

DEPRIVED OF CHANCE AT LIFE: Incident Amid 'Phone Tie-Up Draws Wrath of News Reader

Letters to the editor can—and often do—make news, and the editor of the Pampa Daily News yesterday received one written by a Pampian whose wrath was drawn sharply over the report that a small boy, struck by a car, lay on a highway and later died because telephone service was tied up because of a strike.

Manner of Death Reported by Paper

TYLER.—(P)—L. C. Williamson, of Garden Valley, has been charged in Justice Court with failure to stop and render aid in the automobile death of four-year-old David Carroll Hopkins.

The child was struck on the Herdinger Highway near Tyler Thursday.

The Tyler Courier-Times said the child lay on the roadside for an hour before a neighbor could summon help. That time elapsed, the story said, due to the fact that telephone service was stalled by the strike. The child was dead when an ambulance arrived.

Marshall-Stalin Session Expected

MOSCOW.—(P)—Pravda, Communist party organ, made a bitter second Soviet attack on President Truman's Greek-Turkish policy yesterday, declaring it did not serve the cause of peace and security and "renders valueless" United States declarations of faithfulness to the United Nations.

Echoing the same arguments as those advanced Friday in Izvestia, the government newspaper, but ever sharper in some of its conclusions, Pravda declared the proposed economic and military aid to Greece and Turkey was "imperialist expansion under the guise of charity."

Now that the two chief newspapers in Soviet Russia have lashed out in two-column long editorials, it remained for official Soviet leaders to give their reaction.

Opinions of Military Men Are Sought

WASHINGTON.—(P)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) called yesterday for an official step-up on whether Russia may declare war if the United States gives essential and military aid to Greece and Turkey.

"I want to know what our top military people think of the possibility that Russia will go to war if we carry out our program," he said, "just as we ought to be prompted to go to war if Russia tried to force a Communist government on Cuba."

He raised the question amid these fresh developments: 1. President Truman made public messages of thanks from spokesmen for all Greek parties except the Communists. The President said they show that all will cooperate unreservedly with the United States in its desire to assist Greece and that they pledge the aid will be devoted to "constructive rehabilitation and the cause of peace and freedom."

2. Key Congressmen predicted that Hungary and four Middle East states—Iran, Syria, Lebanon and Palestine—may seek American aid under the administration program curbing the advance of Communism. These Legislators estimated the ultimate cost of the program may top $1,000,000.

Truman has asked $400,000,000 for Greece and Turkey this year. In reaching the $1,000,000,000 estimate, the Congressmen counted in $350,000,000 already requested for relief in liberated countries and the amount budgeted for relief in occupied lands, as well as an undetermined amount of expected new requests.

The messages from the Greek leaders were released by the White House long with a statement from the President, who is vacationing at Key West, Fla., until Monday.

They came from Prime Minister Demetrios Maximos, head of the new Coalition Cabinet, and Theodoros Sotiropoulos, chief of the Liberal party, who are being recruited through local organizations, will meet at 10 a. m. Tuesday at Wilma's Workmen's Club. Hope was expressed that the campaign could be concluded in that one day. Aubrey Steele and Joe Fischer head the effort.

The residential section drive will proceed as scheduled on Monday, it was said, with workers assigned by the P-TA being asked to meet at the ward school nearest them, or at the Junior High School at 9:30 a. m. The women's clubs of Pampa are taking an important part in the canvassing. The Rev. B. A. Norris is in charge of the drive.

Frank Smith has headed the advance gift drive which was to have been concluded this weekend. The industrial section drive was scheduled to get started tomorrow also. It is headed by Huey Laycock. The drive at Lufkin, delayed by sickness of several citizens there, is expected to be ready within a few days.

The Senate is expected to pass a bill which has been criticized by Senator Bushfield (R-S.D.) for getting little done under its Republican leadership, this week will start holding sessions every day and perhaps some at night. It has been meeting on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

The present pending business in the Senate is the controversial bill to bar portal-to-portal pay suits. That out of the way, perhaps next week debate will start on the nomination of David E. Lilienthal to be chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

From the House angle, the prospects of an Easter recess depend on the speed in handling major bills dealing with tax reduction, extension of sugar controls, continuation of several war powers and labor unions.

THE DRILLER'S LOG
By Bob Bray

Weston Mills, who was recently discharged from the Navy, has been employed by the Stanolind Oil Company here.

Mills will work under Stanolinds training program for a few months. He will be working re-orientated. He is a graduate engineer of the University of New Mexico.

It was learned late last week that the Shamrock Oil and Gas Company has signed a contract with the Texas Natural Gas Company to supply them (Texas) with 30 to 40 million cubic feet of gas daily.

Some of the carbon black plants in this area which purchase gas from the Shamrock Company are worriedly wondering where this additional supply of gas is coming from—If it proves to be additional.

In an attempt to bring even more pressure on gas prices, but quick members of the Texas County Land and Royalty Owners Association met at Guyman recently and staunchly voted in favor of a proposal to refuse acceptance of all royalty checks that were not paid on the basis of 7 cents per thousand cubic feet.

The Stanolind Oil and Gas Company has recently completed two gas wells in Texas County, Oklahoma, and it has been reported that these wells will be temporarily shut in. In addition, it is believed that the company plans to treat likewise any other wells that they might bring in, in this area.

Examples of the fine fifty million dollar Fischer-Thropsch Process Plant in Kansas.

After a year of work in this area, talk of the repressuring work being done here is still skeptical. It has been reported that the gas-oil ratio has increased some, but the reports say that the working pressure has not increased.

In fairness to the project it should be recalled that in the beginning it was explained that the whole process would require several years. Two years was set as the minimum time requirement. However, some of the small independents are reportedly dropping out of the association.

Plans Finished on New 500-Mile Line

Empire Pipeline Co., subsidiary of Cities Service Oil Co. (Del.), plans to share in the ownership of the projected 500-mile crude oil pipeline with the Texas Pipe Line Co. and Shell Pipe Line Corp., according to an announcement by A. W. Ambrose, president of Empire Pipeline and Cities Service Oil companies.

Plans for construction of the big carrier were revealed several days ago. The present plan is for the line to be jointly owned with the Texas Pipe Line Co., owning 53%, Shell Pipe Line Corp. 33 1/3%, and Empire Pipeline Co. 13 2/3%.

Route of the 20 to 24-inch line extends 500 miles from Jal, New Mexico, via Midland, Westbrook, and Wichita Falls, Texas, to Cushing, Okla., where it will join Texas Empire pipeline to the Chicago refining area, the Shell Pipeline to Wood River, Ill., and the Empire pipeline to Ponca City, Okla.

Ambrose pointed out that the line will tap one of the largest known oil reserves in the United States and crude transported by this line will augment the crude oil supplies for the refineries of Cities Service Oil at Ponca City, Okla., and east Chicago, Ind., by approximately 19,000 barrels per day. Progressively increasing demand for petroleum products brought about by acquisition of new retail and wholesale outlets has necessitated the operation of the Ponca City refinery at capacity and an $18,000,000 expansion and modernization program for the East Chicago refinery.

Shell Oil Employees Still Out on Strike

HOUSTON—(AP)—The two-day-old strike of 1,400 oil workers at the Shell refinery and chemical plant continued yesterday without incident. The men are seeking new jobs and contract benefits.

CIO oil workers, Shell officials and AP of L leaders met yesterday and as a result of the conference, approximately 1,000 AFL Building Tradesmen can continue work on Shell's $60,000,000 expansion program at Deer Park.

A company decision and a vote by the oil workers Tuesday will determine whether 500 more AFL construction men will be able to return to construction projects on the site of the present plant.

