Britain Proves Herself 'Big Nation' in Handing to India Right of Independence

Having said this one hastens to note that the transaction hasn't yet been completed. It remains for the warring Hindus and Moslems in British India to bury the hatchet and establish that "responsible" government. It also remains for the some 600 reigning princes and lesser potentates to conclude agreements to facilitate England's withdrawal.

From the standpoint of Indian opportunity the set-up would seem to be as nearly perfect as things come in this life. However, as Prime Minister Attlee pointed out yesterday in the House of Commons, the situation is "fraught with danger" because of the certainty between the All-Indian Congress Party—which is mainly Hindu—and the Moslem League. Thus far they have been unable to submerge their quarrel sufficiently to cooperate in the provisional government which the Viceroy, Field Marshal Lord Wavell, has for months been trying to get into action.

'Benefits of Federated Clubs' Topic of Eleanor Roosevelt Study Club

Members of the Eleanor Roosevelt Study Club heard an interesting paper on "Benefits of Federated Clubs" by Mrs. H. Bagwell when they were entertained Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. J. B. Gallaher in her home near Skellytown.

The meeting was opened by reading of the Club Collect by members in unison, followed by the business meeting which was presided over by Mrs. J. C. Jarvis, president. It was decided to send a substantial sum, for the purchase of school supplies, through UNRRA for the benefit of schools in China, Korea, and Ethiopia.

Roll call was answered by members giving something of interest on their chosen subject for the year. Mrs. Gene Harlan was program leader and Mrs. Bagwell's paper was read by Mrs. H. C. Boyd. It stressed the value of club work in the home and community, and especially its many outstanding achievements in Texas. Following are a few of those mentioned—making the Alamo a shrine for patriotic pilgrimages; attention to fine arts, child labor, food, sanitation, juvenile courts, manual training, parks, playgrounds, prison reform, rural life, scholarships, schools, teacherages, waterways, and the work done by clubs during the war.

A high government official once said "Next to the Federated Government, women's clubs are the greatest force for good in America." Federated clubs are often termed "the married woman's university" as it keeps her mentality alive, interested in the progress of children, helps her form the right kind of public opinion and, sentiment, has helped strengthen home ties and parental responsibility; and many other helpful achievements are credited to this band of women.

Following the program delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses to those mentioned and the following: Mesdames O. L. Statten, Charles Zugar, B. A. Wesner, E. A.

The Actual Science of Prayer

The kind of prayer to which the Founder of Christianity referred when he said unequivocally, "Ask, and ye shall receive" — which accounts for his own great work and the ever widening healing and liberating work of Christian Science today — is explained "scientifically" in the first chapter of the Christian Science textbook, SCIENCE AND HEALTH with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy.

Other chapters of the book are: Science, Theology, Medicine (A summarization of Christian Science and its rich implications for these three fields of human thought).

Christian Science Practice (Comprehensive and detailed instructions for the use of this Science).

Fruitage (100 pages of letters from persons healed through study of the book).

In its eighteen chapters, this single volume gives the complete explanation of Christian Science. A book for everyone to understand and use.

All Christian Science Reading Rooms are open to the public for the study of the Bible, the works of Mary Baker Eddy, and other Christian Science literature, without charge, and for the purchase of these publications.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON THE GOOD SHEPHERD Scripture: John 10 BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

If a public opinion poll should ask what message in the Old Testament is considered most outstanding, a great majority of those questioned probably would name the 23rd Psalm—Shepherd Psalm.

That Psalm, with its imagery of the Lord as Shepherd, leading his own, feeding them, comforting them, surrounding their lives with goodness and mercy, and accompanying them even through the dark valley of death, has been written into the world's life and literature. It presents an ideal of rich, joyful, and beautiful life, and is a message of consolation in the sadness of death.

The words of Jesus concerning Himself as the Good Shepherd must be read, and accompanied by the heart, in relation to that Psalm. It is the shepherd of everyone who heard the Saviour speak.

His listeners understood that the Master was identifying Himself as the Lord of that Shepherd Psalm, and division concerning Him, some according to the Jewish tradition, others, "He hath a devil."

Can a devil, believers asked open their eyes, intensify the strife and division concerning Him, some according to the Jewish tradition, others, "He hath a devil."

Did believer or unbeliever notice that Jesus had added something not in the Psalm? It was the presence of the sacrifice of the shepherd himself. "The good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep."

