Adlai Tightens Grip On Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois tightened his command over his presidential drive today, with President Truman ready to take campaign orders. As a result of a historic — if somewhat indecisive — White House conference yesterday, Stevenson had assurances he could count on Truman as a subordinate member of his team.

Ranchhand Arrested In Sex Slaying

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — William F. Rupp Jr., 18-year-old ranchhand captured after a five-day hunt, was booked on suspicion of murder today in the sex killing of a 15-year-old babysitter.

Orange County Sheriff's Deputy Jess Buckle said the youth admitted shooting Ruby Ann Payne last Friday after she resisted him.

He surrendered without a struggle shortly before midnight after being recognized ordering food in a cafe at Brea, about 15 miles north of here, near the Los Angeles County line.

Employed As Beekeeper Young Rupp was employed as a beekeeper at the ranch of Harry Dyer of Yorba Linda, whose children Miss Payne was watching when fatally shot with a .22-caliber rifle.

The ranchhand was the object of an intensive search throughout Southern California since the girl's body was found with her clothes partially ripped off, apparently the victim of a sex attack.

Two Brea policemen took Rupp into custody approximately 10 miles from the ranch. Earlier that night his abandoned car was found. A .22-caliber rifle, his chamber jammed, was made.

Youth Recognized Lawrence Echines, a cafe employee, recognized the bearded and unkempt youth when he walked in and ordered two hamburgers. Echines told a waitress to delay filling the order. Then he left through a backdoor to telephone police.

Gray HD Members To Attend Meeting

Two members of Gray County Home Demonstration clubs will be delegates to the state association meeting in Kingsville at A & I College Aug. 25-28.

Mrs. Carl Smith, county chairman of the Texas Home Demonstration Assn. of the Bell community will be accompanied by Mrs. W. E. Melton Hopkins, Mrs. Smith, who serves as the link between the county and state groups will receive instructions as to her duties at the meeting.

On schedule for the meeting are election of officers, workshops in various fields of home demonstration work, and a mass chest X-ray service. The Gray County delegates will join other members from the district at Amarillo and will go to Kingsville by bus. They plan a short tour into Mexico before returning.

Britons Tell Of Strange Events With Red Captors

ABERDEEN, Scotland (AP) — Eleven Britons arrived by yacht today to tell of a strange adventure with Russians who nabbed them near a group of top-secret islands in the Gulf of Finland. The islands are off Porkkala, the Russian-held bastion at the head of the gulf which Finland ceded after her recent war with Russia.

Manufacturer Peter Saunders one of the four men and seven women aboard the Helsinki-bound yacht, told this story:

"We were sailing along quite happily off the islands, well outside the usual three-mile limit. Suddenly we heard shots and rushed on deck to find a Russian submachine gun firing on us. The captain stopped the yacht and three Russian sailors jumped on with their voyage.

And it was strictly up to the Democratic presidential nominee as to when and where he would insert Truman in the lineup. That was to be determined later in line with Truman's statement that "details will be worked out at a later date."

Officers Tour The President was quoted by an authoritative source as offering to undertake a whistle-stop tour for the Democratic ticket, but as telling Stevenson:

"You are the one who has got to run the campaign it is up to you."

Stevenson apparently made no direct reply.

But some of his friends believe about the best thing he now wants the President to do is to take to the schools, since any such move might distract attention from the nominee's own efforts to carry his cause to the country.

Apparently left undecided in claimed by its two top participants a three-hour session publicly as "very satisfactory" was a conflict in tentative speaking dates for Larry Day.

Conflict Arises Stevenson had planned to open his campaign Sept. 1 with a speech in Detroit, where Truman began his successful 1948 drive. Truman tentatively has accepted a date to talk in Milwaukee the same day.

Although this matter was discussed in a meeting in Milwaukee (See ADLIA, Page 2)

Ike Blasts Demo Parley

DENVER (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower says Adlai Stevenson's White House visit shows the Truman administration is determined to continue its policies through a hand-picked successor. Those policies, Eisenhower charges, have carried the nation to a situation "of bewilderment, indecision and fear for the future."

In his sharpest attack on the Democrats since his own nomination for the presidency, Eisenhower declared last night in a written statement to the Washington conference between Gov. Stevenson of Illinois and administration leaders presented these "far-reaching implications":

1. The question as to whether the President and his Cabinet "can possible contemplate using resources of the federal government to influence the judgments of voters."

2. An implied decision to involve non-political officers, through the inclusion of military and national security personnel within the meetings, in a political campaign "in which they have no part."

3. "The obvious fact that the Democratic party, if given another four years to control our destinies, would not charge its policies."

Abroad. At first we thought they were pirates—one hadn't had a shave or haircut for three months. "We were taken to a harbor. Obviously there are important installations on the islands, as we saw an hour a colonel and other senior officers arrived.

"For four hours they questioned us—entirely through signs and drawings. They didn't speak a word of English. We didn't speak a word of Russian.

"We had great fun jumping around the floor to make them understand we were going to watch the horse jumping at the Helsinki Olympics."

It all ended happily. The Russians gave the yachtmen coffee and cigarettes and let them depart on their voyage.

REUNITED AFTER 51 YEARS — J. C. Payne, 535 S. Ballard, gets his first glimpse of "the old place" in Tennessee in 51 years from a snapshot brought to Pampa by his brother, Charles, who also hasn't seen in that length of time. The brothers are pictured here with J. C. at the right as they talk over old times with the aid of a family picture album. (News Photo)

Brothers Are United In Pampa After Separation Of 51 Years

By RO ELLISON A Pampa man who came West 51 years ago — and stayed — was reunited with his brother here this week for the first time since he left "the old home place" in Tennessee.

J. C. Payne, 535 S. Ballard, and his brother, Charles Payne of Greenville, Tenn., have been talking over old times and bringing each other up to date on affairs during the past 51 years.

The Pampa man, 69 on his birthday last March, had lost track of his family, most of whom had remained in Tennessee, until his daughter, Mrs. J. A. Grundy, 1011 Duncan, returned to the home state a few months ago, looked up her dad's relatives and insisted that they make their vacation trip to Pampa.

"Charlie," 65 in April, and his wife are here until the latter part of the week visiting in the home of his brother and his three nieces. Both born in Green County, Tenn., the brothers are two of the six children of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Payne, also native Tennesseans. J. C. got "itchy feet" when he was 18 and came West to Mountain View, Okla., with a group of pioneers.

It was near this Oklahoma town that he met and married Miss Lora Barrett in 1907. Together they have reared three daughters, all impressed enough with the West to make their homes in Pampa.

They are Mrs. L. E. West, 502 N. Warren, Mrs. C. W. Coffin, 506 N. Nelson, and Mrs. Grundy.

Slated Sept. 2-3 Blood Defense Program Gets Rolling; Leaders Named

Pampa's blood defense program, scheduled for Sept. 2-3, went into action last night with the election of Lewis Chamberlain and Mrs. Rufe Jordan as co-chairman.

A meeting of representatives from local industries, civic clubs and interested community members heard Larry Hayes, center director of the regional bloodmobile unit, Fort Worth, discuss the program and agreed to continue it as offered by the local Red Cross chapter presiding, the group named five assistants to complete arrangements for the program.

Assistants will be Bert Arney, representing Cabot, John Hodges, Celanese, Mrs. Raymond Harrah, Council of Clubs, Charles Cook, Chamber of Commerce, and Fred Sloan, American Legion.

