robert Sturdevant, who returned to Stockholm after five days in Helsinki, said he had the impression that the resignations might be withheld, however, lest they cause collapse of the morale of Finnish troops.

The Progressive Party and the Swedish People's Party also expressed no confidence in the government in party caucuses. One Progressive member may withdraw from the cabinet.

Auto Use Tax Is Sold at 4 Windows

Four postoffice windows are devoted to the sale of the federal motor vehicle tax stamps. It was announced today by W. B. Weathered, postmaster.

The stamps will be affixed by July 1, Saturday, and only one-fourth of the estimated 5,000 stamps that will be needed have been sold.

Previously the tax stamps were on sale only at the stamp window. Now they can be bought at all postoffice windows except general delivery.

Tax stamp sales to date total 1,500. The price of each stamp is 85 and the stamp is good for one year. It is illegal to operate a motor vehicle without paying this tax and affixing the stamp on the vehicle.

Last year, Pampa motorists who failed to buy the stamps were caught napping when a revenue collector suddenly came to Pampa and conducted an intensive drive to see that the law was observed.

Genius for Thoroughness Started Dewey on Road to Political Fame

Thomas E. Dewey in an informal pose.

By S. BURTON HEATH
NEA Staff Correspondent

In 13 rather sensational years Thomas Edmund Dewey has climbed from obscurity as a fledgling lawyer to international prominence as Republican nominee for the presidency.

In approximately half of that time, he has matured from a rather brash amateur politician, at whose aspirations his opponents jibed with sincere if mistaken scorn, to a highly finished political strategist whom his adversaries credit with almost Satanic subtlety.

By almost unanimous consensus, Tom Dewey's success has been founded upon that genius which somebody once defined as "an infinite capacity for taking pains."

The legend of invincibility which he attached to himself, as prosecuting attorney, arose from the fact that he would not go to court until his evidence was so overwhelming as to be almost foolproof.

By following similar lines in preparing for each step in his legislative and administrative programs, as governor of New York, he has caused state Democrats to complain that they can not catch him in a useful mistake.

Dewey became an employe of the taxpayers on March 21, 1931, when he was made chief assistant to United States Attorney George Z. Medalle of the Southern District of New York. Since then he has been in private practice only for a few brief months, in 1934-5. Most of the past 13 years have been spent in five jobs—as Mr. Medalle's chief assistant, briefly as his successor, as special racket prosecutor in Manhattan by appointment of Governor Lehman, as district attorney of New York county (which is Manhattan), and as governor of New York.

Aspirant Gives Out a Lament

By S. BURTON HEATH
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 29—There appears to be no copyright line. So I feel free to pass on, with appropriate credit, this little ditty which seems to be the literary handwork of Tom H. Robertson, M. D., of 676 Chicago Blvd., Detroit.

"Coming Home on a Wing and a Prayer"
They will find Taxes here everywhere.
Will their poor dogs have a home,
Will they find a Happy Home?
What they find, rests with you—
Have a Care.

This plea provides the key to the campaign of Dr. Robertson for a two-year term as President of the United States. Dr. Robertson may be the Messiah whose coming, to save this nation from the Dire Calamities that began with World War I, was predicted eight or twelve years ago by "one of the best reputed Seers in the Middle West"—Ohio or Indiana.

Dr. Robertson forgets the seer's name, isn't certain from which state he came, is vague about the date of the prophecy, and has some doubt whether the report appeared in a Sunday edition of the Detroit News, Times or Free Press.

Having neither money nor backing with which to fight for delegates, the doctor has made his offer in a series of letters to Republican Chairman Harrison Spangler.

"I would be very glad," says he, "to run as President for two years with General MacArthur and then let him attend to the Japs for two years, after which time he himself could take over the following two years as President."

Dr. Robertson has a "true honest recovery program" that he says "will SAVE this country now." He also has a secret that "if properly handled and manipulated by the Republicans could be used to win the campaign with the proper Nominee."

He does not care to disclose his plan or his secret at present—not from any dog-in-the-mangerish selfishness, but because, as he explains: "I can not make the home run that WINS the game for us by trying to bat over another person's shoulder."

Tom Robertson... "true honest recovery plan will SAVE the country."

Unfortunate as it may prove to be, we must take Dr. Robertson with the times, or go without either.

The only clue to the general nature of the plan—if clue it be—appears in the preface to Dr. Robertson's little brochure, in which he says:

ONLY ONE SALVATION
"We have sadly failed to observe this Our Country's Motto (In God We Trust) for the last decade or more. We have wandered far from God's Commandments, carousing and drinking Whiskey, Wine, Gin and Beer, no wonder people believe that the Armageddon is here. Cursing, Smoking, Lewd women and all. No wonder this Country is headed for a fall. Venereal disease rampant over the Nation. Drinking going on at nearly every occasion. Even STRIPS in Our Country do not hang for TREASON, and for these years, the People have been the DEVIL pleasing."

Having thus neatly summarized a diagnosis, Dr. Robertson prescribes tersely: "Only a return to God, each being a real Woman or Man, electing for President a Man with an Honest Recovery Plan. May save this nation from being EXTERNALLY DAMNED."

Youth Asked To Keep Security Cards
Thousands of school children have secured social security account numbers since their schools closed for the summer which means that they will no doubt be working during the summer vacation for the first time, said James L. Farmer, Acting Manager of the Amarillo, Texas, Social Security board field office.

"It is commendable in these boys and girls that they are not only assisting in relieving the manpower shortage, but making a valuable contribution to the war effort and earning wages at the same time. Each one of them should bear in mind that the social security card they have will be just as good and just as necessary next year as this and it should be preserved and safeguarded."

Many people secure social security account numbers and misplace or lose them and that requires a duplicate, loss of time, by the worker and unnecessary delay.

New Educational Plan Is Established At University of Texas

AUSTIN, Texas, June 29—First phase of the University of Texas' long-range educational policy development to crystallize its attitude toward and services to its freshman and sophomore students.

Strides in this direction loomed this week as the General Faculty approved several recommendations made by a 16-member committee on Educational Policy after an 18-month survey.

One decision reached was that there will be no break in the university program between freshmen-sophomore and junior-senior work and no effort to set up a lower division or general college.

Other committee recommendations approved by the general faculty subject to approval by the Board of Regents would strengthen examinations, coordinate and intensify guidance and student personnel facilities, and provide for war veteran services.

Several other recommendations were shelved by the faculty until they can be considered at more leisure next fall. The committee also proposes to present other findings from time to time—some additional ones in regard to freshmen-sophomore problems, others on general liberal and professional education, extension teaching and adult education.

Graduate Dean A. P. Brogan, who has headed the educational policy committee during its year and a half investigations, hailed the action of the General Faculty in approving some of the committee recommendations as "progress."

Under these recommendations, examinations—both for prospective enrollees and for students all along the line—will be toned up, standardized and strengthened. A full-time director, a broadly trained and experienced educator, would be appointed to head an examining and testing bureau.

This program, if carried out on the scale the committee envisions, would have far-reaching effects, Dean Brogan points out. Undertaken as a cooperative enterprise between faculty members and the bureau, it would result in more valid and comprehensive examinations, and would ultimately raise teaching standards thereby improving the quality of work required by students at all levels from freshmen to graduate students.

This bureau would develop and administer entrance examinations, conduct placement and aptitude tests, administer special exams. It would study the problem of terminal exams to be given at the end of the sophomore year, and the problem of comprehensive examinations for seniors and graduates.

The recommendation on guidance and student personnel services calls for a coordination and intensification of present facilities, to integrate these facilities with the total university educational program and to make these facilities more readily available to every student.