"I am the good shepherd," said Jesus, "they are willing to follow me, because I have laid down my life for them. There is tragedy as well as beauty associated with shepherding, and Jesus faced the tragedy as well as the beauty."

The other evening I witnessed a scene which pictured well the words of that Shepherd Psalm. Watching, I could not entirely shake from my mind the face of those playful creatures and of many in the vast herds.

The wool on their backs would go to keep millions warm, but the lives of many would be sacrificed for the sustenance of peoples in countries and cities far away. It is not a pleasant thought, but one that we must face.

Our sacrifice may not be upon a cross or a sacrifice of blood, but it must be a sacrifice of devotion. We would justify what others have done and seen that we are alive. That, I think, is the challenge of the Good Shepherd.

Payne Services Are Held Here Thursday

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the Church of God for Virginia Irene Payne, 2 1/2, daughter of Mrs. Effie I. Wedgeworth. The child died Wednesday in local hospital.

Besides her mother, she is survived by her father, R. B. Payne, Amarillo; two sisters, Mary Aileen Payne and Connie Wedgeworth, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Phillips, Pampa, and Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Payne, Madill, Okla. Burial was in the Fairview cemetery under the direction of Duengel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

UNLESS YOU'RE A 'SQUARE' HEAD RETURN THIS HAT

County Clerk Charlie Thut is a little worried. Last night while attending the Chamber of Commerce banquet he got someone else's hat and someone got his.

"But," said Charlie, "when he puts my hat on he might find it won't fit—I had to have it built square."

So Charlie is willing to make an exchange with the person who got his hat by mistake.

SHAMROCK—(Special)—Funeral services were held here yesterday afternoon for Harry C. Pace, 57, prominent Wheeler County oil man who died at his home Wednesday of a heart attack.

Pace came to Shamrock from Breckenridge 18 years ago and had been engaged alternately in the oil and cattle business and was owner of a refinery east of here. He was in partnership with John Ward of Abilene.

He is survived by his wife, the former Mary Smith of Shamrock, his mother, Mrs. Martha Pace, Magdalena, N. Mex., and a brother, Walter, also of Magdalena.

Services were conducted from the Clay Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. H. H. Bratcher, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiating. Burial was to be in Estancia, N. Mex.

Independence

over his insistence that Moslem League representatives be retained in the interim Indian government in spite of demands by the Hindu-dominated All-India Congress party that they be ousted.

The Hindus maintain that the continued presence of Moslems in the government is incompatible with their continuing boycott of the Constitution-drafting Constituent Assembly, now in recess until April.

The first reaction in India, New Delhi dispatches said, was that British action had pushed the vast nation and its 400,000,000 residents to the brink of decision—civil war or amicable settlement.

City Election

McGrew and F. H. Paronto have ever held public office before. Paronto served as a city alderman in 1923 while McGrew served as Corporation Court Judge for several years.

W. G. Martin, running independently, for commissioner of Ward 3 stated late yesterday afternoon that he also stood for a more active cooperation among the City Commissioners for the betterment of the city as a whole. Martin too emphasized that new industry and commercial establishments should be encouraged to develop in this vicinity in order to increase the local payroll.

The anti charter revision group, headed by C. A. (Lefty) Huff, for mayor; Crawford Atkinson, for commissioner of Ward 1; Vernon Hobbs, for commissioner of Ward 2; J. C. Daniels, for commissioner of Ward 3; and Denzil E. Bradford, for commissioner of Ward 4, came out with a similar program several days ago that called for the investigation of each department head and changes to be made if found necessary. They too stand for the construction of the Hobart St. underpass, parks and public property, street and paving improvements as the necessary funds become available.

By all appearances the race will be won on a personality basis more than a platform basis since both run along like lines with only slight variations.

Relief

so far as the basic essentials of life are concerned.

But in other liberated countries, Mr. Truman said this is not yet the case and what remains to be done, while relatively small and limited in time and scope is "none-the-less vitally important."

To leave the task unfinished, he said, would be to "replace hope with despair in the hearts of these peoples and thus to undermine the spiritual and economic stability upon which our own hopes for a better world must rest."

Mr. Truman said he thought the relief contribution should be used only for providing such basic essentials as medical supplies, food, and items which will aid in the production of foodstuffs.

