Little Damage Done, Except to Nerves Of Residents

BY RONALD DIXON (Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Earthquakes caused by a geological stimulus of 35,000 years ago shook the eastern section of the United States today and a scientist predicted more shocks would come.

Twinkles

Strange it is how few earthquakes we have here in the Panhandle despite stunning football upsets.

They would be stranger days, adds the West Foster group, if the preachers were invited in on Sunday to enjoy an extra-exceptional repast as of yore.

But preachers have shortened their invocations, thus assuring popularity with any small boys who might be at the same table, Mrs. Gushaway reminds us.

After having selected and bought three honey dew melons, all too green to eat, we're in a mood to receive suggestions on how to judge them.

Musing of the moment: It has become tremendously important that Amarillo defeat Lubbock November 11 and permit a 3-way tie on Thanksgiving. . . . But first there is a little duty tonight down at Plainview and another when Borger's Bulldogs come here November 9.

Brevities

JUDGE I. V. DUNCAN, Pampa's No. 1 optimist in oil, sports, and all other matters of public concern is absolutely certain that Amarillo will beat Lubbock and that Pampa will beat Amarillo. Beyond that he will not prophesy unless crowded, in which case he would predict a state championship for the locals. . . . He is deeply pained by some of the pessimistic fans who until Saturday were optimistic beyond reason.

Judge Duncan is right in his statement that Pampa ought to well to get an even break with Lubbock in the last six years. Lubbock is nearly twice as large as Pampa. Lubbock has a coaching school each summer. Lubbock has an A. college team which illustrates the need for sports. . . . No one with judgment can take Lubbock lightly in any year.

MAYBE THE legislators have been busier than it has appeared. Whether for soft-soaping reasons or not we won't say, but the Citizens Anti-Sales Tax association has sent out a letter declaring "the much unjustified criticism of the legislature." With elections coming next year, the lions are under tremendous pressure owing to the congressional nature of the proposals submitted. For example, says the letter, liquor had:

- 1. Those who desired to control it in an outright monopoly, by package sales in state owned stores, the state to go all the way to the neck, through selling at lowered prices that under a license fee when sold in privately owned places.
2. Those who wanted it licensed, and the state to derive revenue from a stiff license on privately owned stores, to sell in unbroken packages only.
3. Those who believed it should be sold in unbroken packages and also by the drink in licensed places.
4. Those who wanted it sold in any form only by the (so-called) higher class places, such as hotels, restaurants, dining cars. Besides these there were others with modifications of the above plans.

In the case of old age pensions, one group looked on the plan as a retirement scheme applicable to everyone reaching the age of 65. The other wished to limit the beneficiaries to those in dire need. These two viewpoints are so far apart as to make compromise almost impossible.

IT MAY BE WELL said that some of the best work is done when the legislature is not in session, but when committees are meeting. Legislation is not written on the floor, nor born in full maturity in any harangue by an orator. Legislators are very representative of, and typical of the people. Until the voters quit being swayed by prejudices and empty promises, there will be no improvement in the caliber of men sent to Austin. . . . Expecting ordinary citizens to solve

Hallowe'en This Year Safe, Sane

Pampans spent a safe and sane Hallowe'en, one of the first in the city's history, police and officers of the sheriff's and constable's departments announced this morning.

There was not a single serious accident reported and boys and girls had their fun without seriously damaging property. There were a few pranks that could have proved costly, but quick action by the police averted accidents.

Souping of windows was again the chief form of amusement. Police tried to keep the practice down as much as possible, and as a result, many pounds of soap were collected by the officers. It will be given back to owners upon application at the police station.

The cold wind which swooped down on the city may have had something to do with the quiet night. Many parties for the youngsters kept many interested.

Two Hallowe'en Victims Counted

CHICAGO, Nov. 1 (AP)—The nation counted at least two deaths today and six persons severely injured in the 1935 celebration of Hallowe'en, autumn's walgung night of mischief and grotesquerie through the years.

BISHOP LUCEY TO BLESS BELL AT HOLY SOULS

Special Services Are Planned; Breakfast At Schneider

Pampa will soon have another church bell.

A bell to be installed in the belfry of Holy Souls Catholic church will be blessed Sunday morning at 8 o'clock in a service on the church lawn by the Rt. Rev. R. E. Lucey, bishop of the Amarillo diocese, Catholic church. The bell will be installed later. It was purchased from the First Methodist church at Canadian.

Another church in town having a bell is the McCallough Memorial church on the Borger highway which has the bell that formerly hung in the old First Methodist church here.

Following the blessing of the bell, Bishop Lucey will say a high mass at which time the choir will sing. Then, members of the Holy Name society will receive communion in a body. The bishop will deliver a sermon after the mass.

At 9:30 o'clock, Bishop Lucey will be guest of honor at a communion breakfast at the Schneider hotel.

Drivers License Passed By Senate

AUSTIN, Nov. 1 (AP)—The senate today passed finally a bill to license all drivers of automobiles and the house started debate on the senate's general officers salary bill after making a proposed lobby investigation.

Sponsors of drivers licensing rushed the bill through passage, 23 to 5, without amendments. They considered its passage without change materially increased chances for enactment.

The bill, under which a three-year license would cost 25 cents and present drivers would be exempt from examination, was similar to a conference agreement drafted in the regular session.

WOMAN KILLED IN Second Accident

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 1 (AP)—Already injured in an automobile accident, Mrs. Jack Reed, 31, was crushed to death early today by the impact of a third car which crashed into her where the first accident had happened by a few minutes before.

The woman was a passenger in the automobile driven by her husband, Jack Reed, when it and a car driven by Moses Lee, a civilian conservation corps enrollee at Fort Sam Houston, collided.

After the wreck Mrs. Reed got out of the car into the street preparatory to going to the hospital, according to police.

A passing automobile struck her and knocked her through the air for some thirty feet.

The driver of the automobile which struck Mrs. Reed was described by police and booked for negligent homicide.

The bill, under which a three-year license would cost 25 cents and present drivers would be exempt from examination, was similar to a conference agreement drafted in the regular session.

A house committee had approved the bill, but house advocates indicated they would await arrival of the senate bill before seeking floor action.

Senators killed a house resolution proposing a fundamental change in legislative rules to restrict the authority of conference committees.

It was defeated, 11 to 15, after Lieut.-Gov. Walter Woodfill held invalid a hotel room committee session at which the rules committee recommended adoption. An affirmative two-thirds majority would have been necessary.

One senator recently predicted continuation of the practice by conference would lead to a unicameral legislature.

Despite strong protest, the house killed, 68 to 46, a resolution to investigate lobbyists.

"We have let the lobbyists lead us around by the nose in a way that is shameful to the people," Rep. J. Carroll McConnell of Palo Pinto said. "We need this investigation to protect ourselves and the people."

The resolution was tabled without debate after Rep. W. O. Reed of Dallas observed "If the people send the right kind of men to the legislature they won't have to worry about the lobbyists."

HALLOWEEN PARTIES FILL THE WEEK FOR OLD AND YOUNG

AMUSEMENT IS VARIED ENOUGH TO PLEASE ALL

DANCES, MOVIES, AND MANY PARTIES ENJOYED

Customary gaiety of the season marked Halloween in Pampa, with everyone finding his favorite type of entertainment in the numerous parties, dances, informal gatherings, and a midnight matinee at La Nora theater.

One event for a younger crowd was a dance given by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Saunders at their home for friends of their son, Maurice. About a dozen couples enjoyed dancing, the Halloween favors, and refreshments.

Clubs and classes were almost unanimous in their celebration of the holiday. Many groups have entertained through the past week in Halloween spirit.

Club Entertains.

Mrs. C. O. Bridges was hostess to Merten Home Demonstration club and guests at a party last evening. Weird figures of ghosts, cats and witches appeared in the dimly lighted rooms, where masked and costumed guests were ushered into a room to have their palms read.

After unmasking, they enjoyed games traditional to the day and were served sandwiches, pumpkin pie and coffee. Music by T. M. Glasby, Mrs. Pete Kelly, and Alva Phillips entertained for another period.

Present were Messrs. and Misses E. W. Taylor, Phillips, Kelly, F. A. Jewell, Glasby, R. A. Harvey, J. C. Browning, and Bridges.

Masquerade Given.

The adult class of Francis Avenue Church of Christ had a masquerade Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Crockett Archer, seven miles west of Pampa.

Fall flowers, witches and black cats decorated the rooms, and the Halloween motif was featured in refreshments served after games.

Guests of the class were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morrow, Misses Gladys West, Marge Williams, and Winnie Jean McKenzie.

Members present were Messrs. and Misses, Cecil Houchin, H. A. Layne, E. C. McKenzie, G. M. Thorpe, H. W. Waters, E. G. Frasier, F. C. Fischer, J. C. Rose, E. P. Tiffany, August Kuehls, J. R. Eudra, N. A. Cobb, Earl Robb, Rosemary Phile, J. J. Schmidt, E. E. Van Landingham, John Kelley, Rex McKay, D. W. Coffman, W. C. Archer, Misses Murray, Roy Riley, Opal McKay, Misses Mildred Lafferty, W. W. Russell, T. C. Carter, Lynn W. L. Carter, John Hudson, Mack Covey; Mr. Jack Vance.

Class Has Party.

A Halloween party at the home of Miss Lillian Mullinax entertained First Methodist Purity class Tuesday evening. Room decorations suggested the holiday, and games carried out the Halloween spirit.

Mrs. C. H. Whittle and Elizabeth Mullinax assisted the hostess in serving refreshments to Mrs. S. A. Hursk, teacher of the class, and Misses Mary Idelle Cox, Florence Jackson, Virginia Dyson, Juanita McAllister, Alice Gordon, Lorraine Quattlebaum, Ruby Gibson, Margaret Baldwin, Margaret Hamrick, Ruth Palminter.

Couple Married Recently Given Party Thursday

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Sain, who were married last week, a Halloween bride dinner was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hatcher on the Continental lease last evening. Mrs. Sain is the former Miss Louise Walker.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Sain, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Hearne, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Murphy, Mrs. Belle Wells, Mrs. Ella Henderson, Miss Onetta Frasier, and Odell Walker.

Gift Presentation Is Made at Shower

Mrs. G. T. Burch and Mrs. Geo. Nunley were recent hostesses with a shower for Mrs. F. D. Nunley. The house was decorated in pink and blue. Guests were all present when the honoree arrived and was met by the hostess with a basinful pulled by two storks and loaded with gifts.

After gifts were inspected, games were played and pumpkin pie and coffee were served from pink and blue china. Mrs. Paul Blankenbush gave a reading. Advice to the bride was given by Mrs. Burch.

Those present were Messrs. Bill Burch, George Henderson, W. H. Johnson, Jean Johnson, R. B. Gill, F. H. Parouto, Willie Kluber, R. S. Walker, N. A. Rickman, C. H. McCullick, R. V. King, Rex Cross, R. Webb, Lawrence Horn, Walter E. Hogan, Paul Blankenbush, E. O. Pulliam Jr., Carlisle Blymiller, O. G. Smith, and L. C. Cunningham. Gifts were sent by Mrs. H. A. Blymiller and Mrs. J. A. Harvey.

Mama's Girl, For Keeps

Happy ever winning undisputed custody of her daughter Jane, 7, after a three-year legal battle, Ann Harding, screen beauty, is shown here with the child in Los Angeles court. Actor Harry Banner, divorced mate of Miss Harding, is allowed to be with his daughter four week-ends every three months. The couple were married nine years ago and divorced in Reno in May, 1932. Agreement was reached out of court after each had charged the other was not a fit parent.

WHAT IS HOME WITHOUT A GARDEN?

ABOUT BULB PLANTING

As drainage is the greatest enemy of bulbs, the location of the fall planting should be carefully chosen. Contrary to the ideas of some gardeners, cold weather does little injury to them, but water standing in the ground where they are planted will rot them.

The old way of building up tulip beds higher than the surrounding surface to insure good drainage is still a good practice, especially if there is any doubt about pools of water forming or a generally damp condition. Lily bulbs, which are particularly likely to rot in too wet a location, are often planted each on a cushion of sand to assist drainage.

