Jap Who Beheaded Yank Is Captured; Sanction of Cannibalism Disclosed

Nips Allowed To Eat Flesh Of Allied Dead

TOKYO, Oct. 13—(AP)—Japanese army orders approved cannibalism among Japanese troops, if they ate the flesh of Allied dead—but they were put to death if they feasted on their fallen comrades.

This was announced, with documentary evidence, today by the same hitherto secret Allied headquarters section which yesterday disclosed the story of an American flier's beheading by a Japanese naval interpreter and announced the identity of the Japanese soldier who chopped off the head of a shackled Australian aviator.

Captured papers of the Japanese army showed some of its troops were convicted of eating their own dead and were executed. The papers called this "the worst possible crime against humanity."

This was the first official confirmation of cannibalism among Japanese troops, which had been reported sketchily from several fronts during the war.

The evidence was found among thousands of documents about Japanese military operations, personnel and atrocities, seized by a U. S. army unit whose existence was undisclosed.

Veterans Protest Homeward Delay

OMAHA, Oct. 13—(AP)—A troop trainload of Nebraska and Kansas soldiers returning home from Europe today wired the Omaha World-Herald complaining the train was without sleeping or washing facilities and that a last-minute change in destination should be revoked.

The telegram, filed from Newburg, Mo., by two officers, two enlisted men, and "400 others," said they left Camp Klinger, N. J., Thursday and had been traveling since on "slow routes."

Their destination originally was Fort Leavenworth, Kas., where they had arranged to meet their families, the telegram said, but a last-minute change was made and they are being sent to Fort Logan, Colo. They protested the destination change on grounds "human consideration" outweighs administrative consideration involved.

It was believed the army made the change on grounds Fort Leavenworth was crowded.

Quisling's Sentence Upheld by High Court

OSLO, Oct. 13—(AP)—The Norwegian supreme court today upheld a lower court's sentence of death by a firing squad for Vidkun Quisling, puppet premier convicted of high treason and murder.

By IMOGENE CHRISTENSEN It is estimated that of the 3,998 dwelling units in the city of Pampa in 1940, 1,477 owner-occupied dwelling units were valued approximately $2,284, with the majority of owner-occupied units valued at $2,637 (median value).

Of the 1,155 dwelling units in Gary county in 1940, 2,337 units were occupied by their owners, and had an

Hirohito Is 'Considering' Abdication

TOKYO, Oct. 13—(AP)—With Russia reportedly taking an active hand, once-inert political factions in Japan were consolidating rapidly today for a midwinter general election battle that may become violent.

Premier Kijuro Shidehara's new cabinet meanwhile approved woman suffrage, lowered the voting age from 25 to 20, dismissed 4,800 "thought police" and abolished the 13-year-old law under which some 60,000 political offenders had been arrested.

Revision of uneasy Nippon's constitution was begun, and friends of Prince Fumimaro Konoye, newly-named imperial adviser, reported that Emperor Hirohito was "seriously considering" abdication. They

100 Annamese Are Killed by French And 800 Captured

SAIGON, Indo China, Oct. 13—(AP)—French troops have killed 100 Annamese and two of their Japanese leaders in a push west of Saigon against rebellious nationalists. It was announced today, while the British disclosed the Annamese had been warned to halt "interference" with British forces.

The French began "very difficult operations" at dawn Friday to broaden their hold west of Saigon, and eight French soldiers were killed and 15 wounded in an assault on a national stronghold. British 25-pounders supported the attack.

Eight hundred Annamese were captured, and will face court martial.

Maj. Gen. D. D. Gracey, head of the control commission in Saigon, warned leaders of the viet nam (Indo Chinese independence party) at a meeting Monday that any Annamese action against British troops carrying out their occupation assignments would be dealt with firmly, it was disclosed.

A truce between the Annamese and French, seeking to recapture the colony, was pledged in Saigon October 2.

Despite the truce, armed bands of Annamese attacked British forces, Gracey said. A British officer, an Indian officer and two British soldiers were killed when Annamese attacked an airfield Wednesday night.

The British moved into the southern half of French Indo China to accept the Japanese surrender, to disarm the Japanese, and to recover Allied prisoners of war.

Similarly, in Gray county 491 dwelling units were valued under $300; 37 over $10,000. The estimated average monthly rent of all Pampa owner-occupied dwelling units in 1940 was $25.10; the median monthly rent, $23.49 respectively. In Gray county the val-

Two Chinese Engineers Study Field

Lu K. C. and Wu T. M., two petroleum engineers from China, have been studying the management and production methods of the petroleum industry with the Standard Oil Co. in Pampa.

They are two of the 467 Chinese men, most of whom are engineers, who arrived in the States last June to study engineering, communication and agricultural industries here for a year, under the sponsorship of the United States.

"We find we bother everyone for to know more," said Mr. Lu, on consulting with Jim McClintock, railroad commissioner, Saturday morning.

Both Lu and Wu are extremely young looking men, slightly darker in complexion than the average American of medium height, and "West Point posture." Both men have a few of the "all-American" freckles.

Although they appear more youthful, Lu is 33 years old, Chinese age, while actually 41 years of age as we think of it. Wu is 29 years old, "Chinese age," actually 26 years old.

Lu good humoredly explained it this way. In China, on the day you are born, you are one year old. On the first day of the New Year's day, you are two years old. Thus, Wu whose birthday is on November 23, our calendar year, was one year old the day he was born. Thirty-three days later he was two years old. Because everyone's birthday is on the first of the year, everyone celebrates all birthdays on the New Year's day, although individuals also celebrate their own actual birthdays.

The Chinese calendar offers also from the universal calendar, although Lu stated that the latter is being adopted by the Chinese. Their calendar is based on the phases of the moon, with the 15th of each month at the time of the full moon. Thus, our New Year's day may fall on their day corresponding to Feb. 26, or any such time.

Chinese names, by the way, are backward in relation to the way our names are formed. As Lu laughingly stated, "You put in last name

City Secretary Resigns Post Here

W. C. deCordova has resigned as city secretary and will assume his duties as city manager in Livingston, Harris county, tomorrow.

A resident of Pampa since 1925, deCordova was employed by the Sinclair Oil company from 1925 until 1941 when he joined the City of Pampa as tax assessor and collector.

He was made city manager in 1943 and served in that capacity until last September when he resigned to take over the city secretary's and tax assessor's office.

A veteran of the first World War, deCordova served the army intelligence corps when the Trans-Siberian railway was built in Russia and later with the corp in Japan and China. He went to France from Hawaii when war was declared.

deCordova told a news reporter yesterday that he regretted very much leaving Pampa but that he felt that the Livingston position offered excellent opportunities.

He continued by saying that he wanted to thank the people with whom he has been associated for their fine cooperation while he was serving with the city.

Carland Franks, who succeeded deCordova as city manager, said that a successor will probably be named within the next few days.

BARGAIN SALE

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 13—(AP)—Spokane county found it had acquired a $17,500 school in payment of a $3.40 tax bill.

Marshall school district failed to get a clear title on the site of its school building. So Jean Hughes, county real estate agent, checked the boundaries of the plot which the county took by foreclosure last July when nobody paid the taxes or bid on the land. He made the discovery.

But officials quickly quieted the cheers of students. The county will give the school back on a tax-free basis as soon as the title is cleared.

Stassen Is Named As Presidential Candidate for '48

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13—(AP)—Capt. Harold E. Stassen is getting out of the navy soon and going back to the political wars with a nation-wide speaking campaign.

Friends of the former Minnesota governor, who expects to be in mufti before Dec. 15, said today that Stassen is a definite, if unannounced, candidate for the republican presidential nomination in 1938.

Unless he changes his plans, they said he will not seek any public office in the meantime.

Stassen apparently plans to take an active part in republican politics in his own state and nationally. In Minnesota, he reportedly will support another candidate in the primaries against Senator Shipstead (R-Minn.).

Nationally Stassen plans to lay out a program in a series of speeches. Before he went in the navy Stassen apparently planned to take an active part in republican politics in his own state and nationally. In Minnesota, he reportedly will support another candidate in the primaries against Senator Shipstead (R-Minn.).

Because his views on international affairs are pretty widely known, Stassen plans to devote much of his speaking time to domestic issues. Before he went in the navy Stassen apparently planned to take an active part in republican politics in his own state and nationally. In Minnesota, he reportedly will support another candidate in the primaries against Senator Shipstead (R-Minn.).

On the domestic front, friends said Stassen will bear down on proposals to improve labor-industry relations. His most outstanding suggestion along this line is for the establishment of a judicial tribunal, such as exists in Sweden, for the settlement of jurisdictional strikes.

Proposals for a balanced budget and for conservation of natural resources depleted by the war are expected to be key points in his program.

Petroleum Heads To Meet in Tulsa Today

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 13—(AP)—Officials and delegates began arriving today for tomorrow's opening of the 10th annual meeting of the independent petroleum association of America, first general session since the beginning of the oil war.

Obtaining of a better price for crude oil, to encourage increased exploration for new reserves, and consideration of the nation's import policy are among the foremost issues scheduled to come before the oil men.

And over 20 homes are being constructed or remodeled in Pampa on an approximate total of $48,000, according to a door-to-door survey made Friday and Saturday by C. P. "Doc" Pursley, president of the chamber of commerce. "Building is really on the upswing," said Doc Pursley, after completing his tour of Pampa, on which he was frequently mistaken as an OPA agent.

The Hughes-Pitts, Inc. project in the northeast part of town of Starkweather and Terrace, includes 107 four, five and six room houses, of which 25 or 30 have already been occupied. Foundations for the remaining homes are completed, the 65th frame was raised Friday. The entire project, which includes installation of sidewalks and curbing gutters, is expected to be completed

Lima Is Sworn In As Navy Minister

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 13—(AP)—President Edelmiro Farrell, seeking to form a cabinet to weather Argentina's stormy political crisis, today swore in Vice Admiral Hector Veronno Lima as navy minister.

