Pampa's Turn Wednesday To Decide City Sales Proposal

A heavy turnout is expected tomorrow when Pampa voters go to the polls to decide on adoption or rejection of a one-cent city sales tax. The campaign waged by opponents and proponents of the issue was heated right down to the last hours before the voting begins and was expected to continue through election day. Pros And Cons Of Proposed Tax C of C Program

Advantages and disadvantages of both a one-cent sales tax and an increase in property taxes were outlined by Floyd Watson, bank president, in an address at the Pampa Chamber of Commerce September membership luncheon yesterday in Coronado Inn. After going into various pros and cons of the sales and property tax, Watson expressed the hope that "whichever way Wednesday's sales tax election goes, citizens will join ranks and work for what's best for Pampa."

Watson explained reasons for additional revenue needed to operate city of Pampa services and said there were only two ways to raise the money—the sales tax or an increase in property tax. He pointed out that a citizens committee had made a study of Pampa's financial needs and concluded there were four avenues of meeting the crisis—reduce city services, raise water rates, increase the property tax or go to a one-cent sales tax.

"It was the committee's decision that the sales tax was the most equitable way," Watson said, "and it recommended to the city commission that the sales tax issue be put up to the voters."

None of the other three methods required a vote of the people. Watson said that in preparing his speech he had talked to industrial leaders, businessmen, housewives and the man-on-the-street.

What he learned in these interviews, he stated, was that (See PROS, Page 2) peals continued today and other radio pleas have been scheduled for tomorrow morning. The only voting place will be in the city commission room on the main floor of City Hall. The voting station will be open from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m. Any registered voter residing within the Pampa city limits is eligible to vote. Property ownership will not be a requirement for eligibility. City Secretary Stanley Chittenden said all arrangements have been completed for the referendum. Workmen were busy yesterday installing ten booths at City Hall.

"We can handle ten voters at a time," Chittenden said, "and we are ready to handle any rush of voters that might come in the last two hours between 5 and 7 o'clock. Chittenden said it would expedite matters if voters have their registration certificates to hand to the election clerks. The ballot to be handed to voters is a short one. It reads as follows: 'Special Election on Local Sales and Use Tax. 'FOR adoption of a one cent (1) local sales and use tax within the City. 'AGAINST adoption of a one cent (1) local sales and use tax within the City.'"

At the top of the ballot voters are advised to "place an 'X' in the square beside the statement indicating the way you wish to vote." While the campaigning still was going on locally, leaders of both factions today were exploring the possible local effect of any of yesterday's 4 to 1 approval of a sales tax by Amarillo voters.

The vote in Amarillo was overwhelmingly approved a one cent city sales tax Monday as all 17 precincts in the city turned out in favor of the motion. The final count was 10,051 for and 2,761 against with 25 percent of the registered voters going to the polls. A spokesman for the city said $1.7 million in additional revenue is expected to be generated by the tax.

Amarillo was the only city with more than 100,000 population without a sales tax.

House Tax Bill Treats Ranchers As Hobbyists

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Former Texas Gov. John B. Connally said Monday the House tax bill would hurt legitimate farmers and ranchers by singling out the farm loss problem for treatment as a favored-person item.

Connally made the remarks in prepared testimony for the Senate Finance Committee, which is holding hearings on the tax reform bill. Connally, now a Houston lawyer, testified for the Livestock Producers Committee. The House bill singles out the far loss problem, Connally said, and "creates a presumption that a ranch is a hobby if its losses exceed $25,000 in any three out of five years."

All this adds to "overkill," Connally said and hurts legitimate farmers and ranchers. "The provisions of the House bill require that every substantial farmer or rancher keep his books of account on the strict accrual basis or face the possibility that a part of his usual deductions will be disallowed and that part of any capital gains he might have in future profitable years will be converted to ordinary income," Connally said.

Farmers and ranchers have failed seriously to share in the general wealth of the country, Connally said. For one thing, the investment required for agriculture operation is substantial.

For all this century those in the agriculture business have bought in a seller's market and sold in a buyer's market. To obtain an economic profit of $3,000 in the cattle business today, a recent Texas A&M University study concluded that an investment of $112,000 was needed, a return of less than 3 percent.

He said the tax reform bill needs to make a clear distinction between legitimate ranchers and those in the business for the tax break.

