

Churchill, Citing British Casualties in Greece, Says He's Standing Firm

Minister May Make Another Major Speech

By JAMES F. KING
LONDON, Dec. 14 — (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill, under continuing attack over Britain's policy in Greece and Italy, served notice today he was standing firm and might hit back in another address to the nation.

He opened an inconclusive Commons debate with a terse report that British casualties in Greece "since our landing this year" were about 500. Churchill did not make clear whether these included all casualties in the current fighting in Athens.

Under laborite cross-questioning about what he had told Count Carlo Sforza concerning King Vittorio Emanuele, Churchill said he had approved a continuance of the Italian king's "regime until the military situation had got into a better condition."

Senator Brooks Raps Allies For Creating Spheres

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4—(AP)—Senator Brooks (R-Ill.) protested yesterday that while American soldiers are fighting desperately "both Russia and England are engaging in a race for future balance of power" in Europe.

"Already," he told his colleagues, "it is clear that Russia intends to expand her empire and plot her philosophy throughout the Baltic and Balkan states, while Britain moves daily to expand her influence and establish puppet governments in Italy, Greece, Belgium and France."

Brooks said the British colonies do like brief but spirited debate on Allied unity, touched off by a sharply worded attack by Representative Gavin (R-Pa.) on British conscription policy.

Gavin suggested that the state department "tell the British Empire that we are not satisfied with their policy on the conscription of men in the British colonies."

"If we can draft our boys by the thousands for overseas service, why can't the British colonies do likewise?" Gavin asked. He added that Prime Minister Churchill "seems content to let us throw thousands of our boys into action to carry on the fight, hundreds of whom are being liquidated every day."

Representative Luther A. Johnson (D-Tex.), member of the foreign affairs committee, leaped to his feet with the assertion that Gavin had "rendered a disservice to his country and to the Allies."

"We ought to suppress statements like this," Johnson said, adding that they tend "to promote disunity among the war and encourage Hitler."

Republican Representatives Fish (NY) and Hoffman (Mich.) defended Gavin's right to speak his mind. Fish admonished Johnson for criticizing a member who "dares to tell the truth."

Representative Bulwinkle (D-N.Y.), pleading for unity among the Allies, cautioned his colleagues that "careless words used on the floor of this House cost lives just as much as careless words anywhere else."

Fish, who had returned to his seat, took the floor a few minutes later to declare "it is the duty of all us—republicans and democrats alike—to speak out and tell the truth regarding our Allies."

Criticizing what he termed a majority tendency to whisper "hush, hush—you mustn't say that," every time somebody makes a speech about the war, the New Yorker added:

"This is not a new deal war. All of us, republicans and democrats, have sons fighting shoulder to shoulder."

OPA Says Liquor Sales Cannot Be Refused Patrons

AMARILLO, Dec. 14—Liquor dealers cannot refuse to make a sale of any individual item in their stocks, the food division of the OPA has declared.

Neither is the customer required, as a condition of a sale, to purchase any additional item he does not want.

The regulations were emphasized at a meeting of dealers here Tuesday night. W. D. Swigert, head of the food division price section of OPA, explained the law.

It is not a violation of the law, however, to hold special sales so long as ceiling prices are not exceeded. But it is a violation, he said, to force a customer to purchase an additional item in order to secure the item he ordered if he does not desire the additional item.

"It is up to the public to see the OPA rules are enforced," Swigert said, adding that any violations should be reported immediately to the local war price and rationing board.

"BUY MORE, AS BEFORE" FORT WORTH, Dec. 14—(AP)—The B-29 raids on Japanese industry have the enemy "reeching in the ring," and labor and management alike must make post-war plans and give the armed forces materials to prevent a comeback. Gen. H. H. Arnold declared here Wednesday.

The chief of the army air forces said he hopes to "reduce the Japanese industrial arm to the same impotency we have the German," but said it will be a "long, tough fight that will require ever-increasing production."

Arnold stopped here as the last point on a production appeal tour of aircraft plants.

"The sooner we destroy industry in Japan, the sooner we'll win the war," he said.

"They can't fight without those critical items (the Allied air force is seeking to destroy). We think they lack the imagination and ability to improvise that the Germans have."

"The thing we need most interested in is getting an ever increasing number of B-29's delivering their loads over those targets."

Arnold revealed that the number of big bombers shot down by Japs over Tokyo is "extremely limited," and said that on many occasions the Japs haven't been able to get planes high enough to attack the Super-forts.

"BUY MORE, AS BEFORE" EYEWITNESS STORY OF ORMOC'S FALL IS RELATED HERE

(Editor's note: This is the first eyewitness story of the capture of Ormoc, strategic Japanese reinforcement port. The correspondent relating it is the only one in Western Leyte at the time the story was written.)

By AL DOPKING

ORMOC, Leyte, Dec. 12 (Delayed)—(AP)—Smoldering ruins of Ormoc lie behind the heaving 7th U. S. infantry division tonight as it fans out northward and eastward of this key port town on Leyte's west coast.

Elements of tall, Texas-horn Maj. Gen. A. D. Bruce's 5th Airborne division fought throughout yesterday—sometimes hand to hand and from house to house—to take it.

The attack began at 9:30 a. m. with an earth-shaking artillery, mortar and rocket barrage. Two gunboats shuttle back and forth offshore spraying the town with a cascade of hot lead. Two large fires were burning as infantrymen entered Ormoc's outskirts.

Standing on a stretch of high ground where he can see Ormoc, Bruce personally directed the attack of his division, composed mostly of men from New York State.

These veterans of the battle of Guam already had had a tough fight the day before when they smashed Japanese defenses at Camp Downes, old Filipino army camp just south of Ormoc.

The Japanese tried to break up the advance with air power before and after the American had launched the attack. One enemy plane hit by a P-47 a few minutes after it had strafed our troops, could be seen plummeting into the Camotes sea in a burst of flames.

Yanks led by Colonel S. "Steve" Hamilton of Dillon, S. C., and Aubrey D. Smith of San Antonio, Texas encountered their heaviest fighting on the town's west coast, where the Japanese had pulled back off the beach. They snuffed the enemy out of coconut tree emplacements with flame throwers and grenades.

Officers said American casualties at Ormoc were lighter than had been expected, but that at Camp Downes they had been somewhat heavier. Medics are working tonight evacuating the wounded.

"BUY MORE, AS BEFORE" TOMMY'S COLLECTION GIVES OPA TROUBLES

NEW YORK, Dec. 14—(AP)—The office of price administration confronted a poser today: How can you determine ceiling prices on nude pictures collected by Thomas F. Manville Jr.?

And what should be ceiling prices on other items—garbage cans, electric trains, ash receivers, phonograph records—that are steeped on Manville's tradition?

Weighted down with a list of general maximum price regulations, two OPA agents put a federal damper yesterday on an auction sale of furnishings from the playboy's 28-room home, Bon Repos, at New Rochelle, N. Y.

