Demos Stage Dramatic Ballot Battle

Steel Strike Breaks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The longest, costliest steel strike in American history in effect is over. Production is expected to resume next week.

The striking CIO Steelworkers Union was considered virtually certain today to ratify a strike-ending agreement reached at the White House after President Truman personally demanded — and got — a settlement.

Victory Clouded
It was not a clear-cut victory or a move toward the union, industry, or the government. There was give and take on all sides.

The end of the crippling, 53-day strike was announced late yesterday by the President himself, with CIO President Philip Murray and U.S. Steel Chairman Benjamin Fairless "having reached agreement on important basic issues" after day-long conferences, and predicted a "speedy resumption of steel production."

He said Murray would meet today with his 175-man Wage-Policy Committee to obtain ratification of the agreement.

Fights Bitterness
Fairless, it was reliably learned, plans to make a personal appearance before the committee in a dramatic move aimed at wiping out any bitterness. The union invited him to make a short talk to the group after a closed session during which actual ratification of the agreement was scheduled.

At best it will be four or five days before any substantial production of steel is reached. It takes that long to heat up the banked blast furnaces which stand by workers have kept alive ever since the strike started June 2.

The new steel which comes out of some 390 struck plants will sell for at least $5.20 a ton more than before the strike started.

A few minutes after Truman's dramatic announcement the government approved a price increase of that amount for raw, or carbon, steel. Specialized, high-alloy steel will get a boost of $5.65 a ton.

The $5 price increase, ironically enough, was the price increase Charles E. Wilson, as defense mobilizer, had said the industry should get to compensate for higher wage costs. Wilson said he thought he had presidential approval for an over-ceiling boost, but Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall refused to go along and said that as long as he was price boss the industry would not get more than the $2.84 allowed under the Caphart Amendment to the controls law.

Steel Price Hike Set At Same Figure Asked By Wilson

WASHINGTON (AP) — The price pay-off for peace in steel stood today almost exactly at the level which Charles E. Wilson, former mobilization chief, proposed last March as the basis of settlement.

His successor, John R. Steelman, approved last night a half-billion dollar price increase for steel mills — $5.20 a ton for carbon steel and a $5.65 average for all steels.

Wilson in March offered a reported $5.25 to $5.50 a ton. But President Truman repudiated the offer, on advice of Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall and Economic Stabilizer Roger Putman. Wilson resigned in protest on April 1 as director of mobilization.

Now Arnall will be obliged to raise steel ceilings anyway — after events that included deadlocked negotiations, a strike, a government seizure ended by the Supreme court, and finally an industry-wide 55-day shutdown which set back mobilization.

When the $5-plus settlement became inevitable, the OPS director declared he would mark up the price tags for all manufacturers who must pay more for steel. He said: "I will not stand by and see small business hurt for the benefit of big industry."

By coincidence the agreement which Arnall predicts will show up the cost of living — came on the day the living-cost index hit an all-time high.

WHEATHEART CONTESTANT Ann Jordan, daughter of Sheriff and Mrs. Rufe Jordan, will represent the Pampa Lions Club at the annual Wheatheart of the Nation contest in Perryton August 20. Contestants from over the Texas Panhandle, Oklahoma and Kansas will compete for the first prize of $250 and second prize of $150. The judging will take place in Perryton School auditorium. Miss Jordan will be a senior in Pampa High School next year. She serves as pianist for the Lions Club regular luncheon meetings Thursday of each week (News Photo)

HST To Spare Assassin's Life

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman is sparing the life of the Puerto Rican who tried to assassinate him at Blair House in 1950.

Presidential Secretary Joseph P. Kamp announced without comment late yesterday that the death sentence of Oscar Collazo had been scheduled to die in prison.

The 38-year-old Puerto Rican had been scheduled to die in the electric chair here on Aug. 1 for his part in the death plot.

Collazo was wounded and a companion, Grisello Torresola, was killed in a furious gun battle with the President's guards on Nov. 1, 1950. A White House policeman, Pvt. Leslie Coffelt, was killed but Collazo's attorney said it was Torresola's gun which shot the guard.

However, the law makes no distinction between companions in a felony which results in murder.

U. S. Appeals To Russia In Prisoner Care

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has appealed to Russia to ask the Chinese and North Korean Communists to provide better treatment for United Nations prisoners of war in Korea.

The appeal sent also to the International Red Cross, was announced by the State Department yesterday in advance of the opening of the Red Cross conference at which the various Communist regimes will be represented.

The timing was regarded here as significant.

First, if there is any real hope of success in this field, now may be the best time for trying.

The plea to the Russians to see their influence with the North Korean and Chinese Communist authorities to get them to carry out the Geneva Convention for treatment of prisoners of war was delivered in Moscow Wednesday by Ambassador George F. Kennan.

Saturday Double-Duty Day For Voting Public

Tomorrow is the day! For most Texas voters it will be a double-duty day — voting in the Democratic primary and attending precinct conventions at 10 a. m. For dyed-in-the-wool Republicans it will be just precinct convention day, also at 10 a. m. Democratic party officials are still worrying about precinct convention attendance since it will lead to eventual party control for the next two years.

Service Station Burglar Ring Is Believed Broken In Waco

WACO (AP) — Authorities today said they had broken a ring of service station bandits after a dramatic pre-dawn car chase, punctuated by gunfire.

Three Fort Hood soldiers and two civilians were charged with armed robbery. Three were taken in a field after the chase. The other two were arrested at Fort Hood.

Sgt. J. C. Virgil P. Winters, 21, Asst. Dist. Atty. Burney Walker, implicated another Fort Hood soldier, Sgt. 1st Robert G. Womack, in a recent burglary of Central Texas service stations. Womack, although not involved in this morning's robbery, was arrested at Fort Hood and charged in the others.

Sen. Kefauver Holds Lead At The End Of First Round

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago (AP) — A dramatic battle of ballots developed over the Democratic presidential nomination today with no contestant winning on the first ballot.

The battle, which saw polling of almost every major delegation, brought a flurry of excitement toward the sons of Gov. Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver.

Kefauver held lead at the end of the first balloting which lasted until after 3 p. m. (CST).

Results at the end of the first ballot gave Kefauver 340; Stevenson 273.5 votes; Russell 268; Harriman 123.5; Kerr 65; Barkley 48.5 votes.

The nomination requires 615.5 votes.

The first count progressed slowly in this suddenly quiet amphitheater, with indications Stevenson was developing the strength that might carry him to a later nomination unless his opponents could combine against him quickly.

As an indication of what might happen on the second roll call, Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota announced he was releasing his "favorite son" vote in that state.

Humphrey, who has said he would be glad to see Stevenson nominated, told reporters he expected the 26-vote group to split its support among Kefauver and W. Averell Harriman of New York.

The potential Stevenson strength looked so large there was talk that Harriman soon might topple out of the race and attempt to throw his support to Kefauver.

Kefauver's backers were claiming he had shown "great strength" in the first test.

Rifleman Using Human Decoy Claims Perfect Sniper Record

WITH U. S. FIRST MARINE DIVISION, Korea (AP) — A sharpshooting sergeant using a fellow marine as a decoy claims a perfect but highly unofficial record of nine Chinese snipers killed with nine bullets.

But the company commander put a stop to the bizarre tactics. The Marines today released the story.

Sgt. John E. Boatnot of Chicago, a medal-winning marksman, and Pfc. Henry A. Friday of Nekosia, Wis., were stationed on an outpost far forward of the Marine division's main line of defense.

They devised this deadly game. Friday, acting as a decoy, would expose himself until a Chinese sniper opened fire. Boatnot, armed with a rifle mounted with a sniper-scope, would fire just once and exclaim "scratch one" enemy.

Boatnot said "the whole idea started one day when Friday made the mistake of standing up in the trench. A sniper fired at him and I fired back. I killed him."

Friday volunteered for decoy duty. In two days they set a "remarkable if highly unofficial record" of nine Chinese snipers slain with nine bullets. The men said they checked their kills with a powerful telescope.

Boatnot, whose wife lives at Cornfort, N. C., is a Marine Corps distinguished rifleman. The news said he won a silver medal in the Marine Corps matches in 1949, bronze medal in southeast, and matches in 1950 and placed second in the Wigram Trophy match in 1948 at Quantico, Va.

