French Broaden Red Crackdown

Defiant Move By Prisoners Broken By UN

Top Commie Arrested In Wake Of Riot

PARIS — (AP) — French police broadened their crackdown on demonstrating Communists today in the wake of the arrest of France's top Red and 900 or more of his cohorts after brief but bloody rioting against Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway.

Scandal-Ridden Agency Saved Committee Votes To Keep RFC Going

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate Banking committee voted, 6-3, today to keep the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC) in business as the government's chief lending agency. But it decided to write a number of reforms in the law setting up the RFC.

IF DIDN'T GET AWAY — Brajing about the "fish" they caught in the Chamber of Commerce Fishing Derby — membership drive Cleveland won first prize with the most fish, the most pounds, and — above are Floyd Imel, right, and Ed Cleveland, Imel and the greatest percentage of their "tagged" fish checked and weighed in this morning. #### Senators Approve Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate has overwhelmingly passed a $6,700,000,000 foreign aid bill but the Mutual Security program is almost sure to be cut further before any money actually becomes available.

Tideland Bill Is Rejected By President

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman vetoed today a bill to give states clear title to oil-rich lands beyond their shores. He protested it would mean giving to a few states deposits worth billions of dollars and belonging to all the people.

The final Senate vote on passage last night was 64 to 10 with 39 Democrats and 25 Republicans joining in support of the measure. Nine Republicans and one Democrat, Olin Johnston, (S. C.), said "no."

But the bill now goes into conference with the House which voted last Friday, 245 to 110, to authorize the spending of $5,162,000,000 in the fiscal year starting July 1.

This $37-million-dollar difference between the two branches means that an additional cut in the Senate total is almost inevitable.

Then after the compromise authorization measure is passed, the lawmakers will get another crack at the program when an appropriations bill actually making the money available is debated.

President Truman asked for $7,900,000,000 declaring this was the minimum needed for America's security. He has been sharply critical of the cuts voted by the House.

The bulk of the money in the authorization bill is for direct military assistance designed to equip the forces of American allies in western Europe and elsewhere.

Administration forces in the Senate beat down all efforts to cut the $6,900,000,000 voted by Senate committees until late in yesterday's session.

Then Sen. Long (D-La.) was able to get through a 200-million reduction by a 37 to 34 vote, partly because half a dozen senators voting against cuts had gone home. Earlier Long's proposal for a 400-million cut lost 40 to 37.

However, some Republican senators had been confident that the Senate would vote at least a half-billion slash on the floor. An amendment by Sen. Welker (R-Ida) to do this was defeated 41 to 33.

Lions Speaker Gives Challenge To Halt Spreading Socialism

"Liberty, intelligence, our World's Safety," was the subject of an address given by Gilbert Smith of Austin for Lions Club today at its regular meeting.

Smith, attorney for the Railroad Association of Texas, used this paraphrase of the Lions motto which reads "... Nation's Safety," to challenge civic clubs to fight against a "progressive move toward socialism in the nation."

He cited England and Russia as welfare states and mentioned that their "ballot and bullet" methods had the same "terrible consequences." There is no government of the people and by the people, he said, but "over the people."

"The nations is as deep in socialism as possible without becoming a welfare state," Smith stated, and "unless we turn back now, economic planners won't be satisfied until all freedom of individual is gone."

His challenge to private industry in the nation and the world was to make it possible for all people with energy and ambition to make a living in a system of free enterprise.

The Lions club today also heard a report on the recent district convention in El Paso by R. H. Jordan. A special guest was Miss Jane Boyer, the Lions' sweetheart.

New Test On No. 2 Haggard

Gulf Oil Corp's shallow wildcat, No. 2 Horn Haggard, flowed 200 barrels of oil and 3,200,000 cubic feet of gas from a 20-foot zone tested early today. The well was flowing through a 3-4-inch choke with a flowing pressure of 249 pounds.

Truman Asks Expansion Of Atom Might

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman today asked Congress for $3,341,000,000 for a "major further expansion" of atomic production facilities.

The money, in the form of a supplemental appropriation, would go to the Atomic Energy Commission and the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Truman said, in a letter to that House Speaker Rayburn, the expansion is necessitated by the fact "the Soviet Union has shown no disposition to co-operate in an international program for control and regulation of armaments."

Lacking international control of atomic energy, he added, "the national security and the security of the free world demand that we maintain and increase our leadership in this field."

The President asked the funds for the fiscal year starting July 1.

County Gets Share Of Lake's Income

County Judge Bruce Parker this morning reported a payment to the county of $852.33 from the secretary of agriculture, representing the county's share of the 1951 net proceeds from Lake McClellan.

The amount is 35 percent of the revenue derived from such business done at the lake such as fishing permits, rentals, and other general income. The money, however, must be used for county roads and public schools.

Enrollment Begins For Summer School

Enrollment for the summer session at Pampa High School began this morning with Archie Roberts, assistant principal, as director.

Students will report at 7:30 a.m. Friday for class assignments, announced Roberts.

All high school students through out the area wishing to make extra credits are to be enrolled. Classes in English, social science, and mathematics are to be set up according to requests of students. Teachers are to be J. L. Spencer, math, Mrs. Ruby Capps, English, and Mrs. Madge Rusk, social science.

European Cities Bombed . . .

ITHACA, N.Y. — (AP) — Ten masked youth overpowered 3 students at the Cornell University radio station last night and broadcast a fake bulletin that European cities had been bombed and an air armada was approaching North America.

A university official said the incident looked like a "practical joke."

The station (WVBR) was flooded with telephone calls after the broadcast. Some callers asked for more information but many "called just to rib us," the station manager reported, and there appeared to be no wide-spread alarm.

R. J. McCarthy, Cornell supervisor of safety, said none of the raiders was recognized in their Halloween masks. He said they "probably were students."

Open House Set By McLean Fire Dept.

McLEAN — (Special) — Members of the McLean fire department will hold open house Saturday beginning at 2 p.m.

The party will be held in the new fire station and is planned so that the people of the community may have an opportunity to inspect the new building and see the equipment, both old and new. Firemen will be on hand to explain the various types of equipment and during the afternoon several live fire fighting demonstrations will be staged.

All members of the department are McLean business men and are volunteer firemen working without monetary compensation. Boyd Meador is fire chief, and Wilson Boyd is assistant chief.

USA F Seeks Explosion Cause

FORT WORTH — (AP) — The Air Force Base from a routine operational flight.

The injured were whisked away to the base hospital, too shocked and shaken to be questioned by newsmen, officers said. Official inquiries by a panel of experts is standard procedure after such crashes.

The right landing gear of the world's largest land-based bomber collapsed as it floated out of rain clouds onto the runway. Flames burst out and it exploded.

The engine on the right wing next to the co-pilot's seat was feathered but that isn't unusual on a B-36.

Flames swept furiously through the plane for an hour in the midst of other B-36's on the concrete aprons at the south end of the base. None of them caught fire.

Ambulances came in for the injured as fire fighters swarmed in with a chemical that smothered flames.

The dead were all enlisted men. Those who escaped included the bomber commander, Capt. O. (See USAF, Page 3)

GI Finds The Answer To His Mail Problem

WITH U. S. SEVENTH DIVISION, Korea — (AP) — Pvt. Don Hooper has the mail-from-home situation licked.

"All you need" the 22-year-old Texan says "is a sister who teaches English in a state-wide school."

Hooper's sister, Mrs. Justine Bailey, teaches sixth grade at Sundown, Tex. She had her 26 pupils, averaging 13 years in age, write Hooper as part of their studies in letter writing.

Hooper answered all the letters at once with a note to his sister to read to the class.

Crews Move On Hwy. 60

Construction crews were moving ahead on U. S. Hwy. 60 west of Pampa as dirt work across both lakes was completed and rock crushing equipment for road widening was on its way to Pampa today.

State highway engineers said the crusher equipment will be set in motion Monday. Road widening operations from the west city limits to a point near Kings mill, should start a few days after the crushers have started to work.

When the job is completed the rebuilt road west of Pampa will be six feet wider and topped with a hot-mix asphalt-concrete surface, the road straightened and raised across Cuyler Lake, west of White Deer, known as County Lane Lake by engineers, east of Lone Lake.

Story Hour Slated By City Library

A story hour for children from 3 years up through the third grade will begin the first Saturday in June at the City Library. It was announced today by Mrs. Lillian Snow, librarian.

Miss Betty Boswell, just back from West Texas State College, Canyon, is to be in charge of the hour beginning at 10 a.m. each Saturday. She invites all children in the age group named to attend.

Miss Boswell will be employed at the library during the summer months after which she plans to re-enter WTSC as a sophomore secondary major.

Floyd Imel, Ed Cleveland Winners In C OF C Contest

Winners in the Chamber of Commerce Fishing Derby were announced this morning immediately following a check-in coffee in the Palm Room of the City Hall.

Floyd Imel and Ed Cleveland brought in the most fish or greatest number of new memberships, the most pounds (dollars), and the greatest percentage of the "tagged" fish given them to catch. They will be awarded the first prize of casting rods and reels at a luncheon in the Palm Room at 12 noon next Monday.

Second prize will go to Howard Buckingham and Jeff Bearden, and third prize to Paul Crouch and J. C. McWilliams. Buckingham and Bearden will receive fishing fly rods and Crouch and McWilliams each a pair of fishermen's waders.

A consolation prize for those continuing work in the annual membership drive will be awarded to the highest team at the luncheon next Monday noon. All fishermen are to be present for the luncheon, according to Charles B. Cook, president of the Chamber.

Imel and Cleveland's catch amounted to $570 for 37 out of 38 fish. Bearden and Buckingham brought in $485 for 32 out of 33 fish. Crouch caught 80 percent of the fish named for him, and J. C. McWilliams hooked 66 percent.

