Truman Asks Wide Power For Cleanup

Only Way Job Can Be Done Says Truman

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman said today he will ask Congress to give Newbold Morris, his government cleanup man, power to subpoena people and documents.

Morris, 50, socially prominent New York attorney, was picked Feb. 1 to take command of the long-demanded probe into a tax scandal. He said his first job will be to investigate Atty.-Gen. McGrath's Justice Dept. The department has been under fire from some Congress members on the grounds that it did not press prosecutions in cases of wrong doing.

Truman said at his news conference he had conferred with Morris about the latter's plans and announced in a statement: "I intend to see to it that Mr. Morris has access to all information he needs that is in the possession of the executive branch, and the authority to examine and require testimony of all officers and employees of the executive branch."

The statement also said: "In many cases where government employees have been subject to outside influence, the most essential evidence is not in government hands."

"Mr. Morris cannot conduct a thoroughgoing and effective investigation of such cases as these unless he has the power to subpoena witnesses and documents. Then, the President said he does not have the power to grant Morris this authority and that he is going to ask Congress to give Mr. Morris the subpoena powers necessary to the proper performance of his duties."

The power to subpoena persons and documents would give Morris some of the powers of a grand jury. This power, however, would fall short of actually returning an indictment — that is, formally charging a crime. His findings still would have to be acted upon by a grand jury.

SCENE OF EXPLOSION — Firemen drag out furniture above from a room in the Russell St. apartments after small heater ignited gas which had accumulated in the room from a small hot plate. The explosion blew out both windows of the apartment and burned a mattress, clothing in a closet, and the ceiling of the room. A divan that had been sitting outside the room, was burning when firemen arrived. Left to right in the picture are Chief Ernest Winborne, Capt. Buster Claunch, Elmer Barmel and Lewis Shelton. The arrow points to the window of the room in which the explosion occurred. Mrs. Ona Myers, occupant, had left the room to help a neighbor start a car when the explosion occurred. (News Photo)

Apartment Damaged By Explosion

An explosion caused by escaping gas ignited by a small floor heater shattered windows and broke sheet rock in the Russell St. apartments, 323 S. Russell, at 11:25 p.m. yesterday.

No one was injured. Fire Chief Ernest Winborne said today the fire was started when a rubber hose connecting a gas outlet with a hot plate became disconnected, filling the room with gas which was ignited by the heater.

Mrs. Ona Myers, who lives in the apartment, was not at home at the time of the explosion. Damage other than broken windows and sheet rock was small, Winborne said.

Owner of the apartments is Steve Drnonn.

Valentine Wedding Is Off; Bride Pins Ring To Pillow

PITTSBURGH — Plans for a Valentine day wedding went awry yesterday because the pretty bride-to-be has disappeared after leaving a note to her fiancé and her engagement ring pinned to a pillow. She said she just couldn't go through with the ceremony.

Edward Henry Weigner, of Chicago, waited in a hotel room for his fiancée, who is pretty, Las Ethlyn Weiland, 23.

The Valentine day's wedding scheduled for tonight was to climax a romance of tall people which began at a convention of tall people's clubs last year in St. Louis.

WEIGNER, A strapping 6 foot 5 insurance engineer, made a radio appeal last night urging his 5 foot 11 fiancée to return. In an appearance over station KQV he pleaded:

"Lois, this is Ed. I want you to know I love you. I am worried and upset, and your mother is near a nervous breakdown. I'm worried, too, Lois, and want you to get in touch with us, even if you don't want to get married."

Mrs. William N. Weiland said her daughter disappeared Tuesday while on a shopping trip. She declared Lois "simply vanished into thin air" after getting out of the family automobile.

Police were notified yesterday morning after Mrs. Weiland found two notes on a pillow in Lois' bedroom. Also pinned to

UMT Hearings May End Today

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services committee today predicted congressional approval of a broad system of universal military training (UMT).

While conceding some lawmakers were wavering in the face of vocal opposition by churchmen and others, Russell said:

"I can't conceive of the Senate rejecting this bill.

"UMT is the only apparent solution of the problem of giving this country adequate security without the risk of national bankruptcy."

He told reporters he believes House approval also is certain. "It is my sincere hope we can have a modest start on UMT this calendar year," he said, "and that we'll have it on a substantial basis within 12 months."

Russell said he hoped to wind up public hearings today with testimony by 18 witnesses and send the bill on to the Senate "some time next week."

He said he probably will not call for a vote until the House has acted "provided there is no later than the middle of March."

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services group, which already has approved a UMT bill, planned action in the House the week of Feb. 25.

Donald P. Wilson, national commander of the American Legion, topped the list of final witnesses before the Senate group today. He favors UMT.

Others include spokesmen for the American Farm Bureau Federation, national socialist party and church and educational groups.

Storms Rage In South

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — (AP) — Tornados roamed with bloody destruction through four states last night.

The toll as rescuers dug into crushed homes in Alabama, Arkansas, Tennessee and Missouri was one dead and more than 60 injured. Hailstorms added their damage in Mississippi and other states.

Thirty persons were hospitalized and an estimated 75 homes were damaged at Decherd, Tenn., 80 miles southeast of Nashville. Five cars of a freight train were blown from railroad tracks there.

The toll in hard-hit north Alabama was one dead and 27 injured. Numerous houses in rural communities were wrecked.

The winds ripped buildings apart and wrapped heavy metal telephone cables around trees. Hail as big as baseballs was reported.

A panic-stricken man leaped from a car into the funnel of a tornado near Adamsville, Ala., and was hurled away into the night. He was reported found later, not badly hurt.

Clarence Espey, 50, died when a storm tore his house apart at New Lexington, Ala. He was killed by a falling chimney.

Other persons were reported hurt in the same area.

The heaviest damage apparently was inflicted in a northwest Alabama area beginning in the mountains near Birmingham and extending toward Fayette, Ala., 75 miles away. Eleven members of two families were injured near Adamsville. Another person was hurt near Garder, City, Ala.

Another twister flattened two farm houses and other buildings near Manila, Ark., where five persons were injured. Then it roared into Missouri several miles to the northeast. An unidentified woman was reported hurt there.

Indecision Voiced By President

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman said today the question of whether to run for re-election confronts him with a difficult decision.

He told a news conference he is not yet ready to make any announcement, and that when he does have an announcement it will not be made through any third person.

It was the first time in many months the President has indicated there was any indecision in his mind about the matter.

Nearly a year ago he said he had made up his mind but was not ready to announce what he would do.

Today's statement spurred speculation he had meant he had made up his mind what he would do under certain circumstances.

The President would not say what questions he is debating in his mind that are causing the difficulty.

On the Republican side, there were signs that some backers of Gen. Eisenhower for the GOP nomination are beginning to doubt he will get it unless he returns to the United States and enters an active political role.

Kefauver Begins Grass Roots Campaign To Test Popularity

MANCHESTER, N. H. — (AP) — Senator Estes Kefauver's "grass roots" campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination swung into high gear in New Hampshire today in sub-freezing temperature.

The tall Tennesseean — intent on meeting the rank and file people to test his popularity with President Truman in the first-in-the-nation primary March 11 — headed away from the state capitol in Concord this morning on the first leg of an automobile tour that was scheduled to take him to every sizeable community in the state.

The Southerner opened his campaign officially last night in Concord where scores of his friends visited him in his hotel.

His supporters, particularly Hugh Waling, New Hampshire chairman of the Kefauver movement, expressed high optimism the selector would get more votes than the President in the "popularity" vote as well as more delegates to the Democratic national convention.

President Truman and Kefauver are expected to meet in Concord this morning and both have candidates for delegates "favorable" to them.

Martin Fay, liaison man for Kefauver in New England, said the tentative schedule called for stops in Manchester and then a swing around Hillsborough county communities including Milford, Jaffrey, Hillsborough and Keene.

Little Town Of Windsor Prepares For Last Rites

LONDON — The little town of Windsor boarded up the windows along its narrow main street against the expected crowds of twenty-five thousand Britons patiently lined up in cold and slush outside Westminster Hall to pay in homage before the flag-draped, jewel-topped coffin.

The elder brother reportedly asked his Queen-mother for permission to stand honor guard beside the body of the man who filled the throne he gave away.

Thus Britain today made final preparations to bury her late King George VI.

It was the last of three "days" lying-in-state in the cold stone hall of Westminster. Tomorrow morning the King's body will be taken to Windsor Castle for burial beside the remains of many of his predecessors on the British throne.

The Duke of Windsor, ex-King Edward VIII, who left the throne for the love of an American divorcee, was in an unprecedented historical situation.

He is the first King of England to attend the funeral of the man who succeeded him on the throne. Unconfirmed reports in London said he suggested to his mother that he be allowed to stand a turn as honor guard. Queen Mary, 84-year-old widow and mother of Sovereigns, reportedly sent him the new Queen Elizabeth, to seek the permission only the Sovereign could grant.

If Elizabeth approves, Windsor and his only remaining brother, the Duke of Gloucester, along with the Queen's husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, reportedly would stand a ceremonial 20-minute guard alongside the coffin later today.

