

Eighth Army Plans Work-Play Program For Red Prisoners

KOJE ISLAND, Korea, June 16—The U. S. Eighth Army plans a work-play program for Communist prisoners of war on Kojé once the POWs' reconstruction and other engineering projects are completed.

Big Gen Hayden L. Boatner, Eighth Army commander, hopes to start the program soon after he finishes sports equipment has been ordered. The program will be carried out in small units.

The dispersal operations probably will be completed within a week.

Field Marshal Lord Alexander, Britain's minister of defense, inspected the POW stockades this week. He found the island in a jeep driven by Boatner.

Alexander was accompanied by Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U.S. Eighth Army commander, and a party of leading military and diplomatic figures.

The group drove through the ruins of Compound 26, where more than 6,000 prisoners fought desperately to prevent being blown up into small units. Boatner told Alexander it was "a hell of a fight."

Alexander made no public statement while on Kojé. But Selwyn Lloyd, British minister of state for foreign affairs, said "obviously the situation is being cleared up very fast and a great deal of good work is being done."

Americans Fret Too Much Over Unimportant Things — Hank

By HENRY McLEMORE
We, meaning the everyday citizens of this country, fret, fume and worry much too much about celebrities, presidents, baseball players, crooners, movie actors and actresses.

We suffer for them. A crooner slips in popularity and there is an ache in our hearts. A second baseman makes two errors in one game and it makes our side home on the bus trip. A president stammers for a word and we almost itch in our desire to provide the right one for him.

I sincerely believe that we citizens should pull ourselves together and start thinking a little bit more about ourselves. After all, we have but one race to run, one life to live, and one chance to enjoy what a kind Heaven has granted us.

Let's try to remember this: How many of the celebrities whom we fret and fume about fret and fume about us? There are hundreds of thousands of people who truly suffer if, say, Kerr isn't elected president. But how much does Kerr worry about whether one of his followers is behind in his rent?

I am undoubtedly the worst example of the citizen I am advising. I am as unhappy as a young dentist at a poultry convention when either the New York Yankees or the New York Giants lose. Let Maggie lose and I toss half of the night. When the Yanks blow one in the ninth I grieve for Stengel, Rizzuto, Dickey and all the rest.

I wonder how many times Stengel has ever worried about me? Or Maggie? Something tells me that not one single celebrity has ever been unable to eat a steak because of what was happening to a devoted follower.

Heaven knows how many adolescents and grown-ups, too, were upset by Ed's health and his ability to get along with Alvin Karpis or vice versa. I daresay that while they are arguing about millions, Rita's fans were scanning the newspapers for basement sales.

Of course, a case could be made out for the likes of Ed's health on the ground that most of our lives are fairly dull and that we have to latch our worries to a star, so to speak. But to admit that such a case would hold water would be to admit that basically this country makes no sense, which it does more than any country in the world. There's a solidity about us everyday Americans that won't be shaken completely. We'll look and listen to Margaret Truman on television, but not many of us would put in writing that she is a great singer.

I'm quite sure that the election of 1962 — if you'll pardon my slipping into politics with no change of gear whatsoever — will prove that this country, flip as it is on the surface, seeks a leader able to lead it out of the childish, Alice-in-Wonderland dream world in which it has been living.

Don't you agree with me that while it is a great thing to be the world's largest producer of juke boxes, the world's largest spender on cosmetics, the talkiest people over telephones who ever existed and things like that, it is time for the United States to realize — and I'm using this only for an example — that fifty-cent potatoes are more important than "The Little White tional facilities will include stages in each compound for plays, musical entertainment, dance performances and singing. Prior to the current breakup of the large compounds, there was a stage in each compound.

Grain Firms Are Cleared

WASHINGTON (AP) — The General Accounting Office GAO has cleared four Texas and Oklahoma companies accused of grain shortages in the handling of government-owned wheat.

They are Nelson Grain Co., Claude, Tex., Etter Grain Co., Etter, Tex., E. B. McNeill Grain Co., Thomas, Okla. and Fisher Grain Co., Woodward, Okla.