The parade started about 1 p.m. (10 p.m. Wednesday EST) and the troops set out shortly after. They cautiously backed out at 4 p.m.

Prisoners chanted incessantly. Intermittently they shouted Red slogans, such as "this is a baptism for mankind war three" as the troops moved out, the POWs cried, "Banzai! Banzai!" (live 10,000 years).

The demonstrators tossed three notes over the barbed wire fence and shouted to guards to hand them to UN correspondents, but the guards confiscated all three.

About 32 soldiers from Company E of the U. S. 38th Regiment and 20 of Company B, the British King's Shropshire Light Infantry, led the guard force into the compound.

The Reds began parading this afternoon in the compound where 2,000 officers and 650 enlisted men were held.

At least two U. S. and British infantrymen entered the enclosure shortly after on orders of Col. Henry Taylor, Washington, D. C. deputy commander of the United Nations Koje Island prison camp.

They broke up the demonstration with tear gas bombs and drove the Reds into the center of the compound. Then they systematically ripped apart two metal shacks serving as the POWs' command post and dispensary.

The Reds apparently staged the disturbance in an attempt to force Brig. Gen. Hayden L. Boatner, camp commander, to visit the compound and confer with them, a camp spokesman said.

The spokesman added that Boatner received "a long, abusive, insulting demanding letter" from the compound leader two days ago.

The general never answered it because the letter violated Boatner's rules that messages to him from POWs must be "brief, courteous and to the point."

Boatner also refused to go to the compound gate during the disturbance. But, from a distance, he watched his UN soldiers break it up. After a short period of watching he returned to his quarters to interview officers and to prepare a statement on the incident.

Lady GOPs In Scuffle

MINERAL WELLS — At least one scuffle took place Tuesday in the heat of convention fervor.

Three women scuffled in the lobby of the Baker Hotel over credentials for an Eisenhower delegate. It ended with all three on the floor, a large crowd watching, and finally was broken up, they said she didn't have them—but I know they were in a brief case.

"I grabbed for the briefcase, she tried to keep me from getting it. Then one of my friends joined in. I don't know what happened but first thing I knew we were all on the floor. She didn't hit me, we just fell down in the scuffle."

Mrs. Traueek said her husband's credentials were obtained later from some other persons, not Mrs. Bacon.

Bra-less TV Show Okayed By BBC

LONDON — (AP) — The staid British Broadcasting Corporation agreed today to let French showgirls be televised without their bras — but only if the act originates in Paris. There such things are customary.

Last year the French girls were imported to London for a TV show, however, BBC will send along its own camera crews to a hurried call for a batch of bosom covers.

A Paris show scheduled to be relayed to Britain in July brought the problem again. BBC said this time it didn't want to bust up the show. Semi-nude showgirls are okay in Paris and BBC wants to retain the true Parisian atmosphere.

One small precaution will be taken, however, BBC will send along its own camera crews to

Business Highlights

Miss Nella Haines, 307 E. Kingsmill, has been announced as the first winner in the "Battle of Two Cities" radio quiz show over KPDD.

Miss Haines, employed at the Malone and Keel Pharmacy, was awarded a 3-diamond dinner ring. The program is sponsored by the Mill Morris RCA Corner and is heard daily Monday through Friday at 11:30 a.m. It features friendly rivalry between citizens of Pampa and Borger.

A profit sharing program whereby employees can earn as much as 15 per cent of their annual salary as retirement or old age income was announced today by the Zale Jewelry Company, 307 N. Cuyler, through its local manager, Irving Schwartz.

This new program is different from others on several counts as outlined by Morris Zale and William Zale, president and vice president respectively, of the company. Employees will not be asked to make any contribution to the fund. It calls for an accelerated and early payment of monies based entirely upon an employee's length of stay with the organization.

"One year's service with the company is required before participation in the plan begins and the employee may, after five years or more of continuous participation, withdraw monies on an accelerating schedule," Schwartz stated. "The amount paid from the trust fund is based on the employee's number of years with the company. A retiring employee who has been with the organization five years will receive 50 percent of the amount deposited to his account; 60 percent will be paid after six years participation; 70 percent after seven years and payments will increase proportionately, reaching 100 percent for employees retiring after 10 years. Deposits are made to an employee's account as long as he remains with the company, and all interests and profits from investments of these monies also accrue to the retirement fund."

A new kind of prize has been dreamed up by Dr. Pepper Bottling Co.

When most folks think of Texas they think of oil and wish they could one day own an oil well!

Well, someone will own royalty interests in not one — but 44 Texas oil wells — come Sept. 1, and all because he entered the Dr. Pepper June-July Jingle Contest.

In one of the most unusual contests ever promoted, the Dr. Pepper Company will offer as top prize in the forthcoming contest, an income from 44 wells in Bask County, Texas, which, according to geologists' estimates, will return royalty earnings of more than $20,000 to the winner (this figure based on the "allowable" and price of crude as of March 28, 1952). Basis for winning prizes in the contest (and there are 899 other prizes) will be the completion of the last line of a two line jingle. The contest starts June 1 and runs until midnight July 31, 1952. Judging is all done by Lloyd Herold, Company, independent contest judges, Chicago.

A further highlight of the contest is the fact that Dr. Pepper Company will pay the federal income tax on 1952 royalty earnings on the first prize — provided the winner has complied with certain "extra" conditions of the contest.

Soft drink dealers across the country are distributing the rules and entry blank folders.

Swimming Pool Waiting On Paint

Pampa swimming pool will be opened as soon as paint ordered some time ago arrives, according to Ray Evans, pool director.

Evans said original plans were to open the pool May 31 and since it would definitely be open by the beginning of the summer Youth Recreation program June 16.

Freedom Of Trade?

The Pampa City Commission has before it a proposed ordinance to prohibit door-to-door selling except in the cases of dairy products, vegetables, poultry and eggs.

It seems as though every community has to, at one time or another, consider this issue for various interests invariably endeavor to promote such restrictions in the name of "prohibiting nuisances" and "protecting the local merchant."

The Supreme Court has ruled that such ordinances, where they affect interstate commerce, can not discriminate between local salesmen and those who headquarter out of state and hence, should the ordinance become law, it would automatically eliminate door-to-door salesmen in every classification except those heretofore mentioned. The fact that certain classifications are exempt from the ordinance obviously displays that discrimination is intrinsic in this type of proposal.

Of course all such restrictive legislation is designed to "protect" someone against somebody else and the main argument presented in support of this measure is that Pampa residents are bothered by rude, obnoxious salesmen whose wares are not always as represented.

True, there are no doubt some very disagreeable door-to-door salesmen and true again, merchandise is at times misrepresented but the ever-increasing practice of running the state to rectify such situations, particularly where there is an opportunity for business groups to eliminate competition, smacks of the state interventionism which many of us at the local level decry in our national government.

In other words it boils down to this. Some peddlers are discourteous, some peddlers misrepresent and hence virtually all peddling should be forbidden by law.

We know of no way to eliminate discourteousness by law. We know of no way to completely eliminate misrepresentation by law and he who thinks the door-to-door salesman has a monopoly on guile certainly, like the proverbial ostrich, has his head in the ground.

Let's not worry about the citizen that gets "gypped." Caveat emptor — let the buyer beware — should be the rule for every customer to follow and if said customer does err in judgment concerning a salesman's wares, he will undoubtedly be much the wiser in future business transactions. If fraud is actually perpetrated, we have sufficient statutes for recourse.

In the realm of all human relations, there is no substitute for individual responsibility. As Bastiat so aptly put it, "To man, responsibility is all-important. It is his mover and teacher, his rewarder and avenger. Without it man is no longer a free agent, he is no longer perfectible, no longer a moral being, he learns nothing, he is nothing. He abandons himself to inaction, and becomes a mere unit of the herd."

The American people have a great heritage of self-reliance. Let individual man in independent action decide with whom he will trade and we all will reap the benefits which only free economic action can assure.

Is This Bad?

At regular intervals, government officials make whooping attacks upon the oil industry. They say it's too big, and should be broken up into pieces. They say it's monopolistic and too rich. They say it's a menace to the country.

In the light of this, it's interesting to note how badly this monster is treating the country and the people.

There are about 210,000 oil companies of one kind or another scattered throughout the United States — which is a rather queer kind of monopoly. Their investment is more than $25,000,000,000, and they employ some 2,000,000 people at excellent wages.

Last year, this nefarious industry spent about $3,000,000,000 to build new facilities, to improve old ones, and to do the things that make possible better service to customers of all kinds — ranging from the man who buys a few gallons of gas for his car to such huge consumers as the armed forces.

Is There A Subversive Movement in Public Schools?

(This is the eleventh installment of the talk given March 22 by Rep. Paul W. Shafer of Michigan in the House of Representatives.)

(V. "CAPITALISM IS DEAD; LONG LIVE COLLECTIVISM" (CON))

In still another editorial in the same issue — April 1952 — the Social Frontiers pronounced this judgment of absolute doom upon capitalism:

The end of free business enterprise as a principle of economic and social organization adequate to this country is at hand (p.8). Nor did this publication, in the editorial development of its promise of the inevitability of the collectivism; blink at the prospect that it must involve increasing regimentation. Quite the contrary. In an attack on a view expressed by former President Hoover, a June 1952 editorial insisted that there is "good as well as 'bad' regimentation."

With respect to Mr. Hoover's assumption that regimentation must inevitably lead to the conversion of this fair land into a zoo, it is legitimate to ask: What alternative have we? The only other choice is the wilderness where the lions prey upon the lambs.

And finally, is economic regimentation really evil? But it necessarily result in the dehumanization of man? No general answer to these questions is possible. It all depends on who does the regimentation and the purpose the process is intended to serve.