There are two methods practiced in placing bulbs. Where beds are devoted solely to bulbs, the Dutch method is convenient. In this, the earth is thrown out of the bed to the depth required and the bulbs are set on the bottom of the excavation in the order desired. This method is well adapted to formal beds, where a pattern is to be worked out in the flowers. After the bulbs are placed according to the design, the earth is thrown over them.

A method more widely practiced in this country is to use a dibber, or pointed tool, which makes a hole in the soft earth of the bed or border. Where the bulbs are to be planted among perennials or near shrubs, the dibber method is advised, as it prevents disturbances of the roots of companion plants. A point to watch in dibber planting is that the bulb rests on soil in the bottom of the hole and is not hung, that is, left with an air hole beneath it caused by the point of the dibber. Drop a little fine soil into the hole to prevent this.

It is always important in planting seeds, bulbs, or plants to bring whatever is planted into close and firm contact with the soil. Only in this way can normal development proceed. Air holes next to roots or bulbs always cause trouble.

Bulbs are very susceptible to certain poisons which are contained in manures and manure should never be used in planting them except by an expert. While tulips are grown in Holland on a soil of sand, which has been built up by manuring for centuries, it is said that manure is never used until it has been buried for a year deep under ground. A good commercial plant food, worked into the ground a few days before planting bulbs is easiest and best for amateur gardeners.

Daughters Attend Anniversary Dinner

Names of two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Patton were omitted from the guest list for the golden wedding anniversary dinner of last Sunday, given in a recent issue of THE NEWS. Mrs. J. P. Mathews of Pampa and Mrs. W. H. Stracener of Mobeetie are the other children of the honored couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Stracener, Mr. and Mrs. Mathews and family were among the 88 guests present for the dinner.

Tween-Teen Dress, Simple

Yet Distinguished for Pretty Smocked Effect Easy-to Make!!!

BY ELLEN WORTH

It would be difficult to imagine anything more simple to make than this pretty little dress. The neck finishes with band, tied in bow and, hey presto! a cute effect! No sleeve difficulty. The sleeves are easily sewed to the drop-shoulders. The skirt has the fashionable front fullness. It can be made with long or short sleeves. Numberless materials are suitable for its development. Thin woollens as challis prints, crepe, jersey, and rayon and wool mixtures are very attractive for it, while crepe silk and dark ground cotton prints are also delightful. Style No. 504 is designed for sizes 10, 12, 14 and 16 years. Size 12 requires 3 1/2 yards of 39-inch material for long sleeve dress. HOLIDAY HAS MANY EVENTS FOR CHILDREN

WEEK OF PARTIES FOR YOUNGER GROUP IS GAY ONE

Youngsters, whose Halloween season began a week ago with parties that continued through last evening's "spooking" expeditions and more formal entertainments, had probably the largest part in the city's celebration of the holiday.

Scarcely an organization or class for boys and girls missed having a party at some time during the week. Schools joined in the fun; pupils took part in carnivals at Junior high and Horace Mann schools, and several rooms arranged their own entertainments.

Sunday school groups observed the holiday also. The entire Junior high division of First Baptist church was entertained at the church last evening.

Costume Party Given.

Girl Scouts of troop six had their party in the Scout house, meeting in costume for traditional Halloween games revealing the future. Two members in Negro costume added comedy to the evening.

Refreshments were served by Misses R. L. Moseley, McCarty, and Wade. Thomason to Frances Babington, Betty Jean Burton, Norma Lee Dickinson, Nettie Edwards, Peggy Mae Ford, Eleanor Ruth and Helen Gillham. Frances Helen Koonce, Annateer, Lee, Jean Lively, Loretta McArthur.

Meredith Morehead, Vera Evelyn Sackett, Doris Taylor, Betty Lee Thompson, John Tucker, Mary Elizabeth Tucker, Margaret Kirchner, Colleen Robinson, Anne Martin, Esther June Mullinax, Martha Frances Pierson, Betty Ann Culbertson, Myra Abernethy, Nita Rose McCarty, Yetta Jean Westbrook, and the troop leaders, Mrs. J. O. Gillham and Mrs. J. M. Turner.

Boys Go As Hoboes.

Boys of the eighth grade class at First Methodist Sunday school were guests of a member, Pat Patterson, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Patterson. The event was a hobo party, with games around a bonfire in the back yard.

The "handouts" were eaten from tin cans, then the hobo troop joined the other bands of H. Herbert Maynard, Buster Wilkins, John Edwyn McConnell, Junior Green, Jack Crout, Jack Stroup, Richard Killgore, Joe Crayler, Hardin Duke, and the teacher, Archer Fullingim.

Entire School Entertained.

Spooks were seen on all corners in Phillips camp, south of Pampa, yesterday afternoon and last evening as pupils of Hopkins school No. 2 were entertained. Teachers entertained first to fourth grade pupils in beautifully decorated rooms.

The children made their own masks and caps, enjoyed games and popcorn balls.

In the evening the fifth, sixth, and seventh grades had their party in the community hall, sponsored by all the teachers. First prize for costumes went to David and Charlie McAnally, and second to Beulah Owens. Many clever costumes were seen. Games and fortune telling amused the group.

Piano Class Honored.

Mrs. L. Hartfield entertained her piano pupils of the Junior Harmony class with a Halloween party Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. J. R. Minnich. Guests were met by a spook who ushered them into the gaily decorated rooms.

Patsy Crout played a piano number. Spooks, which was followed by ghost stories, contests, and games. Halloween refreshments were served to Ina Lee McBride, Joe Cargile, Eleanor Hutches, Billie Rue Dewitt, Mary Frances Sharr, Marsha Orr, Irene Dewitt, Patsy Gaut, Irene Westbrook, Winnie Jean McKenzie, June Dewitt, LeRoy Malone, Gloria Kennitz, and Joan Minnich.

Scoutmaster Faces Shooting Charge

EASTLAND, Nov. 1. (AP)—Albert Pierce, superintendent of schools and scoutmaster at Carbon, near here, was charged with assault to murder today in connection with the shooting of W. H. Gilbert. The county grand jury, preparing to terminate its report, continued the term for an investigation of the case.

Deputy Sheriff Steele Hill said the shooting, in which three shots were fired, one hitting Gilbert in the thigh, occurred near the Carbon postoffice.

Officers said they had learned Gilbert refused admittance to Pierce's son on a pass at an entertainment in Carbon last night.

TREBLE CLEF CLUB IS ENTERTAINED AT CITY HALL

Three nations which sent many citizens to colonial Texas, and their effect on Texas music, were studied by Treble Clef club at its social meeting Wednesday afternoon, when Misses Bob McCoy, Dave Dodge, and Harry E. Hoare were hostesses at city club room.

Songs of the Spanish, French, and German settlers were included on the program with talks, Mrs. Frances Stark Sturgeon, leader, introduced the program by sketching the musical background of the state, and listing Spanish contributions.

Spanish cavalier, a well-known old melody, was sung by Mrs. H. O. Roberts and Mrs. Dodge, accompanied by Mrs. Phillip Wolfe. After Miss Jimma Searcy had discussed French contributions to Texas music, Mrs. J. W. Garman sang a French song of the early period.

Mrs. Walter Warner spoke of German contributions, and Mrs. McCoy played a piano medley of German lullabies. Roll call was answered with events in the musical history of Texas.

Material for this program was secured from the state historian, and included pamphlets by Mrs. C. T. Craig of Athens and Mrs. Lotta Spell of Austin, some of the few treatises that have been written on early Texas music.

A Halloween theme marked refreshments of pecan pumpkin pie and coffee, served with plate favors of Halloween candy.

Mrs. Fred Cullum, Mrs. J. C. McWilliams, Mrs. J. M. Hash, and Miss Evelyn Shanklin were welcomed as new members of the club. Others present were Misses W. L. Brummett, Gorman, Sam Irwin, Harry Lyman, Roberts, Sturgeon, E. W. Voss, Wanner, Everett Westbrook, Wolfe, Jack Horner, G. C. Malone, V. E. Fatheree, F. E. Leech, and the hostesses.

EARTHQUAKE

ported ready to collapse. Subway trackwalkers double-quickened along their sections, and tunnel officials hurried underneath the rivers, then reported all as well.

Frank O'Donnell of the dominion meteorological bureau in Toronto, Ont., described the quake as the worst ever felt there.

"North of the St. Lawrence river," he said, "there is a fault in the structure of the earth, and that seems to be the most likely spot for it to be centered."

Dr. Conant and the Rev. Joseph J. Lynch, head of the physics department at Fordham university, agreed that the St. Lawrence fault was a likely offender.

Triangulation of distance readings from seismographs in Buffalo, N. Y., Weston, Mass., and New York indicated the center was not far from the sources of the St. Lawrence river.

The states which reported feeling the tremors were: Jerseyites Not Worried

Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin.

The District of Columbia and the provinces of New Brunswick, Ontario and Quebec also were affected. Telephone service was broken in central Ottawa and Hamilton, Ont., and between Rome and other cities in New York.

An occasional cracked wall, a few bricks toppled from chimneys and some broken china apparently completed the damage.

But easterners have never become accustomed to earthquakes, and nerves suffered more than inanimate objects.

A man in Plainfield, N. J., said he felt a "gentle unbursting" of his house several times, "like the lifting of a ship on a swelling sea."

"To northern New Jerseyites the movement was instantly associated with arsenals and explosives factories in the area."

"Where's the explosion?" was the question asked by hundreds.

2 Carnivals and Pie Supper Will Be Held Tonight

Many Pampans will attend a carnival and pie supper Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Laketon school house. The invitation was accepted more than a week ago.

The Halloween and carnival spirit will predominate. Games for both old and young will be played, carnival booths will be arranged, and two short programs will be presented.

Proceeds will be used to purchase playground equipment for the school.

Local residents also are invited to attend a carnival at the Skellytown school tonight. A big program is being planned to be given at the gymnasium of the school.

Trippers will meet at the city hall at 7 p. m. Although the Laketon invitation was accepted before that was received from Skellytown, the good will committees hope that there will be enough volunteer trippers to visit each event.

BARKER PICKS OHIO, TCU AND SMU TO WIN GAMES SATURDAY

By HERBERT W. BARKER Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 1. (AP)—Spinning the coin on this week's football schedule:

Ohio State-Notre Dame: The football "natural" of the year, a collision between two undefeated and untied arrays, a genuine toss-up despite the prevailing odds in Ohio State's favor. We'll take Ohio State on the theory that the Buckeyes have the greater scoring strength, the more deceptive attack and that they lose little by comparison with the Ramblers on defense.

U. C. L. A.-California: The far western equivalent of the big fust at Columbus, a battle of undefeated teams. California's six opponents have scored only one touchdown against the Golden Bears so far but it looks as though U. C. L. A., paced by the sensational Chuck Chesire, can break through enough to win.

U. C. L. A. by a whisker. Yale-Dartmouth: Earl Black's Indians from New Hampshire have the guns to win but they've got to beat the Yale bowl jinx as well as a strong Eli aggregation. Playing the law of averages, Dartmouth to beat Yale for the first time in history.

Louisiana State-Auburn: Those Plainsmen are plenty tough but L. S. U. gets the nod.

Ford-Pitt: No eastern team has beaten Pittsburgh since 1928 and doubt is hereby expressed that Fordham can turn the trick.

Michigan-Penn: Michigan out-lucked Columbia a week ago and will take a lot of beating. A ballot for Penn just the same.

Pinceton-Navy: That Princeton powerhouse started rolling last Saturday and looks too strong for Navy.

Army-Mississippi State: Ralph Sasse has brought north the team that walloped Alabama but the vote here goes to Army.

Harvard-Brown: After spending three weeks of defense against Holy Cross, Army and Dartmouth, Harvard ought to get a little practice on offense in this one.

Temple-Michigan State: Reserving the right of appeal, Temple, shadily.

Villanova-Ietroit: Villanova to reserve last week's result.

Minnesota-Purdue: Minnesota, in the face of storm signals.

Northwestern-Illinois: Northwestern, on the basis of the Wildcat's fine showing against Minnesota.

Iowa-Indiana: All together, Iowa, Tulane-Colgate: Colgate seems the stronger but the Red Raiders won't like the heat at New Orleans.