The furnishings represent $22 items and it took Tommy a number of years and seven wives to collect them.

Auctioneer Henry Kirschenbaum informed 500 persons attending the sale held at the New Rochelle woman's club that if attorney's decided there had been ceiling violations, refunds would be made.

Congress Hasn't Had Salary Raise In Past 19 Years

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14—(AP)—Do you think your Congressman should get more dough? He won't say much about it. He's afraid you'd get mad at him. His raise would come from your money.

But he hasn't had a raise in 19 years. Senators and representatives get the same salary, $10,000 yearly. The only way they can get more money is to vote it for themselves.

They raised themselves from $5,000 to $7,500 in 1907, waited 18 years, and in 1925 boosted the $7,500 to $10,000. Now they're murmuring again.

Some labor officials here, favoring a raise for Congressmen, say: "If they don't get an increase, Congress will turn into a rich man's club. None but the rich, after a while, could afford to be a Congressman at $10,000 a year. And will the rich be friendly to labor?"

"Besides: With better pay, better men would be willing to serve in Congress."

Rep. Vinson, Georgia democrat, made a long speech in Congress this week. He wants Congressmen's salaries raised to $15,000. He pointed out:

A Congressman, married but without children, in 1925 paid only $220 in federal income taxes on his $10,000. Now he pays $2,500. And since 1939 he's been subject to state income taxes.

Back in 1925 and for years afterwards Congress had short sessions. But now—although this is due to the war—the sessions are almost continuous.

This means a Congressman has to keep up two homes: One here and one where he came from.

A representative—in order to remain in Congress—has to campaign every two years. Sometimes this is very expensive.

Senators and representatives are allowed certain sums—if not used the money must be turned back to the government—for clerical help in their offices.

Some Congressmen can thus boost their income by putting a wife, daughter or other close relative in a job in their office. In no case can any one of the clerical workers draw more than $4,500.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many suffer from nagging backaches, quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people from about 25 to 40 years of age. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, hot palms, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or easy passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Shell Shortage Is Emphasized

Brigadier General Edwin H. Marks, division engineer, southwestern division of the army engineers, and the war department designated army service forces regional representative for war production board Region VIII (Texas, Oklahoma, and Louisiana) is closing Wednesday a meeting in Dallas of members of his regional advisory committee, who are ranking officers of the army's technical services, and war department representatives on the area production agency and manpower priorities committees from the three states, told those present that no effort to immediately secure increased munitions production in their respective areas and to get people into plants producing these munitions can be spared. General

Marks stated that the magnitude of the task constituted a challenge for full community support for whatever plan is needed to attain these objectives. Captain Richard M. Smith, commanding officer at Pantex Ordnance plant, who is also the area representative for the army service forces of the war department for the entire Panhandle area was present at this meeting. General Marks stated that he had been advised by the war department that recently General MacArthur radioed for immediate delivery of five extra shipments of heavy artillery ammunition. "That," General Marks stated, "is 50,000 tons extra to one theatre."

Annual Pre-Christmas Party Held By Members of El Progreso Tuesday

One of the most delightful affairs of the pre-Christmas season was the annual party of El Progreso club which was held Tuesday in the City club rooms.

The program opened with Mrs. D. V. Burton presiding and members introduced their guests. As an entertainment feature, Roy Tinsley, violinist, accompanied by Miss Nellie Warren, played Gounod's "Ave Maria."

Mrs. W. R. Ewing then gave a review of the book, "Slade" by Warwick Deeping. She told the story of the ambitious, selfish domineering personality of Mrs. Slade, the story of her daughter, Rose, and of Mr. Rose who was gentle and quiet. Her story continued with how the father and daughter triumphed, at last, over all adverse circumstances of the family's varied careers.

The tea table which was covered with a lace cloth held a centerpiece of rust and white baby chrysanthemums flanked on either side by three-branch candelabra. Mrs. Walter Purviance and Miss Grace McCarthy presided at the silver tea and coffee services and dainty open-face sandwiches, made in the seasonal colors were served with white frosted cake to the following members and guests.

Members attending were Mrs. C. N. Barrett, Mrs. Roy Bourland, Mrs. Curtis Douglas, Mrs. William Fraser, Mrs. George Pfriau, Mrs. E. L. Green, Mrs. Dick Hughes, Mrs. J. B. Johnson, Mrs. J. B. McCrery, Mrs. Frank Perry, Mrs. Karl Pferratt, Mrs. Bruce Pratt, Mrs. Walter Rogers, Mrs. Arthur Teed, Mrs. C. V. Wilkinson, and the hostess.

Invasion Story Will Be Told At Review Friday

Why aren't all of Hitler's slave soldiers deserting? How do our soldiers regard General Patton? Why weren't all of the people of Cherbourg jubilant at their liberation? Why were poles planted in fields in the early days of the invasion of Europe? These and many other questions in his book, "The Fifty-Two Days," which will be reviewed by the Rev. Edgar W. Henshaw.

Juveniles Held By Local Police

Three boys who burglarized a motor concern, two filling stations here, and prowled through several cars have been caught by local police and released to the county juvenile officer, Paul D. Hill, according to Police Chief Ray Dudley. They are being held here pending arrangements for their return to Amarillo, where one of them is from, and Guymon, Okla., home of the other two.

The boys are 14, 15 and 16 years old.

Dudley said that one of them was believed to be implicated in a burglary in Amarillo Tuesday night, and another of them in the robbery Monday night of the Canadian railway depot.

A considerable quantity of loot has been recovered and is at the police station, Dudley said.

Amarillo officers are expected to arrive in Pampa today, Hill said, but Guymon, Okla., officers have not yet been heard from.

The new blood-tests battle was initiated, just as jury picking was about to start, by Defense Attorney Charles E. Milliken. Earlier he had denied a motion for continuance and had offered an affidavit indicating the defense contention—that "Joan Berry" is a man with whom she had sexual intercourse with a man or with men other than Chapman.

"Thirty-two planes and eight minor vessels have been lost during this period," he said.

Seymour Coombs, laborite, asked the Prime Minister, "how long this government intends to go on with this policy of murdering our Greek comrades?"

Other members cried "shame" and "withdraw," and Coombs shouted back at them.

Churchill made no reference to the uproar.

Later a discussion developed of Count Carlo Sforza's assertions that Churchill had urged the retention of King Vittorio Emanuele in Italy.

Ivor Thomas, laborite, repeated Sforza's statement and asked how this conformed with the Prime Minister's oft-repeated assurance that his majesty's government had no desire to interfere in constitutional matters affecting Italy.

Churchill replied: "That is not at all."

He said he had explained to the House that it was believed better to go on with the regime of the King and Marshal Badoglio "until the military situation had got into a better condition, and we did go on for some considerable time, the results not being unsatisfactory as far as our armies were concerned."

