BLIZZARD TIES UP PAMPA AREA

Hundreds of Autos Stalled on Roads

Tired, wet, wind-blown road crews were still digging out hundreds of stalled cars on highways around Pampa today in the wake of last night's blizzard that disrupted communications and closed schools here today.

Lack of telephone communications forestalled any accurate reports on the general situation today but the problem had boiled down to opening up highways and extricating cars buried in snow drifts.

Other than the inevitable results of exposure, no injuries or serious personal harm was reported, even though hundreds of motorists were trapped in stalled cars on all highways.

Parachute Needed To Land Safely

Had former District Attorney Walter Rogers had a parachute yesterday, he might have been able to get off that plane at Amarillo but he wound up in Denver instead.

Rogers was reported to have called his wife here yesterday and told her to meet the plane at Amarillo—the plane which was bringing him back from Austin.

However, Rogers called later in the day from Denver. The plane had been unable to land at Amarillo due to the storm.

14 Convicts Are Recaptured After 21 Escape Prison

HOUSTON, Texas.—(P)—Twenty-one convicts, 12 of them Latin Americans, escaped from the Harlingen State Prison No. 2 near Sugarland early today after slashing a guard with a knife and threatening another with a gun.

Fourteen of the convicts were recaptured, with only seven Latin Americans remaining at large at 8 a. m. today, according to Captain W. W. Hall, assistant manager of the farm.

All roads and bridges in the counties surrounding the prison farm blocked by guards and peace officers in an attempt to round up the seven fugitives still at large. Captain Hall said, "Three packs of dogs are being used in trailing some of the men, he added."

"Boss" Harrington, inside picket guard, was called to the door of one of the prison farm "banks" a little after midnight, prison officials said. One of the escapes, believed to be Mitchell J. Carter, pulled a knife, cutting the guard around the head and chest and snatched his keys.

The prisoner unlocked the doors to all four of the inside tanks and then called to the outside picket guard, Henry Lewis, telling him that the inside guard was sick and needed help. The guard, who was being held by the picket guard, was taken to the door to be met by the convicts armed with Harrington's pistol. Lewis was disarmed and tied up.

Captain Hall stated that apparently all the cell and tank doors were opened by Carter, but that of the 18 prisoners thus freed, only 21 cared to make the break.

All nine of the non-Latin Americans had been captured by 2 a. m. today, was one American, Captain. They were picked up on a highway near Richmond while six were captured at Ganado, near Wharton.

Captain Hall guesses that more than half of the seven men still at large would be captured before noon today.

The condition of "Boss" Harrington, who was knifed and knocked out by the prisoners, was described by prison officials as being "all right" although he was still a pretty sick man.

American Motorship Explodes, 1 Dead

GENOA.—(P)—Two heavy explosions aboard the American motorship Edmund Fanning at her dock here today were reported to have killed one man and injured 10 of her crew of 60 and left her in flames.

The prow of the vessel was badly damaged. There was no immediate explanation of the blasts.

Lloyd's Register of Shipping lists the Edmund Fanning as a 1,716-ton vessel built in 1943 and registered out of Los Angeles.

The dead man was identified officially as Mike Monica, a native of Hoboken, N. J. Among the injured was one American, Melvin Springfield, 22, who sustained a spinal injury.

High Officers Barred From Austrian Army

LONDON.—(P)—The Moscow radio said the Big Four Foreign Ministers' Deputies agreed today to bar from the Austrian army high officers who had held the rank of colonel or higher in the wartime Army. The deputies met to continue drafting an Austrian peace treaty.

GREECE SPOTLIGHTS WORLD IN TURMOIL

ENGLAND: Worst winter in years brings on most severe industrial and financial crisis in nation's history. Food rationing tighter than during war. Many prophesy empire's doom.

GERMANY: Hoover reports lowest living level in 100 years, that U. S. and Britain must spend $475,000,000 each in next 18 months to prevent starvation.

POLAND: Generally worst off country in Europe; widespread famine; pro-Red government in power through reportedly fixed elections trying to crush anti-Communist underground.

USSR: Extreme shortage of food; hunger, consumer goods; blurring throughout much of land with usual starvation gripping Ukraine, "bread basket" of Russia.

KOREA: Provisional native government, unrecognized by U. S., strives for power; nationwide clashes between left and right groups; anti-American demonstrations.

AUSTRIA: Four-power occupation cripples economy; industry, food production.

ROMANIA: Gripped by famine called by Europe in past 50 years.

YUGOSLAVIA: As UNRRA ends activities in Europe, this country faces grave food crisis.

PALESTINE: "Open war" on British by Jewish underground; immigration difficulties multiply; Jewish turn problem over to UN.

FRANCE: Big cities strike-ridden as low income groups protest 70 per cent inflation; public cooperation in emergency was credited by many officials with having offset possible disastrous effects of the blizzard.

ITALY: People riot over peace terms; country struck on with inflation; food and fuel shortages; black marketing is rife.

CHINA: On verge of complete breakdown as fantastic inflation ravages people, disrupts business. Civil war flares as U. S. quits.

INDIA: With independence promised next year by British, Moslems and Hindus fail to agree; hundreds die in violent riots.

FORMOSA: Rioting of Formosans demanding independence; estimated 10,000 casualties.

Workers Picket Telephone Stoppage Effective

With no comment to make to the press, members of the local union of Bell Telephone operators walked off the job at 8 a. m. today and went into "continuous meeting" in the basement of the Schneider Hotel.

A staff of four switchboard operators, composed of non-union workers, and supervisors reported for duty this morning and answered "emergency calls only."

Since the local telephone company is not a closed shop, according to the company manager, some operators were available to handle the emergency calls that are limited to fire, ambulance, serious illness, hospital calls, and death messages. George Newberry, manager of the company, said the union did not leave any operators on to handle any of these calls.

Shell Properties

HOUSTON.—(P)—CIO oil workers began picketing the Shell Oil Company properties at Deer Park at midnight last night after a last-minute effort to settle the long dispute failed. Only emergency maintenance crews remained on duty.

The strike is the only Oil Workers' International Union action in the nation that has forced a major shutdown of an oil industry in current wage and contract negotiations.

"We have no alternative but to strike because the company has rejected our offer of voluntary arbitration," said G. H. Canlier, president of the union's Local 367.

Deadline Near for New Auto Licenses

With the 1947 auto license deadline two weeks away less than 1500 passenger licenses have been issued in the county tax collector's office it was learned today from Deputy Tax Collector Jack Back.

The state originally set the office 7,250 passenger licenses he said and advised those who wish to avoid a last minute rush and having to stand in line to get their plates now.

A person caught and arrested after April 1 for still carrying 1946 tags can be fined up to $200 and also penalized 20 percent additional for his license plates. Back added.

'Anemic Corpses' Is Enacted at McLean

McLEAN.—(Special)—"Anemic Corpses," one of a series of plays written and presented by English students, was presented yesterday afternoon at the school auditorium.

The play, a tragedy, was written by Bobby Kramer and Johnny Hayes. The cast included Ralph Adams, Vernon Turner, Evelyn Allen, Jack Brooks, Rodney Barker, Peggy Short, Johnny Hayes, Bob Kramer, LaWanda Shadd, Jimmie Newton and Joyce Grigsby. The instructor is Miss Glennie Gallegly.

Marshall Lashes Out at Soviet Plan For Denazification in German Zone

MOSCOW.—(P)—Secretary of State Marshall, speaking on denazification before the Foreign Ministers today, said that the United States has "been disturbed by frequent reports in the Soviet zone of Germany that former active Nazis may be cleared by joining the Socialist Unity (Communist) Party."

Apparently speaking to forestall an expected Soviet attack on American zone denazification, Marshall read a three page statement relating that 12,000,000 persons have been registered for investigation, 200,000 tried and 370,000 removed from office in the U. S. section of Germany.

The secretary added that the American zone denazification went far beyond Allied control authority directives, and asserted "there is nothing to conceal."

He pointed out Allied Control Council had received full reports on denazification in the Eastern (Soviet) zone of Germany and added "my government opposes the use of denazification in favor of any political party."

Top American diplomats said Secretary of State Marshall was determined henceforth to keep U. S. foreign policy on the offensive. But as the Council of Foreign Ministers prepared for its fourth session, top conference sources said the Americans might have to face the reality of a split Germany.

"These informants said American policy never would accept this as a permanent condition, but that the United States, Britain and France might have to deal for a long time with a de facto divided Germany."

Marshall's reported decision to remain the offensive from here on in Europe.

No One Injured in Two Auto Wrecks Here

City Police yesterday afternoon investigated at least two collisions within less than four hours.