To face squarely the problems of war veteran students who are already entering the university and who will soon appear in vast numbers under the Veterans Rehabilitation Act.

Institute Works For Control Of Social Diseases

AP Features
CHARLOTTE, N. C.—Can the problem of "VD"—venereal disease—be licked?

North Carolina, a pioneer state in "VD" control, thinks it can.

Medically, venereal disease no longer is a problem. With new drugs and new technique, once unmentionable "social diseases" often can be cured in rapid treatment centers within hours and days instead of the months and years required before.

North Carolina views these as the real problems:

How can the cases be reached, poverty, ignorance, fear and prudery being what they are? Just what plan will do for syphilis what informed public opinion has done for such diseases as tuberculosis and smallpox?

In search of the answers is the VD Educational Institute in Raleigh, a unique laboratory or idea factory where experts are at work. Control methods suggested and applied continuously are being weeded out and study steadily is advanced.

World War II has brought before the institute a shocking picture. Selective Service physical examinations for the first two million men drafted showed an average of 47.7 in every 1,000 were syphilitic. Averages in some states rank as high as 160 in 1,000.

The armed forces, federal and state governments and many municipalities have stepped up efforts to beat "VD". But unlike many other agencies the institute is not attempting a medical campaign. Instead, it aims to replace public ignorance and indifference with understanding and enlightenment.

The VD Education Institute resulted from the establishment in 1927 of a $7,000,000 memorial trust fund by the family of the late Smith Reynolds, tobacco heir. Estate income was to be used by the state for a long-range "VD" control program. U. S. Public Health Service and North Carolina state funds also go into operation of the institute, directed by Capus Waynick, a former newspaper publisher.

An aid to the program has been the success of the U. S. Public Health Service's nation-wide campaign to teach the public about syphilis and gonorrhea.

In the institute's laboratory, artists, writers and specialists in VD and sex education create material which will give the average person definite impressions. The effectiveness of this material is tested and the results are made available to any agency.

Waynick says he believes there is a growing demand among public school educators for "real" sex education, which he considers to be the ultimate weapon against social diseases. "The institute now is preparing a high school textbook on the subject.

Being mass produced are illustrated posters, booklets, pamphlets and other material including stides and strip film sequence. Movies, typed for variable audience appeal, also are planned.

Tons of material are kept by the institute as exhibits of what has not worked in the past.

Army posts have ordered thousands of the institute's posters. Much material also is translated and sent into Latin American and other neighboring countries.

Rural Vance county in North Carolina now is being used as a laboratory to answer the question of how best to reach Negroes. Careful not to create the impression that it links "VD" with morality, the institute has used the Negro churches extensively, winning the confidence of the ministers and organizing committees to distribute posters and pamphlets.

The institute says the church reaches far into the backwoods communities and has the trust of the people. The ministers who preach on the subject after becoming convinced of the value of "VD" control have done much to improve conditions. Also important have been Vance county high school anti-"VD" programs.

tion Program, the committee recommended:

1. Reduction from 21 to 18 the age limit now required for admission of students by individual approval, in the case of persons who have served as much as six months in the active armed forces of the United States.

2. Creation of a special planning and advisory committee for returning veterans and to recommend action to meet these needs.

Jap Is Now Changing His Tune In Talking of Invaded Islands

By RUSSELL BRINES
Associated Press War Editor
America's seaborne battering ram—Task Force 58—has upset Japanese naval strategy and transformed smouldering Saipan into a four-alarm fire for Tokyo.

With undiluted grimness, the Japanese high command in domestic propaganda has pictured Saipan as the first American-invaded objective so vital it must not be lost. This unusual frankness is coupled with the hint of future Nipponese sea and aerial assaults in force against American element in that area.

The Japanese tried this by launching their aerial attack last Sunday. One of their fleets was in position to move in for the surface "kill" if the air assault crippled the American force.

But Task Force 58 showed such power in smashing the aerial thrust that the Japanese fleet withdrew; not in fear, but because the odds were unfavorable.

The might and the staying power of 58, which has remained in Marianas waters for two weeks, has shown the Nipponese that straight power, not "ganging" tactics, is necessary to protect Saipan.

Hence that island's tactical importance was enlarged by the fact its defense requires the risk of larger fleet units than the Japanese heretofore have wished to expose.

By mobilizing the entire strength of the land, sea and air forces in this area, we must exert our efforts for the destruction of the enemy in the future.

All Tokyo propagandists have taken this theme. Instead of usual face-saving claims that invaded points are unimportant or no longer useful, they picture Saipan as a vital spot, defense of which is "a most important duty of the 100,000,000 people of Japan." The Japanese people know that homeland titles are within range of aircraft based there.

IT TAKES A WOMAN EVERY TIME
ADVANCED HQ., SOUTHEAST ASIA COMMAND, Kandy, Ceylon—(AP)—Allied military masterminds were stymied recently by a roadblock set up by a mahout full of arak and his elephant, equally full of loyalty. Overcome by the local firewater distilled from coconut juice, the mahout fell off the elephant and lay on the roadside. When a driver happened along and tried to help him, the elephant bared its tusks, raised its trunk and made ready for a frontal attack. The driver retreated. Brass hats, stretching away in an increasing vehicular queue behind the barrier, finally sent for the mahout's wife. She showed up an hour later, got the column moving, and led her husband away by the ear. The elephant tagged on behind.

These Touches Give Last Year's Togs New Flavor

By ALICE HART NEA Staff Writer

Tricks to make last summer's clothes win your favor all over again are good to know, if you are a bit fickle but would like to keep these faithfuls in service. Suggestions come from the alteration expert of one of New York's swankiest shops, who says it is neglect of the little details that keep good clothes out of the running.

Best trick, she says, to give an old dress a new lease on life is to re-hem it. Even if up, re-measure the length, and tack with care.

Change the buttons. Sometimes it's a good idea, even if last year's crop is intact and in good condition, because new buttons—particularly if you'll look around for exciting ones—will revive your interest. Freshen the neckline of the dress. That may mean only a new binding. But if that's not enough, splurge on some fancy neckwear.

Freedom of Speech

By The Associated Press
 A new development in party platforms is the Republican proposal designed to insure a free press and radio.
 Following are salient points of this plan:
 "It is imperative to the maintenance of a free America that the press and radio be free and that full and complete information be available to Americans.
 "We insist on a free press and radio to report the news and to act as instruments of the administration and the use of government publicity agents for partisan ends.
 "We need a new radio law which will define in clear and unmistakable language the role of the federal communications commission.
 "All channels of news must be kept open with equality of access to information at the source. If agreement can be achieved with foreign nations to establish the same principles, it will be a valuable contribution to future peace."

Standing in Line

By JAMES MARLOW
 CHICAGO, June 29—(AP)—Did you ever wonder why people stand in line for hours to shake the hand of a presidential candidate? So did we.
 When the Republican convention ended, nominee Thomas E. Dewey and John W. Bricker went to a hotel ballroom with their wives.
 All four stood in line. The crowd flowed in—hundreds of people.
 They drank the punch and ate cookies, hung over the balconies to see a little better, and formed into six-abreast line winding around the huge room.
 The Deweys and the Brickers, smiling and nodding and exchanging greetings with all comers, had a Marathon handshake. If their hands are not big as suit cases today, it's a wonder.
 "Wearing suspenders but no coat," the Rev. M. J. Doan of Chicago said: "I think it's a thrill to shake the hand of men honored like that. But I won't vote for them. I'm a Democrat myself."
 Then there was Charles LaRue, a Republican from Dayton, O. He said he felt "inspired" exchanging face-to-face greetings with the candidates.
 Just then a young woman in red rushed up, looked at the mob edging forward at a clamor, and said:
 "Just imagine. They want to tell their grandchildren they shook hands with Dewey and Bricker. I'd like to tell my grandchildren the same thing, but I can't. I have to stand in line to do it."