Dr. Woelfel then defined his conception and goal of revolution by asserting that it:

Implies that there be no unnecessary delay in making completely public the ownership and control of the natural resources of the Nation (pp. 192-112.)

And he added bluntly that in the achievement of this purpose "we must not blindly shrink from the fact that it may require some use of force against those at present privileged."

Eisenhower Will Not Subject Himself To Process

WASHINGTON — General Eisenhower tells friends and presidential sponsors that he will not subject himself to the crucifixion of the cross-examination by press or politicians on his return, even if it means the loss of the Republican nomination.

He will hold a minimum of free-for-all, no-questions-barred interviews with the general press. But he will contrive, as is the wont of candidates and presidents, to unveil himself through the eyes of friendly correspondents and authorized spokesmen. He will deliver several formal speeches designed to make clear his general philosophy of politics and government.

CAUTIONS — Eisenhower's cautious and careful approach to his great adventure derives largely from his military experience, which is only natural. Every politician's behavior — and every president's — is conditioned by his background and environment.

When Ike master-minded the Normandy invasion, for instance, he had a general, basic plan of attack to achieve his objective. In his military experience, that is known as strategy.

But there were so many unknown front-line factors — the enemy's strength, his reserves, his deployment and his reaction — that Ike's tactical plans had to be kept fluid and flexible. He had to rely on alternative and improvised methods of operation, and he had established a beachhead.

Similarly, he has definite beliefs on the great questions of the day. He thinks that he knows a better way of handling them than Truman or Senator Taft. Otherwise, he points out, he would not be in the race.

ADVANTAGE — Eisenhower has an ace card to play as soon as he sits in on the national poker game next month. He feels that it gives him a great advantage over his principal opponent, Senator Taft, and over any Democrat. He believes that nonparticipation in controversies over major policies will give him a better chance of solving them.

He says that he has not judged the issues or the conflicting interests involved in the disputes which have engendered so much bitterness at home, creating a stalemate between White House and Congress, precipitating intraparty dissensions and preventing the adoption of firm and far-reaching policies in the domestic and foreign fields.

At the same time, as he admits, he cannot foretell how

Bid For A Smile

In speaking of a legal adversary who always loomed in a loud voice, Abraham Lincoln once made the following comparison: "Back in the days when I performed my part as a keel-bosman, I made the acquaintance of a trifling little steamboat which used to bustle and puff and wheeze about the Sangamon River. It had a five-foot boiler and seven-foot wheels, and every time it whistled, it stopped."

Americans Don't Comprehend Bald Corruption Of Unions

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1952, King Features syndicate, Inc.)

An article in the Osservatore Romano, the official Vatican newspaper, by Monsignor Luigi Ciardi, indirectly defines the difference between the status of the Italian worker and the American worker in relation to their government.

new Italian constitution provides that every citizen who is unable to work and it without the necessary means of livelihood is entitled to maintenance and social assistance. He is also "entitled to be provided for and assured the means adequate for existence in the case of accident, chronic disability, old age and unemployment."

Monsignor Ciardi regards this as "a notable step forward." By good fortune I was able to spend an hour with him in the Vatican a few months ago in the course of which I learned that the organization of labor in Italy and the concept of unionism there differ importantly from our unions and their conduct. There is no greater authority in his field in the Vatican. His idealism seems naive by comparison to the vicious realities of our unionism, but the fault here is not to be found in the ideals but in the badness of the managers of the American union racket and the negligence or connivance of men who have a duty to protect the worker from oppression and exploitation by unions as well as by employers.

As job monopolies with implicit powers of blackmail against economy, they have a mine of wealth ready to be tapped which is beyond calculation. They can tax their members to the limit of their ability to pay.

Although it is sometimes said that some big unions do "account" for their receipts, that is untrue in the practical sense because people understand "accounting" to mean more than that does. The late Harry Watterston "accounted" for his poker borrowing from the till of the paper with a little chat that read simply: "look it all - H. W."

Our unions are only a little more specific, but even if they gave strict accounts they would still have unrestrained power to squander millions on purposes outside their legitimate field. For example, and this may seem a harsh observation to Monsignor Ciardi, no American union or group of unions has any right to spend a single dollar of the members' money on political activity which is uniformly socialistic and therefore contrary to the spirit of our American republic, but even that objection is not the basic one. The basic objection is that they have been suffered - to exist, by passive consent of our people as a whole, for very limited purposes which stop far short of interference in the politics of other nations and the award of disguised subsidies to socialist parties either at home or abroad.

The old religious and social tradition that the family came first both in charity and in personal duties is withering in competition with social security but it is still strong in many millions. I believe that in Italy the problem is just so bad that even the family cannot cope with the needs of its members. At any rate, Italy is their country and if the Italians want to provide for the needy by constitutional methods that is their affair.

Our unions are in condition to assume much of this burden, but cheatonstrikebenefit that they will never do. They cheat on strike benefits and even resort to the most contemptible slyterisms to withhold paltry little funeral expenses from old members who fall behind by a few dollars under the expenses of their final illness.

The constitutional provision which Monsignor Ciardi regards as "a notable step forward" in Italy, would mark the abandonment of the Constitution in our country.

As accused criminal once snickered up at Lord Bacon trying him as Chancellor, "Your Highness ought to let me free. We're really kin. For my father's a Hogge and yours a kin to Bacon."

"Not until it's hung," said Bacon dryly.

Better Jobs

By R. C. WOLLES

"They Preached Liberty"

Here are more quotations from sermons made by preachers during the Revolutionary period, as compiled and published by Franklin F. Cole under the heading of "They Preached Liberty."

Samuel West in 1776 preached a sermon on "While Nobly Opposing" in which he said:

"But while we are nobly opposing with our lives and estates, the tyranny of the British Parliament, let us not forget the duty which we owe to our lawful magistrates; let us never mistake licentiousness for liberty. The more we understand the principles of liberty, the more readily shall we yield obedience to lawful authority; for no man can oppose good government but he that is a stranger to true liberty."

It is with peculiar pleasure I should reflect upon the peaceable behavior of my countrymen at a time when the courts of justice were stopped and the execution of laws suspended. It was certainly the mark of a people that could behave so well, when they had nothing to restrain them but the laws written in their hearts, that they will yield all ready and cheerful obedience to lawful authority."

Dr. Samuel Cooper preached a sermon in 1780 before Governor Hancock, the Senate and the House of Massachusetts on the day of the commencement of the Constitution and inauguration of the new government. Here is a statement from his sermon:

"When a people have the rare felicity of choosing their own government, they must be expected first be weighed in the balance of reason, and nicely adjusted to the claims of liberty, equity and order. But when this is done, a warm and passionate attachment should be added to the result of cool deliberation, to put in motion and animate the whole machine."

John Lathrop in 1784 under the heading of "Not Enough to be Free" preached:

"My brethren, it is not enough that we be free and independent; it is not enough that we have liberty of conscience, and advantages of a civil and religious nature, superior to the inhabitants of other parts of the world; we must be wise and virtuous, we must be governed by that religion which we profess, we must be influenced by those duties which our religion enjoins, as we hope to be a happy people."

Jonathan Mayhew seems to be a favorite of the author. In 1780 under the heading of "Two Things in general" he contended in his sermon:

"We may very safely assert these two things in general, without undermining government: One is, that no civil rulers are to be obeyed who are not justly obeyed; and inconsistent with the commands of God. All such disobedience is lawful and glorious. . . . Another thing that may be asserted with equal truth and safety is, that no government is to be submitted to at the expense of that which is the sole end of a government, the common good and safety of society. . . . The only reason of the instituting of civil government, and the only rational ground of submission to it, is the common safety and utility."

The same preacher in discussing the subject of "Who Are The More Criminal?" contended:

"It is not easy to determine who are the more criminal,—they who would make their way to places of power and trust by indirect means, or they who have so little concern for the welfare of their country as to harken to them."

Edward Dorr in 1765 had a sermon under the heading of "Nursing Fathers." Here is a quotation from this sermon:

"The practice of religion and virtue tends, above all things, to promote the public welfare and happiness of mankind, and to secure the ends of civil government; therefore rulers should be nursing fathers to it. Civil government was originally instituted to protect and defend men's lives and liberties, to guard and secure their properties, and to promote their temporal interests and advantages. . . . Now the practice of religion and virtue, tends, above all other things, to promote those very ends; for which men entered into society."

Many Prisoners Behind Bars At German Occupation's End

BONN — (AP) — Hundreds of German war criminals will still be behind bars in Allied prisons when the occupation ends.

The peace contract with Bonn provides that they will remain in Allied custody until their sentences have been served or they have been released by a special Allied-German review board.

Many Germans — especially the ex-soldiers — wanted the prison gates thrown wide open as part of the price for German aid in defending the West.

The Allies stood firm that the sentences of their military courts could not be questioned, but as a concession to German public opinion, they agreed that the special review board should be set up.

A proposal to give the prisoners into custody of the Bonn government had to be abandoned when it was found the Germans would have no legal power, under their constitution, to keep them in prison. It is estimated that some 800 will still be in the three Allied prisons in West Germany — Werl (British zone), Wittlich (French zone) and Landsberg (American zone) — when the occupation ends.

The victorious western powers tried nearly 5,000 Germans for war crimes and convicted more than 3,700. Little is known of the fate of thousands arrested by the Red army.

About 300 Germans are still in jail in France. Other nations once under the Nazi heel, like Denmark, Norway, Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg and Yugoslavia, as well as Iron Curtain countries, still have Germans behind bars. Their future will be the subject of negotiations by Bonn with the countries concerned, but for the "Big Seven" in grim Spandau prison, Berlin, there will be no review.

