Twinkles

One must be truly busy when, after a 30-day trip, he looks as if he had been gone a fortnight.

Times are getting good when the thermometer can drop 50 degrees in a few hours. If this keeps up, oldtimers will be seen carrying topcoats on warm days, as of yore.

Wonder if it would be possible to bring old Santa Claus here on Thanksgiving?

We never expected to see "bacon and..." reach the present state of respectability, although eggs have been dear enough in recent years.

The impression is growing that the Texas legislature is worse than representative of the people. Have the people improved so much lately?

Musing of the moment: Joe Hill, Antarctic explorer, fears he will suffer from cold this winter. Sharp changes in temperature are far more to be feared than steady cold, he says. Still, we don't relish the thought of nights on an icy trail, in temperatures 40 and more below, with no fuel except that carried on a sled.

Brevitorials

WELL, WE WENT to Plainview and sent back good football news, as we promised. There are some of you, we hear, who were disappointed in the number of touchdowns reported. For that we apologize. We had neglected to scout the game as we had heard of that Bulldog named Dees. He was a speedy rascal, with the annoying habit of pulling our boys down from behind. Of course, we had little desire to run up a big score on the good city of Plainview and its football team—no point in it.

We'll say very frankly that Pampa's showing wasn't much to write home about. Half the team blocked well on every play, but the ball was usually where the blocking was poorest. Plainview very kindly let us run around her ends, without which courtesy the score would have been decidedly more disappointing than it was.

THE IDEA is finally gaining support that the Pampa Harvesters are inexperienced. Until Lubbock topped them, fans and sports writers generally held the opinion that "this was Pampa's year." Plainview fans shared this feeling, and fully expected to see a score of 50 or more. When their Bulldogs put up a strong fight and held the locals scoreless in the first period, the Plainview fans were as astonished as anyone. Many of them had seen the Pampa-Lubbock game. Some said after the game that the Harvesters had played much better against the Westerners, without which they would have been swamped.

So Pampa will enter the Berger game next Saturday rated by the dopsters as only a touchdown better than the Hutchinson county brand of Bulldog. The Harvesters always do better on their home field, but any such "Worth" where a Amarillo made of the Berger lads is not to be expected.

THE THANKSGIVING game appears to be in the bag for Amarillo from a purely technical

T. B. James, Old Timer of Plains, Taken by Death

Death claimed another beloved old timer of the Panhandle last Sunday afternoon at Fort Worth where a Amarillo attack was fatal to Thomas B. James, known to pioneers of this section as "Tommy" James. He was a cowboy on the N-Bar-N ranch from 1880 to 1893. Last spring he attended the Pre-Centennial celebration and Pioneers Roundup held here June 6 and 7. At that time he again grasped the hands of old friends he had not seen in more than 40 years. Mr. James said that he had an unbelievably good time, and that the Roundup was a perfect reunion. He expressed his intention of returning next year "if I'm still living." J. S. Wynne, long-time friend of Mr. James received notice of the death by telegram.

"Uncle Tommy," 68, was known as the "Little Chief" of the Fort Worth detective bureau. He was the oldest man in point of service in the Fort Worth police department, and had been on the force since 1917. He was lieutenant of detectives. He was born in Fort Worth in a log cabin. There was moisture on the lashes of many old timers here when they learned of the death of the kindly, cheerful little man.

BOTH HOUSES ADOPT DRY BILLS

Identity Of Grid Star Is Puzzling

Vernon Superintendent and Pampa Barber Sure Ted Is Clois, But Amarillo Key Doesn't Know Which Key He Is

VERNON, Nov. 5 (AP)—W. T. Lofland, superintendent of the Vernon school system, said today R. F. (Ted) Key, former Vernon high school football star, called on him as an equipment salesman for an Amarillo, Texas, concern less than 30 days ago.

His statement further clouded the mystery of the identity of the star fullback of the University of California at Los Angeles, who has been playing on the Pacific coast team as R. F. (Ted) Key.

Officials at U. C. L. A. said their dashing fullback registered at the school as R. F. (Ted) Key, with credentials from a Texas high school. Key was withheld from the California game last week-end when officials Solution of the R. F. (Ted) Key mystery might be settled in Pampa, Barnes Samuel, local barber, knew the Key family well-in-Vernon.

Aked this morning if he knew which boy was which, Samuel declared that the U. C. L. A. fullback is Clois Francis Key and not R. F. (Ted) Key. The real R. F. (Ted) Key is living in Amarillo and working for a weather-stripping company. Samuel talked to him less than two months ago.

Last year in California Samuel said he tried to get in touch with Key but Ted's name had not gone to the college because he might accidentally say something that would be embarrassing.

Officials started an investigation to determine whether he was R. F. (Ted) Key or Clois Francis (Shorty) Key, brother of Ted and former Texas School of Mines player.

The Vernon Record said today R. F. and Clois Francis Key, brothers played high school football here. R. F. (Ted) Key was a raring end and Clois Francis (Shorty) Key was a dummy, slugging back. Both were outstanding in ability and the difference in stature made them easily distinguishable while here.

PLANE BEING OUTFITTED FOR DASH TO KINGDOM OF SANTA

Pampa's Junior chamber of commerce today rushed outfitting of a big airplane to be sent to Captain F. E. Kleinschmidt, noted explorer, and Mrs. Kleinschmidt for their dash to the North pole to find Santa Claus and invite him to Pampa's annual Santa day of December 6.

Pood supplies, movie camera, films, and warm clothing must be ample for a long trip.

Old Santa is believed to live near the North pole. The Pampa chamber will direct the expedition to the pole in search for him and give the children of this territory first-hand information, in the form of Daily news reports, as to how Santa is getting along and how he is doing.

But news stories will not be all. There'll be cameras taken along—one for taking pictures to be reprinted in THE NEWS and a movie camera to take motion pictures. These will be shown free to the kiddies in this area.

That, we are sure you will agree, is the greatest news story of interest

I Heard . . .

That a group of high school girls are organizing with the express purpose of "pouring it on" Harvesters who insist on breaking training. No one knows better who these boys are than the girls of the school, and their interest in the team is to be commended.

Cal Farley asking a group of Pampans if they wanted to send word to Germany with him when he attends the Olympic games in Berlin next year. Cal went the trip in a contest and he is doing nothing but bragging on the Panhandle now.

SUB-FREEZING WEATHER HITS PLAINS AREAS

Mercury Tumbles to 25 Degrees Here This Morning

(By The Associated Press.)

Heavy frost whitened the Panhandle plains today as a fast-moving cold wave swept through Texas. Sub-freezing weather prevailed in the northwest, while temperature drops of as much as 35 degrees were general over the state.

The mercury tumbled to 24 at Pampa this morning, bringing heavy frost for the second consecutive day.

Bright sunshine brought prospects of warmer weather to Borger. It was 23 there this morning and 30 yesterday.

Sherman's minimum this morning was 33 degrees—the lowest mark of the season. The temperature there dropped from 73 at 8 a. m. yesterday. There was light frost this morning. At Wichita Falls the mercury slumped to 31, bringing the first freeze of the season and the lowest temperature since last March. Skies were clear, however.

Ahler reported skies still partly cloudy and the temperature down to 37—the lowest of the season. From yesterday's maximum of 82 the temperature at San Angelo sagged to 43 last night. Unsettled conditions existed there, with showers forecast. A light sprinkle dampened the San Angelo section this morning.

Merchant Group Votes to Close On 4 Holidays

A group of Pampa retail merchants last night decided to close their stores all day on Armistice day, Thanksgiving, Christmas, and New Year's.

They also voted to start keeping their businesses open to 9 p. m. on December 18th for the benefit of Christmas shoppers. However, on Monday and Tuesday immediately preceding Christmas day, the stores will remain open to 10 p. m.

Miss Grace Hilliard was called to the bedside of her mother in Portales, N. M., who is critically ill.

