Flies Cause Many Diseases, Says Cox

AUSTIN—Millions of flies help to cause the illness and death of thousands of children and adults each year in the United States. Hundreds of these casualties may be in the State of Texas this year if residents fail in their responsibility for developing the best possible sanitation measures in the area where they reside.

Typical diseases, summer complaint, and other intestinal diseases can be traced to the common housefly as the carrier of infection.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, speaking in this connection recently said, "Be sure that your windows and doors are tightly screened so that stray flies from a careless neighbor will not endanger your family. Be sure that flies are kept away from food, drink, and utensils used in the preparation of food.

Make sure, if you live in rural districts, that outside privy vaults are tightly covered so as not to permit the entrance of flies. Infections from this source can be picked up and spread to human beings through contact with food, drink, and utensils. Keep all garbage covered until collected or buried. Eliminate all breeding places for flies and you will be helping your community in its work of controlling communicable diseases and preventing unnecessary illness.

Dr. Cox said that the state health department would furnish upon request a pamphlet outlining safe and practical methods recommended for use in fly control.

Beavers are far more valuable for conservation of water than for their fur.

Freedom of Press Is Reality In 14 Nations Since Victory

LONDON.—(AP)—Freedom of distribution and publication of news has become a reality in at least 14 nations, and in about 10 others censorship likely will be abolished shortly now that the war has ended, a world survey by the Associated Press disclosed today.

The United States is the only one of the five major powers which has lifted restrictions on press and radio. Britain and France plan to follow suit shortly. China also is considering censorship relaxation after a transition period from war to peace.

There has been no indication that Soviet censorship will be altered. The same is true of Finland, Rumania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Turkey. British censorship—and this dispatch was removed within a fortnight.

The United States, Canada, Australia, Sweden, Switzerland, Norway, Denmark, Holland, Belgium, Colombia, Peru, Uruguay, Panama and Brazil permit news to flow freely into and out of the countries and exercises no censorship on papers domestically.

Switzerland, however, recently asked photographers to submit pictures taken of a Russian delegation in Bern repatriating Russian internees.

Spain, Portugal and Argentina permit correspondents to send their dispatches abroad without restrictions, although Argentina keeps internees in foreign communications offices. They actually are not interfering with the news. The Argentine local press is free, but the radio is strictly controlled.

Spain and Portugal keep their home press under the strictest censorship control.

Bolivian censorship officially has been declared non-existent, but actually the press is controlled by political pressures and other means.

Others around the globe: Chile—Censorship of outgoing press dispatches continues, but it is reported authoritatively this is likely to be lifted shortly.

Paraguay—Officials say the press is free, but government pressure exert control.

Mexico—Censorship continues, but affected press associations little in the past year. Outgoing communications are watched for espionage and also anything untruthfully derogatory to Mexico.

Venezuela—Censorship machinery is retained, but actually no dispatch has been stopped in many months.

Italy—Allied censorship has been limited to secret devices and intelligence methods and it appears certain it will be abolished altogether soon.

India—No indication when military and internal censorship will end.

Egypt—No decisions on lifting civil censorship. Military censorship is expected to be abolished shortly.

Union of South Africa—A skeleton staff is maintained in censorship office, but this is likely to end shortly.

Greece, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia—no indication of censorship end.

Germany and Austria—Allied military censorship is imposed on

Senator Doesn't Like Selection

PORT WORTH, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel, advised here that Attorney General Tom Clark had recommended the appointment of Chief Justice Ben H. Rice of the Waco federal circuit appeals to the Texas federal judgeship vacancy in the western district, commented that he was disappointed and a little surprised.

"Since Mr. Clark had asked me to make a recommendation—the first time that I have ever been asked to recommend an appointment—I felt hopeful that things were going to be a little different, but perhaps I was mistaken."

The senator said he was not interested personally in any appointments, but that he wanted to see the will of the people satisfied.

Commenting on the report that the Texas state democratic executive committee has asked President Truman and Attorney General Clark by resolution to avoid consultation about federal appointments with one who did not support the 1944 national ticket, O'Daniel agreed that such a move likely was aimed at him and any recommendations he might have to offer.

"It looks like the coat-tail riders who lost their coat-tail are trying to keep all of the appointments in the family," O'Daniel observed. "As far as I know, Judge Rice is a capable judge and a good man, but naturally he was born to the 'royalty' since he is the brother of the other Texas senator's campaign manager."

Colombia Hails Young President, Alberto Camargo

By L. F. STUNTZ
AP Newsfeatures

BOGOTA—The election of Alberto Lleras Camargo to fill out the rest of President Alfonso Lopez's term brings the youngest of Colombia's front-rank politicians to the presidency.

At the same time, it brings to a dramatic end a difficult situation wherein Lopez retained the support of the masses but lost the confidence of many of his own party leaders.

Lleras Camargo, now barely 39, was in the front rank of Latin-American journalists when he turned to politics in 1929. As an 18-year-old student of political science he was working on El Tiempo, Colombia's largest paper and one of the leading Latin American dailies.

At 19 he went to Buenos Aires to work on La Nacion, another leading daily, for El Mundo of Buenos Aires. Returning to Bogota he became managing editor of El Tiempo at 23. In 1938 he founded El Liberal, now the administration paper.

He entered politics the same year he returned to El Tiempo. In 1929, he was the first Liberal president of the chamber of deputies in 45 years, when the Liberals recaptured the government in 1930. Four years later he began his diplomatic career as secretary of the Colombian delegation to the Montevideo conference of foreign ministers.

Between 1935 and 1938, as interior minister in Lopez's first administration, he gained a thorough knowledge of Colombia's problems. He was, briefly, education minister, then went to the Buenos Aires conference as delegate. At this conference he first presented Lopez's plan for a League of American Nations, an idea he brought to fruition in Mexico City this year.

Lleras left the executive branch of the government when Dr. Eduardo Santos was elected president in 1938, but he served in congress in 1943. After Lopez's re-election he was named interior minister again and served until his appointment as foreign minister this year. He also served a few months as Colombian ambassador to Washington.

A few days after his appointment as foreign minister, Lleras took eight Colombian proposals to the Mexico City meeting and succeeded in having every one of them adopted. Later he led the UNCO meeting in San Francisco and took a prominent part in the debates there.

Lleras is married and the father of two girls and a boy. Reputed to have one of the largest private libraries in Colombia, his reading is mostly history, with biography second choice.

after Chiang arranged to accept Japanese surrender there.

Fleecing Japanese surrenders at last began to extend to by-passed mid-Pacific islands garrisons and disheveled troops in the mountains of the Philippines.

All of this was incident to hurried preparations for Allied occupation of Japan. The signing of the surrender documents Aug. 31 on the 45,000-ton battleship Missouri in Tokyo bay, which the Domei news agency said would naturally be accompanied by "feelings of hate and uneasiness."

Tokyo's tabulation today on reported bomb casualties did nothing to ease this feeling. The government-controlled radio listed 260,000 killed, 412,000 injured, 9,200,000 homeless and 2,200,000 houses demolished.

"Almost the entire Japanese mainland (Honshu island) received heavy damage as the result of enemy air attacks," Tokyo added.

The Japanese will have another display of American air power Sunday (by Japanese account) or Tuesday (by General MacArthur's report) when the greatest armada of air transporters ever assembled begins unloading thousands of U. S. troops in full combat array on Atsugi airbase, 20 miles from Tokyo.

MacArthur confirmed previously Tokyo reports that he would arrive at the airbase Tuesday with some forces, simultaneous with the landing of marines and sailors at the Yokosuka naval base guarding the entrance to Tokyo bay.

The sea approaches to Tokyo will swarm with the massed naval might of the combined American Third and Fifth Fleets and British Pacific fleets. These forces put on a 1,000 plane aerial acrobatics show off the Honshu coast to pass time yesterday.

MacArthur indicated that moneysweeping Allied forces also may promptly be clearing both Japanese and Allied mines out of such major Oriental harbors as Osaka, Sasebo, Nagasaki, Shanghai, Canton, Hong Kong and Singapore. Japanese shipping and air forces were ordered immobilized, anti-aircraft guns decommissioned, ammunition stored.

Japanese troops were already evacuating the initial occupation area near Tokyo, into which Domei said 50,000 to 60,000 Allied soldiers will move.

In a small but significant surrender yesterday, Japanese aboard the U. S. destroyer escort Leary in the Central Pacific, Marshall islands said the garrison of 3,500 on MH atoll gave up. It was the opening wedge in surrender of 120,000 Japanese troops on by-passed islands, including the once mighty fortress of Truk and Rabaul.

