AUSTIN, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Public schools received a $6,000,000 windfall this week in the form of a $4 supplemental payment to the current $25 per capita scholastic apportionment of state available school fund.

Now the question arises whether certain school districts can use it to increase teacher salaries. The question was posed by Karl Lovelady, chairman of a senate committee on education, who asked Attorney General Grover Sellers whether schools receiving financial aid from the equalization fund (separate and apart from the available school fund which all schools receive) could use the additional money for teacher salary increases.

Lovelady added:

"Until your department clarifies the question x x x this money cannot be used to supplement school teacher salaries in state aid schools because the $25 per capita apportionment is now being used in their budgets as receipts along with their local maintenance tax money and as I construe the law, if the $4 supplement creates a new per capita apportionment of $29 then the total amount will have to count as receipts in the budget."

Elector To Vote As Instructed

AUSTIN, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Because he considers the instructions binding upon him, T. J. Holbrook of Austin, one of 23 presidential elector nominees chosen at the regular democratic state convention, declared he will vote as instructed by the convention.

In a letter to democratic national committeeman Myron G. Black, Holbrook asserted that he desired to take another course he would have let the convention name someone in his place.

The convention, held here May 23, directed that presidential elector nominees, if elected, vote for some democrat of their choice other than the party nominee if the national democratic convention refused to meet several demands made at the state convention. These conditions were disregarded by the national meet.

"These instructions were as binding upon me as any contract I could make and will be strictly observed," wrote Holbrook.

No More Mountains For This Texan

TEMPLE, Aug. 17.—(AP)—A Texas boy who said he'd probably be dead except that "we Texans die hard" was among three patients flown to McCloskey general hospital from European war theaters this week.

He was T-Sgt. Austine Biekers of Gatesville wounded south of Rome by a German shell.

"I hit the dirt near a cement wall. A shell hit about four feet behind me and broke one leg and wounded the other. It was only a miracle I wasn't killed. . . . If I never see another mountain again, it will be too soon. We had to go without food for four days once because they couldn't get it to us. Only mules can get over those mountains," he said.

Advertisements in newspapers were not general in England until 1700.

PRESIDENT

months, and the last time they were together was in December.

With the fighting in France rolling at its present pace, it seems logical to those close to the government that the two Allied leaders will meet again in the not-too-distant future to plan a new major war move.

Mr. Roosevelt said he knew nothing of internal troubles in Germany that can make us feel sure the German war machine will blow up early. We hope there will be more trouble inside Germany, he said, but that may turn out to be wishful thinking.

He said there is an interesting psychology study not only of the German people but of their military command—a characteristic to throw up the sponge when their borders are menaced because they don't want Germany over-run. They quit before we got in the last time, he pointed out, but they won't be spared invasion this time.

If we let them quit, he added, then the next generation will be told Germany won the war.

Turning to Japan, the Chief Executive said that nation must be sealed off from the peace-loving world until she proves herself willing and able to live with peaceful countries.

He called the Pacific campaigns—with the exception of Burma—our major responsibility because we are stronger than our Allies such as Australia and New Zealand.

Amplifying the theme of his Saturday speech at Bremerton, Wash., Mr. Roosevelt said permanent defenses must be spread the full Pacific length of the Americas to checkmate any future aggression.

County Commissioners Will Meet Tomorrow

Gray county commissioners will meet tomorrow to resume a study of the county budget, along with further discussion of the county tax rate.

A tentative draft of the rate has already been prepared and listed, but a story in a current issue of The News was technically incorrect in saying that the rate had been officially approved.

Like many other governmental matters, it takes time to make all amendments are made and no action can be considered permanent when first drafted.

Little Interest In Second Primary

With interest at the customary slow, Pampans today watched the approach of the second primary election. As usual, the political fever is hottest for the first primary with the second election being simply a postscript.

Today was the last day for candidates to file their second expense report for the second primary of August 26.

Tuesday will be the last day on which absentee ballots can be cast. There were 142 absentee votes in the first primary (July 22); only 10 absentee votes to date for the second.

Keeping up the time-worn slow-moving mold, August 29, three days after the election, is the final date for election judges to make returns to the county chairman, and the county committee doesn't have to canvass the returns until September 2, or one week after the election while the state committee has until September 11, or 18 days, to do this chore.

Labor Cutback Is Coming at Dallas

DALLAS, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Labor requirements of North American aviation plants here will be reduced by 17,000 by mid-November as a result of the cutback in Liberator bomber production, reports the firm's president, J. H. Kindelberger.

Final deliveries on all bombers will be made in November, said Kindelberger here yesterday, adding that sudden production curtailment orders on B-24 bombers, plus the normal turnover in employees, would force the terminations.

Ginners Urge Penalty For Overweight Bales

LUBBOCK, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Members of the Plains Ginners association were on record today as favoring a penalty on overweight bales of cotton.

A resolution to that effect was passed by the group yesterday at its annual meeting after 300 ginners heard John C. Thomason, Dallas, secretary of the Texas cotton ginners association, urge them to cooperate in establishing uniform-sized bales.

Thomason said last year many bales exceeded the 550-pound average. He added that a regulation may be adopted soon by which the Office of Price administration would establish a uniform ceiling price on cotton ginning.

Five directors were elected—W. O. Fortenberry, Monroe; R. D. McDonald, Levelland; and B. B. Barton, R. D. Holmes and Douglas Witt, all of Lubbock.

Hutton-Grant Rift Is 'Friendly One'

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Barbara Hutton Grant says her separation from her husband, actor Cary Grant, is a friendly one, decided upon by both after much and careful thought.

"I am sorry that our marital misunderstanding has made this step necessary," the dime-store heiress added in a statement yesterday. "There is no thought of divorce at the present time, and Cary and I are remaining the fondest of friends."

Grant's comment was: "Yes, I regret today that it is all true. You can quite understand why I have no inclination to make an extended statement."

Mrs. Grant, 31, formerly was married to Alexis M'Divani, Georgian prince, and later to Count Haugwitz-Kerentlow, former Danish count with whom she is contending for custody of their son, Lance, 9. Grant, 40, is the former husband of Virginia Cherrill, British actress.