The Prime Minister indicated he might make an address to the nation on the subject of Greece, when Laborite Daniel Kirkwood said that he had been flooded with telegrams from workers threatening a work-stoppage protesting the government's policy in Greece, Churchill said:

"I could quite believe that Mr. Kirkwood would receive many telegrams from many parts of the country over a matter which causes so much heart searching. I gave a long account of this matter to the House the other day, and I may take occasion to give some further account to the country."

As Guiffey described it to the committee yesterday, the document in question was a report made by Claude Bowers, then ambassador to Madrid, which the Senator said was favorable to the republican loyalist government in the Spanish civil war. He had been told, Guiffey added, that the secretary of state and the President never received the report.

Clark read selected portions of the poetry written by MacLeish, now librarian of Congress, before he went into government service. He wasn't so smart, Clark remarked, but he couldn't figure it out.

Other people had had the same trouble, MacLeish replied.

The poet-librarian insisted, however, that he was for democracy first, last and all the time, that he had written essays against the communists. Nor, he went on, had he opposed capitalism despite some quotes that Clark read. MacLeish insisted on reading the full text, not just part as Clark had done.

According to Aaron Meek, principal of Sam Houston school, Christmas will be celebrated there when pupils from the third grade give a play, "The Mischievous Mouse" tomorrow afternoon.

Woodrow Wilson school children met this morning at 10 o'clock for an assembly program by pupils from the two fourth grade rooms. Mrs. Opal Pocock and Miss Hazel Gilbert presided.

On Friday, the three first grade rooms of Woodrow Wilson will give a Christmas operetta under the direction of Miss Pearl Spang. Miss Minnie Allen and Mrs. Haskell Polson. Climaxing celebrations will be individual room parties which will be held Friday afternoon.

Holy Souls parochial school will close Wed., Dec. 20, and resume on Jan. 3, giving them only one week of vacation. "This," Father William J. Shack said, "is because many of the parochial school teachers will leave town and, consequently, no time is needed for traveling."

School children, however, will have a Christmas party on Wednesday, Dec. 20 at 1 o'clock. A Christmas play will be given at 8 p. m. The play will be in conjunction with the regularly scheduled Parent-Teacher meeting at the hall and Father's night will be observed.

cannot hold men on the jobs. The only reason for that is the lack of housing facilities."

Poore explained that his sole interest in additional housing facilities for Pampa lies in the government's need of more production to successfully prosecute the warring of the war in Europe and then the punishing of the Japs in the Pacific.

"Workers will not stay in a place in which they cannot have adequate housing facilities," he said, "and that is one of the reasons there is such a crying need for more houses in Pampa."

In his report to the city commission, Poore said that for a 10-year period prior to the war, 102 new houses a year were built here.

Since 1942 no new houses have been built here and for the two-year lapse would make it normally necessary to build 204 new houses, Poore pointed out.

He also quoted figures indicating that Pampa has more persons per population gainfully employed, and a higher annual average income, than any other community in the Panhandle, "and possibly in Texas." The average income here is $2,400 a year, Poore's statistics show.

ed by ice floes and forced to surrender.

Twelve days before the engagement, the Eastwind, skippered by Capt. Charles W. Thomas, Long Beach, Calif., task force commander, had landed two platoons of sailors on little Koldewey island, 800 miles from the North Pole.

These landing parties, in a pre-dawn attack, captured a Nazi radio and weather station with its three officers and nine enlisted men and large quantities of scientific and weather equipment.

Apparently, the navy said, three separate expeditions had been sent to Greenland by the Germans. One was captured by the cutter Northland commanded by Lt. Comdr. R. W. Butler, Jamaica Plain, Mass., on Sept. 1, after a 70-mile chase through the ice floes.

The crew of eight officers, headed by a full commander, and 20 enlisted men left the craft in lifeboats and were taken prisoner.

The cutter Storiz beat off a Nazi bombing attack while the Northland was pursuing the enemy trawler.

The Northland, meanwhile, was over Tokyo about 3 a. m. today in difficulties. She had smashed her rudder in maneuvering through the ice pack.

Commodore Earl G. Rose, Muncey, Pa., commander of the Greenland patrol, advised her damage, age, sent the Eastwind and Southwind to the scene to tow her back to base.

Several land actions came during the series of engagements.

others damaged during yesterday's attack.

Later, Japan reported a lone B29 was over Tokyo about 3 a. m. today (Japanese time), but "fled toward the high seas XXX without accomplishing anything."

Hints that B29's may strike at Japan from still another direction came in a remark by an airforce spokesman in Washington who said existing bases in the Aleutians west of Unalak, can accommodate "the largest aircraft we have." The distance from Unalak to Japan is about 2,600 miles. On their flights to Tokyo from the Marianas the B29s have been flying about 3,000 miles. If they sharply reduced their bomb loads it is possible they would be able to make the flight from Unalak.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur says enemy losses on the ground at Leyte were "extraordinarily heavy," as Yanks of the 7th infantry division moving up from the west coast, hunted down scattered Nipponese "fighting desperately to free themselves over the mountain trails."

Thousands of Japanese troops are jammed in the Ormoc corridor between American forces moving up from recently captured Ormoc on the west coast and others working seaward from the Carigara bay area.

Evidently unaware that Ormoc was in American hands, three small Japanese freighters loaded with troops moved into the harbor and were sent to the bottom by shore batteries before they could retire.

The Chinese high command announced today that its troops in pursuit of the fleeing Japanese were approaching Hochin in Kwangsi province. Cheho, 15 miles northwest of Hochin and 20 miles inside Kwangsi province along the Kwei-chow-Kwangsi railroad, was captured by the Chinese last night.

REFRESHING as an old friend

AND JUST AS DEPENDABLE

In these days of corner-cutting, adulteration of blends, and the sudden, overnight change in taste of some established coffee brands—dependability in Admiration is really something! You don't have to hope; you know that every pound will taste exactly like the one before and the one next week. Unlike certain coffee blends which have been cheapened during the war, Admiration is the same today as 25 years ago. It's blended to give a rich, mellow, flavorful cup. Only choice, expensive coffees can be so blended. If your regular brand has lately tasted bitter or perhaps woefully flat and uninviting, try a pound of Admiration this week in its place. You'll thank us for suggesting it.

Phillips Coach Worried Over Regional Game at Wellington

Sifton's Sports Sentiments

By ER SIFTON

The Phillips-Wellington game will be played tomorrow afternoon in Wellington.

It will be a grand game, undoubtedly, as both of these A teams have shown AA quality this year.

This corner is pulling for "Chesty" Walker and his Blackhawks, and so are many of the people of Pampa.

What was an annual custom and somewhat discontinued will be revived when the Junior chamber of commerce gives a banquet honoring the 1944 Harvesters and their coaches.