George V's sons stood such a guard at his lying-in-state. Today was the last day for the Britons to pay formal homage to the Sovereign who, since his death eight days ago, they have dubbed "George the Good."

The people began lining up in the sleet, snow and icy wind shortly after the doors closed at 3:25 a.m. on yesterday's mourning throng. An hour before the iron-studded oaken portals opened this morning, the line stretched a quarter of a mile. By opening hour at 8 a.m., police estimated 25,000 were queued.

In the first two days, 185,092 walked softly past the bier. At Windsor, a short distance west of London, the mile-long route from the little railway station where the body will arrive to the grey walls of hill-topping Windsor Castle where it will be taken was being draped in the black and royal people of mourning.

The boarded windows showed shopkeepers remembered the crowds who were pushed through the glass during the funeral of George V in 1936.

The funeral also was a source of profit to some Friday. Locally cooler tonight. Lowest temperatures: 29-30 in Panhandle and 29-35 in South Plains. El Paso area, and upper Pecos Valley eastward tonight.

PTA SPONSORS INTERNATIONAL CHOIR HERE.—Wayland College International choir is scheduled to make four appearances in Pampa Feb. 21. It is being sponsored by the City Council of PTA's headed by Mrs. C. R. Cobb. The choir is dressed in authentic costumes and its repertoire includes songs from nations over the world. One of the members is Bob Allford of Pampa who is standing at the far left in the second row from the top.

Wayland International Choir Slates Four Performances Here

Wayland College International choir will make four appearances here Feb. 21, according to an announcement today by the PTA City Council, sponsors of the musical group.

The choir will sing first at the senior high school at 10 a. m. Next performance is at 1 p. m. in the junior high school for elementary students; 2:45 p. m. for junior high school students and at 8 p. m. for the public. A small admission fee to be charged for the evening performance.

The colorfully dressed choir of 35 voices represents students from many states and nations and sings in ten different languages. It is directed by Shelby Collier, head of the college's division of fine arts.

Costumes are authentic and are valued at more than $3,000. They have been obtained from the students of the nations represented.

Pampan A Member Of Wayland Choir

A Pampa student will be among the 35 members of Wayland college International choir when it appears here Feb. 21. Bob Allford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Allford, 1601 Duncan, was admitted to the group during his first year in school — which is considered unusual since members usually must wait until their second or third year in school.

Another distinction for Allford is his being selected as the baritone voice in the International's boys' quartet.

Allford is a freshman religious education major with a minor in choral music.

While in Pampa, he was a member of the Pampa High school A Cappella choir and the First Baptist church choir. He is at present studying voice under Shelby Collier, director of the college's division of fine arts.

"VALENTINES ARE HERE!" And no one's too young to enjoy St. Valentine's Day with all its heart-throbs and chuckles, says Sharon Anne Maloney of Newark, New Jersey. Sharon's only nine months old, but it's easy to see how she'll soon set many hearts aflutter before her one-and-only Valentine comes along. "Baby's First Valentine" is typical of about 60% of the 1952 Valentines, for "special titles" are more popular than ever before. Appropriate verses for friends and relatives, wives and husbands, as well as the traditional romantic messages for sweethearts, indicate St. Valentine's Day has become our most sentimental holiday for young and old alike. Better circle the date on your calendar—it's Thursday, February 14—a red-letter day, as always, for sincere, old-fashioned sentiment.

Saloon Still Flourishes In Mexico; Even Has Tile Gutter

By CHARLES H. GUPTILL
MEXICO CITY — (AP) — The old-fashioned swinging door saloon, all but forgotten in the United States, still flourishes in Mexico.

For the gregarious Mexican it serves as a club, lunch room, political forum, seat of business deals and refuge from the female. One thing it does not afford him is silence.

Typical of the hundreds which grace street corners in the capital is newspaper row's La Mundial. A chaste brass sign above its flapping entry denies hospitality to women and children.

That does not prevent a stream of grimy urchins from invading its tumultuous cloister to peddle lottery tickets, shoe shines and knick-knacks, or just to plead for a handout. A woman sneaks in sometimes, too. Usually she offers razor blades for sale. You also can buy rugs, blankets, comic books and sombreros.

The ambulant merchants get scant attention from the customers, most of whom are fiercely intent on dominoes. The Mundial cafe society plays this parlor game with a ferocity which leads the uninitiated to expect knives and pistols at any moment. Guitarists and flutists come and go, contributing to the cacophony. The house draws the line, however, at hurdy-gurdyists. These minstrels roll out their madrigals on the sidewalk and then come around brandishing their cranks in search of reward.

The long, battered bar boasts the traditional brass rail. A peculiarly Mexican refinement is the tile gutter running the bar's length through which water trickles. Cigaret butts, matches and other droppings float off in the stream. It has to be polished regularly, however, to keep lemons on rinds discarded by the tequila drinkers from clogging its course.

Tequila, the fiery potion distilled from fermented cactus juice, is the popular drink along the bar. Quartered lemons with a dash of salt serve as a counter-irritant. A beer chaser helps, too. Mexican beer is a splendid beverage.

Tourists are sometimes invited to experiment with a lethal product called a "submarine." That's a shot of tequila submerged jigger and all in a glass of beer and tossed off in gulps. The results can be spectacular.

Don Serafin Paradel, La Mundial's proprietor, presides over his resort's pandemonium with urbane joviality. A graying and portly Galician, he has the air of a prosperous banker incongruously attired in a spottily white starched jacket.

Banking, in fact, is one of our Serafin's sidelines. When he tops up at night, his take often consists largely of customers' checks he has cashed during the day.

The flow of checks and pesos through Mundial's swinging doors has made Serafin a man of some means. Next spring he plans to take off for Buenos Aires to visit his emigrant relatives. His ears probably will miss their daily din, but his doors will go on swinging.

Taxes Are Fastest Growing Item On Corporation Books

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK — (AP) — Taxes are the fastest growing item on many a corporation's books this year. Taxes are taking about 60 cents of each dollar the average business earns.

Some companies give even more than that to the income tax collector. And this opens up some vexing questions for management and stockholders and, in the long run, for employees, too:

1. Can present dividend rates be maintained?
2. Must business borrow more money for day by day cash operations?
3. Must it borrow more to build and expand?
4. Can business induce the public to invest more money?
5. Will this need for cash make the money supply painfully tight by March 15?

Most shareholders note Uncle Sam is getting a far higher share of the profits than they are. He gets 52 cents of each dollar of "ordinary profit" of the majority of corporations. And when gross earnings top the average for the years 1948-49, the amount above that average is called excess, and the tax collector takes 30 cents more of that "excess profit" dollar.

As a result, the net profit of the majority of manufacturing companies is lower for 1951 than it was for 1950. But every oil company reporting so far has larger net profits than it showed a year earlier. Business was very good for the oil companies, and also they, like the mining companies, get a special tax allowance.

Other companies doing better in 1951 than in 1950 can be found in machine tools, coal, utilities and airlines. Profits went down for steel mills and metal fabricators. They went up for the airlines and down for the railroads. Sales of chemical companies soared, but profit after taxes is down. Taxes and material controls cut earnings of the auto and appliance makers. Taxes and higher operating costs clipped the profits of stores.

In spite of paying more to the tax men, most corporations have maintained the dividend rate to shareholders. This has resulted in a big drop in the amount of profit the companies are retaining to run the business. In 1950 retained earnings totalled 13 1-2 billion dollars, but last year they are estimated to have totalled 8 1-2 billion dollars.

Since many companies are spending as much as ever for new plants and equipment, the smaller retained earnings mean more trips to the bank or the security markets for money.

Only 29 percent of the burglaries, 22 percent of the larcenies, and 27 percent of auto thefts in U. S. cities during 1949 were "cleared" by arrests, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Russia Gets Sharply Worded Note For Seizing Jap Boats

TOKYO — (AP) — Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway has sent a sharply worded note to Soviet authorities, denouncing Russian seizure of Japanese fishing vessels.

The Allied supreme commander accused the Reds of grabbing some 178 fishing craft in violation of the occupation agreement, and "contrary to all principles of international law and custom."

Ridgway charged the Reds confiscated 29 of the boats and wrecked one. He said 33 disappeared without a trace; one escaped and the other 114 eventually were released.

He also accused the Russians of holding many of the fishermen captive, subjecting them to "prolonged interrogations, most of which have had nothing to do with the alleged violations of the fishing area but on the contrary have been solely for the purpose of securing political, economic and military information concerning conditions in Japan."

He also said the Russians tried to levy fine in U. S. dollars against some captains "on the totally unsupported grounds of their having 'plundered' fish in Soviet 'territorial' waters."

The seizures were on the high seas, the Allied statement said, in the northern waters off Hokkaido — the northernmost Japanese island near Russian-held Sakhalin.

The protest was one of a series on a continuing problem. Japanese fishing vessels have been seized by the Reds over the past several years. Others have been captured by both Communist and Nationalist Chinese, North Koreans and even South Koreans.

Legally, the Russians are bound in Japanese matters by directives of the Allied supreme commander, since they technically share in the occupation.

