Fear General Will Split Republicans

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
While plans were laid in Austin to get Texas war veterans behind Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for President, another campaign was under way today to get the name of Gen. Douglas MacArthur off the ballot.
The request for MacArthur's withdrawal as the nominee of the Christian Nationalist and Constitution Parties came from the Republican-sponsored Womanpower for Eisenhower Club in Dallas.
Mrs. George A. Ripley, who identified herself as a conservative Democratic member of the group, said the resolution was sent to MacArthur Thursday night. It said leaving the general's name on the ballot would help the Democratic ticket and hurt the Republican ticket headed by Eisenhower.

Off-Duty Cop Finds Culprit

WACO (AP) — An off-duty law officer swapping war experiences with a stranger in a cafe early today suddenly recognized the man as a wanted killer and brought about his arrest.
Tom Spinger, radio dispatcher for the State Department of Public Safety office here, recognized the man he was talking to as the same man whose description he had been broadcasting for several hours.
Spinger, who was not in uniform, left the cafe and called police for the State Department of Public Safety office here, recognized the man he was talking to as the same man whose description he had been broadcasting for several hours.

Theft Scandal Rocks Houston Police Staff

HOUSTON (AP) — A sensational scandal rocked the Houston police department today as seven police officers were implicated in a series of burglary and theft investigations.
Two were charged with burglary and theft, a third faces a misdemeanor theft, a fourth has been suspended and will probably be fired and three others were allowed to resign because of their complicity in burglaries and thefts.
Night Chief H. (Buddy) McGill and seven other officers made lightning like arrests.
Said Chief McGill: "We started working on this investigation three weeks ago after we learned that some officers had been involved in some thefts. During the past week we talked to a number of officers who told us they knew something was wrong and that they were suspicious of certain men."
Late last night McGill and his men started rounding up the seven officers involved.
The two officers charged are: James W. Adams, 28, a cruising patrolman, and Edwin B. Moore, 25, who worked in the radio dispatcher's office. Both men, as the other five, worked on the 10 p.m.-6 a.m. shift.
Charges were filed against them in Justice W. C. Ragan's court. Specific charges are burglary and felony theft of the Williamson Supply Company on August 13.
Chief McGill said Moore and Atkinson took an air-conditioning unit and a typewriter. The air-conditioning unit was recovered in the garage of Atkinson's home and the typewriter from a man to whom Moore had sold it, Chief McGill said.
Both men made oral statements which led to the recovery of the stolen material, Chief McGill disclosed.

Russ Demand Severe Penalty For Crew Of Hospital Plane

BERLIN (AP) — Soviet officials have demanded that "severe punishment" be meted out to the crew of an unarmed U. S. Air Force plane hijacked by machine gun fire from a Russian jet fighter while it was flying a hospital mission. American authorities already have protested the shooting.
The Berlin-bound plane, carrying a crew of five and a woman nurse to evacuate Army ailing, was buzzed Wednesday by two Soviet MIG-15s. It escaped into a cloud after a warning burst of bullets zipped past its nose.
Maj. Gen. Lemuel Matheson, American commandant in Berlin, sent a quick protest to Maj. Gen. V. I. Trussov, Soviet deputy chief of staff, describing the attack as "hostile, unfriendly, unwarranted and uncivilized."
But Moscow also dispatched a protest the same day to American military headquarters in Germany. The Russian claimed the DC-3 transport flew for 55 minutes outside the 20-mile-wide air corridor from the U. S. occupation zone to Berlin.
On its flight, he added, the U. S. plane exceeded the corridor boundaries by distances up to 18.8 miles.
"The American plane did not heed the demand of Soviet planes to make a landing, and attempted to hide itself in clouds," Trussov said.
He demanded "the severe punishment of the guilty" American officers and "measures to avoid violating flying orders over the territory of the German Democratic Republic by American planes." Matheson's protest — as yet not answered directly — acknowledged.

Boys Who Plastered Kitty Are Caught

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — The boys who plastered a cat have been caught.
The half-grown cat itself is doing all right, free from a ball of plaster in which it was found several days ago in a partly built house.
An Associated Press Wirephoto picture of the cat's predicament appeared in newspapers across the country earlier this week.
Gordon West, chief juvenile probation officer, said the cat lovers who called from all over the nation won't have to pay the veterinarian's bill. Parents of the boys — 19, 13 and 15 years old — have promised to do that.

Hallinan Skeptical Of Truce Recess

NEW YORK (AP) — Vincent Hallinan, "Progressive party" candidate for president, says the indefinite recess of Korean truce negotiations "is an ominous sign."
At a rally Thursday night sponsored by the American Labor party, Hallinan said that President Truman should order the truce negotiators to resume talks with the Korean Reds and agree to a ceasefire.
"You are supposed to be a student of history," Mr. Truman, Hallinan said. "Did you ever hear of a war being fought over the issue of prisoners of war? Order a cease-fire and you can spend the rest of your life talking."
The American Labor party is the New York State arm of the Progressive party.

Rites Today For Pampan's Mother

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Jane Campbell were to have been conducted in the First Baptist Church in Hollis, Okla., at 2:30 p.m. today.
Mrs. Campbell, 94, is the mother of Dr. W. L. Campbell of Pampa. She died Wednesday afternoon.
Survivors include Dr. Campbell, two other sons, J. H., Wasco, Calif., and C. F., Salinas, Calif.; three daughters, Mrs. Cordie, Salinas, Mrs. Aaron Clark, Ropesville, and Mrs. J. P. Swaim, Hollis.
Mrs. Campbell was to have been buried in the Hollis Cemetery at the side of her husband.

Youngsters Blamed In Automobile Blaze

Some young Pampans are not taking Fire Prevention Week seriously.
A Pampa fire department truck was called at 3:45 a.m. today to put out a car fire at 806 W. Francis. Main damage was to the seat cover.
Officials figure it was started by youngsters playing with matches.

Record Vote Expected For Gray County

Indications that Gray County may cast the heaviest general election vote on Nov. 4 in its history showed up this morning when County Clerk Charlie Thut counted 103 requests for absentee ballots.
The number is already a record high in absentee ballot requests for the county, Thut said.
The ballots are still in the printers' forms and not expected to be delivered before Oct. 13. Absentee voting starts Oct. 15 and ends — for voting in person — midnight, Oct. 31. Deadline for ballots mailed in is 1:30 p.m. election day.
Most ballot requests are from men in the armed services and have been sent in from Japan, the Philippines, European stations, and state-side camps. A large number are also from students in colleges and universities.
County officials make their pre-election estimates of light, medium or heavy voting from absentee voting activity. They have usually been right.
The county has an estimated 10,000 vote potential according to poll tax and exemption lists (9,530), plus eligible voters who do not have to obtain exemption certificates under existing laws.
Sewell said it twice, first at a Tarrant County Women-for-Stevenson rally, then an hour later to Stevenson-Sparkman Democrats.
Sewell lashed out at "wealthy oil men and other selfish men in Texas" who are trying "to destroy the Democratic Party."
He said it was a "shame" that some Democratic officials, "safely locked behind the July nomination," say now that they're Republicans.
Johnson Speaks Twice
Senator Lyndon B. Johnson made two speeches in Dallas for the Democrats, first before a State Fair audience and later at an Oak Cliff Chamber of Commerce meeting.
Johnson told the annual achievement day meeting of the Farmers Home Administration that politicians who say "it's time for a change" have been fighting every forward step the American people have taken during the past 20 years.
Other political developments in Texas:
Besides introducing Democratic Presidential Nominee Adlai Stevenson at Houston, Oct. 18, Senator Tom Connally's office in Washington said that the veteran legislator would speak Oct. 23 in Dallas, Oct. 24 in Austin, and Oct. 25 in Abilene. Connally has cancelled speeches at Waco, Oct. 14, and at Fort Worth, Oct. 17.
Gov. Allan Shivers said he would be at a reception in Corpus Christi Oct. 14 and would fly to San Antonio for a night appearance with GOP Presidential Nominee Dwight Eisenhower, Shivers said, who would make two or three speeches for the Republican candidate, said he has turned down some out-of-state requests for campaign speeches.

Puzzled Airline Probes Theft Of Money From Plane

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A thorough investigation was under way today to determine how $50,000 in cash disappeared from a Pan American striner as it winged its way from Miami to Lima, Peru.
Puzzled officials of Pan American - Grace Airways (Panagra) said the money might have been "misdirected" during the flight.
The four-engine DC-6B stopped briefly at Panama and Guayaquil en route.

Polio Epidemic Nation's Worst

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis says this year's polio epidemic, which has passed its peak, now stands as the nation's worst on record.
With 3,227 new cases reported in the week ended Oct. 4, the foundation said Thursday night, the total for 1952 numbers 42,372 cases — 339 more than reported in all of 1949, the worst previous year.
But last week's new case total, the foundation said, represents a per cent drop from the previous week — the second decline noted.

