100,000 Await French Justice As Pro-Fascists

PARIS, Oct. 23.—(AP)—With wealth and gaiety on one hand and heart-breaking poverty and grief on the other, a France jumbled by war into a crazy quilt of setbacks set out today to sweep out the rats as the first step in putting her house in order.

The gloomy halls of the ancient Palais de Justice opened for the first of a series of trials which the government hopes will deal out justice within six months to more than 100,000 persons accused of collaborating with the Germans or giving them aid and comfort during their occupation.

The first defendant is George Suarez, veteran Paris journalist, who served as director of the German-sponsored daily newspaper "Aujourd'hui" and who is alleged to have been paid $15,000 monthly for his services.

His fate—which may be the first and more than 100 injured following a harbor fire Saturday that wrecked two naval landing ships, 200 feet of dock, a large crane and about 15 welding trucks.

San Pedro police said "witnesses indicated the fire started when a welder on one of the landing craft dropped some hot sparks into the water covered by tinsolene, apparently spilled from a navy tanker."

Police rescuers, high-test gasoline in odor and appearance, the report explained.

The dead included six navy men, naval and coast guard personnel are patrolling the oily waters for three missing navy men and two civilians.

Of the injured, 22 sailors and 10 civilians remain in hospitals.

State Demo Group To Ignore O'Daniel

DALLAS, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The state democratic organization will ignore the series of addresses which Senator O'Daniel (D-Texas) plans in Texas, Tom Tyson of Corsicana, Roosevelt-Truman speakers bureau chairman, announced here.

"No act of the state organization will lend popular interest to the dying campaign of the Texas regulars," Tyson told the Dallas News yesterday. "We had anticipated all along they would use Pappy."

Senator O'Daniel is scheduled to make the first of 24 speeches in Wichita Falls tomorrow night before leaving Washington Saturday, he announced that the addresses would be non-political.

New Yank Move From Aachen Anticipated

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press War Editor

Twin British and Canadian offensives bid forward today in a push to clear the Germans from the southwestern lowlands and open Antwerp as a huge supply base for the siege of Germany.

Canadian units had virtually wiped out the Nazi pocket below the Schelde estuary mouth, capturing three strongholds, and spread north of Antwerp toward the enemy anchor cities of Roosendael and Bergen Op Zoom.

The British Second army, striking westward in three columns, battled to within three miles of 'S-Hertogenbosch, Dutch bastion holding open the escape lane from the lowlands coast.

The U. S. Third army, meanwhile, pressed an offensive some 20 miles east of Nancy, and Berlin declared the American First army could be expected to attack at any moment along the Aachen sector.

Berlin also asserted the Soviets had launched two invasions of East Prussia, with house to house fighting proceeding for the highway town of Guldap, 18 miles inside the frontier and 31 miles from Interburg.

Another push farther north, the Germans said, was menacing Tilsit. Moscow still was mum concerning East Prussia. But in Eastern Hungary the junction city of Nagregy-baza (pop. 56,000) and other villages near the South Czechoslovakian border were swept up by armies advancing 12 miles nearer to Budapest.

In Northern Yugoslavia, Red army men captured Sombor (pop. 32,000) and crossed the Sava river beyond Belgrade.

On the Arctic front, the Soviets stood but 17 miles from the naval base at Kirkenes, and were fighting on a 40-mile front along the Norwegian border. Moscow dispatched the Red army were expected to continue the chase of Germans through the northern tip of Norway.

The Germans scramble out of Greece continued, and allied forces took the large Aegean island of Evvoia near the mainland north of Athens, Lemnos was occupied, and all the Cyclades group was reported free of Nazis.

In Italy, Eighth army troops moving up the Adriatic coast occupied Cervia, 12 miles below Ravenna.

Death Toll Now 98 in Cleveland Plant Explosion

CLEVELAND, Oct. 23.—(AP)—As workers today resumed combing ruins for additional victims of Cleveland's greatest disaster, a ten-man board of inquiry appointed by Mayor Frank J. Lausche began an investigation of the liquid fuel gas storage plant explosion and fire which devastated a 50-block East Side area.

The death toll in the catastrophe which struck the East Ohio Gas Co.'s plant Friday afternoon soared to 98, while 108 persons still officially were listed as missing, 49 of them plant employees.

However, many of these carried on the company morgue's missing roll may be found among the unidentified dead.

Another 49 men, women and children still were under treatment in hospitals. Seven remained in critical condition.

Mayor Lausche set up the board of inquiry, half of the members of which are chemists and engineers at Case School of Applied Science, shortly before he and American Red Cross officials reviewed final plans for a rehabilitation program.

The Red Cross said 680 homeless persons who have been sleeping and eating in school buildings for three days, would be in semi-permanent dwellings by tonight.

AP Holds Press Is Not Classed as Public Utility

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—"News-gathering agencies are not public utilities and should not be made such by judicial action," the Associated Press said today in a brief asking the United States Supreme Court to reverse a lower court ruling that the A.P. must change its membership by-laws.

The brief, submitted in an appeal from a summary decision by a special federal three-judge court in the southern district of New York, concludes that "no grave a step as transferring the press from the field of private enterprise to the status of a regulated public utility is the last thing which the courts should do on their own motion—and the last thing that should be done at all so long as any possible alternative exists."

The appeal is the latest development in the government's civil suit, under the Sherman anti-trust act, to force the Associated Press, a cooperative, non-profit organization, to change its membership structure and make its news report available to any applicant. Named as defendants in the suit, in addition to the A.P., are its 18 directors and approximately 1,200 other members in the United States as a group.

The government has until November 6 to file its brief and the A.P. reply is to be filed the week of November 13, the week when the Supreme Court is to hear the case. The district court's 2-to-1 decision was handed down Oct. 6, 1943.

"The majority of the court below," says the A.P. brief, "arrived at this public-utility result by the intermediate step of finding, not in fact, but in effect, that a successful news agency is bound to admit all applicants on equal terms and violates the anti-trust laws if it does not do so."

The decision would make the A.P. "in effect a public utility and subject to regulation as such," the brief asserts, despite many previous court decisions that "news agencies are not public utilities, and despite the public policy which underlies the first amendment—that so far as humanly possible, the press should be left free."

Unidentified Woman Is Highway Victim

DALLAS, Oct. 23.—(AP)—An unidentified woman was fatally injured on the Fort Worth highway near the Duncanville road in Dallas county early today when the automobile which she was driving overturned and struck a telegraph pole at the side of the highway.

The woman, who was alone in the car, died in an ambulance on the way to a Dallas hospital. A ration book found in the car bore the name of Frances Mina Owens, 966 Elmwood, Fort Worth.

Reports from Fort Worth, however, said that Frances Mina Owens moved to Dallas six or seven months ago and that she is married and has a small son. Her husband is overseas, the reports said.

Deputy sheriffs here were conducting an investigation in an attempt to identify the victim.

Sen. Ball To Back FDR On Basis Of Foreign Policy

By The Associated Press

Senator Joseph H. Ball, Minnesota Republican, announced today at Washington that "I shall vote for and support President Roosevelt."

