By MORRIS J. HARRIS
(Chief of the Former Associated Press Bureau at Shanghai and Longtime Resident of Japan)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's statement that Japan is to be occupied, surrender or not, will jar that vain country to its heels.

When Japan's proud overlords hear this, they are going to be fit to be tied, for they have always thought of themselves as masters. Heretofore they have bowed to no one. Japan has not even been so much as invaded, much less occupied by a foe.

Strange things await that deluded empire, and it's going to take some time for the sons of heaven to become reconciled to them.

Rationed Motorists Now Get Extra Gasoline Mileage

All over the country, thousands of rationed car owners, truck fleets, taxi cabs, motorcycles and tractor owners report gasoline savings up to 30%. These people have been enjoying extra gasoline mileage by installing a Vacu-matic to their carburetor. This new device is entirely automatic. Nothing to regulate or adjust and can be installed in 10 minutes. The Vacu-matic Co., 7617-577-L State St., Wauswatosa (13), Wisconsin, are offering a Vacu-matic to anybody who will install it on their car and help introduce it to others. Write them today for particulars as to how you can get your Vacu-matic or just send your name and address on a penny post card.

From the dawn of history their folklore and books have been filled with glowing accounts of thundering successes against "barbarians" who sought to invade the sacred isles.

This White House pronouncement that our G. I. Joes are going to walk over Tokyo will cause a greater upheaval in the Japanese mind than did the great earthquake of 1923, and that was something.

Defeat in battle is bad enough to a Japanese, something that is not admitted, regardless of facts to the contrary. But to have Americans patrolling Tokyo's Ginza (Japan's Michigan boulevard, Fifth avenue or Market street), well, F. D. R.'s statement will shake the sacred shrines at Ise in west Japan where lie the remains of all Japan's emperors since the time of the Sun Goddess and the beginning of the empire.

To make matters worse for the Japanese peace of mind, it is talked around here more and more that the Chinese are going to have a hand in this occupation of Dai Nippon.

Contrast that with Japanese talk for decades of their superiority over the Chinese and their "destiny" to lead all Oriental peoples. If not the whole world!

Record Thrift Puts Savings Total Above Consumer Spending

The accumulated savings of the American people as a whole are now greater than the amount they spent in any one year on goods and services, including even last year's record spending total, according to official government figures. This margin developed as a result of the people's record-breaking thrift in 1943, when approximately $21,000,000,000 were added to savings.

Only once before, in the depression year of 1932, did such a relationship exist when the accumulated savings total at the end of the year was greater than consumer expenditures during the year. The causes then were the reverse of what they are now, with savings declining and consumer spending suffering the biggest fall on record. In all other years for which records are available accumulated savings at the end of the year were well below the year's total of consumer spending.

RECORD SAVINGS IN 1943
Consumer expenditures in 1943 rose to $31,000,000,000, a new high and an increase of $9,000,000,000 over the previous peak of $22,000,000,000 in 1942. But accumulated savings, as represented by policyholders' funds behind their life insurance policies, savings bank deposits, savings and loan association accounts, Postal Savings deposits and War Bonds, rose from $74,510,000,000 in 1942 to $95,420,000,000 at the end of 1943, a record annual increase. As a result, the total of accumulated individual savings at the end of 1943 was equal to 105 per cent of consumer expenditures during the year compared with a ratio of 91 per cent in 1942. In view of the known continuation of savings this year, combined with the undiminished wartime shortages of goods, this margin has undoubtedly widened.

The 1943 ratio would be very much greater if cash items such as currency and checking accounts were included. Government sources estimate that individuals currently have more than $35,000,000,000 in cash and checking accounts, about two-thirds of which has been accumulated since Pearl Harbor.

At the end 1932 accumulated savings were $44,000,000,000 and consumer expenditures for the year were $43,000,000,000, making the ratio 102 per cent. However, this situation developed as a result of a "belt tightening" economy, and not an expanding one as at present. Accumulated savings declined more than $4,000,000,000 from 1931 to the end of 1932, but consumer expenditures slumped $21,000,000,000 in 1932, or approximately a third of the $64,200,000,000 total for 1931. Thus the fall in consumer spending was so great as to make the total of accumulated savings larger than the year's consumer expenditures.