TOM DEWEY

 appeared to melt away like a snowball under the heat of Chicago sun when Gov. John E. Bricker of Ohio agreed to become Dewey's running mate instead of his chief contender for 1948 honors, and accepted the vice presidential nomination.

The two clasped hands on the convention stadium platform and exchanged remarks of mutual admiration and confidence in victory.

Typical of the resulting jubilant comments was that of Senator Clyde Reed of Kansas, who said:
 "We've got not only a match for Roosevelt but a master on the platform to carry the fight to him on his own ground."
 Youth against age was the predominant theme of Dewey's acceptance speech as he set out to follow Franklin D. Roosevelt's trial from the executive mansion in Albany to the White House via the Chicago nominating conventions. Mr. Roosevelt, too, flew to this city to accept the high honor in 1932.

The 42-year-old former racket-buster, in his opening statement to the American electoral jury last night, promised that "next year our government will again have a cabinet of the ablest men and women to be found in America."

"Its members," he declared, "will expect and will receive full delegation of the powers of their office. They will be able to administer those powers. They will each be experienced in the task to be done and young enough to do it."

The task of achieving a lasting peace, he declared, "is no task to be entrusted to stubborn men, grown old and tired and quarrelsome in office."

"It seems," he declared, "that the great men who founded this nation really knew what they were talking about when they said that three terms were too many."

A middle of the road path was adopted by the shaggy rangers who 1944 standard bearer on the touchy foreign policy issue.

"We are agreed, all of us," he said, "that America will participate with other sovereign nations in a cooperative effort to prevent future wars."

"There are only a very few," he added, "who really believe that America should try to remain aloof from the world. There are only a relatively few who believe it would be practical for America or her Allies to renounce all sovereignty and join a super-state."

Senator Robert Taft of Ohio, chairman of the platform committee, told reporters: "He stands on the platform 100 per cent."

Dewey made these other points:
 1. The first and foremost job is to win the war, and to defeat "once and for all" the German and Japanese will to make war.
 2. The present military high command is "doing a superb job" and should be allowed to continue without any civilian interference.
 3. The administration now is beset by internal squabbles and feuds—"wrangling, bungling and confusion." In seven pre-war years of "unequalled power and unparalleled spending, the new deal failed utterly to solve" the fundamental problem of providing jobs and opportunity. It has failed in "chatting fear of abundance," specializing in curtailment and restriction."
 "This must be a land where every man and woman has a fair chance to work and get ahead. We Republicans are agreed that full employment shall be a first objective of national policy."

CONFIDENCE VOTE IS GIVEN PRES. CAMACHO

MEXICO CITY, June 29—(AP)—The Permanent Commission of Congress gave a vote of confidence and support to President Avila Camacho in measures taken by him to suppress the "subversive acts" of the Sinarquistas organization is a conservative peasant group which claims not to be a political party. Recently the president ordered it to hold meetings, and the attorney general ordered an investigation of its official organ, to determine whether it was seditious.

 river and a wood-and-canvas boat for riding the rapids. The idea was abandoned after the river was found a violent torrent. It was flowing red and jammed with debris and carcasses of dead livestock washed down from lands above.
 The fourth rescue party composed of army motorized equipment, personnel and two forest rangers was moving as close to the plateau as possible. The plan here was to begin a descent by foot or muleback along still another precipitous trail.
 The parachutists bailed out of a heavy bomber which developed temporary motor trouble. They are Lt. Charles Goldbl, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Flight Officer Maurice J. Cruikshank, Jr. Lawrence, Mass.; and Cpl. Roy W. Embauba, Kallspeil, Mont.

CAEN

 is commanding the U. S. first division in France, headquarters announced tonight.
 It was also announced that Maj. Gen. Charles Hunter Gerhardt, son of a general and veteran of the last war, is commanding the American 26th Infantry division in action at Normandy.
 Fighting around Caen in the present stage is a typical big tank battle, with none knowing exactly where the front lines are and towns being overrun only to be retaken a few hours later.
 "Every British advance has been met with a most violent local counter-attack," the supreme command said. "It is to be expected that Germans will take a coordinated major counterthrust."
 It is considered unlikely that the battle for Caen will be decided before Marshal Edwain Rommel makes such an all-out bid.
 The last field reports said 80 German tanks had been destroyed in three days of the Caen fighting, bringing the campaign total to 150.
 In the air, the long-dormant German air force sprang into life under a protecting cloak of clouds to support Rommel's desperate bid to drive back the British, but 27 enemy planes were downed.

SAIPAN

 battle, but Chungking previously has been the Chinese ground defenders were in a critical position.
 Twenty thousand Japanese battled with fury to stem American forces slowly wedging them into the northern part of Saipan Island.
 Marines and infantrymen advancing up both coasts of Saipan got strong support from U. S. naval and air forces which struck at the Kuriles north of Japan, at the Marianas and the Carolines. Among the specific targets were Guam, Rota, Paramushiro, Shumushu, Tinian and Truk. Enemy air attacks against American warships and transports utterly failed. Adm. Nimitz announced in outlining the western Pacific situation through June 26.
 The lost soldiers inched into Garapan, Saipan's capital, blasting out the defenders street by street. They moved two miles up the east coast through two villages. Japanese trying to break out of Matpan Peninsula trapped were mowed down, 200 dying in the vain effort.
 Admittedly the Saipan fighting was as rough as anything yet encountered in the Pacific.
 A second trap was closing on thousands of Nip troops falling back on Wewak, New Guinea coastal base. Australian forces moved 80 miles in 28 days from the southeast and another Allied force pushed down from Aitape from the north. The gap between the forces is 150 miles. In their advance the Allies took Haisa bay, once chief enemy coastal base. A great amount of supplies were seized there.
 Gen. MacArthur's armies bombed and strafed from the Indies to the Solomons, hitting Timor, Selaroe, Babo, Manokwari, Wewak, Sorong, Yap, Woleai, Rabaul and Bougainville.
 Chinese advanced six miles from captured Mogaung toward Myittha, besieged north Burma city where other Chinese bowled over another enemy stronghold. Chinese troops also forced to within three miles of Tengchung, Japanese base in southwestern China.
 All Japanese west of the Kohima-Imphal road in India have been eliminated, southeast Asia headquarters announced, and the mop-up east of the highway continues.

Editors Look A Republican Nominations

Following are excerpts of editorial comment made upon the nomination of Governor Dewey yesterday on the GOP presidential candidates for fall election.
 Boston Herald (I-Rep)
 The almost unanimous nomination of Governor Dewey yesterday on the first ballot, the warm telegram of congratulations from Wendell Willkie, the selection of Governor Briggs for second place, the forward-looking platform, and the series of Republican successes in state and congressional elections for two or three years send the Republican campaign up to a flying start. A young, experienced, energetic, courageous and, most important of all, highly intelligent candidate, has become the standard-bearer of a rejuvenated, unified, progressive and aggressive party.
 New York Times (Ind-Dem)
 The contradictions in the (Republican) platform are clearly apparent. Throughout there runs a condemnation of centralization of power in Washington and an insistence on eliminating excessive regulation. Yet again and again the platform promises policies which can only mean a continuation of excessive regulation.
 Chicago Tribune (Independent)
 "Gov. Dewey was obviously the choice of the Republican voters this year just as he was four years ago. This time, the convention chose the man the people really wanted. They recognize in him a youthful, energetic, capable man who can make a stirring campaign. He is Roosevelt's equal on the radio. He will have the cordial support of all the influential newspapers. He has the courage and capacity to attack and dissolve the New Deal conspiracy that is rapidly bringing us to ruin."
 Louisville Courier-Journal (Ind-Dem)—The Republicans at Chicago have adopted a platform whose low moral temperature should have had the effect of refrigerating the convention hall.
 The foreign affairs plan can mean anything anybody wants it to mean. The shocking facts stand out that, as far as the platform is concerned, the Republicans have hardly advanced from 1920.

