Smaller War Plants Representatives Help Pampa's Small Business Men

Corporation Doesn't Oppose Big Business

By SCOTT RAFFERTY
News Staff Writer
Attempting to acquaint small business men in Pampa with the good to be derived from the Smaller War Plants corporation, three representatives of the corporation discussed problems with local business men yesterday.

The representatives stressed the fact that Smaller War Plants is not opposed to big business, but merely desires to further the interests of the small man.

In an address to the Pampa Lions club and to the audience of an afternoon session, W. O. Coleman, district manager of SWPC, said:

"We are not in competition with big business. On the contrary, we make every effort to work with big business in helping these smaller men to get on their feet and keep up their production schedules."

Coleman cited the Cabot companies as one of big businesses that have aided several smaller war plants and have shown a willingness to see SMALL WAR PLANTS, Page 8.

Wage Hike Invite Given Cool Talk By Congressmen

WASHINGTON, June 8.—(AP)—Members of congress met with cool comment and calculating glances today President Truman's virtual invitation to hike their salaries as much as $15,000 a year.

Mr. Truman, however, held out no immediate prospect of wage boosts for other Americans. But he said a study will be made.

As for more congressional pay, typical reaction included the comment of senator President McKellar (D-Tenn.) that "I'll have to think it over; you know I've always been against raising out."

And that of Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) of the house appropriations committee, who said he viewed the idea as inadvisable "now."

Mr. Truman went into the subject of congressional and other pay at his news conference late yesterday, telling reporters:

1. That he would not veto the legislative appropriation bill carrying a new expense allowance of $2,500 for each house member.

TODAY'S WAR MAP

The American Ninth army is reported turning over to the Russians Leipzig, Magdeburg, Chemnitz and Erfurt (1), and to the British Cologne, Dueren, Dusseldorf and Essen (2). U. S. forces retain Bavaria with headquarters at Frankfurt (3). This is how the Allies will occupy Germany. (NEA Telemag.)

France Bluntly Warned Arabs Will Use Force

By FRED KRIEG
CAIRO, June 8.—(AP)—The council of the Arab league has informed France in blunt terms that the Arab states will meet force with force in the Levant, and has told the French to get their troops out of Syria and Lebanon immediately.

A communique of the council, which has been considering the Levantine crisis, announced last night that measures were being taken into effect "to resist French aggression," and laid the blame for "assassination, destruction and other losses which occurred in both countries" directly on France, whose troops, it said, attacked Syria.

Supporting the demand of Syria and Lebanon for "immediate evacuation of French troops," the communique said retention of French soldiers in the two countries "is contradictory to the rights, sovereignty and independence which have been acknowledged in both countries."

The communique was issued a short time after the French government, in a diplomatic counter-measure, announced that Britain, formally invited the governments of the United States, Britain, Russia and China to participate with France in a five-power dis-

Humble Oil Plant Continues Under Company Control

(By The Associated Press)
Production was to resume today (Friday) in a Texas plant which had been closed because of a picket line, another which the President had ordered a government agency to seize was still company-operated, and a third another plant was on record with a strike vote.

At the Humble Oil and Refining company plant, Inglefield, production continued under company control, despite President Truman's order of government seizure yesterday.

The company announced an injunction from Federal Judge T. M. Kinison on record with a strike vote.

Happy End At Frisco Is in Sight

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—(AP)—Small nation acceptance of a Big Five veto voting formula for a world security council today appeared certain. A successful end of the United Nations conference is in sight.

Russia's dramatic acceptance of a statement that the big-power veto could not be used to block discussion of any case presented to the council broke a week-old deadlock last night and put the conference over the hill.

Ten days to two weeks more of committee work and speech-making remain to get the United Nations charter in final shape for signing. But the more major issues are on the horizon.

It took the combined efforts of Premier Stalin, Harry Hopkins, who was then in Moscow, and Secretary of State Stettinius, who acted with the French underground forces, to end the deadlock. Hopkins, on instructions from Stettinius, asked Stalin to reconsider Soviet insistence that any of the Big Five could veto even discussion in the peace-enforcement council of an international dispute.

The other four major powers did not want a single veto vote to block round-table talk.