In a letter to chairman Ellender (D-La.) of the Senate committee dated May 27, the GAO noted these four concerns had been included in a list of companies accused of shortages. The Nelson Company was charged with a shortage of 6637 bushels, Etter, 5857; McNeill, 60,658, and Fisher, 2322.

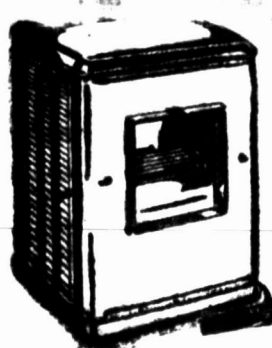

A subsequent checkup, said the GAO, disclosed that when all loadings were checked against accounts of storages on hand they either balanced exactly or were within the "customary tolerance" accepted in handling of wheat in such volumes.

ED F. CLEVELAND

Professional Achievement

Southwestern Life takes pleasure in announcing to his many friends in Pampa that Ed Cleveland's production of life insurance business in 1950 has earned him membership in the Million Dollar Round Table, honor group of the National Association of Life Underwriters.

Ed's achievement is the more noteworthy because he was able to reach after only three years in the business a goal sought unsuccessfully by many good underwriters for a lifetime.

We are proud of Ed Cleveland and the fact that 22 of the 79 Texas-domiciled current members of the Million Dollar Round Table are Agents of Southwestern Life, now nearing half a century of service to the people of Texas.

Vada F. Hughes Rites Wednesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Vada F. Hughes, 55, will be held in the First Baptist Church at Higgins tomorrow at 4 p.m. Rev. James Bryant, pastor, will officiate.
 Mrs. Hughes died at her home in Higgins yesterday morning. She had been living there for 24 years and had served as office nurse for Dr. J. J. Davis for a number of years.
 Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Kay Eggleston and Mrs. Anita Bettriche, both of Higgins, and Mrs. Jeanne Woodruff, Dallas; her mother, Mrs. Beulah Gragg, Higgins; four sisters, Mrs. Maude Hines, Helena, Mont., Mrs. William E. Custer, Kansas City, Mo., Mrs. J. G. Waingfield, Farmington, N. M., and Mrs. Hazel Carmichael, Higgins; and four grandchildren.

Rites Wednesday For Nettie Tate, 74

Last rites for Mrs. Nettie Tate, 74, will be read by Rev. H. H. Tetter at the First Christian Church in Pampa tomorrow at 2 p.m. Mrs. Tate died at 10 a.m. yesterday. She is to be buried in the Miami cemetery.
 Mrs. Tate was the wife of John Tate, 109 N. Wynne. Born February 4, 1878, in Tennessee, she moved to Pampa from Miami in 1907.
 She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Harlyn Case of Pampa; and one son Don Tate, two brothers, J. C. Fowler, Little Rock, Ark., and Ernest Fowler, Hot Springs, Ark., three sisters, Mrs. Maude Scaggs and Mrs. Lina Pace, both of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Pearl Holdridge, Albuquerque.

Charged In Baseball Handbook At Borger

Two Borger men have been charged in connection with the operation of a "baseball handbook."
 Police have charged George Ward, about 50, with handling a handbook and C. W. Case, owner of a recreation club, with permitting gambling on his premises. Both of the men are out on bond.
 The sheriff's office has confiscated a Western Union ticker and pads on which baseball bets were written.

Lands Plane Safely With Wheels Struck

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Capt. Arthur M. Lyle, Wichita Falls, Tex., brought a light bomber in to a safe "belly" landing at Tinker Air Force Base yesterday. Neither he nor student passenger, Maj. Duane Callahan, Jersey Shore, Pa., was injured. The plane did not catch fire.
 Lyle circled Perrin Air Force Base in Grayson County, Tex., his home field, for some time attempting to get the plane's wheels down from a locked position. Finally he was ordered to Tinker for the emergency landing.

