Roosevelt and Dewey Trade Major Political Blows

Japs Prepare To Make Stand On Leyte Isle

By RAY CRONIN
Associated Press War Editor
Desperate reinforced Japanese troops on Leyte, battling to retain their foothold on that strategic central Philippine island, hastily prepared defensive positions today in the hills overlooking the plains north of Ormoc, port town on the west central coast.

Troops of the 24th U. S. division tumbled a twin land-sea assault against Pinamoonan, seven miles west of Yank-held Carigara on the northern end of the Ormoc corridor. The Japanese counter-attacked near Capocan, midway between Carigara and Pinamoonan, but were bloodily repulsed.

American fighter pilots destroyed many armored vehicles, trucks and artillery landed with reinforcements several days ago. They were hitting enemy convoys north of Ormoc, stopping organized movement of men and equipment over the highway leading to Carigara.

Fliers of the U. S. Central Pacific command blasted numerous Japanese island bases hitting shipping and other targets in the Palaus, Marshalls, Marianas and Gilberts and at Yap and Marcus.

In only one theater of war—China—were the Nipponese meeting any success. They were knocking at the door of Kweilin, hub of China's important southeastern defense system. They were on the run in western Burma and on the Chinese side of the Burma border. The Japanese situation in Burma was so critical there was a possibility of their total withdrawal from that country.

A Chinese high command communiqué said intense fighting was in progress in the eastern, northern and western suburbs of Kweilin, American airmen flying in support of the hard-pressed Chinese, killed more than 750 Japanese soldiers and many horses in the Kweilin sector.

Meanwhile, radio Berlin, quoting Tokyo, said Nippon forces captured Kweilin.

The Chinese hit at the Japanese Kweilin supply lines as they recaptured.

TWIN-CITY CAPITAL UNDER FIRE

Advance units of the Red army were reported last night in the suburbs of Budapest, capital of Hungary, shown above; but the reports were not confirmed by the high command. Sprawled over 86 square miles, the city lies on both sides the storied Danube. It is comprised of the ancient capital, Buda, and Pest, seen in background, with the Parliament buildings dominating the skyline at left. Photo was taken from Royal Palace in Buda, which stands atop a terraced bluff on the threshold of the great Hungarian plain. Statue in foreground is of King Eugene.

Wounded Texas Veterans Required to Buy Poll Tax

AUSTIN, Nov. 4.—(P)—Attorney General Grover Sellers held today in an opinion requested by Gov. Coke Stevenson that war veterans suffering physical disabilities of 40 per cent or more are not exempt from payment of the poll tax to qualify them for voting in Tuesday's general election.

Although Stevenson's request for the opinion referred specifically only to war veterans who have returned from the front too late to obtain from county tax collectors the required certificate of exemption, the attorney general held that the statutes exempting all such persons from the requirement are unconstitutional.

This would include, among others, persons who have lost a hand or foot, those permanently disabled, and all disabled veterans of foreign wars where the disability is 40 per cent or more.

It would presumably not include persons over 60 whose exemption is mentioned in the statute held invalid, but whose exemption is also granted in Article 7, Section 3 of the state constitution.

The immediate effect of the opinion was open to question. The state comptroller has estimated that 204,410 persons holding exemptions under the various statutes and the constitution would be eligible to vote in Texas this year. He has estimated the total voting strength, including these and 1-...

Regents Members Asked to Resign By Association

AUSTIN, Nov. 4.—(P)—The executive council of the Ex-Students Association of the University of Texas today called for the resignations of all members of the board of regents involved in the controversy that led to the discharge of Dr. Homer P. Rainey as president.

All 15 members of the 21-member council attending a four-hour, un-interrupted session here today signed a statement commending the three regents who have already resigned for their action in resigning, asking that the remaining regents would immediately resign, and declaring that it is "highly important to have constituted a board of regents with all new members who will take over the government of the university and begin afresh, free from the controversies that have existed."

Dr. C. O. Terrell, of Fort Worth, is the only member of the board who did not serve prior to October 30.

A brand new board, the council said, can be trusted to make a wise selection of a president from all available persons." The statement did not specifically mention the names of Rainey or any of the regents involved in the row.

There were two major developments in the controversy here today:

1. Decisions by the students, who have been cutting classes since Rainey was fired Wednesday night, to return to classes Monday. In each class, a designated representative will arise and state to the instructor that attendance is under protest.

2. A defense by Gov. Coke R. Stevenson of Regents John H. Bickett of Dallas, D. F. Strickland of Mission, W. Scott Schreiner of Kerrville and H. H. Weinstock of Seguin.

George Sealy Dies At New York City

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—(P)—George Sealy, 63, head of the Sealy interests in Galveston, Texas, and prominent in Texas financial and civic circles, died today in his apartment at hotel Weylin.

He was a member of the state prison board.

Sealy had been ill for several days with pneumonia. With his wife, Mrs. Eugenia Taylor Sealy, who was with him at his death, he had come to New York last month to attend the foreign trade association convention and the national conference of prison officials and parole officers.

Member of a family long prominently identified with Galveston, Sealy was a nephew of the original John Sealy whose will was responsible for establishment of the John Sealy hospital in Galveston.

Pilot Is Told To Make His 'Marks'

LEYTE, P. I., Nov. 4.—(P)—A newly arrived pilot complained to the commander that the men of the record breaking 49th air group, whose roster includes 15 aces, were not saluting him.

"How many Japs have you shot down?" queried the commander.

"None," stammered the pilot.

"You'd better get out and bag yourself some Japs," advised the commander. "You are lucky the men even speak to you."

Dewey Attacks Allied Aircraft Plan Proposed By Morgenthau

By The Associated Press

President Roosevelt and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey cross-challenged each other last night in their final major addresses of the 1944 presidential campaign.

The President said he was anxious to win next Tuesday because "never before in my lifetime has a campaign been filled with such misrepresentation," and Dewey demanded to know what has happened since Sept. 1 to upset Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's prediction that Germany could be beaten this year.

Publication of Treasury Secretary Morgenthau's "clumsy" plan, reputedly calling for the reduction of Germany to an industrially-impotent state and for disposing of the German people after the war, Dewey declared, "was as good as 10 fresh German divisions."

"It put fight back into the German army," the republican presidential nominee asserted in a partial text prepared for an address at a Madison Square Garden rally.

"It stiffened the will of the German nation to resist. Almost overnight the headlines proclaimed the Germans stopped. They stood and fought fanatically."

Dewey referred to the Morgenthau plan as it was outlined in reports in connection with the recent Quebec conference between Mr. Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill.

The plan, which the republican nominee had said called for the "destruction" of the German people, was "so clumsy that Mr. Roosevelt himself finally dropped it," Dewey declared, "but the damage was done."

The publishing of this plan while everything else was kept secret, Dewey said, was "just what the Nazi propagandists needed."

Alluding to Morgenthau as "that minister of military strategy and foreign affairs," the candidate asserted there had been "fringe consequences" of the "blunder" made in permitting the Morgenthau plan to become public.

Dewey quoted published stories to the effect that American troops overseas had found stiffened resistance by the Nazis and wondered if this had been caused by announcement of plans at home of what the candidate called "a failed German policy."

"What does this mean?" Dewey demanded. "It means that the blood of our fighting men is paying for this improvised meddling which is so much a part and parcel of the Roosevelt administration."

"And at the very moment when his own confused incompetence has thus prolonged the war in Europe," the nominee continued, "Franklin Roosevelt goes on the radio and claims for himself the credit for everything our engineers, our war workers, our industry, our farmers and our fighting sons have done."

Dewey summed up the credo of his campaign in these words:

"Opening and in plain words John Bricker and I, in the name of the republican party, are dedicated to these propositions:

"1. To speed total victory and the prompt return of our fighting men by putting energy and competence in Washington behind the magnificent effort of our military command.

"2. To provide American leadership in the world for an effective organization among all nations to...

Gray County Has Total of 5,939 Eligible Voters

Most people's attention right now is projected toward Tuesday's general election, and it is that way throughout the nation today, regardless of what party you belong to—if any at all you have the right to vote as you wish and without fear from anyone. That is the American custom.

Although most Gray countians know the procedure they will follow in casting their vote, here are some general pointers.

Put yourself in the position of a voter.

You should go to the polls with your poll tax receipt, marked paid prior to the date, Feb. 1, 1943. If you do not have this proof that you have met the required tax by payment in full and you have already paid, you must make an affidavit that you have settled the account prior to the date.

Your name will then be checked with the records; whether or not you are eligible to cast a ballot due to registration, etc., and this being cleared you will be given your ballot.

Next you take your ballot, in Gray county, to a table where you may vote just as you desire. If you care to vote a straight republican or democratic ticket you may do so, but if you care to split the vote you may designate which of the republican or democratic nominees you are desirous of having in office.

At the completion of the vote you must then fold and submit the ballot to the precinct judge, or clerk on duty, who in turn will write the number of the ballot on the outside. He will also record your name on a tally sheet showing that you have voted, and will, in your presence, drop the ballot in a box.

As far as you are concerned this is the end of the procedure, for the ballot that you cast will remain in the locked box until the polls are closed; afterward to be taken out, counted and tallied on a tally sheet. Then the vote is returned to the box and again locked, and together with the tally sheet begins its journey to the county courthouse where the number of votes are taken from the tally sheets and tabulated by the Gray county clerk's office, which by the way is composed of four county commissioners and the...

Famous British Officer Dies

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(P)—Field Marshal Sir John Dill, head of the British joint staff mission in the United States, died tonight of a heart ailment at his home in London. He had been ill for several months with anemia.

Sir John was 73 years old.

He retired as chief of the British Imperial General army three years ago and served as governor of Bombay until his assignment to Washington.

He is survived by his widow, Lady Dill, and one son by a previous marriage, Maj. John de Guerin Dill, of the British Royal artillery.

24 Persons Killed In Airliner Crash

HANFORD, Calif., Nov. 4.—(P)—Twenty-four persons died when an airplane crashed near here tonight, Sheriff Orvie H. Clyde of Kings county reported.

Clyde said that the plane appeared to be a commercial airliner, and that the persons killed were Army and Navy personnel.

The bodies were scattered over an area of a mile. There was no indication that any of the passengers had attempted to bail out.

The plane was burning when discovered by Harold Anderson, a farmer, the sheriff said.

Anderson said parts of an airplane fell about him. Then he saw the plane burning about a half mile away.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Nov. 4.—(P)—The bandit was a little twit.