Music Therapy For McCloskey Patients

TEMPLE, June 29—(AP)—The keying of music therapy programs to the tastes of patients is fundamental, says Mrs. A. R. Richtmyer, New York, head of the National Foundation of Music Therapy.
 Speaking to Texas music leaders and army hospital delegates at a music therapy conference at McCloskey general hospital, Mrs. Richtmyer said yesterday that the contribution of talents by residents of areas where army and navy hospitals are located is vital to the success of the program.
 Morale of patients in wards where music is heard three times weekly never falls to the low level of despondency and despair, between appearances of the musicians which prevails before the program is put into effect, she said.
 The conference ends today.

Extension Service Largest In Nation

COLLEGE STATION, June 29—(AP)—Acting Texas Extension Director J. D. Prewitt says the Texas Extension service is the largest of any in the nation, employing over 1,200 persons, more than 45 per cent of them due to emergency farm labor, food production and conservation programs.
 He spoke yesterday before closing sessions of a refresher conference attended by 500 extension agents and specialists.

West Texan Fights On Against FEPC

WASHINGTON, June 29—(AP)—West Texas congressman, youngest member of the delegation from standpoint of service, is finding it his lot to carry the brunt of the fight against the Fair Employment Practices committee in the House.

He's O. C. Fisher of San Angelo, member of the Labor Committee, which has under consideration a bill to set up a permanent Fair Employment Practices committee.

The FEPC was set up originally by the President under the War Powers Act, and its professed objective was to combat any racial discrimination that might impair the efficiency of the war effort. Jurisdiction is supposed to be limited to the war industries, but it

Texan's Indignation Is Drowned Out

CHICAGO, June 29—(AP)—An announcer at the Republican national convention who referred to "I've Been Working on the Railroad" as the Texas state song, brought forth shouting disapproval from Texas GOP national committeeman R. B. Creager, Brownsville.

The Texans jumped to his feet yesterday in indignation but the strains of music drowned out his objections, the band played "The Eyes of Texas" and Creager went unheard.

A somewhat colorless convention was livened as far as Texans were concerned, by plans to pay a courtesy call today upon former President Herbert Hoover. A dinner will be given at the Palmer House for the delegation by delegate Eugene Nolte, San Antonio, will Illinois national committeeman Werner Schroeder, Chicago, as honor guest.

Meanwhile the Texans sweltered under Chicago's heat, waiting to help nominate Gov. Thomas E. Dewey for the presidency. Marris McLean, San Antonio, was expected to be the only member of the Texas

Gun Makers Walk Out At Houston

HOUSTON, Texas, June 29—(AP)—Frank A. Hardesty, district international representative for the United States steel workers union (CIO) says that approximately 250 employees of the Dickson Gun plant walked out Tuesday, joining Hughes Tool company workers absent from their jobs.

Tom Hay, personnel director for Dickson—a government-owned but Hughes-operated foundry fabricating large caliber gun barrels for army ordnance—said last night his count showed 15 workers left their jobs yesterday.

Hughes officials said work was continuing at their two plants and that additional men were returning to work.

Hardesty, at a union meeting yesterday, read a telegram which he said had been sent by Wales Madden, chairman of the regional war labor board at Dallas to Leonard L. Berliner, assistant disputes director of the national board in Washington. The telegram read by Hardesty described the situation at Hughes as a delegation who would not vote for Dewey. McLean is an ardent Bricker backer.

SANTA FE, N. Mex., June 29—(AP)—July 1 will mark the opening of the 707,965-acre Big Bend National Park in Texas, announced M. R. Tillotson, director of region three of the National Park service.

Edgewater's First Nine Shot In 29

CHICAGO, June 29—(AP)—Golf's blue plate special—a team affair with more combinations than a slot machine—continued today at the old Edgewater playgrounds, where club members still were agog over the 29 Jug McSpaden carved from the first nine.

A carnival atmosphere prevailed—even to the extent of using handily-talkies to broadcast scores back to the club house from out on the course—as mixed foursomes of pros, amateurs, women and seniors teed off on the final lap of their team tournament. The meet will become less involved tomorrow when a hand-picked field begins a 72-hole grind for the Chicago Victory National championship.

Meanwhile, there are pro-amateur, pro-women and pro-senior titles to be awarded.

McSpaden traveled around the compact Edgewater layout in 29-35—64 yesterday, equalling the course record. Par is 35-36-71, and 18 pros and two amateurs matched or bettered those figures in the limbering up exercises for the main tournament.

Not one could remember any player ever before shooting as low as a 29 for nine holes in major competition. McSpaden melted par with his putter, bagging an eagle 3 on the 493-yard fifth, and then firing birdies on the 7th, 8th and 9th with putts ranging from 10 to 15 feet. He missed several birdie putts on the back nine for a pair of bogeys which he nullified with three birdies, one by dropping a 20-footer, for a 35.

In the meantime, his partners also were coming through. Dorothy Germain posted a 77, the best score among the women, while amateur Don Armstrong of Aurora, Ill., and senior Arnold McKinley of Chicago fashioned 78's. The combination of scores gave McSpaden-Germain and McSpaden-McKinley the pro-woman and pro-senior lead.

The pro-amateur lead was held by the 1943 winning team, Sam Byrd, who had a 70, and Bob Cochran of St. Louis, who led the Simon purse with a 68—a 138 total. McSpaden and Armstrong were second with 139.

Other scores yesterday indicated the par-wrecking frolic in store before the meet is finished Sunday. Lieut. Ben Hogan of Fort Worth, and Johnny Revolta had 67's, Ky Leffoon, Jimmy Hines and Byron Nelson, 68's, and Willie Goggin and Pvt. Chick Harbert of Chicago, 69's.

Baptists Edge Harrah, 28-25

Big league type softball was played Tuesday night, when the junior girls of the First Baptist church edged out the Harrah Methodist Girls, 28 to 25.

Girls of both teams proved to be better batters than fielders and while the pitchers did a good job on both sides, the score doesn't indicate a pitcher's duel.

The girls league game was the only one of four games scheduled that was played. In the boys junior loop, Assembly of God forfeited to First Methodist and Calvary Baptist won over Central Baptist, also by forfeit, while in the boys senior circuit, First Baptist forfeited to Central Baptist—Assembly of God.

In the girls game the score was tied 4 and 4 at the end of the first inning. Then the Harrah Methodist ran in 7 scores in the second, pulling away until the last of the fifth inning.

First Baptist came to bat in the last of the fifth trailing 20 to 10, but not to be denied, they laid the wood on and brought in 11 scores to edge into the lead.

Harrah took the lead again at next bats with five runs, but the Baptists came back with seven runs, and retired the opposition in the first half of the seventh.

Mrs. Homer Doggett was coach of the First Baptist girls with the following players: Bobbie Tucker, Betty Prigmore, Kathryn McKel, Mildred Saunders, Janice Doggett, Grace Davis and Julia Marie Dawes. Mrs. Raymond Shannon and Mrs. J. M. Deering have charge of the Harrah Methodist Girls, with Mrs. J. B. Massa, representing the Ki-

1,500-Meter Race Won by Andersson

STOCKHOLM, June 29—(AP)—Arne Andersson, who smashed a lot of Gunder Haegg's world records while Haegg was in America last summer, now can boast his first victory over his famous countryman. They met for the first time in two years yesterday and Andersson won a 1,500-meter duel in 3:48.8, nearly four seconds slower than his own world mark. Haegg's time was 3:50.2. Andersson indicated that muggy weather had prevented breaking his record of 3:45.

