Fugitive Sought In Memphis Believed In Cap Rock Area

MEMPHIS, Tex. — (AP) — Nearly a score of officers searched the rugged, icy Cap Rock country near here early today for a young jailbreaker.

Jimmy Oakley, 17-year-old Memphis youth who sawed his way out of the Donley county jail at Clarendon Saturday night, was believed on foot in the rocky, arroyo-gutted country.

MARISA REGULES, one of South America's outstanding pianists, will appear here tonight with the Loewenguth string ensemble in the Junior high school auditorium. The artists are being brought here by the Pampa Community Concert Assn. Miss Regules is well known for her annual New York recitals and engagements across the United States and Canada. The concert is scheduled to begin at 8:30.

Oakley was last seen yesterday in the little Panhandle town of Quitaque. Hunting police later found his car, stolen from a Memphis auto firm, abandoned southwest of Quitaque.

Hall county Sheriff E. E. Morrison, one of the searchers, said Oakley's tracks were found in the snow leading into the rugged Cap Rock area.

Deputy Sheriff Bill Baten said today that between 15 and 20 men were in the sub-freezing weather looking for the fugitive. Baten thought they had little chance of finding the boy unless he came to a ranch house for food. Temperatures were low here this morning.

Baten said only one road went through the area where Oakley was believed hiding. He said both ends of the road were blocked and officers were watching houses in the vicinity in case the young jailbreaker tried to enter one.

Oakley's mother lives in Wichita Falls. Baten said the boy had been held in the jail at Clarendon on charges of forgery and burglary.

Channing, Dalhart, Stratford Admitted To Legion Zone 8

New posts from Channing, Dalhart and Stratford were admitted to Zone 8 at an American Legion zone meeting held here last night in the Legion hall at 7:30.

Following a banquet welcoming the new members, a business meeting was held, presided over by L. R. Franks, Eighth zone commander. During meeting, Berger Commander Carl Harber invited Marvin and Jimmy Bond and Tommy Smith.

The covered dish banquet was prepared by the auxiliary under the leadership of Frances Glisson zone secretary and auxiliary president.

More than 75 people were present representing Berger, Phillips, Stratford and Pampa posts.

The next meeting is to be held in Stratford at a date to be announced later.

Bids Submitted On Sewer, Water Pipes

Bids were opened this morning by city commissioners on sewer and water pipe. Bids were submitted on six and eight-inch cast iron water pipe, fittings, supplies and fire hydrants from 15 firms. The city is buying 30,000 feet of six-inch and 9,000 feet of eight-inch pipe. No action was taken on the bids by noon since the bids had to be tabulated. Commissioners were to compare totals when the group reconvened at 2:30 p. m.

Final action was also withheld on sewer tile until the afternoon session. Three firms submitted bids, two of which were identical.

Other action included approval by the commission of a plat submitted by Dick Hughes for Prairie Village. They also approved a resolution to sign a contract with William T. Fraser, for payment of sewer lines for the Fraser annex, the northern-most section of Pampa.

City Engineer Ray Evans will be authorized to call a public hearing on nine blocks of paving within the city limits.

The city will have to pass ordinances before assessments can be made a gainst the owners of property on these blocks. In most cases, owners have paid or agreed to pay for paving in question are 500 and 500 blocks on S. Ballard; 500 and 600 blocks, W. Kingsmill; 400, 500 and 600 blocks, Le-fors; 200 block W. Louisiana and 100 block on S. Faulkner.

An ordinance approving payment of $10,545 for a new street sweeper was passed on the third reading.

Commissioner Crawford Atkinson opened a discussion on parking in Pampa. Commissioners agreed with Atkinson that the city should promote off-street parking. They pointed out the city had made available free parking space on Cuyler just north of the Santa Fe Railroad tracks.

Germany's Share In Defense Is Set

Over 2 Billion Decided Upon By Big Three

LISBON, Portugal — (AP) — The Big Three western powers and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer have agreed West Germany should pitch in with 11 1/4 billion marks ($2,677,500,000) for western defense in the next year.

An official source said today a draft of the new agreement had been sent to Bonn for final approval by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government.

He gave these additional details:

The agreement was drafted last night by Secretary of State Dean Acheson, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, who stayed on here after the closing of the Atlantic pact party to settle some outstanding German and Austrian questions.

The ministers and their top advisers met again this morning.

They also invited in the Beatles to keep them informed.

Before them last night was a message from Lonn in which the federal government said it was ready to accept the figure of 11 1/4 billion marks as the size of its defense contribution. The amount had been recommended by top Allied planners who were called in to measure Germany's capacity to pay.

Five Die In Crash Of B-50 At Omaha

OMAHA — (AP) — A four-engine B-50 crashed and burned while landing today at Offutt Air Force base near Omaha, killing five and injuring the other 32 aboard.

Cause of the crash was not immediately determined but a wing was said to have come off the medium bomber just before the crash. It occurred about 300 feet down a runway at Offutt base, headquarters of the far-flung strategic air command.

The flight was described as routine but the presence aboard of some classified equipment led base officials to permit no civilian photographers or reporters to visit the crash scene.

McClellan Hearing Slated For Thursday

A hearing on funds to rebuild McClellan dam is scheduled in Washington Thursday, according to Rep. Walter Rogers who called Pampa Monday.

Rogers told Chamber of Commerce Manager E. O. Wedgworth Monday afternoon a hearing on supplemental appropriations for the Dept. of Agriculture will be held before a House sub-committee at 10 a. m. and that the bill, if approved, would provide funds for rebuilding the dam.

G. S. Vineyard, chairman of the McClellan Lake Improvements committee, and Wedgworth, plan to leave Pampa early Wednesday to appear before the Washington sub-committee. They will return home Friday.

In his conversation, Rogers stated he had no opinion as to the chances the bill had in passing, but said it would be imperative that the McClellan committee have representation.

General strategy to be followed by Wedgworth and Vineyard is to build around the danger the damaged dam poses to ranches, farms, stock and the lives of persons living below it.

Should the supplement to the Agriculture department's budget be approved, funds will be available this year for the rebuilding. If not, funds would have to be included in the 1952-53 budget.

Senate Aspirants In Tideland Tiff

AUSTIN — (AP) — Texas' candidates for the U. S. Senate were in a tidelands tussle today.

Atty. Gen. Price Daniel said he regretted Sen. Connally thought Texas had "confused" its tidelands defense with that of California and Louisiana.

"The only people who confuse Texas' superior and special claims with the general claims of the other states were the federal officials who sued Texas and the four supreme court justices, the appointments of whom were supported and approved by Sen. Connally," Daniel said in a written statement issued yesterday.