He added a polite "Thank you" as Tracy handed over his wallet and $38.

Allied Aircraft Roar in for Kill

By EDWARD J. DENNEHY
Associated Press War Editor

American First army troops were forced out of the German town of Schmidt, 15 miles southeast of Aachen, yesterday, but other Allied forces hammered out hard-won gains in Holland and Southern France. On the eastern front, Soviet armies laid siege to Budapest, capital of Hungary.

Swarms of U. S. divebombers flattened Schmidt after the Yank withdrawal. Wave after wave of planes roared down on the town and destroyed every building.

The Americans had held firm under the brunt of the first German counterattack along the First army front but the second enemy assault backed by tank units, pushed the doughboys out of Schmidt to positions about a half mile west of the town. U. S. forces broke another Nazi counterattack at Vossenack and Hurtgen, to the north.

In Holland, allied troops advanced to within three miles of the last German escape bridge at Moerdijk on the Maas river. A few thousand rearward enemy soldiers were crowded into a narrow strip on the southern Maas bank west of 'S Hertogenbosch. The British under heavy artillery barrage broke across Atterwatering canal and fought north more than a mile in a drive to unhinge the enemy's east flank.

Land and naval guns poured a terrific barrage on the enemy garrison east of Moerdijk on Walcheren island where fighting continued at a furious pace. In eastern Holland, American foot soldiers advanced two miles and seized the town of Breda. The British under heavy artillery barrage broke across Atterwatering canal and fought north more than a mile in a drive to unhinge the enemy's east flank.

The vessel, the liner Henry E. Mallory, which in peacetime flew the Clyde-Mallory flag in the New York-Galveston run, was in a convoy carrying army, navy and marine corps personnel to Iceland when attacked during a snow storm and heavy seas.

Nearly 300 service men were missing when survivors were rescued by the coast guard cutters George M. Bibb and Ingram. Thirty-eight members of the ship's crew of 71, including the master, also were lost.

Many service men were killed below decks by the explosion of the torpedoes. The heavy weather made launching of lifeboats and rafts difficult and several were smashed while being lowered.

Details of the sinking were reported by the war shipping administration in announcing payment of $428,333 for the loss of the vessel.

The navy on Feb. 22, 1943, announced the loss of two ships in the North Atlantic with heavy loss of life, but did not identify them. The Henry R. Mallory presumably is one of them.

Loss of 300 in Ship Sinking of '43 Is Divulged

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(P)—Details of the sinking of an American transport by an Axis submarine in the North Atlantic with heavy loss of life early in 1943 were revealed for the first time today.

The vessel, the liner Henry E. Mallory, which in peacetime flew the Clyde-Mallory flag in the New York-Galveston run, was in a convoy carrying army, navy and marine corps personnel to Iceland when attacked during a snow storm and heavy seas.

U-Boats Fail Trying To Break Up Convoy

LONDON, Nov. 4.—(P)—Three German U-boats which tried to break up a large convoy for England to Russia recently were sunk and several others were damaged, the admiralty announced today, disclosing that the convoy reached port with the loss of one escort vessel.

One German aircraft, which attempted to shadow the convoy, was shot down.

Soviet Newspaper Strongly Raps At Iran Government

MOSCOW, Nov. 4.—(P)—Renewing Soviet criticism of the Iranian government for refusing to discuss all concessions to Russia until after the war, Izvestia, official Soviet government paper, declared today that American troops were in Iran without any agreement with Iran.

(Presence of American service troops in Iran was disclosed in 1942. Their mission has been to supply war materials to Soviet Russia via the Persian gulf route and the trans-Iranian railway, which American army men operate and have virtually rebuilt, along with new highways. Immense quantities of American arms have gone to Russia over that route.)

(Russian and Britain took over Iran in the summer of 1941, dividing the country into northern and southern spheres of influence. Iran long has been regarded as potentially one of the world's rich sources of petroleum.)

(The Soviet purpose in apparently questioning the propriety of American presence in Iran at this time when the Persian gulf supply route is less vital to Russia, was not made entirely clear by the long Izvestia article.)

Izvestia reviewed Iranian foreign policy throughout most of the 20th century and asserted the Soviet union took the lead in helping Iran abolish the old regime of captivities.

Izvestia said the Soviet government "cannot fail to consider" that Iranian refusal of a Soviet oil offer "is a manifestation of reactionary Iranian elements which aim to prevent rapprochement between the U. S. S. R. and Iran."

Pampa News, KPDN To Cover Election Front

All of the color and drama which goes to make up a fitting climax to one of the most hotly contested presidential election campaigns in years will be brought to KPDN listeners Tuesday night by a corps of local and network commentators, newscasters, analysts and correspondents stationed at points stretching all the way from Pampa and key points in the United States to Paris, Rome and outposts in the Pacific.

Beginning at 6:45 p.m. the Pampa station, through its local news studios in The Pampa News editorial rooms and the Mutual coast-to-coast net, will give listeners the most comprehensive and continuous election coverage in history.

With the exception of regularly-scheduled news periods, all commercial programs on MBS will be cancelled. Flash bulletins from the war fronts will bring the only interruption to a continuous flow of election news and feature coverage of that subject.

For the local and Texas news, supplied through The Associated Press and Mutual, KPDN will have Tex DeWeese and J. L. Swindle of the Pampa News staff. Both are KPDN newscasters.

Headline Mutual's election night coverage will be Fulton Lewis, Jr., with whom KPDN listeners are familiar for his nightly broadcast over the Pampa station. Lewis will speak from New York along with such other famous news analysts as Gabriel Heatter, Cecil Brown and Henry Gladstone. From time to time throughout the evening Archibald Crossley, public opinion expert and founder of the Crosley Poll, will give his exclusive opinions.

There will be further analyses of the balloting by important representatives of both the republican and democratic parties.

There will be on-the-spot broadcasts from many cities throughout the United States for election night color, and overseas pickups from key spots in Europe and the Pacific war zone.

WOR, Mutual's New York election headquarters, has installed and constructed special equipment to insure the speediest and most efficient handling of election returns.

A complete coverage of Gray county and the Panhandle districts as well as Texas election returns will be completed at The Pampa News and will be broadcast over KPDN.

Due to the newspaper situation, The Pampa News will not issue election extras, but its full facilities will be used to implement the KPDN election night party.

So remember—

You can get all of the election returns by setting your dial on KPDN Tuesday night.

This is a special invitation for you to attend the KPDN election party in the comfort of your own home.

Plans for Airport
Here To Be Studied

J. D. Church, regional airport engineer for the Civil Aeronautics Authority (CAA), from El Paso, will arrive here tonight to take a leading part in a discussion of plans for an airport at Pampa following the war.

A. J. Beagle, chairman of the Pampa aviation committee, said
Church will meet with the committee, the city and county tomorrow morning at 10:30 at the city hall to study post-war plans.

The local groups have been studying for some time plans for an airport here.

MOTHER'S FRIEND, AN exquisitely prepared emollient, is useful in all conditions where a bland, mild anodyne massage medium in skin lubrication is desired. One condition in which women for more than 70 years have used it is an application for massaging the body during pregnancy. It helps keep the skin soft and pliable, thus avoiding unnecessary discomfort due to dryness and tightness. It refreshes and tones the skin. An ideal massage application for the numb, tingling or burning sensations of the skin, for the tired back muscles or cramp-like pains in the legs.
Quickly absorbed. Delightful to use.

Mother's Friend
Highly praised by users, many doctors and nurses. Just use a very druggist for Mother's Friend—the skin lubricant. Try it tonight.

No Hot Checks To Be Written on State

AUSTIN, Nov. 4.—(AP)—For the first time in several years, the state this month will not pay its employees with hot checks. Warrants for October salaries may be cashed at face value in the treasurer's office, the comptroller announced. The general revenue fund not only has enough cash to pay all outstanding but current warrants as well.

Transfer to the fund of $3,254,363 from the omnibus tax clearance fund to the general fund was the specific act that put the state on a cash basis. Heretofore, because of the deficit, general fund warrants had to be held until there was enough cash to pay them or cashed immediately by commercial agencies at a discount.

Venice, Italy, is 150 miles farther north than Vladivostok, Siberia. In 1943, 1,896 ships were built in the United States—nearly 70 times the prewar average.

First Aviation Plan Is Drafted

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—(AP)—The United States made public Friday its draft of a convention for governing international civil aviation, setting forth in formal language the plan outlined for the first time Thursday by Adolf A. Berle, Jr., leader of the country's organization to the world conference here.

The American plan is for a permanent assembly with each signatory state represented, and an executive group which would be in continuous session. Its action would require majority vote of the 15 members, who include two from the United States, two from the Soviet Union, two from the British Commonwealth of Nations, one each from Brazil, China and France and six "to be chosen from among the other nations, three being from Continental Europe, two from the Americas and one from Asia and Africa.

The draft convention stated in precise terms the United States policy that "each state grants the right to fly across its territory without landing, and the right to make technical stops in its territory, to the aircraft of the other contracting states engaged in scheduled airline service."

Common Ground

What began almost literally as a one-man battle by Gen. Charles de Gaulle more than four years ago has finally been concluded in victory for the French leader and for the country which he has so heroically and tirelessly served.

It is impossible to divorce the rebirth of France from the person and contribution of General de Gaulle. Since the dark and desperate day of June 1940 when he landed in England and began organizing a free French resistance he has personified France's determination to come back.

France in 1940 was riddled by defeatism and stunned by the swift impact of German power. There must have been few of General de Gaulle's countrymen in those days who could share his conviction that France, though she had lost a battle, had not lost a war.

General de Gaulle was not and is not a politician or a diplomat. He appears to have been stubborn, committed at times to policies which he thought best, at the expense of broader considerations.

In short, General de Gaulle is no glamor boy. And that perhaps is one of the most encouraging things about him. France once followed the dynamic Napoleon to the brink of disaster. In our country, General de Gaulle is not a colorful personality, while Germany now faces destruction because she has taken on an insane, hypnotic spellbind.

There is no adulation of that sort in France's admiration for Charles de Gaulle. It is an admiration and enthusiasm for De Gaulle the man, the soldier, the statesman, the patriot, the man who has branded a traitor by the name of Vichy, the man who has forbidden the German soldier to trample the soil of France, the man who has again that faith has vindicated.

Back to Oil. Americans haven't suffered much physical hardship during this war, but it still will be necessary to convert coal to coal gas. This obviously will spread our available coal over a smaller area.

