

Half of Last Year's Champions Appear Headed For '44 Repeat

By Harold V. Ratliff
Associated Press Sports Editor

More than half of the 1943 district champions of Texas schoolboy football appear destined to repeat with the campaign in its final two weeks.

One championship already has been determined—Sunset again winning in the Dallas district—and eight more go on the line this week-end.

Champions of 1943 were: (1) Pampa, (2) Vernon, (3) San Angelo, (4) Ysleta, (5) Sherman, (6) Highland Park (Dallas), (7) North Side (Fort Worth), (8) Sunset, (9) Breckenridge, (10) Waco, (11) Marshall, (12) Lufkin, (13) Jeff Davis (Houston), (14) Goose Creek, (15) Jefferson (San Antonio), (16) McAllen.

Indications are that Pampa, Ysleta, Sherman, North Side, Jeff Davis, Goose Creek and Jefferson would be around when bi-district playoffs begin in December.

Vernon, San Angelo, Highland Park, Breckenridge, Waco, Marshall and Lufkin are top favorites to repeat while McAllen still has a chance to win in District 16.

Championships definitely on the line this week are:

- District 2—Vernon vs. Wichita Falls.
- District 3—San Angelo vs. Abilene.
- District 4—Austin (El Paso) vs. El Paso high.
- District 7—Paschal (Fort Worth) vs. North Side.
- District 11—Marshall vs. Tyler.
- District 12—Lufkin vs. Henderson.
- District 14—Port Arthur vs. Goose Creek.
- District 15—Austin vs. Kerrville.

In the case of District 2, Wichita Falls can take the title by winning or tying with Vernon, but should Vernon win another week would be required.

District 3 is the same as regards Abilene, which can take the title with a victory or tie while San Angelo would have to wait a week.

Austin (El Paso) can win or tie with El Paso high and come through.

North Side will have to beat Paschal to win the championship. In that case North Side and Paschal would end up with the same percentage and North Side would win the title by virtue of having defeated Paschal although having lost a conference game to Amon Carter.

Riverside, which is out of the running. Marshall can win in District 11 with a victory or tie and it's the same with Lufkin in District 12. In District 14 Port Arthur and Goose Creek are undefeated and end the schedule against each other.

Several Tough Games This Week

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Army and navy hibernate this weekend in preparation for their Dec. 2 clash but there's plenty of football with unbeaten Ohio state entertaining Michigan, Notre Dame, invading Georgia Tech and Southern California banging into UCLA.

That high powered trio of games is listed for Saturday, Thursday's Thanksgiving Day menu is almost as attractive with unpredictable Arkansas host to Tulsa, Missouri and Kansas clashing at Kansas City and Charlotte watching South Carolina and Wake Forest.

Navy, using four full teams but with little Hal Hamberg the star, tuned up for the transplanted service clash by blanking Purdue, 32 to 0, Saturday. Army got a lot of bad football out of its system the same day while crushing Pennsylvania, 62 to 7.

Out in the Midwest, both the Buckeyes and Wolverines had similar success in the last outings before their big ten title-deciding fray. Ohio state came from behind to subdue the Illinois Swifties, 26 to 12, and Michigan sweat out a 14 to 0 decision over the stubborn Badgers.

Southern California almost insured itself a repeat appearance in the Rose Bowl by crushing California, 32 to 0, and now needs only a win over UCLA to make it official.

Iowa pre-flight punished Missouri, 51 to 7, and now meets Iowa, a 46 to 0 victim of Minnesota's power. Randolph field massacred Southwestern, 54 to 0, and now has

Harvesters Rest Before Hard Grind

By SCOTT RAFFERTY

Coaches Correy and Ortswell gave their charges a couple of days off as a breather before starting the serious business of preparing for what promises to be about the hardest game of the year, the Turkey Day final against Plainview. Both teams are higher eager to finish second or first, if Amarillo should fizzle.

Upsets do happen, but there is going to have to be two big reversals to keep the power-laden Amarillo Golden Sandies from taking the District IAA title.

Lubbock and Brownfield remain on the Sandie schedule, and Amarillo needs to win only one of these to get the crown. However, a loss to both teams would give the winner of the Pampa-Plainview game the title.

Because of the fact that they are playing on their own field, the Westerners from Lubbock, are the only ones that can now be given an outside chance of stopping the Standard. Lubbock took a 14-7 defeat from the Pampa Harvesters Armistice Day while Amarillo was swamped, Plainview 44-0. As Plainview already holds a victory over Lubbock, to all appearances, Amarillo holds a 45 point edge over the Westerners, all of which probably makes no difference to the boys from the South Plains city, who will be out to avenge a 47-0 defeat handed them by Amarillo last fall.

As for Pampa and Plainview, both have won six out of nine conference games, although Pampa's offensive and defensive record is slightly better. In the history of competition between the two schools, Plainview has won only one game, while the Harvesters were taking ten. The Bulldog's sole victory came in 1940, when the luckless Pampa team dropped a 10-0 decision. The Bulldogs were runners-up to the Amarillo eleven for the district title that season.