The first one happened directly in front of the News office at 4:30 p. m. when a 1939 Ford coach crashed into the back of a 1946 Chevrolet truck. M. C. Johnson, 401 Yeager St., told police he was slowing up to stop for another car when the passenger car, driven by Mrs. Speed Branard, hit him in the rear. Damage to the passenger car was estimated by police at $200 while the truck's damage was limited to some possible scraped paint.

At 7:30 p. m. 1937 Plymouth driven by Dewey Blanton, 411 N. Hill St., collided with a TNAO bus of Lubbock, driven by W. M. Greer of Lubbock, at the intersection of S. Cuyler and Browning Sts. Damage to the Plymouth was estimated at $100. There were no injuries.

No arrests were made in either accident reported.

U. S. Is Confronted With Need for Quick Decision on Strength of Armed Forces

WASHINGTON.—(P)—President Truman's newly enunciated foreign policy confronted the United States today with the problem of deciding quickly whether to continue reducing its armed strength.

The address to Congress carried no implication that an armed clash is expected or contemplated. However, the armed forces are maintained for the support of foreign policy in time of peace.

At the War and Navy Departments no one was prepared to say immediately what part any new foreign commitments might have on the planned size of the armed services. It was pointed out, nevertheless, that a critical time element is involved in at least two phases of this general question:

- 1—Should the planned average strength for the year beginning next July of 1,070,000 for the army and 571,000 for the navy be carried out or should the rate of reduction be checked to stabilize the armed services at a higher manpower figure?
- 2—In this case, will Congress and the White House proceed with Mr. Truman's recommendation of March 3 that Selective Service be not renewed upon its expiration date of March 31?

The nation's military forces are of definitely modest proportions in the area where the new foreign policy focuses most sharply, the Mediterranean. The situation in that area seems to be this:

Naval forces—three light cruisers, the Dayton, Portsmouth and Providence, and six destroyers. Under the rotation plan, a carrier normally would be on station in the Mediterranean, but all such craft in active service now are in the Western Atlantic, most of them on maneuvers in the Caribbean area.

Army ground forces—the nearest organized military force (strength unstated) is headquarters force of the Mediterranean theater of operations at Rome. Some troops also are on occupation duty in the Trieste area, at the head of the Adriatic.

Army air forces—virtually no

State, Navy, War Chiefs Are Heard

Washington.—(P)—Heads of the State, Navy and War Department discussed with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee behind closed doors today President Truman's appeal for $400,000,000 cash and indirect military help for Greece and Turkey.

War Secretary Patterson, Navy Secretary Forrestal and Acting State Secretary Acheson brought along top aides to explain details of the proposed moves which some members of Congress openly declared might lead eventually to war with Russia.

To report on the military aspects of the President's proposal to help train and sustain Greek and Turkish troops, Forrestal had Vice Admiral F. P. Sherman, deputy chief of naval operations, with him.

Undersecretary of War Kenneth C. Royall and Brig. Gen. Miles Reber accompanied Patterson.

DeWitt MacKenzie Writes:

"Yesterday's historic development... is a matter of grave concern, but it scarcely can cause surprise to those who have been watching closely over a long period. It's the big showdown which was inevitable, and the most remarkable thing about it is that it didn't come sooner."

Hungary, Korea May Be Next to Receive U. S. Aid

WASHINGTON.—(P)—War-torn Hungary and occupied Korea have biggest today on any list of potential candidates for extension of President Truman's declaration of support for free peoples.

Officials of several government departments already are at work on proposals to help these two nations whose plight—like that of Greece and Turkey—has remained at least in part from Soviet Russia's expansive pressure.

The foreign help which the United States has extended since V-E Day suggests that a global projection of the policy Mr. Truman outlined yesterday to Congress might later include China and Italy as well. But what other countries along the democratic frontier ultimately may claim American support remains for the future to disclose.

This government made plain its intent to bolster Hungary in announcing a $15,000,000 surplus property credit last month.

However, signs this week that leaders of the smaller party majority may be knocking under to the Communists and leftist bloc have raised questions whether the further assistance that was promised February 15 may now be too late if not too little.

Recommendation Received in Greece; Turkey With 'Profound Satisfaction'

LONDON.—(P)—Britain today officially welcomed President Truman's declaration on Greece and Turkey, and the President's recommendations to Congress were received in Greek and Turkish official circles here with expressions ranging from "profound satisfaction" to "extreme joy."

A British foreign office spokesman told a crowded news conference:

"The British government welcomes Mr. Truman's statement to Congress. The views he expressed on the question of governments being imposed on sovereign states in Europe are very much in accord with our own views. And, on a number of occasions, we have conveyed those beliefs to certain governments whose elections have not been carried out in line with their pledges."

In Istanbul, Premier Recep Peker of Turkey said the President's "American and human speech" indicated the United States had weakened to the world situation. He said he believed the speech reflected American public opinion in a day when security was no longer a local problem.

Mr. Truman's message to a joint Cabinet's regular weekly meeting, discussed today at the British Cabinet's regular weekly meeting, official sources disclosed.

These sources said Defense Minister A. V. Alexander and Field Marshal Lord Montgomery, Chief of the Imperial Staff, would meet with their advisers shortly to study the short-range and long-range implications of active United States participation in the Mediterranean.

Replying to questions from European correspondents, the foreign office spokesman said Britain was conscious of the "imperfections" of the Greek government mentioned by the President, and never had denied the existence of imperfections. Britain, he said, proposed to

ALARMING

FRANKLIN, Ind.—(P)—The Franklin Fire Department sped to a fire at the rural residence of J. B. Hicks but they got there too late—and also missed getting to a second fire.

The firemen got lost and before they found the Hicks residence the family and neighbors had extinguished the blaze.

Meanwhile, with the entire department out, a fire destroyed Ed Hill's dairy barn.

McNarney Rejects Russian Accusation

FRANKFURT, Germany.—(P)—Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, retiring commander in Germany, told a news conference today that he "completely rejects the accusation" of Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov that the United States was maintaining German military formations in its occupation zone.

The British government welcomes Mr. Truman's statement to Congress. The views he expressed on the question of governments being imposed on sovereign states in Europe are very much in accord with our own views. Take the Laughter

WEEK STORY: Sherry and Mona sent a message together in one of Hollywood's big love courts. She works in an insurance office and is making a play for her married boss, George Brothers. Sherry keeps home, wants to write, writes about Mona's interest in Brothers. She becomes friendly with the three boys who live at the end of the court. She writes to Punch, wants to act in the motion picture. Tony wants to direct and Danah Kris hopes to become a producer.

HALLOWEEN night Mona was dressing to go out to a party with George Brothers when the telephone rang.

Sherry answered. It was Tony. "Are you busy?" he wanted to know. "Kris and Sandro are out and I've got the car. Would you like to do something?"

"I'd love to," Sherry told him. "Come over in about 20 minutes." And she hung up.

"I'm going to dress," she said to Mona. "We'll probably only go to a movie but I feel like dressing. Tony has the car."

Mona laughed. She said, "You hadn't better go out of walking distance in that jalopy."

George Brothers came while Sherry was changing her dress. Mona shut the bedroom door and called, "Good night, darling; have a good time."

Sherry put on a well-worn black velvet, but it had been a good dress and she always felt comfortable in it. Then she slipped on her squirrel jacket that she kept for very best.

When Tony came to the door he looked surprised and a little worried.

He said, "I just thought we might take a ride," very quickly. Sherry nodded.

"That's why I dressed so warmly," she told him.

Tony seemed relieved. He said, "You look lovely."

The car was parked in the street. It was low and racy and very yellow. Sherry had ridden in it before—both times she had gone to Henri's with the boys. It made an alarming amount of noise, but had stayed together on both trips.

She slid as far down as possible and laid her head against the back of the seat. The night was cool and electric. It excited Sherry—made her feel as if something was

DELICIOUS! BRAN MUFFINS

Flavored With Fresh Orange!
So quick and easy to make, too!

Kellogg's toasted All-Bran and fresh orange juice! Yummy! What flavor!

- 1/2 cup shorten - 1 1/2 cups sifted flour
- 1/2 cup sugar - 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 cup Kellogg's All-Bran - 1/2 teaspoon soda
- 1 teaspoon grated orange rind - 1/2 cup orange juice
- 1/2 cup milk

Mix shortening and sugar. Add egg; beat well. Stir in Kellogg's All-Bran and orange rind. Add sifted dry ingredients to first mixture alternately with orange juice and milk. Stir only until flour disappears. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake in moderate oven (400° F.) about 30 minutes. Makes 10 orange-y muffins.

going to happen.

They did not talk at first. Tony headed for the beach. After a while they went through "everly." Some of the big houses were lighted up, and there were cars parked in the driveways, as though the people who lived there were giving parties.

Suddenly Tony said, "We ought to go to a party tonight. That's the devilish part of being poor, it shuts you out of things."

He sounded bitter. Sherry felt sorry for him.