Practically, however, the Russians have no voice in the occupation and disregard it whenever it suits them.

Ridgway's protest was delivered to the Soviet member of the council. A copy was given the Japanese foreign office.

Dr. Logan's Wife

By Diana Gaines

Copyright 1951 by Diana Gaines. Used by arrangement with the publishers, Random House, Inc. Distributed by NEA SERVICE, Inc.

THE STORY: Jennet Logan's experience with "doctor's parties" has always been boredom, and now she is going with her husband, Dr. Gus Logan, to one of these social functions. But Jennet is a faithful wife. Gus, although older and in ill health, gives her security and everything she wants.

Jennet found herself seated next to Peter Surinow at the dining table, presumably because she was nearest his age.

THERE were several cars parked in front of the Pelletier house by the time Jennet and Gus Logan arrived. In the moment of silence after they rang the chiming bell, they faced each other complacently. No man, Jennet thought could look more impeccable in maple gabardine. And she, in flaring plaid organza and a silver-mink stole, found reassurance if not satisfaction, first in miniature in Gus's glasses, and behind them, in the magnified fondness of his eyes. The door opened, shattering inward focus, and they broke into excuses for being late. Relieved of their coats, they entered the traditional living room in which great vases of acacia were as patently there for the party as the guests themselves.

It was very much as Jennet had anticipated. Two couples she had met at other doctors' parties whose names she would again forget. One couple she had not met, though Gus knew them. The ladies in silk prints, so that for a moment Jennet felt overdone, and then, in the next moment, glad of it because it set her apart from these women who had lost their shape and color to age. She smiled to their smiles, weighed three had been passed, Jennet began to feel his silence oppressive, and she turned to him. "What is your specialty, Dr. Surinow?" "Surinow," he corrected. "I'm a biophysicist, not a medical doctor. Just a Ph. D." "Oh, well, that counts," Jennet said airily. "But I understood that you were in Dr. Pelletier's department." "That's right, I am. I'm in the atomic research lab, which is an offshoot of radiation therapy. But I work on rats instead of people." Gus, directly across the table, heard the remark and smiled. "I'd say that was an overline distinction. You all the meters and gadgets we check ourselves with. It's hard to explain, but it's really an interesting set-up. You ought to come down and see it sometime." The invitation was issued so generally that it occurred to Jennet that this young man might be more shy than cold or superior. There were more questions. "What diseases did it cure? How was it administered to patients?" "Ah, now you're getting into the clinical side of the picture," Surinow said. "That's Dr. Pelletier's territory."

Murder Charge Filed

SAN ANGELO, Tex. — (P) — Clifton Wilson, 45, Eden, Tex., rancher, was found dead in a pasture near here Tuesday, his face beaten and his throat slashed. Murder charges were filed against Johnnie Farmer, 34, San Angelo. Farmer had not been arrested yet.

...accepted a cigarette, a light, a "Scotch on the rocks," and a chair which Dr. Pelletier pushed to the outer concentric circle. The next ring was formed by a heavy, polished coffee table—one of those antique ones whose legs have been cut off—and the next, a platter of round, open-faced cocktail sandwiches. Dead center was a grapefruit used like a pincushion for bacon-wrapped livers on toothpicks. Jennet had already adjusted to the tedium by concentrating on the hors d'oeuvre when the chimes heralded another arrival. Dr. Pelletier excused himself and returned with a tall, dark, young man whom he introduced as "Peter Surinow, our prize-winning biophysicist."

For all the thousands of people whose faces are easily read either because their looks have in large measure molded their personalities or because their personalities have transformed their features, there is now and then an individual whose face not only gives no clue to the essence behind it but gradually changes under the eye so that evaluations like "handsome" or "ugly" or "plain" are never agreed upon. Such a face was Peter Surinow's. It belonged less to him than to the emotion others held in him.

JENNET'S conscious reaction to the man introduced at a dull party as Peter Surinow was emotionless in the extreme. She saw a mask of prominent bones, a body awkward and lank in wool that shone from use, a pair of board-flat wrists extending well beyond the sleeves. His hair was dark and wiry and its ends gleamed with some substance intended but signally failing to depress them. Jennet found herself seated next to him at the dining table, presumably because she was nearest his age. She was rather conscious of his silence during the fish course. By the time the en-

"Maybe so," Surinow said, lifting his shoulder. "But there are differences. For one thing, I've never had to develop a bedside manner." ... "The isotopes," he explained, "are made at Oak Ridge by exposing certain elements like phosphorus or gold to the atomic pile. These radioactive materials are flown here to us every two weeks or so, according to our needs. They come in solution in a medicine bottle which in turn is carefully packed in a sealed lead container." "Why do they have to keep flying the stuff in little dribbles?" one woman wanted to know. "Wouldn't it save time and money if the government sent you a good-sized batch that would last you?"

"Well, you see, radioactivity loses strength with time. Certain known lengths of time. For instance, we know that radioactive phosphorus loses half its strength every 15 days. Iodine in eight days, and so on." "How do you handle the isotopes? I mean—how do you keep from getting the rays on you?" Jennet asked, more to get his attention than out of a thirst for information. "You can't touch it, can you?" "No, I should say not. It's what we call 'hot stuff.' We keep covered from head to toe in case of splashing and work behind lead-brick fences with mirrors strategically placed so that the fences don't impair precision. We try to stay arm's length from the stock solution by means of remote action devices. And I won't try to

...only the left nostril. Having withdrawn from the table conversation, Surinow attended to Jennet. "And what is your specialty, Miss Logan?" "My specialty? I don't have one. I'm not particularly good at anything." "Do you have children?" "No, none." "That's unfortunate. How, then, do you spend your life?"

JENNET looked squarely into the bone-framed eyes but she saw no hint of satire, only the fog-bound politeness of a loan-company interviewer. She looked down at the empty dessert plate as a brown-skinned hand set it before her. It was a preposterous question, but the answer, as she began to grope for it, became far more preposterous. How did she spend her life? The hard white porcelain plate in front of her became an amorphous glob of dazzling activated dots. Time was lost in the dotted space and she was lost in it, bogged in it, soon to be baked in it like the wedding ring and the thimble. Panic filled her. She could not look again into the face that waited above and beside her until she had the answer. A good answer, the right answer, the answer the face wanted and would, therefore, like. The staring plate began to break up into opaline cracks and before the cracks could brighten with color, she shouted firmly, "I paint!"

When she looked up at him, the bony serenity of his unknown face was both a shock and a relief, but her relief was short-lived because she met Gus's surprised eyes across the table. She glanced quickly about to see who else had caught her in the lie. No one was looking at her and the din of chatter swirled about her. "It must be a great satisfaction to have a creative talent," Surinow said. (To Be Continued)

Srenuous Control Measures Asked For Whooping Cough

AUSTIN — (Special) — Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, today urged strenuous efforts be made to control spread of whooping cough. There were 1273 cases reported during the first five weeks of this year. "Whooping cough can only be contracted by direct exposure to the disease, and isolation of cases must be universally practiced if the incidence is to be controlled," Dr. Cox stated. "The infectious agent or germ of whooping cough is transmitted by droplets expelled in coughing, sneezing, or speaking," Dr. Cox said. "The discharges from the nose and throat are dangerous to susceptible persons; the need for early recognition and careful isolation of whooping cough is obvious. Your family physician should be called at the first sign." The first symptom of this disease is usually a dry cough, which persists day and night and tends to become increasingly severe. The disease is fully developed when vomiting of food and whooping accompany the paroxysm of cough. Dr. Cox stressed the fact that children who have whooping cough should not attend school or come in contact with other children until three weeks after the appearance of typical signs of the disease. "Prevention and control of whooping cough, especially among infants and small children, may be accomplished through use of approved vaccine and convalescent serum," Dr. Cox asserted, and it is important that such measures be taken to protect them. Neglecting to do so, and allowing the young child to suffer an attack of this disease, may seriously impair his future health.

A special addition of 20 cents a hundred pounds to the ceiling prices on clean washed storage potatoes which were harvested before Dec. 31 was authorized today by the Office of Price Stabilization. # U. S. Wins Gold Medal In Slalom

By BEN PHLEGAR

OSLO, Feb. 14 (AP) — Mrs. Andrea Mead Lawrence, 19, skiing daredevil from Rutland, Vt., gave the U. S. the first gold medal of the sixth winter Olympic games today when she streaked to victory in the women's giant slalom event.

The tall New Englander, who was an Olympic competitor at 15, raced down the hazardous 150-yard Norefjell course, weaving between pine trees and rocks in two minutes, 5.8 seconds.

Her time was 2.2 seconds better than that of the second place finisher, Austria's Dagmar Rom, a blonde movie actress, who registered 2:09.

Catherine (Katy) Rodolph, 21-year-old Denver University coed from Hayden, Colo., finished fifth in 2:11.7 for America's second best showing.

The United States' No. 2 hope in the event, Jannette Burr of Seattle, Wash., almost missed one of the control gates and had to back up to go through it properly. This spoiled her chances and she finished in 2:19.2, far out of the running.

