Connally Lays His Plan for Keeping Peace

AUSTIN, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Sen. Tom Connally (D-Texas), tonight told a long-delayed Jefferson day dinner of Texas Democrats that the "sublime destiny" of the United States is to lead the world away from war.

In a speech prepared for delivery at 9 p. m., the chairman of the senate foreign relations committee called upon the United Nations to work "side by side to save millions of human lives and permit the peoples of the earth to rebuild their ruined lands and shattered homes."

"We leagued our armed might for war," Connally said. "Now let us leagued our moral and material might for peace. Let us be among the architects of a structure more marvelous than one built of steel and stone. Let us create a temple of law and reason and justice and peace to serve the peoples of the world."

Connally told the Texas Democrats who attended the barbecue by virtue of having contributed $25 or more to the national campaign fund, that they could best honor the memory of Thomas Jefferson by dedicating themselves to the principle of free government and constitutional institutions which he advocated and supported.

Connally said that Franklin D. Roosevelt had led the way in "creating a new world."

Texas Sees Way To Hire Workers Laid Off on V-J

FORT WORTH, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Texas, with postwar plans drawn in advance of V-J day, has jobs in sight for thousands of war plant employees released as a result of cancellation of contracts.

An analysis of figures and information worked out by various public and private bodies, and compiled by the Fort Worth Star-Telegram reveals that an expenditure of $500,000,000, including both public and private industrial funds, will involve statewide projects of all types and require one to five years for completion.

The figures are based on carefully studied estimates compiled by chambers of commerce at various points in the state, the Texas division of the war manpower commission and the Texas post-war planning commission. Start of projects hinges on release of materials.

Solution of the Texas housing program will call for an outlay of $1,000,000,000 for the shortage of residential units over the state in conservatively estimated 200,000. This city alone lists a shortage of 13,000 units.

The state highway commission is prepared immediately to begin construction work on farm-to-market roads that will cost $80,000,000 during the next three years. About $200,000,000 will be expended during that same period on major or cardinal highways the commission has estimated.

Almost every city in Texas has definite plans for public works construction, with the list not yet complete. Included will be levees, waterworks, deepening and widening of canals, airports, paving, bridges, parks, storm sewers, buildings and sanitation.

Bonds have already been approved or will be voted on in many municipalities to pay for the vast program.

Army Will Continue To Ration Tobacco

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The army exchange service said today no relaxation of cigarette and tobacco rationing at army installations is contemplated at present, despite the end of the war and increasing supplies of cigarettes for civilians.

The current ration at post exchanges and similar army outlets is six packs of cigarettes or 12 cigars weekly for army personnel and civilians authorized to purchase there.

Japanese Envoys Begin Trip to Manila; Retention of Pacific Bases Recommended

Some Isles Are Claimed By Allies

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Outright retention by the United States of a group of Pacific islands, including some now claimed by France, Australia and Great Britain, was recommended today by a house naval subcommittee.

They must be kept as naval and military bases if the United States is to assume responsibility for keeping peace in the Pacific, the committee asserted in a report made public by Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.).

The report, 300 pages long, was based on a 21,000-mile inspection trip made by a subcommittee.

It did not suggest how this nation should go about obtaining title to islands claimed by friendly nations, but emphasized that it is essential that the United States have free and unrestrained access to them.

Specifically, the committee recommended that:

1. For our own security, the security of the western hemisphere, and the peace of the Pacific, the United States should have at least dominating control over the former Japanese mandated islands of the Marshalls, the Carolines, and the Marianas—commonly known as "Micronesia"—and over the outlying Japanese islands of the Izu, Bonin, and Ryukus.

2. The United States should be

Pampa Students Will Enroll on Monday, Sept. 3

Monday, Sept. 3, has been announced by Knox Kinar, new Pampa school superintendent, as the enrollment date for the Pampa 1945-46 school term.

Saturday, Sept. 1, the first faculty meeting will be held, according to the new superintendent. Following the enrollment on Monday, classes will begin Tuesday, September 4.

Due to the housing situation in Pampa, the board of education is requesting that residents of Pampa, who have rooms which they can rent to teachers consider doing this, since several teachers have already arrived in the city and are having difficulty finding places.

Even rooms that can be rented temporarily will help to take care of the problem until permanent places can be found, it was said.

Many changes have been made among the faculty members. A. L. Steele, former assistant principal of Senior high school, will serve as principal of Junior high school, Glenn L. Allison, who previously served on the Hereford faculty, is the new assistant principal at high school.

Winston Savage has been chosen as the new principal of Senior high school. For the past few years he has served as principal at Junior high school.

The following have been added to the high school faculty: Miss Claris Glick and Mrs. E. O. Strong, English department; M. E. Berg and Miss Virginia Goode, science department.

Possible Clash Is Envisioned

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The United States today warned the Bulgarian government—a regime set up after the Russian army moved in—to free its forthcoming elections from fear and intimidation so that they may be truly democratic.

Otherwise, Secretary of State Byrnes made clear, this country will not consider signing a peace treaty with the former Axis satellite nation.

Bulgaria is one of the key nations in Russia's eastern European sphere, and a collision of policies appeared possible.

Britain backed up the American position. A foreign office communique in London said the two nations were presenting a "common front" in the attitude that the present regime does not represent all the democratic elements of Bulgaria.

The American views were stated directly to the Bulgarian government by the United States representative, Minister Maynard B. Barnes.

MERCURY DROPS
HOUSTON, Aug. 18.—(AP)—A short but sharp rainstorm over much of the city early tonight drove the temperature down appreciably from a high of 102 degrees, to a low of 78 degrees, Sunday.

SMOKE BOILS AT HIGH ALTITUDE

Big multi-colored clouds of smoke boiled to an altitude of more than 40,000 feet a few moments after the first atomic bomb was set off at Alamogordo, N. M., in test. Scientists and high army officials stood dazed at the spectacle six miles away. It was from that distance that this photograph was made by the movie camera.

OTHERWISE UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER IS INCOMPLETE

War-Time Controls on Goods, Services Torn Up in Four Days

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(AP)—America raced into its peacetime future today with the government swinging the axe on all sides to get out of "the woods."

Four days after the sudden ending of the war with Japan one of the highest government officials frankly said:

"We don't pretend to have any master blueprint charting every action for the future. That's impossible."

"Our job is to get out of the woods. The government can only help."

Here is the picture of what has been done in this historic week and what is expected:

UNEMPLOYMENT—John W. Snyder, reconversion director, thinks unemployment may be 5 million in three months, may reach 8 million by spring.

The "full employment" bill in congress may take months to pass—if it ever does. Mr. Truman thinks it should. It wouldn't solve unemployment. It will enable the government to plan for full employment.

DEMobilIZATION—The army, navy and marines say they'll discharge 7 1/2 million men within the next 12 to 18 months. The government says veterans will get preference when they apply to U. S. employment service offices.

And the government's civil service system—until further notice—will receive applications for government jobs from no one except veterans or federal employees laid off from some agency.

MANPOWER—Almost immediately with the surrender of Japan, the

LONG DELAYED, BUT— STATE'S HIGHWAY PLANS ARE READY FOR ACTION

AUSTIN, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Texas is in a splendid position to inaugurate highway reconstruction with a minimum of lost motion its long-delayed program of highway reconstruction, the Texas good roads association said in a statement today.

This is due largely to the "fore-sight" which has been exercised by the highway commission and engineering staff since the start of the war, and the constructive policies on the part of the governor, the legislature, and congress, said the association.

At a conference today between officials of the highway department and the Texas good roads association, the following facts with relation to the post-war program were developed, the statement said:

1. Except for the final touches, plans for the first $50,000,000 increment of the three-year post-war program of $172,500,000 are nearing completion and will be ready to be placed under contract by the time construction is authorized by the federal government.

2. Of the $50,000,000 program, $30,000,000 involves projects on the primary highway system and $20,000,000 for farm-to-market roads.

3. The plans were made under an authorization by congress in a bill known as the post-war highway bill which was passed last December. The work cannot be placed under contract until congress actually appropriates the federal funds for matching. It is anticipated the congress will make this appropriation immediately on resuming session in September.

4. Many projects likely will be seriously delayed through failure of the local governmental sub-divisions to obtain right-of-way for projects which have been scheduled.

Quarter Million Americans Killed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(AP)—More than a quarter of a million Americans were killed in World War II—and the casualty reports are still coming in. Combat casualties now stand at 1,070,138, with 252,146 killed, 651,168 wounded, 44,206 missing and 122,618 prisoners.

The figures, reported Friday, show 222,757 army casualties and 147,381 for the navy.

Jap Airmen Take Pot-Shot at Yanks

By CLYDE BARTEL

Associated Press War Editor

Japanese envoys left Tokyo—18 minutes behind schedule—at 7:18 a. m. today (Sunday), Japanese time, en route to Manila to learn detailed Allied terms for the occupation of Japan, Japanese headquarters reported.

The two unarmed planes were expected to reach El Shimo, in the Okinawa group, not later than 2 p. m. Japanese time (12 midnight Saturday Central War Time).

On distant fronts, meanwhile, Japan's armies were surrendering or preparing to give up, but on the home grounds her anti-aircraft guns and fighter planes were still attacking American reconnaissance planes.

One American photographer was killed and two air crewmen were wounded yesterday when 14 Japanese fighters jumped two B-24s while the Yanks were scouting 20,000 feet above Tokyo. Two of the attacking planes were shot down and two more probably were destroyed.

It was the second straight day of Japanese attacks on American planes reconnoitering over Japan.

Plans were made for Chinese occupation of Canton and Shanghai within a few days, and for a surrender meeting between Chinese and Japanese army leaders Tuesday. A Siberian radio report said a Russian commission had reached Harbin, Manchuria, to initiate preliminaries for the Japanese Kwantung army surrender.

Tokyo radio told the Nipponese to disregard rumors that American and Chinese troops already have landed in Japan, and quoted foreign minister Mamoru Shigemitsu in a flat statement that the Nipponese "have to face the fact that we have been defeated."

Rumors in Japan that American and Chinese occupation troops already had landed on Nippon were denied by Tokyo radio.

Domei, the Japanese agency, put out an English language broadcast beamed to the United States, quoting foreign minister Mamoru Shigemitsu.