The senator, abandoning his party in the Presidential race, said Mr. Roosevelt had met the foreign policy issues more squarely than had Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

In his Saturday night speech on foreign policy, Ball said, President Roosevelt kept a record of action by "meeting squarely and unequivocally the two vital and controversial issues on which the isolationists kept us out of the League of Nations and will fight our entry into the United Nations security organization."

The senator added in a statement: "He insisted that the United Nations organization be formed without delay, before hostilities cease, and that it be granted power to use military force against future aggressors without requiring individual approval of each member nation."

"Governor Dewey has opposed delay, but has not met squarely the second vital issue. He has spoken for a strong international security organization, but in each speech has worded his commitment that both isolationists and internationalists could find comfort and support in what he said. A substantial part of his support is talking straight isolationist doctrine to the country."

Mr. Roosevelt, Ball said, is in a position on this great issue to receive a clear and tremendously forcible mandate from the American people, while Dewey's mandate, he said, is uncertain.

Father and Daughter Are Arrested by FBI

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The justice department today announced the arrest of a father and daughter on charges of conspiracy to violate the espionage statutes.

The father, Simon Emil Koedel, 62, was arrested at Harper's Ferry, W. Va., and Marie Hedwig Koedel, 26, was arrested in New York City.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said the two collected information on military movements, particularly on shipping in the port of New York prior to Pearl Harbor, and that the father was delivered to the German consulate in New York City to be forwarded to the Nazis.

Hoover said special agents developed information that both Koedel and his foster daughter frequently visited New York waterfronts. He said they observed names of ships in port and reported on convoy activities.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Presidential Secretary Stephen Early told newsmen today that President Roosevelt has "no sniffles, nothing" as a result of his long ride in the train through New York City Saturday.

Early comment was in response to a question whether Mr. Roosevelt had any signs of a cold.

Strong Tank Units Chase Fleeing Japs

By LEONARD MILLIMAN
Associated Press War Editor

Tank-led American infantry today surged over strong Japanese positions on the southern front on Leyte island in the Central Philippines in a determined bid to trap enemy forces retreating up the wide Leyte valley.

This advance, reported by A. P. War Correspondent Al Dopking, stemmed westward from the Dulag beachhead established last week. It was spearheaded by Yanks of the Seventh infantry division who were commanded by Lt. Col. Herbert Edmondson, of Georgia. Ahead of them was flat terrain, ideal for tank warfare.

"Japan is now on the defensive," a Japanese naval commentator, Masanori Ito, said in a dispatch transmitted by Domei news agency.

Ito's statement came in the course of remarks in which it was claimed that Japan "welcomed" the American invasion of the Philippines because it offered "a substantial opportunity to deal crushing blows on the mainstay of the enemy's Pacific forces."

The speaker compared Formosa with Pearl Harbor but then said: "However, a considerable difference exists in the present circumstances, compared to three years ago. That difference is that Japan is now on the defensive while three years ago she was on the offensive."

The broadcast was recorded by the federal communications commission.

The Japanese Domei news agency asserted that four more American ships had been captured by Japanese bombers in Leyte gulf of the Philippines.

The wireless dispatch beamed to North America and recorded by the federal communications commission, listed the four as two destroyers, a transport and an aircraft carrier. Previous Tokyo claims asserted a transport and a destroyer had been sunk and five other ships damaged in the gulf.

This American action appeared to center on a highway running west from the coast toward the town of San Pablo, about 10 miles inland.

Tanks rolled into the Leyte valley also from the small town of Palo, on the northern sector of the front, where outnumbered Japanese retreated westward.

Tacloban, above Palo, meanwhile became the site of the first constitutional government in the Philippines since they were captured by the Japanese more than two and a half years ago.

At Dulag and the temporary Philippines capital of Tacloban, Gen. Douglas MacArthur and his staff captured airfields into advanced bases for U. S. land-based bombers and fighters.

Carrier planes and aircraft based at Tacloban, above Palo, meanwhile became the site of the first constitutional government in the Philippines since they were captured by the Japanese more than two and a half years ago.

Shamrock Man Is Reported Missing

SHAMROCK, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Bulford Young, seaman, second class, veteran of the Pearl Harbor attack and fighting in the Pacific since that time, is missing in action according to a telegram received from the navy department today.

No other information was given in the telegram.

The 25-year-old navy man is the husband of the former Miss Winnie Kiehn of Davenport, Iowa, who now makes her home in Shamrock. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jason Young, long time residents of Littleton, who now reside in Weatherford.

Young volunteered in the navy approximately four years ago. During the two years that followed Pearl Harbor he participated in seven major battles, including the battle of Midway, the Coral Sea and Bougainville. He was sent to Connecticut for special training then returned to the Pacific for further action.

He and Mrs. Young were married 2 years ago while he was home on leave. He visited her last January.

A native of Davenport, Iowa, Young spent most of his life in the Little community. He was a graduate of the Sammorwood high school. His parents moved from Little to Weatherford early in 1943.

Despite an estimated gross earnings increase in 1944 of nearly two billion dollars over 1942, net railway operating income for 1944 will probably show a decrease of $39,000,000, compared with 1942, he said.

The office of price administration contends that the wartime increases "have provided the railroads with some $700,000,000 in revenues not required."

The 10 per cent passenger fare increase and the 3 to 6 per cent increases in freight rates were ordered for the duration on March 18, 1942. The freight increases, however, have been suspended since May 15, 1943, the last suspension order terminating Dec. 31, 1944. The increased passenger fares still are in effect.

A TEXAN BELONGS TO FRANCE.

He Died Fighting for Them—Each Day There Are Flowers

AMERICAN AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS, FRANCE, Oct. 23.—(AP)—In the American war cemetery at Remy there stands among the rows of white crosses a highly polished propeller blade from a lightning fighter plane, and the grave which it marks is covered daily with fresh flowers.

The do Frenchmen honor the memory of Lt. Houston L. Braly, Jr., a P-38 pilot from Brady, Texas, who died while blowing up a German ammunition train.

Not even the Germans when they were here were able to prevent the French from paying this tribute. The Nazis removed the flowers the first time they appeared and issued stern warnings, but the next day there were four times as many flowers, and the pilot's name was engraved on the propeller taken off his wrecked plane.

Braly was killed Aug. 2, when he and three flying mates swooped down on a German troop train carrying 1,000 men and large quantities of ammunition which had been sidetracked at Remy for eight days. Braly had sent word of his position, and the blast of the exploding ammunition cars ripped off the tail and a wing of his plane. He died in the crash, but at least 50 Germans were killed and the ammunition train was wrecked.

The 23-year-old Texan now belongs to France.

POINTS for Victory

Dallas Bisons Take Schoolboy Limelight

It's about-time the Sunset Bisons of Dallas were recognized as a top team of Texas schoolboy football. Unbeaten, unscored on and unworried, the Bisons boast one of the grandest defenses you ever laid eyes upon and now they have started clicking ominously on the offense. Today they hold a three-game lead in the Dallas district with only four more games to go.