CANDIDATE? — Sen. John Sparkman (above) of Alabama has been mentioned as a possible Vice Presidential candidate on the 1952 Democratic convention ticket. He helped work out compromises in the party platform on civil rights and Senate filibusters. (AP Wirephoto)

Only 37 Working Days Remain For Auto Inspections

Texas has but 37 working days left in which to have their automobiles inspected, as state law dictates.

Deadline for motor vehicle inspection is Sept. 8.

That date is one year to the day since the inspection law was passed in the Texas Legislature.

Slightly more than one-half the cars registered in Gray County had been inspected at the close of business Tuesday. Of the 9,634 automobiles registered in the county, only 5,063 had been inspected with little more than a month to go.

That left 4,571 to go.

Inspection will include the motor number, foot brakes, headlights and tail lamps, horn, steering apparatus, wheel alignment, windshields and wipers, mirror and the muffler-exhaust system.

Two More Victims Of Accident Die

PLAINVIEW (AP) — Despite a dramatic attempt by airmen at Reese Air Force Base to save their lives, two more victims of a head-on collision are dead.

Mrs. Ruby K. Neal, 45, Portland, Tex., and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Calvin B. Neal of Corpus Christi became the third and fourth fatalities of the collision yesterday.

William B. Neal, 55, died Tuesday, and an infant daughter of Mrs. Calvin Neal died shortly after the accident. Calvin Neal was still in a critical condition.

The accident occurred when the Neal car and another carrying Reese AFB servicemen collided yesterday, 20 Reese airmen were flown to Plainview to donate blood to the victims.

THE SIGN TELLS THE STORY — These two refrigerator cars of the 91-car "Green Fruit Express" were derailed about 5:49 p. m. Thursday on the Santa Fe Railroad tracks, 4.3 miles west of Pampa. Caused by a broken journal on one of the cars, the train wheels dragged along the ties for an estimated 3,760 feet (94 car-lengths) before it finally ground to a halt — with the end of the journal shaved down to the shape of a cone. The brake man is shown carrying the damaged journal as he passes the prophetic sign. The two cars — one carried potatoes; the other, oranges — are worth approximately $15,000 when empty; but the extent of damage to them has not been determined. The rear car was enough off the tracks that it blocked the main north-bound line. Most of the cars in the train were bound for Kansas City and Chicago. Engineered of the derailed train was R. B. Williams, Amarillo. (News Photo)

GATOR GETS BIGGER EVERY YEAR—Peter, four-foot five-inch pet alligator living in St. Petersburg, Fla., seems to be checking his growth-chart kept by his 'gator-lovin' owner (name withheld by request). Six inches long when he came to live in urban surroundings, the would-be "Gator King" adds 11 1/2 inches to his length each year. According to his owner, Pete is house-broken and never leaves the premises.

Beckworth Says Keeping U. S. Strong Cheaper Than WWII

Editor's Note: Texas' new U. S. Senator will be called upon to take part in important decisions affecting our nation's struggle with the world. To give that by stopping the aggression of the three U. S. senatorial candidates in Korea, the Communist leadership in Saturday's Democratic primary election an opportunity of the world have in mind, the citizens, the Associated Press ask definite purpose to stop in its ed each to prepare a statement tracks Communist aggression of their foreign policy. Today's wherever it develops. In fact is the third and last of the meantime, we are strengthening foreign policy statements. ourselves rapidly which I favor in order to meet any eventualities.

By LINDEEY BECKWORTH
Candidate for the U. S. Senate
While I have been in Congress, voting record for 14 years in Congress is more than 90 per cent, the people of Texas can have little doubt as to how I have stood on foreign questions. I have two boys and two girls and I have voted for every measure which has been before the House to strengthen and keep strong our country. For example, I voted after I became a member of Congress in January, 1939, I voted to fortify Guam when the issue was lost. Three years later, after Pearl Harbor, this vote was highly praised. The Guam vote is typical of my efforts to strengthen and keep strong America.

Will Do What Necessary
Our nation will do, and I favor this whatever is necessary to win the struggle in Korea. One nation will do, as it did in World Wars I and II, whatever is necessary to win any struggle in which it becomes involved and I favor this. With reference to the Korean effort in an atomic age as the one in which we live, there is a question of timing somewhat earlier to the question of timing of the second front in Europe in World War II. It was never a question of whether we would establish the second front.

Our Ability A Factor
Furthermore, the extent to which we endeavor to help freedom loving people must be determined by our ability to help. In helping, freedom loving people, as in the past, we are helping ourselves. When I am elected United States senator, as in the past, I shall vote my convictions on foreign policy legislation and all legislation. I am not obligated as I never have been to vote other than my convictions. Permit me to give one example. Not long ago, I was handling in the House, quite sometime before I was a candidate for the United States Senate a bill to help our former prisoners of war. A prominent Republican member of Congress arose on the floor to tell me the secretary of state and the State Department opposed the bill I was sponsoring on the floor of the House. I replied, as the Congressional Record will show, that this made no difference to me, for, in my opinion, the bill was a good bill. I passed the bill on the floor of the House and it became the law today. This is illustrative of my voting my convictions. I can assure the people of Texas that this same independence will characterize my votes and positions on foreign policies and other legislation too. The efforts our nation had made to bring about peace, though they have been costly, are much more economical than an all-out third World War would have been or would be. I feel our nation has been justified in making these efforts. As long as we honorably can work to bring about world peace, we should do so. As we work, however we must continue to strengthen and keep strong our country. We must go as far as we reasonably can go to retain the friendship of those who are friendly with us and to demonstrate as we have our attitude of fairness and reasonableness toward all peoples. Emphasis to unity should be placed on maintaining the friendships of the people of the Western Hemisphere. We must never appease

HERE'S WHAT "MAN IN THE MOON" WOULD SEE—If there were someone on the moon, here's an artist's conception of how a space ship from earth would appear to him, as it came in for a landing. A projected trip to the moon from the takeoff on earth, to arrival on the satellite, is the feature of New York's Hayden Planetarium presentation for July and August. The dome of the sky-theater has been converted to resemble the interior of a space ship.

Parked Car Halts RR
ELGIN, Ill. (AP) — When Donald L. Sprague of nearby Aurora visited this city again, he'll watch how he parks his car.
He parked his car on the Chicago and North Western Railroad tracks which cut diagonally through the downtown area. Police searched the town for Sprague when a train was blocked, tying up automobile traffic. Sprague finally showed up at the police station and reported his car was missing. Police told him he could reclaim it by paying charges incurred in towing his car away.

Hank Discovers Motels Offer Motorists Many Conveniences

By HENRY McLEMORE
PEARSALL, Texas — The greatest boon to mankind since the invention of the charge account is the modern-day motel.

Motels have every advantage of hotels and few of the inconveniences. Even the youngest motorist can remember when he had to stop on the outskirts of town and get "straightened up" to register in a hotel. He had to put on a tie. He had to comb his hair. He had to tuck his shirttail in very carefully. Hotel lobbies are sacred places and they must be crossed with dignity.

Motels take you as you are. They expect a man who has been driving all day to look very untidy. The manager usually (the owner) is seldom pseudo-fancy. He is as different from a hotel manager as a hotel manager is from a human being. He doesn't have an office on the mezzanine and doesn't act as if he were lighting you by honoring your credit card.

He or his wife just point to your room, hand you a key, and tell you that the best place to eat is about three blocks away, not the coffee room downstairs. No worrying about a place to park, no tip for a doorman, no waiting for the garage man to come and get your car, no waiting on the street for a bellhop to come down from the twelfth floor to get your bags, and best of all, no having to deal with a desk clerk.

I don't want to be harsh, but there is nothing quite so awful as a desk clerk in a hotel. The minute one puts on a pressed suit and a boutonniere he becomes a tyrant. Hotels are built to rent rooms to make money, but you'd never know it from the way desk clerks act. They give the impression of being jail keepers, not hosts. As brave as I am, I have never screwed up enough courage to ask one to change my room for another that was brighter or cooler.

By and large, desk clerks are all Anthony Edens with one day off a week. Motels are so much simpler, not to mention the fact that they give you a pitcher of ice water for free. To get nothing but a pitcher of ice water in a hotel, a man must call Room Service and be prepared to have Room Service say, "Is that ALL?" in a tone that makes it quite clear that Room Service doesn't like to fill such a minor request.

Most travelers are worriers, and they can't help worrying whether the things in their cars are safe during the night. Motels eliminate this threat. Your car spends the night very close to you, usually parked just outside the window. By raising your head off the pillow, you can peek out and see that there are no burglars looting your machine. This furnishes peace of mind with no garage bill.