British Capture 10-Year-old Soldier

ON THE BRITISH FRONT, France, Aug. 17.—(AP)—British troops captured their youngest prisoner in the battle of France, a ten-year-old youth dressed in a German uniform.

He confessed his age between sobs and said he "never shot anyone."

He said he was a stepson of a shanghaied Russian fighting with the Germans, and that his name was Stanilus. He was found hiding in a dugout with six Nazi troops. He was incredibly dirty and frightened, but his fears soon turned to bubbling delight when the British put him through the standard de-lousing process.

Tennessean Named Rome Commander

ROME, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Brig. Gen. Thoburn K. Brown of Marlinton, Tenn., was named Allied commander for the Rome area, succeeding Maj. Gen. Harry H. Johnson, who left for combat assignment.

Brown, a West Pointer, was formerly assistant commander of the 88th infantry division. He served in the Philippines, Mexico and in France in the last war.

Even President Is Almost Helpless

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Trains run late in war times, even for railroad presidents.

Newspapermen and photographers were at the La Salle Street station awaiting arrival of the new president of the New York Central railroad, Gustave Metznan.

"Those things will happen these days," explained Metznan, as he alighted from the train, behind schedule.

De Tassigny Heads New French Forces

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—(AP)—General Delaune de Tassigny is commanding French forces participating in the invasion of southern France, the British radio said today.

The broadcast, recorded by the OWI, recalled that De Tassigny had been imprisoned by the Vichy government in 1942 but had escaped to North Africa and had commanded the recent landing on Alba.

One of the purposes of the World's Women's Christian Temperance Union is to suppress trade in opium.

German Seventh Is Believed To Be Breaking Up

By HAL BOYLE

U. S. THIRD ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Aug. 17.—(AP)—The German Seventh Army is breaking up into roving guerrilla bands and appears to have passed the point where it is able to mass its remaining men and supplies for a breakthrough to the Seine river to broken and disorganized units fleeing beyond Paris.

Demoralized by shattering artillery and aerial bombardments, the Nazi army within the narrowing steel ring in Normandy is disintegrating daily and is trying to escape from the squeezing pocket in groups of 15 to 50 men.

Third army officers expressed belief the bulk of the German Seventh Army is caught in the gigantic trap whose only gap is an eight mile exit between Falaise and Argentan. All escape roads through this corridor of death are "interdicted," an army term which means they are controlled by strong fire power although not straddled by troops.

An indication of the vast and vital wound inflicted on the German army in France is the unofficial estimate that the Third Army alone in its colossal sweep to Argentan captured 39,000 prisoners and killed 11,000 Germans.

Another 20,000 German troops are hopelessly cut off on the Brest peninsula in port defenses and isolated strongpoints which are being reduced at leisure.

Below the Loire and in the vicinity of Angers, 5,000 more of the enemy slowly are being cut to pieces and no longer can be considered an effective fighting force.

Thus from Brest to Argentan, most fighting now consists of brush-war with heavily armed Nazi guerrilla bands, trying desperately to rejoin their comrades who already have given up the battle of France as lost and are retreating as fast as possible on bicycles, carts and afoot.

Leaves From A Correspondent's War Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

WITH THE AMERICAN TROOPS IN BRITAIN, Aug. 7.—(Delayed)—The American breakthrough to Brittany has been even more of a satisfaction to the fighting men on the front than to the reading public back home.

Normandy's hedgerows tired the men, hobbled tanks, facilitated enemy ambushes and cut down observation so much that doughboys had to fight blindly from pasture to pasture.

We still aren't out of the hedgerow country, but they have thinned out considerably.

In wiping out resistance on the Brest peninsula we are helped by the fact that there is much rolling farmland to fight through and the enemy isn't so concentrated. Here the Americans are able to use their great reservoir of armor to better advantage.

Brittany itself is one of the world's wonderlands—a scenic and historic province whose rugged people are the backbone and heart of France. No one who has seen the aggressive way in which the peasants and townspeople have pitched in to rid their green and gold land of the Germans can doubt their wish to be free.

Because of the speed of the American armored thrust in isolating the peninsula, Brittany's interior cities have largely been spared devastation such as that which befell Caen, Valognes and St. Lo, but the tale naturally is different in such port cities as St. Malo, Brest and Lorient where Nazis had strong garrisons and where they dug in.

It is a fair land with a mild climate and less rain and storm clouds than Normandy. Its beaches are among the most renowned in the world, and St. Malo and Dinard have notably fashionable and cosmopolitan winter colonies much visited by Continental and English society.

Brittany's simple, hardworking people live by tilling its fertile acres or fishing in the emerald seas that are four-fifths of its boundaries.

In old times it was known as America or "the country upon the sea." Adventurous Bretons are still the greatest fishermen of France, sailing regularly to Newfoundland and Iceland. Aside from shipbuilding and arsenals, there are no manufacturing industries of great importance.

Now it is harvest time in Brittany and armed convoys spearing along the main roads to supply the wide ranging armored columns pass hundreds of men, women and children gathering the grain crop.

Bretons live simply in sturdy and picturesque old stone homes, many of which still have thatched roofs. They are strongly religious and Brittany is a stronghold of the Catholic church in France.

Bretons are racially close to the Welsh and the country was settled largely by Britons who, fleeing from the Picts and Scots, came across the channel and took lands abandoned by the Gauls because of crushing Roman taxes.

Like Britons, the Bretons are known for independence and stubbornness. That is why the Nazis never were able to take them completely over—and why German soldiers now prefer surrendering to American troops than chance the mercy of the gun-wielding Breton resistance fighters.

Veteran Reporter Reported Captured

LONDON, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Gault MacGowan, veteran New York Sun correspondent, was reported by the Germans Tuesday to have been captured near Chartres on the road to Paris.

Apparently, he ventured beyond the Allied lines once too often. The Germans said they took MacGowan to Paris after a shooting scrape in which a companion was wounded. Correspondents usually travel in pairs on the U. S. front, and it is quite possible that his companion was another American correspondent, yet unnamed.

In his recent trip across the Brest peninsula, MacGowan discussed reports that virtually no Germans were defending Paris and said: "I wonder if it is true that you can drive into Paris in a taxicab?"