Connally was quoted in Washington stories last week as having said Texas should have won its tidelands case "and the issue should not have been confused with the cases of California and Louisiana."

Rain Is Right Kind But Not Enough...

By The Associated Press

A quickie norther that brought fruit-killing temperatures to a large portion of Texas was spending its force by mid-morning in the Gulf of Mexico. Precipitation, in snow and slow rains, was disappointing.

Blooming fruit trees across south and east Texas were believed to have been the chief victims of a plunge in temperatures that brought sub-freezing weather deep into the interior of the state early today.

Some farm experts, however, were optimistic.

Rising temperatures expected this afternoon and tomorrow, forecasts said, probably would mark an end to the cold spell.

Farmers appeared to be the losers all the way around.

The norther had promised drought-ending moisture, but few places had enough rain or snow to even dent the big deficit in the state's rainfall piled up since last summer.

Instead of bringing moisture in sufficient quantities to help the biting cold front probably destroyed much of the year's plum and peach crop, already harmed by the continuing drought.

Pampa Gives New Lease On Life To Family 'Eased Out' Of West

By BOB BUSH

Through the aid of local organizations a World War II veteran, his wife and seven children are trying to start a new life and establish a home in Pampa.

F. W. Schnecker and family arrived from California Saturday without food or money and decided to make Pampa their home.

After they appealed for aid Dr. D. E. Nelson, pastor of the Presbyterian church, found them housing and Red Cross chapter provided enough money for several meals.

Trouble for the family started in their home at Boise, Ida., several months ago. Enough money had been saved so that a small home could be built and breaks returned to be coming their way.

Then one day when the man or was milking goats, the house caught fire and, although the children were saved, everything else was lost.

Friends in California invited the Schneckers to join them. After they gathered enough supplies for the trip, they left Idaho.

Schnecker, however, found housing difficult to find on the West Coast, and because roving is prohibited in California the family was not allowed to remain in the state.

Without knowing where to go, the Schneckers headed east, finally arriving in Pampa, while money of the sale along the road of household articles.

At present they are living in a trailer at 905 E. Beryl. Rent was advanced to them, and Monday, Schnecker was hired at the Panhandle Auto Wrecking Co. on the Miami Hwy.

None of the children, who range from three months to 10 years, are in school, but Mrs. Schnecker hopes those eligible soon will be able to start again.

Until the family can support itself, it is being aided by the American Legion and VFW auxiliaries. The Presbyterian auxiliary also is being contacted to supply clothing for the family.

It Takes Little Time, No Talent To Write Song Says Songwriter

By HAL BOYLE
 NEW YORK — (AP) — "The reason there are so many songwriters," said Steve Allen, who is one himself, "is because it doesn't take long to write a song and because it doesn't take any talent."
 Allen estimates amateur songwriters comprise a larger group with special interests than any other, except possible horse players.
 "For almost all of these people," there is no hope that their songs will ever be published," he continued. "There is no other field so firmly closed to newcomers. There's about one chance in 100,000 that an amateur's song will be published."
 Allen is pretty well qualified on a number of scores to discuss the problem of the unsung, unpublished songwriter. For one thing he's master of ceremonies of a network television show, "Songs for Sale."
 Each week the songs of four unknowns are picked for presentation, and each is given an expensive, elaborate production with vocals by a big-name singer. It is somewhat significant that after almost two years of operation, during which hundreds of new songs have been launched, not a single one has hit the nation's top-ten song lists.

 "That," said Allen, "will give you some idea of the problems—and remember that most of these have been good songs. Most amateur songs aren't good."
 The show now is receiving between 1,500 and 2,000 songs manuscripts each week, a figure which occasionally rises as high as 5,000. Of these, about one per-cent are culled as possibilities. The rest are returned with a polite rejection slip. The one per-cent is further whittled.
 "It's so easy to write a song— it's not easy to write a good song of course — that the supply is always much greater than the demand," Allen continued.
 "If song writers would go at the job the way actors or writers usually do — studying and practicing — they could have a lot of fun. An amateur songwriter can get his songs played around in his community, write special material for amateur functions and get to be quite a big man around his town. It gets bad when they try to get into the professional field."

Medics Under 51 Could Be Drafted For Other Work

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — An Army legal officer says the military could draft all doctors under 51 and use them in non-medical jobs.
 Maj. Robert Hillis stated the military's position in opposing Dr. Stanley J. Orloff's contention the Army acted illegally in drafting him as a private.
 Orloff, 27, former senior psychiatrist for the New York department of mental health, is a medical technician at Ft. Lawton, Wash. He lost an appeal to a Seattle civil court for release from the Army. His appeal is being heard here by the U. S. district court of appeals.
 Judge William Orr asked Hillis, "is it your contention that you could draft all the doctors in the United States under 51 years of age, drain them off the civilian population and use them as something else?"

 "Yes sir," the major replied. Then Judge Louis E. Goodman, another member of the three-man court asked if the Army has the right to take "for example, a famous surgeon, in order to wash dishes?"
 Hillis: "When he is inducted he is inducted for service — and that means whatever service the Army chooses to use him for."
 Siegfried Hense of Seattle, attorney for Dr. Orloff, said his client was drafted solely as a doctor but cannot act as one because the Army has not acted on his application for a commission. He asked that Orloff be released until he is commissioned.
 Even though a recipe may call for boiled chicken, tongue, or corned beef, these foods should be simmered rather than boiled. To simmer means to cook just below the boiling point.

Texas Leads All States In Farm Sales, Produce

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Texas now leads all states in farm values and dollar sales of farm produce.
 Census director Roy V. Peel said today the 1950 census of agriculture shows Texas farm land and buildings reached $6,718,426,337 in April, 1950. The dollar value of 1949 farm product sales was $1,753,952,010.
 Texas farm acreage of more than 145 million is nearly three times that of any other state; Montana was second with 54,427,434.
 Although Texas ranked first in the dollar value of farm product sales, with California second at $1,745,463,221, its per-acre rate of $12.95 was far under California's $47.67.
 Other farm facts: Texas farm acreage increased from 141,337,744 in 1945 to 145,389,014 in 1950. The average size farm jumped from 367.1 acres to 438.5 acres, the number of farms declined from 354,331,067, the average value increase from $9286 to $20,266 and the average value per acre from $26.29 to $146.21.
 Irrigated land in Texas increased from 1945 to 1950 from 1,320,218 acres to 2,129,884, farm tenancy dropped from 37.8 to 30.4 percent, and the number of electrified farms increased from 147,383 to 260,373.