POST-WAR IMPORTANCE
The current backlog of record individual accumulated savings is psychologically of the utmost importance from a post-war point of view. Though accumulated savings are only partly in quickly spendable form, the average consumer under ordinary circumstances will tend to spend more freely than he would in the absence of such savings. However, savings alone are no guaranty of a high level of consumer spending; for the records for 1932 and other years show that the people as a whole will draw on savings only when they have to for necessities and will not use them as purchasing power to sustain the level of consumer spending on goods and services.

The following tabulation gives the record of accumulated individual savings at the end of each year since 1929, and annual consumer expenditures, with the ratio between the two:

Year	Accumulated Savings (End of Year)	Consumer Expenditures	Percentage Ratio
1929	47.19	70.8	67
1930	48.48	74.2	65
1931	48.39	64.2	75
1932	44.06	43.0	102
1933	40.60	42.4	76
1934	41.53	47.7	87
1935	44.08	52.2	84
1936	46.84	59.1	79
1937	49.43	62.5	79

Shamrock Man Is Killed in France

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS.
SHAMROCK, Aug. 19.—Pvt. Ray Monroe, listed as missing in action since June 22, was reported by the War Department killed in action in France on July 34.

The 26-year-old soldier's wife now resides in Los Angeles, Calif., notified his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Monroe, who reside in Elk City, Okla., Wednesday night.

Pvt. Monroe was with the infantry and had been overseas since April. He was released from a hospital in England following an illness shortly before D-Day and went to France with the invading Allied forces. He had been in service since last October.

Ray was born October 9, 1917, near Bowie, and moved to Shamrock with his parents when he was five years old. He is a graduate of the Shamrock high school with the class of 1943.

He was married at Alturas, Calif. He and his wife moved to Los Angeles three years ago where he became manager of the Ford Motor company there.

Survivors include his wife of Los Angeles, his parents of Elk City, two sisters, Mrs. Wade Atkinson of Shamrock, Mrs. Lewis McCauley, Lansing, Mich., and one brother, Pvt. Rex Monroe, Love Field, Dallas.

McLean Soldier Is Wounded in Italy

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS.
Private George W. Troxell, son of Mrs. J. T. Troxell of McLean, was wounded in action in Italy and is now in a hospital, according to information received here.

He is with an infantry unit. Pvt. Troxell entered the army in July 1943, at Fort Sill, Okla. He was transferred to Camp Wolters where he received his training and later to Fort Meade, Md.

While in Italy, he twice visited Rome which he said "looked a thousand years old." In last letter received by his mother, Pvt. Troxell stated that he was doing fine and getting well fast.

He Helped Himself, Now He Needs Help

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS.
SHAMROCK, Aug. 19.—A bold shoplifter, who evidently erroneously thought it unnecessary to take any precaution, has been placed in the Wheeler County jail to "lay out" a fine assessed him recently on a charge of vagrancy.

The man who says his name is Dean Murphy entered the Sunset Grocery, helped himself to a supply of groceries and walked out.

Andrew Morgan, proprietor of the suburban grocery, didn't exactly feel like starting a two-man lend-lease program right at that time, especially since he wasn't acquainted with the most unusual "customer," so he telephoned local officers.

Constable John Cox and Sheriff Charlie Bock arrested the man east of Shamrock, and he was placed in the county jail to "lay out" the fine.

He didn't even offer Morgan any ration stamps.

Medical Society In Meeting Here

Thirteen members and visitors were present at the Gray-Wheeler County Medical Society meeting held at the Schneider Hotel Thursday.

Featured on the program were Dr. C. B. Batson, who discussed cases of burbitis; Dr. Calvin Jones, who read a paper "Cyanosis in the New Born As Seen by the General Practitioner," and Dr. George H. Garrison, who spoke on the subject "Cyanosis in the New Born."

The following members and visitors were present: Drs. H. L. Wilder, E. M. Brown, W. C. Jones, Walter Vivian, P. C. Christian, L. H. Kelley, Charles H. Ashby, R. D. Falkenstein of Pampa; H. W. Finley and C. B. Batson of McLean; H. E. Nicholson and G. R. Walker of Wheeler; and George H. Garrison of Oklahoma City.

Kansas Will Levy No Property Tax

TOPEKA, KANS., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Because of record income tax collections, Kansas for the second straight year will levy no state general property tax this year, William L. Jungdahl, chairman of the state tax commission, said yesterday.

Income tax collections of more than he explained, have kept plenty of money in the state's general fund, which stood at $12,643,903 at the end of July.