Sgt. Davis A. Brown had previously been named recruiting chairman and Mrs. Jack Foster, service chairman.

Local Boy Scouts offered services as day workers during the campaign and the actual blood processing; and the local chapter of the National Secretaries Association agreed to furnish, mimeograph, address and mail cards to schedule donors.

Another community meeting to hear committee reports and to make last-minute arrangements for the program has been called for 4 p.m. Sunday in the Palm Room of the city hall.

The bloodmobile unit begins operations in the American Legion Hall at 3 p.m. Sept. 2 and will be in operation from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. Wednesday. Mechanics of the mobile unit were explained by Hayes in his address. Approximately 200 pledged donors for each of the two days the unit is to be in Pampa, will be needed he said.

All technical equipment and trained personnel will come with the unit, but community aids in the form of typists, nurses, canteen helpers and staff aids will be needed to assist in the process. The service committee is to be headed by Mrs. Rufe Jordan. If it comes from a hardware store we have it, Lewis Hardware Adv.

Girls from 10 through 13 and their mothers will receive instruction on how to prepare project reports at 10 a.m. Thursday; and girls, 14 or over, and mothers will meet at 2 p.m.

Texas GOP Steps Up Pace; Considers Entering 3 Races

Bristling with renewed activity Texas Republicans yesterday were about set to enter two possibilities in congressional races and one legislative race.

The legislative candidate has not been named, but when he is it will be in the neighboring 86th State Legislature District comprising Hutchinson, Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Hemphill and Roberts Counties. The move came during the 18th Congressional District Convention yesterday in Amarillo.

Republican leaders of the 86th district this morning refused to say who their candidate will be. The district will name him when it reconvenes at Blinnett on Sept. 5.

"We are not saying who he will be. But we are looking for a good man who can enter the race in November against the Democratic nominee. We don't know if we will get one, but we hope to," Berger Republican leader said.

The Democratic nominee is Guy Hazlett, Berger attorney, who defeated incumbent Bill Craig of Miami.

The 86th district caucus — part of the 18th Congressional District convention — recessed and named a chairman until September so they could legally nominate a candidate to oppose Hazlett in the race for representative in the State Legislature.

Elsewhere in the state Republicans named one congressional candidate and may name a second.

Veteran lawmaker Wright Patman, Texarkana, of the 1st Congressional District will find a Linden insurance man, Robert Hoague, running against him in November.

Republicans in the 2nd Congressional District, convening at Beaumont, nominated Randolph O. Reed, a business executive, who said he would consider the nomination but refused to say whether he would accept it.

In the Fifth Supreme Judicial District, Republicans crossed-fied Dick Dixon, a Democrat, for chief justice, Court of Civil Appeals at Dallas.

Pampan Hurt In Well Fire

Johnny Kirk Gidden, about 25, a tool dresser for Triangle Well Service, Pampa, is suffering second-degree burns today on his hands, arms, face and back, received in an oil well fire on Panhandle Oil Company's Saunders Lease.

Gidden's condition is reported "good" at Worley Hospital.

The Pampa Fire Department was called out at 9:10 p.m. Tuesday to handle the fire. Saunders Lease, near Colto's gasoline plant, is about 18 miles south of town. The fire truck was on the job for three hours, 15 minutes.

Witnesses say the fire started when a light bulb burst, but there has been no official confirmation.

Gidden, who lives at 411 S. Gille, was a member of a clean-out crew at the well. Damages have not been estimated.

State Verifies Decline Of Polio

AUSTIN (AP) — Slackening of polio's incidence in Texas the past week was reported by the State Health Department today. The disease struck 290 persons, 76 less than the week before.

Despite the decline, the year's total of 2,573 was only 205 cases short of the all-time high of 2,778 cases recorded in 1950.

Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, predicted a continued downward trend the remainder of the year, until September, a business executive, who said he would consider the nomination but refused to say whether he would accept it.

In the Fifth Supreme Judicial District, Republicans crossed-fied Dick Dixon, a Democrat, for chief justice, Court of Civil Appeals at Dallas.

The Democrats, caught in the doldrums since July 28, primary election day, came up officially with four congressional, one supreme court, and one civil appeals-court-judgeships due to go into the run-off besides numerous county and precinct runoff.

Commies Try To Move Into Youth Groups

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Communist scheme to infiltrate the Boy Scout movement and feed its youngest members "communism with sugar coating was described in sworn testimony made public today by Senate investigators.

The internal security subcommittee in a report to the Senate termed it part of a Moscow-inspired plan to wrap generations of teenagers to the Kremlin's views, in the schools, colleges, churches and youth organizations.

Few Greater Crimes "I can conceive of few greater crimes," said Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.), the subcommittee chairman, in a prepared statement released with the report. McCarran now is in Reno, Nev.

The report includes a transcript of sworn testimony given last March 5 by Harvey M. Matusow of Dayton, O., a self-styled former Communist now an agent of the Ohio Commission on Un-American Activities. The hearing was behind closed doors.

Matusow said the Communists after a futile effort in the 1930s to undermine the Scout movement, switched to the infiltration plan, under which they hoped to mix secret Red agents among the Scouts.

"Now they are apparently attempting to infiltrate the Boy Scouts, rather than set up an opposing organization?" He was asked by Donald D. Connors, a subcommittee investigator.

"Yes," the witness replied. "I might cite the example of Don West," Matusow said, naming a West as a Baptist clergyman and Communist organizer in Georgia (See BOY SCOUTS, Page 2)

Poisoning Suspect Attempts Suicide

WETUMKA, Ala. (AP) — A middle-aged nurse accused of poisoning her two small nieces injured herself by slashing her wrist with a razor. She last night only a few hours before she was to go on trial on murder charges.

Sheriff Lester Holley said Mrs. Earle Dennison managed to slip a piece of razor blade under the covers of her bed at Tutwiler Prison for women.

Holley said that although her cell was closely guarded, she cut into the flesh and lost about a pint or more of blood before the incident was discovered.

Mrs. Dennison was to face trial today for the arsenic poisoning of two-year-old Shirley Dianne Weldon, who died last May 1. She also is charged with poisoning Shirley's two-year-old sister, Polly Anne, more than two years ago.

Trial Postponed The sheriff said the trial probably will be postponed, at least for a day. He said Dr. Winston A. Edwards, the prison physician, planned to give Mrs. Dennison a blood transfusion today.

Shirley Dianne Weldon was only a few days old when Polly Anne died after a sudden, violent illness. Only the death of Shirley Dianne was on the docket for today.

Th widowed, 54-year-old nurse who worked at the hospital where the child died was arrested a week later after the parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Weldon of the nearby Claud community, swore out a murder warrant.

Sheriff Lester Holley said Mrs. Dennison admitted, without a show of emotion, that she gave Shirley Dianne arsenic in a soft drink and took her to the hospital where she died. The child died five hours later.

State Toxicologist C. J. Rehling said the autopsy, performed showed arsenic.

Still suspicious about the death of Polly Anne nearly three years before, the Weldons arranged to have her remains analyzed. Dr. Rehling said she, too, had traces of the deadly metallic poison, and another warrant was signed against the aunt.

Sheriff Holley said Mrs. Dennison denied intentionally poisoning Polly Anne, but admitted leaving a salt shaker containing arsenic at the Weldon home after a visit. She said she used it to make an insect killer.