Stalin reversed the Soviet position, acting according to his spokesman here, in "the interest of unanimity and to speed the conference to success."

Russian Ambassador Andrei Gromyko first advised Stettinius of Moscow's action yesterday. Then he told it to Stettinius and representatives of Britain, China and France at a mid-afternoon meeting at the secretary's penthouse headquarters. The five next rushed to conference headquarters at the veterans building and amid much applause announced the news to the delegation chairmen of the other 45 nations represented here.

After days of tension and anxiety lest the big powers split permanently, 4 to 1 on this issue, delegates emerged from the steering committee conference room chatting and smiling.

Stettinius went to a news conference where he made the same announcement for the world to hear. He missed the ability of the nations to work together.

Last night drafting experts of the committee were busy at work.

WAR VETERAN

Few who meet man - mannered Capt. Louise Mont Revnard, above, of the French infantry of the San Francisco United Nations conference, realize that she is a war veteran of many thrilling experiences. As an active soldier in the French underground forces, she made three parachute jumps into Nazi-occupied France after flights from England. A qualified physician, she acted as surgeon for the underground fighters.

Carriers, B-29's and Controls 'Gang Up'

By LEONARD MILLIMAN
Associated Press War Editor
Invasion-frightened Japan was hurried today by U. C. carrier planes, mine-laying Superforts and tightening government controls to be carried out "by force if necessary."

All this was reported by Tokyo radio which warned American air raids on the "sacred isles" would reach a new peak with the imminent fall of Okinawa, 325 miles to the south.

Grenade-carrying women were reported fighting alongside cornered Japanese on Okinawa, already the burial ground for 66,324 Nipponese troops.

Diastic new government regulations, which semi-official sources indicated may lead to rule of Japan by imperial decree, empowered authorities to seize all excess profits and established tighter control over war industry workers and materials to cope with the new situation.

Approximately 200 carrier planes-armed and bombed suicide air bases on Southern Japan, Tokyo reported, in quick followup of raids from Okinawa Wednesday and Thursday.

Smoke billowed five miles above Superfort-blasted Kobe as U. S. communications announced air strikes sank 15 more Nipponese ships from Japan to Borneo.

Surviving Japanese on Okinawa were split into two disconnected but strongly entrenched units by a swift half mile drive to the west coast by the First marine division. Even Tokyo admitted the battle was hopeless and the fall of Okinawa will have a great effect on the entire war.

Equally important insofar as the battle of Asia is concerned, Chinese extended their grasp on South China's Indo-China corridor which a Chungking army spokesman said had isolated about 200,000 Japanese in Burma, Thailand, Indo-China and Malaya.

A sudden seven mile lunge northward in the Philippines carried the U. S. 37th division into Batangas, Japanese supply base in Luzon island's fertile Cagayan valley. The First Nipponese flamethrower tanks encountered in the Southwest Pacific were knocked out on the way.

Matching action on the fighting fronts were political developments in Tokyo. The government-controlled Domei news agency reported a growing demand that the parliament be by-passed and that Admiral Kantaro Suzuki's cabinet rule by imperial decree to meet war-brought

Trade Agreement Bill, Amended, Is Given Approval

WASHINGTON, June 8.—(AP)—The senate finance committee struck down the proposed trade agreement extension bill today authorizing to set tariff rates at an additional 50 per cent, then reported the bill favorably.

The vote in the final amendment was 10 to 9, with seven republicans and three democrats members of the committee lined up for it. Eight democrats and Senator La Follette (Prog-Wis.) voted against it.

Truman Picks Bradley To Handle Vets' Affairs

WASHINGTON, June 8.—(AP)—President Truman called today on a four-star general of World War II—Omar N. Bradley—to look after the affairs of veterans of all wars.

The 52-year-old commander of the Mammoth 12th army group in Europe will succeed Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, retired, who is resigning to take another but undisclosed post offered him by the President. Hines has been head of the veterans administration since 1923, and Mr. Truman said he believed it was time the veterans had someone who served in the current war running their affairs.

Other presidential appointments made public yesterday included: John B. Hutson, of Kentucky, to be undersecretary of agriculture, and W. Stuart Symington, of St. Louis, to be chairman of the surplus property board.