Dallas Man Takes Along the Evidence

DALLAS, Aug. 19.—(AP)—There was no lack of evidence when an irate Dallasite appeared in the Office of Price Administration here.

After ordering a roast beef lunch in a downtown cafe, he looked at the food put before him. There wasn't much beef, so he grabbed the plate and rushed up the street to the OPA office.

The OPA investigation found the

Back to School

The responsibility of parents to the little children who will be going back to school within the next few weeks starts now and reaches into the Victorious future. For with the return to classes during this year of war, and as our armed forces valiantly speed the peaceful tomorrow, reading, writing and arithmetic may seem dull indeed to these vital youngsters. Yet they must be convinced that by returning eagerly to classes, by diligently applying themselves to the less-free American schools, they will be serving their country best, for they will be preparing themselves to carry on during the Victorious Tomorrow, the heritage of Freedom for which their elder brothers now fight round the world. This section has been specially planned to help parents busy on the home front, to get their children ready to return to classes and yet give everyone time in which to Help Win the War Sooner.

WITH THE AEF IN FRANCE, July 28. (Delayed)—You can listen now to world news and music right in the front line during the battle lull, if you are attached to one comfort-minded artillery battalion.

It pipes the latest news, local talent, musical concerts and even the funny papers to its soldiers over the telephone lines in periods of inactivity.

Stars in this battlefield entertainment network are soldiers in a sextet headed by two brothers from Welch, W. Va.—Pfc. James P. Christian, who whangs the guitar, and Pvt. Mike W. Christian, a fiddler.

The other four provide vocal accompaniment to Hillbilly tunes. They are Cpl. Grady R. Lewis, Sgt. Hannah, Tenn.; Pfc. Clarence Moore, Mattoon, Ill.; Pvt. Curtis F. McAdoo, Temple, Tex., and Pfc. Carl A. Byrd, Carthage, Tex.

The program operates strictly on a request basis. Men in the gun pits phone what they want to hear and the sextet obliges with anything from "Arkansas Traveler" to "Carroll County Blues."

Sometimes the program is interrupted by a sudden voice breaking in with "fire mission!" Then the entertainers and audience both scramble to the guns and before long the batteries are playing a serenade on German positions.

That is the music these artillery men like best.

Cpl. Bucky Blachford of Obert, Neb., though he was doing a good job learning French until it cost him the German bicycle the corporal used to deliver messages. Off duty, the corporal stopped to chat with some French civilians, and with a great deal of gesturing managed to convey that he'd appreciate a little cider.

The Frenchman nodded vigorously, hopped on the corporal's bike and pedaled off. A few minutes later he returned with a quart of cider which he handed to Blachford with many a profuse "merci."

Then the Frenchman hopped back on the bicycle and rode away. It was only then that the corporal realized he's been traded out of the bike.

WITH THE AMERICAN TROOPS IN FRANCE, July 30. (Delayed)—At this wayside shrine outside of Hauteville, on the coastal road in Normandy, a vast American armored column is following the trail broken by the retreating German army, like remorseless steel bloodhounds.

I paused in the Sabbath twilight and across the flower-sweet pasture, through the lane of rippling wheat, came a procession of villagers led by gray-haired Pere Lemaire, one of those spacious-souled country priests who have been bedrocks of resistance in France through four long years of Nazi occupation.

In a little file were white-headed old French patriarchs and sad war widows, wearing black for husbands buried in 1940, as well as middle-aged farmers and scores of children dressed in the Spitz best.

They were coming across a field which had been swept by snipers earlier that morning. Coming to honor troops who freed them from the Nazis, their presence showed that the war isn't only a conflict of metal against metal, and man against man, but that it is blended with love, idealism and gratitude.

They came to a plain little shrine such as can be found at almost every crossroad in Normandy and grouped around the slender concrete pillar surmounted by a life-size crucifix. In the bar of the cross were stuck French, British and American flags.

Then Pere Lemaire led them in a hymn of thankfulness, a lyric prayer known to all Frenchmen, "Jesus, Jesus, our only hope, save and protect France and bless our soldiers."

In its way, it was as stirring a song as France's national anthem.

Speaker Cites Main Purpose of Unions

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Aug. 19.—The highest obligation of any labor group is to assist in bringing prosperity to the industry of which it is a part, Bishop Francis J. Haas, a pioneer in the field of labor relations, declared today at the 87th annual convention of the International Typographical Union (AFL).