Peace negotiations were begun in Philippine mountains on Luzon, Mindanao and Cebu islands.

Tokyo said garrisons on Marcus, 1,200 miles southeast of Tokyo, and a number of unnamed southern islands were starving and asked MacArthur for permission to send relief expeditions.

'HARRY,' 'JOE' TALK OF FOLK MUSIC BEFORE GETTING DOWN TO BUSINESS

(This is the second of three stories by Ernest B. Vaccaro, who accompanied President Truman to Potsdam, in which he tells how the President came through his first major assignment.)

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(AP)—President Truman and Generalissimo Stalin found they had much in common when they got together at Potsdam.

One night after dinner at Prime Minister Churchill's quarters, the President was persuaded to play a selection from Chopin. Then a professional soldier-artist played the "Missouri Waltz."

The Russian and American leaders fell to talking of folk music. Even though they talked with the aid of interpreter, the conversation became animated. They smiled back and forth, like two old friends.

The smiles were still there in the serious business that came afterward. Mr. Truman came away with the feeling that Stalin's word was hard to get but that, once obtained, it was all that was necessary from Russia.

Conference observers likened their bargaining to that of two Missouri "horse traders." The President later confided to intimates that the Russian leader was a tough man to trade with but that he challenged admiration.

Like the rest of the American delegation, Mr. Truman came away with the feeling that Stalin's word was hard to get but that, once obtained, it was all that was necessary from Russia.

One member of the delegation reported that Stalin let it slip more than once that he thought the gray-haired "Missourian" drove a shrewd bargain but that he liked his directness.

One thing Mr. Truman wanted was that Stalin enter the war against Japan. That step had been discussed at previous "Big Three" meetings in Yalta, but had left the final details in the air.

At Potsdam Stalin agreed at once upon a date and deliberations proceeded from that point.

Witnesses told of the 61-year-old Truman sitting as presiding officer in the sessions, eyes twinkling behind thick-lensed spectacles. There was no evidence in his bearing of any concern at stepping into the international shoes filled for so long by Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Men coming away from the scene said former Prime Minister Churchill, and later Prime Minister Attlee, also appeared to like the quiet, businesslike way in which Mr. Truman cut wordy disagreements short with smiling, but brisk finality.

The secrecy with surrounded the sessions was not of President Truman's making. His idea was that there should be communiques, couched in general language, whenever progress of the meetings warranted. He left attempts at more detailed coverage might jeopardize chances for agreement on delicate subjects.

His views on progress communications did not win out. Associates said that, rather than imperil the success of the meetings, he did not press the point.

The head cold which kept Stalin from two meetings provided an unfortunate mixup.

Army press representatives, who served as contact between the American delegation and the press in Berlin, did not know of Stalin's indisposition. On the Sunday before adjournment they reported that the conference continued, with the Big Three presumably meeting. A similar report was made the next day.

It was not until after reporters discovered that Stalin actually had not appeared for either session that information was permitted to leak out, presumably after notification to the Russians.

This led to the development that American-British censors passed stories that all three of the Big Three had met again when they had not, but refused for a time to permit passage of copy saying they had not met because of Stalin's indisposition. They did allow language to go through saying there had been some delay in the conference.

The odds are a hundred to one that Mr. Truman will never leave the United States again to attend a Big Three meeting, if there is one. His view is that the next one should be held in Washington.

He proposed just that in the final hour of the Berlin conference.

"Get willing," said Stalin. "In that case, no one who knows Mr. Truman has any doubt that there will be greater access to the news than has been the case in other Big Three meetings."

The Tammany society, formed in 1789 which was to become Tammany Hall, took its name from an Indian chief with a view of conciliating hostile Indian tribes on the outskirts of the town. It did not become a political party institution until the time of the Jefferson administration.

posed expenditures is on highways and streets during the last fiscal year, the city spent $29,558.97 on this division. The proposed figure will be $47,785.

Other increases of note include a raise of $10,987.80 to $13,875 in the recreation expenditures including additional appropriation for city parks and the swimming pool.

In his concluding statement to the commission on the budget ordinance, City Manager deCordova said, in part:

"During the coming year we shall make every attempt to give the public the best possible service commensurate with circumstances. I would like to add just one word of caution, we should continue to maintain an extremely liquid cash position in order to cushion the shock of reduced income which I feel must inevitably come as an aftermath of the unprecedented boom conditions which we have been enjoying in this community."

Dining Racket

of manipulating food checks were used.

Waiters would take a food order orally and then fill to submit a written check. This method was used principally on elderly persons and inexperienced travelers.

Waiters would leave blank food order checks on tables, face down or under a water pitcher and not supply a diner from writing out an order. When the meal was ended, the waiter would make a pretense of writing out the order and collect for the meal in cash, pocketing the money.

Waiters would present a used food check, already paid by another passenger. The food order would be taken orally. When the time came for payment, a check previously served to purchase an identical meal was presented for payment.

Government meal tickets, issued to servicemen, also were used by the stewards to cover their activities. Conroy said, giving this sample:

When a serviceman presented a government order the waiter or steward would make it out for the highest priced meal even though the sailor or soldier had the least expensive meal on the menu. By doing this, the steward could cover meals served to other passengers for which no checks were issued.

Evidence of the scope of the activities of the train crews, Conroy said, was obtained by FBI agents who worked as stewards with the crews.

search of test items. Some plants being retained probably will be released from time to time in the future as conditions permit, the department said.

Plants which are being retained on a stand-by basis will, if possible, be made available for lease to private industry for civilian production, the department said. If private interests desire to purchase plants on the retained list, the department said it would cooperate as far as possible in releasing the plants and keeping others which are new listed for surplus.

The list of plants declared surplus these army service forces plants (named preceded by an "X" mean plant built by defense plant corporation those preceded by "XX" mean plant alongside a company's privately owned plant, and those with no shown designation are army-owned).

"X" American Rolling Mill Co. (Sheffield Steel of Texas div.), Industrial Rd. and Ship channel, Houston, Texas; Baytown Ordnance works, 2 1/2 miles NW of Baytown, Texas; Bluebonnet Ordnance plant, McGregor, Texas.

"X" Hughes Tool Co., five miles from Houston, Texas; "X" Magnolia Petroleum Co., Beaumont, Texas; Pantex Ordnance plant, near Amarillo, Texas; "X" and "XX" Phillips Petroleum Co., Borger, Texas; "X" Reed Roller Bit Co., Houston, Texas.

First, farm leaders and federal officials saw signs of a possible land boom. The rush into agriculture after World War I ruined many veterans and other farm buyers. It pushed prices too high.

Second, OPA said the present skimpy sugar rations will last through 1945. But a Senate group began to plug for smaller shipments overseas.

The current ration of four pounds of sugar every four months will be continued for the remainder of the year.

OPA, announcing this formally today, said sugar stamp 38 in ration book 4, good for five pounds, will be validated September 1 and remain good through December 31. The current stamp, 36, will not be good after August 31.

Stamp 37 is not being validated, OPA said, because many persons by mistake last year mailed 37 to local boards to obtain special canning allowances.

Third, a congressional inquiry was threatened—by Representative Brown (R-Ohio)—if the armed services do not release more doctors to care for civilian ill.

And a full-fledged row between agencies sprang up on this question: Should postwar homes be under price ceilings?

Fearing sky-high prices on the first new homes, OPA says "Yes." Hugh Potter, the new construction coordinator, says "No." A flood of new home building, he holds, would quash any inflation.

The deadlock may go to President Truman. A quick answer is imperative. Because while the agencies disagree, the government marks time on its program to take the wartime shackles off new home construction.

The WPB's general construction order—No. L-41—is the control in question. It ties permitted housing to an $8,000 sales ceiling. OPA wants another ceiling to replace it.

Like Potter, WPB wants to chuck L-41 as quickly as possible. October 1 is named as the hoped-for date.

Besides houses, the order governs office and store buildings, warehouses, schools, hotels and many other types of construction. Factories, mills and mines already have been removed from control.

WPB cleared its decks for action by relaxing its control over lumber yesterday and promising to eliminate control on his scarcest construction material by October 1.

Hirohito's Arab Steed Is Cow Pony

Emperor Hirohito's famous white horse, which Admiral Halsey said he'd like to ride in a victory parade in Tokyo, is just an American cow pony of pinto stock, according to Dewey H. Burden, noted Los Angeles horseman who sold the stallion to the Mikado a year before Pearl Harbor. Wearing one of Burden's western cow-pony saddles, the horse is pictured above before delivery to the Japs.