The Crisis of Our Age

If people could only read "The Crisis of Our Age" by P. A. Sorokin, there would not be so much apathy in political and economic matters. Dr. Sorokin is head of the department of sociology at Harvard University.

The book seems to be somewhat dry. From one of his four large books of 600 pages each entitled "Social and Cultural Dynamics." The first step for combating this crisis which he suggests in the concluding part of his book is "as prompt realization of the possibility of the extraordinary character of the contemporary crisis of our culture as a society."

Here are some other observations from this interesting book. An interesting part of the author gives a table showing the number of scientific discoveries and technological inventions from the eighteenth century B.C. down to 1900. From the 14th century on, the rate of increase is shown in a diagram.

As to the present status of the human race Sorokin is of the opinion that "in few periods of human history have so many millions of people become so unhappy, so insecure, so hungry and destitute, as at the present time, all the way from China to western Europe."

On the idea of there being no eternal norms, no principles, he makes this remark: "Relativization and atomization are the signs of modernity. It means anarchy, for a value that no longer is universal becomes a pseudo-value, a plaything of individual fancy and wishes."

On this subject he further observes, "The essence of the crisis consists in a progressive devaluation of our ethics and of the norms of our law. This devaluation has already gone so far that, strange as it may seem, they are lost."

When the churches, whether Protestant or Catholic, shall cease to stand for private liberty and private property, they will abandon that "suffereth long and is kind."

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

The National Whirligig

By ALBERT LEMAN AVIATION WILL BE THE most important factor in the coming decades. Money-bags holders who finance American airlines are keeping their fingers crossed during the Chicago International Civil Aviation Conference now in session.

Russia's curt refusal to talk together and Britain's flirtation with monopolistic notions are cited as drawbacks to a quick settlement of world-wide problems.

Tempetuous members of our own airline industry are snarling at one another like Kilkenny cats. Some rugged individuals are gangling up on the railroads and steamship companies.

In general, Uncle Sam wants to establish international routes by air. His chief competitor is offering a partnership to the United States Government.

Opponents charge that the threat of huge European combines is a coggy man conjure up to scare Congress into legalizing an airway trust. They admit that London has granted a mail subsidy to one official outfit but they contend that they will run their own planes on a profit basis.

Like projects proposed by American ship owners are attacked by certain powerful airline figures and by an extremely active lobby in Washington. New York steamship people explain that they are not asking for indiscriminate privileges.

On the subject of the devaluation of the U. S. dollar, he says that he has seen the conference in fix rates and thereby hamstringing the U. S. A. The more rules other nations lay down, the more the restrictions will cripple our companies and cramp free enterprise.

The U. S. is the world's leader in flying. We shall probably create at least seventy-five per cent of the postbellum aviation business. Our industry has the personnel, equipment, research and know-how to outcompromise with other countries.

Even though the British shake their heads sadly and their representatives would have us think, "Excellent models are in the works. Also they have strong bargaining points. For example, handing prisoners in their fat flung empire are almost indispensable in global commercial transit."

Peter Edson's Column: 'CODE' LETTERS FROM PRISONERS OF WAR

By PETER EDSON Washington Correspondent American soldiers held prisoners of war in Germany are limited by the size of the paper furnished them to less than 100 words on each message sent back home through the Swiss government and the International Red Cross.

One prisoner in Germany exchanged marriage vows with the girl he left behind him. Divorces have been arranged for several, and in one case a divorce was contested at the soldier's direction.

One of the censors are particularly about is taking out all gossip that might cause the men in prison camps worry. If some old scandal monger writes a kind note to tell the soldier that if he comes home and learns that his wife has been running around, he needs to be surprised, it is deleted.

Two corporals, feeling grateful for what the Red Cross had done for them in prison camps, directed that $100 of the pay held in trust for the prisoners of the Army be given that organization.

AS SEEN FROM THE NEWSROOM

J. L. SWINDLE This week has seen the Allied armies drawn up at the Rhine river, and what they may do within the next eight or 10 days will go down in history with as much importance as that time a way back when Caesar crossed the Rubicon—they will change the present and political life of the world for the next hundred years.

It has been a long time since the German people had their "earrings-planned back," with invasion of their country from the ground. (They have had plenty of it from the air.) Someone remarked the other day that perhaps it is a good thing that Hitler is such a mad-man that he will sacrifice every drop of German blood possible, in order to hold out as long as he can against the Western and Eastern allied nations.

His fanaticism—and our proponent of military might—will force a decision on German soil. It will admit of the opportunity to embroil the German heroivok in the cauldron of death which they so maliciously—and in some cases, ignorantly—evolved for world domination.

If Hitler were not the maniac he is and were more like the Junkers of Old Germany—and if we were not drawn up on the Rhine for the big push—the German people might be able to say: "We quit. We are convinced of the wrong we have committed." Some Germans, knowing the tenacity of the Anglo-Saxon, might even go so far as to say, in contradiction of his forebears, Nietzsche: "We know you were justified in your victory—that you were morally right."

But as it is, that will not be the case. There will be no lachrymose sentiment from the German people, for Hitler will not create the situation wherein they will be given the opportunity to manifest it.

Somehow along that meandering—and yet, swift—river, steeping in all its Gaelic history, inexorable forces will roll forward. They will break down the wall of the vaunted Germany homeland, and they will overtake the German people.

History will be made for civilization, and the force of bigotry, hate and anarchy will be put down. It might be the renaissance of a world civilization built on a square deal for the little man and the little nation—and on the innate truth that war (like lesser crime) will not pay.

CIVILIAN P. Captured later on Bataan and reported now by the Japanese as prisoners of war, they present difficult cases for proper identification. It took eight months to locate relatives and properly identify the former superintendent of a public utilities company who became one of MacArthur's command officers on Bataan. In another case, a prisoner identified only as from Springfield was put in touch with his family only after letters had been sent to postmasters of 22 Springfield, Ill., addresses.

WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE The assumption of the preliminary offensive in the Allied offensive against the German Rhineland defenses is increasing suggestively—a reassessment that, winter or no winter, we still may expect an early development of this trial of strength which will go far towards determining whether or not we can achieve a decisive victory over the Reich.

Is there yet time to knock out Hitler this year? Well, the chill November winds and rain and mud were the fighting front wars against faust conclusions. There's no sign that the allied high command has abandoned hope of an early victory. However, he would be a rash optimist who didn't recognize that we might be stalled for a considerable time at the wide and swift Rhine, which will be heavily defended on its east bank and presents a formidable barrier.

It strikes me that we may expect the coming offensive to be a quick, powerful blow, as will be calculated to take us over the Rhine on the jump. As a guess I should say that some entirely new allied forces would be brought into play, and that our air-army would figure in a big way.

Once the allies are over the Rhine in force, they will have broken the back of their task. Thus the lengthy and that our air-army would figure in a big way. It strikes me that we may expect the coming offensive to be a quick, powerful blow, as will be calculated to take us over the Rhine on the jump.

One of the signs of the impending storm is the intensification of allied bombing over the Reich. Highly significant was the phenomenon of the appearance of 500 new bombers to the 2,000 American warplanes over the Mercedes area southwest of Berlin. The Luftwaffe long has been playing possum because of weakness in its strength.

That Hitler should risk so much of the small air strength remaining to him was recognition that the hour of crisis is at hand. Otherwise he would take the chance of an effort which cost him the staggering loss of at least 208 warplanes in one of the greatest air fights of history.

YOU GOTTA THINK QUICK

By Stanley Palay Copyright, 1944, N.E.A. Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Leo Kabateck, lately broke, is in the money now that he's prime legal adviser to the newly rich Boggio. He's ideas that his improved financial status calls for better living quarters than Mrs. Watkins' boarding house.

After having finally rented the place on the strength of my bank reference, I got myself outfitted from head to foot and also bought the very best kind of luggage obtainable. I'd realized that the distinguished suitcase standing all packed at Mrs. Watkins' wasn't going to do me any good here.

But now I was really taking it stage in style. I'd spent the whole morning at the tailor's. Fanny Watkins would have no reason to think that my presence was dishonoring these hallowed walls. As for the luggage, it was a knock-out.

When the manager got through opening the venetian blinds and putting finishing touches to the apartment, he declined to speak.

I trust everything is satisfactory, Mr. Kabateck. If there is anything else you wish, please let me know.

"Hello, Gieger." "Hello, Gieger." "Can I talk to Virgil?" "He's out of town." "What'd you mean he's out of town?" "I saw him only yesterday." "He flew to Chicago this morning. He'll be gone for two or three days." "Well..." "I didn't know what to make of it."

"No, I said. I only wanted to give him my new address and phone number." "Have you moved, Leo?" "Another of her fool questions. No, I hadn't moved. I only had a new address and a new phone number." "Sure I've moved, Gieger. I'm at the Columbus Towers." "That must have knocked her for a loop." "The what?" she said. "The Columbus Towers." I repeated. "You know, Christopher Columbus, the guy who discovered this country." "I was giving her a history lesson."

"Sure I know, Leo. But what's happened?" It looked as if Boggio hadn't done much talking since our agreement. "Don't you know that Virgil has at last recognized my talents? We made a deal yesterday. I'm in the augh." "She let out a little squeal." "But that's wonderful, Leo! It calls for a celebration. I'm coming over." "Now listen, Gieger. I've been here exactly five minutes. I haven't even unpacked, or anything. I can't have a house warming right away." "Why not? You don't have to be so formal with me. I only want to wish you good luck and help you straighten things out." "Like hell, she did. What she wanted was to see the place. Maybe it had an even better reputation than I thought. Boggio never told me anything about it. He didn't feel at ease in them." "All right," I said, after a moment. "If you insist. Come over in a couple of hours." "See you later," she said happily. "Yes," I said. "See you later." Then I hung up. (To Be Continued)

Nurses Boost GI Fighter Morale

By DEAN SCHEDLER

AN EVACUATION HOSPITAL, LEYTE, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Smiles illuminated the faces of dirty, battle-tired Yanks today as American women nurses gave the wounded men Leyte their first feminine care.

The American girls went on duty in the wards and operating rooms less than two hours after their ship arrived. Hospital corpsmen, who had been on the nursing job around the clock, slipped away for some long-needed sleep.

An old Catholic church serves as the hospital. Bitter fighting raged in and around the churchyard while the nurses, oblivious of battle, attended the wounded.