"I bring up the matter only to condemn a totally false conception of the purpose of a union, and one which unfortunately takes hold of the thinking of some union officials and members," the Catholic bishop told delegates at their opening ses-sign. "That is that a union is essentially a fighting machine and that it should do all it can to sue and annoy and antagonize the employer."

"The butterfly fish frequently swims backward, so that its tail appears to be its head. If trouble comes, it reverses and swims normally, full speed ahead, bewildering pursuit."

"We do that, too," said Wilmy, grinning. "We put him on his feet again and give him something to carry. What is your other biggest problem?"

"Making drivers keep proper intervals in convoys. We don't let them pass on the roads, but it is difficult to make them stay the proper distance apart. But recently we've had much movement and they jam traffic. That is bad."

"I see what you mean," said Wilmy, looking at an American fighter plane sweeping across the sky. "The German said nothing."

"Have you much trouble with the soldiers taking a drop too much now and then," asked Wilmy.

"No. Considering the amount of cider and wine there is about, we have little trouble from drinking. And you?"

"H'mmmmm," said Wilmy, changing to another subject. "Do you have many A. W. O. L.'s?"

"Not many. I know of only one case."

"How do you punish A. W. O. L.'s?"

"It depends on the individual case and the man's record," said the lieutenant. "But if we are retreating and the soldier is given orders to hold the line at any cost and later shows up and tries rejoicing the unit, he is taken aside immediately and shot—he is shot real hard."

"It's the truth," replied Wilmy. "I know just what you mean. What do you do with them?"

"You mean the first time we catch them?"

"Yes."

"Bawl the devil out of them. What do you do?"

"We do, too. But I don't say it does much good. What do you do if they violate the speed limit again?"

"Each time is different. If we catch them the second time going

Germany Faces Possible Doom From All Sides

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

The war that Hitler made had come to German soil in the east—by land as well as air—this crucial August week—and it was moving swiftly toward a climax in the west.

Faced with possibilities of disaster, Nazi home-front cheer leaders preached the strange doctrine of a retreat to victory, seeking to lull German public opinion against ever-mounting military reverses. Vague promises of new armies and new weapons rolled off the lips of Nazi spokesmen. Distorted versions of battles still raging in towns and cities which for days have been held by the Russians and Allies filled the German air.

No mention was made of the internal revolt in France against the German conquerors that is ripping French soil loose from Nazi control even before Allied liberation armies reach the scene.

To German troops reeling backward in East Prussia under Russian blows, to shattered remnants of the once powerful Nazi Seventh Army in Northwest France, to survivors of stunned German garrisons in Southern France, and, most of all, perhaps, to "the men of Vichy" and their satellite French collaborationists these Nazi outgivings must have brought sardonic laughter. They know the fate awaiting them with a German flight from France.

And it was for that Nazi broadcasters were preparing the German people. It was already in progress west of the S line as they spoke. It was no less impending in the south as the Allied Riviera beach-head expanded against still meagre opposition, and as French underground armies leaped from cover to pounce upon isolated enemy detachments.

The full scope and effect of that French uprising in response to the long delayed call to arms is yet to be assessed. Only snapshots glimpses of its operations are yet revealed. However, it has an obvious definite relationship to Allied grand strategy. It is a potential factor of supreme importance in hastening a German retreat into the old battle grounds of World War I in northeastern France.

American columns hammering up the Loire above Orleans on the right flank of Eisenhower's battle line and the nearest prongs of Patch's Mediterranean invasion army cupping swiftly about Toulon are still nearly 400 miles apart. In between them, however, all through the mountains that flank the Rhone valley from the Swiss frontier to the sea, French patriots are busy mopping up German control centers.

Soloist Featured At Church Today

Guest soloist at this morning's services of the First Baptist church in Pampa will be Lt. Edwin L. Atkins, assistant supply officer in the quartermaster department at the Pampa Army Air Field, according to Rev. Douglas E. Carver, pastor.

Lt. Atkins, prominent soloist, will start the Sunday's program with "The Old Road" which he will sing at the Every Man's Bible class at 10 a. m. This class meets in the ladies club room at the city hall.

At the regular morning services which begin at 11 o'clock, Lt. Atkins will sing "At Eventide," and an arrangement of "The Londonery Air" by B. B. McKinney. A special feature at the night's program will be a duet, "He Lifted Me" by the Rev. Carver and Lt. Atkins.