Fellowships Are Given by Humble

HOUSTON—Offers to establish 12 one-year fellowships in the fields of science and engineering have been made by Humble Oil & Refining Company to five leading universities in the Southwest and South and to Massachusetts Institute of Technology, it was announced today.

Three fellowships, one in geology and one in chemical engineering, and one in chemistry, have been offered to the University of Texas; one in civil engineering and one in mechanical engineering were extended to Texas A. & M. College; one in physics and one in chemistry to the Rice Institute; one in petroleum engineering, and one in geology to both the University of Oklahoma and to Louisiana State University; and one in chemical engineering to M. I. T.

Humble established these fellowships, the announcement said, because of its interest in the advancement of study in these fields and as a stimulus to stronger teaching and to higher achievement by outstanding students.

The fellowships will pay the holders the sum of $1,250 per academic year, and in addition, the fellowships in geology will provide an extra $500 to cover field work in the summer.

In extending the offers to the several institutions the Humble Company explained that the fellowships would be established on a year to year basis, but that the company anticipated sponsorship for a period of at least five years.

Recipients of the fellowships will be students who are enrolled in Masters or Doctors degree work, and selection of these students will be entirely in the hands of the universities. In the event a candidate is working toward a Doctors degree the fellowship may be granted during any year of his work and is not restricted to his last year of residence at the school.

Selection of the recipient's thesis problem will also be left to the universities, and the problem need not be related to the petroleum industry, but should be the field in which the fellowship is granted, the announcement said in closing.

Governor's Budget Figures Already Shot—Crude Price Hike Adds Over Seven Million

AUSTIN—(AP)—Gov. Beauford H. Jester has figured out that state taxes on the 25 cents per barrel price increase in crude oil will about double the surplus he expects to have in the General Revenue Fund at the end of his term.

The Governor estimated in his suggested budget at the beginning of the Legislature that a surplus of $12,757,000 would be left in 1949. He says increased revenues from the crude advance will make the surplus $25,750,458.

The Governor's figures were based on a 2,000,000 barrels production rate per day. Currently production is about 2,175,000 barrels. Jester said the increased taxes would mean about $7,528,125 a year. For the biennium it would mean $12,993,440 more available for appropriations by the Legislature and $4,331,147 additional for payment of per capita apportionment of available school funds.

Shamrock in Midst Of Drive to Purchase Agricultural Center

SHAMROCK—(Special)—Thirteen contributions totaling $347.50 were turned in this week to help the agricultural-livestock building fund to $4,857.50.

This leaves the fund $2,152.50 short of the desired $7,000, but those in charge of solicitations believe that a big part of the deficit will be turned in by firms and individuals not contacted to date by solicitors.

The $7,000, if raised, would be used to purchase and remodel the A. J. Laycock building on West Second Street, west of the Noel Hotel. The large building would be converted into a farm-livestock headquarters to house such community events as a Hereford show and sale, Junior livestock show, poultry show, dairy days, farm club exhibits and fairs.

Civic leaders instrumental in promotion of raising the funds have called a meeting to be held at the U-Drop Inn at 8 o'clock Tuesday night, March 18. Every person who donated to the fund is invited and urged to be present to discuss plans for putting the building into operation.

Telephone Strike Booms Candy Sale

WACO—(AP)—The telephone strike, says the Waco News-Tribune, has boomed the sale of candy in Texas. One highly-publicized feature of the strike was a union charge that a night supervisor did not equitably distribute Christmas candy donated by subscribers.

Rep. George Elliott of Odessa called the walkout the "candy bar strike" and touched off the candy boom, says the News-Tribune.

First, the San Angelo Lions Club sent a box of candy to the Odessa club asking that the Odessa club distribute it properly among the striking operators. The Odessa club promptly ate the candy and criticized its quality.

Next, the Waco telephone union sent candy to (1) Mrs. Elizabeth Allen, the Odessa night operator the union claims was abusive and unfair about the candy, with a note saying "candy bars being sent today to sweeten your disposition," and (2) a box to Rep. Elliott with a note saying it was "in appreciation for the hearty laugh" he had given them.

Friday, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram received a check for 11 cents to start a fund for purchase of candy—all day suckers and bubble gum—for Odessa telephone workers to relieve their "great suffering." It was sent by Ira Miller.

He added that to avoid dispute, the paper should be careful to "get the suckers and gum the same flavor and color to avoid unfairness and future trouble."

Meanwhile, Mrs. Allen's desk was cluttered with flowers and candy Friday as the Odessa exchange, with Mrs. Allen in charge, resumed service. The articles were gifts of subscribers from over Texas.

of the present monarchy, have about 13 percent of the votes in Parliament, which is dominated by Maximos' Populist party. The Communists abstained from the elections and thus are not represented in Parliament.

State Department spokesmen said no official messages have been received from Turkey on the American proposal to aid that nation.

Taft, in asking for an official estimate of the possibility of Russia's going to war, told a reporter he also wants to know "just what the military significance would be if the Communists should take over the government of Greece."

Both questions, he said, will be submitted to Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to direct at high ranking government officials when they testify.

area traffic superintendent, and W. J. Hancock, area traffic supervisor.

Miss Shattuck was the first to appear before the commission today. Miss Shattuck said she had never been struck by Mrs. Allen, and had never heard her use abusive language to employees. She said she had never heard of Mrs. Allen striking any other employees.

She said, in answer to a question by Ernest Coker, one of the board, that Mrs. Allen had pushed her chair only once.

"I am long legged," she said, "and it hurt my knee."

She said the company preferred all workers to have their chairs close to the switchboard but that some of the taller women can not sit as close as others.

Asked by Steinberg if she knew of any other incidents that had led to the walkout, she said that was the only one to which she could bear witness.

Mrs. Preacher, in describing the blow dealt an operator, said it occurred when Mrs. Allen ordered Mrs. Gene Boves to give up her position at the switchboard. Mrs. Preacher said Mrs. Boves refused and Mrs. Allen struck her.

Mrs. Preacher testified that Mrs. Allen, in reply to her question, "Why did you do that," answered, "I wouldn't dirty my hands on you, I didn't hit you."

Mrs. Preacher said she had never heard Mrs. Allen use abusive language.

Miss Marjorie Somerville, a central office clerk, said Mrs. Allen did her job and tried to see that customers got service. She said she had never seen Mrs. Allen push chairs in which operators were sitting, and had never heard her use abusive language.

Miss Somerville said she had been union local chairman at the time Mrs. Boves was alleged struck. She said she had heard Mrs. Boves complain and had reported it to the management.

She said Mrs. Allen didn't do anything as a supervisor that other supervisors don't do.

Miss Brunette, the office clerk said she knew of no violence or force against operators. She said, however, that she had seen Mrs. Allen "plug in" to the same circuit with operators and use language which made one of them cry.

lines like food and clothing, which will see a decline in demand as bigger supplies of "hard goods" take an increasing share of the consumer's dollar.

"The fact that many of these commodities—especially those in the farm category—are yielding unusually large margins means that there is leeway for adjustments without destroying the profitability of the trade," the study says.

"Furthermore, we may expect improvement in the efficiency of production and distribution as output in some industries is better organized on a high and sustained level—an improvement that obviously should be shared with the consumer in terms of reduced prices."

The economists report that the price upsurge following the removal of price controls was "the sharpest for any equal period in our history." It amounted to a 25 percent jump from June to January at wholesale and a 15 percent jump at retail.

