Congress Makes Strong Stand on War Punishment

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Congress erupted today with demands for relentless punishment of Germans guilty of what a cabinet committee calls the systematic murder of millions of innocent European civilians.

There was no angry talk of retaliation in kind, of eye-for-an-eye retribution.

But in both Senate and House arose a measured call for peace terms severe enough to keep the Nazis from ever again committing crimes of atrocity and for the death penalty for those tried and found guilty of them in this war.

Chairman Bloom (D-N.Y.) of the House foreign affairs committee and Senator Johnson (D-Colo.) declared that Germany shouldn't be allowed to keep a single gun. And they said the peace machinery should include the means of meting out punishment to Nazis responsible for war murders.

Responsible for the Congressional clamor was a 25,000-word report released yesterday by the war refugee board.

The report embraced two eyewitness descriptions of brutality and slaughter by three German camps in Poland. They agreed that more than 1,500,000 Jews from several European nations were gassed and cremated at Birkenau in two years. One account, by two Slovakian Jews who kept camp records, estimated two years of killings at Birkenau at 1,765,000. It told of the crowding of people into cubicles too small to let them sit upright or lie down, of a special gassing and burning squad that worked day and night shifts, of the use of human ashes for fertilizer.

It described a "new modern crematoria and gassing plant" put in operation in February, 1943, which had a furnace room and an antechamber.

Senate To Guard Treaty Powers

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Senator George of Georgia, ranking democratic member of the foreign relations committee, predicted today the Senate would stand firm against sharing its treaty-making responsibilities with the House.

There are a half-dozen resolutions pending in the House calling for a constitutional amendment on the subject. If any of them reach the Senate, George estimated less than half the members would vote to submit the question to the states. A two-thirds majority of both houses is necessary for submission.

House members who are backing the proposed change in the basic law are counting on public opinion to force the Senate to change its position.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—A House sub-committee today unanimously approved a proposed constitutional amendment to break up the Senate's traditional two-thirds vote control over treaties.

It sent to the House judiciary committee a resolution which, if adopted by Congress and approved by three-fourths of the states, will provide that future treaties be ratified by a simple majority vote in both branches of Congress.

Big Planes Make First Double Raid

By LEONARD MILLIMAN
Associated Press War Editor

Sizeable squadrons of Superforts bombed Tokyo and Thailand during daylight today in an unprecedented B-29 double strike as reports on other widely-scattered American air raids said 30 Japanese ships, ranging from a cruiser to luggers, were sunk and 18 others damaged.

The 21st bomber command sent B-29's from Saipan in their second raid in four days against Tokyo war industries while the 20th bomber command hurled "a substantial force" of Superforts from India bases at strategic targets at Bangkok, capital of Thailand.

It was the first coordinated action of the two B-29 commands.

A Japanese Imperial communiqué said today 40 Superforts from Saipan raided Tokyo and other industrial areas of Honshu island to the West and South for more than an hour and a half. The big bombers came over at 1 p. m. (Tokyo time). Bombers were handicapped by a drizzling rain and low-hanging clouds, Japanese propagandists said. They reiterated their customary claim that only slight damage was done.

A Japanese Imperial communiqué said today 40 Superforts from Saipan raided Tokyo and other industrial areas of Honshu island to the West and South for more than an hour and a half. The big bombers came over at 1 p. m. (Tokyo time). Bombers were handicapped by a drizzling rain and low-hanging clouds, Japanese propagandists said. They reiterated their customary claim that only slight damage was done.

Tokyo radio reported 40 Superforts struck at Bangkok, blindly bombing the city outskirts, causing some damage. It asserted one B-29 was shot down.

Vern Houghland, Associated Press war correspondent on Saipan, reported that the 21st bomber command has a great potential of Superforts and personnel. Most of today's crews, he said, were making their initial flight over Japan. He reported this formation was about the same size as Friday's, which Tokyo said included about 70 Superforts.

Of the two Superforts lost Friday, one spiraled into the sea with its crew of 11 still aboard after an interceptor crashed into it, shearing off the tail. The crew of the other B-29 was rescued from the ocean north of Saipan.

Topping other air raids was last Saturday's (aMilla) time carrier raid on Manila bay and adjacent sectors of Luzon island. Eighteen vessels were sunk. They included a previously damaged cruiser and a destroyer and ranged down to two luggers. The attackers also wiped out 72 Japanese planes and damaged ground installations.

Two more Japanese convoys, involving four transports and three small cargo ships, were wiped out Saturday and Sunday as they tried to run 2,000 troops and supplies to reinforce rain-drenched Leyte island. Altogether the Nipponese have sacrificed five convoys, 33 ships and 17,000 soldiers in these reinforcement attempts.

Most of the other ships hit were bombed in the Central Philippines.

Prime Minister Of Canada Faces Greatest Crisis

OTTAWA, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Special disciplinary measures to maintain order were taken in draftee camps throughout Canada today as Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King faced a bitterly-torn parliament to ask for a vote of confidence in his new policy of partial conscription for overseas service.