Lt. Atkins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Atkins of Corinth, Miss.

Civil Administration Follows Allied Army

ROME, Aug. 19.—(AP)—A carefully organized civil affairs division has begun operation on the new beachhead in southern France in cooperation with local French civil officials, headquarters of Maj. Gen. Alexander M. Patch announced yesterday.

The civil administration will follow precedents established in Normandy. Any crimes against Allied forces will be tried in French military courts.

"Initial steps have already been taken to bring in food and supplies, principally from the United States and North Africa," headquarters reported.

The new supplies were expected to make possible an average ration of 2,000 calories per person daily. For two months, the effective bread ration in southern France has been 100 grams daily. The Allied command proposed to triple this shortly.

Alaska, including the Aleutian Islands, was purchased by the United States from Russia in 1867, for $7,200,000.

Market Briefs

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The grain trade was dull today and though they were not under heavy selling pressure markets were easy to work because of lack of aggressive support.

The wheat trade was slow and largely confined to changing with cash grain futures taking the September contract and offering the December at the same price. Commission houses bought the December and sold the nearby futures.

At the close wheat was 1/4 to 1/2 lower than yesterday's finish, September $1.84 1/2. Oats were 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, September 71 1/2.

The uncertainty of European developments and the conflicting nature of domestic factors governing prices was responsible for the limited trade in wheat.

Former Resident Of This County Dies

Mrs. Garnet Kaughman, a native of Laketon, died at her home in Johnson City, near Austin, Friday. She lived in this county until three years ago.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the Miami Church of Christ, and burial will be in the Miami cemetery.

Survivors are the husband; four sisters, Mrs. Mae Eubanks of Pampa, Mrs. Floyd McLaughlin, Laketon, Mrs. Gordon Fuller, Auburn, Ala., and Mrs. J. P. Patterson.

and Mrs. J. P. Patterson, who resides in California; three brothers, Coy of Pampa, Wiley, U. S. N., and D. C. Christopher, Granada, Colo.

Arrangement as by Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral home.

The postwar military establishment must be maintained on the assumption that this country will not again be given such a period of grace between the start of war and the necessity for full-scale military effort as was provided in the present war.

—Undersecretary of War Robert E. Patterson.

School Bus Drivers Reminded of ODT Rules

With the scarcity of large size and truck tires becoming a greater transportation problem, N. F. Nelson, of Amarillo, district manager of the Highway Transport Department of the Office of Defense Transportation, today called attention to operators of school buses to the limitations on use of such vehicles.

Some operators of school buses apparently have winked at the ODT regulation against their use to transport athletes or others to games or assemblies of various kinds. This regulation, it was pointed out, is even more important now than in the past as every effort must be made to conserve tires and other material and equipment to keep buses and all other motor transportation moving until those things again are available after victory.

Bus operators, in doubt about any proposed trip, are advised to get touch with the ODT district office.

Nine Women Get In On the Writing, Too

HOUSTON, Texas, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Curiosity paid off in reverse yesterday for nine inquisitive women shoppers.

Noting that cruising police car had stopped a woman in the middle of a downtown street, the women hastened across the thoroughfare to ask what was going on.

They found out. A patrolman was writing a jay walking ticket and obligingly doled out nine additional tickets for them.

Via Margutta, Street of Tiny Taverns, Stories of Intrigue

By KENNETH L. DIXON
 ROMÉ, Aug. 19.—(Delayed)—Via Margutta is a narrow little high-walled tree-shaded street hidden in the heart of Rome, a street of tiny taverns, of shabby shops and courtyards, shut off by high gates with iron grills.

Carson Co. Oil Well Tests High

Carson county had the biggest producer of all counties in the Panhandle field in new oil wells tested last week. Skelly's Schafer Ranch 186 had a potential of 264 barrels, high for the field.

Another Carson well was Gibson's Garner-Walz. It tested 188 barrels.

Gray county had five wells, Hutchinson county and the Osborne area, two each, and King county one.

In this county, the wells were: Charles Dwyer's W. H. Taylor B-11, 64; Gre & Hoover's Davidson B-3, 89; Phillips' Pan-Baer B-12, 40; Greig's company's Pan-Simpson 13, 129; and the Lovett B-4, 188.