Servicemen Cannot Vote in Election Being Held To Determine That Issue

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Members of the armed forces cannot vote Aug. 25 in a special election on four constitutional amendments unless they have paid a poll tax or are qualified by exemption. One of the questions for determination in the election is whether soldiers may vote without payment of the poll tax, if otherwise qualified, for some time to come. This amendment is the first in order on the ballot. It proposes a free vote for members of the armed forces and its component parts in time of war, or for one year after the close of the calendar year in which the war ends, or if they were in the armed forces 18 months prior to an election. The amendment is self-enacting, meaning that if approved by the people it will become effective without action of the legislature, upon official proclamation of the election results. If approved the amendment almost certainly will give the great bulk of service men and women and former members of the armed forces a free vote in next year's party primaries and general election. If the war is terminated officially this year, which seems certain, 1946 will be the year following the year in which the war ends.

Last National War Fund Drive Is Forthcoming

AUSTIN—The October "Victory" campaign will be the last drive on behalf of the national war fund, Judge Ben H. Powell, president of the United War Chest of Texas, announced today. Following completion of the 1945 campaign, which will raise funds to keep USO and other war fund agencies going until America's fighting men have been returned home, both the United War Chest of Texas and the National War Fund will liquidate, Judge Powell said. The state war chest leader called on all Texans to make the October "Victory" drive the greatest of all. "Through our generosity in this final campaign, we can show our fighting men and our allies our full appreciation for their sacrifices," Judge Powell declared. "Funds raised this year will maintain USOcamp show operations for our men still abroad and for occupation troops, and provide vitally-necessary aid for suffering war victims in liberated areas. "It should be our greatest effort, for only by generous response to the appeal of humanity can we prove to the world that Americans can be as generous in victory as we were determined in war. "Millions of our men still are overseas, and large numbers will be left on occupation duty in Europe and Japan. We cannot abandon our service men now, just because victory has been won. We must help them fight the battle of boredom, and prove to them that our appreciation of their great sacrifices is more than a mere phrase."

Texas, which went over-the-top in two previous war fund drives, has been given a quota of approximately $4,500,000. This means that every community and county will be asked to give this year approximately the same amount as contributed during the 1944 campaign. The National war fund drive will open October 1, with local community and county war chests canvassing every residential and business area in Texas.

October To See Free Production Throughout U. S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(AP)—The nation will move perhaps 75 per cent of the way toward a free production economy October 1. The war production board announced it will scrap its network of allocation controls and its complex priority system at the end of next month.

Revoked as of September 30 is the intricate "CMP," or controlled materials plan. This was the master system for regulating the flow of steel, copper and aluminum.

Also to be scrapped is the whole series of priority ratings—AA-1, AA-2, AA-3 and AA-4. In their place will be a simple, two-band priority system. Military producers will get an "MM" rating. A junior rating called "CC" will be created.

This means that the industry will be on its own during reconversion. It will get neither help nor control from the government.

In two cases, vestiges of the old priority system will remain. The old AAA priority, for emergency use only, will continue in force. And the old AA-1, AA-2 system will be retained for a time for textiles and related items whose scarcity has caused them special priority treatment.

In order to obtain a CC rating, an applicant must show that he has been unable to get delivery without a rating, and that the item is a "bottleneck" holding up production. This new rating, the agency said, will be used at times in order to assure small business a fair share of materials.

Meantime, the agency directed cancellation, effective immediately, of all allotments of steel, copper and aluminum for the fourth quarter of 1945 and all subsequent quarters.

Until September 30 the MM rating is equivalent to the old AA-1 rating, the CC equivalent to an AA-2 rating. After that date, the only three major ratings will be AAA, MM and CC, in that order of priority.

More Tires Seen Within 90 Days

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(AP)—The driver who wants more tires to match his unlimited gasoline may look for a break within 90 days.

This is the word from WPB officials. They predict that tire production might jump to 4,000,000 a month in the October-December quarter compared with this month's 2,000,000.

Although weary of saying that this gain would put an end to tire rationing, OPA and WPB officials alike admit a hunch that it might—perhaps within two or three months.

Substantial improvement in truck tires will come much sooner, in perhaps 30 days.

The WPB had this to offer on the rubber outlook: Household rubber goods—sink stoppers, bathroom mats and the like—probably will be released from control gradually, several items at a time.

Once turned loose, production will jump rapidly, but the price may be high.

They say controls on natural rubber may last 12 months longer.

DUMMY MURDER OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 23.—(AP)—Police lost no time investigating five separate reports that a man, with a knife protruding from his back, had been tossed into the street from a moving automobile. Now the officers are on the lookout for the pranksters who dressed a hay-filled dummy in man's clothing, stuck a butcher's knife in its back, daubed red paint over it and dumped it into the street.

By HOWARD BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Editor NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(AP)—The Japanese who were reported by Tokyo radio to have died mysteriously a few days after the atomic bomb blasts probably were victims of a phenomenon which is well known in the great radiation laboratories of America.

They died from the after-effects of rays created at the instant of the explosion. Most of these rays do not linger on in the air for more than a few moments after the flash.

Two kinds of burns were made by these rays. One is the gamma ray, or X-ray burns, familiar to physicians. These are always delayed burns. When a person touches a hot stove, the burn is instantaneous. When he gets sunburn, the burn does not show up for two or three hours. X-ray and gamma ray burns are delayed much longer before they show up on the skin. Their effects finally are the same on the skin as burns of ordinary fire. In addition there is internal burning, its effects also delayed.

More likely as the cause of the delayed Japanese deaths are the effects of a different kind of rays, those which are made by a stream of concentrated neutrons.

At Berkeley at the University of California radiation laboratory this sort of ray had been produced by a cyclotron, so that it is visible. It is about five feet long, a few inches in diameter, its color a pale, electric blue.

This ray is considered probably almost instantly lethal.

These neutron rays were mostly in the air. It is also likely that the neutrons streaming from the bomb flash struck particles of earth and caused them to emit their own streams of neutrons, temporarily. This, if the temporary neutrons from the ground lasted as much as a day, which would be a long time for such induced secondary activity, Japanese going into the center of the area on rescue missions, might receive serious neutron damage to their bodies from the earth.

From War to Peace Is Revelation—First It Is Fast, Then Slower

By JAMES MARLOW WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(AP)—From here on it will be a little different from that first week after Japan surrendered.

Then the news came—of the swing from war to peace at home—in a rush and roar.

It started almost as soon as the president announced victory on the night of Aug. 14.

A short time later that night he started off the reconversion news deluge, which lasted through the week with this:

At end of the draft for men of 26 or over, an end to all manpower controls, the discharge of men by the millions from the armed services within a year.

Announcement piled upon announcement. According to one official—close to the top—America was caught in the "woods" by the suddenness of the surrender.

It had to whack its way out. It did the whacking by tearing off one wartime control after another to shove American industry and civilians scampers down the new peace road.

It was strange here in Washington, watching a country, through its various departmental orders, jump from war to peace.

Then the news began to slack off. Much of it began to break in the late afternoon.

It seemed like this: The big, important strokes to wartime controls had been given rapidly. Now comes the smaller strokes, the details involved in the big ones. They take more time. It was as if government officials spent most of the day putting the finishing touches on those details and then turned them loose.

Secret Camera Tips To Be Followed When Taking Your Pin-Up Pictures

ELEANOR CAHILL. Tells how to compete with pin-ups.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Want to be his pin-up girl? If your picture is to compete with glamorous art, you'll need to know all the camera tricks.

That's where little "Miss Stardust"—Eleanor Cahill of Coronado, Calif., whose photograph won her the title of "pin-up girl" in the Walter Thornton modeling contest—can be of help. She's willing to spill secrets.

What kind of picture shall it be? Unlike Eleanor, you're not out to win a beauty contest—only a long drawn-out whistle from your hero—so make yours a portrait picture, not a full-length affair to prove the merits of your figure.

Even though a portrait chops you off at the shoulders or waist dress up to it by wearing your most romantic evening gown. It's color? Eleanor says a blonde emerges from pebbly paper looking more glamorous if she's dressed up in that "old black magic." But white, gray or any pastel color is a brunet's best bet for contrast values which are referred to your advantage even in black-and-white photography.

Hair—do? Wear the most flattering simple one you can contrive. The camera has a mean way of exaggerating curls, deeply-ridged waves or other diffuse effects in a hair-do. The photographer will bless you if you'll just skip these and have your hair set the day before for a little liming up.

Make up? Better than the usual daytime job which requires lot of retouching is a panchromatic or brown-toned make-up, which calls for the minimum.