Woman Charged In Murder Of Husband

SIERRA BLANCA (AP) — A woman whose husband was shot fatally after she said, he slapped a skillet of fish from her hand was charged with murder with malice yesterday.
 Mrs. Elizabeth Roberts, 45, was placed under $5,000 bond in the slaying of her husband, William, 42.
 She told a preliminary hearing that the shooting followed a quarrel over her cooking. After making the rounds of a few bars, she told the court, the couple returned home. She started frying fish. He observed they should have eaten before the bar tour. Then he slapped the skillet from her hand and threw out the fish, she said.
 "My mind went blank," she added.
 Roberts was shot four times in the head and body with a .38 caliber pistol late Saturday. Mrs. Roberts called officers from a filling station after the shooting.
 Her case will go before a grand jury in Hudspeth County Sept. 1. Roberts' body was sent to Springfield, Mo., for burial.

Funeral For Borger's Missing Man Slated

Final rites for John H. Crawford, 81, will be held at 4 p.m. today in the Borger Church of the Nazarene. Amos R. Meador, pastor, will officiate.
 Services will be directed by the Minton Funeral Home. Burial will be in Highland Park Cemetery.
 Mr. Crawford's body was found Saturday afternoon in a canyon, three miles northeast of Borger. He had been missing from his home for the two days previous. Two teen-agers, Buford Ballard and Dean Seerman, found the body.
 Surviving are his wife, two daughters, one son, one brother, three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Miss Worley will work with Rev. Hal Upchurch who left Pampa recently to become pastor of the Temple Baptist Church in Amarillo. She will make her home at 2904 Van Buren.

Fined $34 For Part In June 8 Accident

Lester L. Allam Jr., 445 BZrown was fined $34 this morning by Justice of the Peace John Andrews for his part in the collision of his car with one driven by Mrs. Charles Ashby, 1309 Christine, the night of Sunday, June 8.

The accident was one of six that happened in the Pampa area that same night. Mrs. Ashby is reported doing nicely at Worley Hospital.

Andrews also disposed of a case of a man driving without a Texas operator's license. Guy A. Rhodes, Pampa, was fined $14 for the offense.

Wheat Acreage Is Released

Wheat farmers with the Federal Crop Insurance may begin planting released wheat acreage into a substitute crop and still receive full coverage, it was announced today.

Insurance administrators declared the wheat harvest to be general in Gray County today and thus released the farmer to begin replanting land formerly seeded in wheat.

It is not necessary that farmers wait for adjustors to visit farms and no further release is needed from the local production and Marketing Office which handles the insurance.

Briton Heaves Sigh Of Pity For U.S. Kids

LONDON (AP) — British philosopher Cyril E. M. Joad clucked his tongue disapprovingly at the American kids in their cowboy suits and bobby socks. And he has a sigh of pity for them, too.

"Poor little brutes," he sighed yesterday, "I am envious to see their pale, pasty faces are due to the incredibly high temperatures which, by means of central heating, they maintain in their houses."

What shocked Joad was the appearance of a planeload of American "war baby" children who arrived here last week to visit their British grandparents. "Little boys of 7 years old dressed in check suits, long trowsers and blue ribby snap bfm hats; children in cowboy suits and bobby socks; children in violent tartans. This means that the taste of those who dress them is itself the taste of children, for it is children—and, may one add, say, because they are spoiled and attracted by anything which is

Thomas Says U. S. Unpopular In Asia

NEW YORK (AP) — Norman Thomas, Socialist leader returned recently from a trip to Asia, says the United States is not very popular among Asiatics generally.

Thomas, whose attempt to address a May Day rally in Tokyo was broken up by rioting throughout the city, said "the riots were not so anti-American as Communist."

In Asia, Thomas said, the United States is very unpopular because of our stand in Tunisia. He was referring to the abstention of the United States on the question of adding the Tunisian dispute to the United Nations Security Council agenda.

He urged that the U. S. give "more intelligent economic aid" and present Asiatics "with the truth about what a Communist government in action means."