When that will be cannot be said at this time. The Jaycees wanted to make it coincide with the showing of four reels of first-class college football and one reel of basketball that Coach Otis Coffey will show his boys Jan. 6.

That is the date for which they are contracted, and that is the date that they must be shown, as they had to be contracted two months in advance.

This can be said: It will be after the holidays, almost certainly. The reason it cannot be, or is not likely to be, Jan. 6 is that that day is Saturday. The grocers among the Jaycees couldn't get off for the banquet.

The attractive magazine, Texas Game and Fish, has a columnist, Euren Sparks, who says that the golden age of hunting was "the gay nineties."

"Then there were no wars on with draft boards and rationing of fies," Sparks reminisces. "The world was at peace and the great outdoors was not all cluttered with 'posted' signs. You could hunt in any pasture, through pecans in any bottom, and swim naked in any water hole. There were no game laws; you could buy a good fishing outfit for 15 cents; a shotgun shells sold for 45 cents, and a box of 2's cost a measly 15 cents.

"Each season ushered in its own peculiar sport and joy. In early spring the short prairie branches were alive with big mallard ducks. x x x

"Neither should we forget the last two weeks in April, for in that month would come the great migration of plovers and curlews. I think these two birds gave out the most plaintive cry of all that winged their way over the prairie lands of the Lone Star state. x x x

"The boy of tomorrow will never see as much wild life as some of us have seen, but let us conserve what we do have, and give him a chance at the sport that was so dear to us."

Miami Cancels Visit; Harvesters Meet Officers Tomorrow

Coach Otis Coffey announces that the game for Friday night here with Miami's Indians has been canceled.

Miami phoned him yesterday and said it would be impossible to make the game, he said.

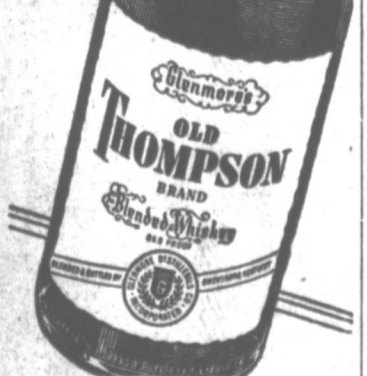

The Harvesters will meet the PAAF officers in a scrimmage instead, in the high school gym at 7:30.

Free Toss Wins For Wheeler; Girls Defeated

Special To The News

WHEELER, Tex., Dec. 14—A free toss after the final whistle won the game here last night as Wheeler pulled from behind to beat Kelton, 10-15, in a contest close all the way.

It was Abler who dropped the charity pitch into the basket after the bell to make it a Wheeler victory.

Kelton assumed the initiative from the first, and were quick in sinking a field goal. But stout defensive play slowed the game down so that the score at half time was 9 and 7, Kelton leading.

This match was preceded by a girls' game which was disastrous for the Wheeler lassies. Inexperienced and not very well practiced, they lost 29-2.

These girls, who had no team last year, will have another chance at Kelton's squad when they meet in the first round of the Hedley tournament.

Shore Patrol Seeks 16 Runaway Balls

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Dec. 14—(AP)—Shore patrol and naval intelligence officers were beating the bushes between here and Norman for 16 bowling balls.

Having been repaired, the fugitives were being returned to the Norman naval air station when they rolled off the end of a pickup truck.

Johnston's Stables Win 7th Blue Ribbon

CHICAGO, Dec. 14—(AP)—Mrs. James B. Johnston's Dodge stables of Rochester, Mich., captured a seventh blue ribbon at the Chicago Horse Show last night when Highland Cora won the $1,000 stake for harness ponies (single) to put the Michigan exhibitor far in the lead among 219 competitors.

Her victory song placed second in the same event.

In a title event Temple Stephen's eight-year-old chestnut mare, Bette Serenade, from Moberly, Mo., topped a field of 19 contenders to take the $2,000 award in the five-gal mare division. A Texas exhibitor, Mrs. E. S. Waddock of Corsicana, took second place with Corista, Miss, five-year-old chestnut mare.

Bond Bowl Game Is Underwritten; Public Can Go with Tickets

NEW YORK, Dec. 14—(AP)—The $79,750,000 war bond quota for the "Treasury Bond Bowl" football game at the Polo Grounds on Saturday between Randolph field and the Second air force has been underwritten by corporate interests and payroll savings groups.

This means that the public can now buy tickets for the game without buying a war bond in addition.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14—(AP)—The officials of the Army-Navy football game have volunteered to work Saturday's Treasury Bond Bowl game between Randolph field and Second air force. They are: T. Atimili, Niagara referee; F. S. Bergin, Princeton, umpire; W. H. Ohrenberger, Boston college, linesman; F. R. Wallace, Washington, field judge.

STILLWATER, Dec. 14—(AP)—The Oklahoma Aggies hope the weather is mild for their Cotton Bowl date with Texas Christian in Dallas New Year's day.

Veteran Tackle Ralph Foster, mainstay of the Aggie line, and Joe Thomas, who understands All-American Halfback Bob Penimore dashed out into the cold yesterday for a work-out—and then wheezed right back into the warm dressing rooms.

They both have trouble breathing on cold days—asthma.

36th Is Operating With French Force

DALLAS, Dec. 14—(AP)—Wick Fowler, staff correspondent of the Dallas Morning News, in a story dated "With the First French Army in France," says this French army now has the 36th (Texas) division under its command.

The French army broke German defenses in the Southern Vosges mountains.

"Fighting along side Americans are the picturesquely uniformed French colonial troops, the Spahis and Goums," says Fowler.

T Formation Gains, AP Survey Reveals

NEW YORK, Dec. 14—(AP)—

Spread of the tricky T formation and better play of civilian teams were the most noteworthy trends of the 1944 college football season, an Associated Press survey shows.

Leading exponent of the system, famed for its deception and quick opening plays, was of course the unbeaten and untied West Point Blackbats, but virtually all sections of the country reported an increasing number of teams dropping the single and double wing attack in favor of the T.

On the Pacific Coast, for instance, all four major colleges used the system that Clark Shaughnessy (now at Pitt) introduced at Stanford in 1940. Southern California made excellent use of the formation after experimenting with it in 1943. The University of California, UCLA and Washington likewise were converts.

In the Southeast Conference Coach Ab Kirwan of Kentucky adopted the T, but reverted to the single wing after three games because so many of his players were injured. He went back to the balanced line setup for Kentucky's last two games when enough players recovered.

Press box experts the nation over reported better play by all-civilian eleven as exemplified by Ohio State's perfect season. They pointed out that the tough navy and marine trainees of 1943 had largely moved on into the fighting theaters and that the new trainees frequently were boys with only high school experience. Thus civilian teams, aided in some cases by discharged veterans, were more on an equal plane with navy V-12 or marine trainee laden opponents.