Hutson, now an assistant to War Mobilizer Fred M. Vinson, was named to succeed Grover B. Hill, of Texas, who resigned.

Symington, president of the Emerson Electric company, will succeed former Senator Guy M. Gillette of Iowa, who asked to step out July 15.

Another appointment announced yesterday was that of Paul M. Herzog, of New York City, to be a member of the national labor relations board to succeed H. A. Mills, resigned. Herzog, former chairman of the New York state labor relations board, has been doing labor relations work for the navy.

JOE COLLEGE: TEXAS SCHOOLS PREPARE FOR RETURNING VETS

By WALTER P. BOSWELL

The war has had an impact on the student bodies and curricula of Texas colleges and so, it appears, will war's aftermath.

Local Association Names Chairmen

Sixteen committee chairmen of the rodeo and horse show association were approved by the officers and directors of that organization in a meeting last night.

C. W. Hampton, general manager of the show, said that some of these committees were not complete and that members would be assigned to serve as soon as possible.

Providing all arrangements can be completed, the show will be held in the latter part of August at the Recreation Park east of the city.

Work will begin soon on the repair and construction of pens and enclosures at the park. The association is making plans at the present time to lease the park from the city.

Food Handling Permits To Be Available Soon

Application for permits required by the city's new Food and Health ordinance will be available Monday morning in the city health department located in the City Hall, City Health Inspector N. L. Nichols, announced yesterday.

All owners are requested to obtain the application as soon as possible in order to aid the city in its attempt at immediate enforcement of the new ordinance.

Health officials emphasized that, regardless of any legalities concerning safety measures in food establishments, are particularly important at this time with a polio epidemic threatening throughout the state.

Local Fire Chief Has Praise for Borger Men

Pampa Fire Chief Ben White, who took a pumper truck to Borger Wednesday to fight the Rex theatre fire that threatened to get out of control, returned with high praise for Borger's Fire Chief Jim Miller and his department.

"I thought they handled the situation very well," White said, as he explained that the flames were already out of hand before the firemen were summoned.

Men and equipment from Pampa, Amarillo, and Phillips Plains plant were summoned to help fight the blaze.

SHANGRA-LA

HOLLANDIA, Dutch New Guinea, June 5.—(Delayed)—A wartime air tragedy has unlocked in dramatic fashion the mysterious "hidden valley" of Shangra-La.

Paratroopers—the first men from the outside world to invade the isolated home of six-foot, spear-wielding tribesmen—are building a glider field in the valley, 150 miles southwest of Hollandia, to rescue a 30-year-old WAC and two army airmen.

(A dispatch dated, June 8, from Manila by Associated Press Correspondent Dean Schelder, said the rescue still had not been effected.

Postponement of Drafting Urged

WASHINGTON, June 8.—(AP)—The American civil liberties union today urged postponement until after the war of any congressional action on peacetime draft legislation.

"Nothing will be lost in terms of National defense by postponing the decision," Ernest Annett, of New York, a member of the union's board of directors, told the house postwar military policy committee.

Action now on a program for compulsory postwar military training was proposed today by Karl F. Compton, president of the Massachusetts institute of technology.

Compton testified today before the house committee on military affairs that the war would be well advised, "to establish our reasonable military program, and to let the world know that we mean business when we talk of peacetime military training."

Eight Filipino paratroopers and a medical assistant have been parachuted to effect the rescue. The plan is to build the landing site in the glider, then jerk it into the air with a low-flying C-47 by means of a grab-line.

The trio are in constant contact. See SURVIVORS, Page 8.

HOME AGAIN

General George S. Patton, Jr., commander of the invincible Third Army, came to a roaring welcome yesterday as he landed at the Bedford army air facility after a flight from Paris. The Associated Press reports 30 big bombers met Patton's planes over Portland, Me., as they winged southward to the general's home state of Massachusetts and accompanied them into Bedford, a suburb of Boston. A parade, a public reception at the Charles river bank and a state dinner awaited the general.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.
The Acts of the Apostles began with the acts of Jesus Christ.
The book that tells how the Christian church began and spread would never have been written, had it not been that Jesus as early disciples had gone with Jesus as He went about doing good. Listening to His teaching, observing His ways of graciousness and love, and witnessing His acts of mercy and kindness.