Glenn Davis High Football Scorer

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Army's Glenn Davis virtually clinched the 1944 college high scoring race last week with three touchdowns against Pennsylvania to boost his total for eight games to 114 points. This gave the Los Angeles lad a lead of 30 points over Tom McWilliams of Mississippi State, who was injured in the first quarter against Alabama.

TCU May Gain Championship This Weekend

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

The Southwest conference football race was pulled out of a huddled state last week and Texas Christian's Horned Frogs, who did the pulling, want to keep it that way Saturday when they play the Rice Owls at Houston.

And incidentally, if they succeed in maintaining a clarified situation they will be conference champions, because all the Frogs need is a victory in this game to store away their first pennant since 1938.

Otherwise, the conference schedule Saturday means nothing in the title race. Arkansas goes to Tulsa to play the Tulsa Golden Hurricane in an inter-sectional game and Southern Methodist journeys to Lubbock to engage the ever-tough Texas Tech Red Raiders, who won the border conference title last week.

Texas A. and M. and Texas rest this week storing up energy for their traditional Thanksgiving day clash at Austin Nov. 30.

The thrilling photo-finish of the American league baseball race this season had nothing on the Southwest conference gridiron scramble. While Texas Christian is out in front, excellent opportunity still is afforded for the Frogs to lose out in the stretch drive.

TCU, with the smallest squad in the conference, is hugging the top rung with 2 wins no losses and one tie. But it has two games to play and a lot could happen should the Frogs lose them.

Texas and the Aggies still are in the running. If Rice defeats TCU and TCU later loses to Southern Methodist, then Rice will be champion of the conference with the winner of the turkey day clash between Texas and A. and M. These three teams now are tied for second place with two wins and two losses each.

Arkansas has the same percentage with two wins two losses and a tie, but the Razorbacks definitely are out of the championship running since tie games count a half win and half loss. The Arkansas schedule is ended.

Southern Methodist, in last place, has one victory and three losses. The Mustangs were eliminated from title consideration more than a week ago. Last Saturday was a week-end only a mudder could love—every game was played in rain and on wet grounds, also, every game was a conference affair.

A small crowd huddled under umbrellas to see the TCU down Texas 7-6 in a 60-minute thriller that knocked Texas' hopes for the championship into a cocked headgear.

Randolph Field Meets Sky Giants Ft. Worth Sunday

By JACK RUTLEDGE

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 20.—(AP)—The mighty Randolph Ramblers and the Amarillo Sky Giants take over the football spotlight in North Texas this weekend.

These AAF training command service teams meet in a Sunday night game at Fort Worth, billed for Farrington field at 8 o'clock. All receipts will go to armed forces charities.

Rated No. 2 team in the nation, Randolph has one of the finest records ever compiled by a team in this section. Such stars as Bill Dudley, Pete Layden, Jack Russell, Walter Merrill, Tippy Evans, Everett Elkins, Jake Leicht and others perform for the Ramblers, who are undefeated in their games.

Amarillo has lost two games this season, but several new men have joined the squad since the defeat to Second air force. The newcomers include Bob Aaron, former Boston college halfback who played here in the Cotton Bowl in 1940 and in the Orange Bowl in 1941; Tony Arena, center from Michigan State halfback; and Clement Andrews, former ex-Vladivostok tackle. Also on the Amarillo squad are Bobby Paffrath, former air-America back at Minnesota, and Al Coppage, who played end three years for the Chicago Cardinals before he enlisted in the AAF.

Hunters Welcome On Lake McClellan

By JACK RUTLEDGE

Virgil Howell, representing the management of Lake McClellan, on McClellan creek 26 miles south of Pampa, announced today that duck hunters would be welcome to shoot on the lake every Wednesday, Sunday, and all holidays until January 30, end of the duck-hunting season.

That gives the following days this month: the 22nd, 23rd, 26th, 29th and 30th.

Various reports have indicated that the duck shooting is mighty good on McClellan this year.

Sitton's Sports Sentiments

By EB SITTON

A scouting trip with a couple of coaches is always a pleasure, especially to one who likes football. A heap. For that is what the guys are gonna talk, all the way there and back. To the successful coach, football is the most important and interesting thing in the world—and maybe that accounts for his success. His intense concentration on the game.

Coffey, and Criswell know their game thoroughly. At Plainview Friday night those guys peeled a mighty sharp eye at the blue-and-white Bulldogs—Borger and Plainview both have that doggy name; and I, for one, who wish one team or the other would change its name to Hounds, or Doglegs, or maybe Prairie Dogs—to see what made 'em click.

They saw. They have some tail down strengths and weaknesses. They're gonna try to neutralize those strengths and pounce on those flaws.

But it is not gonna be an easy game. For Plainview also has Pampa well scouted. And Plainview has developed a versatility that they had not felt the need of in their earlier games where in their offense was built around one man, Jack Williams, the fine passer, as completely as TCU's 1937 team was founded on hand for the able little O'Brien fellow of All-American memory.