This leveling off process brought many 17 and 18-year-olds to the fore as spectacular backfield runners. Bob Kelly of Notre Dame; Buddy Young of Illinois; Bob Penimore of the Oklahoma Aggies and Tony Minisi of Pennsylvania were among the more prominent.

Green Bay Packers Play N. Y. for Title

CHICAGO, Dec. 14—(AP)—A battle of gridiron specialists seems likely next Sunday when the Green Bay Packers invade New York to tangle with the New York Giants for the National Football league championship.

The Packers will rely heavily on the league's scoring and pass-snatching champion, peerless Don Hutson. The Giants, on the other hand, have three titlists in specialized departments—Bill Paschal, league ground-gainer for the second straight season, field-goal artist Ken Strong, and Howie Livingston, who was tops in pass interception.

Baseball Parks May Close to Grid Games

NEW YORK, Dec. 14—(AP)—Baseball's trade winds, generally a mighty gale at the annual major league meetings, were only a gentle breeze at the convention just concluded.

Going into another talent-shy wartime season, and facing further draft of the 26-37 age group into military service, the clubs for the most part decided to hang on to their present players and not gamble on swaps.

One trade was on the fire as the majors closed their confab yesterday. Manager Lou Boudreau of Cleveland's Indians disclosed Pitech Jim Bagby was on the block, and might go to the St. Louis Browns for hurler Bob Muncie or to the Chicago White Sox for Bill Dietrich.

Of 13 resolutions passed yesterday, the banning of grid games at big league parks until the baseballers have finished is expected to provide most of the fuel for the winter's hot stove league discussions.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK WALL STREET
NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—(AP)—Attention shifted to specialties in today's stock market and while some of the industrial pivots edged a little higher the general list moved on a hesitant note.

How Much Is a Billion Gallons of 100-Octane Gasoline?

It's enough to fill 120,000 tank cars—a train 1,000 miles long.

It's enough to fill an 8-inch pipe line that would circle the earth three times at the equator.

It's enough to fuel 400,000 Flying Fortresses for a round trip flight from Britain to Germany.

That's a billion gallons of 100-octane gasoline! But it's more than that. It's the effort of the 14,000 men and women of Humble Oil & Refining Company, who are today celebrating the production of the one-billionth gallon of 100-octane aviation gasoline at Baytown refinery—a remarkable feat in the history of the petroleum industry.

It is one of the wartime contributions of the 14,000 men and women of Humble—scientists, drillers, roustabouts, stenographers, pipeliners, technologists, truck drivers, geologists, glassblowers, stillmen and those working in hundreds of other occupations.

Here is a partial list of their accomplishments to date:

- FIRST to produce at one refinery a billion gallons of finished 100-octane aviation gasoline.
The Baytown refinery has produced more 100-octane aviation gasoline than any other plant in the world.
FIRST to produce synthetic toluene.
The Baytown Ordnance Works, first to synthesize toluene from petroleum, has supplied the toluene for at least one out of every two bombs used by the United Nations since Pearl Harbor.
FIRST in the production of crude oil.
Humble Oil & Refining Company is the nation's largest producer of crude oil, and is currently supplying about one-fourth of the increased production required for war as measured by the gain since 1941.
FIRST in the transportation of petroleum.
The Humble pipe lines transport more oil than any other system, handle one barrel in every seven of the domestic supply.

These accomplishments climax a quarter century of development, planning and team work of a great organization. The men and women who made them possible are behind the billion gallons of 100-octane aviation gasoline. They are behind whatever America needs of them for victory.

Revolution

I have been reading a very interesting book written by the late Robert Hunter. Mr. Hunter was for years a socialist and thus had a close up opportunity to study socialism, Communism and government revolutions as they have been tried from time to time. For this reason Mr. Hunter's conclusions on the advantages of a limited government have more than an ordinary weight. He has been converted from socialism to believe in free enterprise or a limited government.

Our Affluent Estatesmen

If the Senate eventually sees fit to approve the new State Department personnel, it will be interesting to watch the reorganized staff in action and observe what effect, if any, wealth may have on foreign policy. For Secretary Stettinius and his corps of new assistants certainly must be the richest State Department in our country's history.

Much of this affluence seems to be congenial. Mr. Stettinius is the son of a Morgan partner. Undersecretary Joseph Grew was left a considerable fortune which enabled him to pursue a diplomatic career and get in a little big game hunting on the side.

The assistant secretaries include a young man named Nelson Rockefeller, whose folks are reputedly well off. Another, Archibald H. Fisher, with an educational background of the Hotchkiss School and Yale which gives notice of his family's comfortable circumstances.

This leaves Will Clayton to uphold the tradition of rugged individualism in the present generation. He seems to have made his millions in the oil business largely by his own efforts.

This new gold-plated Dun and Bradstreet group, fit harmoniously into a cabinet which is apparently well heated. The inherited fortunes of President Roosevelt, Attorney General Biddle and Secretary Morgenthau are known.

At last reports Secretaries Jones and Ickes were doing well on the fruits of their own accumulation. Assistant Secretary Forrestal have something more than their salaries to put between the wolf and the door.

What is all this accumulation of wealth going to add to in the matter of governmental policy? As regards the state department, the guesstimate depends on one's estimate of the new members' past performances and one's hopes for their future accomplishments. And predictions of future moves of the cabinet veterans are just as haphazard.

Wealthy men like President Roosevelt and Mr. Ickes, who spearhead the New Deal, long ago proved that a man's income doesn't necessarily condition his thinking. And the combined capital assets of the present cabinet don't guarantee that our postwar domestic policies will be conservative or that in the foreign field Vice President Wallace's hot-tempered milk-delivery program will meet with opposite results.

Yet those capital assets of the administration's inner circle keep increasing as the ranks of the original New Dealers grow thinner. The fact is of considerable satisfaction to conservative business sources, and a cause of alarm to some liberals.

But nobody is backing the emotions with big bets, because nobody has ever accused the longest administration in American history of being predictable.

Let's Not Be Beastly
A truly alarming symptom of the "let's not be beastly to the Germans" frame of mind is seen in an announcement by Herman J. Fischer, president of the Amateur Athletic Union Central association, that Jap and German athletes "will be welcomed" at the next Olympic games to be held as soon as possible after the war.

"After the last war," says Mr. Fischer, "speculators did not look upon athletes of Germany as men who had started a war against us, but considered them as individuals and respected them for their abilities. That's lovely. Let's just forget L. dice and the death march of the Bataan prisoners, the crematoriums of Maldeanek and the execution of the first Tokyo raiders. Let's forget the ghettos and the concentration camps, the hundreds of documented accounts of torture by Japs and Germans."

Mr. Fischer would have us consider that as individuals, Japs and Germans are fine, decent, sportsmanlike chaps. Can it be that we are beginning to forget the sadistic cruelty of some of our individual enemies, or did some of us never believe that it really happened?