Pampa school-goers are really getting a break — no school between today and Wednesday.
All schools will be closed during the Gray County 50th Birthday Celebration, according to Knox Kinard, school superintendent.
Recent action by the board of education made it official, Kinard said.

RED DRIVE STOPPED — Medical corpsmen give blood plasma to a wounded fighter near the front lines as grim-faced South Korean stretcher bearers watch the operation. Reds Batter UN Defenses; Mass Troops

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Chinese Reds battered their way to the top of White Horse Mountain tonight and massed 16,000 fresh troops within easy striking distance of the blood-soaked hill.
Intelligence officers said 30 Communist divisions could commit two fresh divisions to battle at any time.
The fanatical Chinese stormed up the slopes with screams and curses and pushed valiant South Korean defenders off the ridge line.
The bone-weary U.N. troops scrambled right back to the top and battled the Reds hand to hand in a drenching rain for half an hour before surrendering the crest again.
A pelting rain started just after dark. It soaked the weary soldiers who have been fighting continuously more than four days.
A front line officer said it was so dark on the crest that the Republic of Korea (ROK) troops had to grope their way forward to close with the Reds.
He said the South Koreans had one simple rule for fighting in the dark: If they fell a shaver (See FEEDS, Page 3)

Happy Ike Backers Counting California In GOP Column

ENROUTE WITH EISENHOWER (AP) — The Eisenhower command was inclined to count California's 32 electoral votes in the Republican column today after a tumultuous sweep through the state which went Democratic by a narrow margin four years ago.
With 11 states behind him in his current 28-state tour, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower moved early this morning into Arizona. The day's schedule called for appearances in Phoenix and Tucson, Ariz., Albuquerque, N. M., and Salt Lake City, Utah. He left his special train in Phoenix to travel by plane to the other stops.

Turns Campaign Southward . . . Stevenson Predicts Russia To Drop Aggressive Tactics

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson turned his campaign southward today with the prediction that Russia may abandon its aggressive policies because American-sponsored collective security has "worked so well."
But the Democratic presidential nominee cautioned in an address prepared for a City Auditorium rally here that the United States must be on guard against trickery in any Soviet attempt to substitute honey for vinegar.
And he declared that even the chance he now sees for long-run peace toward peace "might all be sadly altered if the Republicans win in November and proceed to do what they say they will do."

Air Service Here Oct. 15

An airborne sequel to the Gray County 50th Birthday Celebration will unfold at Perry LeFors Field Wednesday morning.
For the first Central Airlines plane to fly into Pampa in a month will touch the new runway at 9:15 a.m. Two minutes later it will take off again and the city's new field will have been christened.
From that time on a regular four-flight-a-day airline schedule will be maintained, according to J. L. Blackwell, operations manager at the company's main office in Ft. Worth.
Before actual operation begins, Blackwell said in a telephone interview today, Central's chief pilot, Owen H. Cook Jr., will make a routine check-out of the new field to make certain everything is in order. Cook will probably be in Pampa Monday, the manager thought.
The flight schedule will be permanent, Blackwell said. Going east will be Flight 31 (arrive 9:15 a.m., leave 9:17 a.m.) and Flight 33 (arrive 5:30 p.m., leave 5:32 p.m.). Headed west will be Flight 32 (arrive 2:51 p.m., leave 2:53 p.m.) and Flight 34 (arrive 10:46 p.m., leave 10:48 p.m.).
Pampa has been without commercial airline service since the last Central Airlines plane landed at the old municipal airport Sept. 15.

Eisenhower Avoids Another Knock

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's battle-ground luck saw him through another hazard late Thursday.
A piece of exhaust pipe, kicked up by the car in front of his, missed the general's head by only two feet as the Eisenhower motorcade was en route from Long Beach to Los Angeles.
The general, sitting in the back seat of a convertible, ducked slightly. Observers said if he had been atop the seat, the tubing would have hit him in the head or chest.

Fanatic Red POWs Await Word To Die

CHEGU ISLAND, Korea (AP) — Forbidding barbed wire enclosures near the beach of this rocky 40-mile island confine 5,800 Chinese Communists, ready to die at a word from their leaders.
The air of tension and cold hatred is apparent the minute you walk through the high double gates to the prisoner-of-war camp.
The steely attitude of the United Nations camp guards is set by the repeated warning of the camp commander: "You must remember these people are fanatics."
There are 10 compounds, isolated by double barbed wire fences, in the big camp. Officers who patrol the camp daily say at least three other compounds are tougher than Number 7, where 56 Chinese were killed in a bloody fight with U.N. guards Oct. 1.

Camp authorities feel another bloody demonstration is almost a certainty — if the Chinese decide it would give them a favorable propaganda weapon. All it would take is a word from the Red leaders.
"The guards don't temporize with the prisoners in any way," says the camp commander, Col. Richard Boerem of Ontario, Calif. "They have been told when they are assaulted—shoot."
The prisoners have been told repeatedly that discipline will be maintained with force of arms. Camp officers want no repetition of the situation on Kojie Island last summer where the Reds temporarily gained the upper hand.
The Chinese Reds are well clothed, well fed and housed in the same type tents U.S. soldiers use. Concrete and stone winter buildings are being built by the prisoners. The half-raised walls were used as barricades in the Oct. 1 fighting.
A search following the demonstration uncovered several hundred crude weapons.
Guards had conducted another shakedown of the entire camp just a few days earlier and cleaned it out. But the weapons used by the Chinese can be made quickly. A test pile is easily being captured.

Mainly About People

Recent guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Lantz of Lefors were Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Hunt of Muskogee, Okla., and Mrs. Lantz's aunt, Mrs. E. H. Reynolds of Fayetteville, Ark. The visitors were en route to their homes from Salt Lake City, Utah, where they had attended a Mormon Conference.

what the Illinois governor called the principal issues of the presidential campaign — peace and prosperity.

He said if there is any weakening of American defense and foreign assistance programs the Kremlin can change its signals quickly.

"We all know in our bones that it is dangerous to talk tough unless we are ready to act tough," he declared. "The new Republican policy — and I am sorry to say this — is to talk tough while we simultaneously weaken our defenses and alliances."

"That just doesn't make sense to me. That is a sure road to disaster."

He previously had criticized Eisenhower's assertion the United States would "never rest" until the people of the satellite countries were freed. Stevenson said this aroused speculation that some "reckless action" might be taken, but Eisenhower later said he was speaking only of peaceful means, not war.

"The answer is to build on the system of voluntary non-profit health insurance plans which our people have already developed at an amazing rate."

That was all the identification they wanted.

The officer said the only sounds from the hilltop were "the screams of the wounded." Besides the sounds of the darkness, the big guns of both sides were silent.

The South Koreans launched their attack from a line about 100 yards below the crest at 8:30 p.m. They apparently ran headon into the Chinese, who were pushing their way slowly upward.

B-29 Lands Safely After 10 Bail Out

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A B-29 plane with a disabled engine landed safely here Thursday after 10 of its crewmen bailed out over Mississippi.

The No. 4 engine on the bomber caught fire near McNeill, Miss., and the 10 crewmen bailed out within one minute. Four crewmen remained with the plane, but the fire out and brought the bomber in.

Slight cuts and bruises were the most serious injuries.

The crewmen who bailed out were scattered over the countryside near McNeill, about 60 miles northeast of here. Two were helped down from trees by McNeill residents.

The plane was on a training flight from Randolph Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex.

Scout Leaders' Course Slated

A training course for den mothers and their supervisors, leaders of Cub Scouts, is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Saturday in the Paha Room of the city hall.

Instructors are to be Dusey Steele, Cub Scout training chairman, Phil Pegues, H. H. Hahn, and Dave Pobst. Mrs. Harry McWaters, den mother co-ordinator, will also conduct a handicraft session.

Mrs. McWaters is the first woman in this area who has qualified for a Scouters award, to be presented at the Santa Fe District meeting, Nov. 11. This announcement was made today by pegues, district executive.

Subjects to be discussed in Saturday's training session include den meetings, den mother-Scout relationships, program planning, den meeting place, ceremonies, games and handicraft.

Approximately 30-35 den mothers are expected to be present.

Wing Tank Loss Caused Collision

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — A mid-air collision of a B-29 and a jet fighter presumably was caused by loss of the B-29's right wing tank in a swift turn, the Air Force said today.

All 11 crewmen on the Travis-based bomber were killed when the B-29 crashed near Portland, Ore., Wednesday.

The jet fighter made it back safely to McChord Field, Wash. Its left wing tank was damaged. The two crewmen were not injured.

A spokesman said presumably the planes collided as the jet made a firing run on the bomber on a routine training maneuver.