WET LEADERS ARE SCOURGED BY OPPONENTS

LIQUOR SALE LIMITED TO UNBROKEN PACKAGES IN VOTING

AUSTIN, Nov. 5 (AP)—Drys scored heavily in the legislature today when both houses adopted bills limiting sale of liquor to unbroken packages as a basis for dissection of liquor regulation.

"If we are going to have liquor by the drink let's go back to the open saloon," Rep. Wilson Fox of Taylor asserted. "We should not resort to this camouflage and barter the constitution for a cocktail."

Rep. W. E. Jones of Jourdanton termed pure "denaturation" contentions of wet leaders that unless sale by the drink was permitted their areas would not recognize liquor regulation.

"They should elect officers who would put operators in the middle of the road if they didn't eliminate the laws," Jones said. "The people from dry areas are entitled to go to a restaurant in a wet city and have protection against insults."

Jones said any place where liquor was sold by the drink was a saloon. "I suppose you think that if a grocery store sells tooth picks it is a lumber yard," retorted Rep. Gus Herzik of Lagrange.

Rep. Roy Hofheinz of Houston charged an organized minority with attempting to dictate a liquor law to the majority and deny wets the fruits of repeal. Hofheinz predicted adoption of a package sales plan would make a "honky-tonk of every corner restaurant" because it would permit purchase of a bottle of liquor to be mixed by the purchaser without restraint any place.

"They could mix drinks up to 70 per cent if they wanted to under the dry bill," he said. "We want a liquor bill that will eliminate the gangs who pay corrupt officials to permit them to sell by the drink while legitimate dealers are unable

C. P. Woodward, 19-Year Resident Of City, Is Dead

Charles Pruitt Woodward, 84, longtime Pampa resident, died yesterday afternoon at his home, 307 North Ballard street. He had been ill for some time.

Moving to Pampa 19 years ago Mr. Woodward became a partner in the Woodward and Lane Grocery store on Cuyler street. He was active in its management until 1929 when the business was sold. Mr. Woodward later took over the Lippincott Confectionette, but he soon retired because of failing health.

Mr. Woodward was born in Kentucky. He was always an active worker in the Baptist church. Survivors are his wife, daughter, Mrs. T. V. Lane of Pampa, and a son, C. L. Woodward of Hico. Other survivors are two sisters, Miss Laura Woodward of Florence, Ky., and Miss Emma Lee Woodward of Toledo, Ohio.

Funeral services were set for 2 o'clock this afternoon in the First Baptist church, with the Rev. C. E. Lancaster, pastor, and the Rev. John Mullen, pastor of the First Christian church, officiating. Burial was to follow in Fairview cemetery under direction of the G. C. Malone Funeral home.

National Bank Call Is Issued

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 (AP)—The comptroller of the currency issued a call today for the condition of all national banks at the close of business Friday, November 1.

Under the law the comptroller is required to issue at least three calls a year for statement of condition. He may issue as many more as he deems necessary.

Today's call is the third this calendar year, indicating that national banks will report four times. It has been the practice to time one call at the end of the calendar year. This supplies the treasury with data for comparative purposes.

Previous calls in 1935 were March 4 and June 29.

Demo Setbacks In Voting Indicated

Eager for any omens as to 1936, political leaders fixed their attention upon today's scattered state elections, with much interest centering on Kentucky, New York and New Jersey.

An eleven-hour development emphasized a schism in the democratic organization of Kentucky. An announcement by Thomas S. Rhea, a power in democratic politics in the blue grass border state, that he would join democratic governor Ruby Laffoon in supporting the republican gubernatorial nominee King Swope, instead of A. B. Chandler, democrat, dashed any hopes of national party leaders that the Kentucky breach would be narrowed before balloting began.

Since Kentucky will not begin counting the votes in her state-wide election until tomorrow, observers turned their immediate attention to voting for state leaders in New York and New Jersey where republicans had incited the new deal into the campaigning.

In addition, New York was filling two vacancies in the national house of representatives, Philadelphia was selecting a mayor in a race that attracted more than state-wide attention, and Virginia and Mississippi were going through an off-year route of ratifying candidates for the legislature and state offices selected in democratic primaries.

Hugh White, wealthy lumberman, was the democratic candidate for governor in Mississippi, his primary victory being tantamount to election. Scattered mayoral contests over the country were being watched with more than ordinary interest, too. Besides Philadelphia, Cleveland was naming a city chief, as were San Francisco (at a non-partisan election), Hartford, Bridgeport and New Haven, Conn., and more than 40 up-state New York cities.

President Roosevelt was at Hyde Park to participate in the ballot box division as to whether democrats are to retain their majority of three seats in the state assembly. Republicans lost control at Albany last year for the first time in 22 years. This fall they made a determined drive to regain lost ground and hammered away at the new deal as well as talking state issues. Democrats accepted the challenge, but campaigned primarily on the record of democratic Governor Herbert H. Lehman.

Republicans contended a victory for them would be a defeat for the new deal, "Farley dictatorship," and democratic politics making "New York the fifth wheel of the new deal chariot." They predicted they would win the assembly by ten seats.

Democrats made no pro casts, but James A. Farley, national and state chairman, was represented as feeling the democratic majority would be increased. A total of 150 seats in the assembly was at stake. New Jersey was electing a legislature of 60 members of the house and eight of its 21 senators. Republicans now control the assembly 34 to 26 and the senate 15 to 6.

Former Senator Walter E. Edge, republican, described the New Jersey election as "the first and most important round in the presidential election of 1936."

ALLRED, TROOPS, BANDS ARE PRESENT AT GONZALES FETE

GONZALES, Nov. 5 (AP)—A brass cannon was loaded today to boom out commemoration of the firing of the first shot in the Texas revolution at Gonzales 100 years ago.

Seven companies of national guard troops and the twenty-third infantry band from San Antonio were selected to give an official welcome to Governor James V. Allred as the principal speaker in the Bands from San Antonio, Goliad, Fannin, San Marcos, Yorktown, Cuero, Dallas, Seguin, Luling, and Lockhart were on hand to march in an historical parade.

FIVE KILLED IN CITY SCOUTERS CRASH BETWEEN CAR AND TRUCK

Officials of the Adobe Walls councils of Boy Scouts are urging a full attendance of Scouters at the convention of adult leaders in Amarillo next Sunday.

Presence of national officers of Scouting is being stressed as a factor which adds greatly to the interest in this western section gathering. Another factor is an annual meeting of the Adobe Walls council set for 4 p. m. Sunday during a recess of the convention. It is hoped that this meeting may make it unnecessary to call a council session during the holidays.

Wayne Dorsey Is Fighting for Life

Wayne Dorsey, 29-year-old farmer of the McLean community who was shot Saturday night while at a dance in Wheeler county, was still fighting for his life in a local hospital today.

Dorsey was struck by a bullet fired shortly after a disturbance in the dance hall, in which several persons were said to have participated. He was in a group which moved outside of the building during the disturbance, and was shot while standing near a doorway.

DEBRIS COVERS FLORIDA CITY— DAMAGE GREAT

HURRICANE EVERY BIT AS BAD AS 1926, SAYS OFFICER

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 5 (AP)—In bright sunlight, Miami's streets were littered with wreckage left by a hurricane that caused four deaths and heavy damage—thankful the post-season blow was no worse.

The hurricane, bred off Bermuda, lashed Miami yesterday with winds unofficially recorded at 100 miles and blew across extreme southern Florida into the Gulf of Mexico. The Jacksonville weather bureau advised at 9:30 a. m., EST, that the storm was central about 85 miles west northwest of Key West with shifting gales and winds of near hurricane force over southern Florida. Its rate of movement was diminished, indicating a possible change in direction.

The toll in Miami: Four known dead, five reported missing, 124 persons given hospital treatment for injuries and property damage over greater Miami area estimated between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000.