MacGowan always was going to the front lines and beyond in search of colorful material. Just five days ago, MacGowan made a long trip across the Brest peninsula to the outskirts of Lorient with Associated Press Correspondent Wes Gallagher. Finding he could not get into the town by foot, MacGowan took a flight in a pipe cup plane with a major noted for his daring.

The German garrison was disturbed and opened up on the little plane with some heavy batteries. Nazi 88-millimeter shells burst close, rocking the craft, before the pilot could drop it behind a nearby hill.

Cassino Lesson Is Used in New Invasion

ROME, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Allied air forces endeavored in their attacks paving the way for the invasion of southern France to avoid a mistake that was made at Cassino.

They used small quick-fused bombs in attacks on objectives near the beaches to avoid deep craters which later might impede the troops' progress inland.

Gaming Devices Pay $7,781,600 Revenue

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Slot machines and other coin-operated gaming devices paid $7,781,600 into the treasury in the last fiscal year and thereby became "legal" as far as the federal tax laws are concerned.

A tax of $100 was paid on 77,816 of these machines, the internal revenue bureau disclosed in a summary of occupations subject to special taxes.

Payment of the federal levy, officials explained, does not give an operator immunity from prosecution under the state and local laws prohibiting the operation of gaming devices. By paying the tax, however, an operator eliminates risk of being prosecuted for violation of the federal tax laws.

All 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii and the District of Columbia had taxed gaming machines.

And Kansas, Mississippi and Oklahoma, the three "dry" states, had plenty of tax-paying liquor dealers.

The island of Tinian in the Marianas is largely a low tableland devoted to sugar cane raising.

5 Million Taxpayers Get Federal Refunds

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Refunds on 1943 taxes now are being made at the rate of about 335,000 a week, the Internal Revenue bureau said today.

So far about 5,000,000 taxpayers have received their refunds, averaging $35 each, leaving an estimated 13,000,000 refunds still to be made. A total of $175,000,000 has been paid out.

Why Not Wynot? That's Sufficient
 BOSTON, Aug. 17—(AP)—Two and one-half year old Harold Anthony Wynot was lost, and when police asked him his name he told them —but they didn't understand. "Wynot," he said clearly. The policemen explained they needed the rest of the name. "Butch isn't enough," they said. "Wynot!" the little fellow explained. This continued through a number of ice cream cones until the youngster's father arrived and explained about the name. Ever ytime an American paratrooper jumps, $850 worth of equipment floats to earth.

WFA Official Says More Funds Needed
 DENVER, Aug. 17—(AP)—Solicitor Robert H. Shields of the War Food administration and agriculture department says the federal government will need "greatly increased" funds and new food disposal programs if it is to carry out a congressional mandate to support farm prices for two years after the war. He said peace will bring many problems of handling, storing and disposing of war stocks of food and of readjusting production to normal levels. More than 500,000 former pupils of New York City's public schools are now in the armed services.

Norma Lea Badgley, Dean Jennings Marry in Home Ceremony at Borger

In a double ring ceremony, Miss Norma Lea Badgley, daughter of Mrs. S. M. Badgley, Borger, became the bride of Lee Dean Jennings, GM 1/4, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Jennings, Pampa, July 29, in the home of the bride's mother in Borger.

The ritual was read at 8 p. m. with the Rev. Paul B. Cullen, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating. Tall baskets of Picardy gladioli banked the improvised altar.

The bride wore a street-length dress of navy blue sheer with white accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

Mrs. Charles White of Lubbock was the bride's maid of honor. She wore a powder blue dress with black accessories and a corsage of red roses. Cpl. Charles White served as best man.

A reception was held in the Badgley home following the ceremony. Miss Dortha Grimes and Miss Milly Bayless presided at the bride's table which was decorated with an arrangement of gladioli and asters and held a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature sailor and bride.

After a short wedding trip to Denver, Colo., the couple will be at home temporarily in San Francisco, Cal., where the bridegroom is stationed.

The bride is a graduate of Borger High school with a class of '42, where she was a member of the National Honor Society, and is listed as "Who's Who." She attended Amarillo Business college and before her marriage was employed at the Panhandle State bank.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Phillips High school with the class of '39. He entered service in the Navy in 1940 and has recently returned from 18 months service in Alaska.

Miss Joy Frye Is Birthday Party Honoree at Shamrock

Special To The NEWS SHAMROCK, Aug. 17—Miss Joy Frye was the center of a party by her mother, Mrs. Dan Frye, at the Legion Hut last week. The occasion was her 16th birthday.

The party was attractive and decorated with a pink and white color motif.

Mrs. Frye was assisted by Mrs. Ralph Margolis and Mrs. Marie Lane in serving refreshments.

Those attending were: Donna Jo Stewart, Barbara Scott, Minnie K. Morse, Jane Ann Lane, Charles Boston, Murray Leith, Sherrod Reavis, Paul Dodgen, Jack Roach, G. Finley, Billy Frank Balke, Marvin B. Tindall and the honoree.

Bringing Up Baby

From breast to bottle, from bottle to cup, from liquid to each step, one at a time.

Doctors advise giving breast-fed babies the bottle feeling as they can get used to the bottle before weaning time.

They also advise that you hold your baby in your arms when you give him a bottle. He needs the comfort of cuddling close as much as he needs the food.

Give your baby his orange juice first out of a spoon and then out of a cup, so he'll come to know these new ways of getting food. At first he may not like milk in a cup, but he will in time.

Don't begin making a change until you feel reasonably sure your child is ready for it. Stand by patiently and give him extra loving and attention at times when you are starting him on something new.

Remember that these are important changes for a young child. In each of these steps he is giving up something he knows and likes for something he isn't sure of. He will do what he knows you want him to do more easily if he feels your approval and encouragement in each step.

Fire Losses Higher Than Any Since '32

NEW YORK, Aug. 17—(AP)—Fire losses in the United States for last July were estimated at $2,706,000, the highest for any July since 1932 when they totalled $2,982,000. W. E. Mallahan, general manager of the national board of fire underwriters, announced today.