The most noticeable thing about Plainview was the speed of its hand-charging line. They have some tall lean rangy boys there that are mean some-of-guns on those who hinder them. I hereby offer the name of their end Fischer for All-State honors; he's as good as any.

In doping out the second-thanks-giving-day Plainview-Pampa game, you can safely disregard the name.

tuff the Thanksgiving Chicken

For the traditional Thanksgiving dinner, granddad and granddaughter bring in turkey and cranberry sauce.

Many families are smaller this year because dad or the boys are at war. So a fat roasting chicken will take the place in those cases of the traditional turkey. Here's a new stuffing with rich flavor. Also a light pumpkin pie.

Bran Flakes Stuffing
One-third cup minced onion, 4 tablespoons butter, 1 1/2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 teaspoon sage, 1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning, 1 1/2 cups bran flakes, 2 cups soft bread crumbs, 1 to 2 tablespoons water.

Sauté onion in butter 3 minutes. Parsley and seasonings and bread crumbs with bran flakes and bread crumbs. Mix well. Add water and together lightly with a fork thoroughly mixed. Makes 1 1/2 cups stuffing for a 5-pound fowl.

Pumpkin Chiffon Pie
The package orange-flavored gelatin, 1 cup hot water, 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon allspice, 1/2 teaspoon ginger, dash of cloves, 2 tablespoons molasses, 2 cups mashed cooked pumpkin, 2 egg whites, 4 tablespoons sugar, 1 baked 9-inch pie shell.

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Combine egg yolks, milk, 1/2 cup sugar, salt, spices and molasses in top of double boiler, mixing well. Cook over hot water until mixture coats spoon, stirring constantly. Remove from fire. Add pumpkin and gelatin and mix well. Chill until slightly thickened. Beat egg whites until foamy; then add remaining 1/2 cup sugar gradually, and continue beating until stiff. Fold lightly into gelatin mixture. Pour into cold pie shell. Chill until firm. Serve plain or pile whipped cream lightly around edge and garnish with orange gelatin cubes.

Stein-Hunt Vows Said November 12 In Mississippi

Miss Deloris Stein became the bride of I/C Chief Petty Officer Frank Hunt, U. S. navy, in a ceremony read November 12 at the Key field chapel, Gulfport, Miss.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Stein, 106 W. Tukey Pampa. PO Hunt is the son of Mrs. M. E. Hunt of Cottonwell, Okla.

The altar was decorated with baskets of gladiolus interspersed with fern.

Mrs. Hunt wore a red suit with black accessories and a shoulder corsage of white roses.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was held for the couple with Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wright, Mrs. Helen Hopkins, Mrs. Engie Tinsley, Mrs. Mable Fields and T/Sgt. Jack Hunt as guests.

The couple left the following day for Gulfport where the bridegroom will be a Diesel instructor. He recently returned from the European theatre of operations and took part in the invasion of France on June 6. He was awarded the Bronze Star Medal for bravery.

The bride attended Pampa high school.

This meeting will discuss the U.C.Y.M. and the development of a regional planning conference of the U.C.Y.M. for the Southwest similar to those already in operation each year at the University of Chicago and Lake Geneva, Wis. The new conference would serve the area of Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, and Oklahoma.

A native of Indiana, Mr. Beckes received his B.S. in Education from Indiana State Teachers' College; B. D. from the Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Chicago; and has completed his residence work for a Ph. D. degree at Yale university graduate school.

During the years that he was in New Haven Mr. Beckes served as chairman of the youth committee of the New Haven Council of Churches and as a member of the youth committee of the Connecticut Council of Churches. His book, "Youth Leaders in Action", published in 1941, has had a large sale.

In the International Council of Religious Edith, Mr. Beckes directs the nation-wide program of the United Christian Youth Movement in which young people of 42 Protestant denominations, 31 state interdenominational youth councils, and 10 national interdenominational agencies participate.

Tricks For Home Improvement

By MILICENT SCHAUB
Gray County, H. Agent

If you are to be your own home decorator, one of the first things to realize is that the quality of livableness and charm are the two outstanding achievements for which to strive. To make a room livable—if it must have the pieces of furniture and accessories necessary for comfort and beauty. Always remember, "simplicity is the keynote to beauty." Every homemaker wishes to express the charm in her home of her own personality. Therefore, never try to copy some one else's home or furniture selections. Choose those things suitable to you and your personality. What you like, someone else may not, but still your choice expresses your principles to use as a foundation for choosing the furnishing of a home.

1. Choose the type of home you desire to have. Decide whether you want colonial, Georgian, English, English cottage, Regency, French, Italian modern, Spanish are non-descript. Now adapt the style you choose to your own needs.
2. Consider the background. The floors, curtains and draperies make up a room. If the background of a room is not right no amount of beautiful furniture will make the room a success.
3. Color; 4. Scale; and 5. Individuality.