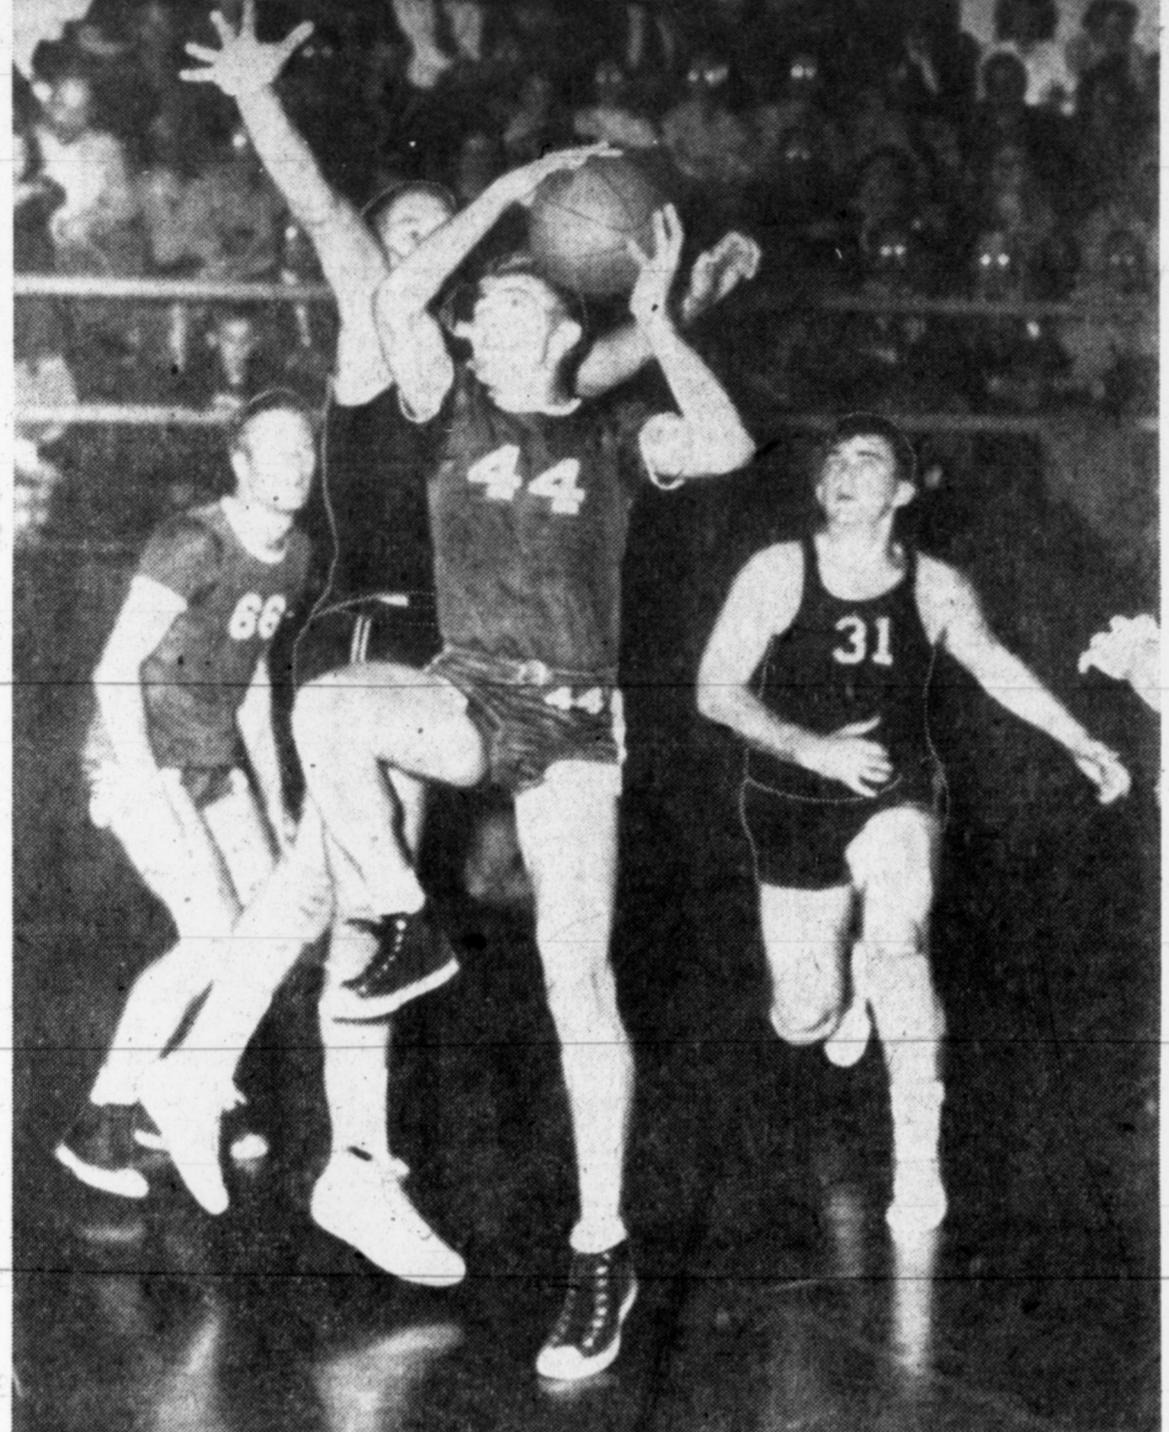

While Mrs. Mead was sweeping to victory down the steeply-sloped incline at Norefjell, some 7 1/2 miles from here, the U. S. two-man bobsled teams were virtually concealing the championship to Germany's great sledding tandem at Frogerstern.

Andreas Oster, Germany's champion bobsleeder, and his mate, Lorenz Nieberl, took a commanding lead after the first two heats of the two-man bobsled championship.

Oster and Nieberl swirled down the 1500 meter (metric mile) bobsled run in the course record time of one minute, 20.76 seconds on the first try and repeated it in 1:21.64.

This gave them a two-run total time of 2:42.40 and only a miracle could prevent them from prevailing in the final two heats tomorrow. The championship is based on the total times of four heats.

The U. S.'s No. 1 sled manned by Stan Benham of Lake Placid, N. Y., and 270-pound Fat Martin of Massena, N. Y., was second with 2:44.15 for the first two runs. Benham's broken-down times were 1:22.03 and 1:22.12.

Cooper Opens Title Defense With KO

By WILBUR MARTIN

FORT WORTH — (AP) — The big boys slug it out tonight in the state Golden Gloves tournament but they'll have a hard time matching the results of the tiny toughest.

Eleven knockouts were registered last night — nine of them technical — as a record opening night crowd of 6,545 watched the featherweights, flyweights, lightweights, welterweights and middleweights battle in 25 fights.

Light heavyweights, here a v-y-weights and bantamweights make their first appearance tonight.

El Paso took a commanding lead in the team trophy chase, fighting five men last night and coming out with five victories.

Commerce, Amarillo and Corpus Christi tied for second with three victories each.

Ellis Cortez, 113, Houston, started the parade of knockouts, kaying Billy Joe Conn, 113, Abilene, at 1:01 of the second round in the flyweight division.

MANY TOS

Four of the five featherweight bouts ended in technical knockouts and three of the five middleweight fights ended the same way. A fourth in this class was a clean kayo — Eugene Cooper, 161, Amarillo, defending champion, scored it over Fred Bilbo, 155, San Angelo.

Johnny O'Glee, three times light-weight champion, opened his bid for a welterweight title by handily decisioning James Fowler, 143, Abilene. O'Glee weighed 138.

A second defending champion, Raymond Rojas, Fort Worth, opens defense of his featherweight title later in the five-day tournament.

Twenty-two bouts are carded tonight and tomorrow, 28 Saturday with semi-finals and finals Monday night.

Other knockouts last night included:

Pic. Charles Riggs, 125, Beaumont, over Pte. Louis Torres, 222, Waco, in the second round when Torres hurt a hand and was unable to continue.

Manuel Villalobos, 125, El Paso, over Henry Chavez, 124, San Angelo, at 1:10 of the second round.

Robert Riggsby, 127, Odessa, over Gene Furlong, 126, Commerce, just before the bell rang to end the second round.

Dean Swann, 127, Tyler, over Columbus Wells, 127, McAllen, at 1:37 of the third round.

Miguel Ramirez, 136, El Paso, over Paul Romero, 135, San Angelo, at 1:10 of the third round.

James Forbes, 147, Amarillo, over Alcario Cardenas, 143, at 52 seconds of the first round.

John White, 160, Commerce, over Donald Holmes, 156, Tyler, just before the bell in the second.

Billy Haynes, 158, San Antonio, over Joe Marlow, 161, Fort Worth, at 1:32 of the first round.

Alex Guerrero, 161, El Paso, over Jack Edwards, Corpus Christi, at 1:10 of the second.

Fitzhugh Carter, 157, Dallas, came back from four knockouts to decision Charles Elliott, 154, Wichita Falls.

In the only booted split decision last night, Billy Trice, 128, Corpus Christi, was given the nod over Candi Lopez, 123, Amarillo.