He also named Dr. Juan Fontanes as acting secretary of labor and social welfare, one of the posts vacated by Col. Juan Peron, vice president who was under arrest on a warship.

Other important posts, including the foreign ministry, still were vacant but Farrell said he was holding over Gen. Eduardo Avalos as minister of war, Commodore Edmundo Susiati as secretary for air and Lt. Col. Mariano Abarca as secretary of industry and commerce.

It was still not clear whether Farrell would survive the crisis. After the cabinet resigned yesterday the army announced it had the resignation of the President "for use at any moment."

During the day the government commission for reorganizing political parties also resigned.

The main problem in the crisis is an impasse between political leaders of the army. The political leaders insist that the country's administration be reorganized. Mrs. Laval repeatedly indicated that her husband turned to paths of opportunism only after the Munich pact shattered his dream of maintaining a chain of steel around Adolf Hitler's Germany.

Earnestly, the 61-year-old wife of the former Vichy chief of state told how she had spirited Jewish friends from the Nazi occupation zone and smuggled out money for them by concealing it in her girdle.

Mrs. Laval was sewing in the library of her daughter's apartment when newspapermen arrived. She was wearing a simple black house dress.

Under tremendous personal tension, she traced her life with Laval from the days when she was his childhood sweetheart in an Auvergne village.

"All Europe was with him (in 1935) when he wanted to encircle Germany x x x He made one front from Moscow to Paris, Bucharest, Budapest, Belgrade and Rome," she said.

"But they destroyed it all in less than three years — the same people."

Republicans Back World Free Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13—(AP)—The house republican leadership threw its support today behind a "world free press" drive.

Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts, leader of the 189 republicans in the house, called a meeting of the party's steering committee for next week and predicted it will propose unanimously a proposal to prohibit use of American relief funds in foreign nations not permitting press freedom.

Specifically, Martin said in an interview, the committee will consider an amendment to pending legislation appropriating an additional $550,000,000 for activities of the United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration.

The amendment was drafted by Rep. Clarence Brown (R-Ohio), who said it complies with a policy declaration of the American Society of Newspaper Editors issued last November.

Support for Brown's amendment came also from members of the house appropriations committee which now is hearing testimony on the additional UNRRA funds.

Holders of Bonds To Get Better Tax Rate

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13—(AP)—Hold your war bonds and get advantage of a lower income tax rate when you eventually cash them in. That advice came today from Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the senate finance committee.

Support for Brown's amendment came also from members of the house appropriations committee which now is hearing testimony on the additional UNRRA funds.

Vet Joins Pampa Police Department

H. P. Fenton, who was honorably discharged from the infantry Sept. 5, joined the local police department Friday as patrolman.

Fenton, a native of Coleman, Texas, enlisted in the Texas National Guard in 1939 and went overseas soon after fighting broke out as a member of the famed 36th "Texas" division. He was commissioned a first lieutenant.

He was with the 36th when it landed at Salerno in southern Italy and participated in the invasion of southern France in August, 1944.

Fenton arrived in the States July 28 of this year and is now making his home here.

The addition of Fenton to the Pampa police force brings the total number of patrolmen to seven.

Keeping A-Secret Will Only Serve To Irritate Reds

President Truman could scarcely do anything else in the face of public sentiment, and military advice, than to refuse to divulge or share the atomic bomb. Particularly so, at the moment when Russian policy is being revealed in its roughest form.

Yet this is the time when the open statement of our government's refusal to share the most powerful weapon will irritate and challenge Moscow the most. Moscow knows that the refusal to share means essentially refusal to share with the Moscow dictatorship and expansionist military power. Presumably the bomb is available to its co-owner Britain if needed by her. Nobody else matters or comes into the reckoning now.

President Truman takes off some of the sting in gentlemanly fashion by calling for the world's outlawry of the weapon like a safe formula: we keep the dangerous thing until everyone agrees never to use it. But, this will not in the slightest check the eagerness to possess it by up-and-coming powers nor the race of their government - controlled scientists to get it. After the war which ended in 1918 the nations agreed to outlaw poison gas, but every big power sought more and more vicious poison gases and stocked up on them for emergency. They were not used when the show-down came simply because their use would never have been more advantageous than other available weapons.

The crude truth about the atomic bomb is that which was told to me by an attache of the White House months before the deadly secret was revealed through the destruction of Hiroshima. It was this: "The conferences, big and little—Tehran, Yalta, San Francisco—the proposals for a world security league and world police force are window-dressing. The only thing that matters is who gets the supreme weapon first. He will rule the planet!"

Well, we, not he, got it first. And we, through Harry Truman, are not ruthless, logical, or determined enough on policy and course, to use it to rule the planet.

This leaves the initiative to Stalin and crew, who are both determined, logical and ruthless enough—if they can hit get the means, in the form of the supreme weapon.

If I were a master-brain in the Marxist power group, with supreme power over one-sixth of the earth's surface and 300 million of its people, and dominant influence over another large fraction and several hundred million additional people in Europe and Asia, plus a core of hardened agents surrounded by a softer body of sympathizers and sentimentality in the United States, I would work it out like this:

I would bring about the paralysis of industry in the United States which has the only force able to stop me, and which I covet. I would do this through the big labor bosses so much influenced by me and in my clutches; causing strikes and violence at the critical time of reconversion. I would keep America industrially paralyzed and baffled and preoccupied with her home problem while I was using all my home and slave engineering talent to prepare a yet more dreadful weapon and lay up a stock of them aimed at my enemies' factories, cities and capital.

Then I would issue him my ultimatum: Get out of Asia, Europe and Africa, lock, stock and barrel. The Eastern Hemisphere is mine to order. You may dominate the Western—if you can hold it—rather than that we go into mutual destruction with equal weapons. If I alone had the supreme weapon and you did not I would put you out of that too, or absorb you. But since we are equals, the ultimatum is just isolation—hemispheric—for you!

This would be my logic if I lived in the Kremlin. I believe it is the logic of the men who live there now. Another time I shall tell you how little that logic is concerned with the actual welfare of the American union member and worker, who helps carry it out—or even with the good of the faithful member of the Marxist faith in America.

Texas Today ...

By JACK RUTLEDGE Associated Press Staff When better ways to tangle with the law are found, Texans will find them. Up in Sherman, a man wandered into the fifty-ninth district court.

"What place is this?" he demanded. "I want to see what's going on."

He was arrested for drunkenness, jailed, found out what went on in court.

In Waco an army officer hooked his bumper into the bumper of a parked car, pulled it into collision with a third automobile.

While officers were investigating, two boys of 1 and 16, who had absolutely nothing to do with the accident, butted in, criticised the manner of the investigation with what officers called "very abusive language."

They were arrested and jailed.

OUR COMMUNITIES RESPONSIBILITIES

The "I-told-you-so's" may now come to the head of the class, for worse has come to that. The long-thretened post-war crime wave apparently is on its way. But Americans need not accept the prediction of a repetition of two decades ago when lawlessness followed the last war.

They need not, they might say, if they—private citizen and public officer—co-operate in erecting a strong enough law-enforcement breakwater to stem the wave.

Enforcement methods at this time are not sufficient. Last year, figures show, a crime was committed every 22 seconds in the United States, and one out of every 22 persons in the nation has been fingerprinted in connection with some major crime.

An even blacker picture is projected for the ensuing months, what with the dislocation of so many persons with the abrupt halt of the good wages of the war plant, the return of so many men who won't find jobs immediately, and with so many juveniles exercising a freedom from parental attention as a consequent of war-living.

Many homes have been broken up in one way or another during the last four years, and that has served to upset domestic life all over the country.

An immediate need to combat the increasing crime wave is strengthening of police forces in most of the cities of the state of Pampa and up. Many cities have already begun to add to their forces. We see the need for more policemen right here at Pampa, and that is not to say that the present force has not done a good job.

It is simply that they need more help. The population of this city has not decreased to any appreciable extent since cessation of hostilities. It is not likely to do so, we are told.

Despite marked improvement in police training in the last few years, the draft and voluntary enlistments have constituted a great drain on most municipal forces.

But it is more than a city problem. It is country-wide. Read a statement made by FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover. "Unfortunately, we have in our midst a large number of easy-going people who cannot seem to bring themselves to take more than a passing interest in public affairs. They think that crime is a chronic condition which we must always have with us."

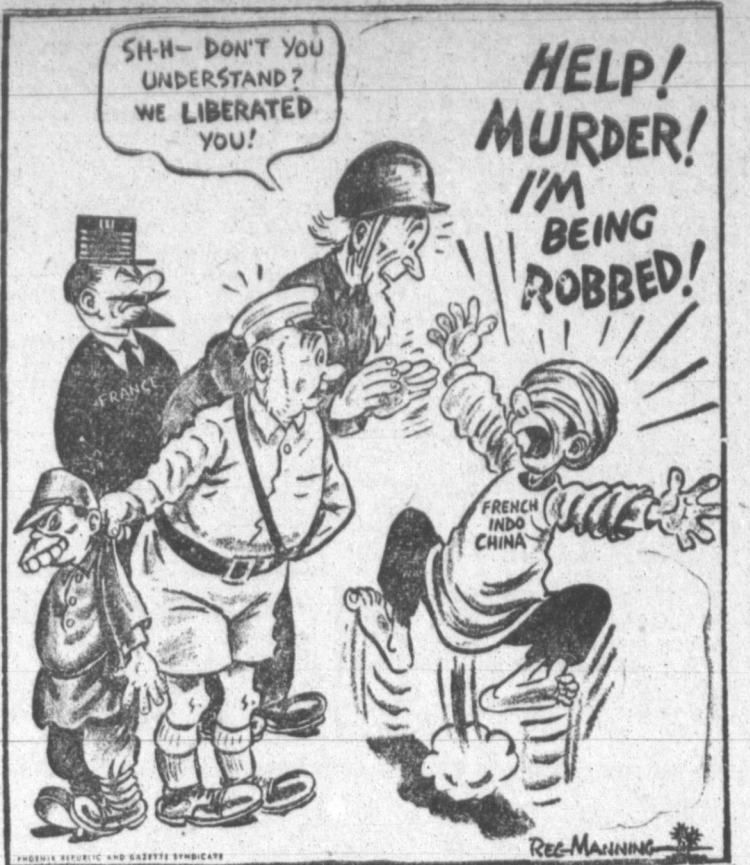

In this lethargic lion one of our gravest post-war perils. Law-enforcement officers are going to need the active support of every citizen in stemming the rising tide of crime.