Highland Park of Dallas has been getting all the play this season in North Texas ratings but it's a good bet that along the line the Scoties will have to meet the Bisons. That would be in the state quarter-finals. Your correspondent would rate the teams about even at this time.

It's that kind of year in schoolboy football: When a team that has lost a game or two can be ranked even with teams undetested and unscored on. In fact, some of the leading outfits at this time have beatings on their records.

San Angelo is one, the Bobcats having lost to Lubbock, but the boys from the great sheep country still are favored to reach the finals from the northern bracket of the interscholastic league.

Ablene has lost three games yet the Eagles are among the top dozen in the state. No eleven has trimmed them decisively and some of the best have been glad to get away with a margin of a few points. Last week high and mighty Lubbock fell before the resurging Eagles 7-6.

Other teams making combats are Vernon, Temple, Lufkin, Fort Arthur and Jefferson (San Antonio). Any one of these schools can be ranked higher than most of the undefeated, with teams of which there now are only nine: Sweetwater, North Side and Paschal of Fort Worth, Sunset, Waco, Tyler, Goose Creek, Auburn and Koryville. This week will find 31 of the 47 games on the schedule to be conference affairs with the San Angelo-Odesa battle as the stand-out. This will be San Angelo's

Longhorns Top Southwest Conference

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—(AP)—Boxing the college football compass: MIDWEST: Notre Dame, Ohio State, Purdue and Indiana rank as the Big Four with Pre-Flight, Illinois and Michigan not far behind. The Irish, although they yielded their first touchdowns of the year in beating Wisconsin by a 28 to 13 margin, may get their biggest test this weekend when they encounter Illinois' Speedsters, 38 to 5 victors over Pittsburgh.

Ohio State's beardless civilians, who entertain Minnesota Saturday, share Big Ten attention with Purdue following their 26 to 6 conquest of Great Lakes. The Boilermakers, who handled Iowa 26 to 7, come up against Michigan, which has had a two-week gridiron vacation. Iowa Pre-Flight has the weekend off after piling into Fort Warren, 30 to 0, yesterday. Indiana plays Iowa.

SOUTHWEST—Randolph Field ripped Camp Polk, 47-6, preparation for its tussle with the Third Airforce at San Antonio Saturday night.

In the Southwest circuit, Texas, Rice and Texas Christian stand on top following their triumphs but one will be dropped this weekend when Rice and the Longhorns collide at Houston. Texas downed Arkansas, 19 to 0, and Rice got by Southern Methodist, 21 to 10, to set the stage for their important meeting.

Tuba, a member of the dormant Missouri Valley loop, romped over Mississippi, 47 to 0, and takes on Oklahoma A. & M. next.

FAR WEST—Tonight's contest between Southern California and Washington will have an important bearing on the Western Rose Bowl choice. The Huskies have piled up lopsided scores in four earlier contests while the Trojans have failed to reach pre-season expectations. Washington remains in California for a Saturday meeting with California.

EAST—Army, winner of four straight but virtually untested, tangles with Duke in a New York City brawl while Pennsylvania's Freshmen also untested, tangles with Philadelphia. Army romped over Coast Guard, 76 to 0, Saturday and Navy was setback by Georgia Tech, 17 to 15. Duke and Penn both were idle. Brown and Holy Cross, who collaborated in a 24 to 24 tie also are occupied. Brown with Dartmouth and the unbeaten Crusaders with Coast Guard.

SOUTH—Georgia Tech, rugged victor over the Midlands, looms strongest in the Southeastern circuit and has another chance to prove it Friday night against Georgia Pre-Flight, 3 to 0 losers to North Carolina Pre-Flight. The same night Wake Forest, powerhouse of the Southern circuit, mixes with Miami in the Orange Bowl. The Deacons added to their title claims Saturday with a 21 to 7 conquest of North Carolina State.

Alabama and Tennessee, participants in a scoreless deadlock Saturday, have entirely different tasks ahead of them. The Crimson Tide is host to Kentucky Friday night while the Volunteers mix with Clemson-Tulane, 16 to 13 winners over Auburn, has Southern Methodist as its guest Saturday. Georgia and Louisiana State are at Atlanta the same day.

Seers Discard Crystal Ball To Choose Texas

The help of Madame Lozong isn't needed to decide which is the top game on the Southwest conference football schedule this week. Without benefit of a crystal ball fans point to Houston, where the University of Texas meets Rice Institute.

It's not only the sole conference title game, but it pits the only two teams with a 1,000 percentage in conference play—and two teams whose annual tilt is considered by some as second only to the Texas-Aggie Thanksgiving contest.

Further, predictions of a 25,000 attendance indicate grid fans want to see Texas' Bobby Layne meet Rice's George Walmsley.

Three interconference members tangle in intersectional games. Texas as Christian, which is losing ace passer Johnny Sherrard to the army. Rice and Texas Christian stand on top following their triumphs but one will be dropped this weekend when Rice and the Longhorns collide at Houston. Texas downed Arkansas, 19 to 0, and Rice got by Southern Methodist, 21 to 10, to set the stage for their important meeting.

Fans Question Grid Skill Of Randolphers

FORT WORTH, Oct. 23—(AP)—Randolph Field has played four games and still no one knows how good the football fliers really are. Certainly they have received nothing approaching a test although meeting highly-rated college teams of the Southwest. They beat Rice 50-4, Texas 42-6 and Southern Methodist 41-0 and yesterday played their first service opponent—the Seventh armored infantry battalion of Camp Polk, La.—and won 67-0.

What the Ramblers did to Camp Polk when they really played was a sight to behold. They scored 54 points by going for touchdowns every time they got the ball in the first two periods. Then in the second half the boys put on a show for the 10,000 who turned out to see a gridiron exhibition for the financial benefit of the army and navy.

They dished the razzle-dazzle stuff designed to sharpen the game for next Saturday night's tussle with the Third Air force. They passed and lateraled and skipped thither and yon while toying with the Louisiana outfit. This stringer led Camp Polk made a couple of first downs through the air but Camp Polk ended up with a minus 28 in rushing yardage.

The fans saw a massive but fast line throw the infantry all over the field while Bill Dudley, Pete Layden, Jack Lecht, John Goodyear, Rogers Smith, Vike Francis, Everett Elkins and Tippy Madarick ripped off runs ranging up to 84 yards.

Madarick and Goodyear scored two touchdowns apiece. Lecht, Layden and Smith got one each, while Ends Don Looney and Jack Russell pitched in with a couple of six-pointers and Tack Len Darnell not only blocked a punt but grabbed the ball out of the air and ran for a touchdown. And does Randolph Field have goal kickers? Bill Causey booted three conversions and Bill Bagwell, Elkins, Francis and Goodyear pitched in on an apiece.

Duck Hunters Will Enjoy Best Season in Decade as Ducks Fly

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—Down into the United States from Canada, down along the five main flyways—the Pacific, western, central, Mississippi and Atlantic—are migrating 140,000,000 waterfowl—figure by Ducks Unlimited, Inc.

And 1,250,000 shooters—federal figure—are ready for the great play between man and bird in blinds throughout the land.