Motels, mostly, are new and hotels, mostly, aren't. As much as I dislike plastic curtains, I'll take them over sooty old drapes that haven't been washed since Grandma quit making her own soap. And I prefer a clean, cheap rug to a carpet that makes your feet look like a blackface comedian if you take three steps bare-footed.

Winds blow at 1,000 miles an hour 100 miles above the earth, but the air is so thin they have little effect on an object reaching that height.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
THIS STATE OF TEXAS, County of Gray, vs. J. J. Barnard, the unknown heirs and legal representatives of J. J. Barnard, deceased, Jennie Barnard, also known as Jennie Barnard Johnston, and her husband Homer Johnston, the unknown heirs and legal representatives of Jennie Barnard Johnston, deceased, Mabel Killebrew and the unknown heirs and legal representatives of Mabel Killebrew, deceased, defendant, vs. Opal Kuykendall, plaintiff. You are hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable District Court 21st Judicial District of Gray County at the Courthouse thereof, in Pampa, Texas, by filing a written answer thereto on or before the 10th day of the first Monday next after expiration of forty-two days from the date of issuance of this citation, same being the 18th day of August A. D. 1952, to Plaintiff's Petition filed in said court on the 2nd day of July A. D. 1952. In this cause, numbered 10410 on the docket of said court and styled Opal Kuykendall et al. Plaintiff, vs. J. J. Barnard et al. Defendants. A brief statement of this suit is as follows, to-wit:

Plaintiff, Opal Kuykendall, joined her husband, H. C. Kuykendall, in an attempt to try title, alleging that on July 1, 1952, she was, and still is, the owner in fee simple of the following described real estate and premises situated in Gray County, Texas:

All of the Easterly one-half of Lot No. 3, Bk. No. 8 of the Crawford Addition to the City of Pampa, in Gray County, Texas.

On such day also she was in possession of such premises, and afterwards, on the 2nd day of July, 1952, the defendants and each of them, unlawfully entered upon and dispossessed plaintiff of such premises, and withheld from her the possession thereof.

Plaintiff further alleges to the court that she and those whose title she holds, claiming the same under deeds duly registered, have had peaceable, continuous and adverse possession of the lands and tenements above described, cultivating, using and enjoying the same, and paying all taxes as same became due thereon for a period of more than five years before Plaintiff further alleges to the court that she and those whose title she holds, have had peaceable and adverse possession of said land, cultivating and enjoying the same for more than ten years next before the commencement of this suit, during which period they have had such lands and tenements actually inclosed.

Plaintiff further alleges to the court that she and those whose title she holds, have had peaceable and adverse possession of said land and tenements, cultivating, using and enjoying the same, for a period of more than ten years before the commencement of this suit.

Plaintiff sues for title and possession of the above-described land and for general and special relief.

J. B. MAGUIRE JR. SEEKS TO SERVE THE PEOPLE OF GRAY COUNTY AS THEIR COUNTY JUDGE

Here Is His Message to His Fellow Citizens as The Time Nears for the Polls to Open:

I HAVE A TWO-PLANK PLATFORM:
GOOD GOVERNMENT
A GREATER GRAY COUNTY

To nail down those planks, it is my firm opinion that the holder of an office as important as that of county judge must possess a background suitable to the duties required by the position. I am ready, willing and, in all humility, consider myself able to serve my fellow citizens and the best interests of this resource-rich county. My family, religious, civic, fraternal and business life have endowed me with the enriching experience which I feel important to the exemplary conduct of this high office. The people of Gray County, in order that they may cast their ballots intelligently and conscientiously, deserve to know ALL about the man who seeks to serve them. My life and my record are available for any kind of inspection. I am proud of my progress in the legal and business fields. A county judge needs to be well backgrounded in both. I am proud of my civic and fraternal work. I am proud that I had the privilege of serving my country at war as a pilot with the United States Air Force. And I am proud of my lovely wife and two fine children who share with me my hopes for making this area a better place in which to live through service to its people. Vigor, diligence, energy, fairness, justice, honesty, integrity, impartiality, devotion to duty will be the watchwords of my office should you elect me your county judge. I pray for your vote of confidence when you go to the polls Saturday.

First Christian To Ordain Missionary To The Philippines

First Christian Church officials will ordain Leonard Brummett for the Christian Ministry and install him as a missionary to the Philippines at a service in the church Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Donald West, executive secretary of the foreign mission area where Brummett is to work, will be the main speaker for the ordination service. Rev. West will also deliver the address at the regular Sunday morning service of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Brummett will serve as the "living link" missionaries supported by the local church in cooperation with the United Christian Missionary Society, Indianapolis, Ind. They have each received commissions from the society in a special service there recently and Mrs. Brummett has been ordained by her home church.

A graduate of Pampa High School, Brummett has received his training for the ministry at Phillips University, Enid, Okla., and a theological seminary in Hartford, Conn.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. V. Brummett, south of Pampa.

The missionaries plan to leave Pampa August 16 and they will be presented a jeep and a trailer for their work from the church and the United Missionary Society.

H. L. Ledrick, missions committee chairman of the local church, will make this presentation at the close of the regular service Sunday morning.

At the ordination service Sunday evening Miss Charlotte Allison will play a prelude of music. The choir will sing "Holy, Holy, Holy," and Rev. H. H. Oxley, J. J. retiring pastor of the church, will give the invocation.

Scripture reading and special music will precede the ordination sermon by Rev. West on the subject "Qualifications of a Christian Missionary." Ordination by a presiding minister and church elders will conclude this part of the service.

The installation will include the missionary's statement of dedication, the congregation's pledge of loyalty, a prayer of dedication by Rev. Tyler, the benediction by Brummett and a postlude of music by Miss Allison.

An informal reception in Fellowship Hall of the church will be given for the missionaries by the church women.

Elders participating in the ordination and installation services will be Roy McMillen, Earl Cloud, Ray Wilson, E. B. Cartwright and B. G. Gordon.

Lions See Movie On Tubing Process; Name Wheatheart

Members of the Pampa Lions Club know a good bit more today about the process by which seamless steel piping and tubing is made than they did before seeing a movie, called "Walls Without Walls."

Produced by U. S. Steel Corporation, the film was shown Thursday at the weekly meeting of the club. Shown were the manner in which ingots were constructed from raw materials; the metallurgical process by which the ingots are rolled, smoothed and punctured down the middle to make them hollow; the reduction part of the operation in which the ingots are shaped to size; and the finishing floor where they are checked for commercial use.

Dr. Joe Donaldson, president, announced that Ann Jordan had been selected to represent the Pampa Lions at the annual Wheatheart Beauty Contest, held at Perryton in Mid-August.

The contest will be sponsored by the Lions in the Top O' Texas Rodeo parade. One will be named exclusively by Boy Scouts; the other will have many of the past year's Lions Club "sweethearts," girls chosen last month by the Lions to represent them for that month.

Henderson Facing Fine Of $10,000

AMARILLO (AP)—C. M. Henderson, convicted Farwell grain dealer, faced a total fine of $10,000 today, after a correction was made by Federal Judge Joe J. Dooley.

Judge Dooley made the correction yesterday, raising the fine from $500 in each of two counts to $5000 on each of two counts.

Henderson was sentenced to four years in prison and fined after being found guilty of converting government-owned grain to his own use.

CONTEST IS ON - Challenging any other table to beat his table mates selling tickets for the Kiwanis-sponsored Pampa Oilers-Lamesa Lobos game in Pampa next Friday night, Foster Whaley is pictured as he starts a contest rolling in the current ticket sales of the club at the regular luncheon today at noon.

Kiwanis is sponsoring "Our Appreciation Night" for the game. Answering the challenge, just to "make the fight interesting," were Jeff Bearden, Dr. Malcolm Wyatt, Tom Brooks, Ed La Porte and E. B. Bowman. The contest is on for the best group of salesmen. (News Photo)

Speaking of Republicans, it will be interesting to note how many will attend their precinct convention of another party on the automatically disqualify them for voting in the primary for county officials.

According to state law a voter may not participate in the primary of one party and the convention of another party on the same day.

However, a voter may attend the convention of one party and vote in the primary of another party, one held on separate days, weeks, or months. This means a voter who participated in the May 3 Republican convention may vote in the Democratic primary tomorrow. But he may not follow through by attending and participating in tomorrow's Republican convention.