Ball Extended To Three Sets To Win Into Semi-Finals

AUSTIN, June 29—(AP)—George Ball of El Paso, has pulled into the semi-finals of the Texas Tennis association championship matches but only after taking a three set match from W. B. Clinton of Dallas, 4-6, 6-1, 6-3.

Ball meets Clyde Heppenthal of Bergstrom field, Austin, today in the semi-finals of the upper bracket as he continues defense of the singles title he won last year.

In the lower bracket semi-finals are Sam Match, Bergstrom field, who yesterday defeated Franklin McCarter, Galveston, 6-0, 6-0, and Leo Laborde, Beaumont, who went three sets to down Edgar Braswell, San Antonio, 7-5, 3-6, 6-2.

In the junior boys division, Bobby Goldfarb, El Paso, defeated Howard Startzman, Houston, 6-2, 6-2 but a fellow townsman, Edgar Chew, lost to Ken Crawford, Dallas, 11-9, 6-0.

In junior doubles, Jack Blanton of Houston and Rodrigo de Llano of Laredo defeated Frank Barger, El Paso, and Bill Bailey, 5-7, 6-2, 6-3 and in men's doubles, Ball and Goldfarb of El Paso defeated Braswell and Harold Polkes of San Antonio, 7-5, 6-2.

Borger Signed Up For 1944 Football

AUSTIN, June 29—(AP)—More than 850 schools have filed football acceptance cards with the Texas Interscholastic league for 1944, Athletic Director R. J. Kidd announced today.

This represents 106 schools in Class AA, which plays to a state championship; 267 in Class A, which determines regional titles; 146 in Class B, which plays to bi-district championship, and 47 in six-man football, which determines bi-district titles.

Two schools that did not participate in football last year are returning to Class AA play—Borger in District 1 and Kingsville in District 16.

DRAFT MAKES WAC BOSS OF HER BOSS

AIR SERVICE COMMAND HEAD QUARTERS, Eng.—(AP)—One day WAC Sgt. Janie Wells was taking orders from Raymond F. Boore, civilian administrative assistant in the statistical control section of ASG headquarters. The next, Boore was in a private's uniform taking orders from Janie, his "superior non-commissioned officer."

When his draft number came up Boore volunteered for service here rather than be returned to the United States.

Lanier Loses Two To Phils

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

War relief picked up an estimated $50,000 today from the first four major league fund games but chunky Max Lanier of the St. Louis Cardinals just picked up a check for two more black marks in the loss column.

Lanier worked only six and two-thirds innings last night but he was beaten by the Phillies, 4-0 and charged with another 6-5 defeat in a continuation of a May 16 "suspended" game.

The largest crowd of the St. Louis season, 24,782, turned out for the novel doubleheader but Ken Rafespenger of the Phils spoiled their fun with a neat four-hit job in the regulation game after Charley Schanz picked up where he had left off in the "suspended" tilt to notch his sixth victory.

Chicago whipped Brooklyn twice, 12-6 and 6-2 before 16,322 who paid $15,827.99 into the war fund. Bob Chipman and Hank Wyse were the winners over Whit Wyatt and Hal Gregg.

The New York Giants western trip started on a sour note as the Pittsburgh Pirates clubbed out a 9-2 edge for Max Butcher to hand Rube Fischer his sixth setback before 19,479 who dumped an estimated $20,000 into the fund.

Dan Clay's 10th inning single in the opener and Estel Crabtree's pinch single in the nightcap gave Cincinnati a double decked win over Boston, 4-3 and 3-2 behind Jim Konstanty and Arnold Carter. Al Javery and Nate Andrews were the Boston losers.

The Yankee stadium "jinx" struck down the St. Louis Browns who bowed before Atley Donald's talent-ed curving, 7-2. Bob Muncie's six-game win streak was snapped by the New Yorkers.

Don Black kept Philadelphia out of the American league cellar by scattering eight hits for win No. 5 by a 7-3 margin over Cleveland's Vern Kennedy and Washington's Negeling turned back Detroit with three scratchy hits to decision Rufe Gentry, 4-1 and jump the Tigers into seventh place.

Manager Joe Cronin's seventh inning, double earned Boston a 4-3 twilight edge over Chicago, giving Joe Bowman his sixth win and Orval Grove his sixth setback.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK, June 29—(AP)—Ed McKeever, Notre Dame's newest football coach who is visiting here, tells how a kid from Vandergrift, Pa., wrote Frank Leahy a couple of years ago enclosing a sketch of Leahy he had drawn and asking for an autograph. Frank sent it, expressed the hope that the kid would some day realize his ambition to attend Notre Dame and forgot all about it. During spring drill this year McKeever, badly in need of a passer, tried almost everyone on the squad before he discovered that freshman Joe Gasparella listed as a center, really could throw that hoghide. Looking into the athletic department files to find Gasparella's background, McKeever found only the sketch of Leahy and Joe's letter.

IRISH INTELLIGENCE

Pat Filley, the '43 captain, likely will be back to lead Notre Dame next fall unless the operation he underwent last week fixes up his trick knees so that the armed forces will accept him. Pat recently was handed a medical discharge from the marines. Bob Kelly, a good runner and the only capable receiver of Gasparella's passes, will be available for only five games. McKeever really is "high" on the Gasparella kid, who is 6 feet 4, weighs 200 and won't be 18 until next February. Bernie Grimside by side in the Irish line a side few years ago, are in the same P-T boat outfit with Yale's Larry Kelley in the South Pacific.

SHORTS AND SHELLS

What's this story that the Phils are wooing Bucky Harris again because Freddie Fitzsimmons is squabbling with his players? If any body cares, there's a wrestling "war" on in Los Angeles.

Promoter Walter Miller, who has leased the Olympic arena, says he won't deal with booking offices and that there'll be no biting, gouging, slugging or tossing-out of the ring. And if that's true, there'll probably be of no attendance. Minneapolis report is that Mike Kelly, one of the founders of the American association, won't field a team next year if the European war continues. Although Babe Didrikson Zaharias inquired several months ago about becoming a tennis amateur, she failed to file an application, which wouldn't be acted upon for a year, anyway.

Over one could remember any player ever before shooting as low as a 29 for nine holes in major competition. McSpaden melted par with his putter, bagging an eagle 3 on the 493-yard fifth, and then firing birdies on the 7th, 8th and 9th with putts ranging from 10 to 15 feet. Ortiz To Fight Bolvin And Pep BOSTON, June 29—(AP)—Manuel Ortiz, the little Mexican from El Centro, Calif., who holds the undisputed bantamweight title, will make his first eastern boxing start against rugged Larry Bolvin of Providence, R. I., tonight in a "9-round overweight bout at Braves Field.

In 1938, when they were in the amateur ranks, Ortiz defeated Bolvin for the flyweight title in a Boston All-American tournament.

Ortiz also has signed to meet Willie Pep, holder of the New York version of the featherweight championship, in another non-title affair here on July 17.

Irish and Gonzaga Netters Meet Today In NCAA Semi-Finals

EVANSTON, Ill., June 29—(AP)—Charlie Sampson, sole tourney survivor of Notre Dame's team that finished the regular season undefeated, will try to salvage some prestige for the Irish today when he tackles Harry Likas, Gonzaga freshman in the first semi-final match of the N.C.A.A. Tennis championship at Northwestern university.