The toll elsewhere: Property damage set at $200,000 in Hollywood, just north of Miami, and nine injured; much damage in Little Dania, where several were hurt; considerable loss in Fort Lauderdale and other nearby communities; estimated $500,000 damage to citrus fruit and $50,000 to tomato crop in Redlands district. Nassau reported five fishing shacks missing.

The situation today: Truckloads of workmen, hundreds of them heretofore on unemployment rolls, hurried into the hardest hit areas to clear away the wreckage in preparation for expected winter. A survey of the beach showed winter homes of the rich escaped heavy damage. Several small frame buildings capsized on the south end. Bad As 1926. Still off shore was an unidentified

Workers in Red Cross Drive to Meet Tomorrow

Civic club and other workers who have been appointed for duty in the annual Red Cross roll call here will meet at the B. C. D. rooms in the city hall tomorrow at 9 a. m. to receive preliminary instructions.

Plans for the drive have been made by Tom Aldridge, chairman, and Allen Hodges and Oscar Zappe, his chief assistants.

A representative of the St. Louis southwestern office of the American Red Cross will arrive today and remain until after the British centennial exposition at Dallas and other major celebrations throughout the state.

THE WAR AT A GLANCE

(By The Associated Press.)

On the front: The Italian offensive in northern Ethiopia against Makale was halted by rain, mud and need for road-building. Before the offensive was halted, Mussolini's forces occupied the heights about Agula, 15 miles north of Makale.

The advance has been unresisted. ROME—Italian officials foresaw little possibility of concrete peace proposals until after the British parliamentary elections. Nov. 14, Italy went on a "war diet" to conserve food and resources.

GENEVA—A sub-committee of the League of Nations sanctions staff considered a resolution adding iron, coal, steel and petroleum to key products, in order to strengthen the sanctions campaign against Italy. The resolution would have to be finally approved by the full sanctions staff.

I Saw . . .

EDITORIAL

PAY YOUR POLL TAX

Today is not too early to be thinking of next year's elections. In 1936 the people of the United States will make their choice of public officials from constable to president, and in Texas this choice will be expressed only by those who have paid their poll taxes or who have exemption certificates.

The young men's division of the chamber of commerce now is conducting its annual poll tax payment drive. By stressing the need for a large vote to express accurately the will of the people, this organization is performing a fine service in constructive citizenship. The fact that Harris county has had as many as 80,000 qualified voters in recent years is due largely to the efforts of the young men. During 1936 the qualified voting strength of the county should be near the 100,000 mark.

Possibly never before in the history of this nation have the people been more conscious of their governmental system. During the past few years government has occupied a large place in the public eye. The federal administration, once little more than a symbol in the lives of average people, has become a daily topic of conversation in homes throughout the nation.

Few there are who have not formed an opinion on the New Deal, relief expenditures and the federal constitution. These will be vital issues in next year's campaign. But the concrete evidence of these opinions will be the election day results. Only the opinions of these citizens who have qualified themselves to vote will count for anything in the future course of this republic.

Before purses begin to feel the strain of Christmas buying, it would be well for all good citizens to visit the court house and pay poll taxes.—Houston Post.

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—If the late Senator Huey Long—who was a strong admirer of the late Bronson Cutting—were still alive, the next session of Congress might be an uncomfortable one for Senator Dennis Chavez of New Mexico.

As a matter of fact, the position of Senator Chavez isn't any too comfortable right now. For a senator from New Mexico must have many and frequent contacts with the Department of Interior and it is to his advantage that the relations be amiable. The inside story is this: Chavez was the Democratic ex-congressman who contested the election of Cutting and was appointed to the seat after Cutting had been killed in an airplane crash. Secretary Ickes subsequently hired Edward F. Puryear, Cutting's secretary as his director of personnel. Much to the disgust of Chavez.

Very soon Chavez was appearing at the White House and the Democratic National Committee with charges that Puryear was secretly active in Republican politics. He demanded Puryear's dismissal.

That put the valiant Ickes, who likes Puryear and his ability, more than ever on the spot.

Chavez submitted as evidence a purported contract in which the Republican National Committee was represented as offering one William Wightman Phillips $100 a week for political publicity work in New Mexico and other southwestern states. Accompanying this was a typewritten memorandum in which the writer said if the terms weren't satisfactory to Phillips, "Mrs. C." (which Chavez insisted meant Cutting's mother) probably would be glad to contribute something extra.

The memo was signed by typewriter with the letter "P", (which Chavez insisted was the signature of Puryear).

Ickes assigned Louis Glavis, the New Deal's most celebrated investigator, to the case. Glavis assumed he had a frameup on his hands. Neither "contract" nor memo, he found, could have come from any typewriter in or near Puryear's office.

Government paper had been used, but Bureau of Standards experts said it wasn't any of the types used in Interior. Republican National Committee officials snorted at the documents as a "fake."

Then the Glavis sleuths located Phillips. By a remarkable coincidence it turned out that Phillips was living in the apartment occupied by Joseph Martinez, secretary to Senator Chavez, and at times by Dennis Chavez, Jr. The home of Mr. Phillips was, in fact, a sort of hangout for the Chavez clan.

Phillips was taken aside. He said he didn't know Puryear and had never seen him. He had had a couple of telephone calls from a man who said he was Puryear. He had found the "contract" in his mailbox and had shown it to Martinez, who urged him to show it to Senator Chavez, which he did.

Another man who had been mentioned in the document as a possible candidate for a Republican National Committee job turned out to be a taxi driver.

And on the basis of a report from Glavis, Ickes completely exonerated his director of personnel.

"New Yorkers startled by sight of shooting star." And in this era of G-Men pictures, too.

CAPITOL CHATTER

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS

AUSTIN, Nov. 4 (P)—Governor Allred likes to sit high in the stands at football games but unfortunately, he thinks, frequently has to occupy a box.

It was so at the recent Rice-Texas game, which the governor can in the company of Jesse Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

From the upper seats plays usually can be followed better. Press correspondents in most stadiums have a box on the 50-yard line on the top rows.

Senator Jim Neal of Miranda City, terming himself "an old cow-puncher" who had spent 29 years "wearing spurs and chaps and riding in a saddle," was a bit flustered about his election as president pro tempore of the senate at the end of the last special session.

He told the story of a boy who climbed a tree to dive into "the old swimmer's hole" and fell into the water unexpectedly. The boy came up fighting the water and yelling, "If I don't get air I'll bust."

"That's how I feel now," Neal said.

Senators lay aside antagonisms of legislative battles at the close of each session when they elected a president pro tem. It is one thing on which the ballot is unanimous.

Once senators went through the formality of passing a hat to collect secret ballots but even then they were not counted. More recently that display has been omitted.

At the end of the first session this fall, Lieut.-Gov. Walter Woodul named a committee to collect the ballots and count the vote but before the committeemen could rise from their seats he announced the vote, 29 ayes and no noes, two of the 31 senators having been excused.

On Friday before the Rice-Texas game—the biggest game in Austin this season—the senate was having difficulty adjourning. Various motions were made to adjourn and recess.

Finally Senator Roy Sanderford of Belton solemnly moved that the senate adjourn until 12:30 p. m. Saturday. There was astonished silence for a moment, and then a roar of "noes" sent the proposition into the discard.

It was the hour for the football game to begin.

HOUSE REVERSES PREVIOUS STANDS ON LIQUOR IN BALLOTING

BY-THE-DRINK PLAN FAVORED IN CLOSE VOTE

REPRESENTATIVES TURN FROM DRY TO WET AT AUSTIN

AUSTIN, Nov. 5 (AP)—Liquor regulation and taxes to pay old age pensions held attention today in the legislature.

Lines were drawn in both houses for a finish fight on the liquor question while the senate state affairs committee worked against time to get the house omnibus tax bill out of committee for floor action tomorrow.

The house yesterday reversed previous stands on liquor control bills and approved by a four vote margin, 64 to 60, wet bloc proposal to permit sale of distilled liquor in mixed drinks if sanctioned by a local option election.