Tremendous the vanguard of this tremendous flight have become blind-conscious in northern states, from Maine to Montana, where the curtain officially was rung up September 20, and in the central shooting zone, from Massachusetts to the Pacific states, where something like 60,000 persons—figure by Ducks Unlimited, Inc.—started the traditional match of wits between hunter and bird, October 14.

The season in the southern zone, from Maryland down through the Carolinas to states bordering the gulf to Arizona, runs from November 2 to January 20.

SEASON IS EXTENDED
Representatives of Ducks Unlimited, Inc., tell you this is to be the best season since the duck depression of 1934-35. Ducks Unlimited, Inc., a non-profit organization supporting hunters by the country to increase and maintain breeding, estimates this year's mass migration to be 10 per cent larger than last year, 450 per cent more than that of a decade ago.

The season in all three zones—northern, central and southern—has been extended to 80 days. That's an increase from 70 days last year and from a 30-day limit during the dead-low of 10 years ago.

A shooting day legally opens half an hour before sunrise and closes at sunset.

The bag limit has been increased to 15 for the favorite mallard, the pintail and widgeon. Wildfowling still are limited to 10 a day among other species, with one exception. That's the lowly coot, which actually is not a duck but an off-shoot of the rail family. Each hunter can take 25 coots a day, if he wants to.

The War Production board has relaxed shotgun ammunition restrictions so that nearly a half billion shells are expected to be re-housed. The abundant, biggest since porting ammunition manufacture was halted in 1942, allows each hunter four boxes (100 shells) instead of the one box permitted last year.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—(AP)—It's beginning to look as if V-day in the war would be M-day in the battle of pro-football although the all-American (Arch Ward) league served notice from the start that it wouldn't recognize national league draft lists, some national leagues are showing signs of amputation because of the signing of Bill Daley, Paul Governali and Glenn Dobbs, whom they had regarded as their own property. That in some other rankings, which may come partly from personal feuds but the other day one of the A. Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—(AP)—It's beginning to look as if V-day in the war would be M-day in the battle of pro-football although the all-American (Arch Ward) league served notice from the start that it wouldn't recognize national league draft lists, some national leagues are showing signs of amputation because of the signing of Bill Daley, Paul Governali and Glenn Dobbs, whom they had regarded as their own property. That in some other rankings, which may come partly from personal feuds but the other day one of the A. A. franchises occurred in a game in which the two teams tossed in sounds as if he was looking for a scrap with the old league as well as the other new ones.

IT BURNED HIM UP

A new to us) bowling alley was offered recently by Connie Constantine of Seattle, Wash. He got "too hot"—trying to convert a strike on the last frame. Connie bumped his leg as he delivered the ball, ignited some matches in his pocket and dropped the ball as a result. That, with a few other pointed remarks tossed in, sounds as if he was looking for a scrap with the old league as well as the other new ones.

The Decision at Aachen

Hitler's decision at Aachen, made through his officers, apparently established the policy of Nazi resistance on which the war in Germany will be fought. It gave notice that every objective in Germany would be sacrificed to the price of delaying the inevitable.

And his decision shows that Hitler has misjudged the Americans. He still banked on disunity and the Japs to keep us out of Europe after Pearl Harbor.

At Aachen he seemed to think that the Americans, whom he advertised to his people as "Yankee barbarians," would be too weak in strength and purpose, to go through with their ultimatum. Again he was wrong.

The Americans took no joy in destroying much of the city of Charlemagne. They gave the enemy a chance to withdraw from and preserve the city and its "cultural monuments." And, as Dr. Goebbels has already wept so much.

But it so happens that Aachen, besides being the city of Charlemagne, is also the front door to Cologne and the first step in Germany on the highway to Berlin. The choice was for Germans, not Americans, to make.

But if Hitler thinks that he can try to make a strategic withdrawal of every sizable city in Germany, it is clear that he is making another of his egregious military blunders. For Germany's overall position is more desperate than Russia's ever was. And the spirit of the Germans is not the Russian spirit.

Even at Leningrad and Stalingrad, Russia had considerable material and production support in Germany. Hitler has the Russian army at his back door, Russia was aided by her allies, even in the darkest days. Hitler is hemmed in, and his last satellite is tottering toward defeat.

Hitler has good soldiers and brave soldiers. But he does not have the soldiers of Stalingrad. Even Dr. Goebbels never suggested that Russian officers there or at Sevastopol, had to stand at a railroad with ready guns to shoot any soldiers who tried to surrender. We have his story of German soldiers who did manage to escape and give up.

All this Hitler knows, of course. His only hope can be to drag the war through to the end, and then time to perfect some new "secret weapon" or perhaps to wait for some hoped-for allied rift, while the ring of allied arms closes tighter about him.

Heroes' Votes

A complete report on the fate of votes of servicemen killed in action is not in, but already it is certain that these votes will be voided in at least a large number of cases. It seems that state governments are following the letter of laws which forbid counting the ballot of a person who dies before election day.

But at least one state, New Jersey, has been more concerned with the spirit than with the letter. Its attorney general has held that such votes will be counted.

It is incredible to think that other states will not take some similar steps. It is too mild a word for a situation in which a man in his country's service is denied the exercise of one of the rights for which he fought, simply because he

WORK WITH HILLMAN

(Fort Wayne News-Sentinel)

There was a bit of plagiarism in Mr. Roosevelt's July 25 statement to "clear everything with Sidney." As far back as 1921, Robert Minor, an American Communist official, got a personal letter from the late Nikolai Lenin, saying: "Work with Hillman." This is the same Hillman, of course, who sat in a guarded hotel room in Chicago, two months ago, and issued orders to "Democratic leaders," under instructions from the "Communist Party in-Chief." No wonder that the Labor Union, a distinctly liberal and progressive paper and the official organ of the American Federation of Labor, is moved to declare: "The American labor movement, most disquieting thing about the CIO-Political Action Committee is its frank and unblinking alliance with revolutionary Communism. . . Hillman's Soviet sympathies, while dimming, have never dimmed. They have burst into flame again with the emergence of Russia as a military conqueror under Stalin. . . It is difficult to escape the conclusion that the victory of the PAC would constitute the greatest single political triumph ever achieved by the Communists." The election of Dewey and Bricker changes the situation of the labor movement, which such a Communist triumph can be prevented.

The Nation's Press

(The New York News)

Argentina, big South American country, is not like us, and there are plenty of Argentines who don't love us, just as there are plenty of us who don't love the Argentines.

They have a so-called "colombian government" which has warlike ideas, and which keeps the poor people working while the rich stay rich. Argentina's social-economic setup is about like what ours was in the thirties, supervised by individualists 1870s. We saw out of that without advice or coercion from other countries.

Church Offers to Pay Union Dues

How near we are approaching a dictator form of government under the New Deal regime is illustrated by a War Labor Board case reported in the Los Angeles Times on Tuesday, October 10.

Christ's Church of the Golden Rule bought the Continental Building, 408 South Spring St., Los Angeles. Its members wanted to erect a "massing" assembly hall on the building. The AFL Building Service Employees' Union and AFL International Operating Engineers insist that they have the exclusive right to fund the building under the terms of a contract they brought the case before the War Labor Board which set up a panel to hear the case.