Concentration Camps Charge

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Texas is accused by the important newspaper Novedades of maintaining a concentration camp for migrant farm workers "which yields nothing to the Nazi prisoner of war camps in the way of cruelty, baseness and inhumanity."

The charge was made in an article written Monday by one of the paper's reporters, Carlos Villanave, who said he visited the camp near McAllen several days ago.

He described the camp as being surrounded by barbed wire and patrolled by Texas Rangers.

Inside, he wrote, "our fellow countrymen packed in like cattle. He on the ground in the open air exposed to the burning rays of the sun by day and torrential rains by night."

Villanave said the Mexicans confined there included "wetbacks," "Whippings, clubbings and other punishments are the rule for those who protest," he said, "illegally and legitimate farm workers whose contracts had expired and who are waiting repatriation."

The last of the season's piano recitals will be given tonight at the Central Baptist church when Mrs. Lilly Hartsfield presents a group of her students. The evening and early summer are filled with piano recitals, but somehow each one is new and different. . . . Pampa piano teachers don't always get credit for the musical advantages they bring to our town. . . . They are willing to serve as accompanists or provide pupils for special entertainment and too often, we take them for granted. . . . Mrs. Hartsfield, Miss Angela Duncan, Miss Elise Donaldson, Bill Haley, Mrs. H. A. Yoder, and Mrs. May Foreman Carr are among the teachers who have presented recent recitals. . . . And Sister M. Corbinian had a fine recital a few weeks ago. . . . Mrs. Yoder, a member of the National Guild of Piano Teachers, was instrumental in the young musicians like June Guill, 10-year-old John Campbell, Jacqueline Merchant, Sheila Chisholm, Vivien Brake, Patsy Stovall, Carol McCune, Brenda Parker and Jenny Lee Rockwell.

She was reared in Amarillo and attended Amarillo College and later took her bachelor's, master's and doctor's degrees from the University of Texas. She has since taught at the state university, Stanford University, and the University of North Carolina. She is now writing a second book. Miss Erdman will conduct workshops and question and answer periods during the conference. Her novel, "The Years of the Locust" (1948) was a Dodd Mead Redbook prize novel. Her other novels, all book club selections, are "Lonely Passage," and "The Edge of Time." Her two juvenile books are "Separate Star" and "Fair is the Morning." Another juvenile "The Wind Blows Free," is to be published in the fall. Her short stories and articles have appeared in "Redbook," "Reader's Digest," "Woman's Home Companion," "Woman's Day," "Christian Herald," and "Progressive Farmer." Among the other speakers will be Muriel Fuller who recently joined the Abilard Press to be in charge of a new juvenile book department. Previously, she was associated with Rand McNally, Robert M. McBride, the McCall Corp., and was juvenile editor for Thomas Nelson and Sons from 1944 to 1950. She has been responsible for numerous authors finding publishers, among them Frank Yerby, and Margaret Landon, author of "Anna and the King of Siam" and "Never Dies the Dream." She is also the author of several books, and served as assistant on the compilation of the O. Henry annual short story collections for more than 12 years. Her lectures at the conference will include the novel, juveniles, and poetry. Short story lectures and workshops will be directed by Dillon Anderson, practicing attorney in Houston, who has written stories and articles for "The Atlantic Monthly," "The Saturday Review of Literature" and "Collier's." H. L. Gantz, editor of "Farm and Ranch" magazine will lecture on agricultural journalism. He has written more than 200 features on all phases of southwestern agriculture, and also written a number of short stories. Charles L. Sonnichsen, professor of English at Texas Western University, will speak on historical research and non-fiction books. He is a writer who believes "the best stories are found — and not invented." His books of the Southwest include "Billy King's Tombstone," "Roy Bean, Law West of the Pecos," "Cowboys and Cattle Kings," and "Till Die Before I'll Run." His most recent book is "Alias Billy

Jaycee-Ettes To Meet Wednesday
Jaycee-Ettes will meet at 12 noon Wednesday in the City Park for a picnic. Each member will take a sack lunch. Following the picnic, Mrs. Jack Vaughn will conduct a brief business meeting.