With the local ballot battle comparatively quiet with the exception of county judge — none of the other county officials has opposition for reelection and there are a few scattered precinct contests.

Gray County has its ear turned to the national Democratic convention in Chicago.

Republicans in their conventions will do several things. They will elect a permanent convention chairman and secretary, elect a precinct chairman to serve for the next two years, by popular vote they will name a nominee for county chairman to be elected at the Aug. 2 county convention; name delegates to the county convention.

Following are precinct locations where primary elections, Democratic conventions and Republican conventions will be held:

PRIMARY ELECTIONS — Pct. 1 — Lefors School; Pct. 2 — Baker School; Pct. 3 — Grandview School; Pct. 4 — W. H. Blakey office, Abilene; Pct. 5 — City Hall, McLean; Pct. 6 — Laketon Store; Pct. 7 — C. C. Stockstill residence; Pct. 8 — Hopkins School; Pct. 9 — Woodrow Wilson School; Pct. 10 — Courthouse; Pct. 11 — Kingsmill store; Pct. 12 — Odd Fellows Hall; Pct. 13 — Phillips Community Hall; Pct. 14 — Horace Mann School; Pct. 15 — Carpenters Hall; Pct. 16 — Tom Rose Ford; Pct. 17 — Dysart Motor Co., McLean; Pct. 18 — Webb residence.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTIONS. Same as the Democratic primary polling places except Pct. 10 will be in the district court room in the Courthouse.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION: Pct. 1 — Lefors High School; Pct. 2 — Baker School; Pct. 3 — Grandview School; Pct. 4 — W. J. Ball office, Abilene; Pct. 5 — City Hall, McLean; Pct. 6 — Laketon Store; Pct. 7 — C. C. MAKES A REPORT

TO THE VOTERS

OF GRAY COUNTY

I have tried diligently to make Gray County a good Judge.

My record speaks for itself and I have tried to be fair in all matters that came before me. The rich and the poor have received the same treatment in the County Court.

I am glad to report to you that the financial condition of Gray County is better than it was when I took office.

I believe in the enforcement of all the laws of the State and I have been especially strict on drunken drivers and other liquor violations. As you know, this has been my record and I shall continue this record in the future if you should see fit to re-elect me as your County Judge.

I have given special attention to the enforcement of laws in regard to delinquent and dependent children. I have placed a number of parents in jail for failure to care for their children and a number of neglected children have been taken from their parents and placed in good homes. My attitude on this matter has not changed and if elected I shall continue to watch after the interests of the dependent and neglected children of this county.

I wish to thank you voters for the cooperation you have given me in the past and respectfully solicit your support and influence in the coming election.

Una Merkle Says Suicide Story Wrong

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Una Merkle wants her friends to know that she never felt better in her life. This is heartening news from the Kentucky-born actress, whose life has been haunted by tragedy. Only recently, it appeared that her troubles had passed to another for her. She was reported to have taken an overdose of sleeping pills. The news stories indicated that she had been dependent because she had not been working in the movies.

HE HAS A "HOT FOOT" FOR IKE—There's a long, long trail a-winding between New York and Chicago, and Abraham Nathanson, of Brooklyn, N. Y., covered every mile of it on foot. It took the Eisenhowyer admirer 33 days to tramp the trail leading to the Republican National Convention.

Language Made Easy

INS 1-14 LANGUAGE MAT CINCINNATI (AP)—Learning foreign languages is not the tedious grind it once was—at least not at the University of Cincinnati. Here the students have a large soundproof laboratory where they get acquainted informally with the language while they learn it. They have foreign-language records and movies, a tape recorder and a short-wave radio for foreign broadcasts and Voice of America broadcasts.

The four hours of lab work are in addition to three hours of regular classroom study each week. One beginning class conducted a debate entirely in Spanish after only four months study.

Dr. Chesley M. Hutchings, acting head of the department of romance languages, originated the group study method a number of years ago. The laboratory has been in operation since 1950.

100 Is Normal
DARWIN, Australia (AP)—The temperature at Tennant Creek, Central Australia, fell below 100 degrees on only 11 of 111 successive summer days recently. On most of the 11 days, it was over 98, but one day it cooled off to 92 degrees.

"Here's how it happened. I had been working hard in pictures. Then I accepted an offer to play in 'Come Back, Little Sheba' in Phoenix. When I arrived, my leading man was in a play, so we had trouble arranging rehearsals. It was a great strain. To top things off, it was the coldest winter in 52 years.

"When I got back here, I was exhausted. I had gotten a cold, so I thought the best thing to do was to go to bed and get a rest. I was alone, because my father was on a business trip to Mexico City. I called some friends of mine, and they got alarmed and came by. The next thing I knew, I woke up in the hospital."

The actress was abashed when she saw newspaper accounts of her collapse. She tried to explain that she had taken some sleeping pills by mistake, but the publicity damage had been done. She added that she had two concerns: the reaction of her father and that of the studio producers, "who had been so kind to me." As she expected, her father collapsed when he read the news, but she was able to reach him by phone and explain. The studio people showered her with bouquets and messages of cheer.

Scientists Use Care In Unearthing Bones

BRANFORD, Fla. (AP)—When scientists dig in the "Bone Hole" they go about it like a jeweler working with a tiny, delicate watch.

Looking for the bones of prehistoric animals—which have been taken from this spot in the sandhills of Gilchrist County in North Central Florida for several years—the scientists do their "heavy" digging with a light pick. But when a bone is located, the tools are grapefruit knives, harness needles, toothpicks and soft brushes. The bones which have been here an estimated 20 to 30 million years, are quite fragile. When a bone is freed from the soil it

OUR TOWN
Wanda Campbell

One of the most interesting organizations in our town is the Pampa Art Club. Entering because we can see their accomplishments. The group, like other women's summer, but we're sure these local artists and craftsmen are still close to their first love — painting. Their objective is to create and promote interest among Pampa artists, but they also manage to stir up a lot of interest outside their group. One of Pampa's first promoters of art was Mrs. Joan Andrews, whose home is filled with her paintings of far-away places and of her favorite scenes over the Panhandle. She usually has a group of young people around eager to learn what she teaches about painting. Mrs. Ervin Pursley is still studying art in Amarillo. Mrs. A. C. Cox and Mrs. N. B. Ellis are usually busy with their china painting. Miss Roy Ritty, who teaches art in junior high school, exhibited some fine work at one art club meeting last spring. She probably has more time for her painting this summer. Not all our artists are connected with the art club. Claude Mail, illustrator of children's books has done numerous portraits of Pampans. And Mrs. Jack Dunham carries a sketch book and pencil around like other women carry purses. The art club presented many worthwhile programs and exhibits last year, and we're looking forward to next year's programs. And even though a picture may be worth a thousand words, we couldn't resist stringing these words together to praise the cultural efforts of this club.

Giants Take Second Straight From Cards, Begin Big Push

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Are the New York Giants starting their big push? Two straight over the red hot St. Louis Cardinals while Brooklyn split four with their "cousins" from Cincinnati has Giants.

Not that they ever gave up. But the sight of the Dodgers vanishing into the distance with no sign of help from the Reds, Braves and Pirates was enough to discourage the struggling grounds.

Still 6 1-2 games behind the Brooklyn Giants can draw new hope from the performance of Max Lanier, the ex-Cardinal. A sad disappointment in early spring, Lanier appears to be rounding into his old hot weather form. At least he has the weather running his way.

Funk Meets Clements Tonight; Champ Plays Second Fiddle

Tonight's wrestling matches at Oiler Park marks an occasion where a title holder has to take a semi-final match instead of the preferred main event.

Cowboy Carlson is the victim of this circumstance and the only reason he is not on the main event is the fact that Dory Funk and Big Train Clements are meeting each other in a rematch of the one held here several weeks ago.

Their match will be a two out of three fall affair with a 45 minute time limit attached to it. In the big event of the evening, Clements and Funk will be going against each other in a two out of three fall event. There will be no time limit on this match.

Bobby Thomson, Dave Williams, Sal Yvars and Jim Rhodes hit home runs in the Giants' 11-hit attack on loser Harry Brecheen and three others.

The Giants almost made up more ground but Brooklyn came back to shade Cincinnati, 2-1, on Duke Snider's 11th inning homer after the Reds had won the first half of a doubleheader, 3-2.