The life of King's nine-year-old regime hung in the balance as the House of Commons assembled to debate the conscription issue, the most explosive political question in Canada's modern history.

In some areas of the French-speaking province of Quebec, traditionally opposed to conscription for overseas service, troops of all categories were told to keep off the streets in certain cities to lessen the possibility of violent outbreaks such as marked the week-end in various parts of the Dominion.

Similar precautions were taken in the West coast province of British Columbia, where more than 25,000 home defense soldiers are stationed.

The home defense troops are drafted from among whom the government is conscripting 16,000 for immediate reinforcement of depleted infantry ranks fighting on the Western front.

Tension ran high on Parliament Hill as the House of Commons convened to hear Prime Minister King defend his policy. His confidence motions asked the House "to aid this government in its policy of maintaining a vigorous war."

The wording—hot mentioning conscription—is calculated to win as many votes as possible from various

Salt Flat (Hudspeth county) in West Texas and Dalhart in the Texas Panhandle recorded the state's minimums—24 degrees.

Pampa and Amarillo recorded 27 degrees; Big Spring, San Angelo and Abilene, 30; Clarendon 25, Lubbock 26, Midland, 32.

East Texas had its coldest weather of the season along with heavy frost. At Dallas the temperature was 29, Texarkana and Sulphur Springs 25, Fort Worth 30.

Edward Stettinius Succeeds Mr. Hull

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—President Roosevelt nominated Undersecretary Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., to be secretary of state.

Two and a half hours after accepting the resignation of Secretary of State Hull, because of ill health, the President sent the name of Stettinius to the Senate as Hull's successor.

The President earlier lunched with Stettinius and also conferred with Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Senate foreign relations committee, and Senator George (D-Ga.), ranking member.

That Secretary Cordell Hull has resigned for reasons of bad health was disclosed last night by a government official.

This news was made momentous by the high place Hull has won in the esteem of Americans and of the world.

For example, when Chairman Connally (D-Texas) of the Senate foreign relations committee was told of it, he said:

"It is tragic that Secretary Hull is retiring. He has made a great secretary. His outstanding achievements toward world peace remain a monument to his service. The nation and the world have suffered a tremendous loss in his resignation."

The official reporting the resignation would not be quoted by name.

Flood Bill May Fail in Passing

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Two threats hung menacingly over the House-approved flood control bill today and some Senate back-logged glumly its chances of passage by this Congress are dwindling.

The Senate begins its second week of debate on the billion dollar measure today with no outward signs of a compromise between its sponsors and advocates of the St. Lawrence seaway and Missouri Valley Authority projects.

The actual submission of either of these two proposals as amendments would in the minds of the bill's backers, probably kill the flood control measure.

Maginot Defenses Pierced by Ninth

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press War Editor

U. S. First army troops battling through bloody Hurtgen Forest, broke into the town of Hurtgen, 2½ miles from the Roer river, today and captured Frenz, a mile beyond fallen Weisweiler.

The first army assault toward Duren, and Cologne beyond, was gathering power, and was coupled with gains by the U. S. Ninth and British Second armies aligned with it east of Aachen.

Farther south, the U. S. Third army broadened its punch into Germany, and broke through reversed Maginot line defenses. The Seventh army spread out upon the Rheine plain in a quickening drive, and the French First army took 12 forts near Strasbourg and bagged two German generals.

In the perhaps climactic battle of attrition near Aachen, First army soldiers battled slowly beyond captured Weisweiler on the Adolf Hitler highway and were at the edge of Hurtgen forest, 4½ miles from Duren on the Germans' Roer river line. Ninth army troops pushed into Koslar, two miles west of Julich on the Roer, and beat back German counterattacks. The British on the northern flank of this sector advanced 500 yards, winning high ground commanding the Wurm valley. In Holland, other British units virtually eliminated the German salient west of the Maas, and were fighting before Venlo.

Five hundred American fighters shot down at least 94 German planes during a wide-ranging strafing sweep that took them within 70 miles of Berlin.

Double Russian offensives were rolling against Budapest, and into Slovakia. Tanks drove beyond the hub of Hatvan, 25 miles Northeast of Budapest. Berlin said Soviet forces had won a foothold on Csepel island downstream from Budapest.

Farther North, the Fourth Ukrainian army broke through a 60-mile long line across Eastern Slovakia. The Russians won the junction towns of Michalovec and Humenne, and fought on toward the bastions of Koska (Kostice) and Presov.

Fighting across and along swollen rivers, British Eighth army troops in Eastern Italy closed an arc around Fianza, and the Germans dug in for a delaying defense of that town on the broad highway 29 miles Southeast of Bologna. Americans of the Fifth army farther inland.

Both pleaded innocent to the murder charge. They were remanded until Wednesday, Dec. 6, when they will be committed for trial to the Old Bailey.