He said losses for the 12 months period ended July 31 were estimated at $411,463,000 as compared with $338,867,000 for the previous year.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17—(AP)—The quantity of wool shorn and to be shorn this year is estimated by the Agriculture Department at 355,129,000 pounds, the smallest figure since 1936.

The indicated production is 29,239,000 pounds or about 8 per cent smaller than last year and about 4 per cent below the 1932-41 10-year average.

The reduction is largely the result of a decrease in the number of sheep shorn, although there also has been a small decrease in the average weight per fleece. The estimated number of sheep shorn, and to be shorn, this year was put at 45,254,000 head, or 3,319,000 fewer than last year.

Life in Southwest Recorded in Book Recently Released

NORMAN, Okla., Aug. 17—(Sp)—The most extensive and authentic record of life in the Southwest of one hundred years ago, the "Diary & Letters of Josiah Gregg," is released today in its second and concluding volume by the University of Oklahoma Press.

Lost from public view since Gregg made his last entries before his death from starvation and exhaustion on the epic march in search of Humboldt Bay, Calif., in the winter of 1849-50, the diary was rediscovered by Maurice Garland Fulton, Roswell, N. M. The first volume, subtitled "Southwestern Enterprises, 1840-1847," was published by the Press in 1941. The second volume now published is "Excursions in Mexico and California, 1847-1850."

Gregg, who pioneered the overland trade between the Missouri settlements in the 1830's and 40's, kept a day-to-day record of his travels. From them he hoped to write the sequel to his still definitive "Commerce of the Prairies," published in 1844. He knew all the regions and he commented on the western people and the way of life in intimate scribbles in his notebooks. Because of his interest and importance, they have been called by critics the greatest find in western Americana in the last 25 years. The new volume carries the Gregg record from the eve of the battle of Buena Vista during the Mexican war to his death, almost within sight of the bay he was searching for on the California coast, just above the then embryo San Francisco.

A born plainsman, Gregg was trained in surveying, medicine, and the biological sciences, and practiced all of them. His wide variety of background gives insight in his writings to almost everything that the then expanding United States was interested in concerning a vast west it hoped to claim.

Local Police Chief Attends Conference

Police Chief Ray Dudley of Pampa was in Borger today, attending the quarterly conference of peace officers sponsored by the federal bureau of investigation.

This forenoon, Chief Dudley said that as many Pampa officers as could be spared would also attend, but he was uncertain at this time, as to the officers who would go.

Sheriff Dale Lane of Borger is host for the session, which was held from 1 p. m. to 5:30 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

Law enforcement problems will be discussed by Dean E. Morley, agent in charge, Dallas FBI.

Two federal agents, T. F. Baughn and Fred T. McIntyre, will highlight the meeting. Baughn, firearms and ballistics specialist, will speak on Scientific aids in police cases, and Fred T. McIntyre, coordinator, FBI law enforcement conference, will talk about the law enforcement officers' viewpoint of Evidence.

History of Southwest Will Be Depicted At El Paso Nov. 10-11

EL PASO, Aug. 17—A pageant to depict the history of the Southwest will be held here in conjunction with International Mining Day on Nov. 10 and 11.

The Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the pageant, announced a contest today to find a name for the pageant. About 1000 performers will participate in the pageant, which will depict the history of the Southwest from Indian Days through the present war. The mining theme, however, will dominate, as the pageant is being staged as a tribute to the mining industry.

Contestants should submit their suggestions for the pageant name by Oct. 1 to the El Paso Chamber of Commerce. One name will be selected by the Chamber's special events committee, and the winner will receive a $25 war bond as a prize.

It is expected that the American Institute of Mining Engineers will hold its meeting in conjunction with International Mining Day. Invitations are going out to mining men in Colorado, New Mexico, Texas, Arizona and Mexico.

Figures Point To Spending Level-Off

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17—(AP)—Signs have appeared in Pacific slope banking figures that the spending trend had begun to level off. Similar signs, however, have been known to precede a resumption of the rise to new high marks during the last two years.

Reports from banks in key cities covering 80 per cent of the western states' deposits indicate July spending totaled around $7,740 million for the seven states.

That is roughly a half million less than in June, but about as much more than in July last year.

Classroom Procedure Gets 'Shot in Arm' As Educators Meet

AUSTIN, Aug. 17—A "shot in the arm" for classroom procedures in junior colleges appears to be in the offing, as junior college educators meeting recently at the University of Texas recommended that these schools study their curricula carefully with a view to making courses tie in with modern living and thinking.

On the premise that one of junior college education's responsibilities is to prepare the boy or girl for living and for good citizenship, the Texas Junior College conference adopted a resolution calling for injecting more than a dozen subjects with fresh and functional information.

Social studies, for example, should be revamped "to take into account the global nature of social, economic and political relationships of people and of nations, including the vital facts and concepts of geography that bring better understanding of the world 'as it is' in which we are entering."

Physical science should give the student "an understanding and appreciation of the world in which he lives." A well-rounded foundational course in science "is good preparation for intelligent citizenship" as well as for advanced work in special fields, the educators believed.

English ought to be both cultural and functional, and be integrated with other fields of study and with real life, "including the study of American and world literature toward developing appreciation of American ideas and ideals." A similar approach should be made to art, music, drama, languages and other courses expressing human emotions, ideas and ideals.

Life science should build on to the foundations of knowledge of both physical and biological science instead of the formal courses of botany and zoology.

Mathematics and science should be examined for possible content or method revision in the light of recent criticisms.

A similar course should be set up "on the meaning and the development of philosophic thought" with the encouragement of careful thinking and personal life and the formulating of a balanced philosophy of life.

Draft Charges To Face Ex-Texans

DALLAS, Aug. 17—(AP)—D. E. Morley, agent in charge of the Dallas office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said that a federal grand jury at Paris, Texas, would receive complaints charging six former residents of Texas with conspiracy to violate the National Selective Service Act.

The complaints, which Morley said were filed at Sherman by Special Agent Ralph T. Hood, named as defendants Paul Hart, about 45; Roy Howland, 45; Ernest Howland, 45; George Young, 35; Robert Clifton Tucker, 28, and Lonnie Tucker, 26.