More civic responsibility in clearing up a corruption in high places is needed everywhere. The citizenry can rarely ever assume too much responsibility. The citizen must not only see that the law is enforced efficiently and justly by the public officials—he must himself become conscious of the need for observance of the law by himself.

These are the citizen's duties—and greatest of all is the influence wielded through the home, the school, and the church.

Freeing Danbury From The Zoning Commission By ROSE WILDER LANE. The Citizens' Committee as I told you in the last issue, had engaged an attorney to draw up a petition for a Town Meeting to secure the necessary signatures, and presented it to the First Selectman of Danbury who was obliged to call the Town Meeting.

News Behind the News

The National Whirligig

WASHINGTON By ALBERT LEMAN MUTTERINGS—To an observer returning to Washington after a lapse of some weeks it is immediately apparent that the Truman political honeymoon is over.

The President has been in office six months, for the most part coasting along on Roosevelt policies and being praised by both republicans and democrats for his moderation and his sincerity.

Now he is confronting new explosive issues—foreign policy, industrial strife, demobilization—which he must solve in his own way.

Whether he can obtain congressional approval for the major part of his program is open to serious question.

Criticism of his brand of leadership is not yet vocal and tests of public sentiment show that he is still popular in the hinterlands. But on Capitol Hill, in executive departments and among bigwigs of various blocs, there are more and more head-shakings and mutterings.

The harassed men in charge of things complain that he is too prone to skip off to clambakes and county fairs when his presence is required here to solve the setbacks in foreign relations and the wave of capital-labor wars that are fast becoming a national scandal.

HOMESPUN—Mr. Truman is the sociable type. Homespun recreation with him is not a fad.

He really enjoys fishing, barbecues, poker and other down-to-earth diversions which are close to the hearts of ordinary folk. He believes that such activities will endear him to the people.

Once, after a period of whip cracking, Mr. Roosevelt allowed the reins to fall loose. Legislation was snarled and the President called a number of leading senators to the White House one evening to chat over matters.

When a round or two of drinks had been downed a senator from a Middle West state braced himself against a table, shook his forefinger under his host's nose and exclaimed, "Mr. President, no one can beat you when you are attacking, but you stink!"

F. D. R. laughed uproariously. But he rarely forgot the comment.

It remains to be seen which of the two methods will be the more successful in the long run.

HISTORY—American history shows that we have had either a strong chief executive or strong congresses; rarely have we had equal partnerships.

In the days of weak presidents before the Civil War, legislators like Webster, Calhoun and Clay set the pace. A similar thing was true in the Harding era.

Before action was taken, senators and representatives waited to hear what Borah, Lodge, Johnson, Robinson and other Capitol Hill giants would say.

Powerful Presidents like Theodore Roosevelt, Wilson and Franklin D. ran the show because they had the knack of winning support from the majority of our citizens. Hoover,

Peter Edson's Column: 'RETIRE AT BIRTH' NO LONGER A JOKE

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON—With all this talk flying around about $25 for 26 weeks of no work, $2 hours pay for 40 hours' work, tax cuts, rollbacks, carryovers, refunds and heaven knows what other new economic theories, you still haven't heard anything unless you know about the "Morrow Plan."

Its slogan is, "Retire at Birth." Its sub-slogan is, "Work for Luxury." The Morrow Plan was first concocted up as a gag, back at the end of 1930's when the "Ham and Eggs" and "Thirty Dollars Every Thursday" movements were sweeping the country. In those days when Father Coughlin, Doc Townsend, Gerald L. K. Smith or any other theorist with a cure for the depression could get an audience, a couple of Columbus, Ohio, newspapermen woke up to the fact that unless something drastic was done pretty quickly, the Ham and Eggs crowd stood a good chance of carrying the state in the 1940 elections.

IT CAN'T COMPETE WITH TODAY'S IDEAS Since nobody wanted to listen to reason, these newspapermen decided

DAY-BY-DAY COUNT ON WASHINGTON'S ACTIVITIES GIVEN

By DAVID LAWRENCE WASHINGTON—John Foster Dulles—the man who went to London as special adviser to Secretary Byrnes—has told some of the background of the Big Five conference. Presumably he did it with the knowledge and approval of the secretary of state, who had spoken of him the day before as one of the ablest men in the world on foreign affairs.

Mr. Dulles is a republican and was often referred to last year as the man who might be secretary of state if Gov. Dewey were elected president. Besides his activity in the republican party, Mr. Dulles has been one of the prime movers among the Protestant churches of the country in forwarding the cause of peace.

So what Mr. Dulles says is listened to with a great deal of respect, for he is no politician and no novice in foreign affairs, having served at the Paris peace conference of 1919 as a special adviser, too.

"I realize," says Mr. Dulles in a carefully prepared statement, "that it came as a shock to the American people that the council of foreign ministers ended their first session without producing a public statement of unity and accomplishment. That is because for over four weeks every meeting of the representatives of the great powers was followed by a pronouncement which gave the impression that complete harmony had been achieved. That was a war diet of soothing syrups. The fact is that there was no unity in so far as it related to joint effort against common enemies. But behind that there have always been differences which are now coming to light."

"It is not healthy, and I am glad that it is no longer necessary, to try to cover up the fact that we have differences. Only if our people realize the magnitude of the task we face will we put forward the effort and achieve the unity needed for success."

What Mr. Dulles has revealed will indeed give a surprise to millions of persons who read propaganda-coated statements issued to them in wartime and who at times resented even the suggestion that behind the camouflage might be some other story not told before the candor was deemed inexpedient.

When the Teheran conference was held in 1943, the soothing pronouncement made was full of "unity" and did not reveal differences. The same thing happened at Yalta in 1945. The fact is that the people seem to fear to take the peoples into their confidence. The critics who exposed the insincerities and inconsistencies in the Yalta agreements and the fact that what had been ignored before was being hailed as a great achievement and a triumph for the United States were accused of giving comfort to the enemy.

The public is being offered now a chance to judge whether it will give all of the truth to the people at the time, for the United States must come when the armies and the air force and the United States are being demobilized. Whatever leverage the United States had to get a sensible peace plan has been lost by the ending of the war. Russia needed American and British help, and the United States needed Russian help. There were occasions when firmness on the part of the United States representatives, instead of wishy-washy concessions on principle, would have benefited the American program of idealism.

But the means means been impaired entirely by the fact that the wartime leverage is gone. Candid statements will help clear the air. Mr. Dulles, for instance, says significantly:

"Every important negotiation, public or private, here comes a moment when the negotiators test each other out. It is inevitable that a time should come when the Soviet Union would want to test us out. It is a good thing that that has happened and that it is now behind us."

A world of meaning lies behind that simple statement from an experienced negotiator. It means merely that there comes a time when compromise and concessions to expediency must be scrapped and a fight for principle is taken on the basis of principle. It is inevitable that Russia should question America's profession of interest in a collective system or a universal society. It was inevitable that Russia should seek to know whether we really cared about free elections and the four freedoms in Europe or whether we were merely applying that code where Russia was concerned and were a bit blind about some other situations in which a major power might seek to exercise its control. Secretary Byrnes is to be commended for standing his ground and Mr. Dulles' statement is a historic supplement to Mr. Byrnes' explanation of the reasons for the stalemate in the Big Five.

From Hamburg, Germany comes word that the British have dismissed Dr. Konrad Adenauer, mayor of Sologne, for "not enough energy" in carrying out his duties.

Well, Well! So old Adenauer was actually holding the office of burgmaster again. No wonder the Prussians cling to the hope that they may make a comeback. They will, too, if they can keep people like him to the fore.

Adenauer is a square-headed Prussian, and exemplifies all the arrogance and dictatorial traits of this "master race." The British have done what they would characterize as "a jolly good job" in throwing him out on his stiff neck, for he certainly has no place in the rehabilitation of Germany along the lines of democratic government.

If isn't that Adenauer can't be efficient (in terms of Prussianism) but he doesn't fit into the picture of a new Germany—or if he does, then the allies haven't won such a great victory after all. He represents the race which for generations has kept Europe on needles.

I encountered Adenauer in a big way at the end of the last war, when I went into the Rheinland with the British army of occupation. He was burgmaster of Cologne then at the age of 42, which would make him close to 70 now. He received about half a dozen of us war correspondents, and we had a warm session.

Anyway, to put it on thumbnail, the burgmaster demanded in arrogant gutters that the allies rush food and clothing to the Germans. He backed this up with the statement that if supplies didn't arrive promptly he couldn't be responsible for what the people would do. In short, he made a back-handed threat of an uprising against the allies. Adenauer insolently insisted on know why the allies hadn't acted already, and when I replied that they were too busy taking care of the host of refugees from German-devastated Belgium and northern France, he snarled that it wasn't there there had been such devastation. That got my Scotch up and flung the lie back into his red face, while my colleagues backed me up with applause.

687 Army Trucks Sold to Veterans

DALLAS, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Surplus automotive equipment sales exclusively for veterans at the Southwestern region army camps have disposed of 687 surplus army trucks for $253,326 in nine days of sales. Morton R. Harrison, regional director of the Smaller War Plants corporation, said yesterday.