Prosecutor H. A. K. Morgan declared the killing was "a deliberate cold-blooded act by Hulton."

"Even if Jones did not know that Hulton intended to kill Heath," he added, "she certainly knew that Hulton was armed and that he intended to use violence if necessary to attain their joint purpose which was robbery."

It was the first trial of an American soldier in British courts.

Hulton and the girl had been "on the most intimate possible terms," the prosecutor said.

Heath was found dead with a bullet through his back in a ditch at Kilmalee Green, near Staines, in October.

Quoting a statement he said had been made by the girl, the prosecutor said: "She and Hulton left her room on the evening of Oct. 2, with the avowed intention of stopping a taxi and robbing the driver" and that Heath agreed to drive them to Hammerhead for ten shillings (about two dollars).

WARMER

TODAY—570 of our boys will pay for war the HARD WAY
 American casualties now average more than 570 for every day of war. As the conquest of Japan advances, losses will probably be higher.

THEY still die—will YOU buy?

It's a BIG farm year—buy BIGGER Bonds!

Here are 6 big reasons for buying the most you can—$100, $500, $1,000 in the big 6th War Loan. War Bonds give you:

1. The best and safest investment in the world.
2. At maturity, $4.00 for every $3.00 you loan.
3. The convenience of cash—plus increase in value!
4. Funds to replace and restore worn-out farm equipment, soil fertility, and buildings.
5. Funds for educating your children; a nest-egg for your own security, travel, retirement.
6. The increased purchasing power vitally needed to win the Peace.

THEY still die—will YOU buy?

THE BIGGEST JOB IS STILL AHEAD. BUY BIGGER BONDS!

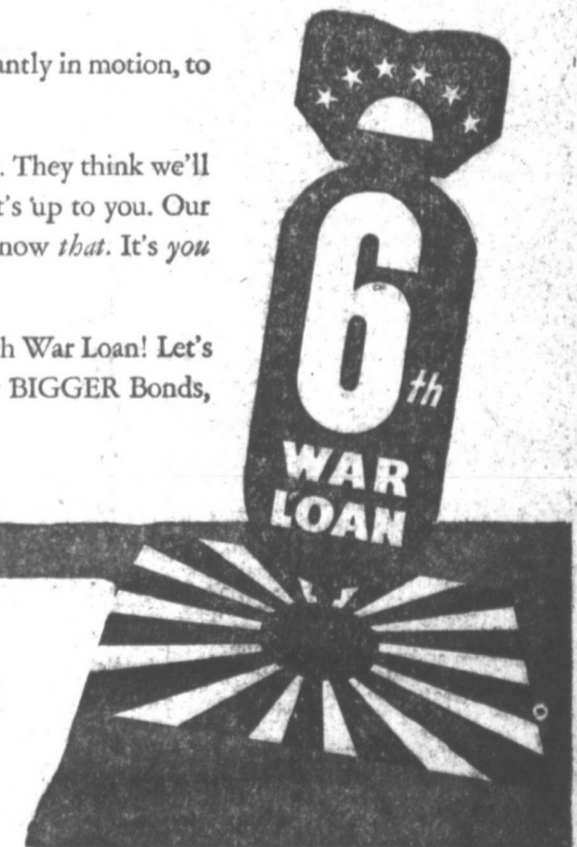

WILL you loan dollars, while they give lives? The conquest of Japan will probably be the costliest war in history. Distances are enormous. The enemy is tough and fanatical. We have no reserves of supply within thousands of miles—everything must be transported. And war in the Pacific requires special equipment, not used elsewhere.

Loaning money is the easiest part of the war effort; but it is no less important than fighting. One B-29 Superfortress to bomb Tokyo costs $600,000. To train the pilot costs $27,000. Each torpedo costs $12,000. Because of the vast distances, it takes four to six ships, constantly in motion, to deliver one shipload per month.

The Japs think our home-front is soft. They think we'll get tired of the war and quit. Well—it's up to you. Our fighting men aren't quitters; the Japs know that. It's you they are counting on.

Let's give them the answer—in the 6th War Loan! Let's show Tokyo we can "take it", too! Buy BIGGER Bonds, and we'll finish the big job faster.

The Treasury Department and Gray County War Finance Committee Gratefully Acknowledges These Firms for Their Extra Support of the 6th War Loan!

Lipstick Applied Without Aid Of Mirror Makes a Messy Mouth

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

No woman can run a lipstick around her mouth, unaided by a mirror to guide her hand, without making a mess of the job. Yet you see these hit-and-miss errors being made every day.

This is no brief for hauling out a mirror in public and going through craftsmanlike maneuvers of drawing on a mouth. But that's something called for the first opportunity you have after you leave a soda counter or restaurant table.

For a craftsmanlike job when you're away from home and have no other tools, copy the trick of radio's pet Beryl Vaughn, "Bachelor's Children" star, and use a match stick. With it, she takes color off her lipstick and draws it on her mouth in an unerring line.