Morley said Hart and Roy Howland were Holiness preachers. Young was Hart's son-in-law. The Howlands were brothers, as were the Tuckers.

All formerly resided at Clarksville, Texas. The arrests, made over a period of several weeks, were made at Soper, Okla. The Howlands and Hart, jailed at Muskogee, are to be returned to Paris, Morley said, where the other three men already were held.

Classroom Procedure Gets 'Shot in Arm' As Educators Meet

AUSTIN, Aug. 17—A "shot in the arm" for classroom procedures in junior colleges appears to be in the offing, as junior college educators meeting recently at the University of Texas recommended that these schools study their curricula carefully with a view to making courses tie in with modern living and thinking.

On the premise that one of junior college education's responsibilities is to prepare the boy or girl for living and for good citizenship, the Texas Junior College conference adopted a resolution calling for injecting more than a dozen subjects with fresh and functional information.

Social studies, for example, should be revamped "to take into account the global nature of social, economic and political relationships of people and of nations, including the vital facts and concepts of geography that bring better understanding of the world 'as it is' in which we are entering."

Physical science should give the student "an understanding and appreciation of the world in which he lives." A well-rounded foundational course in science "is good preparation for intelligent citizenship" as well as for advanced work in special fields, the educators believed.

English ought to be both cultural and functional, and be integrated with other fields of study and with real life, "including the study of American and world literature toward developing appreciation of American ideas and ideals." A similar approach should be made to art, music, drama, languages and other courses expressing human emotions, ideas and ideals.

Life science should build on to the foundations of knowledge of both physical and biological science instead of the formal courses of botany and zoology.

Mathematics and science should be examined for possible content or method revision in the light of recent criticisms.

A similar course should be set up "on the meaning and the development of philosophic thought" with the encouragement of careful thinking and personal life and the formulating of a balanced philosophy of life.

21,726,605 Running Bales Cotton on Hand

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP)—The United States cotton supply in the cotton year which ended July 31 totaled 21,726,605 running bales, the census bureau reported today. The supply included a carry-over from the previous year of 10,656, 852 bales and the year ended with a carry-over of 10,726,888 bales. The agriculture department earlier this month forecast this year's cotton crop at 11,622,000 bales, which would indicate the supply for the 1944-45 cotton year will be about 21,748,000 bales.

Notre Dame Blanket Effects Rescue

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Aug. 17 (AP)—Mrs. Adolpho Graziani, a former Grand Rapids resident who went to Italy to prepare for a grand opera career, was liberated by Fifth army troops in Stenna, Italy, because of a Notre Dame football blanket she displayed from her balcony, according to information received here.

Spotting the blanket a group of soldiers led by Capt. Thomas A. Wright, a Redemptorist priest, decided to investigate. They found Mrs. Graziani in the house, where she and her husband had been forced to take refuge after the Nazis had burned their home.

Connally Just Doesn't Agree

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP)—Proposals to examine Congress don't sit well with Texas' Tom Connally. "I don't agree with the idea that the Senate is all out of gear and needs reforming," he told his colleagues during debate. "I do not think that is true of the other house."

A parliamentary body can operate only along the general lines which Congress has followed these many years, he said, with committees set up in each body for consideration of all legislative proposals. Elaborating, he explained: "My view is that the philosophy of having two chambers, as provided by the Constitution, instead of one, is based upon the idea that each chamber shall approach these questions in its own way."

"If we are to merge the two bodies, as it were, and have a unicameral legislature, that is another question. I do not favor it, but there are those who do. However, it seems to me that the idea that the two separate bodies shall pass legislation presupposes that each shall approach it in its own fashion. I hope I am not standing in the way of progress. If I am, I shall be demolished, as I have often been in the past."

Officer Again Gives Praises to 36th

AUSTIN, Aug. 17 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Fred L. Walker, former commander of the 36th division, visited Governor Coke R. Stevenson yesterday and reiterated his praise for the division's accomplishments in Italy. "My guess is that the division is now in the invasion of southern France," he added in an interview following his conference with the governor.

"If it is, the reports of relatively low losses are all the more pleasing," he said.

Gen. Walker who was relieved of the division command to become commanding officer of the Fort Benning, Ga., infantry school said he planned to fly from here to Dallas today and also to visit Temple.

Gen. Walker said that he hoped to visit Brownwood on a later trip but would be unable to go there on his present tour. Brownwood is the site of Camp Bowie, one of the camps in which the 36th trained for combat.

Issues and Personalities

Intimate acquaintance with celebrities is a precarious pleasure which most people escape. They are fortunate that they do—that is, if they are interested in the celebrities' abilities, rather than in their autographs...

So perhaps Col. Edmund W. Starling, who died last week, was not the ideal man to assign places in history to the five presidents of the United States whom he guarded for 30 years. But he was a man of great character, nevertheless valuable for he had the gift, so rare among celebrity-knowers, of being able to divorce fame and achievement from personality...

And what did this tall, quiet, steel-eyed, soft-spoken Kentucky colored man think of the White House residents he served? "I never knew a president," he once said, "who wasn't subject to human error, like any other man. But now I do. I ever know one who was not a gentleman."

The presidents he knew so well and guarded so well were Woodrow Wilson, Warren G. Harding, Calvin Coolidge, Herbert Hoover and Franklin D. Roosevelt. Perhaps five more dissimilar men never occupied the executive mansion. Colonel Starling knew them in sickness and health, good temper and bad, hours of indecision and discouragement and triumph. He liked them all and they liked him.

It is quite certain that he would have enjoyed the same friendship with Charles Evans Hughes, M. C. Cox, John W. Davis, Al Smith, Alf Landon and Wendell Willkie if the voters had given them four-year leases on the White House. And what has all this got to do with the millions of Americans who never even shook the hand of a senator, let alone a president? Only this: a lot of the Americans who in this hot summer have been making themselves even hotter with highly personalized arguments about presidential candidates. And they don't know either candidate, they don't know what they're talking about.

There are some clear-cut issues in this campaign. But these voters are losing friends and falling to influence people by skipping the issues in favor of vituperative remarks about personalities. Why should I ever know one who was not a gentleman?