The church maintains that the work is to be done by its own members who do not want to belong to the union. The news item in the Los Angeles Times states: "The church offered, through Parsons' attorney for the church, to pay the union's dues equal to what its members would pay to join the unions and to keep paid up in dues and standing."

This brought objection from the union leaders because the union leaders wished regular union members in the jobs. "The panel took the case under advisement."

This case is evidence that our present government is encouraging and standing for laws that necessitate a church offering to pay to a union an amount equal to the initiation fee and dues in order to have the government permit its churchmen to keep up its own property.

Yet Roosevelt contends that he is not welcoming support from people who would turn their backs over to foreign ideology. If it is not foreign ideology which requires church people to go before a labor board and offer to pay dues to a labor union in order to be permitted to operate their own property, then nothing is foreign.

Church in Error

If church people are so willing to compromise by principles as to offer to pay in order to be the very principle on which Christianity was founded. It is undoubtedly because too many church people have not stood for the freedom of the individual, that these terrible laws have been put on our statute books.

If people professing to be Christians are not willing to fight for the principles on which Christianity and the country were founded, they are disgracing the Founder of Christianity. They are pretending to be something they are not.

But this is the natural result of the belief that the majority has a right to do things that are wrong for the individual to do. It is a natural result of the belief as taught in the public schools of the land that wage levels can be raised by collective bargaining or by strikes. It is too bad we have to go through such experiences as this—a church offering to pay tribute to a labor union—in order for people to learn that collective bargaining instead of raising the working man in the long run impoverishes all working men.

In France, Italy, Russia, Germany. Every country that ever tried to raise wage levels by collective bargaining lowered them, if the policy was continued, and sent its people into a form of slavery.

Notes That Lead War

Secretary of State Hull and whoever is his opposite number in the State Department are exchanging nasty notes for some time past; and our government has now cut trade between the United States and the Argentine to a trickle. The idea is that Argentina must be bulldozed into becoming like us politically.

It would be lovely if everybody in the world were like us, but not everybody is, and we can't create that kind of a world at the present time. The tragic catch in these exchanges of diplomatic notes is that frequently, after a couple of old men have traded enough of them back and forth, thousands of young men are being drafted, being killed one another to make good what the old men said in the notes.

We may conceivably get into a war with Argentina if the present Administration stay in office beyond next Jan. 20. We can win such a war—occupy the big and beautiful city of Buenos Aires and run the country till it hollers "Uncle." The Argentine population totals only about 13 1/2 million—though many of its people are tough fighters. Luis Angel Firpo, the Wild Bull of the Pampas, came closer to killing Jack Dempsey than did any American custom. Brazil being the "biggest, Argentine beef is virtually essential to our British ally."

Why not do some judicious appeasing of the Argentine, instead of playing the diplomatic note time bombs which may blow up in our faces sooner or later? Let the Argentine be itself and work out its own destiny, while we continue to be ourselves.

If we bring such dictations to a head, we can be sure that blood will call to blood in South America—meaning that other South American republics, with their Spanish traditions and big percentages of citizens having Spanish blood, will revive all their old suspicions of us as the Colossus of the North. The Good Neighbor policy thus will go down the drain, and the consequences can be tragic.

THAT '44 STORY BUILDING

Los Angeles Times

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

The National Whirligig

By RAY TUCKER

BELLS: The Free State of Maryland may provide one of the many surprise packages of the 1944 Presidential contest.

Although it is too early yet to say whether its eight electoral votes will wind up in the Roosevelt or the Dewey column, the democrats are frankly worried. The sons and daughters of Lord Calvert are an extremely independent breed. They have fought British kings and American chief executives at Washington from 1776 to 1944.

The President carried this beautiful but small colony by one in four of its fifteen thousand against Wendell Willkie four years ago. It is probable that the commander in chief may squeeze through by a margin of from ten to twenty-five thousand on election day. That is how fierce the fighting is in this neck of the woods.

As a virtual suburb of Washington, Maryland is populated by thousands of federal workers and civilian service employees. Regardless of the Hatch Act, they are ringing doorbells for P.D.R. to safeguard their jobs.

The President has looked with kindly eyes on the Maryland political machine, which happens to be one of the tightest and most ruthless in the nation, and the old-line bosses, although they hate big "ideologies," are doing their stuff in a big way.

The democratic leaders are transporting folks to the registration booths and, for want of gasoline, they have promised to provide horse-drawn hacks on election day. This is probably the only commonwealth where the regular partisans are running the show instead of chartering the driver's seat with Sidney Hillman. His C.I.O. has comparatively little strength here.

BALTIMORE: This tiny and compact state, however, has shown republican leanings in recent years. In 1942 the able and popular democratic governor, Herbert R. O'Connor was re-elected by only eight hundred votes. He had been defeated save for a surprising vote in his favor in normally republican districts in western Maryland, the coal-mining area.

Senator Millard E. Tydings, who was a marked man in the 1938 purge (Mr. Roosevelt traveled through the state in an attempt to defeat him), came through this time with a big margin. Mr. Tydings, a moderate outside interference; otherwise, the reactionary Tydings might have been licked.

The senator is now clutching the Presidential coat tails, and egotizing the man who tried to destroy him politically. For that very reason, and this explains how prejudicial some residents are against the administration, Mr. Tydings may suffer a close call or even be defeated, although his opponent is a nonentity.

Two years ago, Baltimore, whose vote will be decisive in electing a G.O.P. mayor for the first time in many years. In a special congressional election twelve months ago, the republicans carried the "black belt of Baltimore" for the first time since McKinley's day.

G.O.P.-ers make much of that reversal of form, but the fact is that the winner, Representative Daniel Ellison, has turned out to be an enthusiastic new dealer. Many republicans will probably vote for the democratic opponent this time, especially as he is campaigning against "bureaucracy" and "inefficiency" in Washington.

OPPOSITION: John L. Lewis may be the political controller in this area in the event of a close ballot. The head of the United Mine Workers has about twenty thousand members in Maryland, and with their families they form a voting bloc of at least forty thousand, possibly more.

He has quietly passed along the word that he prefers the man in Albany to Mr. Roosevelt. The labor czar's support of the G.O.P. ticket may not set with some businessmen and the families of soldiers who remember his coal strikes. However, he is a more familiar figure to Maryland miners than to fellow workers in more remote sections of the country, and his opposition to the new deal may be the deciding factor.

John L. has frequently reported here, has guaranteed that he will carry Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Kentucky for the republican nominee. Now, although he still keeps his fingers crossed, he adds the support of the new deal may be the deciding factor.

REFORM: Curiously enough, the opposition of Roosevelt democrats to a new charter for Montgomery county, the most populous section of the state, just across the line from the capital, may cost Mr. Roosevelt many votes.

Public-spirited citizens, both democrats and republicans, began a drive for modernization of the local government six years ago. They have won all the preliminary struggles, and on November 7 the people will decide whether or not they will accept the new county instrument which has been drawn by experts.

