Japan Shows Indications Of Concern

By The Associated Press
Pacific Commanders Nimitz and MacArthur blandly left it to the Japanese today to ponder where the next big American smash would fall in the accelerating drive across the Pacific, now that Saipan has been overwhelmed.

Non-committally they hampered at enemy strongholds stretched across the 4,000 watery miles from German to the Kuriles. The smashes by warship and sea and land planes, aided in consolidating the Saipan and Neomfor island victories but were too slow for that alone. Tokyo had its feelers out broadcasting that a very powerful enemy fleet was prowling the waters off Tinian, just south of Saipan. On the latter island U. S. infantry and marines mopped up, even captured some Japanese swimming out to sea.

"Enemy raids against our positions around Saipan are increasing in intensity," the Tokyo radio said. Between July 1 and 10, it added, "70 Allied aircraft raided Guam, another island in the Marianas group with Saipan. Some damage was suffered by our side," Tokyo conceded.

The persistent yaw blows against remaining Marianas islands were outlined yesterday by Adm. Nimitz, who listed a warship shelling of Guam and air raids against Pagan island north of Saipan, Paramushiro and Shumushu in the Kuriles north of Japan, and on Truk.

Gen. MacArthur's southwest Pacific fliers raided Celebes, Sorong, Maffin Bay, Aitape and Wewak on New Guinea, and Palau, Yap, Woleai, New Ireland, New Britain and Bougainville.

Tokyo, fearing the superpower menace, announced 30,000 children had been removed from the city to safer districts.

Air Might Decimates German Oil Supplies

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, July 12.—(AP)—American air attacks on 64 German oil installations have curtailed the enemy's petroleum production to a point where the shortage is having an important effect on the mobility of Nazi ground forces, a senior U. S. air force officer declared today.

The objective of thwarting German mobility has been "achieved," this officer said.

He said the German air force, the other chief objective of United States air attacks in recent months, was decreasing in strength in France. He said the Nazis had lost more planes than the Germans could produce every month since January.

The exact German air strength in Germany itself is not known definitely, but the current opposition over the Reich is not comparable to the interception strength as recently as January.

The strategic United States air forces being hurled against the Germans are the Eighth in Britain, the 15th in Italy and the eastern command in Russia. Losses of these forces dropped to 14 per cent of the sorties flown in June from the previous peak average of five per cent.

In six months, the U. S. strategic air forces have hit 51 oil refineries, 13 synthetic plants and 89 aircraft factories in attacks from Britain and Italy, and recently from Russia.

The forces have destroyed 6,109 German planes in the air and 1,546 on the ground since January. This German loss of 7,655 planes compares to American losses of 3,425.

Sen. Thomas Is Given 4th Term

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 12.—(AP)—Sen. Elmer Thomas, 67-year-old Democrat and a staunch administration supporter, has been nominated for a fourth term in the United States Senate, and on the basis of three-fourths of the precincts counted, his majority may reach 20,000.

Thomas had 66,169 votes to 47,531 for Lt. Gov. James E. Berry and 47,425 or Wesley E. Disney, first district congressman, with 2,693 precincts out of 3,670 reporting.

Thomas' opponent will be W. O. Tjebk, Enid attorney, who won the Republican nomination in yesterday's primaries by a wide margin.

Three Democratic congressmen were renominated without too much opposition. These were Victor Wickersham, seventh district; Jed Johnson, sixth; and Mike Monroney, won by a huge majority despite his refusal to support an increase in the price of crude oil although campaigning in the oil-conscious Oklahoma City district.

Two other Democratic congressmen, Paul Stewart in the third, and Lyle Boren in the fourth, were ahead, but not conclusively. A former state legislator, Dennis Bushyhead, was leading in the Democratic race for Disney's job as representative for the first district. Rep. W. G. Stigler in the second and the lone Republican congressman, Ross Kizley, were unopposed in the primary.

66 Ohio Miners Are Given Up as Dead

BELLAIRE, O., July 12.—(AP)—The 66 men entombed since last Wednesday in nearby Poothan mine were given up for dead today.

Nelson Hovey, assistant state director of Industrial Relations, announced all hope was abandoned for the coal miners after rescue workers failed in a final effort to contact them through a shaft three inches in diameter.

Two New Vitamins Are Reported Discovered

AUSTIN, July 12.—(AP)—Discovery of two new vitamins by Dr. Edmond E. Snell in the University of Texas Biochemical Institute laboratories was announced today.

The compounds have been named "pyridoxamine" and "pyridoxal," since they are closely related to a previously known vitamin, pyridoxine.

Pyridoxamine helps control anemia, aids nervous disorders, and helps correct human acne, and the new vitamin, Dr. Snell said, may be assumed to possess similar properties.

Pyridoxamine and pyridoxal show several thousand times the vitamin activity of pyridoxine for several organisms, he said.

Synthesis of the vitamins has been completed in the research laboratories of Merck and Company, Rahway, N. J., and Drs. S. A. Harris, Dorothy Heyl and K. Folkers, who collaborated with Dr. Snell in the last phases of the problem.

Turkey Is Again Deliberating On Future Policies

ANKARA, July 11.—(Delayed)—(AP)—Conversations are afoot here which may lead to Turkish participation in the war before the end of the summer.

The talks are between representatives of Turkey, Russia and Britain.

These conferences of the Soviet and British ambassadors and Turkish leaders, principally Premier Suikri Saracoglu, have been taken up at the point where the Cairo conference last year left Turkey's position within the United Nations undefined.

They must first surmount the bitterness created by Allied charges that Turkey failed to keep her word and the Turkish counter that the Allies failed completely to equip Turkey for war as had been promised. Actual military talks can begin there.

The United States has been fully informed of the successive steps in the conversations, which got under way about 10 days ago. Simultaneous consultations are taking place in Moscow and London and probably in Washington.

The Turks are said to feel that it would be beneath their national dignity to participate in the war by merely giving bases to the Allies.

Before everything else the Turks want assurance on these two points:

1. Assurance of Turkey's post-war political and territorial integrity, accompanied by a clearcut statement of Allied post-war aims.
2. A satisfactory explanation of how and when and to what extent Turkey will be armed if she should enter the conflict, plus a definite idea of precisely what would be expected of her.

The Cairo conference and the winter military talks here, by Turkish estimation, left those points unanswered.

The Turks are convinced that failure to participate in the war would be against the nation's long-term interests, but they also feel that failure to get satisfaction at least upon the first of the two points mentioned might result in even greater future ills.