Fort Worth Man Heads Legion

FORT WORTH, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Newly-elected commander of the American Legion, Department of Texas, is Henry Love of Fort Worth. While Mrs. Howard Hudgins of Vernon is the incoming department president of the Legion's auxiliary.

Love, fourth division commander the past year, and Mrs. Hudgins were elevated to their new posts at final sessions Thursday of the Legion's war conference.

By vote of 813 to 369, the Legionnaires tabled a resolution fostered by the Paris Legion Post which favored lowering of the voting age in Texas from 18 to 15. Lively debate preceded the vote.

The departmental conference voted to return to Fort Worth next year.

Part of the legislative report adopted included moves to have the state eliminate fees on birth certificates and to obtain national legislation to give veterans priority in the purchase of surplus war materials.

Of the 30 resolutions passed, most important from the national standpoint was the one initiated by the Dallas post which calls for partition of Germany and Japan after the war.

One resolution called for a state law to permit veterans who had not completed high school when they entered military service to return to high schools even though past scholastic age, and another authorized Dr. W. J. Danforth of Ft. Worth for the post of national commander.

The conference voted to ask the Veterans administration to take over an adequate number of military installations in Texas for use as hospitals after the war, to increase by at least 100 beds the tuberculosis hospital at Legion, Texas, and to present a bill on several sites which have been suggested for a Texas rest and cure hospital.

NEW BRAKE BREAKS SPEED QUICKLY
 NEW YORK.—(AP)—A new brake that stops a one-eighth horsepower motor traveling at 16,000 revolutions a minute in less than six turns has been developed by Chester I. Hall, General Electric Co. engineer.

The idea of the motor, which this brake stops in moving at a speed of about 60 miles an hour. Stopping it in six turns is the same, in distance, as would be bringing a mile-a-minute auto to a dead stop in 2 1/2 feet.

The brake is an ordinary shoe, as the wheels of a car. It does the stopping by ordinary friction.

Japan Faces Blitz, Says AP Analyst

By RALPH H. HEPPE
 Associated Press War Editor

Stunning Allied victories in Europe dwarf the war in the Pacific for the moment, but significant signs indicate a blitz such as Japan has never experienced will hit her embattled legions by the time the leaves are falling.

The magnitude of the blow may be judged from the statements of Adm. Chester W. Nimitz that he believes in "powerhouse tactics" and that Japan may "throw in the sponge" before her homeland is invaded.

Nimitz thus commented after inspecting newly-won Guam and Saipan, bases which will be the springboard for thrusts "in various directions."

"We are interested in getting this war won quickly," Nimitz told war correspondents at Guam. "The way to beat the Jap is to keep on his tail."

Another sign of what is in store for Japan are the superfortress raids. So far they have been but a sample. Two developments indicate a quickening tempo of these destructive assaults—appointment of Maj. Gen. Curtis E. LeMay as head of the 20th Bomber (superfortress) Command and the announcement by the petroleum industry that it is ready with "the world's finest flying fuel" for the lethal bombers.

Meanwhile, the forces of Nimitz and Gen. Douglas MacArthur are digesting newly-won territory and preparing for the next blow. Papered bases are being built on Guam, Saipan and Tinian in the Marianas. Neutralizing raids fall almost daily on Japan's island outposts north and south of Tokyo—the northern Kuriles, the Bonins, the Volcanos, unconquered Marianas Islands, and the Carolines.

Halmahera, southern anchor of the Halmahera-Philippine line that guards all of Japan's conquered territory south of China, already has been "virtually neutralized" by MacArthur's Southwest Pacific forces.

It would be logical to expect MacArthur to seize Halmahera in his next leapfrog invasion and there give for the last jump of some 300 miles to Mindanao.

FREE-HAND DINKEY GIVES FREE RIDES
 JACKSON, Miss., (AP)—The "dinkey," a tug-drawn trolley which defies description, has made its appearance at the Jackson army air-base.

The "dinkey" was built by the base motor pool shop to transport military personnel to and from the hangar line; it accommodates 16 passengers, has a maximum speed of 10 miles per hour and makes a complete trip around the base every 25 minutes.

The chassis is a salvager plane's landing gear and its canvas top is provided by the parachute department.

The lyre was the most popular and perhaps the most ancient stringed instrument used by the Greeks.

Persons Sought As OPA Rent Inspectors

Earl Kerr, OPA official, and Ira Tomkinson, Civil Service representative, will arrive here Tuesday (August 22, 1944) to interview persons for employment as local rent inspectors $2,600 a year plus overtime.

