

Cologne Shudders Under Massive Weight of Bombs, 'Big Push' Expected

Words Wax Warm With Politicos

The political temperature climbed today under the applications by Governor Dewey and Senator Truman, Dewey calling the Roosevelt administration "the most spectacular collection of incompetents people who ever held public office," and Truman labeling Dewey a "fence-straddler" with a low opinion of American capacity.

Also warning things up were Interior Secretary Ickes and Rep. Clare Boothe Luce. Ickes said the republican presidential candidates "one principle is to do whatever is necessary to be elected."

Mrs. Luce, saying the CIO political action committee was "Hitlerian in concept" and stemmed "from the philosophy of Karl Marx," declared that this group of Roosevelt supporters "is making German sauerkraut with Soviet Russian dressing."

While President Roosevelt awaited his next scheduled speech, on foreign policy Saturday night, Dewey traveled back to New York after leaving these questions with a St. Louis audience.

"Is the tired and quarrelsome new deal all America has to offer? Must we go back to leaf raking and doles? Must our returning heroes go on the same old WPA? Must our farmers go back to detailed control by a host of new deal agents, with falling prices to boot?"

Dewey also said that "this idea of keeping men in the army for fear that they won't get jobs after the war is a report made public last year by Mr. Roosevelt." He said that this report came from a presidentially-appointed conference on post-war readjustment.

Truman, running for vice president with Mr. Roosevelt, on the democratic ticket, speaking in Los Angeles, also posed some questions. Saying that "for six years the republican candidate has been seeking the presidency," he asked:

"Do you remember the republican candidate as a courageous leader who took strong stands x x x that were proved correct by subsequent events? Or do you remember him as an office seeker dealing in platitudes and sitting on the fence waiting to find out which way to jump?"

In 1940, Truman said, Dewey boob-pooed the President's goal of 50,000 planes, whereas "we are building airplanes at x x x twice the number Mr. Dewey asked for."

Truman drew the conclusion that "under a President like the republican candidate, we would have set our sights too low."

In his speech at Newark, N. J., likewise called Dewey a straddler, saying "the republican word weavers and advertising experts are trying to persuade you to accept an ersatz, untried Mr. Dewey of lunatic convictions."

Mrs. Luce's appearance was before a Pittsburgh audience, to which she said, "Mr. Dewey's opponent is indeed indispensable to the communally-controlled political action committee."

In Washington today R. J. Thomas, president of the CIO union and workers and treasurer of the national citizens political action committee, said in a formal statement that Mrs. Luce had asked PAC support for her own campaign and now "seems to be giving a demonstration of another playwright's lines: 'Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned.'"

Gov. W. W. Bricker, the republican vice presidential candidate, will speak tonight at San Diego, Calif. (11 p. m., est., Blue net work). He told a San Bernardino audience last night that "expansion of federal activity into local affairs x x x opens the door to political domination of them."

Small Child's Mother Strangled With Slip

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Strangled and raped, the body of Mrs. Agnes Adams, 23-year-old mother of a 12-month-old baby, was found in the doorway of her apartment early today.

Deputy Coroner Richard Honor said she had been killed with her own slip, which was knotted about her throat. He said robbery apparently was not the motive as a purse containing $44 was found beside her body.

Her husband is a U. S. navy sailor or serving in the South Pacific.

Jap Fleet 'Turns Tail', Runs, Says Nimitz, Raids Continuing

Two US Warships Quit With Small Damage, Not Sunk

By LEONARD MILLIMAN

Associated Press War Editor

The Japanese fleet refused to fight Adm. William F. Halsey's powerful Third fleet off Formosa, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz said today in flatly contradicting Tokyo's boasts of an "overwhelming victory."

Part of the enemy fleet came out of hiding, but turned tail and fled when they saw the American force, the Pacific commander announced. He added:

"No American carriers or battle-ships have been badly damaged in a week of aerial hammering at Japan's inner defense line. The only two U. S. warships knocked out of action—apparently destroyers or cruisers—were hit by land-based torpedo planes. Both ships retired with small casualties."

A Japanese cruiser, apparently fleeing from Halsey's force, was sunk in the South China sea by the U. S. China-based 14th air force.

An accompanying destroyer was probably sunk, Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell announced, and 48,000 tons of shipping was bombed and possibly sunk in Hongkong harbor where it had sought refuge from Adm. Marc A. Mitscher's carrier forces.

Nimitz's answer to Tokyo claims that as many as 52 American ships were sunk or damaged came as Superforts from China smashed at Formosa for the third time within four days, and carrier planes opened

Norwegian Pot Is 'Boiling' Again

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Conditions in Norway are fast approaching an explosion. The Germans, fearing revolt, are attempting to smash the home front organization with increased terror.

Norwegian resistance sources said today more than 1,000 Norwegian hostages have been seized in the last few weeks. Arrests as often as possible are made of likely underground leaders. Prison and concentration camps are filled.

Norwegian sources say German patrols search homes and gathering places day and night and that very often Norwegians are shot "by mistake."

Violent sabotage is in creasing in addition to the passive resistance and causing nervousness among the

The man, who, it would seem by the news from the Pacific, is about to make good his vow to return to the Philippines to drive out the invaders, is Gen. Douglas MacArthur, above. After leaving doomed Corregidor in 1942, against his will but in obedience to orders, Gen. MacArthur said in Australia: "I came through, and I shall return."