Writer Confused By Video Commercials

By HENRY McLEMORE

There was a time when I liked to shop. But that was B. T. meaning Before Television.

I paid close to $500 for my set and I wish I had never bought it. Five hundred bucks is a lot of money to pay for confusion, and that's what I get every time I turn it on.

Take soap, for example. For example, for nearly 40 years I have used the same brand of soap and it cleaned me up right good. No one in our household ever thought of changing brands of soap.

Now, listening to commercials on television, I feel almost dirty. If I buy a different brand of soap it will make my ears as clean as snow on a high Alpine mountain, and will send me off to work with an irresistible appeal to the girls. Frankly, I don't believe this. I think most of the soap in this country is made by two or three companies and there's not very much difference in the soap.

Like most men of my age, I have to help with the dishes on the maid's night out. I want my hands to be lovely in the morning, so which detergent will I choose? One television commercial swears that the soap is giving you the unfunny comedian for leaves your hands as soft as chicken gravy. Another detergent, selling a comedian almost as unfunny, swears that its soap powder will make washing an egg-covered dish just pure fun, and you will leave your hands as lovely as an ill-earned mink in Washington.

Listen to these commercials long enough, and you don't know what to buy. I can only say that whoever writes and arranges these programs is high in the head as a free balloon with no ears.

For several centuries it has been an accepted fact that the best watches in the world are made in Switzerland, but I'm about to throw my Swiss watch away. Almost every time I hear a commercial for an American watch that gives you the time, the day of the month, and the phase of the moon and sells for under $40. I wonder how long it would last if they reported like the men who write commercials for radio and television.

If the International, the Patek Philippe, the Omega, and the Rolex are not better watches than any watches made in the United States I'll jump out of the highest window you can name. United States watch-makers won't like what I'm saying, but I'll bet you that not one of them will question my judgement.

Radio and television commercials don't tell the truth. I think they should. If they don't tell the truth, how is anybody ever going to trust them? There's one thing in this country that out-sells all the others, but you would never know it to listen to all the other cigarette companies' advertisements. Incidentally, I roll my own, so you can't call this a pitch for any cigarette, even if I were a doctor.

Sometime I want Red Skelton to see the Sid Caesar show. Skelton gets his laughs from the saddest commentary I can make about the American television viewers. He gets milk or water laugh, or gets his face. Caesar does it with a light and gentle touch; Caesar is a dignified man, but I suppose Skelton is making as much money as Caesar, and I guess Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis are doing even better.

Don't ask me why America is all messed up. Listen to the things we laugh at. Then you'll know.

Three Aspirants Schedule Speeches

NEW YORK — (AP) — A Democratic party "unity" dinner here April 17 will feature speeches of three possible rivals for the party's presidential nomination, and even President Truman may attend.

Paul E. Fitzpatrick, New York state Democratic chairman, has announced the principal speakers at the annual fund-raising dinner will be Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee, Sen. Kerr of Oklahoma, and Gov. Stevenson of Illinois.

Kerr and Stevenson are supporters of Mr. Truman, but both are prominent among possible alternatives if the President decides not to run again. Kefauver has challenged Mr. Truman directly and has said he is in the race to the finish.

Fitzpatrick said the President has given assurance he will make "every effort" to be at the gathering.

Irish Lining Up Big Array Of Activities For St. Pat

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Norman Patrick, director of the St. Pat's day celebration here March 17, and his assistants have lined up an outstanding array of entertainment for the big festival.

Patrick announced one of the earliest features in the day would be the Pilot's breakfast, under the directorship of A. Fry, local druggist and flying enthusiast.

Shamrock's high school band, directed by Robert Reeves, is tentatively slated to perform at 9:30 a.m. from a specially-constructed street platform. The band has won honors in contests and is in top shape for the big fete.

Official opening ceremonies are slated to come shortly after the Irish band performs.

Band students, representing bands from many schools in the area, will have a band luncheon at the school lunchroom about noon. Currently, those who have in defiance of the "don't get behind" law here will pay fines which will go toward defraying the expense of luncheon for visiting bands.

Luncheon for the float judges will be held at noon also, where they will be entertained by a magician, Happy Jack Darling.

Biggest band attraction is the Killie band from Oklahoma City, which will make several appearances. All its members are from 15 to 13 years old and all are endured for four straight years, but after the 1941 celebration was discontinued due to war conditions. Revived in 1950, it was omitted in 1951 because of the war emergency, but chamber of commerce officials revived it for this year.

One of the features will be the big number of men sporting long whiskers in the Donagel club. Green handkerchiefs of the Order of the Green Ketchik will be much in evidence, as will green pipes and green hats with the lettering, "St. Pat's Day, Shamrock, March 17."

The 1941 attraction brought in more than 40,000 visitors. Leaders this year are aiming at a new attendance record.

Texas Christian Clinches Southwest Conference Title

By CLAYTON HICKERSON
Associated Press Staff

Texas Christian university won the Southwest conference basketball championship last night with a 68-56 victory over Arkansas that was double sweet.

The Razorbacks, in - and - outers during most of the cage season, had been the only conference member able to beat the Horned Frogs. The victory was the Christians' tenth league victory against one loss and their 20th triumph in 23 starts.

In another game that did not mean a thing as far as the championship was concerned, Baylor's Bears—tailenders for most of the cage season—trimmed the Southern Methodist Mustangs, 62-45.

The TCU clincher for the championship marked the first time that any Southwest conference school ever won undisputed titles to both football and basketball in the same season. It was TCU's first undisputed cage crown since 1934, although the Frogs with Texas A&M and Texas were defending tri-champs this season.

The league title puts the potent Horned Frogs into the Kansas City Regional tournament of the NCAA playoffs next month. They'll meet the Big Seven conference champ in their first game.

The Horned Frogs have lost only to Manhattan college of New York, Oklahoma City university and the Razorbacks this season.

It was a big night in Fort Worth for TCU. Not only did they clinch the SWC crown, but they saw Horned Frog Captain George McLeod, 6-7 center, score 21 points in one of his best performances.

McLeod racked up 13 field goals and five free throws to run his season point total to the 401 mark and take a 27-point lead in the league individual scoring race with a 195 total.

The Razorbacks were barely in the game after the first seven minutes when TCU took the lead and kept it going away. Gene Lambert tallied 17 points to pace the Frogs in their defeat.

Baylor was behind SMU only twice in the game at Waco. They used the victory to climb within a half-game of the third-place Mustangs after spending a good part of the season in the conference cellar.

Terrid shooting by Moon Mullins and Ralph Johnson kept the Bruins out in front.