The Russians, who still share guard duties with the western Allies, will not hear of any modification of the sentences of Rudolf Hess, Walter Funk, Erich Raeder — all lifers — Albert Speer and Baldur von Schirach (20 years each), Constantin von Neurath (25 years) and Karl Doenitz (10 years).

There Field Marshal Albert Kesselring, aged 68, is serving a life sentence, commuted from death. With him is the last major war criminal to be convicted, Field Marshal Erich von Manstein. He was sentenced by a British court in 1949 to 18 years for responsibility for atrocities by German troops in Russia. It was later reduced to 12 years.

Three members of the board will be German, one British, one American and one French. None will have official jobs in Germany that would make them subject to government orders.

Applications for reduction of sentence, immediate release or parole may be made on behalf of any prisoner or by any of the four governments. On July 1, the board will be binding on the government which originally tried the prisoner.

The board will not be able to question the validity of the original sentence but may only recommend suspension of that part of the sentence still not served. The board would not begin work until the occupation ends, possibly early in 1953.

Only A Handful Of Civil War Vets Meet This Memorial Day

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — (AP) — The long march of the Blue and the Gray is about over.

This Memorial Day fewer than a baker's dozen survive of the massed millions who fought in the American war of brother against brother that ended 87 years ago.

This long and bitter struggle played so important a role in our national story, it is still so close to us as a people, it seems incredible that soon even the last drummer boy who took part in it will have been swallowed by time.

The earth is a tomb of many vanished armies, but few will live longer in memory than those that contended under the banners of the Federal Union and the Confederacy from 1861 to 1865. Those memories in many minds now are like sensitive scar tissue.

Historians now class the War Between the States — known in northern American communities as the Civil War — as the first modern war, and certainly it made many changes in the art of battle both afoot and at sea.

It truly was a big war, considering the population at the time. The North threw 2,128,948 men into action and suffered 349,944 casualties. The number of troops on the South's side is debatable. Northern historians put the figure as high as 1,400,000 out of a white population of only 5,000,000. Estimates by Southern historians go as low as 800,000. Woodrow Wilson said the South put 900,000 men in the field and placed their losses in killed and wounded at 133,821.

As in most wars before the development of sanitation techniques, disease took more lives than bullets. The North, for example, lost only about 11,000 men from combat wounds. It lost nearly 200,000 through diseases.

The cost of the war is still going on, mainly now in the form of payments to the widows of veterans. But every once in a while someone still tries to get the government to pay for a mule that one of U. S. Grant's men in blue stole from his great-grandfather's farm.

The North ended the war by the grinding weight of superior manpower and industrial might. But although finally worn down, the South managed to emerge with most of the heroes.

Certainly today when schoolboys, both North and South, read of the great battles of that war, their hearts go out most to the chiefs of the "lost cause" — soldiers like Robert E. Lee, Stonewall Jackson, and that sabre-in-uniform, Jeb Stuart.

Grant was a titan indeed. But in youth there is a quality that admires a leader who fights gallantly in the face of almost certain defeat. That is why the Southern commanders now hold such a glamor to boys growing up in Iowa as well as in Alabama. It also explains why young

Americans Teaching Industrial Know-How

FREGENE, Italy — (AP) — In this beach resort, American industrial experts have recently completed a school course to train teachers for higher output from Europe's factories.

It is the first school of its kind in Europe. Nine Americans, one Austrian and one Italian directed classes. Twenty-five production "students" from Austria men make better soldiers than old men.

My own favorite of that period has always been Stonewall Jackson, who died and left an immortal name at 39. Field Marshal Rommel once came over to the Shenandoah Valley to study Jackson's famous blitzkrieg marches of 1862.

Jackson had the rare ability to outmaneuver and destroy an opponent facing him with more and better-armed troops. That is the supreme test of military genius.

Australian Natives Are Immune To Polio

CANBERRA, Australia — (AP) — Australian aborigines apparently give "some racial factor which gives them immunity to poliomyelitis," Commonwealth Director-General of Health, Dr. Arthur J. Metcalf, says.

No aborigine has been affected in the epidemic of a few months ago at Darwin although there are hundreds of aborigines in the area. Dr. Metcalf says no research has yet been done on the cause of immunity.

Germany, France, Italy, Holland and Denmark attended.

These lessons will be carried to foremen in demonstration plant projects throughout Europe. The program aims at more production by reducing waste and inefficiency.

Brush Up Defense To Be Good Player

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Whenever you find a player who is consistently successful in tournament play you may be quite sure that he is expert on defense. On the average, you play defense twice as often as you are declarer, and you therefore have twice as much opportunity to show your defensive skill (or lack of it) as your ability to play the dummy.

The truth of this general principle is borne out in the case of Dr. Kalman Apfel, one of the outstanding bridge players of New York City. He held the East cards in the hand shown today, taken from the recent Eastern Tournament.

West opened the deuce of spades, and Dr. Apfel won with the king. Before making his next play, the doctor thought carefully,

Saving Puzzles Money Experts

NEW YORK — (AP) — How much money the American people are saving — and how set they are against cracking these nest eggs — puzzles a lot of people.

The experts differ, even on the amount Americans are putting away. Some say it is 17 billion dollars last year. Others say less than seven billion.

"Savings have had their skittish moments in the past when their buying power was threatened, as evidence by the two buying rushes after Korea," the Institute of Life Insurance notes.

The institute cites the Department of Commerce figures that total personal savings in 1951 exceeded 17 billion dollars, or about one out of every 13 dollars of total personal spendable income after taxes.

The government arrives at this figure by taking the total of personal income after taxes, subtracting the total spent on consumer goods and services and calling the remainder personal savings.

But a considerable part of what it calls savings couldn't be turned into cash quickly, if at all. The government counts as savings, for example, the payment on mortgage and other debts.

Whether it was 17 or 13 or seven billion, it is credited with having helped check inflation.

And it certainly made a lot of merchants and manufacturers unhappy.

Are Americans ready to cut loose and spend again?

The institute thinks the American consumer is in a better position, now than ever before to decide for himself whether he'll spend or save.

The increase since 1939 in the percentage of families having more than $5,000 a year income, it says, means that "more Americans than ever before now have incomes that provide a margin over and above necessities and thus have the choice of stepping up their savings or their spending as the time and conditions warrant."

 I am not a reservist, but I expect to be called to active duty at any moment.
 Reason: Today, for the first time, I "flew" an automatic dishwashing machine without incident.

there were always casualties. A saucer would be chipped when I revved the motor, and a pitcher would be cracked when the washer made its hurtling drive down the runway. Only last week a cup refused to go aboard when it discovered that I was at the controls.

Women seem to run dishwashers without great trouble, which makes me feel that perhaps they are more technically inclined than men. Certainly, they weren't born with a natural instinct to run washing machines. To hem a skirt, yes. To bake an applesauce cake, for sure. But the women who run dishwashers today were born before there was any such thing as a dishwashing machine.

Would it not be a good idea to draft into the Armed Services women who can easily operate the various mechanical gadgets which now are a part of so many American households? Women who have no trouble operating clothes washing machines couldn't possible have any trouble flying a helicopter. And thousands and thousands of them do it with the most ridiculous ease.

But to get back to my Distinguished Kitchen Cross and the first successful heavily-loaded flight with my dishwashing machine. I arrived at the washer a half hour early, checked in, got the weather report, and was told that had fifteen minutes to scrape the dishes. I was told to try the dishes at kitchen floor level until the first rinse cycle was over. Then, if visibility was good through the glass top, to lower a few feet in case some of the after-dinner coffee cups were uncomfortable.

There was an overcast through the glass top for the first two or three minutes, and then came a happy break-through amid the suds. The coffee cups seemed very contented, and the only signs of distress was being shown by an egg beater which had boarded at the last minute. I nosed down a trifle and was delighted to see the egg beater quit stirring around and appear relaxed.

Then came my sweating-out time. The second rinse cycle began. As every man who has ever piloted a dishwashing machine knows, this is the most crucial period of the flight. Will it stop when it should stop or keep on rinsing? If it stops rinsing, will the top open so you can get at your "passengers" which you need to serve the next meal? I gazed with what I hoped were steady blue eyes into the cold blue yonder and prayed.

The washing machine came to rest as lightly as a seagull on an unruffled sea. The motor died with a reassuring hum. The top flew open as advertised. It was then that the cook, with a look

Faced Disaster With Action City Makes A Comeback

AUBURN, N.Y. — (AP) — Some American communities, on losing their chief industry, dwindle until they become little more than ghost towns.
 Auburn is an example of a town that faced this problem and fought back.
 As a result of inspired action by its citizenry, this central New York farming and manufacturing center of 36,500 population today faces a more prosperous future than ever.
 In more than 150 years Auburn had grown from a pioneer village to a well-balanced pleasant community with some 26 varied industries. It also is the site of a state prison, where in the 1820s the first cell blocks were built that later become the pattern of American prison architecture.
 Disaster threatened the town when its leading industry, the International Harvester Company, decided to pull out. That meant the loss of 1,500 jobs and a $5,000,000 annual flow.
 The firm gave 18-month's notice of its intentions. Every civic attempt to save it proved futile. In 1950 International Harvester shut down its plant here, and as a gesture of good will sold its buildings for $1 to a group of citizens who organized an industrial development committee.
 Local leaders raised $50,000 to finance the committee's effort to lure new industries. At first some businessmen held back, saying, "Why should we help get new firms here that will compete with us for the labor supply?" But they soon decided they didn't want to be part of a dying community. They pitched in, too.
 "There wasn't anybody to sell our community except ourselves," recalled Frank S. Smith, utilities executive who headed the committee. "We couldn't afford just to sit back and wait for the right guy to come along."
 "And one of our handicaps was that we were known as 'that place where the prison is.'"
 Smith will never forget his first inspection tour of the vacated $1 plant facilities, which had become run down.
 "I know of nothing more forlorn than an abandoned plant," he said. "In the damp and cold of 800,000 square feet of rambling buildings, in the half dark of the silent old structures, sooted with the smoke of the forge and foundry, worn with the trans- port of goods across the floors, crumbling here and there with roll-

Glamor Gals Invade Italy

ROME — (AP) — Glamor girls from many nations are invading the Italian motion picture industry.
 Foreign film players find little difficulty in getting screen work, since there are few labor restrictions in the Italian film industry. Knowledge of the Italian language is not important in making films here since the final sound track is dubbed in by Italian-speaking actors.
 Because the United States recently amended its income tax laws, which no longer requires citizens living abroad for 18 months or more to file income tax statements, American film players have more take-home pay by working for less money in Italy.
 When the development committee attempt to return $10,000 remaining from the $50,000 expansion fund, most contributors said, "keep the money and continue your work."
 Smith gave this summary of Auburn's successful fight against economic disaster: "It took a major jolt to rouse our community out of a false sense of security. It brought the people to gether as nothing else could."
 Par for the US Open June 12-14 at Northwood Club has been cut from 71 to 35-35-70.

