Army General Grow To Face Court Martial

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army today brought court martial charges against Maj. Gen. Robert W. Grow, former military attaché in Moscow whose diary was copied by Communist agents in Germany last year.

General Grow has been assigned to the Headquarters of the Second Army at Fort Meade, Md., since his return from Europe. His case has been referred to the Commander of the Second Army, who will hold further hearings to determine whether the charges shall be referred to a formal court martial.

Candidate Gets Application Back; No Loyalty Oath

Gray County Democratic Chairman Aaron Sturgeon reported this morning he had received the application of Atty. Hal Houston, Canyon, for a place on the ballot for the office of associate justice of the Court of Civil Appeals in Amarillo.

The application was in order, but Houston apparently forgot to enclose the affidavit declaring his loyalty to the representative form of government, Sturgeon said.

Candidates have little less than one week to file for precinct, county, district, or state offices with the Democratic committee. Deadline for filing is midnight, May 5.

PRESIDES — U.S. District Judge David A. Pine, shown at his desk in Washington recently, is presiding over the current court battle between government representatives and attorneys for the steel industry fighting the recent Truman seizure.

Four Injured In Car Wreck This Morning

Four persons were injured at 10:15 a.m. today in a car-pickup accident at Frederic and Pitts. They were treated at Highland General hospital.

The accident was the sixth in a series of automobile accidents in Pampa over the week end in which one person was critically injured and three arrested for traffic violations.

Injured today were Harry Wanslow, 218 E. Kingsmill, with severe cuts around the face; J. W. Holman, 1308 Alcock, and Beverly King, 300 N. West, driver of the car, all Gulf Oil Co. employees; and H. E. Barksdale, Route 1, Pampa, driver of the pickup truck. All were bruised.

Damage to the vehicles was estimated at $750. Harry C. Jones, 28 of Pampa, critically injured Saturday night, was given small chances to live. Attending physicians said today he was "losing ground."

He suffered a severe concussion and intracranial (head) injuries when he was hit by a car driven by Wallace A. York, 47, of Pampa. Police who witnessed the accident across from the Belvedere club on Alcock said Jones walked between parked cars onto the highway.

The impact tossed Jones 30 feet and fractured his right leg and skull. Mack M. Stewart, 43, of Pampa, pleaded guilty today in county court to a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was fined $150 and costs. He was arrested Sunday after he drove his car onto (See WRECK Page 2)

Mid-Atlantic Crash Takes 176 Lives

WASHINGTON (AP) — The mid-Atlantic collision of a destroyer and an aircraft carrier that weighed 25 times as much as the smaller ship left 176 American seamen missing today. The Navy called off its search for survivors but refused to list the victims as dead.

It was in the murky darkness of the sea, 700 miles from shore, with waves surging to a height of 25 feet that the Hobson, a destroyer-minesweeper, and the Wasp, an aircraft carrier, collided Saturday night.

A reporter who was on a nearby ship said the Hobson apparently split in two and sank instantly. Two gaping holes were torn in the bow of the Wasp.

All of the missing were aboard the Hobson. The Wasp, which apparently suffered no casualties, picked up 61 survivors from the Hobson and began limping home to port at 8 knots an hour.

The collision was one of the most catastrophic naval disasters in this nation's history. The 1,600-ton Hobson and the 27,000-ton Wasp, both of which had distinguished records in World War II, were part of a task force enroute to the Mediterranean.

During Maneuvers The collision took place during night maneuvers, a routine practice. Lawrence E. Dame, staff writer for the Boston Herald, who was on another ship in the task force, gave this description of the scene minutes after the collision: "A tempestuous sea strewn with wreckage. Empty lifejackets rolling in an oily slick. The body of a chief petty officer tossing in the raging waters."

Dame said the Wasp "knifed into the destroyer Hobson." Earlier reports had indicated that the Hobson crashed into the Wasp. A Navy Board of Inquiry will analyze all the accounts before making an official report.

The scene of the collision was about 700 miles west of The Azores or about 1,200 miles due east of Boston. The time was shortly before midnight, about 8:25 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, Saturday.

The first official word of the crash came shortly before noon, EST, on Sunday. Dame said the ocean at the point of the crash is about 2,275 fathoms — or 2.7 miles-deep. The sea was rolling, he said. "Under faint skies and black sky."

The Navy Department said that whenever notification of next-of-kin of those missing in the crash might be delayed by the Western Union Strike, letters were dispatched air-mail special delivery.

Cy Carr To Run For Sheriff In Roberts County

MIAMI (Special) — W. H. "Cy" Carr this week authorized the announcement of his candidacy for re-election to the office of Sheriff, Tax Assessor and Collector of Roberts County. Carr is the son of the late Cy Carr, who served as sheriff here following World War II, and later entered business, where he remained until his election as sheriff in 1948.

Both he and his wife have been active in civic and religious circles in the community. Relatives Jailed To Give Girl Blood Transfusion ODESSA, Tex. (AP) — Not one of pretty Grace Marie Olfitt relatives appeared at the hospital to object today when she received her second blood transfusion. Her father and two brothers, who objected to the first transfusion on religious grounds yesterday, were ousted from her hospital room, jailed and later released last night.

Peace Comes Officially To Japanese

TOKYO (AP) — Quiet peace fell over the misty Japanese islands tonight. No incident marked the night that officially ended the history's bloodiest war in the Orient. Japan again became independent at 10:30 p.m. (8:30 a.m. EST) the hour set arbitrarily by the U.S. and Japanese governments to mark the close of six years and eight months of allied occupation. The peace treaty signed by Japan and 48 other nations became effective at the same time.

There was no dancing in the streets, but peace prayers were offered at shrines, Japanese peace lanterns swayed on the Ginza, Tokyo's Broadway. The Rising Sun Millions of Japanese flags — the Rising Sun on a white field — fluttered Monday for the first time since the occupation began.

Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida called a "Magnanimous peace unparalleled in history. He urged his people to "March joyfully, courageously and resolutely on the broad highway of peace and democracy."

Political leaders generally follow his lead. But the Communists were defiant. They said today was one of "National humiliation — a blot on the nation's history that is never been seen before."

There was no official word from Emperor Hirohito nor the Empress. Hirohito's 51st birthday is national holiday. The full celebration of the peace agreement will be held Saturday.

New Ambassador The new American Ambassador to Japan, Robert D. Murphy, was scheduled to reach Tokyo from the U.S. at about midnight. For Japan it was a great day on the diplomatic front. Nationalist China and India made peace with the 81,000,000 Japanese just as had the United States, the United Kingdom, Australia, New Zealand, Canada, Pakistan and France.

Red China and Russia technically still were at war with Japan. Neither signed the San Francisco peace treaty nor joined in the Allied peace move that restored Japan to full sovereignty in the family of nations.

Hwy. 60 Head To Be Here

Gruenther To Remain As SHAPE Chief Of Staff

PARIS (AP) — Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway will succeed Gen. Eisenhower as Supreme Commander of Allied Forces in Europe, NATO sources reported today.

Rome informants said Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, Eisenhower's chief of staff, will remain in that post under Ridgway, now the United Nations Far Eastern commander.

Eisenhower is returning June 1 to the United States where he is a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

The nomination of Eisenhower's successor was made by President Truman to the North Atlantic Treaty Council this morning, but official announcement of the man's name was withheld until tonight.

The nomination was submitted to the home capitals of the North Atlantic Peace Organization powers. Rome officials believed Ridgway had been named, rather than Gruenther because of his more extensive command experience. All of Gruenther's major assignments have been in staff jobs.

President Truman announced a decision to name the appointment of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway as the UN Commander in Chief of the U.S. Armed Forces in the Far East.

Gen. Ridgway, 57, won from Gen. Douglas MacArthur as the UN Commander in the Far East. He was in command of the UN Command in Korea in December, 1950, to succeed Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, commander of the Eighth Army, who was killed in a jeep accident when he was struck by a tank while on a patrol. He succeeded Gen. Douglas MacArthur when the latter was relieved by President Truman in April last year.

Gen. Gruenther, known in the past as a brilliant organizing "brain" is the youngest four star general in the army. He came to Europe in 1942 when Eisenhower was Chief of Staff for the Third Army under Lt. Gen. Walter Krueger, and Gruenther was Deputy Chief of Staff. Eisenhower brought him to Europe in 1942 and made him one of the chief planners of the North African and Italian campaigns.