Truman's Campaign Expenses Would Be Hard To Compute

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN (AP) — How much in President Truman's 8,500-mile, 24-state campaign tour for Adlai Stevenson costing the government.
This was the query, relayed to this correspondent aboard the 16-car special train taking the President from whistle stop to whistle stop coast-to-coast.
An editor of a newspaper wanted to know.
The answer to that question is beyond the determination of a reporter without the power to subpoena witnesses and compel their testimony and time in which to record and weigh it.
The answer would involve a decision as to exactly where a political action starts and an official action begins.
It would require a complete record not only of the salaries of everyone aboard the "give 'em hell" presidential special, but of many others along the route it travels.
The Democratic National Committee has announced it is picking up the check for this 15-day speaking tour by Truman with an estimated figure of something under $25,000.
That apparently covers the railroad transportation, meals, hotel and other such expenses of the President, his speech writers, stenographers, secretaries, clerks and others.
It does not cover the expenses of the Secret Service men.
The law requires that they be with the President at all times, wherever he is and whatever his mission, and no invitation is involved insofar as the National Committee is concerned.
Whoever happens to be present at the time gets the advantage of the Secret Service protection in a campaign year. No political party could raise enough money to provide the services that fall by law to a president.
Because they must assure his protection at all times, they send out agents in advance to go every step of the route he must travel.
How much is this service costing, in terms of salary, Pullman accommodations and per diem up to a maximum of $9 a day?

That would require a lot of Treasury experts with figures on the salaries of each and every man on the White House detail, and the record of how many field office Secret Service men are brought into play.
There are others, who are required to be with the President at all times, wherever he is, and whatever he is doing. Like the Army Signal Corps officers who have an elaborate communications system of radio telephone and radio teletype which keeps the President of the United States in touch with the White House and all world capitals at all times.
How much do their salaries and expenses amount to? That would require a first-hand statement from just as many would in the case of the Secret Service men.
Truman aides point out that Truman didn't request the Secret Service to come along on the trip, that the Army Signal Corps men have to be available at all times, and that no matter how deeply this President involves himself in politics, there is always official business to be transacted when he is on the road.
As for the salaries of the President and his staff during the period they are away on political missions, these aides point out that the salaries of campaigning governors, senators and representatives go on during campaigns, as do those of their secretaries, clerks and other aides.
They ask, "Would you deduct two weeks of the President's salary under the circumstances?"

A Good Customer
TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Government statistics show Japan is the best customer of Nationalist China. Japan took 48 per cent of Formosa's exports in 1951, the United States 16 per cent and Hong Kong 14 per cent. For Formosa's main exports are sugar, rice, tea, salt and fertilizer. Total exports in 1951 were valued at $3 million dollars.

Mediterranean Nudist Colony Fine For Soui, Hard On Feet

By PRESTON GROVER
ISLE OF LEVANT, France (AP) — Life in this Mediterranean nudist colony is fine for the soul and hard on the feet.
The island lies 10 miles off France opposite the summer vacation spot of Le Lavadou. I took a boat ride over.
You do see nudists. As the boat comes in to the small dock, the nudist come running out from among the trees and rocks and help the passengers ashore. A big brown male nude gave me a friendly hand across the gap between the boat and the wharf.
The men are more nude than the women. The children are nude of all — right spanking nude. The men wear a covering about the size of a folded pocket handkerchief, say five or six inches square. It seems to be made of some women wear halters but most let their breasts enjoy the fine cooling touch of the sea breezes and the warm rays of a sun which shines 300 days a year. Elsewhere the women wear about the smallest bathing suit you ever saw.
One young lassie of about 24 summers strolled by us, all gold-

Voters Suffer In Campaign

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — Everybody says "poor Gen. Eisenhower and Gov. Stevenson; they must be awfully tired from this campaigning." It's been tough on them, all right.
But it's time somebody began to sympathize with the voters. It's been pretty tough on them, too, trying to keep up with the campaigners.
Last summer the unsuccessful candidates, who had been campaigning around the country for the nomination, scattered in all directions for a rest.
But that was only the starting point for Eisenhower and Stevenson. They spent the month of August mostly getting their campaign organized, with only a few days out for vacation.
Their ordeal began with the arrival of September. Now, after a month of planes, trains, rear platform talks, major speeches, motorcades, handshaking and speech writing they must be completely weary.
Yet, they still have a month to go. But so do the voters who seriously try to follow the whole campaign. Not only Eisenhower and Stevenson, but Sen. Sparkman and Sen. Nixon and President Truman, too.
Just trying to keep tab on what they're all saying would be a monumental task for any man who attempted it in his living room with the help of his newspapers, radio and TV set.
To do it in an orderly way he would have to keep a file: not just a day by day file but a topic by topic file, broken down into what each one said on foreign affairs, taxes, Korea and all the rest.
That itself would only be a starting point. For then the serious man who attempted such a project would have to examine what each one said on each topic for contradictions and for comparison with what the others said.
Too much already has been said for any individual to keep it all filed in his head, and it would be a rare voter who kept any other kind of file. Most voters probably retain general impressions and pieces of what's been said.
The present campaign is the traditional kind, since the candidates seem to think the endless slogging and repetition and personal appearances have the magic of it.
It was suggested before the campaign began that Eisenhower and Stevenson could help everyone a better understanding and appraisal of both of them if they met face to face in a radio-TV debate.
Neither of them showed much enthusiasm for the idea. But it would have made it easier for voters to reach an understanding appraisal of the two men if they had met.

Harvesters Seek Fourth Game in Row Over Sandies Tonight

Back in 1922 the Pampa Harvesters battled the Amarillo Sandies in the first meeting between the two schools. The first game was a 9-0 draw and the second a 3-3 tie.

Since that time the Harvesters have only been able to defeat the Black and Gold six times, three of those times in their last three meetings. Tonight they go after No. seven, fourth in a row and second in history at Amarillo's home field.

The 1922 team was considered the "best conditioned, toughest" to ever represent Pampa. There is little doubt that the one going onto the field tonight will not be in the best of shape. But not because of lack of training.

Hard work and a hard non-conference schedule have put several of the Harvesters into the same zone of agony as coming out of Amarillo where the Sandies are expected to have to do without the services of a couple of ace backs, Kent Gathright and David Kent. Both have injured knees and reports are that they won't see action.

While the Pampa's ailments aren't as serious, they will keep the boys from playing par football. Ed Dudley, the team's leading ground gainer and scorer, has a severely pulled leg muscle that has kept him out of all contact this week. Bob Prigmore has a sprained ankle; Buddy Cockrell has a charley horse; and hand injuries are slowing the work of fullback David Enloe, center James Hawkins, line-backer Bobby Wilhelm, and guard Bill Phippen. End James Phippen is suffering with a pulled muscle. The game opens the District AAAA season for both clubs.

But it will not be the highlight game of the district. More important, from an overall standpoint, is the clash between the two titans, Lubbock's Westerners and the Odessa Bronchos at Lubbock. From it could well emerge the district and perhaps the state champion of 1952. Lubbock, rated No. 1 schoolboy team in the state, will be favored, but Odessa could surprise. In other games Berger is at Abilene and Midland opens against hapless San Angelo. Abilene and Midland will be solid choices in those two contests.

But back to the Sandie-Harvester clash. The Sandies will have the overall weight advantage, home field advantage, and will have 10 returning lettermen to three for the Harvesters. Of the 10 lettermen back, three are regulars from last season. They are Jackie Miller, William Armstrong and Leon Egleson. Other lettermen are end Bill Mobley, end Jerry Flynn, tackle Louie Flores, guard David Gill, half-back Bobby Granham, fullback Robert Frazer and fullback Kent Gathright. Gathright, they claim, will be out of action, while Frazer is the big offensive and defensive wheelhorse.

The injuries may cause the Harvester coaches to make some lineup changes. Tommy Sells, an all-district center candidate last year has been playing tackle the last two weeks. But the injury to Hawkins has seen Sells back at his old post and Richard Qualls returning to the tackle spot along with Buddy Cockrell at the other tackle. In the backfield, Jimmy Keel has been running in place of David Enloe, while John Darby has been moved from right half to left half replacing Dudley and sophomore Harold Lewis has taken over at right half. Senior end Jimm - Martindale has held down the wing post of James Phippen, both offensively and defensively. How many of these changes will be permanent tonight how many were just precautionary workout measures remains to be seen with the kickoff at 8 o'clock.

Anyway, win or lose, it promises to be a great game at Sandie Stadium, as all Pampa-Amarillo clashes have been since the two ties way back in 1922.

Two Less On Unbeaten List

By The Associated Press

Two teams tumbled from the undefeated list this Thursday night as the week-end schoolboy football started with a rush.

Wylie of Abilene and Columbus were unshaken from the perfect record class Wylie falling before Dublin 21-20, in a District 7 conference game in Class A and Columbus taking the count before Class AA LaGrange, 6-9.

Diamond Hill of Class AA rolled on unbeaten, downing White Settlement, 20-19, while Harlanville of San Antonio, among the Class AAA teams that are undefeated but have been tied, trounced on Lanier San Antonio, 49-14.

Wylie's loss to Dublin was the first time the Abilene school had dropped a game at home in five years.

Lubbock plays Odessa in Class AAAA tonight in the feature game of the week in Texas schoolboy football. It will mark Lubbock's first tough test of the season and also will be a conference game for the defending AAAA state champions.