Wets were aided by slight deflections from the dry ranks, led by Rep. A. T. McKinney of Huntsville and asserted wet areas intended to have sale by the drink regardless of the law and said he was "tired of going through the mockery of passing laws that cannot be enforced."

Undaunted by the reversal, drys reformed their ranks and rallied behind a proposal by Rep. J. Bryan Bradbury of Abilene to limit sales to unbroken packages by licensed dealers. The bill was offered as a substitute for the wet bloc scheme.

Wet leaders, elated over their victory, worked to maintain their slight advantage, recognizing a change of a few votes would shift the tide against them.

Pending for senate debate was a bill similar to the one sponsored by the house wets. Drys said they would seek to substitute sale in unbroken packages. The senate was regarded as being against sale by the drink.

Prohibition chiefs in the house protested the wet plan vehemently, charged it violated the constitutional prohibition against return of the open saloon and asserted it would make saloons of every restaurant, cafe, and hotel. Repeal leaders countered with the assertion it was "the only real compromise offered for sane regulation."

Under the political subdivisions would determine by local option election the type and manner of sale of distilled liquors. Mixed drinks would be limited to 25 per cent alcoholic content by volume and sale of undiluted spirits would be prohibited. Only recognized restaurants, cafes and hotels would be licensed for drink sales.

The bill also provided for sale in unbroken packages by retailers licensed by the state.

WMU STARTS WEEK OF PRAYER WITH ALL-DAY MEETINGS

ALL CIRCLES HOLD LUNCHEONS AND PROGRAMS

SPECIAL OFFERING IS MADE FOR MISSION PROJECTS

All-day meetings of First Methodist Missionary circles were conducted yesterday in observance of a week of prayer. Similar programs were held by all groups; covered dish luncheons were served, and special offerings were made for designated mission projects.

Mrs. W. Purviance was hostess to circle one at her home. The morning program opened with silent prayer to soft piano music. Mrs. Joe Shelton was leader for the topic, The Contagion of Love, with Mmes. M. E. DeTar, Frank Shotwell, John Hessey, and Walter Daugherty assisting her.

A talk on work of a community house in Birmingham was given by Mrs. Purviance before the benediction by Mrs. DeTar. Lunch was served to 14 members.

The afternoon program opened with the topic, Immorality of Service, discussed by Mrs. Shotwell and Mrs. Purviance. Mrs. Hessey read a dialogue, Helpers One of Another. A playlet, When the Walls Fell, had in its cast Mmes. Shelton, DeTar, Harris, J. C. McWilliams, Cargile, Grissom, Mack, Shotwell, and Purviance.

Circle two met in the home of Mrs. George Walstad with Mrs. Carroll Montgomery as leader for the morning program. Mmes. A. L. Patrick, A. W. Babione, W. R. Ewing, W. J. Foster, and C. W. Naylor participated in the discussions.

Fifteen members were present for the buffet style luncheon Mrs. Bob McCoy was leader in the afternoon, when the playlet was presented. Mrs. R. B. Fisher directed, and the cast included Mmes. Babione, Clyde Price, Foster, S. C. Evans, Patrick, Ewing, McCoy, and Montgomery.

Mrs. Fred Cullum's home was the meeting place for circle four. Mrs. C. W. Foote was in charge of the devotional topic, The Contagion of Love, and was assisted by Mrs. J. M. Turner. She and Mrs. Gaston Foote sang a duet, Just a Whispered Prayer.

Mrs. S. A. Hurst spoke of work of the Enslay house, and Mrs. Gaston Foote reviewed the play. When the walls fell, before luncheon. She conducted the afternoon devotional preceding a talk by Mrs. B. C. Wallace on The Immortality of Service. A playlet depicting work of the Laura Haygood school.

Fourteen members and a guest, Mrs. Wallace, were present. It was announced that an all-day meeting will be on Wednesday of next week. Instead of Monday, Armistice day it will be at the home of Mrs. Gaston Foote, to complete study of a home mission book.

Present were Mmes. Edendorough, Grimes, Gares, Freeman, Castleberry, Pipes, Tubbs, Stubblefield, and Kuykendall of White Deer; Mrs. J. C. Jackson of Panhandle; Mrs. Ted White and Mrs. Skeet Roberts of Pampa.

Death Dims Nuptial Splendor for Royal Couple

Because of her father's death, the elaborate plans for the wedding on November 6 of Lady Alice Montagu-Douglas-Scott to the Duke of Gloucester, third son of King George and Queen Mary, have been drastically curtailed. Instead of being married in Westminster Abbey amid splendor that marked the nuptials of the Duke and Duchess of Kent last year, the young couple were to say their vows before a company of about 100 guests in the royal family's private chapel at Buckingham Palace in London. Lady Alice and the Duke of Gloucester are shown in recent characteristic poses.

ROSE BOWL IS AIM OF MATTY BELL'S TEAM

MUSTANGS WILL PLAY IN LOS ANGELES MONDAY

By The Associated Press. Southwest conference events prepared today for their next volley of football thunder—a scattering shot that will last from Friday night through Monday and extend from New Orleans to Los Angeles.

The undefeated Southern Methodist Mustangs, admittedly gunning for Rose Bowl recognition, drilled for their Monday's encounter with the University of California at Los Angeles without the services of J. C. (Iron Man) Wetsel, 185-pound star guard. Coach Matty Bell said Wetsel received a twisted knee in the battle with Texas last week that would keep him out of the Mustangs' lineup in their big intersection struggle. Hard work was written on the Mustangs' program beginning today and ending Thursday just before they entrain for the west coast.

The Texas Christian Horned Frogs, only other undefeated squad in the conference, started work on offensive tactics to be used Friday night at New Orleans against Loyola. Coach Dutch Meyer said there was plenty of hard work in store for the Frogs before they leave tomorrow for New Orleans.

Defeated in two conference contests in as many weeks, the Texas Longhorns drilled in charging and blocking in preparation for their game with Baylor at Waco Saturday. The Bears put in the defeated class by Texas Christian, called into snappy practice which included the polishing of their pass defense. Coach Morley Jennings said every man on the squad would be ready for use against the Longhorns in Baylor's final home game.

The tactics for another conference game were in the making at Arkansas and Rice. Coach Fred Thomson of Arkansas said his Razorbacks would play their usual open game in the Houston contest. The Rice Owls were delayed in getting to work by a long trip home from Washington, D. C. where they watched George Washington last week. Although no game was on at the Texas A. & M. program this week, Coach Homer Norton said the Aggies would be put through hard offensive scrimmages and that all his players emerged unharmed from the Arkansas game except Wayne Manning, halfback who suffered a knee injury.

FISHING STORY

BANDERA, Nov. 5 (P)—S. C. Hallmark cites Tom Davis as spectator to this fishing episode. While the two were trolling near Goat Hill, in Medina lake, Hallmark felt a strong strike. He reeled in two large bass, one weighing 5 pounds and the other 5 1/2 pounds. They were hooked on opposite sides of the same plug. They evidently had struck simultaneously as Hallmark says he felt only one tug.