A hesitating ballot for the north. Southern Methodist-Texas: The Mustangs of S. M. U.

Baylor-Texas Christian: Christian seems the better of these two unbeaten outfits.

West Virginia-Washington & Lee: West Virginia.

Alabama-Kentucky: Can't see anybody beating Alabama the rest of the season.

Florida-Georgia: Georgia, easily.

Georgia-Tech: Close but Vanderbilt gets the call.

Duke-Tennessee: It's risky picking Duke these days but here goes again.

North Carolina State-North Carolina: Possibly the south's closest game. A shade for North Carolina.

Virginia-Maryland: Maryland.

Virginia Poly-South Carolina: South Carolina hasn't shown a thing. V. P. I.

Missouri-Nebraska: Nebraska to ruin Missouri's undefeated record.

Marquette-Iowa State: Marquette, handily.

Oklahoma-Kansas: Oklahoma.

Tulsa-Kansas State: Tulsa.

Arkansas-Texas A. & M.: Arkansas.

Stanford-Santa Clara: It hardly seems in the cards for Santa Clara to lose three major games in a row but Stanford is the choice.

Washington-Montana: Washington.

George Washington-Rice: Rice should have few worries here.

Cornell-Columbia: Columbia.

New York U.-Bucknell: N. Y. U.

Syracuse-Penn State: A slender edge, perhaps, for Syracuse.

Carnegie-Duquesne: Duquesne.

Rutgers-Lafayette: It doesn't seem as though Lafayette is going to beat anyone.

Colorado University-Colorado College: Close one. The University.

Montana State-Wyoming: Wyoming.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Nov. 1. (AP)—With occasional bursts of speed, and intervals of dullness, the stock market forged ahead today for gains of fractions to 3 or more points.

The alcohol, farm implements, specialties, some of the motor and metals led the advance. Many new highs for the past five years or so were recorded. The close was firm. Transfers approximated 2,000,000 shares.

ETHIOPIA

The Italians bearing arms in Africa have advised Mussolini that they are ready, if necessary, to "tighten their belt" if sanctions cut off supplies of foodstuffs and materials needed.

There is an uncooled and menacing hostility in Italy toward England. It has been necessary to place additional guards about the British embassy. Americans are finding it to their advantage to identify themselves, for many of them are mistaken for Englishmen.

Although the war is two thousand miles away in Africa, the guns loaded with the most gunfire were mounted at Geneva, city of world conciliation. Present were representatives of the 52 nations who hope by united economic and armament boycott to punish Italy for her "aggression" against another League member—Ethiopia.

Among all the diplomats there, however, it was recognized that the future of Europe and of Ethiopia depended most largely upon the decisions of three—Britain's foreign secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare, France's premier, Pierre Laval, and Italy's League delegate, the tireless Baron Pompeo Aloisi.

The return of the baron from Rome today was accepted as a sign that Mussolini still hoped to accomplish his purposes in Africa without suffering the threatened punishment of the League.

War Not Dangerous Yet
Premier Laval, Sir Samuel Hoare and Baron Aloisi met this morning. Sir Samuel's first act on arriving at Geneva was to seek an interview with Mussolini's envoy, and a date was made for the meeting early this evening.

It was understood from Italian sources that Italy has sent her delegate back to Geneva with no new suggestion for a settlement, but was merely determined to maintain her League connection until such time as it might no longer be feasible.

That the menace of the war's spreading to Europe was far more dangerous than the actual fighting so far in Ethiopia was indicated in an official announcement in Rome today that said only one Italian officer and four Italian enlisted men had "died in combat" in Ethiopia. The death list was exclusive of native soldiers fighting for Italy.

The commercial loans of member banks in selected cities reflected a seasonal increase between Sept. 11 and Oct. 9, but on the latter date they were moderately lower than a year ago. Investments of these banks on Oct. 9 were substantially larger than on either comparative date. Federal reserve bank loans to member banks showed a steady decline during the 31-day period ending Oct. 15.

Building activity reflected a recession from the large August volume. The valuation of building permits issued at principal cities during September, although 47 per cent lower than in August, was 106 per cent larger than in September last year.

The September sales of department stores increased 41 per cent as compared with August, the review continues, and were seven per cent larger than in the same month last year. The bank's adjusted index of department store sales rose to 91.7 per cent of the 1923-25 average during September, which was 34 points higher than in August and the highest reported in more than four years.

In the wholesale trade, there was a considerable lack of uniformity in merchandise distribution. September business was affected adversely by the slow movement of the cotton crop and, in some lines, by the heavy early season purchases. While comparisons with a year ago were unfavorable in some lines it should be recalled, the review explains, that business was unusually heavy at that time. Wholesale collections reflected a seasonal increase over those of the previous month.

In the realm of agriculture and stock raising, the review says that all growing crops, except cotton, generally were favored by weather conditions during the last month. Heavy rains throughout the district were beneficial to late maturing crops, which was reflected in the increased production forecast by the department of agriculture in its Oct. 1 report. "The good surface and subsoil season obtaining has enabled farmers to proceed with fall plowing and seeding operations."

"On the other hand, the cotton crop showed further deterioration due largely to insect damage, and the wet weather delayed picking and ginning."

The condition of ranges and livestock reflected a marked gain during the past month, the review reports. Prospects for winter pasturage are good in practically all sections and livestock are in better flesh than usual for this season. Commercial reports indicate that range trading has been very active and that wool and mohair has been moving in volume at increased prices.

GENERAL ADVANCE IN BUSINESS REPORTED BY FEDERAL RESERVE

DALLAS, Oct. 30. (AP)—A general advance along the united front of business, industry and agriculture is reflected in the monthly business review of the Federal Reserve bank of Dallas, released today.

"A further expansion in retail buying in larger cities and a continuance of generally favorable conditions in the agricultural and livestock industries were significant features of the business and industrial situation in this district during the past month," is the review's summation of the outlook.

The September sales of department stores increased 41 per cent as compared with August, the review continues, and were seven per cent larger than in the same month last year. The bank's adjusted index of department store sales rose to 91.7 per cent of the 1923-25 average during September, which was 34 points higher than in August and the highest reported in more than four years.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By ROBBINS COONS

HOLLYWOOD — Had you happened to sit near Preston Foster at the preview of "The Last Days of Pompeii" you would have seen two performances by Preston Foster—the one on the screen, and the equally convincing imitation of an actor practically dying in his seat.

Most actors "suffer" at previews of their own pictures and Foster was more nervous than most. This was his biggest role in his biggest picture. He led the cast in billing. "With Preston Foster" stood alone on the screen after the title of the picture. That meant he was featured. If not starred. Most actors can give a good imitation of nervousness, but perspiration is not something one acts. Preston was wringing wet.

Building activity reflected a recession from the large August volume. The valuation of building permits issued at principal cities during September, although 47 per cent lower than in August, was 106 per cent larger than in September last year.

The September sales of department stores increased 41 per cent as compared with August, the review continues, and were seven per cent larger than in the same month last year. The bank's adjusted index of department store sales rose to 91.7 per cent of the 1923-25 average during September, which was 34 points higher than in August and the highest reported in more than four years.

In the wholesale trade, there was a considerable lack of uniformity in merchandise distribution. September business was affected adversely by the slow movement of the cotton crop and, in some lines, by the heavy early season purchases. While comparisons with a year ago were unfavorable in some lines it should be recalled, the review explains, that business was unusually heavy at that time. Wholesale collections reflected a seasonal increase over those of the previous month.

In the realm of agriculture and stock raising, the review says that all growing crops, except cotton, generally were favored by weather conditions during the last month. Heavy rains throughout the district were beneficial to late maturing crops, which was reflected in the increased production forecast by the department of agriculture in its Oct. 1 report. "The good surface and subsoil season obtaining has enabled farmers to proceed with fall plowing and seeding operations."

"On the other hand, the cotton crop showed further deterioration due largely to insect damage, and the wet weather delayed picking and ginning."

The condition of ranges and livestock reflected a marked gain during the past month, the review reports. Prospects for winter pasturage are good in practically all sections and livestock are in better flesh than usual for this season. Commercial reports indicate that range trading has been very active and that wool and mohair has been moving in volume at increased prices.

The commercial loans of member banks in selected cities reflected a seasonal increase between Sept. 11 and Oct. 9, but on the latter date they were moderately lower than a year ago. Investments of these banks on Oct. 9 were substantially larger than on either comparative date. Federal reserve bank loans to member banks showed a steady decline during the 31-day period ending Oct. 15.

FEEL FINE

Mothers read this:

A CONSTIPATED child is so easily straightened out, it's a pity more mothers don't know the remedy.

A liquid laxative is the answer, mothers. The answer to all your worries over constipation. A liquid can be measured. The dose can be exactly suited to any age or need. Just reduce the dose each time, until the bowels are moving of their own accord and need no help.

This treatment will succeed with any child and with any adult.

Doctors use liquid laxatives. Hospitals use the liquid form. If it is best for their use, it is best for home use. And today, there are fully a million families that will have no other kind in the house.

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a doctor's prescription, now so widely known that you can get it all ready for use at any drugstore.

NELSON PLANS TO SEGREGATE ALL PRISONERS

VENEREAL PATIENTS TO BE TREATED ON ARRIVAL

HUNTSVILLE, Nov. 1 (AP)—Plans for pushing his announced program of segregation prisoners were under way as Dave Nelson of Orange prepared to assume his duties as general manager of the Texas prison system today.

Nelson was named to succeed Lee Simmons, resigned.

The new manager said the physical condition of convicts, with particular reference to venereal disease, would be given special attention in his program of segregating first-timers from hardened criminals.

"Dr. Veasey, prison physician, told me that he could prove before any court that 25 per cent of the men in the system were crazy," Nelson said.

"He also said 25 per cent of the men coming in and 70 per cent of the women newcomers were venereal disease patients in different stages," Nelson added. "At present, prisoners are coming in so fast we have no room at the prison for them and must send them right to the farms."

"One of the treatments we give them produces a change in their demeanor. Some men could go on to the farm and be treated there. Others should be kept here for the balance of the treatment."

Nelson said he intended to go before the legislature at the first opportunity and present a plan for means to alleviate overcrowded conditions.

He explained that his scheme to take guns off guards and make them foremen over the youngsters had no application to the hard-case prisoners.

Allred Grants Extradition of William Shearer

AUSTIN, Nov. 1 (AP)—Governor James V. Allred today granted the request of the governor of California for the extradition of William B. Shearer, 74, held in Fort Worth in connection with a $24,000 shortage in the California state treasury.

District Attorney Otis D. Babcock of Sacramento, Calif., and a deputy, Francis O'Shea, who presented the request, planned to leave immediately for Galveston and to return to Fort Worth in a day or two.

There was no formal hearing. Although Shearer had waived extradition, Babcock said he deemed it advisable to obtain extradition papers.

Directors Plan Museum Addition

CANYON, Nov. 1.—An informal meeting of members of the board of directors of the Panhandle Plains Historical Society was held here Oct. 29 to consider plans for enlarging the facilities of the organization's museum.

W. H. Patrick of Clarendon, president of the organization, Horace Russell of Amarillo, and R. P. Smyth of Plainview were present to confer with Dr. J. A. Hill, president of the West Texas State Teachers college, Prof. L. F. Sheffy, secretary of the historical society, and Floyd V. Studer, curator of archaeology and paleontology.

It is believed that the sum of $25,000 provided by the Texas Centennial commission will be increased from other sources so that a much needed addition to the museum building can be provided.

The Texas Centennial commission has been asked for instructions regarding the expenditure of the money provided by it. The Texas State Board of Control will supervise its spending as provided by law.

Dr. J. A. Hill stated today that a meeting of the entire board of directors will be held soon, at which time detailed plans for the enlargement of the historical society work will be made and announced.

Black-Draught And Good Health Year After Year

"I have never had a bad sick spell and for years I have taken Black-Draught for the least symptom of upset stomach or sluggish feeling," writes Mr. W. F. Pulliam, of Gatewood, Mo. "I am a very hearty eater and sometimes I eat too much. If I feel uncomfortable, I just take a small dose of Black-Draught and soon feel all right. I feel I owe my good health to use of this reliable vegetable medicine, Black-Draught."