She said, "I think just riding around is fun."

Tony said, "In this crate? We ought to be sitting in the back of a limousine with a chauffeur."

Sherry shook her head.

"No, then we wouldn't have the wind. Besides, the chauffeur shouldn't be sitting with us."

Tony smiled, but after a while his face was grave again. He started talking about Vienna and his father who was Hans Dietrich, the composer. Sherry had not connected the name. She was surprised and impressed.

Tony told her about his two much older brothers and the magnificent uniforms they had worn when they were officers in the army; and how proud his father had been to walk down the snow-covered streets with his handsome, grown sons on either side of him.

Tony had intended to be an officer like them when he grew up. He had intended to have a waxed mustache and swear at the boy who polished his boots and laugh with lovely gay ladies and drink champagne out of satin slippers. But the war had come and Tony had been sent to school in Switzerland.

He had returned home to Vienna in the snow to find that his brothers had been killed and his father had died. The tenants on their estate were taking care of his mother. His beautiful, proud mother had been grateful for their charity.

After a while his mother had sent him to Italy. She was Italian and had relatives there. He had never seen her again. She had died a few months later.

SUDDENLY Tony stopped talking and for a moment he was still with embarrassment.

"I don't know why I told you all that," he said angrily. "I never told anybody before. It was an awful bore. I'm sorry."

Something, warm and happy flooded over Sherry. He had never told anybody before!

"I'm glad you told me!" she said.

They were at the beach now and had a hot dog. Then they sat and watched the dark water.

Sherry said, "When you're a great director, you'll know how to make people feel the things you've felt."

Tony said, "And you will write my stories!"

They made a lot of plans. Now it all seemed so easy to do, so simple to achieve. Sherry sighed a long sigh that stuck now and then in her stomach.

Tony said, "Happy?"

Sherry smiled.

She said, "I never was so happy in my life."

For a minute Tony looked as if he was going to say something. Sherry hoped that he would kiss her, but he said, "It's pretty late. I'd better take you back."

They did not talk much on the way home. Sherry had a lot of time to think. Love would be like this, she thought. That's what had happened to her! She was in love!

Education Discussed
By Rotary Club Speaker

H. P. Dollinger, assistant manager of the Southwest Chamber of Commerce, and veteran of World Wars I and II, yesterday addressed members and guests of the Pampa Rotary Club on "Education Is An Investment in People", and divided his lecture into both oral and illustrated.

Dollinger, in emphasizing the critical shortage of teachers because of higher wages being paid in other lines of endeavor, stated that Texas is now lacking over 5400 teachers in public schools and that all indications point toward a higher shortage. Throughout the nation today there are 10,000 classes and 2,000 schools shut down because of lack of teachers he said.

Special guests present for the meeting were representatives of the city and county school boards, city and county P-TA members, city and county school administrators, members of the Chamber of Commerce and others.

Club singing was led by Virgil Mott who in turn shared the leadership with Earl Rogers of the Borber Rotary Club. Rogers also sang several solos.

Fred Sweazy was appointed captain of the Rotary's Red Cross worker's team. The ten co-workers from the club were named by Sweazy.

Irvin Cole, president of the Rotary, had charge of the meeting.

The condition of the workingman under Communist rule is the theme of the second in the series of radio dramas, "Safeguards for America," presented by the Supreme Council of the Knights of Columbus and sponsored locally by Frank Keim Council No. 2767, to be heard tonight at 6:30 p. m., over Station KPDN.

Actual labor conditions in Soviet Russia are depicted in contrast with conditions under our American democracy and the portrayal leaves many difficult questions for Communist Party organizers in the United States to answer.

The next program in the series will be an exposure of the true situation of religion and education in the Soviet Union and will be broadcast next Tuesday evening at the same time, 6:30.

Hollywood Gets Into Fight Against Racial, Religious Antagonism

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Because many people here think the fight against intolerance is more important now than ever, Hollywood will produce another short subject to combat racial and religious antagonism. The star again will be Frank Sinatra, who won a special Academy Award last year for a similar subject, "The House I Live In."

Irving Berlin is writing a song for the short, which will be a non-profit venture. Freight Reduction Granted on Sulphur

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission has ordered a six cent per ton reduction in the freight rate case on carload sulphur from Texas mines to Galveston for further shipment by water. The new rate is effective May 1.

The action was taken on a petition by the Inland Waterways Corporation, operating the Federal Barge Lines. The American Barge Lines supported the petition.

The case grew out of a general authorization for increased freight rates effective at the start of 1947. At that time, railroads increased the $1.07 ton rate from Texas mines to Galveston 21 cents.

The commission said it acted to maintain a previous relationship between all-rail and rail-barge charges in issuing its finding that the increase should be limited to 15 cents per ton instead of to 21 cents.

Round-Table Discussion
On Job Qualifications
Is Held by BPW Club

The Trouble With Jobs Is People was the topic of discussion Tuesday evening when members of the Business and Professional Women's Club met in the City Club Rooms for their regular program meeting for March.

Mrs. Bertha Chisum was in charge of the program and led a round-table discussion. Mrs. Chisum pointed out that everyone should be able to accept constructive criticism and expressed her wish that the views of those present would help others.

In answer to the question "What qualifications do you consider of a person seeking employment?" Mrs. Myrtle Simmons stated "appearance and attention, qualifications and experience." Mrs. Simmons thought it important for the employer to make the person seeking a position feel at ease. She also believes that an employer should recognize effort as well as achievement of employees.

In applying for a position Mrs. Lillian Jordan would consider permanent and chance for advancement. Mrs. Laura Bell Cornelius, in accepting applications, would consider capabilities and adaptability. Mrs. Cornelius believes in paying a livable wage as she believes that "starvation wages" tend to bring about a loss to employer as the employee is not interested enough to do his best work and there are always comebacks.

Ann Chapman stated that a pleasant manner is very essential, especially for nurses and assistants in doctors offices. Mrs. Chisum thought that a person's attitude has much to do with a person's success in his work.

Dr. Minnie L. Maffet, past president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women Clubs, once asked "What are we going to about women who won't think for themselves?" It is evident that business and professional women are going to have to do the thinking for those women and for the younger girls who start to work, especially those girls that went to work during the war when jobs were so plentiful and who thought they could go from one job to another as they desired. The time is coming when jobs will not be

Recent Bride Is Shower Honoree

Mrs. Billy John Shurley, the former Miss Ouida Nell Overstreet, was honored at a miscellaneous shower Friday evening when Mrs. Arva Jo Saylor, Mrs. Florine Duke, Miss Peggy Stephens, and Miss Betty Lee Thomason entertained in the home of Miss Stephens, 1117 N. Russell.

The St. Patrick's theme was carried out in the decorations, entertainment and refreshments. A lovely arrangement of green and white carnations was used on the mantel and a wishing well banked by green and white carnations formed the centerpiece of the table. The gifts were drawn from the well by the guests who then presented them to the bride.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wright sang "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," accompanied at the piano by Miss Elsa Plants who also played an Irish song for the musical game. Other Irish games were played including "Kissing of the Blarney Stone."

Refreshments of lime sherbet punch, shamrock-shaped sandwiches, assorted nuts, and mints were served.

Others present were Mesdames Hazel Watson, Merle Evans, Billie Phelps, Opal Kiss, and Marcelene Nachlinger, and Misses Pat Bissett, Gladys Romero, and Charlie Bright.

As plentiful as they have been the past few years, the gifts for the program session chairs were drawn up to the table which was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with candles and a center piece of flowers. Tea, cookies and Chinese sandwiches were served to the members present. Mrs. Chisum had purchased the sandwiches when visiting Chisumtown and each sandwich contained a fortune.

Those present were: Muriel Kitchens, Mildred Lafferty, Bertha Chisum, Katherine Martin, Myrtle Simmons, Tommie Stone, Lona Killen, Leona Parker, Lucille Foster, Lillian Jordan, Gladys Jaynes, Maggine Hollie, Lucille Turner, Laura Bell Cornelius, Edna Poe, Vicki Williams, Madge Rusk, Dorothea Ward, Elsie Gee, Frances Appleby, Ann Chapman, Florence Merriman, Maurine Jones, Vena Reilly, Evara Crawford, Nell Tinnen, Altha Elliott, Dorothy McMurray, Capt. Beulah Carroll, and Valora Losher.

Dr. Walton Urges Christian Attitude
At WMU Banquet for the Senior Class

An occasion long to be remembered by the Senior Class of Pampa High School was the formal banquet given for them Tuesday evening by the Women's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church. It was held at 8 o'clock in the basement of the church with Dr. Truett Walton, assistant to the president at Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, as guest speaker, and Calvin Whatley as toastmaster.