A Notre Dame Foray That Miscarried

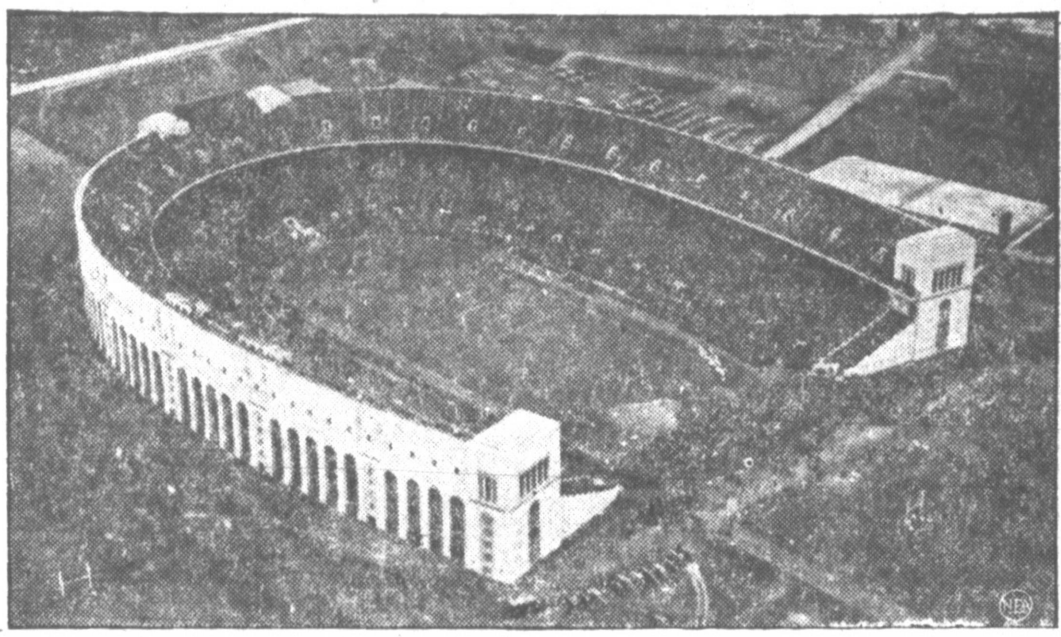

Thrill-packed from the opening kickoff, Ohio State's defeat, 18-13, by an infuriated Notre Dame eleven that had trailed into the last quarter, went a long way toward deciding 1935's gridiron championship. Here Francis Layden, Notre Dame right half, is seen in the lower right hand corner, leaving the pass that was turned into Ohio's first touchdown in the opening quarter.

Frank Antenucci, Buckeye fullback, intercepted the pass and flipped a lateral to right half Frank Boucher who ran 65 yards for the touchdown.

Where 1935 Grid Title May Have Been Decided

All the thrills that football has to offer were dealt the 80,000 frenzied fans who packed Ohio State's stadium at Columbus, as shown in this airview, to watch Notre Dame's fighting Irish defeat the Buckeyes, 18-13 in a brilliant last-quarter attack. Ohio State, a seven to five favorite, was leading 13-0 when the Irish unloosed their withering attack.

Class B Teams To Command Attention In Friday Games

McLean To Be Host To LeFors Grid Eleven

Class B football will hold attention in this section Friday when two outstanding games will be played. One of the games will be a section 1 of District 2B when White Deer invades Pampa Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The other game will be in District 3B when LeFors goes to McLean for a game Friday night at 8 o'clock.

Several other important tilts are on schedule for Friday and Monday, Armistice day. They, however, will have little or no effect on the district races which are nearing the close.

Only LeFors and Clarendon stand in the way of McLean reaching the final game with the Shamrock Irishmen undefeated. Shamrock in turn has only to hurdle Wellington. LeFors is considered to be the team to atop the rush of the Tigers of Coach Bill Allen.

LeFors showed a new type of offense, its first real threat of the season, last week in defeating Moebette, 45 to 0. Coach Bill Bronson plans to work his charges at top speed this week in an effort to build up a scoring punch and at the same time stop Stratton, McLean's big fullback.

The Tigers are depending on Stratton and his running mate, Cunningham, at halfback. Besides pounding the line, Stratton does all the punting and passing. He is considered one of the outstanding place-kickers in the territory. Two weeks ago on the kickoff he placed the ball between the uprights. The weak spot for the Tigers will be at end where Johnson has been lost through injuries. Finley is making great showing at the position and with more experience is likely to develop into a great end.

LeFors uncovered a new ball later Friday night when Pinkerton, 125-pound halfback, gave a great exhibition of speed with a nice change of pace. Morgan, Hall, and Twigg will do most of the LeFors ball carrying, with Moore blocking. The line will be outwitted.

'KEY' TO UCLA GRID MYSTERY MISSING, DESPITE OPINIONS

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Nov. 5 (AP)—The "key" to the mystery about the eligibility and identity of a star fullback at the University of California at Los Angeles was missing today.

The missing "key" was enrolled as R. F. (Ted) Key, but R. B. Norman, Amarillo, Texas, high school principal, said he actually was Francis Key, former Texas Mines grid star, playing at U. C. L. A. under his brother's name and with his high school credentials.

Dean Earl J. Miller, U. C. L. A. faculty representative, was en route to El Paso and Amarillo for first hand information concerning the football-playing Key brothers, involved in a situation as baffling as the famed mystery play, "The Seven Keys to Baldpate."

U. C. L. A. officials said late yesterday Key would make the trip to Texas to help Dean Miller get at the truth of the matter but Key had not been found when his train left Friday afternoon.

Two other conference games will be played in District 3B on Friday night. Memphis will be at Clarendon. The other game will be played Armistice Day with Wellington at Shamrock.

The writer of conflicting opinion brought no comment from an R. F. Key in Amarillo, quoted by Norman as his source of the information which caused Dean Miller to withhold Key from the California game Saturday.

All efforts to reach R. F. Key at Amarillo failed. A messenger from whom he accepted a telegram said Key told him he would see no one until today.

W. W. Cook, now in the public school system of Los Angeles, identified the picture of Ted Key as the youth he had in an English class when he was going to school at Vernon, Texas, thereby corroborating the statements of the youth and his father, James Key, and his sister, that he is R. F. Key.

Coach Matty Bell of Southern Methodist university, the next grid opponent of U. C. L. A., said at Dallas, he was "thoroughly convinced" Ted Key is the same Shorty (Francis Clois) Key, former football player at Texas School of Mines.

Coach Al Baggett, of West Texas Teachers college, said a newspaper picture of Ted Key, the U. C. L. A. star, resembled Clois Key, whom he coached at Vernon high school prior to 1928.

WALLACE SEEKS WAYS TO STOP A LAND BOOM

Warns Against Farm Prices Getting Out of Line

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 (AP)—Dwelling on the dangers he sees in land speculation, Secretary Wallace warned farmers again today against letting farm real estate prices get "out of line."

"Anything which causes farm land values to get out of line with the earning power of the land is bad for the farmers and bad for nearly everyone else" the agriculture secretary said in an interview.

"The low interest rates, the AAA activities, and the generally easy money now might readily result in a lot of money flowing into farm real estate."

He said farmers should be thinking about ways to prevent more land speculation like that of 1919 and 1920, and he urged them not to let land-buying activities of "city folk" excite them.

Referring to an address he made last week in which he suggested that possibly farm people should think about the desirability of some measure such as an amendment to the income tax law to take profit out of farm speculation, Wallace said he had not discussed such an amendment with attorneys.

"I don't know that it could be done, legally," Wallace said, "but I believe thought might as well be given to some method of preventing another disastrous boom."

Last week Wallace said people might think about a law to put into the federal treasury "virtually all profits from land bought between 1920 and 1926, and sold between 1936 and 1945."

"City folk" have shown an unusual interest in farm land in the past year, Wallace said, and "there might be a lot of city people buying land who didn't intend to farm it."

"They may feel that farm land is far below its true value and that the price may go up. Some may feel that land purchase is a hedge against inflation. Some may be buying in pure speculation."

"We don't like to see city folk take action that would distort the judgment of farmers."

Braddock Says He Will Whip Brown Bomber

SEATTLE, Nov. 5 (AP)—James J. Braddock, reigning champion of the heavyweights, came forth today with a prediction of a million dollar gate for his expected fight with Joe Louis, and then without drawing a breath, promised to beat the Brown Bomber from Detroit.

Bitingly summing up the shortcomings of other possible adversaries, Braddock declared Louis was the only opponent in whom he was interested.

"There is no one now that means a great deal outside of Joe," Braddock said. "I figure that a match between Louis and me will draw better than a million. I'm picking the toughest opponent for the biggest money.

"Louis is quite a fighter, but I really think I can beat him. Louis really hasn't been tested yet and I feel sure that I can take him."