By scale we mean the relationship of the size of the furniture to the room. Here are some rules for good arrangement plan after you have chosen your home as to the five principles.

1. Always avoid placing furniture in a part of the room which is a passageway.
2. Place all large pieces as divan, dressers, chest of drawers, desks, which are stationary, parallel with the wall. Place the bed so you walk around it while making it.
3. Do not place all large pieces on one side and all small pieces on the other; neither place all high pieces together.
4. The furniture for each activity should be grouped as a unit in order that book steps and time may be saved.
5. Do not have a lot of unnecessary bric-a-brac scattered about. One good ornament or picture is better than several.
6. Hang all pictures over a base to give stability to the wall space, used objects cannot be hung in "wide open spaces."
7. Hang pictures on an eye level.
8. Have pictures and mirrors fit the space in which they are used.
9. Keep all furniture in good condition. One of the commonest errors made by homemakers is the leaving of cellophane on lamp shades, cellophane on lamp shades is harmful rather than beneficial to our lamps. They should be removed before using.
10. An object must be related in size to the area it occupies. There must be some scale between the walls the furniture and the hanging.

Winter White

NEW YORK—Winter coats as pure white as a snow man's hint at what's to come when the war is over and the lid is off. But no snow man's ever dripped with such luxurious chunks of silver fox, mink, Persian lamb, beaver or other dark fur.

If you ask "Why white?" the American Wool Council's answer is: "A lot of colors in coats have been coming up to banish the monotony of limited wartime weaves. Now white comes along to introduce a little excitement."

Big success for white—dead white and off whites trailing into pale beige—is predicted for wear by women who can get quick-cleaning service and by those who can't, and the prophecy is that coats of it will top everything at winter resorts from slacks to evening gowns.

Two trend-setting examples to note because you'll be seeing them around are shown above. As breath-taking as a snow-capped mountain peak is the Philip Mangone-designed out-sweeping coat at the left for evening wear with nearly a foot wide banding of silver fox which is echoed on the cuffs.

The swashbuckling white topper at the right of fleecy fabric looks smart with darty daytime clothes, has a dip in back like a coachman's coat, and is made to look utterly regal with severe facings and buttons of luxurious mink.

Shamrock Man Among Flying Group Cited

SHAMROCK, Nov. 20—The B-24 Liberator four-engine bomber group in which Master Sergeant Dwight F. Armstrong of 400 South Houston street, Shamrock, is a crew chief recently was cited by Major General William E. Kepner, commanding 2nd bombardment division, for distinguished and outstanding performance of duty in England.

The citation in part reads: "The devotion to duty, determination and tenacity of purpose exhibited by personnel of the group reflect great credit upon themselves, their organization and the United States army air forces."

The group, which recently completed its 100th combat mission, commanded by Col. Luther J. Fairbanks of Burt, Iowa, and had previously been cited by Lt. Col. James H. Doolittle, commanding Eighth air force, for low-level destruction of a bridge across the Loire, near Blois, France.

Demolition of the span was ordered "regardless of cost." To achieve visibility necessary for destruction of the bridge, it was necessary to descend below clouds to 6,500 feet, an altitude usually considered extremely hazardous for four-engine bombers. From this height the target was reduced to a heap of smoking rubble. It was the first low-level bombing ever performed by four-engine bombers from England.

Association Will Defend Newspaper

NEW YORK, Nov. 20—(AP)—The Miami Herald Publishing Co. and John D. Pennekamp, associate editor, who have been cited for contempt of court, will be supported by the American Newspaper Publishers' association.

ANPA directors Saturday unanimously authorized their general counsel to appear in support of the publishing firm and editor in court for the eleventh judicial circuit of Florida, Dade county.

Linwood N. Noves, ANPA president, speaking for the directors said:

"It was the opinion of the directors that the citation squarely raises the issue as to the right of a newspaper to comment upon judicial proceedings in the interests of the public that is affected by that procedure."

"The citation was referred to our general counsel who expressed the opinion that under the decisions of the United States Supreme Court the Miami Herald was wholly within its rights in publishing the comment it published."

Contempt proceedings were instituted by Circuit Judges Marshall C. Wisheart and Paul B. Burns on the basis of two editorials and a cartoon published in the Nov. 2 and Nov. 7 issues of the Herald. They charged that the editorials tend to prevent them from "fairly and impartially administering justice."

Dismissals by Judge Wisheart of a gambling case and Judge Burns of eight rape cases were reviewed by editors accompanied by a cartoon.

V-2 in Action

Prime Minister Churchill's admission that German V-2 rockets have landed in England still leaves their effectiveness a matter of conjecture. It will likely remain so during the closing phase of the war in Europe. For military authorities are still going to oblige the nazis by confirming claims that the V-2 has landed in London, Paris and Antwerp, any more than they would announce a direct hit on Manhattan Island.

Even those who are in the vicinity of a V-2 hit (and survive the experience) cannot know where the missile was aimed, and thus cannot judge its accuracy. It also seems unlikely that, with the air superiority, German reconnaissance planes are able to take home a very complete picture of V-2 results. So at present the Germans know the location of the story, and the V-2 recipients the end. The rest is speculation on both sides.