Work Draws Near On Extension of U. S. Highway 66

SHAMROCK—(Special)—Converting U. S. Highway 66 into a four-lane route advanced another step this past week when the Texas State Highway Department advertised for sealed bids for constructing 15 miles of grading and structures from the Fort Worth & Denver Railroad west of the Gray County line.

Bids will be accepted at the office of the Highway Department, Austin, until 9 a. m. on Wednesday, March 29, and then publicly opened and read, the contractors' notice states. Plans and specifications are available at the office of Clyde Drake, resident engineer, Wellington; or the Texas Highway Department, Austin.

The road to the west will be widened first in an effort to decrease the large number of accidents which occur on the route between Shamrock and McLean. Following completion of that strip, similar steps will be taken on the route east to the Oklahoma state line.

Complete cost of the 29 miles of new pavement will cost in the neighborhood of one million dollars, it is estimated.

Hang on to your Hearts, Folks— it's easy to lose them to this one

Sure as sunrise, it's going to happen: Someday you're going to slip into a sleek-lined Buick Convertible "just to see what it feels like."

You'll want to find out for yourself if it's as wonderful as it seems to ride in all this stunning style — to be boss of the year's brightest highway beauty.

By now, you find yourself succumbing completely. This, you tell yourself, is meant for me. How do I make it permanent?

The first step is to see us — and get your name down. After that — the busy beavers of Buick's on-the-ball production staff will move heaven and earth to join you and your one-and-only the first possible moment.

Well, you find a wheel that seems molded to your hand, deep, wide seats that might have been fashioned for your own special comfort.

You'll look out over a broad bonnet, front-tipped with a richly gleaming grille, and know how a king feels sitting on his throne.

Just listen as eight big Fireball cylinders erupt into life — then settle to a sweet contented purr.

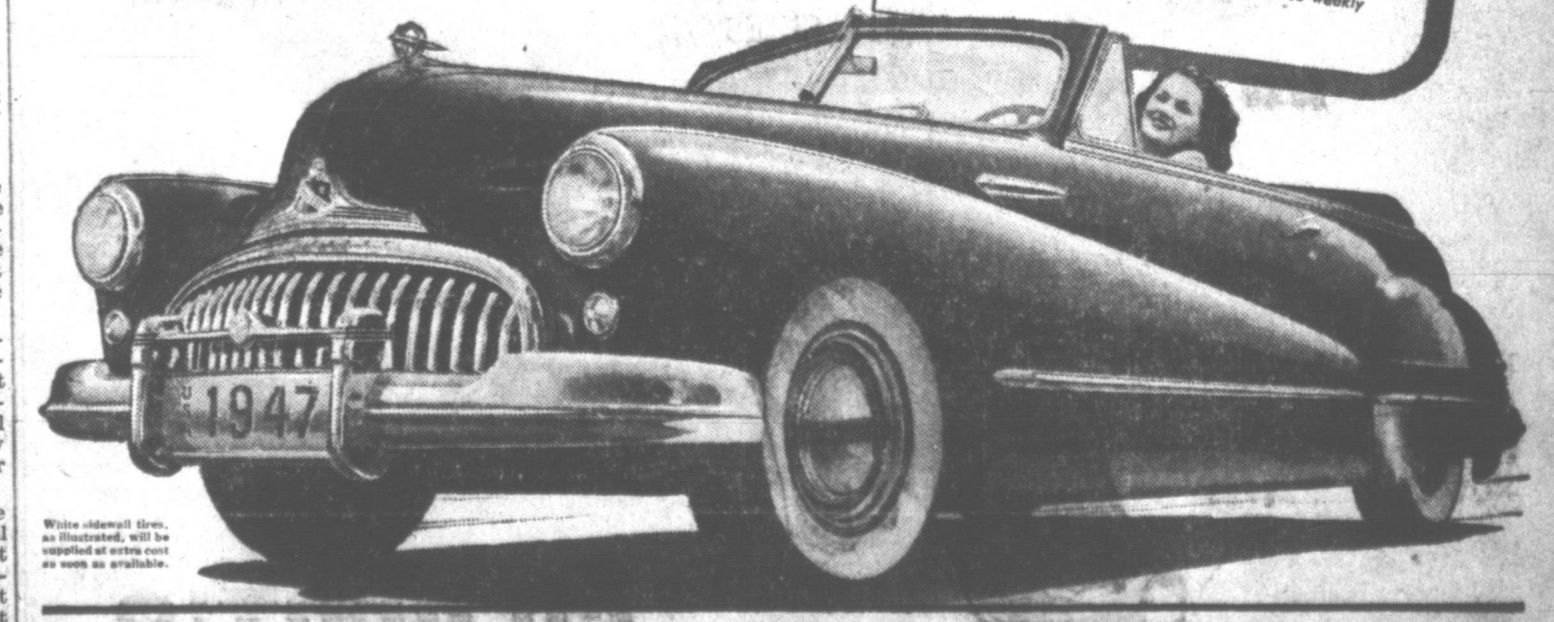

Watch—as each threatening road-jar meekly subsides under the gentle magic of soft coil springs on all four wheels.

Get the feel of roadweight that's like a steady hand guarding every mile. Try the handy push-button controls that operate the top, the door windows, even the front seat adjustment.

Test the lightness of the wheel, the quick bite of brakes, the instant upsurge when you touch off the gas treadle.

JAYCEES—Tues., Palm Room Rotary—Wed., Palm Room Lions—Thurs., Meth. Church Kiwanis—Fri., Meth. Church

Week's Activities
JAYCEES—Pampa High School students—David Plank, Emmett and Tommy Riggs, Orin Allen, Wesley Geiger and Winnie Allen—presented a novel musical program of comic songs. Miss Allen sang two popular selections. Danny Steuber was in charge of the program, and the students appeared under the sponsorship of Ray Robbins, school music director.

ROTARY—County and city school officials and patrons heard H. P. Dollinger, assistant manager of the Southwest Chamber of Commerce, discuss the plight of public education, both on a state and national basis at the regular meeting. He pointed to the current wage scale and subsequent teacher shortage in the state and national educational systems. Earl Rogers of the Borger club appeared on the singing program with the local leader, Virgil Mott.

LIONS—Club President Jimmy McCune conducted a regular business session at the luncheon meeting. McCune announced that District Governor Frank Jordan, Brownfield, would make a tour of Panhandle area Lions Clubs this week. Jordan will be here next Thursday at noon for a joint meeting of the Pampa, Mobeetie and McLean Lions Clubs. It was stated.

KIWANIS—C. P. Buckler, pioneer resident here and one of the original administrators of the White Deer Land Company, appeared before the club with an interesting bit of Texiana—and specifically information on early Pampa. And believe it or not, he was introduced by Lieb Langston, one of the so-called "Okies" who have waged a continual friendly battle against things Texas, as opposed to things Oklahoma. Members continued their fun over the states with a map drawn up a few years ago—a Texan's conception of the U. S., which doesn't minimize the importance of Texas in the national picture. A copy of the map was placed at the plate of each member Mr. Buckler, who appeared before another club a few days ago, kept the group interested with several interesting remarks, among them being the fact that the White Deer land originally sold at $4 an acre (part of it did); that White Deer land now numbers about 5,000 acres, whereas originally there were 631,000 acres. Pampa, he said, was platted in 1902. In the early days, he added, there were a number of people killed in the rowdy settlement, but "I like to forget about the bad things and think of the good things that have been accomplished here."

Friendly Thoughts

By I. M. CLEGG

The gardener slept. And about him in this beautiful bowers of flowers the weeds grew, timidly at first, but then sprang up strong and bold as they noticed the gardener slept so soundly. Their rank breaths poisoned the air about them, and this spot once so fair to dwell in, once so sweet with the perfume of infinite promise became a loathsome place where crawling things made their nests in the ruined garden of this one man's mind. The gardener's name was Conscience.