The Allied representatives admit both points are difficult because of the uncertainty about the post-war world and the hesitancy of Allied military leaders to reveal their military plans to a neutral whose capital still is overrun with enemy representatives.

London Has Another Day of Robot Death

LONDON, July 12.—(AP)—A scattering of flying bombs banged into southern England today as the city area today was hit by a second wave of the projectiles which have been dropping silently in long glides that make them more difficult to escape.

One of the bombs which smashed a house and killed an occupant this morning came in, in a long, slow and silent glide. Witnesses described it as "almost like a feather." Ordinarily the Robots roar over and drop in a steep dive as soon as the engine stops, but in this case the motive power system has rattopped some distance from the impact point.

It was announced officially that Australia House in the east end, one of London's familiar buildings, was damaged by one of the bombs.

Southern England had no respite from the Robots, which were reported to have caused additional casualties and damage there during the night.

"Roosevelt's acceptance of a fourth term nomination for the United States is not particularly surprising in Berlin political circles, it is stated here. The attitude of the German press has already revealed that Germany is not particularly interested in the problem of presidential elections in the United States, the more so since one is convinced here that military and political issues which are now at stake are not to be influenced by this or that president of the United States."

Resistance In Italy Impedes Allied Armies

ROME, July 12.—(AP)—American light armored elements pushed forward two miles along the Italian west coast yesterday in the face of bitter German resistance and captured the town of Castiglione, thus bringing the Fifth Army within eight miles air-line of Livorno (Leghorn).

Some eight miles inland, however, American infantry ran into stiff opposition while advancing from Casale toward Pastina, where the Germans showed the utmost determination to delay their progress.

(The German radio said Nazi lines between Fogliano and the west coast were withdrawn two miles northward after particularly violent fighting in which 25 U. S. tanks were wiped out. Heavy fighting was reported on both sides of the Tiber with strong British formations which "launched a large scale attempt to break through." German positions were declared "withdrawn to shortened lines.")

In the upper Tiber valley Eighth Army troops occupied the villages of Meone Morra and Mugicugno and cleared 3,000-foot-high mount Civitella of the enemy.

At the same time Allied tanks crossed the Nestore river, upper tributary of the Tiber, and advanced some distance beyond the river. Farther east in the Pietralunga area, a German counterattack caused a slight loss of ground to the Allies. Meanwhile on the Adriatic coast Italian troops were credited with a slight advance in the vicinity of the Musone river and the city of Ancona was brought under artillery fire by the Allies, who now are only eight miles away.

Amarillo Police Seek Duo Guilty Of Kidnap, Rape

AMARILLO, July 12.—(AP)—Police continued their search today on meagre clues, in an effort to bring into captivity two men who Monday night committed a statutory crime against two teen-age girls here.

The children, one 14, and 11, told police of being taken in an automobile to a point near Gen Lake, north of the city, where they were thrown out into a puddle of mud after having been criminally assaulted.

The girls, who were found by police at a place where they had walked, were muddy and their clothes had been torn badly. A physician said the smaller girl had been attacked.

The girls said the men were riding in a five-passenger sedan (with a Tennessee license) and that "one was large and heavy-set, the other slim."

The act occurred between 9:30 and 10 o'clock Monday night after they had been taken to a point near Gen Lake, north of the city, where they were thrown out into a puddle of mud after having been criminally assaulted.

PANHANDLE SURVEY: State Draft Official Looks Over Industry In Territory

Pampa were Reno Stinson, executive assistant, Cabot companies; Fred Shryock, superintendent, Danciger Oil & Refining company; James A. McCune, safety engineer, General Atlas Carbon company.

On Saturday night the liaison officer attended a similar meeting at Dumas, and on the preceding night attended an area draft board meeting here.

Stinson conducted the lieutenant on a trip to Cabot's ordnance and carbon black plants at Pampa and to the Schafer and Kingsmill carbon black plants.

The officer also made an inspection of war plants in Moore county Monday, and of Berger plants, including the Goodrich rubber factory.

Nothing specific was stated by the lieutenant on the trip except that he rated the Panhandle area as "most active in Texas" in war production, and was "high in praise of the job being done," Stinson said.

Spectacular Gains Made By Reds; Determined West Push

Advancing Army Soon To Germany

MOSCOW, July 12.—(AP)—The Red army, knocking large holes in the already sagging German lines, surged westward today from a point less than 49 miles east of the east Prussian border at a pace which, if continued, would carry the fighting to German soil by the end of the week.

(The German communique placed "the advancing Soviets" west of Alytus in Lithuania, 51 miles from East Prussia, 33 miles south of Kaunas and within 27 miles of the strategic East Prussia-Riga railway over which two Nazi armies in the Baltic must be supplied in part. Retreats along the whole central front were reported by Berlin. The surprise of Wilno garrison was being supplied by air.)

Gen. Ivan Cherniakovsky's cavalry and tanks drove the spearhead toward East Prussia in 20-mile advance where the split of the province known as the Swalki triangle sticks out north of Grodno.

General advances along the entire 350-mile front between Latvia and the Pripyat marshes swept through more than 400 places yesterday. General advances along the entire and bringing about the capture of hundreds more.

On the least 4,000 German soldiers Red army actually within striking distance of Kaunas, 45 miles away; Grodno, 51; Bialystok, 51; and Daugavpils, less than 18. Military observers in Moscow saw a direct threat to Bialystok and Grodno in the strong central blow. Pinsk, at the edge of the Pripyat marshes to the south, already was tactically threatened by the advance of the Nazis, although resistance continued there.

20 Enemy Tanks Are Destroyed

American forces destroyed more than 20 German tanks today in repelling a heavy counter-attack against the center of the Vire river bridgehead. This brought German tank losses to 144 in recent fighting in Normandy. Doughboys slugged forward on both wings of a 48-mile front. They were within two miles of the western anchor town of Lessay and even closer to St. Lo on the east.

The fierce repulse of German armor raised to 144 to toll of enemy tanks taken in France in the last few days.

Throwing their heaviest assault toward Le Desert, six miles northwest of St. Lo, German tanks and troops charged head-on into U. S. lines, and more than 20 enemy tanks went up in flames before the Nazis retreated. Le Desert, west of St. Jean de Daye, was left in a no-man's land with the doughboys a couple of hundred yards from that village.

Despite the heavy German armored losses, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's headquarters warned that "enemy armor still is strong and he is fighting back vigorously but is being worn down and given no rest."