His message summed up: "The United States, in keeping with our traditions of immediate and wholehearted response to human need, has stood in the forefront of those who have checked the forces of starvation, disease, suffering and chaos which threatened to engulf the world in the wake of the war."

The task is nearly finished. I urge the Congress to act promptly to insure that we do not stop short of the goal; that we do not endanger the permanence of the gains we have helped to achieve."

Budget Cut

to be much greater than Democrats have contended. They have said generally that the proposed budget cut is only an empty promise.

He added that the Republican majority will make every effort to fulfill its economy promise because of the political effect any failure would have.

The $8,000,000,000 cut voted by the House was viewed by Republicans there as clearing the way for a 20 percent, $3,500,000,000 cut in income taxes later.

True ants are enemies of the termite, the so-called white ant which is also a social insect living in colonies.

One Civil Case Heard in Court

District Judge Lewis M. Goodrich this morning granted the marriage annulment of Dollie Howard Lelew from Thomas Lelew.

Other cases scheduled to appear before the District Court today were in process of being settled out of court.

City Police

armed robberies have been practically nil for the past several weeks is no reason to relax vigilance, but should serve more to increase it.

"Things have been too quiet too long and we have been fortunate so far," Allen said.

Crime has been on the increase in other cities surrounding Pampa, but a series wave has not hit the city to date.

Referring to the killing and wounding of several peace officers in other cities and states recently, Allen again warned his men to thoroughly "shake down" every person they picked up, especially those who are apparent strangers.

Assistant Chief J. C. Dumas called the department's attention to a much closer cooperation with the police department with the Sheriff's Department, and pointed out that many times persons may be held by one of the departments who are also wanted by the other.

city, can't get rich trading with each other.

Thinking is a community responsibility, he said, but added "only 2 percent of the people do any constructive thinking for their community."

A town, he said, is not made by men who are afraid that somebody else will make some money.

In order that the community will be able to keep the young, wide-awake people who grow up in it, it must always be adding new opportunities to encourage them to return more after they have gone away to get their education.

In a lighter vein—and he spent a good deal of his hour-long speech making his audience laugh—he described an optimist as the man who joins the community chamber of commerce. The pessimist, he added, stays on the outside and dares the membership to do something.

Banker Sees Drop In West Texas Trade

FORT WORTH—(P)—Although business in West Texas continues to be good, Forrest Smith, El Paso, chairman of the Texas Bankers Association Seventh District, says a slight recession is in the making.

"The boom is not progressing as it has in the past," he said here yesterday.

India

The position is complicated by the fact that India is divided into two parts—British India, comprising the provinces which are under the government in New Delhi, and native India, made-up of the some semi-independent states which are ruled by the princes and lesser potentates under British control. These two sections have to be dealt with separately.

The provisional government in New Delhi is the one projected for British India. England doesn't propose to force the princes to come under rule of any government in British India when Britain withdraws. The native states will revert to independence and can choose their own course, although it is hoped that they will agree to join in some sort of federation with British India. As a matter of fact

Beer-Drinking Dog Now Part of Family

BOSTON—(P)—Boston's "beer-suzzling poodle" is a potential $15,000 "baby."

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Goldfarb disclosed last night that they had made "Bud" their seven-year-old shaggy dog, joint owner of that amount of bonds because "he's the only family we've got."

HINDER, NOT HELP

LANSING, Mich.—(P)—An $11,000,000 expense bill hit a snag before it was passed by the Michigan State Senate last night as Republican Senator Edgar F. Down refused to vote money for expenses of escaped prisoners.

Another Republican, Senator Otto Bishop, hastened to explain the $778.25 item, smallest on the bill. "That's not to help escaped prisoners," he assured Down. "That's to recapture them."

Ramsey Named Grid Coach at San Angelo

SAN ANGELO—(AP)—The San Angelo Bobcats had a new head coach today with the signing of Hershel Ramsey to a three-year contract.

Ramsey, former line coach in 1941 and 1942, played football at Texas Tech College and with the professional Philadelphia Eagles. He is still in service with the navy.

Ramsey's contract calls for $4,300 for the 1947-48 school year, with raises each successive year. He succeeds Van Roy Beane.

Mutual Admiration Heading for Boston

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla.—(AP)—Both Charlie (Red) Barrett and Manager Billy Southworth are glad that "Red" is back to pitch for the Boston Braves this coming National League season.