Record Amount of Mail Is Handled for Men Overseas

Holiday packages for GIs abroad were kept rolling through parcel windows at the Pampa postoffice during the mailing period up until 6:20 yesterday, Postmaster W. B. Weathered stated that there were more packages handled this year than at any other year.

Postoffice personnel took more packages through the windows yesterday than during any day while Christmas parcels were allowed. A continuous line of mailers faced the parcel window from 8 a. m. until 6:20 p. m. Personnel worked overtime in order to allow people to do last-minute mailing. Weathered said.

The postmaster again stressed the importance of properly wrapped boxes. He said, "No matter where the package is going, it is most necessary that it be wrapped and tied securely and always addressed clearly and properly."

Weathered also announced that Christmas parcels for army personnel en route overseas shortly before or subsequent to October 15, would be accepted after October 16, up to and including December 10, upon presentation by the sender of a change of address notification from the addressee, received subsequent to September 30.

The parcels, however, must come within the prescribed limits of weight and size and be endorsed "Christmas Parcel." Only one such parcel will be accepted from any one person to any one individual having an overseas APO address. Parcels mailed to personnel at posts, camps, and stations within the United States will be given directory service and forwarded to overseas stations if the addressee is transferred abroad prior to delivery. Weathered stated.

"Only through the wholehearted cooperation of the mailing public in complying with the mailing rules will it be possible for the government to handle the tremendous amount of overseas mail. In complying with these rules you have made it possible to have these parcels delivered on time to the American soldier overseas." Postmaster Weathered concluded.

Last Services Are Planned for Wilkie

RUSHVILLE, Ind., Oct. 17.—(AP)—Friends and neighbors met today to pay final tribute to Wendell L. Wilkie.

A brief service was planned this afternoon at the mortuary in which the body of the 1940 republican presidential nominee has rested since it was brought here from New York, where he died Oct. 8.

Shortly before sundown, it will be taken to East Hill cemetery, its final resting place.

Mrs. Edith Wilkie, the widow, accompanied by her son, Lt. Philip Wilkie, and a group of New York friends arrived this morning from New York.

Transportation Shortage To Be Here After V-E

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—(AP)—An army and navy officer and a leading shipper representative in a radio broadcast today, declared there will be no letup in military demands for transportation after victory in Europe.

The transportation job, they asserted in their prepared talks over station WLS, will become more difficult and more exacting. Men and material headed for the Pacific theater will be moved through the Atlantic and Gulf ports as well as the Pacific ports, they declared, because west coast ports "will not have the capacity to handle all of the traffic moving to the Pacific."

Brig. Gen. Andrew F. McIntyre, of Washington, chief of the rail division of the army transportation corps, predicted that the army's load on the transcontinental railroads will about double with the shift of the war emphasis to the Pacific.

Gen. McIntyre said that in addition to the heavier traffic westward the transportation job will be complicated by the longer distances involved.

Rear Admiral Everett G. Morsell, Chicago district supply officer of the ninth naval district, said that "our transcontinental railroads will be called upon to haul more and more war traffic as the tide of military transportation is diverted westward, x x x The increase in demands for shipping facilities to the west coast will not be delayed until V-E day if it is a urgent need, x x x The requirement for the Pacific phase of the war will continue to increase no matter what happens in Europe."

George H. Shafer of St. Paul, president of the national association of shippers advisory boards, predicted a tighter car situation on the railroads when more military traffic starts flowing toward the Pacific.

Canal Finances Rather Confused

PARIS, Oct. 17.—(AP)—One of the biggest financial world's most intricate and fascinating games, the game of Suez canal shares, is resuming full blast in France's security markets. The "score" at the moment is nobody knows who owns the Suez canal.

The 100-mile lockless ditch connecting the Red sea with the Mediterranean is so important militarily and economically that it is operated as an international project. Financially it is a semi-private corporation.

Its securities for half a century have been one of the world's most lucrative investments—see lucrative French securities in Suez shares has become a game quite apart from the canal itself.

There was a report during the German occupation of France that the Germans, by manipulating French securities, had cornered a working majority of Suez shares. This would be a financial coup of no mean proportions.

The Germans in 1940, ordered the French people to sell their Suez shares in the black market was possible because of France's loose system of registering securities.

In this way the Germans through French Quisling straw men, could acquire Suez shares. Naturally no German is in a position now to exercise his rights and the straw men, if they hold certificates, may help to them.

Of the effective 800,000 thousand shares, 353,024 by latest report are in the hands of the British government. The other 446,976 shares are scattered over the globe, potentially holding the secret of who really "owns" the canal.

The canal management does not know because there has been no stockholders' meeting since June 3, 1940, just before the fall of France when the 1939 profits were divided. The profits since then have been impounded in Egypt and England awaiting the next meeting.

New Replacement Center Is Planned

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The formation of an advanced infantry replacement training center at Camp Howse was announced today by Brig. Gen. Paul C. Paschal, who arrived today to assume command.

Although no definite starting date has been announced, the daily arrival of officer staff members and cadre is indicative of an early opening of the intensive training cycles to be held here.

$21,000 Is Sought In Chest Drive

Pampa's Community Fund goal for 1944 has been set at $21,000. J. W. Garman, general co-chairman, announced today after the fund board had approved budgets submitted by the six participating local agencies.

All money raised in the Pampa campaign, which opens with an advanced gift drive Friday morning, will be utilized in Pampa. Garman stated. None of the money is to be sent to outside agencies.

With the advanced gift drive opening Friday, workers plan to start individual solicitations Monday.

The advanced gift drive will be in charge of A. J. Beagle and R. G. Hughes.