The Magic Wand

In one of her recent columns, Mrs. Roosevelt called attention to the fact that "so many people mistakenly believe that living here (in the White House) makes it possible for you to further any project which they happen to be interested in."

The First Lady confessed that she would like to be able to wave a magic wand and change government rules and regulations to make everything right. But, she complained, when people learn that she has no such power, "they then put their whole trust in my fixing the matter before the President, who, they believe, certainly can wave a magic wand."

We sympathize with Mrs. Roosevelt, who is not to blame for the fact that her own activities have probably brought on some of her present tribulations. No president's wife has ever interested herself so actively or so long in the lives, problems and troubles of her fellow citizens. And because of this a lot of those citizens have come to expect that she should understand her acute social consciousness, and have cast Mrs. Roosevelt in a fairy godmother role.

Because of his force of personality, and the character and length of his administration, Mr. Roosevelt overshadows the office which he holds in the eyes of many, both here and in other lands. This is a tribute to his character and ability. But there is also an element of danger for the President and for the country in such a conception.

Even as a great war against totalitarianism rages throughout the world, the worldwide tendency of the past quarter century is toward government which relies upon one man is growing rather than diminishing. Here in this country all classes—business as well as labor, local as well as state government—have tended to look to Washington in hope or resignation, and to wait upon Washington for the first move toward decisions and solutions.

How much Washington is responsible for the war-making and supply is a sort of chicken-or-egg question. And the answer is less important than the fact that reliance in wand-waving exists, and that it is a contradiction of the American tradition of government and national character. Some people may laugh at such quaint old notions as individuality, initiative and self-reliance, but the present world offers evidence of the peril awaiting the nation that loses them.

So it is well for Mrs. Roosevelt to bring up the subject of wand-waving. The President's job is too big, taxing and important to leave him to be the Great White Father, everybody's personal intercessor and Mr. Fixit—especially while the magic wand is still in the hands of 130-odd million Americans.

LOOKING AHEAD

By GEORGE S. BENSON President, Harding College, Searcy, Arkansas

MY DOCTOR Last spring a woman of culture left her home in one of America's principal cities to spend six months in Arkansas. Soon after her arrival she came down with a common ailment and needed a surgeon. Her new neighbors almost failed to convince her that the village doctor was safe to consult. She asked: "If he's so wonderful, what's he doing here? A good doctor can make a lot of money in a city."

She was right on one point. This doctor could make a lot of money in a city. He has not fared poorly where he is, but he never will be rich. He is not so much interested in money, however, as in a certain kind of success that is not measurable in dollars. He has a priceless estate of human lives. He can't leave his house without meeting people who owe their very existence to his skill.

A RICH ESTATE This county doctor has the unfeigned love of his neighbors. His work has their unqualified approval, but that's only part of the story. He likes them too. Nobody suffers for medical attention when he lives. "He gets paid for it," do you say? Yes, he collects from about half his patients. But the humiliated sharecropper can have the best doctor he ever heard of, and never see a bill.

Writing this, I have a peculiar, physician in mind, but I'm satisfied you are thinking about another doctor as you read it. There is one in just about every country town. Two or three in big towns. There is a steady stream of patients from the city, and a steady stream of patients from the city, and a steady stream of patients from the city.

So it is well for Mrs. Roosevelt to bring up the subject of wand-waving. The President's job is too big, taxing and important to leave him to be the Great White Father, everybody's personal intercessor and Mr. Fixit—especially while the magic wand is still in the hands of 130-odd million Americans.

WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE Associated Press War Analyst

The allied and German battleships at the entrance to the Cologne plain continue to struggle fiercely at close grips, with the Hitlerite front sagging and giving ground in spots under terrific pressure—but still not breaking.

The fighting which is raging in this Aachen sector opposite the great Rhensish city of Cologne is some of the toughest that Western Europe has seen since D-Day. For instance, take the case of Weisweiler which was captured by the American First Army yesterday. The Yankee doughboys fought for twenty-four hours through the streets before they took this strategic town which sits astride Hitler's great six-lane motor highway to Cologne.

Still, this bitter conflict was in the cards, for the German defenses in this zone are the key to the rolling terrain a bit further eastward—across the river Roer—towards Cologne. That opening plain leads straight to the amphitheater for the decisive show-down.

We are, of course, still witnessing the preliminaries to this battle of the Cologne plain. The allied offensive hasn't yet reached its full intensity. Nazi Field Marshal von Rundstedt is already employing about as many reserves as he can rake up to the defenses of the Roer, which represents the last great obstacle between the allies and the Cologne plain.

Once he's committed to such a stand—and he seems to be so already—he will have fantastic luck if he is able to withdraw any considerable portion of his troops back across the Rhine. The bridges over that great and swift river are at the mercy of the allied bombers and can be destroyed at any moment. Those bridges not only are von Rundstedt's means of escape but they also are his life-lines for supplies.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

The National Whirligig

DEWEY—Republican legislators, especially those who barely scraped through on November 7, were noticeably more outspoken this week in regard to a change in G. O. P. leadership in both the Senate and House.