He was just as spunky from his hospital bed Monday. "I'll be in the hospital four or five more days and in 10 days I'll be back in my office," Sadler told UPI. "I haven't had a ny sedative since they operated."

The local paper ran an editorial about me recently," Sadler said from his hospital bed, "saying I'm like a cat and always land on my feet."

Lee Bailey Joining With Defense Team

SAIGON (UPI)— A civilian defense attorney said today the military had lost its right to try the Green Beret murder case by violating the constitutional rights of the six defendants.

Henry Rothblatt of New York met with the military defense attorneys in the case to plan an attempt to get the trial transferred to a U.S. civilian court. One of the military attorneys said F. Lee Bailey was joining the defense team.

Rothblatt's allegation that the constitutional rights of the defendants had been violated apparently refer to earlier defense statements that the Army harassed and coerced the prisoners for information while they were in a stockade.

"In this case, they (the military) are the cops and the prosecutors," he said. "They cannot be the judges, too."

Rothblatt said he hoped to have a writ of habeas corpus, seeking the trial transfer, ready for submission to a U.S. Federal Court by early next week.

Bailey agreed today to help defend Capt. Robert F. Marasco of Bloomfield, N.J., whose military defender is Capt. Thomas Young of Honolulu.

Bailey's clients have included Dr. Carl Coppolino, Dr. Sam Sheppard and Albert Di Salvo.

Mother-Murderess Held Without Bond

MERIDIAN, Tex. (UPI)— Mrs. Randy Ashcraft was being held in jail without bond today, charged with the decapitation murder of her 28-day-old baby girl.

Bosque County Sheriff John Baxter said Mrs. Ashcraft talked with Dist. Atty. Byron McClellan Monday and was then placed back in jail.

The baby was found Saturday lying in a pool of blood in the bathtub of Mrs. Ashcraft's home.

Van Cliburn Concert Has Warm Reception

By GENE SCHNEIDER
News Staff Writer

AMARILLO — Thunderous applause rocked Civic Center Auditorium here Monday night at the close of the season's first symphony concert under the direction of Thomas Hohstadt, with guest soloist Van Cliburn.

Cliburn, a Lone Star State boy, demonstrated superb musicianship and the gracious and modest charm of his personality he is so well known for. The audience reacted with wonder to Cliburn's first selection, Concerto No. 2 in C Minor for Piano and Orchestra, Op. 18, by Sergio Rachmaninoff.

"Never have I heard anyone play like that man does," said one member of the audience. "It seems like the music is just built inside of him."

Eleven years ago in 1953, Cliburn returned from winning the Tchaikovsky Competition in Moscow, a hero to all America. He was accorded Manhattan's first ticker-tape parade for a musician, congratulated by President Dwight Eisenhower, given a testimonial luncheon by the great and near-great of New York City, and whenever he appeared in concert or merely walked across the street, huge crowds gathered.

"Music is wonderful," Cliburn said in an exclusive interview with The News. "It is something I enjoy and am unable to express the importance of it. I feel if you are doing something which makes you happy and you enjoy, you are much better off. I enjoy music and that is why I remain in it."

Cliburn maintains a grueling schedule while making his home in Kilgore with his parents. "I deal to my parents for their interest in my work. I can only say, I intend to go on."

BLINDED IN WAR
Senate President Sees Problems Better Than Most
HOUSTON (UPI)— Sen. Criss Cole, D-Houston, swears Monday as president pro tem of the Texas Senate, is blind, but colleagues say he can see the problems Texas faces better than any other man.
"Sen. Cole cannot see the things we see, but among the 31 members of the Texas Senate, he is unequalled as far as vision to see the problems Texas faces," said Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, who presided at the emotional ceremony.
The Houston senator, who was blinded by a grenade blast during World War II action on Tarawa Island, has invited about 375 friends and political associates to Austin when he serves as governor for a day. He said the theme for the unannounced date would be "education, rehabilitation and employment for the handicapped."

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — According to its advance publicity, a new magazine coming out next month will feature an advice-to-the-lovelorn column written by a computer.

If subscribers whose romances are on the blink outline their troubles in "dear computer" letters, the machine will counsel them on how to cope.

Its strong point, I gather, will be straightening out problems for estranged couples who originally got together through one of those computer dating services that have been springing up around the country.