Co-chairmen Garman and E. J. Dunigan announced today the following participating agencies:

Boy Scouts, $5,500; Girl Scouts, $3,875; American Legion, $6,000 (for welfare and civic center); Salvation Army, $5,000, and $475 for administration expenses.

The Pampa community chest drive will open with a radio broadcast by the community fund yesterday voted to withdraw from the United War Chest drive with which the fund was affiliated last year. This action was taken, directors said, when state war fund officials rejected Pampa's request for a reduced quota in line with the national and state reductions this year.

Eisenhower Will Vest More Power In De Gaullists

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower is expected to turn over to the De Gaulle administration in a few days formal authority over all the territory of metropolitan France except some port areas and active combat zones.

Eisenhower will take the action by designating the sections of France not in the present fighting zones as an "interior zone."

The effect will be the transfer to General de Gaulle and his associates of virtually complete control over almost all of France. This may speed up the political organization of the country although the principal delaying factor so far has been the lack of communication and transportation facilities.

Eisenhower has had top responsibility for French affairs since D-day because all activities of the military necessity of defeating Germany. Now only the combat zones, certain great supply ports and some key rail lines have primary military importance.

For some weeks after the allied drive across northern France, General de Gaulle made it clear to the allied high command that he did not desire the country to be turned back to him quickly.

Now, however, De Gaulle has conveyed to allied authorities the idea that he is ready to take control and full responsibility for order in the country.

Queenie Is Murderer, Sentence Is Passed

MELBOURNE, Australia, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Queenie, 40-year-old old maid, favorite of children at the Melbourne zoo, was convicted today of murdering her keeper.

The verdict was reached by the city coroner after a formal court hearing. Prosecution witnesses testified that Queenie "deliberately crushed Thomas Lawson, 68-year-old keeper with her trunk and then knelt on his chest."

Defense counsel—the first attorneys to represent an animal in Australian legal history—presented evidence that for 30 years Queenie had gently carried children around the zoo.

The coroner's verdict was that Queenie may never carry children again.

Finance Influence Is Being Banned

PARIS, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Financial advertising has been banned from newspapers and other periodicals under a new ordinance of the ministry of information published today.

The undue influence of financial advertisers has been cited under the liberation regime as one of the French press' shortcomings before the war.

Little Progress Is Made In Aachen

LONDON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Cologne shuddered today under 4,000 tons of American bombs loosed by a great armada of 2,100 planes while other U. S. aircraft from Italy bombed industrial targets in the Vienna area.

Cologne, 40 miles beyond the beleaguered German frontier city of Aachen, received its worst single bombing of the war from a fleet of 1,300 Flying Fortresses and 800 fighter escorts. The bombers swept over in three waves in less than an hour.

The German high command stepped up its counterblows along the western front as the Berlin radio declared the Americans were preparing a new drive and that the British Second Army, backed by 1,500 tanks, was "at the ready" in the Nijmegen-Arnhem area of eastern Holland.

U. S. troops aligned east of Aachen last night threw back the heaviest counterattack yet mounted in that sector. The Germans gained no ground.

A stiffened German reaction to American gains in the Aachen sector was evident today, as doughboys worked slowly deeper into the ruins in house to house fighting.

Big Nazi Counterattack Fails

Siegfried line batteries loosed their heaviest fire of the campaign yesterday against American positions north of Aachen. German troops counterattacked vainly east of the encircled city.

Striking at German transport lines and war centers less than 40 miles east of Aachen, more than 1,300 U. S. heavy bombers raided Cologne for the sixth time in six days. Swift British Mosquito bombers had attacked the Rhineland city before dawn.

In the Netherlands, British Second Army troops operating against somewhat lessened enemy opposition fought the Germans in the streets of Venray, in a great beat of the Maas (Meuse) only eight miles from the Reich frontier.

The total of Germans captured in western Europe since D-day, June 6, mounted to 606,666.

The military crisis in the Balkans heightened even as the Germans announced that the Russians, already pressing heavily down from newly captured Riga in a drive which overran 16 communities, had opened a heavy offensive north of Warsaw.

Street fighting raged in the heart of Belgrade. Russian, Bulgarian and Yugoslav forces expanded their control of the Trans-Balkan railway to at least 175 miles, creating further difficulties for the German forces straggling up from Greece and Albania. Marshal Tito announced capture of Sveta Klara, two miles from the Croatian capital of Zagreb.

By German account, a tank battle raged only some 50 miles from Budapest, the capital of war-weary Hungary. Moscow remained silent about Russian operations in that area. The first Hungarian attempt to withdraw from the war, however, appeared crushed.

A Berlin broadcast said recent Admiral Nicholas Horthy had called the plea for an armistice which he addressed to the allies Sunday. Count Ferenc Szalasi formed a new pro-German government after Horthy, the Germans said, "retired."

The so-called free Hungarian radio said patriots and Nazi sympathizers fought in the streets of Budapest and that Hungarian labor leaders had called strikes. A Paris broadcast said 10 Hungarian divisions were marching on Nazi-held Budapest.

Houses To Take Up Bill Later

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Congress expects to tackle the controversial issue of compulsory peacetime military training soon after the election, with both Senate and House military committees to be called into session to consider pending bills.

Chairman Reynolds (D-N. C.) told reporters he would summon the senate military committee to meet the week of Nov. 14 and would propose that the committee start consideration of the subject at once, without waiting for the new congress to be installed in January.