The Brooks Lee organization, a White House annex, is fighting the proposed constitution because it would strip the cry of the bosses. In 1942, however, when Boss Lee ran for Congress, the agitation for reform brought out so many "good government" activists that Brooks has given an unexpected shellacking and badly defeated.

The charter faction, although taking no interest in national politics as a group, will again flock to the polls and because of the Presidential henchman's attitude, a large number of them may vote against Mr. Roosevelt.

The most important thing which friends and relatives of the disabled veterans can do is to treat them normally—treat them as normal men.—Maj. Gen. Norman T. Kirk, surgeon general, U. S. Army.

THAT MCCOY AND MUKDEN INCIDENT

By PETER EDSON
 Washington Correspondent

Maj.-Gen. Frank McCoy, president of the Foreign Policy Association, which played host to Pres. Roosevelt for his Oct. 21 speech in New York on foreign policy, had a leading role in the main preliminary bout leading up to the present Pacific war. Most people have forgotten the story and some less more amusing details were never printed, but the whole thing has a direct tie-up with present planning for a United Nations peace organization, and so is again timely.

On Sept. 21, 1931, the Chinese government appealed to the old League of Nations "to take immediate steps to prevent further development of a situation endangering the peace of the nations"—the occupation of Mukden, Manchuria, by Japanese troops on Sept. 18.

What had actually happened was that the Japs set off a bomb on the railroad tracks outside Mukden, then sent their troops in to massacre the Chinese garrison of 10,000 men. The Japs were that the Chinese had planted the bomb to wreck a fast express due at the time. Unfortunately for the Japs story, it developed later that the train had already pulled into the Mukden station before the bomb went off. But the Japs explained that by saying that their engine and train had "jumped" over the rail under which the bomb had been planted, and they actually produced the rail, bringing it into court in its undamaged condition, as evidence.

WAR TODAY

MacArthur's dramatic and successful return to the Philippines breaks the back of the Allied task in the Pacific, since the battle for these islands is the prelude to the final struggle for Japan itself; without the Philippines the Mikado's dilapidated empire of conquests will fall to pieces.

Once the American forces have overrun Leyte, which is strategically situated almost in the heart of the archipelago, and have established powerful bases, they will be able to sweep the rest of the islands with bombers. Today's reports show our men firmly established and smashing away with the job of clearing the island. The Japanese 16th division, the barbarians who tortured so many Yankee boys to death on Bataan, have taken to the hills—and wait until we get at 'em!

General MacArthur declares in his proclamation to the Filipinos that the Americans have come as "liberators for the entire Philippine archipelago." He will proceed in the liberation is the secret of the high command, but presumably he will move northward into the great island of Luzon, into developments changing the map of Luzon, whereon lies Manila, is the key which can unlock the Mikado's defenses.

In this most northern of the Philippines the Allies can dominate Japan's communications to her essential war supplies—like rubber and oil in the East Indies. They can, by the Pacific, cut off from the homeland hundreds of thousands of Japanese troops in Indonesia and Burma. They can neutralize the powerful air-naval base of Formosa, which is one of the chief shields of Nippon. They can reach the southeast coast of China to establish bases to aid the hard-hit Chinese, and from these bases they can send bombers to rip at the vitals of Japan.

All that sounds mighty good—and it is good. However, let's not permit it to mislead us. The route to Tokyo, the conquest of the Philippines in itself bids fair to be one of the greatest engagements of the entire world war.

GERMANY WILL TRY IT AGAIN

By Sigrid Schultz
 Copyright, 1944, by Sigrid Schultz
 Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

As an American newspaper correspondent in Berlin from 1919 to 1941, Sigrid Schultz saw at first hand the events that led from World War I to World War II. And she saw the behind-the-scenes preparation for the coming "war-in-peace" that she warns may culminate in World War III. This is the story of Germany's plans to win the peace, plans that even now are being put into effect.

THE NAZIS ARE NOT AFRAID TO WARN US

IN 1938, just after Germany had invaded Austria, I talked with the man who later became Chief of the German army's General Staff, Gen. Franz Halder. I heard from him many of the usual protestations of Germany's peaceful intentions, despite the invasion. Then the general began to criticize the High Command of World War I.

"It was stupid of the German High Command not to have considered the possibility of defeat more systematically than they did," he stated.

"But I have been under the impression," I said, "that General Ludendorff took quite a number of effective steps when he realized that the war could not be won."

"Yes, that's quite true. But infinitely more could have been done. A staff man must consider all military and political contingencies. We have learned that. Nobody can imagine the plans we have worked out for all possible eventualities."

What General Halder meant by "infinitely more could have been done" became quite clear when, in 1940, the German leaders faced the possibility of military defeat and launched the secret war-in-peace.

Some place in this story there should be a moral for the supporters of the new United Nations charter drafted at Dumbarton Oaks, calling for the creation of military organization to prevent aggression by force of arms if necessary.

This debate on preparing national defense preparations is the first in a series of ten, on controversial issues, prepared for NEA and The News by the national committees of the two major political parties.

Democrats Cite GOP Vote Record on Preparedness As Obstructionist

By the Democratic National Committee

FROM THE DAY he took office in 1933, President Roosevelt began repairing our national defenses, so dangerously neglected under three incompetent republican administrations.

Finding the navy far below par, the administration immediately undertook construction of 33 warships, allocating for the purpose $238,000,000 from PWA funds; seven times the amount spent under Hoover the previous year. Subsequently, WPA was used to build and improve hundreds of military and naval installations, docks, barracks, etc.

To the republicans all this was "boondoggling."

In 1935, with war clouds gathering, the President expanded the army to 165,000 enlisted men as recommended by General Douglas MacArthur, then chief of staff.

Said Congressman Everett Dirksen, republican from Illinois, now one of Candidate Dewey's chief spokesmen: "I would just as soon register my protest at this increased expenditure."

IN 1937, as Hitler prepared to attack Czechoslovakia

Chicago his famous "quarantine" speech, urging the nation "to look ahead."

For his pains he was denounced by the republicans as a "warmonger."

The President said in that speech: "We are determined to keep out of war, yet we cannot insure ourselves against the disastrous effects of war unless we adopt some measures as will minimize our risk of involvement."

It was this very "quarantine" speech from which Candidate Dewey quoted at Oklahoma City, lifting a passage out of context—like some shy schoolboy in his attempt to prove the President's mind of vision and neglect of national defense.

Such puffing tactics, such blind partisan opposition, are typical of the republicans' whole preparedness record.

By their votes, you shall know them:

THE REPUBLICANS voted against the fortification of Guam—against additional appropriations for the army air force—against providing stockpiles of rubber, and other strategic raw materials—against lifting the arms embargo.

The republicans were against selective service—against arming our merchant ships—against Lend-Lease, which Candidate Dewey wildly denounced as designed to end free government everywhere.

Just four months before Pearl Harbor, with General Marshall pleading to keep our new army intact, extension of selective service came before the Congress, and with the republicans sniping as usual, The vote was:

Democrats: Senate—3 to 1 for
 House—7 to 1 against
 Republicans: Senate—2 to 1 against
 House—6 to 1 against

In all fairness, which party did its best to promote national defense, and which did everything possible to obstruct it?