Are the English and French, the Poles and the Czechs, the Russians and Chinese to stand up and cheer the German and Jap athletes, forget their millions of dead and maimed?

The Nation's Press
CHIANG'S REGIME
(The Chicago Tribune)
The Christian Advocate, a Chicago Methodist publication, is to be congratulated on the forthright manner in which it discusses Chiang Kai-shek and China in its Nov. 16 issue. It points out that there is much to criticize in Chiang's regime, but that as long as the war continues the choice can only be between him and the Chinese Communists, who inevitably would take over if he lost control. This eventuality, the Advocate justly observes, is "one in which Japan alone, of all the nations of the world, will be the gainer."

Whether the Kuomintang dictatorship will yield to a people's government after the war can have no bearing on our fundamental concern during the war. That is the preservation of a government in China which represents something as closely approximating stability as can be hoped for.

The question of Chiang and China has been befogged by New Deal diplomats and propagandists, by wishful thinking and by censorship, that it is refreshing to be treated to an occasional word of sense on the subject. The Tribune has never harbored any illusions about either Chiang or China's nonexistent democracy, but recognizes, as does the Advocate, that America's interests are infinitely better served by the existing order as long as the war lasts than they would be by the rise of a communist government.

—WALT WHITMAN.

"I have been reading a very interesting book written by the late Robert Hunter. Mr. Hunter was for years a socialist and thus had a close up opportunity to study socialism, Communism and government revolutions as they have been tried from time to time. For this reason Mr. Hunter's conclusions on the advantages of a limited government have more than an ordinary weight. He has been converted from socialism to believe in free enterprise or a limited government.

He likens the French inflationary period around 1789 to our present period. In describing this period in French history he says: "The state was issued volumes of decrees. Assignats had to be accepted at their face value; goods had to be sold at fixed prices; laborers had to work at fixed wages. Persons having gold or foreign credits were ordered to hand them over to the national treasury in exchange for Assignats. The stock exchange was closed. Joint-stock companies were suppressed, and the banks and exchange offices were under the control of the government. All life and property were rapidly coming under the control of the government and the mercantile class of the territory fell quite as heavily on the working class as they did on any other. Those who defied the government when it demanded the surrender of their property rushed off to the Revolutionary Tribunal and to the guillotine.

"Gold and silver had been hoarded in the earlier days; now goods and provisions were hoarded. The severest penalties were inflicted upon those who disobeyed price-fixing regulations either as to flour, millers and farmers; death for all those who refused to labor, or resisted the confiscation of their property. Peasants, therefore, would grow no more; factories would produce no more; labor would work no more; and as the ruin progressed a cry arose among the politicians for France to carry the blessings of its Revolution to the rest of Europe. All kings must be destroyed. Property must be confiscated and the curfew begun to carry the high ideals of liberty, fraternity and equality into every foreign land. By 1796, paper money had increased to the fabulous amount of 45,000,000,000 francs.

" * * * While these events were in progress, the statesmen of England were looking upon France as a nation which had been cooking up Europe in the last twenty years—and as they are looking upon us today (1944) with amazement and alarm, always, concealing their contempt for the leaders of other nations who do not read history or seek to learn its lessons. A knowledge of some of the disasters which have befallen other nations as a result of their monetary policies would be of inestimable value to American statesmen in the present crisis. Economic historical analogies are rare but it is alarming to set down some of the parallels between the economic conditions and government policies in France at the end of the eighteenth century and those of the United States in our day. The timing of the various developments is no less ominous than the events."

In the next issue I will quote some further comparisons.

WEAKNESS IN RADIO
(Fort Wayne News-Sentinel)
The current fight which Upton Close, well-known radio commentator is having with the NBC, is significant one. It is significant not just because it affects one man with strong views, but because it goes to the roots of one of the striking weaknesses in radio, the severe blow to the principle of free speech, when they undertake, arbitrarily, to act as censors and shut out of people's homes those ideas in which they do not personally concur.

The National Whirligig

SUPERFORCES—Now that our Superforts are plastering Japan day after day, the army has granted permission to reveal heretofore closely guarded military secrets regarding the first Superforce. The "mechanical brain" that operates the guns.

One man with the aid of automatic devices and electronics, can aim with precision and simultaneously several guns in different parts of the ship by remote control. The giant is the only plane which can blitz Nippon from present airfields. As the distance is too far for fighter escort, the heavyweight must protect itself. "It is built to live over the target," explained Major General Oliver P. Echols, Assistant Chief of Air Staff, on a trip to New York.

In the first fourteen missions over Japan, only one B-29 was destroyed by enemy fighters. The rest of the seventy-nine hostile planes in a four-hour running scrap and returned safely to its base after shooting down seven.

MECHANISMS—Novel inventions make possible today's amazing results. Mechanisms must be fine enough to eliminate errors in gun-sighting caused by wind, gravity and speed. Yet the mechanisms must be rugged enough to survive jolting and fumes in temperatures of one hundred forty degrees in jungles and eight below zero in upper air glazes.

An entirely new type of engine employing turbo-superchargers can lift the craft so high that a pilot can see all six of the New England states at a glance.

The B-29 contains fifty-five thousand numbered parts. But it is being constantly improved to meet new battle conditions. Since it was conceived, more than fourteen tactical changes in design were suggested. Nine hundred alterations have been completed to date.

A half-million workers are now turning out the monsters—a greater productive effort than for any other weapon in the history of warfare. Boeing, Bell and Martin make the planes; Wright, the engines; General Electric, the armament system, and numerous subcontractors have a share in the enormous job.

TRIGGER—Thirteen guns in five turrets can fire ten thousand rounds of ammunition in a minute. Never before has a single gunner been able to operate more than one turret. But on the B-29 one man can handle three at once.

Previously a marksman on a bomber sat in a cramped position, breathing through an oxygen mask attached to cumbersome tubes and tried to sight in the cold; muffled in clumsy clothing heated by the engine's heat, he had to keep his hands steady on a machine—the only successful pressure cabin bomber in existence—he can relax in comfortable surroundings on a fourteen-hour mission to Tokyo. Although a subzero storm may be blowing at an altitude of thirty thousand feet, his body will not be fatigued, his nerves

Around Hollywood

By ERSHINE JOHNSON

The "sen" today on a railroad track and against a movable sky which a couple of huacacs, pulled up and down like a window shade for Hollywood's technicians was the title of the year, "The Spanish Main."

At the helm, surrounded by a group of Hollywood's best stunt men dressed as pirates, was Paul Henreid, the bold sea rover, with Maureen O'Hara clutched in his arms.

Two gentlemen you seldom read about—Jack Lannan and Reaves "Breezy" Egan stood behind the camera and beamed approval.