Old-Car Hobby Becomes Popular

PASADENA, Calif. — (AP) — San Gabriel Valley's Horseless Carriage Club has revived the old game of club hunting.
 Members think nothing of traveling hundreds of miles in hopes of getting a pair of nickel door handles for a 1926 Packard or a rumble seat lid for a 1908 Buick.
 Those in possession of old car parts can swap them for something that goes on an early model they're reconstructing.

OUR TOWN by Wanda Campbell

There'll be 907 seniors in the Notre Dame graduating class this week, but for our town there will be but one. . . A long time ago a little boy dreamed of going to Notre Dame and though the walls of his room were filled with the colorful banners of many universities, the Notre Dame banner waved just a little brighter for him. . . It held second place only to the Harvester's emblem. . . He may not have been one of the most spectacular Harvesters of recent years, but he was one of the fightingest. . . one of the most loyal, for sure. . . and when he won a university boxing championship at Notre Dame, it was a triumph far folks back home as well as for him. . . His family will be in South Bend for the commencement address by Dr. Charles Malik, chairman on Human Rights and Relations in the United Nations. . . It's going to be a happy reunion for all of them, and we know the Russell Chisholms are real proud of Tom. . . It's always seemed that the Chisholm's formula for happiness through the years has been "a laugh a day". . . But one of the best stories to come out of that family of six children, is told by Colleen who just completed her first year teaching in Amarillo. . . Here's the story:

Every day the little girl brought a gift or some token to her new teacher, Miss Chisholm. . . A flower from her mother's garden, a piece of fruit, just anything she could place on Colleen's desk and then slip quietly back to her chair to answer roll call. . . As the first weeks continued, the little girl was short on ideas for gifts. . . "What could she take today?" . . . There must be something. . . It became such a problem for her that one day her mother explained, "You don't have to take a gift to your teacher every morning, dear. . . you can show you like her in other ways, you know?" . . . "But Mother," the little girl sighed, "All the kids take her things. Every day Miss Chisholm calls the roll and they all answer, 'present'. . . and I'd just die if one day I had to answer, 'no present!'"

1 cup finely rolled graham cracker crumbs (about 14 crackers)
3 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons light corn syrup
1-4 teaspoon salt
1-4 cup peanut butter
1-2 cup butter
Mix graham cracker crumbs, sugar and salt in bowl. Cut in peanut butter and butter with pastry blender until thoroughly blended. Add corn syrup and mix. Roll out and press in pie plate. Bake at 325 for 20 minutes. When cool add one of the packaged puddings for filling. . . Law is the embodiment of the moral sentiment of the people. — Blackstone

Pork-Corn Casserole

One pound of pork sausage makes six servings with this casserole. Shape bulk sausage patties brown them, then a thin cream gravy with drippings. Arrange cracker crumbs in the bottom of a casserole dish and add whole corn. Pour the gravy over corn, then top with browned ties. Bake in a moderate oven (350 F.) for about 30 minutes. . . ## Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK — (AP) — British tennis enthusiasts are more excited about Maureen Connolly, the sensational youngster from San Diego, than they have been about any newcomer to their shores for many a year. They have taken the 17-year-old American champion to their hearts.

One of the finest tributes yet paid to little Mo comes from Dan Maskell, the veteran Wimbledon professional who has played against all the great women stars, going back to Suzanne Lenglen and Helen Wills. After an hour across the net from the sturdy coast slinger, Maskell declared:

"Maureen is a teacher's dream girl. She is technically as sound as a bell, as well as being one of the fittest players I have ever seen on the court. She promises to be the best of the bunch."

The London Daily Graphic, which has been running a series of movie strips showing how the wonder girl brings off her various shots, refers to her as the "greatest ground strokes exponent in the world," and doesn't bother to exclude men from the competition.

The Australians are determined to see MZaureen next winter, and it is expected that Harry Hopman, captain of the Aussie Davis Cup team, will complete arrangements for her visit during the coming Wimbledon Tournament.

Final figures on what each of the contending nations received from last winter's Davis Cup play in Australia are at hand, and it is not difficult to see why the boys down under sometimes feel they are having their pockets picked. Broken down into dollars of convenience, they follow:

Net profit from the Sweden-United States-Interzone final and United States-Australia challenge round — $105,324.80; Australia share — $21,704; Sweden's share — $7,840.

A friend in Melbourne writes that Aussie tennis officials seem to feel there is something wrong with these figures. They did all the work and wound up with less clear money than the Americans. He explains, however, that the Australian Tennis Association had to pay a whopping "company" tax which the visitors were spared.

Aussies Irrate
 The same irate, who close to the Australian tennis scene, insists it still is far from certain that his country's Davis Cup team will compete in our national championships at Forest Hills late in August.

"The president of your association, Russell Kingman, has written soothing letters to our Sir Norman Brooks," he says, "but the idea has not been well received here. So far, all these letters we want any of your chaps out here for the National titles or either have to import them with everything paid or accept the residue of your Davis Cup quad such as Dick Savitt to stage a sit-down strike on the courts or young Ham Richardson, the boys of our association want something more than promises in time before they will come to our time party."

American officials do not yet realize that the Australians are pretty sure and that, if unappealed, they are perfectly capable of ordering their Frank Sedgman not to defend his title at Forest Hills.

Temple Downs Tyler Third Time
 By The Associated Press
 Austin and Wichita Falls were in at the pay-off last night in the Big State League when the Temple Eagles screamed down the Tyler East Texans a third straight night.

The Eagles haven't been in the chips much themselves in their sixth place position, but they're loud now. Their 4-3 win over Tyler last night represented the East Texans' fourth loss in a row and an Eagle series sweep. What's more, it jammed the loop into a three-way tie.

Wichita Falls only needed to divide a double-header with Longview, winning the first one, 11-9, and dropping the second game, 9-6, to join Tyler and Austin at the top.

Austin clubbed Waco 14-8, on 16 hits. The other game, Texarkana at Paris, was rained out. Temple scored three of its runs in the fourth to sew up the win.

Rain Slows Play In Sooner League
 By The Associated Press
 The Chickasha Chiefs scooted the McAlester Rockets a three-run first inning lead last night, and then trounced them, 7-3, in the only game of the Sooner State Baseball League.

Wet grounds forced postponement of the Ada at Shawnee, Pauls Valley at Sherman and Ardmore at Lawton games. Ardmore still has to play its first game at Lawton this season. Rain also washed out a previous series.

Chickasha staged a four-run rally in the fourth to overtake McAlester. The Chiefs parlayed an error, four walks and a two-run single by Bob Esposito to do the damage. They added three more in the seventh for the clincher.

Many primitive peoples do not understand death as a natural phenomenon and attribute all deaths to accidents or sorcery.

Black Oilers Play Tomorrow
 The Pampa Black Oilers will host the Pampa Sports tomorrow afternoon at Oiler Park in a Memorial Day contest. The game starts at 2:30.

The All-Stars were formerly the Briscoe team which defeated the Black Oilers earlier this year. On Sunday afternoon the Black Oilers host the Amarillo Colts, colored Amarillo club. The game will be played at Oiler Park, also starting 3:00.

 PRESTWICK, Scotland — (AP) — Dick Chapman, defending champion from Pinhurst, N. C., and U. S. Amateur King Billy Maxwell were knocked out of the British Amateur Golf Championship today by Major David Blair, a 35-year-old reserve on the British Army list.

The straight-shooting former British Army champion first knocked out the 41-year-old Chapman in the morning fifth round, 3-2, with a superb round in the teeth of a strong wind, and then eliminated Maxwell, of Glessa, Tex., 4 and 3, in the afternoon to gain the quarter-final round.

Another American bit the dust this afternoon when Joe Carr, veteran Irish Walker Cupper, ousted Frankie Strafaci, curly-haired New Yorker, 5 and 3.

Pioneers Sweep Pair From Lobos.
 LAMESA — (AP) — Mel Kramer and Jack Gaines dropped the Lamesa Lobos and almost to fourth with a double win for the Clovis Pioneers here last night, 12-2 and 4-1.

Neither of the two Clovis pitchers allowed a walk in the seven-inning games. Kramer scattered nine hits with Frosty Kennedy getting three of them—in the first game for the win and Gaines gave up only five hits, two each to Don Stokes and Bob Falk, for the victory in the nightcap.