Time enough has elapsed since the election for them to swap post-mortems and to plan for the 1945 session. Like the Dewey crowd, many of them are inclined to blame the current Capitol Hill bosses for the negative program of opposition which proved to be one of the campaign's greatest liabilities.

No open mutiny is expected. Action will be behind closed doors. The White-Vandenberg-Taft triangle which took over the job of the late Senator McNary, Minority Leader, is likely to give way to a single manager.

"Old Faithful" Joe Martin will stay at the top in the House. But important subordinates will bring pressure on him to change his steering committee and reconstitute the membership of other policy-making groups to give more consideration to those who are liberal in both foreign and domestic matters.

There is no prospect of the United States form of Government for the post of accredited leader of a defeated party.

PRODIGALS

Willkie believed that the logic of geography and history gave the Republicans the opportunity to be the true Liberal Party. The conservative south excluded the Democrats from that role, except when under the spell of a Roosevelt or a Wilson.

Russell Davenport and other Willkie independents still think that they can make the New York G. O. P. the anticongressive group in the Empire State with the bid of the local American Labor and Liberal Parties—especially about Tammany which proved to be one of the campaign's greatest liabilities.

But the Old Guard, still powerful in Washington as well as in Wall Street, believes that, as a result of recession, regional unemployment and other economic troubles, the public will desert the Democrats in the 1946 Congressional elections and sit tight in the 1948 Presidential year.

"Silt tight," advise the stalwarts, "and let the Democrats run their own future. Wait—and the prize will come to us by default."

"Young Turks" and other progressive elements are not satisfied with today's political vocabulary—it cost three national elections.

They have been analyzing the Dewey vote. They question whether the so-called foreign stock groups which with the G. O. P. after the European situation becomes less of an issue here.

Peter Edson's Column: HERE'S SECURITY COUNCIL SETUP

By PETER EDSON Washington Correspondent The big job and almost the only job of the Security Council of the proposed United Nations organization would be to maintain international peace and security.

Such questions could be brought before the security council by the secretary-general, possibly as the result of a newspaper dispatch reporting trouble in some corner of the world. Cases might also be referred to the security council by the general assembly, or by an action initiated by a security council member, or by formal notice from any government.

So They Say

In the European theatre alone we are losing 500 tanks and 900 trucks a month.—Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson.

There is a real danger that certain political groups will want to perpetuate the economic and regulatory conditions of wartime, where, even if the public authority has no control of the means of production, it does retain the lash of bureaucratic regimentation.—Most Rev. Joseph H. Schlarman, Catholic Bishop of Peoria.

Judging by what I observed all along the Western front, it looks as though the European war will run on through the winter and possibly into next summer.—Hugh Bailie, president United Press.

YOU GOTTA THINK QUICK

By Stanley Paley Copyright, 1944. NEA Service, Inc. It was about a week later that I stumbled on the Brooklyn address. I'd been going through those papers of Boggio's, and in a compartment of the leather briefcase had come upon a small envelope with a Yale key in it.

The interior of the place was in pitch darkness. I lit a match and groped around until I found a light switch. A naked bulb suspended from a low beam barely illuminated a small section of the building.

There were some empty packing cases neatly stacked against the far wall. The light was too feeble for me to make out the lettering so I lit another match. Before it burned out I'd seen enough to know that all those cases had once contained liquor. And I'd also seen something else, the dim outline of a circular staircase rising vertically to the top of the building.

HOLD EVERYTHING

Every head of a state knows the necessity of showing himself in public on occasion to spread confidence in time of distress, to bolster his wavering popularity, or to ally rumors which opponents may circulate. And no leader knows this better than Hitler, whose appeal to German loyalty has been not only wondrous and emotional, but almost hypnotic.

German nation are still in the hands of the leaders committed to a war of attrition. So the German people must know that they are not being deceived. All of which doesn't concern the Allied nations particularly except as it possibly affects their war. The possible effect does not seem to be adding to but subtracting from the morale of the German people.

These leaders are a desperate gang whose lives and fortunes are at stake. They are intent upon saving both. With them still are many thousands of people, faithful, fanatic young followers whose minds have been carefully warped by Nazi education for just such an emergency as this. The rest of the German has the gasp.

But for all the Germans there is also berchtesgaden, and what it signifies. For the fuhrer and his inner circle it is almost impregnable refuge, heavily mined and guarded, amply stocked with food, with caves and underground chambers that defy bomb and shell and gas.

For the people, loved under the weight of hundreds of thousands of tons of Allied bombs, there is a future of more bombs, more wrecked cities, more death at home and at the front, less food, less comfort—impending conquest.

Some day at least some of the Germans will know they are betrayed and abandoned. How much then will they resent berchtesgaden and what it stands for? How much will they prevail against Hitler's gasp?