Albee and Edinburg get together in a battle of unbeaten teams in Class AAAA while in Class AA Lumbas plays Littlefield and Huntville takes on Mexia in games matching undefeated, untied teams.

There are some 250 games in the state.

Another Hard Intersectional Program Awaits SWC Sat.

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Editor

The intersectional schedule that can make or break the Southwest Conference comes up tomorrow. Already on the ropes through four reversals in five games last week the league members must win a majority of their games this time to pull ahead for the season.

To bounce back they must come through in three of these games: Texas vs Oklahoma at Dallas, Rice vs UCLA at Los Angeles, Texas A&M vs Michigan State at Lansing, Mich.

Southern Methodist vs Missouri at Columbia, Mo.

Day of Decision

Southwest Conference teams spent favored in a single game but Southern Methodist is given the best chance of winning. Texas also is rated within three points of Oklahoma.

No Wholesale Brook Changes

BROOKLYN (AP) — All the excitement of the World Series baseball fans today began to take stock of their club — and one big question!

What does the management have in store for next year in the way of deals to strengthen the National League champion? The Braves battled New York Yankees down to the finish, only to lose the series in seven games, and the more critical blame in the pitching and first baseman Gil Hodges? who went hitless in 21 trips.

But Vice President Buzz Bavasi of the Dodgers says the front office has no idea of rushing into any deals just because they were beaten by the Yankees in the series.

"There appears to be a disposition to overlook the fact we did carry the fight into a seventh game, and that the Yankees had to beat only half of our club," Bavasi said. "So many of our key hitters did not hit."

Bavasi said he wasn't taking "any panic view of Hodges' position with the Brooklyn club. He's a great fielder, a powerful batter."

After noting that the Dodgers finished the National League race 4 1/2 games in front of the Giants, Bavasi said: "You don't recast a ball club because of development in a World Series."

"Believe me, we are not going to tear this club apart just because we lost to the Yankees. There is bound to be a hysterical reaction after a defeat such as we suffered. Things will quiet down soon."

Major Battles Spot Week End Collegiate Football Programs

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Wisconsin comes upon another big obstacle on the rocky road to the Big 10 championship and the Rose Bowl tomorrow when the No. 1 team in the country takes on Ohio State.

This is the top battle of a full schedule of important league and intersectional affairs.

Wisconsin vaulted to the top spot in the land in The Associated Press poll last week on the basis of its stunning triumph over Illinois, the defending league champion. This Ohio State team doesn't approach some of the former powerhouses from Columbus, but it should give Ivy Williams' lads a run for their money.

Rare are the days when an Ivy League game rates the attention the Princeton-Pen affair is attracting. But these two powerhouses probably could put up a good fight against anyone. In addition, Princeton has a 24-game winning streak going the longest in college football.

This is a tossup with Penn being given a one-point edge, probably on the basis of its showing against Notre Dame, while Coach Biggie Munn would like to be warming up at the expense of lesser lights.

Michigan State, the heir apparent to the No. 1 rating vacated by Tennessee last year, has no surety in Texas A&M, but the Spartans are figured to win. Coach Biggie Munn would like to see his charges do their scoring early for a change though. They're in the habit of teasing the opposition along until the final minutes.

California, the favorite to play in the big 19 entry in the Rose Bowl, should make hash of Oregon. Stanford, the defending Pacific Coast Conference winner,

Fall Meeting Of WT-NM Delayed

The annual fall meeting of the West Texas-New Mexico League, originally slated for Oct. 18-19, and then moved to Oct. 11-12 has once again been shoved back to the later date according to an announcement in a letter dispatched to all the league presidents yesterday.

The meeting is expected to be an important one with several major items expected to be brought up. Included are the make-up of the player roster, with special emphasis expected to be put on the veteran situation; what clubs will operate where; what to do with all-star game and series; and some of the things due discussion.

Ratiocination Is Hoople Secret, But Even Einstein Can Be Wrong

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE The Peerless Pigskin Prophet

Egad, friends! Here I am again, and there you are, and here we go and — that is to say, er, well, where were we? Of the matter in the usual incisive Hoople fashion, we have a delightful bill of fare on the gridirons this week, with several rousing intersectional games and numerous robust league contests. An unusual array of knotty problems confronts me, but am I dismayed? No.

My friends often ask me to what I owe my great success as a football prognosticator (pigskin ricker, I believe it is vulgarly called) and the answer is simple: just plain ratiocination. After all, there is no substitute for brains.

I am forecasting several interesting upsets, the first one being Missouri to humble Southern Methodist by the narrow margin of 21 to 20. I figure too much will have been taken out of Illinois in its Titanic struggle with Wisconsin last Saturday, and that the limit will drop their intersectional game with underdog Washington, 17 to 14. I also look for Princeton to squeeze by favored Pennsylvania, 27 to 21.

I was the recipient a few days ago of an elderly mildewed cabbage, the gift of a rabid partisan who resented my predicting a defeat for his alma mater. There were a few remarks accompanying the unpleasant vegetable, but let them go. In fact, I let the cabbage go, too. It is true I made a slight error in my prediction, which caused him to gloat a bit, but even Einstein can be wrong.

All ready? Very well, then — let's take the plunge!

Scouts Survey Temple Passer

TEMPLE (AP) — There have been passers — and then there is Doyle Traylor. This young man, called "The Arm" by Texas football fans, has thrown 63 touchdowns in 28 games.

College scouts all the way from here to there are camping on the trail of the chunky blond who is the quarterback for Temple High School's Wildcats, one of the finest teams in all Texas.

Doyle is only 16 years old and he's a senior in high school. That just goes to show how smart he is. He makes straight A's in all subjects.

But while he's young he's a football veteran. He has been the quarterback for Temple High for three years. He came to the Wildcats in 1950 from junior high school football. He threw 21 touchdowns passes in 11 games.

The next year Traylor had gained six pounds and was a husky 154. He pitched 34 touchdowns passes in 13 games.

This season he has already connected for eight touchdowns in four games. He had a back injury last season that necessitated his wearing a brace. There was a disc missing in his back. But one was put in and this year he doesn't need a brace. And he now weighs 180 pounds.

Reapers Juniors Lose To Berger

The Pampa Reaper seventh and eighth graders took a 20-0 beating from the Berger Bulldogs seventh and eighth graders yesterday afternoon at Harvester Park. El Paso Pro Tops Texas PGA Field

EL PASO (AP) — The second round of the Texas PGA Championship Tournament gets underway today with Jack Harden, El Paso professional, holding a three-stroke lead.

Harden shot seven under par 65 yesterday to blaze the way in the first round. Ray Crawford, Dallas pro, and Hote Johnson, Houston amateur, stood second with 68.

Houston pro Sam Schneider and Fort Worth Amateur Johnny Foster were a stroke behind with 69.

Groups at 70 were Houston's Jimmie Demaret, the tournament favorite, and Amateurs Ken Lawson of San Antonio and Buster Reed of McKinney.

Defending Champion Byron Nelson carried a one-over par 73.

In all, 32 of the over 100-man field played par or better golf.

Harden, who hit 15 of 18 greens with approach shots, was on the green in two on the par five, 450-yard first hole. He came an 18-hole putt for the eagle.

Tied at 71 were Bill Trompbley, Dallas; Jim Deal, Houston; John Jively, Dallas; and Jack Smith, Beaumont; Felix George, Austin; J. C. Hammett, Snyder; Sam Speer, McAllen; C. L. Spence, Wichita Falls; Bill Oliver, Odessa, and Amateurs Dave Marr, Houston, and Happy Lenz, Houston.

was unable to do any good against the bigger Borgans.

This afternoon the Reapers were slated to play the Dumas Junior High at Harvester Park.

The Pampa Daily News

One of Texas' Five Most Consistent Newspapers

We believe that one truth is always consistent with another truth. We endeavor to be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, the Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

Should we, at any time, be inconsistent with these truths, we would appreciate anyone pointing out to us how we are inconsistent with these moral guides.

Newspaper Carriers Learn Business Early

The following was contributed by Dr. George Crane, Ph.D. M.D. author of WORRY CLINIC.

Case E-378 Jimmy B., aged 14, is a high school freshman.

"Dr. Crane, he wants to have a newspaper route," his college educated mother informed me.

"But I feel that he would be tied down unduly. If the weather is bad, the newspaper boys must still deliver their papers."

"And Jimmy doesn't really need the money, for my husband makes a good salary. So do you think I ought to encourage him in carrying a newspaper route?"

Yes, and here is what all of you mothers and fathers ought to keep in mind.

Carrying a newspaper route is the BEST possible training for youth in our "free enterprise" system.

For it lets boys operate their own private business. They work on the "small merchant" plan by which they buy their papers wholesale from the newspaper.

Then they must use modern merchandising methods to sell them. Even if they already have a route of possibly 100 customers, it is to their advantage to recruit new customers, for they make more money thereby, and gain bonuses.