There are none so blind as those who refuse to see.

And yet these same men would now have us entrust them with national defense and all the complex affairs of state—matters of life and death to each and every one of us.

Roosevelt Failed to Focus Nation's Energy on Need For Defense, GOP Says

By the Republican National Committee

WHY WE WERE caught unprepared in 1941 will not be a very hard question for future historians to answer.

We were unprepared because President Roosevelt had neglected the most important factor in modern total war: the focusing of national energy toward the single object of national defense.

We were not told the facts on foreign affairs in the plain blunt kind of language we best understand and to which we always respond. Until nearly a month after the fall of France whatever information the President gave us on events abroad was sandwiched between thick slabs of purely domestic New Deal boasts.

Public attention was deliberately diverted from the real, and increasingly ominous, facts of international relations. Instead it was shrewdly centered on the glittering illusions of New Deal prophets.

PRACTICAL measures for defense were equally neglected.

From 1922 to 1933 expenses for our armed forces averaged 20 per cent of our annual governmental costs. BUT IN 1934, these vital expenses were cut to less than 9 per cent, and at no time during the next six years did they reach 20 per cent again.

The defense of the United States was, from 1933 to 1941 in the eyes of the Roosevelt administration, a secondary consideration. The whole impermissible influence of the administration was thrown AGAINST preparing the people of the United States for war.

On December 4, 1939, after Poland had been invaded and partitioned and all Europe stood at arms, Treasury Secretary Morgenthau told a press conference:

"To make it perfectly clear, we are certainly not going to give advantages to anybody who is making munitions rather than peacetime materials. If we were left to me, I would give the peacetime manufacturer a break over the war manufacturer."

"Ask if all the stories of tax concessions to war order manufacturers are out?" Mr. Morgenthau answered:

"Completely! If it rested with me as to whether a fellow would get a break because he had a munitions contract, I'm afraid he would fare rather badly."

YET MR. MORGENTHAU must have known that munitions are essential to defense, and that the chief of staff had just warned:

"The army machine is probably less than 25 per cent ready for immediate action." Only munitions manufacturers could supply the missing 75 per cent.

The Budget Bureau, always under administration guidance, in November and December, 1939 radically reduced the sums asked by the army and navy for necessary defense preparations.

Mr. Roosevelt reversed this policy of insufficiency in his budget message of January 2, 1940, in these words:

"This is an increase . . . over the current year, but it is far less than many experts on national defense think should be spent, though IN MY JUDGMENT IT IS A SUFFICIENT AMOUNT FOR THE COMING YEAR."

In plain words President Roosevelt rejected the advice of men who knew, preferring to follow his own "judgment."

So They Say

Officers kept roasting us; and I don't know how many times I put my pants on and took them off. It was highly on, on all night long. Fred Astaire, commenting on German bombing of the Belgian front.

erred it, and have foreseen what could possibly occur."

is the quintessence of the Ludendorff-Hitler-Nazi system. But two can play at that game. And in the interest of the first law of life, self-preservation, we must "consider and foresee" from now on.

After they attacked us, we mobilized, too, and our soldiers moved swiftly from the defensive to the offensive. They know what they want—a world free from aggression—and they are willing to fight to attain it.

But our enemies fight with more than men and military weapons; they use treachery and deceit. They fight war in peace. This type of war offends our deepest instincts. We find it beneath contempt. So we have tried to ignore it.

We can no longer afford to ignore it. The enemies' aim is the destruction of our freedom and our pattern of life, and the theft of our wealth and our resources. To this end they have perfected their secret army, their hidden strategy, with campaigns of moral, mental, economic and political subversion.

By utilizing existing world trends to camouflage their real intentions and merely exploiting and shaping them with propaganda, the Germans have already achieved a far measure of success. One might call these propaganda campaigns Trojan horses. The Germans have a whole stable full of them. (To Be Continued) hidden war. Talking to a Frenchman whom he wanted to impress, the German officer happened to speak in the presence of another Frenchman who recorded the conversation in La France Libre, July 15, 1943: "Peace? There will be no peace anywhere in the world until the guns cease roaring, and the German, and added that "the battle of the fifth columns will follow the battles of tanks and armored cars."

The Nazis are not afraid to warn us. They rely on our disregarding the warnings as we did before, and bludgeoning them off as the utterances of crackpots and cranks, and forgetting that both can be dangerous.

FROM what I heard from responsible Nazis in Berlin, they have neglected no measure of infiltration for the inner war. The men of the secret general staff have sent big squads of industrialists, bankers, labor organizers, women, professors, and aristocrats to various countries to arouse sympathy, secure underground hideouts in case of need, and to enlist future quislings.

They have honeycombed South America with agents trained in their new, enlarged fifth-column tactics. Everywhere, in both Americas, they have invited racial groups, anti-Semitic groups, university professors and students, and the numberless, formless, frustrated people who hope for advancement with Nazi help. American newspapers have reported case after case of arrests of Nazi and Japanese sympathizers in this country—air raid wardens, professors' wives, heads of manufacturing concerns. But these were simply the individuals who were careless or reckless. We must anticipate that they are only a small part of the big whole.

Napoleon once said: "If I appear always ready to meet every emergency, to confront every problem, it is because before undertaking any enterprise I have long consid-

LOST? WHO'S LOST?
SUWANEE, Ga. (AP)—Neighbors and state patrolmen searched all night for 2-year-old Billy Wheeler after he disappeared from the front yard of his home.

His grandfather found the child cuddled up in a pine thicket with two kittens, apparently none the worse for his night out in the open.

HOLLYWOOD—I have to laugh at the way Germany and Japan try to boost each other's morale. When the Germans were retreating pell-mell across France, Tokyo sent congratulatory messages to the Jap fleet for its "victory" off Formosa.

If anyone deserves congratulations it's the messengers who were able to find the Jap fleet to deliver the message.

There's a real Sherlock Holmes. Radio Tokyo says that Halsey's fleet has been annihilated. This makes the fourth or fifth time that they have "annihilated" Halsey's fleet. I'm waiting for the day the Jap messenger rushes into Hirohito's throne room to deliver that message and finds Halsey sitting there.

SEN. BALL

added, would be confused and weak and his leadership hampered by a serious division among his own supporters.

"On that basis," he concluded, "I shall vote for and support President Roosevelt."

The effects of Ball's announcement on the campaign remain to be determined.

The Missourian said that in the domestic field, Dewey would not reverse or abandon any major objective or policy of the present administration, although, he continued, Dewey does promise more efficient administration and a friendlier attitude toward business which the senator said were needed.

Ball added that domestic issues, however, cannot be separated from international issues. The war offers proof, he said, that in today's shrinking world America's action at home has terrific repercussions abroad and that solutions for international problems will shape and limit choices at home.

The "miraculous record" of the American system in the war proves it is stronger than ever, Ball said, despite changes in federal policy and administrative mistakes in the last 12 years.

"It can't and will survive domestic blunders," he asserted, "but neither our enterprise system nor our democratic institutions will survive a Third World War. Therefore, foreign policy which the American people choose for their government in this election becomes all-important."