The Pioneers had one big inning for the win in the first game when they scored five runs, three walks and an error. After tallying once in the third and twice in the sixth they sewed it up with four in the seventh on two hits, four errors and two bases on balls.

Kennedy was tossed out of the game in the fifth for protesting a called strike too vigorously and his replacement, Pitcher Lee Gatewood, committed three costly errors before the game was over. Ed Arthur, the starter, needed help with only two out in the first inning.

Jesse Priest was the opening game loser, taking his second loss of the year. And except for home runs by Art Culliti and Dick Burgett, the loss would have been in regulation innings.

Oilers Jump On Amarillo For Fourth Straight; Close Home Stand Tonight

Apparently having found some "cousins," the Pampa Oilers jumped on the Amarillo Gold Sox for the third time in two nights, Wednesday, to take a slugging 11-5 win over the visitors at the Oiler Park. Juan Montero, the aged Cuban righthander, picked up his third win against two losses while six foot, five inch Jack Jacobs was the loser.

Tonight the Oilers conclude their home stand with another contest against the cellar-dwellers. It will be rookie righthander Ed January going for Pampa against big Bob Wulf for the Sox. January will be making his final appearance for two weeks as he must join his National Guard unit tomorrow for two weeks of training camp.

Tonight will also be "Kids ball Tuesday night which caused a swelling and soreness. Three Good Innings. Montero got great hitting support, and marvelous fielding at times, to register his win. The fireballer came off the disabled list yesterday just in time to pitch the game. He was replaced on the 10-day inactive list by Bill Bohne, who was struck on the pitching shoulder by a hard

The Oilers used three good innings to gain the win for the Cuban 38-year-old. A big six-run third was all that he needed, but they also produced three in the fifth to drive Jacobs to the showers and added two more in the sixth off reliever Ray Price, obtained by the Gold Sox from Borger yesterday.

Hogan Plays Everybody On Saturday

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
 DALLAS — (AP) — The course over which the National Open will be played gets its first big test Saturday when Champion Ben Hogan shoots against everybody.

It will be "National Golf Day" and all linksters, male and female, will be playing on the home courses in an effort to "beat Ben Hogan." Little Ben expects at least 100,000 to beat him. The reason: he'll be shooting on one of the toughest courses in the country while golfers playing against him will have all sorts of handicaps and be playing on every kind of course.

But he says it's a "wonderful idea" because all golfers will have to pay to play and the money goes to the USO and to the National Golf Fund. "The only thing I dread about it," he smiled, "is having to hear the golfers tell how they beat me as I go over the country. I will get a description of every drive and putt."

However, it will give Hogan all out on the Northwood Club course, scene of the Open June 12-14. The United States Golf Association has finally set the yardage and par for the course. Only three holes will have the yardage assigned to them when Northwood first arranged the layout.

In the club house at Northwood you'll see this sign on the wall: "Notice! This golf course now being run by USGA through golf committee. Do not bellyache to Herman (the greenskeeper). If you don't like it call New York, Murray Hill 17842A. Golf Committee."

The course will have a 35-35-70 par and will measure 6,761 yards. That's 47 yards less than Northwood had arranged it. There are only four par three holes. There are 12 par four holes and two par fives.

Hogan played the course as laid out by the USGA Tuesday and did a 73. He was, however, only experimenting and not attempting to shoot a low score. It was his first time to play it as it will be on the Open Saturday, however, little Ben will with all his might be ripping at par with all his might. He doesn't want any more people to beat him than is absolutely necessary.

 Miriam Luedders and Marge Austin won honors in the weekly tournament held yesterday at the Pampa Country Club by the Women's Golf Association. An "I'da" tournament was held.

Finally, Fausett entered an official protest and play resumed.

Wallard's Record Mark In Speedway Expected To Stay

INDIANAPOLIS — (AP) — Motorists and motorcycle racers outside Indianapolis Motor Speedway gates today killed time debating whether Lee Wallard's record-breaking 1951 speed in Friday's 500-mile Memorial Day auto race will be equaled.

Old timers who had seen a dozen or so of the past 35 "500's," doubted that Wallard's 126.244-mile-an-hour average will be equaled.

This year's 33-car field averaged about two miles an hour faster than the '51 field in qualifications. But it isn't likely to enjoy the perfect racing conditions of last year.

Weather and wrecks can cut the speed far below the cars' potential. Last year the weather was perfect—hot and windless—and the race was slowed only one minute and 10 seconds by a wreck. That was Mauri Rose's upset. He landed in the infield and the track wasn't blocked.

There's also the possibility pointed out by Louis Meyer of Los Angeles, builder of most of the engines in the cars, that the drivers might run out of automobiles before the end of the race. Only eight cars survived last year's speed.

Seven Runs Win In Gulf League

By The Associated Press

The Gulf Coast League is "loaded," or else seven is just a natural winning number in baseball as in dice.

League leading Laredo, Browns-wille and Corpus Christi all used seven runs to rack up victories last night, while Harlingen, moved back into second place, beat Lake Charles 6-2 in a seven-run game.

It took the Laredoans 10 innings to score a 7-6 verdict over Texas City. The Apaches stretched their win streak to five games, running their lead to a comfortable four and a half games margin over Harlingen.

Harlingen's Capitols currently are kings of the second rung. Their win last night brought about the fourth change with Port Arthur in the runner-up spot in four days.

Brownsville scored a 7-6 decision over Port Arthur when Ken Peacock smashed a drive into the left field corner to push in the last two runs in the ninth. Bill Gutlovich had put the Seahawks in front, 6-5, in the top of the same inning with a bases-empty homer.

In the other game, Corpus Christi, headed by the fourth-pitching of Bill Heller, stopped Galveston, 7-1, to sweep a two-game series.

White Deer Gets New Cage Coach

WHITE DEER. (Special)—Kenneth Livingston, who has been head basketball coach and assistant football and track coach at Farwell for the past two years, has been employed for a similar position in the White Deer High School, Supt. Huelyn Laycock announced this week.

James Love was recently named head football coach.

Livingston is a graduate of Eastern New Mexico University, where he lettered in football four years and was on the all-conference team for two years. He also lettered in basketball two years and was on the all-conference cage team one year.

A specialist in physical education, for four years he directed the summer recreational program in New Mexico, and last summer and taught swimming in Fortales, he was in charge of the summer recreational program at Texico, Farwell.

Livingston served 18 months in the Navy, 10 months of which was spent overseas. He has purchased a new home and, with his wife and two small daughters, moved to White Deer this week.

Kentucky annually produces an estimated one-third of the entire thoroughbred racing crop in the country.

New Schoolboy Champ Assured

By The Associated Press

There will be a new champion of Texas schoolboy baseball. South Park (Beaumont), which won the title last season, was eliminated in the bi-district round yesterday. Bryan beat the Greenies 5-1 in the third game of their series. The team had won one game and had been trying for five days to get in the third.

Going to Austin next week for the state tournament will be Amarillo, Abilene, Waco, Tyler, Bryan, Crozier Tech (Dallas), John Regan (Houston) and Laredo.

The tournament will be Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Little LEAGUERS

Young Batter Took 'Take' Sign Literally

By JOHN McCALLUM
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — (NEA) — It could have happened only in Little League Baseball.

The Tigers, of the Burlington, Conn., Little League, had a rally going. Young Dickie Lowrey dug in at the plate. He worked the count to two balls, then peeked down at Manager Myron Perry for the sign.

Perry flashed the wee batter a "take" signal. But Lowrey picked out a high fast one and swung from the heels. Strike one. Again he looked down for the sign. Again he got the "take."

Sure enough, once more the midge slugger whiffed the air. Manager Perry shook his head away. So Lowrey "took" the and signaled the batter to bang away. So Lowrey "took" the next two pitches and worked a walk.

"You know what 'take' means, don't you?" stormed the manager, rushing over to first base.

A look of righteous indignation spread across Dickie Lowrey's face.

"Sure," he said, "it means take a swing at the ball."

LITTLE LEAGUE HITS: Nebraska and Arkansas are joining the fold, bringing to 40 the number of states sponsoring L.L.E. this season. In 1948, the program consisted of 48 teams in 12 leagues in one state. Last year, 3333 teams played in 776 leagues in 38 states. The National Baseball Congress informs this department that more than 25,000 amateur teams of some sort will be playing in the juvenile diamond ranks this year.

Crooner Perry Coma has two sons joining L.L.B. at Port Washington, L. I.

Connecticut is a striking illustration of what L.L.E. is doing to softball. Three years ago softball was the most thriving sport in a town of 25,000. You could find no more than three or four teams in a place of that size in 1951.

Anchorage, Alaska, never did determine the winner of its 1951 championship. With three clubs tied for first, and two for second place, the rans came — didn't stop for three months.

Charles Tiano, Kingston, N. Y., sports editor, writes in nominating Joe Hoffman, Jr. for the Little League Slugger record. Little Joe making his debut last June, pounded three homers and two doubles, each of his circuit clubs clearing the 225-foot mud field barrier.

Baseball Discs Latest Thing

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. — (AP) — America's top baseball talent may become the hottest disc favorites since Johnny Aay — all because a trio of Bridgeport sports fans pursued an idea that kids like inside into direct from the lips of the stars.

A plan here (Columbia Records) has turned out nearly a half million records in which four outstanding players dispense diamond lore in a friendly chat.

First stars to cut records for the educational series were Phil Rizzuto and Yogi Berra of the Yankees, Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians and Ralph Kiner of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Central figures in what may be a new boon for the record business are Roy Gregory, news paperman; Robert T. McHugh, former local athlete and Air Force major of World War II; and John J. Kelly, railroad man and former semi-pro baseball star.

Gregory, father of five children dreamed up a record on which future major leaguers could get it straight from the players. His brood as well as youngsters in the neighborhood were utilized for interest tests. They went for the idea.