Dowell's Dolls Trim Pampa's News And Radio Men 40-37

After trailing by 13 points going into the final period the Dolls of Dowells cafe, Amarillo last night put on a scoring spree of 24 markers to win over the hapless Yak-Yaks and By-Liners of Pampa by a score of 40-37.

The score by quarters show how the game was played. First and third quarters were played according to boys' rules. Total scores for those two show the boys racking up 19 points while holding the visiting Dolls to a total of five. Second and fourth quarters were played with girls' rules being used. The Dolls sunk a total of 35 while the Pampans scored a total of 20.

Nobody missed scoring for the home team as Coach Speck Reynolds cleared the bench to make sure they all got to see action. This was not hard to do however, as there were only eight players.

First quarter scoring for the Pampans was done by Nelson Davis, Floyd Watson and Otto Mangold. The last two were recruits who were picked up just before game time to help bolster the Pampa lineup. Davis got three buckets while Watson and Mangold accounted for one each to net a total of 10 points while the Dolls could muster only two — those coming from a field goal made by Belva Padgett.

The Dolls found the basket in the second quarter and came through with 11 tallies, but this was not enough to catch up as the Pampans continued their scoring and got a total of 12 to take a halftime lead, 22 to 15.

Third quarter action showed the Pampans running up their 13-point spread by Jim Terrell, Bill Payne and Watson. Dycus got into the scoring column too by sinking a charity toss. Doll scoring was limited to three points, those coming on a field goal by Sawyer and a free throw by Terry Kendall. The score going into the last quarter was 31 to 18.

Faye Francis an dPadgett broke loose and scored a total of 18 points to outscore the Pampans who were only able to get eight. The other six points the Dolls got were divided up among Bobbie Daluge and Betty Kaines. The Pampans left the bench at the start of the last quarter with the idea of letting the girls do most of the shooting — just shooting enough themselves to keep a lead. Once the girls got started the boys found themselves trailing with less than a minute left in the game. At this leading by only one point at the time, gained two more on a field goal by Padgett to give them their final three-point margin.

High point honors for the game went to Padgett who got 16 of her team's points. Davis led the Pampa scoring by getting a total of 12. Other scoring for the Pampans had Terrell with four, Dycus with one, Payne with four, Lunsford with four, Watson with eight, Mangold with four and Dixon with two.

The game was played for the benefit of the American Heart Assn. of Gray county. Veterans of Foreign Wars were in charge of the game.

Bob Carey, Michigan State's all-around athlete, set a new school shot put record of 51 feet 1-2 inches against Indiana.

Lone Texas Fighter Advances To Tourney Quarter Finals

By WARREN HASSE
News Sports Editor

CHICAGO STADIUM, CHICAGO, Ill. — After six solid bouts of simultaneous fighting in three rings here Monday night, one lone Texas state champion had advanced to the quarterfinals. He was Irah Pat McCarthy, the flashy-eyed little Amarillo flyweight.

Three other Texas champions, Pete Perez, Henry Miramontes and Raymond Riojas fell by the wayside. Miramontes was the only one of the losers to advance past the first fight.

Tonight the rest of the Texas representation in due to fight. This list includes the four heavy fighters: welterweight Johnny Ongles, middleweight Roy Harris, light heavyweight Alphonso Marino and Campbell Woodman. McCarthy will rest until Wednesday night. A new draw will determine opponents for the quarterfinals on that night. After Wednesday's fights, winners will rest until March 7, when they will return to fight for the national championship. The Texas team will return to the lone Star state in the meanwhile.

Whether they won or lost, the Texas fighters were popular with the Windy City fans. They put up good fights and gave good representation to the State of Texas.

Another boy who will see action tonight is Johnny Hernandez, former Amargillo champion now representing Denver at 147 pounds. McCarthy, popular little Irish 112-pounder, became the first Texas representative to advance to the semi-finals when he pounded out a pair of popular decisions. The first came over George Hilderbrand, Chicago southpaw, and the second against Charley Martinez of Roswell, N. M. It was the third time McCarthy has defeated the New Mexico debaters.

The clever little Irishman had no trouble with Hilderbrand, pounding out the win on easy points in every round. In Martinez he found things a little tougher. Martinez scored a first round knockout in his first fight, and kept making McCarthy miss with his right.

Perez, the Panhandles own representative, lost a close decision to Reuben Santistevan of Denver in the 125-pound weight. The Denver boy had too much experience in his second bout. Miramontes, a standstill in the second frame, An excellent counter puncher, Santistevan kept getting in the close, where he does his best fighting.

Henry Miramontes, Fort Worth 118-pounder, scored a second round TKO over Johnny Roy Dusenberry of Oklahoma City, in a strictly Southwestern bout. Miramontes rested through most of the first round, feeling his way around the Sooner opponent.

Midway through the period he went to work and at 1:15 of the second landed two lefts and hard right that stopped the fight.

Raymond Riojas, Texas state 126-pound champion, was the first Lone Star state casualty, losing a first-round TKO to Chester Martin of St. Louis. The referee stopped the fight at 1:40 after Riojas had just hit the canvas for the third time from a solid right. The Texas champion caught a solid right that sent him down for an eight count the second time, and shortly after regaining his feet, a grazing right floored him again.

Kenneth Davis, Clarendon 126-pounder representing Los Angeles, where he is serving with the Navy, won the night's most unpopular decision from Adell Dukes of Detroit in his first fight. Davis won the international 126-pound king in 1951. Davis had little trouble disposing of his second-round opponent, Sonny Lewis of Muncie, Ind., winning by TKO in the second.

Nothing was heard from Ed.

Cub Shortstop Back In Shape

MESA, Ariz. — (AP) — Roy Smalley, Chicago Cubs shortstop, is showing no evidence of an ankle fracture in workouts.

He broke his left ankle last April and never returned to his previous form.

Smalley said that during the winter he ran through the sand barefooted on the beach near his home at Compton, Calif.

"That helped stretch my ankle a lot," he said.

Stengel Hoping For A 'Big Six'

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — (AP) — New York Yankee Manager Casey Stengel hopes to have a "big six" this year.

Stengel is counting on Aces Vic Raschi, Alie Reynolds and Ed Lopat, top three starting pitchers and expects Johnny Sain, Jim McDonald and Tom Morgan to come through to form a crew of six starting pitchers.

gene Cooper, the superb southpaw from Pampa, He was scheduled to leave Amarillo by air Friday but bad weather kept him grounded and reports were that he would be in by car Monday. But he hadn't arrived at mid-night. Chances were good that if he arrived he would be the 1952 representative. The state champion, Roy Harris, was having trouble making weight and in addition had a bad cold.