At the same time, leaders of the house military committee disclosed that tentative arrangements have been made for that group to start separate hearings on the proposal shortly after congress reassembles following the current recess.

Reynolds said he considered it inevitable that congress will enact a peacetime training law. Several such bills are awaiting action of the military committees.

Religious Groups Back Pres. Rainey

AUSTIN, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Three Austin religious groups today directed to state officials an open letter expressing confidence in the character and ability of Dr. Homer Price Rainey, and making known their hope that he be maintained as president of the University of Texas.

Endorsing the letter were the executive committee of the Austin Council of churches, the Austin Ministerial association and the University Religious Workers association.

Dr. Rainey last week made public a list of 16 "restrictive measures" which the board of regents of the university had imposed or attempted to impose on him. The board's next scheduled meeting is Oct. 27-28, probably in Houston. Dr. Rainey himself has described the situation between him and the governing board as "critical."

Approval of the letter, including a list of five "convictions" directed to Governor Coke R. Stevenson, to the board of regents of the Austin Ministerial association and to Dr. Rainey, preceded by one day a scheduled meeting of the university faculty and student body for the announced purpose of considering resolutions.

Belgium Is Left Bankrupt Land by Retreating Nazis

By HUDSON PHILLIPS

NEW YORK—The aftermath of Nazi occupation in the Netherlands will include a string of bankrupt firms, shortages of food and a national debt three times the prewar figure because of high levies charged by the Germans.

Pillage and plunder in Holland has been the Nazi watchword since invasion on May 10, 1940. It will take the military government experts a long time to straighten out the Netherlands economic jigsaw puzzle.

Department of Commerce records, reports from foreign correspondents in neutral countries and data on file with the Netherlands Information Bureau give this composite picture of German sack.

Closed Industries
Industries forced to close down numbered 335 in 1942 and German-controlled newspapers admitted many additional enterprises were shut out of business in 1943. Of 335 were included these firms: 15 chemical, 32 textile, 69 leather, 11 paper and 17 building companies; 154 brick, 14 limestone, 13 tile and six metal factories.

Since an estimated 40 per cent of Hollanders normally engaged in industry and 23 per cent in commerce, the labor force was severely hit by such closings.

Many citizens were subject to work in the Reich because in 1942 Berlin sent orders to register all Dutch unemployed. They were compelled to labor elsewhere if they could find employment in the homeland.

Snubbed by Dutch Farmers
But in 1943 Dutch farmers snubbed German offers to settle them in "pioneer" farms of the Russian Ukraine. At the time the Nazis said they would divide the land between German soldiers and the Dutch farmers.

The German-controlled "Central Bureau of Statistics" reported dividends paid by industrial firms in occupied Holland in 1942 were less than half of such payments in 1939. Of 164 enterprises listed—including banks—48 paid no dividends in 1942. The Netherlands Cable Works for the first time in its history decided against payment of dividends in 1943.

Early in 1944 the national debt was reported at more than 11,000,000,000 guilders (about $6,000,000,000), compared with $3,527,000,000 (about $1,900,000,000) before occupation. The huge increase—despite a sharp advance in taxation—chiefly was due to occupation costs.

At one time the Netherlands was among the worst-fed countries occupied by the Germans but reports indicated the situation improved somewhat for a while.

Flooding Swamped Crops
German inundation of large areas as an anti-invasion measure, however, has dangerously threatened the country's food supply.

Before occupation only about 20 per cent of Hollanders engaged in farming and fishing. Not being self-sufficient, the country depended on her colonies in the East Indies, but the Japanese cut those off. Prewar imports had included half to two-thirds of her necessary bread grains, all cotton, wool and flax, soft lumber, wood pulp, sulphur, potash and other primary chemicals, ferrous and non-ferrous metals except zinc and animal fats. Britain had been the Netherlands' most important customer of surplus of bacon, butter, cheese, eggs, processed milk, fresh vegetables, potatoes, peas and beans. Twenty-three per cent of her exports went to the British and 15 per cent to Germany—her next best customer before the war.

Figures on Dutch production show that output of cotton mills in early 1944 had been reduced to 14 per cent of prewar. Other examples: weaving mills, down to 22 per cent; bicycles (important in continental Europe), 28; shoes, nine, margarine, 50, and shoes, 80.

Consumer supplies gradually decreased and in 1943 several towns introduced special police regulations prohibiting formation of lines outside shops.

The Netherlands Information Bureau early this year made this report on "the economic disorder in Holland."

"Two factors dominate the Dutch economic scene: the scarcity of goods and the easy flow of money. To absorb this financial surplus—which the Nazis have euphemistically termed 'floating purchasing power'—has been one of the greatest difficulties with which the occupation authorities must cope.

"No doubt, it also will prove to be the 'number one' problem for post-war economists."

Pampa Kiwanians Attend Conclave

At the recent convention of the Sixth district of Kiwanis clubs held at the Texas hotel in Fort Worth, some 300 delegates from the states of Texas and Oklahoma were registered. Outstanding speakers from various parts of the country addressed the sessions, and all of them stressed the need for Kiwanis to enlarge its conception of human and spiritual values.

Always at such conventions the choice of leaders for the coming year is an important matter of business. This year Merrill E. Dudley, of the Oak Cliff club in Dallas, was elected district governor in charge of the two states.