Glimpses Of Yesteryear
FIVE YEARS AGO
Paula Faye Franklin was announced as state president of Theta Rho girls following the state assembly held in Mineral Wells. Viernes club members honored Mrs. B. M. McMullen with a farewell luncheon in the home of Mrs. Paul Crouch. 10 YEARS AGO
Sheriff Call Rose was among the local county officers to attend a John Snider barbecue in Amarillo. General Douglas Mac Arthur was named by the National Father's Day committee as the "outstanding American father of 1942." 15 YEARS AGO
R. E. Fisher, superintendent of Pampa schools, was elected president of the Lions Club. Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Buckler and young daughter, Ann, were making plans to leave for New York City, where they would sail for Europe. It was to be Mr. Buckler's first trip to England since he came to Pampa 32 years before.

PASTRY
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup plus one tablespoon of shortening
ice water to hold mixture together.
Sift flour and salt together in mixing bowl. Add shortening and blend until like coarse cornmeal. Add just enough ice water, a little at a time, to hold mixture together. Roll out on floured board or pastry canvas.

Corn syrup, added to fudge, helps to prevent sugar crystals from forming.

Cook's Nook
Add to your special pie recipe collection this fruity prize winning raisin pie. It is the recipe of Mrs. Arthur Pearson of Modesto, Calif., who won a large golden trophy and deluxe automatic gas range as first prize in the California Raisin Pie Baking Contest. It is sure to win praise from the family and guests for its rich flavor and wholesome goodness.

Local Writers To Attend "Round-Up"
The five-day conference begins at 9 a.m. with registration on the WTSU campus. Dr. James P. Corneille, WTSU president, will give the welcome address. Lewis Nurdyke, free-lance writer, and recognized as one of the most prolific, as well as one of the most successful writers in Texas, will present two lectures Thursday on writing the article. His articles have appeared in "Saturday Evening Post," "Reader's Digest," "New York Times Magazine," and "Country Gentleman." He was formerly an editor of "Country Gentleman," and is the author of the best seller, "Cattle Empire." Until recently, he was an editor of the Amarillo News-Globe, and author of the column, "Random Thoughts." His story of Pampa recently appeared in the magazine "Texas Parade." Another well-known Panhandle writer, Laurene Chambers Chinn of Borger, will speak Tuesday on writing for the confession magazine. Mrs. Chinn has sold more than 40 juvenile stories, two juvenile picture books, and has had numerous poems accepted by poetry and religious magazines.

It's so easy to give yourself a professional manicure at home, if you allow enough time, and follow the important basic steps. To stimulate circulation and make your nails healthier, buffing (upper left) with a nail powder or paste powder is an absolute necessity. Since cuticle has a habit of becoming unruly with little or no provocation, keep it in check by massaging a nail cream around the base of the nails (center left) using the cushion of your finger in a firm rotary motion. When you are ready to apply nail enamel (lower left), give some thought to the shape and general condition of your nails. With a little practice, you can actually reshape the nails, if necessary, and make them appear more beautiful. Don't limit your nail care to weekly manicures, only. Daily touch-ups and creamings will always keep them looking perfect.

Lefors Homemaking Class Has Workshop

LEFORS — (Special) — The Lefors Homemaking Department under the direction of Miss Norma Lantz has been the scene of arts and crafts workshops everyday for the past three weeks. The summer phase of this work will be completed Saturday, June 21, with a downtown exhibit of the projects which have been completed. There have been approximately 30 youth and adults participating in the making of leather belts, billfolds, key cases, notebook covers, coin purses, shoulder bags and moccasins. The group has also made aluminum trays and both copper and aluminum plaques and pictures. Along with the crafts workshops the high school girls who are taking the course for credit are carrying on home experiences in clothing construction, landscaping, bedroom improvement, gardening, foods planning, marketing, and preparation, home care of the sick and child care. Anyone interested in visiting the crafts classes at the homemaking department during the final week is urged to attend.