Amarillo Sox Reach Fourth

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Amarillo Gold Sox, in the West Texas-New Mexico League cellar only last Saturday, moved into the upper division last night. They defeated second-place Albuquerque for the second night in a row, this time 7-4.

Meanwhile, the Clovis Pioneers barely edged out the Borger Gasers 14-13. Lubbock collected a 9-7 win from Lamesa, and Abilene defeated Pampa 12-4.

It was the Gold Sox' eighth straight victory and their 20th in the last 24 games. They now are only 1 1/2 games out of second place.

Merv Connors slugged a two-run homer for Amarillo in the third, his 28th this season. Cully Rikard and Art Cutti each hit for the circuit for Albuquerque.

Clovis, leading the circuit by a fat margin, almost blew a nine-run lead in the sixth. Red Dial, who lost Wednesday night's game to Borger, relieved starter Jack Gaines in Clovis big inning and went on to win.

Besselink Leads Sioux City Open

SIoux CITY, Ia. (AP) — A Besselink, a friendly curly-haired blond, may be on his way to picking up some big money along professional golf's tournament trails.

The big fellow, making his first full-year swing over the PGA tour, went into the second round of the $15,000 Sioux City Open today with a two-stroke lead over his nearest foe. He got there with a 65, seven under par, for the 6,306-yard Elmwood Course.

Besselink, who registers from Escondido, Calif., because the Chicago company for whom he worked moved west, said it was lucky to get that 65. "But PGA officials aren't so sure."

One said the 28-year-old Merchantville, N. J., native has been "a threat in tournaments all season. One of these times he's going to break through." If he does he'll take a $2,400 first place prize away from here, perhaps to Escondido, a place he admits he never has seen.

With a chance to gain on the Yankees, both the runnerup Boston Red Sox and Washington fell down. Boston was shut out by Chicago's Lou Kretlow, 3-0, winning his first game of the season. Kretlow, the fellow who hits that long golf ball, allowed only two hits and struck out nine. Sam White doubled in the second and Faye Thronberry beat out a bunt in the third for the only hits.

Basketball Squad And Mathias Take Spotlight In The Olympics

HELSINKI (AP) — The tall United States Basketball team and Bob Mathias took the center of the Olympic spotlight today, temporarily shoving aside the record-breakers of the regular track and field program.

America's two-platoon basketball squad opened its defense of the title the United States has always won since the sport was added to the Olympic program, by whipping Hungary 66 to 48 with an unimpressive performance.

Argentina's speedy team looked very good in the opening game as it whipped the Philippines, 85 to 69.

The United States advanced to the second round in the fencing team competition, winning eight bouts in the first round and edging out Russia, 29-31 on hits, in its pool. Russia also qualified for the next round.

Mathias, defending champion in the decathlon who set a new world record for the 10 events in winning the American tryouts, scored 1725 points in the first two events.

That left Mathias, at that stage, 10 points behind Milton Campbell, the Plainfield, N.J. school boy, but the handsome Tulare, Calif., athlete held the favorite's role.

Oilers Drop Fifth Straight; Lose To Blue Sox, 12-4

ABILENE (AP) — Crafty Fred Schmidt reverted to a semblance of his 1951 form Thursday night to keep the Pampa Oilers subdued while his Blue Sox mates pounded out a 12-4 victory over Bob Votaw and Mel Neel.

It was a series-winning triumph, the second in a row over Pampa, and it strengthened Abilene's grip on sixth place in the WT-NM League standings.

Abilene's work by stepping on second to catch Auerback and throwing to Billy Cox at first to complete the double play.

The Oilers dropped their fifth straight game Thursday night to the Blue Sox, 12-4. Schmidt's early reception was not so pleasant for Blue Sox partisans. Young Hal Haynes, the former SMU diamond star, recently returned from a summer military camp, rejoined the Oilers Thursday and started his comeback with a hot triple to right field to open the game.

Abilene got the run back in the first inning, Day drawing a walk, going to third on Williams' single, scoring on Jay Hancy's fly to within a few feet of the center field fence, Woldt making a circus catch.

NEW YORK (AP) — Jack Hurley, the old fight luckerster from out West, has been having the time of his life upsetting a lot of big city dudes who thought they had at least a nodding acquaintance with all the angles.

Ever since he hit this humid town with his gladiator, Harry Matthews, Hurley has flatly refused to conform to any of the recognized rules, with the result that some of those who must try to pick the winner of Matthews' s-rap with Rocky Marciano on Monday night have developed serious cases of the jumps.

Who Was The Winner In The Oil Strike?

Who won the oil strike? The oil workers' unions? Ask the average worker in a struck refinery if it was worth being out of work for four weeks! Did the oil companies win? Ask the stockholders who own the refineries that were shut down by picket lines! And, of course, long-suffering John Q. Public never wins anything!

Although remarkably few people seem aware of it, oil refinery workers are the best paid industrial employes in America today. They were close to the top even before the strike, and had been offered still another pay boost. The current round of wage settlements in the oil industry has elevated the average weekly pay of refinery workers to an estimated $91 a week, for a 40 1/2 hour week. That figures out to $2.24 an hour, the highest average hourly wage in the nation.

It cost the average oil worker who walked out approximately $340 to participate in that strike! Simple arithmetic will show that it will take the employee who was on strike for only a week, about 70 weeks — well over a year — to make up the pay he lost. If he joined a strike for a month, he will have to work for nearly six years to regain his lost pay.

In view of the high wages in refineries, and considering that the oil unions had rejected substantial wage increases offered by the oil companies months before the strike, it seems obvious that the unions could not have had any serious complaints about their wage rates. Then what was all the shouting about? It couldn't have been about other employe benefits, for the oil worker has a very liberal measure of these, just as he has top-quality working conditions. It wouldn't have been about the right of collective bargaining, which has long been guaranteed him.

The only conclusion we can draw is that the unions' real objective is the creation of one big "super-union" that would hold the whip hand over the whole industry through industry-wide bargaining without regard for local conditions.

Did the oil workers win their strike? Ask the man who lost $340 in pay! The oil companies? Hardly, with their sales off 50 million barrels during the strike period! The public? You're the public — what did you win? Who won the oil strike? Nobody!

Deserved Recognition

Representative government and individual liberty are not automatically self-perpetuating. It is good to be reminded occasionally of the constant struggle to keep our freedom which is a part of our normal daily lives. A significant example of this occurred in Wisconsin recently when a power and light company was presented the first annual Americanism award of the Department of Wisconsin, American Legion. The recipient, along with scores of other electric companies, has been a leader in the fight to stop Socialism in the United States. Hundreds of executives of investor-owned, taxpaying utilities have given their time unstintingly in a virtual crusade to make the people understand that government in business — any business — is unregulated, tax exempt competition with private citizens is socialism and will ultimately destroy the American system of government and private ownership of property.

In presenting the award the commander of the Wisconsin American Legion said: "The men who led our nation to freedom also framed a form of government intended to guarantee continuance of that freedom. They were given the foresight to provide a pattern of government which would provide barriers against the avowice of dictators.

"But merely having the instruments for good government is not enough. The fundamental principles of freedom must be told and re-told to every generation and to every citizen lest we lose sight of the basic reasons why our nation has grown great and strong.

"We must do this to supply a basis of comparison for the isms which certain segments of our population advocate as a substitute for good Americanism.

"This job of re-education is not for the American Legion alone or for a few individuals or a few small groups. It must be reinstated as a basic philosophy of American living in the every day thinking of Americans."

Congress And Control

When Congress extended the economic controls, it added a significant statement of policy which began: "It is hereby declared to be the policy of the Congress that the President shall use the price, wage, and other powers conferred by this Act, as amended, to promote the earliest practicable balance between production and the demand therefor of materials and services and that the general control of wages and prices shall be terminated as rapidly as possible consistent with the policies and purposes set forth in this Act."

The policy statement said further that controls should be suspended in the case of commodities or services where supply is abundant, and the going price is below ceiling.

It is evident from this that Congress is wearying of the controls, even though the majority decided against their total elimination at this time. And there is every reason why Congress should instruct the President to terminate them in the relatively near future. On the purely practical side, almost no goods are in short supply today, in many cases production has been outrunning consumption and, due to the inexorable pressure of competition, many articles have been selling at retail below the legal ceiling.