"Breezy" is Hollywood's No. 1 director of thrills; Lannan is Hollywood's No. 1 jack of all tricks. The two have been directing celluloid thrills ever since he staged the chariot race in "Ben Hur" in 1925, the charge in "The Charge of the Light Brigade," the "Just Dibs" in "Robin Hood."

"Breezy" directs the stunt men. He is a big fellow who starts people whenever he lights a match by scratching it on his teeth.

HE'S TYPED
He would prefer to direct straight drama—his "Give Me Liberty" historical short won an Academy Award in 1935. It is Breezy's race typed him as a master of thrills.

The famous chariot race, he admits, was an easy chore. He hires some of the best cowboys in the business, let them practice driving chariots, and when we were ready, I put up $500 for the first one across the line. Seven chariots sailed up in the rush but no one got hurt."

There will be plenty of thrills in "The Spanish Main." Pirates slugging it out, chasing each other in the ship's rigging. It is Breezy's job to make it look excitingly real.

All of which reminded producer Bob Fellows of the time years ago when he was assistant director and working on an Indian picture for producer Sol Wurtzel. Wurtzel complained that some scaping scenes were not exciting enough. He had the assistant director direct his heads together. The next morning when Wurtzel was looking at the rushes, he suddenly lost his breakfast.

With the aid of some chocolate syrup which photographed like blood, and a special toupee, one of the Indians scalped the hero. But to get back to "The Spanish Main," Jack Lannan said he was having his troubles.

For instance, the water which has to be shot over the decks of the "Barraconda" in a storm scene, and water spouts from cannon balls would ruin the ship. Jack had to dye the water blue, with ordinary bluing, because of technicalities.

For the waterpots, he built a cannon-like affair operated by electricity which shoots water straight up simply by pressing a button.

SYNTHETIC SOUTHWESTERN
And there's the wind. He has to fill out the sails with air blown through huge canvas pipes, and still not static the dialog on the decks below.

One scene which called for a runaway cannon ball to roll across the deck and ignite a bag of powder, blowing two pirates straight up in the air. Jack had to use a real red-hot cannon ball which would ignite a burning trail on the wooden deck.

The explosion was from harmless flashlight powder, and the pirates were "blown" skyward with the help of ropes and piano wire.

WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press War Analyst Ernest Bevin, England's square-jawed leader, likely has served an anxious world well by his argumentative outburst which is widely interpreted as confirming in effect that Britain and Russia are indeed in process of establishing separate spheres of influence in liberated Europe.

It's a good thing to have all the cards on the table in times like these.

To get the full significance of this explosion, you must know that Bevin not only heads Britain's powerful labor party but also is minister of labor in Churchill's coalition cabinet. Yesterday at a stormy session of the annual labor conference, which challenged the government's military intervention in the Greek imbroglio, Bevin accepted his share of responsibility for the government policy and declared that "long before this we had an agreement with Russia, whereby Russia undertook the main problem of the Balkans."

This agreement was taken to Quebec, submitted to Roosevelt and agreed to and initialled by him.

Authoritative quarters in Washington immediately declared flatly that the United States maintains a firm stand opposed to the development of spheres of influence in Europe. They denied that the President had okayed any Anglo-American agreement dividing up political interests in the Balkans.

Of course, it is obvious to observers that Britain and Russia are maneuvering deliberately to establish spheres of influence, the trend was watched without undue emotion until Britain intervened militarily in the Greek political strife.

As I see it, there's nothing which can prevent the formation of spheres of influence. It may be argued that they aren't necessarily bad—that they may be beneficial and satisfactory to the smaller nations. However, none can gainsay that if and when one sphere of influence encroaches on another, then the dominant power will militarily intervene.

Story Told Of Yank Stand On Philippine Isle

By SPENCER DAVIS

LEYTE, Dec. 10 (Delayed)—(AP)—Landing of Japanese parachutists near an eastern Leyte airfield at San Pablo in the dusk of Dec. 6, and the valiant resistance of thirty-four numbered Americans were described today by a Fifth air force troop carrier surgeon.

Maj. George Murphy of Patterson, N. J., told how the small band of flyers and ground crewmen stood fast through the night and fought off Japanese parachutists shortly after dawn.

Of the 34 men, only 12 returned to the American lines. Four pilots, a communications officer and 17 enlisted men are missing.

Murphy said he counted 24 enemy transport planes gliding in low over Leyte's central mountain range. "The sky was about 2000 ft. high and there had been a brilliant red sunset," he said. "The sky was still slightly grey in the west when I saw them. It was too dark to see the chutes fall, but there was a terrific ack-ack display and I did see two transports crash in flames."

"The soldiers slept on the ground with their guns at their sides. The Japanese remained in hiding until 6:20 when the men were in the messhall eating breakfast. A small group of six Japanese advanced from a nearby rice paddy.

The troops withdrew quickly to the holes, and soon nearly a hundred Japanese charged the mess-hall.

We had carbines, forty-fives, and one Tommy gun. The Japs had light mortars and grenades, as well as machine guns. It was one hell of a situation.

Ambassador To Spain Resigns

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14—(AP)—The White House announced yesterday the resignation of Carlton Hayes, ambassador to Spain, and the replacement of Norman Armour to replace him.

Armour now is acting director of the state department's office of American republic affairs. At the time of the appointment of Secretary of State Stettinius and the reshuffling of the top level of department positions, President Roosevelt announced he would give Armour an important new position.

Armour formerly was ambassador to Argentina. He was recalled several months ago when United States-Argentina relations became strained because of the Spanish Civil War.

The President, in another diplomatic shift, nominated Laurence A. Steinhardt, now ambassador to Turkey, to be ambassador to the Czech government in exile in London. The Turkish assignment was left open.

Hallett Johnson was nominated ambassador to Costa Rica, succeeding Paul Desportes, who died several weeks ago.

"You shouldn't have told him it was no man's land—he's a former realtor!"

The Acacia Tree

PROLOGUE: Michael and her baby son, Dan, are alone in her room when the Roman soldiers enter with drawn swords. It is Herod's order that all Hebrew males children under two years be slain. Michael points to a recently planted tree and reminds them that it is the Hebrew custom to plant an acacia only on the birth of a daughter. The soldiers ride away.

Michael, who has married his brother Jonathan's widow, Michael, had there a many things he does not understand. Why does Michael bear an unyielding hatred against Jonathan? Why has he sent Jonathan's widow, Michael, to live with the Roman woman, Flavia? What was her relationship to Daniel, Flavia's brother?

HE was like Drusus. The import of her words struck Joel as a vicious blow. "Like Drusus," he echoed, and his tone brought the bright blood to her cheeks and anguished tears veiled the direct glance he had learned to trust.

Tears pointed her silken eyelashes and dried on her hot cheeks even as they fell, and as Michael looked at Joel she was unaware of her tears, blind as she was from the pain of wounded love for him that he had not possessed. "He was Jonathan's son," she said. And her tone was sickened as the question his had had.