The west wing of the American attack advanced nearly a mile, seizing the villages of Angoville Sur Ay and La Bourdonnerie, and carrying to within two miles of the hinge town of Lessay.

On the closing-in from the east side of town, Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's men opened another attack at dawn against the road junction of St. Lo, dug in and entrenched Germans with bayonets. They struck from the north and four miles north of St. Lo, and cut the road from St. Lo eastward to Bayeux in the pushing in from the east side of town.

To the east, British-Canadian lines were pushed back between the Odon and the Orne rivers at Caen, where the British held solid to their line in the trans-Odon river salient, and to "Crucifix Hill" northeast of Esquay despite the most violent efforts of the German armor. It was a German regiment of up to 3,000 men was liquidated, and hundreds were captured.

FDR Is Charged With Title Use For Re-Election

ALBANY, N. Y., July 12.—(AP)—Herbert Brownell, Jr., national Republican chairman, today asserted President Roosevelt was using the title of commander-in-chief as "a pretext to perpetuate himself in political office."

Brownell, who was an overnight guest of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Republican presidential nominee, was asked at a press conference for comment on the president's statement that he had a "right to be re-elected" as a "good soldier," accept a fourth term nomination.

"Mr. Roosevelt is the first of 33 presidents of the United States to claim that the title of commander-in-chief makes him a soldier and to use that as a pretext to perpetuate himself in political office," the national chairman declared.

"On Nov. 4, 1940, Mr. Roosevelt told this statement: 'You will have a new president in 1944.'"

"When he said that he was right," Brownell said the comment on the president's statement was "my own" but he disclosed he had shown it to Dewey at breakfast in the Executive Mansion.

The governor, he said, had no comment.

Pampa Children Go To Ceta Canyon For Summer Recreation

A chartered bus left Pampa yesterday to take 30 Pampa boys and girls to Ceta Canyon, to attend the First Methodist church summer camp there.

Each year the Methodist churches from the Clarendon district send groups of boys and girls to the camp. The enrollment is limited but church officials expect to enroll 150 children.

A varied program will be given with recreation, worship, handicraft, dramatics and orchestra, under the supervision of trained leaders.

The group was accompanied by three adult counselors, Mrs. E. B. Bowen, Mrs. Carlton Nance and Mrs. L. E. Hercher.

Delegates To Texas H. D. Association Will Be Elected

Gray County Home Demonstration clubs will have a meeting Saturday afternoon to elect their delegate to the Texas Home Demonstration association meeting. The meeting is to be at 2:30 o'clock in the office of the Home Demonstration agent, Miss Millicent Brummett.

Each of the seven clubs will elect one member from their club for a nominee. The county will elect one club member to be sent by the Gray County Home Demonstration club council.

The county is eligible to send three delegates. Some of the clubs will send their own delegate and it is expected Gray County will be represented by three members.

The Texas Home Demonstration association is an organization sponsored by the women who belong to the County Home Demonstration clubs, but is a separate organization from the Extension Service. It helps to plan the activities and train the women who belong to the clubs, and gives inspiration and help to them, but it is a separate organization, according to Miss Schaub.

The meeting of convention this year will take place August 23 in Austin. Approximately 800 Texas women will attend the meeting.

English Kids Talk Americanese Now

LONDON—(AP)—It's a wise father who knows his own child—particularly if the father's English, and his child has just returned from four years in the United States, says the London Mail.

Hundreds of English children between 7 and 17 who met their fathers again for the first time in years greeted them with "Hi, ya, pop," and stick chewing-gum kisses—after someone pointed out who Dad was. They were shy when they left England in 1940, but now they treat anybody as a buddy, and almost always find something to say for themselves.

The more than 2,000 expatriate children and mothers immediately began to learn some of the difficulties of wartime England: they couldn't find a taxi, arrange a comfortable train journey home or get American table delicacies on the 5s. ($1) dinner. They saw utility clothing, contrasting with their own brightly colored smart apparel.

"It will take the youngsters a year to readjust themselves," one of the mothers said. "They will have to learn that life will be a bit harder, a little slower. And they'll have to reshuffle their ideas on lots of things."

Mrs. C. C. Stark, Mrs. Frank Sillcott, Mrs. F. W. Broyles, Mrs. Henry Overall and Mrs. Mae Monroe were in attendance.

Rome Storage Firm Hid Enemy Valuables

ROME—(AP)—The ability of Arthur Bolliger and his sons, Rudy and Arthur, Jr., to avoid Gestapo traps and do favors for their American and British friends was one of the diverting aspects of Roman life under the Nazis.

They caught some of the German agents in misdeeds that insured their silence, aided the Jews and saved enormous property for hundreds of clients who represented countries at war with the Axis.

The Bolligers operate a string of warehouses. One of the favorite Nazi charges was that they operated secret warehouses. The warehouses weren't secret but they were well placed. When Allied bombs began to fall on the outlying districts, the Bolligers moved their priceless treasures to two special warehouses—one practically adjacent Vatican, the other—in a monastery.

Correspondents in Rome had to leave hurriedly when Il Duce went to war and many left their belongings at Bolligers. During the earlier days of the war in Egypt, AP Correspondent Edward Kennedy often said his possession in Rome were hidden where the Nazis would never find them. When Bolliger greeted Kennedy in the Piazza di Spigna on the day Rome fell, he cried: "Everything is safe but you had a close call. The warehouse was bombed."

The Underground Emerges

The climax of the French underground's battle is approaching, the climax toward which they have toiled for four dangerous, heart-breaking years. The Allies have landed, have approved appointment of French Gen. Joseph Pierre Koenig as their commander-in-chief, and have distributed arms and munitions for 75,000 men.

The underground, coming into the open almost immediately after the Normandy landings, already has tied up large German forces in the west and southeastern France. We shall be hearing more from it. But already it has done more than most of us here in America realize.

We read that 40 per cent of German shells fired at the Allies are transported by the underground. German troops and supplies are delayed by transportation through the underground, and poisoned food going to Germany.

The underground began in the shattered wreckage of a defeated France. Its organizers trained men and women for sabotage. The underground counteracted German forces, converted wavering patriots, published newspapers, wrecked enemy transportation and communication, and poisoned food going to Germany.

The members met in Paris subways and bombed-out houses. They stole arms, and transported them under German noses. They were cold and hungry and sick, but they kept the spirit of free France alive, and kept the Allies informed of important German military developments by secret radio.