The unusual mottled skin pigment, chalky mottles, missing highlights or conspicuous lines or hollows which powerful portraiture lights bring out from behind regular make-up are counteracted by a pan-dake type of brown-toned make-up. In this choose a light shade. If your hair is dark, a deeper tan. If you're Miss Goldlocks, a medium shade, if hair is medium brown.

With this type of make-up, omit cheek rouge and wear a brown-toned lipstick, bearing in mind that a too dark shade of lipstick will photograph black. To glamorize your eyes, use eye make-up that is a trifle more heavily on make-up than you do for street wear.

Where mascara simply won't give you the dream-princess sweep that you covet for your eyes, there are photographers who will fake a heavier fringe by pencil-stroking a few on the retouching plate.

Beans May Be Used To Stretch Meat Dish Recipe

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Here's a meat stretcher all the family will enjoy. Use your garden lima beans and that cherished small slice of ham from the butcher.

Baked Lima Beans and Ham

(Serves 6-8)

One-half cup diced onions, 1/2 cup diced celery, 1 tablespoon fat, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 pound slice of ham, 3 cups cooked lima beans, 1/2 cup liquid from the lima beans, 1/4 cup evaporated milk, 1 tablespoon flour. Brown diced onions and celery in the fat for about 5 minutes. Add salt and pepper. Cut the slice of ham into strips about two inches long and one inch wide. Cook the ham strips in a greased skillet until slightly browned. Mix most of them with the cooked lima beans, onions and celery. Add the lima bean liquid, evaporated milk and flour. Place in a well-greased one-quart heat-resistant glass loaf pan. Place the remaining strips of ham on top of the lima beans. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 45 minutes. Garnish with parsley and serve hot.

Kohlrabi With Herb Sauce

(Serves 4-5)

Six to eight kohlrabi roots, 1/8 teaspoon thyme, salt, pepper, 2 tablespoons fortified margarine, 1/8 teaspoon sweet marjoram, dash lemon juice. Peel the roots, cut into cubes. Add boiling salted water just to cover. Add thyme, salt uncovered, quick-boil until barely tender. It is better undercook rather than overcook. Mix margarine with the marjoram and add dash of lemon juice. Drain the cooked kohlrabi; add the herb sauce, and serve at once.

Old Hickory Division Back on U. S. Soil

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The gallant fighting men of the 30th Old Hickory division, heroes of the battle of the bulge, are back on American soil after 10 months of bitter warfare.

The young, combat-hardened veterans lined the rails and crowded the porticoes of the great grey liner Queen Mary as she nosed into New York harbor late Tuesday.

It was the greatest and noisiest welcome since V-E Day for returning troops.

Upside Downers

Just the thing for picnics are little Gingerbread Pear "Upside Downers." They do not crumble easily and are ideal for packing in the lunch box. Or, serve them hot at home as dessert.

Only six pear halves are needed to make 12 little cakes, which makes it possible to stretch a single jar of pears for at least two meals. To prepare Upside Downers, melt 1/4 cup table fat, add 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1/2 cup butter, and pour mixture into the bottoms of 12 well-greased cup cake pans. Now drain glassed pears, slice, and arrange pieces as a cross on sugar mixture. Cup cake pans are then filled with the following mixture:

Gingerbread
1 1/2 cup enriched flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 egg
1 teaspoon ginger

1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup molasses
1 egg
1/2 cup hot water

Sift flour. Measure and sift again with salt, soda, cinnamon, and ginger. Cream shortening. Add sugar gradually, creaming after each addition. Beat in molasses and well beaten egg. Add ingredients alternately with hot water to creamed mixture. Beat until smooth. Fill fruited pans two-thirds full. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 25-30 minutes.

'Invisible Gloves' Should Be Worn To Protect Hands When Gardening

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Hands can plant fall garden seeds, harvest the autumn crop and emerge from these skin-taxing farmette chores fit to flutter over tea tables or pretty enough to rate holding in masculine fists.

They can, if you'll guard them against that most ardent robber of beauty—Mother Earth. For protection against her chemical irritants and sharp particles, gloves are the only answer.

If you wear cotton gloves, they should be washed between wearings. Otherwise, these little protectors, hardened by soil-caking, will become mechanical irritants as tough on your hands as the little rocks and stones that roughen skin.

If you simply won't be hampered by gloves, that have to be suffered while wearing and dunked when you pull them off, wear a protective cream that forms "invisible gloves and performs most as good yeoman service in safeguarding hands. This greaseless cream keeps dirt on the outside, from three to four hours, and washes off simply by wetting your hands under a running tap.

A member of the 13th tank battalion of the famed Arrowhead division, Pvt. Stephenson spent 29 months overseas.

PAMPAN'S GROUP PRAISED
Sgt. Hal H. Boynton, son of Mrs. Mary L. Boynton, Pampa, is a member of the ground echelon group in the South Pacific which was praised for its devotion to duty in helping carry out B-29 raids over Japan.

MEMBER OF TOP TEAM
Pfc. Wilson R. James, LeFors, is a member of the championship volleyball team of the Fifth army's "Powder River" division in Italy. He is a medic attached to the First battalion headquarters and has been overseas since April of last year.

AREA MEN ON SHIP
Two area men, Horace N. Anderson, Pampa, and Kenneth A. Sutton, White Deer, are serving aboard the USS Solace, famed hospital ship which went through nine bloody campaigns in the South Pacific. The vessel evacuated and treated wounded at Tarawa, Entiwok, Kwajalein, the Admiralties, Saipan, Guam, Peleliu, Iwo Jima and Okinawa.

SERVES ON TORPEDO-BOMBER
Omar R. (Pete) Miller, aviation machinist mate, third class, served as gunner on a carrier based Avenger torpedo-bomber plane on 30 combat missions during the defeat of the Japs on Iwo Jima and Okinawa. His targets, often only 200 yards ahead of the infantry, were gun positions and troop concentrations which stood in the way of our foot soldiers on the rugged island campaigns. Miller attended Pampa high school and entered the navy in December, 1942.

Solon Deplores Move From Farms

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Senator Radcliffe (D-Md.) declared Wednesday he was disturbed by a war-speeded tendency of the nation's population to forsake rural areas for city life.

"There is a very great need for people to go back to rural areas," the Maryland senator said in an exchange with Miss Loula Dunn, president of the American Public Welfare association, the opening witness in the second day's hearing on the Wagner-Murray full employment bill.

Miss Dunn observed that some rural areas are not capable of supporting many additional residents at decent living standards, and Senator Murray (D-Mont.) interjected that farm mechanization would reduce somewhat the need for farm labor, but Radcliffe replied that the nation still is far from having a farm labor surplus.

Miss Dunn said that while she is committed to the objective of full employment, she preferred to discuss the social hazards of unemployment rather than the mechanics of providing jobs.

She advocated federal planning to unite private, state and local enterprise in such a way as to bring manpower and jobs together throughout the country.

Dr. Donald Dushane, spokesman for the National Education association, said the bill "will be viewed with general approval" as a positive step toward preventing unemployment, adding:

"Teachers believe that it is in the interest of all citizens to maintain full employment."

Weekly Sees Competition By Atom Bomb

HOUSTON — Petroleum, natural gas, coal and electricity may become obsolete as the world's source of power if science continues to make the progress it has in recent years, according to this week's issue of The Oil Weekly, authoritative industry publication.

Pointing to the progress of the Germans in making synthetic fuels from coal and shale, the magazine said that in the future synthetic fuels may become a competitor of natural fuels.

"Now comes atomic power," the article continued, "which according to claims may some day make all known forms of power generation obsolete. The amazing wartime progress in atomic power opens an entirely new field. Undoubtedly, atomic research will be widespread postwar endeavor. Who knows what might be developed, now that it has been proved a possibility?"

"In view of these possibilities, it is unreasonable to argue that any commodity be denied the right to a market. In this light, the current effort to restrict the use of natural gas is unsound."

Conservative estimates of the nation's known natural gas reserves indicate a supply sufficient for 50 years. How to advance the current utilization of our gas resources would be a better consideration.

The article pointed out that jet propulsion, which is already being widely used in aircraft, is another development that might have a far-flung influence on future fuels. Whereas modern aircraft engines burn great quantities of highly-refined gasoline, the jet engines use kerosene.

In the same issue John A. Ferguson, executive director of the Independent Natural Gas association, commented upon the atomic power: "A development such as this is a complete answer to those who urge the hoarding of natural gas—all argument over whether or not there should be any restrictions imposed upon the exportation—or end use of natural gas should not be closed. In the light of developments, any effort to convince the federal power commission that natural gas markets should be restricted in any way would appear foolish."

'Line of Attack' Being Selected

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Republicans have picked the first four issues on which they hope to win control of Congress next year—topped by a contention that the administration has "fumbled" reconstruction.