With some mistakes and timidity, Ball said, the Roosevelt administration has reversed an isolationist foreign policy followed for two decades and has established American leadership in the United Nations in fighting the war and developing an organization for future world security.

How Americans can prosper in farm communities developed new political arguments, along with the question of how America might work in a community of nations.

Governor Thomas E. Dewey traveled from New York State to the Midwest with his summary of a postwar agricultural program, which he is expected to broadcast from Minneapolis tomorrow. He could reserve it for his Wednesday appearance at Chicago.

The choice of Minneapolis would place the republican Presidential nominee in the same city where over the week-end Vice President Wallace predicted that under a republican administration the net farm income would "be cut in half within a few years."

Republican Chairman Brownell said in a statement at New York that the President's foreign policy speech Saturday night tried "to read the republican party out of the Union" but that since Pearl Harbor the people "have increasingly turned to the republican party for vigorous and competent leadership."

From Rochester, N. Y., Publisher Frank Gannett of the Gannett newspapers telegraphed President Roosevelt that he was guilty of "gross misrepresentation" in calling the Gannett papers "isolationist."

Other developments of a Presidential campaign, which socialist Norman Thomas, veteran of five of them, says is the hardest to judge of "any year I have run".

Russell W. Davenport, 1940 campaign manager for Wendell L. Willkie, said in a New York broadcast that while he is not satisfied "with the pronouncements or commitments" of either Mr. Roosevelt or Gov. Dewey he is impressed with what he called the President's "firm and tangible steps taken in the direction of mutual peace."

The executive board of the steelworkers' union said in closing a convention at Pittsburgh that Dewey is backed by steel manufacturers who "have clawed at labor organizations with a ferocious desire to destroy them."

An Associated Press survey of cities of over 500,000 population showed their vote registrations are at a record peak. Including service vote applications, these registrations aggregate slightly more than 12,000,000, as compared with 11,251,461 in 1940.

TANK UNITS

Weather slowed operations elsewhere. Canadians wiping out the Scheide pocket seized the ferry port of Brekens. Fort Frederick-Hendrik, and Schoonelike. Other Canadians moving north of Antwerp seized Eschen, strengthening the salient to the west to cut off and liquidate the Germans on Scheide estuary islands, where enemy guns dominate the water route to Antwerp.

East of Nancy, Americans captured the town of Bezange la Petite, and fought for Moncourt in the area below German defenses. Flooded by breaching of a dam near Dieuze. Still farther south, other doughboys made gains beyond Lunerville and Epinal.

In the Aachen sector, First army troops battled to clean out the town of Wurselen, four miles northeast of that city. Berlin radio said the First army apparently had completed its regrouping, bringing up "vast" tank reinforcements for an imminent blow along the front.

Services for Pvt. Howard E. Compton, 24, who was wounded in action on Bik Island, of the New Guinea group, southwest Pacific, were conducted at 2 this afternoon in the Dunkel-Garnichael funeral home with Rev. Buren L. Higdon, pastor of the First Baptist church, Mobeetie, officiating.

no organized resistance to the First cavalry division.

The enemy has been virtually cut off from sea reinforcements and their remaining air force was limited to dusk and dawn sorties against the great American fleet of more than 600 ships in Leyte Gulf.

As U. S. forces rolled ahead, Sello Kobayashi, president of Japan's imperial rule assistance political society, moaned over Tokyo radio. "The enemy, with great military strength and numerical superiority is attempting to wipe us out."

His plaint coincided with MacArthur's cold warning that imperial warlords would be held responsible for the brutal treatment of prisoners such as the "death march" perpetrated on Bataan prisoners by the present defenders of Leyte.

Chinese counter-attacks, supported by U. S. warplanes, penetrated Japanese positions threatening Luchoo, only remaining American airbase in Southeast China.

INDIANAPOLIS—(AP)—Dr. Thurman B. Rice, state health director of Indiana, complained bitterly to city authorities last week that a taxicab driver had overcharged him by 10 cents.

Dr. Rice disclosed last night that "some cab driver" had sent him a dime refund.

Classification Form Useful to Farmers

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 22—Texas cotton farmers may use their Smith-Doxey classification as evidence of grade and staple under the 1944 cotton purchase program. This information was received by the A. and M. college extension service from the Dallas office of distribution of the war food administration's cotton and fiber branch.

Classification must be based upon a representative cut sample drawn from both sides of the bale and delivered or forwarded to a board of examiners by either the warehouseman executing the storage agreement or by bonded sampler, according to this information. In the latter case the notation "bonded sampler" must be marked on the cotton form.

Information on bonding of samplers will be available soon in the office of distribution's area cotton offices at Austin, Dallas, Galveston, Lubbock and El Paso. Last year, 1,147 improvement groups in Texas representing 107,164 farmers had 1,474,779 bales classified under the Smith-Doxey program.

The roots of the date palm must have plenty of water, while above ground the atmosphere must be dry and hot for the ripening fruit.

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen Need Not Embarrass
Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable, does not wear. Checks "white odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

How We Can Lick The New Deal IN TEXAS

There are 550,000—or More—anti-Roosevelt Voters in Texas—Enough to WIN!
How Can We Make Our Votes Count?

THE WRONG WAY—THE RIGHT WAY!

Some say, "Let's all vote Republican." But all will not vote Republican. Here's what happens then:

- 40,000 "Died-in-the-wool" Republicans
- 100,000 Independents, no party label
- 150,000 Fightin' mad Democrats
- 290,000 TOTAL—NOT ENOUGH!

Too many of us were born and reared Democrats. If you were a state or county official, elected by the Democratic Party, you certainly wouldn't vote Republican. Neither would your family or friends. But plenty of them WILL vote for the Texas Regulars (Democrats) November 7.

No Collar on the Regulars!

Let's face the facts—what are you really for? Are you really anxious to elect Dewey? Or to stop Roosevelt and the New Deal?

The Texas Regulars are not pledged to ANY candidate. Their electors are free agents—and they are able and respected citizens of Texas. Let's trust our Texas Regular electors to cast Texas' 23 electoral votes the best way possible to STOP ROOSEVELT AND THE NEW DEAL!

The Texas Regulars are against the Communistic, anti-Christian doctrines of the New Deal. Against attempts of the federal enforcement to mix negroes and whites in the South. Against centralization of government in boards and bureaus not elected by, nor responsible to the people. Against outsiders running Texas.

The Texas Regulars are for Constitutional Government. For the right of each state to govern its own internal affairs. The Texas Regulars are for a house-cleaning in the Democratic Party.

The New Deal MUST BE STOPPED! It CAN be stopped—IN TEXAS! By voting Republican? No. Look at the figures above. And remember, all the votes all over the U. S. don't go into one big pot—we vote BY STATES! Every Republican vote in Texas November 7th will be a wasted vote! Thinking Republicans will see this—ask them. And—it will be a close election. The electoral votes of Texas may decide it!

United, we win! Divided, we fail. Every last vote will be needed. But we CAN win! The New Deal CAN BE STOPPED—IN TEXAS!

And if you wish to contribute to this great cause, get it to your county chairman TODAY! There's not an hour to lose!