In another bout last night, Amarillo's Pete Perez easily defeated Gerald Reavers of Odessa.

Tonight's card sees three Amarillo region fighters in action. Eugene Cooper resumes against Don Parks of Houston in the middleweight class, Pat McCarthy, former state champion, meets Ellis Cortez of Houston, and Pampa's Dick Murray goes up against Raymond Phillips of El Paso.

Rocky Puts End To Savold's Career

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — A fighter has to have his annuities paid up before going against Rocky Marciano, and Pampa's Marciano, the hard punching heavyweight from Brockton, Mass., not only beats his opponents into bloody submission, but he sends them scurrying for a rocking chair and retirement.

Like last night when to all intent and purpose he ended the career of the veteran Lee Savold. It is no exaggeration to say that Marciano slaughtered Savold. The 35-year-old Englewood, N. J., fighter was a blood-soaked hulk when his manager, Bill Daly, asked Referee Pete Tomasso to stop the uneven match at the end of the sixth round.

"The will was there but not the body," said Daly. "I'm going to advise Lee to retire from the ring tomorrow."

John (Ok) Dagrora, Pennsylvania state athletic commissioner, said he was going to suspend Savold indefinitely and ask him to retire.

Sound familiar?

It should. Almost the same sequence of events followed Marciano's eight round knock-out of Joe Lewis four months ago. After the once proud Brown Bomber was draped over the ropes, he too was urged to retire by both loyal followers and some boxing commissions.

Savold now has a chance last night. The unbeaten Marciano charged across the ring from the first bell, smashed two tremendous left hooks into Savold's face and then unmercifully cut down his bigger opponent. Marciano weighed 186 1/2 and Savold 200 at the scheduled 10 rounder. The announced attendance was 9,243 and the gate a disappointing $61,386.

Despite his easy victory — Marciano won every round — the Rock was far from satisfied. Asked how he felt after cutting Savold's eyes and the veteran's lip so badly it needed stitches, Rocky said, "I wasn't sharp at all. I need to fight often. A four month layoff is too much."

Mustangs Close With 59-45 Win

WHEELER — (Special) — The Wheeler Mustangs closed out their District I-A basketball campaign here Tuesday night with a 59-45 win over the McLean Tigers. The victory gave the Mustangs second place in the northern half of the district, behind Canadian and ahead of McLean.

David Johnson led the scoring for Wheeler with 27 points. Eddie Reeves and Farren led McLean with 17 each. Wheeler led at halftime, 32-19.

The Wheeler girls almost upset the powerful McLean girls leading up to the final minute only to lose, 34-33. Wheeler led at halftime, 19-16 and at the end of the third period, 25-21. Glenda Foster scored 16 points to top the winners.

The McLean girls captured the northern half title, and Canadian girls were second followed by Wheeler.

Wheeler ends its basketball season at home Friday night, playing Brisco.

Tigers, Browns Close 7-Man Deal

DETROIT — (AP) — The Detroit Tigers and the St. Louis Browns today announced a seven-player trade in one of the winter's largest baseball deals.

General Manager Charlie Gehringer of the Tigers said the trade would send Tiger pitchers Bob Cain and Gene Bearden and a first baseman Dick Kryhoski to the Browns.

In return the Tigers get catcher Matt Batts, outfielder Cliff Mages, pitcher Dick Littlefield and infielder Benjamin Taylor.

White Deer Bucks Take Lead On Canadian, 42-31

By BOB DIXON

Pampa News Sports Writer

SKELLYTOWN — White Deer's Bucks playing a game of ball control, caught the Canadian Wildcats, 42-31, in a District I-A playoff game last night.

The Bucks were highly aided in their efforts due to the fact that the Wildcats were ice cold from the field, hitting 10 of 50 shots attempted for a 20 percent average.

The Bucks shot the same amount of times, but were able to connect 18 times, or for 36 percent average.

J. C. Hill put Canadian out in an early lead when he hit a long one. This lead was short-lived, however, for the Bucks' Jackie Freeman hit one to knot the count. Ronald Mills then hit a free throw for the Bucks and they were never headed from that point. Guy Thornburg paced the Bucks' scoring attack in the initial frame by getting five. Canadian could fare no better than another field goal by Orley Garuth. At the end of the first quarter it was 10-4, White Deer.

MADE SHOTS COUNT

The Bucks, going into the second quarter with a six point lead, held the ball, never taking a shot until they had their sights well leveled. This strategy worked very well for they scored nine more points and held the Wildcats to six while going so. At intermission the Bucks led, 19-10.

In the third period the Bucks resumed their control game. When the Wildcats wanted to shoot, they had to do it from outside the keyhole. The Bucks, not wanting to foul, did not press their men. At the end of the third period it was 32-20, the Bucks hold a 12-point bulge.

Using everything and everyone in the last quarter, the Wildcats fought desperately to get back into the game, but couldn't make it. They came within seven points, but again fell behind to the fast-Buck team. The Bucks froze the ball for four minutes of the final quarter, winning the contest by eleven points.

The two clubs will meet again at Canadian next Tuesday night. Both B and A team games have been scheduled, starting at 7:30. If a third game is necessary to decide the champion of District I-A, it will be played at the Pampa fieldhouse on Feb. 21, starting at 8 o'clock.

Dowell Girls To Play Pampa Cagers

The combined team of Pampa newspapermen and radio men have received an opportunity to gain their first basketball victory. And this time they are picking easier competition.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars post in Pampa has decided to sponsor a game between the aforementioned basketball team (?) and the Dowell girl's team of Amarillo. The exact date of game hasn't been set as yet, but it will be played sometime next week in the fieldhouse.

All proceeds of the game will go to benefit the annual American Heart Disease Association's national drive, which is now underway. It is headed locally by Dr. Malcolm Wyatt.

Divided Rules

Dowell said yesterday he would bring his full team of ten girls to Pampa to play the Pampa crew and try to give them an opportunity to win a basketball game before they hang up their uniforms for keeps.

Dowell also set the rules for the game. It will be played under girls' rules for alternate quarters and boys' rules the other two periods.

Sixty percent of the money collected in the heart disease drive stays with Gray County while the rest goes to the national foundation. On the basis of how hard the boys played in the other game, several of them may be recipients of some of the aid themselves. For the boys, it will mean a little studying of the rules, which are slightly different for girls. But without a doubt, Pampa will still throw a lot of weight around out there with the presence of little Coy Palmer and husky Ed Dycus.

Costa To Return

HOUSTON — (AP) — Shortstop Billy Costa, who suffered a polo attack last August, signed his 1952 contract with the Houston Buffs baseball team yesterday.

A month after Costa was stricken, he made a pinch hitting appearance in the Dixie Series.

Tag Match Slated To Usher Wrestling Into Pampa Feb. 21

Following an absence of nearly three years, professional wrestling will be ushered back into Pampa sporting circles with one of the wildest events in the ring — a two team tag match.

This was announced last night by Promoter Howard Vineyard, who has leased the Southern Club as a site for the weekly matches. The first battles will be held one week from tonight, Feb. 21. Tickets will be placed on sale soon, Vineyard said.

As contestants in the first main event Vineyard has lined up some familiar and veteran wrestlers. Teaming together will be nefarious Big Train Clements of Lubbock and youthful George Overhuls of Amarillo. They will battle Bill Sledge of Thornton, Tex., an dthe ever-popular Billy Weidner of Boston in a two-out-of-three fall, one hour time limit match.

Field Of 160 Golfers Start Texas Open Tourney Today

SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — A field of 169 moved out today in the first round of the twenty-fifth Texas Open Golf Tournament. There was no outstanding favorite, a situation that has prevailed all along the winter tournament trail this year.

The reason is obvious — there have been six tournaments and six different players.

Top players absent include Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, Tenn., the year's leading money winner and victor at El Paso last week end, and E. J. Harrison, St. Andrews, Ill., last year's Texas Open champion. Middlecoff has gone home for some hay fever shots. Harrison is out with a back injury.

RECORD HOLDER ABSENT

Yesterday, all of the others who had been playing the winter tour, plus a couple of new ones — Ed Oliver and Henry Ransom — are here and the par 36-35-71, 6,400-yard Brackenridge Park course is due for probably its steadiest hammering. There is the

Rhubarb Brews Over Assessment

SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — At Phoenix, the PGA tournament committee decided to assess each tournament golfer $3.00 with which to create a public relations and publicity set-up.

Yesterday, the very thing designed to alter the relations of golf brought another rhubarb.

Amateur golfers posting qualifying scores balked at paying the $3.00 and charged Ray O'Brien, assistant tournament supervisor, had told them they couldn't play in the Texas Open, even though they qualified, if they had not paid the fee. The amateurs said they had paid a $10 entry fee and did not think they should be assessed anything additional in order to play.

There were arguments all during the day. Last night Frank Caywood, tournament supervisor, apologized for O'Brien's alleged actions. It also was indicated the assistant supervisor would be called on the carpet by the tournament committee.

Two members of the committee, Horton Smith of Detroit and Leonard Gibson of Kansas City, said any amateur golfer paying the fee who wanted his money back could get it. It was estimated that at least 30 amateur players refused to pay the fee but many others did. Caywood said the fee was not mandatory for amateur golfers.