All that Jesus said and did stood out more clearly in their memory, as He left them with the promise of the Holy Spirit; and in the light of His death and resurrection they understood a great deal that they had never understood before. This understanding, too, brought a new sense of responsibility and devotion. The disputes and quarrels about precedence and preference, as to which of them should be the greater, which had received almost to the very verge of the Cross, were a thing of the past as their minds and hearts were consecrated to the great work of witnessing to all that they had seen and heard.

The Christian church had its beginning following the work of Christ, in witnessing and His continuance and strength through the centuries has been in witnessing.
The simple process of telling to others the good news that one has heard, and of witnessing to the experience that one has found, has been at the heart of all Christian progress. When Christians cease to be witnesses, and the church ceases to be a witnessing church, pretension has taken the place of reality; the spirit of Christ is not there. "Ye shall be witnesses," said Jesus (Acts 1:8); and the Apostles became witnesses indeed.

One can hardly overestimate, too,
the transformation that took place in the Apostles themselves. It was not simply that they became humble, and unselfish, and filled with the spirit of service, where formerly they had been self-seeking and in the process of proving for themselves; they became men of power; but what a different sort of power it was!

"Ye shall receive power," said Jesus, "after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you," and the reality and effectiveness of the baptism of the Spirit could not more forcefully be displayed than in the quickness and completeness with which a few Galilean fishermen, peasants, and lowly people, became suddenly transformed into leaders and world-builders of the greatest thing on earth.

They found the perfect love that casts out fear. In the depth of their faith they found courage to face persecution and death for their Master's sake, and the more magnificent courage of daring to win the world for Him. When one thinks of the smallness and seeming weakness of that band, in contrast with the vast extent and power of the Roman world, what they attempted and achieved seems miraculous. Even in an outward, historic sense the achievement was amazing; for in less period of time than our own American history has consumed the Galilean had conquered, and Christianity became the official religion of the Roman empire.

But it is the inward triumph of Christ over the souls of men that is vital; and the Apostolic achievement goes on and is repeated wherever and whenever the Apostolic conditions are fulfilled. Jesus still lead on!

Church Women Work In Many Countries

By MARY FOWLER
Jenny Lind, "the Swedish Nightingale," professed Christian conversion in 1850 aboard the "Bethel-ship," a ship equipped as a chapel in New York harbor where Swedish Methodism in America had been founded five years earlier. It is reported that although she appeared in concert in many nations after that time, she never again sang in a theater. The one hundredth anniversary of the founding of Swedish Methodism is now being observed at Immanuel Methodist church, Brooklyn, N. Y., "the descendant of the Bethelship." The extraordinary missionary influence of "Bethelship" is evidenced in the fact that twelve Methodist conferences with thousands of members were established in various parts of the United States by its converts; many of them women, who moved inland and founded churches; while others, returning home, founded Methodist churches in Denmark, Norway and Sweden, where their pre-war membership
was 20,000.

After months of travel by a dozen types of modern and ancient conveyances, Mr. and Mrs. William Darland Webb, of Lima, New York, have reached Mt. Salinda, Southern Rhodesia, Africa, where they will become the heads of the far-famed Mt. Salinda institute, educational center of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, Boston, Mass. One leg of their journey, accompanied by two small children, was a 30-day, 4,000-mile crossing of the South Atlantic in a 78-year-old Argentine bark loaded with flour. Mr. and Mrs.
Webb first met in Syria and taught in the following countries: Syria, Cuba, and the West Indies.

Rev. Rudolph Q. Harvey, pastor reach Sunday morning on "Going be a special number, a new composition composed by the Rev. O.

be sung by the trio, composed of Mrs. Freeman, Mrs. Skidmore, and Miss Endlow. The pastor will preach
Sunday night on "The Prayer Life

Electric Refrigerator

Millions of electric refrigerators have plugged along these war years, safeguarding your health and preserving precious rationed food. They are truly "war veterans" from the home front.

The refrigerators of peace will disclose many advances in design and performance. Materials and methods developed in war production will help make them better. More efficient insulation, for example, will allow more usable room inside every model.