It remains to be seen whether the approaching end of the underground's long fight will also mark the beginning of an end to the lamentable friction between the Allies and Germany.

Without the talks between President Roosevelt and General De Gaulle will advance Allied-French relations closer to a happy ending. Much hard fighting remains, and many difficulties must still be settled, but this long-delayed understanding is a prime requisite.

Drum Insurance

Lawford H. Fry, research director of the Locomotive Institute, has written a letter to the New York Times to say that the Diesel has replaced the steam locomotive. He gives a lot of reasons which, to the layman, look good. But to millions, the bare statement will be sufficient.

Those millions are the boys who wanted to be engineers when they grew up. And while, in maturity, they must have realized that the silent, efficient Diesel had a lot of good points, their boyhood eyes still saw it with a jaundiced gaze.

When we dreamed of being an engineer, it was not the kind who sits enclosed in a clean, almost whispering new invention. We wanted to hang our head and shoulders out of the cab, watch the black smoke pour out, and hear that mighty chugging of exertion and power. We wanted a whistle that would cut the air and make a white plume above the great black boiler.

Finland's Fatal Choice

Finland, caught between two million-dollar hammers, has ended her months of indecision with a fatal choice. The cabinet, by passing a resolution and the people, has decided to ride out the losing war with Germany.

Nazi Foreign Minister Ribbentrop has promised "full and complete help," which obviously means that Finland will get what her hard-pressed, ruthless ally can spare, as an alternative to complete occupation.

Finland's other way out was to ask peace of Russia and let the Red army in to expel the Nazis. It would have been a better choice. Either way Finland continues to be a battlefield. But now the Finns, in addition, have invited the heavy consequences which await the Nazi satellites.

PLANNERS AT WORK
(The Fort Wayne News Sentinel)
For a long time now, the economic planners on the home front have had themselves a field day.

They have planned to raise food production and planned to cut it. They have planned rationing of food, and have to stop rationing of food. They have made coupon books, and red and blue tokens.

They have planned our meals for us, and planned our vacations, and planned our budgets.

They would rather plan than act. The tragedy is that if they keep on planning, there won't be anything to eat. And that brings us down to the little job of planning they did in the poultry business. If we chose to be factious, we might assert at this point our considered opinion that the planners in this

An Interesting Assignment

A friend of mine who is a strong believer in the American way of life assigned to me the problem of selecting some books for an 18-year-old young man, who is just entering college to read. I am quoting from his letter, changing the names of towns and colleges for reasons apparent:

"I have taken a liking for a young football player who played football at Jonesville. He is 18 years old and was turned down by the Army and Navy because of a bursted ear drum and was put in class 4-F.

"He comes from a very poor family. They lived in an upstairs flat in the town of Jonesville, with six or seven children and no home life at any time. But this boy worked at odd jobs every chance he could and was able to finish high school this June because he was big and strong and could play football. State university wanted him. So I got him some clothes and bought his books and found him a job at a store in Smithville. He is now all set to work his way through State university with no further help other than the clothes he needed and the first cost for his books which was about $35 together.

"Now I would like to get this boy started on the right things to read while he is at State university if he has time to do any reading in between his football work and his regular studying. I thought you would help me in this by advising just what books he should read and in the order that he should read them. In other words, here is a young fellow just starting who should have an open mind. Let's see if we can get him to do some reading that we know he will not get at the university.

"You set up the books that he is to read, and I will get them and try to see that he reads them."

Here is the list of books I recommended in the order they are most likely to fit his development:

"Why Are We So Prosperous?" by Dr. V. O. Watts.

"Finding Words for Common Sense," published by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

"Give Me Liberty," by Rose Wilder Lane.

"Economics and Ethics," by J. A. R. Marriott.

"Economic Sophisms," by Frederic Bastiat.

"Harmonies of Political Economy," by Frederic Bastiat.

"The Bankruptcy of Liberalism," by John Rustgard.

"A Refutation of Communism and Socialism, or The Rights of Property," by Adolphe Thiers.

"The Reconciliation of Government with Liberty," by John W. Burgess.

This case is particularly interesting because the friend of mine acquired his intense love of liberty and freedom not from going to high school or college or university, but from working in a restaurant and traveling with a circus.

But there is a more potent reason than any of these for keeping this campaign free from personal abuse. For the last 12 years, by reading books that promote liberty and real Christianity!

Right You Are
This administration has a tiger by the tail when it talks of curbing inflation. Their talk is the reflection of their guilty consciences. The inflation kitten they brought into being in 1933 has grown into a full-grown tiger.

This administration has for twelve years promoted spending which makes ugly inflation inevitable. Every day this congress continues to be hoodwinked about inflation, and by selling control stops inflation, makes disaster more certain." —Congressman Buffett of Nebraska.

You will remember that in 1942, the "book" experts in Washington asked farmers to produce, among other things, several million dozen more eggs than they had been accustomed to producing.

It must be remembered here that so far as one can determine, no Washington expert tried to estimate how many eggs would actually be needed. They merely asked for as many eggs as they thought the nation's farmers could produce, and said, "There's your quota. Go to it."

The farmers went to it with a vengeance.
The result was that the market was deluged with eggs. The planners then tried to figure out what to do with the surplus. They dried eggs and shipped them to Army camps, but the doughboys didn't like dried eggs.

They dried some more and shipped them to Russia, and England. But nobody liked dried eggs. They filled the cold storage warehouses, and still eggs kept pouring out to the market. The price of eggs went into a tailspin.

Not only was the price low, some farmers hauled their eggs to market, only to turn around and haul them back home because they couldn't sell them at any price.

Having bungled the thing from the beginning, and having promised farmers that the government would support the price of eggs they went into the market and bought up hundreds of carloads.

The experts at this juncture met themselves coming back, in the silly circle.

They had purchased the eggs, and nobody wanted them.
So, what were they to do? In the midst of a war, and with warnings of food shortages ringing in the people's ears from a few months previously, and with half the world hungry, they were faced with the prospect of letting thousands of tons of eggs spoil.

They begged housewives to buy more eggs, and some responded.

Leaves From The Editor's Notebook

Let's get all this whispering behind-the-back personality stuff of a Communist politician spread out in the open right now, and then let's forget it.

There has been some indication of an effort to belittle Gov. Thomas E. Dewey because of his size and his general appearance. There is no law requiring you to like the looks of any man if you don't want to, but this personal criticism of Dewey goes beyond that.