One of the nurses is a survivor of Bataan and Corregidor. She is Capt. Catherine Acorn, of Belmont, Mass. She was among the last group of nurses to leave Corregidor on April 29, 1942, a few days before it fell to the Japanese.

"This is a real red letter day for the girls who have the honor of being the first back to the islands," said Capt. Acorn, "and it is one of

VOTE FOR DEWEY

The only way to defeat Roosevelt in this election is to vote for electors other than those nominated by the Democratic party. If the vote against Roosevelt is split between the other five tickets, Roosevelt is sure to capture Texas' electoral vote. If the anti-Roosevelt vote is more or less evenly split between the Republicans and the Texas Regulars, then Roosevelt will get the Texas electoral vote. So far as we are concerned there are just two men running—Roosevelt and Dewey. They are the only ones who have any chance to be elected. If we wanted Roosevelt elected we would vote for any set of electors except the Republicans. If we wanted Roosevelt defeated we would not vote for any set of electors except the Republicans.

Amarillo Passes Way to 13-0 Victory Over Harvesters

Coffey Men Outplay Sandies Last Half, But Fail to Cross Goal Line

Amarillo's Golden Sandies won that annual classic of the Panhandle football season by defeating the Pampa Harvesters 13 to 0 on Butler Field at Amarillo Saturday afternoon.

The story of the game is told tersely in a look at the statistics which show that Amarillo gained 101 yards by passing against Pampa's nothing and 138 yards rushing against Pampa's 131.

The Harvesters had the Sandies pretty even on the ground, but when it came to the aerial attack Amarillo tall ends made Pampa little backs look like the Eighth airforce against the Luftwaffe.

The Sandies had it in the air. Pampa didn't. The Harvesters played a bang-up game at times but went haywire on other occasions by fumbling. Fumbling and a bad pass behind the line of scrimmage set up both of the Amarillo touchdowns.

Of course, that all goes with the breaks of the game. Amarillo fumbled, too. But the Sandies' fumbles seemed to be timed when they were not at crucial moments.

The Sandies scored both of their touchdowns in the second quarter. The first touchdown came after John Bob Watts, Sandie co-captain, received a fumble on Pampa's 23 yard-line. On the third down Mixon dropped back and pegged one through the air to Bauman. On the next play Bauman started out to lateral, checked his blind and decided to run it himself. He made a good decision and crossed the line for the touchdown. Miller converted for the extra point, making the score Amarillo 7, Pampa 0.

Amarillo's second touchdown came with less than two minutes left in the second period. Following another fumble by McCracken, recovered by the Sandies, Beauford Hill who had gone in for Charles Houston at end took a pass of six first downs while Amarillo was able to make only two. Coach Lynch, of the Sandies, had no comment to make except to say "We have won another ball game."

Johnny Campbell, Pampa's 127-pounder had a busy day, but he wasn't quite tall enough to break up those Amarillo passes. There really were no individual stars for the Harvesters. They all played good ball and that goes for McCracken, Clay, Grantham in the backfield and their supporters in the line.

The Harvesters have not given up by any means in the conference championship race. Anything can happen and Pampa will play their remaining conference games in that spirit. It is their belief that it is quite possible Amarillo may be upset by Lubbock, Plainview or Brownfield.

The Harvesters won the championship last year after many thought Amarillo had it sewed up. Pampa is still in the district championship race, and Coach Coffey said last night that Pampa fans can figure on the Harvesters being out there scrapping against the strong Lubbock team which plays here next Saturday afternoon.

"The season isn't over," Coffey said last night, "and we will be in there fighting to the end of the season."

Nearly 2,000 Pampa fans were at Saturday's game rooting for the Harvesters. The Pampa band, under direction of Ray Robbins, gave football fans some fine band drilling and music between the halves with his excellently-trained Harvester band.

The lineups and summary: PAM HARVESTERS: Bauman, Allen, Winborne, Dunham, Creel, McCracken, Clay, Grantham, Campbell. PAM: Russell, Tomberlin, Houston, Collins, Essary, Storch, Watts, Miller, Miller, Braxton.

AMARILLO: Bauman, Allen, Winborne, Dunham, Creel, McCracken, Clay, Grantham, Campbell. AMARILLO-GIL: Hill, Polk, Murr, Jewett, and Braxton.

The last half was a nip and tuck affair with the teams sea-sawing up and down the field and Pampa threatening to score more often than Amarillo.

The Harvesters showed their best stuff in the last half. Summing up, it probably could be said safely that it was just too much Amarillo weight. The Harvesters did extremely well against such heavy poindage.

Coach Howard Lynch has a crackerjack high school football team. There is no denying that. The Sandies rightfully deserve their fourth place rating among Texas high school football teams.

By virtue of their victory over the Harvesters Saturday afternoon, the Sandies kept clean their record of no Pampa wins on Butler Field.

Coach Coffey late last night said it was just too much aerial warfare from tall ball passers and receivers.

"The Sandies had a wonderful ball club," Coffey said. "There's no getting around that." Pampa, as a result, played their best in the final half. Pampa was unable to make a first down in the first half while Amarillo was making six. But in the last half Pampa made all of her and 299 yards net rushing against Rice's touchdown, on a pass, was scored against a club composed largely of subs. When Morgan had his first stringers on the field the Owls couldn't move.

Schlinkman, built like a young tank, and the only junior on a club made up otherwise of freshmen and sophomores, accomplished the following: Gained 88 yards in 14 carries. Scored both Tech touchdowns. Played an inspired game on defense.

Big Upsets Mark Day of Football Throughout U. S.

BY JACK HAND NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Navy's potential power finally exploded in all its might today to crush Notre Dame's previously unbeaten and untied Irishmen under a five-touchdown wave in the No. 1 game of a day marked by a wave of upsets.

Army, Ohio state, Randolph field, Mississippi state, Wake Forest, Norman navy and Yale managed to protect unmarred records but Georgia Tech, Michigan state, Oklahoma Aggies, Alabama and Iowa state were among those to taste their first bitter dose of defeat.

Superior power up front made Navy's machine click 32-13 while the Irish, after missing an early chance, were smothered at every turn on offense until they took to the air in desperation in the second half.

Clyde Scott, Middle fullback, from Smeckover, Ark., scored two of the touchdowns and was a demon on defense but line play told the story for 67,000 fans.

Arkansas Knocks Texas A&M Out Of Championship Race

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Steve Light first fumbled, then stabbed through the air for a third-period touchdown and a 7-6 victory over fumbling Texas A & M today to storm from the Southwest conference cellar and shove the Cadets out of the championship race, before 6,000.

The alert Razorbacks capitalized on every break and it was a deflected pass by Argie Hub Ellis that gave the Glanis of the Ozarks their scoring chance.

The Cadets took a six-point lead in the first period. After recovering an Arkansas fumble on the Parker 31, but that was the only costly mistake the methodical visitors committed.

Arkansas wasn't making much headway with a running game and it had begun to appear the game would end 6-6. Then, Bobby Geff, whose booming punts featured Aggie play for the day, had quick-kicked to Louis Bayne with the latter skittering back to the Arkansas 45.

Gordon Long pitched a pass into the flat and the eager Ellis jumped at the ball, barely tipping it. Alton Baldwin grabbed the ball out of the air and waded to the Aggie 29. Then Long ran back, took careful aim and let fly to Mike Schmuckly, giant Arkansas end, who gathered in the ball in the end zone for a touchdown. Jim Young, hefty tackle, sent the pigskin through the goal posts and Arkansas had won its first game since A & M in seven years and also had scored on the Aggies for the first time in six.

The victory kept Arkansas clinging to a faint hope of capturing the conference championship. The Porks now have won one, tied one and lost one.

Early in the first period an exchange of points ended with Arkansas in possession on its 31. Mason Matthews crashed left tackle for four and Jim Gaskin passed to Clarence Howell for 16. From the Arkansas 11, Mann Scott hit left tackle for two, Paul Yates got three at right end, then Scott piled over right guard for the touchdown.

Art Abraham's kick for the extra point hit the right goal post and the ball fell back.

The Aggies, as usual, outgained their opponent by 250 yards rushing and passing to 156 for Arkansas. The Cadets also led in first downs 12-6.

But the surprise of the game was the final aerial show flashed by Arkansas, which had come here noted for its running attack. The Porks made 109 yards in the air to 68 for A & M, which got 167 on the ground for 47 for Arkansas.

Texas Steers Overpower SMU For 34-7 Win

By WILLIAM E. KEYS AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 4.—(AP)—The University of Texas Steers spotted the Mustangs of Southern Methodist university one touchdown and then came back from behind to overpower their Southwest conference opponent, 34 to 7, today before 13,000 spectators.

The victory was sparked by the Steers' ace passer, injured Bobby Hayes, who entered the game at crucial moments.

The Mustangs struck quickly in the first period, casting in on a Texas baner by End Charley Tatom who touched a punted ball inside the SMU 10-yard line which awarded the Mustangs the ball on their own 20. From there an 86-yard drive netted them a score by End Bob Folsom. Johnny Powers converted.

The Steers outgained the Methodists on the ground 128 yards to eight. In the passing department both teams shone, Texas completing 14 for 115 yards and the Fokies making 11 for 70 on 16 completions. The difference was that Texas' aerial thrusts succeeded when they first to go. In addition, Texas intercepted seven Mustang aerials.

The Steers' defensive pickup began to play off early in the second period when Back Tom Milk grabbed a Pony pass on the Pony 35. Layne, who had been warming on the bench because of a knee injury, went in at this point and flung a long pass to End Hubert who powered his way across the goal. Layne converted.

Before the period ended Texas iced the game with another marker, taking a Pony punt on the SMU field where Lenny Andersen knifed the line for a first on the 23. A pass, Layne to Tatom, moved the ball to the nine. Layne formed to the two and plunged over in the next try. He also converted.

The second half was mostly Texas all the way.

The Mustangs were set back to their own nine on an official yardage. The kickoff traveled only to the 36. Layne came back in and tossed passes to Bechtol and Watson and contributed a run himself which carried to the three from where Maxie Bell went over. Ray Mayfield's conversion attempt was good.

Forty minutes later the Steers had another score after Andersen intercepted a Pony pass and raced to the SMU 35. From there Bell passed to Bechtol for a touchdown. Bell converted to Evans for the extra point.

Texas fifth marker came in the final period as Buddy McKinney, Texas, substitute center, gathered in a Mustang pass on the SMU 30 and ran for a touchdown. Billy Andrews' placement kick was good.