Col. James Ronin Now In Command At Local Field

Colonel James A. Ronin, veteran overseas pilot who wears 8 service ribbons, has assumed command of Pampa army air field. He succeeds Colonel James De Marco, now assigned to another installation.

The new commanding officer came here from Hondo army air field, Hondo, Texas, where he was deputy commanding officer.

Col. Ronin, a command pilot, earned his pilot's wings and second lieutenant's commission at Kelly field, Feb. 23, 1929. He served as a regular army pilot at various air fields in the United States until March 20, 1941, when he went to the First composite squadron, Meridian, Miss., remaining there until Aug. 15, 1942.

He became commanding officer of the 8012 composite force on Ascension Island April 20, 1942, and when he left the island three years later, March 31, 1945, he was commanding officer of the installation. Pilots under his command flew P-39 fighters and B-25 Mitchell bombers.

He Wasn't Rattled By Snake's Rattles

SHAMROCK, Aug. 18.—"You may have rattles, but you can't rattle me," said Sam Scott, farmer residing in the Plymouth community near here, as he cut the rattles off a snake he had just killed. The rattler had bitten Scott on the leg and also bitten his dog.

Scott very calmly killed the snake, treated his dog, made a tourniquet on his leg, climbed on his tractor and drove to the home of a neighbor who brought him to St. Mary's hospital. He is getting along well.

POLITICAL TREND: America Is Now Asiatic by Fact Of World War II

By JAMES D. WHITE

Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—(AP)—"The United States has become Asiatic by virtue of this war. The boundaries of this country, by the inclusion of Iwo Jima and Okinawa, have in effect been extended to the shores of China."

These plain words by a Chinese were reinforced this week by a tense situation in China which threatened to throw that nation into a civil war and could have aligned this country openly against Russia in Asia. It did not do so, presumably, because diplomatic breakwaters already have been built to ward off such dire tides of fate.

The situation in China was confusing to Americans, who were diverted away by the groans of a Japanese militarism in its death agony.

So another word from Dr. Lin Tung-Chi, visiting professor of political science at Mills College.

"The whole development of your history is the movement across the American continent, Asiaward. But mentally you are pulled back to Europe."

"The American people must once and for all get rid of the idea that some day, somehow, they will pull out of Asia. You were called into this conflict through Asia and if you dodge your responsibilities in Asia, you will be called in again."

The long-range danger was that America would find itself partisan in a Chinese civil war. This would be immeasurably sharpened if Russia should throw her support to the

GUARANTY TRUST LISTS OPPOSITION TO PENDING FULL EMPLOYMENT BILL

Seldom, if ever, has a legislative proposal so sweeping in character and so inadequately supported by business experience as the pending full employment act of 1945 gained such a strong adherence in influential quarters in so short a time and with so little public discussion. This measure, if enacted into law, would drastically alter the relation between government and business in the United States. It would place upon the federal government the explicit and continuing responsibility for the aggregate volume of employment and unemployment, states the Guaranty Trust company of New York in the July issue of The Guaranty Survey, its monthly review of business and financial conditions in this country and abroad, which has been published.

"It seems clear that a proposal of this kind should not be adopted without far more careful public consideration of its underlying nature and its possible consequences than has been given them." The Survey continues. "The full employment bill provides for a 'national production and employment budget' to be transmitted by the President to Congress at the beginning of each regular session and covering the next succeeding fiscal year or such longer period as the President may deem appropriate. This budget is to set forth the estimated size of the labor force, the estimated amount of private and public investment and expenditure required to provide full employment for the labor force, and the estimate amount of such expenditure in prospect. The amount, if any, by which the estimated amount of prospective investment and expenditure falls short of the estimated amount required to assure full employment is to be regarded as a prospective deficiency in the budget.

"When such a deficiency occurs, the President is to set forth in the budget a general program for encouraging such non-federal investment and expenditure as will prevent the deficiency to the greatest possible extent. If such measures of encouragement are deemed insufficient to provide full employment, the President is to transmit a general program for federal investment and expenditure sufficient to bring the aggregate amount of federal and non-federal investment and expenditure to the required figure. A joint congressional committee is to study the budget and report its findings and recommendations. The President is to ascertain quarterly the extent to which changes in federal investment and expenditure may be warranted, and the rate of such investment and expenditure may be varied in such manner as the President may deem necessary to assist in assuring full employment.

Limitations of Public Spending
"The experience of recent years certainly does not support the theory that budgetary deficits have an inherent tendency to promote prosperity and budgetary surpluses a tendency to create depression. During the nineteen-twenties, when the Federal budget showed a consistent surplus and the public debt was reduced at an average rate of approximately a billion dollars a year, business in the United States enjoyed a period of unprecedented prosperity. In the nineteen-thirties the experience was reversed: an interrupted series of annual treasury deficits was accompanied by persistent depression.

"Government spending during that period unquestionably provided jobs temporarily, but it completely failed to lay a foundation for jobs in private business without public support. Every increase in employment spending gave way to renewed unemployment as soon as the spending stopped. And it is an open question whether, even from the short-term point of view, the policy of 'compensatory spending' did not destroy more employment than it created, by leading workers to depend on public largess instead of private jobs and by confronting the people with the disquieting spectacle of a series of treasury deficits larger in the aggregate than those during the first World War.

"Experience has shown further that public spending cannot be treated merely as an economic instrument. It is also a political factor of the highest importance. It provides patronage and attracts votes. A supposedly temporary spending program undertaken for an economic purpose tends to develop into a permanent political mechanism for perpetuating the bureaucracy in power. Even if such a program could be relied upon (as it cannot) to restore prosperity, it could not be depended upon to cease when its original purpose was accomplished.

"Wartime experience has been cited by proponents of the plan as evidence that government spending can create employment opportunities on any desired scale. This is undoubtedly true, provided the spending is large enough. But it is unlikely that even the most enthusiastic supporter of the proposal would seriously maintain that public spending on a scale at all comparable with that practiced during the war could be carried on in time of peace as part of a permanent economic program with any prospect other than that of financial ruin. In the nineteen-thirties, spending at a rate that increased that national debt by more than $30 billion in less than nine years proved insufficient to take up the employment slack. In August, 1939, just before the outbreak of the war, the number unemployed in the United States was estimated by the American Federation of Labor at 10.14 million, as against 6.84 million at the end of 1930.

Danger of Government Guarantee

"Perhaps the most dangerous feature of the proposal is its assumption of the government's responsibility to guarantee employment. Jobs are given by private employers, and the number of jobs available at any time depends on a large and complex set of conditions over which no one in a free society has control. As soon as, and to the extent that, such control is undertaken, the society ceases to be free. A government of limited powers is not a favorable position to guarantee employment.

"The conclusion seems inescapable that full employment cannot be guaranteed in a free society. Nothing short of a complete dictatorship would be in a position to undertake that responsibility. A democratic government charged with such a burden would find its powers unequal to its task and tend inevitably toward authoritarianism. One of the outstanding British advocates of the general idea concedes that price control would probably be an inevitable consequence of a full-employment policy; that private as well as public investment would have to be regulated by governmental authority; that control over the location of industrial plants would be a central requirement; that 'organized mobility' of labor would have to be maintained; and that such civil liberties as the rights to choose new public officials and alter public policies, freedom in the choice of occupations and in the management of personal incomes, and the right of labor to bargain collectively and to strike could not be exercised irresponsibly. In the aggregate, these restrictions, together with others that would be found corollary to them, would leave very little of the 'free society' that most supporters of the plan profess themselves eager to preserve.

"To say that full employment cannot be guaranteed is not to say that it cannot be substantially achieved. There will undoubtedly be periods of business depression and unemployment in the future, as there have been in the past. Such periods, however, have always heretofore given way to new eras of growth and prosperity, in which the people, under the stimulus of competition and opportunity, have attained ever higher levels of economic welfare. No convincing evidence has ever been produced to support the belief that some force has appeared to make business inherently incapable of self-generated recovery. There is a widespread conviction among business men that in recent years no adequate opportunity for such recovery has been given.

"The necessity of preventing serious hardships in times of large unemployment is beyond question, and the national government must provide such aid as private and local public agencies cannot supply. But the aid should be extended as economically as possible, should be paid for as largely as possible from current revenue, and should not be on such a high scale as to leave workers no incentive to seek employment in self-sustaining trade and industry. The belief that the government can, and should permanently maintain a predetermined volume of aggregate employment by fiscal manipulations, is, at best, an untried hypothesis; and to make the guarantee of such employment the basis of a permanent policy, with public credit and the soundness of the national currency among the ultimate stakes, would be to invite disaster."

Mrs. Raffan looked at the pistol and decided she wasn't too busy. He got $200.

Leaves From a Correspondent's War Notebook

By MORRIS LANDSBERG (Substituting for Hal Boyle)

ABOARD AN ESCORT CARRIER WESTERN PACIFIC — (AP) — The young marine sergeant, who handles the rear guns in a torpedo-bomber, came over and ran his finger down the list of names in my notebook.

"Scratch this one out, won't you?" he asked.

The name was X-ed out because the sergeant didn't want his family to know he was flying.

This incident in the ready room for fliers in an all-marine air group was nothing new. It has happened three times to this correspondent. In each case, the flier didn't want his parents to worry about him and felt that "no news was good news."

There was the young navy dive-bomber pilot aboard the carrier Lexington last fall. He approached the correspondents soon after they arrived.

"Don't use my name, please." His story was that his parents, both not well, thought, he was training on an island in the Pacific. He'd never told them of his preparation for an assignment to combat duty. "I think it would kill them if they knew," he said. How he managed to write letters regularly while at sea for nearly five months is a mystery.

He went home after that, and may finally have told his folks that his safe "training" included the first carrier strikes on the Philippines, Okinawa, Formosa and the second battle of the Philippines sea. He wasn't scratched.

In flying parlance, ETA means estimated time of arrival.

One marine pilot, filling out a personnel questionnaire, came across "any children" and wrote: "ETA September."

Press Says Franco Is Spain's Savior

MADRID, Aug. 18. — (AP) — Since announcement of the Potsdam decision to bar Generalissimo Francisco Franco's Spain from the United Nations, hundreds of editorials in the country's controlled press have asserted that ousting of the falange and Franco would bring chaos and communism to Spain.