Far more important, the controls disrupt the orderly workings of our splendid production and distribution system. They place heavy, costly and discouraging burdens on the farmer, manufacturer, retailer and all others concerned. They add an unnecessary and destructive element of uncertainty to business operations. And they tend to do the most damage to the small business, with limited financial and other assets.

Congress' policy statement foreshadows that happy day when all controls shall die.

Better Jobs

By R. C. HOILMS

"Toil, Taxes And Trouble" I want to commend a new book that might, if enough people read it, change the course of history. It is "Toil, Taxes and Trouble" by Vivien Kellems. The introduction is by Rupert Hughes. It will be remembered that Vivien Kellems is the lady who has a manufacturing plant in Connecticut and refused to deduct for the government taxes from her employees. She has been trying for years to get the United States government to bring a test case to determine whether or not she is a criminal.

Rupert Hughes says of her: "Like other martyrs to a high and highly-held principle she offered herself as a sacrifice for a cause she believed sacred."

He also says of her that her life has already had an important effect on our national thinking, and will undoubtedly have more. It certainly will have if enough people read this little book of 159 pages.

Mr. Hughes also observes: "The author is one of the most brilliant and noble of American women, and I am convinced that the reader of this book will not only be sadder and wiser, but will be captivated and thrilled by it. Written by a woman, it should appeal especially to women, as well as to men."

I will confess that I had a little belated understanding of the Constitution after I had read this book, although I had long believed that a graduated income tax and inheritance tax were one of the primary reasons of our being so socialist—one of the primary reasons of our losing our freedom. This is true because people do not understand that taking the money from big producers who could re-invest it in tools and machinery for the very people it is intended to help. When the majority of voters believe that the rich can pay the taxes and do not believe that it hurts them, they naturally want the government to tax more and more things which reduce the accumulation of the tools that the working man needs if we are to have a larger population and an ever increasing standard of living.

Vivien asks this question: "Why do you suppose the Constitution is so specific and so explicit that Federal taxes shall be uniform and apportioned among the States? For one reason only: Our forefathers were determined to build a republic, with equal opportunity and equal responsibility for each and every one of us. They knew that the power to tax is the power to destroy, and they did not wish to have one group of citizens, or one part of the country penalized for the unfair advantage of another."

"How wise and farsighted they were! For one hundred and twenty-five years this was our traditional, constitutional system of taxation, and under it we built the richest, most powerful nation in the world. We developed and maintained for the majority of our people, a standard of living, undreamed of in any other country, the hope and the envy of all the world."

"And then what happened? We chucked our proved system of taxation out the window, and we passed the income tax. Gone was our uniformity, gone was our apportionment among the States. And with uniformity and apportionment went a great deal more—our fundamental American rights."

Then Vivien explains the fight before Congress in 1939 when the 16th Amendment was being advocated. She lays a lot of the responsibility for this Amendment to Cordell Hull. She also explains that both the Democratic and Republican parties were guilty of the great disservice to the American people.

She pays quite a tribute to the patriots of the ages who have put their lives in moral laws above their civil laws. She points out that Henry D. Thoreau refused to pay taxes and while in prison he wrote the immortal document "Civil Disobedience." It was the reading of "Civil Disobedience" which determined the whole course of Gandhi's life.

Vivien recognizes that there are New Deal Republicans as well as New Deal Democrats. She says: "The New Deal has cost the valued American money more than American lives."

She tells how she couldn't sleep at night and would get up in the middle of the night and drink a cup of coffee and put it down in writing. This is how she formulated her fight against the withholding tax. She writes:

"All we want is for the Government to give back to the American people the money which is rightfully theirs, the money for which they work and which they earn, and we'll pay our own doctors' bills, we'll educate our own children, and we'll once more become self-respecting, self-reliant citizens."

Certainly she is talking common sense there.

She has a fine intelligent discussion on "Our Right to Own Something." She tells how our founding fathers resisted taxation without representation and how they defied the law. She says:

"The Sons of Liberty drove out the Stamp Masters, burned the stamps, then habitually read unstamped newspapers, sued their neighbors on unstamped legal documents, and married on unstamped licenses."

"Their slogan in that war was not a silly 'War to End All Wars,' or an even sillier 'War to Make the World Safe for Democracy.' It wasn't a war to force the FOUR Freedoms upon a more or less unwilling world. Nor was it to establish a highly touted Atlantic Charter, which apparently didn't even exist except as a figment of someone's fertile imagination and every tenet of which was violated in the agreements at Yalta, Tehran and Potsdam. They were not fighting the greatest absurdity of all time, a 'limited' or 'preventive' war. How can a war be 'limited' or 'preventive'? War is war, isn't it?"

"The founding fathers emerged from that war with a profound knowledge of one eternal truth: the basis of all freedom in this world is the right of the individual

Two newly married men were talking. One said, "Let's take our wives out tonight and have some fun." The other said, "Fine, where shall we leave them?"

Minister—And what did you say your age was? (making a pastoral pun.)

Minister—I'm 35.

Minister—Come, come. Anyone would say you were 10 years younger.

Minister—I know. I've said it myself but none of my friends will believe me.

A man who had eaten lunch at a cafe for 17 years was asked at the way prices were expanding, while portions continued to shrink. One day he scowled down at his tray and said to the girl who had served him three miraculously thin slices of roast beef: "Lady, do you guarantee them to fit any standard safety razor?"

"Bill Butts, who beat up his wife Saturday night, will be out of the hospital in about ten days, if everything goes well."

The gentleman stopped at the cocktail bar for a few bracers before going to dinner, but sort of got anchored there. Finally he addressed the bartender.

to keep for himself the fruits of his labor—the right to earn, to accumulate, to administer, and to pass on to his posterity, private property."

This book is as interesting as any novel. I believe that every person who reads this book will become a better American and be better able to advocate, promote and advance freedom and liberty. If one does nothing more than read this book and pass it on to another, he will be rendering a splendid service.

Fair Enough....

Third Party Not Unthinkable But No Definite Plans Afoot

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1952, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

CHICAGO — The Democrats finally got bored with themselves after a week of polite and relatively harmonious restraint and blew a number of gaskets which sent old Alben Barkley and Sen. Dick Russell, of Georgia, to the junkyard.

Barkley, the not unhappy butt of a crop of lewd convention humor or having to do with his age, took himself out of the contest for the Democratic nomination with a resounding squawk against the union racketeers who have been haunting these connptions and threatening all and sundry with nameless horrors on an assumption that they control a fictitious labor vote.

The CIO finally decided against the old Kentucky woe that on the ground that, at 74, he was too far along to be of sufficient service to the cause of protected naythen, exhortation, sabotage and homicide. This was a tender subject with the veep, the news so because he had put up with a great deal of loss of comedy and his young wife had been picked at by ladies of the Fourth Estate. These are plain, essential facts of life at this grand rally of the Party of Harmony and a commentary on the morale, moorings and tests of the crew which already has decided that its wars, larcenies and acts of treason and the ruddy personal scandals of the White House circle for 20 years are nothing to be ashamed of.

The old man had put himself over the jumps ever since his arrival in Chicago last Friday in an effort to belie his years and a professional political agent for one of his rivals put a rumor into circulation that, pretending not to need his specs, he had missed a step and fallen on his face. There was no outward mark of any such mishap, however, and Barkley's worst enemy could not honestly deny that he was rugged and spry and only slightly shrunken, in short, a lower-case Bernarr MacFadden.

On balance, however, the CIO's repudiation of a shameless stogie was no worse than he had every right to expect on the basis of his career. Barkley was a Roosevelt Dealer of deepest hue and had carried on under Truman with never an outward twitch to betray a pang of conscience. Now, as his reward for long, unrelieved deaseament, a career in which he had helped the unions and built that accretion of billions of the great criminal bands to yellow-dog thousands of his old Kentucky neighbors, he was glibly with these cold-eyed ingrates with the cutting proviso that they loved him "dearly" but, frankly, thought he would either crack or sink into apoplexy within four years.

Early in his political life had Barkley been charged with loyalty to any honorable principle, and his servility to the union racketeers was by no means the least of these manifestations. He knew the AFL was absolutely crawling with crooks of all the coarser categories and he knew his party had been guilty of reviving slavery through the Wagner Act for the particular benefit of the CIO.

So he had been a full accomplice in all these years, trading services for votes, and this deplacement, though a mournful end to a sordid career, was, after all, only a routine falling out of partners in perfidy.

Russell himself thought he was still in the contest as late as Tuesday night but he had cut his own throat several days ago when he tried to seduce the racketeers with a condemnation of Taft-Hartley.