RUTH MILLETT

In a recent Ladies Home Journal, Marcelline Cox speaks of a woman who "when she wants to get something accomplished never turns her request on full force, but uses the "drip-drop method." That's a satisfactory description of the way the average wife accomplishes most of her purposes. Mrs. Smith makes up her mind one day that they can well afford an electric dishwasher and she doesn't intend to do without one much longer. Does she make that announcement to Mr. Smith? Of course, she doesn't. She uses the "drip-drop method." And it's likely to go something like this: First while reading a newspaper or magazine, (on an evening when Mr. Smith is in a genial frame of mind) she makes the innocent sounding remark that when they get a dishwasher she will be able to do such a kind, pointing out all the advantages of that particular make, listed in the ad. The next time they have twelve guests for a buffet supper and Mr. Smith, dead on his feet, is helping with the dishes, she points out how quickly the job could be done with a dishwasher. When a friend buys one, she drags Mr. Smith out to the friend's kitchen to watch it work, and stands back to let the host and hostess do a selling job for her. The last, and final step, is when Mrs. Smith lures Mr. Smith into a store that sells dishwashers under the pretext of buying some simple little gadget. On their way out of the store Mrs. Smith drags Mr. Smith over to inspect a dishwasher and the salesman does the rest. The "drip-drop method" may have taken three months or even a year from the first drip to the last drop. But its outcome was always certain. The woman with the patience to use the "drip-drop method" of getting what she wants almost never fails.

Election Methods Clumsy, So Hank Contributes Own System

By HENRY McLEMORE

The president method of electing a president of the United States is as clumsy as a water buffalo in a bird bath and as impractical as a hoop skirt in a whirlwind.

The time has come for a change, and while it's too late to make a change this year, it is not too soon for the country's serious political thinkers to be working on a new plan of election for 1956. Naturally, this is a call to duty for me, and you'd be surprised to know the seconds, and even minutes, that I have turned the matter over in my head, a place in which there is plenty of room for turning, even somersaulting, I might add.

I have a new scheme nearly worked out. There will be no conventions, and there will be no parties. All candidate's names will be placed on a ballot and the voters will choose the man they want.

But that's not all. They can vote for as many candidates as they choose, using a novel point system which I have devised.

For example, Joe Smith, say, likes Candidate A's stand on labor. So, Joe would give a twenty points for his leadership, and views. Let's use real 1952 candidates and imagine Joe in a voting booth if my system were in use.

He scans Eisenhower and marks his ballot something like this: Honesty and Integrity: 20 points. Giving up $19,541.80 in pay and allowances: minus 13 for foolishness. Military Ability: 20 points. Appearance in mufft after all these years in uniform: minus

6 points. This would give Ike a score of plus 21.

Next, Joe would look at Ke-fauver's ballot and mark it thusly: Appearance in coonskin cap and credit for starting craze: minus 18. Conduct of crime investigation: plus 22. Refusal to attempt to be spell-binding orator: plus 11 points. Staunchness in going through life with a name like Estes without complaining: plus 7 points. Total: plus 22.

Then on to Taft.

Dislike of throwing away taxpayer's money as if it grew on weeds: plus 34. Insistence on telling what he considers amusing anecdotes in his speeches: minus 14. Inability to remember how he voted on many vital issues before Pearl Harbor: minus 9. Brains plus 24. Total: plus 35.

Overall Harriman.

Naturalness in stepping into Rolls-Royce, Cartier's and yacht factories: plus 500. Ability to cause jealousy among Christmas Club savers because he has so much dough: minus 1000. Willingness to serve country with unflagging zeal: plus 22. Total: national affairs: plus 28. Total: minus 478.

Alben Barkley.

Charm: plus 50. Ability to tell funny stories: plus 52. Gloating over how well he feels at his age: minus all his pluses. Total: 0.

Earl Warren.

Too handsome: minus 83. Pretty daughters: plus 41. Grasp of minus 14.