"Mel," as he is known in Kiwanis circles and to many other friends, was unopposed for the office, due chiefly to his record as a member of Kiwanis and as a citizen. Born in Minneapolis, Minn., Mel later moved to St. Louis where he received his formal education. After leaving St. Louis he followed a newspaper career for two years and then went into the field of paper products. He is now a delegate to the Kiwanis district convention, he held numerous offices. He is a member of the Masonic lodge, the Elks club and Shriners, and has served in some capacity almost every civic and patriotic cause since he moved to Dallas.

Delegates from Pampa Kiwanis club who were present at the convention were A. L. Atchison, Ed Weiss and Edgar W. Henshaw. All three delegates were accompanied by their wives.

SOLDIERS AND CRIME JUST DON'T MIX

That Veterans Will Maintain Killer Instinct Is False

In this article, third and last of a series, Dixon Wecter analyzes the fears of "trained killer" theorists. Wecter is author of "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," and is a noted historian and educator who has gained first hand information about our servicemen while teaching classes of army and navy men.

By DIXON WECTER
Author of "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" (Written for NEA Service)

From electing the returned hero as a victory parade, some citizens go home to lock up the silver, warn their daughters against going out after dark, and nervously scan the newspapers for beginnings of a huge crime wave. While the guns thunder, nothing is too good for the soldier. But after he has finished the job, nothing is too bad to expect from him. Talk begins to be heard about "the trained killer," whose lethal skill has now been increased by judo and commando tactics.

An old proverb says that every war leaves three armies in its wake: an army of cripples, an army of widows, and an army of thieves, implying of course that the third is a motley crew of veterans. Not long ago, even at this early stage of the cycle, the army weekly Yank got hold of a letter from a Texas clubwoman to a friend, about daughters who date soldiers: "I am willing to sacrifice my time, my money, and all my material profits for my country, but I cannot give my daughter." These are samples of some notes that will be heard more often after V-Day.

UNSETTLED AND DARING
The army makes no claim to be a reform school. Certain men of vicious instincts are inducted into every army, and generally emerge the same. Unmarried and footloose men, seeking adventure or sometimes fleeing from the police, have volunteered in every war. Magistrates used to let off petty offenders at the bar, if they promised to enlist. Today under more efficient laws, they are not so easily let off. And every man's local history is better known. But the ages of military service, roughly 18 to 35, happen to be the ages within which the majority of crimes are committed—when men are young, unsettled and daring.

Wars always bring a sharp drop in adult crime, because some potential criminals are under military discipline, and because there is less unemployment and more legitimate opportunities for the thrill-seeker. When the war is over and controls relax, the contrast seems greater than it is, under "normal" conditions.

Also many civilians have grown tired of the war and all the petty restrictions it meant to them. Feeling a sense of recoil, they take it less real than "on the outside," in an army where nobody starves and few get rich, except down on their knees after pay day. An army that is hungry always casts an appraising eye at civilian neuroses and orchards.

NEEDS FAIR CHANCE
Such attitudes are not always demobilized the day that a soldier is mustered out. Especially when post-war employment rears its head, offenses against property increase. To a needy veteran his act may seem little more than an irregular attempt to collect a bonus. Hasn't he given a lot to protect these well-heeled citizens, who made hay in his absence? Most veterans' crimes as reported by a Wisconsin survey in the last war—petty thefts, stealing food, breaking into boxes and summer cottages—do not stamp the offender as a hardened criminal.

SUSCEPTIBLE FROM START
While most men leave the army with more of their old attitudes toward society than new ones, exceptions do occur. A few ex-gangsters, like the famous Monk Eastman, decorated for bravery in World War I, made a clean start as citizens. On the other hand, weak characters may be demoralized by the soldier's philosophy of eat, drink, and be merry (which of course assumes a rendezvous with death tomorrow). Such men are also easily upset by the chaos of post-war times. Loneliness from home, lingering in the big city after discharge, excitement, heavy drinking to steel shattered nerves, and a sense of having fallen out of step with the ways of normal living—these things tell on the fellow who was susceptible from the start.

A federal census of prisons in 1923 showed a slightly higher percentage of veterans than of civilians had yielded to crimes against property, but less than the average of vicious civilian crimes against persons, like homicide and rape and carrying concealed weapons. Talk about the killer complex is simply not borne out by the facts.

NOT BRUTALIZED
Teaching a lad to shoot Japs or Nazis under the rules of war does not mean that he will come home and shoot his neighbor on sight. Mind and habits are divided into compartments. The citizen soldier who knows he is fighting cruel and vicious enemies is not brutalized. As one GI Joe wrote in a letter home, after initiation under fire, "It was the first time anybody ever tried to kill me, and I don't approve of it. I am now pretty mad." Such a boy stands little risk of becoming a professional killer. To the average GI war is a necessary if nasty business, which he hopes to finish, come home and forget. Often the act of risking his life for his country and his buddies has given him more stamina than it takes away.

One great temptation, however, comes in respect to property. In the army, material possessions are a shade less sacred than in civil life. Everything is either government property, to each according to his needs, or else belongs to the brotherhood of the barracks. Money looks less real than "on the outside," in an army where nobody starves and few get rich, except down on their knees after pay day. An army that is hungry always casts an appraising eye at civilian neuroses and orchards.

NEEDS FAIR CHANCE
Such attitudes are not always demobilized the day that a soldier is mustered out. Especially when post-war employment rears its head, offenses against property increase. To a needy veteran his act may

Hefty Sky Giants Will Meet One of Strongest Teams On Friday

Norman, Okla., Rated Topmost In Southwest

(By The Associated Press) Amarillo air field, which has a date Nov. 25, with mighty Randolph field, continues to pace Texas service teams in football but the Sky Giants will be in great danger of taking a tumble this week-end when they play the powerful Navy Zoomers from Norman, Okla.