BEHIND RICHARD'S IRON DOOR

EVERY KNOCK IS BOOST FOR DUSTY

Open the door, Richard. Open the door and let me in. Open the door, Richard. Richard! Why don't you open that door? Copyright, 1947, Duchess Music Corp.

By JAMES THRASHER
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK—(NEA)—For 23 years, boy and man, Dusty Fletcher has been selling Richard. He has paged him in carnivals, medicine shows, minstrel shows. He has summoned him in burlesque and vaudeville. He has pleaded with him in night clubs and musical comedy.

To date Richard hasn't even answered, much less opened the door. He's been harder to find than Chloro. But Dusty hasn't minded. His search has been vain.

But profitable. The search has also been strictly private until recently. People sat around and listened; whether Richard came to the door or not was strictly Rusty's problem and nobody else's. But no more. Paritically over night, the problem of arousing Richard and getting him to open up became the concern of a sizeable portion of the American people. Dusty's plaintive appeal echoed from coast to coast. And Dusty's glad of the help. For the country's sudden interest in Richard's whereabouts has made Dusty's search even more profitable.

OPPORTUNITY ONLY KNOCKS
Since "Open the Door, Richard" hit the air and the juke boxes, Dusty's stock has taken an amazing spurt. The same act that Dusty has been doing since 1923 is now one of the most sought-after commodities on the entertainment market. Managers are bidding against one another to book it.

Dusty's comment on this minor phenomenon is simple. "It's helped my salary," he says. Pressed, he admits that his price has risen 100 percent or more. His manager, Harry Kilby, says that after he plays some night club engagements in New York, Chicago, Washington, Detroit and Toledo, Dusty will begin a two-month series of one-night stands that will pay him $2000 a week.

Richard's popularity threatened for a time to involve a lot of legal action. But after a conference among the various men who claim to be Richard's legitimate parent, a compromise was reached. Dusty is billed as Richard's "originator," and he shares with other claimants the royalties from record and sheet music sales.

Dusty can't explain Richard's sudden popularity, but he can give you his early history. And since most of the people now shouting for Richard don't know what all the shouting's about, it seems only fair to set it down here.

Richard was born, but not christened, in a Charleston, S. C., speakeasy. In those days Dusty was a straight dramatic player with the stock company called the Luke A. Scott Players. The gin mill's proprietor gave an after-theater party for the cast, and succeeded in shooting out all the previous customers but one.

"This one fellow was sort of drunk," says Dusty, "and he wanted to stay. Finally the bartender threw him out in the alley. We just stood around and pitted him. But pretty soon he got up. And the first thing he said was, 'I'm going back in there. Then he started talking to himself and telling what he was going to do. I stood there and listened."

"A few weeks later we decided to switch from straight plays to musical comedy. I insisted on putting in the bit about this fellow standing out in the alley and talking to himself. That's how the act started."

"I developed it and changed it. At first I just used any name when I called up for my roommate to come down and open the door so I could go to bed. Then in Philadelphia—in '28, I think it was—I had a little tab show with Bessie Smith, the famous blues singer. Her husband was the ticket-taker. His name was Richard Morgan.

PHILLY STOPPED CARING
"I got so I'd use his name. I'd see him out there at the back of the house and I'd yell, 'Open the door, Richard!' He'd wave and wave at me. And I got a big laugh using his name. At first I thought they were laughing because they knew Bessie's husband. He was a pretty well known around there. But pretty soon, all over town, they were saying, 'Open the door, Richard.' So I left the name in."

But that was nearly 20 years ago.

Tired, "All-In"— Listless Feeling Brought To Halt

As Vibrant Energy is Released
To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Do you get up in the mornings still tired, feel down-and-out all day? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Overwork, undue worry, cold, flu or other illness often wears down the red-blood-cells.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by post-graduate study shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric secretions. It is non-irritating and actually too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Philadelphia soon ceased to be each Richard and returned to their sedate ways. Dusty went on about his business. He did his act wherever he could get bookings—solo, with a supporting cast, on Broadway in "Bamboola" with Isabelle Washington, in grind houses, with Ellington, Basie and Lunceford and their bands, anywhere.

He changed the act, and still does, from day to day and show to show. If he hears a new saying that amuses him, he puts it in. But he hasn't changed Richard's name.

Today Richard is suddenly and mysteriously famous — as famous for failing to answer the door as Senator Coghorn is for opening it.

"Why," says Dusty, "even little babies that can hardly talk are doing it. There's a kindergarten up near where I live. And I come along and here are these little kids running round and round a fire plug and singing 'Open the door, Richard.' I bet they're doing it right now."

What's Happy about a Hospital?

Frankly, not much. Not for a veteran who comes home to lie long months in pain. Not even during those up-and-about weeks that seem like a tedious lifetime. Some things help, though. Things your Red Cross does. Recreation, hobby fun, work with the hands—those help. Advice on family problems and anxieties—that helps. Assistance with claims for government benefits, pension adjustments, job guidance, family aid—that helps. The American Red Cross does it—with your help. Give—give all you can.

Craft Workshop Held For Girl Scouts by 14 Leaders on Friday

In spite of the cold weather and blizzard a group of 14 Girl Scout leaders took part in the Craft Workshop held at the Little Scout House on Friday with Miss Marie Stedje, executive director of the Girl Scouts, in charge. Instruction in the following crafts were given: leather, metal, colorcraft, and needlecraft.

Mrs. R. H. Nensiel gave instruction in the metal badge activities, demonstrated the use of tools and equipment, supervised the making of copper plaques and bracelets, and exhibited other articles made by girls in working with her.

Mrs. Quentin Williams was in charge of instruction in the Colorcraft badge activities. She told how the study of color could be a fascinating one by making colors and tints of the spectrum. This was demonstrated by the use of dyes, and experiments with color were carried out in tie-dyeing and twist dyeing. The making of dyes out of natural materials such as onion skins, coffee beans, and spinach was also shown. The use of color and design was carried out in stenciling, sand painting, and crayon prints by the group.

Mrs. Watson Welch assisted with the instruction of leathercraft and various kinds of lanyards, belts, and bracelets were made. Coin purses, bill folds, and book marks of leather were also designed, tooled and made by the group.

Mrs. Noel Dalton displayed a number of needlecraft articles made by the girls in her troop and gave many ideas for carrying out requirements for Needlecraft badge activities.

In addition to those mentioned above, the following took part in the workshop: Mesdames Emmitt Osborne, Roy Underwood, Earl Murphy, W. A. Claunch, I. T. Goodnight, H. B. Roberts, R. T. Cooley, D. A. Caldwell, W. O. Pruitt, J. Young, and John Schoofield.

The next workshop will be in music and nature activities to be given in April.

'Bedroom' Topic of Hopkins H D Club

Miss Ann Hastings, Gray County home demonstration agent, gave a talk on "Bedrooms" when she met with the Hopkins Club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. E. W. Orr, with Mrs. H. C. Searlight as hostess.

The president, Mrs. R. A. Irwin, presided over the business meeting at which plans were made for a party Saturday evening for the young people.

Miss Hastings said a comfortable bed must have good springs and mattress, as well as comfortable sheets, pillows and cover. A good, solid mattress made of good-grade, long-staple cotton stitched so it will stay in place, is sometimes better than some innerspring mattresses, she declared, and recommended coil springs that are put in individual pockets, and a good protector over the springs.