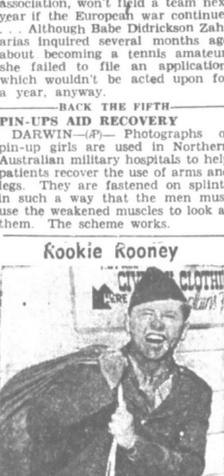

Two quarter-finals doubles matches, interrupted by rain yesterday, also are scheduled today. One pits Frank Willett and Howard McCull of Georgia Tech against Nick Buzloch and Gary Ruby of Pepperdine college (Los Angeles), while the other pairs off Sampson and Jerry Evert of Notre Dame against George Drulliner and Arnold Bessler of College of the Pacific.

College Scientists Find New Egg Preservatives

EAST LANSING, Mich.—(AP)—Scientists at the Michigan State college experiment station have developed two methods of treating eggs which they predict will keep them "strictly fresh" for months.

One method gives the eggs an oil coating to which a small amount of a preservative has been added. The other, the scientists say, freezes the eggs for home use, preserving them indefinitely.

Unlimited Power of Price Ceilings

Few people realize that price ceilings give the government unlimited economic power over the citizens. In reality price ceilings can do away entirely with the capitalist or the free enterprise system.

Under the American, or free enterprise way, the consumer is the boss of what is produced. He is boss by what he is willing to pay. When he buys a product, he votes for that production; when he refuses to buy, he votes against it.

But under a system of price ceilings he has no right to vote to tell the producer what he wants. That is left up to the government. Of course it is impossible for any government bureau to know what people really need and want.

Real economic democracy permits all people to express their economic desires by the prices they are willing to pay. If the government planners then should, under price ceilings, instead of meat, they can put the ceiling price on meat so low that meat is not produced. Thus people become cereal eaters rather than meat eaters, because the government controls.

These price ceilings were started in a small way so that most of us could not see that we were losing our liberty through the power we were giving to the government.

When the government has the right to determine what the citizen can consume, we have a planned economy, a collectivist state, a dictator form of government, socialism, or, in other words, matter by what we call it.

Proving Value of Services Under free enterprise, people are required to prove the value of their services as compared with the value of other services.

Under a planned economy, or price ceilings, or collective bargaining, the workers are not obliged to prove the value of their services. They try to establish values by coercion and compulsion rather than by peaceful cooperation.

When people refuse to prove the value of their services by a free market, and use instead collective bargaining or government orders, we have no way of measuring the relative values of services. Then everything becomes arbitrary; there is no standard of comparison. Then we have a government of bayonets rather than a government with the consent of the governed.

Under collective bargaining the group prevents others from helping establish the value of their services. But unless all are permitted to help establish values, there can be no true value of anything.

The American way, the Christian way, the true liberal way—is to let all people establish values. Man cannot be his brother's master if he denies to some the right to help establish values.

Common Ground

"I speak the Russian word, I give the sign of democracy. By God I will accept of which all cannot have the counterpart of on the same terms."

Answering A Communist (Cont.) I quote another paragraph from the Communist:

"With reference to those who do the work of the world, why should one man have to ask another man for permission to work? At once the relation involved is that of employer and employee, or master and slave. So long as we make work plentiful and capitalist nations have full employment must war—the worker enjoys a degree of independence. Let 'normalcy' return, however, and private corporations are again in charge of the job. Immediately worker independence ceases. Recent American history supports this assertion."

Under a capitalistic system no one need ask another man for permission to work. He can go fishing or go prospecting under a free economy without asking any man permission. Or, if he thinks the employer is having the better end of the operation, he can rent the land, the labor and the capital and be employer himself. Under free enterprise or the capitalistic system jobs are interchangeable.

Not so under Communism. There is only one employer: You dare not go to business for yourself or seek another employer. It is the worst form of slavery. So it is absurd and non-sensical to claim that Communism offers opportunity for the masses.

The Communist implies that the capitalist nations must have war in order to have full employment. As a matter of fact, wars are the result of people NOT believing and thus not practicing free enterprise. If the government did not interfere, if we did not have a degree of Communism, we could have full employment at a constantly increasing wage.

The countries that were to a lesser degree Communist than the United States had more control over capital; as, for instance, England and the United States before they receded so rapidly from the capitalist system.

Adopting a degree of Communism caused the United States to have the worst and longest period of unemployment in her history. Communistic acts that brought on the unemployment were the Federal Reserve System, the income tax law and the Clayton Amendment to the Sherman Anti-Trust Law.

So recent American history does not support the Communist's assertion. He assumes that America was operated as a capitalistic nation. No nation ever operated completely as a capitalistic nation. The United States was prior to 1913, and our unemployment has been the penalty for adopting Communistic laws.

A Definite Limitation To Government A statement often credited to Thomas Jefferson that the best government is the least government is not literally true. It is true in the sense that the least government is defined as meaning directing the least meaning is that the less a government attempts to direct the lives of its citizens the better the government.

When the government has the right to determine what the citizen can consume, we have a planned economy, a collectivist state, a dictator form of government, socialism, or, in other words, matter by what we call it.

When people refuse to prove the value of their services by a free market, and use instead collective bargaining or government orders, we have no way of measuring the relative values of services. Then everything becomes arbitrary; there is no standard of comparison. Then we have a government of bayonets rather than a government with the consent of the governed.

Under collective bargaining the group prevents others from helping establish the value of their services. But unless all are permitted to help establish values, there can be no true value of anything.

MAYBETT'S HERE: Leaves From The Editor's Notebook

The term "Maybett" appears more and more to designate about French underground activities. This is a slang word for the low bushes in Corsica, in which robbers used to hide. In origin something like our "bushy" or "France it means the secret warriors who damage German trains and equipment.

If, as likely, it began as a word of reproach, it only follows a familiar pattern. Other cases are known where a term of abuse was picked up by the group attacked and turned into a title of pride. "Troy" is the name of a great English political party; it originally means a high-top, whose frolics and whoes Dutch were struggling against the tyranny of 16th century Spain, they gladly took up the epithet. "Beggars" hurled at them by their persecutors, "Marquis," whatever its origin, is decidedly a title of honor in France today.

An American correspondent in France tells how, in the midst of battle, women in an adjoining pasture are calmly milking their cows. "The earth trembles to the crash of our shells and bombs; but the women, whose frolics and whoes Dutch were struggling against the tyranny of 16th century Spain, they gladly took up the epithet. "Beggars" hurled at them by their persecutors, "Marquis," whatever its origin, is decidedly a title of honor in France today.

There need be no fear that the Allied planes will give out. If strikes are avoided in the factories and this is, of all times, the least excusable time for anything of that sort. We can fill the air over German-occupied Europe with swarms of locusts.

Mexicans Say No Discrimination

MEXICO CITY, June 28.—(AP)—There is absolutely no discrimination against Mexicans in the U. S. Army, declared six young Mexicans who have arrived here after being transferred from the North American armed forces to the Mexican army at their own request.

The transferred soldiers were: Jorge Murillo, staff sergeant of an infantry division; Antonio Bravo Prieto, soldier of an anti-tank company; serving near Washington. Ernesto Chaparro Ortiz, first sergeant, who fought against the Japanese in the Aleutian Islands, Guadalupe Ruiz Velazquez, soldier of anti-aircraft battery No. 376 and chief instructor of paratroopers from Camp Benning, Ga.; Jorge Ruiz Murillo, soldier of infantry, and Salvador Eduardo Zavala also an infantry soldier.