They also learn to be faithful to duty. For papers must be delivered in rain and blizzard, heat and storm.

If they are late, irate customers protest. If they accidentally hurl a paper thru a window, they must make restitution.

Money management is one of the blind spots of modern schooling, but Circulation Managers make up for this lapse by their wonderful training of 500,000 newspaper boys each year.

For newspaper carriers must collect from customers and keep books. Sometimes they lose 70 cents or more when an unscrupulous person moves without paying up.

But all of these experiences teach a boy not only modern American advertising and sales methods, as well as credit, but give shy boys social experience in meeting customers and soliciting orders.

Newspapers reward their carriers very generously with various prizes, all expense trips, etc. But the boys themselves learn to be efficient business men. They acquire horse sense and the value of money.

Mothers, even if your husbands earn $1000 per week, it is still valuable for your sons to carry newspaper routes.

In fact, it would be worth it, even if you parents had to pay your local newspaper a "tuition" fee just to permit your boys to gain this valuable practical education, for circulation managers are the best professors of economics in America!

The sons of millionaires often become profligate spenders and ne-er-do-wells, chiefly because they have never learned the value of money.

They may have no practical gumption at all regarding business methods. For they can't "catch" business gumption from their dads. No, they must learn it by themselves.

Surveys show that newspaper carriers rank above average in both health, as well as in school marks.

They also made good American citizens and stable husbands in later life. Newspaper boys do NOT become Communists. They are the very best rooters for America's "free enterprise" system.

Better Jobs

By R. C. HOLMS

A lot of our trouble comes from businessmen holding lucrative jobs in big corporations and professing to understand free enterprise and morals and liberty. I draw this conclusion after reading an article written by Clarence Randall, president of Inland Steel Company and author of "A Creed for Free Enterprise." I have never read his booklet "A Creed for Free Enterprise," but judging from his article sent out by "Spotlight" under the heading of "Say 'No' to Big Labor and Make It Stick," he is a compromiser. He does not use any standard to determine right from wrong. He does not use the Golden Rule, but uses his own will to determine what is right from wrong. I draw this conclusion from his article:

"The choice of whether to join or not to join a union should lie strictly with the individual worker. If that is his free choice the employer should accept it with complete integrity. That is the law, and it is also good industrial morality."

Of course, Mr. Randall does not define what he means by a labor union so when he uses the term loosely, we must conclude that he means that men have a right to join a labor union that does what all labor unions attempt to do. And every labor union attempts to take away from individuals their right to sell their services at any price their conscience tells them they should get.

If there were labor unions that only attempted to set wages for their own members and not for those who do not want to belong to the union then that union could be a moral institution. Even at that they would be a form of collectivism. But every man who has had any dealings with labor unions knows that the objective of labor unions is to make a complete monopoly of labor and to take away from conscientious individuals their right to sell their services to them. If labor unions permitted individuals who preferred to make their own contracts, then labor unions could never do very much harm.

The principle of every labor union is exactly the same whether it be a small factory with a half dozen men or a union that attempts to set prices for the whole industry all over the United States that employs hundreds of thousands of men. In both cases they are attempting to take away from an individual some of his God-given rights—his right to help establish values. They want to see the value for this individual against his will. They are coveting this man's freedom—this man's inalienable rights.

So when Mr. Randall contends that a man has a right to join a union that tries to take away from some individual his inherent rights he might just as well say that a man has a right to join a bank robber group and the employer shouldn't refuse to hire him: If a man wants to set the value of other people's labor other than those who want to join together, he is sort of a collectivist and the employer should have the right to discriminate against him and employ people who do not covet and who believe that all men—not just some men—are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights.

Now Mr. Randall makes a statement after he has talked about employers objecting to labor unions:

"This will go on until he (the employer) makes up his mind as to what a good and what is bad about them, and accepts the good and resists the bad with might and main."

But he does not say what is good about collectivism. And there is a good reason—because no one can tell any good things in labor unions that attempt to set wages for unwilling individuals, as every labor union attempts to do.

Mr. Randall also talks about economic power possessed by companies and the lack of power possessed by individuals. Mr. Randall would leave the impression that there is power and coercion in an exchange of labor—and that is all business is an exchange of labor, either past or present. Understand I am not talking against laborers having an agent to represent them. No rational person could object to that. But I am talking about labor representing people who do not want to be represented, as every labor union attempts to do and will do as soon as it gets the power. The place to resist labor unions is not after they are big, but when they start the immoral practice of attempting to simultaneously quit with the idea of injuring their fellow men. As Henry Ward Beecher said, organized labor is the worst form of despotism ever devised by the human mind. And how can there be any good results, as Mr. Randall implies, from something that is despotic?

It is not a fight between labor and employer. It is a fight between one laborer and another laborer—the consumer. And how can labor unions do any good when they prevent billions of billions of wealth from being created by their limiting apprenticeship limiting the rapidly which they can learn, by limiting output, by objecting to the use of labor-saving tools and making the work less productive labor bosses and by selling hate and covetousness to their fellow men?

It is time that industrial leaders at the head of big corporations understood what labor unions really are—a form of collectivism—and a complete denial of Christianity and the Golden Rule and the principles on which this government was formed. And it is hard to conceive how anything that is a complete denial of these rules can

Fair Enough.... Truman Surrendered Territory To Reds Won By U. S. Soldiers

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1952, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

President Truman's charge that General Eisenhower failed to warn him or before him President Roosevelt of the true nature of the Communist threat against the West is a lie which insults the intelligence of all who know the facts. Truman offered Eisenhower the Democratic nomination and his support in a campaign for President as long ago as the Potsdam Conference in 1945. He missed the tide that came but once in the life of any man. But nobody on the Democratic side of this campaign from Truman down is less guilty than Ike. And Truman's guilt is made the worse by his glibly produce anything good.

It is also hard to understand why the employer should not have the right to select men to associate with him who do not believe in this form of coveting and robbery. To contend that a man must not use his judgment in selecting help is to deny that man his right of choice—his liberty. This article was sent out by the Committee for Constitutional Government. It might be well for them to be a little more selective.

impudence in turning in this manner on the man who had his endorsement after this terrible failure. If Ike is unworthy of trust today for this reason, he was equally unreliable then. So Truman's attack is just the fulfillment of his direct warning to Ike last winter that he would lose his fair renown forever if he should accept the Republican nomination.

Did Truman actually promise Ike the nomination at Potsdam? Here is what Ike's book says on that: "One day the President fell to discussing the future of some of our leaders. I told him I had no ambition except to retire to a quiet home and from there to do what I like. I could help our people understand... I shall never forget the President's answer. Up to that time, I had met him casually on only two or three occasions. Now he suddenly turned toward me and said: 'General, there is nothing that you may want that I won't try to help you get. That definitely and specifically includes the presidency in 1948.'"

Truman never denied making this promise to Ike. It was given after Truman approved the agreement to divide Germany into the zones which gave Russia command of a stretch of from 100 to 150 miles of territory which the Western Allies had captured. They captured it while the Russians hung back, permitting the desperate Nazis to slaughter the brave Polish underground which came out prematurely, counting on Russia support from the East. After the Poles were dead, the Germans turned westward hoping to surrender to the Americans and British, and the Russian advance was more a march than a campaign.

Eisenhower showed neither wisdom nor moral courage at any time in the period of the negotiations which led to this disaster. But that period began in 1943 and the Roosevelt-Truman cabal still conceals the secret documents in the case in order to protect the guilty individuals. These guilty men include Roosevelt and Truman and important historical persons in the State and War departments in those days.

In Germany last winter I inquired at the headquarters of the American High Commission for the text of the agreement and was told that it could not be revealed because it was a deal between three nations, ours, Britain and Russia. It could be released only by agreement of all three. That is such a paltry fake reason that the true reason, the concealment of guilt, becomes plain at once.

But the truth is that all concerned in the deal were hedging, stalling, refusing to take responsibility throughout the negotiations and double-crossing one another within our own circle of representatives. Eisenhower didn't know then what an evil crew of conspirators he was dealing with in the Roosevelt administration, including Roosevelt himself, of course. He is slow on the uptake and it undoubtedly was hard for a trusting, biddable man with three, then four and finally, five stars on his shoulders, put there by his grinning patron, to realize that he was contending with the most ruthless crook in the history of our country.

There was an article in Foreign Affairs Quarterly in July, 1950 by Philip E. Mosley, a Columbia professor and an expert on Russian affairs, which tried to clarify things. The most that Mosley proved, however, is that vital facts are concealed from all of us. There is no plain, official version of the disaster. Confusion was deliberately established, perhaps permanently. Roosevelt and Truman and their bureaucrats in the State Department and the Army played a reptilian game. They were all actually more guilty than a dumb, trusting lieutenant-colonel of the line who suddenly found himself dealing with racials beyond the experience, to say nothing of the scope, of his imagination.

The extent of Ike's knowledge was revealed inadvertently by Elliott Roosevelt in his memoirs glorifying his father and establishing his own record as a playboy and toadpot in the war.