Largest sales were at Camp Hood, Temple, where 163 trucks were sold. Other camps where sales were held include Camp Chaffee, Ark.; Camp Livingston, La., and Camp Claiborne, La.

Auto industry uses 2,800,000 bushels of corn annually for starch, alcohol, paints and varnishes.

It was inevitable that Russia should seek to know whether we really cared about free elections and the four freedoms in Europe or whether we were merely applying that code where Russia was concerned and were a bit blind about some other situations in which a major power might seek to exercise its control. Secretary Byrnes is to be commended for standing his ground and Mr. Dulles' statement is a historic supplement to Mr. Byrnes' explanation of the reasons for the stalemate in the Big Five.

HOLLYWOOD—Carmen Miranda was on the warpath. With quick-change pantomime illustrating her freedom in a Belle Davis and how she weeps alone, the volcanic lady who lifted bananas from their time-honored perch in trees and tables to the realm of headgear, was telling us why she was leaving the security of a long-term studio contract.

Undulating as excitedly as she dances, the Brazilian Bombshell of the flipping hips said she was after four freedoms of her own—freedom of romance—freedom from the screen—freedom from mangling the King's English, and freedom to go home to Brazil.

"SEEK LIKE ANEETHENG'S" Carmen said she has no illusions about herself on the romance angle but "Carmen is seek like aneetheng's of flexing romances for leading ladies even eever peecture."

Third World War-- Rapid Demolition

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Secretary of the Navy Forrestal declared today "there is no better way to start a third world war" than to demolish too rapidly.

Addressing 160 naval cadets and women graduating from the American Red Cross training unit at American university, Forrestal said: "In our haste to get rid of the signs of war, we may strip ourselves so rapidly that we will serve notice on the world that we do not intend to meet any evil that may arise."

ESME OF PARIS

ESME OF PARIS by Esme Davis. BOARDING SCHOOL ADVENTURE VIII

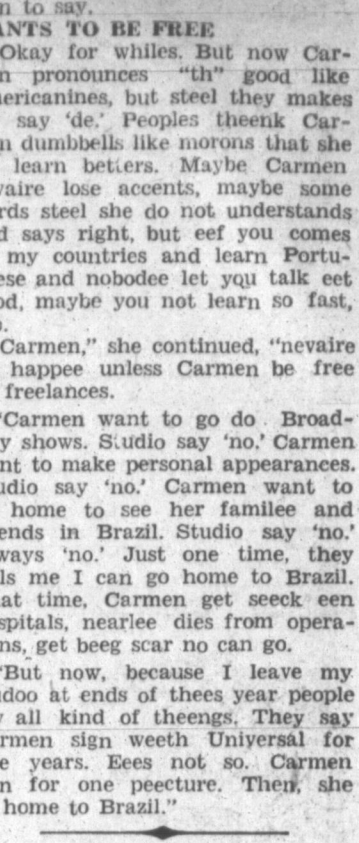

AFTER father returned to Canada he wrote suggesting that I should have a different sort of life for a while and very justly pointed out that a young girl must have companions of her own age to work off high spirits in games; that he thought I should attend good English school and he was willing to make a sacrifice financially to send me to one.

The school father had chosen was at Reading on the Thames, advertised in the best magazines as "a school for the daughters of gentlemen." It was also one of the most expensive places, and father cabled quite a lot of money for the term.

On my second afternoon there we were to go riding. An old beery-looking man turned up with a cluster of rather scrawny horses and proceeded to show me what to do with mine. Of course, I told him I was a professional rider—had been at Olympia, and so on. This created such a stir among the girls, who crowded around me to listen open-mouthed, that it took him half an hour to get started. I was not as a rule inclined to show off, but when we got to a stretch of land they called the "common," I got the mediocre horse I was riding to gallop and left the entire party behind. A beautiful sorrel mare belonging to a girl I particularly disliked had some ginger in her and started to cut up; the girl couldn't hold her, and the old man had his hands full. I left them at it and had a good ride for some miles till I realized I had no idea where I was or how to get back. It was quite late when I did arrive, and there was a scene.

Three or four of the older girls were still in their riding clothes, eagerly awaiting the "bawling out" they hoped I would get; they probably listened outside the door of the office while I was in there talking to the Heads. We had what is described in the English classics as "high words." I was not to come down for supper, they would write to my mother, I was utterly incorrigible.

ESME OF PARIS

ESME OF PARIS by Esme Davis. BOARDING SCHOOL ADVENTURE VIII

When I started upstairs, the Heads shooed the girls after me—and as I walked up the wide polished staircase I heard my bete noire make a very insulting remark about "gypsies" and "circus tramps." I don't remember exactly what it was—but it was enough. I turned as they came up and handed her a beautiful right to the jaw—I had had considerable experience with the Ogrish kids and knew how to hold my own. The blow sent the girl backwards down the polished stairs; screams rent the air and they picked her up with a tooth knocked out and some bruises. I was locked in my room.

It was about 8 o'clock—I had heard the song go for the dinner at 7:30 and knew they were all in the dining room. I changed my clothes rapidly, got out of the window into a dormitory, and tipped down a small service staircase which led to the back of the school. All I had was a few shillings, but I knew it was just about enough to get me to London

When I walked in on grandmama, to my surprise, she was charmed to see me. I started my story by mentioning my reason for hitting the girl on the stairs—stressing the insult to the gypsies and the circus. In the middle of this the telephone rang, and one of the Heads on the other end poured out the story of my misdeeds. As soon as grandmama told her I was safe at home, she said I was incorrigible, and of course persona non grata at the school; that the parents of the young lady, I had injured were arriving post-haste, to bring action for assault and battery, etc., etc. . . Grandmama got so bored with it after a while, she did not even listen.

Father had to lose most of the money he had paid for me, in the end—between the Heads' claims I had ruined the reputation of their school, and the parents of the wretched girl declaring her looks had been spoiled by the loss of a front tooth and wanting to prosecute. It was all finally settled out of court by a lawyer.

The next day I learned the reason for grandmama's strange gracious behavior. Being very bored alone in London, she had gone to see all her theatrical friends and had heard that Pavlova, then playing New York, was looking for dancers for a six-month tournee, taking in the winter season in South America and returning via Mexico. Pavlova knew and respected grandmama as a great artist who had been in her prime, and had seen her week in Russia. Grandmama felt that she would engage me for the corps de ballet upon her recommendation.

How she got all the fast action that followed—at her age—I don't know, but she immediately cabled Pavlova's managers in New York and got a cabled contract for me to dance in the Pavlova company in the South American tournee, which was to be a six-month engagement. She had passages booked for Montevideo on the S.S. Infanta Isabella de Bourbon.

At the last minute grandmama had to go to Granada for family and financial juggling, and had arranged to take the boat when it stopped at Cadiz. But whatever finagling it was that grandmama was doing, it resulted in her having to postpone her sailing until a later ship. She put me in charge of the captain, cabling Pavlova's manager to be responsible for me and to meet the ship at Montevideo.

HE DID NOT LIKE TO BE ALONE

The little fellow shown above apparently did not like the camera man when he was forced to pose at the News office the other day. Either that, or the fact that no one would pose with him (for a very good reason). You see, he is a porcupine, captured in a wheat field on the Charlie Thomas farm six miles from Pampa. After this picture, he was shunted off to the ward schools here and placed on exhibition for all the pupils. He is supposed to be a rarity in this part of the country. The last we heard of him he had served his purpose as exhibit, and was being turned over to someone for mounting.

AMG Officers Knew All About Area A Year Before Germany Collapsed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13—(AP)—Some sidelights about American military government in Germany were related here by Capt. Cullen Briggs of Corpus Christi, on military leave as Texas state district judge of Nueces county.

For his own use, the Texas acquired an almost new Mercedes sport coupe which a Nazi official had owned. In that part of southern Germany are some of the most modern highways in the world, leading through beautiful mountains and valleys, he said.

ON MAY 24, Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York introduced in the United States Senate a new bill amending the Social Security Act. The bill, S.1050, is a book-length document of 185 pages covering every phase of social insurance.

A study of this document reveals a remarkable admixture of cold steel intentions expressed with softening phrases and sheer preachment and propaganda disguised as integral parts of the proposed amendments. These are Trojan Horse tactics.

WHAT SENATE BILL 1050 ACTUALLY IS

The bill, known as the Wagner-Murray-Dingell Bill, levies a direct tax of 8% on all wages and salaries of all workers in private employment up to $3,600 of annual earnings and a direct tax of 5% on earnings of all self-employed individuals up to $3,600 per year. It is estimated that this tax would produce each year a fund in excess of Eight Billion Dollars. In all likelihood this is the largest amount resulting from any single tax levy ever made anywhere at any time. Yet, in all of the 185 pages of text, the term "tax" does not appear save with reference to refunds prior to 1946 and to make records conform to sections of the Internal Revenue Code. The term "Social Security Contribution" is substituted for the unpopular term "tax."

HOW IT THREATENS AMERICA'S HEALTH

Approximately $3,142,000,000 of the total tax fund would be earmarked to provide Personal Health Services. The Surgeon General of the Public Health Service is "authorized and directed to take all necessary and practical steps to arrange for Personal Health Service Benefits for all Social Security beneficiaries and their dependents." These include general medical, special medical, general dental, special dental, home nursing, laboratory and hospitalization benefits. The Surgeon General is established by law as the agent to dispense and pay for medical, dental, nursing and hospitalization services for an estimated 110,000,000 people. The bill states that the methods of administration shall insure the prompt and efficient care of individuals, promote personal relationships between physician and patient, provide incentives for professional advancement and encourage high standards in the quality of service. These are worthy objectives. However, they are nullified by direct proposals of the Amendments. The sacred nature of the physician-patient relationship is destroyed by the introduction of an administrator and the public recording of symptoms and case histories. Professional standards are automatically and dangerously lowered when political favor takes the place of personal competence. The real incentive of the doctor is forfeited when he is made subordinate and subservient to the bureaucrat.