Where constipation is at the bottom of such troubles as Mr. Pulliam mentions, take a god laxative. Thousands of men and women have given Black-Draught credit for having helped them to avoid vicious development of constipation troubles. (Adv.)

MANY FEAR TO RETURN HOME AFTER 'QUAKE

SLEEP IN TRAIN AND IN AUTOMOBILES LAST NIGHT

HELENA, Mont. Nov. 1. (AP)—Montana's capital city, stunned by its second death-dealing earthquake, marshaled its forces of construction today after a night made miserable by dread of further shocks and subzero cold.

Despite the cold, many feared to return to their residences and spent the night with children from orphan's homes in two special trains, rushed into the city to provide emergency shelter.

Others huddled in automobiles and in relief shelters outside the city where no shock-weakened buildings could fall.

City Engineer Oscar Baerson estimated the loss in yesterday's quake at "from $500,000 up"—not so severe as at first believed. He said the total loss during the 20-day period of recurrent quakes amounted to about $3,500,000.

Two men died beneath a toppling brewery chimney yesterday, increasing the number of quake victims since Oct. 12 to seven. They were Ed O'Brien and Vincent Kennedy, both of Salt Lake City.

Scores suffered minor injuries in yesterday's two devastating shocks, which were followed by a series of lesser tremors.

The city reconstruction commission was summoned into session by its chairman, Justice S. V. Stewart of the state supreme court, to discuss "remedial measures."

Offers of aid came from a number of Montana points, most of which were shaken themselves during the severe tremors, which extended into Washington and Canada. Butte sheltered many refugees.

Armed guards, including 50 helmeted National Guardsmen, state highway patrol members and police, patrolled historic South Main street in Last Chance Gulch, where half-century old buildings were wrecked.

Smith Avows His Candidacy for U. S. President

MEMPHIS, Tenn. Nov. 1. (AP)—Gerald L. K. Smith, share-the-wealth disciple of the late Huey P. Long, has become a self-avowed democratic candidate for president.

He announced last night he would enter the April preferential primary in Georgia—the stronghold of Gov. Eugene Talmadge, who also is considered a possible democratic starter.

"Who knows?" mused Smith with a shrug. "I may be the next president of the United States. Stranger things have happened."

For support he looks primarily to the nation's share-the-wealth societies, with a purported membership of 10,000,000. Once pastor of the Christian church in Shreveport, La., he was a national organizer for the Long units and took over their leadership on the assassination of the Senator September 8.

No comment was forthcoming from Talmadge.

Endurance Feats, "Buried Alive," To Be Begun Here

An endurance "buried alive" contest will be held at the Southern club, starting tonight.

The contest will be under the supervision of the Southwestern Endurance association. Following the regular floor show the official burials of real persons will begin. The buried contestants will be underground 24 hours each day until they give up.

The contest managers will remain on duty and the event will be open to inspection at all times. The contest is separate from the regular Southern club program.

COURT RECORD

The compensation suit of Lee Hamor against the Texas Employers Insurance association continued today in 31st district court. More testimony was being introduced.

Hugh Moore was charged with theft from a person yesterday and Justice of the Peace James Todd, Jr., bound him over for action of the grand jury, setting bond at $2,000. Moore is still in jail, not having made bond.

The local man was arrested by Sheriff Earl Talley and officers in connection with the theft of $140 in cash from a local man. The arrest was made yesterday.

Hearing of the suit of Lee Hamor versus the Texas Employers Insurance company was in progress in 31st district court today. After selection of the jury, the panel was dismissed.

Boycott Against 'Hot Cargo' Calls For a Showdown

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1. (AP)—With the boycott against the handling of cargo from Gulf of Mexico ports having gone into effect at midnight, a showdown in the new "hot cargo" dispute in Pacific coast ports was awaited today with the arrival of the freight Katina Luckenbach at San Pedro.

The ban against the working of freight from the gulf ports, where a strike is in progress, was ordered by William J. Lewis, Pacific district president of the International Longshoremen's association, acting on instructions from Joseph P. Ryan, international president of the union.

The Katina Luckenbach is the first ship to reach California with so-called "hot cargo" from the Gulf. It was loaded by non-union workers.

Meanwhile both the men and the employers have telegraphed appeals to William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, seeking his support in the controversy.

NEW AMAZING EPISODES FROM LIFE OF PRECOCIOUS POPEYE

By the time our hero was 12 he startled everybody by proving himself a full-grown man. He had to shave after every meal, and this was for the purpose of removing whiskers, not mulligan. His muscles were so hard that he used them regularly as a grindstone for pocket stiletos and picked up a lot of change this way renting them out to friends.

It was about this time that he went to sea. He was shanghaied with knockout drops in his soda pop. When he came to he administered knockout drops to the chin of everybody on the boat, including the captain. So the barkentine Josie Lee drifted out to sea. Popeye was on another craft of the same name. After a few days he discovered he liked the life and spent his time practicing a sailor's walk to use later in his comic strip, "Thimble Theater."

It was on this first voyage that "Popeye" got his nickname "Pop-eye." Before that every one had referred to him simply as "Popeye." Now they called him "Pop-eye" after he lost a blinker, and he has never been known by any other name.

Ask any old seaman what happened back in 1910. All right—that's his story. The real events had nothing to do with the woman called "Marselle Mimmie." She is not concerned in this story at all, because, as every one knows, Olive Oyl is Popeye's girl. He met her much later. But, anyway, Popeye lost one peeper.

He had just finished shooting a few craps with his trusty trap-gun. The first, second, third, fourth and fifth mates, were stretched out on the deck, and Popeye was making pass after pass—at the money—in the middle of the floor. Up stepped the bloodthirsty Josie Lee in a dense fog. The crew of 18 was taken aboard the Ormidale, without loss of life. Capt. Steffensen, whose home port is Bergen, Norway, said that Norman Peterson, chief engineer, suffered skull and chest injuries. No other members of the crew were injured.

Capt. Steffensen said the collision occurred at 5:15 a. m. yesterday, 10 miles south of Thunder Bay Island.

The Viator, 1400-ton vessel, sailed from Bergen with a cargo of pulp. The Ormidale was bound from Duluth to Buffalo with a cargo of pig iron.

Norwegian Ship Rammmed, Sunk In Lake Huron

PORT HURON, Mich. 1. (AP)—The Norwegian freighter Viator was at the bottom of Lake Huron today, rammmed and sunk, Capt. G. J. Steffensen of the Viator said, by the motorship Ormidale in a dense fog.

The crew of 18 was taken aboard the Ormidale, without loss of life. Capt. Steffensen, whose home port is Bergen, Norway, said that Norman Peterson, chief engineer, suffered skull and chest injuries. No other members of the crew were injured.

OIL NEWS AND NOTES

Panhandle and Other Fields

TO SEE THREE FIELDS
Delegates attending the sixth annual meeting of the Independent Petroleum Association of America will have the opportunity of visiting three of the most interesting oil fields in the mid-continent area, according to plans made by the officers of the Association of Chambers of Commerce in the East Texas oil field and at Ada and Ardmore, Okla.

Many of the delegates coming from the east and north have not yet had an opportunity to see the East Texas field with its 20,000 wells, nor the largest known oil field in the world. Oil operators in the Pitts Ford at Ada made a most unusual record in the matter of conservation and orderly development, and many oil men attending the convention have accepted the invitation of the Ada chamber of commerce to make a trip to this field on Wednesday, November 6, following the meeting. The new deep well in the Fox pool is now the center of interest in the mid-continent area. George Gibbons, secretary of the chamber of commerce at Ardmore, and the members of the Southern Oklahoma Oil & Gas association of that community are arranging transportation on Wednesday, Nov. 6, from Dallas to the Fox pool. As delegates register at Dallas on Monday and Tuesday at the annual meeting, they will indicate their choice of these trips and the convention arrangements on Wednesday, Nov. 6, from Dallas to the Fox pool. Gasoline Total Is Up
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 1.—Production of natural gasoline in 1934 showed an increase of 8 per cent over that in 1933, the first official figures made here by the Bureau of Mines show.

The total increase over the nation in 1934 was due chiefly to the marked increase in operations at stripper plants in the Panhandle of Texas and to the increase in the capacity of the plants in the East Texas fields.

The Texas yield was 366,500,000 gallons in 1933, while the 1934 total was 466,570,000, an increase of more than 100,000,000 gallons. Although California retained first place among the natural gasoline producing states, the margin over Texas was narrowed considerably by the big gain in the Lone Star state.

Production increased in the Panhandle of Texas from 183,000,000 gallons in 1933 to 256,200,000 gallons in 1934 and in East Texas from 20,200,000 gallons to 46,300,000 gallons. The gain in East Texas raised the rank of that field as a producer to approximately that of Osage county, long an important factor in supply.

The increase of 8 per cent in the entire nation was reflected in the 1934 figure of 1,585,360,000 gallons compared with 1,420,000,000 gallons in 1933. The year witnessed a further increase in the relative importance of the absorption process and a further decrease in production at compression and charcoal plants.

The total value of natural gasoline production in 1934 was $60,623,000, an average of 9.3 cents per gallon. Although the average was 0.1 cents higher than in 1933, this increase does not adequately measure the improvement in natural gasoline markets in 1934, as it reflects the low quotations in the middle of the year. The average price of a representative grade of natural gasoline was 3.50 cents per gallon on Jan. 1, 1934, fell to 1.25 cents by midyear, but was 3.75 cents, or three times the low, on Dec. 31. The increase in the price over the last six months of the year reflects chiefly increases in the prices of crude oil

KING OF ITALY GIVES SUPPORT TO MUSSOLINI

DEFENDS ACTIONS OF IL DUCE TOWARD ETHIOPIA

ROME, Nov. 1 (AP)—King Victor Emanuel came openly and publicly to the support of Premier Mussolini today for Italy's campaign of conquest in Ethiopia. Speaking from the same platform where Il Duce stood yesterday when he inaugurated the University of the City of Rome, the king uttered virtually the same words as the premier.

Victor Emanuel asserted that Italy was fostering her civilization at home, while engaged in defense of "her security and her future."

"It is not without significance that this citadel of thought is opening its rooms consecrated to noble and earnest studies while my country is engaged in an undertaking which the supreme emergency of her life, her security and her future has imposed," the king asserted.

Il Duce had proclaimed yesterday that this new center of Roman culture was being inaugurated while our soldiers are carrying civilization forward with their sacrifice.

Without mentioning the current international complications specifically, King Victor Emanuel absolved Italy of any intention of disturbing world peace.

"Italy asks nothing more than to be permitted to enjoy the fullness of her life in order to work and to dedicate her energies on behalf of those common ideals which constitute the sacred heritage of civilized humanity," he said.

The monarch concluded his address with an appeal to foreigners present at the ceremony to spread of Italy's mission of civilization.

In connection with the university's opening ceremonies, the king received the honorary degree of Doctor of Letters.

CHILDREN OF FAMILIES ON RR PROJECTS ELIGIBLE TO RECEIVE SCHOOL AID THRU NYA PROGRAM

AUSTIN, Nov. 1.—Children of families on rural resettlement projects are now eligible to receive school aid through the NYA program, Lyndon B. Johnson, state director, announced this week.

Considered as having relief status, participants in rural resettlement projects include families of Sub-sistence Homestead, Rural Rehabilitation and Rural Resettlement, Johnson said.

Aid provided high school students in the form of part-time jobs, which enable students to earn a maximum of $6 per month while attending school. In the case of individual students who are especially well qualified, or for whom the assignment of work is impractical, aid may be granted for maintaining excellence in their school work. In such cases, the assistance granted shall be in the amount determined by the student's individual need, but in no case to exceed $6 per month, he said.

High school students to receive aid allocations through the National Youth administration must be between the ages of 16 and 25, and must be able to show that they have had to quit school for lack of such financial assistance in the past, or that they will be unable to attend this year without such assistance. They must be members of families which are receiving emergency relief from public funds or employment on the works program, and must be able to do high grade work in school. Community managers of resettlement projects will certify the children of resettlement families for this purpose, Johnson pointed out.