Braddock will box Jack McCarthy of Boston in an exhibition here tonight.

PROBLEMS OF OIL INDUSTRY ARE DISCUSSED

WIRT FRANKLIN MAY NOT STAND FOR REELECTION

DALLAS, Nov. 5 (AP)—Delegates to the convention of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, were ready to hear committee reports today as the board prepared to elect officers.

Problems of the oil industry, including a predicted danger of a shortage, were discussed by various speakers.

Walter A. Jones of Pittsburgh, Pa., read a statement which he said President Roosevelt had approved. It read in part:

"Since expiration of the NRA, efforts have been made by the constructive elements in the oil industry to hold the ground gained under the NRA.

"If the oil industry can make effective a program to accomplish these purposes without special federal legislation, well and good, if the oil industry cannot make such a program effective without the assistance of the federal government, the administration may be obliged

C. E. Buchner, executive manager, reported that the I. P. A. membership had doubled in the past two years. N. T. Gilbert, treasurer, reported the association was about $24,000 in arrears in salaries.

William McCraw, Texas attorney general, declared there had been "much too much" politics in the oil industry.

Nathan Adams, Dallas banker, read a telegram to the convention from Harold Ickes, secretary of the interior and head of the petroleum administration. It was sent to Franklin and said:

"It is my hope that the Independent Petroleum Association will give its attention to the conservation problems which are of vital importance to the petroleum industry as well as the national welfare and defense. These problems must not be lost sight of now that the nation may feel it is on the road to economic recovery and the oil business enjoying a record demand."

The closing banquet was set for tonight with Governor E. W. Marshall of Oklahoma as a principal speaker.

Unemployment and other phases of economic distress, together with the reduced federal appropriations for veteran relief, stress the importance of the 1935 buddy poppy distribution, Chairman B. W. Rose said today.

"In spite of the recent federal liberalization of veterans' benefits, thousands of disabled and needy veterans throughout the country remain unprovided for, B. W. Rose said. "The first principle of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. is the care of our unfortunate comrades and their families. The buddy poppy sale is our annual invitation to the patriotic citizens of America to join with us in this practical tribute to America's war veterans."

Mrs. A. L. Burge, Mrs. Gertrude Arnold, and Mrs. C. A. Clark motored to Cordell, Hobart, and Besie, Okla., today visiting relatives and friends. They will return tomorrow.

EERIE TALE TO BE UNFOLDED AS 'DRACULA' IS STAGED HERE THURSDAY AND FRIDAY NIGHTS

Thrills To Be Many As Vampires and Ghosts Roam

Students and citizens will experience real thrills Thursday and Friday nights when students of the speech department present the great vampire play, "Dracula" in the city auditorium.

This play will undoubtedly make other so-called thrillers seem like bedtime stories in comparison. People planning to attend are advised in advance to consult a specialist and have their hearts examined before subjecting them to the fearful thrills and shocks that "Dracula" holds in store for them.

Persons who enjoy a rapid-fire succession of thrills, chills, shudders, and surprises cannot afford to miss the performance of the blood-curdling tale.

Audiences who have seen this play elsewhere have found the two hours of horror, excitement, surprises, and over-whelming terror hair-raising and highly entertaining.

The cast is as follows: Dr. Seward, an old English doctor—Howard Zimmerman.

Dr. Van Helsing, a Dutch specialist on diseases—John Martin.

Lucy Seward, a beautiful young girl who is in Dracula's power—Maxine Wheatly.

John Harker, Lucy's lover—Bill Parks.

Renfield, a fly-eating maniac—Mickey Ledrick.

Wells, the English maid—Mary Adams.

Butterworth, the maniac's attendant—Jim Arndt.

The play will begin promptly at 9:30 p. m. Tickets are twenty-five and thirty-five cents for students and adults respectively, and are being sold by members of the band and the speech department.

Proceeds will go toward purchasing new band uniforms.

Student Morale Is Discussed in School Assembly

Presentation of the freshman amateur program was postponed last Tuesday in favor of discussions by school officials of various matters pertaining to student morale and the attitude of students toward the activities in which they engage.

Supt. E. B. Fisher, Principal L. L. Sone, and E. N. Dennard all took on their respective parts in discussing the idea that students should enter whole-heartedly into their activities and that the student body should combine in giving the strongest support to school affairs.

Mrs. Hol Wagner made announcements in regard to the annual sale and stressed the fact that yearbook purchases should be made at once in order to insure publication and expansion of the annual over last year's edition.

Ben Gull introduced characters in "Dracula," which will be staged here this week. Identity of the student playing the title role was still kept secret.

Freshmen will stage their program tomorrow. An all-school program will be presented next week, any student being eligible to participate. Finals in the contest will take place the following week. Winners of the five previous programs entering into the competition.

Teachers Enjoy Visit at Baylor

Miss Kathleen Milam, in company with Miss McFarlin and Miss Allene Pickens, a teacher in the Grandview school, attended Baylor university homecoming in Waco last week-end.

All three teachers are graduates of Baylor; Miss McFarlin being a 1929 graduate, Miss Pickens, 1925, and Miss Milam a graduate of 1934.

The class of '34 had its reunion this year.

The spirit of the homecoming is freshman day at Baylor. There is a unique tradition that the freshmen must stay up all night to guard the campus from evil spirits.

Bonfires are lighted and the under-classes have the campus to themselves. They make use of their freedom, usually leaving things in a topsy-turvy state.

Miss Milam said that when the teachers arrived in Waco Friday night the freshmen were "going strong."

Home Rooms Are Being Organized

Organization of several home rooms has taken place since changes were made last week in the home room plan used here.

Other rooms will be organized this week.

For Mrs. Massa's home room the following officers have been chosen: Pauline Barrett, president; Ruby Herring, vice president; Dorothy Burton, secretary.

Miss Milam's home room students have elected Frances Harper as their president. Melba Williams is vice president and Katherine White secretary.

In Miss Brannon's home room Clyde New is president, Billy Morrow vice president, and Virginia Inman secretary.

Students to Have Holiday Monday

The staff of the Little Harvester regrettably makes announcement of a fact which will doubtless bring sorrow to many young hearts that beat only for scholastic joys.

There will be no school Monday.

Classes will be dismissed for that day, and students will join townspeople in the observance of Armistice day.

In addition the exercises which will feature the day, students and Pampanians in general will find many ways in which to take advantage of the holiday.

Classes will be resumed Tuesday morning.

ANNUALS MUST BE SOLD SOON, SPONSOR SAYS

Goal of 400 Must Be Reached to Assure Larger Book

"Unless sales pick up this week, it will be impossible to have an annual this year," said Mrs. Hol Wagner, annual sponsor, yesterday.

To date there have been only ten annuals purchased. At least 400 books must be sold to insure a big year annual that the one put out last year. Many improvements over the old book have been planned by the staff.

Tags with the words, "I Bought an Annual" on them were printed last week and given to persons who have purchased books.

Tags will be given to students who show annual purchase receipts to Mr. Wagner in room 205.

Posters have been put up in the halls to remind the students of the campaign.

The sale must reach 350 copies before work on the annual can begin. If 400 are sold, the book will be enlarged.

Seniors will be unusually interested in the annual this year, because, in addition to individual pictures, a record of all their activities during the four years will be included.

Change will be possible only if 400 books are sold.

Merchants and business men are being urged to help in the campaign. A number of them bought books last year and it is hoped that their response will be as great, if not greater, this year.

Senior pictures must be made soon to keep the low price made by Wirsching studio, according to Mrs. Wagner. Only 15 pictures have been made. Thanksgiving day is the deadline set.

Students may buy annuals from Mrs. Wagner, Miss Virginia Mason at the bookstore, or any member of the annual staff: Tom Rose, Velda Rickards, Jim Arndt, Betty Boyd, Alta Marie Terrell, Dewey Palminteri, and Mildred Tolbert.