"These positions will be filled according to Civil Service competitive methods," Tomkinson said, pointing out that applicants will be rated on the basis of their experience rather than upon any written test. To qualify for rent inspectors applicants must have had three years of real estate experience or appraisal of real estate experience or some kind of fact-finding experience.

Applications will be graded numerically and the persons making the highest grades will be considered for the vacancies. Local residents will have preference over non-residents.

Persons not engaged in war work of equal skill are urged to contact Mr. Tomkinson or Mr. Kerr at the OPA office, 212 North Bullard St., Pampa, Texas.

All appointments are made in conformance with WMC regulations.

Paris Waits Thru the Dread Years For Yanks to Come Back

MEMORIES—of the glorious Victory Day Parade when General Pershing led World War I Allies past the Arc de Triomphe — have sustained Paris through four tragic years under the Nazis.

GAY PAREE—in the years after the Armistice, welcomed Americans by the thousand to her sidewalk cafes. Here Iowa school teachers and Broadway playboys alike were guests.

TOO LATE—Paris realized that no Maginot Line could save her. Dour Nazis filled the parks and boulevards where once gay American tourists drank the wine of her hospitality.

RAVAGED—of men and material wealth, Paris is starving and poverty-stricken. Keeping body and soul together is now a major struggle, yet the French capital still nourishes hope.

CLOUDED HORIZONS—As internal strife set in during the depressed '30s, Frenchmen battled each other, unaware of the greater menace —Hitler—rising across the German border.

ALLIED PLANES whir overhead, and Parisian eyes turn heavenward, as American forces surge on, bringing liberation nearer as they savagely chase the enemy from French territory.

GI Bill of Rights Has Given Lawyers Considerable Headache

By MAX HALL
WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—(AP)—It has been a long, hard summer for the government lawyers who were assigned to interpret the "G. I. Bill of Rights."

More than one harassed official can be heard mumbling "legislative monstrosity" with reference to this law. Nearly everyone approves of its benefits to veterans, but few explain what it means.

Take, for example, Chapter IV of the "G. I. bill," dealing with education of veterans. It is easier to understand than some other parts of the document but does create a major field of disagreement, that of paying tuition.

The law says the Administrator of Veterans Affairs (Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines) shall pay to the institution the "customary" tuition and fees, up to $500 a school year. If the institution has no established tuition fee or if the administrator finds that the established fee is "inadequate compensation to such institution for furnishing such education," he is authorized to pay "fair and reasonable compensation" to $500.

What is "inadequate compensation?" and what is "fair and reasonable compensation?"

Rarely does the student's tuition pay the full cost of college instruction. In the case of tax-supported institutions, tuition is usually low, with the rest of the cost coming from public funds. At endowed institutions, the income from the endowment pays part of the bill.

Therefore some education authorities, specifically those who administer public institutions, have insisted that the federal government is obligated to pay, in the case of a veteran, more than the established tuition.

No general policy has been issued by the veterans administration. This policy is in the making now.

But one of the highest officials of that agency, a man very close to the problem, expresses his personal view as follows:

"Frankly, I don't know why the states should not bear the same proportion of the cost of educating a veteran, as educating a non-veteran, if they are both citizens of the state."

He says, "we must follow the law, and we believe it means we should pay the published tuition if there is a published tuition, except in cases where the institution can come to us and show where accepting veterans requires them to build new facilities, hire new professors, or bear some other extra cost.

"In those cases, we will write a contract with the institution to pay whatever additional amount would be fair and reasonable."

This official pointed out that the house version of the "G. I. bill" had ordered tuition paid on an actual-cost basis, and that the senate-house conferees threw out that provision in favor of the Senate's "fair and reasonable" phrase.

He remarked that not all educators are demanding larger tuition for veterans. Some state education authorities, he said, have actually come up and said, "no, sirree. We don't see any reason why you should pay more tuition for veterans than other citizens pay."

Health Officer: These diseases include the dread plague, typhus, trichinosis, a form of jaundice, tapeworm, and food poisoning. The whole history of the role rats play in the transmission of disease remains as yet unknown.

"It is necessary to public health," Dr. Cox said, "that a continuous rat control program be maintained in every urban and rural area throughout Texas. This is of especial importance on farms where rats may flourish by feeding on grain and other farm products."