Neither candidate is an orange. Neither is he a hunchback. Neither will he throw the country to the dogs, the Indians, Adolf Hitler or Josef Stalin. The presidents Colonel Starling knew were fallible, but gentlemen. They probably always were. The best they can according to their beliefs and abilities.

Japanese Quislings: The Japanese quislings, seeing the steady approach of American arms, must be having sleepless nights. The less is heard of them than of the Nazi puppets who pretend to rule the conquered countries, every one of Japan's new territories has a quisling except Indo-China.

In many cases they are prominent persons. Manchuria is headed by no less a figure than the last Manchurian emperor, Henry Pu Yi. He sits at the top, but does not govern; Chinese who have been subsided by Japan do that.

In China the Japanese have found Wang Ching-wei very useful. With Chiang Kai-shek he is one of the two leading disciples of the late Sun Yat-sen, the founder of Chinese democracy. To strengthen his position the Japanese have given him many concessions, including a prominent quisling. Besides Chen, Emilio Aguinaldo, who fought for Philippine independence against the Americans when McKinley was president, there have been Jose Laurel, Secretary of the Interior in the Philippines before Pearl Harbor, Jorge Vargas, the late President Manuel Cespedes, and Manuel Roxas, a general who held out with the guerrillas on Mindanao for over a year after the fall of Corregidor.

NEW ENTERPRISES

New Dealers claim that capital is afraid to take risks and invest in new enterprises. There are two good reasons why new enterprises are not appearing. In the first place, war forbids new buildings, new machinery, and the recruiting of a working force. These basic necessities as things are now are impossible. Then a risk demands a corresponding profit. It is a gamble and should have odds in its favor. But the government gives no odds. If the new and risky enterprise falls, the people who put up the money lose it; if it succeeds, then the government, by taxation, takes away the profit and leaves the owners not even bread and butter money to let alone pie.

An old, established business can stand for that, but a new concern struggling to get on its feet, can not. And that is why investors are not taking the risk of starting new enterprises. They justly feel the laborer is worthy of his hire.

THE ONLY WAY

(Denver Post)

"The only way the people of this nation can stop this spending and taxing race that is leading us to financial destruction is to change the public officials who are in control, because the whole bone and sinew of those who are guiding our ship of state now feed on their favorite food of spending and spend and spend, and tax and tax and tax, and elect and elect and elect."—Senator O'Daniel (Dem.) of Texas.

In today's issue I am reproducing my answer to the Rev. George Busdiecker whose letter appeared in preceding issue. The letter follows: May 18, 1944.

Dear Mr. Busdiecker: This acknowledges receipt of your letter of May 17, in which you decline to answer some questions of general interest, giving as a reason that "I have seen too much of the manner in which sincere citizens of this community were mistreated through the columns of your papers."

I am certainly very sorry if any citizen of the community has been mistreated. Will you kindly give me the names of those who were mistreated and the manner in which they were mistreated? The Register certainly wants to make amends if it has mistreated anyone in the community, but we cannot do so without knowing who those citizens are.

Thank you in advance for the information. Yours very truly, R. C. HOILES.

No answer was received to this letter. Since the Rev. Busdiecker quoted from Benjamin Franklin in his letter of May 17, I might well have inquired of him whether he used Franklin as a guide in all moral questions. Would he publicly advocate that Franklin's behavior, before he became a husband was a guide to conduct?

Certainly it is not the last word that makes any great difference in a discussion. It is the statements that are contradictory to the public profession of the contending, or to Christian principles that are embarrassing to any buffer or pretender that causes him to sidestep any public newspaper discussions.

Having received no further answer from the Rev. Mr. Busdiecker, I addressed him as follows: June 20, 1944.

Dear Rev. Busdiecker: Every thoughtful person I know is very much concerned about the beliefs that have brought on two world wars and the longest and worst depression in our history. They are inclined to believe it is a moral breakdown.

Since you have presented yourself to the community as being qualified to direct public education in the capacity of member of the board of education, and since you are occupied in ministerial work, you should be in a position to be useful to the 70,000 Register readers in throwing light on some questions that we believe will be helpful to them.

For this reason we will give you $100 for an interview to last not over four hours, if you will answer some questions concerning public education that seem to be incomplete with the admonitions of Jesus.

As Wendell Phillips said, "Men always lose half of what is gained by money; who is gaining by argument is gained forever," and as Justice Brandeis believed, "Public discussion is a political duty; this should be the fundamental principle of the American government."

If public education can be harmonized with the teachings of Jesus we want to learn how it can be done so that, through the newspapers, we can help pass on this information.

We know of no service you can perform that will be more useful to the community than throwing light on this perplexing problem to as large an audience as is available. Yours very truly, R. C. HOILES.

P.S. When may we have the interview granted.

I now publicly ask Rev. Busdiecker how he accounts for the fact that it will be remembered that Abraham Lincoln said, "The man who will not investigate both sides of a question is dishonest." Lincoln also said, "Better to remain silent and be thought a fool than to speak out and remove all doubt."

Jesus said, "Neither do men light a candle and put it under a bushel," and "Men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil. For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deed should be reproved. But he that doeth truth cometh to the light, that his deeds be made manifest, that they are wrought of God."

Do the above quotations from Lincoln and Jesus give the answer as to why Rev. Busdiecker or any other member of the board of education or defender of State education will not attempt publicly to harmonize State education with the admonitions of Jesus or with justice?

If Jesus was right in this statement it is evident that Rev. Busdiecker is only pretending to live by Christian principles but not practicing them. Since there are no contradictions, no embarrassing moments, no unanswerable questions, no dead ends, no injustices for anyone living by Christian principles, the above conclusion seems to apply.

We can forgive them for they know not what they do. Yet we cannot sit idly by and see the great misery, suffering and chaos that is being visited upon the Christian acts without doing everything we can to prevent these policies from being continued.

The columns are open to any man who will answer questions in an attempt to prove that our conclusions are wrong.

News Behind The News

The National Whirligig

SALES—As soon as Germany is beaten, there should be a sag in retail trade, according to New York economists. Housewives will be frugal spenders until they know the recovery in employment prospects of their husbands.