The newspapers also declared that Franco's attitude during the war aided the United Nations more than it did the axis.

There has been a notable increase in republican underground activity since the denunciation of Franco's regime by the Big Three at Potsdam. Monarchist elements still seem weak and divided.

Wheeler Community Gets 'Saving' Rain

SHAMROCK, Aug. 18. — Wheeler county is drenched with a crop-saving rain.

A drought which had threatened drastically to cut Wheeler county's row crop production was brought to an end this week when rains ranging from a quarter of an inch to two inches fell all over the entire county.

Shamrock received 1.12 of an inch of moisture, while farmers in the Center community report the heaviest fall, two or more inches. The lightest fall was in the Pagan community, with residents of that vicinity estimating their precipitation at about one-quarter inch.

The rain came as a "life-saver" to the farmers and ranchers. Cotton had begun to throw off blooms and late feed was beginning to burn. Grass land had seared until ranchers were worried about lack of pasture for their cattle.

The rain reached every part of Wheeler county. Lola farmers reported three-fourths of an inch, while the fall was heavier south of that point.

Workers in Portland Seeking New Jobs

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 18. — (AP) — Hundreds of workers who swarmed to Portland from throughout the nation for a wartime shipyard boom are laying aside their tin hats and hurrying to make postwar plans.

With war jobs, ending, they wrinkled their brows intently trying to decide whether to go "back home" — or to stay here. Opinion was divided.

"I'm going back to my carpenter's job at Lufkin, Texas," said Horace Francher, loading his wife and three children into a trailer. "We've saved $1,400 here in 11 months, and I've plenty of work promised me back home."

Employment Status In Area Still Same

The United States employment service office reported yesterday that conditions in this area are remaining the same in regard to number of persons employed in local industries. Otis Terry, area director of the service, said, however, that some employers are ceasing to hire new employees in anticipation of the arrival of their older employees back from the armed forces.

Terry also made public the fact that stabilization controls have been reinstated by the federal government and that it is no longer necessary to have a certificate of availability or a referral card to leave or join firm.

Terry also wished to express his thanks for the cooperation received from all employers in this area, and said he hoped that he can be of future service to them.

INTERNATIONAL LESSON SOUTHERN STYLE

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. — (AP) — An eight-year-old Chinese orphan boy is learning English in China from a Virginia woman. And the lessons are by long distance.

The lad wandered into a 14th air force base in China and said he was hungry. The men asked him to stay to dinner and he has been there ever since. Margaret Black, a first grade teacher and friend of one of the China-based soldiers, sends primers, crayons, paper and drawing books. As soon as the boy finishes his present supply, she will send him second grade material. It is not known here whether his English has a southern accent.

In peacetime, Barnes contributed about one-twelfth of the world's total output of crude rubber.

LONG STORY OF SUCCESSFUL RANCHING IN THE TEXAS PANHANDLE RELATED

By LARRY JONES

A long story of cattle ranching in history form was told this week by one of our local ranchers. At present he is still engaged in an industry that his grandparents started in the year 1864, an industry which has been vitally important to the development of this part of the country, and also an industry into which his son and daughters are preparing to enter.

The beginning of this story is in Kansas in the middle of the 1800's. T. J. Price, who is the grandfather of the present owner of the Flying W ranch, established his first bid for a reputation in the cattle business on a ranch in the areas around Emporia and Reading, Kansas. This was in 1864, and after successful dealings there for about 20 years he founded the T Bar T ranch in 1884 on Crooked Creek in the Cimarron river area. The first T Bar T herd the elder Price started was of 1,000 head that were brought down from the first established ranch. These cattle were all roped and branded on the range by two Mexican ropers without the aid of any barns, cattle chutes, corals, or other forms of equipment necessary for cattle handling. This ranch was founded on the site of the famous Abode Walls Indian fight which took place earlier in the 19th century. In 1911 the present ranch was founded by Harry B. Price, father of W. D. Price. When the present ranch was established it was called the White Deer ranch, and all stock was branded with a figure 9. In about 1925, the ranch was changed to the Flying W as it is known now. The present owner of the ranch is W. D. Price, a resident of Pampa. His children, who are of the fifth generation, will be the future owners of this highly reputable organization.

T. J. Price became well known in the early 1900's as the owner of the first herd of cattle to be exported from the United States to a foreign country. This herd of cattle numbered 50 head and weighed an average of 1,900 pounds apiece. These were exported from New York City to Liverpool, England. The trip across the Atlantic was successful, and the cattle were in good condition upon arrival.

The same T. J. Price in about 1885 made a trip by wagon from Dodge City to the famous JA ranch south of Pampa with the JA owner, Charles Goodnight.

The present acreage covered by the Flying W is approximately 50,000 acres. Another fact that makes the Flying W outstanding in circles where quality beef is concerned is that they handle only steers. These steers are of good beef stock and have been a good name for the Flying W who is 72 years old. Jack W. D. Price, boss of the Flying W is a quiet, unassuming individual, with whom it is a pleasure to talk. He is also very desirous to receive as little publicity as possible. He is married to the former Margaret Chatterton. They have four daughters and one son. The eldest daughter is Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Patterson. The next in line are Martha Ann Smith, Mrs. Harriet Alice Lowery, Willis D. Jr., and Margaret Chatterton. Harriet, the youngest of the married daughters lost her husband due to enemy action in the South Pacific in February. He was engaged in aerial warfare at the Tinian gulf campaign.

The ranch is very well represented in the events of the Top o' Texas rodeo and horse show. In the grand parade Friday afternoon the Flying W had numerous punchers in the procession, with one of their chuck wagons used on the range in round-up time. The chuck wagon was driven by an old puncher from the Flying W who is 72 years old. Jack Harris is his name, and he has been working as a cowpuncher for over 55 years. In addition to the Price entries the ranch also donated 150 bales of hay and various other articles to contribute to the success of the show. These articles are appreciated by the association, and the association extends to the Price family and all the hands on the Flying W their thanks.

genmitsu as frankly telling the Nipponese they "have to face the fact that we have been defeated." But there was no similar statement in Domei's alleged "full text" in Japanese of Shigemitsu's statement later beamed to the Orient.

Bowing to General MacArthur's curt order to snap into action, the Japanese government and military surrender party was to fly in two white planes marked with green crosses, to Ie Jima, near Okinawa, today if the weather was right, and then proceed under American aerial escort to Manila.

MacArthur, with representatives of the British, China and Australian commands, was scheduled to tell the Nipponese the terms of capitulation Monday.

In the China war theater the plans called for a meeting between Gen. Ho Ying-Chin, Chinese field commander, and envoys of Lt. Gen. Yasuji Okamura, commander of Japanese forces in China, Tuesday at Chihkiang, U. S. air base in western Hunan province.

The meeting is expected to arrange the surrender of all Nipponese forces in China, with the Chinese armies to march into Canton and Shanghai a few days later.

Domei, the Japanese agency, said the Chinese nationalist underground forces already had taken over in Shanghai.

Friction between the Chinese communist leader Gen. Mai Tze-Tung and the central government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek seemed to have eased with reports that the red leader has agreed to send a representative to Chungking to discuss issues with Chiang.

Chungking announced that France has renounced rights to Kwangchowwan territory, 250 miles southwest of Hong Kong, leased from China in 1899 for 99 years.

In London, a foreign office spokesman said Hong Kong, British sea base captured by the Japanese early in the Pacific war, is still a part of the British empire. He said the British were not racing with the Chinese to get to the city first after Nipponese capitulation. It was reported Chiang had officially notified London that China intended to occupy Hong Kong, held by the British for 100 years, but the foreign office spokesman said he couldn't confirm this.

The call to prayer began in Pampa almost as soon as the news of peace was received, when churches opened their doors for grateful persons to express their thanks and pray for guidance.

Rev. E. Douglas Carver, president of the Ministerial Alliance, urged all Pampans to attend prayer services Wednesday evening, and a large attendance was reported at each church.

Chinese communists. But would Russia do that? Hardly, it seemed. Moscow had just signed agreements, including a treaty of friendship, with the Chungking Premier, T. V. Soong.

The deal still is secret, but American interest and inference have been evident throughout. Soong went to Moscow from Washington, and returned there to talk to President Truman. American Ambassador Harriman was frequently informed of how the Moscow talks were going.

The Chinese communists know this. They also know Russia never had given them any material help. How the Chinese and Russians will distribute the occupation of northern China, inner Mongolia, Manchuria and Korea remains to be seen.

It appears now that the Russians will wind up occupying everything north of the great wall, but that does not decide the political destiny of those areas, at least until the Sino-Russian agreements are published.

Nor does it necessarily freeze out the Chinese communists, who have built up strong popular support in their areas which cannot be overlooked.

A year ago the convergence of Russian, Chinese and American interests in Asia might have been frightening, for then Chungking and Moscow scarcely disguised their distrust of one another.

But now other things than the city of Hiroshima may have been dissolved by atomic bomb and among them may be some of the excuses which the human species is wont to find for quarreling instead of cooperating.

THROUGH JAPANESE EYES

by Otto D. Tolischus

THE PLAN OF WORLD CONQUEST

THE Japanese plans for conquering the world are by no means of recent origin. They go back to the "divinely sponsored" exploits of the legendary Emperor Jimmu, who is credited with the first attempt to conquer Korea, the only world outside the Japanese islands known to Japanese mythology. And they were carried forward in the 16th century by Tokun Hideoyoshi, who did invade Korea and planned to roll up China "like a map." But the really serious plans and preparations for it began when, prompted by Commodore Perry's "black ships," Japan emerged from her century-long seclusion and opened her gates to the outside world. The plans were formulated by Lord Hotta, premier to the last Taikun, in a memorial to the Emperor Meiji, then a boy. In this memorial, Hotta laid down the fundamental principles which have guided Japanese policy ever since, namely:

1. It is the will of Heaven that the Japanese Emperor should become the Emperor of the World, which is the first projection of the Hakko Ichiu principle.
2. Japan's foreign policy should always aim at establishing hegemony over all nations.
3. Japan must arm herself militarily and economically for that task.