When all the points had been added up, the man with the highest plus total would go to the White House. No candidate is perfect, but under the system proposed by me the country would get a president who was the most nearly perfect according to the voters.

If you like my idea I'd appreciate hearing from you. Just write your opinion on the back of a $100 bill and send it to me.

CHIROPRACTIC SAVES POLIO VICTIM
Paralyzed Child Responds To Adjustments After Other Methods Fail.

A twelve year old girl, completely paralyzed by an attack of polio while under medical care, today is learning again to walk and is gaining weight, thanks to a little more than a month of chiropractic care.

This new evidence of chiropractic's ability to meet the menace of polio swiftly and efficiently was revealed in a letter from the parents of the child concerned.

The child's trouble began with low temperature and a stiff neck. The local M. D. diagnosed polio and admitted her to a hospital, where the child was paralyzed in the back and both arms. A few days later paralysis had spread to her legs.

In two and one half months little Anna worsened greatly. She lost much weight, could not hold down food, and failed to have normal elimination. In the words of her parents, "the emaciation and general debility throughout her entire body including the abdominal and back muscles were almost unbelievable."

Realizing she was failing fast, Anna's parents transferred her to the chiropractic clinic. In two weeks she could sit up alone for a few minutes, and could stand for a few minutes. Today she is walking with assistance, feeds herself, has gained weight and has recovered from her digestive trouble and from constipation.

Naturally, Anna's parents are delighted with her progress and thankful they discovered the benefits of chiropractic in time.

Tidelands Vote Slated Thursday

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate may override President Truman's veto of a bill to give the states clear title to the oil-rich lands off their coastlines.

The senators also may be asked to vote in mid-week on resolutions aimed at killing a presidential plan to wipe out Senate confirmation of postmasters, U.S. marshals and customs officials.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), acting majority leader, has announced he would seek to call up the veto for discussion Wednesday and a vote Thursday.

Whether this schedule is carried out, he added, depends on the approval of Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), leader of the forces seeking to uphold the veto, and Sen. Holland (D-Ill.), whose forces want to override it.

The big fight over the measure, often called the tidelands bill, was expected to come in the Senate. It was generally predicted that the House could muster the necessary two-thirds vote of members present to override the veto. The count was expected to be a tight squeak either way in the Senate.

When the Senate will vote on the resolutions to kill the presidential reorganization plans depends on whether the chamber takes up the off-shore lands measure as Johnson proposes.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) of the Senate Government Operations Committee said he will call up the reorganization plans on Wednesday if the submerged lands issue is not brought up then. Otherwise, he said, the resolutions will be presented after the vote on the veto.

McClellan's committee voted earlier this week to reject the President's reorganization proposals. They will become effective at midnight next Friday unless either the House or Senate disapproves them.

Alcohol Helps Ward Off Radiation

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Don't run for the nearest saloon until you've read the last of this, but—

Scientists have discovered that alcohol-like in bourbon—has a mysterious power to lessen the likelihood of death from radiation similar to that of atom bomb rays.

These scientists, however, were working with mice in the naval radiological defense laboratory at San Francisco—which makes a difference.

Eighty-four percent of mice in the naval radiological defense laboratory at San Francisco—which makes a difference.

Eighty-four percent of mice that got a heavy injection of alcohol survived after they later were exposed to medium doses of rays.

Another group of mice got no alcohol but the same amount of ray exposure—and every one of them died.

The Navy scientists, after other experiments which turned out about the same way, said there seems to be some definite relationship between the amount of alcohol and the survival rate of mice.

But there's a catch. A Navy officer says mice handle their liquor, or rather alcohol, differently than man. They can survive a phenomenal dose of alcohol, size considered.

If a man drank as much alcohol, size considered.

J. O. Sessions, Kerens, secretary-treasurer.

hol as the mice received, in proportion to size, the man would have to take around three-fifths of a gallon of average whisky, the officer estimated.

Some scientists have estimated a man's liquor capacity—198 — pound man, at sea level, on a cool summer day — is around one quart a day.