Texan Comes Close To Beating Riggs

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. — (AP) — Bobby Riggs, the nation's No. 4 tennis player, almost got best of his own game yesterday by a former Texas amateur playing professionally for the first time in the National Clay Courts tournament.

Riggs won 6-3, 3-6, 6-1, but Jason Morton of Corpus Christi ran down everything Riggs could send over the net. Riggs' experience pulled him through in the third set.

In another match, Frank Kovacs, who has won the tournament in each of its three years, best Jerry Teagarden, Jacksonville, 6-4, 6-0. Eighth-ranked Jim Evert defeated Frank Goetz, Chevy Chase, Md., 6-2, 6-3, and Pancho Segura, Ecuador's two-handed U. S. pro champ, downed Tournament Director Joe Whalen, 6-3, 6-1.

Baylor Wins

WACO — (AP) — Baylor's freshmen cagers trimmed a Connally Air Force base basketball team, 68-49, last night.

In winning his seventh straight race at Agua Caliente recently, War Allies wore saddle cloth number seven and defeated seven rivals.

Giants Only Four Players Short

PHOENIX, Ariz. — (AP) — The New York Giants were only four players short of their full roster of 35 today after Outfielders Monte Irvin and Willie Mays and Infielders Bill Rigney and Henry Thompson checked in.

Still due are pitchers Sal Maglie and Hoyt Wilhelm, catcher Ray Noble and First Baseman Marvin Blaylock.

Reapers Beat Rangers For Conference Tie

The Pampa Reapers earned a tie for first place in the Panhandle Junior High conference by closing out their season with a 44-27 triumph over the Sam Houston Rangers in Amarillo yesterday afternoon.

The win left them in a tie with Phillips who bounced Elizabeth Nixon of Amarillo to the tune of 41-30.

Season records show each team with 12 wins and two losses. Under present rules of the conference, no play-off will be held to determine a clear-cut champion.

Yesterday's action showed the Reapers Harold Lewis again leading the way when he shoved in 21 points for high scoring honors of the day. The Rangers were paced by Elliot who hit the basket for a total of 12.

Sixteen Schoolboy Teams To Return To State Tourneys

Sixteen of the teams that played in last year's state schoolboy basketball tournaments are in the race for return visits and among them are two of the defending champions.

Bowie, which won the class A title, and Cayuga, kingpin of class B, will play in regional tournaments this week to determine whether they are to go to Austin March 7-8 to defend their crowns.

Last year the city conference held a tournament with Lamar of Houston winning it. This year the city conference has been merged into class AA of 1951 into the super class AAAA. Lamar isn't back and neither is Lubbock, which won the class AA championship.

Teams from last year's tournament still in contention are: Class AAAA — Austin, Borger and Port Arthur.

Class A — Bowie, Van, Brenham, French (Beaumont) and Canyon.

Class B — Cayuga, Big Sandy, Blum, Woodborough and Adrian.

City conference — Alamo Heights (San Antonio), Sam Houston (Houston) and Sunset (Dallas).

All district champions have been determined and play-offs start tonight to determine the 24 teams that will go to Austin for the five-division state tournament.

Paychecks Sliced But Tigers Still Have The Old Fight

LAKELAND, Fla. — (AP) — Don't be surprised if he a vicious hitting and sharper play result from lighter paychecks among the Detroit Tigers.

Charley Gehring, Detroit manager, decided that pay cuts were in order this year for most members of the team that finished fifth in the American league in 1951.

So he sliced the salaries all down the line, and very little protest resulted. Instead, the Tigers seemed determined to do better this season. Many arrived in Florida a month early to get into shape.

"Every man in camp," reported Trainer Jack Hodel, "is in better condition than he was last spring."

Dodgers Learn To Become Sliders

VERO BEACH, Fla. — (AP) — That lost art, sliding, has made an appearance at the Brooklyn Dodgers' training camp.

Manager Chuck Dressen put his pitchers through a sliding drill yesterday and the hurlers seemed to like it.

"I've never slid in my life," said Johnny Schmitz. "I never had anybody to teach me. I used to dive head first once in a while."

Preacher Roe, probably the worst hitter in the game, commented, "They must be expecting me to get on base a lot this year."

Hot Rodders To Meet

The Hot-Rod Timing and Racing Assn. will meet Wednesday evening in the Chevron station on the Amarillo Hwy.

Anyone interested is asked to be present so plans for future events can be mapped out.

The United States Golf Association booklet, Conduct of Women's Golf, has been revised for the first time since March, 1949.

TO ROLL AGAIN — Ray "Big Train" Clements (right) is getting set to roll again in Thursday night's wrestling matches to be held in the Southern club. The Train performed last week against Billy Weidner whose face is getting pushed around in above photo. Big Train will let off steam Thursday against Whitey Walburg in the evening's main event. More Seats To Be Available For Wrestling Matches Here

Due to the response given in wrestling in its return here last week, 200 additional seats will be available for this week's matches Thursday night in the Southern club. Parking will also be supervised.

This information, along with this week's card was released by Promoter Howard Vineyard yesterday. There will also be an advance sale of tickets at the Sportsman store Wednesday from 1 to 6 p. m.

The card this week has Ray "Big Train" Clements and Whitey Walburg going in the main event which is to be a two out of three falls test with a 60-minute time limit. Clements' hometown is Lubbock while Walburg hails from Reynoldsburg, Ohio.

Second match of the evening will have Seouy Oyama of Tokio, Japan, going against Gust Johnson of Seattle, Wash., in a two out of three fall session with the time limit set for 45 minutes.

In the preliminary match Cecil Brown of Chicago, Ill., tangles with Gene Detton of Amarillo. This event will be one fall, 20 minute time limit.

Both Detton and Clements took part in last week's action. For the other grapplers will mark their first appearance in the local wrestling ring.

Norwegians Runaways In Olympics

OSLO — (AP) — A shift in sliding dominance from Sweden and Switzerland to Norway and Finland upset the balance of power in the 1952 Winter Olympic games and gave the host Norwegians a runaway victory.

When the sixth — and largest — winter carnival under Olympic auspices closed last night, Norway had scored 125 1-2 points in the unofficial, but traditional, scoring table that allows 30 points for a first place gold medal, five points for second and then 4-3-2-1 for other placing in the first six.

The United States, with its best balanced team in the history of the winter games, was a surprisingly strong second, but its total of 89 1-2 was a long way behind Norway.

Four years ago, at St. Moritz, less than 14 points separated top-of-the-table Sweden and the fourth-place Americans. Sweden scored 79 points, trailed by Switzerland with 71, Norway with 69 1-2 and the United States with 65 1-4.