How It Was Carried Out

This policy was put into practice by a swift modernization and industrialization of Japan which amazed the world, though the fact that it rested primarily on a large-scale armament industry sponsored by the state was often overlooked. It garnered its first fruits in the annexation of adjacent islands, which whetted the appetite for more. And it scored its first triumphs in the war against China in 1894-95, and especially in the war against Russia in 1904-05. In this war, Japan first matched her prowess against an Occidental world power and won not only victory but also Korea. The next step aimed at establishing Japanese hegemony over China by stealth. While the rest of the world was busy with the first World War, Japan secretly presented to the Chinese government the notorious "Twenty-one Demands." They fell short of success because of Chinese and Western opposition, but they were the first concrete revelation of Japan's vast ambitions and the heralds of events to come.

These ambitions and detailed plans for their realization were laid down by Premier Baron Gichi Tanaka in another memorial to the throne submitted in 1927. When first published in 1931, this memorial was denounced by the Japanese as a forgery. Today, there is no reason to doubt its authenticity.

Pearl Harbor—Dec. 7, 1941

"In the future, if we want to control China, we must first crush the United States. . . ."—Baron Tanaka, 1927.

FOR the sake of self-protection as well as protection of others, Japan cannot remove the difficulties in Eastern Asia unless she adopts a policy of "blood and iron." But in carrying out this policy we have to face the United States, which has been turned against us by China's policy of fighting poison with poison. In the future, if we want to control China, we must first crush the United States, just as in the past we had to fight in the Russo-Japanese War. But in order to conquer China, we must first conquer Manchuria and Mongolia. In order to conquer the world, we must first conquer China. If we succeed in conquering China the rest of the Asiatic countries and the South Sea countries will fear us and surrender to us. Then the world will realize that Eastern Asia is ours and will not dare to violate our rights.

This is the plan left to us by Emperor Meiji, the success of which is essential to our national existence. The way to gain actual rights in Manchuria and Mongolia is to use this region as a base and under the pretense of trade and commerce penetrate the rest of China. Armed by the rights already secured we shall seize the resources all over the country. Having China's entire resources at our disposal we shall proceed to conquer India, the Archipelago, Asia Minor, Central Asia, and even Europe. —From The Tanaka Memorial, submitted to Emperor Hirohito by Premier Baron Gichi Tanaka, July 25, 1927.

Tomorrow the World

"In the Sino-Japanese and Russo-Japanese Wars we frustrated the treacherous schemes of England, checked the power of Russia, and struck a gigantic blow for the rebuilding of East Asia. Then in the Manchurian and China incidents, Japan's battles for a new Asia continued, and the movement expanded to all Asia. But this movement must progress to the concentrated union of all Asia with Japan as leader, and we must realize that for this Asia must return to her true self. But, based on the spirit of Hakko Ichiu which is the foundation of our country, this must not be restricted to Asia but spread over the whole world. Therefore the future history of Asia, and of the world, must be the history of Japan and nothing more."—Establishment of a Japanese Era by Hikaru Hakamura, Tokyo, 1939.

"We should not look furtively to the right or to the left, but go South without hesitation. To go South is the solution of all our problems—in respect to the United States, the Soviet Union, China, Europe and the domestic situation; we can kill five birds with one stone."—Admiral Gumpel Sekine, in magazine Total Riku, 1941.

"The Greater East Asia Co-prosperity Sphere will not be isolated from other parts of the world but, on the contrary, will be the center of the new World Order."—Finance Minister Okinobu Kaya, Jan. 27, 1942.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—(P)—they lose their jobs. But for those who are, how much compensation and for how long depends on state laws. THIRTY AMERICANS BOOMING SOFT DRINKS
WASHINGTON.—(P)—With 1,250,000 places in the United States selling soft drinks, the beverage industry disposed of 18 billion drinks last year. The products are turned out by 5,700 plants distributed throughout the United States. Average annual business for the plants is $81,212.

"Domestic Commerce," department of commerce publication, points out that most of the industry must be classified as small business, but the peak production of $554,000,000 in 1941 is a big business figure. The industry has grown from 64 plants with annual production of $750,500 in 1850.

A NEW DEAL SOUTH OF THE BORDER
BUENOS AIRES.—(P)—Argentina's rural workers, in large part illiterate, ill-fed and impoverished, have been promised a new deal under a new "peons statute" providing for minimum wages, a six-day work week, security of tenure, paid vacations and better housing.

Urban labor has been encouraged to organize in units similar to vertical unions but subject to close government control and in most cases lacking a legal right to strike. The difficulty of putting rural workers into cohesive unions led the government to lump them together under a general statute.

DRY CLEANER OFFERS EXCLUSIVE SANITONE PROCESS IN PAMPA

Noted for Quality, Secret Method Has 2-Way Action

As the licensed Sanitone Cleaner in this area, Mr. Morris Enloe of the DeLuxe Dry Cleaners, 315 W. Kingsmill, brings to local residents the advantages of the exclusive, patented Sanitone cleaning process. A special ingredient in the Sanitone cleaning fluid is one of the factors responsible for the amazing success of this famous method. It results in a 2-way action which removes not only greasy soils, but the sugary, sticky soils of foods, and perspiration and all trace of perspiration odor. At the same time it retains the natural texture of the cloth, and restores softness and resiliency so that the press stays in longer and the fabric looks like new.

DEALERS ESPECIALLY SELECTED

Sanitone Cleaners are the only ones qualified to offer the Sanitone process in their area. Their work is always characterized by careful attention to fine finishing details in restoring clothes to their original beauty; and high quality service is considered a part of the Sanitone franchise. A Sanitone Cleaner is marked and recognized by a special "Licensed Sanitone Cleaner" sign, and this sign is displayed at his shop and in his advertising.

Thus Sanitone Cleaners are more than dry-cleaning establishments—they are experts at restoring clothes and fabrics to their natural beauty. They carefully inspect each garment for loose buttons, open seams, and other small defects and, acting on the theory of "a stitch in time," return the garment repaired and ready to wear. Fine pressing, with attention to hand details, is also stressed in a Sanitone shop. Sanitone dealers guarantee that their service gives a costume three extras: extra smooth fit, extra bright colors, and extra long wear. They invite customers to "see the difference"—in brighter colors, removed stains, and long-lasting press; and to "feel the difference," in the natural softness and texture of the fabric.

"When a dry cleaner can make such claims as we make for our Sanitone process," says Mr. Enloe, "you just know that it must be good!" Local residents are invited to see for themselves what a difference this amazing dry cleaning method can make in their clothes. Simply bring your next dry cleaning to DeLuxe Dry Cleaners or call 616 to have them picked up. And remember, no other cleaner can make such claims—or achieve Sanitone's results. Adv.

Babe Zaharias Seeks Laurels

LAKE FOREST, Ill., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Babe Zaharias, who has grabbed athletic laurels of all kinds since she was a Texas tot 15 years ago, tries for a long-denied honor in the 45th women's western amateur golf tournament here Monday through Saturday.

The Babe, who wallops a golf ball with professional finesse, will be gunning for her first amateur title in a decade of fairways roaming, and she is an odds-on favorite to win against a 130-player field at Swank Knollwood club.

The title, former Olympic track star undoubtedly could have won any simon-pure show long before this, but she was reinstated as an amateur by the U. S. golf association only last year after being ranked a professional from 1935.

Although eligible to compete, Babe skipped the 1944 western amateur and the event was won for the second straight year by winsome Dorothy Germain of Philadelphia, who next week renews a growing feud with Mrs. Zaharias.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—(AP)—That $50,000 professional baseball fund to "give the game back to the kids" seems to cover a very wide territory—let's hope it doesn't get into the hands of someone who will translate it into "something for the boys".

Normally, Notre Dame's football department is puzzled over how to use big Joe Gasparella. He's too good for the No. 2 quarterback spot behind Frank Dancewicz and when they tried him at fullback during the summer, they found Marty Wendell and Frank Ruggiero taking excellent care of that job—Quiz kids Joel Kupperman and Harve Fischman will act as bat boys for the two teams in the Esquire all American ball game Aug. 28. It won't be part of their job to furnish all the answers for managers Babe Ruth and Ty Cobb.

ENOUGH HOPE

The 75,000 fishing kits supplied by the Bowlers' victory league for service men overseas, included 213 miles of line—when crated they weighed 49 tons and filled three box cars—and the BVL isn't trying to string anyone about them.

SPORTSPOURRI

Add the Chicago White Sox to the ball clubs that are planning to build new parks after the war. In Brooklyn there's a suggestion that the Dodgers move out and that Ebbets field be rebuilt into an indoor arena—latest convert to the "T" formation (well, one of the latest) is Tulane's Monk Simons, who plans to resume a full intercollegiate sports program until the beginning of the next budget period, July 1, 1946. Given a good football season, the budget ought to be in fine shape by then.

Tulsa Coaches Check To See How It 'Ticks'

By SCOTT RAFFERTY
News Sports Writer

TULSA, Aug. 18.—(Special)—The much-used expression "it's these busy war times, take time out for—something or other," holds true at the University of Tulsa coaching school.

Coming at a time when most coaches are getting ready for the 1945 football season, the school, nevertheless, is holding its own with the various other activities.

Many of those attending the school and acting as instructors have traveled hundreds of miles just to be here to share their knowledge and gain much more in return.

They have traveled here from as far as Flint, Michigan, on the north, New Orleans, Louisiana, on the south, Clovis, New Mexico, on the southwest and Seattle, Washington, on the north west.

Bob Clark, able tutor of the Shamrock Irish grid fortunes, took time off from his excellent summer recreation program to attend both the Texas high school coaching clinic and the Tulsa event. Bob has one of the best such programs in Texas. Boys and girls of the city participate in swimming, boxing, baseball, softball, volleyball and all other kinds of sports—all under Clark's direction.

We are glad to see such a large representation of the Negro college and high school coaches of the southwest in attendance at the school. Such men as Felton Gayles and A. S. Pyle of Langston university, and Seymour Williams of Booker T. Washington high school of Tulsa are doing much to further the cause of the sport among Negroes.

Pampa football fans have quite a number of reasons for remembering Coach Jewell Wallace, who heads the San Angelo Bobcats, champions of the state in 1943.

Wallace coached the 1940 and 1941 El Paso high teams that dealt the Harvesters quite a lot of misery. In 1940, Jewell's team went to Pampa boasting one of the finest passers in the state—Bill Squires.