In May, 1943, Elliott went to Russia to look at the airfields which had tentatively been assigned to us." He was there a little over a week and went through the usual routine of banquets and alcohol and made a "flying inspection" of a field at Poltava. When he went back to London, poor Ike had to pump him for the most ordinary information.

Ike wanted to know, "What was it like? How was their army like? How were their fliers? How was their discipline? What did they think of us?" Elliott, the dead-beat promoter who became a general of aviation though ignorant of aircraft the Commander-in-Chief. He said and flying, answered as well as he could the questions of the important question in the Russian mind was the Second Front in Western Europe and when he mentioned the committing "father and the Prime Minister had made back at Tehran," Ike did not know what he was talking about. Elliott knew, or said he did, but the American generalissimo said, "I don't know about those commitments. I wasn't there."

National Whirligig... Adlai Reported To Be Unhappy In Role Of Understudy To HST

By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON — Although Governor Stevenson's natural politeness and unstrained lips, his friends report that he has become increasingly uncomfortable in his mid-campaign role as understudy to Harry S. Truman.

All impartial polls, which are studied carefully at Springfield and on the Stevenson train, report a hostile reaction to Truman's personal and unrestrained jibes at General Eisenhower—a form of attack which the Democratic nominee himself has not resorted. The street comment is sprinkled with such adjectives as "vicious, degrading, undignified, mud slinging."

Truman's sarcastic remarks about his craftwork military leader seem to fall flat for several reasons. For one thing, the popular Ike is not such a shining and susceptible target as Gov. Thomas D. Dewey was four years ago.

Secondly, it is recognized that the Missouri's only stake in the struggle is self vindication, which can be best given by history rather than by ballot-box statistics.

TRUMANISM UNPOPULAR — These Stevensonian analyses of Truman's impact indicate that the Democratic candidate may suffer both politically and personally.

The President appears to be pleasing only those elements which would vote for Stevenson in any event. The only favorable response has been noted in large, eastern cities, which are accustomed to "smarmy Alcock" camp styles. But in the southern Middle-Western states, where "Trumanism" is extremely unpopular among Democrats and independents, the presidential exhibition may alienate still undecided voters.

Truman is also keeping the relatively unknown nominee from becoming a national figure in his own right. Besides submerging Stevenson's attractive and winning personality, the White House intruder has deliberately jockeyed the Illinois governor into running on a record which, in part at least, he originally condemned.

CAMPAIGN LEVEL LOWERED — Truman's interference has lowered the level of a campaign which the two principals had promised to maintain on a far higher plane. Their post-convention expectations of a unique and classic contest for White House honors have vanished. Privately, both express regret at this trend.

The President's ransacking of secret files to disparage Eisenhower's war record so angered the former SHAPE commander that he replied in rough, army language.

When Truman dragged in the issues of the origins of the Korean conflict and the lack of American access to our Berlin zone, blaming the GOP leader for White House and State Department decisions of top-level character, the combat shifted from constructive discussion of future policy to a wrangle over ancient blunders.

FOREIGN POLICY — Stevenson then had to pitch his speeches to Truman's. For the sake of party unity, he was forced to utter statements which begin to sound like footnotes to presidential off-givings. His more recent appearances show him to be a man ill at ease and less sure of himself than he was a few weeks ago.

Thus the original hope of Adlai and Ike to minimize foreign policy differences has disappeared. The rowdy spectacle has frightened our allies in the Far East and Europe over the next administration's program. It has also cheered Stalin in his latest attempt to wear or scare other nations away from the United States.

SLUGGING MATCH — Ike seems to enjoy this form of fighting, especially as he feels that he has heavier artillery. But it is peculiarly distressing to such a sensitive, nonbelligerent and serene spirit as Stevenson.

He does not include in such a summary of his knowledge that he was talking about. Elliott knew, or said he did, but the American generalissimo said, "I don't know about those commitments. I wasn't there."

He does not include in such a summary of his knowledge that he was talking about. Elliott knew, or said he did, but the American generalissimo said, "I don't know about those commitments. I wasn't there."

Roosevelt faction "never had it so good" since it became the governor's original booster, and aims to cash in on the publicity. It has instructed its 4-page pamphlet about itself that it unusually frank. In a section headed, "How far left is ADA?" it says: "Not since the Philadelphia Action, an ADA ally, in a formal convention resolution, recently demanded abolition of the House Committee on Un-American Activities and repeal of the Loyalty oaths."

Simultaneously, Stevenson a signed Leo Lerner, an original supporter and head of the Volunteers for Stevenson, to serve as a liaison messenger over ADA's national headquarters. He wants no more admissions that his backers do not resent such appellations as "leftist" and "socialist."

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JOHAN, M.D.

One of today's biggest social and medical problems is narcotic addiction, or what is perhaps more commonly known as the drug habit. This problem is serious and a danger, not only to the individual addict but to the entire fabric of society.

What causes drug addiction and what can be done about it? No one really wants to become a drug addict with all the sad physical, mental and social effects which eventually result.

Consequently it is felt that most victims of the habit are those who feel themselves inadequate to face life, who have feelings of inferiority, who are social misfits in some way, or who have been suffering from ill health and have unwisely taken these habit-forming drugs too long, until they can no longer stop.

In referring to the drug habit one usually means the craving for one of the derivatives of opium, which can be included among the habit-forming drugs.

To opium and its derivatives, which are habit-forming, are added such substances as barbiturates, which have been used over the centuries to relieve unbearable pain, but they cannot be used indefinitely without running the risk of developing a craving.

The symptoms of habit-formation come slowly. At first the health is little disturbed, but gradually the dose of the drug used has to be increased in order to produce the pleasant symptoms.

When the habit has been finally formed, the victim of drug addiction becomes mentally depressed and often suffers from various symptoms in the digestive tract or elsewhere whenever the effects of the drug have worn off.

This leads towards more frequent use of the drug, and the need for larger doses until the confirmed addict is completely at the mercy of dope rings or peddlers who supply it.

As the habit gets worse, the confirmed addict loses weight, develops a poor complexion and tends toward premature grayness. He becomes a nervous and restless man under the influence of the drug. His sleep is disturbed and the appetite falls.

TREATMENT IS DIFFICULT — The treatment of fully established drug addiction is difficult and often the physician who has the habit will commit any crime in order to obtain the drug. Treatment to be effective, is best given in an institution.

The greatest effort in the control of narcotic addiction should be made to inform everyone, including youngsters of high school age, of the dangers of starting down this path, which looks so "glorious" but will not be a success. I don't know, because it deserves to be. It will now have a loving, respecting performance twice. That much I can say for you. But I can't cover this play. There are no written rules about such things but I don't believe a critic should review any play in which his wife is a principal. Someone else will write the review and I will have no word to say to him, because that would also be wrong. Whatever his opinion, he has a right to it and to make it public.

But if devotion and admiration and a most tremendous confidence in you narcotic addiction should have them. They are given to you freely to keep and to use in whatever ways they are of use.

Good luck.

Ten Million West German Refugees Present Problem

BONN, Germany (AP) — What if all the people in New England were homeless refugees? Western Germany faces a comparable problem with refugees there now numbering the fantastic total of 10 million. This is over a fifth of the total population.

American and German officials see these millions of stranded people as a potential tinderbox for a social explosion.

Already, failure to integrate the refugees into the life of West Germany has led to a wave of discontent. Large numbers of refugees are threatening to take the law into their own hands and march into more prosperous areas of West Germany unless their plight is eased.

The West German government is so alarmed over the flood of refugees that officials recently made a heart-breaking decision: to tell the East Germans to stay put under Soviet oppression.

In a special broadcast beamed to the East, the government said all East Germans except those whose lives are in danger must "hold on to the earth of the fatherland" and keep up a core of resistance against communism.

Government officials say West Germany has spent the equivalent of six billion dollars since 1945 on the care of refugees. The United States has chipped in additional millions.

Still the plight of the refugee in Germany is desperate.

The government says: "In spite of enormous sums spent, only 35 per cent of them have become fully integrated, another 48 per cent have been provided with some kind of work but are far from feeling integrated, while the remaining 2 per cent are still without work and without hope of becoming integrated in the future."

The bulk of the refugees — 8,200,000 — consists of Germans herded out of areas east of the Oder-Neisse line or from such countries as Poland, Hungary, Rumania and Czechoslovakia.

In addition, there are some 1,700,000 who have bolted to the West from Soviet-occupied East Germany or East Berlin.

One of the chief causes of the misery of these new citizens is their uneven distribution. American officials say the refugee population is mainly concentrated in the agricultural states of Bavaria, Schleswig-Holstein and Lower Saxony. In Schleswig-Holstein, 37 per cent of the population are refugees.

While these agricultural states are overcrowded by job seekers, many industrial regions are short of labor. In the industrial Ruhr, the shortage of miners long has plagued the coal industry.