Gruenther is a native of Plattsmouth, Neb., and was fourth in the graduating class of West Point in the class of 1914. His nomination was announced in the "North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council" which had asked him to name Eisenhower's successor.

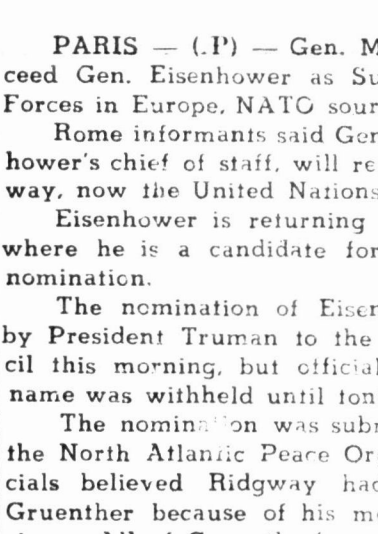

The name of the General nominated by his reply was not immediately announced. (See RIDGWAY Page 2)

Oil Workers Ready To Take Strike Walk

DENVER (AP) — The threat of a nationwide strike hovered over the oil industry today as the Oil Workers International Union (CIO) completed final preparations for a walkout, slated to begin at 12:01 a. m. local time, Wednesday.

A major portion of the industry would be affected by the strike which could virtually paralyze the nation's output of gas and oil.

A 26-man policy committee met at Denver headquarters of the Union yesterday to lay plans for the walkout. Following the meeting the Union issued a statement signed by OUIU President O. A. Knight, which stated, in part: "Final plans for a nationwide strike have been completed. It will go on unless collective bargaining produces a satisfactory settlement of the wage dispute before the deadline hour."

The strike originally was slated for March 3, but was postponed three times at government request.

The union, which heads a coalition of 22 CIO, AFL and Independent Oil Workers Unions, claims 100,000 workers will walk out if their demands for a pay raise of 25 cents an hour and higher differentials for night work are not met. Most oil firms have offered an increase of 10 cents an hour. The present wage scale ranges from $2 to $24.10 an hour.

Meanwhile, eleven-hour negotiations between union committees and management representatives were reported underway at many points in the country. All bargaining was on a local plant-by-plant basis.

"Of course we will continue to negotiate wherever possible in the hope of reaching an agreement," said E. J. Schaefer of Denver, Vice President of the OUIU group. "However," he added, "No definite progress has been made in any negotiations thus far — with one exception."

The pilot, whose body was hurled into a yard adjoining the destroyed building, was identified only as Capt. Clifford Froggarty, 29.

XXXIII
SO the weeks passed, spent on alternating tides of fear and desire, menace and security, ice and fire. There were times when love was enough and there were times when even love did not ease the frustration of Peter's exile from research. Unwilling to live on Jennet's money, Peter had taken a job in the experimental division of a television firm. They assured each other that it was only a temporary measure, but the days went by, Christmas, New Year's, January was half gone, and they had not heard.

It was an unpalatable irony that at that moment when her own life had assumed a greeting-card formality, Peter's should have lost it; a further irony that she was powerless to restore it to him as he was empowered to award it to her.
For her, Peter had changed everything. He had transformed her from child to woman, and she took a fierce pleasure in her womanly tasks. She did her own housework now—ingrid, unable to transfer allegiance to a new master, had gone—and under Jennet's familiarizing dust cloth, vacuum cleaner, scrub brush, the house lost the anemic tyranny with which she had moodily misused it, became a functionally pleasant place in which one did one's living. She had ceased playing-acting the role of mistress of the house, had, by virtue of her new seniority, reduced the house to service. The white picket fence was no longer a comment but an embrace.

When he had finished reading the letter, Dr. Pelletier folded it and looked up. The faces were almost attentively attentive. More than that, they were alert. He slipped the letter against the table edge. "This letter," he said, "is from the Division of Biology and Medicine of the Atomic Energy Commission. The experiment to which it refers will, if successful, protect human beings from the damage of atomic bombing.

He paused, glanced at the superintendent's drumming fingers which had begun to beat the table with the frenzy of a Geiger counter put to pitchblende. The fingers stopped then and Dr. Pelletier continued.

"The idea for this piece of work is Peter Surinov's. The work was started here last May by Peter Surinov. The United States Government says it may be continued by Peter Surinov. And frankly, gentlemen, I say it must be done by Peter Surinov or not at this hospital at all. In view of the confused and tragic circumstances under which Dr. Surinov was released from Angles some months ago, I want to get this committee's approval before re-appointing him to my department staff."

MAXWELL COTA shot out of his seat. "Mr. Chairman, this is an administrative matter. Administration is my job. Dr. Pelletier is out of order bringing this up as committee business!"
"It was this committee that fired him!" Dr. Pelletier bellowed. "How technical can you get? This is a medical board, not a court of law."

"The firing was different," Cota retorted. "The loyalty oath involved hospital policy."
"I want the matter cleared through this committee," Dr. Pelletier insisted. "I'm not fussy about points of order. There's too much at stake. Last time the main issue of Peter Surinov's loyalty was lost in the explosion of a dirty trick of homemade dynamite. It killed our beloved colleague, Gus Logan. I'm not going to let it maim a great young scientist. Scientists like Peter Surinov are rare birds. Superintendents like Maxwell Cota are a dime a dozen!"

"By God," Cota shrieked, "if men like me are a dime a dozen, then X-ray men like you must be sold by the bunch!"

Old Pistol Found In Death Valley

SANTA ANA, Calif. — (AP) — A geology student returned here from a recent visit to Death Valley with a cap and ball pistol, lost on the desert about 90 years ago.
Douglas Thanner says the gun, which bears the date, 1851, still operates and is in almost perfect condition.

W. Germans May Adopt Nihilism

BONN, Germany — (AP) — West German Refugee Minister Hans Lukaschek said today that 30,000 jobless refugees in North Germany are threatening to march south into the less-populated French occupation zone.
More than 100,000 in southern Germany's crowded states of Lower Saxony and Bavaria also have plans to "force themselves upon the less populated areas," he added.
"The danger is ominous but I believe I will be able to control it without the help of the police," Lukaschek said.
Lack of homes and jobs, he continued, was developing dangerous radicalism among the refugees in the crowded areas. They would not become Communists because, coming from areas now under Red control, they know what Communism is but they threaten to become nihilists, believers in nothing," he said.

Nav Rescues Seamen Near Japan

YOKOSUKA, Japan — (AP) — Seven American Merchant sailors were rescued Saturday from the stranded stern section of a storm-tossed freighter after two earlier attempts had been foiled by heavy seas.
The dramatic rescue was carried out by the U.S. Navy Tug Atikata which brought the survivors to this Navy base.
The freighter, William Eaton ran aground 12 days ago on rocks off To-Shima, an island 30 miles from the Japanese coast. The crew was removed by Capt. Fred A. Solomon, Walnut Creek, Calif., and Chief Engineer John B. Williamson, San Jose, Calif., remained aboard.
Thursday an attempt was made to get them off. It failed when a storm broke the freighter in two. Three would-be rescuers were saved Saturday five more crewmen reached the bulk but lost their boat.
Chief Boatwain Jeffie N. Pruett, Denton, Tex., made the final and successful rescue attempt with a whale boat and raft. At one point his effort almost failed. A giant wave lifted the whaleboat and raft completely over the sinking wreck. On the second try Pruett got the raft alongside, the men jumped to it and he towed them to safety on the tug.

Diamond Seller Robbed Of Gems

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Police Saturday sought a man who slugged and robbed a 73-year-old diamond salesman, Irwin A. Lewis, of more than $100,000 worth of uncut diamonds.
Lewis told officers he had an appointment to meet a man who identified himself as Charles Sheppey at the Biltmore hotel Friday. He said a well-dressed, personable man of about 35 identified himself as Sheppey and escorted him to a room.
There, said Lewis, the man knocked him unconscious. Two hours later he awoke to find his suitcase with the diamonds missing.
Police said a man had called several jewelry firms in the last few weeks asking that a salesman be sent to his room with samples, but apparently he had no takers until Lewis showed up.

TORONTO — (AP) — Where do old fire plugs go? Why, to the dog kennel, of course.
That's where they're going in Toronto. The Humane Society here has taken over the city's used fire hydrants and installed them — minus any water connections — in its outdoor dog kennels.
An official said the plugs are designed to calm canine nerves which may be upset by the unfamiliar journey to the kennels.