The address of welcome was given by Mrs. Rufe Jordan, general chairman of the banquet committee, and the response was made by Bill Speer, president of the Senior Class. Invocation was given by R. Virgil Mott, educational director of the church.

In telling the Seniors how to fill their places in society, Dr. Walton advised them to always retain the Christian attitude toward all people and all things, maintain friendships, and to find the job they wanted most to do and were best fitted for, and to always strive to do that job well. He gave a number of very appropriate illustrations carrying out his points.

The Springtime theme of flowers and music was carried out in the decorations and menu. The banquet room was a veritable musical flower garden with streamers of varicolored crepe paper flowers and musical notes suspended from the ceiling producing a beautiful effect. At each end of the room were flower gardens set off with white picket fences. The larger one was dominated by a huge "orchestra leader" in top hat and tails. The garden also contained two trees in which were bird nests and a pair of birds. About the walls were more musical notes and symbols, and on one wall the word "Springtime" was spelled out in large letters of different Spring colors. Another life-size orchestra leader was on guard at the entrance, while smaller ones were used in the sweetens and fern flower garden centerpieces on each of the 14 white damask-covered tables. Tall burning tapers in the Spring colors were placed at intervals on each table. On the piano were two hand-made lyres, and hand-made favors at each place included miniature orchestra leaders, musical symbols and miniature sheet music. All the decorations were made by the ladies on the committees.

Mrs. Mack Hiatt, musical instructor at the Junior High School, sang three numbers. "Springtime," "I Am a Tinker's Loner" and "When Day Is Done," accompanied on the piano by Miss Eloise Lane who was also accompanist for the "Squeaky Door" four quartette, Reed Wadsworth, Duke Balthrop, "Chick" Hickman and "Bunny" Schultz, who were screamingly funny in their old-time barber shop quartet costumes. They made quite a hit with their audience and were called on again and again for encores. Their numbers included their own arrangements of some modern songs as well as the old-time favorites.

Six members of the Senior Class, Bill Bain, Ivan Marlin, James Niver, Tommy Riggs, Tommy McLaughlin and Bill Speer, led by A. C. Troop, presented a very amusing hat trick comedy act with Bill Speer final winner of the hat.

Around 200 persons were present including members of the Senior Class, Mrs. Knox Kinard, Frank Wilson, (the speaker mentioned), Mrs. Elsie Pattillo, Miss Mary New, and Miss Margaret Jones, Senior Class sponsors; and ladies of the WMU committees headed by Mrs. Jordan, general chairman; Mrs. Joe B. Foster, decorator; Mrs. Claude Wilson, menu; and Mrs. A. L. Prigmore, dining room arrangements. Sixteen girls of the Junior Class assisted Mrs. Prigmore in serving the meal of fruit cocktails, baked ham, string beans, mashed potatoes, harvard beets, home-made rolls and butter, pink and green pear salad with cottage cheese, and vanilla ice cream with white cake iced in pink.

MRS. JOHN HAANSTAD

Bruton-Haanstad Vows
Exchanged in Church
Ceremony March 9

KELEVERVILLE—In an impressive candlelight ceremony solemnized Sunday afternoon, March 9, at 3 o'clock in the Baptist Church, Miss Meola Bruton became the bride of John Haanstad with Rev. W. E. Lawrence, pastor of the First Baptist Church of McLean, officiating at the double-ring service, while the couple stood before a white altar decorated with tall baskets of Easter lilies and ferns and flanked with white burning tapers in multi-branched candelabras.

Preceding the ceremony Norma Chapman lighted the candles. Miss Mary Beth D'Spain sang "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Miss Lota Mae Hughes at the piano. Miss Hughes also played the traditional wedding marches as processional and recessional.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, J. M. Bruton, wore a street-length dress of white gabardine with a shoulder-length veil and carried a white Bible with the bride's mother wore a grey crepe dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Joe Bruton, a brother of the bride, attended the bride as best man. Kenneth Bruton, also a brother of the bride, and Edwin Owen were ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in which the bride and groom cut a five-tiered wedding cake which was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. The centerpiece was a basket of Easter lilies flanked by pink candles. The cake was served by Mrs. Leland Newbury and Mrs. Mildred Scruggs presided at the punch bowl.

Mrs. Haanstad is a graduate of McLean High School and was the first girl from this district to join the Women's Army Corps, which was in September 1942. She served three years as a Wac at Fort Sheridan, Ill. After receiving her discharge she attended school at Oklahoma University.

Mr. Haanstad is a graduate of St. Olaf College at Northfield, Minn., and later attended the University of Minnesota, majoring in music. He spent four years in the Army and served in combat in both the European and Pacific theatres of war. The couple will be at home in Eau Claire, Wis.

It is true that our charities and philanthropies are increasing, but is there more of the milk of human kindness—Rev. Dr. Robert J. McCracken of New York.

Annual Guest Day Tea
Of Varietas Club Has
St. Patrick's Theme

The annual Guest Day Tea for members of the Varietas Study Club and their guests was held Tuesday afternoon in the City Club Rooms.

Mrs. J. C. Vollmert presided at the registry and had guests register on shamrock leaves.

Mrs. E. J. Haslam gave a few brief words of welcome and had each member introduce her guest.

Mrs. Quentin Williams gave an interesting review of Carl Wilson Baker's novel, "The Star of the Wilderness." Mrs. Baker is a Texas writer and is professor of English at Stephen F. Austin College at Nacogdoches.

Hostesses for the tea were Mesdames Luther Pierson, J. C. Vollmert, J. C. Williams, Ralph Thomas, and Horace McBee. Mrs. Irvin Cole, a guest, played several lovely Irish selections on the piano while Mrs. Haslam poured tea at the table which had as its centerpiece a beautiful arrangement of white and green carnations. The St. Patrick's theme was further carried out in the refreshments and decorations.

Kilgore Commission Opposes 2 Oil Bills

KILGORE—(AP)—The City Commission stood opposed today to two oil bills, known as the "de novo" and "unitization" measures now pending before the Texas Legislature.

The commission in a resolution said that enactment of the bills would be "an unjust discrimination of and work undue hardship on the independent oil operators of Texas."

Copies of the resolution were sent to Gov. Jester, Gregg County representatives and members of the Railroad Commission.

The "de novo" bill would allow the commission's earliest settlers, founded a wholesale grocery firm which was one of the largest west of the Mississippi River.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all, and costs little. It contains nothing harmful—just go to your drugist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barentine (formerly called Barcol Concentrate). Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

WALL STREET STOCKS
NEW YORK, March 12.—(AP)—Early and late rallies pushed the stock market ahead today for the first time in nearly a week despite nervous trading attending President Truman's foreign policy address.

Steels and motors, leaders in the move, trimmed or lost their morning gains before buying orders supplied impetus for another return that left many of them at high levels for the day. Gains ranging from fractions to around 2 points at the close outnumbered declines. Transfers were around 1,000,000 shares.

Stock leaders turned upward in early dealings in today's market. Higher at a fairly active opening were Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Iron, Telephone, Norfolk & Western, Standard Oil of Indiana, General Electric, General Motors, Loew's Sears Roebuck, Goodyear and Public Service of N. J.

Commerce department reports that January income payments to individuals totaled $14,422,000, a record high for that month, received attention in boardrooms. The payments, well below the December figure but 10 percent above January a year ago, were equivalent to an annual income rate of $170,000,000,000.

Members of New Cub Pack Receive Rank of Bob Cat

KELLERVILLE—The first meeting of the recently organized Cub Scouts was attended by about 50 Monday night at Kellerville. Each Cub received the honor of completing the first rank in cubbing. This was done in an impressive manner by the Cub master, the Rev. James F. Scott, assisted by Ollie McPherson, assistant Cub master.

The pack has 13 Cubs registered and they each received their first rank which is Bob Cat. The boys are divided into two dens with Mrs. Jack Boyd as den mother of den No. 1 and Charles Boyd and Den McPherson as den chiefs. Mrs. Hood Williams is the den mother of den No. 2 and Dwan McPherson and Billy Harris the den chiefs. Cubs receiving the Bob Cat rank were: Don Haslem, Bobby Boyd, Charles Barnes, Ronnie Holley, Donald Horton, Luther Thompson, Reximmel, Wayne Elliott, Gene and James Parren, Freddie Sagner, Thomas Wall and Hoyt Williams. All of the parents of the cubs were present and called forward to pin the badges on their sons.

The Cubs, having passed their rank are now eligible for the uniform and Cub Master Scott said they would all have their uniforms in a few days and that the pack would be 100 percent in uniform. He also stated that he was well pleased with the interest manifested in cubbing and with the cooperation that he was receiving from the parents.

Sandwiches and pop were served at the close of the meeting.

In Sweden, luncheons frequently extend over two hours and dinners over three or four hours.