Science Classes Study Gas Plant

Chemistry classes taught by Mrs. Frances Alexander went to the Car Gray gasoline plant Thursday morning to study the processes involved in making gasoline.

Three men explained the processes to the class and showed the students through the plant.

The absorbers, the high pressure vent tanks, and the huge cooling towers were of interest to the students. An object of special interest was the laboratory maintained at the plant.

Club Members Are Guests at Luncheon

A luncheon was served in the high school cafeteria to thirty 4-H club boys Saturday. The affair was given for the boys by the chamber of commerce.

George Briggs was in charge. The boys were taken to a picture show after the luncheon.

HARVESTERS RETURN TO HOME GRID FOR CONFERENCE CLASH WITH BORGER TEAM SATURDAY

Weather Causes P-TA to Abandon Barbecue Plans

School and Parent-Teacher association officials yesterday decided that the all-school barbecue which was originally scheduled for Oct. 24 should be indefinitely postponed.

Weather conditions caused postponement of the affair at the scheduled date. Continued uncertainty of weather conditions have caused the school to abandon the barbecue plans for having the outing.

It is probable that an outing of some sort will be planned later in the school year.

Mrs. R. W. Lane, president of the High School P-T-A, announced yesterday that the annual meeting of the organization will be held the first Tuesday in December.

PERSONNEL OF PAPER'S STAFF IS DETERMINED

Journalists Select Little Harvester Editors

Betty Horner, senior, was elected editor-in-chief of the Little Harvester at a staff meeting Thursday afternoon.

Hampton Stennis and Pauline Stewart, juniors, were elected managing editor and copy editor respectively.

Assistant editors were chosen to be: Carl Camp, Mildred Cole, Fred McGahey, Louise Roseberry, Alta Marie Terrell, and Margaret Scott.

Senior pictures must be made soon to keep the low price made by Wirsching studio, according to Mrs. Wagner. Only 15 pictures have been made. Thanksgiving day is the deadline set.

Delmer Ashworth, teacher of the journalism class, is faculty adviser to the group.

Gorillas to Play Stinnett Friday

After two weeks of hard practice since their last defeat, the Gorillas will strive to break into the win column Tuesday night when they play Stinnett.

The game will be played at Stinnett at 7:30 p. m.

Entertainment Is Given Gym Class

Many girls attended the party given by the first-hour gym girls Tuesday night at 7:30.

The girls were divided into groups of six and each dramatized the story of Robert the Bruce and Lucille Brewer entertained with tap dances.

Laverne Smalling played the piano and accompanied guitar numbers.

C. P. BUCKLER, SECRETARY OF BOARD 11 YEARS, IS PIONEER IN PANHANDLE DEVELOPMENT

C. P. Buckler, for eleven years secretary of the Pampa board of education, is one of the men who have been outstanding in the development of the Panhandle.

For a quarter of a century, Mr. Buckler has been active in Gray and Carson counties. He has found time to engage in the promotion of many civic and fraternal interests.

A native of England, Mr. Buckler was born in Surrey, June 20, 1868. He was educated in private schools in England. He came to America after completion of his education, coming directly to Pampa, Mr. Buckler and his wife, formerly Miss Ann Theus, have made their home in Pampa ever since their marriage.

Mr. Buckler has assisted in managing and is now manager of the White Deer Land company, an organization which owned 631,000

Lost: Cuthbert, a small prairie rattlesnake. He disappeared somewhere near the vicinity of Mr. Gull's speech room. If you find him crawling over your feet, please return him to Mrs. Alexander.

Have you seen Philbert, the beautiful water-dog in the chemistry room? She's a hon!

Jean Gillespie: "I know a word that is always pronounced wrong." "Martha Martin: 'What is it?'" "Jean: 'Wrong.'"

Willard Roff's lack of sex-appeal is due no doubt, to the daring hat he wears.

Frances Coffee has a new way of spelling her name. It is now "Phraneyse Kauphee."

Little Audrey has been replaced by a new personality, known as "Little Dulce."

A certain miss seems to be searching among the Harvesters for the man of her heart. She has already tried a manager and a quarterback, and now the man of the hour is a speedy halfback.

The days of chivalry (or something) are on entirely gone. "Moose" Hartman presented Miss Brannon with a royal apple last week.

The latest romance is that of Len and Leona. Cut huh?

Luella Bell says that she has a new flame. He lives in Lubbock and is the "handsomest thing."

Pauline Gregory is known to her mother as 'Becky' Pauline. You could have fooled us!

Irene Pooler's name was called at bank right Thursday, but she was two minutes late.

Ruth Gray is wearing the pin of some high school boy, but she won't tell whose it is.

Aaron Hunter is being wearing a black eye. He said a door hit him in the face. We wonder who slammed the door.

Jackie Brage and Mary Emma Finley are bashful.

Red Fanning has rhythm.

Some expressions heard on the pep squad buses on their trips: "I wish I had a Pampa Harvester" (with a sigh of course).

"Oh, I don't know. Stokes has the most aristocratic nose."

"Plainview ought to furnish guides to show the way through the wilderness surrounding the bleachers on which the pep squad sat."

The Plainview fire department answered a false alarm Friday. It was only Bert Simmons smoking his pipe.

The cast of "Dracula" enjoyed a thrilling battle between black widow spider and a centipede at practice last week. The centipede was killed by the spider in the end.

Believe it or not, Jack Walstad has a red girl. He met her in Plainview and liked her so well that he took a bath and combed his hair before going to see her.

BUTCHER SHOPS CLOSE FOR DAY ALL OVER ITALY

No Meat To Be Sold On Tuesday and Wednesday

BY GEORGE JORDAN, Associated Press Foreign Staff. ROME, Nov. 5. (AP)—Papist Italy put into effect today self-imposed economies to combat League of Nations sanctions.

Butcher shops closed for the day. Public dining was limited to but a single meal or fish supper in a meat.

Despite these sacrifices, undertaken to nullify League of Nations punitive measures and to permit the campaign of conquest to continue in Ethiopia, an authoritative source said Italy had not wavered from its intention to adhere to the league unless its position at Geneva becomes absolutely impossible.

Although Italy has protested against the forthcoming economic sanctions, cutting off purchases from Italy by league states and shipment to Italy of key products, this source said Italy intends to enforce these measures.

Unless the sanctions progress in a military measure, it was said officially, Italy was unlikely to alter this policy.

Italy generally accepted the new restrictions without complaining.

The average diet throughout the kingdom did not include, even before the self-imposed "sanctions," both fish and meat at the same meal.

Spaghetti and noodles, the staples for the middle and lower class families, were unaffected by the diet.

Proprietors of boarding houses, hotels, restaurants and railroad diners informed in a circular that they must adjust themselves to the restricted meals.

At a meeting of the freshman class Wednesday morning, Noble Lane was appointed head of a program committee to plan the freshman amateur hour which will be staged in assembly tomorrow morning.

A freshman party to be held soon was discussed, but definite planning of the affair was postponed until after disposal of the assembly program.

Gym Classes Study Disease Prevention

In connection with the anti-tuberculosis drive now being conducted in Pampa, Miss Kathleen Milam is devoting one period each week, in her physical education classes, to the study of the disease.

The point is stressed that everyone should know as much as possible about symptoms of the disease and methods of preventing its spread. Emphasis is placed on the susceptibility of the average person to the dread disease. Girls not required to take part in the gymnasium course are being urged to join in the study.

THE DOCTORS ARE RIGHT

Women should take only liquid laxatives. Many believe any laxative they might take only makes constipation worse. And that isn't true. Do what doctors do to relieve this condition. Doctors use liquid laxatives, and keep reducing the dose until the bowels need no help at all.

Reduced dosage is the secret of aiding Nature in restoring regularity. You must use a little less laxative each time, and that's why your laxative should be in liquid form. A liquid dose can be regulated to the drop.

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara—both natural laxatives that form no habit even with children. Syrup Pepsin is the nicest tasting, nicest acting laxative you ever tried.