MASS PRODUCTION LICKS PRECISION FIELD

PHILADELPHIA.—(AP)—One of the biggest feathers in the cap of American industry is the creation, since 1940, of an entirely new class of "watchmakers" mass-producing precision aircraft instruments.

One of the largest of these groups is at the Philadelphia division of Bendix Aviation Corp. where thousands of former beauticians, pianists, seamstresses and bowlers were trained in plant-operated schools to perform one operation apiece in the manufacture, for instance, of 120 different parts.

The Philadelphia plant produced equipment valued at more than a million dollars one month's quota included 175,000 air speed, rate of climb and turn and bank indicators.

Yet, in this acute crisis, the Germans have merely brought out another model of precision instrument, which only incidentally menaces our military effort because it cannot be accurately aimed. They are still trying to scare the British out of the war.

ROCKETS—Engineers recognize that the "buzzbomb" can be improved to pack a real wallop. Properly controlled, it will fulfill the dream of the earliest rocketing and artillery of undisciplined range and accuracy.

Why Send Observers To Germany?

WHY CAN'T OUR NON-EXPERTS STUDY ENEMY INVASION TACTICS, AT OUR OWN HOME ISLANDS?

News Behind The News The National Whirligig

By ALBERT LEMAN LUFTWAFFE—General Eisenhower's mysterious radio message to European fishermen to remain in port until June 29—the third warning of the kind this month—astutely has made the German jittery.

The Nazis suspected that another invasion was in the wind but they did nothing about it besides tossing a few rocket bombs indiscriminately in the direction of London. A seemingly puzzling feature of the original Lombardy attack was that Hitler was aware that he was mobilizing large craft but made no attempt to destroy them.

Daylight lasts eighteen hours in southern England during May and June. Reconnaissance planes provided a number of troops unobserved under the nose of the Luftwaffe.

PROTECTION—Military experts testify that the German Luftwaffe and Goering's hawks were not asleep. Our High Command—months ago, took for granted that it could not assemble huge supply depots and great bodies of troops unobserved.

His proud little nation was furious at the dictator for knocking to its ancient land-grabbing enemy. Quick to take advantage of popular resentment, Dr. Jose Maria Velasco Ibarra, a scholar with a wide intellectual following but just then out of office.

He staged an uprising that unseated Arroyo del Rio and put himself in the Presidential chair. As the critical moment his supporters, seizing a dozen tanks lend-leased by Sam, dispersed his rival's Carabineros.

Peru was angered by this sudden shift, believing its neighbor's new chief executive might repudiate his predecessor's treaty pledges. But when the president, General Velasco Ibarra, rebel and cancel the military agreement that is advantageous to Peru.

REVOLT—The use of North American tanks in the civil war raises a problem that may prove embarrassing. We have been arming various states below the Isthmus as a measure of hemispheric defense. After the war we may sell surplus weapons.

Conservatives in the southern republics fear that such excess material will be purchased by revolutionary forces who will upset established regimes forthwith. They point to the Ecuadorian revolt as an example of what happens when armament from the United States is in the possession of the natives.

Around Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON We seldom write about Hollywood parties. They're usually pretty dull affairs at which you sip burnt Scotch, nibble on tired hors d'oeuvres and talk to people you don't know about things you (and they) don't care.

This party, though, promised to be different. And brother, it was! "Ole Olsen and Chick Johnson," the invitation read, "are going back to New York. It is an occasion of joy in Hollywood where peace and dignity will return to our community. We want you to be in on the fun when we gang up on Chick and Ole. The shamblers start at midnight at the U. C. Cafeteria for the Preservation of Peace and Dignity in Hollywood."

"Shamblers" was the correct word. Olsen and Johnson were "larded" with chocolate syrup and sprinkled liberally with feathers. They squirted seltzer water. They dismantled the room. Everybody drew pictures on the walls. The orchestra and the orchestra dressed in night gowns and pajamas. We ate scrambled eggs and ham and ears of corn decorated with pictures of Olsen and Johnson.

It was a night! There has never been a Hollywood party like it. It all started off peacefully enough. A hundred or so members of the SFTPOED in H. were conducting a highly respectable every strong point, primarily at Minsk, Baranovitz, Bialystok and Brest-Litovsk, and there probably will be a tremendous battle for Lwow when the fighting is extended southward.

But, as in Italy, the Germans probably are down to the point where little effort will be made to save territory which obviously cannot be held for long.

It was further charged that Olsen had used said gag in their alleged motion pictures, "Ghosts Catchers" and "See My Lawyer," and that they had been getting away with "murder" for years.

Olsen and Johnson were forthwith "tarred" and feathered and then dumped into oversized mail pouches consigned to Mayor Fiorello La Guardia at City Hall, New York. The shipping tags read: "This parcel contains unguared ham. Open at your own risk."

Olsen and Johnson, however, did not accede to such treatment without a struggle. Olsen became the spokesman for the team and in an impassioned defense sought to convince the Hollywood experts that their type of humor was legitimate. They squirted seltzer water in comedian Henry Youngman's face and then asked him if such a prank wasn't funny.

Johnson then produced a custard pie and applied it with perfect marksmanship to Youngman's face. "You admit that's funny, won't you?" shouted Chick. Youngman, still dead panning, wasn't convinced. He denied there was anything particularly humorous in getting a pie in the face.

War Today

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR. Substituting for DeWitt MacKenzie

The speed of the Red advance through White Russia, with the capture of Minsk apparently only a few days away, supports previous reports that Hitler has withdrawn his major forces to shorter lines back in Old Poland—possibly along the Bug River.

Points like Orsha and Mogilev don't fall overnight when the Germans really try to hold them, even before such great power as the Russians are displaying. The Berlin radio, broadcasting about an elastic defense in the east without benefit of reserves until the Allies have been taken care of in the west, also supports the thought. If that were true, no such broadcast would have been made.

For a year there have been reports from various sources that the Germans were preparing to stand at the Bug, the Ribbentrop border established in 1939, and that if driven back from there a last ditch fight would be made along the Vistula.

This would not mean, of course, an uninterrupted Russian march over the 300 miles from their present central positions, or the 100 miles from their westernmost salient at Kowel, to Brest-Litovsk. Large German armies already have been beaten or trapped in the present drive. They are not all gone. Delay will be attempted every strong point, primarily at Minsk, Baranovitz, Bialystok and Brest-Litovsk, and there probably will be a tremendous battle for Lwow when the fighting is extended southward.

But, as in Italy, the Germans probably are down to the point where little effort will be made to save territory which obviously cannot be held for long.

Peter Edson's Column: ABOUT LIGHT METALS RECONVERSION

By PETER EDSON A new "chink-in" theory of reconversion of industry from war to peace has been brought to Washington by I. W. Wilson, vice president of the Aluminum Company of America. It spells out like this:

Here is a company making aluminum products for war. As long as its production is on war orders, everything is fine and the company has a feast. But when a contract is completed, everything goes haywire and the company has a famine until it gets a new war order. In the interim, organization is disrupted, manpower drifts to other jobs. And when the new contract is received, this company has to build up its organization again.

It is Mr. Wilson's theory that in these between-contract periods, manufacturers should be permitted to "chink-in" production of civilian goods—subject only to manpower shortages in the area and other military requirements—so that when new military orders are placed, contractors will have their working forces together and be able to swing in on new war production with greater facility. Wilson's further argument is that the "chink-in" civilian production thus obtained will help fill the pipeline of supply and enable business to avoid the three-to-six months' delay which will inevitably result if everyone is forced to wait and convert at the same time.