Southern California Beats Favored Navy 11 from San Diego

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—(AP)—An embattled Southern California eleven rose to its greatest heights today to outscore the favored San Diego naval training station Blue Jackets, 28 to 21.

The game was packed with sensational plays. The greatest was a 103-yard dash to a touchdown from a kickoff in the third period by the Sailors' Gus (Goose) White fast-stepping halfback from Lamesa, Texas, who uses to perform his football chores at Texas A & M.

Amendment To Constitution Is Explained

Attorney S. D. Stents explains in the following paragraphs the merit of a proposed amendment to the state constitution.

In the election this year the voters will vote for or against an amendment to Section 9 of Article 8 of the constitution.

This article, at the present time, places a limit of 80 cents on the amount that may be levied for county purposes (exclusive of interest and sinking fund on bonds). Under the present constitution, 25 cents of this 80 cents is the maximum amount that can be levied for the general fund. The amendment fixes it so that the voters of every county, in an election held in the county for that purpose, may authorize the county commissioners to put more than 25 cents of the 80 cents levy for the benefit of the general fund, but in the event they do, they still can not exceed the 80 cents levy for all county purposes as above mentioned. County Commissioners may not do this unless authorized by an election in Gray county to do so. Every county in Texas will have the same privilege. This makes it really local self government. If we find it undesirable in Gray county, we can by election, any time, revoke the authority.

Usually the general fund demands more than 25 cents levy and heretofore, if the county had to have more money in the general fund, the only way to accomplish that would be to raise the valuations so that a 25 cent levy could produce the money. The state levy is usually around 77 cents, so when we raise the valuations to get an extra 31 more for the county under the 25 cent levy the result is that we have to send $3 more to the state.

In the post war period, it is my judgment that the valuations upon the general fund are going to be greater than they have ever been. Our oil and gas are being gradually drained. There is less here every year than there was the year before, and if present county valuations have to be kept up, or even increased, in order to take care of the general fund, you can readily see that the taxes on all of our other properties are going to be greatly increased because other valuations will have to be raised to take care of the diminishing oil valuation.

It would always be in the power of the people of Gray county, every year, to go back to the old plan if this does not work out satisfactorily.

Therefore, it seems to me that the people of Gray county are interested in voting for this amendment. It is the last one appearing on the ballot and is right at the bottom of the ballot. You can vote for it by drawing a line through the word "against."

This is the first time that the constitution has placed so much power in the hands of the people of the different counties to control the operation of the general fund of their county. It may be that you do not think that Gray county ought to follow this plan. If so, you will still have an opportunity to vote against it. Other counties may want to follow the plan but they will be unable to do so unless the majority of the people vote for it.

It appeals to me as being a desirable amendment.

DEWEY

prevent future wars.

"To direct all government policies in the peacetime years ahead to achieving jobs and opportunity for every American."

"We shall restore honesty and integrity to our national government."

"We shall put an end to one-man rule."

"We shall unite our people in teamwork and harmony behind a President and Congress that can and will work together to realize the limitless promise of America."

He said these objectives could never be obtained "under the tired and quarrelsome administration that has been in office for 12 long years" but only by "a new, vigorous administration that comes fresh from the people."

There is all over the country the people are saying it's time for a change," Dewey said.

Asserting that "as recently as September 1, Gen. Eisenhower resigned his earlier prophecy that Germany could be beaten in 1944 if everyone at home would do his part," the GOP nominee continued:

"Yet last Thursday Mr. Roosevelt declared to tell us that the war still had a long way to go.

"What has happened, in two months to cancel Gen. Eisenhower's prediction? A month has not told us the whole story, but part of it we know."

Dewey then criticized the President for taking Morgenthau to Quebec instead of the secretary of state or secretary of war.

In the final major address of his fourth-term campaign, to a crowd assembled in Fenway Park, Mr. Roosevelt declared that never since 1928 "have there been so many attempts to stimulate in America racial or religious intolerance."

He pronounced the American people competent to judge a political party which he described as working "both sides of the street."

Speaking in the same city where Thomas E. Dewey appeared but three days ago, he said that "just the other day you people here in Boston witnessed an amazing demonstration of talking out of both sides of the mouth."

A republican candidate, he said, asserted here in Boston that "the communists are seizing control of the new deal through which they report to control the government of the United States."

On the same day in Worcester, he said, the same candidate had declared a republican victory could end one-man government and remove the "threat of monarchy in the United States."

"Now, really, which is it—communism or monarchy?" he inquired.

"I do not think we could have both in this country, even if we wanted either—which we do not."

"We want neither communism nor monarchy. We want to live under our constitution—which has served pretty well for 135 years."

Mr. Roosevelt came to Boston at the end of a day of campaigning through Connecticut and Massachusetts with repeated predictions that he would be reelected. Bostonians gathered in a ball park heard him declare everyone knows he was reluctant to run again this year.

"But since the campaign has developed," he said, "I tell you frankly that I have become most anxious to win—for the reason that I never before in my lifetime has a campaign been filled with such misrepresentation, distortion and falsehood. Never since 1928 have there been so many attempts to stimulate in America racial or religious intolerance."

A candidate reveals a "shocking lack of trust in America," he said, "who declares there is danger the American government could be sold out to communists."

The chief executive's last big campaign address covered his past record, his health, his answers to some republican campaign arguments and an expression of his aims for a "clean, shining America" after the war.

REGENTS

all of whom he appointed or re-appointed—and a delineation of his standards and methods of arriving at decisions in the naming of members to boards of regents. Speaking of the board as a whole, he said he thought it was the strongest "in many, many years."

The governor, who faces an unprecedented task in rebuilding the board of regents in the face of announced resignations of three and reports that three others would resign, had before him three sets of qualifications: His own, a set suggested by the faculty, and those suggested by the ex-students council.

They coincided in many points. Stevenson said in naming regents he always sought persons of "ability and character" in handling the vast business affairs of the university—the greatest landowner in the state and land.

He said a regent must also have cultural and educational background and I believe the men I have named have also met this qualification.

The qualifications set forth by the ex-student council were that regents should be persons of "character, cultivated minds, open-mindedness, thoughtfulness, broadness of viewpoint, without prejudices, non-political in approach, capable of acting on the facts after deliberation and of reaching sound and objective conclusions, and deeply interested in building and maintaining in the University of Texas a university of the first class."

The faculty qualifications, stated in a resolution adopted yesterday, were that regents should be persons "qualified by ability, variety of interests and occupations, knowledge of university problems and breadth of view, to work with the faculty and administration in the development of a great university."

Stevenson had not heretofore publicly defended the board members. At his press conference, he also brought out these points in regard to his methods of naming regents. That he had not discussed with any of the regents he had appointed university policies, prior to their appointment.

That particularly he had not discussed Dr. Rainey with any of them.

He said that he has not yet accepted the resignation of Bickett, Weiner and Dan Harrison of Houston, nor received resignations from other members. Nor was he ready to say whether he would announce any appointments. He will continue to work with the faculty and ex-student committees.

The governor pointed to a stack of letters and telegrams on the controversy, saying that while he had not made an accurate count, his judgment was that about 80 per cent of them favored Rainey and 40 per cent upheld the regents in discharging him. He said they came from "pretty well scattered" points in the state.

For the third consecutive day at the university, only a few civilian students attended classes. Dr. T. S. Painter, who yesterday accepted the regents' appointment as acting president in a statement that also disapproved the regents' action, assumed his duties. "Virtually everyone connected with the university, including the ex-students' council, found time to attend the Texas-Southern Methodist football game. Members of the council who attended the meeting today were: H. C. Pipkin of Amarillo, W. H. Francis of Dallas, Robert Lee Bobbitt of San Antonio, Dr. E. W. Bertner of Houston, Fred W. Adams of Austin, Dr. A. M. McAfee of Port Arthur, W. W. Hawkins of El Paso, Adrian Moore of Houston, L. H. Cullum of Wichita Falls, B. D. Tarlton of Corpus Christi, Hand R. F. Helland of San Antonio, C. J. Cartwright of Waco, L. V. Stockard of Dallas, Walter S. Pope of Abilene.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Phi Beta Kappa today interested itself in affairs at the University of Texas.

Hiram Hayden, executive secretary of the honorary scholastic fraternity, said the society's committee on qualifications was being instructed "to investigate immediately conditions at the University of Texas."

He said the following telegram was dispatched to the Texas regents: "The senate of the united chapters of Phi Beta Kappa would deplore in colleges holding or applying for chapters of Phi Beta Kappa discriminations affecting the faculties or student bodies in search of free inquiry and teaching."

Consequently the executive committee is instructing the committee on qualifications to investigate immediately conditions at the University of Texas as affecting a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

Previously, the American Association of University Professors had deplored the dismissal of Dr. Homer P. Rainey as president of the university, and Dr. Frank P. Graham, president of the University of North Carolina and public member of the war labor board, termed the action an "outrage." He called for an aroused public opinion to demand reinstatement of Dr. Rainey.

The faculty qualifications, stated in a resolution adopted yesterday, were that regents should be persons "qualified by ability, variety of interests and occupations, knowledge of university problems and breadth of view, to work with the faculty and administration in the development of a great university."

Stevenson had not heretofore publicly defended the board members. At his press conference, he also brought out these points in regard to his methods of naming regents. That he had not discussed with any of the regents he had appointed university policies, prior to their appointment.

"Another Japanese column struck within 10 miles southwest of Kweilin and 90 miles northeast of Lungkuang. The latter is now the chief railway center in Yunnan. An American airbase is located there. In northwestern Burma the Japanese retreated to the south and east and continued as British Indian troops took strong Nippon defense positions on Fort White road in the Tiddim sector.

On the Chinese side of the Burma frontier line, where the prize of war is the vital Burma road, the Japanese fled over mountain trails after losing Lungkuang city.

Possibility of total Japanese withdrawal from Burma was posed by Preston Grover, Associated Press war correspondent in Asia.

During the past spring and summer the Japanese in North Burma were estimated to have lost around 100,000 fighting men killed. They lost other thousands in China's Yunnan province near the Burma border.

362,733 paid poll taxes, to be 1,507,143.

The comptroller's figure of exemption is based on an estimate and no breakdown is available in his office on how many of those exempt from the poll tax fall within the groups affected by the opinion. The opinion was written by Fagan Dickson, assistant attorney general, and approved by Sellers.

In Texas, an opinion of the attorney general's department does not have the effect of law, but is sought by department heads for their guidance on legal questions. Gov. Stevenson could not be reached for comment.