The obvious solution is to transplant the unused refugee manpower to the available job opportunities. But this has proved difficult to carry out.

Wails Of Little Taxpayers May Bring On A Revolution

By SYLVIA PORTER

"The wails of the little taxpayers of this country will some day cause a revolution in our tax law. The study Congress is starting now gives me hope for the first time that the revolution is at hand. It won't come a minute too soon."

Thus one of the nation's leading tax authorities ended an interview in which he had denounced today's income tax law as started up in red tape, maddeningly inconsistent, flagrantly unfair to wage-earners and smaller taxpayers particularly.

Never before has our income tax law been so loaded with economic, social and political dynamite.

Never before has a top-to-bottom overhaul of the entire system been so imperative.

The injustices that are buried deep in the law didn't matter so much when tax rates were low and the number of taxpayers was relatively small.

But today 44,000,000 Americans are paying taxes. Today we're spending more in taxes than we're spending on food.

Today countless families are miserably aware that their tax bills have eliminated their last little budget leeway.

It is vital news to all of us, therefore, that Congress' "Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation" is asking us for complaints about the law and for specific suggestions for improvements.

Businessmen and organized industry groups already are bombarding the committee with proposals on how corporation and excise taxes should be revised.

In the last three columns, I've outlined steps that should be taken to eliminate injustices to the individual taxpayer.

In the field of deductions, the inequities are terrific. And fundamental in any overhaul of the law.

Reds Trying To Repair Harm From Purge Of Capitalists

By FRED HAMPSON

HONG KONG (AP) — The Communists in China are lending money to the capitalists — lots of money, at low interest rates. The capitalists are reluctant to take it. Some won't take it.

How did this happen? It came about because the Communists last fall decided the capitalists — private owners of industry and businesses — were corrupting government workers and the people by bribing, cheating, stealing, profiteering and avoiding taxes.

The Communists said these bourgeois habits of the private owners, who still ran about half of China's industry and business, had to be eliminated.

They launched the "Five Anti" campaign. Capitalists were accused, forced to confess and fined.

gaggering amounts. Some went to jail. Some went to prison camps. Some were shot. Hundreds committed suicide.

By March and April it became apparent that the Communists had succeeded mainly in eliminating production and employment. In May the Reds called it off and began frantically to repair the damage.

Most of the survivors did not want to go back to work. They felt the final squeeze — out was only being postponed. Let the Reds run the plants. But the Communists lacked technical and managerial personnel.

By Aug. 2, the Communists by their own announcements had lent private business and industry the equivalent of 150 million U. S. dollars. Loans were handed out in Peiping, Tientsin, Shanghai, Hankow and Chungking.

It does not seem to have been enough. The Peiping Peoples Daily announced that the Peoples Bank of China "had decided to increase the amount of loans and to lower interest rates as much as 50 per cent."

How many of the private owners have gone back to work? The Communists are not saying. But the lower interest rates and scholdings in the Peoples Daily, official organ of the Chinese Communist party, indicate that plenty of them still are on the sidelines.

Probably no one will ever know how seriously the Reds crippled themselves with their "five Anti" campaign.

Observers in Hong Kong believe it was the most harmful of all their so-called reforms. Not only money and production were lost, but skilled managers and technicians were eliminated.

Boyle Sticks To Contention Husbands Now Clinging Vines

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — I never said women ought to get up and give their seats to men in a bus or tip their hats in an elevator whenever a man enters.

These womanly gestures of civility toward the new weaker sex certainly wouldn't be inappropriate today, but I have set up no cry for them.

How do such ideas get around anyway? All I did was to point out in a recent essay the obvious fact that as a result of the emancipation of women, the clinging vine wife has been replaced by the clinging vine husband.

He just changes places with her. She steers the family bus, spends the money and spansks the kids. He merely sits on the fence, umpires her errors and tells her fondly, "Gee, honey, I'm a lucky man to have a girl like you to lean on. How did you pick me out of all the men in the world? I'm not really so much to look at."

Woman of the Future

In putting down these thoughts I intended only to pay tribute to the woman of the future—a confident Herculean figure striding the earth in triumph, on a high, like lady spider, takes the mere male as a luxury and a treat, not a necessity.

But the more a man praises a woman the more she regards him with suspicion. My mail from indignant women has been so heated it almost has to be handled with tongs. A few scorching examples:

"Your mother must have dropped you on your head as a child."

"You... you... you..."

Holy Souls PTA Has Anniversary

Home and School Assn., formerly the Holy Souls Parent-Teacher Assn., observed the 15th anniversary of the opening of the school at a meeting this week in the Parish Hall.

Mrs. Tom Wade read a newspaper account of the dedication service and gave the history of the school's PTA, and named past presidents. Among the charter members present were Mmes. Russell Chisholm, J. P. Brown, and Lynn Boyd.

Dick Sullins presided at the meeting during which reports were made by Wendell Cox, treasury; E. J. Dunigan, budget and finance; J. Kidwell, membership; and Mother James Aloysius, visual education.

Mrs. E. J. Lewis discussed plans for the children's fun night October 30. Movies will be shown, games played, and refreshments will be served.

Mother Aloysius presented the main address, "Parent-Teacher Relationship," and Father Myles Moynahan closed the meeting with a prayer for Mother Justin, first supervisor of the Holy Souls school, who died last year.

E. J. Lewis was program chairman for the meeting. During the meeting it was announced that Sister Conice, former supervisor, is ill in Amarillo, and a spiritual bouquet was made up for her.

Mrs. Omar Bybee Hostess To Local "Southwesterners"

The Southwesterners, recently organized by wives of Southwestern Public Service Co. employees, met this week in the home of Mrs. Omar Bybee with Mrs. Otis Calcote as co-hostess.

The program included a demonstration and display of different types of hot rolls that can be made from yeast dough. Mrs. Bybee conducted the program.

During the business meeting, a Halloween party was planned and committees gave reports.

Coffee and cookies were served to Mmes. Gene Daugherty, Evert Revard, Joe Chudej, Leonard Foster, Bob Stuart, Norman Fisher, Joe Goldens, Elton Lassiter, Pat Fincher, and the hostesses.

The next meeting is scheduled Oct. 20.

Page 8-A - PAMPA NEWS, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1952

SAGGIN' WAISTLINES and shiny satins were popular in the 1915-20 fashion era, when Pampa women were hungry for social activity. Mrs. George Snell, left, and Mrs. Tom Braly will be among the local models appearing in the Epsilon Sigma Alpha style showing Sunday in the Junior High School auditorium, one of the first of numerous events scheduled for the county birthday celebration. Mrs. Snell will model a black satin dress worn by Mrs. A. H. Doucette in 1925, with braid at the hip and hemline. Mrs. Braly will show a midnight-blue satin worn by Mrs. Mel Davis about 1915. The fashion show, which includes men and women's fashions of the last 50 years, begins at 2:30 p.m. in the Junior High School auditorium. Tickets are on sale at Harvester Drug.

Methodist Church School Workers Hold Dinner Meet

Approximately 70 church school workers of the First Methodist Church attended a dinner, prepared by Rev. and Mrs. Tom Johnston, the minister and his wife, and served by members of the Couples Class this week.

Joe Wells, church school superintendent, presided and introduced Paul Brown, adult division superintendent; Mrs. Cecil Williams, senior department, Mrs. Louis Bonny, intermediate department, and Mrs. W. R. Campbell, children's division.

The division superintendents in turn presented their teachers and officers of the group.

Rev. Johnston reported on the special session of the Northwest Texas Conference in Lubbock recently. Roy Johnson, minister of music of the church, urged continued support of the choir system, and increased attendance at the six different choir rehearsals.

R. W. Curry, assistant superintendent for membership cultivation, projected plans for increased membership and attendance to both adult and youth divisions; and Mrs. Campbell held a regular children's division meeting.

State Grand Regent Attends Meeting Of Women Of Moose

The Deputy Grand Regent of the State of Texas, Mary Jane Stout of Amarillo, was a special guest at the Women of the Moose weekly meeting in the Moose Hall. She commended the local chapter for its progress in ritual work.

Mrs. Charles H. Webb, senior regent, presided at the meeting. She announced the convocation to be held in Amarillo Sunday, October 26, in the Herring Hotel Crystal ballroom. Luncheon tickets may be purchased from Mrs. Webb.

Following the business meeting, Earl Miller, governor of the Order of the Moose, expressed appreciation for the work of the women's group. In the last year the organization has purchased a nickelodeon and heaters for the hall.

Nineteen members were present for the meeting. The group meets next Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Moose Hall.

Walter Patzig Speaks At Sam Houston Parent-Teacher Meet

Products of the local Celanese plant were discussed by Walter Patzig, Celanese chemist, at a meeting Thursday afternoon of the Sam Houston Parent-Teacher Assn. Mr. Patzig, who was introduced by Mrs. Bob Vall, explained what the company will produce locally, and gave the background of the corporation.

Roy Johnson presented two vocal selections, "I Heard a Forest Praying," and "Nothing Plus Nothing."