Methodists Discuss Changes Based On Eight-Year Study

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — Recommendations for changes in the organization of every Methodist church in the country come before the Methodist General Conference today.

They are based on an eight-year study. They are not to be confused with a controversial survey report which would revise drastically the upper level of church organization. Debate on this issue is scheduled late today.
Bishop Costen J. Harrell of Charlotte, N. C., who headed the commission on the local church, noted that the study "Adheres to the main line of our historical development and suggests no radical change in our established pattern."

"We are agreed," he said, "that any attempt to reorganize the local church on any other basis would confuse our people and would not serve the ends we have in view."
The Commission's principal recommendations:

1. Organization in every local church of an official board and four basic commissions (evangelism, missions, education and finance) and as many committees as necessary, all subject to the official board. The board would be composed of the trustees, stewards elected by the quarterly conference, and officers of the local church and church organizations.
2. The Quarterly Conference would function as the basic body of control in every local church and as the link with sectional Methodism.
The sharper battle since the Conference began Wednesday centered on the $240,000 survey on streamlining organization of the church as a whole. As a result, each side named three persons to a committee to report today on areas of agreement.
The survey calls for a new coordinating council as the top administrative body. The number of church agencies and publications would be slashed and total board and agency membership cut 20 percent.
In an address last night, the Rev. Dr. Ralph W. Sockman of New York told Methodists "If we support the church only as an insurance for our property, and practice prayer only as a ceremonial success, then we are materialists, even as are the Communists."
"The church," he said, "must rise above the current emphasis on religion as security and revive its original gospel of salvation. We must see Korea and India not alike to check the flood of Communism, but as lands where needy members of God's family are to be served and saved."
He said the church must not yield to the "current temptation" to seek power and favor through governmental means.
"Political alliances between church and state are being promoted today in subtle ways of subsidy and diplomacy," Dr. Sockman said. "Christ refused temporal power. So must His church."

Germany Wants To Build Subs

BONN, Germany — (AP) — West Germany wants to build a fleet of one-man-submarines to protect her North Sea and Baltic ports, which are exposed to Russia's center of naval power.
Allied and German authorities confirmed Friday night that the West German government has proposed a fleet of midget U-boats to the five other nations of the proposed European Defense Community (EDC). They are now whipping into final shape a treaty to unify their armed forces in a six-nation European army.
Midget U-boats would be built after Germany is allowed to rearm and create a "bomber navy" as an EDC partner in Western defense.
The midget subs are only a little bigger than a torpedo.

The couple are Faimonda Ciano, pretty 19-year-old brunette, and Sandra Giotta, 23, a descendant of Princess Julia Bonaparte. They met in Rome last month. Giotta said it was love at first sight.

April Showers Draw Little Attention In Parts Of U. S.

CHICAGO — (AP) — They don't pay much attention to April showers in some places in the U.S. They're accustomed to rain. Take, for instance, Valseltz, Ore., a company-owned lumber town. The source of weather news there used to report precipitation figures to newsmen. The stories customarily began: "In Valseltz, where they measure rainfall in feet instead of inches," this or that happened. (It rained, probably.)

In 1950, the count reached 168.11 inches—or, to use the store yardstick, 14 feet. The giving out of such statistics has been halted. The company said the hiring of loggers and mill hands was getting a bit too tough.

An Associated Press survey of a few of the nation's wettest spots naturally included Clearwater, Wash. This is a logging community on the west side of the Olympia Peninsula. Weather Bureau records show the rainfall there averages 129.7 inches per year. But neither drizzle nor down-pour can stay the loggers. They simply put on their rainy day gear—metal hats and rubber or water-repellent clothing. Most of them also wear woolen underwear.

"No matter how cold and wet you get," they comment rather paradoxically, "You're always warm and dry."

Boots are standard equipment in Clearwater for everybody who goes outside. The frequency of days on the dark side has had an influence on architecture and interior decoration—large windows and light shades of paint within the houses.

But moisture is good for pastures and growing trees and cranberries west of the coast range in the Pacific Northwest. Azaleas and Camellias also require lots of water, and that's what they get in the Michle area of Alabama.

Mobile's rainfall, over a 20 year period, averaged 5.18 inches a month. Men there keep one raincoat at the office and another one at home. Business houses in the low-lying wholesale district near the Mobile river have employees assigned to placing rain stoppers against cracks under street-level doors at closing time.

For the women, almost any dry day is wash day.

Rain, on the other hand, creates problems in normally arid sections. One of these is Brawley, Calif., where it has averaged only 2.73 inches per year. Most of the roads there are unpaved. A rainstorm turns them into quagmires. Schools declare "mud holidays."

A man at the chamber of commerce wet his lips and said: "I doubt if there has been a raincoat sold in Brawley in 50 years."

Vittori Manunta Hailed As New Boy Wonder Of Movies

By CYNTHIA LOWRY (For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK — (AP) — Vittorio Manunta, age 10, is a Cinderella boy.

Seven years ago Italian authorities found him crying in a Po-man gutter—clutching the hand of his dead mother, shot in a street riot.

Today, Vittorio, an undersized little Sicilian, is a movie star, the adopted son of a British noblewoman and heralded — on the strength of a single film—as one of the best child actors since Jackie Coogan in "The Kid."

Americans, so far, haven't had much chance to see Vittorio in action, for the Italian-made film Paul Gallico's "Never Take No For an Answer" is just beginning to make the rounds of the smaller independent film houses in the larger cities. But the lad's acting created a sensation on the Continent and in London.

Vittorio's father was killed in World War II. After his mother's death, the dark-eyed, tousled-haired little boy was placed in a government orphanage. After that he was adopted by the Countess of Berkeley, who has a home in Assisi.

She talked about it during a recent visit to New York with Vittorio. Time, affection, good food and a happy home have almost entirely healed the wounds of the tragedies in the boy's early days, but the scars still show a little in the dependence of Vittorio on his foster mother. "He is absolutely mad about cowboys and Indians," she said. "He likes baseball, but his heart belongs to Indians."

Life was quiet and pleasant in Assisi when a party of film people called on the countess for help in making arrangements for filming the interior of famed St. Francis' church. They told her of trouble casting a boy to play the lead role. When Vittorio wandered into the room, they decided in two minutes they had found the boy.

In their couple of weeks in the United States, Vittorio has been introduced to baseball, hot dogs, the Wild West, and ice cream sodas.

Vittorio, who had been holding up the interviewer with a toy six-shooter, lowered his gun. "Sodas," he said, making a dreadful face. "They are better in Italy. Imagine putting mineral water together with ice cream! Put up your hands again."

"He needs a hair cut," said Lady Berkeley.

Delightful hams! You'll be better prepared to prepare these gifts of the Panhandle Packing Co. after you have attended the cooking school sessions. They start at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday.

WHAT'S COOKIN' IN GRAY COUNTY HD CLUB WORK

By HELEN DUNLAP
Gray County HD Agent

A tea will be held in the City Club room by the home demonstration women of Gray County Wednesday afternoon from 2 to 4 p.m. Mrs. F. E. Leach will review a book. The occasion for this tea and book review is the observance of National Home Demonstration week, which is the week of April 27 to May 3.

During the program, special recognition will be given to the 1951 and 1952 demonstrators. They are the women who have carried out recommendations of the Extension Service in doing some phase of work in the home during the year, such as improving a kitchen, yard, or methods of clothing construction. In other words, their achievements are examples of good and up-to-date methods of home making as taught by the Extension Demonstrators.

"It was an awfully nice day, wasn't it, Mom?" the five-year-old commented when her mother tucked her in for the night.

A little surprised by the remark for the family had done nothing special that particular Sunday that a child would find exciting, the mother asked: "I guess it was because all day long everyone seemed so smiley."

Really, that is about all it takes to make children happy. For the grown-ups who are quite willing to keep the atmosphere of home "smiley" for the youngsters.

We don't have to indulge children's every whim, or give them as much as the child next door has in the way of toys and possessions.

About all we have to do to make the days pleasant and happy for our children and to make them contented with things as they are, is to be relaxed and pleasant ourselves and to have time to treat them like human beings, instead of always pushing them around and ordering them about.

The greatest gift you can give to a child is the feeling that in his own home he isn't in the way, that there he is loved and understood, and important.

You can't give that to children by buying them things or even by giving them the advantages you think they ought to have or by occasionally resigning yourself to taking a few hours off to entertain them.