Norman navy beat both Oklahoma and Arkansas and appears to have one of the best elevens in the southwest.

The Sky Giants have been pointing to the Randolph game all season, figuring that will be when the state service championship is determined. They'd like to reach their battle with the Ramblers unbeaten and untied. But with Norman navy coming up with this kind of team it begins to look a little doubtful they'll be able to accomplish it.

Randolph also is undefeated and untied but has played fewer games however, in the three the Ramblers have run off they've outscored any other team in the country with 142 points to 6 for the opposition. And Randolph played three of the top outfits of the southwest conference—Texas, Rice and Southern Methodist.

Two other service teams have unblemished records—Bergstrom field of Austin with three victories and Hondo air field with two—but these teams do not meet either Amarillo air field or Randolph.

There are six games for the service teams this week-end. Hondo air field starts it off by contesting John Tarleton college at Hondo Thursday night.

The Saturday schedule has Bergstrom field meeting Ellington field at Austin, Galveston air field going to Monroe, La., to play Seaman field, Bryan air field tackling the newly organized Marine air base team from Eagle mountain lake at Denton and the Amarillo air field-Norman naval station game at Amarillo.

Team service team standings:

Team	W	L	T	Pts	Opp.
Amarillo	3	0	0	108	6
Bergstrom	3	0	0	91	16
Hondo Air Field	2	0	0	46	19
Blackland A. F.	3	1	0	82	19
Ellington Field	2	1	1	18	19

HARD BARGAIN
When Lt. Buster Mills, former Indian outfielder, and Lt. Eddie Tebbets, ex-Tiger catcher, were teammates on the Waco, Texas, army air field baseball team, Buster continually tried to talk Birdie out of a gold cigarette case that Tebbets never used—then Mills was transferred to another field and when Tebbets' team was entering a semi-pro tournament, he made Mills an offer to sign up for the event—"Name your price," said Birdie—"I won't take any money," replied Mills, "I'll play it will cost you that gold cigarette case."—he played.

Attending World Series From Afar Is Not His Idea

By SID FEDER
BARI, ITALY, Oct. 17—(AP)—The worst fate that can happen to a baseball fan is being in Greece at world series time surrounded by British troops and without communications to find out what is cooking. For Greece doesn't know how important the series is and the Tommies don't care.

I missed my first world series in 10 years this fall, and if that is not bad enough I was stuck in the middle of Peloponnesus with the British army while it was going on. There were only two other Americans—both correspondents—and all three of us talked a mighty good series.

The toughest blow of all came when British paratroopers dropped at Megara last Thursday, and helping one of them out of his chute I asked him in desperation if he knew how the series came out.

"I'm sure," he replied in a thick Lancashire dialect, "but I think a St. Louis team won."

Anyway, we three correspondents wanted to make a number bet among ourselves, but all the money to be had was in Greek drachmas. And since one buck now is worth 150 million drachmas you can see there is no percentage in that.

The only fellow worse off than we three correspondents was Lt. Andrew Marshall Bristol, Va., who crash-landed his plane in the hills east of Megara several days ago and just managed to come out of the woods this morning. He didn't even know the Browns won the pennant and wouldn't believe it until Sgt. Dan McIntyre of Geary, Okla., who was among the first Americans to land in Eastern Greece, gave us a run-down on the series.

Fritzie Zivic Is Beaten Before 3,000

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 17—(AP)—Sgt. Tommy Romano of Barkedale Field defeated Corporal Fritzie Zivic, former welterweight champion, in ten hard-fought rounds here last night before about 3,000 fans.

Zivic lost two rounds because of foul blows.

Notre Dame Is Again Voted Team of Week

NEW YORK, Oct. 17—(AP)—The Notre Dame again. For the 12th straight week, including ten weeks from last year, the Irish have been voted the Nation's No. 1 college football team.

The unbeaten and untied South Benders, who last week scored Dartmouth under by a 64-0 score, picked 873 points from 107 sports writers in yesterday's Associated Press weekly poll, the second of the season. The Irish were ranked first in 39 1/3 of the 107 ballots.

Army and Randolph Field, both undefeated and untied, moved up a notch to second and third place, respectively, as 13-13 deadlock with Virginia tumbled the North Carolina pre-flighters from second to tenth.

Army polled 882 points, including 11 1/3 first places, to Randolph Field's 691.5, including 21 7/12ths first place votes.

The leaders, with 10 points given for each first place vote, nine for second, etc. (First place votes in parentheses).

TOP TEN
Notre Dame (59 1/3) 973.
Army (11 1/3) 882.
Randolph Field (21 7/12) 691.5.
Ohio State (4) 631.
Iowa Preflight (1/3) 399.5.
Great Lakes (1) 386.
Pennsylvania (3) 328.
Wisconsin (1) 313.
Navy 308.
North Carolina Preflight 216.

Second ten: 11-Purdue 128; 12-California (1) 80; 13-Tulsa 79; 14-March Field (1) 75; 15 and 16-Michigan and Southern California, 59 each; 17-Tennessee 52; 18-Bainbridge Naval (2), 50; 19-Second Air Force (1/4) 48.5; 20-Indiana 47.

Other vote getters: Illinois 40; El Toro, Calif. Marine (1) 36; Washington 25; UCLA 22; Mississippi State 21; Norman, Okla. Navy (1/4) 17 1/2; Virginia (1) 16; Morris Field 14; Yale 13; Wake Forest 8; Texas 7; Alabama 5; Tulane 4; Wisconsin 2; Duke 1.