The sheriff said the woman told him, however, that she collected $5,000 on an insurance policy after the first child's death. She gave no motive for the admitted slaying of Shirley Dianne but Holley said she reportedly had two policies on her totalling $6,000.

New Service For Parents Is Begun In Local Hospital

A special service to new parents is being instituted today at Highland General Hospital by Aubrey Jones, Pampa city tax assessor collector.

A special form, designed to gather all the necessary information for a certified birth certificate from the State Bureau of Vital Statistics, has been printed. By filling out this form and mailing it to the State Bureau after the tenth day of the month following the birth of the child, parents can receive a photostatic copy of the certificate. The cost is fifty cents per copy.

The copy which comes from the state bureau will serve as legal evidence in all courts and places where it might be needed.

Jones also urged all parents who have children who were born in Gray County and are starting school this year and who don't have certified copies of the child's birth certificate to stop at his office, obtain this form, fill it out, and mail it to Austin immediately to avoid confusion when enrolling the child in school.

"This new form which we are starting will also serve as a legal paper for allotments in cases where the husband is in the service," Jones added.

U.N. Accuses Reds Of Endangering Lives Of Prisoners

MUNSAN, Korea (AP) — The United Nations today accused the Reds of endangering the lives of U. N. soldiers in North Korean prison camps by forcing them to pinpoint camp sites.

The U. N. asked the Communists to furnish the information "without further delay."

The request was in a letter from Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, chief U. N. truce delegate, to North Korean Gen. Nam Il, top Red negotiator.

Harrison said he asked on Aug. 8 for information on the location and numbers of Communist prisoners' camps after the Reds shifted some of their camps, including the one holding Maj. Gen. William F. Dean. Harrison told Nam that failure to "provide this information promptly endangers the lives" of Allied soldiers in North Korea.

OUR TOWN by Wanda Campbell

When the Merten Home Demonstration Club meets an informative and diversified program is always the result. And when they entertain they do it in grand style. The home of Mrs. A. M. Nash was the scene of a luncheon Tuesday honoring Worthwhile Home Demonstration club members. Mrs. D. A. Rife and Mrs. William T. Cass, Jr., both good cooks, planned a menu with each Merten member bringing her "specialty". Mrs. Cass and Mrs. T. G. Groves made decorative and delicious meat loaves for the main dish. Congealed salads, vegetables and relishes were topped with ice cream made by Mrs. Archie Maness and Mrs. V. Day, and a special cake decorated by Mrs. P. J. Boyd. But the Merten members are not only wonderful cooks. Each seems to have another special talent that makes her a valuable demonstration club member. Mrs. V. Day and Mrs. J. C. Steward are the outstanding seamstresses in the club. Mrs. Day is especially gifted in making children's clothing. Mrs. Clyde Edmondson is always in charge of recreation and never fails in entertaining and "keeping the meeting going". She presented numerous party games both before and after the Tuesday luncheon and she never loses a moment between games. Like yesterday she suddenly and unexpectedly dropped an egg on top a guest's head and confetti flittered everywhere. She's a born party-giver and is always just one surprise ahead of everyone. Mrs. Nash who loves to entertain is one of the club's favorite hostesses. She recently moved into her home at 721 N. West. Displays of her various collections have provided several interesting programs. She has hundreds and hundreds of salt and pepper shakers, with a story behind every one, numerous Dresden figurines and a large collection of fine china. She has a varied collection of items sent her by her son and daughter-in-law. Major and Mrs. Albert M. Nash, who live in Germany. One of the loveliest things they have sent is a silver coffee and tea service which was used at yesterday's party. Mrs. Maness is a comparatively new member of the club. Another new member is Mrs. Etta Hildard, an interesting and lovable person we want to introduce in "Our Town". We know these new members are going to gain (and contribute) much from this versatile and harmonious group!

Gifted Children Need Special Understanding

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKS
AP Education Reporter

Children with special gifts, talents, and aptitudes are among the most precious assets of humanity, and the waste of their talents through neglect is a tragedy. Understanding and sympathy on the part of parents and teachers, together with intelligently planned assistance and leadership, can eliminate much of this waste and thereby contribute materially to the better world of the future.

So writes Associate Professor M.R. Sumption of the College of Education, University of Illinois, in the National Parent-Teacher Magazine.

It is the gifted child, grown up, who becomes the great scientist, the statesman, the leader in medical research, or the master artist, he says. That is, of course, if he is given opportunities to develop his superior abilities or talents.

What can we do to see that gifted children are given that chance? Our first problem, he says, is to recognize the gifted child and to do so early. Signs of special ability appear as early as 18 to 20 months.

It is a duty and a privilege for parents to watch carefully for signs of superior ability and exceptional talent in junior and to keep a written record of them.

Early mastery of walking and talking are often indicative of superior gifts, according to Professor Sumption. "During the preschool period the parents should also be on the lookout for the early growth of imagination and ingenuity.

This anecdotal record should contain a brief description of the circumstances, an accurate account of the incidents, and date on which it occurred. When a child enters kindergarten or elementary school, the parents should place this record in the hands of the teacher. If she is wise she will analyze it carefully and make it a part of the permanent record.

Once the gifted child is in school the conscientious teacher will seek to discover, appraise, and develop his abilities. She will work cooperatively with his parents. Classroom performance will offer but not always indicate where ability lies. However, too much insistence on routine drill and repetition will make school a dreary place for the gifted child. He must have freedom to use his initiative and imagination, to satisfy his curiosity, to explore his powers, to learn at his own pace.

The school, however, must have the cooperation and understanding of the parents, he maintains. Close cooperation between school and home in meeting the needs of the gifted will yield rich rewards, he concludes.

Cook's Nook

Summertime is picnic time and any sunny day is an excuse for outdoor eating. Next week end let your primitive urge take over and enjoy Sunday breakfast in the open air. With early morning appetites to inspire them, the family will be eager to take charge of starting a fire and setting up an eating site while you take over the cooking.

An outdoor breakfast usually centers around meat and egg combinations, such as sizzling pork sausage links with scrambled eggs, pan fried ham slices with eggs and grilled apple slices or bologna cup filled with scrambled eggs.

If thrifty pork sausage is your choice for outdoor cooking, here's a novel way of serving it: While you cook the sausage patties and scrambled eggs, have one of your helpers toast split round buns on the back of the fire. Spread buns with butter or margarine and put together with a sausage patty and some scrambled egg. To make these breakfast burger Bumstead style, top the eggs with a slice of tomato, too!

To complete the breakfast meal start with cantaloupe halves or wedges and follow with the sausage and egg burgers. Round out the breakfast with fried potatoes if desired and plenty of coffee.

To make things easier it's best to do most of the work before leaving the kitchen. Shape sausage patties and stack up with waxed paper between each. Mix eggs with milk and seasonings in a quart jar; cover and transport to the eating spot. Keep mixture cold until ready to cook.

You are calling to ask a club member to head a committee. Wrong! Confess that you have already asked several members, and that if she doesn't take the job you don't know who you can get.

Right! Be more tactful. Nobody likes to be considered a second or third choice, so don't mention that you have already tried to get several others to take the job.

Dear Alice,
The best way to get longer hair is just to let it grow. Your hair grows at a regular rate, the average being about a half inch a month. So you can figure out how long it will take to get long hair. While you are letting it grow keep it pretty and healthy with frequent washings, much brushing.