You will enjoy closer cold control. "Zoned cold" will furnish the proper temperature to keep each of the principal foods. Automatic defrosting will remember for you. Storage space for frozen foods will be generously provided.

Altogether, postwar home refrigeration promises performance you never dreamed of before. Whether you own an electric refrigerator now or not, plan for a new one. It's an essential of the All-Electric Home!

Simple Wedding Supper for Home

By GAYNOR MADDOX
 NEA Staff Writer

Here are hints for a simple home wedding supper:

Menu:
 Fruit cup (strawberries and grapefruit sections), chicken a la king and broccoli Parmesan, finger rolls, ice cream, wedding cake, coffee.

Chicken a la King and Broccoli Parmesan
 One box quick-frozen broccoli, cooked, 2 tablespoons grated parmesan cheese, 1 box quick-frozen chicken a la king, heated, 2 tablespoons sherry.

Cook frozen broccoli as directed on package. Place in greased shallow baking dish and sprinkle with 1 tablespoon cheese. Heat chicken a la king as directed on package. Add sherry just before removing from heat. Pour over broccoli and sprinkle with remaining cheese.

Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 15 minutes, or until delicately browned.

Here's a sugar-easy and fat-free ice cake for any festive occasion.

Fruite Ice Box Cake (Serves 8)
 Two egg yolks, 1 15-ounce can sweetened condensed milk, 1-2 cup lemon juice, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1 1-2 cups chopped cooked prunes, 2 egg whites, 18 graham crackers.

Beat egg yolks until light. Stir in condensed milk, lemon rind, lemon juice and salt. Fold in prunes and stiffly beaten egg whites. Line an 8-inch square pan with wax paper. Spread a thin layer of fruit mixture on bottom, then arrange six graham crackers on this. Repeat until crackers are used, ending with layer of fruit mixture. Chill over night.

Here Are Some Smart Style Tricks Hollywood Stars Do With Mirrors

Standing, walking and sitting in front of a mirror studying yourself is not a shameful display of vanity. Nor is it an hour wasted, if you come away with a good idea for a hair-do, a better-fitting dress, an effective way to wear a flower, Renie of Hollywood, ERKO designer, who knows from watching the stars whom she dresses what they do to achieve perfection, says it's the hours spent in front of mirrors that turn the tricks.

"Marlene Dietrich will worry all day about draping a scarf just so or where to wear a flower," says Renie, "and will try it on all the way down to her feet and back up again."

And where will she finally pin it? On her stomach, says Renie, and to justify the new location her corsage she'll have a dress draped so as to give it a special spot.

Ginger Rogers' sheer perfection in clothes, says Renie, comes from viewing herself going and coming in a three-tiered mirror which commands a 30-foot perspective. According to this designer, if more girls would follow Ginger's example, and would walk back and forth so that the dress under consideration could be studied in motion from all angles—especially from the rear view—there would be fewer errors made in selecting clothes.

More wardrobe hits would be scored if women would watch for these points of rear-view behavior. One is a waistline lower in the back than the front. Another is a skirt that could be lifted at the belt to prevent buckling or strategic fullness derived from pleats, bustle, peplum or tunic. Still another is a larger dress size that could be taken up—not let out—if a skirt doesn't fit.

Laraine Day, another shining example of perfection, hit upon the idea for the hair-do she wears in "Those Enduring Young Charms" by tumbling her hair in front of a mirror. The new style is a feather-cut bob, which Laraine hit upon by pushing her hair up to form an upflung frame. It promised more flattery, so off she went to have it cut, curled and flipped up. To keep it shining, says Renie, she's willing to spend time in front of her mirror brushing it ten minutes twice a day, which keeps curls bouncy. She has frequent permanents and also oil shampoos to keep luster heightened.

Mrs. S. W. Brandt Is Hostess to Mary Class for Lesson

Mrs. S. W. Brandt was hostess to members of the Mary class of the First Baptist church yesterday with a social and lesson study in her home. Mrs. Owen Johnson, teacher, discussed a chapter in the current book.

Mrs. S. H. Waters, president, conducted a short business session. After the meeting, members visited with those who were absent last Sunday.