However, the hapless Harvesters, who managed to win only three out of 10 games that year, were ahead of El Paso 13-0 going into the closing minutes of the fourth quarter. Jewell then sent word in to Squires to start passing.

And in less time than it takes to say "scat", Squires had heaved four passes for four completions and had tossed the Tigers to a 13-13 tie with Pampa.

In 1941, Pampa journeyed to El Paso to fall victim to 22 completions in 27 pass attempts by Squires. El Paso won the game only 7-0 but Squires was again the margin of victory.

The "T" formation is being literally taken apart at the Tulsa school. The coaches are discussing it, arguing about it, demonstrating it and about everything else but the one that caps them all is C. G. Tucker who comes up and says his team is using the "I. Q. T." formation.

We asked him to elaborate on this, and he merely said it was combining brains with football.

However, we think that he was keeping it quiet because his Bartlesville high school team plays Oklahoma Classen high this year; and Leo Higbie, Classen coach, was standing there listening in.

Higbie, by the way, coached the Classen team last year that took the first official football state championship in Oklahoma. In the past, the state was not divided in districts.

Higbie doesn't look a day over 25, but Ed Morris, publicity director of the Tulsa school, said that Leo played on the powerful teams of Oklahoma City University back in the '20's.

Incidentally, next to Henry Frnka, Ed is probably the hardest working participant in the school. It is his job, along with his assistant, Herbert Byrd, to attend every lecture and take comprehensive notes to be published in the school magazine and to help B. A. Bridgewater, sports editor of the Tulsa World, write his stories.

Another writer who has his ear to every key hole is Hal Middleworth, sports editor of the Daily Oklahoman in Oklahoma City. Hal seems to be every place at once, interviewing this person and that and, in general, taking it all in.

Dr. C. L. Pontius, president of the university, has made a hit with everyone attending the school. Dr. Pontius has always seen to it that Coach Henry Frnka gets the best of everything in the way of athletic equipment and support. A lot of credit for Tulsa's great success under Frnka's guidance must go to Dr. Pontius.

Floating Repair Shops Outfoxed Japs

Uncle Sam's boys dreamed up so many tricks to outfox the enemy that the Nips probably would have died of frustration if they hadn't surrendered. Typical was the aircraft tender, really a huge floating repair shop which enabled the Navy's huge PBM flying boats to support our island-passing technique without shore bases. Map at top, prepared by Aviation Maintenance, illustrates how it was done. Island in center has been seized, but Japs are still fighting back in the hills. There is no airstrip, so land planes, cannot operate. But, thanks to the seaplane tender, the big PBMs, capable of flying great distances for many hours without refueling, go into action. If a Jap convoy tries to sneak past, they spot it, bomb it. They detect Nip counter-attack task forces. They spot Jap subs, strafe nearby Jap-held isles. If damaged they taxi up to the repair ship, are lifted aboard. At night they settle down nearby, protected by the ship's guns. Photo at left shows a PBM Mariner being lifted aboard a tender for overhaul and repair. At right, a PBM is refueled from the fantail of a tender, somewhere in the Pacific.

Controls

government wiped out all controls over manpower. DRAFT—No one 26 years old or older will be drafted now. But the draft still goes on. The army still wants 50,000 men monthly.

LABOR—The government threw off wage controls to this extent, bosses can raise as much as they like now if it means no price increase. But unions everywhere are getting ready to demand higher pay. Mr. Truman has asked labor and management to renew their wartime pledge of no strikes and no lock-outs until—at least—after the conference of labor and management which he has called for as soon as congress meets in September.

The President wants the war labor board to go out of business as soon as possible after the conference.

FOOD—Agricultural Secretary Anderson said meat rationing may soon end, perhaps in September. OPA ended rationing of canned fruits, vegetables and fuel oil but said fats, oils, butter, and sugar still would be rationed awhile.

Meanwhile the government called upon farmers for "all out" production because of the food needs here and abroad.

GASOLINE—Rationing of gasoline ended, and the government said better grade gasoline will soon be available.

SUGAR—Still to be rationed for some time.

STOVES—Not rationed anymore.

TIRES—More of them but still to be rationed.

SHOES—Still to be rationed. May end by Christmas.

CONTRACTS—Army and navy were cancelling out about 30 billion dollars in war contracts. Chopping was throwing millions out of work. Some would go elsewhere, some would wait around for their plants to convert to peacetime output.

MATERIALS—The war production board arranged to wipe out—probably by Monday—all but 40 of its 400 controls over materials. WFB freed a tremendous amount of steel, copper and aluminum.

COAL—Army officials said they would release 120 millions tons of coal in the next 12 months and that this should eliminate the civilian shortage which they estimated was only 25 million tons.

But officials of the government's solid fuels administration said the army figures were wrong, that the shortage might continue to some extent through the winter.

TRAVEL—All curbs on taxicabs went overboard. So did bans on state and local fairs, and on conventions if they don't exceed 150 persons. The other restrictions on civilian railroad travel still stand.

But the government lifted restrictions on all kinds of sports travel.

SURPLUS PROPERTY—Surplus property officials said hundreds of government-owned plants would be taken over by private industry during the next few months.

The army has declared surplus 121 million dollars worth of supplies—from jeeps to pillowcases—and more will become surplus in the next few months.

TAXES—Experts in Washington think taxes will be reduced—but only moderately—by Jan. 1 for all Americans.

CONGRATULATIONS—It's all right to send them by telegram again or to call for messenger boy to deliver a package.

PRICE CONTROLS—Ceilings were lifted off scores of consumer items like jewelry and sports equipment—and were suspended on fur.

PRODUCTION—Little items like electric toasters are expected to hit the stores in good volume by Christmas but the larger things—like washing machines—won't be plentiful that soon.

SONGPOWER SHORTAGE—NEW YORK (AP)—The singing telegram is back. That is—it's back legally. But Western Union says it won't be ready for reconversion to this blessing of peace until the shortage of messengers—especially those able to render "Happy Birthday to You"—is eased.

ing the cohesive spirit of unity which has characterized the United Nations battle for freedom" and conceived the plan for transforming that spirit into a "dynamic force for world peace."

He traced the development of the idea through the adoption of the charter at San Francisco and its subsequent adoption by the senate. "I do not proclaim the charter as 'embodying perfection,'" Connally said. "It will grow and develop in the light of experience. The charter must be judged, not in its dissected parts X X X but it must be judged in its entirety, X X X"

"We must remember, however, that world peace will cost something. It is worth something. It will cost co-operation. It will cost the will to peace. It will cost our constant efforts and support of peace-loving people, X X X"

"We must maintain adequate national defense. We must keep our powder dry. We now have the mightiest navy that ever sailed the seas. X X X I shall not vote to sink it. Science has given us the atomic bomb—an instrument whose power astounds our intellect and leaps beyond reach of our imagination. Our national defense and interest in peace require that we preserve its secret and not divulge it where it might become the evil instrument of aggression."

Abstract Art Show

NEW YORK—Masquerading as long, dramatic gloves, the sleeve adds another chapter to its varied fall story.

Aiding and abetting in this disguise is the black dress, which is sleeved in color or carries a bright chevron below jutting or bolstered shoulders to put the illusion of gloves across. This masquerade is racy when sleeves of pale pink, sand beige, red or turquoise, carry their vivid color all the way to the fingertips of short matching gloves.

Such dresses give a completely covered arm and hand, and sometimes for sheer contradiction, a neckline that's completely uncovered.

They carve clear V's into yokes or plastrons of color, which create, according to Fox Brownie who sponsors this theme, a block of "light" that balances a block of "shade" in the best traditions of abstract art.

The black crepe dress, left, which has a hand-smocked yoke of pale pink and long, dramatic "glove sleeves" of the same color, is a style leader of this collection.

On the black crepe dress, right, the illusion of arm-climbing gloves is created by chevron shoulder stripes of turquoise blue jersey, a color repeated in the plastron front which is belted to make a peplum.

Red Cross Activities Will Continue With Assistance for War Veterans

Calling upon all Red Cross volunteers to continue on the job, Aubrey Steele, chairman of the Pampa Red Cross chapter said today that the end of hostilities with Japan means no let-up in local Red Cross activities.

"The nature of some of our activities may change," he said, "but there will be important work to do."

Yesterday our chapter assisted next of kin in preparing messages to American prisoners of war in Japan so that they will have recent news from home available upon their liberation. Five messages were sent to prisoners of war whose next of kin reside in Gray county.

Coincidentally with Mr. Steele's plea for volunteers to continue on the job, National Red Cross Chairman Basil O'Connor issued the following statement from Washington:

"Although actual hostilities have ceased, thanks to providential grace, the American Red Cross faces world-wide tasks. We must continue to serve our armed forces overseas for as long as the need exists. Red Cross services to hospitalized servicemen and veterans must be stepped up to keep pace with demands. Our chapters must be prepared for all emergencies, such as disaster, and must build up and strengthen their peacetime programs."

This brief outline of national Red Cross policy Mr. Steele asserted, means no relaxing of the local chapter's efforts. In fact, many of the organization's services will gradually expand, he pointed out.

"The years which lie ahead, veterans' claims upon the government will increase," Mr. Steele said. "The Red Cross is one of the several agencies authorized by the government to handle such claims for hospitalization, pensions, and other legal benefits. Assistance to families of veterans, as well as those of servicemen, will also claim a large share of Red Cross effort."

"At present the Red Cross is calling for 3,000 medical social and hospital recreation workers to carry on its program among the wounded and hospitalized. And until our boys are brought home from abroad, the American Red Cross will be active in many foreign lands."

SUGAR BLUES

STHLEWELL, Okla., Aug. 15—(AP)—Mrs. Harve Danner had a new ration problem to cope with yesterday—a husband who didn't read the label.

Farmer Danner went to the pantry to get salt for his livestock, grabbed a likely container and distributed its contents to his mules. The animals kicked up the offering and waited for more.

Danner made a return trip to the pantry, where an irate Mrs. Danner informed him that he had mistakenly given away her reserve supply of sugar.

'Small Fry' Copy Mother's Blouses for School

NEW YORK—The pig-tailed gang is getting its share of the cotton crop in chin-checking blouses styled like their moms' to shove into dark, dirt-dodging skirts for school.