Some girls buy buns to pin on their own hair in order to give the impression they have long hair. You might try that as soon as your own hair is long enough to pin one on.

TOO OLD TO SWIM?

Dear Grace Friend
I am a woman nearing 50 and I have never learned to swim. When I was young I lived where there wasn't any place for swimming. Since I have moved here I would dearly love to be able to swim.

Do you think I would be silly to try to learn now?
How would I go about it?
Middle Aged

Dear Middle Aged —
Go to a good instructor for your swimming lessons. Of course you are not too old and if you have the desire to learn you should, by all means, HAT FOR WEDDING

Dear Miss Friend,
I am going to a wedding soon and I am going to wear a navy lace dress. Would you suggest a suitable color to wear with it for hat and gloves?

Those present were Norma Bernson, Barbara Hall, Frances Flowers, Nancy Alexander, Dorothy Bernson, Mary Ellen Tepe, and the hostess.

Attack Veeck For Moving Pitcher

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Johnny Jones, sports editor of the San Antonio Evening News, bitterly assails Bill Veeck, president of the St. Louis Browns, for taking pitcher Cliff Fannin from the San Antonio Missions, farm club of the Browns.

Writing in the News, Jones declared that this act, "destroyed all the good" will you created for your self and your on your recent visit to this city.

James said that taking away from San Antonio its most consistent pitcher just when the club was in a last-ditch fight to get into the Texas League playoffs would hurt Veeck where it would hurt the most — in the pocket book.

"The bench is the worst in my four years here," said Stengel. Despite his troubles, Stengel still leads the league by 2 1/2 games with only one more long Western trip to go.

Cox Qualifies In Top Flight

EUGENE, Ore. (Special) — Tommy Cox of Pampa qualified for championship play in 7th annual Junior Jaycee Golf Tournament here Monday as the field was cut from 140 to 100 of nation's finest young golfers.

Tommy tied his score of 81 on Monday to wind up with total of 162 for the two days. Yesterday's total was 41-40 — 81.

Friday at 12:19 p.m. Tommy was slated to tee off for the first round of 72-hole medal play competition for the national junior championship. He is paired with John Jackson, Jr., Hattiesburg, Miss., and Tom Watrous, Royal Oak, Mich. They also had 167 qualifying rounds.

Skeeter Kell, rookie infielder for the Philadelphia Athletics, played for Arkansas State College. Does It Alone

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN CHICAGO (AP) — There is a strong feeling in this football mecca that the College All-Stars denied a victory since 1950, are ready and able to snare one from the Los Angeles Rams Friday night.

The big show in Soldier Field will be seen or heard by millions on television and radio and an estimated 90,000 will attend.

The squad of 50 stalwarts who a year ago made collegiate football headlines has been rolled into a ponderous, terrifying T-format machine by Head Coach Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech and his staff.

It seems to have batches of everything in the way of gridiron material with the exception of a brace of Vanderbiter runners.

It has such passers as Bill Wade of Vanderbilt, Babe Parrill of Kentucky and Darrell Crawford of Georgia Tech; such receivers as Ends Bill Howton of Rice, Bill McColl of Stanford, Bob Carey of Michigan State and Pete Brewster of Purdue not to mention a fleet of halfback tail-guards.

It has such torpedo-like line smashers as Ed "Mighty Mo" Madzelski of Maryland, Bill Reichard of Iowa and Ollie Matt of Wisconsin in 1946. Illinois' Buddy Young of 1947 and Charlie "Choo-Choo" Justice of North Carolina in 1950.

Hirsch pumped 68 yards around for one touchdown, a record run for the series and scored another on a 62-yard touchdown play in leading the 1946 Collegians to a 16-0 triumph over the Rams.

The Rams, as 1951 NFL champions, return to the All-Star game Friday for the first time since then. And one of their best players is the same Hirsch, who, six years later, is hailed as the greatest pass-snatching end since Green Bay's Don Hutson.

And leading the powerful Rams into Chicago is their head coach Joe Stydahar. Jumbo Joe, who has sliced his weight from 295 pounds to a trim 245, was a 50-minute tackle in 1936 for the All-Stars who tied Detroit, 7-7, Stydahar All-Star game.

He is the first All-Star graduate to return as head coach of a National League team.

The Rams' party of 45 players, 25 of them last year's veterans and including Bob Waterfield, the only remaining active Ram from the 1946 eleven, will arrive in Chicago by plane tomorrow.

The All-Stars, after attending a Junior Association of Commerce luncheon in Chicago yesterday, worked out in game uniforms under the lights at Soldier Field at night. It was a light drill, mainly to acquaint them with the setting and mosquitoes in the big lake-front stadium.

The collegians, most of whom have signed pro contracts and will report to their football jobs right after the game, were then hustled back to their training quarters at Delafield, Wis., for final tuneups.

Friday Night Looking Like Collegiate All-Stars Year

By JACK HAND AP Sports Writer

Stu Miller's sensational debut with the St. Louis Cardinals recalls the "good old days" when pitchers like Bill Hallahan, Dizzy and Paul Dean, Howie Pollock and Harry Brecheen used to pop out of the Card farm system each fall.

Houston, Columbus and Rochester usually were loaded with lean, hungry young men who could throw a ball through a brick wall and lasso a calf with their curv ball.

Since the war, talent has come in dribs and drabs. More and more the Card managers have had to lean on the old standbys of other years. Fellows like Al Brazle and Brecheen.

Vinegar Bend Mizell, who arrived this spring, was going to revive the old Cardinal habit. He may yet prove to be the "big" pitcher they need but he has been inconsistent.

Now comes Miller, a 24-year-old righthander with an 11-5 record at Columbus, to stand the Chicago Cubs on their ears with a six-hit shutout, 1-0.

Just to prove he had it in the clutch, Miller breezed a 3-2 pitch past Bill Serna for a called strike in the ninth with men on first and third and two out.

Hal Rice's first-inning single scored Red Schoendienst with the game's only run, handing Bob Rush his 11th loss and second straight 1-0 defeat.

Tucked away in a corner of most papers last night was an important bearing on the narrow Brooklyn lead.

Harvey Haddix, a highly touted lefthanded pitcher, was discharged from the Army yesterday to rejoin the Cards immediately.

Haddix just helped pitch his Ft. Lix team into the national semi-pro tournament. In 1950 he had an 18-6 record for Columbus, Miller's alma mater.

The New York Giants won't start any little miracle this Aug. 12. That became definite last night when their scheduled night game at Brooklyn was rained out.

Having passed their anniversary of the start of the 1951 push in idleness, the Giants hope to launch their '52 spurt in a day-night doubleheader at Brooklyn today.

Brooklyn leads New York by nine games and St. Louis by 11. The Boston at Philadelphia game in the National was washed out and Pittsburgh and Cincinnati were not scheduled.