At present there are few indications of a slackening in the boom. Latest figures on weekly department store sales in the United States are four per cent higher than for the corresponding period a year ago.

PRICES—What can the average customer expect if it is in the tea leaves that Hitler will be tossed out by Christmas? The following forecasts come from New York business leaders:

In January the shops even in small towns should offer ample elastic for girdles and garters. Undergarments without rubber will be "thrown away" at bargain prices.

There is no sign of improvement in the supply of textiles. At least seventy-one per cent of unfinished orders at mills are under war and essential civilian priorities. In fact, Uncle Sam is asking for more cotton goods; only an early end to the fighting in Europe will ameliorate conditions.

Petroleum men believe that more gasoline and especially fuel oil will be available in the East this winter, but a stopped-up Pacific campaign may occasion transportation bottlenecks in the West, resulting in delivery troubles there.

Authorities differ in their prognostications of peace prices. Some held these will be shot upward by demand unless drastic Federal curbs are maintained. Others think that when the Army, Navy and rehabilitation agencies stop grabbing everything in sight and stuffing it in their warehouses, the supply of "soft goods" will be greater than anticipated and purchasers can buy better quality products at lower prices.

MEAT—The food outlook appears rosy. (Knock on wood and pray for continued crop weather.) But rationing is being tightened through the winter although changes in coupon values will be made. If our troops continue to advance rapidly and fall dried eggs with water are not visited upon machinery and the ripening harvests, the occupied countries may not require so much relief as we calculated.

POTATOES—Door-to-door canvases among housekeepers disclose that women will not switch from fresh and canned goods to dehydrated meats, vegetables and fruits unless they are much cheaper than the others.

Riced potatoes are the least popular. To offset this prejudice, enterprising companies now package dried spuds in attractive transparent bags with the printed sales appeal, "They don't have to be peeled."

CAB STUDIES POSTWAR AIR MONOPOLY

By PETER EDSON Pampa News Washington Correspondent

Post war international aviation news is more in the limelight now than it has been in years. The Civil Aeronautics Board has begun a series of preliminary conferences and hearings to determine which U. S. commercial aviation companies will be authorized to fly where.

No decisions may be expected from these hearings for perhaps a year. In the meantime it is expected that Congress will have determined what U. S. international aviation policy is to be—whether the government will sponsor the "one chosen instrument" company to operate all international air routes under the American flag, or whether the business will be split up among a number of competing companies. The fact that there are 107 applications on the file from 20 companies to establish service over the eight new routes which CAB on June 14 announced as commercially feasible indicates the pressure to break away from the one-company operation.

If action of the CAB in holding the hearings before Congress has determined its own policy seems a bit premature, it may be explained that the process of deciding what companies are best qualified to fly the various routes is long and involved, and the idea to have all data studied and ready for decision at the earliest possible date.

This involves preliminary CAB conferences with applicants wanting to fly into a given area, securing of agreement on what type plane should be flown over the route, what the traffic will be, what service should be supplied to meet it, and so on. Geographical areas are set apart thus: North Atlantic, South Atlantic, North Pacific, Central Pacific, Australia and Honolulu.

Some of the routes which have already been held, the formal hearings before CAB examiners will begin on the following schedule: Honolulu, Sept. 4; North Atlantic, Oct. 16; South Atlantic, Nov. 1; North Pacific, Dec. 13; Central Pacific, Jan. 16; Australia, Feb. 1.

Every company having an application on file will present arguments as to why it should be granted the right to fly over the route. This will require several days, so in the case of the North Atlantic service, for which there are 20 applications, at least two months will be required to require several days, so in the case of another month to weigh evidence. Extended hearings may be necessary for more evidence, so these cases will drag on into next summer.

When the board has decided what the routes are to be, it will be up to the Department of State to conclude agreements with the countries over which the routes will pass, to permit landing and airpassage rights.

Leaves From The Editor's Notebook

Pampa soldiers in Britain and in other parts of western and southern France are seeing the sights they read about when they were in school. Although not wishing to see such things under the circumstances, many of them hoped some day to be able to gaze upon the sights where the romantic history of the world has been made. Many of those places are habituated in peacetime by deeply religious, odd people, and their living will seem ancient to these soldiers, compared with the land they have left behind for the nonce.

In those harrowing days of defeat for us following the tragic stab at Pearl Harbor, an informative book called "Ramparts of the Pacific" by Hallett Abend, was born. This man for many years was a Far Eastern correspondent. What he said in that book, in part, has particular significance today:

"The Pacific destroy more than an average of 10 planes a day, the end of the war is brought a little nearer. The latest count shows that more than 12 planes a day are now being eliminated."

The army's M-Dogs, post graduates of the K-9 Dog Camps, are reported saving lives on the battlefield by locating enemy mines and booby traps which have defied the best of our engineers. The dogs were on a six-foot leash and signal their handler when within one to four yards of a death trap. Mines are signaled by barking and the clear road areas marked. The Journal Pathfinder, says the dogs are trained to work over any kind of terrain and in any weather, and never to advance over any mine or trap. Truly, a friend of man.

Some of the shrewder merchants label hash "meat and vegetables," and fall dried eggs with water are moved. They have learned that a doughboy, without tasting the contents, often tosses away a can of something he thinks he does not like.

WE'VE GOT A MISSION IN SPAIN! Not all the negotiations for landing rights; however, must wait on congressional and CAB action. For instance, the Department of State has just announced that a three-man technical mission is in Spain to work out details of an agreement in principle on granting landing rights to U. S. commercial airlines. Granting of reciprocal landing rights on U. S. territory to the Spanish government, which operates National Iberia, which operates Spain's domestic airlines, is not a question in this agreement, which is understood to cover only the right of U. S. commercial—non-military—planes to fly into Spanish airports and over Spanish territory. What U. S. companies will serve Spain is yet to be determined.

The new Spanish agreement has no relation whatever to the present 25-year exclusive U. S.-Portuguese air rights now held by Pan American Airways.

But it is this three-way congressional Department of State and CAB action that the future of U. S. international air transport is being planned.