These questions are but one more factor in a problem whose answer is the conquest of Germany.

These questions are but one more factor in a problem whose answer is the conquest of Germany.

Experts Believe Social Security Will Be Abused

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27—(AP)—When millions of people change jobs at war's end an individual's freedom to choose his own occupation may run head-on into public policy.

The government's announced hope for after the war is this: quick re-conversion to peace, unemployment kept to a minimum, wages kept high.

But many individuals, thrown out of high-paying war jobs, will want to shop around for a peacetime job paying them what they're getting now. And while they shop they will want to draw state unemployment compensation.

That kind of procedure can prolong unemployment. Yet each individual has to think of himself and his future.

So unemployment compensation commissioners in the various states will have to decide problems like how:

To be fair to the individual and respect his right to seek suitable work—he himself considers suitable—and yet prevent abuses of the unemployment pay system when there is national need to boost employment fast.

Unemployment pay was not intended as a dole. It was meant to tide a worker over that unemployed period between losing one job and finding another. Yet there will be some who will try to chisel and cheat.

Milton O. Loysen, executive director of New York's division of placement and unemployment insurance, cites this case:

Two Indiana war plants, because of cutbacks, released several thousand employees, mostly women. They sought unemployment pay but refused lower paying jobs than they had in the war plants. On investigation it was found many of them did not intend to work any more.

Superfort Crew Is Decorated for Reconnoitering

SAIPAN, Nov. 13—(AP)—(Delayed)—The entire crew of the "Tokyo Rose," first superfortress to fly Tokyo, was decorated today for its daring reconnaissance mission Nov. 1.

The flight was credited with making possible the first B-29 raid on Japan's capital. In the first decoration ceremony of the 20th Army Air Force's 58th Bombardment Group, Brig. Gen. Raymond S. Hanel of San Antonio, Texas, presented the Distinguished Flying Cross to the pilot, Capt. Ralph D. Steadley, Jefferson, Ohio; the Oak Leaf Cluster to his air medal to navigator Lieut. Claude Stambaugh, San Antonio, Texas, and air medals to nine other crewmen.

The accompanying citation said "The crew returned with photographs of enemy factories and installations hitherto unobtainable, and with weather observations and other technical information, thereby making a major contribution to the success of the war against Japan."

Before the ceremony, "Tokyo Rose" twice had returned for further pictures.

Capt. Steadley said his first 37th mission was met by inaccurate anti-aircraft fire on approaching Tokyo, and intense, accurate fire over the city itself. Nineteen single-seater Japanese fighters rose to 15,000 feet below the B-29, but were easily shot down. The great plane, remained over Japan for an hour, in excellent weather.

Steadley said that on a mission a few days later he encountered stormy weather and the first cause of trouble was a low fuel tank.

"About 100 fighters came in quite close, mostly below us but some on our level and some above, but they didn't attack."

"Perhaps we were too fast for them at that altitude."

The Japanese have encircled Tokyo with airfields all thickly populated with planes, said the photographic ship's gunner, Tech. Sgt. Fred H. Huelshaus, Italy, Texas. Maj. High V. Gilmore, 221 South 38th St., Paris, Texas, went along as bombardier observer. He said Tokyo was plane and indistinct in outline with only a few large buildings, and resembled no American city.

"It looked as if it was made of paper," he remarked.

Three-Power Bill For Controlling Germany Drafted

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27—(AP)—A three-power agreement for controlling Germany during military occupation has been signed and referred to Washington, London and Moscow for acceptance.

It is understood to call for a supreme Allied council to rule the defeated Reich.

Undersecretary of State Stettinius confirmed yesterday that the Anglo-Soviet-American advisory commission in London had forwarded its recommendations to the three governments. He declined to discuss its contents.

Acceptance is considered probable because all points covered in the agreement were referred to the three Allied capitals before the European advisory commission made its own decisions.

While details are still secret, the plan approved by the commission is understood to call for the long-discussed three-way split of Reich territory and even a three-way division of occupation troops in Berlin itself. Full authority over German affairs would be vested in the supreme Allied council of which the American and British members in-

Japs, He Says, Flock Around Like Moths

WITH THE FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION IN LEYTE—(AP)—Walking 10 to 15 miles a day stringing wire for telephone communication while under fire from Japanese snipers is plenty rough going," says S/Sgt. Alvis C. McLaurin, son of Mrs. H. M. McLaurin, O'Donnell, Tex.

McLaurin is a construction chief in the signal troop of the first cavalry division now fighting in the Philippine Islands.

Using water buffalo to carry wire and rations, and a Philippine guide to lead the way, McLaurin and his wire teams (consisting of six men each) travel through swamps, rice paddies, and any other obstacles they encounter, to supply communication between the command post and the assault troops.

"Our greatest difficulty in stringing wire is the lack of trees; so we either have to make our own poles or lay the wire on the ground," Sgt. McLaurin says. "My pet hate is stringing wire at night because the Japs spot our lights and flock around like a bunch of moths."