Jurors Selected in Trial on Stabbing

TYLER—(AP)—Selection of jurors was to continue today when the trial of Tomlin Gibson, 30, charged with murder in the fatal stabbing last July of Pat Templeton, recommenced.

Eight jurors were selected yesterday. The state rejected veniremen who said they objected to the death penalty. The defense asked all prospective jurors if they favored suspended sentence.

Templeton was found dead in a pasture in the Noonday Community near here last July 14. Police said he had been dead about three days, that he had been stabbed 45 times and that his throat was cut.

Colquitt Gibson, 36, Tomlin's brother, is also under murder charges. His trial was severed and reset for June 9th yesterday after he made a sensational attempt to escape from the courtroom.

Truman's Policy on Greek Situation Compared Here to Monroe Doctrine

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman's talk to Congress on Greece and Turkey may be as memorable as the Monroe Doctrine.
His call for active American help in the internal affairs of those two European countries is a turning point in American history.
In brief, he said:
Those countries are in danger of falling under communism. We must stop the spread of communism some time. Let's do it now.
But there's a paragraph in the Monroe Doctrine which can be used to justify the action Mr. Truman has taken.
When he issued the Doctrine in 1823—one of the reasons was to block Russian hopes of grabbing

Oregon—President Monroe said in part:
We won't let any foreign country come into the Western Hemisphere to interfere with the affairs of American Nations.
We've stuck to that. We've kept foreign powers from sticking their noses into the Western Hemisphere.
But—
We interfered in Nicaragua, Haiti, Santo Domingo and built up a lot of ill-will for ourselves in the minds of Latin Americans.
For years we've been trying to erase that feeling by our "Good Neighbor" policy toward Latin America.
But we've always, except in wartime, kept out of the internal affairs of European nations. Now Mr. Truman, worried over Russian expansion, wants to change that.
Is that contrary to the Monroe Doctrine? Not if you look at a paragraph in that Doctrine which says: "We won't interfere in the internal affairs of European nations unless our rights are invaded or seriously menaced."
Yesterday, in talking to Congress, Mr. Truman said we must help Greece and Turkey because our "national security" is involved.
There's no doubt about the greatest problem of our time: Can capitalism, under American leadership, live peacefully side by side with communism, under Russian leadership?
Or will the question have to be answered at last by war between this country and her Allies and Russia and her Allies.
Communism has spread in Europe since the war. Communist Guerillas in Greece have been seeking to overthrow the government there.
Turkey has been stiff-arming Russia, her neighbor, a long time.
If Greece and Turkey fall under Communist control, Russia will dominate the whole Middle East and maybe Africa and Asia, Greece and Turkey are in Russia's backyard. What would we do if Russia

Texasians: The gag has made the rounds so thoroughly — we ran into it at Orange, Beaumont, Dallas, — that we don't think we're betraying anything by telling what happens when someone comes up to you and says "do you have a dime?"
You produce the dime, and are handed a bit of paper that says: "Thank you. You have contributed a dime to buy Richard's room make a key so he won't have to stand outside and holler open the door, Richard." Now don't whine about this dime, go get yours like I got mine."

Ten U. S. cities have been selected as having the most perfect American speech. Dallas was one of them. Dallas has such a large floating population that its speech is tops, says the Linguaphone Institute of America, thereby dampening any pride the natives may have taken in the selection. Other selections were Los Angeles, because of many "conversationalists" there; Chicago, which uses most typical Americanisms; Mason City, Iowa, least influenced; New Orleans, due to its holdover of romance language influence; Ashabula, O., high moral influence; Providence, R. I., Yankee terseness; Washington, D. C., most representative of all towns and cities in the U. S.

Wesleyan Taken Out of Kansas City Tournament

By SKIPPER PATRICK
KANSAS CITY—(P)—Past-breaking Marshall College, its play enlivened by a multitude of trick passes, became the popular choice today to take the National Intercollegiate (NAB) Basketball championship as the 32-game tournament moved into the quarter final round.

The Huntington, W. Va., school, which set a tournament team scoring record in beating Wisconsin State Teachers of River Falls 113 to 83 in the first round, stormed past Hamline University of St. Paul 55 to 54 on a free throw by Andy Tonkovich in the final minute of a second-round game last night.

The West Virginians, nicknamed the Thundering Herd, caught the crowd's fancy by interlarding passing tricks into a smooth-functioning offense. Marshall is scheduled to meet Eastern Washington College of Education of Cheney in the top title on tonight's four-game card.

Beloit (Wis.) College, which eliminated Cliff McNeely and Texas Wesleyan by a 63-53 count, is paired with Emporia State in the opening quarter final game at 6:30 p. m. (CST).

Texas Wesleyan's loss to Beloit nipped the chances of McNeely to break the national season scoring record of 777 points set by Brooms Alzmarovic of Salem, W. Va., in 1928. McNeely hit for 15 points against Beloit to bring his 33 game total to 725.

Hogan Favored in Jacksonville Open

JACKSONVILLE—(P)—Golf's top-ranking money players, led by Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., were set to tee off today in the first round of the $10,000 Jacksonville Open tournament—the finale of the Florida winter season.

With Sam Snead of Hot Springs, Va., out of the way, Hogan is a 20-to-1 favorite to take $2,000 first prize money. Snead, who won this two previous years here, is on a South African tour.

Only slightly less favored is Jimmy Demarest of Ojai, Calif., who with Belvin Ben makes up the 1947 edition of the Gold Dust Twins. Both have been finishing in the money regularly in recent months.

Top Favorites in Action Tonight in Girls Tournament

HILLSBORO, Texas—(P)—East Chambers, a favorite to reach the finals, and undefeated Maydelle meet tonight in one of the major attractions of the quarter final round of the state high school girls' basketball tournament.

East Chambers, with three players out of the lineup because of the flu, put on a last half drive last night to defeat Fredericksburg, 34-18, in the opening round of play. Maydelle kept its undefeated record intact by nosing out Gruver, 35-23.

In another top attraction tonight Priona, also a favorite to reach the finals, meets Aledo. Priona led all the way to defeat Yantis, 39-22, in the first round. In a seasaw game Aledo overcame Sweeney, 37-28.

In other quarter-final games Mesquite meets Stanton and Cranfills Gap plays Penelope.

Mesquite defeated Colorado City, 36-28, last night. Stanton upset undefeated Academy, 30-15. Cranfills Gap rallied to take Sudan, 20-18, and Penelope outscored Zephyr, 59-27.

Today's schedule:
Upper bracket: starting at 6:30, Priona vs. Aledo; Mesquite vs. Stanton.
Lower bracket: East Chambers vs. Maydelle, Cranfills Gap vs. Penelope.

By GAYLE TALBOT

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(P)—It is unlikely there is another man in the world as happy today as Al Lang, a 77-year-old former laundryman from Pittsburgh, who came here 35 years ago to die quietly and has lived to see his name in letters three feet high across the front of St. Petersburg's new baseball park.

The leaders of the national game, including Commissioner Happy Chandler, descended upon this little West Coast resort city yesterday to do honor to Al and to participate in ceremonies opening "Al Lang Field," a modern plant with a grandstand seating 4,500.

Al is one of those numerous individuals known as baseball nuts—he says he has seen every World Series game ever played.

When the medics told him up in Pittsburgh that he was through, he came here. Spending his own money and never subsidized by the city. Al went North doggedly year after year to sign the glories of the Florida sun. He began his one-man campaign in 1911, and finally won in 1914. The St. Louis Browns broke under the strain and came to St. Pete.

Ever since, the teams have been coming here in the spring, and now eleven of the 16 big league teams train within the state.

When the city decided to build a new ball park worthy of its spring guests, there was no necessity to hold a contest to arrive at a name for the plant. St. Petersburg did itself proud.

Twelfth Juror Sought In Gibson Murder Trial

TYLER—(P)—Sheriff Ross Turner today sought ten taleman from whom to select the twelfth juror for the trial of Tomlin Gibson, 30, charged with murder in the fatal stabbing of Pat Templeton of the Noonday Community near here last July.

The special venire of 200 and the venire of 50 for the week were exhausted last night after eleven jurors had been chosen.

The defense has used all of its 15 peremptory strikes in questioning prospective jurors and the state has used eight. The state rejected veniremen who said they objected to the death penalty. The defense asked prospective jurors if they favored suspended sentences.

Templeton was found dead in a pasture in the Noonday Community last July 14. Officers said he had been dead about three days and that he had been stabbed 45 times and his throat cut.

Gibson has maintained his innocence of the crime.

Minister Appears In Favor of Bill On Horse Racing

By DAVE CHEAVENS
AUSTIN—(P)—Appearance of a minister advocating passage of a bill to legalize parimutuel betting at Texas horse race tracks stole the show at a House State Affairs Committee hearing yesterday.