You can give them the feeling that their own small world is "right," only by relaxing enough to have time for them—time to smile and listen and help when your help is asked for.

'THIS IS MY BEST'

No. 25 in a series

Mrs. Fred Barlow

Mrs. Fred Barlow, 1301 N. Starkweather, is a newcomer to Pampa who has lived in several sections of the United States and Canada since leaving her native Calgary, Alta., Canada, and in each section she has found new and different recipes to add to her collection.

Mrs. Barlow has added a touch of Pennsylvania and New England to her original Western Canadian cooking, and while living in Montreal she added some French-Canadian recipes. She also has British recipes in her files which were among her mother's favorites. And no wife's collecting recipe from the Texas Panhandle.

French-Canadian are not too enthusiastic about salads, but they do like soup. This pea soup, sometimes known as Habicht's soup, is a favorite.

SOUPE AUX POIS
one pound dried split peas
1-2 pound salt pork
one tablespoon salt
2-1/2 quarts water
1-2 teaspoon pepper
one tablespoon parsley
1-2 teaspoon savory or 1-2 bay leaf, crushed.

three onions chopped fine
Wash and soak peas overnight. Drain and place in soup kettle with salt pork, salt, water, pepper, parsley, savory or bay leaf and onions. Simmer gently about three hours until peas are soft. Season to taste and serve with crisp croquettes. (Makes two quarts.)

The following authentic French-Canadian recipe is quite popular, though Mrs. Barlow does not use it too frequently because they are "heavy," and she cautions to the likes of her three small children. But it's a good time of year to use pork and these little Canadian meat pies are attractive in individual pastry shells.

TOURTIERES
A LA CANADIENNE
three pounds pork, chopped
one teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon paprika
Mix onions, salt, pepper and paprika with meat. Place in a saucapan, cover with water and let simmer for one hour. When meat is cooked it should not be dry, but rather moist. Put the meat mixture into individual pastry shells, cover with a top layer of pastry and bake 15 minutes in a 400 degree oven.

Mrs. Barlow's favorite salad is a golden gelatine treat that is served on greens and topped with mayonnaise. It's good with most any main dish.

GOLDEN SALAD
one envelope unflavored gelatin
1-4 cup cold water
one cup hot pineapple syrup
1-2 cup orange juice
1-4 cup mild vinegar
one cup grated raw carrots one cup orange segments, cut small

1-2 cups canned pineapple cut into small pieces.
Soften gelatin in cold water and dissolve in hot pineapple syrup. Add orange juice, vinegar, and salt. Cool and when mixture begins to thicken, fold in carrots, orange and pineapple. Turn into mold that has been rinsed in cold water and chill. Unmold and serve.

Another favorite from the Barlow kitchen is datebread, the kind of recipe guests take home with them. It's Canadian and should be made the day before you wish to serve it. It's super spread with butter.

CANADIAN DATE BREAD
one cup brown sugar
two tablespoons shortening
one egg unbeaten
one cup dates, finely chopped
1-2 cup hot, strong tea
1-2 cup orange juice
two tablespoons, grated orange rind
one teaspoon baking soda
two cups sifted all-purpose flour
one teaspoon salt
one teaspoon baking powder
1-2 cup nuts, chopped

Cream together brown sugar and shortening; add the egg and beat until light. Combine the

The Mature Parent

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

There was a certain studied insolence in the manner of Meg's new friend, Penny, that made Meg's mother uncomfortable.

So she was not surprised the morning she discovered the book. It lay open on the bottom shelf of Meg's bedside table, and on its cover was printed the title of a classic, famous as it is because of the name of its author. It was the word "Unexpurgated."

In her child's sunny, gingham-curtained bedroom, Mrs. Baldwin stood turning the pages thoughtfully. Then she put aside her dustpan, sat down on Meg's bed and began to read.

When her highschool sophomore came bursting in from hockey practice Mrs. Baldwin was placidly preparing a cake - mix. As Meg opened the icebox door, her mother said, "That's quite a book you're reading yourself to sleep with."

The hand that had been reaching for the milk bottle paused. Then Meg said lightly, "Isn't it something? Penny loaned it to me. She says it's part of my education to read it."

"Well, I don't know you did it educational," said Mrs. Baldwin. "Just don't find it so educational that you miss the point."

"Point?" echoed Meg. "Yes, point," her mother told her, nodding. "The people who told her about sex and love and stories were scared. Scared and maybe a little ashamed. There was a plague raging in that city where they'd left their families and friends - and they ran out on them. I guess telling each other about sex and love and things was the only way they could forget how scared and ashamed they were."

There was one of those pauses. Then Meg gulped down her mouthful of milk. "Gosh, that's a little like other sex and love stories I've read. There are a lot of angles I've missed in that book, mother. Maybe I'm stupid, but there's something I want to show you. Wait a minute."

So Meg brought down the book and the mother talked quite a while about sex and love between men and women. The next morning Meg took the book back to its owner.

But of course none of this could have occurred if Meg's gushing book out of my house and never bring anything like it in here again. What happened occurred because an intelligent mother refused to act as a censor of her child's reading and served instead as a critic.

A critic is one who exercises "judgment of value and truth" says the dictionary. A censor is one who exercises judgment of himself but denies others a similar right.

We cannot protect children against erotic literature, dirty jokes or pornographic pictures, any more than we can legislate against that which comes into our homes. We have to work to get rid of the root and we have to work harder to get rid of the impressions that other people's undesirable sex attitudes make upon our children.

To ban or forbid is simply to blind ourselves to what is continuing to come through the window to soil our homes. Censorship is a form of disinterest in children's moral strength.

Once our children know what we believe and why, no salacious book will be able to find lodging in our homes.

Always Give Make-Up Equipment Good Care

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

The care you give your make-up utensils will definitely show in the results you get with them.

You can't expect a clogged mascara brush to sweep your eyes to beauty, or a powder-caked puff to smooth your skin to perfection. You can never over-do cleanliness, especially when it involves your personal grooming. Get into the habit of washing your comb and brush twice a week. Hairbrushes and bobby pins get soiled too. They certainly should be sused once a week. Also remember to keep the hair grooming aids you carry in your purse immaculately clean. Throw away a used comb with your regular comb-and-brush.

Never use a make-up sponge or puff (for rouge, foundation base or powder) twice without washing it. This is especially important for the health of your skin as well as its beauty. Use a cotton puff (for rouge, foundation base) can throw it away after a single application.

Keep your mascara brush clean by wiping off any excess with a tissue, and then washing the brush under hot water faucet.

It will only take a minute, but the next time you want to apply mascara to your eyelashes, the brush will be in perfect condition. Don't use worn - down emery boards or allow your nail polish brush to get stiff. Keep all bottles of make-up preparations tightly closed.

If the necks of the bottles get sticky, wipe them clean with a tissue.

As far as your creams are concerned when the jars are half-full, transfer the remaining amount to plastic containers. This keeps the creams from forming a crust at the bottom of the jars.

Meet Your Oilers

One of the few limited servicemen on the Oilers, is Manuel Temes, second baseman. Manny was sidelined yesterday with a dead arm, caused by a shoulder injury, but is expected to be ready to go again soon.

His home is in Havana, Cuba, where he was born on April 26, 1925. He is single and attended school at Colegio Supercacion in Havana. He is right-handed and weighs 160 pounds.

Last year was his first in organized baseball and he had a great rookie year at Ardmore in the Sooner State League. In 139 games he had 195 hits, including 27 doubles, 10 triples and 25 home runs for a batting average of .340. He drove in 135 runs and stole 18 bases in addition to fielding second among the league's second sackers.

A good hustler who hits the ball solidly, Temes is expected to be one of the finest second basemen in the league this season.

The Stories Differ:

Kansas, Drake Relays Make Olympic Picture Seem Good

DES MOINES — (AP) — Uncle Sam is going to have one of his finest Olympic track and field teams at Helsinki, Finland, this summer.

That's the word from Bill Easton and Tommy Deckard, directors of two of America's top track clubs—the Kansas and Drake games.

They agreed that Uncle Sam's representatives will be "particularly tough in the dashes, middle distances and distances."

Easton, whose Kansas athletes established two American records and two Drake marks here last Friday and Saturday, thinks three of his boys may make the American team.

He listed West Santee, the great miler, for the 1500 meters, Herb Semper for the 5000 meters, and Bob Deviney for the 1000 meter hurdles.