Randolph Field Licks Sky Giants 33-0; Looks Forward To Meeting March Field

Rugged Contest, Almost to Blows

PORT WORTH, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Randolph Field might have cleaned up all opposition available in the Southwest and South and now will turn their attention to the West—a game with the Four-Oh Air Force of March Field in Los Angeles Dec. 10.

The Ramblers finished their regular schedule here yesterday with a 33-0 victory over the Amarillo Air field 7-0 game. It was their fifth straight victory and brought their total for the season to 409 points—an average of more than 45 per game.

A crowd estimated at 11,000 sat in biting weather to watch the Ramblers and Sky Giants put on a pleasing football exhibition. Bill Dudley, Randolph's great halfback, ran 88 yards for one touchdown, passed 21 yards to Harry Burrus for another, set up a third with a coffin-corner kick to the Amarillo two-yard line and intercepted a pass to race back 11 yards and lead the way to a fourth counter.

Amarillo Air Field put up a better game than the score indicates. The Sky Giants gained 181 yards rushing and passing and rolled up 10 first downs to 9 for the Ramblers but never could get closer than the Randolph 34-yard line.

Randolph Field rolled up 335 yards rushing and passing. Bobby Paffrath, the former Minnesota star, was the standout for Amarillo, especially on defense.

It was a rough game and at one stage some of the opposing players almost came to blows. Scoring touchdowns in addition to Dudley and Burrus were Tippy Madarik, Beverly Eklins and Clint White. Bill Causey kicked two extra points and Dudley one.

Texas, Aggies Meet In Week's Headliner

By JACK RUTLEDGE Associated Press Staff

Champion Texas Christian of the Southwest conference plays its last game of the year Saturday, but a couple of weeks battling for second place steal the football spotlight for the week.

The annual Thanksgiving day scrap between the University of Texas and Texas A & M is a game steeped in tradition, is definitely tops.

TCU, which clinched its first title since 1938 last week by knocking Rice 6-0, will meet Southern Methodist at Dallas in an anti-climax. The outcome will affect nothing except prestige and that only for the Horned Frogs should they lose to the cellar-dwelling Methodists.

My HARVESTER

ALL BICKERING ASIDE about this Amarillo-Pampa football business, Coach Otis Coffey, the Harvesters and 90 per cent of Pampa fans are pulling hard for the Sandies to go on and win the state championship this year.

An Amarillo win, of course, would mean much to the prestige of 1-AA football. It would make the Harvesters and the other conference teams that have bowed to the Sandies look much stronger in the eyes of grid fans over the state.

Take Coach Coffey, for instance. Only yesterday he paid Amarillo a fine tribute. "The Sandies have one of the finest teams in Texas. I'd like to see them go on and win the state, and they have a splendid chance. Nothing would suit us better than to be able to have the state championship team in our conference again. It would be nice for the Harvesters to play the title defenders next fall."

Tom Bliss, one of the most ardent of Pampa Harvester fans, is pulling for the Sandies, too. "If the Harvesters can't win, let's hope the team that beat them can go on to the state championship," he says. Incidentally, Bliss reports that two records of some kind were broken in the Pampa-Amarillo game this year. First, the game was played in the unusually short time of one hour and 35 minutes. Second, not a single time out was taken by either team because of injured players.

Last Scrimmage Today Before Harvester-Plainview Finale

Last scrimmage before the big game will take place this afternoon, Pampa coaches indicated. Tomorrow, light drill; Wednesday the lads will merely limber up a bit. Therefore this afternoon is the last opportunity for a scrimmage—and the boys can expect it to be fairly rough.

Coaches were expressing concern over the possibility that two valuable men, McCracken, regular, and Neef, sturdy reserve, both of the backfield, would not be able to play in the last game, as their injuries were in pretty bad shape. Another starting back, Clay, is in far from top condition.

But the Harvesters will enter the game, as they have every one this year, with confidence and spirit.

Game time Thursday afternoon will be 2:30. Officials have not yet been fully agreed upon. With any kind of break in the weather, fans should come out in great numbers to watch the green and gold in action for the last time this year, against very evenly-matched opposition.

Most Bowls Now Have Principals Selected

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Eleven Saturdays of college football have determined the casts of the various New Year's day bowl games, decided a majority of the conference championships and left the Army-Navy clash as the top attraction for this weekend.

The Cadets and Middies tangle Saturday in Baltimore before a war-bond crowd in a game Army must win to retain its No. 1 ranking in the Associated Press poll.

Previous Saturdays this fall have brought about this program for the January 1 bowl games (team records in parentheses):

Rose Bowl—At Pasadena: Southern California (7-0-2) vs. Tennessee (7-0-1).

Sugar Bowl—At New Orleans: Duke (5-4-0) vs. Alabama (5-1-2).