Canadian Senior 'Carries Mail'

CANADIAN, Oct. 17—Bill Laliker, Canadian high school senior, has chalked up quite a record for himself as far as carrying the platoon against opponents is concerned.

Although only 18 years old next November, and weighing 160 pounds the five feet nine inch back has the ability to make all fans sit up and take notice. During five games this season he has carried the ball 43 times for a grand total of 666 yards from the line of scrimmage, or an average of 15.5 yards per try.

He has made eleven runs of over 25 yards, scored 18 touchdowns and four extra points. He backs the line on defense and has made 68 tackles in the five games this year, notwithstanding the fact that he alone has intercepted four passes.

Laliker has played 60 full minutes of football in every game for the past two years, and has run the kick-off line for 25, 34, 41 and 55 yard gains. His punting average for the current grid season is 33 yards.

In the game against Perryton last Friday he carried the ball 15 times and rolled up 314 yards against his opponents. The competition he has met thus far in the season includes Graham, Oklahoma, Shamrock, Borger, Panhandle and Perryton.

Work Stoppage Hearing Is Set

DALLAS, Oct. 17.—(AP)—A "show cause" hearing will be held in Dallas tomorrow by the Eighth regional war labor board "in order to avert a possible work stoppage at the Port Arthur refinery of the Gulf Oil Corporation," the board said today.

The board said its records showed that the company had refused to extend expired contracts with locals 23 and 254, oil workers international union, CIO, involving general production and maintenance workers, pending negotiations of new agreements, and that the union membership has threatened to strike on the basis of the company's refusal.

In another press release the board said that the national WLB had denied an appeal by the Gulf Oil Corporation, and affirmed a June 24 directive order of the regional board in a dispute with laboratory workers of the corporation at Port Arthur, a special classification also members of locals 23 and 254, OWTU.

Job classifications and wage rates approved for the laboratory workers, said the regional board, were: foreman $1.40 per hour; assistant foreman $1.35; pilot plant operator $1.34; No. 1 maintenance mechanic $1.33; tester helper 85 cents; laboratory trainee 60 cents, and laboratory tester $1.10 to $1.22. The schedule was retroactive to Feb. 11, 1944.

The board said the hearing in the matter of the general workers would begin about 2 p. m.

Pres. Roosevelt To Speak October 27

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—President Roosevelt will deliver a major campaign speech from Shibe park in Philadelphia the night of Oct. 27.

The speaking date was announced by David L. Lawrence, Pennsylvania democratic national committeeman, after a conference at the White House today.

Lawrence and several others, including Andrew J. Higgins, New Orleans war constructor, called on Mr. Roosevelt as representatives of business men for Roosevelt, Inc.

The Philadelphia speech will go to the nation through the joint sponsorship of business men for Roosevelt, Inc. and the Philadelphia city democratic committee. Aimed primarily at business, the time for two radio networks which will carry the address will be paid for by the businessmen's association.

'Living' Memorials Coming Into Vogue

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The trend now is toward "living" war memorials, such as community centers, auditoriums and recreation parks, instead of the traditional tablet-bearing shaft, mausoleum or bronze shaft.

This was reported today by Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator, in announcing the agency's consultants are available to communities planning memorials to the men and women in the armed service.

The Hungarian city of Szeged is of prehistoric origin.

Statisticians figure that if all the lumber cut in the United States during the past 135 years were stacked, it would make a cube exactly one mile in each dimension.

Why the Enemy Stagers

One million tons of bombs have fallen on the enemy since Pearl Harbor—a volume of explosives which, as shown on chart above, are equal to the combined weight of 22 and a quarter battleships of the 45,000-ton Iowa class. Almost half of the total has been dropped since D-Day in Europe, according to Gen. H. H. Arnold, AAF commander, who promises that the second million tons will fall "in only a fraction of the time required for the first."

ed the second week of blasting Japan's Ryukyu-Formosa-Philippines defense line with renewed sorties over the Philippines.

During the first week of these raids between 228 and 243 Japanese aircraft were destroyed and 146 surface vessels sunk or damaged.

South of the Philippines Gen. Douglas MacArthur's fighter-escorted bombers made their fourth mass attack in two weeks on the vital Balikpapan oil refineries of Borneo, again leaving it in flames.

Between 49 and 67 enemy interceptors were shot down—the greatest bag of any single Southwest Pacific raid.

Tokyo reported 14 Superforts, striking in four waves, bombed Swatow on the China coast opposite Formosa yesterday. Swatow was not mentioned in the army's report on yesterday's second B-29 raid on Formosa's Okayama arsenal and Heito airbase.

Even Nippon's usually victorious armies in Southeast China were slowed down. Two strongly reinforced Japanese columns struck at Chinese west and northwest of Pigan in an effort to mop up Allied defenses so they could swoop down upon the U. S. air base at Luichow.

Heavy fighting was reported 25 miles north of Kwelin.

Japanese resistance stiffened in front of their Southwest Burmese base at Tiddin.

Admiral Nimitz's report on the Formosa action indicated that Japanese fleet units came out in the belief that land-based bombers and torpedo planes had already raised havoc with the Habay-Mitscher force. But "in discovering our fighter strength unimpaired," the commander said, the Japanese "avoided action" and ran.

In the three days of aerial assaults on Formosa, 191 Japanese planes pressed attacks against the U. S. sea forces. Ninety-five of them were shot down. Five American planes were lost in this defensive action.