O'Brien denied that he had told the golfers they had to pay the fee or that he told them they could not play in the tournament if they did not pay it.

Pennington Tops Irish Scorers

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Van Pennington continued to pace the Irish, scoring as basketball entered its final two weeks. The Irish sharpshooter totals 162 points and leads by a wide margin, even though he was ill and unable to play in the Texola scrap last week.

George Hendrick, also sick and out of the fray, continues second with 92, but was almost overhauled by Norrell Perkins who hit seven points to pull up with 85.

Mack Terry is in fourth spot with 79 after a four-point game against Texola, where big Bill Harris cracked the nets for 11 to total 66 for the campaign.

Shamrock has games with Perryton Friday night and with Sannorwood and Mobeetie next week before the big District I-A-A tourney. Pennington's lead seems safe, but someone may edge Hendrick for second place.

Harvesters Leave Tomorrow On Final Bid For Cage Lead

The Pampa Harvesters will shove off early tomorrow morning for their final basketball trip of the season — UNLESS! Unless Borger loses a game this weekend and the Harvesters win two, or UNLESS Borger loses both of his games and the Harvesters split.

Either situation would give the Green and Gold a tie for the District 1-AAAA, while a clean sweep by the Pampans and a double-defeat for the Bulldogs would give the Harvesters the clean-cut right to the title. But it is very unlikely, and totally unexpected, that Borger's great basketball team is going to lose even one game this weekend. Both the Harvesters and Bulldogs will be playing Lubbock and Odessa in the south part of the league.

If this is the final week of play for the Harvesters, and nobody will know for certain until after Friday night's games at least, it will close the high school careers for six cagers. They are co-captains Tommy Smith and Duane Jeter, forward Marvin Bond, guard Jimmy Dulaney, reserve guard Roy Pool and reserve guard Alie Miller. All are seniors except Miller, who will be too old next season.

BOTH BEATEN ONCE

The Harvesters already own a pair of wins over the Westerners and Bronchos. But both clubs have improved greatly since then, and will carry the advantage of their home floor. Perhaps the most greatly improved is the Westerner quintet, which got a late start and has been a fired-up club all season.

The Westerner's season record is a disappointing 9-15 to date. That is very poor for a defending state champion. Only one of these victories has come in district play, 66-53 over San Angelo.

Lubbock is led by big Bob Fullerton, who has cracked out 126 points in district play. Second highest scorer is Jerry Thomas with 65. In their earlier meeting the Green and Gold downed the Westerners, 63-58, and the next night Borger edged them, 59-56.

The Bronchos started the season warm after a long delay due to the polio epidemic. Their season record so far is 13-7, with a 4-6 mark in district.

The Odessa type of play is slow and sure. Their leading scorer is center Walt Spiller, who has hit 98 points in district. He got some scoring help last weekend from Frank Gee, who hit 25 points.

Either club is capable of upping its game, and Pampa fans will be hoping for just that. Both games will be broadcast direct from the gymnasiums by radio station KPDD.

Baseball Wins Salary Dispute

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Baseball has won its argument with the salary stabilization board — and it may cost it some money.

John Kieran, former sports columnist for the New York Times and editor of the Information Please almanac, has sided with baseball in its contention that the so-called bonus to a youngster to get him to sign his first contract should not be figured as a part of the club's regular payroll. This payment, Kieran decided, "is, in effect, an outright sale of property" and not a salary.

Baseball is a sport where one sees "the hazards of competition, the fluctuating fortunes of teams, the varying skills of players, the swift changes in the course of pennant races." Because of this, he said, the board should provide "flexibility" in dealing with baseball finances.

Kieran's decision was made in the form of recommendations to the board. He is a member of a salary board panel on professional sports, and listened to baseball's arguments in a special hearing in New York on Feb. 6.

The recommendations would be a modification of the original policy laid down on Jan. 17. The board then suggested two ways for a club to figure its limit on 1952 payrolls:

1. It could take its 1952 payroll total and not exceed it.
2. It could take its total salary payroll for one year, 1946 through 1950, and use it, plus up to a 10 percent increase.

Baseball lawyers argued that this might work a hardship on clubs which had low payrolls in the past but are now trying to beat their way out of the depths. (The St. Louis Browns, under new management, might be an example.)

Kieran also said that any club which sent out its contracts before Jan. 17 and now finds it violates the salary policy, should be given special consideration.

Browns To Work With Japanese

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — With many a word of recognition to Puccini, restless Bill Vecek is making plans to cast his St. Louis Browns in a production that smacks of a "Madame Butterfly" plot.

In the Italian composer's opera, an American naval officer woos and weds a Japanese gal. Vecek's idea is just about the same.

He gave word yesterday to start planning a working agreement between the Browns and a Japanese baseball club. Whether such a thing is legal can be decided later.

The idea cropped yesterday in a cablegram from Abe Saperstein, owner of the fabulous Globetrotters of basketball and Browns' stockholder and scout.

"I can make an excellent working arrangement with a club in the Japanese Professional Baseball League," Saperstein's cable read. "Can I do it?"

That tag ending is the big question. Is such a thing allowed under present American baseball rulings?

It stumped Vecek. And it stumped a "board of strategy" that was present — Gen. Mgr. Rudy Schaffer, Vice President Bill DeWitt, Traveling Secretary Bill Durney and Publicity Director Bob Eishel.

Vecek wasn't stumped long. A thing like that, he said, it's possible doesn't worry the energetic Brown's owner.

"Go ahead," he cabled Saperstein. "Can't tell if we can do it. Must clear with president of the National Baseball Association."

He plans to question George Trautman, NEA president, on the matter. "It can't hurt anything," says Vecek. "If we get an OK on it, we'll try to work out something."

Shamrockers Face Perryton Friday

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Coach Scott McCall's Irish plow into rough competition Friday night when they journey to Perryton to pit boys and girls against the tough Rangers, only District 1-AAA foes the Irish have met this season.

Coach McCall probably will start Van Pennington, Billy Harris, George Hendrick, Norrell Perkins and Malcolm Passons as he seeks to avenge the January loss and to sharpen up for the big District 1-AAA tourney at Perryton Feb. 20-21-22.

Perryton's tough Rangers dropped the Irish here January 15 with a 45-30 victory. Shamrock fans felt that the Irish crew was not up to standard that night and believe the Irish can rack up the Ranger A.

McCall's girls, growing better each season, progressed, lost a close 45-40 decision to the Rangerettes, mostly because of the sensational shooting of forward Betty Schnell, but Irish fans believe the strong Irish guards can hold her below the 27 points she stacked up last month. Shamrock foes have been held down well recently by guards Molly Mayfield, Glenda Thompson and Jennie Ford.

McCall probably will start his regular crew — Modene Griffin, Carolyn Dodgen and Mary Setzler at forward; Mayfield, Ford and Thompson at guard. Thompson is the only senior, Griffin

CLEVELAND INDIANS

By AL LOPEZ
TAMPA, Fla. — (AP) — It is no secret why we didn't win the pennant. It was because of our lack of hitting.

With the hitters failing to come through, it placed too much of a burden on the shoulders of our pitchers.

That's our biggest repair job for 1952 — to improve our hitting. I am optimistic enough to expect that to happen. You've got to remember Luke Easter missed more than a month because of a bad knee and Larry Doby was nursing injured legs practically all season.

With Easter's knee and Doby's legs in shape, I don't see how we can fail to improve our hitting. They are two of our biggest guns. If you don't believe how important Luke's big bat was to us, just look at the figures. The Indians played nearly 700 ball with Easter in the lineup and below 400 without him.

Easter's knee is sound again. "I'm happy to say. The operation he had after the season was a success and I hope the big man will be able to give us nine full innings every day this season."

I think our infield will be stronger. It improved greatly the second half of the season after a slow start. I believe we had the best infield in the league in September. Look at our biggest play from Bobby Avila, Ray Boone and Al Rosen. Al did his usual good job at third.

Our pitching will be good of course. We have Bob Feller, Bob Lemon, Early Wynn, Mike Garcia, Steve Gromek, Bob Chakales and Lou Brissie back. We have a fine young prospect in Sam Jones. He is a big 6-4 right-hander who won 16 games for San Angelo, a sixth place club, last year. He looked good in his only start for us last September.

We have acquired a long catcher by the name of Joe Montalvo from the Seattle club. He, too, is a giant, standing 6-4, and weighing more than 200 pounds. He batted .387 on the coast. Our scouts say he has great ability.

I believe some of the other clubs have improved but I think the Yankees and Red Sox will be weaker. You can't lose men like Joe DiMaggio and Bobby Doerr and not feel it. And if Ted Williams goes back into service...

...I believe he will be stronger as well Philadelphia and St. Louis. The Tigers will have Art Houtteman, their fine young pitcher back. The Browns have brought up a lot of good minor league players. These ever-hustling White Sox will be tough to handle.

The team to beat, though, is still the Yankees. No matter how good Mickey Mantle or Jackie Jensen are, neither can replace DiMaggio. Joe was an inspirational ball player and the Yankees are not going to look the same without him.