The speaker mentioned the two types of sheets, muslin and percale, with the percale having the highest thread count. She said to be sure to select sheets that are long enough to tuck in correctly, and stated that homemakers tend to give too much thought to lightness of covers. Most of us, she continued, don't realize that to a certain extent weight must be taken as a necessary accompaniment to strength and warmth. Blankets weighing less than 3 1/2 lbs. for a standard size bed are likely to be lacking in either warmth or strength, or both. Four or five pounds is most desirable. A blanket should contain at least 25 percent wool for warmth, and a good rule is to purchase blankets at least six inches longer than the mattress on which they are to be used. A bed can be comfortable if made correctly.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames C. H. Brickey, Paul Rice, Joe Stone, W. E. Melton, R. A. Irwin, George Reeves, G. F. Stevenson, a new member, and Miss Hastings.

hair, and carried a white basket with rose pedals. Dan Elson was best man.

The bride who was given in marriage by her older brother, J. J. McPhillips, was lovely in a white satin gown with sweetheart neckline and long fitted sleeves which ended in a lily point at the hand. The neckline was outlined in a floral design of seed pearls while further floral designs over the fitted bodice were also outlined in the seed pearls. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion fell fingertip length from a cluster of orange blossoms, the same orange blossoms veil was worn by her mother at her wedding, which she wore for something old. For something borrowed she wore a single strand of pearls belonging to Miss Betty Sue Mullins. She also wore the traditional blue garter and the coin in her shoe for luck. Her colonial bouquet was of pale pink carnations centered with a cattleya orchid. The pink split streamers were tied with pink Immediately following the ceremony a reception was given at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. R. W. McPhillips, Jr., presided at the bride's book and punch was served by Miss Betty Sue Mullins.

Take the Laughter

THE STORY: Sherry and Mona rent a cottage together in one of Hollywood's best law courts. Mona is sleek and sophisticated. She works in an insurance office and is making a play for her married boss, George Brothers. Sherry keeps house, wants to write, worries about Mona's interest in Brothers. She becomes friendly with the three boys who live at the end of the court, Sandro, who is French, wants to act in the movies; Austrian Tony wants to direct and Danish Kris hopes to become a producer. Marcia Stone, a businesswoman who lives next door, also becomes a good friend.

try it on and had become quite insistent before Mona would let herself be persuaded.
 Because of the way Mona told the story Sherry had to laugh about it, but after she was in bed, and Mona asleep, she thought about it for a long time.

CHRISTMAS DAY was clear and cold.
 Everything that could possibly have been done the day before had been done, and it was still early when Sherry reviewed the icebox with satisfaction. The fruit cocktails were in their glasses and the cranberry sauce sliced. Olives and celery and jellies had only to be served, and the hard sauce was ready for the plum pudding.

At quarter to three Tony and Sandro arrived looking very scrubbed and tidy. Sandro carried a package, but Tony pulled his out of his pocket and said, "Doesn't that turkey smell grand?"
 Then they both said, "Merry Christmas," and laughed and seemed a little embarrassed about offering their packages.

Sherry said, "There's something for each of you under the tree," and Tony and Sandro unwrapped the small gifts that Sherry had bought them and were very pleased.
 Sherry opened her packages. Sandro's was a bottle of very pink bath salts, and Tony's was a little enameled compact. They all thanked one another a lot and Sherry put the compact in her pocket and went out to the kitchen where Mona was.

Mona said, "Now let me do things from here in, honey; you've done everything."
 Sherry showed her the compact and Mona laughed. "Sweet," she said, "Fourteen carat tin, isn't it?"
 Sherry smiled.
 "Anyway, I can use it."
 She heard Marcia's voice, and in

Civil Service Laws In Some States Lax On Vet Preference
 Most states do not have legislation providing effective civil service preference for veterans, a survey by the Disabled American Veterans has revealed.

1 minute Marcia came into the kitchen.
 "Season's greetings and so forth," she said. "Here's the champagne."
 There were two big bottles and they put them in the icebox. Marcia made herself useful and Mona ribbed her about it. She said Marcia was willing to help because she wanted to eat.
 Kris arrived promptly at 3 o'clock. He kissed Sherry's hand and then looked at her steadily for a moment.
 "You're beautiful," he said, and handed her a package. Sherry was interested in the feel of it. She opened it quickly. It was a beautifully bound volume of Byron, and Kris had written on the flyleaf "Sherry" and then a word in Danish and then, "from Kris." The Danish word meant "the lovely," she found out. Sherry was touched and a little thrilled.

DINNER was a success. The turkey was golden brown and the champagne cold and sparkling. They all ate a great deal and talked and laughed a lot.
 It was dark when they finally finished and Sherry lighted the Christmas tree. Mona seemed restless and looked at the clock frequently. After a while Sherry asked her what was the matter.
 Mona said, "Why, nothing at all. What do you mean?" But her voice had an edge to it.
 Marcia said, "That tone of voice always means a man."
 Mona was annoyed. She said, "Aren't you the one, though?"
 Marcia laughed good-naturedly, and the telephone rang. Sherry was sitting next to it, but Mona got there first.
 She said, "All right, in about ten minutes."
 She hung up and turned to Sherry and the others. "You'll all excuse me, won't you?" she said, and put on her new coat and went out.
 Sherry stirred up the fire. She suddenly felt cold.
 Tony suggested that the rest of them go down to Henry's and the others thought it was a wonderful idea.