"I am receiving many inquiries from soldiers and those interested in members of the armed services as to what the status of a soldier is who has returned from foreign service with reference to his rights in the ensuing general election," the governor said.

He referred to Article 2959, providing that a poll tax shall be paid by every person between the ages of 21 and 60, except "Indians not taxed, persons insane, blind, deaf or dumb, those who have lost a hand or foot, those permanently disabled, and all disabled veterans of foreign wars, where such disability is 40 per cent or more."

"Many soldiers have suffered the loss of a hand or foot or become disabled to the extent of 40 per cent or more, since the date when certificate of exemption could be obtained," the governor wrote.

"Can such disabled veteran vote in the November election? If they can vote, what certificate of disability is necessary, if any, in order to entitle such person to vote? The opinion replied "no" to the first question, saying that the negative answer also disposed of the second.

Father's Night Is Held by P.T.A. at Sam Houston School

Father's night was celebrated at Sam Houston school Thursday evening when a special program was held honoring fathers of Sam Houston pupils. Aaron Meek, school principal, was in charge of the program and Arthur Teed gave the devotional.

Usefulness of Education was the topic discussed by W. B. Weatherford, former county school superintendent. After the address, Sam Houston choral club members presented four selections under the direction of Mrs. Roy Sullivan, school music teacher.

As a special feature Mrs. Walter Nelson and Miss Evelyn Thoma gave violin selections accompanied at the piano by Miss Elizabeth Sewell.

A social hour followed the program when coffee and doughnuts was served in the school cafeteria. Mrs. C. Tressie and her committee.

Girl Scouts

A regular monthly meeting of the executive board of the Girl Scout association of Pampa was held on Friday, with eight members present with Mrs. W. S. Dixon, president, in charge.

Since the association has only three meetings a year and the next meeting is the annual one in January, it was decided to hold the April, 1944, meeting at Camp Sullivan.

Halloween was properly celebrated last Tuesday night when Mrs. N. L. Nichol, entertained in the little scout house.

Everyone experienced cold chills and "weak-knees" when upon entering they were led through the "spook room," after which they were taken into the dining room where the table had been decorated by troop members. Gay orange and black crepe paper covered the table with a real pumpkin centerpiece.

Individual place favors had also been prepared by the troop members. During the evening games were played and a prize given for the "spookiest costume."

The girls who planned and executed the party were: Elise Hobbs, Paula Davis, Jan Sanders, Nancy Patterson, Patsy Abernathy, Joan Chervenka, Edwina Beauchamp, Charlie Marie Cash, Betty Lou Howard, Elaine Ellis, Janet Walters, Dolores Miller, Peggy Joyce Fletcher, Joyce Stiversen, Jane Hampton, Ann Sidwell and Ina Jo Hawthorne.

Mrs. George Roth, leader of Girl Scout Troop No. 18, entertained her troop members with a Halloween party last Tuesday evening in her home on 1207 Charles street.

Games and hobnobbing, with prizes for the winners, were enjoyed by the 16 troop members present, as was the delicious refreshment course of cake and ice cream.

Girl scouts in Troop 10 with Mrs. Luke McClellan as leader met at their regular meeting time in the basement of the Presbyterian church for a Halloween get-together.

Skating was enjoyed by all the girls, after which a refreshment course of coffee and cookies was served to the 18 members present.

As Girl Scout Week ends let us stop and consider that on July 31, our current girl scout membership topped the million mark by 6,944! Let us all cooperate and go on until we have given every girl in America the opportunity to be a girl scout. We owe this to the youth of our country.

Tunic Dresses, Tiered Flounces and Wrap-Arounds Are New Fashions

"Tunic" dresses, wrap-arounds and tiered flounces are back in fashion news again. Telling also what to wear at the informal or semi-formal wedding, now in best taste, Marian Corey writes in McCall's:

"In these times, the semi-formal and informal weddings are the ones in best taste. A correctly semi-formal dress differs from the formal gown in the matter of train and veil—a mere four inches of fabric sweeps the carpet at back, and the veil is short, too. Its fabrics are white satin, velvet, brocade, faille, and lace. If white is unbecoming, use off shades—ivory, faint pink, ice blue. Something new and something blue for the white gown is a blue veil, and brides with blue eyes dot on it. It is made of two layers of tulle, a white inner one, a pale blue outer one. For jewelry wear only a single strand of pearls. Claves? Optional. Bouquet? Not elaborate.

Famous Bass Baritone To Appear In Concert Here Monday Evening

Alexander Kipnis, the Russian-American bass baritone and leading singer of the Metropolitan Opera company, will be heard in concert here tomorrow night at 8:30 at Junior High auditorium.

Among other honors, the undisputed title of foremost singer of Russian folk-songs. Since the death of the great Feodor Chaliapin no one has challenged Kipnis' supremacy in capturing the unique feeling and flavor of these songs.

Kipnis has been an American citizen for the past ten years, but he still feels there is too much of the Russian temperament in him to judge and sing American folk-songs. "A folk-song is such a national thing," he points out, "that a person who has not grown up in a country should not attempt to meddle with its folk music."

Continuing on this subject, "Some composers have created folk-songs while others have taken folk music and worked it into symphonies and operas. For example, Franz Schubert composed an art song called 'The Linden Tree,' but for one hundred years now it has been as much a part of German civilization and culture as Stephen Foster's 'Old Kentucky Home' has been in America. That is one side, on the other hand, over ninety per cent of Moussorgsky's 'Boris Godunoff' had its origin in folk tunes. Similarly, the familiar 'Andante Cantabile' by Tchaikovsky was taken from a song the composer heard a carpenter singing as Tchaikovsky said, 'The people compose; we only arrange.'" Kipnis has recorded "The Linden Tree" for Columbia, and an album of Russian folk-songs for Victor, as well as Gretchaninoff's "The Captive," a song with much Russian feeling, for the same company.

All women of the First Christian church will be entertained at a tea to be given by the Women's Society of Christian Service at the Fellowship hall.

The tea will be held at 2:30 and a special program has been planned. All women of the church are invited to attend.

V Notes RED CROSS VOLUNTEERS

Among the activities of the American Red Cross, through the International Committee of the Red Cross, with respect to prisoners of war, are optical, dental, and orthopedic services.

In all European prisoner of war camps, the Detaining Power provides eye examination service. The prescriptions written by the camp optometrist are sent to the Mixed Committee of the Red Cross and the League of Red Cross Societies in Geneva where a large pool of glasses has been established for filling these prescriptions. Should the pool be unable to fill a special prescription for an American prisoner of war, the Geneva representative of the American Red Cross has instructions to procure the glasses and send them to the prisoner.

While the Detaining Power is supposed to provide all medical and surgical supplies needed for the treatment of prisoners of war, recent reports have indicated a shortage of certain drugs, bandages, and surgical instruments in some German camps. In order that American prisoners of war might not suffer from lack of these, the American Red Cross has sent medical and surgical supplies valued at more than $100,000 to the International Committee for distribution as needed in hospitals where Americans are being treated. Should special medicines be required, the American Red Cross representative at Geneva has blanket authority to purchase them in Switzerland if possible. In addition standard medical kits are provided for first aid use in all camps where Americans are held.

Each camp usually has its own dentist. This dentist may be a German or an American, or another allied dentist who is a prisoner of war. Here, too, shortages have been reported, and the American Red Cross has shipped dental supplies valued at approximately $12,000 to the International Committee for distribution wherever needed. If special dental treatment is needed by an American prisoner of war, it is paid for out of a revolving fund established by the American Red Cross with its representative at Geneva.

While prisoners who have lost a limb are given temporary replacements by their captors, both the British Red Cross Society and the American Red Cross are interested in providing their respective nationals with the best permanent mechanical limbs as soon as possible. To accomplish this, arrangements have been made through the International Committee for a Swiss Orthopedic Mission to visit all camps and measure British and American prisoners of war for artificial limbs. These artificial limbs, which are manufactured in Switzerland at the expense of the American Red Cross in the case of American prisoners, are then taken to the camps by the Orthopedic Mission for fitting.

Plans are under way for offering nutrition courses to the women of Pampa. Miss Clara Brown, chairman of nutrition, announced today. These courses are designed to make every homemaker nutrition conscious. By means of the knowledge gained from such instruction, wives and mothers can build family strength and health through proper food selection, preparation, and menu planning.

Among the topics covered in the Red Cross nutrition courses are guides for wise use of ration points, economical means of preparing healthful meals, preparation of box lunches for school children and working people, and the necessity for balanced diets.

All the comfort kits are now in the hands of production workers, according to Mrs. R. J. Epps, chairman of production. It is hoped that the kits will be checked in as soon as possible, in order that shipment can be made by the end of this week.

About 30 pairs of hospital scrubs, or nites, remain to be made. Type has arrived, and the scrubs are cut out, ready for the sewing machine. Material in these scrubs is a medium weight duck, not difficult to stitch such as was the material formerly used.

Memberships in the American Junior Red Cross, the world's largest organization, has reached a new high of 18,466,240, approximately 70% of the nation's school enrollment.

American Junior Red Cross members have produced more than 25 million comfort and recreational articles for servicemen in camps and hospitals since Pearl Harbor.

More than 200,000 gift boxes are being packed this year by members of the American Junior Red Cross for shipment to children in foreign lands.

Mrs. C. P. Buckler, chairman of Surgical Dressings, says that the new material for surgical dressings has arrived. This material will have to be cut into surgical dressings. Mrs. Buckler urges that all workers be surgical dressings starting Monday morning. New workers are urged to be present also.

Training for postwar citizenship through service now is an important part of the Junior Red Cross program in Pampa schools. H. A. Yoder, Junior Red Cross chairman, states:

minus the veil. Instead she has a hat, and she either carries a small bouquet or wears a corsage. Also she may be married in a daytime-length dress, or her going-away suit, with attendants dressed to match.

"Two-piece, or 'tunic' dresses are the season's big numbers. There are scores of them. In one, the top has a scalloped edge, and buttons at back. Skirts are really getting slim.

"Buttons on the skirt need not mean that the dress fastens there. The buttons are for a one-sided effect on a dress that is quite symmetrical in construction. Look you will see a full-length pleat down either side. One-sided buttoned dresses look new, and are new.

"The wrap-around is back in fashion. It is one sure way of obtaining a narrow skirt without sacrificing ease or comfort. Also the fit of the waistline is then a simple matter.