The Japanese aerial torpedoes hit "two medium sized ships," Nimitz said, but caused "no damage of consequence to our battleships or carriers."

Soldiers Hitch-Hike Home Without Leave

BALTIMORE, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The story of four soldiers who went AWOL in India and used forged (furlough) papers to hitch-hike by plane to the United States was related by the Third service command.

The four landed at Miami, the command reported, and three already have been picked up or returned.

One soldier from Eric, Pa. who had been hospitalized in India returned to his home after landing at Miami but the youth's father declined to permit him to stay after learning he was AWOL and the soldier went back to the Miami air base.

He is being held there for return to India and a probable court martial, the command related.

Two others were picked up by second service command military police in New York and the whereabouts of the fourth is not known, the command added.

Christmas Parcels To GI's Smash Record

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—(AP)—A record-breaking 17,474,830 Christmas parcels—more than three times last year's total—have been turned over to the port of embarkation for delivery to soldiers overseas. Postmaster Albert Goldman's office said today.

Contrary to expectations, the postmaster's office said, there was no last minute rush to beat the mailing deadline last midnight.

Officials said they expected the number of parcels would be swayed by swelled when packages from far western points arrive here.

Networks Named As Defendants In Libel Suit

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 17.—(AP)—A complaint demanding that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the republican Presidential candidate, his running mate, Gov. John W. Bricker, and Sen. Clare Boothe Luce retract alleged "defamatory and untrue utterances" against President Roosevelt was filed with the federal communications commission today by William B. Rubin, Milwaukee attorney and former democratic candidate for governor of Wisconsin.

Named as defendants were the National Broadcasting Co., the Columbia Broadcasting Co., the Mutual Broadcasting Co. and the Blue Network.

Rubin, bringing the action as a citizen "who uses the radio to inform himself on political matters," demanded that the broadcasting companies call upon Gov. Dewey, Gov. Bricker and Sen. Luce "to make corrections and retractions over each and every one of the radio heretofore used by them," and that the republican speakers hereafter be required to file manuscripts at least 48 hours before speaking and that the networks delete all false statements.

Rubin's complaint alleged that the networks failed to comply with the demands set forth in the petition, objections would be filed against the renewal of radio licenses of broadcasting stations carrying the "offending talks."

He said that if the networks failed to comply with the demands set forth in the petition, objections would be filed against the renewal of radio licenses of broadcasting stations carrying the "offending talks."

bert Kesselring realigned his troops for an effort to hold Bologna, communications center menaced by U. S. Fifth army troops only 10 miles away. Fifth army men gained up to 1,900 yards in the mountains before Bologna yesterday. In the Adriatic sector, New Zealand units advanced on a broad front north of the Rimini-Bologna highway.

Suit Filed Against State-Owned Railway

DALLAS, Oct. 17.—(AP)—A Mandamus suit, filed by A. F. Carter in behalf of taxpayers, to require Chairman E. R. Gregg and the board of managers of the Texas State railroad to account for funds of the state-owned line, is on file in sixth district court here.

The line, leased by the Texas and New Orleans railway company, runs between Palestine and Rusk, Carter, in the petition filed yesterday, asks that the lease be cancelled and that an experienced railroad man be appointed as a receiver to operate the line.

Court attaches said citations were issued.

Carter's petition stated that the board of managers had accepted the audit made by the T. & O. and that T. & O. financial statements to which it was entitled, did not allow the state the revenue to which it was entitled.

The line is one of the two state-owned railroad lines in the nation. The other is in North Carolina.

ALLOCATION OF EDIBLE FATS AND OILS

	MILITARY USES, EXPORTS	CIVILIANS IN U.S.A. (& RESERVES)
EDIBLE FATS AND OILS	2430.7	5777.7
LARD	1152.0	1841.9
BUTTER	480.1	1586.
SHORTENING & OTHER OILS	691.3	1897.8
MARGARINE	150.3	466.

IN MILLION OF POUNDS

Because fats and oils are short all over the world, War Food Administration allocates edible supplies, giving first consideration to the needs of the armed forces, then United States civilians, then needs of our allies. In order to maintain this balance, use cooking fat must be kept rolling in at the rate of one pound a month per family, so that edible food fats will not have to be diverted to war or civilian industrial use.

NORWEGIAN

Nazi occupants, who are tightening restrictive measures. The Norwegians said they had accurate information showing the Germans were moving together into selected apartment houses after ordering out the Norwegians. Nazi suicide squads could conquer such buildings into defense strongholds.

The stiffening Norwegian resistance was first noted last spring when a Nazi mobilization of three classes, which could easily be diverted to military training, was thwarted. Thousands of young Norwegians vanished from homes and factories into the forests and mountains. Nazi conscription offices were blown up, records were burned.

Since then, planned sabotage against war industries has grown. The program recently was highlighted by a series of bold attacks. An aluminum factory at Holmen was blown up. A carburetor plant at Nydalen, a transformer plant at Kongsberg and a hull factory at Raufoss were burned and blasted by patriots. The last job was so effective that the Raufoss plant is said to be operating at only one tenth capacity.

Black Market in Liquor Controlled

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Price Administrator Chester Bowles said today the liquor black market, which "reached gigantic proportions" early this year, now is "virtually a thing of the past with liquor again moving in legitimate channels."

Bowles reported that the treasury's alcohol tax unit, the department of justice, various state boards, state and local police and the Provost marshal's office of the army all had aided OPA in breaking up the black markets.