Lobos Sign Pair Of Youngsters

LAMESA — The Lamesa Lobos have announced the signing of a limited service pitcher and a rookie first baseman. They are Frederick Jack Gaines, a right-handed pitcher from Florida and Luis A. Morales, a southpaw first sacker from Puerto Rico.

Gaines posted an 18-7 record last season with Fairmont of the Florida State League. He is 5-10 and weighs 140 pounds.

Morales played two seasons with Ponca, P.R., in semi-pro ball, where he hit .326 and fielded .878.

Another member of the Lobos, Pedro Santiago, makes his home in Puerto Rico.

Fulks Hit 63 Points; Every Shot Was Great

By ED GOTTLIEB
PHILADELPHIA — (NEA) — Playing and coaching basketball for more years than I care to remember, I've seen so many spectacular and breath-taking shots that I hesitate to single out one as the greatest.

The Warriors' Joe Fulks, however, gave me the greatest shooting thrill of all time when he bagged 63 points against Indianapolis here in 1949.

Among the 27 field goals scored by Joe that evening were some of the most fantastic and miraculous shots ever exhibited. He made them the hard way. There wasn't an easy "sleeper" in the court load.

Five different Indianapolis players took turns trying to stop him. He was double teamed, even triple teamed. Still, somehow, he managed to get the shots off and make 48 percent of his attempts.

There was no early indication he'd make history that night. He missed the first few tries. He made one, missed another. Then, suddenly, he started to find the range. He made every type of shot conceivable.

Fulks made them with his right hand, with his left. He made hook shots from both sides, two-hand jump shots and set shots. He made them off pivot, from the corners, on the dead run and standing still from far outside.

It was uncanny. You had to see it to believe it.

I recall one play in particular late in the game. Joe was completely bottled up by three players at the end of the court slightly to the left of the basket.

Fulks started to fall out of bounds as his opponents swarmed over him, yet somehow he got off a hook shot with his left hand. It went almost in a direct line through the hoop, not even touching the rim.

That was the greatest shot of

Braves Upset Billiken Five

PEORIA, Ill. — (AP) — Bradley University's basketball team, in the midst of a recession from the heights of previous seasons, regained the old touch last night and set back highly-favored St. Louis University, 61-60.

Pickings haven't been exactly meagre for the Peoria Braves this season. It was the second time they had knocked over the Billikens, the previous victory coming at St. Louis in a double overtime, 57-56. The Braves now boast a respectable 14 won, 10 lost record.

It was the fifth defeat for the Billikens, who lead the Missouri Valley Conference with six straight victories. Their overall season record is 17-5.

Games such as last night's thrilling conquest of St. Louis, ranked seventh nationally in the Associated Press poll, have been rare this year for Bradley.

In the three previous seasons, Bradley won 91 games and lost only 19. And the Braves were picked tops in the country at the end of the 1949-50 season in the AP poll.

Coach Forrdy Anderson of Bradley, rebuilding this year after pre-season involvement of a much of last year's squad in the bribing scandal, found a hero last night in Harvey Babetch, freshman substitute.

Babetch entered the game in the last few minutes and it was his basket and free throw which broke a 58-58 tie, providing Bradley's last three points and the margin of victory. A subsequent goal by the Billikens' Fred Kovar narrowed the gap.

Princeton, surprised Columbia, 70-63, to become a strong contender for the Ivy League title. First place Cornell, unbeaten in league competition, won its sixth straight by swamping Harvard, 69-44.

In other games Georgia Tech downed Auburn, 58-50; LaSalle crushed Penn., 74-58; Florida took Georgia, 74-60; New Mexico beat Arizona State (Flagstaff) 74-56 and San Jose State nipped San Francisco, 41-40.

all, the supreme thrill in a night of superb shot-making. I never saw anything to equal it before, never again expect to see anything to match it.

Vienna's Porcelain Tops List Of Currency Earners

By JULIUS HUMM
 NEA Staff Correspondent
 VIENNA, Austria — (NEA) — After more than 200 years, Vienna's world-famous porcelain is still one of the chief foreign currency earners in this war-damaged city.
 Craftsmen like Joseph Sissabach, 32, who has worked in the Augarten factory for 45 years, and 140 other employees, including young girls with paintbrushes, turn out plates, vases and figurines with tools and methods almost the same as those used 220 years ago.
 Most of the output these days is in plates and vases, but the delicate figurines which depict scenes and costumes from all parts of the globe are the big money makers.
 The Augarten factory, now run by a state-controlled company, got its start when the Dutch court artist Claudius Innocentius du Paquier made a porcelain figure of Prince Eugene in honor of that hero's Balkan victories.
 In his Viennese court, Charles VI, emperor of the Holy Roman Empire, was fascinated by the tiny statue made of "Chinese white wonder earth," and authorized the Dutch artist to go into business.
 The statuette of Prince Eugene is still one of the factory's most popular pieces. The newest one, called "Corrida" (Bullfight), spite a price tag of 7000 Austrian shillings ($280).
 Principal customers for the factory's "extra-fine" dinner ware, all hand-painted, are in South America, Scandinavia and Spain, with some being exported to the U.S., England and Germany. The cost for a complete set is about 20,000 shillings ($800).

Women Voters Have Unit Meetings Today

WHEELER — (Special) — Eastern Star entertained its deputy grand matron, Mary Hatcher of Pampa, at a meeting Tuesday night. The group had a 6 p.m. dinner preceding the meeting held in Wheeler Masonic hall. There were about 35 attending with visitors from the Pampa and Canadian chapters of Eastern Star. Worthy matron Irma Kirk presented Mary Hatcher to the group.

Scour tinware only when necessary, as scouring wears away the thin coating of tin and exposes the metal to rust.

To brighten ebony, apply olive oil with a piece of flannel and polish with chamolis.

A bright, feminine chintz is an excellent aid in transforming a dreary, outmoded bedroom into a pleasant, inviting chamber. An old cedar chest (left) becomes an attractive window seat when padded and covered with this soil-resistant material. Matching pillows and valance add to decorative effect. The room is further enhanced by dressing table trim, stool skirt, and chair cover, all of the same fabric. Print of the chintz is scaled to fit small boudoir furniture.

Beautify Bedroom With Chintz

By ANNE LARSEN
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK (NEA) — In most homes, re-decoration is apt to be pretty much a front-of-the-house thing.

If your home beautifying budget has been siphoned into other rooms for a number of years, your boudoir is likely to look pretty dreary by now. The time is ripe for inexpensive renovation.

There's no need to toss out perfectly good furniture simply because it has become a bit outmoded in design. A good cover-up job can conceal the fact that your furniture isn't quite as stylish as it was when you bought it.

To convert your cedar chest into a window seat, begin by selecting a bright 36-inch material. A hand-printed chintz in a feminine, yet not-too-fussy pattern, is a good choice.

Pad the top of the chest with cotton batting, then stretch a section of the center panel of the chintz over it. Tack edges to underside of lid. Box-pleat another section of chintz, cutting it

Selecting Pattern And Material Is Wayside Demonstration Club Study

"Selecting Pattern and Material" was the demonstration given by Miss Helen Dunlap at the meeting of the Wayside Home Demonstration club February 8 in the home of Mrs. Marian Osborne.

Roll call was answered with new materials on the market.

Mrs. Clint Caylor, president, presided at the business meeting. The year's plans were given by the standing committees.

"Self-analysis is one of the first steps in being well-dressed," Miss Dunlap began. "Face yourself before mirror and check off your good points and those which are better picked down. Once you have evaluated yourself, you are ready to pick the best lines for your figure. Often the line accents of your outfit make the difference. Even such a simple thing as a well-placed drape effect can hide a problem area, while an awkwardly placed pocket can call unwelcome attention to it. Some outfits give you an air of assurance and grace, while others make you feel drab and self-conscious. It is well worth a little effort to find out why."

"Looking nice is a source of satisfaction none of us can afford to miss and one none of us needs to miss, regardless of our figure problems. Texture and color of material plays as important a role in our wardrobe problems as style and lines."

A few of the problem areas pointed out by Miss Dunlap were short or plump neck, narrow shoulders, "lost" waistline, large arms, thin necks, and broad shoulders.

Simple V-shaped necklines and short upswart hair will give the illusion of a longer neck. Narrow shoulders are helped by use of shoulder pads, wide lapels and short capes. For the "lost" waistline use panel fronts, redingotes, dresses with vertical lines of trimming, and narrow belts.

Miss Dunlap also warned to not forget the shape of the face. The long narrow face is helped with high necklines and soft bows and collars. The round face is extended with the V-shaped necklines. The square face is softened with a sweetheart neckline.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Alvin Reeves, Floyd Barrett, W. A. Greene, W. F. Taylor, W. R. Dunn, Evelyn Johnson,

To Dr. J. L. Chase, Ray Evans, Travis Lively, Paul Belsenherz, Fred Neslage, Dr. Ed Williams and Floyd Watson — new Rotary club directors.