This earned him the contempt of his own following as well as the scorn of the CIO's political agents on the spot, who instinctively recalled Tom Dewey's indorsement of Wagner Act in 1944 as a confirmed and permanent feature of our government. Never for an instant did Dewey's high though not always honest intelligence let him in for any such absurdity as that, and the unions gave him the foot in November not because they loathed him but because they had a more useful rascal in their service at the time whom they also held in contempt.

Russell's coterie of Southern tripper traders who wave the Stars and Bars and bawl in sweet magnolia measures against old Satan's nefarious works in Washington, promptly closed around him to have their pitchers look, showing that they, too, were leek, progressive fellows. But the CIO was not convinced by this munimery and so the ADA or Americans for Democratic Action, hollered into the wind a report that Russell had decided to follow Barkley through the obliette.

It brought a yowl from Russell, who suddenly discovered that ADA was a Socialist conspiracy trying to take over the Democratic Party. He said Barkley's ending yelp had strengthened his candidacy by revealing the true nature of ADA which had been loudly exposed in these and other pastarals throughout the last four years with never

National Whirligig... Ike Must Disclaim Tom Dewey To Win Race, Experts Believe

By RAY TUCKER

CHICAGO — The Eisenhower-Nixon ticket's principal plan and hope of November victory depends on several factors.

Democrats preparing to depart from this convention city are praying that Ike will stumble because of political ignorance or his reliance on unwise men from the East — mainly, Gov. Tom Dewey of New York and his Wall Street cronies, political and financial.

General Eisenhower and Senator Nixon must stage an aggressive and sparkling campaign against Trumanism and "New Dealism," which no GOP combination has dared to do in recent years under the Willie Dewey leadership.

Ike must get rid of the ballot-box albatross which Albany and downtown Manhattan have hung around his party's neck since 1940, according to the new GOP leadership.

CRUCIAL — The GOP, as even the Democrats concede, have named their strongest ticket in a generation. If they cannot win with this dual, and if they suffer a fifth successive defeat on Nov. 4 the Republicans might as well fold up.

In a real sense, Eisenhower's domestic, political "crusade" is as crucial as his landing on Normandy beaches eight years ago.

But there is strong evidence of Republican suspicion, pain and dissent in Taft territory in the politically important Mississippi Valley, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, etc., and in Warren - Knowland's Far West.

Midwesterners do not like the rejection of Sen. Taft, who has framed, spoken and voted their conservative views on Capitol Hill for many years. However, being conservative people, they will vote for Eisenhower under certain conditions.

How he reacts to their demands may determine whether Eisenhower will be the next President of the United States.

HATRED — The people in the Middle West — strawhats on the subway, as it were, are the bitterest of Dewey. They regard him as the architect of political defeat. To them Dewey is a man of disaster.

Furthermore, it is awfully hard for the people in New York or northeastern United States to realize how great and deep is the hatred of Dewey out here.

Unless he publicly repudiates the New York governor, which would be difficult to do without a show of ingratitude, Eisenhower may run as poorly in the nation's heartland as Dewey did in 1940 and 1946, not in normally Republican states.

The people out here "like Ike." But they don't like his Dewey, any word of agreement, to say nothing of any cooperation from any of these gasbags.

And, perhaps too late, for the young man had shown flashes of the genius of the greatest taker of them all, Russell took a weak, faltering swipe at Franklin Roosevelt, Jr., whose speech had roused them Monday night. Young Moosejaw, an oily mountebank with the old man's splendid contempt for popular intelligence and honor, was elected to Congress from a district in which he did not live on the private ticket of Dave Dubinsky's Liberal Party, a department of the Garment Workers' Union. He defeated the regular Democratic nominee, a Jewish maggot.

A district almost altogether Jewish. He never rejoined the Democratic Party but was qualified for this convention by resolution of a party committee during his absence in Europe.

But, now, without the slightest embarrassment and relying on his old man's estimate of people, junior belloyed out against those who might refuse to support the candidate of this convention, and thus by implication read Senator Russell out of the party.

Russell retorted faintly to Roosevelt as one "who came into public life as the nominee of the American Labor Party," which was incorrect, for Dubinsky broke with the ALP years ago in an ideological hair-split, and unimportant because nobody knew he meant junior.

It was not a happy conclave. Although they had just about settled Adlai Stevenson, a political queer of indefinite lines, a cursory inspection of his form chart plainly ruled him out of consideration in the South. He had twice tried to cram through the Illinois legislature bills to force employers to hire persons whom they did not trust or whose presence would cause fights among the help, and he proved to have been an active worker in the ADA Socialist movement for years.

The illusion that Stevenson was a little to the right of Truman was shattered by old facts and as his name rose in the swells of sound it was more and more certain that he was only very little to the right of Browder.

Having openly challenged ADA at last, Russell may have done more than he knew, for this thing is now dominant in the Truman - Communist section and very influential in Eisenhower's Socialist-Republican Party. Politics are yeasting in both parties now and a third party not unthinkable although there are at present no firm plans.

Aldrich, Henry Luce backers New same financial and publicity New York crowd which put over Wendell Willkie in 1940 and Dewey in 1944 and 1948.

Unless Eisenhower finds a way to tell off these eastern politicians and financiers, he is a goner.

AMAZING — In view of Dewey's great executive ability as governor of New York, it is amazing that he should be the most hated and despised man in American politics. He probably ranks with such disliked political characters as Henry Clay, John Calhoun, James G. Blaine and William Jennings Bryan.

In the opinion of the midwest political authorities he must throw Dewey to the wolves, or I o s e about 100, midwestern electoral votes.

TREATMENT — California's two great political leaders, Governor Warren and Senator Knowland, are not too happy over their treatment by General - Nominee Eisenhower at Chicago.

After he was nominated, he was given a list of seven vice-presidential potentials. He picked Senator Nixon because he was the least vulnerable to attack.

JEOPARDIZED — But the important and anti - Eisenhower factor is that he did not consult Warren or Knowland before deciding on young Nixon. Earl and "Bill" might sit on their hands on November 4.

Had Ike behaved so ineptly in his World War II relations with Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin, we might have lost World War II.

His managers' poor strategy at Chicago has jeopardized his chances of victory. Ike's must be a sparkling campaign to offset Dewey delinquencies.

Pampa, Texas July 23, 1952

To the Editor: In Monday's Clearing House column in the "Pampa News" Mr. "A" Neel, city commissioner, not only did not clear the house, but failed to keep more dirt from getting under the rug.

Mr. "A" Neel, city commissioner was, and is, perfectly aware of the fact that the group to which he refers was called together to receive and circulate the petitions calling for the charter amendment election. The next day they proceeded to do this and secured nearly a thousand names.

It was not a public forum, though everyone present was given an opportunity to say his say. All four commissioners were present, because this matter will affect the offices which each of them hold. This was a matter of proper courtesy.

Mr. Neel is quoted as follows: "When I took the oath of office, I swore before Almighty God as a witness, that I would, to the best of my ability, handle the affairs of your city to the best advantage of all concerned and I intend to live up to my solemn oath of office."

If such statement is true in fact, what objection does Mr. Neel have to being voted upon by all the citizens of this City, whom he says he represents? Since he states that he is serving all the voters, why not let them approve or disapprove the conduct of this office?

Under the proposed amendments to the city charter Mr. Neel can run for any one of the four offices of commissioner, or for mayor. Is his squeamishness to discuss the real issues behind upon his fear of a city-wide election in April, 1953?

May I suggest to Mr. "A" Neel, city commissioner, that if he wants to talk about something, why doesn't he talk about advantages and blessings of the ward system of city politics?

Good government requires work from all the citizens of the community, harmoniously, and with the mention of making Pampa a better place in which to work, live and rear our families. The workers for good government are working in Pampa, and using the office of city commissioner to engage in petty disputes and guttering generalities will not succeed. Ward politicians have harmed the development of man, citizen in the country until the citizenry realized that its governing body must represent the city and not merely a geographical area in order for the city to progress.

The issues in the charter election will be presented to the people. We have faith that they will not be confused by slick issues and personalities. We have faith that the majority of our citizens want good, clean, civill-minded government, and we believe that they will vote for good government in the charter election.