It does seem certain, though, that the present V-2 is not so much a new super-terror weapon as it is a counter-defensive weapon. The V-1, Neutral sources say the V-2 is about twice as long as the V-1, and weighs some 15 tons. But Mr. Churchill reports that it carries the same one-ton explosive load.

How much the V-2 has been changed and scaled down cannot be known. But the fact remains that it seems to be serving largely as a supplement to the V-1s launched by plane from the North Sea since the loss of the Channel coast launching ramps. The V-2's great advantage—a finless psychological one—is that, since it falls to earth at a speed greater than that of sound, its approach cannot be detected. Wherever it strikes it comes as swiftly and noiselessly as a bolt of lightning.

It seems doubtful that the V-2 can be very accurate. Only a ballistic expert could speak intelligently of the difficulties of sending a missile 200 miles or more through a trajectory which bends in 90 degrees above the earth. But one can guess that there are tremendous mathematical calculations involving the earth's rotation and curvature, and various atmospheric conditions.

Rocket weapons date back 700 years and come down to fairly recent history. We sing of them thoughtlessly in our national anthems but in the same war of 1812 they routed the defenders of Washington in the battle of Bladensburg. Their abiding fault, however, was their inaccuracy. And with the development of the rifled gun barrel they became obsolete.

Now they are back, perhaps controlled by radio, infinitely more deadly. Unless a swift Allied advance paralyzes their production both their deadliness and accuracy will improve, for the Germans still possess good technical minds. And unless they are outlawed after this war, as is possible, they present a ghastly threat to the whole world in another conflict.

Outlawing the production and use of rocket bombs is a specific job for the world's peace guardians, even while they outlaw war in general.

The Legion to the Fore

It was the American Legion's misfortune during peacetime years to have the public judge its activities by the antics of its annual convention. And it cannot be denied that the Legionnaires tended to aid and abet this one-sided judgment. Their quieter, constructive work in the fields of welfare and citizenship were overlooked.

Now, with the war mounting to a victorious end, the Legion is assuming a dominant place in reconstruction and rehabilitation plans. It drafted and sponsored the so-called "GI Bill of Rights." It is interesting itself in helping disabled men to find work, and it has made the wise suggestion that a World War 2 veteran be appointed to each draft board to assist the other members in finding re-employment for other veterans.

The fact that 300,000 veterans of this year have already joined the Legion speaks well for its prestige and appeal. The further the fact that the Legion has extended its public relations system promises a better public understanding of its efforts. All these things suggest that the reinforced American Legion will fulfill its potential as a strong and active democratic group during the difficult days to come.

The Nation's Press

LOOK AT AMERICA (Chicago Tribune) When some one asked the Abbe Sloyes what he thought of the Reign of Terror he replied, "I lived." Look at America. It will live. The nation is following a dark and perilous course. Alarming tendencies will, as a result of the election, be continued, if not accelerated. We bear the greatest debt, in history and it will grow heavier. Promises have been made that cannot be redeemed. It would be most foolish to discount the hazards that lie ahead. But, nevertheless, look at America. A nation consists of its people and its land. We have made a new people in this land. British, Mediterranean, Jew, Slav, Negro, Scandinavian, German, French, every strain has contributed to the peculiar genius and special talents to the American people. Don't be deceived by the scum on the melting pot. It always rises to the top. Beneath is the rich, fine alloy. Our people are intensely loyal to America. The annals of this war show that there are no special racial aptitudes for war. We have the most efficient army and navy on earth. Our people have equal skill in peace time arts. We are the greatest manufacturers and

Theory of Collective Bargaining

By John W. Scoville, Economist for Chrysler Corporation (An address delivered before the Detroit Kivwanis Club)

Labor Problem Part of Larger Problem

Now the point I wish to make is that the labor problem is just one part of a much larger problem. If you believe in economic freedom and competition, then you will be opposed to collective bargaining. If you believe in private and public monopolies, if you are opposed to free enterprise and competition, then you will probably favor collective bargaining.

There are many names by which we can identify the people who are opposed to economic freedom—they are called socialists, communists, collectivists, etc. I am opposed to all farmers, merchants, manufacturers, laborers, and others, who seek by group action to limit competition and restrain trade. I am opposed to monopoly and monopolists. I am one hundred per cent in favor of economic freedom.

There are two kinds of collectivism. There is a legitimate collectivism which benefits the members without injuring others. For example, if the merchants in a city form a credit association so that each merchant can use the files of the association, this group action is harmless. This collective action reduces the cost of getting credit without injuring anyone.

There is a malignant kind of collective action which seeks to benefit the members by injuring others. The collective bargaining which benefits the members by inflicting injury on others. Protective tariffs and farmer schemes for parity prices are of this malignant type. If by collective bargaining the members of the union secure higher wages, others must get lower wages or lower income.