Mrs. Gene Fathree, president, presided at the meeting, and announced the procedure course to be conducted November 4 from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. in the junior high school cafeteria.

Family night was planned for Thursday, October 30 from 5 to 8 p.m.

Mrs. Fathree and Mr. Aaron Meek, school principal, were elected delegates to the state convention in Wichita Falls, Nov. 19-21. An executive board meeting preceded the general meeting.

The Golden Text states "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits; who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases; who redeemeth thy life from destruction" (Psalms 103:2-4). One of the Bible citations to be read will be this verse from Matthew: "When the even was come, they brought unto him many that were possessed with devils; and he cast out the spirits with his word, and healed all that were sick" (8:16). From the Christian Science textbook by Mary Baker Eddy will be read: "Jesus strips all disguise from error, when his teachings are fully understood. By parable and argument he explains the impossibility of good producing evil; and he also scientifically demonstrates this great fact, proving by what are wrongly called miracles, that sin, sickness and death are beliefs—illusory errors—which he could and did destroy" (Science and Health will Key to the Scriptures p. 343).

THE MAN who has no Faith in God, nor any human being is dead as a cinder... he has spiritual leukemia. Faith is the root of all blessing. Faith can light up your soul in the darkest night.

HOPE is our highest expectation of good. Surely, Hope maintains most mankind. Hope must be the tie that keeps the heart from breaking. Hope is a carpet along the road man must walk to the Glory Land.

LOVE, the greatest of the three. Love suffers long and is gentle; love never fails. Surely love must be the crowning grace. You will find these spiritual vitamins at your church... don't miss a service.

Hank Gets Mixed Up With The Big Boys In New York Tavern

By HENRY McLEMORE
 Big mouth, little pocketbook, spells trouble.
 I have both the big mouth and the little pocketbook, having been born with the first and acquired the last.
 I was sitting at Edith Condon's the other night, listening to the best Dixieland music in the world, when two men at a table shoved close to mine started arguing about the presidential election.
 They weren't arguing because they both thought Stevenson would win, but they couldn't decide on the number of states they thought Stevenson would carry. It was their discussion.
 And I had to stick my nose in. At three o'clock in the morning there isn't anything that I don't know. At three o'clock on a Monday morning I can tell you why a priceless Belgian tapestry is no good, why Washington was a bad President, and why Ava Gardner is not pretty.

 So I turned around to the two men who were arguing about Stevenson and said, "I'll beat Stevenson, easy. And I'd like to make a little bet with you boys."
 "What you want to bet?" the man on my left said.
 "Listen, both the worst looking suit I've ever seen in my life. He had on white socks with clocks. He had a starched shirt on, and I just felt somehow that if he took two steps his shoes would squeak. I looked at him as only a country croaker who has turned snob can. I gave him the cold, New York eye.
 "What you want to bet, baby?" I said.
 "Then I told him off. 'This is a town of big bettors. If you're coming up here with eight dollars to bet, you're in the wrong place, son.'
 The man didn't say a word to me. I said, 'If you want to get to betting serious money we'll go to five hundred dollars.' He ordered a soft drink.
 "I said, 'Listen, let's make it ten thousand dollars, because you've been talking so much. Put up or shut up.' I said.
 I asked Mr. Condon for a blank check, and make it out for ten thousand dollars, which if ever cashed would bounce higher than all the tennis balls at Forest Hills.
 "Cover that or keep quiet forever," I said.
 The man I had challenged stood up, reached into his pocket, and said, "I bet you eight million dollars."
 "Why, you phoney crum," I told him.
 He said, "I may be phoney, but what I've got here ain't."
 I knew I had him now and I exulted. "Oh, you crum, you, going around betting eight million dollars. Cover the ten thousand, it's sitting out there looking at you."
 "Want to make it sixteen million dollars?" And he was looking me in the eye now.
 "Sure, I told him. 'Let's make it sixteen million dollars.'"
 Then he put down, next to my no-good check, a cashier's check for $16,475,983.16.
 "If you want to make it a little more, I've got a couple more just like this in my hotel room," I grabbed my check, tore it up, and asked him where a Texan, and why he was carrying that sort of dough around with him.
 "Going to be here over the week-end, and don't wanta run short."

Serviceman's Check List

Have you put your affairs in order since you were released from military service? Here is a partial list of things to check.
 Have you filed the original copy of your discharge papers with your County Clerk? It is important to insure that a record of your discharge papers always will be available. It protects you against future loss from theft, fire or negligence. Should you lose your discharge papers, the government will give you only a certificate stating that you were in service, but giving no other pertinent information. County Clerks throughout the state accept your discharge papers for filing without cost, and thereafter obtain certified copies whenever the need arises.
 When you entered military service, did you execute a power of attorney so that someone would be able to act for you during your absence? If you now want complete control of all of your affairs, you must cancel any contract which gives certain powers to someone else.
 If you have had a will prepared, has it been revised to suit changed conditions? For example, if you have married or if another child has been born to you and your spouse, you will want to check your will to make sure that all of your dependents are provided for. Changes in tax law, judicial decisions and administrative actions by the Treasury Department, too, could affect the provisions in your will. Especially is this true if the government has passed a new revenue act since your will was prepared.
 Are the beneficiaries named in your life insurance policies now correct? Is the amount adequate now in the light of the present delated dollar? It is important to note that, unlike World War II veterans, Korean veterans must act within 120 days after release from duty in order to continue their government insurance.
 Did you change your automobile license and insurance to the name of another person? If your car was not used for business purposes during your absence, you perhaps were granted a reduced premium. Is the insurance you carry now adequate for the purposes for which you use your car?
 Did you take advantage of certain provisions in the Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act to protect you from further liability for leases or contracts after you entered service? This act provides for immunity from court action only during the time you serve in the armed forces. Did you miss any payments on your home while you were in service? You now are liable for interest which accrued on the unpaid balance during the years that payments were postponed. These debts were not forgiven — and now that you are a civilian again, you must take up your postponed responsibilities.
 Have you applied for reemployment in your old job? Application must be made within 90 days after you are released from service. If you do not return to your former job, it will be helpful to your former employer if you notify him as to your decision. The 86 local offices of the Texas Employment Commission and the Federal Bureau of Veterans Reemployment Rights are equipped to protect your rights and assist in returning you to your pre-service employment status. No charge is made for this service.
 A pamphlet explaining procedures to safeguard your reemployment rights can be obtained by writing the Bureau of Veterans Reemployment Rights, Room 222 Commercial Building, 1100 Main Street, Dallas 2, Texas. This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.

Stock Pile Gone! Here's Play

By OSWALD JACOBY
 Written for NEA Service
 "Please explain what should be done when you get to the end of the stock pile," requests a St. Paul reader. "Do you turn the discard pile over and start again, or does the hand come to an end at once? Is the rule the same for two-handed and three-handed Canasta?"
 The same rule is followed no matter how many players are in the game. Let's suppose that North picks up the last card of the stock pile and discards a king. There are now no more cards in the stock pile, and it is West's turn to play.
 If West has a meld of kings on the table, he must pick up the discard pile and meld the discarded king. There are, however, two exceptions to this rule. If the discard pile is frozen, West need not pick it up even though he may have a pair of kings in his hand. In many cases, of course, West will be eager to take the pile; but he has a free choice in the matter. The other exception occurs when West has only one card in his hand and the discard pile consists likewise of only one card. In this situation West is not allowed to take the discard pile. This covers all the cases in which West has a meld of kings on the table. Now let's consider the cases in which West has not previously melded kings.
 If West wants to pick up the discarded king (assuming that he has the necessary cards to do so), he may take it and meld it at once. If he doesn't want to pick the king up (or if he is unable to do so), the hand ends at once.
 Let's go back over one point. Sometimes West is unable to pick up the discarded king; and sometimes he has a choice and decides not to pick it up. In all such cases the hand ends immediately. If West does pick the king up, he may meld out, in which case the hand comes to a fairly normal end. When West fails to meld out, he discards; and the hand continues. Now it is up to North to play.
 North's position is now exactly what West's position was on the previous play. North must take West's discard if North has a matching meld on the table (unless North has only one card in this hand). If North has no matching meld on the table, he has a choice. And if North is unable to take the discard (or unwilling, when he has a choice), the hand ends then and there.

 Whenever the hand ends in this peculiar way, nobody gets a bonus for melding out. Each player deducts for the cards left in his hand, and the other scores are counted in the usual way.
 Nero was an accomplished performer on one type of bagpipe, says the National Geographic Society.
 Entrance examinations for the Pampa Police Department will be held at 8:30 p.m., Oct. 22, at the police station. Chief of Police J. B. Conner has announced that minimum requirements to be met by all applicants are: age 22; height 5 feet 8-inches; weight 160 pounds; high school education, or its equivalent; passing the adaptability test by no less than a score of 70. Starting pay for Pampa policemen is $255 per month.
 The bagpipe was popular with troubadours of the Middle Ages.