LEDER'S JEWELRY

Preview of next week's disaster

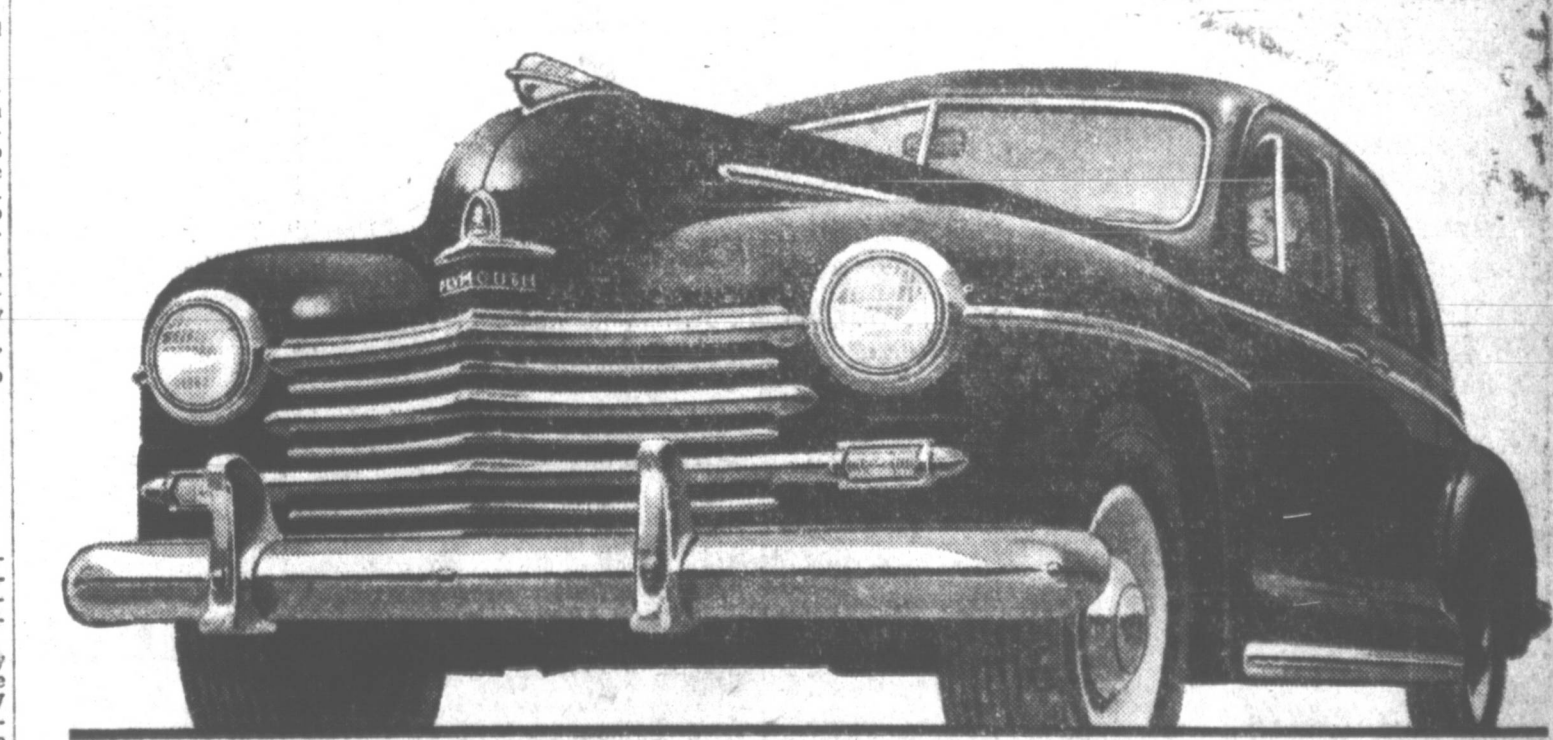

Maybe it won't be a tornado killing and maiming men and women—and children.
 Maybe it will be the devastation of a flood. Or the destruction of a hurricane, or a fire. Or the sweeping scourge of an epidemic.
 But one thing can be foreseen in the disaster that will strike every week of the year somewhere in our nation—
 Your Red Cross will be on the job!
 In this year of peace, as in war, your American Red Cross stands ready to supply those in need with emergency hospital care, food, shelter, clothing, and rehabilitation. All this and more to stricken human beings—regardless of race, creed or color.

 It's what you're giving for—when you give to your Red Cross.
GIVE—so your RED CROSS can carry on!

ORDINARY rim wheels have nothing to keep a tire in place when the air lets go. Plymouth Safety-Rim Wheels with standard factory-equipped tires give you proved protection in any sort of tire failure. Patented retaining humps are there to hold the tire straight and tight on the rim so you can slow to a straight, safe stop.
 Ask yourself this: Is it wise to buy any new car that doesn't give you this great safety feature? In the low-priced field only Plymouth has it—and it's only one of many basic advantages and 52 new refinements.
 Of 21 quality features found in most high-priced cars, low-priced Plymouth has 20. Neither of the other two leading low-priced cars has the new Quality Chart at your dealer's.

Dr. McKown Makes Good in Big City By Coming Home to His Own Village

By NEA Service
GILSON, Ill.—(NEA)—Dr. Harry McKown decided he could build his own particular brand of a better mousetrap in this little village, deep in the Illinois corn belt, more effectively than he could as a professor at the University of Pittsburgh.

He tossed his academic robes aside, came home, rolled up his sleeves and went to work. At the University of Pittsburgh he was known to a few thousand students; from the attic study in his remodeled home in Gilson and from the lecture platform, he speaks to hundreds. Today, he is one of the nation's greatest writers on education.

"I like to teach," he says, "but I can't take the interminable committee work that goes with faculty positions."

His wife does the actual teaching for the family, in the school just across the street from their home. Dr. McKown sits at home, in overalls, his shirt open at the throat, and tells others how to do their teaching more effectively.

Occasionally he leaves Gilson long enough to make a lecture tour. The only trouble with lecturing, he feels, is the time it takes for traveling, and he thinks a helicopter may be the answer to that one eventually.

"I don't believe the average person in a city knows what he's living for. He spends hours a day traveling to and from employment; his living quarters are makeshift or crowded; he brushes shoulders with thousands daily without having a real friend or even acquaintance among them.

"In a place like Gilson, everyone is an individual and we take time out to be friendly and to cooperate on mutual problems."

The door to the McKown home is never locked. Their thousands of books are community property;

Dr. Harry McKown: "Come in without knocking."

people "come in without knocking" and use the library or otherwise "make themselves at home."

Mr. McKown's hobby is rebuilding run-down homes to make them livable. He does the work himself, then rents or sells them. One he rebuilt from an abandoned church. His most expensive "property," a good-looking cottage, rents even in these times for $12.50 a month.

The published title of Dr. McKown's works reveal the range of his educational interests — from "Extracurricular Activities to 'The Trend of College Entrance Requirements.'"

"A good thing about writing books," he says, "you can give them away if folks don't buy them." But his publishers aren't worried about sales.

Living Costs Going No Higher, No Lower, U. S. Bureau Reports

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON—(AP)—The best that can be said for living costs is that they are just about standing still.

They remain away up there, close to a record high. They are about 53 percent higher than before the war.

The record was reached in December, 1946, when they were 53.3 percent higher than pre-war costs. These are all government figures.

So there's been a slight drop, but a very slight one.

By living costs, in general, is meant the prices people pay for the things they need to live, like food, rent, clothing, laundry, goods.

The government's Bureau of Labor statistics gathers the figures but reports them a month late.

Detailed figures for March won't be reported until late in April. Detailed figures for February won't be reported until late this month.

But last night the bureau issued an estimate of what living costs were up to Feb. 15.

So the figures used here are from the bureau and, since they include the estimate, are the latest available.

When OPA started to wobble and finally was flattened out, living costs started to soar until they reached an all-time high in December.

As noted, there's been a very slight decrease since then.

In order to show how living costs

OK... SO THEY ARE NOT YOUR RESPONSIBILITY!

When three men in their early 20's were executed the other night for murder and rape, a New York radio commentator had the idea he would like to interview on the air another radio man who covered the event as a routine assignment.

But, when he came up with some rather dramatic program material quite descriptive of just what happened, combined with some discussion of the whys and wherefores of the situation leading up to the boys' failure in life, his ideas were censored.

It would be in bad taste was the reason given by the network management for censoring the material. A newspaper commentator commented on the issues. He brought up an interesting point: Why should such things not be told plainly to the people, thereby possibly showing some parents where their offspring in early childhood may be making serious mistakes?

As a newspaper reaching a great majority of the parents and children in this area, we may have failed to do our duty when they get into trouble. There's no law against it, of course, but we have felt that perhaps the kid went wrong just for the moment, and to use his name would cause him to repeat the crime.

Maybe we should tell the lurid details as we know them at all times. Perhaps the people need to know that we will print all the details. Perhaps we should do in the newspaper as the radio commentator would like to have done, when he prepared the unused script. It read something like this:

"Mr. and Mrs. America! That kid of yours took a quarter out of your pocketbook yesterday. Or maybe he swiped an apple down at Joe's fruit stand on the corner.

"You think that's not important. After all, you can replace the quarter or pay for the apple. In fact, that's what you'll probably do. Maybe you'll even think the kid is cute."

"Maybe he is. But how would you like to have him sit in the death cell at Sing Sing tonight? How would you like to realize that hunting for another quarter or another apple got him there?"

"After all, these three kids were just juvenile delinquents—just quarter-stealers and apple-swipers. ...That's all. ...And so, with their heads shaved and their pants' legs slit, they sat down to be killed by society—just because you hadn't accepted your responsibility in the beginning!"