Easton also mentioned 100-yard dash winner James Goldiday, Northwestern sophomore, and Dick Coleman of Illinois, first in the pole vault. Deckard believes Goldiday will be America's No. 1 dash man.

Deckard and Easton gave their highest grades to Santee, who anchored the Jayhawks to an American mark of 17:35.9 in the four-mile relay and a Drake record of 10:01.8 in the distance medley. Unofficially, Santee was clocked at 4:07.4 and 9:25.7 for his anchor miles.

Press and radio reporters voted the 19-year-old sophomore the outstanding performer of the meet. Santee polled 32 of 33 votes. The other vote went to Henry Cryer who ran a 1:50.3 half mile anchor race to give Illinois a new American mark of 7:31.6 in the two-mile relay.

Kansas got its first American record Friday when Deviney hurdled in 52.4. The Jayhawks got their second Drake mark with a 3:13.1 mile relay.

Other new records Saturday: college 440-yard relay, North Texas State, 31.7; college 880-yard relay, North Texas State, 1:25.8; college sprint medley, Abilene Christian, 3:29.9; college mile relay, Abilene Christian, 3:15.4; and open mile run, Dewey Johnson, Drake, 4:14.5.

But — Foreigners Steal Penn Relays Show

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Any suggestion that American athletes might have an easy time in the Olympic games next summer was vehemently denied in all languages, including Scandinavian, at the rain-swept Penn Relays.

Two Scandinavians and a trio of Canadians had a lot to say about the outcome of the meet and the outlook for the future in the big carnival which was considered extra-important because this is an Olympic year.

Dennis Johansson, an exchange student from Finland at Purdue, made three of America's best runners look a little silly in the Benjamin Franklin Invitation Mile. Big Roland Nilsson of Sweden, a University of Michigan student, easily won the discus throw and took second in the shot put. And three Canadians running on Michigan relay teams completely dominated the longer college relays.

The showing of milers was the biggest shock to those who hoped the sparkling indoor performances of Fred Wilt and Don Gehrmann presaged a strong American showing in the Olympic 1500 and 5000 meter races.

But Saturday young Johansson came along to make them look bad. Dennis, although he is Finland's 1500 and 5000 meter champion, is no great shakes as a runner by European standards. The best he could do over the rain-soaked cinders at Franklin Field was a 4:18.2 mile, yet he won by ten yards going away.

Yesterday Dave Hoskins, the Negro pitcher, won his third straight game as Dallas beat Houston 9-2. He gave up 10 hits while Dallas was blasting 19.

And the crowd that turned out—11,031, of which 6954 were Negroes—was the largest in the Texas League this season.

While Dallas was beating Houston, Beaumont's hustling Roughnecks were moving into a tie with Fort Worth for first place.

The Roughies whipped Oklahoma on Saturday, in the 10-hole finale of the origin of the patriotic pumps he'd won during the week. The shoes, made especially for the U.S. Ryder Cup team in its matches here with the British last fall, were given to him by Ryder Cupper Jackie Burke, Texas professional, after the two had played in a recent exhibition.

"The first day I wore them I shot a 67," said Frank. The "lucky" shoes didn't hamper him in the tournament. In closing out Strafton on the 11th hole of the afternoon round, he was four under par for 29 holes.

He put on one of the most amazing long putting exhibitions seen in 52 years of North and South history. Sixty, 50 and 20-foot puts all helped him build up his margin against for a final in 10 years. The day before, in beating Mal Galletta, Strahan rang the bell with three puts of from 30 to 45 feet.

Oilers Win, 6-5; End Stand T

Molberg To Face Gold Sox Tonight

Combining timely hitting, errorless baseball and some great relief pitching by Juan Montero, the Oilers took the first game of a two-game series from the Amarillo Gold Sox, 6-5, Sunday afternoon at Oiler Park.

Tonight the two clubs meet again in the final game of the opening home stand of the year for the Oilers. Manager Jake Phillips has selected Max Molberg (4-0) while Joe Valenzuela is expected to go for the Sox. Molberg threw a fine win over the Borger Caspers last time out. Manager Phillips provided the game winning punch yesterday, lining a single past third baseman's cap in the last of the inning to score Stat Bartkowski with the tie-breaking run. The Oilers had fought from behind since the third inning, finally tying it in the seventh with a pair.

Error on Bunt
Bartkowski led off the ninth for the Oilers, and was promptly plunked on the shoulder by one of Bob Wolf's curves that didn't break. Wolf had just taken the hill, replacing starter Johnny Fine who was lifted for a pinch hitter in the top of the frame.

Eas Sudol bunted back to Wolf, who threw over the first baseman's head, and the runners moved to second and third. The Sox elected to pitch to Phillips, got the count to 1-2 and then he sent the whistler into leftfield for a win.

The Oilers took a two-run lead in the second. Don Moore opened with a single and was forced at second by Frank Calo. Then Phil Rizzo, rookie third baseman, drove the Oilers' first home run of the year over the centerfield fence.

The Sox got their right back, however, with one to spare. Goldie Gholson opened the third with a double to right and moved to third on John Gayle's single to center. Glen Schaeffer doubled to the boards, plating both runners.

Jim Hayes then slapped a single to left to score Schaeffer with the lead run.

The Sox got another in the fifth when Jim Hayes opened with a bloop single to right and George Hayes dumped one into short center, Jim stopping at second. Dub Akins then beat out a hit to deep short to lead the bases with none out. Merv Connors drew a walk to force in one run, and bring Juan Montero in to pitch for Pampa, replacing Bill Bohne.

The Score
Montero made Dembeck force George Hayes at the plate but Johnny Fine skied to left to score Atkins with the fifth and final Amarillo run.

Norm Auerback opened the Oiler fifth with a double and went to third on a wild pitch. An infield out by Bartkowski scored him with the third Pampa run.

In the seventh the Oilers tied it up. With one out, Auerback walked. Woldt hit a slow roller back to the pitcher, and he boot- ed it. Auerback going to second. Bartkowski popped to Connors but Sudol lines a single to left to score Auerback. And when the crowd got away from Dembeck, the runners moved second and third. Phillips was passed intentionally to get at Don Moore.

But Wolf lost his control and walked Moore to force Woldt across with the tying run. Calo forced Moore at second to end the inning.

Neither team could do any more damage then until the bottom of the ninth when the error by Wolf turned into a victory for Pampa.

Winkler Here
League President Ray Winkler witnessed the game from the box of Oiler owners, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Miller, who came back again tonight on his tour of the league's towns.

Montero came in to relieve starter Bill Bohne in the fifth with one run, two on and none out. One more run scored before he finally got the side out. He was the skied one left for G-Sox, they managed to get a runner aboard each inning, but he got no further than second base at anytime. In the ninth G. Hayes opened with a single and took second on a wild pitch. Landrum allowed San Antonio only three hits.

Shreveport licked Tulsa 4-2, raming three runs over in the sixth. Jim Peterson held the Sports to a single hit for four innings but they broke loose in the fifth to take a lead they never relinquished. Doubles by George Brown and Jim Ackered sparked the drive.

Vote Of Confidence, Good Pitching Put Tigers On Trail

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Associated Press Sports Writer Eason buddies Art Houtteman and Gray have put the Detroit Tigers back on the right track.

The Tigers still were on the fringe of last place in the American League today but the good folks of Detroit don't expect them to hover in that vicinity long. Detroit's resurgence began behind closed doors in the visitors' dressing room at Chicago's Comiskey Park Wednesday.

The Tigers, smarting from eight straight defeats, were reported to be in a mood to fight.

Rain curtailed activity in both leagues. In the American League, rain washed out a doubleheader between the Athletics and Boston Red Sox and a single game between New York and Washington.

In the National League, a doubleheader between Boston and Philadelphia and a single game between Brooklyn and New York were postponed.

The Chicago White Sox cooled off the St. Louis Browns in the only other action in the American League. The White Sox tripped the Browns, 7-6, in 14 innings in the opener of a doubleheader. The Sox led, 3-0, in the second game which was called after five innings because of darkness. The game will be completed in Chicago July 3.

Redlegs Win Two
Minnie Monson niggled home Nelson Fox with Chicago's winning run in the opener. Ed Robinson homered with one on in the ninth for Chicago to send the game into overtime. Harry Dorish permitted only one hit over the last five innings and gained credit for his first victory.