Both are hopeful that "Red," obtained during the winter from the St. Louis Cardinals, can win as many games (21) for the Braves as he did for the Cards under Southworth in 1945.

Defending Champ Paces Field in Houston Tourney

HOUSTON—(AP)—The going may get tougher today, but so far favorites in the Houston Country Club invitation golf tournament have been advancing without a hitch.

Johnny Dawson, defending champion from Los Angeles, paced the field into quarter-final matches by scoring a 7 and 5 victory over H. C. Vandervoort, Fort Worth.

"Dawson goes against Ken Rogers, Oklahoma City, in the feature attraction today. Rogers, a former invitation champion, slugged a 2 and 1 defeat on E. A. Mitchell, Clayton, Mo.

The par 71 course stood well against a big field, but a couple of players felt it easy.

John Barnum, Grand Rapids, Mich., shot a 67 in downing Preston Moore, 7 and 6. Howard Crow was five under in beating Jackie Cameron, Baytown, 2 and 1.

Edwin McClure, Shreveport, pairs off with Bobby Riegler, Houston, and Ken Lawson, San Antonio, meets Gus Moreland, Peoria, Ill., in other top matches.

McClure was a 2 winner over Bud McKinney, Dallas, while Riegler beat M. C. Kelley, Baytown, 6 and 5. Lawson downed Dick Nauts, Houston, 7 and 6. Moreland ousted Claude Wild.

Other winners yesterday and pairings today are:

Ed Herron, Houston, vs. Leo Baggett, Slaty, Ok.

Frank Stranahan, Toledo, O., vs. Skee Riegel, Glendale, Calif.

Ed White vs. Bob Cochran, St. Louis, Mo.

Earl Stewart, Jr., Dallas, vs. Barnum.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR., NEW YORK—(AP)—Dispatches from the Giants' Phoenix, Ariz., training camp tell how Hank Gowdy has discovered a couple of flaws in Bill Voiselle's pitching style which may account for his bad season last year.

"This again leads to wondering why baseball players don't learn one of the first lessons of golf when there's something wrong with your game, go to a pro . . . while we're at it, wonder if the Giants have chosen the right way to handle the fabled bird of mythology, rise from the ashes. Certainly Giant fans have been burned up for the last couple of years. . . . When the Dodgers really found they were required to have transient cards which state: 'The bearer compromises himself to do no work during stay in the country.' That ought to suit the Bums.

SHORTS AND SHELLS According to Dan Ferris' reckoning, Harrison Dillard has the best chance to break a record in tomorrow's indoor AAU track championships, since he already has equalled the world record for 30 yard high hurdles and is faster over the low.

Louis' Bosses May Get Chilean Boxer LIMA, Peru—(AP)—Joe Louis' managers, Marshall Miles and John Roxborough, are reported interested in acquiring the contract of Peruvian Middleweight Antonio Prondano.

It is understood in sports circles that Louis' managers would sign Prondano provided he fights the semi-final bouts out of the Brown Bomber's remaining exhibition matches.

Selling Insurance Little Different Than Playing Ball

By SAUL FELDMAN OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—Selling life insurance isn't much different than playing football, all-American Bob Penimore has concluded after three weeks of fancy broken field running to tackle wary prospects.

The blond bomber, who graduated from Oklahoma A. and M. college last month after being made a member of the all-American backfield in 1944 and 1945, decided to pass up a chance at coaching and a partnership in his dad's hardware store at Woodward, Okla., to sell insurance.

"It was surprised at just how much it is like a football game," Penimore said. "You've got to really be in condition to keep up with everything. And you can't ever tell when your competition will toss you for a loss just as you get to the goal."

Penimore, who still carries his brief case as if it were a football, is taking his new job seriously. He plans to make insurance his life work but the company is permitting him to leave during football season to play pro football with the Chicago Bears.

He finds that his prospects like to talk football with him and that's right down his sideline.

"There's only one trouble with that," Penimore confides. "After a couple of hours of talking football, I get so wound up I forget to bring up the matter of an insurance policy."

The number of goals has increased in the United States until there are more than 84,000 registered.

Nothing in these rules is deemed to define or restrict the powers of the New York Commission in penalizing or controlling any corporation or person under its jurisdiction for a violation of the letter or spirit of the law and rules as determined by the particular situation in any situation that may arise.