Now all predatory combinations seek to impose their tactics on those who are not members. They have combined to secure justice and a redress of grievances and also by claiming that they are not wholly selfish and that their plan will promote the general welfare. Thus manufacturers say they want protective tariffs so they will be able to pay higher wages—that they seek to protect our workers from the pauper labor of Europe.

Europe's farmers say that if they can get higher prices they can buy more city-made goods. Labor union members claim that if they can get higher wages they can buy more produce of the farms. Labor unions claim that workers do not get wages enough to buy the products of industry and they claim that with higher wages they can buy more and promote business activity. But how can five dollars added to a workman's wages enable him to buy more if the same five dollars is added to the price of the goods he buys?

If higher wages are at the expense of stockholders, then the increased buying of the labor union members is offset by a decrease in the buying of the stockholders. If a rise in farm prices enables farmers to buy more, the higher food prices compel city people to buy less. All of the arguments advanced by predatory combinations that they are working for the general welfare are hypocritical and false. Let us recognize the motives of the predatory combinations are selfishness and avarice. They are economic aggressors seeking to enrich themselves by plundering others.

Now look at the land of America. While we do not possess the whole continent, we possess the most arable part of it. Nowhere on earth is there a farming region so rich and extensive as that compassed by a circle of 400 or 500 miles circumscribed about Chicago. We have most of the materials essential to an industrial civilization in either peace or war, and better opportunities of getting what we lack than has any other nation.

Politically we are on good terms and will always remain on good terms with our smaller neighbors in America. We have no land frontiers in the military sense. We possess the two most important strategic spots in the coming world, Panama and Hawaii. Whatever shape the post-war world takes we are secure to work out our destiny if only we keep in hand the weapons we have forged.

The strength of America is a living continuing thing. That strength can be impaired temporarily by unwise foreign policy, as it is being impaired today. Resources on hand can be dissipated foolishly but the resources of the future cannot be given away because they have not yet been made to be given away.

There are great perils in our path. But no course of folly can destroy America within two years, or four. It is too rich, too strong, too glorious for that. It will live. Look at it.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS The National Whirligig

By ALBERT LEMAN

TROUBLES—If Capitol Hill leaders have their way, the outgoing Seventy-eighth Congress will deal with only a few "musts," among them extension of the War Powers Act, appropriations for rivers, harbors and flood control and payroll tax policies. "Hot potatoes" will be kept for the newly elected legislators who take office in January.

Although explosive matters are banished from the calendar, a controversial subject is discussed in cloakrooms, restaurants and offices. It is the intriguing question of the future of the two major parties. Both cynics and long-odds gamblers expect Mr. Roosevelt to run for a fifth term, anticipation of his retirement from the scene has started a guessing game as to how democrats and republicans will jockey for power.

Pessimists, peering into the crystal ball, think they see the end of the democratic party. They are convinced that such incongruous steeds as the Dixie cotton kings, union ears and city bosses will dash off in opposite directions once the adroit F.D.R. has dropped the reins.

The mourning-bench contingent of the C.O.P. points out that its crowd has steadily lost national contests since the rise of the New Deal. Its spokesmen fear that they have combined to secure justice and a redress of grievances and also by claiming that they are not wholly selfish and that their plan will promote the general welfare.

As it appears that internal troubles among democrats will come to the surface first, let's look at its elements as analyzed by political appraisers in Washington. GOSSIP—That the democrats are engaged in a family row is not new. Ever since the Civil War they have comprised a conglomeration of minority blocs with little in common but an appetite for the spoils of office and a dislike for the C.O.P.'s ruling elements and economic theories.

As the party will shrivel and his reforms will be uprooted unless new, strong men are in sight to rally the demagogue. Talk is that the party will lean toward Byrd conservatism. Those close to inner sanctums maintain that this gossip is the bunk. They expect to return to the White House. But he realizes that his party will shrivel and his reforms will be uprooted unless new, strong men are in sight to rally the demagogue.

Peter Edson's Column: U-N ASSEMBLY AN ADVISORY BODY

By PETER EDSON Functions of the general assembly of the United Nations organization, as proposed in the Dumbarton Oaks suggestions for a United Nations charter, would be principally to consider and recommend action on political, economic or social questions of interest to two or more countries. Deliberations of the general assembly would take place in regular annual sessions and such extra sessions as might be called would also set as an advisory board for all the nations, recommending ways in which the nations could co-operate to maintain peace.

Size of each nation's delegation in the general assembly is not yet determined, but each nation large or small would have only one vote. This is an over-simplified statement of the functions and powers of the general assembly, as set forth in chapter five of the Dumbarton Oaks proposals, but there you may see that the assembly is in no sense a world legislature, passing "laws" for all the nations of the world.

Its recommendations might take the form of "conventions" which would then have to be submitted to all the governments. But if any countries, by not ratifying an action of the assembly, should endanger the peace of the world, that would be something else. A WAY TO CRACK DOWN ON ARMAMENT BUILDING For instance, one of the questions

Around Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

Behind the screen: The unexpected therapeutic value of motion pictures, primarily intended for entertainment in army and navy hospital wards, is one of the big stories of World War II. Hundreds of battling shock victims are expressing gratitude for what motion pictures, shown on hospital walls and even on ceilings for bed-ridden patients, have done for them.