The surprising Cincinnati Reds snapped their second-place tie with Chicago in the National League by beating Pittsburgh in a twin bill, 8-2 and 1-0, while the Cubs won a single game from the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-3.

Ken Raffensberger breezed to his third straight victory in the opener for Cincinnati. Dutch Hiller bested Howie Pollet in the thrilling nightcap duel. Roy McMillan drove home Bob Ebbert with the winning run in the ninth inning on a fly ball.

The defeats extended Pittsburgh's losing streak to nine games.

Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell, highly publicized Cardinal rookie, held the Cubs to three hits in seven innings but blew up in the eighth and yielded four runs in the ninth on a fly ball.

Derby Trial To Separate Nags

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — (AP) — They are going to sit around the wheel at Churchill Downs tomorrow and before tonight the Kentucky Derby should be fairly well in hand.

The setting will come in the Derby trial, a mile prep for the big trial and one-quarter classic for three-year olds on Saturday.

From a financial standpoint, the trial, with an added value of $10,000, is worth only peanuts in comparison with the 78th run for the roses, but it has a two-fold purpose.

For one, it furnishes some of the top flight Derby hopefuls with their final tightner before facing the starting barrier at 4:30 p.m. (EST) before some 100,000 people.

And for others it will give a chance to prove their right to run in America's most famous horse race.

The trial is expected to draw a field of ten or so, including at least three, and possible five, of the Derby candidates most talked about at the Downs.

Hill, heads the list. Should the fleet son of Bull Lea show to an advantage in the trial, he'll probably go to the post in the Derby the favorite to take down the winner's share of the purse.

Magnolia Station Now Under New Ownership

Something's New At Nimmo Nash Co.

Your Nimmo Nash Co. is presenting the new 1952 Nash Golden Airflytes at 114 S. Frost. Never has the Nash presented such beautiful body styling inside and out. New engineering and basic design are added to this entirely new body and interior styling to include the many advancements made by the Nash Co.

The passenger compartment has been moved forward, resulting in wider seats, more headroom and larger door openings. Twin reclining seats are available on all models and the new "Airflex" coil-spring front-end suspension gives even finer riding qualities.

Increased visibility has been achieved by lower hood lines; glass areas up to 25 percent greater than in previous models. Larger wind-shield posts and center pillars. The new Solex tinted glass is optional in all models. New, weatherproof door handles lie close to the door panels, and the hand brake has been moved to the right of the steering column for greater safety and convenience. Dual-Range Hydra-Matic transmission, with two driving ranges, is available on Statesman and Ambassador models.

The new Nash also features an instrument panel designed for safety; reclining seats that make larger, more comfortable beds; doors that are now wider and larger. All Ambassador and Statesman models are equipped with the new "squeeze" type door handles, and a new ventilation system that is safe from carbon monoxide fumes.

Another marvel about the Nash is its new styling. Philip Farina, of Turin, Italy, whose artistry is responsible for the smart Continental styling for the first time in an American car, Farina, who has created more individually styled bodies than any other designer in the world, worked with the Nash designers for more than two years in helping to develop the distinctive styling of the great new Nash Golden Airflytes.

A wide choice of rich, new fabrics, styled by the celebrated interior designer, Mme. Helene Rother, is available in all 1952 Rambler custom models. Harmonizing with the new two-tone and solid body colors, Mme. Rother's distinctive interior styling gives added beauty to the Rambler styles. Several needle point and homespun combinations represent original designs developed by Mme. Rother and loomed under her supervision in America's leading textile mills. This is one of the most appealing points about the new Nash. Its interior designs are different from any Nash ever put in their automobiles.

The new Nashes are presented in a range of new and fascinating colors that would please and meet the demands of the most exacting tastes. Choices in solid colors or in two-tone combinations if desired.

On the new models, the tail light covers the fuel intake. The hinged right rear tail light lifts up for easy access to the fuel tank intake located beneath. Both tail lights and directional signals are integrated in the design of the rear fenders.

Anything that could be desired, has almost been attained on the new Nash models, and if you are in doubt, drop by the Nimmo Nash Co., located at 114 S. Frost and see for yourself. The Nimmo folks will welcome you to look the cars over from tip to stern, sit down and relax on the soft comfortable seats. Make yourself at home and see for yourself if you don't think the new Nash is one of the finest cars on the market.

Special Prices Offered O.K. Rubber Welders

If your tires are wearing thin long as the carcass of your old tires is still in good shape he will either exchange your old tires for recapped tires and you pay only $4.95; or you may purchase recapped tires for the same price. This pertains to tires size 600x16.

The same exchange or outright purchase advantage is offered to you for $6.95 on the 670x15 tires. Bill can offer you any type of payment plan to fit your budget. These tires are guaranteed anywhere in the United States for 10,000 miles. Any town in the nation of more than 10,000 population is serviced by an O. K. Rubber Welder that has your interest at heart. The dependability and service offered come directly to you through many years of capable experience.

As Suggs pointed out, tires may be recapped many times because the recapping is applied only to the top of the tire that is the only part of the casing that wears. Racing cars have to have their tires recapped many times, and with expert hands doing the job the tires have longer life, cost less, and are really safer on the road. On a recapped tire you get one third more rubber on your tire than when you buy a new one. Have you ever noticed your car riding the stripe in the middle of the highway, jumping around in the road, or even worse, vibrating after an acquired speed is reached? If so, even if you have brand new tires, either purchased on a new automobile, you can have them rounded and balanced at your O. K. Rubber Welder located at 918 Alcock. If a tire is not perfectly balanced and is not perfectly rounded you may have the above mentioned troubles with which to contend.

Another point brought out is that a lot of tires on the market today are a number of years old, and like anything else material, can weaken during the years. When you have recaps put on your tires you don't have to worry about a thing. Only new, top notch rubber is used on your tires; rubber that is by far stronger, safer, and better looking than in some new tires.

Another point stressed is the fact that you will not acquire one of those hit and miss jobs. Every tire is given the utmost attention; no tire is recapped that has a bad break and might endanger your life on the highway. Only the best of workmanship is applied to give you a longer wearing tire and for an economical price.

Experts have realized for many years but had no remedy for, the fact that "tire pound" and "tire slap" and excessive "tire wear" very often continued even though wheels were aligned and balanced with counter-weights. O. K. Rubber Welders found after carefully checking thousands and thousands of tires, new tires, recapped tires, and tires in use at 2 and 5 and 10 thousand miles—that 75 percent of the cause of car vibration-rumble, tire pound and slap and spot wearing with its consequent bumpy, annoying ride was caused by the casing itself being out-of-round. The fact that tires are "out-of-round" causes vibration particularly at higher speeds according to automotive engineers and tire experts. If you are having any of these annoyances having your tire troubles to Bill Suggs and let him solve them for you at low budget prices that you may pay any way you can afford. Stop in today at the O. K. Rubber Welders at 918 Alcock and take advantage of these special prices he is offering you.

Mr. And Mrs. H. B. Ormson Seek Comfortable Living At Home

By DOLORES DAVIS
 At the H. B. Ormson home, 129 N. Nelson, comfortable living is stressed.

Their new home of conventional architecture is built on a corner lot facing east. Exterior has white asbestos shingle siding with a green roof and trim.

Landscaping is underway but not yet completed. Grass has been planted and tulips are blooming in colorful array along the walk and in the front beds by the side of the door. Ormson is constructing a storm cellar at the side of the garage after which the back yard landscaping will be begun.

Hardwood floors are throughout the house with the exception of the kitchen and bath done in in-laid linoleum.

The living room has white organdy curtains across the picture window. A large divan and chair are in lipstick red combined with a green striped rock-er. A glass topped coffee table has an ivy plant on it. On a handsome end table is a green satin shaded lamp and matching the white curtains is a white floor lamp. On the west wall is a bric-a-brac shelf and on the north and south walls are large pictures. Focal point of the living room is occupied by a spinet.

At either end of the hall are ceiling to floor linen closets for plenty of closet space.

Woodwork throughout the house is soft muted brown. Easy to keep clean, also easy to renovate with the rest of the exterior decoration.

Trina, the four-year-old daughter of the Ormson household has a ruffled "little girl's" room in the back on the south side. Walls and ceiling are pink. Curtains are blue dotted swiss. A rug with a print of the spread and ruffled dresser. The print is dainty blue flowers on a white background. Furniture has a maple finish.