ANOTHER FIRELESS CALL

Another "fireless" call was answered by the fire department at 11:30 o'clock this morning. The truck was sent to 208 East Browning avenue where a cook stove had ignited the wall. The fire was out when the truck arrived.

It was the 14th consecutive alarm answered by the department where there was no property damage. The blaze this morning only scorched the paper behind the stove.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT AMONG FIRST TO RECOGNIZE TALENT AND APPEAL OF WILL ROGERS

Contribution to Fund Here Will be Taken by Bank And The NEWS.

President Theodore Roosevelt was among the first to realize the influence Will Rogers was to play in American life.

Albert D. Lasker, advertising genius, recalls an episode in the life of Rogers, indicating his honesty of opinion which was so definitely recognized by the American public.

Mr. Lasker says: "The first time that I had the pleasure and privilege of meeting Will Rogers was in the last days of October, 1918—just 17 years ago. I was at that time assistant to Mr. Will E. Hays, chairman of the national republican committee.

"Late one afternoon, ex-President Theodore Roosevelt phoned me to come to his office. Arriving there he took me aside and said: 'I have in one of my rooms a man to whom I wish to make you known. I met him a few days ago. He and I are living at the same hotel. He is an actor who is performing in a mid-night Ziegfeld show on the roof of the Amsterdam theater. His turn consists of a monologue wherein he makes comments on current events. The man has such a keen insight into the American panorama and the American people that I feel, in the course of time, he is bound to be a great factor in the political life of the nation.

"I have told him of the work you are doing. I want you to meet him, because his good-will can prove a great asset to our party."

"He then took me into the adjoining room, introduced me to Will Rogers and retired. "I told Mr. Rogers what Colonel Roosevelt had said. We had a half hour together and as he was leaving Mr. Rogers said: 'I shall be glad to have you consult with me at any time, but I want you to know that I consider that I must ever hold myself an unbiased commentator on public affairs. I cannot permit myself to let my reactions become prejudiced. Even though, personally, I am a democrat, whenever I consider it in the public weal, I will be glad to cooperate with you; but when it seems to me that your party should be lambasted, I will join with the democrats against you as quickly as I would criticize them, if I felt they had it coming."

"Will Rogers was little known then outside of certain circles in Manhattan. He was just coming. He had the courage in Colonel Roosevelt's office to candidly say what his attitude toward the republicans would be under certain circumstances. And he showed that he meant to keep himself unbiased in so far as a man could. To that resolve he adhered throughout his life.

"It was the honesty of his opinion that was one of the greatest holds he had on the American people. "What he said to me that day was not said in bombast, but with the modesty that always characterized him. At that time neither he nor I dreamed of the extent to which his voice would some day carry—but Colonel Roosevelt prophetically appraised it.

"Only a week after Will Rogers' death, I was dining with Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, the second, and when Will Rogers' name came up he said to me: 'I want to tell you an interesting thing. I spent the evening with Will Rogers a few weeks ago and in talking of my father he told me of an incident that happened when he first met you.' "Colonel Roosevelt then repeated to me, word for word, as coming from Will Rogers to him a few weeks before, what I have here recorded that Rogers said to me in 1918."

Millions now have an opportunity to contribute to the memory of Will Rogers. Famous friends have organized The Will Rogers Memorial commission. It is hoped every one who smiled with Rogers will come forward with a subscription. Take it or send it to your bank—or any bank—or use the accompanying coupon to send your subscription to this office. Every cent subscribed will be used for memorials to be selected by Henry Ford, Herbert Hoover, Alfred E. Smith, Will H.

Hays, Jesse H. Jones, Owen D. Young, Vice President John N. Garner and other men and women of national prestige and respect. The memorials will depend on the number of friends who contribute—but they will be used for charitable, educational and humanitarian purposes. There will be no cold shaft of marble to honor the memory of this warm, friendly man. They will be living, continuing memorials.

Local contributions will be received and sent in by THE NEWS and the First National bank. standpoint. Our prediction is that the Sandies will defeat Lubbock by a score of about 20-6. This places the Harvesters definitely in the under-dog position—a place, however, in which they will do better than any other. We are not ready to predict a three-day tie in the district, but we do face the future with the feeling that the Thanksgiving game will be the usual thriller. The Harvesters in any year have one or two exceptional games in their "systems." They have been slow to put out these games to date, hence they may quite possibly reach the heights against Amarillo. Yet nothing is more certain than that the Harvesters will have to play far above their best form to date to have the ghost of a chance for a Thanksgiving day victory. And it won't be the first time....

Coordinated blocking is the Harvesters' greatest need. That delicate sense of timing which mows down the opposition was demonstrated by the Ravens in the homecoming game at Canyon Saturday. An infant could have run for a touchdown on any of the plays, so definitely out of play were all members of the opposition. . . . Often one line backer, not blocked out, can make the entire play of the opposition look bad. And in the absence of such an opponent, a team may look invincible.

HOUSE

to do so. We want a law that decent citizens can observe and officers enforce."

After two hours of maneuvering the senate substituted a bill by Senator Clint Small of Amarillo for one by Senator Weaver Moore of Houston already before the chamber.

Small's bill, approved 15 to 9, defines a saloon as any place selling liquor by the drink and permits sales by private dealers in unbroken packages. Moore's bill would authorize sale of mixed drinks in bona fide eating places where voted in local option elections.

The senate also rejected a bill by Senator Will Martin of Hillsboro and others providing for a state monopoly over hard liquor sales. The vote was 15 to 11 with two present and not voting.

Subsequently, the senate adjourned until 8 o'clock tonight, and the action was interpreted as presaging an early showdown on the form of liquor regulation favored by the upper house.

House drys drove to a close victory over the wet bloc, obtaining adoption of 67 to 66 of a bill to limit sale of liquor to unbroken packages.

It was offered as a substitute for a wet proposal to permit sale of mixed drinks up to 25 per cent alcohol by volume in recognized restaurants and hotels.

The action represented a reversal of sentiment from yesterday when the house voted 64 to 60 for the sale-by-the-drink measure. Further tests of strength on liquor control legislation were seen as wet leaders sought to bolster their forces.

Dry leaders unleashed a stinging assault against the wet scheme, offered by Rep. R. Emmett Morse of Houston as "the only real compromise on the liquor problem." The wet plan would permit political subdivisions to determine by local option if drink sales should be permitted.

Tommy Hammond was to leave Pampa-Jarvis hospital this afternoon following a serious illness.

Philharmonic to Hold Food Sales

Benefit food sales will be held by the Philharmonic chorus to raise funds for carrying on its work, the group decided last night. The sales will be during Thanksgiving week. A bazaar will be held in mid-December.

It also announced that a vesper service would be held December 8. Miscellaneous Christmas numbers will be sung.

Foreign War Vets To Meet Tonight

An important meeting of the Pampa chapter veterans of Foreign Wars and the V. F. W. Auxiliary will be held tonight in the American Legion hut on West Foster avenue. Meeting time has been set for 8 o'clock.

The new V. F. W. post commander, D. A. Bartlett will be in charge of the meeting. He is expected to name members of the various post committees. Other important business is to be discussed and all members are urged to be present.

The post and auxiliary will conduct a sale of poppies on Saturday. Plans for the sale will be completed at the two meetings tonight.

How Women Get Two-Fold Benefit By Taking Cardui

According to reports from thousands who have taken it, Cardui helps women in a two-fold manner, affording prompt relief of certain functional pains and strengthening the system by increasing the appetite and improving digestion.

"I like Cardui because it helped me," writes Mrs. Obe C. Rafferty, of Campbellville, Ky. "I suffered pain and was nervous and needed strength. I have taken Cardui and have been benefited. I have taken it two or three times. I can tell, when I am taking Cardui, that I have a much better appetite."

Before the next monthly upset, begin taking Cardui. Of course, if it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician. (Adv.)