Thus, it seems that any fighter now licensed to fight in New York and this includes all the topnotchers, would run a grave risk in disregarding the commission ban and meeting Graziano anywhere while Rocky is on the shelf. Anything that might keep them from appearing in Madison Square Garden, where the big purses are, usually makes a fighter and his manager think twice.

Pros Paid H-SU Star Good Money ABILENE—(AP)—Hardin-Simmons' Little All-American Rudolph "Little Doc" Mobley received a bonus and contract for between $7,500 and $10,000 to play professional football with the Baltimore Colts.

Hal Sayles, sports editor of the Abilene Reporter-News, said yesterday the All-American Conference club had offered the star back this much to forego another year's college eligibility.

Sayles said Mobley told him over the telephone from Houston "offer simply was too good to turn down."

Warren Woodson, coach of Hardin-Simmons, sharply criticized professional football teams for signing players with remaining college eligibility.

Woodson said others on the Hardin-Simmons team with eligibility left had been offered pro contracts.

Ruth Won't Go South To Rest, Wife Says NEW YORK—(AP)—Contrary to previous reports, Babe Ruth doesn't contemplate a trip south to recuperate, according to his wife.

HOLLYWOOD, Fla.—(AP)—Mrs. Mildred (Babe) Didrikson Zaharias of Denver, who already has won the four Florida golf titles this season, held the spotlight in the second annual Women's International four-ball tournament here today and with her partner, Peggy Kirk of Findlay, Ohio, appeared headed for an easy victory.

Mrs. Zaharias and Miss Kirk scored an easy 6 and 5 victory in the second round to eliminate Mrs. Georgia Miller of Miami and Wynna Strevell of Mt. Clemens, Mich. They play Mrs. George Wilcox and Evelyn Odum, both of Miami, today.

FIRST IN THE HEARTS OF HIS COUNTRYMEN

Our school books told us that George Washington was born February 22, and since that date has been celebrated by the American people, some 150 millions of us will celebrate that date tomorrow.

But, with the chance that we will be ranked among those who always try to find fault and error in the status quo, we would note here what the Encyclopaedia Britannica has to say about Washington and his birthday.

"The actual facts," the publication says, are that he was born on Feb. 11, not Feb. 22, in 1732, when he was 20 years old, 11 days of the English calendar were deliberately omitted in order to adopt the Gregorian calendar, and an incidental effect was to place the anniversary of Washington's birth on the date now celebrated."

And then there's another story about the cherry tree incident, according to the Britannica. Allan Nevins, noted biographer, discounts it as an "absurd fiction."

But, we would hastily add, there was some good come from it. Why, if all the good derived by young people from the story that Washington would not tell a lie—if all that good was laid end to end, it would make quite a story of biography's effect on the lives of younger generations. Therefore, we will continue to believe that Washington did cut down the cherry tree, and that, when asked by his father if he committed the error, he told his father the truth. And we will continue to tell it to our children. It makes good fiction, anyway. And we need good fiction, the kind that inspires—instead of the kind that gives children and adolescents "ideas."

As for the famous speech of 1796, known as "Washington's Farewell Address," it is said by the Britannica that it was actually written by Alexander Hamilton, and that Washington remolded it. It did express the ideas of "the father of our country."

These are not efforts to discount the greatness of Washington. He indeed was a great man, and one of fortitude. For instance, as he lay dying after contracting a severe cold, he said: "I feel myself going. I thank you for your attentions; but I pray you take no more trouble about me. Let me go off quietly. I cannot last long."

Keeping his finger on his own pulse until it stopped, he died Dec. 14, 1799, "first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

Writer Declares Truman Negligent About Red Peril

The latest of a long series of exposures of pro-Soviet in the State Department shows that during the past year the State Department has been negligent in its handling of the Red peril.

Henry Morgenthau for having given a set of our money dies to Russia. Morgenthau just before leaving his job as secretary of the treasury, gave a set of U.S. occupation money to the Soviets occupying Eastern Germany. His true motive is possible for the Reds, by sending them a set of U.S. occupation money to flood the sector with their occupation money General Clay finally had to quit redeeming it and declare it worthless after it had cost $500 million.

The trend now is to manage through United Nations bureaus to continue pumping our wealth out to build up their potential enemy.