The master bedroom on the south has pink organdy curtains. Furniture pieces are blonde with a contemporary woodworking for an attractive decorative effect. Ceiling and walls are painted a smoky blue. A pink throw rug harmonizes with the curtains. Closets in both bedrooms are spacious.

The bath has yellow walls combined with turquoise wainscoting. A rug and large towel closet is also turquoise as is the woodwork. Flooring is a neutral in-laid linoleum. Fixtures are white.

The kitchen is a cheery room done in green and yellow. Cabinet counter tops are in-laid linoleum in a green design, while the floor is neutral. Three walls are sunshine yellow and the north wall where the dining grouping is has been painted apple green. Wainscoting is green. Cabinets are baked white enamel, so easy to keep clean. A corner sink is by a window overlooking the backyard.

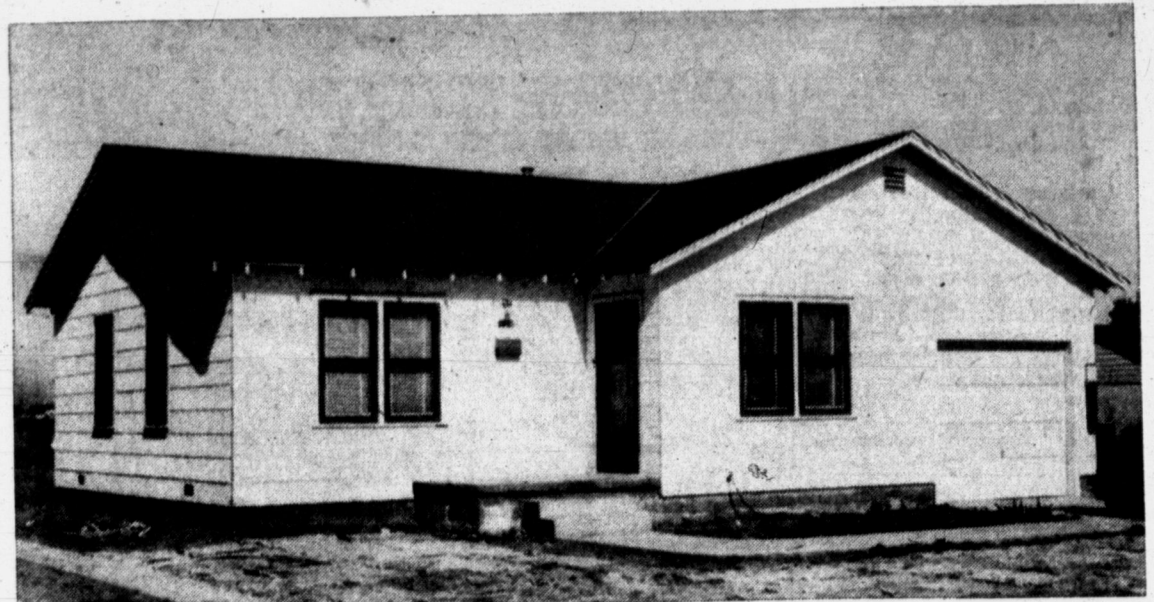

From the kitchen the inside door to the garage is located. A utility room opens from the kitchen on the north and the outside door on the south.

Brooks Electric Co. did all the electrical work and the Ormson home was built by Park Construction Co.

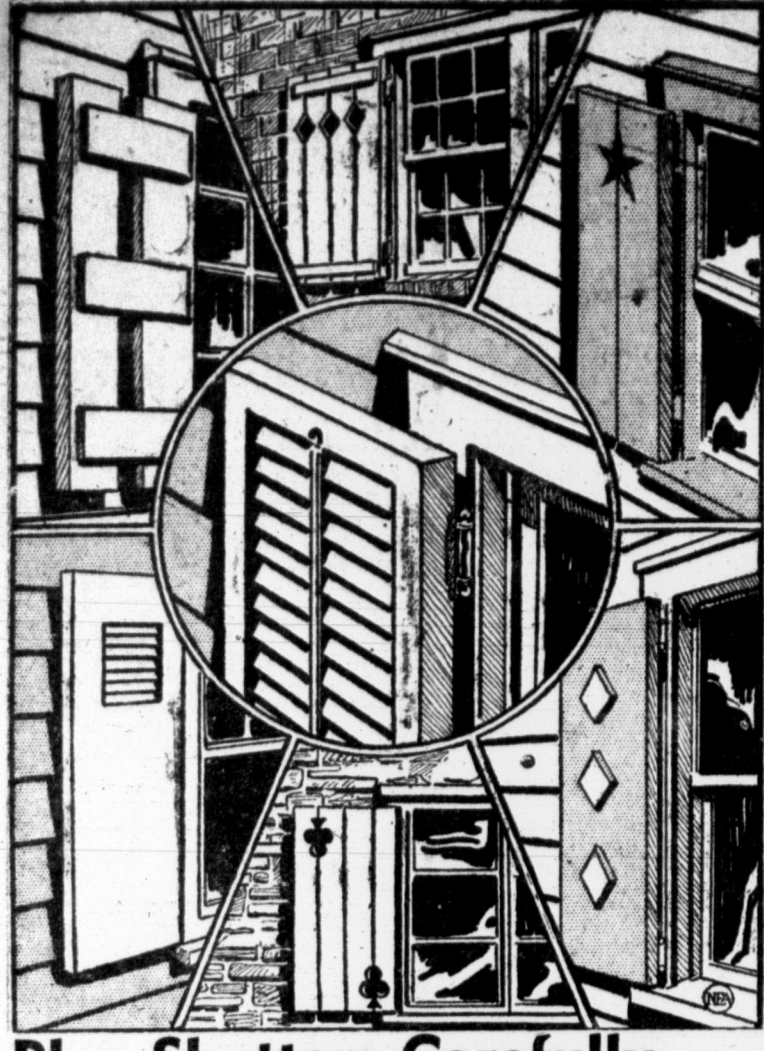

The Ormson home presents an "invitation" to comfortable family living. The bright tulips and rapidly growing new grass promise an enjoyable summer.

Plan Shutters Carefully To Rhyme With House

By MR. FIX
 Distributed by NEA Service

This is the time of year to give serious thought to dressing up the exterior of your home. There are many interesting projects which will enhance its beauty, but few will give you greater satisfaction than well-planned and designed shutters.

Originally shutters served a utilitarian purpose. They were hung on hinges and drawn shut to keep out wind, rain and snow. They were made of adjustable louvers which could be closed against the weather or adjusted to let light in or keep bright sunlight out.

Today, the storm sash has replaced the shutter as a means of insulating the house against the elements and the shutter has become strictly a decoration with limitless possibilities of making small windows appear larger, narrow windows wider and large expanses of wall less bleak.

To get an idea of the type and size of shutters most suited to your particular needs, take a photograph of your home and make a tracing from it. This will be much easier to do if you have an enlargement made.

On the tracing, sketch in the size and type of shutter you want at each window. Erase and change until you arrive at the most attractive and practical ones for your purpose.

The accompanying sketch suggests but a few of the many possibilities for interesting and attractive shutters. If you plan to hang your shutters on hinges so they can be closed, you will naturally make them fit the area of the windows. If they are to be secured to the house in an open position permanently, make them wide enough to look as though they'd cover the window when closed.

Unless you plan to have an opening between the vertical boards, it is best to use tongue and groove material, planing off the outside tongue and groove from the finished panel. Remember that the vertical board with the cleats in the back will lend height, and with the cleats running laterally across the front the effect will be of greater width. Simple designs can often be cut with the vertical boards clamped flat together.

Shutters must be able to take all weather conditions so use good lumber and finish with the best grade of paint. Plan your color scheme so the project will be a compliment to the house rather than something bold which defies its purpose by calling attention to itself.

If the surface to which you fasten the shutters is wood, 8d nails will hold them. If the surface is stone or brick, you should drill into the masonry and use anchor bolts. Special hardware, which will add to the attractiveness of the new shutters, is available at most hardware stores.

Dollar Tips For Home Remodeling

New cars and travel finished a poor second to home modernization in competition for the 1952 family dollar according to a recent national survey report.

Nearly 42 per cent of all families in a broad cross-section of the nation, both geographically and economically, reported plans for remodeling and repairing their homes in the near future.

The two places where remodeling dollars can show the most results are the kitchen and the bathroom. If these rooms are newly modernized, even the home 20 years old can hold its own in competition with new homes.