The rays of the sun were dazing as they struck the white buildings of Bethelhem, visible above the belt of olives that girded the hill. And Joel's unrestrained anger was as merciless as a scorching sun. "You said he was my son," he said bitterly. "I would not judge thee for thou art dear to me."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON SERVICEMEN'S PROBLEMS

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Correspondent

Section 1505 in the GI Bill of Rights will mean a lot of veterans will be paying for schooling or other promised benefits themselves out of their future bonus, say the read-the-fine-print boys in the know on veterans' affairs, who predict a bonus within five years.

Anyone with a slight touch of fox-hole fatigue might not get around to reading clear through to GI Bill of Rights' final section 1505 which says: "In the event there shall be after the authorized any allowance in the nature of adjusted compensation, any benefits received by, or paid for, any veteran under this act shall be charged against and deducted from such adjusted compensation; and in the event a veteran has obtained a loan under the terms of this act, the agency disbursing such adjusted compensation shall first pay the unpaid balance and accrued interest to the extent that the amount of adjusted compensation which may be payable will permit."

SCHOOLING NOT DEDUCTED
Veterans may not object to having deductions made from any future bonus for the schooling they offered under the GI Bill of Rights, or for unpaid balance and interest on outstanding loans put through under the bill, but at least you should know what to figure on. Report Workers Leaving Jobs Is Now Repudiated

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, Dec. 14—(AP)—So the war workers think the fighting's over and are running away from their jobs, are they? Maybe you came to believe that in the past few weeks. But the figures don't bear that out. On the contrary.

CHICKENS — TURKEYS
STAR SULPHUROUS COMPOUND
Given in water or feed destroys intestinal germs and worms that cause most all disease and loss of egg production as they enter fowls in feed. Keeps them free of blood-sucking insects. Appetite, health and egg production good. Costs very little. Money back if not satisfactory. CRETNEYS.

Workers in non-war jobs are doing more job-changing than war workers.
A special survey by the war commission (WMC)—made public here for the first time—shows that: Workers are quitting non-war jobs at a rate of 60 to 70 per 1,000 a month.
War workers are quitting their jobs in the munitions industries at a rate of 40 to 55 per 1,000. In manufacturing industries—where war workers are heavily concentrated—there was less job quitting this year than in 1943.
From here on the figures used are from the bureau of labor statistics (BLS) which gathers them monthly. The latest are for October. The word "separations" is the general cover-all word covering all reasons why a worker leaves a job. Those reasons are: quitting; being discharged or fired; being laid off for lack of work; and being drafted.

These figures show what has been happening to employment in manufacturing industries generally.
Total separations in October, 1944, were 64 per 1,000. They were 70 per 1,000 in October, of 1943.
October showed the lowest total of separations of any month this year. And separations in every month of 1944—except May—were lower than in the corresponding month of 1943.
The number of people fired for cause in October, 1944, was 6 per 1,000, exactly the same as in October, 1943. The number of people fired in 1944 generally paralleled the figures for 1943.
The real difference in the figures between the two years came in the number of people out of jobs drafted into the armed service. They were 3 per 1,000 last October but 7 per 1,000 in October, 1943.

This drop reflected the changed policy of selective service to take fewer and younger men.
But what about the number of workers who replaced those separated from their jobs for any reason?
In October, 1944, for every 64 out of 1,000 workers who were separated, there were 60 replacements.
But there is something to be remembered here. There are fewer people available for work than there were a year ago.

LOCAL MEN TAKE ORIENTATION COURSE IN ENGLAND

First Lt. Charles E. Mathis, Cpl. Donald L. Thomas, and First Lt. Frederick W. Brook have recently completed an orientation course designed to bridge the gap between training in the States and combat soldiering against the enemy in Germany at an air service command station in England.
These three men attended a series of lectures given by veterans that included instructions in chemical warfare defense and pertinent tips on staying healthy in a combat zone.

The next station for each one of these men will be one from which America's fighting planes cover our advance into Germany.
Before entering the service, Lt. Mathis was employed as a maintenance man by the West Texas Gas Co., at Lubbock. He is the son of Mrs. Jennie White, LeFors.
Cpl. Thomas was a roustabout for the Danciger Oil Co., before entering the service, and is the husband of Mrs. Clela Mae Thomas, 634 S. Gray, Pampa.
Lt. Brook was employed as a machinist by the A. G. Seaman Co., in New York City before entering the army air forces. He is the husband of Mrs. Virginia L. Brook of 413 N. Yeager.

KEY MAN IN TURRET LATHE SECTION

"Record-smashing production of over a million aircraft parts in less than a year is the latest achievement of T. Sgt. William W. Parr, son of Mrs. Guy Dunwoody of Pampa" is the word received from public relations at an air service command station in England.
Key man in the turret lathe section at this depot in England, Sgt. Parr and his fellow soldier-mechanics have turned out thousands of bomb racks for fighter planes, armor plate for bombers, parts of propaganda bombs and many other high-priority items for the air force.
Before entering the army in March, 1941, Sgt. Parr was employed as supervisor in the turret lathe section at the Oklahoma City air depot. His wife, Mrs. Betha Earline Parr, lives in Duncan, Okla.

Letters From a Correspondent's War Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

WITH THE SECOND INFANTRY DIVISION INSIDE THE SIEGFRIED LINE, Dec. 2—(Delayed)—(P)—A birdog might envy the success of Pfc. James Silgar whose keen sense of smell enabled him to capture two Germans and save his squad from possible annihilation.

During a recent advance the Farragut, Ia., doughboy smelled cigar smoke and immediately became suspicious. He cautiously sniffed his way along a trail of smoke until suddenly he saw the Nazi puffing away in nearby bushes.
Silgar advanced with his gun ready and two German machine-guns came out and surrendered. They were so well hidden that they had been passed by Silgar's squad and were in a position to have cut his buddies down from behind.

The propaganda about the Nazis being supermen doesn't at all impress Lt. William T. Maxwell, platoon leader from Vivian, La. Maxwell is 5 feet 2 inches tall and his biggest problem in Germany is trying to sleep comfortably in a captured pillbox designed for the short wehrmacht troops.

In a hurry to join his advancing platoon Tech Sgt. Edward F. Perry of Munsing, Mich., looked around for someone to relieve him of three prisoners. He saw a figure in olive drab and called:

"Hey, bub, how's about taking these prisoners back. I am pretty busy."

"All right," the other man answered quietly.
As he turned to leave Perry caught the glint of a silver eagle on the soldier's shoulder. He suddenly realized he had hailed a full colonel as "Bub."

But the colonel just laughed and waved him on—and the sergeant didn't linger.

The next war, if it occurs, will not be conducted by fleets of ships and planes but by long-range bombs and rockets, which are at the threshold of untold development and expansion. It will be a war of long-range artillery duels across the oceans.