The bill, which would recommend passage of the bill by a 12 to 8 vote. While advocates of the bill found at least one minister for it, opponents also trotted out a horse breeder who was against it.

The favoring minister was the Rev. J. Leslie Fennell, former pastor of the Magnolia Christian Church of Fort Worth, who said he liked to see the ponies run, that he did not believe in betting, but thought it ought to be brought out into the open.

The opposing horse breeder was Clis Cardwell of Junction, who testified he was raising six boys and top quarter horses, and that he did not want to mess with parimutuel betting.

The committee heard other opponents label the measure as one that would lead people to suicide, encourage inefficiency, promote dishonesty and keep people from paying their debts.

Proponents said it would keep racing clean, discourage back room bookies, bring gambling on the horses out in the open, promote the breeding of such fine horses as the King, the Assault, that won the Kentucky Derby.

They argued it would bring the state millions of dollars in tax revenue and opponents countered by saying the state should not stoop to that extent to fill its coffers.

Dr. W. R. White, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Austin, drew cheers when he thundered:

"This bill is not essential to stock raising or improving pastures. You might as well say we need bull fighting in this state to improve the breeding of cattle."

The crowd yelled and clapped again when the Rev. Mr. Fennell said:

"I went to the race track to be a shepherd to my flock and see that they did not over-bet. It's the intemperance that's wrong. You preachers never saved any souls sitting on a hard-bottomed chair."

Herman Jones, Austin attorney, told the committee that race track gambling and the narcotic traffic "go together like ham and eggs."

Opponents of the bill were exhorting Attorney Jim Langdon of McCamey, a former G-man, who said it wasn't so.

H. T. Hinch, representing the Business and Professional Men's Club of Dallas, said the interest was an "economic liability" and that betting on it drove people to suicide.

Former Rep. J. Ed Winfree of Houston retorted:

"There have been more suicides over women than horses and I would not vote to do away with women."

Robert Kleberg of King Ranch, owners of Assault, told the committee that the public's interest was in watching the horses run. He did not think the witnesses who emphasized the gambling phase of the matter "know much about it."

R. T. Hunt of Dallas, a Real Merchants Association said that business were opposed to the bill, that operation of race tracks is a "blight" on merchandising and a "delicious lure" that draws small-salaried people who can't afford it.

Others appearing against the bill included the Rev. Eugene Slater, president of the Association of Ministers of Greater Houston; Mrs. Hal Bybee, representing the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers; the Rev. Guy F. Jones, district superintendent of Methodist Churches at Houston; the Rev. Walter Kerr, representing the Austin Council of Churches; and George Weber of Arlington; Tommy Everett of Arlington; and Mrs. Charles G. Eldson of Waco, of the Texas Council of Church Women.

Bell read a telegram from Gen. Jonathan Wininger, hero of Charge and Fourth Army commander urging passage of the bill. Other proponents included G. R. White of Brady, president of the Board of Directors of Texas A. & M. College; Attorney Alfred McKnight of Fort Worth.

Bill Pierce, the Detroit Tigers' 20-year-old rookie lefthander, drew the starting pitching assignment today as the Tigers went after their third straight exhibition game victory, this time against the Washington Senators, at Lakeland, Fla.

Rufe Gentry, Pierce's teammate at Buffalo, last season, was scheduled to follow the youngster to the mound. Hal Newhouse, making his first appearance of the spring, and Al Benton, big, strong righthander, shared an eight-hit job yesterday as the Tigers levelled their spring series with Cincinnati by defeating the Reds 5-2.

Other training camp notes:

Tucson, Ariz.—Larry Jansen, New York Giant's rookie pitcher who was hit in the face by a ball of Bob Feller's bat Tuesday, will be out of action for about two weeks. The broken bones in his left frontal cheek were set well. He will remain in the hospital for several days and then go to his Oregon home.

Tucson, Ariz.—Hank Edwards, hard-hitting Cleveland righthander who dislocated his right shoulder and tore a muscle in a fall, will be out for four or five weeks. The Indians clubbed out a 12-7 victory over the Giants in yesterday's exhibition for their third victory in five tilts with the Polo Grounders.

Tigers Seek Third Consecutive Victory

Miami, Fla.—The St. Louis Browns returned to their losing ways yesterday, taking a 7-3 lacing from the Philadelphia Athletics. The two teams met again today at West Palm Beach.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Manager Eddie Dyer's squad of 44 St. Louis Cardinals players are all in camp. Outfielder Harry Walker had his first workout with the Redbirds yesterday. Rogers Hornsby McKee, who was sent here as a first base prospect while Stan Musial was a holdout, has left to join the Columbus Farm team at Daytona Beach.

Orlando, Fla.—Manager Ossie Bluege has nominated Sid Hudson, Milo Cardini and Chic Pletti to carry the pitching load in the Washington Senators' exhibition with Detroit at Lakeland today.

Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.—Billy Southworth is eager to get the Boston Braves into winning habits. The Braves play Pittsburgh again today at Lakeland.

Southworth announces that Mort Cooper will go to the hill to start the exhibition contest. He will be followed by Lefty Warren Spain and Big Ed Wright.

Sarasota, Fla.—A long drill on fundamentals was scheduled for the Boston Red Sox today. The American League champions trimmed the Phils yesterday as Ted Williams

THE VITAL FORCE

To an American, steeped in ideals of liberty, the most appalling trend in the world today is the growth of collectivism. Practically all of the nations of the Old World have turned their backs on freedom, and accepted, willingly or otherwise, the cruel ideology of the super-state. Under collectivism, the individual is nothing, except insofar as he can be used to serve the purposes of the government. The state is all.

This leaves the United States almost alone as the citadel of a tradition of freedom which goes back to the Magna Carta. And this imposes on the government and the people of the United States an enormous obligation—to prove that the dignity of the individual still lives, that the rights of men are a fact and not a myth, that freedom is a vital force that will not be denied.

This obligation can be discharged in only one way—by resisting every encroachment by the state upon the privileges, the rights and the prerogatives of individuals. If we permit government to dominate us in our economic life, we will eventually have government domination of all other facets of existence. Freedom is an absolute—once we temporize with it, we pave the way for its destruction.

Those nations which wish collectivism are entitled to it. But it must never be confused with freedom or allowed a foothold here.

In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA) We're always intrigued by the movie hero's romantic pitch to the heroine. Those celluloid love lines make you wonder whether writers personally used them themselves and if they were successful, if it is the result of eavesdropping with notebook and pencil behind park benches, or just imagination.

We made a tour of the sets at Universal-International the other day. The scene was on love-in beautiful language. Michael Redgrave was holding Joan Bennett in his arms on the set of "Secret Beyond the Door" and whispering:

"There's something in your face I saw once before, in South Dakota, in the wheat country. Cyclone weather. Just before the cyclone the air had a flat, golden shimmering stillness. You have it in your face the same hazy glow before a storm. And when you smile, it's like the first breath of wind bending down the wheat."

Few girls could resist such talk. And then you wonder how actors, given such beautiful dialog to capture their leading ladies, react to the same situation in of them have contentedly remembered some romantic lines from old scripts and old plays.

SOMETIMES WORKS

I know the late John Barrymore once did.

He was wooing a young lady in one of his pictures on the set between scenes. A sound man pushed a microphone up to the open window of John's dressing room, and the cast crew impolitely listened in the sound truck outside the stage. Everyone got hysterical over the Barrymore pitch. He was using a dialog from a couple of movies in which he had appeared.

Later old John had the last laugh. Later he told me those lines worked.

REO's new movie, "Memory of Love" has, I think, the best title of any time. It's what EVERYBODY has. Director Sam Wood is paying Joan Crawford for the role of a Russian siren in the film version of Rex Beach's "The World in His Arms."

Betty Hutton says she wants to have another baby after doing three more pictures.

JUST PUBLICITY STUNT

Story behind a song. Ray Evans and Jay Livingston wrote the hit song "A Bushy Hare" solely as a publicity stunt to advertise Olivia de Havilland's movie of the same name. The film was a big success but more millions heard the song than saw the picture.

It sold 4,000,000 records, 1,000,000 sheets of music, and was on the Hit Parade for 20 weeks. It earned

IT'S FUN

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — The month-long hearings to determine the fitness of David E. Lilienthal, Summer Pike, Adm. Lewis Strauss, W. W. Waynesack, and Dr. Ernest R. Rusk to serve on the Atomic Energy Commission ended on a note of high comedy when Lilienthal and his pals could enjoy. It was a fitting climax that could happen in no other country than the U. S. A.

The fun was furnished by J. S. Remine of Knoxville, Tenn., a volunteer witness who appeared at his own suggestion. There had been advance rumors that Lilienthal would take the stand to sum up testimony in his own defense, but he didn't have to. Remine stole the show. He was nearly an hour late getting to the hearing, but when he got there, he made up for lost time.