Because one skirt can take on an entire wardrobe of tiny blouses, cottons are tub-worthy as a baby's rompers are the answer to mothers' yells for laundry-saving clothes. This idea backs up the success of Sally Mason, who designs exclusively for little girls from cherub size to the ripe old age of fifteen.

Her styles begin with the long-sleeved cotton classic of broadcloth for sportswear and wind up with the frill-spilling job as crisp and beruffled as an 18th Century dandy's.

Typical style for the tiny glam gal is the broadcloth bob shirt, for 9-to-15-year-olds, shown on the older girl at the right. The neckband is edged with eyelet embroidery lanced with bright velvet ribbon, which is repeated down the center of the chin-checking ruff and on the edge of the sleeves.

Popular style with 7-to-14-year-olds is the sophisticated bow-tied cotton blouse (center) which looks as sophisticated as big sister's when shoved into a skirt and as cool and crisp as an icicle when it puts up a front for a young fry's suit.

Not to be left out of the blouse parade are little tykes, aged 3 to 6. Among styles designed especially for them are low-cut, draw-string peasant blouses, one of which is shown left. This is of sheer cotton, lace-trimmed and brightly banded with "native" embroidery, drawn and tied with narrow ribbon.

Spice of Fall Style

NEW YORK—Put a twinkling belt around your waist, add as its glamorous twin a pair of gloves, and watch these two go to work as scene-shifters. They'll renew your own as well as audience interest in an old background dress.

Answering to the name of belts are gala girdles of decorative satin, velveteens, taffeta and plush rayon Jersey. As lit up as the Aurora Borealis by vari-colored sequins, some have bustle bows or aims purses attached, others are waistline-nipping corsets. Gloves are undisguised shorties which reflect the glory of the girdle.

Two teammates launched by a talented French-American designer, Madame Lucienne Harang, whose flare with fabric and needlework has been compared to the fine brush strokes of a miniature artist, are shown here.

Black satin makes the corsetette, right, accented in front with vari-colored sequins and laced in the back through hand-run eyelets, touched up by sparklers. A sequin-buckle stimulates a bracelet on the matching black satin gloves.

Black satin also makes the sequin-sprinkled belt-swung aims purse, left, which is as useful as it is decorative for carrying all your well-known what-nots. Here again gloves match belt in fabric and trim.

Pampa Women Set Record for Red Cross Knitting

Two Red Cross workers have accomplished an unusual amount of knitting and sewing during the month of July, in spite of the warm weather, according to a report from Mrs. J. B. White, executive secretary.

Mrs. DeLee Vickers has knitted 12 sweaters, 22 pairs of socks, and this was included in 339 hours of activity.

Mrs. A. B. McAfee made 96 pairs of socks and knitted one muffler. She donated 198 hours to Red Cross work. Mrs. McAfee is almost 80 years of age, and she spends a great part of her time knitting and sewing.

The production department has several hundred infant's gertudes to be made. They will be sent to foreign countries for war relief.

There are still plenty of sweaters and mufflers to be knitted, and may be secured at the production room in the basement of the post office, which is open from 1:30 to 4:30 each Monday and Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Lee Harrah, chairman of the emergency clothes is calling for workers to make layettes. The demand has been more than the supply, and the garments are badly needed. Garments may be checked out at Mrs. Harrah's home, 605 N. Frost.

Ancient Anatomy Being Studied

AUSTIN, Aug. 18.—In laboratories at the University of Texas' bureau of economic geology geologists and an artist are at work studying the anatomy of a reptile which lived in Texas more than two million years ago.

The Edaphosaurus Pogonias Cope, says Dr. H. J. Sawin, geologist who has been making a special study of vertebrate fossils, is a sail-backed, plant-eating reptile.

Study of the unusual reptile was begun when the bureau uncovered petrified bones of the Edaphosaurus, found on the shores of Lake Kemp in Baylor county.

Dr. Sawin made a study of the anatomy of the reptile, an artist is sketching it, and when the final study is completed, the bones will be placed on exhibit in the Texas Memorial museum on the university campus.

Distinguishing features of the ancient animal, say the geologists, were his huge back, with elongated spines interlocking to resemble the sail of a primitive ship, and his tiny head with small teeth—indicating that he thrived on plants.

"There is no logical explanation for the Edaphosaurus' huge sail-backed body, except that perhaps he used it to absorb heat," Dr. Sawin said.

Frisco Hit by Riotous Mob in Victory Display

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Only after the state riot act was invoked and 1,000 policemen and 2,000 members of the military police and shore patrol had gone into action, was a violent, slashing mob of thousands driven from Market street early today.

Behind them were more than 100 smashed store windows and looted shops. Women were assaulted and straggled. Celebrations started Monday as the end of the war neared.

The crowd, composed mostly of sailors, young civilian hoodlums and bobby-sox girls, was destructive.

After all other efforts at quelling the mob had failed, Police Chief Charles Dullin lined Market street, curb to curb, with patrol wagons—city, army and navy—and drove a wedge into the jammed crowd.

At each side street a section of the mobile police pressed the crowd from Market, and held the revelers there. Finally the crowds in the side streets disbanded and went home.

Indianapolis Texas Crewmen in Hospital

DALLAS, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Wick Fowler, Dallas News war correspondent, reports he found in a naval hospital at Guam ten Texans who survived the sinking of the cruiser Indianapolis.

Mike Obledo, seaman first class, San Angelo.
James D. Price, seaman first class, route 1, Ravenna.
Chester O. Reeves, seaman first class, route 1, Paris.
Richard Ramirez, seaman first class, 329 Montana, El Paso.
John T. Ashford, airplane radio technician, Lubbock.
Clausius Evans, gunners mate third class, route 1, Henrietta.
Robert L. Griffith, seaman first class, Pottsville.
William A. Johnson, seaman first class, Midway.

PEACE IS WONDERFUL!
DAVIS - MONTAN AIRFIELD, Ariz., Aug. 18.—(AP)—The fruits of peace were really sweet for a young G. I. at this army air base. Shortly after President Truman announced the Japanese surrender, the soldier struck his head into the camp library and whistled at pretty WAC Private Connie Hall.

Then he said: "Excuse me, but I wanted to see how it would feel to whistle at a girl in peace-time. Before the war I was too young to do it."

WE MUST PROVE IT FOR TACITUS

There are many children in this neighborhood who look on their first Sunday when peace is settled over the world.

Today the President has set aside as a day of prayer and thanksgiving. It is not V-J day, as that is the day when the papers have been signed, and the diplomats and the commanding generals have gone on their separate ways.

But that will come within a few days. That is the formality, which everyone appreciates for what it means—but not for which he has thanked High Heaven. He is thankful that men have quit killing men, laying waste to vast cities with one single bomb.

Man is thankful that little children can see their fathers again.

Wives will see their sons. Mothers, their husbands.

We can all be thankful for many things on this day—and all the days of peace which we hope will run on and on.

The coming months can truly be called the great homecoming. There was never such occasion in all history. There was never a time when so many men traveled toward home at one time—home after completing a job which the whole world has known in its innermost self had to be completed.

The world has suffered incalculable misery. Whole cities have died; whole families have been destroyed.

Gray county, Texas, has paid a price to help consummate this victory. Many a mother can see the blood of her own son as those regal stars and stripes unfurl in the air of a free and virile nation.

New brides have come here to live, some inconveniently, that they might be with their husbands. Whole families have come here. There have been times within the past months when tempers grew short between tenant and landlord. But it will take time to give true assessment to the association of people from many parts of the world.

Now we are set upon a new task.

The peace came sooner than many had expected. The government, it has been reported, was not ready for it. Perhaps. But the question arises in our mind whether our government, or any other, could be ready for peace. Peace to the citizen means one thing, and to the government it means several things. Economy is a complexity. To convert a country from a war-to-peace-time economy is not to be achieved in a few days. Maybe it will take months.

We expect certain controls, such as prices, wages, etc., to be with us for some time. It is reasonable to perceive the danger in an economy where there is a tremendous backlog in money and securities, and where the supply of scarce commodities is low. Individual savings, we are told, are high; our manufacturers have been making the tools of war—and, therefore, the civilian goods they normally make are yet to be made. That will take time.

But there is more to it than that.

America has vowed to take an active hand in settling the century-old political problems of Europe and Asia. We didn't help pin 1919. They are great problems. Political theories thrust upon a man with an empty stomach create a situation somewhat like that if one poured cold water in sulphuric acid—there is an eruption.

That is the political condition of both Europe and Asia. Ideologies are clashing for growth. It is imperative that a way is found for those ideologies to live together—ideologies backed by the might of the great countries of the world—the United States, Russia, Great Britain, France, China. We don't see eye-to-eye.

We have won in arms; now we must show the same ability at the peace table and in the rostrum.

We must prove that Tacitus was right when he said: "He that makes a good war makes a good peace."

Observations on the Function of Greed in the Capitalistic System

By ROSE WILDER LANE
Author of "Let the Hurricane Roar," "Give a Little More," and "The Discovery of Freedom."

Speaking of this ruthless, brutal system of heartless greed, called capitalism, or free enterprise, I was saying that I don't call it "greedy" to want to EARN the greatest possible economic abundance and security for one's family and one's self, and that I've yet to hear of a person doing economically useful work who doesn't have that motive.

Every morning each one of us returns for an instant to the actual situation of a human being on this planet. You stand stark naked, as you were born. Then you put on clothes, a very neat garment created and delivered to you by persons working with the "greedy" motive of getting paid for their work. You comb your hair; you use soap; you wash your teeth; you wash with water and soap; you look in a mirror; each of these articles (still fabulous luxuries to most persons on earth) is related with the "greedy" that induced men to make them. You eat breakfast coffee from Brazil, cereal from Kansas processed in Michigan, sugar (maybe) from Cuba, served to you by this ruthless system operated by the greedy profit-motive. You smoke (maybe) a cigarette—tobacco from Greece and Missouri, rolled in paper made from Louisiana rice fields, counted and packed by machines, created from raw silk and run by electric power; into paper made from Canada's forests and cellophane made from Iowa's corn-stalks; cigarette and match delivered to you by greedy persons whose low motive is to get cash for themselves. You ride to work; you walk on floors, you look from windows, you use pencil and paper, a handkerchief, a penknife, you talk to persons miles away; you walk on pavements, you take your girl to a movie and buy her a soda and ride home on a bus. I bet you are so low-down greedy that you work all-day with no nobler motive than to pay your bills and have money for the movie, the soda, and the bus fare, and to save some money for a new suit (for your own use) and maybe for an engagement ring and a better and bigger place for a family to live in. That same low-down motive in other persons supplies you with all these things, so long as your own greedy work to get them goes on supplying those other persons with things that they greedily want.