HOW IT MENACES FREE ENTERPRISE

In introducing his Bill, Senator Wagner said: "But health insurance is NOT socialized medicine; it is not state medicine," and "I believe in the American system of Free Enterprise." It is a fact, however, that under the proposals the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service, working under the Administrator of the Social Security Board, becomes the dispenser of all health care and the final arbiter of the mental and physical well-being of the nation. If such a core of collectivist control is ever established in this country applying to the most sacred and vital wants of every human being, it would require a miracle for Free Enterprise in any of its forms to survive the impact.

Wheeler County Deep Test Well Is at 6,750 Feet

SHAMROCK, Oct. 13—Wheeler county's deep test well, the Shiloh-Fraire No. 1 Henderson, was drilled at 6,750 feet at noon Tuesday, according to E. K. Caperton who assembled the huge block of land surrounding the location.

Location of the well is two miles north and one-half west of the Twitty townsite, in the northwest quarter of section 16, Block A-8, H&GN survey.

At noon Tuesday, drillers reported they were in a granite wash. At 6,750 feet, the well is nearing the deepest hole ever sunk in Wheeler county. Several years ago a major oil company drilled to 7,100 feet at a location a few miles northwest of the present well. Drilling was stopped while still in granite wash. There is much interest as to what is under that formation.

Contract depth of the well is 8,500 feet. The Oil Well Drilling company has the contract.

The Shamrock Gas company is drilling for gas on the farm of Mrs. Guy Hill, one and one-half miles east of Shamrock. Colvin & Colvin have the contract and drilling is going ahead at about 1,200 feet.

Demand for Oil in November Will Be 2 Million Barrels

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 13—(AP)—The demand for oil in Texas for November will be 1,900,000 barrels daily according to an estimate by the bureau of mines.

In reporting this figure, Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson said the big question before the next statewide oil proration hearing Oct. 17 will be: "Should be increased production to meet this demand or should we meet it in part by production balanced by withdrawals from storage?"

"Thought should be given by producers and refiners to the large increase in crude oil stocks," said Thompson, in referring to trade figures showing that crude oil stocks have increased by 11 million barrels during the past month.

To keep cream from splashing when whipping, cover the beater with a paper slit in the middle to fit down over the beater.

Pendleton & Vaughan No. 6 McDowell is being drilled southwest of Lela in Collingsworth county. Colvin & Colvin also have this contract and present depth is about 1,600 feet.

'Hitler's Children' Are Being Wooed to Ways of Democracy

BERLIN, Oct. 13—(AP)—'Hitler's Children' are being wooed to the ways of democracy in denazified schools which have enrolled more than 70 percent of elementary school age Germans in the U. S. occupation zone, the U. S. military government announced today.

The problem of juvenile delinquency, most acute among boys of 14 to 20, also is being faced by U. S. authorities. Youth leaders from the Boy Scouts of America are due in Germany to set up youth councils and vocational courses.

Major Gen. M. C. Stayer, director of the military government's public health and welfare division, said every effort would be made to speed reopening of secondary schools. The Boy Scout-organized groups will take care of the surplus.

Stayer said that on the elementary school level, 1,200,174 children are studying in grades one through eight. More than 500,000 others have not yet enrolled because of the shortage of buildings and teachers.

The universities of Marburg, Heidelberg and Erlangen are in partial operation in the U. S. zone. They teach only medical and theological courses.

BLAKESLEE ON A-BOMB

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Editor

OAK RIDGE, Tenn., Oct. 13—(AP)—A sock-em-Sam meter rode on the size of a small radio rode on the freight cars that brought strange and hitherto unheard of parts to the vast atomic bomb plants here.

Sock-em registered how hard every bump was, whether the trip was 100 or 1,000 miles. He was concealed in the car. The railroad men didn't know where or when, but it gave them incentive to be extra careful in switching the cars.

Many of these rare fabrications were shipped on cars equipped with special springs. In one of the plants here, there was no item of equipment of major importance that was not both new and different.

Although this plant alone carried thousands of different types of spare parts, there were fabrications so unusual and different that only one could be made in time to meet the rush requirements. Some other parts were made in numbers of only a few hundred each.

The army went to manufacturers and asked them to make things they had never heard and many on faith the promise that his contribution would be worth while. He could not be told what it was for.

Most of them took the attitude that, if it can be done, we will do it. The head of one great company signed a contract to do one of the seemingly impossible jobs before he was told what was to be made.

It is notable that the industries never failed on the jobs assigned. In some cases plants were erected especially to make new kinds of chemical compounds.

Dean Rollins also announced appointment of Captain J. Fred Hickman, formerly assistant director of the state department of public safety, and a veteran of the European theater of operations, to the post of chief of campus security.

Other former servicemen on Dean Rollins' staff are Lieutenants James Parker and Roy Eaker. Colonel Benny Zinn, former of Temple, is veterans counselor at the A. and M. college of Texas.

Insects of the Philippine Islands presented a problem to automotive engineers when they ate such parts as cork gaskets, fiber bushings and wire insulation on military cars and trucks. These parts had to be wrapped in ordinary paper, wax paper, and then covered with a chemically-treated wax.

Lufkin Victor Over Ganders

Lufkin's Panthers nosed out Goose Creek's Ganders 7-6 in the feature game of Texas schoolboy football last night as three more teams fell with the ranks of the undefeated and untied.

Lufkin, rated with the top eleven of the state, found Goose Creek tough to handle but Pete Rannels was the difference as he scored a touchdown and added the point afterward. Ted Hunt dashed 35 yards for the Goose Creek score.

Other teams falling from the unbeaten, untied list were Brownfield, crushed 42-6 by Amarillo, and Kingsville, walloped 37-7 at Brownville.

Fourteen schools now have perfect records in the state and one of those—Milby (Houston)—plays Sam Houston (Houston) tonight (Saturday).

Odesa beat Abilene 18-7 to become the top-ranking team on District 3, Highland Park (Dallas) raced over Sherman 45-6 in a show of power, Waco beat Hillsboro 33-0 and Temple fell from the unbeaten ranks (the Wildcats had previously been tied) before Lamar (Houston) 19-14 in other outstanding games of last night.

Army, Baylor, Irish Longhorns Victorious

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The speed and power of Glenn Davis and Felix (Doc) Blanchard, plus perfect execution of the play that shook them loose for long touchdown runs, carried Army to a 28 to 7 victory over Michigan's smart and speedy football team today.

Blanchard ran 68 yards for one of the touchdowns that sent the Wolverines down to their second defeat in five games this season while Davis sprinted 70 yards for the final Army score.

A crowd of 70,000 at Yankee stadium saw the Cadets meet their first real test in three games this season, and they didn't get it any too well. Except for Davis and Blanchard, Army's 1944 all-America stars, and occasionally Tom (Shorty) McWilliams, formerly of Mississippi State, Army's backs couldn't gain constantly. Their passing was ineffective and defensively they were in constant trouble from the tricky, speedy Wolverine attack.

The Cadets' payoff punches both game on the first play after Army had taken the ball. There wasn't a Michigan tackler on his feet when Blanchard burst through the line and set off downfield for the second Army tally midway through the second period. In the last quarter Davis swung around his right end with plenty of interference, but on a dazzling burst of speed and outran the Wolverine secondaries in a straightaway sprint.

The other Army touchdowns were scored by McWilliams on a seven-yard end run just about two minutes before Blanchard's score, and Arnold Tucker on a quarterback sneak for the last few inches after McWilliams had setup a third-period tally.

Baylor 23, Arkansas 13

WACO, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Baylor stayed in the Southwest Conference race here today by upsetting a favored Arkansas 23-13 at Municipal stadium before a shirt-sleeved crowd of 7,500.

The Bears were trailing 7-6 at the half but exploded like an atomic bomb in the third to score enough points in the one period to tie the game away. Touchdowns by Sammy Pierce and Joe Joiner, and two conversions and a field goal by Substitute Louis Leal backed up 17 points.

NOTRE DAME 34, DARTMOUTH 0

SOUTH BEND, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Notre Dame's fighting Irish using 50 plays easily won their third straight victory today, crushing a completely outclassed Dartmouth eleven, 34-0.

TEXAS 12, OKLAHOMA 7

DALLAS, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Texas swept 69 yards with five minutes to go today to beat Oklahoma 12-7 in the thirty-ninth renewal of this colorful intersectional football game as little Byron Gillory teamed with huge Hubert Bechtel to turn back the first Sooner team that has played here in six seasons.

Fir the third straight year it was a 17-year-old who spelled Oklahoma defeat. In 1943 Bobby Coy Lee passed the Longhorns to victory, last year it was Bobby Layne. This time it was the 140-pound Gillory whose passing and running nullified the Longhorns over a big hump-fighting Oklahoma team that out-gained Texas and too often for comfort was knocking at the door to touchdowns.

Oklahoma got its touchdown on an 80-yard surge with the pay-off being a 21-yard pass from Johnny West to McCall. Bob Bodenhamer kicked the extra point.

Texas made its initial touchdown in eight plays, driving from its 33 with a pass from Gully to Bechtel over the goal line bringing the score.

For the record Gillory pitched 10 passes and completed nine for 100 yards. He made 50 carrying the ball but lost 24.

MISS. STATE 41, DETROIT 6

MEMPHIS, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Mississippi State, paced by fleet-running Harpet Davis and Don Robinson, rolled over the University of Detroit in an intersectional game here today, 41 to 6. It was the Maroons' third straight victory.

INDIANA 54, NEBRASKA 14

BLMINGTON, Ind., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Unbeaten Indiana defeated Nebraska today, 54 to 14, before a homecoming crowd of 20,000. The powerful Hoosiers scored in every period while the Cornhuskers were able to muster a scoring punch only twice, but on passes.