For 30 minutes he had the packed little hearing room rolling in the aisles. Remine walked in the doors with his hands raised and took the oath on the fly. He was big and tall and white-haired and as general as most Southerners are, with a dry sense of humor and a drawl that would melt a stone.

He has lived in Tennessee for the last 35 years. He said about half of it in Knoxville where he has been in the livestock and lumber business and in trade. In July 1937—July or August, he thought it was—the county court made an appointment "to investigate anything."

"The court let it up to the sheriff as to what should be investigated, the sheriff left it up to Mr. Remine. He investigated things up to February, 1938. But he hasn't been considered anything. He didn't remember everything that they investigated.

"Did you find any Communists?"

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON

By RAY TUCKER
REVOLT—The House Rules Committee has provoked a quiet, cloak-room revolt among both Republicans and Democrats by its recent adoption of a resolution for an all-out investigation of the Veterans Administration. Despite the resentment, the proposal is almost certain to be accepted by the House because of the prestige of this key committee.

The protest derives from the fact that modest, soft-spoken General Omar C. Bradley, more than the head of any other independent agency, is regarded as having done an excellent job in reorganizing this broken-down unit, which ranks second only to national defense demands in current and prospective budgets.

What the rebels do not know at the moment is that General Bradley, in an almost unprecedented move in Washington, virtually advised friends on Capitol Hill to authorize a survey of his vast, sprawling and expanding department.

"INSPECTION"—The resentment has been caused by the committee's unfortunate use of the word "investigation," which is associated in

Questions and Answers
Here are more questions and answers that the Foundation for Economic Education thought people were puzzled about:

(Question) Many labor leaders insist that wage rates must be raised again to prevent a slump in business and employment. How about that?

(Answer) The record of the past 50 years shows that the argument puts the cart before the horse. A slump in business and employment must be avoided if wages are to be increased.

(Question) The share of labor in the national product has varied little from year to year despite the most strenuous efforts of government and unions to increase it. When the total national product rises, labor gets its share. When it falls, labor suffers along with other groups. Attempts to force higher wage rates at the expense of employers or other groups have led only to a greater unemployment and reduced total wage payments, as in the 1930's, or (b) higher prices as in the 1940's.

"A careful study of depression shows that the decline in new investment necessary for increasing production, employment and wages takes place while aggregate consumer demand and purchasing power are still increasing. The facts, therefore, contradict the "purchasing power theory" of prosperity.

"For facts on this and related points, see Wages and Prices, a Foundation publication, by Dr. Jules Backman, 88 pages, paper cover, 75 cents.

W. M. Curtiss

(Question) Can you give a simple explanation of "monetization of debt" to a (a) thing is wrong with the practice?"

(Answer) The "monetization of debt" with which all of us, or should be, much concerned now in the monetization of the debt of the Federal Government of the United States. The phrase means just what it says—the conversion of the Federal debt into the medium of exchange. The medium of exchange into which paper, Federal debt has been converted is the medium most widely used in the United States—bank deposits, which are transferred by check.

It is not only sounds like but is a "trick" which not only can be but has been done repeatedly, and on a large scale in the United States during the past thirteen years.

"The steps taken to "monetize the debt" are comparatively simple and direct: (1) Congress authorizes and the Executive branch of Government creates the debt by expenditures beyond the receipts of the Government; (2) the United States Treasury issues asked Sen. Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee somewhat hopefully, "We found a lot," said Mr. Remine, "and quite a few working for TVA." Senator McKellar handed the witness a list of 13 names typewritten on a sheet of paper, with a number of addresses below. They were supposed to be meeting places.

Mr. Remine perched his spectacles on his nose and looked them over. He never got around to saying any were Communists. But he said "most of them worked for TVA at the time." First name on the list was John Frantz. "I've been informed," said Mr. Remine in a matter-of-fact tone, "that he married a niece of mine." The hearing room roared while Chairman Bourke Hickenlooper pounded the gavel in vain for order.

"You never investigated that?" asked Senator Vandenberg when the laughter died down. Remine explained that he hadn't. They lived about 30 miles from Knoxville, and he hadn't seen them. Remine read the next name, Henry Hart. "He had rooms everywhere," Remine explained. People used to come in at 2 o'clock in the morning. The woman who kept the rooming house finally let Mr. Remine have a room where he could listen in on what they talked about. "They would get up and make speeches," said Mr. Remine. "They would talk about control of production, and one," he said, "they got a letter from Senator LaFollette."

EVEN A NUDDISTS DANCE
Every once in a while Remine would employ some "feller" to join these meetings and come out and tell what went on. But there was one place on Oak Street where he never did get inside. Remine said he wrote reports on all these things to the sheriff.

About five or six miles out of town, said Remine, they had a house known as Reeve's Roost. They had a platform out back of the house. Remine said he snuck up in the dark and watched a dance there one night. They were nudists. They took off all their clothes," said Remine, "except one little girl who wouldn't take hers off. She went home."

But they didn't all work for TVA. Mr. Remine explained. One of them claimed to be a typewriter man for the Scripps-Howard Newspapers. The committee didn't press for the name.

Other names on Remine's list and his comments about them were: Horace Brown—"He got killed in the war." Frank Underwood—"Never did work for TVA." Zella Hall—"Arrested a good bit but not a member." Horace Brown—"His records are in Little Rock, and he comes from good people in Hot Springs." Lucille Thornburg—"She was a pretty good kind of a girl after her uncle got hold of her." David Stone Martin—"I know he was organizing 'em." "These people it should be noted, did not participate in the aforementioned dance."

Sen. Brian McMahon had to ask Remine twice what his definition of a Communist was. "Don't exactly know," drawled Remine. "All I know is I'm not one." He said he was a Republican. It didn't make any difference though, said Remine, because "I hook up with whoever gets elected."

Remine also said he didn't want to give the impression that all people in TVA were bad. "Why," he said, "we've even got some of 'em right in our church."

growing controversy, the forthcoming VA "investigation" may be one of the most important in many years. It may furnish a preliminary answer to the question of bonus or no bonus for the "forgotten seventy-five percent."

ENEMY—Representative Albert J. Engel of Michigan has enjoyed the unique honor of receiving scores of letters begging him to endorse the postmaster nomination of the Democrat who opposed him unsuccessfully in the last election.

When National Democratic Chairman Hanegan's Upper Michigan agent could persuade nobody to run against the popular Mr. Engel, he drafted a high school instructor of Manistee, Willard Krause, with the promise of the postoffice job for serving as a party soldier.

Mr. Krause was named Acting Postmaster as a reward, and has been nominated for the permanent position. But his selection had to win approval from a Republican Senate—a happening which Mr. Hanegan did not expect when the pledge was made. The amiable "Al" has not tried to block confirmation, but he has not boosted it, largely because he believes the Civil Service Act as amended was designed solely to "freeze" enemy p.m.'s in their jobs.

More than 10 percent of Sweden's almost seven million population lives in Stockholm.

LOPSIDED—Another major reason for the study is the flood of Congressional complaints to the effect that the phases of the G. I. Bill of Rights make it operate for the benefit of only a privileged few to the detriment of a far larger number of deserving ex-servicemen and women. The accuracy of this contention is admitted in high VA circles.

The records reveal in a general way that less than twenty-five percent of the 14,500,000 World War II men and women are enjoying the so-called rehabs which bring them educational advantages, on-the-job training and loans, insurance policies, pensions and hospitalization are not, of course, included in this calculation.

Thus there are at least seventy-five percent who derive no advantages, although they pay their share of taxes to support this establishment. But they are war veterans, they are informed the M. C. s. to buy a home or furniture, to educate their children or to sustain their business. From them comes the insistence that the G. I. law is "lopsided and unfair."

BONUS—When it is realized that forty-three percent of all adult males in the United States (eighty years of age or over) are war veterans, the persistent criticism from this element of the electorate points to only one thing—a general bonus sooner or later. For Congress will not long ignore so many voters who think that they have been unfairly treated.

It provides no effective answer to tell this group that the G. I. Bill was not designed to aid or reward every man or woman who served their country. The philosophy underlying the law was that the government should give educational, vocational and economic assistance to those whose struggle for existence was handicapped by the years which war service stole from their normal lives. It was felt that their increased value to themselves and the nation would be a national asset.

Thus, in view of this basic and bonds or notes of the U. S. Government, the evidence of this indebtedness, (3) the bonds or notes are transferred to banks in exchange, not for savings on deposit with the bank, but in exchange for a credit in favor of the Government in the books of the bank; (4) this credit on the books of the bank is then in fact a deposit by the Government of the United States, and is checked out by the Government as such, in payment for whatever Government is buying in the check money, or lots of bank deposits of the country. This, starting with a Government deficit, we end up with an increase in check-money, which is the "monetization of debt."