The other three—laid down by Chairman Herbert Brownell, Jr., of the republican national committee after a cross country swing—are:

1. The people are "skeptical about promises made by the Truman administration to bring about economy in the federal government."
2. The public is convinced that it is time to "audit" the new deal and it is "turning to the republican party as the logical, and indeed the only available, agency to conduct that audit."
3. Some new deal adherents are trying to "capitalize for partisan purposes the patriotism of the millions of men and women now returning from duty in the armed forces."

Red Cross Girls Entertain Boys In South Pacific

By BONNIE WILEY

GUAM.—(AP)—Three girls from the south who never saw the back of footlights before they came to war are doing professionally competent jobs of entertaining here on the jungle island of Guam.

They are Red Cross workers, strictly amateur, taking their show to off-the-beaten-track soldiers and sailors. They dreamed up the idea themselves and since they went into show business have presented programs for more than 30,000 men on ships, in isolated units, at anti-aircraft batteries, and elsewhere.

"Don't confuse us with professionals," said Catherine Allen of Columbus, Ga., former physical education teacher at the University of Tennessee. "Our idea was that the men could entertain themselves once you got them started, so we just get community singing going and the boys love it."

This night they visited an isolated anti-aircraft battery, first show ever to wander that far back into the jungle.

Miss Allen, an accordion player, broke the ice by calling all the men into the recreation tent and asking them to sing "Roll Out the Barrel." Serving as master of ceremonies was the second of the trio, Madge Caperton of San Antonio, Texas, whose husband is an army flier. The vocalist is Lorene Wharton of Birmingham, Ala., who announced that "you men have to help me out because I can't sing."

"That's the idea back of our shows," Miss Allen said. "We get the ball rolling and the men, lots of whom have talent, take the mike and carry on. After a few minutes, we don't have to do much but make sure everybody gets a chance to perform."

The "ideal" group for the informal amateur shows is 125 men, but the audiences run as high as 1,500, as low as five.

For the large groups we give carnivals, with other Red Cross girls volunteering to help," Miss Allen said. "Sometimes we give outdoor suppers, cooking over a fire, giving skits and so on."

Cleaner Should Be Told What Causes Spots on Clothing

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Spots which come back on clean clothes to glare at you again may be your fault—not the dry-cleaner's.

Spots on clothing that is soiled by spills from soft drinks, coffee, tea, fresh fruit juice, cocktails, ketchup or mustard, will disappear as the fabric dries. There may not be any trace of it at all by the time the garment reaches the dry-cleaner. But it will reappear in time as a permanent brown stain.

Unless you mark the spot while it is still damp and visible—and will tell your cleaner what you spilled—how is he to know a spot is there which needs special treatment, if he isn't even able to see?

If oil—salad, cooking or cod liver—spots up a garment, the chance for removal depend upon early treatment by your dry-cleaner. Any one of these oils on fabric changes chemically and grows darker, so the longer you wait, the less readily soluble they are in cleaning fluid.

Dunigan received this message from the American Legion department headquarters of which Edward N. Scheiberling is national commander.

Scheiberling pointed out that as the mustering-out process nears, legions may be faced with as many as 12 million legion eligibles. So these prospective members may be taken care of, officials urge legion posts to begin membership promotion plans immediately. In this way world wide membership contacts will be started at once.

As suggestions, the department headquarters urged legions to check membership material needs and send membership applications to servicemen from their communities.

Scheiberling said there were many parents who might desire to send paid-up cards to sons and daughters in service.

REWARD IS OFFERED
SAN ANGELO, Aug. 23.—(AP)—A $100 reward is offered by the West Texas game and fish association for the arrest and conviction of persons suspected of poisoning fish in small lakes in Tom Green county.

ON OUR OATH

Pharmacists, like physicians, take an oath of allegiance to the ethics of their profession. On our oath, in every prescription we fill, we uphold our pledge and the duties it imposes on us in the dispensing of medicine and in our relations with the customer. That is why doctors so frequently say "Take this prescription to Cretney's." They know their orders will be followed to the letter.

WE HAVE NO REASON FOR COMPLACENCY

If there are those among us who have grown complacent in the assumption that the war is over now; and that, therefore, the world is fast returning to the status quo, they should best look again.

This time they should take into consideration the perplexing problems that have arisen in some countries, which, though small in size and in population, are just large enough to start trouble among the larger nations.

These, we believe, are not idle words. The world has just emerged from a colossal strife—and there are people in many lands who have not had enough to eat, have seen the callous hand of death on all sides. Anarchy is easily bred in such atmosphere.

On the other hand, there is doubt in our mind as to whether the Japanese people really accept the defeat which is to be imposed—we hope, harshly—upon them. They appear to us something like the Germans did after the first world war. As the Germans were beaten because the people behind the lines demanded cessation of hostilities, so the Japanese were forced to quit by the crushing effects of the epochal atomic bomb. Both countries are traditionally militaristic. They consider war a game—and the victory of the army in the field is the consummate desire of their purblind souls. The Germans were beaten in the field this time—their defeat is full and complete.

But already the Tokyo propagandists are chirruping that they were not defeated on the field of battle, but rather were forced to quit because a quirk of scientific fortune placed in the hands of the enemy the instrument to destroy the civilian population and to lay waste everything the land held dear.

Thus we see from the beginning of the end the martyring of the idol of all Japan—the army. If the enemy dares utter these things when he is beaten, prostrate, we have every reason to conclude they will be repeated many times—finally, to become legend. And in time—a decade or so—the people would be willing to save the "good name" of the military of Japan.

No, we doubt if Japan will be easily subjugated until such time as the people become re-educated to the right kind of thinking, tolerating other peoples and states. This will be a great task, and it will require all the energies of the American people.

FREEDOM

Individual liberty is one of the teachings of Jesus. It goes hand-in-hand with personal responsibility. How can a man be held responsible for his acts unless he is free to determine how he shall act? The understanding that certain rights are everybody's rights, and that no man can rightly deprive another man of them, is an idea for which the world is indebted to Christianity.

Compulsion in religion is older than history. Every nation's lord is colored by the religion he worships. In fact, the history of Christianity is marred with a shameful record of coercion. Just the same, obedience to Christ is voluntary or it is not obedience at all, and (being an every-day thing) Christianity lives and grows best in surroundings of personal liberty.

A MORAL DUTY
Opposing dictatorship, resisting infringement by a few upon the liberties of many, is a reverent act of fidelity to the sources of all freedom. No government is perfect; no economic system is perfect. For that matter, no church is perfect. All are subject, more or less, to leadership by imperfect people. Nevertheless some principles are right and worthy of vigorous defense.

Harry Emerson Fosdick said, "One of the great hours in history struck when mankind ran into the idea that all the people should unite in making laws, which then all the people should obey. Behind our pitifully fallible experiments with representative government stands the ideal, worth everything our fathers gave for it and all that we can give—the democratic state."

GODLESS LAWS
One-man governments traditionally become jealous of their subjects' loyalty to God; covetous too, perhaps, of their free-will offerings large or small. Rarely do totalitarian states begin at the church when they start cutting off people's liberties. They get around to it in the long-run, however.

Dictators usually start their trespasses on freedom by presuming to say who shall engage in trade. It is the natural way to commence. Never do they find a large class in commercial pursuits, so they can begin grabbing power without antagonizing a majority. The next big strategy is to dominate the news. By this method a dictator can make his people think what he pleases.

STEP AT A TIME
With buying and selling pinched under government's heel, one emergency follows another, accidentally or by design; either way serves the purpose. Consumers, the class most hurt by government in business, never learn the truth if press and radio are under control. Selfish rulers snatch away comforts and dole out confusion and suspicion, the chains of serfdom.

Traditionally tyrants work this way; it has happened all along through history. After business is confiscated and the news agencies seized, the people are poisoned with malice, and malice destroys living souls. Americans who value their religious liberty have no choice but to defend representative government, free enterprise, free speech and free press. They can fight on the front line and win, or wait to fight in the last trench and lose.

HEY BUD!

The American Way
By DeWitt Emery

(Editor's Note: DeWitt Emery is President of the National Small Business Men's Association.)

"Hey Bud, what are you trying to do, kill the job?" How many times since the war started has that, or a similar remark, been addressed to a workman whose only offense was that he wanted to turn out an honest day's work?

How much has the resulting slow-down cut war production; how much has it increased the cost of the war; yes, how many lives have been sacrificed unnecessarily because Bud and hundreds of thousands like him were not permitted to produce as much, day in and day out, as they wanted to and were capable of producing?