This time — leaving out hockey which didn't count in the 1948 totals — Sweden managed only 25 1-2 points and the Swiss 21.

The change from the deep, heavy snows of the Alps to the thinly-covered treacherous, icy slopes of the Norwegian mountains cost the Swedes and Swiss dearly. Also Norwegian determination to win their own games was not to be denied.

The Swedes scored 16 1-2 points in the skiing events here at Oslo compared with 55 at St. Moritz. The Swiss scored only seven, compared with 48 in their own country.

Norway, on the other hand, more than tripled its 1948 total, jumping from 24 to 89 1-2.

Gil Turner Proves He's A Topnotcher In Flanagan Bout

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — The answer to boxing's recurrent question "How good is Gil Turner?" seems to be just as good as he has to be. Turner, unbeaten Philadelphia welterweight sensation, gave evidence of that last night as he completely outclassed Del Flanagan of St. Paul.

Some fight critics have written that Turner is easy to hit; he has a lot to learn about ring generalship; he doesn't know where-half his punches are going. Maybe so. But he always wins so far. The 21-year-old Philadelphia Negro has won 29 fights, 23 by knockout or TKO. The latest was last night's 10 round unanimous decision over Flanagan.

Turner never let Flanagan get set after the first round. He roughed up the Minnesotan, jabbing, hooking and using vicious holds. He used his natural welterweight strength to maul the built-up lightweight and tire him out.

'THIS IS MY BEST'

No. 15 in a series

Betty Barnes

Little 10-year-old Betty Barnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Barnes, has a family history which she is the fifth generation of the Davis family growing up here, and her great uncle, Clay Davis, was the first white baby born in Gray County. But Betty is making history in her own right because she is generally considered the best young cook in county 4-H work.

Betty has been cooking "ever since she could sit up on a cabinet," and was aided in her earliest culinary efforts by her maternal grandmother, Mrs. M. A. Skaggs, and her adopted grandmother, Mrs. Bill Coleman. The first thing Betty made was a lemon pie—a good lemon pie, the story goes—and she's been going on to bigger and better things ever since.

When she first started taking an interest in cooking, her mother (a woman who believes in turning girls loose in the kitchen) simplified all her recipes and made them easy, step by step, methods. But that was long ago. Betty now scans any adult recipe and vies with her mother on cooking honors. Her daddy thinks nobody makes cinnamon rolls and hot bread quite like she does, and making yeast breads has been the most satisfying result she's experienced.

Mrs. Barnes believes that patience is the greatest factor in teaching children to cook. She has explained to Betty that she can have every thing she needs for her cooking and make anything she wants to, but she must always leave the kitchen spot and clean up "comes in the bargain."

Here's an early favorite of Betty's and it is simplified for the beginning cook. (She now bakes angel food cakes like the one pictured above.)

Freddie, Almost Blind, But Two Homes, Braille Give Him Help

By JOY HEAVILIN
CLEVELAND — (NEA) — Nine-year-old Freddie Allemeier is almost blind. But by way of compensation, the blond, blue-eyed youngster has two homes — and in each, a loving mother, father, two brothers and two sisters.

As soon as he has mastered braille at Cleveland's Anthony Wayne School, he will leave the home of his foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Durbin, and return to his home in Lima, O. That day will probably come in advance of Mr. and Mrs. Allemeier's fondest hopes. The course generally lasts about two years, but in a little more than a month Freddie has breezed through the first and second grades.

His world an indistinct blur since birth, Freddie has been entered in Lima's sight-saving classes. Because he is totally blind in one eye and has only a fading 28 percent vision in the other, Freddie could not make the grade. The nearest braille classes, however, were in Cleveland, 150 miles away. Lima's Board of Child Welfare wrote a letter to a Community Chest organization, here which specialized in finding foster homes for children.

The Children's Services searched high and low for a couple willing to shoulder the tremendous responsibility of adding a near-blind child to their family. Director William Schmidt was at his wits' end when Mrs. Durbin stepped into the picture.

"I did it," explains Mrs. Durbin, "because unless folk start helping one another, we'll go right on living in a world of selfishness and wars."

Not until Freddie walked in the door to stay did Mrs. Durbin or her husband, an apartment house engineer, know that kind of boy was to share their home. With Freddie's first friends and mischievous grin, they knew he would also share their hearts.

Shortly after, Mrs. Durbin's married daughter and grandson became boarders. The daughter's National Guardsman husband had been called to active duty. In addition, Mrs. Durbin has a sixth-grade daughter living at home and has two other children away at school.

Still Mrs. Durbin claims little Freddie has been no trouble. "He's just like any other boy. He roller-skates and rides his two-wheeler likey - split, plays with the neighborhood children beautifully, and even goes to the store alone."

For Freddie the modest but comfortable Durbin residence is a second home. There is a piano in the front parlor on which his practice music learned in his braille lessons. And there is all most always someone around for Freddie to impress with his newly acquired ability to read. "Little Black Sambo" is his latest accomplishment.

Though the time for returning to his parents' home is all but set, Mrs. Durbin says that brother and sisters and his soft, furry dog cannot come too soon for Freddie, he has not once rebelled at his fate.

"The closest he's ever come to complaining," says Mrs. Durbin, "was once when he said that 'God had forgotten to give him eyes.'"

Persons On Farms Earned More In '51

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The average income of persons living on farms was $1,020 last year compared to $1,707 for those living off farms, the government reports.

This compared to the 1950 averages of $829 and $1,563. The Agriculture Dept. based its figures on all income for farmers — including non-farm sources.

It said farmers received the highest gross income on record, $37,404,000 — money from farm sources. But net income — National Guardsman husband had been called to active duty. In addition, Mrs. Durbin has a sixth-grade daughter living at home and has two other children away at school.

Gross farm income in 1950 was $32,742,000,000 and net income $22,706,000,000.

The department said farmers' purchasing power in 1951 was 8 percent above 1950, about the same as in 1949 but lower than in any years from 1942 through 1948.

California continued as the state with the highest income. Iowa replaced Texas in second place.

Communist staff officers Friday offered to permit inspection of five rather than four ports of entry on each side if the Allies would cut the monthly rationing to 30,000 men.

The Allies countered with an offer to open six rather than seven ports of entry to inspection if the Redwood permit rotation of 35,000 men a month.

Observers said the gap on both issues has been narrowed to a point where an eventual agreement is asked for 12 ports of entry on each side and a rotation ceiling of 75,000 men a month. The Reds offered three ports of entry and rotation of 8000 men.