Mr. Murphy, as he was known to the small fry, had been imbibing heavily. He hunched graciously down the avenue and ran into his priest. Mr. Murphy—Father, (moaning unappetizingly) I'm so sorry. Priest—So am I, Patrick. How much have you had to put you in this condition? Mr. Murphy—Only eight glasses of beer and three of whiskey. Priest—Good heaven! I can't drink even four glasses of water, can I? Mr. Murphy—And myner can I.

Straight Ahead

Opportunity knocks. God is calling. Their eyes are on the future and their ears attuned to the marvelous workings of His great universe. They are the new Adam and Eve; here the race gets a fresh start. The family, the state, the church will be determined by the "Straight Ahead" way they go. Our hope is here.

Love and faith conquer the world. Earth and sea, and sky do their bidding as they go forward to possess the earth. Clean of blood, alert of mind, and warm of heart, they "press onward to the mark of the high calling which is in Christ Jesus." They learned in church that they would need the Shepherd's staff when they pass through the valley of the shadow. They know that a profound trust in Almighty God will deliver them to the port of entry to the Kingdom of God, as they march determinedly "Straight Ahead."

RANCH FOR SALE
The most wonderful bargain in the United States. Nothing else like it. $50,000 acres well improved, carrying capacity 5,000 head per year. Good grass, winter and summer. Well fenced and cross fenced. Well watered troughs, etc. Three small pastures, ranging from one inch to four inch pipe. Seven wells and windmills. A number of springs which flow into pipelines and are taken by gravity to various parts of the range. One large pasture of six sections with large pastures of three sections, one large pasture of six sections with scales for weighing, loading chutes, etc. There are three headquarters ranch houses with corrals, barns, etc. Six loading chutes, 1,600 head fine cattle can be bought with this at market prices if desired. There are two service stations with small stores located near the center of the range on a main highway. This car can be bought with 20 per cent cash. Balance good terms. Total price $55,000. This is a fraction over 60 cents per acre. And if it were cut up in 100 section ranches it would be cheap at $5.00 per acre. This is located in the south less than 300 miles of Old Mexico. Some mineral rights. For further information write or phone—

Deferment For Defense Workers

AUSTIN (AP) — A draft deferment plan to increase the number of skilled defense workers in Texas was announced today.

Deferments would be authorized for draft registrants who are employed as apprentices in programs accepted by the State Selective Service for deferment purposes.

Eligible for deferments would be men in approved apprentice programs for boiler-makers, metal repairmen, machinists, glass makers, tool and die makers, the queen of spades to complete

IT'S YOUR DEAL Pinochle Needs Math Ability

By OSWALD JACOBY and ALFRED SHEINWALD
Written for NEA Service
"Please state the probability of finding a favorable card in the widow at three-hand auction pinochle," requests a Pittsburgh correspondent.

a flush. What is your chance of finding one of the queens of spades in the widow?

"Also, what is the chance of finding a favorable card if you have more than one card in mind? For example, suppose that the queen of spades gives you a flush, while the ace of hearts gives you 100 aces and the king of diamonds gives you kings.

"What is the chance of finding at least one favorable card; when you have all these possibilities?" The short answer to this question is that the chance isn't good enough. If you play pinochle often, however, you probably want to have the figures written down somewhere for reference.

First, however, it's necessary to say exactly what we mean by a favorable card. Every card in the pinochle pack is duplicated. For example, there are two queens of spades, and so on.

If you want a queen of spades, with two missing, that must be counted as two possibilities. If you have a nine of trumps in your hand and want to draw the other nine of trumps, that must be counted as only one possibility.

There are 546 possible widows of three cards. Our chance of finding a favorable card in the widow depends on how many possibilities are favorable. The table follows:

One possibility. (The only favorable card is a duplicate of a card already in your hand.) 496 cases. The odds are 10 to 1 against you.

Two possibilities. (For example, either queen of spades.) 961 cases. The odds are 14 to 3 against you.

Three possibilities. 1396 cases. The odds are 3 to 1 against you.

Four possibilities. 1802 cases. The odds are 2 to 1 against you.

Five possibilities. 2180 cases. The odds are 3 to 2 against you.

Six possibilities. 2531 cases. The odds are 4 to 3 against you.

Seven possibilities. 2856 cases. The odds are 14 to 13 in your favor.

Eight possibilities 3156 cases. The odds are 4 to 3 in your favor.

The average Argentine eats about 267 pounds of meat a year and the average Australian or New Zealander 245 pounds as against about 148 pounds for the average American.

Methods Of Grocery Shopping Give Away Summer Bachelor

By SAM DAWSON
NEW ORK (AP) — In the cartoons you tell the summer bachelor by the sink full of dirty dishes. In reality you spot him quicker by watching him shop at the grocery store.

He's the one reading the labels so carefully and weighing the cans in his hands. He thinks he is doing a mathematical job on comparative values — weight vs. price. He is sure his vacationing wife doesn't, and probably even couldn't, do this.

Scornful women shoppers, who elbow him out of their way to pick up the can he has just rejected, know his wife has other standards of value. And the women suspect the summer bachelor is just trying to divine what actually is in the can — an old story to them — and hoping for guidance from the label, or heaven, as to how he could prepare for contents.

Men are becoming increasingly numerous in grocery stores. At some hours at least 50 per cent of the customers are men, mostly buying what their wife has ordered.

Real bachelors often are knowledgeable. But the summer bachelor is a thing apart.

Watch him in the vegetable department, waiting to catch the scornful clerk's eye and carefully holding the sweet potato he picked for its rosy color unaware that means it's probably a yam.

Five women have already rejected it because it has soft ends and signs of being rotten in the core.

After three women shoppers have come up, pushed in ahead of him and departed, the summer bachelor gets his potato into the clerk's hands. The clerk sighs with relief and thanks providence for summer bachelors, who don't know their groceries but keep grocers prosperous.

But when it's all over, the summer bachelor usually cleans up that sink.

Japs Probe Mines
TOKYO (AP) — Japanese experts by request, are probing mines in the Philippines, Thailand and India, seeking ways of expanding production.

The economic journal, Nihon Keizai, reported the calls on Japanese geologists and mining experts. One mining company promised to send its ace geologist to the Apari copper mine in the Philippines.

FACING CHARGES
Elmer Yearwood, 42, of 830 E. Gordon, is facing charges in justice of the peace court of failure to stop at an official stop sign on Farm Hwy. 750, which meets State Hwy. 273 a mile south of Pampa.

Yearwood is scheduled to appear by July 28.

Cook, Wedgeworth Are Invited To WT Chamber Meet

MIDLAND — Charles B. Cook, president, and E. O. Wedgeworth, manager of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, have been invited to attend a meeting of the Community Services Committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce July 30 at its Abilene headquarters, according to Bill Collyns of Midland, chairman of the committee.

Committee members include the presidents and managers of the local chambers of commerce of the 132-county WTCC territory, and several dozens of others.

Ralph E. Duncan is manager of the Community Services department, for which the committee is the policy-making body. Collyns said purposes of the meeting are to report the department's activities, to plan its work, to announce tentative plans and dates for a Short Course for Chamber of Commerce managers and office secretaries, and to inform the local presidents and managers of services available from the department. The first open hearth steel furnace was set up in 1948.

AUTHOR OF:

- Present law under which all veterans of World War I have been attending Texas colleges and universities tuition free.
- Canadian River Dam Compact Commission Bill.
- Bill that preserved Palo Duro State Park for Panhandle enjoyment, and also procured paved road in the Park.
- Bill which refunded 2% for evaporation and shrinkage to filling station operators.
- Approximately 35 other bills for special localities, such as Tax Remission Bill for Higgins' tornado area; local school bills.

OPPOSED:

- Chairman of subcommittee that killed attempt to take away the gasoline tax refund to farmers and other non-highway users.
- Vigorously opposed first underground water bills which would have compelled users to go to Austin for permits and to show beneficial uses of water.

TAXES

"Texas is one of six states that has neither a general sales tax nor a state income tax and I shall never vote for either one. Taxes on oil and gas and other natural resources have provided us with our principal source of revenue. We have spent liberally on improving our educational system; on our state insane asylums and penitentiary system where conditions were classed as deplorable; on farm-to-market roads; and on old age pensions. I consider judicious spending in the interest of human advancement is a wise investment. Texas now spends 20% less per capita on state government than the national average; our tax levies are 25% less than the national average. At the same time, Texas has only one-third the per capita debt as the average other state. I think this attests the fact that we spend carefully and wisely and stay within our income."