Any recent hope that Truman might wake up and shake off his captors is damped by his appointment to the all-powerful atomic energy control board of certain men whom the Army so distrusted it refused to deliver to them the atomic secrets.

Any further hope is further damped by Truman's announcement that he wanted eminent Russianophile, Joseph E. Davies, author of the Red propaganda book "Mission to Moscow," to serve as chairman of the Jefferson Day dinners.

Meanwhile, it is noted that George C. Marshall, new secretary of state, is going to fire pro-Communist, Sumner Braden; and that the State Department is so powerful they are on the verge of winning the battle against the United States to deport to certain death a couple who, through they spied on our Nazi enemies, committed the crime of spying on the Reds of Southeastern Europe.

It is not easy to understand how loyal Americans can dismiss such Communist propaganda.

Common Ground

Are There Honest Robbers?

Most people do not really know what robbery is. They know pretty well what robbing is as far as individuals are concerned, but they seem not to know what collective robbery really is.

Robbery is simply taking from someone else what he has produced or what belongs to him without giving him what he regards the equivalent. This can be done by force or by fraud or by the threat of force.

An individual has difficulty in robbing. Public opinion is against individual robbery. It does not seem, however, that popular opinion is against collective robbery.

Most people believe, judging from their actions, that people can do collectively what is wicked for an individual to do and when done collectively it is more and more just. It is, however, robbery just the same whether it is done by one person or two persons or the state. Most people who believe in the state or the state subdivisions having the right to take the property from a man against his will think this is not robbery. It is robbery but called by the name of taxation.

It is called honest robbery when people believe that the state has the right to tax without the consent of the governed.

The Townsend group believed that if they taxed one group and spent the money that everybody would be benefited. They were honest in their belief that the state had the right to take from one group to give to them. That is plain robbery.

The people who believe that a subdivision of the state has the right to take from an individual and make him pay for an educational institution that he believes will destroy freedom and impoverish the people, are honest robbers.

It makes no difference whether the majority thinks it is robbery or not. The majority does not make the Tenth Commandment. The majority does not make the Eighth Commandment. "Thou shalt not steal" is the Tenth Commandment. "Thou shalt not covet" is the Eighth Commandment. It makes no difference what percentage of the total population believes an act is robbery or not. People do not determine what is robbery.

As Dr. V. Orval Watts said, "they only determine whether or not they will punish an act as robbery."

Honest Robbers Our Trouble

And the reason we have had so much unemployment, cannot pay our bills, so much moral delinquency, so much hate, so much covetousness, so much wickedness that they know would be wicked for an individual to do. They are worshipping money more than they supposed to be moral leaders to know what robbery really is.

As an illustration of the ignorance of the so-called moral leaders on what robbery is, Dr. Kirby Page in his book, Living Courageously, in advocating the state taking over private property and paying for it by a graduated progressive tax said: "The use of these taxes (steeply graduated) is sound 100 percent Americanism."

He says, in regard to the state breaking up the Ford fortune by progressive inheritance taxes that "an argument may be made that it is unwise to break up the Ford fortune, but surely it would be unwise for society to take this action."

Progressive taxation cannot be harmonized with any moral law. It is unchristian and unchristian to those people that it is intended to help. It results in unemployment and a lower standard of living. It is an example of what Emerson said, "The thief steals from himself." "The people who believe that progressive taxation is honest and helpful and just and not immoral are simply honest robbers. They may want to set down any impersonal rule of conduct as a test or guide of human relations.

In order to determine right from wrong, citizens would have to come to these honest robbers every day to determine whether this or that was right because they know no impersonal eternal universal rule or law of human relations.

The most of our trouble is honest robbers.

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN

I see that something called the Linguaphone Institute has been grading American cities on the basis of their speech, and Los Angeles is second, Goody! Goody! The report says the City of Angels has the "greatest conversationists," which apparently is a polite way of saying that our Chamber of Commerce will talk your ear off.

Dallas is in first place, and Chicago to be way up 500. Because it uses the "most typical Americanisms."

This I can well believe, because I've ridden in taxis there when their drivers had occasion to debate a point of road etiquette with truckmen.

New York is away down, in 30th place, probably due to the speech that goes on at the Brooklyn ball park when the Dodgers are having a bad day. But goodness! I don't see any rating for Boston, and until I do I won't believe any of the institutes listings.