The staff officers aren't even discussing the biggest stumbling block — whether the Reds may build and repair military airfields during an armistice.

When finishing unpainted furniture, plan for easy upkeep by using a washable enamel or other washable finish. Soap and water will easily wash ink from varnished or lacquered surfaces that haven't been waxed.

WHEN I QUIT
When I quit this mortal shore
And money round this earth no more,
Don't weep, don't sigh, don't grieve,
Don't sob,
I may have struck a better blow,
Don't go and buy that bouquet,
For which you'll find it hard
To pay.
Don't hang around me lookin' hard,
I may be better off than you,
But do what I'm in my best,
If you have stuff like that to spread
Please hand it out before I'm dead.
If you have roses bless your soul,
Just pin one on my button hole,
But do what I'm in my best,
Instead of when I'm safe at rest.

PUSAN, Korea (NEA) — Every day, sometime in the middle of the afternoon after he has carefully checked his daily shipping and stock control reports, Capt. Jacob Bornstein of New York decides just what all U.S. soldiers in Korea will eat several days hence.

A former baker, the plump, genial Bornstein makes up the Army menu for the entire Korean theatre. Except for the men at the front who get extra allotments of frozen eggs, fruits, vegetables and meat flown in to them, every man from private to general gets exactly the same basic chow.

"Steak is my favorite, and if it were possible I'd put it on the menu at least four times a week," Bornstein says. "How-ever," he adds, "the menu we are now giving the men in Korea is one that no Army food expert ever thought possible before the fighting here."

"What I feed the men in the States is the best diet that money can buy. In a foreign theater our goal is get as close to the Stateside menu as possible. The limitation, however, outside the U.S., is the amount of perishables we can get. We are getting plenty here, about one-third of all of the food. It's enough to make ours the closest thing to the U.S. menu ever achieved for an American Army outside the zone of the interior."

The men at the front, and every other place in Korea, are back up this claim. And there is unanimous opinion among the men that in the way of personal needs — clothing, tobacco, shaving gear and soap — they are also the best equipped Army in history.

An inspection of the huge, crowded Quartermaster Corps section of the bustling Pusan waterfront reveals the amazing story of just why UN troops are faring so well in Korea this Winter. Giant, newly-completed cold storage warehouses daily receive the hundreds of tons of perishables brought in by ship from Japan, and in some cases straight from the U.S.

Thus, trains leave Pusan for some distribution point farther north every few hours loaded with the fruit, meat, potatoes, flour, butter, salad dressing and even a proportionate amount of the varied tastes of the other than U.S. troops.

Another knotty problem which has been neatly licked by the Quartermaster Corps is the storing of hundreds of tons of flour, butter, salad dressing and even a proportionate amount of the varied tastes of the other than U.S. troops.

Dr. Logan's Wife

By Diana Gaines

THE STORY: Jennet Logan meets Peter Surinoff at a party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Pelletier. There she is awakened to the realization that her own life, as a wife of Dr. Logan, older than herself and in ill health, has been empty. On the way home, she tells her husband that she is going to take a volunteer nurse's job at Angel's hospital, where Peter is doing research in atomic medicine. The next day she goes to the hospital, and since Dr. Logan is ill, she calls on Dr. Pelletier to deliver some papers from her husband. There she meets Peter again and Peter asks her to see his lab. She enters the room and Peter shows her the work he is doing with patients who receive treatment for atomic burns.

VIII

THE room to which he showed her was anything but the jungle of rigged glass and flame and darkly bubbling liquid that she had imagined. It was a simple little study lab no bigger than a galley and not nearly as ship-shape. Two long counters ran the length of it and on them stood a few pieces of apparatus, 50 or more little bottles, and instruments not of torture but of measurement. Metal stools fitted under the counters as did two large galvanized trash cans which were marked up with red crayon, and an enameled pararge-can. A pile of laundry had been hung in a corner. The linoleum floor was stained, and a cozy pair of window-dressers' slippers lay on the window sill.

Peter Surinoff spoke, "It's not as messy as it looks. You see, we have to be very careful about disposing of things, and when you have a small space to work in and you can't throw anything away, you get a little crowded after a while. Those gowns there in the corner have to sit for about two weeks. Then I check them again, and if they're nice and quiet they can go to the laundry. These trash cans are marked with the date they were sealed. In two months I'll take another reading with the Geiger counter to see if they're safe for the dump."

One portion of the table counter was blocked off by a chemistry hood. In front of it were several stacked bricks.

"That's where we unpack the shipment, behind that screen," Surinoff explained. "Ever seen lead bricks before? And these walls are lead-lined too. There's an exhaust fan above; don't lean in there, you can see it from here. It's supposed to carry off the radioactive vapors, but I don't use it much because I think it spreads as much as it sucks off." He moved down the counter where there was another fence of bricks, and a mirror behind it, and a long-armed pincer device that held one of the little bottles by the neck. "Here's where I prepare the doses. See how that mirror helps out?"

"What's that?" Jennet asked, pointing to the pincers. "It looks like one of the crane things in a candy machine—the kind that picks out a prize if you steer it right."

"Same principle exactly," he said, pleased, as if she had said something bright. "And you know how you feel like breaking the window and going in with your hands? That's the way I feel with this thing. It's a remote pipette. I don't use it very much. It's supposed to be safer because it keeps the radioactive solution at arm's length. I prefer the syringe. I'm used to it, I guess." He picked up a stray syringe from the opposite counter. It was empty, but he went through the motions of pumping the rubber bulb to show her how exact one could be in controlling its uptake.

WATCHING the careful, white-knuckling fingers, she remembered the clumsy handling of table silver last night. And then again, the sure easy touch on the ukulele. A contradictory man, not easily typed. She looked at his face, free to observe it since his eyes were on the syringe, and she wondered that at first sight she could have thought it dull. There was a man's strength in his face, a ruggedness compounded not only of bones and the imperishably firm skin of youth but also—or was she imputing?—of character. The eyes, deeply implanted, were dark gray—soft now, as water-wells. The nose was large but fleshy, the mouth full and taut. No, not ugly, and disturbingly, not dull. Perhaps, she reasoned, he was clumsy only when he was shy.

She reached for a syringe in the rack behind the bricks and he grabbed her hand. "Don't touch anything on that table! It's contaminated area!"

SHE drew her hand away as from fire. "Well, you picked up the syringe!"

"From the other side. That's clean. I haven't checked this side yet for spillage."

"But when you're working, you have to touch things to fix the doses or whatever you fix."