He has been criticized for being too pretty to be in the White House. He has been dubbed Mr. Staycomb and Mr. Marcel because his raven locks are always in place.

Some people don't like his mustache, asking sarcastically whether it is Adolf Hitler or Charlie Chaplin he is trying to look like.

He is caricatured as a pink-and-puff-cheeked boy, too young to hold important office.

It is against Dewey's size, however, that the cruelest jibes have been thrown. Because he isn't a six-footer—because he is five inches shorter than running mate John W. Bricker—there is a tendency to toss the "Little Man, What Now?" stuff at him. One Chicago New Deal paper cartooned a nomination by showing a diminutive Dewey in a big spotlight on a bigger stage with the caption, "So This Is It!"

There is the now famous crack about the Republicans only being willing to swap horses in mid-stream but to swap a horse for a Shetland pony. Also the story about how he sat on a phone book while being photographed and the anti-laborists who get party money for their product.

The plantation politics will stage their next rebellion at the Democratic national convention, at Chicago they will demand that their party repudiate recent racial equality policies promulgated by prominent officials and personalities in Washington. Otherwise, they may go ahead with their scheme for an anti-Roosevelt cabal among electoral college members from below Mason and Dixon's line.

The two movements constitute a serious threat to Democratic victory in November, unless they can be suppressed. In the eyes of F.D.R. and Economic Adviser James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, it is doubtful which would lose more votes, the apparent split among the party, or the anti-Roosevelt cabal among electoral college members from below Mason and Dixon's line.

John L. Lewis, a White House foe, flattered by obtaining extra wages for his miners. But F.D.R.'s old friends in the South are running John L. a close second.

SIDE GLANCES

Around Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
The next national political conventions, we have decided, will be held in Hollywood. In fact, we already have written our congressman about it.

If it's glamor the politicians are after—and apparently they are—Hollywood is the place to let the boys and girls glitter.

Both conventions, of course, will be held in typical Hollywood spectacle style. Searchlights will sweep the skies as the nominees, flanked by 80 chorus girls wearing only sample halos, accept from the stage the Hollywood Bowl. The combined orchestras of Kay Kyser, the Dorsey brothers and Harry James will blow out additional hot air.

Before we give you the complete picture, one thing will be certain. Motion picture columnists, comedians, novelists, quiz kids and pet editors will be barred from the press box. As a novelty, only pollsters will be allowed to cover the conventions.

Both shows, of course, will be under the direction of Orson Welles and Sid Grauman. The keynotes will be given by the strongest of the white horses. If Leo Carrillo complains, Orson can let him lead one of the parades. Sure, there will be parades—stock girls astride 87 gilded donkeys for the Democrats.

THOSE BADGE PINNERS!
Committee meetings, of course, will be held beside private swimming pools and at Pickett's. Hedy Lamarr, Dorothy Lamour, Betty Grable, Veronica Lake, Ann Sheridan and Rita Hayworth will be the hostesses.

Dorothy in a sarong and Betty in a grass skirt will also serve as badge pinners. Errol Flynn and Alan Ladd will perform these chores for the feminine delegates catching-up with the Republicans and 87 THOSE BADGE PINNERS!

Committee meetings, of course, will be held beside private swimming pools and at Pickett's. Hedy Lamarr, Dorothy Lamour, Betty Grable, Veronica Lake, Ann Sheridan and Rita Hayworth will be the hostesses.

Before selecting a nominee, party leaders will "sneak" preview him, as moviemakers do pictures, in several suburban towns. The nominee-to-be will be hustled into a limousine, driven to a theater and pushed out on the stage right after the newscast. One of the sound boys will bring along his applause meter.

Wiscus Karloff in a white sheet, will be escorted by right-genie like the Wisconsin fellow at Chicago who voted for General McArthur.

ZANY BEAN ACT
Singing for laughs, Bud Abbott and Luq Costello will be introduced from the stage of the Hollywood Bowl as political commentators. Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy, dressed as asylum guards and carrying butterfly nets, will finally drag them away.

Just in case the delegates are overwhelmed by Hollywood's glamor and a movie star should become the presidential nominee, we will start an Eddie Cantor for president movement. Eddie's daughters would look good in the White House and, besides, Ida hasn't had a trip lately.

G. Garbo, of course, will be our candidate for vice president because she never says anything.

KANSAS CITY, Kas.—(AP)—Air Corps officers found a military order in Fort Riley files, dated Oct. 25, 1942, which read:

"1. Members of this command will, when shooting at buffaloes on the parade ground, be careful not to fire in the direction of the commanding officers' headquarters.

"2. The troop officer having the best-trained mount for this year will be awarded one barrel of rye whiskey.

"3. Student officers will discontinue the practice of roping the riding buffaloes."

War Today

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst
General Eisenhower's warning against over-optimism about the duration of the war is a point well taken, since Allied progress in this last round of fighting against Hitler, when we must hit him with everything we have, depends heavily on maintenance of an all-out effort by the Allied home fronts.

However, while we certainly must expect bitter fighting and heavy losses, there's no reason to think the supreme commander means to discourage us in the belief that the Nazi savage is rocking on his heels. The further, Dr. Strangelove, both on the battlefield and on the home front, is plain enough. What we dare not over-look is that no matter how weakened a fighter may be, he isn't beaten until he's knocked out.

The dire straits of Germany's war economy is made clear in the report by the Foreign Economic Administration at Washington that the reich's "Japs," substantial certainty of defeat in 1945 if not in 1944." It provides further proof, if any were needed, that this is a war of resources and that the Allies rear the stronger.

The FEA report says the Nazis will be in a nearly hopeless position by the end of this year, with prospective expenditure of war material exceeding their rate of production. German raw materials supplies for war are on a "bare hand-to-mouth basis." This has been brought about by bombing, by land offensives and by blockades.

But this shortage is only part of the grim story. German newspapers disclose the Nazis are struggling desperately to avert defeat on the transportation front, upon which Hitler must depend not only for quick movement of troops at this crucial moment but for shipment of all supplies to the battle zones.

Livestock Feed Shortage Is Met

WASHINGTON, July 12—(AP)—Government food officials, who have been harried for months by the spectre of a critical livestock feed and grain shortage, rested easier today. An agriculture department report indicated that, given favorable weather during the next six weeks, the nation will have sufficient food to carry it through until the 1945 growing season arrives. A record wheat crop of 1,127,822,000 bushels and a very large corn crop of 2,880,236,000 bushels was forecast. These grains will be supplemented by fairly good crops of other livestock grains such as oats and barley and by a near record crop of hay. While wheat is considered primarily a food crop, large amounts have been diverted to livestock feed under war food production programs.