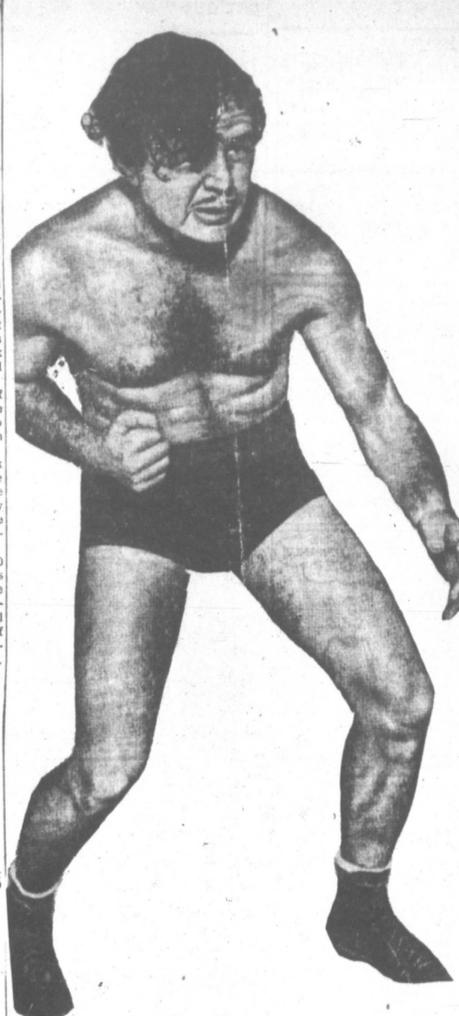

Rain kept both the New York Yankees and runnerup Cleveland idle yesterday. The Yanks' home night game with Washington was put over to make a doubleheader today. Cleveland's home date with Detroit also was rained out.

Easton lost a chance to gain on the leaders by dropping a 13-inning game to the Philadelphia A's, who now trail the Yanks by only 7 1/2 lengths. Billy Hitchcock's single scored Gus Zernia in the 13th to top the Red Sox, 4-3, after Clyde Vollmer's two-run homer tied the score in the eighth.

Carl Scheib allowed 10 hits in his route-going chore, limiting the Red Sox to one hit after Vollmer's homer. Al Benton, who relieved Dizzy Trout at the start of the 12th, was charged with the loss as Zernia's single, took second on a sacrifice and scored on Hitchcock's hit.

Jimmy Dyck took matters into his own hands to power the St. Louis Browns to a 3-2 win over the Chicago White Sox in 12 innings. Dyck's first homer ties the score in the eighth and his second won the game for Gene Bearden in the 12th. Bearden, Cleveland's pennant-winning hero in 1948, allowed only five hits in posting his sixth comeback victory.

Pitching Features Last Night's Play

By the Associated Press

Sharp pitching was the deciding factor in three of the West Texas-New Mexico League games last night. A ninth-inning homer with two on decided the other contest.

Harry Young won a pitching duel with Mike Gazella as Clovis beat Abilene 4-2 at Clovis. Ed Flanagan made his mound debut for the Dukes at Albuquerque and hurled a five-hit, 4-2 win, over Lamesa.

Jack Venable came up with a two-hitter to lead Amarillo to a 9-1 victory over Pampa at Amarillo. And Pat Lorenzo homered in the ninth at Borger to give Borger an 11-8 win over Lubbock.

The teams wind up their current stands tonight. Lamesa had a shutout for 5 2-3 innings at Clovis. But the Pioneers got to him for three runs before he could retire the last man. The winning run scored on a double steal. Young gave four hits, Gazella six.

A three-run rally in the fourth brought Albuquerque from behind for the win there. The victory extended the Duke winning streak to five games. The loser was Del Smith, who gave eight hits. Flanagan fanned three and gave no walks.

Four runs in the second set Amarillo on the way to the win over Pampa. The only hits given by Venable were a double in the fourth and a single in the eighth. The double was combined with a walk and an error for the Pampa run. Merv Conners hit his 33rd homer of the year in the seventh with the bases empty.

Lubbock and Borger went into the ninth tied 8-8 setting the stage for Venable's blow. The homer gave lefty Joe Borrego the win and wound up a 11-hit attack on loser Dick Leader that included four doubles, two homers and a triple.

Venable Holds Pampans To Two Hits; End Set Tonight

AMARILLO (AP) — Jack Venable's two-hit pitching strangled the Pampa Oilers and Amarillo took the third of a four-game series here Tuesday night, 9-1.

Jack Venable's double in the fourth and Doug Lewis' single in the eighth were the only hits off the Gold Sox right-hander, who struck out 11. Phillips' blow followed a homer on bases to Lewis.

Then Les Mulcahy's attempted pickoff throw sailed past third base as Johnny Burza failed to cover the bag, and Lewis scored the only Pampa run.

Merv Conners stroked his 33rd homer of the season in the seventh inning with the bases empty.

Other than in the fourth the Oilers never bothered Venable. No other Pampa operative reached third, though Phillips did get as far as second in the second round.

The homelings' big inning was the second. With one out, Bob Hobbs singled to left and Don Tierney to right, and rookie Bob Byrne scored both with a hard hop triple to right. Venable's hit to center then was misplayed into a double for the third run and Clyde Perry's single in the same direction, first of his four blows for the night, was good for another.

Conners' long homer started the lower half of the seventh. In the eighth, with one out, Venable was safe on Hal Haynes' error, reached third on Perry's double which took a bad hop in center, and came in on Brunga's fly to right after Stan Machinsky stole second and counted on Perry's single to right center.

Personal

I HAVE FOUND TODAY I've shut the door on Yesterday. I've sorted out my mistakes. I've locked within its gloomy walls Past failures and heartaches; And now I throw the key away To seek another room. And furnish it with hope and smiles And every spring-time bloom. No thought shall enter this abode That has a hint of pain; And every malice and distrust Shall never therein reign; I've shut the door on Yesterday. And thrown the key away. Tomorrow holds no doubt for me Since I have found today.

The News Presents... The Little Merchants

For many introductions of Pampa Daily News Courier boys is Gary Lester, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester 1201 1st Ave.

"This carrier delivers the News to customers on Hughes, Pitts, Graham and Barnard Streets and has been on this route since before last Christmas. Before that, he delivered an Amarillo paper to local residents.

Gary has lived in Pampa for 9 years, moving here from Lawton, Okla., and he will be in the 9th grade this fall.

He definitely doesn't like school, but since he has to go, math is his least favorite subject. This Western movie, comic book fan raises pigeons as a hobby.

He now owns about 35-40 pigeons and he keeps them, part of the time, in a coop. However, he lets the pigeons maintain all the freedom they want and some fly away, but they always come back, he says.

Gary got his start in this hobby by catching pigeons in granaries and in an oil plant and by buying a few. He would like to be able to afford rare varieties, but has to stick to the common kind found in the area. He doesn't profit from this hobby by selling pigeons or by eating the young squabs, he just raises them 'cause he likes them and he says "they're too cute to kill."

Gray wants to be a forest ranger in Yellowstone National Park some day. He has visited there with his parents and he thinks he'd like that better than anything.

Right now his favorite sport is softball and he played in the Church League this summer as third baseman for the Church of the Brethren team.

Texaco Denies Participation In International Oil Cartel

The Texas Company has denied it is a party to any international arrangement of any kind or any monopoly.

This was made known in Pampa today in a statement delivered to District Superintendent Dan Gribbon from W. S. S. Rodgers, chairman of the board of directors, and J. Saules Leach, Texaco president.

Texaco, along with 20 other oil companies, has been subpoenaed to appear before a United States District Court in Washington, D. C., Sept. 3 for an investigation by the Department of Justice into alleged cartel arrangements by international oil companies.