Minds taking subconscious refuge from the terrors of war have been pierced for the first time in months by motion pictures. Four hundred hospitals have been equipped with 16 mm. portable sound motion picture equipment. Hal Jap propaganda chiefs are now using a Hollywood still photograph of Bud Abbott trying to show reluctant Lou Costello into the cockpit of an airplane. "U. S. fliers are cowards," reads the caption. The picture was taken during filming of the comedy "Keep 'Em Flying."

Lloyd Nolan told it on the set of "Circumstantial Evidence." A friend went to call on a pal and was greeted at the gate by two dogs, a Scottie and a Sealham. The Scottie looked up and said, "Good morning. Haven't seen you around here for a long time." The visitor was flabbergasted. "The Scottie," he asked his host, "does your Scottie always talk to your guests? He actually said good morning to me." The friend was unconcerned. "That wasn't Scottie," he replied calmly. "It was the Sealham. He's a ventriloquist."

NOT HIS OWN TYPE Otto Gruger will play the role of Earl Carroll in the musical of Earl Carroll's Vanities. The Marquee sign of the week: "The Hairly Ape—in Society."

Artie Shaw, discharged from the navy last February, returns to the baton with a new band Dec. 1.

For the duration at least, Hollywood has lost the honor of having the biggest motion picture companies in the world. The biggest one, these days is in Washington. The "company" is the Army Signal Corps, which is producing and distributing motion pictures on a scale that has never been equaled. Since Jan. 1, it has produced more than 650 pictures, and the 290 in production. They include training films, informational and morale pictures and historical films on the various battles of the war.

Nobody can claim Sonja Henie's skates as souvenirs. She throws 'em away when they wear out. SUPERSTITIOUS MARINE NEARLY LANDS A marine skipper of producer Robert Sparks was invited by his wife, Penny Singleton, to take a turn around their San Fernando Valley ranch on a tractor. Penny dived and rolled and turned fast corners with the skill of a crack tank driver.

But as she zoomed along she noticed that the marine, whose chest was dripping with campaign ribbons, was getting more and more nervous. "Finally he blurted: 'Lady, either let your husband drive this thing or let me off. I've been on the South Pacific but I've never had an experience like this.'"

Ozzie Nelson saw this sign in a Hollywood cafe: "If the steak is too tough for you, please leave. This is no place for weaklings." Xavier Cugat will soon publish a book of sketches "Caricatures of Characters," which will leave plenty of red faces in flickerwit. There's Cugat's conception of certain Hollywood types.

Living Costs Up One Point Over September

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—(AP)—The national industrial conference board said today that living costs for the average family of wage earners and lower-salaried clerical workers in the United States in the middle of October were 1.1 per cent higher than at the same time in September, bringing living costs back to the August level.

THE ASSEMBLY IS A GENERAL HOUSEKEEPER

Further, the general assembly may elect its own president, may appoint the expenses of the member nations in maintaining the United Nations organization, and it may make the budgets for these expenses. Finally, the general assembly may exercise certain checks upon the security council. The security council may nominate the secretary general, but the assembly will elect him and if the general assembly turns down a nominee, the security council must suggest others until an acceptable one is found. Similarly the security council may recommend new members for the organization and recommend that others be expelled. But it is the general assembly which gives final decision to such recommendations.

The general assembly is not empowered to veto any such actions of the security council, but it is the general assembly which determines which countries shall be represented and elected to the non-permanent seats on the council. The general assembly will elect the members of the council in this manner. Functions of this security council will be discussed in the next article.

WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MacKENZIE Associated Press Staff Writer

Thus far the allied drive toward the Rhine hasn't given us a lead to show whether General Eisenhower will achieve his ambition to end the war this year or whether it may drag on through the winter—but his mighty fighting machine is crushing steadily forward with the inevitability of a landslide.

The German battle-line is stretched taut and at many places is giving, notably in the Aachen sector opposite Cologne and down South in the Metz-Belfort zone. We can see the Nazi lack of reserves for the quick, hard counter-attacks necessary to restore breaks at strategic points. Such a situation is wholly in favor of the allies, and it might produce a crash-through.

However, this isn't a time for prophecy. While we've seen a further awesome demonstration of allied striking-power, we also have fresh evidence of German determination to gamble prodigally with death in this last-ditch stand at the threshold of the fatherland.

Of course, much depends on the weather. Winter fights for the defenders. Nazi Field Marshal von Rundstedt, commander in chief on the Western front, is showing a disposition to cling as long as possible to his formidable defenses West of the Rhine, despite the fact that this great river affords his strongest natural barrier against the allies.

The consensus of military experts is that Nazi resistance will fold up when the allies are over the river in force. It's humanly possible, of course, that we may see the guerrilla warfare—battles for each city, town and hamlet—which Nazi propagandists have threatened, but that's not likely.