Around Hollywood

BY BRISKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent

Behind the screen: Hollywood laughed when Darryl Zanuck sat down at his desk and went to work on a motion picture titled "Wilson." "It's a dull subject—no one will want to see it," chorused the second guessers at Hollywood and Vine. Less than a month ago even Zanuck was a little worried about his box office appeal. He admitted it was a gamble, saying, "If it doesn't click I'll never make another picture without Betty Grable." But as they say in Hollywood, Darryl Zanuck has done it again. He is the one who is chucking now. "Wilson" looks like the year's biggest money maker already breaking 20-year box office records at the Roxy Theater in New York City.

Betty Davis is planning a venture into film production but it will only be a sideline to her acting. She has no intention of giving up greenbacks for the road in a film titled "Hangover Square."

There's a great human interest yarn behind Bud Abbott and Lou Costello's appearance at the Atlantic City Steel Plant. They're working there as a result of a magnificent salary of $1 a day—returning a favor for Manager Frank Elliott, who gave them a job at the pier eight years ago when they needed the money. The boys named their own price of $1 a day for the seven-day week.

BACKSTAGE BATTLES Two Hollywood stars, red-haired Susan Hayward and Laird Cregar, are battling with their studios. Paramount suspended Cregar for refusing to be lent to producer Charles R. Rogers for an off-the-lot film. Cregar is off salary for eight weeks for turning down the lead in a film titled "Hangover Square."

Actor Vincent Price sometimes refers to his 4-year-old son, Barrat, as a "little ham." Other day Barrat said, "Daddy, when I grow up I'm going to study to be an actor and be a ham just like you."

REALISM LOOKS PHONY George Cukor was directing a scene for the picture "Winged Victory" in which eight flying cadets who have just graduated rush over to be congratulated by their wives and sweethearts. There was a mad scramble as the girls pinned the new decorations on the boys and some almost slipped and kissing. Cukor stopped the scene, said it wouldn't do. "What's the matter with you boys," he said. "All I want you to do is to put your arms around them, look into their eyes and kiss them. Don't grab at them and don't hold them like sticky candy bars." At this point the officer serving as technical advisor tapped Cukor on the shoulder and reminded him: "Don't you remember. We gave their wives roles in this film. Those are their own wives." Well, willed Cukor, "How they ever won them with that technique is beyond me."

Gregory Peck had to stumble and fall for a scene in David O. Selznick's new movie "The House of Dr. Edwards." After several rehearsals of which he hit his feet, Peck appealed to Director Alfred Hitchcock. "Hitch," he pleaded, "Is this trip really necessary?"

GOOD OLD DAYS?

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa.—(P)—Manpower shortages or no, college girls aren't likely to sigh for the "good old days" in the 1930's, says Wilson College school catalogues show, if students were told that dancing with young men was cause for prompt expulsion, and that girls worn in calicoes and blouses had to reach to the top of the shoes.

War Today

By DEWITT MARKEZIE Associated Press War Analyst

President Roosevelt's declaration that Germany and Japan will be occupied by Allied troops even though they surrender unconditionally before their borders are crossed by victorious armies, will ease a lot of anxiety in the German and Japanese camps that the gangsters might be some skullduggery squirm out of their just and necessary deserts.

Military occupation of enemy countries isn't a matter of revenue. It's vital to ensure peace. There's no doubt that Allied failure to occupy Germany in the last war was partly responsible for the present outburst of aggression, and Japan also probably was encouraged by the "softness" of the Allies. Both these arch brigands got further encouragement by the failure of the exponents of peace to halt such depredations as the rapes of Manchuria, Ethiopia and Austria. The Axis powers looked for further encouragement by the failure of the exponents of peace to halt such depredations as the rapes of Manchuria, Ethiopia and Austria. The Axis powers looked for further encouragement by the failure of the exponents of peace to halt such depredations as the rapes of Manchuria, Ethiopia and Austria.

It's interesting that the President's announcement should come just as the German foreign office has set off a new blast of propaganda for a peace based on a "genuine compromise of interests" among victors and vanquished. The Nazis assert this is essential to prevent a third World war.

In short, the Boche are threatening us with another conflict if we don't make a compromise peace. It provides further ground, it strikes me, for a thorough housecleaning by the Allies. Appeasement has been tried on both Germany and Japan and the only result has been to increase the threat of aggression. The consensus of the Allied peoples seems to be that the time has arrived when suspended sentences must give way to stern discipline.

There's this to be said about the situation: There's no physical reason why the Allies should stop going before the Reichstag in Berlin and Tokyo. Both Germany and Japan are beaten already. We don't need to compromise.

Occupation of the criminal countries is intended to serve several essential aims. First, it will enable the Allies to enforce total disarmament, and destruction of the means of creating further weapons of war.

It will serve to maintain order during a very critical period. There's no telling what revolutionary disorder, for instance, might develop in the Reich. And none can say what revenge might be exacted on the Germans by the millions of foreign slaves now within the country if Allied troops weren't on hand to preserve peace. We might easily have the Germans howling on the Allied doorstep for military occupation if we made a compromise peace.

Florida Editor Is Dead at Age of 83

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Aug. 17.—Major Lew B. Brown, 83, publisher of the St. Petersburg Evening Independent, died yesterday after a long illness. He came to St. Petersburg in 1908 and assumed ownership of the paper. Shortly thereafter he offered to give his edition away free on any day the sun failed to shine on the independent building before press time. In the nearly 34 years his offer has been met, 133 free issues have distributed.

NEW YORK WALL STREET
NEW YORK, Aug. 16—(AP)—Scattered industrial favorites led by steel advanced in the stock market today while motors attempted another spurt and airlines drew occasional support.
 Investors for the most part were restrained by the potential nearness of recession headlines expected to follow the crushing of Nazi Germany. Increased Allied pressure through France heightened these considerations.
 Volume for the full session was about 700,000 shares.
 On the upside, and more active in the last hour, were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngtown, U. S. Rubber, American Telephone, Santa Fe, Standard Oil (Ind.) and Western Union. Sea touched a new high for the year and Chrysler, Willys-American Airlines did a little better although others in its group lost early gains. American Cyanamid "B" and Electric Bond & Share slipped in the curb, with Brewster Aero in the plus column.