The complete text of Texaco's statement follows: "The press has recently been making references to charges by certain public officials of an 'international oil cartel' which are based upon a report of the Federal Trade Commission. We have not seen the report and therefore do not know what it contains, but, as our company has been linked with the charges that have been made our millions of customers as well as our employees and stockholders are entitled to some statement from the company upon the matter. "The policy of The Texas Company is to obey the law. The Texas Company is not a party, either directly or indirectly through any subsidiary or affiliated company, to any international oil cartel or any price-fixing arrangement of any kind, or any monopoly, whether international or domestic, nor do we believe that other oil companies are involved in any such cartel.

Korean President Paid $2,300 A Year

PUSAN, Korea (AP) — South Korean President Syngman Rhee, who will be inaugurated next Friday for his second term, is paid an annual salary of about $2,300.

The current government budget also allows Rhee an additional $2,500 in tax-free funds, $5,800 for office expense, and an undetermined amount in a monthly expense account, a rice ration, as well as a rent-free home furnished and maintained.

IT'S YOUR DEAL Deception Will Help You Win

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service

Every week or so I get a letter from some outraged Canasta player: "Why don't you say something strong about trickiness and dishonesty" these letters usually ask. "One of my opponents discarded four sevens in a row into a frozen pack. "When a seven was then discarded to her, she had the nerve to produce a pair of sevens and pick up an enormous discard pile. Oh, and so on.

It would be very easy for me to sigh "Ah, the ladies" and let it go at that. But the truth is that a tricky play of this nature always tires me to admiration and envy. The only strong words I could use would be words of strong praise.

I realize that some people are opposed to deception in any form whatever. They remind me of the classic (if ungrammatical) definition of a bore—a guy who, when you ask him how he is, he tells you. "It would bore me to play any game without ever making a deceptive move. I'd rather win any game by deception than by brute force—and so would every good player of every game that I have ever known.

Mind you, there is a point at which deception really does become dishonest. You may play any card at all if the card fits in to do the job of deceiving your opponents. You must not help the card, however, by acting or by saying anything. In canasta you are not supposed to say or do anything misleading, except by the cards that you play.

While we're on the subject of tricky plays, I can't resist relating one of my own favorite traps. It happened in the first hand of the

Potential WTSC Students Planning Picnic Here Friday

Students from Gray County who plan to enter West Texas State College, Canyon, for the first time this fall will be entertained at a weiner roast Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the city park of Pampa.

The WT Gray County Students Association will serve as hosts with Dick Hughes, Pampa businessman and WT ex-student. Miss Clara Darling, president of the association, said that all students in the county who will enter West Texas State this fall as freshmen or as new students are invited to the picnic. Miss Betty Boswell, Pampa, is secretary of the organization.

About 100 persons are expected, according to Miss Darling. The group will meet at the park's barbecue pit.

WHITE DEER (Special) — Ward's Cleaners sold last week to P. W. Bendix, who took possession Monday. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ward plan to leave Friday for an extensive vacation with their children in Chama, N. M.

Nation Prepares Blood Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — An intensive drive for blood donations throughout the country is getting under way.

The Office of Defense Mobilization, designated by President Truman as co-ordinator of the campaign, has announced it will be supported by the National Advertising Council.

The ODM statement said cooperation will be sought among the press, radio, television, labor unions and business groups. The American Red Cross has been named official collecting agency.

The blood is needed for men wounded in Korea and for plasma to be stored for use in any atomic attack.

opening lead was almost undoubtedly the fourth best diamond.

What does East know about the diamonds after he has won the first trick? East can see the four of diamonds in his own hand, and the three of diamonds in dummy. Hence West may have the deuce of diamonds, lover of the five. In other words, West cannot have more than a five-card diamond suit. This reveals an important fact about the South hand. South is bound to have at least two diamonds. Why did South play the king of diamonds at the first trick if he also held at least one other diamond? The obvious conclusion is that South must also hold the queen of diamonds.

East should therefore see the danger that South will eventually get a discard on dummy's jack of diamonds. The surest way to prevent this is to use up dummy's queen of hearts before South has the chance to unblock the diamonds.

East should therefore return a trump at the second trick, and now South will not make the contract.

decided that there was no further nourishment in diamonds. He therefore shifted to the eight of spades.

South grunted with satisfaction and hastily put up the ace of spades to win the second trick. He then cashed the queen of diamonds, entered dummy with the queen of hearts, and discarded his losing club on the jack of diamonds.

At this point, of course, South was sure to win ten tricks—with seven trumps, two diamonds, and the ace of spades. He tried for an extra trick by leading a spade from dummy, but was not greatly disappointed to find that West had both the king and the jack. One reason for South's satisfaction was that he had been handed the contract by East's careless play. East could have made the killing return if he had simply remembered that West's

by Wanda Campbell

When the Merten Home Demonstration Club meets an informative and diversified program is always the result. And when they entertain they do it in grand style. The home of Mrs. A. M. Nash was the scene of a luncheon Tuesday honoring Worthwhile Home Demonstration club members. Mrs. D. A. Rife and Mrs. William T. Cass, Jr., both good cooks, planned a menu with each Merten member bringing her "specialty". Mrs. Cass and Mrs. T. G. Groves made decorative and delicious meat loaves for the main dish. Congeeled salads, vegetable and relishes were topped with ice cream made by Mrs. Archie Maness and Mrs. V. Day, and a special cake decorated by Mrs. P. J. Boyd. But the Merten members are not only wonderful cooks. Mrs. C. A. Steward has another special talent that makes her a valuable demonstration club member. And they share their particular talents in "10-minute demonstrations" or complete club programs. Mrs. C. A. Steward is well-known in this area for her flower garden and her skill with floral arrangements. Mrs. Boyd divides her decorating talent between flowers and cakes. Mrs. V. Smith, Mrs. Groves and Mrs. W. E. McCracken always boast fine gardens and can freeze quantities of fruit and vegetables every year. Mrs. Jack Prather has "a knack" for craft and is quick to learn and pass on any new venture. Mrs. V. Day and Mrs. C. Steward are the outstanding seamstresses in the club. Mrs. Day is especially gifted in making children's clothing. Mrs. Clyde Edmondson is always in charge of recreation and falls in entertaining and "keeping the meeting going". She presented numerous party games both before and after the Tuesday luncheon and she never loses a moment between games. Like yesterday she suddenly and unexpectedly topped an egg on top a guest's head and confetti flittered everywhere. She's a born party-giver and is always just one surprise ahead of everyone. Mrs. Nash who loves to entertain, is one of the club's favorite hostesses. She recently moved into her home at 721 N. West. Displays of her various collections have provided several interesting programs. She has hundreds and hundreds of salt and pepper shakers with a story behind every one, numerous Dresden figurines and a large collection of fine china. She has a varied collection of items sent her by her son and daughter-in-law, Major and Mrs. Albert M. Nash, who live in Germany. One of the loveliest things they have sent is a silver coffee and tea service which was used at yesterday's party. Mrs. Maness is a comparatively new member of the club. Another new member is Mrs. Etta Hillard, an interesting and lovable person we want to introduce in "Our Town". We know these new members are going to gain (and contribute) much from this versatile and harmonious group!

Gifted Children Need Special Understanding

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKS
AP Education Reporter

Children with special gifts, talents, and aptitudes are among the most precious assets of humanity, and the waste of their talents through neglect is a tragedy. Understanding and sympathy for the part of parents and teachers, together with intelligently planned assistance and leadership, can eliminate much of this waste and thereby contribute materially to the better world of the future.

