Southern Senators Upset Recess Plans

Substantial Republican support was lining up behind the Southern Democrats. That was the complicating factor.

Last week it appeared the Senate probably would go along with the House in voting $500,000 for the government agency which has the presidentially-assigned job of trying to settle disputes over racial dis-crimination. The appropriation is included in a $1,030,000,000 measure providing funds for war agencies. A showdown is expected tomorrow. And if enough Republicans go along to let Southern Demo-crats win their point. a Senate House committee would have to try to figure out a compromise on the future of FEPC. That would take time, and there isn't much left before recess. Besides, Congress has to do a lot

Why Buy Bonds?

Too many bonds were cashed in the month of May. It is inconceiv-able that it was necessary for so many people to turn in so many bonds in one month.

There is still misunderstanding about bonds. People think they are under some sort of unpleasant com-pulsion to buy them. A worker signs up for so many dollars of his pay to be deducted for bonds. He resents the deductions as an extra tax. When the bond is handed him, he takes it out and cashes it

A mother was heard to chide her daughter for not giving an evening a week to war work. "Well, I'm buying bonds," replied daughter. "They take ten per cent out of my pay. That's war work enough!"

It isn't work at all. It is lending money to the government. The U.S. Treasury will repay that money with interest in ten years. It is saving money for oneself, with the side issue of helping the nation at the moment.

The United States needs to borrow money from all its citizens at this time. Consider the expenses of landing on a beachhead! It is up to the citizens to lend, and to let the mon-ey stay lent until it is due.

Buying a bond serves two ends It helps the nation now and helps the buyer ten years from now. Buy-ing with one hand and cashing with the other makes more bookkeeping than it is worth. Don't be an "Injun giver." Buy bonds—and hold them.

Unfinished Business

The Senate Judiciary Committee has shown courage and wisdom in approving the resolution for an Army-Navy investigation of the Pearl Harbor disaster. The action was taken after the court-martial of Rear-Adml. Husband E. Kimmel and Maj.-Gen. Walter C. Short, who were in command at Pearl Harbor, had been delayed two and a half years for "security" reasons.

Apparently a disinclination to go against high military wishes had kept Congress from being insistent about the matter. But Admiral Kimmel's renewal of his plea for a speedy trial, contained in a letter to Sen. Homer Ferguson, finally brought the matter to a head.

"The report of the Roberts commission," the Kimmel message stat-"did not tell the whole story of Pearl Harbor." That feeling has been present for a long time, not only in informed circles but among idle speculators and those who seem eager to use the official silence for political purposes.

There is no proof, of course, that Gearl Harbor had any political background whatsoever. But whether it did or didn't, there have been many questions in the public mind which were not answered in the enough to lead or teach or guide report of Justice Roberts, who also any people.

Who Is Educated?

We have put education on a pedestal. We all want educated persons as our leaders. The word "educated," how-ever, is very vague. This is true because in person can be com-pletely educated.

There are some people, how-Victory gardens ever, who are educated enough on social problems so they can be truste as leaders. The problem is to get people to know what test to apply in order to ascertain whether a man is educated enough to lead, guide or teach. It is rather difficult to define the qualifications of this kind of person. There are, however, some negative tests that would classify a man as not being educated sufficiently to, merit adopting his proposals. by plane. One of these tests is that an educated person can never be embarrassed. He never refuses to have any of his statements analyzed and questioned. If it is shown that his statements contradict each other, he will immediately correct his decision. Of course a party cannot be educated unless he is able to recognize a contradiction. certainly had it coming to them. If one litle girl deserves a pony, the Lord Kelvin's test as to whether a man understands his subject aws of mathematics seem to show that five little girls deserve one 25 times as much. They will have a good time—and so, no doubt, will the might be a good guide as to whether a man is worthy of leadership. Lord Kelvin said, "When you can measure what you are ony speaking about and express it in That is one of the obvious advan numbers, you know something about it, but when you cannot measure it, when you cannot express it in numbers, your knowledge is of a meager and unsatisfactory kind." Our trouble comes from having followed men who did not qualify as leaders under these tests. These tests would eliminate practically every educator in state schools because none of them will write an impersonal rule of conduct consistent with their acts. None of them will publicly discuss the wisdom of public education. These tests would also eliminate practically every preacher as a man educated enough ic be a safe guide. Preachers have been trained in dogmas that will not permit analysis, rather than in principals and eternal truths. They have placed myths and dogmas above the impersonal rules of conduct advocated by Jesus. These tests of an educated man would also eliminate most politicians and most newspaper editors and columnists. They make state-ments but refuse to permit them to be analyzed. It is because the proletariat has considered men as worthy of lead-ership who were not really educated that we have been in two world wars and had the worst and longest depression in history. Of course we are reaping exactly what an educated person would expect when we have the blind leading the blind. Any man who will not permit his statements to be questioned, or who can be embarrassed or insulted, is truly not educated

Probably the enemy has long since gained whatever valuable information he could from Pearl Harbor. But the full story of the tragic lack of alertness there still needs to be told, and the full sponsibility placed. That is a matter of purely national

THE NEW DEAL REDS

(The Los Angeles Examiner) It now becomes perfectly clear where President Roosevelt and his New Deal have been heading for 11 years.

It is toward Communism. The New Deal and Communism are now one. And real Americans are just waking up to the fact that Earl Browder is no longer the leader of the Communists of America.

He has, in effect, resigned that leadership to the chief of the New Deal-Franklin Delano Roosevelt. Second only in importance among the Communists of America to Earl Browder is Israel Amter, chairman of the New York State Communists -an organization that has always taken its orders from Moscow.

At a preliminary state convention of that organization on May 14 at the Manhattan Center in New York City, before a thousand regular and "fraternal" delegates, Mr. Amter said:

"We Communists have asked ourselves this question: How best can we serve the nation? Can we build a firmer national unity, which is fundamental for the winning of this global war by putting up can didates of our own and thereby weaken the support of the Presi dent and his program with which we agree? The answer is no.

"We Communists, therefore, have decided that in the election we will support the President and his program as the surest way of bringing ether all forces for winning the

Using the "global war", as a Trojan horse for a purely political act, Mr. Amter thus makes President Roosevelt the leader of the organ-ization that until Germany invaded Russia in June, 1941, did everytning in its power, by sabotage and strikes, to destroy the defensive power of the United States.

In urging the election of President Rooseveit, Mr. Amter said it that a victory was "imperative" Congress also be elected, "a Con-gress that will give full support to the President and the people's program for the war and the peace and end the scandalous situation that prevails in the present Congress.

The "scandalous situation that prevails in the present Congress," according to the leader of the Moscow-New Deal organization of New York State, is the growing independence of a Congress that has ately refused to further be a bootlicker to the New Deal-Communist bureaucrats. Thus the New Deal Reds, com prising Communists and New Dealers, are now going to run the cam-paign for the 16-year-term in the White House—and an indefinite entente with Stalin, which will mean, in the end, the Communization of America. But all this has been the logical