It is quite possible for the corn crop to develop into the largest of record. Reflecting fears of a feed shortage.

farmers have indicated that they would produce only 87,925,000 pigs this year—a reduction of 33,711,000 from the previous year. They may raise their goals and produce a somewhat larger fall pig crop than previously indicated.

War food administration officials said that the indicated supply would be sufficient to supply a pig crop of 91,000,000 or 92,000,000 head in addition to the indicated numbers of dairy cows, beef cattle, poultry and other livestock.

In Kansas City, Mo., the lack of necessary labor to unload wheat cars will restrict the movement of grain to terminals under a permit system invoked there at midnight last night by the railroads and the board of trade. There were 4,800 cars in the yards there when the action was taken.

Similar action already had been taken at markets in Lubbock, Plainview and Fort Worth in Texas, at Enid, Okla., and at Carthage, Springfield and Clinton, in Missouri. In Kansas City, preparations were being made for a conference tomorrow of rail executives, government and market officials, to consider the wheat transportation problem and the manpower shortage in connection with the grain movement. Marvin Jones, war food administrator, on a tour of farm states, is expected to attend the Kansas City conference. He also will meet with farm credit administration officials.

BACK THE FIFTH Correspondent Sees All-Quiet at Caen

By ROGER D. GREENE ON THE CAEN FRONT, July 12, 9:03 A. M.—(AP)—Marshal Erwin Rommel's counter assault against the British captors of Caen appeared today to have spent its fury on heavy losses in some cases. Under cold grey skies this morning, British Tommies held a solid line in the trans-Ordon salient. Their bayonets made a bristling hedgerow atop bloody "Crucifix Hill," northeast of Esquay, which the Germans tried so desperately to capture yesterday. The night passed, quietly along the whole front. British field headquarters officers said about 50 German tanks were believed knocked out or destroyed in the two-day battle up to dusk last night and that virtually one entire German SS Panzer grenadier regiment was wiped out in bitter fighting that flamed around Hill 112, Maltot and Louvigny. A third of the "liquidated" regiment was captured alive. Several hundred prisoners were caged yesterday. The remainder, comprised of two battalions numbering 250-300 officers and men each, either sprawled dead on the battle field or were carried off on litters. Disgruntled German prisoners of another unit said they had been shifted to counter the British thrust toward Esquay and were thrown into the battle after a 24-hour march. "We had been promised rest and relief," a captive said. "Instead we were ordered to take Hill 112 as soon as we arrived at the front."

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., July 12—(AP)—Production of oleomargarine from waste products of coal and petroleum after the war may "accelerate" destruction of a large segment of the dairy industry, the Jamestown Rotary club was told yesterday.

Charles W. Holman, secretary of the National Cooperative Milk Producers' Federation, said the Germans have such a development in commercial production and haul it as the "world's best imitation butter."

"When needed with synthetic vitamins, this new product may reach the billion pound a year production mark at cheaper levels, and thus accelerate destruction of a large segment of the dairy industry."

Report Shows Subs Get Worst of It
WASHINGTON, July 12—(AP)—For every United Nations merchant ship sunk by German submarines during June, "several times as many U-boats were sent to the bottom," Roosevelt said in a joint monthly report.

Hiller's submarine fleet failed on all counts in June, 1944, the report asserted, adding that merchant vessel losses to German undersea craft reached "almost the lowest figure of the entire war."

German submarines failed signally to cause any important interference with the Normandy invasion operations, a supplementary report stated. It pointed out that only one merchant ship of the great invasion fleet could be charged off as a possible victim of the U-boat mine.

Cotton Picking Begins to South

AUSTIN, Tex., July 12—(AP)—The Texas cotton crop made fairly good progress while a bumper wheat harvest continued apace in the week ended July 10.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reported cotton picking had started in scattered south Texas fields and should become general in that area in another week or two.

Insect infestation was held back by dry conditions in most sections, although showers in the extreme south and southeast sections favored pests. In portions of the high plains cotton growth benefited by rains.

The department said harvest of the large Panhandle wheat crop was one-fourth to three-fourths complete.

Orn was maturing in fairly good condition in south Texas and was well advanced in some parts of central Texas. The young crop in the high plains needed rain.

Grain sorghum harvest was general in south Texas and yields were good. Harvest of the Panhandle potato crop began with yields lighter than indicated a few weeks ago.

Cantaloupes and watermelons remained abundant and development was rapid in the late crop areas.

Livestock were in good condition in most sections although ranges needed rain. Markings of both cattle and sheep dropped off sharply from the heavy movements which had been recorded for several previous weeks.

Bowles Has Help To Sell OPA
WASHINGTON, July 12—(AP)—O.P.A. boss Chester Bowles, former advertising man given the super-selling job of making O.P.A. palatable, now has picked a woman for one of his super-super-selling jobs.

She's supposed to make businessmen help set up O.P.A. regulations on their industry—and like them.

"Oh, they like 'em sometimes," she says. "And sometimes they talk so good they act like little boys. But their job is to make them come around."

Her job is to make them come around. She's Mrs. Ethel B. Gilbert. Bowles has made her director of his newly created office of industry advisory committee. She's tall, 52, looks ten years younger.

She speaks very directly and wants it plainly known she didn't get the job by being a "glamor-puss."

This is the story. O.P.A. has set up 486 industry advisory committees, experts to create about 50 more.

These committees are made up of specially selected men—800 from the restaurant business—who help O.P.A. draw up regulations controlling prices in an industry.

First these committees come in. They're all for industry. They see only the side of the industry. They don't see their industry in relation to the rest of the price control program.

Sometimes it's necessary to shut them up in a room for a couple of days to let them work out price control programs. When that happens in the beginning—they sometimes emerge with unworkable programs.

They're thinking of their industry first and the rest of the O.P.A. program afterward.

Then Mrs. Gilbert, when they're looking gum, goes into the room, talks pleasantly, tries to wear them away from any selfish notions.

As an example of how businessmen first talk, then come around, she cites:

Restaurant men balked about price controls at first, now want to help, are going to set up committees

FARMERS MAY MAKE POST-WAR RAIN

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn.—(AP)—A water bill to aid the farmer's fight against drought is possible through use of a newly-developed spray which can lay down the equivalent of an inch of rain over two acres of ground within an hour, says Farmer J. Gilbert Stein of Chattanooga.