So writes Associate Professor M.R. Sumption of the College of Education, University of Illinois, in the National Parent-Teacher Magazine.

It is the gifted child, grown up, who becomes the great scientist, the statesman, the leader in medical research, or the master artist, he says. That is, of course, if he is given opportunities to develop his superior abilities or talents.

What can we do to see that gifted children are given that chance? Our author, he says, is to recognize the gifted child and to do so early. Signs of special ability appear as early as 18 to 20 months.

It is a duty and a privilege for parents to watch carefully for signs of superior ability and exceptional talent in humor and to keep a written record of them. Early mastery of walking and talking are often indicative of superior gifts, according to Professor Sumption. "During the preschool period the parents should also be on the lookout for the early growth of imagination and ingenuity.

This anecdotal record should contain a brief description of the circumstances, an accurate account of the incidents, and date on which it occurred. When a child enters kindergarten or elementary school, the parents should place this record in the hands of the teacher. If she is wise she will analyze it carefully and make it a part of the permanent record.

Once the gifted child is in school the conscientious teacher will seek to discover, appraise, and develop his abilities. She will work cooperatively with his parents. Classroom performance will offer but not always indicate where ability lies. However, too much insistence on routine drill and repetition will make school a dreary place for the gifted child. He must have freedom to use his initiative and imagination, to satisfy his curiosity, to explore his powers, to learn at his own pace.

The school, however, must have the cooperation and understanding of the parents, he maintains. Close cooperation between school and home in meeting the needs of the gifted will yield rich rewards, he concludes.

The luncheon was held in the home of Mrs. Nash, 721 N. West. Mrs. Clyde Edmondson directed recreation following the luncheon. (News Photo)

Summertime is picnic time and any sunny day is an excuse for outdoor eating. Next week end let your primitive urge take over and enjoy Sunday breakfast in the open air. With early morning appetites to inspire team, the family will be eager to take charge of starting a fire and setting up an eating site while you take over the cooking.

An outdoor breakfast usually centers around meat and egg combinations, such as sizzling pork sausage links with scrambled eggs, pan fried ham slices with eggs and grilled apple slices or Bologna cup filled with scrambled eggs.

If thrifty pork sausage is your choice for outdoor cooking, here's a novel way of serving it: While you cook the sausage patties and scrambled eggs, have one of your helpers toast split round buns on the back of the fire. Spread buns with butter or margarine and put together with a sausage patty and some scrambled egg. To make these breakfast-burger-Bumstead style, top the eggs with a slice of tomato, too.

To complete the breakfast meal start with cantaloupe halves or wedges and follow with the sausage and egg burgers. Round out the breakfast with fried potatoes if desired and plenty of coffee.

To make things easier it's best to do most of the work before leaving the kitchen. Shape sausage patties and stack up with waxed paper between each. Mix eggs with milk and seasonings in a quart jar; cover and transport to the eatin' spot. Keep mixture cold until ready to cook.

Mrs. Rife and Mrs. Cass alternated at the silver coffee and tea service.

What's RIGHT?

You are calling to ask a club member to head a committee. Wrong! Confess that you have already asked several members, and that if she doesn't take the job you don't know who you can get.

Right! Be more tactful. Nobody likes to be considered a second or third choice, so don't mention that you have already tried to get several others to take the job.

Grace Friend:

Readers of The News are invited to send their problems to Grace Friend. Letters not published will be answered personally if stamped self addressed envelope is enclosed. Writers must sign their names although they will not be printed without the writer's permission.

Dear Grace Friend:
My problem is I want long hair and don't know how to go about getting it. It is short at present, but I want long hair.
So how would I go about getting long hair without it taking so long? Do not print my name.
Alice

Dear Alice,
The best way to get longer hair is just to let it grow. Your hair grows at a regular rate, the average being about a half inch a month. So you can figure out how long it will take to get long hair. While you are letting it grow keep it pretty and healthy with frequent washings, much brushing.

Some girls buy buns to pin on their own hair in order to give the impression they have long hair. You might try that as soon as your own hair is long enough to pin one on.

TOO OLD TO SWIM?
Dear Grace Friend:
I am a woman nearing 50 and I have never learned to swim. When I was young I lived where there wasn't any place for swimming. Since I have moved here I would dearly love to be able to swim.

Do you think I would be silly to try to learn now?
How would I go about it?
Middle Aged

Dear Middle Aged:
Go to a good instructor for your swimming lessons.
Of course you are not too old and if you have the desire to learn you should, by all means, learn to swim.

The Pampa Daily News

One of Texas' Five Most Consistent Newspapers

We believe that one truth is always consistent with another truth. A Story Of Force

(Editor's Note: The following is the fifth and concluding editorial in a series based on a report by Florence Fowler Lyons of Beverly Hills, Calif., after she had covered the "Model United Nations" conference held on the campus of the University of Southern California. Nearly 1,000 students from 73 colleges and universities in seven western states, Alaska and Hawaii participated.)

To realize the real story behind UNESCO (United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization) it is necessary to keep in mind that behind all of the fine words and flowing talk there is force — cold and relentless force.

For the program of UNESCO and all the rest of the programs coming out of the United Nations Charter must have behind them the force of government or the whole idea blows up. And too few Americans realize this bitter fact.

One who has realized it and has spoken out is John T. Wood. He entered his account of UNESCO into the Congressional Record under the title: "The Greatest Subversive Plot in History. A Report to the American People on UNESCO."

And he concluded with this: "Just how careless and unthinking can we be that we permit this band of spies and traitors to exist another day in this land we all love? Are there no limits to our callousness and neglect of treason striking rampart through our land and warping the minds and imaginations of even our little children, to the lying propaganda and palpable untruths we allow to be fed to them through this monstrous poison?"

Senator Jenner is another American who has spoken out after careful analysis and study of the plan to adopt the "Universal Declaration on Human Rights (which is one of the "major goals" of the U. S. Commission for UNESCO) and said:

"Article 26. Education shall promote understanding, tolerance and friendship among all nations, racial or religious groups and shall further the activities of the United Nations for the maintenance of peace.

"(Not the three R's, Mr. President. Not the fine technical experience that American boys pick up, but lectures on racial equality and the beauty of the United Nations. Every GI knows, Mr. President, what these lectures are like.)

Better Jobs

By R. C. HOLLES

"This Is Our Problem" Or This Is Your Problem

I want to quote a second day from the pamphlet "This Is Our Problem," which is a report on the four objectives of Freedom Forum — namely, (1) identify encroaching Socialism — Communism, which we were discussing in the last issue; (2) Point out the superiority of the American way of life; (3) unite the American way of life; and (4) preserve the American way of life.

Under the heading of "Socialism in the United States" this pamphlet says: "Both Socialists and Communists have been working in this country for many years.

"Some time before 1927 the Socialists were dissatisfied with their progress in the United States and gave a great deal of thought and study to the reasons for their failure. One of the intellectuals in the party was H. Stephen Raushenbush.

"Raushenbush argued that Socialism had failed in the United States because American workers would not accept the idea of a caste system. First, they had no caste system. Second, they did not have the inferiority complex of the European workers. And third, there was no driving force such as hunger which is necessary for armed revolt.

"Therefore, the only way that Socialism could get anywhere in the United States was to forget the idea of a revolution and start to put socialism over by encroachment — which means just a little at a time.