One of the great mysteries of all times, to me, is why the American people have permitted a number of unscrupulous labor leaders to get a strangle hold on a considerable portion of the production facilities of this country, and to intimidate the individual worker to the point where he dare not open his mouth in protest, no matter how raw a deal is handed him. This sort of thing couldn't possibly stand up in the face of an aroused public opinion.

Sure, I know it's legal. The Wagner Act, the National Labor Relations Board, the War Labor Board and the Supreme Court all say it is, but that still doesn't make it fair, right, proper or just. Concentration camps, slow starvation and blood purges are entirely legal in some countries, but that doesn't make them right and just, certainly not in the eyes of fair-minded, freedom-loving Americans.

On second thought, are we Americans actually freedom loving? Or is that just something we like to talk about, never giving a thought to what it really means, and certainly not expecting to be called upon to do anything about it? I wonder. But, that's another subject for another day.

The point I wish to make today is that if there are to be jobs in this country for everyone who desires to work; if we are to maintain our high standard of living; if we are to pay the carrying charges on and eventually pay off a national debt of more than three hundred billion dollars, then all pretensions of subject peoples might have some prospect of fulfillment, but under the charter which is to be brought into being that possibility cannot exist.

Not only is America asked to endorse a plan that approves the degradation of half of the human race, but it is itself placed by the plan in a position of inferiority. We are to be compelled to report periodically to the new league of nations on the conditions which exist in our dependencies—Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. This condition implies that we maintain a rule of force over subject peoples in the same degree as, for example, Britain maintains in India, Holland in the East Indies, France in Indo-China, or Russia in Latvia. Indeed, Russia is believed of the moral odium of exercising a rule over any subject people. Latvia is classified as an "autonomous republic" and the Russian conquest and occupation of a half dozen other European nations are not acknowledged.

As Hitler, with perception of the willful blindness of people discovered, the bigger the lie, the easier its acceptance. So it is with the professions of the world organization.

NAVY—The arrival of the atomic bomb struck the braided gentlemen of the American navy in the solar plexus. For it may mean the eventual abolition of such craft as battleships, cruisers and destroyers. For with reason they hope that the United States, which has exclusive knowledge and resources for manufacture, will keep control of this new and destructive capsule of solar energy.

The fleet of the future may consist of submarines and aircraft carriers, which will bear out a prediction of the late "Billie" Mitchell during his court-martial in 1926. The U-boats, if submerged deep enough, can escape the effects of the bomb. The carriers can carry their own protection against the approach of a plane armed with "Uranium 235."

Naval experts admit that dropping an atomic bomb in the midst of a surface fleet would have one of two effects: It would cause such a tidal wave that even a 40,000-ton warship would capsize. Should it explode in the air by a time arrangement, it would either vaporize the surface vessels or strip them of their fighting equipment to such an extent that they would be mere hulks.

Incidentally, the U. S. navy emerged from the German and Japanese conflicts with twenty-three battleships and seven cruisers. (The total for the cruiser class was seventy-one until the Indianapolis was sunk in the closing minutes of the Pacific struggle.)

These ships cost approximately five billion dollars, and their operation plus personnel charges run to fancy figures. It took only two billion for all the experimental, mining, manufacturing and manpower expenditures involved in the development of the atomic bomb.

Mr. Wallace is organizing his own secret service before the war, and the brilliant treasury chief of government investigators, the cabinet member has named Colonel Harry Cooper to head his staff. Colonel Cooper was supervising agent of the secret service before the war, and made a fine record as an executive. During the conflict he was provost marshal in the China-Burma-India theater.

J. Edgar Hoover, FBI head, tried to stave off the assignment from Colonel Cooper. Mr. Wallace blocked the move. He has no use for the publicity-minded J. Edgar. But the latter has five thousand G-men as against a pretwar total of eight hundred, and, like all bureaucrats, he wants to retain them permanently. He must find work for them to do or seem to do.

Peter Edson's Column: LINES EAGER TO BEGIN CONSTRUCTION

By DOUGLAS LARSEN (Peter Edson is on vacation)

NEW Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON.—The U. S. Maritime Commission now has several pretty fancy passenger liners under construction and plans to start many more soon. Built on order for American steamship lines, they will be used by the government to bring troops back, and will be turned over to the lines when that job is done.

American steamship companies are worried about the future. They want to get in on trans-oceanic passenger trade as soon as possible. That's why the Maritime Commission is helping.

In addition to the competition from subsidized British, Dutch and French lines, a new competitor which threatens their existence has entered the field. That is the airway. On the run to Hawaii alone, it is estimated that 50 per cent of the passenger traffic will want to go by air.

But here's the way they rationalize the problem. A certain group of the persons crossing either the Pacific or Atlantic will want to fly. These will be mostly businessmen or government officials or others with pressing business. Bulk of the passengers, however, will be tourists. They won't be in a hurry and will still want the leisurely boat trip with its traditional merrymaking.

UPTON CLOSE: Asia Is Already Arranging for More Conflict

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The vast reverence which the Japanese people have for their god-emperor is being demonstrated daily as the Tokyo government proceeds cautiously with the dangerous task of implementing its capitulation to the Allies—dangerous because the militarists are against it, and because the general public is undergoing a terrible shock, having been led to believe that Nippon was winning the war.

Now this reverence has nothing to do with Hirohito's capabilities. It would still be there if he were a moron. It rests in the fact that the people believe they are ruled by a divine being—a living god. The mikado is the last word in the life of the Jap. Actually Hirohito has been more or less of a figurehead but even the greatest and most progressive of his subjects approach his presence with diffidence.

We see excellent example of the mikado's power in the attitude of Field Marshal Count Yuichi Terauchi, Japanese commander in southeast Asia. Despite Tokyo's capitulation, the count refused to surrender to Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten until the emperor himself had given the word. There have been similar cases in other fighting zones.

This is a situation which can't be brushed aside lightly—a fact that the Allied leaders recognize. It's all very well to shout "hang the mikado"—as more than a few are doing—but it would be a perilous experiment to commit such violence on the primitive ideas of Japan.

Moreover, there are a lot of Allied folk who believe we should be outraging our own ideals if we struck down the head of a religion.

'Stomach Disorder' Is Merely a Knife

CROWLEY, La., Aug. 23.—(AP)—Adam Hanks is a happy man—free of the "stomach disorder" that caused him so much trouble for nearly 34 years.

"The 'disorder,' a blade from a knife that was lodged in Hanks' back 34 years ago was removed by Dr. R. S. Henry after an X-ray examination revealed what was causing the pain.

Hanks explained that he had been stabbed in the back after a disagreement with a friend years ago and that he was unaware that the blade remained in him.

style monarch, with glory but no power. Several imperial princes were sent to hobnob with British royalty and find out about the life. They liked it. I predict that from here on Japan will either go to a democratic constitutional monarch modeled after England, or will go full-out state communist.

But what goes in China and Korea and South Asia? What are we getting out of the war for ourselves on the Asian mainland? Let's look at this in our next talk.

HOLLYWOOD—Deanna Durbin will take a full year's retirement from the screen to await her baby. It's husband Felix Jackson's idea, not Deanna's. . . . "Listen," replied the press agent. "Do people ask you to sit down at the piano and move you can play before they book you into a concert?" The pianist didn't hire the press agent.

Wheat Insurance Being Offered

Crop insurance on wheat is again offered this fall to farmers. It was revealed today by Evelyn J. Mason, secretary of the Gray county A.C.A.

Applications for insurance are to be filed in the AAA office or with a crop insurance agent before Sept. 1. It was stated.

It covers all natural hazards such as fire, hail, drought, wind, flood, winter-kill, insects, plant disease. In fact, it covers all losses except those caused by the farmer's own negligence.

The rate in Gray county is one and nine-tenths bushels per acre for 75 percent coverage and one bushel per acre for 80 percent coverage. 75 percent means 3/4 of the average yield and 80 percent means 2/3 of the average yield on the farm. These yields are set on a listing sheet in the AAA office. Premiums are figured in cash based on the wheat market. The day payment is made. The losses are figured and paid the same way. Premiums may be deducted from losses. Day after payment the insured may have coming.

Policies will be for three years—1946, 1947, and 1948 harvest. The last year may be cancelled if the insured requests cancellation before September 1, 1946.

Those interested are asked to contact the local sales agent on the Gray county AAA office at Pampa before September 1.

Well, I see that Mr. Henry Kaiser who used to built almost as many ships a day as Japan lost in a day, is going to build almost as many automobiles soon.

He plans to turn out a complete car for about $500 and send it through the mails. It's really something new in the mail-order business and I'll bet Mr. Sears and Mr. Roebuck are still glaring at each other for not thinking of it first.