Most older houses have large kitchens which can be readily re-modeled for greater attractiveness and convenience. Such remodeling materials as prefinished wall panels to cover tired walls and ceilings can add that touch of color to completely transform the old kitchen.

Prefinished wallpanels to contrast with or match in color the existing walls and ceiling can be utilized in finishing cabinet half-partitions to divide up the big old kitchen into better organized sleeping-wall work areas.

Large, wall sized sheets of prefinished wallpanels are now available at most building materials dealers, and this versatile material with its durable baked enamel surface comes in a wide variety of colors and finishes.

Step On It

Should the floor of your porch need renewing, you'll find that

Three Permits For Homes Issued

Pentecostal Holiness church, Atcock and Zimmers, will build a new $15,000 church.

The city engineer's office issued a permit to the church and to 19 other applicants last week.

Permits to build new residences were granted to Mrs. Dorothy Statton, 1716 N. Hobart, $9500; A. J. Young, 741 N. Wells, $8500; Baxter and Rogers, 2109 N. Russell, $16,000; Lester Lovell, 520 N. Davis, $8250; Miller and Heaston, 423 N. Roberta, $5000; White and McMullin, 152 N. H. and 1110 N. $10,000; John Bradley, 616 Bradley, a $9500 Mobilhome; T. J. Owens, 1522 N. Lester Herr, 449 Pitts, was issued a permit to remodel a home, $2500. Alice Posey, 333 N. Dwight, was given a permit for an estimated $2000 remodeling job.

Other permits: O. E. Wylie, 1822 N. Hobart, sandwich shop, $5000; W.F. Hawkins, Sr., 917 S. Barnes remodel radio shop, $1000; Josephine Black, 800 E. Browning, $1000; Eugene Marak, 1010 W. Dampers Control Spring Weather

Spring's mild but changeable weather can be expensive if close check is not kept on the home heating system. In homes with modern convector radiators, it is economical as well as more comfortable to use the damper on each convector to control the heat flow in individual rooms.

For example, close the damper completely in rooms which are not in use. In other rooms, the heat can be controlled to precise comfort levels by opening or closing the damper as weather conditions change.

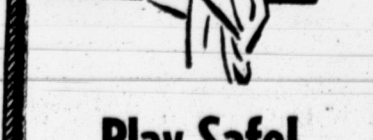

Dampers are optional equipment on most new convectors. They are manually operated and can be opened or closed at the touch of a finger.

SAR Delegates Plan Convention

A number of Pampa members of the Sons of the American Revolution are expected to be among some 500 delegates who will attend the organization's 62nd annual congress when it convenes in Houston, May 18 through 22.

The T. D. Hobar Chapter of the S. A. R. of Pampa is headed by Earle Vandale, of Amarillo.

Now Is The Time To Take Stock Of Winter Heating Costs

Even though warm weather is just around the corner, you will be wise to do a little figuring with a sharp pencil before you check every detail of the heating problem that might contribute to savings. But check the heating units in particular, for they are the media through which heat reaches each room, and their efficiency or lack of it often can mean the difference between economy and waste. Ask your heating man, and consult him on each detail of your modernization plan. That's the safest procedure.

In considering modernization, check every detail of the heating problem that might contribute to savings. But check the heating units in particular, for they are the media through which heat reaches each room, and their efficiency or lack of it often can mean the difference between economy and waste. Ask your heating man, and consult him on each detail of your modernization plan. That's the safest procedure.

Often the fault may be traced directly to the heating plant itself, without any other contributing factors such as inadequate insulation, faulty weatherstripping, fuel, storm windows or what not. If the central heating plant and its distribution system are old and "tired," fuel bills are usually higher and comfortable less than adequate. In such cases, the logical answer is replacement, for while a complete new plant means a large initial outlay, it will pay for itself in savings over a relatively short period of time.

A case in point is the opportunity a new system provides for taking advantage of the newest advancements in heating units. If the present heating system is steam or hot water the room heating units undoubtedly are cast iron radiators. In newer homes, modern convector radiators which are more compact in design and responsive in performance are replacing older cast iron radiators. Convectors can be used as free-standing units flat against the walls, if desired; or they can be recessed in the walls if a complete modernization job is called for.

From the standpoint of economy, convectors will help to provide relief from high fuel bills. The heating element is made of metals which are more quickly responsive to temperature changes than cast iron. Thus, little heat is wasted once comfort demands within a room are satisfied. Also, most convectors today are equipped with dampers which can be operated manually as an auxiliary control to the automatic control system.

Renew Your Porch Rugs

The fibre rugs used on porch floors frequently become faded and drab-looking. These can be greatly improved and given new color with the aid of regular house paint, thinned with turpentine. Use about half of each. It's advisable, naturally, to do the painting on a flat area on the lawn, but if this is not possible, you can work on the porch. Just be sure to place several layers of newspaper beneath the rug before you begin.

Economical Heating

While the initial cost of a hot water system is somewhat higher than a hot air system, the hot water system is usually less expensive than the other type over a 20-year period. Less maintenance is one of the chief reasons, for most hot water systems use no moving parts which can get out of order. Use of small pipes instead of sheet metal ducts is another item of saving, since pipes use much less space and last indefinitely when no maintenance is required.

Another advantage of hot water systems is that they permit use of the new convector radiators as individual room units. These modern, streamlined units respond swiftly to automatic controls, reducing heat delay and overlag, and thus cutting fuel costs.

Easy To Install

The popular new convector radiators, which are being used increasingly in new homes and as replacements for older cast iron radiators, are said to be quite economical to install. One man can easily carry a convector radiator, and one small truck can deliver all the units needed for the average home.

Suggestions On How To Fix Your Outdoor Living Room

When spring fever draws you irresistibly onto your porch and into your garden, you begin to make plans for your summer outdoor living room.

The chances are that your porch and garden furniture doesn't look quite as bright and fresh looking as you'd wish. So you decide to give it a new coat of color and muse pleasantly over bright paint - color cards. Don't be ensnared by the first hue that tempts your eye, however.

Consider each color that attracts you in relation to the tints and tones that are combined on the exterior of your house. Don't overlook the roof, the body, the trim, the garage or the fence. Even give a thought to the coloring of adjoining structures, if they are very near.

The hues you choose for your outdoor living room should be in harmony with the entire picture you see when you relax there. Sometimes it's effective to repeat the shutter color of your house on your garden chairs. Sometimes the hue of your awnings or your gay front door can be echoed to advantage.

COLOR CHANGE

As far as the type of coating you'll need is concerned, it depends on the effect you desire. If you wish a protective - but transparent - coating, spar varnish will serve you well. Where a change of color is your aim, however, your best bet usually is an exterior enamel. For the purpose, you can also use one of the excellent types of coatings known as trim - and trellis paint on the highly durable farm implement paint or enamel.

Don't be tempted, incidentally, to utilize regular house paint, as it is often formulated to chalk in such a manner that it cleans itself - an excellent quality when the paint is on a house. If such paint is used on garden furniture, however, it may rub off on your clothing.

When you're painting new wooden surfaces, be sure to prime the wood first with white enamel undercoater. Next, fill all cracks and nail head indentations with putty or suitable crack filler and make sure the surface is smooth before applying the final coat of your chosen material.

METAL SURFACES

If you're painting metal surfaces, remove every vestige of rust and prime the bare spots with red lead, zinc yellow or zinc dust. One of the quick drying types of these metal primers is desirable so that there will be a hard undercoat when you brush or spray on your finishing material. Should you be painting over an old coating that is chipped and peeling, make sure that all loose paint is removed with a wire brush, steel wool or coarse sandpaper. Next, sand the surface smooth, especially the edges of patched old paint. If some of the old coating is still glossy in spots, reach again for your sandpaper. New and gleaming enamel will adhere more efficiently if the surface to which it is applied has "tooth," as they say in the trade.

If you wish to transform dark-leathered chairs into light-tinted ones, it's also a good idea to enlist the aid of white enamel undercoater before you apply your final glossy coating.

To simplify your task - avoid unnecessary acrobatics - it's wise to turn chairs and small tables upside down and paint the under-sections first.

It's also wise to avoid dipping more than 1-3 of the bristle of your brush into the paint. If you do, you will waste paint and make the cleaning of your brush more difficult.

As soon as your painting session is finished, always clean your brush or spray gun thoroughly with turpentine, naphtha or mineral spirits.