"OK. So they weren't your kids, and they weren't your responsibility. But what are you doing tonight to keep your own kids from that sort of a career—and that sort of death?"

Is that rough talk to put in print or on the radio? Perhaps it is, but if it would help even one mother's child, that would be worth it!

MACKENZIE'S Column

By DEWEY MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst Readers of this column—mindful of America's deep interest in Palestine—are asking whether the Holy Land fits into the puzzle created in the Eastern Mediterranean by Uncle Sam's new policy of stymieing Communist aggression.

Certainly Palestine is a highly important part of the picture as a whole—though the Bolsheviks shadow doesn't strike across it so heavily as in the case of Turkey and Greece which in a manner of speaking are sitting right under the Muscovite gun. Strategically Palestine is one of the bastions of that theatre, and while this long has been Britain's zone of influence, it also is of vital interest to America for numerous reasons.

Just as Turkey is the land bridge between Europe and Asia, so neighboring Palestine is the bridge between Asia and Africa. It is a center of increasingly important communications, especially by air, and it is a gateway to great fields of oil.

Militarily its security is closely related to that of Turkey, the Dardanelles and Greece. If we consider that security from the standpoint of a Communist flood from the European continent to the north. Then of course the United States is most anxious to see an early establishment of a Jewish nation home in Palestine, to carry out the promise made by Britain back in 1917. That's thirty years ago—a long time to wait, especially when a multitude of Jewish folk in Europe are without a place to call home.

Quite apart from America's great economic interests in the Arab countries it would be disastrous to world peace if they should be driven from the camp of the Western Allies into the Russian fold. And the Muscovites have been overtures to them.

Thus having got back to the Russians again, we complete the circle. With all our interests in Palestine and the surrounding Middle East there is nothing more important than to apply the new policy of combatting aggressive communism. And in this connection we no longer can pass the task over to John Bull on a ground that this is his zone of influence. Rapidly changing times have made it our zone of influence as well, and since John is physically incapable of defending the position we either must take over or abandon the position.

I am for trade agreements. My party is for committing political suicide if it gets them. —San. Charles W. Tobey (R) of New Hampshire.

NEW RUMOR

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Common rumor sweeping the country today seems to be a whispering campaign report that individual parcel post relief shipments sent to Europe never delivered. The version of this tale is that the parcels are taken off ships in the English Channel, lowered to small boats, taken to England, and sold in the black market.

By Peter Edson

In the past seven months they have been 200 million pounds, and the quantity is rising. One percent of this amount would be two million pounds, or 200,000 10-pound parcels.

The shipping strike last fall delayed parcel post from August to October. The backlog of parcels mailed from the United States in this period did not clear New York until late December.

There is a certain amount of pilferage in Europe which it will always be impossible to stop. When people are hungry and cold, the mere sight of food and clothing sticking out of a broken package is too great a temptation to resist.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG news behind the times

WASHINGTON By RAY TUCKER

STRIKE—The Supreme Court's crackdown on John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers may force the Communist Congress to consider a new sort of anti-strike law designed to prevent paralysis of activities essential to the nation's life in time of peace.

Reading between the lines of the decision, key members of House and Senate suspect that the tribunal itself suggested this kind of practical solution.

The Smith-Connally Act, which bars strikes in industries taken over by the government, and under which President Truman seized the coal mines, expires on June 30. Thereafter Mr. Lewis has warned, his men can—and probably will—walk out unless they win their demands from the private operators.

The Supreme Court decision, in short, simply freezes the existing situation for less than four months. Then, anything can happen.

SECURITY—The legislators' tentative scheme is to embody a parallel to the Smith-Connally Act in the labor legislation with which they are now struggling. They realize that "Liberals, Labor and possibly the Administration will oppose such 'shackling' of the unions. But they believe that public opinion would support such a move.

The proposed ban would apply only to industries in which widespread hardship or threaten national security, and it is the national security angle which would be emphasized on Capitol Hill. As of the moment, the industries they have in mind deal with the nation's supply of fuel, food, power, transportation and communications.

MORGAN—Final disposition of the late J. P. Morgan's estate has strengthened the movement on Capitol Hill for a general twenty percent reduction in personal income taxes. Although the late banker left more than $16,000,000, federal and state levies whittled it down to $4,600,000.

WAYS AND MEANS Chairman Harold L. Knutson, who will use the Morgan report as Exhibit A in his drive for an across-the-board cut, denies indignantly that he and the GOP House majority want to profit the "fat cat" at the expense of the million in the lower brackets.

TYPICAL—"The Morgan case," he says, "is typical. If he had not inherited his banking business from his father, he would have been a laborer—would there have been for him and other men to make money? And where would we be today if it had not been for the institutions that served as go-between for industry, railroads, shipping and the investor?"

"I am the same with the Fords, the Rockefellers, the du Ponts, etc. Do you think that they would have started or kept on expanding, providing employment and the American way of life—call it 'standard of living,' that almost every nickel of profits would be taken by the government?"

"I want to help the 'little fellow,' for I am one of them myself. But I know, too, that they will soon be in Germany. That is good for our economy. But it is the 'big fellow' who, by using their rebates to expand and experiment, will provide jobs, produce more goods and lower prices."

COURTING—The Alphonse-and-Gaston performance which Republicans, Democrats and John L. Lewis staged during the latter's appearance before the Senate Labor Committee showed that the UMW's political power in several key states—Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky, even Ohio—is recognized and respected. Everybody was polite to him.

John L., who fears enactment of any legislation which will cripple his union, left his roaring clothes at home, as several observers noted. Although he retorted sharply to committee questioners, especially Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, there was no sting in his voice. He smiled as he threw off reminders that Mr. Taft had been called a "Capitol Hill boss" and even the humorless Ohioan joined in the laughter.

Appearing on the day after the Supreme Court decision against Mr. Lewis, it occasioned surprise that nobody discussed the ruling in any detail. It was the mine leader himself who brought it up.

In fact, it looked as if the committee agents of the two major parties were courting John L. for the 1948 Presidential contest—and especially Senator Taft. It is understood, however, that the Lewis favorite, Senator John W. Bricker of the same state.

In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD—Ronald Reagan confessed it in a weak moment. When he first arrived at Warner Brothers, he still considered himself something of an athlete, and to carry out the illusion he wore one of those crew haircuts. Reagan went to the makeup department to be made up for his first screen test. Perc Westmore looked at his hair, turned to an assistant, and said:

"I'd say that head of hair was probably clipped around a size No. 5 bowl."

For almost two years Reagan's nickname was "Bowl No. 5." Reagan, by the way, says the correct way to pronounce his name is "Ray-gan" not "Ree-gan." But only about one person out of 10 gets it right.

"I was a baseball announcer in Chicago for five years," he said. "Every day for five years I signed off with 'This is Dutch RAY-gan.' And for every day for five years the engineer on the show would meet me."

Can't get away from the fact that the recording comes from Phil Porter, our special Ambassador in the present crisis.

"That young man always costs me money. He started here with Waldorf A. and he ended up with OPA. Now he's in Greece! So, more money!"

Jerry Colonna wants to give up slapstick comedy for the sympathetic type. Diana Lynn, dining at the Beverly Tropps, was paged for a long distance phone call from Tony Martin in Chicago. Bob Mitchum turned $50,000 to do a picture with June Haver. He likes June but she didn't like the script.

BURY THE DEAD STUFF! The Jay Richard Kennedy Management Corp., of New York handled $20,000,000 in investments during 1946. Company is owned by the same Kennedy who announced plans for a movie based on the life of FDR.