All institutions of less than college grade, both publicly and privately controlled, including parochial schools, are eligible to participate in the program provided they are non-profit making in character. The public school superintendent will clarify the classification of any institution in question.

Students eligible to participate are instructed to make application directly to the principal of the school they wish to attend.

"This new liberal ruling on the relief status of children eligible to receive aid allocations will bring happiness to the National Youth administration program. Students should lose no time in making application to their high school principals," Johnson stated.

Lions Exchange Reminiscences of Boyhood Pranks

Pampa Lions yesterday exchanged reminiscences concerning Hal-loween pranks of their boyhood. Many interesting yarns, one rather incredible, however, were told. Motion pictures of a annual Lions International convention at Mexico City were shown.

The club's board of directors will meet at the court-house Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in regular session.

GENERAL JOHNSON TELLS WHY HE USED SLANG IN HIS WORK

CANYON, Nov. 1. — General Hugh S. Johnson says that when he was directing the NRA he "conducted his job in a goldfish bowl." He declares that he purposely used slang and unusual language in his speeches because picturesqueness and "a figure of speech often does the work of a whole volume of exposition."

However, Hugh Johnson never used the expression "cracked down." He declares that this was first used by Robert S. Allen, a newspaper man, in 1933 and that he expression was so effective that it was used over and over after that.

Hugh Johnson has probably been criticized as much as any man in the United States and probably he minds it just as little. During the first days of the NRA he said, "Criticism is good. It keeps us on our toes."

Even Johnson's enemies have never questioned his honesty. Now that the NRA is dead and he has become a critic of the Roosevelt organization, his honesty is still admitted. He admires the president but thinks that he has made some mistakes and he believes that enemies both within and without the democratic organization have victimized the president and frustrated the new deal.

Homecoming at the West Texas State Teachers college will be an outstanding event to all of North-west Texas this year because of General Johnson's coming. Ample time to discuss his speech will be provided by the great barbecue which will take place at noon when people from all parts of the section can meet their friends in true Western informal style.

CHEVROLET TO BE DISPLAYED BY LOCAL DEALERS SATURDAY

New Master de luxe and Standard Chevrolets for 1936, embodying marked advances in styling, engineering, and performance, will be on display tomorrow at Culbertson-Smalling Chevrolet company, local dealers, which have already been liberally stocked with new models for display and delivery. Completeness in equipment, in appointments, and in convenience is stressed in the company's 1936 announcement.

The Master de luxe, offered with either knee action or conventional springing, has been restyled in its more important appearance elements, notably by the adoption of a higher and narrower grille of distinctly original design, in combination with a new treatment of the hood louvers, new style headlamps mounted on the sides of the radiator shell, and new interior trim.

The lower priced Standard models have been completely redesigned in chassis and bodies. Last year the Standards differed materially both in appearance and in construction from the Masters; this year, the two lines are identical in all major features of styling, engineering, and performance, the chief difference being only a matter of wheelbase.

Outstanding among the many new features of both Master and Standard models for 1936 are perfected hydraulic brakes; improved engines having higher compression ratio (6 to 1), balanced carburetor, full-length water jacketing, and other changes resulting in better cooling and improved gasoline and oil economy; and chromodine rust-prevention of fenders and running boards.

Front doors of all models of both lines are now hinged at the front.

The solid steel turret top, exclusive last year with the Master models, has been adopted this year for the Standard line also. Spoke-type pressed steel wheels, instead of wire wheels, are used on all Standard models.

Body interiors of Master models show marked advances in comfort and style. An important innovation is found in the design of the front seating arrangement of the Master coach and town-sedan. Instead of the usual divided and hinged front seat of two-door models, a single seat cushion extends the full width of the car, permitting three passengers to ride comfortably. The seat-back is divided, the right side section being hinged to fold toward over the seat cushion to open a passage-way to the rear compartment.

Standard Model Completely New

Chevrolet's Standard models for 1936, besides incorporating features that appear for the first time on the Masters, take their place in the line as entirely new models, with new box girder chassis frame, more powerful engine, longer wheel-base

CITIES OF NATION ARE REDUCING PUBLIC DEBT IN NEW PROGRAMS

By FRANKLIN D. STURDY
CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—With sensitive ears tuned to the public debt and larger bodies. The line of body types has been increased to seven by the addition of three models—the four-door sport sedan with built-in trunk, the two-door town sedan with built-in trunk, and the cabriolet.

The Standard model wheelbase, formerly 107 inches, is now 109, while its overall length, last year 170½ inches, is 12 to 13 inches greater. Bodies are longer and wider, with more leg room, wider seats and additional head room. Car weight is increased 135 pounds. Springing has been improved by the use of longer front and shorter rear springs, which passes more early equal frequencies and so minimize pitching.

mand for governmental economy officials of a significant number of leading cities have reduced sharply the mountain of municipal debt piled up in the free-handed "whoopie era."

A survey of the nation's 50 largest cities today showed the depression pinch on the taxpayer's pocketbook had resulted in a scaling down of the heavy burden of long term indebtedness.

Some cities, notably Milwaukee, have embarked on fiscal programs destined within a few years to relieve them of all debt. Officials predicted the Wisconsin metropolis would be free of all encumbrance by 1944. In 1929, the city owed bondholders $41,616,050; in 1932, the peak year, $46,380,000. The total was cut to $30,712,453 by January 1, 1935.

Farthest advanced of the cities surveyed was Oklahoma City, which was placed on a "cash basis" in 1929. Since that year, operating surplus in the city's treasury has risen steadily, and bonded indebtedness has fallen from $19,509,000 to $15,086,500.

Atlanta, Georgia, cut its debt to bondholders from $17,378,000 as of December 31, 1929, to $13,629,000 in 1934 and to $13,103,900 by Sept. 30, 1935.

For the most part, the campaigns to pare long term debts were combined with successful efforts at reducing current expenditures and encouraging the payment of taxes property owners found burdensome as their revenues decreased.

Assessors generally sliced valuations. Governments spent less and reduced their tax levies.

San Antonio, Texas, cut its bond total from $18,107,000 in 1929 to $15,923,000 in 1934, but two other Texas cities registered increases: Dallas' total rose from $27,516,000 to $39,571,000, and Fort Worth's from $12,827,000 to $13,984,000.

OMNIBUS TAX BILL RECEIVED BY SENATORS

CALCULATED TO RAISE 18 MILLIONS FOR PENSIONS

AUSTIN, Nov. 1 (AP)—The senate received from the house today an omnibus tax bill estimated to raise up to $18,000,000 annually for old age pension payments while committee action advanced liquor control and drivers licensing bills. Representatives summarily cut off debate and consideration of 50 amendments after six days of debate and passed, 128 to 6, a bill increasing levies on public utilities, numerous industries and natural resources.

Rival liquor control plans were rushed to the house floor by prompt reports from the liquor traffic committee on three bills, all proposing a private license system. Committee members believed debate would start Monday.

The committee action gave the house a choice between a plan permitting sale of mixed drinks up to 24 per cent alcoholic volume and two others restricting distilled liquor sales to sealed packages. Sponsors of monopoly plans tacitly agreed to the committee's course of not passing on those bills.

The wet-dry bill, introduced by Rep. E. Emmett Morse of Houston, would provide for local option elections upon the mixed drink issue. The others, one of which would reenact present beer statutes, would prohibit sale except in unbroken packages, other than wine up to 14 per cent.

Committees of both houses quickly reported favorably identical drivers licensing bills, which Governor Allred submitted Wednesday along with liquor regulation. The bills were similar to a conference agreement which failed during the regular session in the house by one vote.

Sponsors hoped to obtain speedy floor action to place the bills before a conference committee for adjustment. All automobile drivers would be licensed, although examinations would not be required of experienced drivers registering within 90 days after effectiveness of the act.

A three-year license would cost 25 cents. It could be suspended for one year for infractions of certain road laws while a conviction after a second suspension would cause permanent revocation.

Rep. W. E. Jones of Jourdanton speeded house passage of the omnibus tax bill by withdrawing an amendment proposing a one and one-half per cent sales tax, with cigarettes exempted. Sales tax advocates in the senate, however, planned to renew the fight for that levy.

All levies in the bill would be in addition to existing taxes. Increases included: one-half of one per cent on gross receipts of utilities, hotels, oil and gas pipe lines and intrastate radio business; one and one-half per cent on horse race wagers; one-half cent per barrel on oil production; one-eighth cent per 1,000 cubic feet on gas production, with exemptions of 10 per cent on amusement admissions in excess of 51 cents; 15 cents a ton on sulphur; five per cent on cigars; 25 cents a pound on yeast and malt; a graduated tax on coin operated and marble vending machines; one-fourth of one cent a barrel on cement, and graduated tax on loans of automobile, mechanical refrigerator and radio financing companies.

Whiskey would be taxed 80 cents a gallon and wine from 10 cents to 50 cents, graduated on alcoholic content.

The house rejected amendments proposing increases of 25 and 50 cents a ton on sulphur, and killed a bill to increase inheritance taxes approximately 50 per cent.

Shaw Lands Up-Side-Down But No One Is Hurt

RATON, N. M., Nov. 1 (AP)—Three men and a woman miraculously escaped injury when a Pampa, Texas, airplane made a forced landing up-side-down, near Cimarron, N. M., Wednesday, it was learned here.

Downward air drafts and a heavy wind contributed to the accident to the ship, a Stinson cabin plane belonging to the Pampa Flying Service.

CHANGES NAME HOUSTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—Sports writers, particularly those of the Southwest conference, owe a vote of thanks to the former Chester Chon-omski. The Rice freshman backfield luminary has gone into court and had his surname changed to Hayes. "Imagine the average football fan trying to pronounce my old name," explained Hayes. "Why, most of my best friends couldn't even do it. So I decided it would be better for everyone concerned to 'change it.'" The Rice freshman said he and Eugene Oberle, a professor at Rice, found that Hayes was the anglicized version of the Polish Chonowaki. Read The NEWS Want Ads.

CONSISTENCY STILL A JEWEL

Although Great Britain is taking a commendable stand in behalf of world peace, the circumstances which alter this case also indicate that self-protection is as usual a predominant factor.

If Great Britain had taken the same firm stand toward Japan three years ago, Italy conceivably might have taken a different course in Africa. The two cases are remarkably similar. The needs of Italy and Japan for a source of raw materials and an outlet for surplus population are alike. The expansion methods of the two countries are identical at the start, although Italy appears to be the more frank about her ultimate goal.

When the United States made a loud squawk about Japan, where were the English? When the League of Nations needed the same kind of support it is getting now, why did not talk of a boycott arise in influential quarters? No League member took a decided stand against Japan. No member had any interests of value at stake.

Italy and Great Britain have conflicting interests in Africa. England and France are exerting all the power which they dare use against Italy, and are trying desperately to get United States support.

In this and other instances of European diplomacy, the United States has been useful chiefly in the role of an innocent bystander who is persuaded to enter the fray. Until and unless the nations of the world begin to think of peace as the goal, and not self-interest, it will be wise for our Uncle Sam to do as he is done by—stay out.

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

Washington.—That $165,000 fee which Mr. Arthur Mullen seeks for his efforts with regard to certain PWA projects in Nebraska indicates what the big-time lobbyists have been getting away with since the New Deal began simultaneously to pour out billions for recovery and to try to reform the business structure.

No one knows how many millions the "salesmen of influence" have collected since March, 1933. No one ever will.

Most men close to the inside agree that the most spectacular cleanups were made in the first year of the administration, before Roosevelt recognized danger in the situation and told Mullen and others they couldn't function both as lobbyists and Democratic national committeemen.

But the lobbying business still flourishes. Mullen, a Nebraska political boss and one of Roosevelt's floor managers at the 1932 Democratic convention, has been reputed to have large influence both at the White House and with Secretary Ickes.

No investigation will ever determine just how much influence he has been able to exert at either place. His influence unquestionably has been exaggerated—but such exaggerations in Washington mean more clients and bigger fees.

It isn't on record that any official in Washington ever refused to see Mr. Mullen, who contributes large sums regularly to the Democratic party.