Twenty cities are contained in curly powder, principal ingredient of India's popular dish, curry.

Texas Today

By JACK RUTLEDGE Associated Press Staff

Is there a mediator in the house? If so, will he please step up and answer the 894 question: Where is the Valley?

The Rio Grande Valley, of course, extends from above El Paso to below Brownsville. Many Texans think of the Valley as the Brownsville-Harlingen-McAllen area. Laredo and El Paso insist they're in the Valley and the rest of the country—outside Texas—looks at the map and agrees.

Here are comments from the two ends of the Rio Grande on the subject:

There is little question but what the average person thinks of "the Rio Grande Valley of Texas" as that area between Mission, Raymondville and Brownsville, writes E. C. (Doc) Osborn, executive editor of the Brownsville Herald.

If you are out of the state and say you live in the Rio Grande Valley, you are asked whether your home is Brownsville, Harlingen, McAllen, or some other in the immediate vicinity.

We have made a few trips to various sections of the United States and do not recall anyone asking us if we were from El Paso or Laredo after we stated we lived in the Rio Grande Valley.

AN annual frog jumping contest is sponsored by the Booster Club of Angel's Camp, Calif.

Each frog is permitted 10 seconds to complete three forward jumps, and the one covering the greatest distance is crowned as winner. Frodding is allowed for starting the frogs, and owners try anything. Stimulants range from hypos and pills to electric shockers and firecrackers. Last year a thoroughbred from Stockton, named Maggie, leaped 16 feet, 2 inches to establish an all-time record.

Among interesting postwar developments is a re-usable fibre-board container with airtight wings which can be dropped from the air fully loaded without a parachute. It is especially designed for dropping food, mail and other express shipments where landings are not possible or practical.

THE CANDY-ICED CAKE THAT BECAME A CITY

By HAL BOYLE
MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—Florida footnotes:

The natives have different names for the outlander sun worshippers who flock to Florida—and the names change with the season.

"In summer when they stay at home they are all danyankees," said a bartender, "but in winter they are our Northern guests."

Broke tourists and others who come down to live off their wits are "snowbirds." Those who can flash a big wad are "our winter visitors."

The average tourist spends about $15 a day, rain or shine. State Chamber of Commerce officials expect 4,500,000 visitors this season—about the same as last year.

Whether they will spend the $605,000,000 they left a year ago is another matter.

Trains may run late here but hotel rooms are rented strictly on schedule.

One man who phoned for hotel space was told by the manager: "Yes, I have one $16 room open which I can hold for ten minutes."

The tourist jumped immediately into a cab and clocked himself. He got to the hotel desk in twelve minutes flat.

"Sorry," said the manager. "I rented that room two minutes ago."

Tourists still squawk vehemently—particularly on cloudy days—at the high price of living accommodations. But you don't hear the complaints so widespread in the boom period of gullible buyers finding the real estate they purchased covered with ten feet of water.

The Florida Real Estate Commission has corrected flagrant abuses. Although 102,000 real estate deals were completed in Dade County

Natives of the South Pacific Islands have a fond appreciation of the coconut tree. Young coconuts contain a jelly which is fine food for infants. Meat from the half-ripe coconut is fermented and made into tasty cheese. A strong drink called arrack is distilled from coconut lower clusters. The usual coconut meat, brooms, hats, bedding, clothing and building materials are but a few other products this tree provides.

Present federal statutes tax the estate of husband and wife when one dies, and taxes the estate again when the survivor dies.

The proposed bill would allow husband and wife to exchange property of equal value until community property is partitioned between the two individuals.

Bill Regulating Public Utilities Gets Rewrite Job

AUSTIN—(AP)—The job of re-writing a bill by Sen. Gus J. Strauss of Hallettsville which would set up a state commission to regulate public utilities and their rates was in the hands of a Senate Affairs Subcommittee today.

Two weeks were allowed to completing the revision.

The action was taken yesterday after attorneys for public utilities companies declared at a public hearing that they did not object to such a commission so much as the language of the bill which they said tied the commission "hand and foot."

J. M. Harris, Austin attorney representing power and light companies, told the committee the 41-page bill could be written in six or seven pages.

"The more you write the more you give the courts to construe," he said. "I would rather be controlled by a commission of six good men given a principle on which to regulate utilities than by an endless volume of laws which tie those men hand and foot."