Jackie Cooper and Jackie Coogan play a couple of G.I.'s attending college in "Kilroy Was Here." "It's a break," Cooper told me. "Coogan and I have been trying to bury adolescence. There's no one older in the world than a G.I. in college."

Letter from Barbara Stanwyck from London finds her expressing herself in her amiable manner. "We went to Westminster Abbey. One of the vestrymen took us all through, and it was most interesting. Of course, I almost froze to death, but I saw where all the kings and queens were buried. If I hadn't left when I did they would have buried the only countess ever interred there—from freezing."

In the wake of the war human need in our city is greater than ever before. Crime, juvenile delinquency, the continual flare-ups in racial animosity and religious intolerance demand a forceful united movement of all Protestants, all denominations.—Thomas M. Peters, chairman Protestant Fund of Greater New York.

Gracie Reports

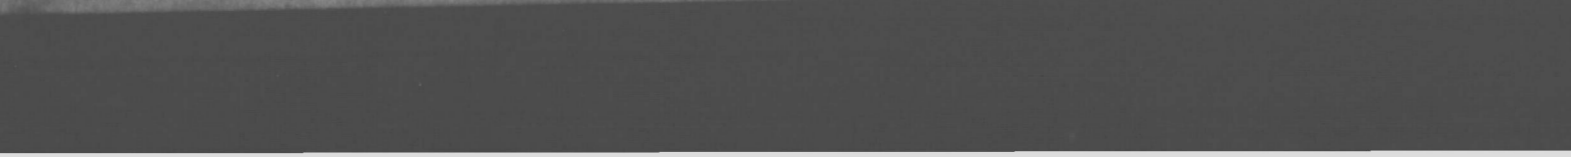

By GRACIE ALLEN Well, see that the British Royal family was welcomed in a native African town by the local witch doctor.

He must have mastered a strong brand of magic, because the people in his town all lived in neat, comfortable, little modern homes. I bet King George would have liked to take back to Britain to cast a few spells on the housing and fuel problems there.

Or maybe it wouldn't be a bad idea for us to borrow him on lend-lease. Members of Congress could certainly use a good magician to make investigating committees disappear or to saw a budget in half.

And goodness! An African witch doctor would probably attract a lot of attention in Washington. I'm sure that the people there haven't seen anyone lately without pants who wasn't a Democrat.

GI Complaints Against Red Cross Are Explained in New Publication

Was the average GI satisfied with Red Cross services during the war? Evidently, many of them were not and the Red Cross, through its local chapter, has attempted to answer some of the major complaints made by servicemen.

The organization has frankly admitted that no group as large as it is can be perfect, but it also reports that many of the complaints were based on mis-information or rumors.

Some of the typical complaints, as reported in a new Red Cross publication, "The Red Cross charged for food and lodging in overseas Clubs."

Answer—Yes, it did, but at the request of the Army. The Red Cross charged for food, lodging, barber and valet services in stationary installations but did not charge in mobile facilities.

"The Red Cross sold sweaters and comfort articles."

Answer—This is not true. The only such Red Cross articles that were sold were those that found way into unauthorized hands, and at such times servicemen may have been victimized.

"I never saw the Red Cross overseas."

Answer—This may be true in the sense that many servicemen did not have personal contact with Red Cross workers. The Red Cross could go only where permitted by military authorities and thus failed to reach many isolated units.

"Red Cross girls were 'brass happy.'"

Answer—There was an average of only one Red Cross woman to 15,000 enlisted men. At many bases, Red Cross workers were required to assume officer rank. Many were also required to observe the regulations established for army and navy nurses.

"The Red Cross sold blood plasma."

Answer—This could not be true. The Red Cross merely collected blood plasma and turned it over to the Army and Navy for distribution.

An example of how one story got started is the case of a sailor in the Pacific who lost all his money in a crap game and wrote his father an urgent letter saying that he needed $50 to pay for a trans-union.

Oscar Nets Star More Money for Same Work Time

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The practical value of winning an Academy Award is graphically demonstrated in the case of Olivia de Havilland. Her last pre-Oscar picture paid her $125,000; she is about to close a deal with a major studio at $175,000 for the same number of weeks on a film. The picture will probably run overtime and net her close to $225,000. That's why Olivia waited a year for it.

The de Havilland-Pontaine feud broke into the open Thursday night when Olivia refused to accept Joan's congratulations. The two sisters haven't spoken for four months. It's the result of a longtime antagonism.

Bob Hope and Jack Benny are working on a deal whereby they will exchange each other's programs in April. Bob's show appearing on Sunday night, Jack's on Tuesday. The two comics discussed the idea when Jack visited the "Road to Rio" for advance on how to handle the Academy Award audience. Jack could have used some of Bob's writers, because skitose was funnier in previous years.

For Harold Russell, the handless veteran, this Oscar don't rate as high as a scarf given him by a fellow patient at Walter Reed Hospital. The donor, a former flier, had lost both legs.

Bing Crosby is cool on producing any more pictures. His "The Great John L." made some money, but "Abie's Irish Rose" is dying. The film is being blackjacked by groups that claims it fosters religious antagonism. But Bing claims a rabbit was present during the shooting to prevent anything out of line.

In Iceland

Miss Jane Goodell, of New York City, American Red Cross recreational worker, has landed in Iceland to help direct welfare work to soldiers stationed in the northern outpost. Word of her arrival, with 14 other Red Cross workers, has been received in national headquarters, Washington, D. C. Above, Miss Goodell tries on her fur cap just before she sailed for Iceland.

He Must Have Been a Farmer, Inasmuch as He'd Made Sixty-Six Crops in 79 Years!

SHAMROCK—(Special)—Three score years may seem like a mighty long time to some people, but not to Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Holland, who observed their 60th wedding anniversary March 3.

The interesting and popular couple has resided in Wheeler County since 1920, living in the Twitty Community until two years ago when they moved to Shamrock to make their home.

Mr. Holland is 79 years old and Mrs. Holland is 77. Both are native Texans, he having been born in Henderson County in 1868, while Mrs. Holland who was Miss Minnie Moss was born in Anderson County, near Old Posterville, in 1870.

They were married in Anderson County in 1887.

Although they are not in good health, both are in high spirits and get a "big kick" out of living and observing. Asked by a friend while getting along, Mr. Holland replied, "Fine. I've had two good meals already today, and I left the old lady in a good humor."

Mr. and Mrs. Holland have lost seven of their 11 children, their eldest son having been killed in World War II.

Three sons and one daughter are still living. Dudley and Elton Holland reside in Shamrock, B. F. Holland in Briscoe and Mrs. Lera Weehunt in Amarillo.

Asked what his occupation had been before his retirement, Mr. Holland declared that he "reckoned" he could be classified as a farmer, as he had made 66 crops during his 79 years.

IS your knowledge of sickroom care as spotty as the face of the youngster shown above? Is a communicable disease one that you must communicate to your friends about? Do you turn scarlet at the thought of scarlet fever? Are common colds too common for you to have anything to do with?

In other words, are you a "bedside blunderer" or can you spot the first sign of sickness? Do you know how to make a sick person comfortable until the doctor arrives? To follow the doctor's orders intelligently?

These days when many doctors and nurses have gone to war and those at home are extremely busy, your wartime "must" is to take a Red Cross Home Nursing course. You owe it to your family and your community to replace doubts with knowledge, to know the symptoms of a communicable disease, to know proper bedside care, to know those things that you must know if you are to be ready when illness strikes.

Your Red Cross chapter conducts classes in home nursing at hours to fit your convenience. There are new classes starting soon. Fill out the coupon below at once. Then, when illness strikes, your family will thank you. It's better to be safe—than sorry.