Ickes frequently has been hardboiled toward Mullen and his demands. But favor-seekers, looking around for influential advocates, are impressed by stories that Mullen financed Ickes' independent progressive committee for Roosevelt in 1932 and that he came to the support of Ickes for secretary of the interior at a critical moment.

(Friends of Ickes have denied those stories, but they're rather commonly believed in PWA and the Interior Department.)

More obscure lawyers frequently come to Mullen and others of his ilk, promising fee splits in return for help. Recently Mullen was raging because in at least two instances Ickes had refused to approve payments to him from Indian tribal funds for alleged services.

In the case of the $165,000 fees, Mullen has on his trail the redoubtable Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, which is never any fun for anybody.

The fees are billed for services to two water conservation and power projects and have been submitted to Ickes for approval. Those projects were approved early in the PWA game, while Norris fought for two years for his Tri-County irrigation-power project against opposition from Mullen, representing the first two.

Norris wants to know whether PWA is being asked to approve use of its funds for fighting another PWA project.

PWA lawyers suspect that perhaps Mullen expected to be scaled down to about $100,000. They guess that eventually he may receive between $25,000 and $50,000.

Frogs Fail to Paint Baylor's Football Fence

WACO, Nov. 1 (AP)—College pranksters, bubbling over with enthusiasm, tried in vain last night to paint the letters "T. C. U." on the fences of Carroll field, sacred to Baylor university.

Four automobile loads of students, strongly suspected of journeying from Fort Worth for the express purpose of emblazoning the Baylor fences with huge purple letters, were routed out of town by police at 4 a. m. It seems that some Baylor "spies" in Fort Worth had tipped off Waco police about the impending raid.

There were reports that Baylorites had staged a counter-attack, painting the "T. C. U." fence at Fort Worth, but Texas Christian spokesmen stoutly denied that any of their fences had been violated.

It was all preliminary to Saturday's impending clash between the unbeaten Southern conference and Texas Christian and Baylor universities, who fight it out on Carroll field.

Prankster Hurls Rock, Seriously Injures Fireman

HILLSBORO, Nov. 1 (AP)—Lee Young of Denison, Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad fireman, was under treatment today for head injuries received last night when he was struck by a rock hurled into the cab of his locomotive as it passed through the Fort Worth yards.

It was believed a Halloween prankster threw the rock.

The train, a crack freight, was halted and Young was given first-aid treatment by fellow workmen.

He attempted to continue his run but collapsed before the train reached here. Physicians had feared he had a fractured skull.

HARVESTERS LEAVE, BENT ON PLAYING NO. 1 BALL AGAINST PLAINVIEW

BULLDOGS ARE LOOKING FINE, HARVESTERS Scribe

BATTLE WILL BEGIN AT 8 O'CLOCK THIS EVENING

A determined band of Pampa Harvesters left this morning for Plainview for their annual battle with the Bulldogs of that city at 8 o'clock tonight at Junior high field. Unlike other years, the Harvesters were taking the game seriously.

There are going to be no more upsets like last week when Lubbock stepped from nowhere into the light of the district race by taking a 6 to 0 game from the Harvesters, the boys said.

The Harvesters also remember that they defeated Plainview by only one touchdown two years ago when they were doped to swarm over the Bulldogs. The Bulldogs started off strong, slumped, and are now on the return up it is believed. Big Spring's Steers could defeat the Bulldogs only 6 to 0 last week.

Coach Odus Mitchell planned to use "everything" against the Bulldogs tonight. He wants to see how his charges look using their new offensive formation, which is similar to that used by the Capital Hill Indians of Oklahoma City. Mitchell believes the change will give him more offensive power and make it easier on the line. Linemen have been opening large holes in opposing forward walls but the backfield has been slow in getting through. Quarterly reports on the game will be received at THE NEWS.

Plainview Is Ready
PLAINVIEW, Nov. 1.—The Bulldogs are ready. They have been starved for three weeks and will be snapping and snarling for a harvest tonight when the Pampa Harvesters come to town.

It looks like the Harvesters mean business and are going to stop them. Big Lancy going to come alive and play half the game in the Pampa backfield, or is he going to crack before the Harvesters charges? Are the Bulldogs ends going to play the smart kind of football that the Lubbock ends did or are they going to wander around in a half hearted manner? A whole lot depends on them.

Is the center of the Bulldog line going to be walked over like they were by Whitely of Graham? Are the backs going to fall in their blocking or fumble their way into oblivion? Or after everything else works favorably for the locals are they going to watch Pampa take to the air successfully for the winning touchdowns?

This much to be said for the Bulldogs. Last night this writer sneaked over the fence where they are having their secret practice sessions. It was 5:30 p. m. and the boys had already been through more than two hours of hard drill but they showed more hustle and fight than they have in any of their last three games.

Joimer Looks Good
This center had plenty good in the backfield and if he doesn't weaken he is a sure starter. Ohlsholm did not scrimmage but he pranced around on his injured leg and will probably be able to play part of the game. Mason looked good until he hurt his shoulder last night. The injury was not thought to be serious.

Better blocking, surer tackling and harder running marked the Bulldogs play. The first string gained consistently against their opponents in a stiff scrimmage session. Some of the best blocking of the season was turned in and plenty of it is needed.

They had Evans playing against the first string last night. He was supposed to be playing center or guard or something, but he played most of the time in the first string backfield. Did that boy get in their hair? He'll get plenty of service against Pampa if he keeps that up.

The team appeared in top condition. After three hours of bruising drill the boys pranced off the field with no show of weariness. They should be able to take plenty from Pampa and if they can dish it out it might be anybody's ball game.

Wheeler Boys Leave Cotton Patches For McLean Battle

Coach Has Not Seen Most of Boys all This Week

McLEAN, Nov. 1. (SP)—One thousand seats have been installed at Tiger field for the big game with the Wheeler Mustangs here tonight at 7:45 o'clock. Officials estimate that more than 3,000 fans will witness the important conference game.

General admission will be 15 cents for grade students, 25 cents for high school students, and 50 cents for adults. The seats will sell for 10 cents extra to students and 15 cents to adults.

The Tigers will take the field minus Horace Johnson, regular end, who received a broken bone in his foot last week. Finley and Brawley have been battling to fill the position, but Coach Bill Allen was still undecided this morning which end would get the call.

The Mustangs stand between the Tigers and their chance of meeting the Shamrock Irishmen with an undefeated record. McLean and Shamrock are doped to battle it out for the district title.

Wheeler's Mustangs showed a new power in swamping Texola last week-end. McLean was also impressive in defeating Wellington by a large score.

Regarding the Wheeler McLean game, Coach Bob Clark of Wheeler wrote THE NEWS as follows: "Cotton picking has taken most of my boys the last two weeks. The team will be somewhat weak this week. The five boys I have out are in good physical shape and ready for the game. The other twenty I have not seen since my game with Texola last week. I suppose when they come in Friday afternoon their hands will be in good shape although they may not be able to play a good game of football. If I could play the game in a cotton field I might have a pretty good chance of winning it. They sure can make good time down a cotton row.

Their legs will be in the fair shape from pulling a cotton sack all day. They will be able to follow the white ball I think because white is all they see here in the field.

"Casting all jokes aside and saying a few things about the games, I suppose we will be ready for the tilt. I had not had a good work out all this week because of the above reasons. This will be the sixth game for the Mustangs. They have lost to Memphis and Shamrock.

The starting line up will see a somewhat different line up against McLean this week. The probable starting lineup will be: Left end, Fendleton or Whitner; LT—Maxwell, LG—Conner, center—Flynt or Deering, RG—Sherwood, RT—Tilman, RE—Weeks, back—Weeks, back—Tate or Ford, back—Norman, back—Cain.

"We hope to be able to show the people of McLean and their coach, Bill Allen of Canyon, what a small team can do against much larger team and a much more experienced team."

Yellow Jackets Whip ACC 20-0
ABILENE, Nov. 1. (AP)—The Howard Payne Yellow Jackets of Brownwood combined air and ground attacks to score a 20 to 0 victory over the Abilene Christian Wildcats in a Texas conference game here last night.

Sunderman made a short pass to Wedeman, who ran 21 yards for a touchdown on the first play in the second period. Rogers drove over from the one-yard stripe for the second counter in the same period. Harlow converted. Wedeman scored in the last quarter after the Jackets covered a Wildcat fumble on the Abilene Christian one-yard line. Harlow kicked the point.

The Wildcats failed to get the ball past the Jacket 40-yard line.

Danube Delta Fishes Snakes
ISMAIL, Rumania. (AP)—The rapid increase of poisonous snakes has become a menace to the populace of the Danube delta, and induced the authorities to organize "snake drives," on one of which 142 reptiles were caught.

Carnera Favored To Beat Neusel
NEW YORK, Nov. 1. (AP)—Primo Carnera, the man mastiff, hotels himself into the Madison Square Garden ring tonight to battle Walter Neusel, the blond German who has yet to be defeated in this country.

Carnera was a 6 to 5 favorite, but there was little betting interest in the fight despite the fact 15,000 persons were expected to pay $35,000 to attend.

Pampa Juniors Smash Wheeler Ponies 34 to 7

ARIZONA NEGRO SMASHES OLIN TO WIN TITLE

JOHN HENRY LEWIS IS OUT FOR CROWN OF JIM BRADDOCK

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 1. (AP)—John Henry Lewis, the first negro light heavyweight champion since the reign of Battling Siki, turned ambitious eyes today toward the goal of goals of another negro—the heavyweight title.

The Arizona ebony storm, who gained the light heavyweight crown last night with a smashing victory over Bob Olin, served notice to the fight world that he would be a contender for the title sought by his friend, Joe Louis, Detroit's Brown Bomber.

Lewis, who refereed one of the preliminaries, watched from the ring-side as John Henry, fighting the most brilliant battle of his career, battered the champion, a slight betting favorite, through 15 frenzied rounds before 8,000 hysterical fans.

Lewis, who turned boxing in 1931 but who has been boxing exhibition bouts since he was four years old, won the fight early with a terrific right to the jaw in the fourth round that apparently left Olin dazed for the rest of the encounter.

In the twelfth round Olin, a human punching bag, hung limp and helpless on the ropes from a two-fisted attack to the head but weathered a terrible beating to finish the fight on both feet still trying gamely to connect with a winning punch.

Sports Roundup
BY EDDIE BRIETZ, Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1. (AP)—Mike Jacobs has a proposal from Jimmy Kelly, Dallas newspaper man, for Joe Louis to tour the south.

The proposed route called for appearances in Texas, Alabama, Mississippi, Oklahoma, and Arkansas on the advice of John Roxborough and Julian Black, the Bomber's managers, the offer was declined.

Is the Army going Southwest conference minded? We told you last week Bob Wilson, Southern Methodist ace, would bob up at West Point next year. He needn't be surprised if he finds a couple of old playmates on deck.

The dope is Bob Finley and Neal (Pug) Crowther, two other Corsicans high school graduates, now at Southern Methodist and Centenary, are about to buy their tickets.

Bloomsburg high in Pennsylvania is doing the iron man stunt. Only 14 players were used in the first four games. The Ryder Cup matches may go to the Pacific coast four years hence.

A move is on to make George Jacobus, owner of the P. G. A., the Judge Lands of golf at $15,000 per.

Pittsburgh may put Gus Suhr, Earl Grace, Tommy Thevenou, Guy Bush, and both Waners on the block this winter.

Dan Topping, owner of the Brooklyn Dodgers, offered Johnny Karcis, former Carnegie Tech star, a suit of clothes for every touchdown this year, and Johnny promptly went out to tally his first marker in four years with the Dodgers.

Pick and Pray division: William and Mary over V. M. I.; Kansas over Oklahoma; Santa Clara over Stanford; Baylor over Texas Christian; Princeton over Navy; Duke over Tennessee.

For Neusel it is a last stand; one more experiment to determine whether he should continue as a fighter or retire to Italy and live on his profits.

For Neusel it is an opportunity to obtain a match with Joe Louis and gain the money, and probably the pain, that such a bout would bring. Neusel has been promised a bout with the brown bomber if he whips Carnera.