After devising a special nozzle, he laid the first watering system on several acres of level ground on his farm. The water is pumped from a nearby creek through 600 feet of coupling pipe and is forced out of a revolving nozzle capable of throwing a free stream 20 feet.

I suggest that we move surely rather than too swiftly in the building of an international organization which is to provide a permanent framework of peace among nations.

Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal.

Nationals Win All-Star, 7-1

By JACK HAND
PITTSBURGH, July 12—The balloon pitch and the nothing ball got credit for stopping the American league's all-star victory march today as Billy Southworth's Nationals celebrated their fourth win in the 12-year history of the dream game.

While the boys from Ford Frick's circuit were rapping five assorted hurlers from Joe McCarthy's stockpile for 12 hits, effective pitching by Ken Raffensberger of the Phils, Rip Sewell of the Pirates and Jim Tobin of the Braves insured last night's 7-1 decision, the most lopsided score in the series.

Most of the 29,589 customers who helped boost the service hat and ball fund by $100,775 were pleased with the sudden halt of the Americans' 3-year win streak as the series came around to Forbes field for the first time.

Southworth's winners adopted an old American custom in pounding Tex Hughson of the Red Sox for four runs in a big fifth inning. Hughson had relieved Hank Borowy of the Yanks after he finished his three-inning stint with a 1-0 lead but Tex yielded five hits before Joe McCarthy waved in Bob Mumter of the Browns.

With Borowy in control of the situation, the junior circuit stepped out in front in the second inning after threatening on two hits off starter Bucky Walters of the Reds in the first. Ken Keltner of the Indians opened the second with a single to left, moved around on in-field outs by Bobby Doerr of the Red Sox and Rolfe Hensley of the Yanks and scored when Borowy beat out a hopper to Connie Ryan for a scratch hit.

The roof caved in on Hughson in the fifth after the Nationals had gone scoreless for four frames. Connie Ryan of the Braves opened with a single to center, stole second and romped home when Bill Nicholson of the Cubs delivered a pinch-double that scorched the right field foul line and completely altered the complexion of the game.

Irish Start Second '44 Baseball Squad

SOUTH BEND, Ind., July 12—Notre Dame is going to have a "summer" baseball team, too.

There were 108 candidates for the second Irish nine of 1944 at the initial practice yesterday, including several naval V-12 and V-5 students. The team will play a 12-game schedule during the next two months, said Coach Jake Kline.

Handsome Harry Won Two Titles, One From Tunney

By BILLY ROCHE
Famous Referee and Manager
 The "Human Windmill," they called Harry Greb, but he was windy with fists, not gab. Greb had a style all his own. From bel to bell he threw punches from all angles, all in the direction of his opponent and rarely did his blows miss their target. He was the nearest thing to perpetual motion that ever stepped into a prize ring.

Hero of some 300 battles from 1913 to 1926 inclusive, during which he met light-heavyweights and heavyweights, Greb, 5-8, 135, lost only seven, always to bigger and heavier men. He was knocked out only once, by Joe Chip in two rounds in his first year of professional fighting.

Greb beat Gene Tunney for the light-heavyweight title May 24, 1922, lost it back to Gene in 1923, won the middleweight championship from Johnny Wilson Aug. 31, 1923. He held the latter crown till he lost to Tiger Flowers. His last fight was with the "Deacon" for the title August 19, 1926, in New York.

Two months later he was dead, following an operation on his left eye. Not till after his death did it become known that for years Harry Greb had been blind in that eye.

Entries Sought For Four-Ball Tourney

Get your partner and be ready for the four-ball handicap tourney. This was the admonition of Frank Baker, Pampa County club pro, today as he sought entries in the contest. To date, there has been a woful lack of interest in the tourney, fourth in the series slated this summer at the local links.

Match play is scheduled to start next Sunday, and the tilt will end on August 6.

The July 4 flag tourney was called off on account of rain.

A 36-hole handicap tourney is next on the list, set for August 12-20. Then will come the Pampa annual invitation tourney, 54 holes, medal play, qualifying with first 18-hole round, August 25, 26, and 27, and the men's Scotch tourney, handicap, September 4.

Pampa golfers are asked to turn in golf balls to Baker. The pro said he had received a good response to his appeal, but more used golf balls were needed.

ROCKHURST RESUMES FOOTBALL

KANSAS CITY, July 12—(AP)—After a year's absence from the gridiron, Rockhurst college will play a seven-game football schedule this fall. Rev. Paul O. Smith, athletic director, said today.

FLATTENS STICKUP MEN

He licked sluggers and fancy dans, scoring decisions over Tunney, Tommy Loughran and Jimmy Slattery. In 1925 he defeated Mickey Walker in defending the middleweight title. It was Walker who later took the title from Greb's conqueror, Tiger Flowers.

Greb didn't confine his fist operations to the prize ring. Once, speeding to a fight in an automobile with a bevy of feminine admirers, four stick-up men blocked his road with a stalled car. Greb got out, unceremoniously and with dispatch flattened the quartet of would-be robbers, and continued on to keep his engagement. Cops picked up the unconscious victims and Greb had enough left to score a two round K.O.

Greb's real name was Berg. He

Soviet Answer Asked at Meet

BRETTON WOODS, N. H., July 12.—The American delegation to the United Nations monetary conference has served a virtual ultimatum on Soviet Union representatives demanding a final answer on the all-important question of quotas to a proposed multi-billion dollar currency stabilization fund.

This was learned today from an unimpeachable conference source who added that the Russian group indicated a reply from Moscow might be expected by nightfall. He said he was "quite hopeful" the answer would be favorable.

Russia is known to be seeking a quota larger than $1,000,000,000 originally assigned to her in a tentative draft of the stabilization fund proposal and at the same time to be demanding credit for her war devastated areas. The credit would be in the form of a gold contribution smaller than that required of other nations.

The United States delegation reportedly agreed to hike the Russian quota figure to $1,200,000,000 with the understanding that she put up one-fourth of that amount in gold or ten per cent of her gold holdings, whichever was the smaller, or she could accept the smaller quota and thereby reduce her gold contribution proportionately under the formula that would apply to all participants.

The Russians, it was reported, have taken the stand that they had obtained pre-conference promises from the Americans for the special war credits, but this was said to have been the result of a misunderstanding, possibly because of language difficulties.

It was understood that either Premier Stalin or Foreign Minister Molotov would have to make the final decision.