"I wear gloves." His foot depressed the pedal of the garbage can and she saw that it was full of rubber gloves. "That's where they go when I'm through with the job, and they stay there till they're ready for the trash can. I keep myself entirely covered in case of spilling. You can't get the stuff off your skin, you know. See here." He opened a cabinet in which were shelved surgical gowns and caps and flannel shoe covers. "And this, too." He slipped a cellophane shield over her head.

She grimaced through it, pulled it off, ran her hands over her hair. But she felt considerably humbled. He no longer seemed an untidy schoolboy, nor yet a wizard, but an unsung hero.

MASS ARREST

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — Traffic Policeman Alfonso Villegas was sentenced to three days in barracks for "bad judgment" in arresting a bus driver with a full load of passengers.

Gen. Antonio Gomez Velasco, imposing the sentence, said Villegas did right to stop the driver but should not have taken him and the load of passengers to a police station, thereby delaying the intercity bus several hours.

building materials and farm machinery.

The steel industry, although working at a record pace and selling all it could turn out, suffered an average decline of 14.5 percent in earnings.

Utility profits as a whole were unchanged, although of the first 38 reporting, 23 advanced and the losers, however, were some big companies who pulled the total down.

In most industries there were companies going against the trend of the majority. But in a few the report was unanimous. All the oils and rubbers reporting were up. And all the retail, food, tobacco, paper and farm machinery companies earnings were down.

Many industries blamed controls for their plight—controls that held down prices while costs rose, or controls that cut back production toward the break-even point. Others added the consumer to their complaint list—the customer who was price-resistant and reluctant to buy their wares.

Some firms found salvation in defense orders, but many said such orders weren't enough yet to offset the slackening of civilian goods business.

All paid out a higher percentage of earnings for taxes.

The first of the big auto companies to report shows earnings off by more than 40 percent. And profits dwindled around one-fifth for chemicals, home appliances, food, tobacco, liquor, ed sales to record peaks, offset rising costs enough to report record gross earnings for the year. Then the tax collector turned the crank of income and excess profit levies, and the companies slipped back, with net income lower than the year before.

Leaving out the 130 railroads in the list, of the 196 corporations sampled 125 had declining profits and 71 improved their net income. As a whole, earnings of the 196 were down 8.3 percent.

Oils, rubbers, airlines pushed ahead. Individual companies in 14 other industries also scored advances, defying costs and taxes. Utilities and metals as a whole helped bolster the profit line and kept the decline figures moderate for the economy as a whole.

Textiles were the hardest hit percentage-wise. The eight companies reporting so far made as a whole less than half as much in 1951 as in 1950. But a leader in the field showed a profit gain, thanks to military orders.

Rising Costs, Taxes Smash At Profit Line

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK — (AP) — Rising costs and higher taxes smashed hard at the profit line of American business. But the advancing earnings of some industries offset in part the sharp setbacks of others, and keep the retreat orderly for business as a whole.

The records of 326 companies—a sampling of the first leading manufacturing, retailing, transportation and service corporations to issue 1951 annual reports—show their combined net profits fell 8.8 per cent below the total for 1950. Together they reported $4,027,190,027 for 1951, after taxes, a drop of $393,324,319 from the $4,420,514,346 these same 326 reported in 1950.

The retreat of earnings was gaining speed as 1951 ended. And their reports for the first three months of 1952—to be issued a couple of months from now—are expected to be particularly sorry looking when compared with the first quarter of 1951 when many of them set earnings records.

The first quarter of 1952 was free of the new higher taxes which took effect last April 1 and depressed profits progressively for the rest of the year.

The two-way street that business has been traveling—one part of the economy going downhill while another part climbs—is clearly shown by this sampling of corporation reports. Although only three companies report a net loss for the year, many show sharp drops in the final half.

In contrast, many other companies never had it so good, profitable or any other wise.

But for many a corporation the street has become a treadmill. A sizeable portion of the 326 pushed sales to record peaks, offset rising costs enough to report record gross earnings for the year. Then the tax collector turned the crank of income and excess profit levies, and the companies slipped back, with net income lower than the year before.

Task Of How To Begin Probe Of 2,518,200 Confronts Morris

By JACK ADAMS

(For JAMES MARLOW)
WASHINGTON — (AP) — How do you get organized on a one-man investigation of the United States government and its 2,518,200 employees?

And battle a barrage of congressional potshots at the same time?

Well, certainly not quickly. And, some cynics hereabouts are now saying: "Possibly not ever."

However, Newbold Morris, "Independent Republican" from New York City, is trying his hand at it.

Morris is an impressively tall, clear-eyed man, with a quick smile and informal manner. Personally wealthy, he has long been identified with philanthropic causes and "reform" government in his native New York.

Morris accepted his unique assignment as President Truman's investigator to run down government miscreants after several other "outsiders" turned down the job.

He accepted with enthusiasm and optimism. He was sworn in Feb. 1 as a special assistant to Attorney General McGrath and was publicly promised a completely free hand, with full access to government records and federal personnel.

He said then he hoped to get his job done by early summer—roughly five months.

(One government official, hearing this, got out pad and pencil, figured that if Morris went into all of the 300 departments, bureaus, commissions and special agencies in the federal household, he would have about one-half day for each one.)

After three weeks in office, Morris now has the same organization he started with, namely himself.

A good portion of his time thus far has been taken up with defending himself against critics in Congress. Congress, it should be remembered, is the mother of investigations—but not this one. This was a White House idea.

These critics have variously labeled the project a farce and a projected whitewash. Some have charged Morris with having been "used" in the past by pink organizations in New York City. Others have implied some Morris connection with surplus ship deals now under investigation by a Senate committee.

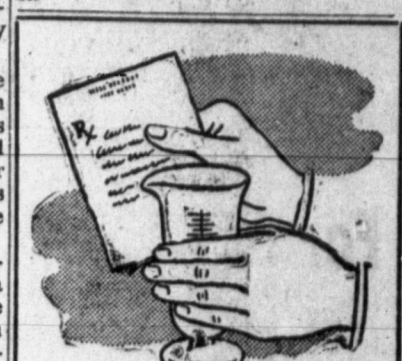

Morris has replied that his planned investigation is wholly sincere and free of administration influence, that he has never been associated with any Communist or Red-front group, that he never made a dollar in any surplus ship transaction other than "normal" fees paid to his law firm for legal work.

The Morris investigation got another setback this week when the House Judiciary committee turned down President Truman's proposal that Morris be given the power to grant reluctant witnesses full immunity from prosecution in exchange for testimony. President Truman has stated this meant that Morris would be hampered in doing a bang-up job.

Still pending before the House committee is the President's request that Morris be given full subpoena power, so that he can get at non-government witnesses and records.