Attending were Mesdames Louis Tappley, Waters, Brandt, Bill Money, Johnson, Roy Sullivan, and Q. B. Beavers.

Your Face Should Reflect Feeling

Keeping your face serene until the need arises for really forceful expressions is a terse lesson in behavior that packs a punch.

"Our teacher is Betty Comden, 'On the Town'—comedienne and co-author of this Broadway hit. On her well-schooled face no half-way expressions are allowed to play. Betty's theory is that when a face is saved for an all-out grin, smile, pout, frown or brow-knotting scowl, it says something when it goes into action. It won't, she says, if you allow nervous, half-way expressions to flicker ineffectually.

Such posturings as these: squints, lid-lowering, mouth quirk and nose-wrinkling—when Betty warns are most unbecoming and rob you of individuality.

Laborer Gives Lady Astor New Handle

LONDON, June 8—(AP)—Aneurin Bevan, the former butcher boy and Welsh coal miner who became a laborite member of parliament, called Lady Astor "an old gas bag" in commons yesterday.

"Oh, dear," the noble lady from Virginia and Plymouth replied. Bevan was protesting that parliament had not sanctioned subsidies to encourage house building when Lady Astor made an audible comment.

"Stunt up," went up the cry from the labor benches.

Lady Astor, 65, and a staunch conservative, jumped to her feet and appealed to the presiding officer: "Why does Mr. Bevan expect common sense in the Pacific."

Some Coupons To Be Invalidated

"B-C" and "C-B" gasoline coupons, which local war price and rationing boards stopped issuing in March will not be good for consumer use after June 30, Wm. G. Williams, district rationing executive, announced today.

Most of these coupons have already been used, Williams said. The few remaining will be taken out of circulation, in line with OPA's customary policy of periodic invalidation of gasoline coupons.

Consumers who have any of these coupons that represent an unexpired ration may exchange them for valid coupons at their local boards. Service stations operators will have 10 days, or through July 10, to surrender these coupons to their suppliers for gasoline, or to their local boards for ration checks. Distributors have until July 20 to deposit these coupons in their ration bank accounts.

WASHINGTON, June 8—(AP)—The treasury war finance division said today industrial workers in 198 big plants have attained 70 per cent of their quotas in the 7th war loan.

To date they have purchased $226,378,300 worth of bonds.

Of the 188 firms which have reported to the treasury, 33 have topped their quotas by amounts ranging from $2,000 to $200,000. Each of the plants employs at least 5,000 persons.

Individual purchases of bonds for the nation yesterday attained 67 per cent of the quota for a total of $1,062,000,000. The individual purchase total is $7,000,000,000.

The seven-week drive will end June 30.

ut officers believe they will not attempt to harm the Americans.

"I am fine and enjoying it all," said 100-pound WAC Hastings in a clear firm voice over the walkie-talkie.

Paratroopers in the valley are holding the emergency landing trip below the crash site.

"As long as we have American planes zooming around over us, we feel perfectly safe and can hold out indefinitely," said Lieutenant McCollom.

Two of the paratroopers reached the survivors within an hour and a half after making the jump. Others landed farther down the mountainside and hiked three days to reach the scene.

On May 26, the funeral service took off from Hollandia and arrived over the crash site just as the setting sun slanted its rays against the perpendicular mountain walls.

Chaplain Cornelius Waldo of Indianapolis, said the scene "seemed to whisper a peace more living and beautiful than any spot I've ever seen."

The hidden valley was discovered accidentally in the spring of 1944 while an aerial survey was being made of shorter routes by which to bring supplies from Australia to Hollandia.

In an unexplored sector, the vicinity of the valley was approached one year ago by a ground expedition but never entered.

The only gorge which could have formed an entrance to the valley's cut off by a mountain wall running at direct cross angles. This wall probably was hidden by clouds when the transport plane crashed.

Apparently warring on each other, the walled communities kept sentinels atop tall posts. They till fertile valley extensively, terrace the mountain slopes and raise enormous hogs.

May 16, the wreckage was spotted high on the mountain wall and the two men and the women could be seen alive near the burned fuselage. They were suffering from slight burns and shock.