Use buckram for stiffening the valance, and saten in a harmonizing shade for its lining. For a decorator's touch, take your finished valance to a needlecraft shop, where you can have the outer edges of the leaves and the flowers buttonhole-stitched to emphasize their outlines. Attach valance to a valance board by means of narrow cotton tape sewn across the saten lining at the back.

The same ribbon-binding section from your chintz can be used to add accent to a dressing table which is skirted in sheer white or pastel material.

To revitalize an old chair begin by measuring, allowing about two inches for tucking at the back of the seat and two inches for each seam. Measure the loose cushion, too, making the same allowance. The length and width of the petticoat must also be determined, with extra inches for hem and seam.

To cut, place the material wrong side out against the inside back of the chair, centering the pattern of the fabric. Pin it firmly in place all along the top. Smooth it closely down the back, and allow for a two inch tuck-in between back and seat.

Next, bring the fabric forward over the seat and down the front

Ruth Millett

If you are happily married steer clear of unhappy married couples.

That may sound like a selfish attitude. But it isn't a question of selfishness — just self-protection.

An unhappy married couple is always, either consciously or unconsciously, selling marriage short.

Spend enough time with a couple who are forever tearing each other down, who are always talking a gloomy attitude toward life, and marriage itself doesn't look so rosy.

The unhappy wife usually tries to make the happy wife think that men have the best of it and that men are selfish, inconsiderate and unappreciative.

And the husband who isn't happy in his own marriage is forever making cracks about wives and marriage and the stupidity of women.

Any way you look at it — it's bad for the morale of a contented husband and wife to get too chummy with a couple who are bored with each other and with marriage.

They have no constructive ideas to offer. They aren't planning and looking ahead eagerly to the future, but fuming about the present. Their marriage holds nothing that is in any way inspiring to another couple.

So steer clear of them. You can't do them any good. And they may do a lot of harm.

Search out happily married couples for your friends. They won't sell marriage short. The time you spend with them will be far more relaxed and carefree than the hours you spend with an unhappy married pair.

lengthwise and allowing for a hem at the bottom and an extra fabric for tacking at the top. Allow enough in length to fit comfortably around the back corners of the chest.

As a finishing touch, add two small round pillows with velveteen seams, covered in matching material.

Straight, tailored glass curtains of cotton marquisette can be glamorized if you add a valance of the same chintz fabric. Cut a strip of material — preferably the ribbon-binding part of the design — as long as the window is wide, plus three or four inches for turning under at the ends. Width should include hem allowances.

Use buckram for stiffening the valance, and saten in a harmonizing shade for its lining. For a decorator's touch, take your finished valance to a needlecraft shop, where you can have the outer edges of the leaves and the flowers buttonhole-stitched to emphasize their outlines. Two Writers Prove Some Good Can Come From Any Situation

By BOB THOMAS
 HOLLYWOOD — (P) — Even out of human misery can come some good. Edmund Trzcinski has found that out. He spent a year in a Nazi prisoner of war camp and now has a lively career because of it.
 The man with the tongue-twisting name — we'll call him Triz — was a radio operator in a B24 during the last war. His plane was shot down over Austria.
 Most men who were captured tried to forget their life under enemy control. But not Triz. He remembered the humorous things that had happened. Together with another prisoner, Donald Beaven, he wrote a play and called it, for lack of a better title, "Stalag 17." Today Triz is acting in the film version of the Broadway hit and also serving as technical adviser.
 Triz is a tall, serious-faced writer whose leanness makes him look even today as though he wasn't long from a German prison camp. He is both amused and amazed by the business of being an actor, but he doesn't plan to make it a habit.

 "Acting is much too difficult," he remarked. "I'm doing this part only because Billy Wilder (the director-writer) wanted me to. He wrote in a part for me that doesn't require much acting ability."
 This wasn't his first movie acting offer. A few months ago, he was visiting a Paramount set when Director William Dieterle spied him. "That's him!" the director exclaimed. "That's the killer we need for the picture. We must have him." Triz had to argue fast that he was a writer, not an actor and didn't want to play a killer or any other role. His only previous acting experience was in the real Stalag 17. He and his co-author, Beaven, wrote, directed and produced four musical shows to entertain their fellow prisoners. They ended up acting in the shows, too.
 Most of the other soldiers declined to take parts. Triz and Beaven started writing their play, "Stalag 17," at the prison camp. They finished it when they met again in New York after their liberation.

Pampan Ends 18-Months Berlin Duty

BERLIN, Germany — Maj. Albert M. Nash, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Nash, Star Rt. 4, Pampa, this week completed his first 18 months of service with the United States Military Liaison Mission to the Soviet Occupied Zone of Germany.
 In this position, Major Nash acts as one of the liaison officers for Gen. Thomas T. Handy, commander-in-chief in the East zone of Germany. The headquarters of the mission are at Potsdam, where the 1945 Big-Three conference was held, but Major Nash has a residence in Berlin with his wife, the former Inez Clark and son Albert M., Jr.
 Major Nash joined the mission in the fall of 1949 when he arrived from the United States after a three-year tour of duty as instructor at Culver Military Academy.
 A veteran of 10 years Army service, Major Nash served with the 1st Cavalry division from 1940 to 1946. After three years at El Paso, he went to Australia with the division and took part in the New Guinea, Admiralty Islands and Philippines campaigns. He went to Tokyo in 1945 where he was on occupation duty for a year before he returned to the United States.

Schoolmen Elect Coach

SHAMROCK — (Special) — H. W. Callan, Irish boxing coach, was elected president of the Wheeler County Schoolmasters club at Lela last week.
 S. H. Rhodes, teacher at Kellerville, was named to the vice-presidency, while Jesse Dyer, county superintendent, was re-named to his position as secretary-treasurer.
 Callan, also an outstanding line coach, teaches history and science at Shamrock high school in addition to his coaching duties. He came to Shamrock in 1949 on completion of his college work at Midwestern university, Wichita Falls, and is completing his third year in the system.
 Schoolmasters voted not to hold a March meeting because of the annual teachers meeting at Amarillo next month.
 School board members, teachers, and officials instead will join together May 9 for a night and day of fishing in lieu of a regular dinner session. They did this last April 27 and members voted unanimously to repeat the performance this spring.

Archeologists Plan Excavations Over Falcon Dam Area

AUSTIN — University of Texas archeologists are digging 85 test pits in the 100 square-mile area to be covered by the Falcon dam reservoir.
 The dam is on the Rio Grande approximately 75 miles downstream from Laredo.
 "The pits are the first step in field work to evaluate possible findings," Alex D. Krieger, university archeologist who is chief project researcher, said.
 A preliminary investigation in 1950 revealed remains of early Spanish settlements and old Indian campsites, dating back to 1750 and before.
 "We'll know in a month or so where to concentrate our more extensive excavations," Krieger added.
 A few 1950 test excavations revealed tools of Coahuiltecan Indians, who lived in the region until about 1750. Broken Spanish pottery and foundations of stone buildings also were found.
 The university is conducting the Falcon dam archeological project for the National Park service.
 Joe F. Cason of Austin is managing present excavations and Tom Williamson of Corpus Christi is assisting him. Both are university field archeologists. Dr. T. N. Campbell is project director.

JOHN TRUCE TEAM—Maj. Gen. Howard M. Turner of Avoca, Ia., above, has been named to succeed Maj. Gen. Laurence C. Craigie as a United Nations Command delegate to the Korean truce negotiations. General Turner has been commander of the 13th Air Force and the Philippines Command. General Craigie will assume new duties at USAF headquarters in Washington.

Queen Has First Official Ceremony

LONDON — (P) — Queen Elizabeth II conducted her first official ceremony at Buckingham Palace Wednesday receiving Prime Minister Winston Churchill in a state audience.
 Accompanied by 20 members of the House of Commons, Churchill presented an address to the Queen and received a formal reply, court attaches said.

 The Queen, in mourning for her father, King George VI, drove from her residence in Clarence house to the great grey palace nearby with the Duke of Edinburgh, her consort.
 Among others from Parliament who participated in the brief ceremony were opposition leader Clement Attlee, the former prime minister, and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.
 Just before the Queen and the duke left Clarence house, nurses wheeled out Prince Charles and Princess Anne, their two children, for a ride in their perambulators in nearby frost-covered Green park.

 Earlier a small crowd had gathered in the street below Clarence house when the little Prince's blond head appeared in his nursery window. He then clambered on an inside window ledge and played, stopping frequently to watch the guards in their bearskin hats on duty at the mansion's gates.

Zweifel Named To Head State Taft Movement

FORT WORTH — (P) — Henry Zweifel national Republican committee has accepted the position of state campaign manager for Sen. Taft and announced that Walter Rogers of Dallas will become state director of "Texans for Taft," clubs.
 "We will fight it out precinct by precinct," the Fort Worth attorney said. "This time there will be no half measures, no 'me too-ism.'"

 We have a candidate who stands for Republican policies, Senator Taft will not only make the issue clear but will carry the campaign to the opposition. Zweifel was gubernatorial campaign manager for Orville Bulington of Wichita Falls and he was state campaign manager in 1928 when Republicans carried the state for Hoover.