I'll tell you one thing, though. If all these cars are coming by mail, I'd suggest that Mr. Kaiser better design a new type of feet for the mailman who delivers them. As it stands now, Mr. McGuinness, our postman, is already so worn out he's barely has time to read over the postcards in his mailbox any more.

THE TIDES OF WAR

X

PERHAPS no war in history has opened with greater misconceptions on both sides about the nature and strength of the enemy than the war in the Pacific. But no war in history has ever seen greater changes in the balance of power, and in strategy and tactics. These changes clinch victory for the United Nations and seal the doom of Japan.

Just before the war, Japan was still regarded in the West as a second-class Oriental power which had already exhausted herself in four years of fruitless war in China.

The picture collapsed completely when the war began. Japan proved herself to be a powerful and well-prepared enemy to whom the Chinese war had been an excellent training period. The Japanese Navy and Air Force dominated the western Pacific. The very anxiety of the Allies to avoid war as long as possible by leaving the Pacific to Japan contributed to this result. But the net effect was a sweep of Japanese power through Asia and Oceania unparalleled since the days of Genghis Khan.

Today Japanese air and naval power is being swept from the Pacific and the stage is being laid for Japan's final defeat.

Military Power Still Intact
Yet the major part of that job still remains to be done. For that job cannot be completed until Japan's military power has been crushed as well. That power has been scarcely touched so far, and, to paraphrase a Japanese spokesman, the historic destiny which approaches us is to fight across China, Manchuria, and Korea to the Tushima Straits, and then to launch across them an amphibious invasion of Japan surpassing in strength even the invasion of Normandy.

JAPAN chose Dec. 8 because it had to go to war on account of the oil situation and because, had Japan failed to avail herself of this date, she would have had to wait another month because of the moon and tidal effects. January and February in Malaysia are the so-called monsoon season, and the landing operation would have been extremely difficult, while there were still other adverse conditions after March. Viewed from various angles, therefore, Dec. 8 was the unique opportunity and hence the declaration of war.

Maj.-Gen. Kenryo Sato, Chief of the Military Affairs Section of the War Ministry, in speech March 10, 1942.

"The Roberts report said that

Yank Landing on Iwo Jima

"We must do well to consider the possibility of the enemy landing on our home soil."—Premier Koiso, September, 1944.

at 6:20 a. m., on Dec. 7, a suspicious object was sighted in the prohibited area of Pearl Harbor by the United States armed services. Between 6:32 and 6:45 a. m. this object, which was a small submarine, was attacked and sunk by the concerted action of a naval patrol plane and a United States ship of war. Such facts, presented in an official United States document, cannot leave the slightest doubt as to who fired the first shot."—Tokyo Radio, Dec. 5, 1942.

"Nothing could be more ridiculous and laughable than the fact that the American Fleet was ignorant of the Nippon Navy's training maneuvers in the Pacific, that it neglected the important duty of navy and air patrol when the Nippon-American relations were in so high a state of tension, and that it was thereby forced to accept the tragic annihilation of its Pacific armada. This disgrace sustained by the United States Navy will for long be remembered by the world."—The New Order in Greater East Asia (Japanese magazine), April, 1942.

Jap Comment on Doolittle Raid
"Invading planes dropped incendiary bombs and started fires in several places, but fire fighters made short work of extinguishing them. In aerial dog fights, enemy planes were shot down. This was the first air raid in the history of Tokyo. The raid was wholly unethical and illegal. It must be also mentioned with awe that the whole Imperial family are quite safe."—Japan Times and Advertiser, April 15, 1942.

"The plain truth is that the contention that the United States cannot be invaded is a myth—as much a myth as that the Maginot Line could not be taken, or that Singapore and Pearl Harbor are impregnable. The United States was invaded in 1812 and it will be invaded again. We are fighting to create a New Order in Greater East Asia, but we see no earthly reason why we should restrict our military activities to this sphere. We propose to fight this war until our enemy is crushed even if we have to go half the way around the globe to do so."—Japan Times and Advertiser, Jan. 9, 1942.

"The present situation is truly grave. The Japanese people must fully display their total strength and thereby destroy the evil ambitions of the enemy nations. Emperor Hirohito, in Imperial Rescript opening a special session of the Diet, Oct. 26, 1943.

"We must do well to consider the possibility of the enemy landing on our home soil."—Premier Kuniaki Koiso, in speech to Diet, Sept. 8, 1944.

"One thing is now clear: America has lost the war. Japanese forces have now complete air and sea superiority over and around Leyte, and powerful additional Japanese forces are moving up for the attack. All the Japanese have to do in future operations is to project their indomitable spirits at the enemy and they will suffer internal fear that will defeat them before they get into the fight. The Occidental mind, of course, will not understand the great Oriental power."—Tokyo Radio, Oct. 26, 1944.

Senators Move Within One-Half Game of Detroit

Washington Blasts Indians in Double Bill; Bengals Win One

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Washington has a decided schedule advantage in the American league race today as the Senators head east only a half game behind Detroit after completing their final western trip.

Only 14 of the Nats' 38 remaining contests will be played away from the home lot, while the Tigers will be on the road for 29 of their 39 games.

The Senators have copped 27 of 44 starts on their three jaunts to Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit and St. Louis. The Tigers have found the road rough on the Atlantic seaboard where they have captured only 11 of 25 tilts.

Eleven more games with the New York Yankees, who are beginning to show signs of life with Red Ruffing and Charley Keller back in harness, bar the path of Ossie Bluege's men to the flag but Steve Onell's Bengals still have 10 more meetings with Cleveland, now strengthened by the return of Bob Feller. In fact, the Tigers get first hand information on Rapid Robert's condition when he faces them tomorrow night.

The Senators ended their Western wanderings yesterday by knocking over Cleveland in both ends of a doubleheader, 3-0 and 6-5 in 11 innings. Roger Wolff, who owned a 4-15 won and lost record in 1944, earned his 15th decision of the year by blanking the tribe with five blows in the first game.

Pete Center was tagged with his second setback in the finale when he was outplayed by Mike Kreevich and shortstop Dick Kimple and Buddy Lewis' fly gave relief pitcher Mickey Haefner a one-run margin in the second overtime game. Washington copped the series six out of seven and ran its latest win streak to five.

Dizzy Trout, apparently recovered from his aching back, stopped Philadelphia, 4-1, as the Tigers made it five out of seven over the A's. Connie Mack gambled and lost with a 19-year-old righthander, Bill Connelly, from Alberta, Va., who was making his first start in organized ball. The youngster yielded three runs in the first and that was more than enough although Hank Greenberg touched Luther Knerr for his seventh homer in the eighth.

It was Trout's fourth successive victory and his 13th of the campaign. New York's hopes had a relapse in Chicago where the Yankees blew a three-run lead in the last of the ninth and finally lost to the White Sox in the 11th 6-5. Mike Tresh's double followed by Kirby Farrell's single did the trick, dooming millman Jim Turner to his fourth loss. Ed Lopat went all the way to his ninth triumph despite 12 Yankee hits.

The St. Louis Browns' finished their stand against the Eastern invaders with a fancy 14 out of 20 record but failed to gain appreciably on the leaders. After Bob Muncie had earned his eighth success in a 4-2 opener, Boston turned around and took a 5-4 evening despite a desperate two-run St. Louis rally in the last of the ninth.

All National league clubs were idle and only two National and one American games are listed for today.

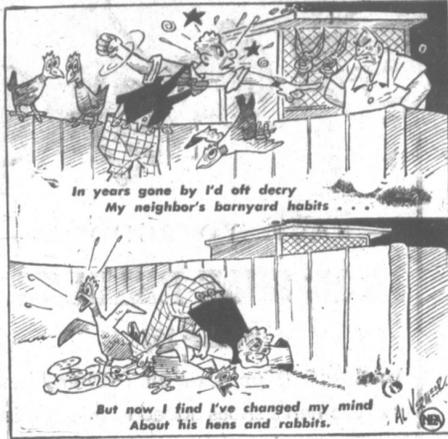

Odd Fellows To Meet Skellytown

A playoff game between the Pampa Odd Fellows and the Skellytown Odd Fellows of the mens senior softball league is scheduled for tomorrow night at 7:30 at Magnolia park.

The two teams are tied for a spot on the four-team league playoff which begins next week.

Other teams in the playoff are Squadron B, first half titlist, Knights of Pythias, second half winners, the Pampa Merchants, who finished second in the last half, and either the Pampa or Skellytown Odd Fellows.

Flyers in Quest of Houston Post Crown

The Pampa AAF Flyers are still in the running in the Houston Post semi-pro baseball tournament although they lost one of two games there the past week-end.