"We are all right," one survivor assured after the walkie-talkie was dropped.

Lieutenant McCollom said the explosion and the bright glare of the burning plane attracted natives from the valley. He told Capt. Victor R. Myers, of San Antonio Tex., flying in one plane over the scene, of the gift of the pig.

Most of the natives remain aloof.

Happy Ending

Big Five powers gave final shape to a statement of just how the Yalta voting formula would work out in the security council. This statement is designed to answer 22 questions submitted by small nations more than two weeks ago.

It goes before a conference committee today and Senator Connally, D-Texas, American member of the committee, predicted that the small nations would accept the veto voting arrangement as defined in the statement although, he said, "there may be some objections."

Any question of discussing a complaint or dispute called to the council's attention would be a procedural question. Thus none of the big powers could veto it.

(In Washington, President Truman said he did not favor a Big Five meeting on the Syrian dispute.)

Meanwhile, the Syrian government was moving rapidly to liquidate all its relations with France. A Damascus dispatch last night said all French officials in the customs and wheat commission had been discharged; French magazines and newspapers were prohibited from entering the country; French courts were being dissolved, and goods looted during the fighting in Damascus were removed from French barracks and institutions.

ness to cooperate at all times.

With Coleman in yesterday's meetings were Francis A. Peck, loan advisor, and Ray Early, reconversion specialist.

Peck was for over 10 years connected with the First National bank here. He was one of the charter members of the Lions club which was organized here in 1927.

In his talks, Coleman explained that congress had set up Smaller War Plants corporation because the lawmakers saw the need for some group to stem the flow of men out of small business.

From the start of the defense program until the organization of the Smaller War Plants corporation, 86 percent of the war contracts were in the hands of 14 companies. This meant that the smaller plants were not getting this business.

Over 600,000 of them died out because they simply could not meet production schedules and many of them could not meet payrolls," Coleman said. "That is the very reason SWPC was set up—of save the small business man."

Congress granted the SWPC a budget of 150 million dollars and, SWPC was set up — to save the work, an additional 200 million was set aside, making a total of 350 million dollars.

SWPC uses this money to help finance the fight that small industries must carry on in order to get back on their feet, between now and the return of normal economic life in America.

However, SWPC does not work except in cases where local banks feel they would not be justified in making a loan. In those cases, it was said, SWPC representatives, such as Peck, would confer with the banker and the person seeking the loan.

The three would work out how much the bank would loan, and how much would come from the Smaller War Plants corporation. Loans are available to manufacturers and processors of essential goods.

"This system, whereby the banker, the person asking the loan and the SWPC talk the situation over collectively, has not failed us yet," Coleman said. "We have suffered a loss of only $12,000 in our district since the SWPC was set up."

Referring to the obtaining of surplus war property by small war plants and essential civilian producers, the SWPC, in some cases, may make loans to enable the individual or company to obtain these materials.

However it was pointed out these surplus commodities are extremely limited in most cases. Business men of Pampa and the

The President reiterated a previous assertion that the veterans administration will be modernized. He said that as presently constituted it is adequate to handle the affairs of World War I veterans only.

Bradley will take over the veterans administration within 30 to 60 days.

As head of the 12th army group, Bradley had the biggest field command in American history — three armies comprising a million men. His men fought from Normandy into the heart of the Nazi reich.

Mr. Truman said he had complete confidence in Hines' work, but that Hines agreed with him that a change was necessary.

Meanwhile, Chairman Rankin (D-Miss) of a house committee investigating charges of inefficiency, brutality and neglect in veterans hospitals, greeted the presidential announcement with: "It will not effect the investigation."

Costs and Ceilings Hurt Sheep Industry

WASHINGTON, June 8—(AP)—J. M. Jones, secretary of the National Woolgrowers association, told a house committee yesterday that rising production costs and price ceilings are rapidly squeezing the life out of the domestic sheep industry.

Speaking before the special house food investigating committee, Jones said that if an accelerated liquidation of sheepmen's holdings is to be stopped, the government must:

1. Secure a change in the base parity price on sheep, lambs and wool to reflect their values more properly.
2. Protect the domestic wool and lamb markets against imports from low cost foreign producing countries.