The original conception was a paper-like record with a speech on one side and a color photo of the player on the other.

Obstacles, financial and otherwise, cropped up.

After two years Gregory was near the surrender point.

However, McHugh and Kelly then stepped into the picture. They were convinced the basic idea was sound. They went to Columbia and interested James E. Sparling, syndicate sales manager. He, in turn, sold the proposition to top executives.

Rizzuto, Berra, Feller and Kiner were approached and they quickly offered their co-operation.

Snead Against Field At St. Lou

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — It's Sam Snead against the field today as the 49th Western Open Golf Tournament opens its 72-hole tour at Westwood Country Club.

Professional amateurs and gallery alike give the nod to Slammin' Sammy, ranking PGA and Masters champion, in the $15,000, four-day meet. Things roll to a climax Sunday.

Only the low 60s and ties will still be in the running after the 36-hole mark Friday, trimming the starting field of 121.

While Snead, a two-time western winner, is the No. 1 choice, the touring pros also see eye-to-eye after appraising the 6,616 yards par 70 Westwood Course.

Some tribes of Mexican Indians once believed they were descended from trees.

Pair Of Shutouts Pace Play In Texas League Last Night

By CHARLEY ESKEW
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tulsa closed out a Texas League series with Fort Worth last night, scraped up five hits and two runs but never could gather up its runners and go home. So it lost, 2-0. But it was nothing new.

Fort Worth was not the only six victories over the Oilers by shutouts. And in the lone Tulsa triumph over the Cats, the Oilers locked up home plate by 5-0.

Joe Landrum's five-hit win for Fort Worth wasn't the only whitewash job in the league: Joe Rodney of Shreveport leveled a six-hitter at third-place Houston and the Sports won, 5-0.

One-Hitter By Jacome Shines

By The Associated Press

The one-hit pitching of Eddie Jacome was the standout feature of the Longhorn League last night in a round of action that saw the batters unusually subdued.

Only two homers were registered, those by Joe Bauman, the with 15, and Ben Capatillo in a losing cause as San Angelo beat Artesia, 8-6.

Jacome faced only 29 Roswell batters — as he walked two — in posting a 7-0 shutout for his Midland nine.

Manager Al Monchak of Roswell, later evicted in the ninth for an argument, lined a single off Jacome in the third but was forced at second base. Roswell slipping back to third place, got none of its runners to second base.

Second place San Angelo made up a game of ground as league-leading Odessa tumbled 9-8 in a 13-inning defeat at Sweetwater's hands. Ernie Sadler, who walked 15 men, went the distance for the win, yielding eight hits, and earning the decision when Charley Tuttle, on via a single, ran home on Leo Eastham's 13th-inning error.

Audie Malone matched four-hit hurling with two Big Spring pitchers and kept his well-scattered enough for a whitewash 6-0 victory for Vernon. Big Spring's two Beris, Estrada and Baez, combined to walk 11 of the winners.

Malone fanned but two in his shutout, Jacome four in his.

De Vincenzo At Special Banquet

DALLAS — (AP) — Roberto De Vincenzo, one of the foreign golfers making a strong showing in American golf, has accepted an invitation to attend the Hall of Fame dinner here June 9, when Ben Hogan, the king of golf, will be formally enshrined.

DeVincenzo, who is from Buenos Aires, Argentina, is the third star golfer to accept an invitation. Previously Jack Burke of Houston and Harry Todd of Dallas, said they would be here for the dinner.

De Vincenzo won victories last year in the Round Robin at New Rochelle, N. Y., and seventeenth in the Colonial National Invitation Tournament at Fort Worth.

At the same time that Hogan is received into the Texas Sports Writers Association Hall of Fame, the memory of Joe Routh, Texas A&M all-American football player who was killed in World War 2, will be honored. Routh is the first deceased athlete to be elected to the Hall of Fame.

Snead Against Field At St. Lou

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — It's Sam Snead against the field today as the 49th Western Open Golf Tournament opens its 72-hole tour at Westwood Country Club.

Professional amateurs and gallery alike give the nod to Slammin' Sammy, ranking PGA and Masters champion, in the $15,000, four-day meet. Things roll to a climax Sunday.

Only the low 60s and ties will still be in the running after the 36-hole mark Friday, trimming the starting field of 121.

While Snead, a two-time western winner, is the No. 1 choice, the touring pros also see eye-to-eye after appraising the 6,616 yards par 70 Westwood Course.

Some tribes of Mexican Indians once believed they were descended from trees.

White Deer Gets New Cage Coach

WHITE DEER. (Special)—Kenneth Livingston, who has been head basketball coach and assistant football and track coach at Farwell for the past two years, has been employed for a similar position in the White Deer High School, Supt. Huelyn Laycock announced this week.

James Love was recently named head football coach.

Livingston is a graduate of Eastern New Mexico University, where he lettered in football four years and was on the all-conference team for two years. He also lettered in basketball two years and was on the all-conference cage team one year.

A specialist in physical education, for four years he directed the summer recreational program in New Mexico, and last summer and taught swimming in Fortales, he was in charge of the summer recreational program at Texico, Farwell.

Livingston served 18 months in the Navy, 10 months of which was spent overseas. He has purchased a new home and, with his wife and two small daughters, moved to White Deer this week.

Kentucky annually produces an estimated one-third of the entire thoroughbred racing crop in the country.

New Schoolboy Champ Assured

By The Associated Press

There will be a new champion of Texas schoolboy baseball. South Park (Beaumont), which won the title last season, was eliminated in the bi-district round yesterday. Bryan beat the Greenies 5-1 in the third game of their series. The team had won one game and had been trying for five days to get in the third.

Going to Austin next week for the state tournament will be Amarillo, Abilene, Waco, Tyler, Bryan, Crozier Tech (Dallas), John Regan (Houston) and Laredo.

The tournament will be Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Buddy Davis Predicts New World Mark

By GEORGE WRIGHT
NEA Special Correspondent

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (NEA) — Any time he enters a meet now, the whole world will be waiting to see if the Texas Aggie's six-foot-eight-inch high jumper, Wail (Buddy) Davis, breaks the world record of six feet - 11.

And those of us who watched him set a new Southwest Conference record of six feet - 10 1/2 in Dallas are confident we were watching the world's first seven-foot high jumper.

What's more, Buddy Davis is confident he can do it.

"Making that jump at Dallas gave me lots of confidence that I think will help me get over at seven feet next time I work up that high," he said.

"You know all high jumpers have one fault in common — and that's when one reaches a height he has never before done, or one that means a record of some kind, he tends to tighten up, lose confidence. His best jumping form tends to change.

"I don't believe I'll tighten up nearly so much when I try seven feet from now on, because I feel I can make it after jumping what I thought was over seven feet in Dallas.

"That's what they said it was before I tried the jump. I got over it, didn't hit the bar. Official measurement pulled the height down, but a seven-foot jump won't tend to make me tighten up as much now, because that's what I thought was jumping and thinking that made it.

"Where a world record is involved you have to be as careful in measuring to make sure as the officials were in Dallas.

"I just wish we'd known sooner than we did that it wasn't world record, because if I'd had any idea it wasn't higher than the record I'd have tried to go higher.

"I was cooled off by the time we learned it wasn't a new mark, too late to try higher."

If the long Aggie sets a new world mark, you can put it down here as the first to predict it. Last Fall, when a national magazine asked Kenneth Bond, Aggie sports drum beater, to do a story for them on Davis, the letter told Bond he felt sure he would some day jump seven feet.

"I think I will do it," said Davis, who already had done six feet - nine, "because Coach Frank Anderson is changing my form this season."

"I've been jumping feet first, but we're going to change me to the modern western roll so that I get over head first."

"If I can do that, go over head first where the center of gravity is slightly changed, I think seven feet is possible."

Coach Anderson refers to Buddy as a broad jumper who has been jumping as high as seven feet before this year, but jumps so far away that he's on his way down when he reaches the jump bar.

"That strong wind at Dallas actually helped me," Davis said. "As heavy as I am 210 pounds, it didn't make me unsteady and it might have been a big reason why I was taking off about three feet from the bar instead of about six feet away, like I used to do.

"Maybe it would help to have a windy day next time I try seven feet."

OH, IT'S AWFUL! I'VE TAKEN A LIFE!

I HAD AN ARGUMENT WITH MR. BOTTS—I GRABBED THE GOLDFISH BOWL... AND BOUNCED IT OFF HIS HEAD.

I, I DIDN'T MEAN TO THROW IT THAT HARD.

MRS. BOTTS! YOU'D DON'T MEAN HE'S—

AND HE WAS THE NICEST GOLDFISH WE EVER HAD!

THE INTERPRETER

BEIN' A BIT ON HIS MENTAL LEVEL, CAN YOU TELL ME WHY HE SLEEPS THAT WAY SO MUCH?

I SPOSE IT'S TO GIVE HIS LEGS A BREAK—HE'S UP ON 'EM ALL DAY AN' HE DON'T THINK HE OUGHTA SLEEP ON 'EM ALL NIGHT!

DRAT! IT'S JUST DAWNING ON ME WHAT A TREMENDOUS PROJECT I'VE LAUNCHED, SEEKING THAT BAG OF JEWELS—I MAY TURN EVERY INCH OF GROUND IN THE YARD—AN OPERATION RIVALING THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE SUEZ CANAL!

I RUB MY EYES AND SAY IT'S A DREAM, CAPTAIN KERR—BUT THERE IT IS—THE ONLY WORK HE HAS DONE EXCEPT TYING HIS SHOE LACES IN 30 YEARS!

IF HE FOLDS UP, TELL HIM THERE'S A $1,000 REWARD THAT OUGHT TO KEEP HIM BOUNCING.

