DO THE JOB NOW

A short time ago a guest in a western hotel was enjoying a last smoke in bed before going to sleep. Result: A fire which destroyed the hotel, a grocery store, a shoe store, a clothing store and a restaurant, for a total loss of $50,000. Whether the smoker escaped with his life is not reported. In a hundred similar instances, however, he hasn't.

About the same time a housewife in New England left her ironing without disconnecting the electric iron. Result: Destruction of a home valued at $15,000.

These are two incidents out of many. And they indicate a very significant fact: The smallest, most minor fires, under "favorable" circumstances, can become serious ones. As a rule, a cigaret fire is noticed before it has gotten out of control and is easily extinguished. But very often the exception to the rule appears—and a conflagration follows. The famous incident of Mrs. O'Leary's kicking cow, which is supposed to have started the great Chicago fire, may be fiction—but the message involved is well worth while. A cow kicking over a stove could have started such a disastrous fire, whether it did or not!

At least eighty per cent of fires can be prevented if the simplest precautions are taken. Ordinary care with smoking materials and inflammable liquids will do away with two of the worst causes of fire. Regular inspection of heating plants and electric wiring will do away with others. Periodic cleaning of attics and basements to dispose of piles of rags and cast—prime source of internal combustion fires—will do away with still another. So will the cutting of grass and weeds in unused fields, which present an especially potent danger during dry periods.

Your home and other property, unless it is far different from the average, contains serious fire hazards that can be cheaply, quickly and easily eliminated. Do the job now.—Roswell Dispatch.

CAR ACCIDENTS TAKE 12 LIVES IN WEEK-END

SKELLYTOWN WOMAN IS ACCIDENT VICTIM AT LITTLEFIELD

By The Associated Press.
Traffic accidents brought death to 12 persons in Texas over the week-end. Five others were injured critically.

An automobile collision near Georgetown took the lives of three high school students, and two others were hurt critically. Dead were Jimmie May, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. May of Georgetown; Doyle Cline Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Cline of Taylor; and Earl Henderson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Henderson of Georgetown.

A hit-and-run driver left two brothers dead in El Paso. Daniel Reason, 15, and his brother, Oscar, 11, were on their way to deliver copies of the El Paso Times when struck down.

Miss Lillian Bennett, 22, was killed instantly and 10 other persons were hurt, one perhaps fatally, physicians said, in an automobile collision near Littlefield. Miss Bennett was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Bennett of Skellytown.

A truck overturned near Waco, fatally injuring Miss Leona Frowling of Waco and leaving five other persons injured critically.

Three persons were killed Saturday in a grade-crossing accident near Beeville. They were Marcello Gonzales, 45, of Victoria; Mike Villachimo of Richmond; and Mrs. Cecilia, 30, of Beeville.

A truck crushed against a telephone pole at Dallas Saturday night, fatally injuring C. M. Wright, 50, and D. A. Brennan, 52.

FORGOT THE KEY

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Philadelphia police turned locksmiths after a Delaware state trooper brought Leon Drummond, 19, to a cell for safekeeping.

"I left the handkerchief keys in Dover," the trooper said.

The 100th key tried on the handcuffs worked in time to release Drummond for a hearing on a charge he stabbed Vernon Phillips of Smyrna, Del.

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON.—The staunchest defender of the New Deal could hardly profess that it doesn't have its silly phases.

You wouldn't know where to begin or end if you started to list those phases in detail. But most of the local folk would begin with the celebrated old McLean mansion, scene of the wildest and gaudiest parties of official and unofficial society here during Harding-Coolidge-Hoover days.

The Works Progress Administration has taken over that huge pile as headquarters for handling its projects for employment of unemployed writers, artists, and musicians.

Incidentally, you aren't supposed to call it "the McLean mansion" any more. Orders have come down to the WPA boys and girls to refer to it as "1500 L Street," which is the address, with admonition that the less publicity given to the nature of the place, the better.

What most of the employes call it, when not in the presence of superiors—and they're not very serious about it, either—is the "Palace of Culture."

WPA is distinctly self-conscious about those quarters. A guard stands at the door to see that no non-employee gets in without an appointment. Even newspapermen are told that they must get written permission from an official many blocks away if they want to go inside and see anyone.

Newspapermen complaining about this absurdity are told that it's only the blunder of a minor official and that the order will be countermanded. It seems that every tourist, sightseer, and unoccupied middle-aged lady in town was making a bee-line for the celebrated mansion to look it over.

Hired guides would bring 40 or 50 folks at a time to show them through. And as there are no corridors and you start stumbling into desks almost as soon as you're in the door, that couldn't be allowed.

Just the same, there's plenty of official sensitiveness about the place. Especially since it leaked out that it would cost $25,000 a year, though the owners were once willing to take $16,000, the amount of the taxes.

Dr. Tugwell's Resettlement Administration has also taken over a mansion, which Harry Hopkins insists is even gaudier than his WPA mansion. uBT RA got a fairly good bargain per square foot of floor space, even if it didn't do as well as the Rural Electrification Administration with its mansion on Massachusetts avenue, where rooms were small enough to fit into efficient office use.

Incidentally, at REA, it's hard to decide whether you prefer the sun porch which Publicity Director M. L. Ramsay has for his office or the large room of Administrator Morris Cooke, which has a lovely mess of honeysuckle, humming birds, bluebirds, and cardinals right up against the French doors and the French windows.

Perhaps the silliest thing about RA—and perhaps it isn't silly at all—is the station-wagons which go buzzing around town with "Resettlement Administration" painted on their sides.

RA was the first New Deal agency to get such vehicles here, not because it is going in for suburban housing projects, but because it has a lot of documents to distribute and many people to haul around to conferences.

Noted Philadelphia author speaks on "Why do we laugh?" If he refers to radio jokes, we'll bite.

It's strange. Italians are building roads throughout Ethiopia, and yet Haile and his countrymen are pitted by us taxpayers.

So far, the average communique seems to be living up to at least the last part of its name.

U. S. colleges should sponsor horse races instead of football, says Nebraska dean. Wouldn't a horse look silly winding the university clock?

Southern judge says the south has produced no great poetry, because it has never really suffered. And vice versa.

"End of Greek republic terminates rule of Premier Tsaldaris." Apparently a case of "Tsaldaris, there ain't no more."

PAMPA, SMARTING UNDER DEFEAT, WILL PLAY PLAINVIEW FRIDAY NIGHT

COACHES MAY SHIFT LINEUP DURING WEEK

NEED OF BLOCKING IS APPARENT AFTER DEFEAT

Table with columns: Team, W, L, T, Pts, Opp. Pts, Opp. Rows include Lubbock, Amarillo, Borger, Plainview, Pampa.

District 1, the hot bed of the Texas high school football race, this week will have a chance to recover from the upset of Saturday, when the Pampa Harvesters dropped a 6 to 0 game to the Lubbock Westerners.

SMU And Texas Will Clash In Feature Game

DALLAS, Oct. 28. (AP)—The No. 1 game in the Southwest next Saturday will be Southern Methodist vs. the University of Texas at Dallas.

Three Southwest conference games are scheduled, while the Rice Institute Owls will be in Washington to meet the George Washington University eleven.

After Plainview will come the Borger Bulldogs, who will play the Harvesters field the afternoon of Nov. 9. On Monday, Nov. 11, Armistice day, the Lubbock Westerners will meet the Amarillo Sandies on Butler field.

All cockiness has been placed in the discard, from now on the team will think of nothing but beating Plainview then Amarillo here on Thanksgiving day and throwing the district into a three-way tie.