THIS SAME greed makes newspapers and radios. Without it, nobody would toil to invent and make the paper, the ink, the linotypes and presses, the radios and dynamos and power lines and wiring and switches.

Read your paper or turn on a radio, and do you hear praise and thanksgiving for the work that men are doing in this marvelous new economy, to clothe each other's hunger, to pamper each other with comforts and luxuries never before imagined? You do not.

You hear that this system of ruthless greed creates poverty in the midst of plenty, and that destroying it will "make plenty for all." You hear that you have "a right to employment," and that any man who employs you is depriving you of your income. You hear that sixty families "own America," all the land, houses, cars, factories, shops, cash, in these forty-eight states; also that 5 per cent of the population own roughly 6,000,000 persons, or 100,000 to each of the sixty families; own 95 per cent of all this wealth; and that when nobody is permitted to own anything, so that nobody can be greedy, then everyone will work for everyone else and there will be no more poverty or crime on earth. Then everyone will be a millionaire in economic equality and human brotherhood. (This couldn't be an APPEAL to greed, could it? No; it is an appeal to love all humanity.)

CHEMICAL FIGHTS PACIFIC PERILS
WASHINGTON, D. C.—(AP)—A chemical formula known as Wolman salts has been used to impregnate more than 1,000,000 feet of wooden tent poles for navy Southern Pacific bases, so that they may withstand the ravages of tropical termites, molds and fungus organisms.

All materials used in these bases are tropicalized, and even lumber in hospital tent floors has been so treated.

NEW INSECTICIDE SAVES LIVES
At Guadalcanal, he tells, eight out of every nine soldiers admitted to the hospital needed treatment for some disease rather than for wounds. This rate has been going down steadily. He gives much credit for this decrease to the use of the insect spray, DDT.

Two days after the landing at Okinawa he asked the navy for the loan of two planes. They were loaded with DDT and for two days flew up and down the island spraying it with insecticide. As a result, he says, Okinawa had less loss of men from disease than almost any other Pacific campaign.

The army medical corps in its advance planning for the invasion made one small mistake. Their studies showed that there were many poisonous snakes on the island. The invasion revealed there were only a few snakes, and they weren't poisonous.

Among the doctors at the conference was Brig.-Gen. Earl Maxwell, with the current title of Chief Surgeon of Okinawa Island. He has been chief army medical officer in practically every Pacific campaign since Guadalcanal. Young, tall and broadshouldered, he looks more like a football player than a doctor.

E Says 'E's Come For Th' Milk An' Honey

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD—Dik Powell's screen and radio switch from musical roles to drama has caught Broadway's interest and he's considering an offer to appear in a Broadway mystery thriller. . . . It was inevitable. First, Hollywood press agents are now referring to their pet glamour girls as "positively atomic." . . . No truth to those rumors that the Bill Cagney (Boots Malloy) will reconcile. She's going ahead with divorce plans. . . . Results of the English election are having repercussions in Hollywood. Alexander Korla was close to Churchill and the Hollywood brass are now having new pipe lines. . . . Sudden thought: What ever happened to Hollywood's proposed memorial to Carole Lombard, the first to die in service of her country?

2. While we were in war with Japan and the victory was still in the balance—particularly while our position was still desperate—to destroy Japan's national pride would have had great military value. It would have thrown the Japanese into chaos by removing the only center around which they cohere. That is why I maintained, along with having studied by this people, that Jimmy Dolittle's squadron should have hit the imperial precincts first.

3. But after the decision in the war was clearly indicated and it was assured that Japan would be a defeated nation, it would be unwise to destroy her nationhood and throw her people from any semblance of organized discipline into complete chaos would have no military value of any appreciable amount, and, on the other hand, would subject our victorious power to much higher cost in controlling the defeated people and starting them on any pathway of future usefulness in the world.

4. It is evident that with the many millions of propaganda money that the Japanese have poured into to enlighten us as to best manners of statesmanship, the OWI and other organs have clearly neglected to make the above principles plain to the American people and drive them out of business so that confusion as to the motives behind the surrender negotiations with Japanese authorities.

Now come to further realities: 1. The delay in reaching final agreement with the Japanese cabinet and Emperor has been entirely favorable to Russian military penetration and occupation of Chinese territory of Manchuria and of the country of Korea, which is slated to recover its independence. The question may well be asked: Was the delay intentionally prolonged for Russia's benefit, and if so, for Russia alone or for others as well? Further, is China to suffer to the extent that Russia benefits by driving out the Japanese forces in Manchuria? It would be logical and just that Chinese armies rather than Russian should do most of the occupying in Manchuria, for the Chinese army in Manchuria was the first to suffer violent attack in the whole series of aggression which began in 1931 and culminated in the devastating world war just concluding—If, as God grant, they really are as good as dead, as a witness to the beginning act of violence. I should indeed like to be a witness to a concluding act that embodies both justice and statesmanship.

It was stated officially in Washington that a billion dollars of lend-lease appropriation for Russia was released by Russia's act of declaring war on Japan, thus constituting herself once more our ally, after the hiatus during which she was not our ally, following the end of military operations in Europe. The Japanese government offered surrender one day after Russia declared war. In other words, Russia, the national tradition, and the proving of the atomic bomb, make sure that Japanese power to resist was completely crushed—this Russia, coming in not to the perils and losses and risks of war, but only in a seizure of the lion's share of the loot to be gotten from a defeated Japan—that lot consisting of the most modern industrial area and richest agricultural and mineral area of all Pacific Asia. This Russia gets in addition to that from the pocket of the harassed American taxpayer and the lot of war bonds which he now wonders how to carry—a free gift of one billion dollars. Was ever such a thing seen before in the whole rather balmy history of men and governments?

3. In addition to the Twentieth Century king's ransom of a gift—or more descriptively he should say such a thing as the gift of the atomic bomb? And, if not, how is he to be appeased—for the billion dollars plus all the modern industrial plant, agricultural wealth and ice-free harbors of Manchuria will not ap-

UPTON CLOSE: Here Is Reality Of End of War With the Japs

Cast aside all rampaging revenge and snorting indignation as unconstructive, no matter how popular and humanly understandable, it may be, we have facing us the following realities:

1. Destruction of the imperial institutions in Japan means destruction of the Japanese nationhood—for the Japanese national organization clustered around the institution of the so-called "divine house-hold" and there is no traditional, sentimental or practical means of maintaining a Japanese national unity without the throne.

2. While we were in war with Japan and the victory was still in the balance—particularly while our position was still desperate—to destroy Japan's national pride would have had great military value. It would have thrown the Japanese into chaos by removing the only center around which they cohere. That is why I maintained, along with having studied by this people, that Jimmy Dolittle's squadron should have hit the imperial precincts first.

3. But after the decision in the war was clearly indicated and it was assured that Japan would be a defeated nation, it would be unwise to destroy her nationhood and throw her people from any semblance of organized discipline into complete chaos would have no military value of any appreciable amount, and, on the other hand, would subject our victorious power to much higher cost in controlling the defeated people and starting them on any pathway of future usefulness in the world.

4. It is evident that with the many millions of propaganda money that the Japanese have poured into to enlighten us as to best manners of statesmanship, the OWI and other organs have clearly neglected to make the above principles plain to the American people and drive them out of business so that confusion as to the motives behind the surrender negotiations with Japanese authorities.

Now come to further realities: 1. The delay in reaching final agreement with the Japanese cabinet and Emperor has been entirely favorable to Russian military penetration and occupation of Chinese territory of Manchuria and of the country of Korea, which is slated to recover its independence. The question may well be asked: Was the delay intentionally prolonged for Russia's benefit, and if so, for Russia alone or for others as well? Further, is China to suffer to the extent that Russia benefits by driving out the Japanese forces in Manchuria? It would be logical and just that Chinese armies rather than Russian should do most of the occupying in Manchuria, for the Chinese army in Manchuria was the first to suffer violent attack in the whole series of aggression which began in 1931 and culminated in the devastating world war just concluding—If, as God grant, they really are as good as dead, as a witness to the beginning act of violence. I should indeed like to be a witness to a concluding act that embodies both justice and statesmanship.

It was stated officially in Washington that a billion dollars of lend-lease appropriation for Russia was released by Russia's act of declaring war on Japan, thus constituting herself once more our ally, after the hiatus during which she was not our ally, following the end of military operations in Europe. The Japanese government offered surrender one day after Russia declared war. In other words, Russia, the national tradition, and the proving of the atomic bomb, make sure that Japanese power to resist was completely crushed—this Russia, coming in not to the perils and losses and risks of war, but only in a seizure of the lion's share of the loot to be gotten from a defeated Japan—that lot consisting of the most modern industrial area and richest agricultural and mineral area of all Pacific Asia. This Russia gets in addition to that from the pocket of the harassed American taxpayer and the lot of war bonds which he now wonders how to carry—a free gift of one billion dollars. Was ever such a thing seen before in the whole rather balmy history of men and governments?

3. In addition to the Twentieth Century king's ransom of a gift—or more descriptively he should say such a thing as the gift of the atomic bomb? And, if not, how is he to be appeased—for the billion dollars plus all the modern industrial plant, agricultural wealth and ice-free harbors of Manchuria will not ap-

Club Outlines Nine Objectives As Its Activity

Seeking to speed reconversion and aid returning veterans, Kiwanis International has announced nine far-reaching post-war objectives as the Kiwanis club of Pampa considered ways and means of rendering greater community service in peacetime.

In a special message to 2,200 clubs throughout the United States and Canada, Hamilton Holt, Mason, Ga., president of Kiwanis International, declared that 140,000 Kiwanians "will not shrink from the problems of reconversion that lie ahead."

Holt told President Truman and Prime Minister King of Canada in telegrams read to the local club that Kiwanis International would lend its wholehearted cooperation in meeting and solving the problems of post-war reconstruction.