DRAMATIC SESSION Wilson presented his ideas before a special session of the Senate's Truman Committee investigating the war effort. In many ways it was a dramatic session. War Production Chairman Donald M. Nelson was first to testify, explaining steps his organization had taken to deal with cancellation of war production restrictions and reconversion of the aluminum and magnesium industries. Nelson reduced the issue to the simple example of non-essential items like aluminum cocktail shakers as long as there was a shortage of more essential aluminum pots and pans.

Houston Labor Case Set for Early 1945

NEW ORLEANS, June 28.—(AP)—D. S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals attaches say that the case will be set for trial early in 1945 following a petition by the Hughes Tool Company asking the court to review a National Labor Relations Board order of May 27, 1944, directing the company to equate its bargaining collectively with the United Steel Workers of America, Local Nos. 1742 and 2457 (CIO) as the firm's main plant an aircraft strut plant at Houston, Tex.

God's Front Porch

A Novel By KETTI FRINGS

To Those Who Came In Late: This is the story of what happened to Pinky Harmon after he was killed in a jachole. The Harmones. He'd been a Junction, half-way point between the Earth and Big Valley. Travelers stay here until they stop looking back to Earth.

RION waited a few moments, then slipped down the rear stairs, watched Emily from the side door. She walked up and down past the house, twice, then started off. He waited until she was well into the middle of the Square, hidden by the trees, then hurried after her.

"I wish you wouldn't," Rion begged earnestly. "I'm sober tonight changed her expression. "How did they get in here?"

Rion was embarrassed. "They came as refugees at first. To prepare the way for him."

"To prepare the way for der Fuhrer?" Again Emily laughed. "Excuse me, Emily. I believe I'd better go now."

"You'll sit by me?" he nervously. "Sure—but there'll be other Germans there. Somehow she understood his loneliness. For wasn't she, in a way, lonely herself? What was she staying here for anyway? Why wasn't she ready to go on to Big Valley? She had no dear ones to look back on. Mrs. Johnson and Betty Allerton, they had their husbands; and Pinky, his wife. Everybody had somebody... but she had always denied family and personal ties. The world had been her family. She had made it her life. Her work, her children, everything. She had been proud about it. She had said once, "Even as a child, what the man in the White House said was always more important to me than my father's sniveling remarks about the weather." She had written a school theme on world politics when she was twelve.

She had spent her life trying to understand the world. Rion had spent his trying to conquer it. Somewhere along the way they had both missed. She knew that now, for as she walked away from her, she saw in his walk and in the way he held his head and in the way his arms moved, the indecipherable outline of a figure and a personality, which might have meant much to her. Perhaps that was this what she had stayed here for.

"Seven, then?"

Leaves From A Correspondent's War Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, June 23—(Delayed)—(P)—If someone gave it to you for Christmas you'd think you got a raw deal and promptly toss it on the scrap heap. But in great, vaulted Winchester Cathedral it has a place of moldering honor in an alcove near the high altar.

It is nothing but a time-worn old chair with colorless velvet fabric, so frayed that the horsehair stuffing leaked through in chunks. It's a drab and uncomfortable-looking chair, but the verger who showed it to us obviously regarded it as one of the most inspiring relics in his keeping.

"It was the chair used by Queen Mary Tudor at her wedding with Philip of Spain in the sixteenth century," the verger told us almost in a whisper, and ever since that sad and unhappy queen left the imprint of royalty in its genteel, dark velvet seat, this chair had sat out centuries in solitary distinction.

Moved by a sudden impulse, I asked the verger, "Mind if I touch it?" "Why, uh-uh," he said, as if the request had startled him, and then acquiesced. "I suppose it will be all right, but do be careful."

I reached out and patted the chair lightly. The verger looked over and arched his eyebrows in a polite question. "It feels," I told him, "like horse hair."

I could tell from his look that in all the years he had shown that chair, he had never put his hand on the seat where once sat "Bloody Mary," predecessor of robust Queen Elizabeth. And all those years he had had a secret hankering to do so. He probably never will.

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, June 22—(Delayed)—(P)—Diners in a faded little English hotel applauded politely as a four-piece orchestra wound up for the evening with a rusty flourish.

The crowd began filing out and a tall, blond young man with two stars on the lapel of his Royal Norwegian air force uniform sat down at the piano and began rippling his fingers effortlessly across the keys.

erican boogie-woogie. Scraping of chairs stopped as the slipped from "St. Louis Blues" in "Christians Choo-Choo" and then into some ecstatic pattern of beats that made those still in the grill room move their feet as though they were being tickled.

Someone brought him a beer and soon the piano was surrounded by young American and British officers and girls. They kept him there until almost morning and between tunes he poured out everything from Schubert's "Serenade" to "Pistol Packin' Mama."

This talented young Norwegian Spitfire pilot explained how his fingers came to know their way around American jazz as well as how to spin down a Nazi fier in flames.

"I am Lieutenant Thor—" he said. "I can't give you my last name because it wouldn't help my people still in Norway. I am 21½ now and have been flying since 1940."

"I learned piano at the age of 6 in Norway and it is just a hobby. I went to America when I was 16 and studied on Long Island. That's where I learned to speak English and to like American jazz. We are very keen on American music and dancing in Norway. I like swing and boogie-woogie. So do 80 per cent of the Norwegians my age."

"I am just ending a six months' rest on the ground," he said. "That's too much, if you want to keep your hand. I have been on more than 100 missions, but there's a lot of Norwegians who have been out more than 180 times."

Thor grinned as he recalled how the first United States major he met saw the two stars on his lapel and mistook him for a major general.

They were at a bar, Thor said, and the major kept addressing him as sir. Finally the major asked: "Sir, aren't you young to be a major general?"

"He was relieved when I told him I was only a lieutenant," Thor said, sipping from a beer class, "and it ended up in quite a party."

Invasion Steals Spotlight From Dies

By ERNEST G. FISCHER
Associated Press Staff

The invasion came at the wrong time for the issuance of a new book, "Martin Dies," by William Gellermann.

Neither Gellermann, an educator, nor the John Day company, publishers, had any way of knowing in advance that public interest in domestic affairs would be at low ebb. Eisenhower was the man of the hour; not Dies, nor Winchell, nor Coughlin, nor even Sidney Hillman, all of whom loom large in Gellermann's 300-page book.

Rep. Dies is from this state's second congressional district, in deep East Texas. He is chairman of the House committee on un-American activities. Over a period of five years the committee, operated in 1938 to sit and act during that congress, has spent in excess of a half million dollars.

Dies recently announced his decision not to seek re-election this year. He said his throat was ailing, that he wished to return to practice of law, and that he desired to disassociate himself from the Roosevelt administration more thoroughly than he could while entered in a Democratic primary.

"Is the chairman of the House committee on un-American activities protecting the American way of life—or destroying it?" Is the question on the jacket of Gellermann's book. The author's answer is that Dies is "a spearhead of native American reaction." Then Gellermann proceeds to develop that theme with evidence which, according to the publishers' blurb, is "documented to the hilt."

Before he wrote the book, the publishers add, Gellermann "read every word of the 10,000 pages of testimony before the Dies committee and, the reports, and every word that Martin Dies ever spoke on the floor of Congress, and thousands of newspaper clippings, documents, letters and other material."

Gellermann's general theme is that Dies wanted the committee to prove his own pre-conceived ideas—like an author who chooses a theme and then selects such material as will support his choice.

The book, written before Dies announced his retirement from congress and published after his announcement, falls in the category of a near-miss, rather than a direct hit. The committee, Dies contends, "was at least two or three years before its times." If there is any merit in that contention, Gellermann's perspective suffers.

There is a clear prospect that the home front armies (management and labor) will mobilize and march against each other as soon as the war of liberation is won.—Donald R. Richberg, former NRA chief.