The question that arose in my mind as I was reading about plans for the magazine, called Checkmate, is: How do you go about programming a computer to become an authority on affairs of the heart?

Presumably, one data storage section would contain a list of all the things that could possibly go wrong with a boy-girl relationship. Another section would contain a list of all of the ways that fished lovers could be reconciled.

When the computer received a letter, it would relate the problem stated by the writer to one of the problems stored in its memory drum. Then it would match the problem against the list of solutions until it found an answer that fit.

I don't know how the folks at Checkmate managed it, but if I were programming a computer for this type of work I would be certain to include the following input units: Problems:

Boy likes girl but girl likes another boy better. Boy likes girl but girl likes another girl better. Girl likes boy but boy thinks he is a girl.

Boy likes girl but her parents disapprove. Boy likes girl but his parents disapprove.

Skelly Oil Auditor Feted For Years

With Company

Clifford A. Scott, field audit supervisor for Skelly Oil Co. in Pampa, will observe his 30th anniversary with the firm on Sept. 26.

He was presented his service award pin at one of two dinners Skelly held here last March 17 and 18 in commemoration of the company's 50th anniversary.

Scott, who lives at 18th and Lynn in Pampa, joined Skelly's manufacturing department in 1939 as a roustabout and warehouse clerk in Osage County, Okla. He was named field auditor in the accounting department two years later and was appointed to his present post in the controller's department in 1962.

A graduate of Pawnee (Okla.) High School, Scott attended the University of Oklahoma.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Small wonder that stock and bond markets are performing in a lackluster manner with the statistical readings on the state of the economy as bewildering as ever, Alexander Hamilton Institute says.

The firm notes that housing starts and industrial production are down, but funds for business expansion continue in strong demand and interest rates are resuming their upward trend.

Today's stock market "is a schizoid market in which the averages no longer mirror the relentless climb of revolutionary industries, which are solving the problems of fossilized bulwarks of the economy," according to Gould's Position. The firm says the annual summer rally, which never showed in the averages, is over now and, on the basis of the averages, "vay-dyed pessimists will begin to talk as if it never happened."

Businessmen are not overly concerned about the anticipated slowdown in business and expect it to be of short duration, followed by a strong pickup in activity later in 1970, Lionel D. Edie & Co., Inc. says. The firm says the chances of a recession "have diminished considerably."

It is becoming increasingly likely that the worst of the 1968-69 market decline has passed, but the consolidation period could still have a long way to go, Standard & Poor's says. But the heavy tax selling that is probably ahead does not permit full deployment of reserves, the firm adds.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 24
Your birthday Wednesday. Your original thinking this coming year will strain all relationships. This offers the chance for social change and movement, probably upward, in society. Your understanding of people deepens emotionally, and if you are wholesome, your forgiveness of human frailty is well. Wednesday natives are noted for good intentions, since they are determined to make their declarations.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
You must avoid fatigue. Remember that emotional stress increases if you get better results if you keep calm while other people debate whether and how much to cooperate.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
Friends seem determined to find something on which to disagree, thus no defense of your views will be of help. Think of the matter as a tantrum and wait for the mood to pass.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
Manage to balance the demands of your own people and the demands of your employment today. Use tools and machines with great care or find some way to put off using them.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
New studies continue to be the theme for the present months. Put all the time you are able to manage into your work and your studies in accordance with your needs and your final goals. The moment is not propitious for a showdown with male or betrotted.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
Keep going in the same direction but with much less pressure. Take pains not to appear excited or desperate, which may be difficult in cases. Take home something interesting for your loved ones. Much of the daytime softness.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
You come from the fabrics, and may have to moderate your actions and demands to let others catch up with the pace for fall. Shiny satins, metallic projects may also have to be the date dress scene.

rescheduled to allow for others to function.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)
You now have to urge to go ahead with major changes but without the proper place or means to achieve them. Pause for consideration of how the desired results can be brought about. Think big! Line up budgets in the evening.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)
Solitary work or time off for cruising in strange neighborhoods would be the two most desirable courses today. All those familiar with you seem set on finding conflict.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)
Friends help Wednesday. Your point of view accommodates your increasing understanding of difficulties in yourself and others. A solution to long-standing annoyances is now at hand.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
Little that you can do Wednesday would be without some minor friction. Think first what you want, go after it as graciously as you can manage, and then let matters take their course.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
Find a middle ground between you and close associates but just listen to others courteously without any commitment as to what you will do. Contracts, important negotiations should not be concluded Wednesday.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)
Put off promises until after tomorrow. Stay in a good humor while refraining from pushing any venture beyond reasonable assertions.