Vic Flint

OH, HIM, SIR? THAT'S ARCHER FOCUS, THE TV CRIME COLUMNIST.

THANK YOU, YOU MAY HAVE HEARD HIM LAST NIGHT REVEAL ABOUT A NEW MOB STER WHO HAS COME TO TOWN.

OH, YEAH! I THOUGHT I RECOGNIZED HIM!

HERE YOU ARE, MR. ARCHER.

THANKS, JIMMY.

Little Doc

EXTRA! EXTRA!

WHO WAS THAT DISTINGUISHED GENTLEMAN YOU WERE TALKING TO, LIL DOC?

AW, HIM AND ME HAVE WORKED TOGETHER FOR YEARS...

HE'S THE EDITOR OF ONE OF MY PAPERS!

Wash Tubbs

FEIGNING EXHAUSTION, WASH TOPPLES OVERBOARD—CRAWLS UNDER THE CRUISER TOWARD THE BOW...

WHEN HE POPS UP LET 'IM HAVE IT!

SAY! HE SHOULD COME UP NOW!

MIGHTA HIT HIS HEAD ON THAT CRATE! JUMP IN AND SEE, KARL!

AND YOU, BORIS... LOOK AROUND THE BOW! WE CAN'T LEAVE HERE TILL WE'RE SURE HE'S DEAD!

Boots

YOU WANT ME TO REPRESENT YOUR FIRM AND SELL "TOPS" COSMETICS FOR YOU?

THAT'S RIGHT!

BUT... GEE, WHYZ? AFTER ALL THIS SECRECY...

SORRY, BUT THE COMPETITION IN MY LINE IS TERRIFIC, PUG!

I SIMPLY HAD TO KEEP THE PURPOSE OF MY MISSION HERE A SECRET TILL I HAD SELECTED THE RIGHT GAL FOR THE JOB!

WELL, GEE, I'M CERTAINLY FLATTERED, BUT I'LL HAVE TO THINK IT OVER TILL BOOTS DECIDES!

Mickey Finn

—SO, BECAUSE OUR TREASURY IS THAT LOW, WE WILL BE UNABLE TO SEND A DELEGATE—UNLESS SOMEBODY IS WILLING TO GO AT HIS OWN EXPENSE! DOES ANYONE WISH TO VOLUNTEER?

NOT A PEEP OUT OF ANYBODY! SO I'LL BE GOING ALONE, ALL RIGHT!

VERY WELL, GENTLEMEN—AS NONE OF YOU HAVE VOLUNTEERED, AND AS WE REALLY SHOULD HAVE A DELEGATE THERE—I WILL VOLUNTEER TO GO MYSELF!

—AND WHILE MY WIFE WILL BE GOING WITH ME, I CAN ASSURE YOU THAT SHE WILL NOT INTERFERE IN ANY WAY WITH MY ACTIVITIES—OR WITH THE ACTIVITIES OF OUR NATIONAL COMMANDER!

Penny

YIPES! WELL, SO LONG!

SO LONG.

HOW MUCH DO YOU WANT FOR YOUR BIKE, PENNY? FORTY DOLLARS, JENNIFER.

I WAS, MOTHER...

BUT I WAS AFRAID SHE MIGHT HAVE 25 DOLLARS!

Freckles

HI, STRANGERS! YOU'RE JUST IN TIME FOR HOT MULLIGAN!

THREE HELPINGS OF MULLIGAN LATER...

TAKE A LOOK AT ME, BOYS! I'LL BET YOU WOULDN'T BELIEVE I WAS ONCE THE PROUD SON OF A RESPECTABLE FAMILY!

I BLEW HOME WHEN I WAS JUST ABOUT YOUR AGE—GOT INTO AN ARGUMENT WITH MY GIRL FRIEND! I'VE BEEN A NO-GOOD BUM EVER SINCE—AND JUST TO PROVE IT—

—I'LL HAVE THOSE FANCY DUDS YOU'RE WEARIN'!

Donald Duck

DRAT THAT DOORBELL!

HELLO, MR. DUCK! DON'T MESS WITH ME! I'VE BEEN RAINING!

DRAT! AGAIN!

YOU'RE RIGHT! THAT WAS SILLY! MAY I COME IN AND PLAY?

HI, GUYS!

LET'S GO SHOPPING

One of these days I must go shopping. I am completely out of self-respect. I want to exchange the self-righteousness I picked up the other day for some humility which they say is less expensive and wears longer. I want to look at some tolerance which is being used for wraps this season. Someone showed me some pretty samples of peace. We are a little on that and can never have too much of it. And by the way, I must try to match some patience that my neighbor wears. It is becoming to her and I think it might look well on me. I might try on that little garment of long-suffering they are displaying. I never thought wanted to wear it, but I feel myself coming to it. Also I must not forget to have my sense of appreciation mended and look around for some inexpensive every-day goodness. It is surprising how quickly one's stock of goodness is depleted.

Rummy A Real Fast Game

By OSWALD JACOBY and ALFRED SHEINWOLD
Written for NEA Service

"We were playing six-handed Gin Rummy, a team of three against another team of three," relates a Long Island correspondent. "My opponent paused at one moment to look at the hand of one of his partners, and then he went down with ten points."

"He admitted that he had been influenced by the nature of his partner's hand and thereupon I raised quite a fuss. I said that it wasn't fair to look at anybody's hand, and that if you happened to see a hand you shouldn't allow it to influence you."

"His answer was very short and very inelegant. 'Who was right?' Before answering the question we'd like to describe just how this team-style Gin Rummy is played. It's a wonderful game for six or more players.

Let's suppose Mr. and Mrs. Brown and Grandpa Brown are members of one team; and that Mr. and Mrs. White and Grandpa White are members of the other team. A long table is set up, and the three Browns sit on one long side of the table, faced by the three Whites on the other side of the table.

Each Brown is faced by a White and each such pair plays a normal game of two-hand Gin Rummy. When one pair finish a hand, they wait for the other two pairs to finish. When all three pairs have finished, the net score for the team is written down.

For example, suppose that Grandpa Brown wins 35 points from Grandpa White. Then Mr. Brown loses 42 points to Mr. White, so that the Brown team is 7 points behind. Now Mrs. Brown comes through by winning 18 points, so the Brown team wins a net victory of 11 points.

Only the 11 points are written down on the scorepad. The other amounts are just remembered or jotted down on a scratchpad until the hand is finished.

In a game of this sort you can't help seeing the cards held by one of your partners, who sits on the same side of the table as you. It would be foolish to ignore realities by ruling that you are not supposed to look at a teammate's hand. And it would be even more foolish to have an unenforceable rule that you mustn't be influenced by what you see. It's more sensible to agree that you can look and that you may be influenced by what you see. However, there must be a gentlemen's agreement that you mustn't hold up the game by waiting for a teammate to play before you decide what you are going to do.

Look as much as you like, but don't slow the game down.

Committee Seeks Holiday Friday

Friday, Memorial Day, has been suggested as a holiday for Pampa merchants by the retail merchants committee of the Chamber of Commerce, according to Ed Myatt, chairman.

Myatt also has announced the new summer hours for retail merchants as set up by the committee. Beginning June 3, retail stores will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on week days and from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Saturday.

The new hours will be effective until Sept. 1, when merchants will likely go back to the 9-5:30 and 7:30 schedules.

Post Office Exams Are Announced Here

Examinations to fill vacancies as substitute clerk - carrier in the Pampa Post Office have been announced by the Civil Service Commission.

To be eligible to take the examinations applicants must actually reside within the delivery of the Pampa Post Office or be bona fide patrons, the announcement stated.

The position pays $1.61 1-2 per hour. Application forms and additional information may be obtained from the post office.

World's Newest And Smallest Republic Blossoms In Pacific

COLOMBO, Ceylon — (AP) — The world's newest and one of its smallest republics, The Maldives Islands — has just blossomed in the Indian Ocean 400 miles southwest of Ceylon.

Inhabitants of the 2000 tiny islands, scattered over 325 square miles of ocean, voted 99 percent to become a republic with an elected president after more than 800 years as a sultanate. For the past century it has been under British protection.

The first president is 41-year-old Prime Minister Amin Didi, island strong man who will function as a virtually one-man government. The transition from sultanate to republic will be completed some time in December, when the Maldives adopt a new constitution — now being written by Amin Didi — and seats him as its first president.

The British government will continue to handle Maldivian foreign affairs. It has promised to send a cruiser and its high commissioner in Ceylon to the inauguration at Mave, the Maldivian capital.

Creation of the republic of more than 93,000 islanders followed the death in Ceylon two months ago of 78-year-old Amir Abdul Majid, last of the Maldivian sultans.

A spokesman said there was no suitable elder statesman to take over as sultan, so it was decided to convert the Maldives into a republic.

One of the first steps the new president took was to acquire two steamships to supplement trade between Ceylon and the islands. Up to now it has been handled entirely by picturesque schooners — a cross between Chinese junk and the "Half Moon" vessels once used by Henry Hudson.

Maldivian islanders subsist on fishing. Millions of dried fish caught one by one on hook and line — are exported annually to Ceylon.

Food is the biggest problem on the islands. The exports he pays for supplies brought in from Ceylon, through which all Maldivian trade is conducted.

The islands have a small army but no police force and no prison.

"We have never needed one," said a spokesman.

Few foreigners visited the islands until World War II when Britain set up seaplane and naval stations there.

The Maldives has been a British protectorate since the days of Queen Victoria, at one time paying annual tribute to its British rulers.

Mave, the capital, has few streets and only two automobiles imported for the use of the late sultan in travelling the mile-long island. Some of the islands are only a few hundred feet square, grouped in a series of tropical atolls.