"High necklines are important again, and one new rayon jersey dress has a pretty one with triangular air holes. There is fullness between these openings and more fullness just south of it, but otherwise the dress is trim and slim. Low necks continue important, too. The best V-neck is one which rises at the sides and back, resulting in a very long, slim, narrow V.

"Half a peplum is better than none—much better. One new dress has a doubled, gathered peplum across the front only; its tiny sleeve is made of doubled material also; this means that there is no hem on peplum sleeve.

"Something so old that it is new—three ruffled flounces arranged in tiers—quite a pleasant change from the usual drapery ideas for formal wear.

"There's a new long sleeve, at long last! The cuff is open and faced, and finished with a band and a bow. The kind of thing that makes hands look smaller.

"Plaid taffetas are being used for scarfs and for blouses. One combines with a wool skirt for a most effective two-piece dress."

We, the Women

By RUTH MILLETT

War wives don't ask or expect to be handled with kid gloves—but they do wish the women who are fortunate enough to still have their husbands around the house, instead of overseas, would not be tactless enough to make any of the following remarks:

"I know exactly how you feel!" to a wife worrying about her husband at the front. Only another war wife or mother of a son at the front knows exactly how she feels, and it is presumptuous for anyone else to make the statement.

"Oh, he's probably all right," said airily to the wife who is worrying because it has been weeks since she has heard from her husband.

"Well, we can't expect to win a war without losing a lot of men." Nobody with a loved one on a fighting front appreciates that kind of matter-of-factness from women whose men are still at home.

"Adjustment is hard." "Comments like that make war wives feel that they aren't understood or appreciated. Because no one who even faintly understands the problems and worries of a war wife would make any of those cracks. And yet many women untouched by the war—except for going without nylon stockings, and do make such remarks every day.

Edgar Kobak, Noted Radio Man, Is Appointed President of Mutual

The appointment of Edgar Kobak as president, effective November 20, was announced yesterday by the board of directors of the Mutual Broadcasting System, which serves KFDN, Pampa.

He was formerly executive vice president of the Blue network and before that vice president of the National Broadcasting Company and played an important part in their development. His career started as a member of the electrical engineering department of the Georgia Railway and Power company of Atlanta, following his studies at Georgia Tech.

After five years with the utility company he spent 18 years with the McGraw-Hill Publishing Co. in the circulation, editorial and advertising departments. Later he became publisher of electrical and radio publications, as well as a director and vice president in charge of sales of all McGraw-Hill publications.

casting service better and build the industry. The listener is my boss. I want to be a good servant. Our immediate job is to help win the war."

In making the announcement, the Mutual board stated, "As Mutual enters its second decade we feel particularly fortunate in securing Edgar Kobak to help us carry out plans to improve our service to the American people. Fine strides have been made by our network under the leadership of recently resigned President Miller McClintock. It is our intention to build the finest broadcasting system, to become the leader in all phases of service, to live up to the responsibility that is ours under the American system of broadcasting. We plan to develop all future services made available through the progress of the electronic art such as FM-Television and Pacemile. We feel that under the direction of our new president who has had broad experience in the field of publication, advertising and broadcasting, we will achieve the high goal that we have set for ourselves. We begin this new decade with renewed vigor and confidence. Mutual plans to enlarge its organization and will put particular emphasis on programming, determined to supply the listening public with the finest diversified program schedule ingenuity and money can produce. We want to make freedom to listen worth while."

Dragon Seed, New MGM Film, LaNora Today Tops Good Earth

Greater than "The Good Earth" That's the only way to describe "Dragon Seed," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer filmization of this other literary landmark by Pearl Buck, who knows China and the Chinese people the way few other Americans do.

Here is the powerful, memorable story of the valiant Chinese in their struggle against the bestial Japanese militarist invaders. Here is the heart and soul of a nation transcribed to the scene in a truly epic opening at the LaNora theatre today to run through Wednesday.

M-G-M has spared nothing to make this one of the most magnificent pieces of film entertainment ever produced. Merely to say in print that the cast is headed by such an imposing array of superb entertainers as Katharine Hepburn, Walter Huston, Aline MacMahon, Akim Tamiroff, Turhan Bey and many many other outstanding performers cannot possibly convey the broad scope and strength of "Dragon Seed."

It is the moving story of Ling Tan (Walter Huston) and his family, who work their peaceful rice fields. The time is 1937. Suddenly the peace is shattered; the Japanese marauders are upon the peasant, fertile valley.

Miss Hepburn and Turhan Bey, the sensational young newcomers, who share the gliding romantic roles, both are their superb best, as are Huston and all the others, including Hurd Hatfield, another new arrival who capture your heart and your imagination; J. Carroll Naish, Frances Rafferty, Agnes Moorehead and Henry Travers. "Dragon Seed" has been masterfully directed by Jack Conway and Harold S. Bucquet, and produced by Pandro S. Berman. It takes its place with the great films of all time. Of that there can be no doubt.

At The Rex Against the background of a modern Western ranch, Republic has filmed the gay, lighthearted, "San Fernando Valley," the newest Roy Rogers starring film which comes to the Rex theatre today to run through Tuesday.

In the new picture which combines comedy, music and action, Rogers has been surrounded by an important cast which includes lovely Dale Evans, singer and actress, petite Jean Porter, Bob Nolan and the Sons of the Pioneers, Andrew Tombes, Edward Gargan, Charles Smith, Dot Farley, Pierce Condon, Leroy Mason, and six of Hollywood's prettiest starlets, Maxine Doyle, Helen Talbot, Mary Kenyon, Pat Starling, Gay Forester and Marquette Blain.

The picture features a half dozen new songs and the title number sung as a duet by Rogers and Miss Evans.

Spectacular dance production numbers were directed by Larry Ceballos and several novelty acts including a roller skating trio and a comedy Spanish dance team are introduced.

Rogers, in search of two cowboys who have robbed him, and looking for a girl he met at a Pioneer Day celebration in a small town, arrives at the ranch to find the male range riders have been replaced by pretty cowgirls in an effort to curb the local romantic crushes of the rancher's granddaughter.

Rogers with his pal Keno, (Edward Gargan) stays on at the ranch to capture some horse thieves, recover his money and reestablish the cowboys in their jobs.

John English directed the film from an original screenplay by Dorrell and Stuart McGowan. Eddy White was associate producer.

At The Crown Filmdom's most dramatic three-some are starred in Warner Bros.' exciting film "Manpower," which comes back to town today for a return engagement at the Crown, to run through tomorrow with a cast headed by the unbeatable three-star combination of Edward G. Robinson, Marlene Dietrich and George Raft.

With a good deal of power and ability, Robinson and Raft play a couple of robust linemen whose dangerous job it is to repair broken high tension wires. They're great pals, sharing each other's happiness and trouble, until a de-luscious blonde, played by alluring Marlene Dietrich, comes along. Hard, cold and calculating, she suspects Robinson of ulterior motives when he shows her with gifts and shows his affection in many ways. But Robinson is sincere. He has never before loved, and la Dietrich becomes his ideal.

Raft sees her for what she is and tells Robinson that she has gold-digger's blood in her veins and will bring him nothing but trouble. Raft goes still further. He asks Dietrich to drop Robinson. That sends her into a rage and she accepts Robinson's marriage proposal partly because she feels sorry for him and partly to spite the embittered Raft.

But a marriage built on spite and pity is bound to have disastrous results. Try as she may, Dietrich can't get used to Robinson's well-meaning but clumsy ways. And to make things worse, she falls head-over-heels for Raft!

Like any situation loaded with T.T.T. explodes into a high-powered climax.

Bindweed Control Is Studied in Gray Co.

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 4.—Bindweed has become a major problem in Gray county, with several thousand acres heavily infested, so several demonstrators now are testing methods of control under the supervision of Glenn T. Hackney, county agricultural agent for the A & M college extension service. Complete results will not be known until next year's growing season, but some success already is evident.

One entirely new method of control on extremely small patches is being used by Stanley Kretzmer who lives about five miles northwest of Pampa. He digs holes with a post hole digger and fills them with crude or burned lube oil. He is hoping for success in proportion to the labor involved.

Other farmers are using a new commercial weed killer, ammate, which is an ammonium sulfamate

"So Help Me God!"

By Ray Dudley, Editor The Oil Weekly

I stood in the blazing sun at Ellington Field, in Texas, last Monday and watched the cadets file by, fine manly chaps, watched them come into the hall in which they were to receive their wings as commissioned officers in the United States Army Air Force. My third and last boy, a lad of 19, was among them.

Two years ago his mother and I had seen a similar group file into the chapel at Ellington to receive their wings, and our second boy was among them. Today he and his elder brother, who had chosen Navy Air, are memories, precious memories, it is true, but boys to be remembered in hushed tones as boys who would be made men. Citizens, two boys whose memories will never be dimmed in the eyes of their father and mother. They, with thousands of others, have made the supreme sacrifice for America as they knew it and loved it.

Then Monday we heard again the solemn oaths to be taken by the cadets. "I do solemnly swear that I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign or domestic, that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion; and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office upon which I am about to enter: SO HELP ME GOD."

For a moment my thoughts drifted from the son whose burned body lies somewhere in France and from the other son who lies in native soil...

Our forefathers who wrote the Constitution knew that they were giving to future generations a document so precious that it would be worth the loss of American lives to preserve... and they knew that there would arise enemies to it, domestic as well as foreign.

Then my mind went back to a time nearly three years ago, when my first two boys volunteered, and the pledge I made them then:

"To the best of my meager ability I shall do all I can to defend against loss at home the institutions you boys have enlisted to uphold... and I shall do that without fear of sacrifice if it costs me everything I have, including my life: SO HELP ME GOD."

It was not necessary that I pledge them my fullest efforts to help prosecute the war... they could have expected no less of me as an American and a father.

The casualty lists over the country name thousands of parents whose boys have been lost and whose sons are as precious to them as mine were to me. I claim no distinction as the parent of boys who have died in the service. I can only claim to be among those to whom this war is a deadly serious thing, and I wish my claim to be listed among those who represent with every atom of their being the efforts which are being made by the Hillmans, the Browders, the Murrays and others, including our President, to nullify the sacrifices of thousands of American boys.

As I heard the oath to defend the Constitution repeated by the young men at Ellington, I could not but remember the remarks which have been made about it by Americans of foreign birth who would seek to destroy it... "a scrap of paper... an out-moded document... a bill of property rights rather than a bill of human rights." And these are the men who are asking that we trust our country to them.