Washington Report

Bob Price

In an historic act, the House this week voted to abolish the Electoral College and substitute the direct popular vote to elect the President and Vice President of the United States. This was the first time that the House has approved such a plan.

Of course, since this is a proposal to change the Constitution, the plan must also gain a 2-3 vote of the Senate and be approved by the legislatures of 3-4 of the states. Although the vote in the House indicated a generally very favorable attitude on the part of the members, I foresee a much more searching examination on the part of the various state legislatures. Constitutional changes are — as they should be — very rare and I believe there will be quite a bit of soul-searching on the part of state leaders before they acquiesce to change the Constitution and agree to permit the direct popular vote plan to stand.

There is little doubt that some reform of the system is necessary. I think all will agree that the certification by the Electoral College of a man who received the fewer amount of votes — a situation which is possible under the present system — rather than the man who receives the greater amount of popular votes is not good. It has happened though.

In the 46 presidential elections held to date under the electoral college system, three popular vote losers were elected: President John Quincy Adams, Rutherford B. Hayes, and William Henry Harrison. Two presidents were selected by the House of Representatives: Jefferson and Adams, and one Vice President was chosen by the Senate: Richard Mentor Johnson in 1836.

(1) the District Plan, which would preserve the electoral college system, but would require electors to be chosen from single member districts within each state, with two electors running at large.

(2) the Proportional Plan, which would allocate the electoral vote in each state in accordance with the popular vote cast in the state, and

LEE, Mass. (UPI)—The cow had every right to be nervous.

Clark Knight Jr., a former Pittsfield policeman, took the cow from Mrs. Cowell's yard and walked the animal through the center of town to the court house, where he left it tied to a parking meter.

Mrs. Cowell testified in court Thursday she found the cow in a highly nervous state. She said she had to talk to the animal for some time to clam it down. Knight was fined $150.

Lefors Baptists To Have Revival

LEFORS (SpD) — The First Baptist Church of Lefors has announced plans for a revival led by two youths from Baylor University, October 3-5.

Evangelist for the four services will be Mike Wright, well-known youth leader, formerly of Monahans, Texas.

Wright has an outstanding record in high school and college, having been president of his class, twice all-state drummer, foreign exchange student to Scotland in 1965.

Classes in Speed Reading Set This Fall in Pampa

The famous Cutler Accelerated method of speed reading, created by Dr. Wade E. Cutler who holds a doctorate in psychology, will be taught here this fall in both day and evening classes.

The average person today reads some 200 words per minute with about 60 percent comprehension — a rate inadequate to cope with today's reading demands in school, college or business.

This widely-acclaimed course guarantees its graduates will read at least 1,000 words per minute with a definite increase in comprehension.

Many graduates of the nine week program far exceed the guarantee and complete with rates of 2,500 and more words per minute with far better comprehension.

Concentration, recall, study and test-taking skills show a remarkable degree of improvement.

Such achievement means that a person can read books of average length in 45 minutes or less, and understand, remember, and enjoy them better than ever.

This professionally conducted course boasts nearly 10,000 successful graduates due to its common sense approach to better and faster reading and to its staff of professionally qualified master teachers.

At these free one hour orientations, full details about speed reading and the unique Cutler Accelerated Method will be given to those forward-looking persons attending.

Since there is no cost or obligation by attending, you owe it to yourself to attend the time most convenient for you.

Drop in and find out how you can make 1965 a more successful year.

All meetings are open to the public and will be conducted as follows:

Sunday, Sept. 21 at 2:30 p.m., 4 p.m., 8 p.m.
Tuesday, Sept. 23 at 7:30 p.m.
Wednesday, Sept. 24 at 7:30 p.m.

These meetings will be conducted in the Emerald Room of Coronado Inn, 1101 N. Hobart, Pampa, Texas.