FURDUE 40, IOWA 0

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Coach Cecil Isbell's improving Purdue Boilermakers upped their streak in the Western Conference gridiron ranking today as they romped over Iowa, 40 to 0.

PENN 49, NORTH CAROLINA 0

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Pennsylvania handed North Carolina one of the worst beatings ever suffered by a Carl Snavely coached team today, scoring at will through the air and on the ground to overwhelm the Tar Heels, 49-0. The Quakers' third straight victory was racked up before 53,000 Franklin field enthusiasts.

HARVARD 21, ROCHESTER 13

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 13.—(AP)—A much smoother running Harvard team gained its first victory of the season by topping Rochester, 21-13, at the stadium today in their first football meeting in history.

Victory Is Fifth in Row for Pampa; Clay Scores on Pass

By SCOTT RAFFERTY
News Sports Editor

A defense that allowed the Vernon Lions a net gain of only five yards on the ground last week was the margin of victory Friday night as the Pampa Harvesters won their fifth straight game, defeating a fighting Norman, Oklahoma, eleven 6-0.

The Tigers were able to amass a net gain of only seven yards as the Harvesters line repeatedly charged in and plastered Tiger backs for losses or for no gain.

Randall Clay, leading scorer in the state, accounted for three touchdowns in Friday's game but two of them were called back because of backfield-in-motion penalties.

Pampa struck midway in the second quarter when Quarterback George Johnson heaved a pass from the 25-yard line to the waiting arms of Clay, who went over standing up. Clay's kick for extra point was inches too low.

Johnson heaved, in all, 11 passes, completing seven of them for a total of 113 yards. The Harvesters running attack went for gains totaling 147 yards and lost 40 yards for a net gain of 107. Norman gained 33 in all and lost 26 for the Tigers' seven-yard total.

Sparkling backfield play by Quarterback Bob Ewbanks and Halfback Mack Sherman, highlighted Norman's offensive play. Ewbanks picked up seven times during the game for a total of 299 yards—a 44-yard per punt average.

The Harvesters were forced to punt only once—that for 32 yards by Johnson. Johnson punted on one other occasion but the play was nullified by a roughing penalty against Norman and Pampa was awarded an automatic first down.

The whole Pampa line played outstanding ball. Fish played a fine defensive game at guard and Terrell and Simpson were also in among many of the tackles.

Clay kicked off for Pampa and the Tigers received it on their own 10, bringing it up to the 27. Three running plays brought the Tigers only four yards and Ewbanks got off a 25-yard pass to Johnson, who was downed on the Norman 27. Johnson and Clay picked up a first down on two tries. The Harvesters drove on down but couldn't get over and Norman took over on the eight-yard line. Ewbanks punted 70 yards to the Pampa 22 and Johnson returned to the 40. Johnson passed to Beard for 25 yards and a first down on the Norman 35. Johnson then carried to the Norman 18 but fumbled when he was hit and Norman recovered and drove back five yards before the quarter ended.

Score: Pampa 6, Norman 0.

Third Quarter

Clay received Norman's kick-off on his own 10 and returned to the 29. The Harvesters couldn't gain enough for a first down and Johnson punted 32 yards to the 39. Lock-ett went for one yard and Norman fumbled on the next play with Clay recovering for Pampa on the Norman 37. The Harvesters picked up four yards and then Johnson passed to Clay for a first down on the Norman 40. Clay and Johnson picked up enough yardage for a first down on the Norman 9 but Pampa was penalized to the 14 for offside. Clay again went to the ten but Ewbanks intercepted Johnson's pass and went back to the 25 where he fumbled and Clay recovered. Clay ran to the 20 on the next play and then Johnson tossed to Dunham who lateraled to Clay for a first down on the 10. Clay went over for a score but the ball was called back and Pampa was penalized for backfield in motion.

Score: Pampa 6, Norman 0.

Fourth Quarter

Johnson passed to Clay complete on the two yard stripe but Norman held and the ball went over on downs. Ewbanks punted to the 45 and Johnson returned to the 31. The Harvesters couldn't get anywhere, being driven back to the 43 where Johnson was roughed as he tried to punt, giving the Harvesters an automatic first down. Wilson then carried for Pampa but fumbled on the 43 and Norman recovered. Norman picked up a first down on the 47 but Norm intercepted Ewbanks' pass and ran to the Norman 41. Clay picked up 11 yards for a first down on the 30. The Harvesters couldn't gain however, and Norman took over on downs. The Harvesters held and took over and drove to the Norman 20 before the game ended.

Borger's Defeat of Lubbock Is Surprise of Week in District

Amarillo, Plainview and Pampa continued on the victory trail in District One last week, but the big news was Borger's defeat of the potent Lubbock Westerners 21 to 19 in a conference game.

Up to the Lubbock game, Borger had scored exactly six points in three games and was not conceded much of a chance to stop the powerful Westerners, vastly improved since their 27 to 6 defeat at the hands of high-ranking Odessa.

Elsewhere in the district, Amarillo swept to a 42-6 conference victory over the Brownfield Cubs for the Sander's fifth straight victory. Plainview rolled on undefeated and unscored on with a 28- triumph over an unbeaten Hollis, Okla., eleven. It was Plainview's fourth win.

Pampa had the roughest time of it, eking out a 6-0 win over the thrice-beaten but surprising Norman, Okla., Tigers. It was Pampa's fifth straight win.

Pirates Fall To Skyrockets 13-0

A powerful running attack that the LeFors Pirates couldn't stop netted the Wellington Skyrockets a 13-0 win over the previously undefeated, but tied, LeFors eleven Friday night.

Wellington led at the half 7 to 0 but it was anybody's ball game until the final whistle blew with Wellington stopped cold on the Pirate four-yard line.

In the statistical department, Wellington had seven first downs to the Pirates' four, the Skyrockets gained 145 yards from scrimmage while LeFors was running up 95 and LeFors punted five times for 176 yards while Wellington booted the ball four times for 125 yards.

Reapers, LeFors Fight to 7-7 Tie

Fumbles proved costly to the Pampa Junior high Reapers Thursday as they battled the LeFors eighth and ninth-graders to a 7-7 deadlock.

Bo Jack Phillips, 170-pound Reaper back, led the Reaper attack, running 20 yards for the score in the second period and also running the extra point over.

LeFors opened the scoring when the Reapers fumbled on the first scrimmage play of the game. On the next play, Grover of LeFors ran 15 yards for a touchdown.

Both teams showed good defensive play in the second half but neither team was able to score, mostly because of fumbles.

Bucks Take 12-6 Game from Lynx

WHITE DEER, Oct. 13.—White Deer's Bucks pocketed their first conference victory Friday night by downing the Spearman Lynx, 12 to 6, on Bucks Field, before a large crowd.

Little Johnnie Harvey, 125-pound first-year back, made the first counter for the Bucks in the last minute of the first quarter on a center plunge. Thornburg's kick was no good.

Hershel Jones, 175-pound back and mainstay for the Lynx, went over standing up for their only score in the last minute of the third quarter, after Narrell Wilson almost got away on a reverse play.

In the fourth quarter, after three successive first downs by Harvey, Hoyt Taylor, and Leroy Thornburg, the Bucks' most consistent ground-gainer, plunged over in the last minute of the game for the winning score.

Spearman's passing combination of Wilson and Becker and Jones' plunges, were a constant threat to the Bucks, while Clayton looked good on defense. Bernard, Jones, and Ayers were outstanding on defense for the Bucks.

Spearman made 8 first downs; White Deer, 10. The Lynx attempted 9 passes, 7 of them complete for good gains. The Bucks tried 9, but completed only three.

ple who got France into war so unprepared.

"They pushed Italy toward Germany. Then they drove Russia away by Munich. My husband was so bitter against Munich. We went to war without Russia, without Italy, without Yugoslavia, with no Austria or Czechoslovakia left. And today they want to keep my husband from talking. x x x It should not be a matter of defending Pierre Laval but of throwing light on these questions."

Correspondents found in her words an explanation of Laval's visible disappointment at his trial when all charges involving pre-war activities were withdrawn as he began to present testimony covering the period.

Laval considered himself as "a receiver of a bankruptcy" at Vichy and tried to oppose the Germans while protecting France as much as he could.

In the final days, Mrs. Laval said, "my husband wanted to stay at his post to hand over power to those who were coming. Everybody saw him taken away by force—the prefect, the mayor, everybody. Why don't they say anything?"

"I wasn't taken. I went with him. I would go with him to a life-term prison colony if I had to."

Chinese

first" the family name being first, the given name second. Wu T. M., on pronouncing his name sounded like Wu Tom May.

"Our trouble is only the lack of industrialism," Lu stated, following Wu's exclamation that "China was the first country to drill a well, but we didn't have any improvement!"

Wu said that the first well was drilled in 300 B. C.

Today there is only one oil field in China, with 28 oil wells, all of which are flowing. The field is in the Kansu province, which appears on a map as a long, narrow irregular area in central China. The wells, drilled by rotary, are shallow, Wu enthusiastically explained, with an average depth of 1500 feet. The oil has a gravity of 39, about the same as that of the Panhandle fields, and the Kansu Petroleum Administration, by which both of the men are employed, has its own refinery.

During the war, which has lasted for the past 40 years in China, about 1,500 barrels of oil a day were taken from the fields. Lu said they took out as much as they needed. Production was not very high, but when possible, otherwise by camels.

Both men were quick to give historical data and statistics of both China and the United States. They emphasized China's status, by comparing the 400,775 million population of China and the 149,000,000 square miles of territory, with our 131 million population and 1,700,000 square mile area. Particular stress was given to the fact that in all of China there is a maximum of 20 engineers and 100 petroleum production workers.