The situation under which the Communist Front in America is trying to wield control over our country through the capture of one of our great political parties, is so preposterous as to be almost incredible. But make no mistake—the threat is a real one. That a Russian-born bogey, with all of the class hate of his native land, should aspire to control this country is so tantamount to what many cannot believe it. But it is true.

That he and his fellows have openly boasted that their organization, the CIO, is raising millions as a war chest to help keep Roosevelt in power, indicates a blatant confidence in their victory. That this money should be extracted from hundreds of thousands of members whose membership was forced on them, is a disgrace. That they get away with it is a shameful tribute to the close association they have with our Department of Justice.

Who was it who climbed the stairs, hat in hand, to Hillman's suite in a Chicago hotel to learn the wishes of the boss as to who would be Democratic candidate for the vice-presidency? It was our United States Department of Justice head—the man sworn to uphold our laws (including the Smith-Connally act which makes it a felony for a labor union, or a corporation, to contribute to a political party). Yes, it was Attorney General Biddle, and the man with him was the person who later was named by Hillman as the Democratic vice-presidential nominee, Harry Truman.

With Hillman and Browder and their ilk as arrogant as they are now, what will their attitude be if they succeed in re-electing Franklin D. Roosevelt? Where will their power end? What will happen to the rights guaranteed under our Constitution? If our interests should ultimately clash with those of Russia at what point will these men make up their minds as to where their first loyalty shall lie? If England's interests should clash with those of Russia, will our country's armed forces be thrown against a nation whose kinship to us derives from a common parent-hood?

This is a long way from the ceremony at Ellington last Monday. The field has widened until the lives of a large group of fine boys seem but a drop in a great ocean.

But it is not a long way from the pledge I made my boys.

Interpreting The War News By KIRK L. SIMPSON Associated Press War Analyst Caught in the 309-mile-long Scythian sweep of Russian armies across the plains of Hungary, Budapest was plainly marked on European war maps this November weekend as the almost certain scene of the next mortal blow to fall upon the shrunken Nazi inner citadel.

eastern corner of Czechoslovakia to the point where the Danube river flows across the Hungarian border into Yugoslavia, strongly implies that the coming siege of Budapest is merely an incident in the developing German campaign to Russian...

More bad news for the Germans came in a Moscow report of the first heavy snows of the winter on the front, presumably in the northeast.

On the western front and in Italy, weather conditions were hampering the allies. Despite rain-flooded streams and washed-out roadways, however, continuous pressure was being exerted all along both fronts giving the foe no rest anywhere, no chance to regroup his forces.

That was the prime strategic purpose indicated by General Alexander, allied over-all commander in Italy, in a weekend review of the inch-by-inch fighting to break into the Po valley. It seemed to be the purpose of American and French pressure against the many passes that lead from entrance to the upper Rhine.

Pinning down the enemy's thin-drawn forces in preparation for a major offensive, probably in the Dutch theater where greatest results could come most quickly from a break-through beyond the Rhine, seemed to be the main immediate mission of General Eisenhower's troops on the Moselle front and in the Vosges.

In certain parts of Norway snow may fall during any month of the year.

Make This Barcel Recipe To Lose Ungainly Fat

If you are overweight, perhaps due to over-indulgence in food and not due to any glandular disturbance, why not try this inexpensive home recipe to help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Here is a recipe that can be used inexpensively at home. Just get from your druggist 4 ozs. of liquid BARCEL CONCENTRATE. Add enough grapefruit juice to make a pint. Then just take 2 tablespoonsful twice a day. Wonderful results may be obtained quickly. Now you may slim down your figure and lose pounds of ugly fat without back breaking exercise or starvation diet. It's easy to make and easy to take and pleasant. Contains nothing harmful. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky weight and help regain slender, more graceful curves, return the empty bottle and get your money back.

A Woman Looks at the ELECTION

Dear Mr. and Mrs.:

Because you have a son in the war and because I have one, too, I feel I must write you about the things that worry and keep me awake nights. I, also, would like an expression from you.

Our boys in uniforms are doing the grandest job, and I am very proud of every one of them. Each day my idle moments are filled with prayers asking God to hasten their return to us. I am not worried about the job they are doing, but I am worried about what you and I are doing.

When Bill returns I don't want him to open the front door to see our home filled with confusion, corruption and disreputable people, accumulated since the day he left. Instead, I want it in order so if he needs rest he may have it, or if he wants to invite in friends, he may do that, too. I don't want him to feel ashamed or discouraged because I have neglected my home duties.

Of more importance, I want him to feel the same way about our government. Certainly, he must not feel that while he was winning the war, fighting Fascism and Naziism, we let Communism gain control at home. I ask you again, are we accepting our responsibility to these boys?

Here are four of the things that worry me most:

1. We are being told Mr. Roosevelt will win, that the ignorant and uninformed people will vote for him because they do not know what is going on in the government. If I can rear a boy good enough and bright enough to fight for his country, I feel that I am not ignorant. Do you feel that you are? I don't want ignorant people to control our elections.

2. England, in the war one and one half years longer than the United States, has a war debt of 50 billion dollars as compared to ours of 260 billion. Will our boys have this yoke of debt to be paying the rest of their lives, after fighting the war?

3. We were told that our boys would never have to fight on foreign soil; and were never told the truth about Pearl Harbor. We are told one day that our boys will come home after the war, and the next, that they will be kept in the army to solve unemployment. Why were 10 million pounds of scrap iron sold to Japan, when the Chinese, our Ambassador, Joseph Grew, and our own missionaries begged us not to, telling us that Japan was making bullets to fight our own boys? Why were three million barrels of oil shipped each month to Japan up until five months before they attacked us?

Why can't we be told the truth by our government about facts so vital to us? We are paying in money and lives.

4. The threatening thing that is most alarming is Communism. What is Communism, and how can it affect us in Texas?

Communism is a social organization composed usually of ignorant foreigners. The leaders, unscrupulous, selfish and dishonest men and women, use this organization to gain wealth and political power for themselves. They infiltrate themselves like a cancerous growth in government positions. When they have enough power and control, they will disregard the Constitution of the United States to further their own gains. They will do away with churches, suppress newspapers and radio, all the free agents we hold so dear which have played such a vital part in the development and progress of this country. They may demand any or all of each pay check; if we own a home they may make us share it with strangers. If we rent property, they may tell us how much we may ask for it and then compel us to turn the rent check over to them. Remember there is no law in the land to protect us, any more than there was in Germany and Italy to protect their people from Hitler and Mussolini.

Who are the heads of the Communist party in this country today? Sydney Hillman and Earl Browder. Earl Browder betrayed the United States in World War I. He is an ex-convict who was pardoned by President Roosevelt. Instead of showing his gratitude by donning a uniform in World War II, he is the dominating force in the Communist organization today.

Sydney Hillman, who was associate director general of O.P.A. and labor director of W.P.B. in Washington, but his men in key positions in the government before he went with P.A.C. From members of P.A.C. he has collected five million dollars to spend to keep the present administration in office. Why is it worth five million dollars to Mr. Hillman to keep Mr. Roosevelt in office? Why didn't he buy War Bonds with it, as we do, to hasten the return of our boys?

Why is Hillman so opposed to Dewey? Because as District Attorney and as Governor of New York, Mr. Dewey has fought Hillman and his corrupt practices.

When Mr. Dewey became Governor of New York, the state was 50 million dollars in debt. A debt that had been acquired before the depression, during the period Franklin D. Roosevelt was Governor of New York. Mr. Dewey has not only paid off in full that debt, but the state has accumulated 163 million dollars.

Mr. Dewey is honest, courageous, and with a vision of progress, he will take our returning boys by the hand and together they will develop America's future. Need we ask more of any man?

Won't you please help me to kill Hillman's and Browder's vote November 7?

Thank you, then, it is a date.

(Signed): A MOTHER.

how is your school spirit? Two definite schools of thought appear among the students and faculty members of Pampa High concerning school spirit. The prevalent opinion is this: The school spirit could be brought up to the standard which we attained last year.

A Blind Date? Open Your Eyes Looking for excitement, adventure and romance? Growing discontented? Searching for someone new? Any one? In other words and to state it in simple English, are you brave enough to risk blind date?

Council Makes Plans To Support Harvesters At a regular Tuesday meeting the Student Council made plans for the bon-fire held Friday.

Hectic Week Closes As Exams Finished Nine weeks exams ended Friday at 3:30 with moans, groans and falling grades.

glimpses of glamour By Wanda Jay

Way back in 1909 when the Harvesters were defeated by Miami 20-13, girls were just as "clothes conscious" as they are now.

Well, Saturday, November 4, 1944, it was a different story. The present "belle" of the game in a gale "Harvester Belle" strolled nonchalantly to the first Pampa-Amarillo football game.

Further attention is called to the delightful problems of being young in an amusing comedy entitled "Janie" for "Janie" is a pleasant bit of burlesque.

Las Jovenes Celebrate With Halloween Party

Las Jovenes club in Spanish department sponsored a Halloween party Tuesday night, the highlight of which was a scavenger hunt.

It seems as tho' PHS has acquired another one of those tri-angles; this one is between Bud Laurance, Virginia Simmons and Marvin Haney.

Steam Cooker Is Used In Cafeteria

The cafeteria is feeding more students this year than ever before in the history of Pampa High school.

Don Taylor is simply crazy about Erma Lee Kennedy. We fact he raved about her all of the way to Brownfield.

Mary Jean Meador is interested in a certain Johnny who hails from Wheeler, Texas.

Which one of the Mathieu twins was Eugene Turner seen with last Sunday? He seems to be interested in both of them.

Wonder why the Little Harvester editor hasn't received a Sandstorm, Bill Dixon High school paper, for over two weeks? We miss their column, Warming the Bench.

Betty Holt is very happy now that Erma Lee is home. Betty and Bill were going steady when he left for the Navy.

Rallies End Full Week

Despite the diet of Halloween and nine-week exams earlier in the week, Friday finally arrived with a pep rally in the Senior High Auditorium, which surpassed all former rallies of the year in spirit and originality.

Band Stages Colorful Stunt

The colorful Harvester band of 97 members performed brilliantly at the Amarillo game Saturday afternoon with Art J. Berry and Shirley Sone as majors.

Have You Wondered? Here Are Statistics

How would you like to scrub an equivalent of one-fourth the state of Rhode Island? This is something to think about.