Foreign News Commentary

Against Common Market

A sizable portion of British public opinion is building up against British entry into the European Common Market. There is a strong likelihood the Labor Party conference at the beginning of October will register a vote against it. At the Conservative conference party leader Edward Heath will have his work cut out to beat down a similar revolt. Conservative opposition is significant because it could well be a Conservative government that would be called upon to negotiate British entry in 1971. Biafrans Fight On

Although breakaway Biafra has agreed in principle to a fourth attempt at peace talks with the federal government in the 27-month-old Nigerian civil war, British officials are

The 1970 light-your-fire Buicks are here.

They're just for you. The cars you've been asking for. From Buick 1970.

This one is the US-455 Steerk sports quester.

Its engine? 455 cubic inches. 350-horse strong. With a four-barrel carburetor that breathes through rear air intake.

Four on the floor? A finely-tuned 3-speed automatic? Both are available. Power disc brakes. Positive traction differential. High performance rear axle ratios, too. And lots more.

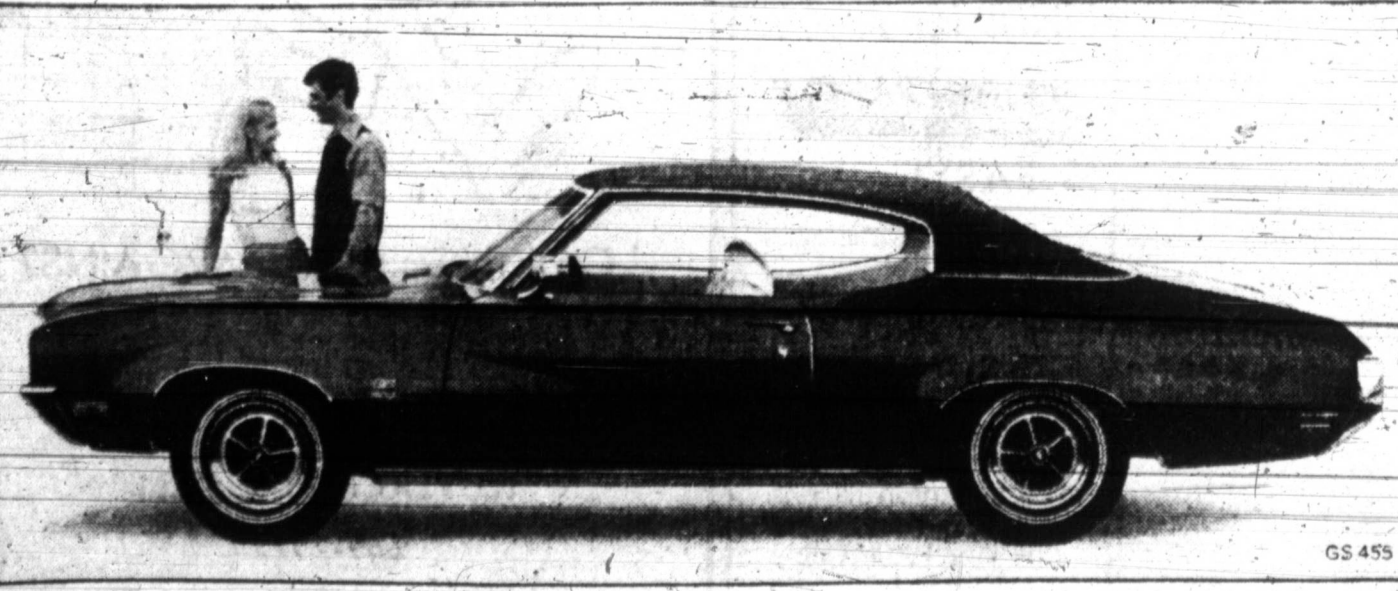

Wide tread fiberglass belted tires that are standard on all 1970 Buicks give improved traction during braking, cornering and acceleration; significant increases in tread life; and substantially superior resistance to road hazards.

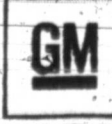

Side guard beam construction for added protection. Body by Fisher.

There's luxury, too. Bucket seats, if you want them. Full carpeting.

Obviously the most exciting car we've ever made. And one that you've been asking for.

See it. See all the 1970 Light Your Fire Cars. The Gran, Sports and Skylark Sport Coupes and Convertibles.

Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?