Lu attended the National North-eastern University of Engineering college in Manchuria. When the Japanese occupied Manchuria, which Lu refers to as the "Manchuria instance of the college moved to Beijing. When Peiping was occupied by the Japanese, the students went into the northwest interior of China.

Wu attended a like "migratory" school enrolling at the National Northwestern University of Engineering college in Manchuria, which finally joined the ranks of the Northeastern college in the interior.

Many of the students waged guerrilla warfare against the Japanese. Lu and Wu ordinarily speak in deep musical voices, carefully enunciating all syllables. When referring to the Japanese only did Lu's voice raise in pitch speaking in high, tight, and clipped words, "The Japs are cruel. I personally saw so many facts. It is impossible to believe."

Mr. McClintock inquired of the men how the Chinese felt since the surrender of the Japanese. Both Lu and Wu grinned broadly and voiced a long ah-h-h, with Lu adding that the Chinese were very happy. Again Lu mentioned that the only trouble with China was her lack of industrialism.

Wu has been studying with the Pampa Shell Oil Co., for the past three weeks; Lu, for the past four days. They first came to the States in June, leaving China by U. S. army transport, going over the hump to Calcutta, which they left May 26 by ship for Hong Kong.

For five weeks they attended an orientation course in Washington, D. C., under Prof. Paul B. Eaten, who is a mechanical engineer with much experience in the orient.

Since then they have been studying the petroleum industries in the southwest. Lu's title is petroleum engineer-in-charge of drilling. He is the petroleum group leader of the 18 men who came to the States to study this phase.

Wu is the petroleum production engineer of the Kansu Petroleum Administration of China.

Both Lu and Wu expressed disfavor of the "greediness" of Russia, and of the Russian financed communist party in China, maintaining that although they have many parties in the central government, the communist party is the chief source of major political disturbances.

Both Lu and Wu, on being asked if they liked America, looked and acted as if that had been a most stupid question. They said that America was very cooperative, always have been, and that the Americans are highly respected in China.

From Pampa, Lu and Wu will go to Wichita Falls and other petroleum points, where they probably will be both together everyone to know more."

said, however, that Konoye was aiming suggested constitutional revisions at strengthening the diet without altering the traditional position of the throne.

In the elections, entrenched officeholders and their backers will be opposing a variety of political opponents who in turn are opposing each other, and the balloting is expected to afford a cross-section of public opinion rather than effect any real influx of new diet members.

Attitude of the communists—supported, say American and Japanese officials, through the Soviet embassy—remains the biggest current question-mark.

Yoshie Shiga, liberated communist who had been imprisoned in 1928 for his left-wing beliefs, is advocating "establishment of democracy in the American way," the Domei agency reported.

Newspapers predicted that a revised constitution would be ready for submission to a special diet session in December, but first reports gave no evidence of any voluntary movement among the Japanese leaders for completely overhauling the document.

Newspapers said that Konoye's first draft altered principally the provisions making the emperor supreme commander of the now-disbanding army and navy, and giving him treaty-making power, which Konoye would transfer to the diet.

She has served for two campaigns prior to this one.

From the business district workers $781.50 has been received. However, sufficient time has not elapsed for all of the reports to come in.

The big day in the schools will be Tuesday, Chairman Langston said. Every student will have occasion to give anything from five cents to $1.00. Each contributor will receive a feather for his hat. Although the drive has not begun officially, $95.50 has already been reported from the schools.

A few replies to letters sent out to farmers and ranchers have been received by Chairman Hueylyn-Laycock. There are many more to come in yet. The total desired is $1,000.

Reports from outlying districts—McLean, LeFors, and Alameda—have not started coming in yet, Langston reported.

The chairman said that if there are persons who wish to contribute and have not been contacted, they are asked to call him at the ice plant here, or mail their contributions to Treasurer Schmidt at the courthouse, or just address the gift to the Community Chest Fund, Pampa, Texas.

Dwelling Units

ues were $30.50 and $15.78. Considering the two extremes in estimated monthly rentals, there were 25 units with a monthly rent of under $3, eight units over $100, in Pampa; in Gray county there were 91 units under $3, 10 over $100.

There were approximately 2,233 units in Pampa in 1940 which were occupied by tenants, with an average monthly contract rent of $21.21; median monthly contract rent of $20.93.

Of the 3,712 similar units in Gray county, the average rent was $17.68; median rent, $17.01.

Four units in Pampa were rented to tenants paying under $3 a month, and the highest bracket in this division was from $75 to $99, which was paid by four tenants.

Thirteen units in Gray county were rented to tenants paying $3 a month, and four from $75 to $99.

Cannibalism

spent three days in a rubber boat before reaching a crew Guinea village where natives betrayed them into Japanese hands.

The missionary related: "After assembling local natives, including school children, Yunone, as he later boasted, served his emperor personally by decapitating one of the crew. He then ordered guards to bayonet the other three who were present, with hands tied behind them and showing signs of abusive treatment.

"The soldiers hesitated and Yunone gave them saki upon which they became intoxicated and dispatched the three Americans by repeated bayonet thrusts."

In the far flung search to identify Yunone, Royal Canadian mounted police found his picture in a boarding house where he stayed while attending St. John's college at Winnipeg in 1926.

Following the dinner, all present became students in Puppinkville high school, under Professor Groucho Marx, portrayed by Bill Doty. The professor led the class through a vast moving and hilarious session, including the singing of school songs, physical exercises, examinations in reading, writing and arithmetic. A spelling bee climaxed the party after which the students were awarded diplomas and stick candy.

Rev. Floyd Grady, moderator of the local church, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mitcham of Pampa, were special guests.

Girl Scouts

How many little girls, who attaining the age of seven, started in the second grade this year with high hopes of becoming Brownies. There are quite a number — some have realized this dream and are meeting already with little girls, their own age, learning fascinating games, delightful songs, besides discovering the satisfaction of acquiring useful knowledge while having fun.

There are, however, many girls who are still wisely hoping they will be Brownies but because no mother has volunteered to help they are still just hoping.

The same is true of Girl Scouts, girls who have acquired several badges and are vitally interested, find to their consternation that they are unable to go on because they have no leader.

The Pampa Girl Scout association has an answer to all this. They are having a banquet October 25 at the Senior high cafeteria with Mrs. Gretchen Kidd of the National Girl Scout staff as speaker. She will explain the Girl Scout program in all its phases so that interested people will better understand the duties of every registered Scout old or young. Every leader, assistant leader as well as committee women are registered Scouts and have definite duties that are as enjoyable as they are important. It should be a challenge for every parent in Pampa to see that each daughter is a member of the largest girls organization in the world—where she may have fun while learning to do constructive things with girls her own age.

During her stay in Pampa Mrs. Kidd will give training to all new board members as well as all new leaders, everyone should be well prepared for the coming year.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13—(AP)—James J. Dolan, 31, recently discharged New York soldier, became lost while driving his auto around this city.

But he knew Market street was the main stem so when he reached a point on it where a tunnel opened under Twin Peaks he drove right in.

Two miles inside, at Forest Hills station, he told startled officers sent to intercept him.

"My home town has lots of tunnels, but none of them as rough as this one."

He was arrested on a little used ordinance prohibiting autos in street railway tunnels.

For a different flavor, add a few whole cloves to apple sauce or baked apple.

In this hour of exultation we should dedicate ourselves anew to the perpetuation of one of our cherished heritages—freedom of the press.—President Truman.

Fire Prevention Is Program Subject at Horace Mann School

Pupils and teachers of Horace Mann school observed Columbus Day and National Fire Prevention Week with an assembly program Friday morning, at 9:30. The program under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Sewell, was opened with the music teacher singing of the Star-Spangled Banner by the entire school.

Billy Rose, a member of Mrs. M. K. Griffith's fifth grade was the reader for a Columbus Day skit. Pupils from Miss Frances McCue's fifth grade enacted the story. Songs and rounds were given by the first, second, third and fourth grades.

Chief Ben White of the fire department and Capt. Albert Fuller gave a demonstration of what faulty wiring can do to any home. A miniature house was brought on the stage, and the audience was shown how a fire could be started by faulty wiring. Chief White spoke briefly on the merits and importance of good fire prevention habits.

Miss Josephine Thomas, principal of Horace Mann explained the plan of the local insurance companies who offer prizes for the best fire prevention posters coming from the fourth and fifth grades. Winners were announced as follows: Monty Sue Williams, fourth grade, first prize; Gene Mason, fifth grade, second prize, and Kelley Goddard, fourth grade, third prize.

Burgess Meredith Plays Ernie Pyle In 'Story of G. I. Joe' at LaNora

Burgess Meredith, as Ernie Pyle, anticipates taking pot-luck with a native family in this scene from Ernie Pyle's "Story of G. I. Joe."

By SCOTT RAFFERTY

Words were his only weapons but with those words he defended the life and liberty that symbolize the America of today. That is Ernie Pyle—whose story is being brought to the screen in the magnificent "Story of G. I. Joe."

Many stars—both the famous and the unknown—were considered for the role in the United Artists picture showing at the LaNora today through Wednesday and Producer Lester Cowan finally decided on none other than Burgess Meredith, recently discharged from the armed forces and a man who knew Ernie Pyle and how he lived. The result is a picture that will long be remembered—not because it is a great war picture, but because it is human and real. The film was started long before Pyle's tragic death and it is a fitting memorial to one of the finest men that ever lived.

The story of escaped naz prisoners of war in America is vividly portrayed in Warners' "Escape in the Desert," showing today through Tuesday at the Rex.

Starring in the film are Phillip Dorn and Helmut Dantine backed up by an excellent supporting cast. A surprise finish is the highlight of "The Princess and the Pirate" at the Crown Sunday and Monday.