Brig. Gen. Clinton Vincent told his eastern China composite wing fliers their attacks had blunted the enemy drive on Hengyang, making the offensive "so unacceptably costly that the enemy has no recourse but retreat."

In Yunnan Chinese troops were set to assault Tengchung, Lungling and Mangshih, enemy bases controlling a section of the Burma road. British troops continued chasing the bewildered remnants of two Japanese divisions which had tried to conquer northeast India. A strong enemy force was routed after a two-day battle near Chepu.

WCTU Honored At Chautauque Meeting

EVANSTON, Ill., July 12.—An annual custom will be observed again this year at Chautauque, N. Y., when the nationally-known Summer Assembly there will set aside July 27 as National Woman's Christian Temperance Union Day.

The call for an organization to complete the work of the previous winter of the Crusade to abolish liquor was conceived at the first Sunday Assembly, held in Chautauque, August, 1874. In November, 1874, delegates from all over the nation met in Cleveland, Ohio, and the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union was organized.

Both the Chautauque and the W. C. T. U. have carried on their work for 70 consecutive years.

This year's Chautauque will include a three-week course in narcotic (alcohol) education, with Miss Estelle Bozeman, a specialist in this subject for the National W. C. T. U. as director. Miss Bozeman has held various federal and state positions under the Department of Agriculture.

Commission Changes Time of Meetings

Pampa's city commission shifted the day of its regular meeting from Tuesday to Wednesday, in an order passed by the commission at its session yesterday.

Time of the meeting will be the same as before—10 a. m. The commission in the past has made changes in its schedule. At one time, meetings were held at 2:30 p. m. on Tuesdays. Then the sessions were altered to the forenoon. Authority to change the day is granted in the city charter.

Other business of the commission this week included, hearing Joe Ward, Wichita Falls engineer, talk on the possibilities of installing concrete sewer lines here and other postwar construction, but nothing definite was outlined.

The commission approved purchase of $10,000 worth of war bonds, both U. S. and U. S. Savings, from the water and sewer fund, and $5,000 from interest and sinking fund.

Named as members of the city's board of equalization were Charles H. El, Bud Baldrige, and George W. Briggs. First session of the board will be held next week.

AIR MIGHT

Of these 2,329 were four-engined bombers and 1,098 were fighters.

The senior officer disclosed that recent industrial targets included plants working on jet-engine propulsion, which is used in the robots bombing London.

He said the United States, Britain and Russia were in agreement on priorities regarding the different types of targets and added:

"There will be additional attacks on the German fighter plane industry whenever needed."

He said the big two-way drive against German airplane factories between Feb. 20-25 was so effective that the Nazis could not recover from it, and "made possible the invasion without German air force opposition."

Since January, the strategic U. S. air forces alone have dropped 262,777 tons of bombs on the Germans in 242,849 sorties—138,897 flights by bombers and 103,882 by fighters. This does not include the weight lost by the B-24's and the tactical air forces, such as the U. S. Ninth Air Force.

Destruction of German planes average 1,018 a month in the air and on the ground. An average of 771 strategic U. S. bombers were over Europe every day.

As recently as last October, an officer disclosed that the Eighth U. S. Air Force had a maximum attack force of 300 bombers. Today, the number was quadrupled to 1,200 despite losses.

Strategic bombings loosed on the Germans of U. S. strategic air forces have grown from 22,000 tons in January to 82,000 tons in June. Operations increased from 29,000 bomber and fighter sorties in March to 65,000 in June.

Spotlight Is On 6 States' Voters

Special To The NEWS.
The renominations of Sen. Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma and Charles W. Tobey of New Hampshire and the victory of CIO-indorsed Mayor Maurice J. Tobin of Boston for the Massachusetts Democratic nomination for governor highlighted today's primary returns from six states.

Tuesday's voting, which also included primaries in Michigan, Washington and Utah, brought defeat for Republican Governor Robert O. Blood of New Hampshire, in his bid for party endorsement for a third term.

The 43-year-old Tobin, led Francis X. Hurley, state treasurer and avowed opponent of the Roosevelt administration, 110,841 to 67,278 with returns in from 1,773 of 1,805 precincts. However, other recipients of CIO political action committee endorsement trailed in Democratic congressional district contests.

Thomas H. Elliot, PAC endorsed, trained James M. Curley, former governor, 2,946 to 6,534 in 14 of 148 precincts of the 11th district.

In the Tenth, William A. Carey polled 6,393 votes to 2,944 for CIO-Harry Edwin Takomay, mayor of 151 precincts, and in the third, Representative Philip J. Philbin won Democratic nomination over PAC-approved P. Eugene Casey, 7,773 to 4,594.

Commander Defines Efforts of Robots

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, July 11.—(P)—Gen. Eisenhower declared today that Germany's flying bomb in its present stage was not a very effective weapon except for attacks on sprawling metropolitan areas like London.

The Supreme Allied commander said in an interview that within the reasonable future, there was little prospect that the weapon would improve in efficiency. "Discussing the 'definable thing' at an advanced command post, Eisenhower conceded that no one was talking lightly the experience which London and southern England are undergoing.

"From the Germans' point of view, the flying bomb gives him a cheap air force," the commander said, "even his bomber attacks are wild. They jettison bombs all the way from Linds end to Dover. The flying bomb is just as effective—and a damned sight cheaper."

Eisenhower said the Allies have been successful in keeping the weapons down to a certain extent. Scientists still must evolve something more effective than the defense measures now in use, he said.

LOSING HIS SPEED

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 12.—(P)

John H. Kest, observed his 78th birthday by hiking 24.6 miles—just like he did on his 70th anniversary

State Loses Suit Against Packers

AUSTIN, Tex., July 12.—(P)—A 96th district court judgment today left the state loser in its first round attempt to cancel the permit of Swift & Company to do business in Texas and to forfeit the charter of the Consumer Cotton Oil company of Texas which is wholly owned by Swift & Company.

The state gave notice of appeal from Judge J. D. Moore's ruling that Swift & Company may operate the cotton oil company under the terms of a 1938 court order.

This order permitted Swift & Company to organize and become sole stock holders in the cotton oil company. The order was the result of a suit, brought nearly 30 years ago by the state, to divorce several packing companies of their interests in cotton oil mill companies. Under the consent order Swift & Company was permitted to organize a Texas corporation to take over and operate mills after attorneys showed that the mills in which Swift & Company had been interested could be sold only for salvage value. In its most recent suit the state attacked legality of the order.