Once we've established a route across the Rhine, we shall be able to pour armored forces into the plains of Germany. Also we shall have in our hands Hitler's chief industrial areas, the Ruhr and the Saar, which lie close to the Rhine.

So They Say

For decades to come, the nation's entire economy—and that includes jobs and money in the bank, and a chance to send your son to college—depends upon the outcome of the "reconversion" job we have ahead of us. Lt. Gen. William S. Knudsen, director Air Technical Service Command.

Peacetime Use Sought For Airplane Plants

Maverick stated yesterday that his agency would see that post war use could be made of these Texas plants if the communities where they are located with the agency's assistance.

YOU GOTTA THINK QUICK

By Stanley Paley Copyright, 1944, NEA Service, Inc. THE STORY: Kabateck has had such a good time with Mickey and Don Stevens, hitch-hikers he picked up on a drive across the continent that he is sorry when they near their destination.

"Oh, yes," he said. "Kabateck! Come on up." "Who is it?" "Leo Kabateck. I've just arrived and I got your message. There was a short silence. Perez must have been groping his way out of a fog. "Oh, yes," he said. "Kabateck! Come on up."

"The shades were drawn and the lamp at the bedside was on. Outside the California sun was shining but in here you'd have thought it was New York on a winter morning. Perez had just got out of bed. His silk pajama top was open and the hair on his chest was the real thing. He was a large man, something over six feet, and with shoulders like a football player. I'd never seen so many contradictions in one person. The physique of a gorilla and the face of a Salvation Army officer. I winced when he gripped my hand, but when he began talking it was in a low, cultured voice.

Cigarets Will Continue To Be Scarce, But It Will Be Very Foolish to Hoard

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Cigarets are going to continue scarce for civilians but hoarders are "very foolish" in the opinion of three leading cigarette companies. Declining "absolutely" to be named in connection with their comments, spokesmen for concerns making three major—and scarce—brands reiterated:

1. They're making all they can under the circumstances, more than ever before. 2. Shortages of manpower and raw materials prevent a further step-up in output. 3. Government orders for the armed forces are going to be filled first. 4. Civilians, through their retailers, are going to get as fair a division of available smokes as possible. One spokesman said shipments this month are 70 per cent of those of November, 1943. He asserted that since last year's sales

Shakeup Reported In Finn Cabinet

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 20.—(AP)—J. K. Paasikivi was named prime minister of Finland in a shakeup of the cabinet. A veteran peace envoy and former (1918) premier who participated in the negotiations which led to the Moscow-Helsinki armistice, Paasikivi succeeds Erhu Castren as Baron Carl Gustaf Mannerheim's first minister. The Finnish radio announced Nov. 19 that Paasikivi had accepted the offer to form a four-year cabinet. The Castren regime had been criticized by Soviet organs for its handling of the Russian-Finnish armistice problems.

Four new ministers were named in the 18-man cabinet, including one communist, Y. Leino. He was appointed to the assistant communications post. C. J. A. Enckell remains foreign minister. Paasikivi once served for a time as Finnish minister to Moscow.

OUR MEN IN SERVICE

(The Pampa News encourages letters and cards on men and women in service. Identify subject and write plainly, so there will be no chance of mistake.)

GRADUATED A. P. Coombes was graduated recently from the aviation ordnance school at Norman, Okla., as seaman 2c.

SEAMAN COOMBS is the son of Mrs. H. Lewis, 312 N. Dwight, Pampa, and his wife, Mrs. LaVene Coombes, lives in Oklahoma City.

BEFORE BEING SWORN into the marine corps in El Paso on October 24, they were both employees of the P.A.A.P.

ON ARRIVAL at Camp LeJeune, Pvt. Hughes and Pvt. Lewis will undergo seven weeks' boot training, after which they will be assigned to regular duty at one of the marine corps bases or stations.

BULGARIAN PRISONER OF WAR T/Sgt. Ernest L. Kindy has returned to his home in Webb City, Okla., after having spent a week visiting with a sister in Pampa, Mrs. R. F. Marlar, 611 N. Nalda, and one in Berger, Mrs. G. W. Williamson of the Teocoy Camp.

Sgt. Kindy was a prisoner of war in Bulgaria for 10 months and has several medals, including the Purple Heart. An Associated Press story told of the cruelties received in the prison camp that he, himself, did not wish to repeat.

Foreign Holding Of Gold Larger Than Ever Before WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(AP)—The United States still has more gold than the rest of the world put together. We have 20.8 billion dollars worth. Foreigners have 14 billion. But see how the picture has changed. Since the beginning of 1941:

Foreign governments now have 17 billion dollars in gold and dollar reserves. Even in 1939, before the world financial crisis broke, the total was only seven or eight billion.

After lend-lease went into operation in March, 1941, the foreign world as a whole ceased to lose gold. In those four years, foreigners acquired over five billion dollars worth of gold while we lost more than a billion.