YOUNGER BOYS HAVE SCRAPPY CLUB WORKING

THREE DOZEN PLAYERS PRACTICING DAILY UNDER HILL

Each afternoon at Sam Houston school a squad of more than three dozen of the younger boys of Junior high school scrimmage just as hard as any team in town. They have been practicing for about three weeks and expect to meet some competition before the season is over. Their first foe will likely be the Sam Houston team.

Ishmael Hill, algebra instructor, who is teaching his first year, is the boys' coach. Mr. Hill attended West Texas State Teachers college and the University of Colorado.

One of the most pressing problems facing the boys now is a name. They don't like "Pewees" the name they were called last year, for the same reason that they abhor the appellation, "runts." Both names don't state the truth of the matter. The boys are not perwees, runts nor midgies. Most of them are 13 years old, although some are 14. A few are 12 years old. They are not as old as the boys on the Junior high team, and are not as large. They advanced quickly through the ranks and most of them are among the smartest children in school.

The outstanding quarterbacks on the team are Douglas Keyser and Grover Heiskell. Keyser specializes in passing and punting. The halfbacks who seem to be the most consistent ground gainers are Francis Schwind and John Kidwell. The fullbacks are Doyle Aulis and Vernon Dickerson.

Alanreed Team To Play Today In Dodsonville

ALANREED, Nov. 1.—The Alanreed Longhorns play another conference game of the season in Dodsonville this afternoon. Alanreed's first football team has three conference wins against two losses.

Last Friday in Pampa the Longhorns won a 13 to 6 game from the Gorillas, making it two in a row over the future Harvesters, the Longhorns having won a 6 to 0 game here last month.

Wetzel put the ball in scoring distance in the first quarter when he cut through the Pampa line and reced to the 3-yard stripe before being stopped. Gilliam took the ball over for the counter. Alanreed passed to add the extra point and overcome the Gorilla elad, made on a long pass two minutes after the game opened.

A recovered fumble on a lateral pass gave the Longhorns their second touchdown. The ball was fumbled and booted several times, the last time behind the goal line. Bryant, center, fell on the ball.

The playing of Hall, tackle, Bryant, center, and Wetzel, right half, stood out.

Sell-Out Seen For Longhorns' Tilt At Dallas

(By The Associated Press.)
Interest in tomorrow's three Southwest conference football games focused today on the Southern Methodist-Texas and the Baylor-Texas Christian battles in which the loop's three undefeated teams meet.

The undefeated S. M. U. Mustangs, well drilled in running and passing attacks as well as in defense tactics, made final preparation for their homecoming tussle as the Texas Longhorns, 25 strong, prepared to entrain for Dallas. The Longhorns stressed offensive plays all week, indicating that they believe a good offense is the best defense. Advance tickets indicated a sell-out crowd of between 25,000 and 30,000 for the battle.

NEW TEXAS PRISON MANAGER WILL DISARM PRISON GUARDS

HUNTSVILLE, Nov. 1 (AP)—Dave Nelson, new manager of the Texas prison system, arrived here yesterday with plans to change the personnel and take guns off prison guards and convert them into "foremen" over first term convicts.

Nelson, who formerly succeeded Lee Simmons, resigned, Friday morning, said he had asked three men to remain in the present prison personnel. He added "The rest will be on probation until I see whether they can handle their business."

He said he would begin segregation of the convicts as soon as possible.

"I want to put 'foremen' over these younger and first term convicts instead of guards, and take guns off of them. They will be put apart. Our main trouble is that the best places in the system at present for holding men are also the best places for prisoners to work."

"I also am going to go to American Legion posts in Texas and ask them to recommend men to me who will make good guards. These men will be carefully scrutinized and when we need them, I personally will hire them."

"We want to try and get cottages built for guards on all units and let them have their families here. They will be more satisfied."

"If I fall in running this system it will be my fault," said Nelson. "As it stands, we are going to try more and more to furnish Texas institutions with things raised and made in the prison system and thus relieve the tax payer."

Nelson conferred with Simmons after his arrival.

TAX ARGUMENT MAY BE MAJOR ISSUE IN 1936

New Federal Budget Being Drafted By President

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—In drafting the new federal budget, President Roosevelt has run squarely up against the problem which may develop into a leading 1936 campaign issue—new deal spending and future taxation.

The issue is drawn in conflicting statements about whether new taxes will be necessary.

Republican orators recently have concentrated, more and more, on the administration's spending policies. Many have already pointed them out as the prime issue for next year's election campaign.

Administration critics, including republicans, some democrats and the American liberty league, have said that continued spending on the present scale will wreck the treasury or result in unbearable taxes for years to come.

In his recent budget summation, the chief executive said the budget was being prepared "with a view to sharply decreasing the spread between income and outgo." Denying what he characterized as "gloomy predictions" of higher taxes, the president said the government "will not need new taxes or increased rates in existing taxes to meet the expense of its necessary annual operations and to retire its public debt."

While closely guarding the official estimates of revenue for the next few years, treasury officials contend that existing tax rates may be expected to yield at least $5,500,000,000 in a year of normal business activity, and as high as $7,000,000,000 in an abnormal year such as 1928.

"What runs underground, has teeth, but can't bite?" The answer is "the city sewer." Workmen, clearing the mains, have discovered three complete sets of artificial teeth.

Luxurious, Rear-Drive Auto Invades Country

Before long you may see a shub-nosed bullet-shaped automobile scud by and that will introduce you to the radically different type of motor car that its designer predicts will be adopted by the industry within five years. It is the Scarab, a rear-drive car built by William B. Stout of Detroit. Side view, at top, shows that it has no running boards and no even door handles to break the smooth lines of the exterior. Electric, key-controlled switch buttons open the doors. The engine in the rear is separated from the body by a double sound-proof bulkhead the entire mechanism one compact unit. Seats, as shown at lower left, can be moved about, and a table set in back. Lower right photo shows rear view of the car, which will be limited to 100 in production and will sell for $5000.

International Sunday School Lesson

By DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: Judah Taken Captive.
 Scripture Lesson: 2 Kings 25:1-12.
 1. And it came to pass in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came, he and all his host, against Jerusalem, and pitched against it; and they built forts against it round about.

2. And the city was besieged unto the eleventh year of King Zedekiah.

3. And on the ninth day of the fourth month the famine prevailed in the city, and there was no bread for the people of the land.

4. And the city was broken up, and all the men of war fled by night by the way of the gate between two walls, which is by the king's garden: (now the Chaldees were against the city round about;) and the king went the way toward the plain.

5. And the army of the Chaldees pursued after the king, and overtook him in the plains of Jericho; and all his army were scattered from him.

6. So they took the king, and brought him up to the king of Babylon to Riblah; and they gave judgment upon him.

7. And they slew the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes, and put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and bound him with fetters of brass, and carried him to Babylon.

8. And in the fifth month, on the seventh day of the month, which is the nineteenth year of King Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, came Nebuzar-adan, captain of the guard, a servant of the king of Babylon, unto Jerusalem:

9. And he smote the house of the Lord, and the king's house, and all the houses of Jerusalem, and every great man's house burnt he with fire.

10. And all the army of the Chaldees, and all the captains of the guard, brake down the walls of Jerusalem round about.

11. Now the rest of the people that were left in the city, and the fugitives that fell away to the king of Babylon, with the remnant of the army, did Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard carry away.

12. But the captain of the guard left of the poor of the land to be vine-dressers and husbandmen.

Golden Text: Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people. (Prov. 14:34).

Introduction

This destruction of the kingdom of Judah by Nebuchadnezzar, in 586 B. C., terminates a period of 534 years of kingly rule in Hebrew history. Zedekiah was the twenty-third ruler, beginning with Saul; the twentieth king of Judah, beginning with Rehoboam (927-920 B. C.). As for repealing the law of restitution, he might as well undertake to repeal the law of gravitation." (W. R. Huntington). "Sin can never be judged by its immediate effects, for it is a seed sown, and you have yet to learn what it will yield in the reaping time." (Marcus Dods). The Greek version of Lamentations begins, "And it came to pass after Israel had been carried into captivity and Jerusalem had been laid waste, the Jerusalem weeping and lamenting with this lamentation over Jerusalem." A cave is still pointed out at Jerusalem which is traditionally the place where the prophet "lamented" Lamentations.

The Book of Ezra

"586 B. C. is the black-letter year of the Hebrew history. It ended things. It marked the final demonstration of the incompetence of the people of Israel to be a nation politically. They had another destiny, but it was spiritual. God always salvages something from the wreckage of history, builds a new and better on the ruins that man has left." It is significant that with this last chapter in Hebrew history the important historical books of Kings and Chronicles, and the greatest of all the prophets, Jeremiah, conclude. Hereafter, for many a year, Babylonia, not Palestine, is the theater of Jewish life. From a human point of view Hebrew history is a tragedy, and has a sad, tragic ending; but to God and to religious faith it is also a story of promise and hope, because its events are ever moving toward the day of the Messiah and the realization of his kingdom. "Judah is through, but Jehovah is not; after retribution will come restoration" (Crannell).

The "Why" of Judah's Downfall

From our study of Jeremiah in the lessons for October 13 and 20 we have gained a clear idea of the causes of Judah's downfall. Or we can look farther back at the destruction of the Northern Kingdom, and in the earlier prophets see that similar causes worked that destruction also. "What was it then that reduced the great, splendid empire of Solomon to these miserable remains: in the homeland a few poor farmers, in distant Mesopotamia a lot of humbled, homesick captives, and the religious heart-stone of the nation a rubbish heap?" "It was, in one word, ungodliness. That it, disobedience to God; disregard of him, of his law and ordinances; refusal to walk his ways; denial of his claims; the substitution in his place of other gods—that is, of ideals and religious principles which pull down, rather than lift up morally, spiritually." There had been a covenant—and when they broke it, it was ratified—simple, plain, in which God promised them prosperity and all his favor, if only they, on their part, would honor him and do his will. They had shamefully, persistently, violated this covenant; really made it of no account. And what could you expect? "Nations, like men, live or die by their virtues or by their sins" (Crannell).

History Repeated

How truly this tragedy of Judah's downfall repeats human experience! It is not bare, detached, far-off historical happening, but something that you and I see enacted in the lives of men and women, and boys and girls, whom we know. The same old story! Disobedience of God; contempt for his laws; refusal to honor him; idolatry, in one form and another ("the world, the flesh, and the devil"); pride (2 Chron. 36:12); reliance upon the material in preference to the spiritual; the cultivation of the senses rather than the soul—these things wreck the individual life as they do the nation.

Forewarned

"Downfall, national or individual, never comes without fair warning; repeated warnings. The descensus averti, road to hell, may be "easy," but it is well provided with cautioning waymarks, danger signals, and the warning voices are never silent. See how it was with Judah. Prophet after prophet had denounced their waywardness and warned of the consequence. Jeremiah was plainer-spoken than all the rest, and through a long lifetime he ceaselessly voiced God's awful "monitions." "All this is true of the man who guiltily faces retribution, in the court of law, at the bar of his own conscience, in the devastation of a mishappened life, or in the judgment of God's holiness and justice. Not often may such an one complain, "I did not know!" "If I had known!"

Practical Questions

Let us not think historically only about the matter. Our own country is the Judah that we are to have in mind. We call it a Christian land; think of ours as a God-fearing government; but—any deviation that we permit from God's laws of righteousness, will surely start us on the slide of national deterioration.

"Nations need to be saved as well as individuals. For there is also a civic retribution. And what will save our country? Not an ideally perfect government; the Roman Empire had that but declined and fell. Not immense armies and navies; Assyria, Babylon, Egypt, Napoleon, Spain, Germany tell us how ineffectual they are. Not intelligence; for that did not enable Greece to survive. But the country resolved to stand firm—aid and square on the rock—Christ Jesus may tower over the wrecks of time. Righteousness exalteth a nation but sin is a disgrace to any people." (Prov. 14:34).

The Mills of God

"Though the mills of God grind slowly,

Yet they grind exceeding small; Though with patience He stands waiting, With exactness grinds he all."

Slew an Indian Before He Was 12 Years Old

BARNHART, Nov. 1 (AP)—Albert G. Collins, 68, of Barnhart, who says he killed an Indian before he was 12 years old, has served as Indian scout, Confederate soldier and Texas Ranger.