The doctor pointed out that rats, like other living things, require food and shelter if they are to propagate and increase in number. Destroying their shelter and breeding places includes the employing of ratproof design in buildings, the use of ratproof materials in construction, employing ratproof methods of construction and installation, and providing for periodic inspection of buildings to insure permanent safety. This program will force the rat out into the open where its destruction may be accomplished.

Of equal importance as a control measure is the elimination of all food supplies. This consists of storing all foods in ratproof buildings or in ratproof containers, the proper storage and disposal of garbage, and careful feeding of stock to prevent waste feed from being picked up by the rats.

Brazil was an empire until 1889.

Eliminate Rats' Food Sources To Get Rid of Them

AUSTIN, Aug. 19—Because of the economic losses they cause to industry and commerce and the annoyance they create in homes, rats have been considered a serious menace to mankind since long before their role as vectors of disease was understood. Today at least six diseases which are transmitted to man from the rat are known to medical science, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State

Sensational Breakthrough From Normandy Was Typically Patton

E. D. BALL.
 WITH THE U. S. THIRD ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 15—(AP)—(Delayed)—Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's breakthrough from the Cherbourg peninsula has been a typical Patton rampage. He sent his tanks storming forward and when they hit something they couldn't crack immediately, he sent them around it.

At Rennes, for instance, he ran into stubborn resistance in suburban La Charbonniere. He sent his tanks around the city to crack the German hold from the rear.

Patton hit the beaches early in July winning a $1,000 bet that he would beat Lt. Gen. Omar Bradley and Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery to Paris. Word had it that Bradley and Montgomery themselves matched his grand, but Bradley later denied it and Montgomery is not a betting man.

On another occasion Patton calmly told correspondents he had bet $5 that his armor would be in Brest that night. It was on a Saturday and that night his tanks were there, although there had been no indication of such a long dash.

Patton, who knows what the inside of the doghouse looks like, had 43 correspondents in it for 24 hours. For a month he and his prospective command were supposed to be a military secret and during that time word got around that somebody had blabbed. He ordered correspondents confined to quarters but released them when he found out they were not the offenders.

In fact, his presence was another one of the war's worst kept secrets. Everybody, it seems, knew he was here. The Nazis repeatedly talked about the activity of "General Patton's Third Army."

Patton himself chafed at being the ghost commander of a ghost army.

In addition to his brace of pearl-handled six-shooters he carries a leather encased, needle pointed French hand sword. When he is talking he whacks the sword on the table or against the sides of his breeches legs.

During a big operation he puts on pince-nez glasses with a vicious swipe and pores over his maps, looking like a big-shot businessman studying a profit and loss report which shows more loss than profit.

He talks in a sort of drawing-facetious which gets lower the hotter he gets under the collar. And he still can raise hell when his ire is aroused.

The other day he got caught in a column. Standing up in his jeep he saw traffic worrying around a big six-wheel prime mover standing half on and half off the narrow road. Dismounting and striding forward, he wanted to know what was going on.

"Us is eating, suh," came a voice from underneath the shady side of the truck.

"Yas suh, Yas suh," replied the offending driver when he was told to get his truck off the road and into a nearby cemetery before it was put into it permanently.

Wearing a brightly shellacked helmet shell with three brightly polished stars bolted on, Patton bounces over the countryside in a jeep or fast six-wheel cavalry reconnaissance car. At the end of a hot, duty day his face is covered with black French dust and his eye lids look like the pollen covered legs of a honey bee.

You usually find him somewhere

Gen. Geo. S. Patton

This is rootin' tootin' Gen. Patton, who has become a legendary figure in American arms circles, even surviving the soldier-slapping incident in Sicily. This picture was taken as he was driving with his Seventh Army toward Messina in the Sicilian campaign.

Up front, fanning himself with his helmet shell and swapping yarns with GI's and brass.

Pvt. Joe Traczinski of Whiting, Ind., who collects autographs on playing cards, was pedaling down a Normandy sidewalk one day when he saw an important looking officer walking alone in the twilight.

"Sure, why not?" the officer said, when Joe dismounted and asked for his autograph. Upon seeing three stars on the officer's helmet, Joe got flustered and dropped his bike.

While the General picked up the bike, Joe fumbled through his deck for the most important card he had left—the ace of diamonds.

The officer borrowed Joe's pen, scribbled his name and walked on. The signature read: "G. S. Patton, Jr., Lieutenant General, San Gabriel, Calif."