"Since Dunkirk and Pearl Harbor," he said "Kiwanis manpower has been marshaled behind the Allied war effort. These resources now will be directed toward the building of peace, unity and opportunity."

Ed Weiss, president of the local club, said that Kiwanis International's post-war objectives had the unanimous endorsement of Kiwanians here. He revealed that the service organization's theme would be "Build for Peace—Unity—Opportunity."

The nine objectives follow:

1. Develop an understanding of the United Nations charter.
2. Aid returning veterans.
3. Encourage sound programs of reconversion.
4. Strengthen democracy by personal acceptance of citizenship responsibilities.
5. Expand youth services to build character and citizenship.
6. Mobilize public opinion in support of the individual enterprise and opportunity.
7. Conserve natural resources.
8. Further good will between Canada and the United States as an outstanding example of international cooperation.
9. Develop national unity through increased emphasis on human and spiritual values.

In connection with Friday's program at the First Methodist church, when the objectives were presented, the Kiwanians and visitors were treated to an important moving picture, entitled "Permanent Agriculture," in which the damage to soil was depicted. The picture was furnished by the soil conservation district, through the cooperation of the U. S. department of agriculture. Quentin Williams, district manager of the soil conservation program, arranged for the film. Projector was furnished by Cabot companies. The Kiwanis agriculture committee, headed by Howard Buckingham and aided by Arthur Rankin, sponsored the program.

Veterans Given Preference for Civil Service

DALLAS—Until further notice the United States civil service commission will not receive any applications for employment in the federal service except from those veterans who have the right to have examinations reopened for them.

The commission has taken this step, according to a statement issued this past week in order to make sure that any vacancies which develop in the federal service will be filled either by returning veterans or by persons who are about to be or have been separated from other positions in the federal service.

"The federal government as an employer," stated the commission, "must set the example in providing the members of the armed forces who are coming through our separation centers today with the maximum possible opportunities for employment."

"Also, the federal government is determined not to put itself in a position where it is discharging persons in one part of the federal service and, at the same time, hiring persons from the outside to fill similar positions in another part of the federal service."

Where the supply of returning veterans and the supply of persons involved in reductions in force in the federal service are not sufficient to fill vacancies the commission's regional directors have been authorized to lift the ban on receipt of applications. In certain occupational areas such action will be taken very promptly after the commission's field officials have had the opportunity of appraising the situation which confronts them as a result of the cessation of hostilities.

"It would be a complete waste of time, energy and money for the commission to continue to receive applications for limited appointments from persons who are outside of the federal service and who are nonveterans. If the needs of the service can be met by returning veterans and those who are now on federal payroll," the commission pointed out.

"All of our resources must be available for the orderly handling of reductions in force, the prompt transfer of persons who are laid off to other agencies which may be looking for persons with their qualifications, and the administration of the veterans preference act of 1944."

'DRILLING AHEAD'

By LARRY JONES
Oil Editor

No matter what the Allied chiefs say or do about Hirohito and his gang, the war won't be over for the petroleum industry for some time, and the final V-day may not be marked off for a couple of years.

Information on oil development in England continues to dribble in—probably it's still a military secret. Known, however, is that drilling rigs were acquired from Fain Drilling and Noble Drilling, both of Oklahoma; that crews from these companies did most of the drilling starting some two years ago.

Up to the end of 1944, four small fields had been developed; 387 wells had been drilled, with 258 of them producing, doing a total of 2,700 barrels of oil daily. One drilled to 7460 feet; most of them are shallow. Development under direction of the D'Army Exploration Co., a subsidiary of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co.

C. R. Gallagher, Luccock, Texas, former president of the Permian Oil Co., which sold its holdings to Stanolind, has been named Texas manager for the Redfern Oil Co., recently organized to operate in the Permian basin.

R. L. Beckhymer, geologist with

Union Producing Co. at Houston, Seaboard Oil Co. of Delaware, with the main camp and took in an afternoon of swimming in the Danger pool.

Among other friends cultivated at the barbecue were George Magruder and son, Jimmie, from the Ft. Worth office, N. H. Chico, division tool manager for the National Supply Co., and Herb Vaeth (who, incidentally, is quite a character) with the local plant.

Service men at the gathering were T/S Bob Gilchrist, Cpl. Harry W. Beaver and S/Sgt. Roy Steves, both from the PAAF; Cpl. Ben Cheek, Jr., and Clark Gilbert, superintendent.

Oh, almost forgot something, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gise, and Mr. and Mrs. "Doc" Schwartz lent their able party-making personalities to the festivities.

And then, as the sun sank slowly in the west, our caravan of picnicking people headed for town, with the hope that conditions will permit an even bigger and better frolic next year.

By the way, due to the celebration of victory and the results of this celebration, the weekly scout check usually held at Amarillo every Wednesday did not meet this past week. Meeting will be held next week, as always.

It was also learned yesterday that J. R. Barnhill, independent oil operator in this area for many years died suddenly at his home in Amarillo, Friday morning. Barnhill was very well known to men in the Panhandle area.

Two very able gentlemen with the local office of the Texas Co. were reported to be outstanding examples of good old American patriotism last week when surrender terms with Japan were announced. It seems that the war was going to be over on this particular day and proceeded to see victory in, kinda like we always see the New Year in. Anyhow, both boys agreed that for once they happened to be at the right place at the right time. The gentlemen? Gribbon and Grant Inc. Who else?

So comes the end of our third try to stir up interest in the editorial end of the oil game. The oil editor again reminds you that without help from our readers this column will sadly fall. We appreciate the help that has been received and hope that others will fall in line with literary contribu-

Among the early-birds were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mazy, Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Baumgardner, Lee E. Malloy, V. J. Guthrie, C. J. Kennedy, L. W. Upham, Jess Graves, W. H. Price, C. N. Barber, Leo Payne, E. R. Perkins, W. W. Doon, J. T. Robinson, B. L. Adams, Ben Chcek, Sr., and P. R. Gilchrist.

Shortly after this, the gathering grew by leaps and bounds so finally gave up trying to meet anyone. The menu for the picnic was very abundant and was prepared by a group of able gentlemen, overseer of the food group was Bill Hesse, his assistants were E. J. Pafford and C. O. Gilbert who is superintendent of the camp. In charge of the barbecuing was C. V. Davis who is considered one of the best barbecue men in these parts, at least your reporter will stick up for him.

When we finally wandered around to the show line, we were confronted by Milk Strong from the Ft. Worth office in chef's costume. Strong and other strong armed men proceeded to load our plate down with barbecued beef, potato salad, stewed apricots, pickles and onions and "me mos" delicious baked beans. Coffee, tea, and cold drinks were thirst quenchers and the desserts consisted of pies, cakes, ice-cream and watermelon.

After this bountiful repast, we made our way back up the hill to

Commission Chairman Wants To Save Fields

AUSTIN, Aug. 18—(AP)—Railroad Commission Chairman Olin Culberson today asked the petroleum administration for help to reduce its certification for Texas oil production to prevent injury to fields which have been required to produce at above maximum efficient rates for war purposes.

In a telegram to Ralph K. Davies, deputy petroleum administrator for war, Culberson said: "The railroad commission of Texas earnestly requests that the directive for September be reduced so that fields now producing above maximum efficient rates can be reduced to where injury now being done such reservoirs shall be corrected."

"The statewide hearing tomorrow will be held open for your reply." The PAW has certified 2,200,000 barrels of crude oil daily for Texas in September.

Railroad Commission Announces Quotas

AUSTIN, Aug. 18—(AP)—The railroad commission announced today the petroleum administration for war has certified total production of petroleum liquids, including but not limited to crude oil, condensate, and natural gasoline in Texas during September shall be 2,366,000 barrels daily. This is an increase of 10,000 barrels daily over the rate certified for August.

Of this amount 2,200,000 barrels is to be crude oil, which is not limited to crude oil, condensate, and natural gasoline in Texas during September shall be 2,366,000 barrels daily. This is an increase of 10,000 barrels daily over the rate certified for August.

The 10,000 barrels daily increase, said the order, included in the overall crude oil certification is to be produced from asphalt type crude oil fields.

Oil Man Urges Large Products Increase DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 18—(AP)—Maston Nixon, president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas association, has urged an immediate increase in gasoline and other petroleum products to provide a 35 cents per barrel increase on crude oil prices.

Nixon said the independent producer will be wiped out in the post-war adjustment unless he gets relief at once. He pointed out that "high wartime costs of oil production have been absorbed by the crude producer, but now he is faced with prewar allowables and prices and must retain war costs to find and produce crude oil."

Superintendent Shamrock School System Resigns

SHAMROCK, Aug. 18—W. O. Morrow, who with the exception of two years, has been connected with the Shamrock schools since 1925, has tendered his resignation as superintendent of the system, it was announced this week.

Mr. Morrow, at the same time, announced that the Shamrock school system would open Monday, Sept. 10. The date had been formerly set for Sept. 3. He said the faculty is not sufficiently complete to open at that time.

Parents who are enrolling children for their first time are urged to have available birth certificates showing that the pupils are six years of age. A child must have reached his sixth birthday before Sept. 1, before he can enter school, Supt. Morrow said.

In regard to the resignation, Supt. Morrow said he would work with the faculty through Sept. 1, when the resignation becomes effective.

Other resignations accepted at a special meeting of the board this week included those of Mrs. Morrow, first grade teacher; Mrs. Rheta Stanford and Miss Frances Hill, fourth grade teachers.

Mr. Morrow served as president of the Shamrock Rotary club in 1943, and was president of the Shamrock Boosters club the following year. He is a past master of the Masonic lodge and is serving as secretary now. Both he and his wife were active in civic affairs and in the First Baptist church.

on Miami highway. The concern has applied for government certification to slaughter livestock, and expects that permit soon.

Couch said the company is killing about 200 cattle a week at 9 1/2 time, as well as 500 hogs. It also serves farmers with tankage. All types of sausages and cured porks are processed.

The company has just purchased $200,000 worth of cattle from Albert Reynolds and Frank Carter, he said. The purchase was made this month. Asked if Panhandle Packing still collected used kitchen fats as it has since the government has instituted a campaign for it, he said that it was. The amount collected each week has fallen off considerably, he said, since so many people have been converting the fats into laundry soap at home.