Collins was born at Barfield Bend on the San Antonio river between Waco and San Antonio Feb. 4, 1846, a few months before Texas became a state.

When about 12 years old, he began working with Indian scouts. His first job was to lead the pack horses for the older men. He served with the scouts until he was conscripted into the Confederate army.

Collins displays a scar on his ankle and said he received it on Yellow Bayou in Bank's raid on Texas in the last year of the war.

After the war Collins became a Ranger and guide. He said his discharge from the Ranger service was never recorded. He receives a Confederate pension.

Collins came to the Concho country in 1871 when the Pecos and the Colorado rivers formed the boundary of Tom Green county.

Senators Have Fun Making Fun Of Gov. Aired

AUSTIN, Nov. 1 (AP)—A proposal to broadcast legislative proceedings Thursday provided senators with a rollicking forenoon of "sharp repartee" intermingled in debate.

Oratorical presentation is roamed in text from monopolies to the lumber and manner of the governor's appointments of honorary colonels.

Senators J. W. E. H. Beck of DeKalb, Roy Sanderford of Belton and Grady Woodruff of Deatur were authors of a resolution to have the board of control investigate the cost of installing a broadcasting system in the senate.

A microphone on each desk, they argued, would bring to "unusually interested" citizens "outstanding and profound discussions" by senators on matters of public concern.

Not to slight the house, Senator Frank Rawlings of Fort Worth obtained approval of a provision for microphones on desks of representatives.

"It would be the height of injustice not to let the governor go on the air at frequent intervals, especially in view of his inclination to do so," observed Senator W. K. Hopkins of Gonzales, proposing to extend the system to the chief executive's office.

"Then he could sit in the governor's arm chair and pop the whip over the air waves," he said.

Chapter 39 DOGS AND BRIDGE

"Do we wear evening dresses for this Dan Raynor?" Emily asked from the depths of her closet. Judith swung her long legs over the arm of a chair. She was supervising Emily's toilet. "Heavens, no! He'll probably smell like saddle-soap and Glover's mange cure. And even when he's dressed up he looks as if he'd put on his clothes in the dark and slid down a fireman's pole."

Emily shook with mirth. "You leave me all a-flutter with the prospect. Then shall I wear riding boots and a sombrero?" Judith considered. "Have you got something soft and floating and ineffably feminine? If you haven't you ought to have; you ought never to wear anything but sport clothes in the daytime and chiffons at night."

"I don't." She produced a beige chiffon, floor-length, with a deep yoke of cobwebby lace and long bell-shaped sleeves. "Will this do?" "Perfect. I can hear the crash right now. I hope you've got a string of tiny pearls to go with it."

Emily laughed. "I have." Judith grinned. "I wonder what made me think you needed looking after." She uncurled herself and rose. At the door she paused. "I forgot to warn you that Dan is a widower and that he means no good by anyone. But I thought he'd be rather a relief after Edwin."

At the mention of Edwin her throat contracted. What was Edwin doing at this moment, she wondered; reading his paper, perhaps, in the oppressive Victorian solitude of his father's house? She resolutely closed the door of her memory on Edwin and smiled.

"Thanks for the hint. I'll try to keep my affections under control," Judith chuckled. "I won't lose sleep over that." Dan Raynor was just what Judith had described. Although his clothes were beautifully cut, it was obvious that Dan wore them on sufferance.

But he looked interesting, Emily decided; tall and rangy, with a thin, weather-beaten face that suggested that he had lived not wisely but too well. There were deep lines at either side of his wide mouth, and a network of wrinkles at the corners of his eyes, but the eyes were dark and fine, and the smile he gave her revealed the most beautiful teeth she had ever seen.

He came straight to her and took both her hands, just as David had done so long ago. Was it characteristic of these men? she wondered. "Jude, you didn't warn me," he reproached her in a voice that was even softer and more sturred than Aubrey's. Judith said calmly, "No, but I warned her."

He whirled on her in consternation. "The hell you did! What did you tell her?" "That your intentions are strictly dishonorable." He scowled at her and then smiled disarmingly at Emily. "The truth isn't in her," he said sweetly. "She's repeating vicious gossip."

Gus appeared with cocktails and Dan looked pained. "Do I have to drink those damn things?" "Do you ever?" Aubrey asked calmly. He turned to Gus. "Bring the whiskey." Dan's face cleared. "I thought maybe you expected me to be on my good behavior."

Judith said impudently, "I didn't know you had one," and Dan Raynor turned appealingly to Emily. "You see? And I did want you to love me!" She laughed. Dan was a very definite Southern type, and one with which she had had very little experience: a type that lived hard, drank hard, and loved easily and briefly. "I'll try not to let them prejudice me."

Dinner was a gay and noisy affair. The conversation was reminiscent of Carrollton, and dealt with topics that were entirely foreign to her experience. Dove shoots, fox-hunts, the impending field trials. Aubrey was entering a young dog in the trials; an English setter that was descended from a very fine dog of David's. The three of them discussed the dog technically and at length. "Who's handling him for you?" Dan asked.

"Ed Parrish. He can get more out of a dog than anybody in the game."

Don nodded. "Much competition this year?" "All the dogs that have been nominated are started there'll be plenty," Aubrey admitted. "But of course in a Derby it's hard to tell. Everett from Philadelphia is bringing his string, and so is Hudson. I haven't heard from the others."

Dan turned to Emily. "Ever seen a national field trial?" "Neither a national nor any other kind," she confessed. "You'll enjoy it. I'm putting in my bid now to take you." She hesitated. "That's over a month away, isn't it? I won't be here that long, I'm afraid."

Judith frowned. "Don't be silly. Who says you won't?" Emily smiled at her, and knowing Judith's determination decided not to argue it then. "And in the meantime," Dan went on, "I think we'd better have a fox-hunt. Ladies don't fox-hunt down here, but Jude's not a lady, thank God. And we can corral one or two others like her. What about Saturday night?"

Judith laughed. "No grass under your feet, is there, Daniel?" Her glance flicked Emily for an instant, tenderly. "Emily's been ill, and I'm afraid she won't be equal to anything so strenuous for at least two weeks. But we'll have it later."

"Tell me about fox-hunts," Emily said. "I'm not sure I'd ever be equal to one." "Oh, there's none of the fence and hedgerow stuff they have in merrie England," he reassured her. "We go out to my cabin for supper and get started about three in the morning. The big coon and the red fox walk just before day."

"And what do you do in the meantime?" she asked curiously. "The low-lifes play poker, and the others sleep around the fire." "And there's a quaint old southern custom," Aubrey put in, "that the first person awake gets to kick coals in everybody else's face."

"Then I can't go," Emily said firmly. "I sleep too soundly." Dan chuckled. "Don't you worry, honey." Emily looked so dubious that the three of them laughed heartily at her apprehension. They played bridge after dinner; duplicate contract at a tenth of a cent. Emily was uneasy, she sensed that their bridge would be a very different game from that of the Elston younger set.

"I'll be your partner," she told Dan. "If you'll let me pay my own losses. Because I'm pretty sure I'll throw you." He merely looked at her; the most reproving and reproachful look she had ever seen. Under his unwavering eyes she felt herself flushing, slowly and hotly. He turned appealingly to Judith. "Make her stop! I'll kiss her here and now if you don't."

Judith was sorting the duplicate boards. "I guess we can stand it if she can," she told him calmly. Emily laughed helplessly. "All right. But you may lose your shirt." The argot of Morton Hall, she realized as she spoke, was insidious and contagious. Dan was arranging pillows in her chair. "It wouldn't be the first time, sugar."

She had guessed right about the honey.

bridge. They played casually, with none of the bickering that characterized so many serious games, but it was evident that they respected the game as a beautiful and intricate thing. "If you ever find you're broke," Dan told her warmly, "just let me know and we'll do this for a living."

"Not with us you won't," Judith assured him. "Dan, my darling, it's time for you to go home." He rose reluctantly. "Every time I begin to enjoy myself somebody makes me go home." He looked at Emily. "How about a ride tomorrow?"

She hesitated. "I rode today for the first time in nearly two years, and I have a suspicion that I won't be equal to it." "Then we'll wait a day or two." He turned to Judith. "This is Thursday; have dinner with me Saturday night?"

"We'd love it." "Fine." He took Emily's hands. "I'll try to bear it until then." Tomorrow, Judith makes plans for Emily.

Egypt Sends Twelve More Doctors to Emperor

BY JAMES MILLS, Associated Press Foreign Staff. ADDIS ABABA, Nov. 1 (AP)—Dr. Robert W. Hoekman, American missionary in Ethiopia, went today to Jijiga, 300 miles behind the southern front, where he is operating a base hospital for Emperor Haile Selassie.

The doctor's party was equipped with six American-made motor-ambulances, several stretchers and operating tables, and a great supply of anti-scurvy remedies. Dr. Hoekman, an United Presbyterian missionary who already had started inoculation of several thousand Ethiopian soldiers against typhoid, smallpox and cholera, was assisted by Dr. Malaku Bayen, former student at Howard university in Washington, D. C., and one of Ethiopia's few native doctors.

Twelve more physicians and 64 hospital assistants, representing Egypt's latest war gift to Emperor Haile Selassie, arrived today, bringing the total number of Egyptian doctors, chemists, and internes in Ethiopia to nearly 100. They will be employed largely at base hospitals. Ethiopian officials conceding it impracticable for them to work on the actual fronts, which are changing constantly. The government announced there was a lull on all fronts broken only by an Italian air raid on Mogolo last Saturday by two planes which failed to do any damage.

The government also confirmed the report that small columns of Italians on the northern front are attempting to penetrate southward. It was reported that Ras Guetachou, former minister to Paris and now the governor of Maji and Kafa provinces, may replace Ras Mulugeta as minister of war.

Seventeen of the war minister's warriors who engaged in an armed dispute with dissident comrades on the outskirts of the capital were brought in chains before the emperor for trial. It is expected Haile Selassie will order them lashed, according to scriptural tradition.

Bent with the weight of huge bags of Marie Therese silver thalers on their backs, 200 leading Ethiopian merchants appeared before the emperor and tendered him their treasure, amounting to about $100,000, with which to fight the Italians. The emperor added the money to a secret war fund, the nucleus of which is 10,000,000 lire (about $800,000) paid to Emperor Menelik by the Italians after their 1896 defeat at Adowa.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS and SOUNDS

BY ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD.—They were talking about fights and fighters. Hollywood's "one-blow contests" and the like, when Richard Arlen took the floor to testify. He told about the early experience that convinced him movie actors, despite the powder puff and the make-up, can hold their own.

"Before I came to Hollywood," he said, "I shared the opinion that one 'regular guy'—meaning any fellow not an actor—could lick a dozen movie heroes every morning before breakfast. "Only a few men use makeup in pictures now, but a few years ago they did, and we could never figure on how a man who powdered his nose could fight."

"I hadn't been in Hollywood long before I bumped shoulders in a crowd with a fellow I recognized as an extra I'd worked with the day before. One of us said something and I was about to reduce the surplus movie extras by annihilating this one when something hit me. It might have been a ten-ton truck, but people tell me it was that extra's fist. I was out for five minutes."

Arlen can qualify Arlen, often himself the hero of two-fisted roles, has boxed since boyhood and thinks he can qualify on the fighting qualities of his fellow-actors. He thinks there would be more front-page Hollywood fist-fights if actors did not sidestep them, no matter how strong the justification, because of the unfavorable publicity angle. It's the same way, he parallels, with professional boxers, some of whom have to "take" a lot in public because if they gave vent to their feelings as most men would they would be considered brutal.

And Dick named a few actors he thinks are good: "George O'Brien probably is the best boxer in pictures. He is one of the finest, quietest, most admired men I know. But he also is a cat in the ring and he hits like bad news. Gable All Right, Too

"James Cagney is more than fair with the gloves and in a bare-fisted encounter, the kind that faces every man occasionally, he is a terror. Jack Holt is not the person to push around if you want to keep your nose in the right place, either. "Clark Gable, Lee Tracy and Pat O'Brien all can go in the ring, and I know a lot more who can do all right by themselves in a fight."

And then Arlen had to go back to work — incidentally, with both fists. He was playing the two-fisted minister in "The Calling of Dan Matthews."