The picture stars Bob Hope, Virginia Mayo, Walter Slezak, Victor McLaglen and Walter Brennan and is one of Hope's best films. Virginia Mayo is beautiful and sings some good songs while Walter Brennan is outstanding in the slightly daffy part. McLaglen is menacing as "The Hook" and Walter Slezak is a very convincing rat.

Hess Claims To Have 'Lost His Memory'

NUERNBERG, Germany, Oct. 13—(AP)—Rudolf Hess, here facing trial as one of Germany's 24 major war criminals, is claiming that he has lost his memory, it was disclosed today.

Col. John Amen, chief American interrogator, said: "He says he does not remember anything beyond 10 days ago. As yet no official opinion, legal or medical, has been arrived at."

One source said Allied interrogators wave photographs of Hitler, Goering and other naz prominent before Hess but he only replies: "I remember nothing. I just can't remember."

Dairymen Given Course at A&M

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 13—(A&M)—Reconversion plans within the Texas dairy industry which highlighted quality and efficiency of production and laid less emphasis on volume of milk produced, received a thorough going over during the third dairy fieldmen's short course held Oct. 8 and 9 at the Texas A. and M. college.

Twenty specialists, representing all agricultural divisions of the Texas A. and M. college, were assisted by ten selected authorities from the commercial field in staging the two-day business program.

Speakers were selected for the business program on account of their particular knowledge of phases of the eight-point program adopted by state and federal dairymen leaders.

and which is being put into operation all over the country through agricultural education institutions similar to the Texas A. and M. college.

The program includes: Feed every cow for economical production; save milk dollars by improving grasslands; retain feeding values by improved hay and silos; keep production records for better herd management; breed for improved herd replacements; protect quality of milk and cream by cleanliness and cooling; reduce labor costs by improved layouts, equipment and methods; and maintain herd health for quality and efficiency.

Containers of a chemical solution that fireproofs leaves have been successfully dropped from air-planes to control test forest fires. Use of this method of control is expected to save many thousands of acres of valuable timber annually destroyed by fire.

LIVING IN THE 'POST-WAR WORLD':

PAMPA MOVING SLOWLY ON HER WAY TO PRE-WAR STANDARDS IN HOME EQUIPMENT AND FACILITIES

By IMOGENE CHRISTENSEN

Perchance you recall those advertisements of the "post-war world" as the advertising men saw it before V-J Day?

Of course the men of imagination and vision will come through, but thus far Pampa remains unaffected by the remote-controlled revolving and rotating, contracting and collapsing post-war equipment and facilities.

In fact, even her dinner table is about the same with perhaps an extra cut of beef. She could have more chicken, but the vegetable compounds necessary for its preparation are on the hard-to-get list.

SOAPS AND COMPOUNDS
Specifically speaking, high points of recent survey of a variety of Pampa business houses were stated by men and women of the concerns: "Soaps, cooking oils, and compounds and paper products are awfully scarce," said Hugh Peebles, manager of the Ideal Food store on North Culyer street.

"There still a shortage of canned fruits; we're getting more gelatin fruit than any type of canned fruit. Fresh fruits are plentiful, except for bananas, of course, and the apples are running out because of the in-between time in growing seasons. Canned vegetables are pretty scarce although we're getting plenty of new crop peas. All types of beans are still on the shortage list. We have plenty of butter, margarine and dairy products... there was a severe shortage of milk for awhile."

"Soap shaps have loosened but a little," said Fred Culverhouse of the Furr Food stores. "We had fresh last week; we hadn't had any for over a year. There still is a shortage of canned corn." Mr. Culverhouse said that the paper shortage was most acute.

FRESH FRUITS PLENTIFUL
As for fresh fruit and vegetables at Furr Food stores, Miss Doris McCord, who supervises that department, explained, "We have plenty to supply the demand. We have our own truck which brings in all the supplies we need. I believe that if there is a shortage in these lines anywhere, it would be due to the difficulty in getting transportation." Apples are coming in at Furr Food stores, and there is a shortage of bananas, as elsewhere.

"A few items are coming back," said Alvin Young of Young's Food store. "We have received a supply of energine. Shortening is most critical. We figure that the shortage of soap, compounds and sugar will exist until spring. Better grades of canned goods are still insufficient in quantity to supply the demand, although canned goods has loosened up.

"Fresh fruits and vegetables are high in price due to transportation," Mr. Young continued. "We have noticed an alleviation in the shortages, but still the demand is greater than the supply; there has been practically no changes in civilian consumption of foods. The discontinuance of the army set-aside has made the most noticeable difference in the loosening of products."

COMPOUNDS SCARCE
Mitchel Hill of Mitchel's Grocery and Market says that although "cooking compounds and paper products are scarce... greater satisfaction can be given the customer now than during the war." Mr. Hill expressed relief over the discontinuance of war-time rationing. "Oleo is hard to get," he added, "but more butter is used. We have plenty of butter. Cheese is short, but I believe that soon as cartons and transportation are available more will come through."

The majority of stores mentioned that they had a good supply of cheese, greater than during war-time, but that the varieties were still somewhat restricted. "Cookies and crackers are limited items," said Mr. Hill. "Sugar is scarce, you know. Canned goods is more plentiful, peaches are coming along, and we've had the first blackberries in two years. On the whole, conditions are better."

MORE BEEF AVAILABLE
The general fish and meat situation was summarized by Bob Miller, manager of the meat department at the McCart Super markets: "We have plenty of beef and veal, and the supply of poultry is good. The quality of beef seems to have been increased. We have had very little veal. We have quite a few fish, mostly frozen, very little fresh fish. However, there is nothing critical."

Don Eaton, manager of the meat department of the North Culyer Ideal Food store, added "Pork is a little more plentiful but we still haven't enough to supply the demand. We have a fair supply of fish and oysters."

"Very little bacon and pork is available," said Dan Clancy, manager of the meat department at Furr Food stores, "but we do have good beef cuts."
As for hardware goods, Mose Johnson, manager of White's Auto supply, said that they had a few more mechanical tools, light fixtures and gas ranges but that batteries and tires had become more scarce. "In fact, conditions are no better now than during the war in the lines we handle," said Mr. Johnson. "We have gas heaters now, we expect them to be on the shortage list, and we expect a few electrical appliances within the next 30 days. We still have wooden toys, no metal, and dolls are particularly scarce because of the cotton scarcity. Some aluminum goods is coming in."

NO METAL TOYS
"We don't expect metal toys to come in time for Christmas," said an employee at the Thompson Hardware Co. "We had several cook stoves last week, have gas stoves now, and have a few aluminum supplies periodically. We cannot supply about 60 per cent of the demand for ammunition, fishing equipment and kitchen ware, both tin and aluminum."

At the Pampa Supply Co., O. M. Griffith stated that hot water heaters, paint materials, bath tubs and traps, brass fittings and chromium plated faucets were all coming off a bit, some more than others. Walex is still allotted in conservative amounts, a few aluminum items have come through, but cast iron soil pipe fittings, good paint brushes and linseed oil are still critical.

"The availability of our stock is getting worse," said Mrs. Bill Johnson of the Johnson Repair Shop. "We have been promised new radios in November, but the main drawback is the lack of radio tubes; manufacturers are probably getting the new parts for radios. We have had a lot of demands for second hand radios, of course the people here they couldn't get new radios. However, we have been able to get mix-masters and the supply of electrical wiring is fairly good."

In summary it might be assumed, without jumping to conclusions, that Pampa is slowly on her way to pre-war standards, and has not taken the war-time "post war world" advertising more seriously than to regard it as a barometer of the things to come.

Kinard Is Speaker At Kiwanis Club Luncheon Meeting

Knox Kinard, defending the American system of education as guest speaker at the Kiwanis club here Friday at noon, praised the job of U. S. armed forces did throughout the world during the war.

The job they turned out and the friends they made, he said, reflected to some degree the kind of education they had had here at home. He is superintendent of the Pampa school system.

Discussing in detail the local school condition, he said the physical plant here, though good from the outside, needed certain addition of equipment to make it complete throughout. The number one requisite in having a good school is to have an efficient teaching staff, he said. "We are making every effort to get the best here," he added. More than 30 teachers have been hired since he came here as school head this year. There are no vacancies now.

He spoke of the big variety of subjects offered in the schools, emphasized the need for more band activity which is being achieved. There are now three band directors in the system: Two full-time physical education instructors are employed.

Although, he said, the local system is not perfect, it is operating fairly smoothly. "We're glad to say the school program is operating without friction of any consequence." Roy Webb, who recently was discharged from the army air force,

Carelessness, Ignorance Biggest Factors in Spreading Diseases

AUSTIN, Oct. 13.—"Carelessness and ignorance represent two of the most powerful factors in spreading communicable diseases from man to man. No more emphatic example of this fact exists than the continued ravages of tuberculosis. In spite of the knowledge of its cause and spread, and of curative methods, tuberculosis is still a very serious problem not only in Texas, but throughout the United States," Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer.

"It is true that tuberculosis no importance, from a public health viewpoint, that the spread of this devastating infection be prevented. A more intelligent appreciation of this fact would result in the saving of thousands of lives.

"When a diagnosis of active tuberculosis has been made, an examination of all of the other members of the family is of the utmost importance, as it was formerly," Dr. Cox said, "but despite having been reduced to fifth place in Texas, it still is responsible for more deaths between the ages of fifteen and forty-five than any other disease. And this fact exists even though the majority of tuberculosis patients could have their condition arrested if it were recognized early and proper treatment applied.

"Treatment of the early recognized case is essential. It is of equal follow as a matter of course. Tuberculosis runs in families, not because of any special susceptibility to the disease, but because it is communicable, being usually transmitted through close and prolonged contact with the active case."

To reduce the number of deaths caused by tuberculosis, Dr. Cox suggests periodic examination of all adults, a check-up by physicians of the known active cases and contacts, regular examinations of high school children, isolation or hospitalization of the active tuberculosis case, and a more intelligent application of hygienic living principles.