Cotton Bowl—At Dallas: Texas Christian (7-1-1, one game left to play) vs. Oklahoma A & M (7-1-0).

Oil Bowl—At Houston: Rice (4-6-0, one game left to play) vs. opponent still to be selected.

Sun Bowl—At El Paso: Both teams still to be selected.

First Mission Is Pleasure to Gunner

To Cpl. Oscar Stanford, Jr., flying his first combat mission in the 7th AAF Liberator "Flyin' Pay," went the pleasure of seeing his plane's string of bombs blot out two Japanese aircraft guns harassing the formation.

Hunched in the ball turret of his big bomber, Cpl. Stanford saw two big guns firing and pointed right out his way.

"I sat there watching, and suddenly I saw our bombs just walk right across the guns and blot them out," he said. "I kept my eye on the battery position, and there wasn't any more shooting from that area. I'm sure that our string got them."

Cpl. Stanford, member of a 7th AAF heavy bombardment group in the Central Pacific, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Stanford of Fort Smith, Ark. His wife, the former Tommie Woodard, lives at 320 N. West, and is a student at Pampa high. He attended Pampa high and was employed by Radcliff Supply, Inc., Pampa, prior to entering the AAF Feb. 1, 1943.

Two cruisers were damaged and a sub chaser sunk in the South China sea off Indo-China by the U. S. 14th air force. These raids by Liberators show that Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault's airmen can still harass coastal shipping despite the admitted loss of Nanming, last forward American air base in South China.

It was the seventh airbase to be abandoned to Japanese armies which have seized China and are now threatening to drive on the Burma road in interior Kweichow province. An Imperial communique claimed Japanese have "penetrated Lung-kingwan which is considered the Southern gate to Kweichow province."

FUNNY BUSINESS

"I think he's trying to revive the age of chivalry!"

HULL

Hull has been at the naval hospital in Bethesda, Md., for five weeks, suffering from a throat ailment. His illness was not described as serious, but as requiring a long rest from his cabinet duties.

On this basis, there was some speculation that President Roosevelt might hold off appointing a new secretary in the hope that Hull might recuperate within a few months.

Establishment of machinery to insure the world against aggression has taken the major part of the secretary's time and energy during the past year, and he had often expressed his determination to see through the struggle for enduring peace.

Byrnes, 65-year-old chief of war mobilization, appeared to be the relationship, Chairman George D. Congressional favorite for the committee, remarked, for example, that Byrnes could "do more to hold the situation in shape than anybody else."

Byrnes has been working in the White House as director of war mobilization since he left the Supreme Court to be "deputy president" on the home front.

Byrnes' supporters stressed the close relations he maintains with the Senate. They pointed out that the prime job in the state department during the next few years will be to complete a charter for a peace organization and get Congress to back it up.

Eventually, peace treaties may be written with Germany and Japan that will need ratification, and many other international agreements requiring Senate support are in the offing.

Vice President Wallace has already gone on several foreign missions for Mr. Roosevelt. His latest trip carried him to China and Siberia just before the democratic convention.

Wallace is especially popular in Latin America and is well known elsewhere abroad. Speculation has been constant that he would be given an important post in foreign affairs.

Acting Secretary of State Stettinius has not had the Congressional contacts Byrnes has enjoyed, but Capitol Hill sources said they believed his appointment to succeed Hull could be confirmed in the Senate.

Even out of office, Hull undoubtedly will continue as far as his doctors permit to show his interest in the foreign policy he guided for almost twelve years.

Officials say that surely Hull would have at least the position of a revered elder statesman as soon as he is rested, and probably will be understood to take an international affairs as his health will permit.

There was speculation that President Roosevelt might make him a special adviser with cabinet rank, such as Donald Nelson now has.

B-29 Personnel Have Confidence

SAIPAN, Nov. 27—(AP)—Maybe it's all in the mind but the men who fly the guns on B-29's feel safer because they work by remote control. From turrets within the Superfortress they fire their 50-calibers, mounted outside many feet from their positions, and the roar of guns is hardly audible within. This contrasts to the B-24's and other bombers aboard which the deafening gun clamor, powdermoke and steady hail of discharged shells makes a bedlam of gunners' compartments.

The use of central fire control system in Superforts was explained today with the announcement of the European-based raids on Tokyo.

Field leader Brig. Gen. Emmett O'Donnell, Jr., said:

"The B-29 is a damn hard plane to attack with its system of gunnery worked through a central computer."

"The gunner looks into the sight which he adjusts with a couple of knobs and a button. He has a camera in the sight, tracks it in and fires the guns by pressing a button. All corrections are taken care of by the sighting computer. Each gunner has primary control of certain gun turrets but can relinquish it to secondary control of other gunners."

Brig. Gen. Hayward Hansell, Jr., of San Antonio, Texas, commander of the 21st bomber command of the global 20th air force, disclosed one of the greatest problems in the B-29 was to cool the engines. Top improvements along this line have increased operating efficiency noticeably.