After a few day's rest, the Flyers will entrain for Houston again where they will meet an unnamed foe.

Although they lost the first game, to Ellington field 3-2, the Flyers went right to the hearts of nearly 5,000 fans who witnessed the ball game. The hustle and dash of the entire team made nearly every fan climb aboard the Pampa bandwagon, though their opponent was a Houston team.

Ellington counted a run in the third inning to take the lead when Slater walked with one out. He moved to second as Van Sickle rolled to the mound and scored as shortstop Lang lashed a single to right.

The Fighting Flyers combed Verne Williamson, former Texas league hurler, for five hits in the fifth to take a 2 to 1 lead as youthful Dick Koch rammed a double down the third base line. Reis struck out but Evans singled to left and Koch fell down rounding third base.

Evans, thinking a play was to be made on Koch at the plate, raced for second base but was thrown out for the second out. Bulkley then pushed a single into right scoring Koch to make it 1-1. Mick lined a single to right sending Bulkley to third and old reliable Elmer Berry drove a long single to left, scoring Bulkley with the run that put Pampa ahead 2-1.

Reis pitched courageously until the eighth when Van Sickle opened with a double off the right field wall. Lang flew out. Conyers scored Van Sickle and Polaski doubled to left to score Conyers and give Ellington a 3-2 lead which remained until the end of the game.

The Pampans received a tremendous ovation when they left the field with Cleo Patsy, particularly sealing the playoffs of the crowd due to a spectacular running catch in the sixth which has been hailed as one of the greatest in tournament history.

Walt Petrisky hurled a five-hitter for his eighth victory of the year Monday as the Flyers pounced on the Houston Heights Dodgers and won a close 2-1 game.

It was a 10-inning struggle that saw Petrisky hurl shut-out ball for the last nine innings.

Elmer "Pap" Berry, the old reliable of the Flyer staff, was the hero of the game as his steal of home in the fourth gave the Flyers their first run and his single in the tenth scored Johnny Bulkley with the winning run.

Houston scored in the first inning, but the Flyers were in complete control all the rest of the way. Elmer Berry got three of the Flyers' nine hits.

The great task of conserving and replenishing the forests of the world and reclaiming deserts and waste places by tree planting needs the concerted action of every country.

Championship Girls Softball Game Slated For Tonight at Roadrunner Ball Diamond

A championship girls' softball league game is slated for tonight when the First Baptist meet the First Methodists in the second game of a double bill at Roadrunner park.

In the first contest, at 7:30, the First Presbyterian senior boys, making their first start of the playoff series will meet the First Methodist boys, who dropped a 9-3 decision to Central Baptist Tuesday.

Last night, in the game that took only 35 minutes to play, the First Baptist girls trounced the Presbyterian girls 6-2 to advance to the finals in the league playoff.

The Baptists came from behind in the fifth inning to score three runs on a walk and a series of errors by the Presbyterians.

Both teams went scoreless in the first inning as each got one hit but the Presbyterians scored a run in the second on an error. First Baptist came back to tie it up in their half of the inning on a hit and two walks.

Presbyterian took a 2-1 lead in the fourth but the Baptists pounced on the Presbyterians in the fifth to take a 4 to 2 lead.

The Baptists countered twice in the sixth on a walk and three errors to win the ball game.

Libby Sturgeon hurled for the Presbyterian team and gave up only three hits but she issued four walks. Reba Fagan was the winning pitcher for the Baptists as she allowed two hits and issued only one walk.

Line-ups for the two teams:

First Baptist—Katherine Mosely 3b, Betty Prigmore ss, Betty Matt 1f, Mary Myatt rf, Clara Davis 2b, Gwendolyn McAdams rf, Reba Ba'n c, Reba Fagan p, Janice Doggett lf, and Ida Ruth Taylor cf.

First Presbyterian—Margaret price lf, Marporie Divon rf, Alice Jean Robinson rf, Wanda Cobb lf, Lela Ward cf, Libby Sturgeon p, Joyce Pratt c, Jean Pratt 2b, Donna Ruth Beague 3b, and Norma Russell ss.

Houston U. Planning Collegiate Football

HOUSTON, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Harry Fouke, newly appointed athletic head of the University of Houston, announced that the school is planning intercollegiate football for 1946.

"The first year we would like to play only a small card and work up to a 10-game schedule in a few years," he said.

It is to be hoped there is nothing trivial about Hermann Goering's reported heart attacks.—Ironton, O., Tribune.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Harry Carlson, Colorado U. coach, has written every high school principal in his state asking them to insist that baseball be put on their schools' athletic programs. . . . That sounds like the most constructive step taken since the college coaches association was formed, though a committee has already conferred with a big league group to explore the possibilities of keeping college ball players in college.

Trainer Dwayne (Spike) Dixon of Marquette U. athletic teams still claims a tree-sitting record of 1,263 hours he established at Champaign, Ill. back in 1930. . . . When Dixon recently learned that the old pine tree in which he had spent so many happy hours was to be cut down to make room for some college buildings, he persuaded the Illinois U. alumni to save him the trunk. . . . Spike plans to use it to build himself a chair.

Shorts And Shells
In the two years the football giants have trained at Bear Mountain, N. Y., only publicist Bill Abbott and trainer "Doc" Sweeney have summoned the strength and courage to walk to the mountain top. . . . "And you'll notice I took my doctor along," comments Bill. . . . Ted De Guerio, the Newark, N. J., kid who received a reported $19,000 for signing with the Red Sox system, collected 85 bucks more recently when he belted a 400-foot homer for Durham in the Carolina league. The fans passed the hat for that feat.

Mexico's hippodrome, De Las Americas has boosted purses again and plans to distribute six million pesos to horsemen next winter.

Easy Explanation
When Ty Cobb and Babe Ruth were sparring verbally for the benefit of reporters the other night, Ty remarked: "You remember Babe as a hitter, but he really was a great pitcher too. I never could hit the Babe." . . . Ruth then came back: "When I was pitching, the only time I knew Ty was not going to hit was when I had him 2 and 0. Then I made sure he hit the dirt."

Service Dept.
Capt. Floyd Burdette, who managed to play basketball at Oklahoma A. and M. while on duty there for the army, is looking for a coaching job when he gets out. Floyd thinks he would take a college that, never has been a court big-timer and put it right up there in four or five years.

Southwestern To Depend Mostly on High School Boys

GEORGETOWN, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Forty candidates for the Southwestern university football team are in the midst of a hurry-up training schedule with the opening of the campaign less than a month away. . . . Parts were brought out this week for scrimmage sessions.

Coach R. M. Medley has been converting some freshmen talent into what he hopes will prove an interesting line-up from the standpoint of the fans, augmented by eight or ten lettermen from last year with the probability of reinforcements arriving with mid-season registration on Aug. 27.

While any guess as to the starting line-up at this point would be premature, performance on the practice field indicates that among those who are likely to receive consideration for end are: Bill Betts, a sophomore from Wharton, San Cleavenger, 1944 letterman from Ed Paso; R. L. Holloway from Crowley, and Dick Westkemper, a former San Antonio high school star who lettered with the Pirates last year.

Dick Dailey, letterman from Temple, and Embrey Walton, a freshman from Fort Worth have looked like possible starters at tackle with the possibility that Tom Kirksey from Lott might be assigned to either tackle or guard position.

Ernest Dewald, senior Georgetown ministerial student, and Ed Blodinsky of Buffalo, New York, both 1944 lettermen, will see service as guards in the Pirate line-up, with Bryan Taylor of Corpus Christi in the center spot. Taylor lettered with the Pirates last year.

Medley and Mayhew have been looking over a generous line-up of prospective backs, including: H. K. Allen, former Austin high school star, and Rudy Flores of El Paso, both of whom lettered in 1944, while among the newcomer possibilities are included Joe Evans of Blanket, O. B. Horton of Corpus Christi, Walter Ruthstrom and Bob Walker of Houston.

The Pirate schedule for the season:

Sept. 14—Bergrstrom army air field at Georgetown (nite).
Sept. 22—Texas Tech at Lubbock

(nite).
Sept. 29—Texas university at Austin.
Oct. 6—Rice institute at Houston (nite).
Oct. 13—National University of Mexico at San Antonio (nite).
Oct. 20—Louisiana Tech at Ruston 1 (nite).
Nov. 3—Baylor university at Waco.
Nov. 10—Ellington field at Georgetown (nite).

ORLANDO, Fla., Aug. 23.—(AP)—Ten major league baseball teams either have completed arrangements for training camps in Florida, next year or have begun negotiations with Florida cities for park facilities.