"What's wrong with 'monetization of debt'?" What's wrong with counterfeiting? "Monetization of debt" may properly be called "legal counterfeiting," because through it there is created an increase in the medium of exchange unjustified by an increase of goods exchanged in the market or by an addition of real value to the money medium. In fact, instead of this increase of "money" being the result of an increase in the goods for exchange, it is usually the result of decreasing the goods available for exchange for non-productive expenditures by Government as in war.

The "purchase-orders" that is, money or bank deposits, in the market are increased in an equivalent increase in goods or services available for exchange, which is precisely what occurs in illegal counterfeiting. When Government does it, we call it "inflation," but regardless of what it is called, the medium of exchange is thus permanently diluted and hence lessened in value. The extent of the devaluation in value of the monetization of debt will obviously depend upon two factors, the amount of debt so monetized and the velocity of circulation of the "money" so created. We know how that the amount is roughly measured by the increase in bank deposits and money in circulation in the past 12 or more years; and the velocity of circulation will vary with the business activity of the country."

MACKENZIE'S Column
By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

President Truman's declaration of war against aggressive totalitarian communism revives an unwelcome task which Uncle Sam hoped he had got rid of back in 1933 when Washington finally acceded to the Soviet government recognition after Moscow promised to stop world-revolution propaganda in the United States.

Yesterday's historic development naturally is a matter of grave concern, but it scarcely can cause surprise to those who have been watching closely over a long period. It's the big showdown which was inevitable, and the most remarkable thing about it is that it didn't come sooner.

The events leading to this denunciation are the result of a studied, cut-and-dried policy laid down in Moscow nearly a quarter of a century ago, and they form one of the most amazing chapters of world history. They read like melodramatic fiction. The story starts with the Bolshevik revolution of 1917 which overthrew the Czar and established the Soviet government. As a member of the AP staff in Europe at that time you corresponded had a ring-side seat.

As soon as the Bolsheviks got their feet under them in Russia their staff for world revolution—the Comintern, or Third International—got into action, and there were revolts and attempted revolts in many countries.

World revolution was the pet scheme of Trotsky, but when Lenin died in 1925 and Stalin came to power the latter decreed that this should be shelved while Russia was strengthened by creation of industries and a great army. Stalin inaugurated his first Five-Year Plan, and then another, and vast progress was made.

By 1935 the astute Stalin foresaw the new European war—and I am merely setting down that observers noted at the time. He was given credit for recognizing that such a war would create chaos throughout the continent, and that the distressed populations would provide fertile soil for the spread of communism. Then would be the time for the world-revolution staff to get busy.

Well, in '39 Hitler and Stalin made the non-aggression pact which was followed immediately by the war. Chaos hit Europe on the double-quick.

Hitler became suspicious of Russia and attacked her, with a resulting upheaval which created far greater disorganization than anyone had dreamed of. Finally, as the tide turned and Russia began to thrust the Germans back in the east, she inaugurated her delayed campaign for the establishment of communism abroad. Country after country was communized and brought within the Soviet zone of influence. Mr. Truman said yesterday that the United States had made "frequent protests against coercion and intimidation, in violation of the Yalta agreement, in Poland, Romania and Bulgaria."

There have been other cases. With the end of the war the crusade increased, not only in Europe but in the Far East, and the western hemisphere. Finally we arrive at the Russian attempt to secure control of Greece, Turkey and the Dardanelles. Continuation of the freedom of these two strategically located states is generally held to be essential to world security. Said President Truman:

"Should we fail to aid Greece and Turkey in this fateful hour the effect will be far reaching to the west as well as to the east. This is an investment in world freedom and world peace."

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By HAL BOYLE

PALM BEACH, Fla.—(AP)—For perhaps the first time since this Gold Coast resort was founded only one winter resident rode to Palm Beach this year in his own private railroad car.

Several arrived in rented railroad cars, a sad commentary on the complicity that income taxes have forced upon the rich. In the old days you either wheeled up in your own chummy modified Pullman, or else you jolly well slung down to Miami Beach where you belonged. None of these drive-it-yourself made-over coach cars when society was really society.

The sole arrival on the grand scale was springtime Robert Young, president of the Chesapeake & Ohio Line, who is currently cutting as wide a swath through Palm Beach society as he does in railroad financing.

Social lions here vary with the times. One reason grande dames may vie in exhibiting White Russian princes reduced to peddling the last rhinestone they borrowed from the late czar. A decade later two-headed Austrian princes may be all the vogue. This season visiting English aristocrats were in fashion. "It's been quite a British year—just lousy with titles," said one observer versed in Palm Beach lore. "They've been all over the place."

Young sifted through the first mad rush of shivering monocoed fugitives from the British labor government and nailed as his house guests the Duke and Duchess of Windsor.

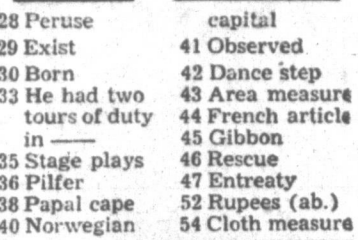

That "this railroad fellow"—a comparative parvenu—should reel in the season's prize social catchers is just another indication of how society here is changing. It was one more blow to the old guard.

Since the time of stately Mrs. Edward Stotesbury, Palm Beach has had no real social dictator and the grand balls and fetes of a more formal generation have become less important.

The resort is in a state of genteel flux. With the movement toward smaller houses many wealthy residents sold their private railroad cars during the war and bought private planes. Many also moved out to small exclusive nearby resorts like Hobe Sound, thus further centralizing high society.
Its days of social domination may be passing with the growth of a more flexible and wider ranging American social life, but Palm Beach still bears the stamp of dignity and elegance that made it famous. It has a quality of rich simplicity that sets it apart from more strident resorts. Palm Beach achieves glamor without glamor.

200 Jews Escape Refugee Vessel

JERUSALEM—(AP)—Two hundred illegal Jewish immigrants disappeared into Southern Palestine near the barren Negev (Southern Desert) early today after escaping from a refugee ship which ran the British blockade and drove around near Gaza.

The British Army announced that 400 of the estimated 800 refugees aboard the vessel were rounded up on the beach and placed in a hastily erected compound near Isbud, a few miles from Gaza, while another 200 was said to be still aboard the craft, identified as the 400-ton Susanna, out of Italy.

Authorities said those held would be trucked to Haifa during the day and trans-shipped tonight to Cyprus detention camps. Extraordinary precautions were taken to guard the route to Haifa in order to prevent a possible attempt to free the immigrants.

A source in Tel Aviv said the Hebrew name of the beached ship was "Shabetai Lojinsky," in honor of a Jewish settlement worker from Atarot, near Jerusalem, who was killed in a road accident near Rome six weeks ago while on a mission to a displaced persons camp in Europe.

There were reports that the British Navy had overtaken the vessel at sea during the night and put a

Mail Orders Taken For Metropolitan Season in Dallas

DALLAS—Mail orders for reservations to Dallas' 1947 season of Metropolitan Grand Opera opened Monday morning, Arthur L. Krammer, president of the Dallas Opera Assn., announced.

The civic non-profit sponsoring organization is opening a box office at 1109 Elm Street to receive mail orders for the four performances to be given May 1 to 4 at Fair Park Auditorium. Prices are: Lower floor, $7.30 and $8.70; balcony, $6.60, $5.40, $4.20 and $3.00. Self-addressed and stamped envelope for return of tickets must accompany each order.

The operas to be presented and their casts of world-famed stars are:

Thursday night, May 1—"Lakme" with Lily Pons, Irene Jordan, Felix Knight and Giacomo Vaghi, with Wilfred Feltner conducting.

Friday night, May 2—"Lohengrin" with Torsten Raif, Helen Traubel, Herbert Janssen and Margaret Harshaw, with Fritz Busch conducting.

Saturday matinee, May 3—"Boris Godunoff" with Ezio Pinza, Rise

Stevens, Salvatore Baccaloni and Martha Lipton, with Emil Cooper conducting.

Sunday matinee, May 4—"La Boheme" with Ferruccio Tagliavini, Licia Albanese, John Brownlee and Frances Greer, with Cesare Sodero conducting.

Inspectors Asked to Visit Eagle Pass

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Tom Connally of Texas has urged that an international airport survey group inspecting ports stop at Eagle Pass on its Texas tour.

A committee for provisional civil aviation organization, representing Federal agencies concerned with international airports, is scheduled to visit San Antonio today and tomorrow and Brownsville Friday and Saturday.

Connally asked the group to inspect the Eagle Pass Army Air Field, which has just been released by the War Assets Administration.

The Eagle Pass Chamber of Commerce and R. E. Ebb, Maverick County judge, told Connally that some civil international air traffic already is moving through Eagle Pass and the city should be included in whatever plans the committee makes for international airports.