"These statements were not kept secret. "Raushenbush published the details of his plan in 'The New Leader,' a Socialist newspaper. The first article dated March 5, 1927, was titled: 'Disastrous Encroaching Control.' How Shall the Socialists Attack the Problem of Winning the Ultimate Abolition of the Profit System?"

"This same Raushenbush in 1941 became Chief of the Planning Section, Power Division. He held this vitally important post until 1947, when he resigned. The pamphlet goes on to report a letter from the Secretary of the Interior to Mr. Raushenbush, regretfully accepting his resignation, which read:

"You have made a tremendous contribution in carrying forward the program of research in the Department in which this Department is dedicated. Your intensive knowledge, industry, and judgment will be missed by all of your associates for we have relied heavily upon you.

"The pamphlet continues: "From 1939-1947, Raushenbush, the Socialist — the man who published the avowed intent of the Socialist Party to gain control of this country a little at a time — held important positions in the Department of the Interior. Today he is an economic consultant to the United Nations."

"Most people think that the Communists get their real support from the workers — the average man. This is not true. While investigating subversive groups, the F. B. I. and the House Un-American Activities Committee learned that the Communist Party is made up of preachers, actors, writers, business men, union officials, doctors, lawyers, editors and even millionaires. With such men placed in key positions, the Communist Party can quietly take control of the country when the right time comes.

Just 'Cause They're Gentlemen

Fair Enough... Ouster Of Rep. John Rankin Promises To Be Costly Funeral

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1952, King Features Syndicate Inc.) Our rotten State Department and our rotten Economic Cooperation Administration in Europe where the American workman does when a union decides to keep him away from his job. This magazine, paid for by millions of Americans who hate the filthy union racket, reports that an ECA man was answering questions at a union meeting in Belgium.

"One of the unionists asked, 'What do you do in the United States if a plant is on strike and the men who do not belong to the union try to cross the picket - lines?' This document says: 'Well, said the labor man, a veteran of U.S. picket lines, they just don't get in. The point of his answer wasn't missed by the Belgian unionists. Within a few minutes, a small part of the bloody, inch - by - inch battle for U.S. labor gains was told. Suspicion grows less with every visit of U.S. labor groups and with every visit of European workers' teams to the states. The air has been cleared through the efforts of ECA labor men to 'channel' (another of those gee-see words) benefits of the Marshall Plan to the worker and through a labor information program which reports and spreads 'straight' labor news."

This is what we have been paying for through our income taxes and this is the underhand scheme that was played on us by Eisenhower's forward - looking bureaucrat, Paul Hoffman, now of the Ford Foundation. I will bet you never had the slightest idea. I am sorry to have to admit that I had no idea of what Hoffman and his band of clandestine adventurers were pulling on us at our expense and in the name of the American people when we thought their job was to help bind the wounds and renatur the machinery of broken nations.

Just glance at this list of payroll tourists from the American Newspaper Guild alone, remembering that this guild is a CIO racket with a notorious record of Red communism beginning with the presidency of Heywood Braun who boasted shortly before he died that he had tried to get his son started right in the newspaper business by planting him on the Communist Daily Worker.

Harry L. Martin, president of the guild, director of European Labor Information; John N. Hutchison, deputy director; Allen L. Swim, T. E. (Pat) Frayne and William C. Gausmann, special assistants to the director; Hugh B. Sutherland, deputy chief of operations; Leonard E. Tennyson, L. Allen Thomason, Jr., Robert Fisher, James Tughill, William H. Hornby and Harry L. Turlewood, all "labor information officers."

Did you ever hear of any of these voted American journalists? Do you think they ever "had it so good" in the newspaper business here as they have it on the public payroll in those soft bureaucratic jobs in Europe?

National Whirligig... Rotten Bureaus Give Common Man The Works in Europe

By RAY TUCKER WASHINGTON — It isn't often that members of our only country club — the Congress of the United States — from 2.5 pounds in 1940 to 7 convive to eject last year, with butter dropping from 17 to 9 pounds in those years' service in that honorable and exclusive organization. Even though they may not appreciate his parliamentary manners or personal behaviour, they usually turn their collective cheek on the offender.

But his vile temper, his frequent feuding with colleagues and his Klan-like vituperation of racial minorities appear to have caught up with Representative John E. Rankin of Tupelo, Miss. If his fellow-member's behind-the-door conspiracy succeeds, it may cost him his seat in the Mississippi primary on Aug. 26.

Politics being what it is, it is relatively unimportant that Rankin will cost the taxpayers at least two million dollars, possibly more, and deprive the nation's sailor of a decent spread on their bread. The anti-Rankin move is a far-reaching as well as a funny inside deal.

MARGARINE — The story begins with the recent redistricting of Congressional districts by the Mississippi Legislature which threw Rankin and Thomas G. Abernethy of Okolona into the same district. Which man will represent the new section will be determined in the primary late this month. The easy-going "Tom" Abernethy is as popular as his opponent is disliked.

This was the political picture when the House Agriculture Committee, late in the recent session, considered H. R. 5012, which would permit — not require — the Navy to use margarine in its commissaries. No opposition was expected. This permission was given to the Army and Air Force in 1949, year before the federal restrictions on colored margarine were repealed.

The proposal had been approved unanimously by the Armed Services Committee before it was submitted to Agriculture, of which Abernethy is a member, for formal action. It had the approval of the Joint Chiefs of Staff for culinary and economy reasons.

DIFFICULTIES — H. R. 5012 encountered unexpected difficulties in Agriculture, however. Shrewd August Herman Anderson of Minnesota, an implacable foe of the substitute for his constituents' butter, saw a chance to help his product and Abernethy. He also sold the idea to the Democratic leadership, which was frequently being irritated by Rankin's speltic tactics.

With Rayburn-McCormack approval, Agriculture shelved the Navy margarine measure in order to act upon an Abernethy proposal of increasing the ban on cotton. It was pointed out to the leaders and Rankin's enemies that this bill would strengthen Abernethy's chances in the primary.

COSTLY — On the other hand, any discussion of the Navy margarine question might injure Rankin's opponent, for Abernethy had led the floor fight for general repeal of federal anti-margarine laws. And there are quite a few laymen in the combined Rankin - Abernethy district, who have seen their sales and profits decline from competition of the less expensive product.

The Doctor Says

If a man falls ill of bubonic plague in India, it is just as important that he and his terms be not carried by airplane to New York as it is to prevent the spread of the disease in his native village. A woman with diabetes in Egypt needs the same care and the same medicine as someone with diabetes in Los Angeles. A child stricken with pneumonia in Mexico should have the same prompt diagnosis and the same penicillin or other drugs that are available in another child similarly attacked in Chicago.

Practically no one would deny the desirability of making expert medical care available everywhere in the world, and in making it possible for anyone who falls ill to receive whatever drugs or other treatment he most needs.

All this is an ideal and cannot be achieved overnight, but in the field of health, international cooperation has already been impressive. One of the organizations working in this field is the World Health Organization which has as its objective "the attainment by all people of the highest possible level of health."

It is not possible in the brief form of a column to cover the activities and functions of this international group of devoted workers, but it is worth mentioning and controlling the spread of epidemic diseases, the setting up of international standards for drugs, vaccines and food products, and the improvement of nutrition and environmental hygiene.

This organization is closely tied to the United Nations and is supported by the vast majority of the members of that organization. Another group which aims to improve the health of the world is the World Medical Association, which is a private organization composed of the medical societies of a large number of nations. This second group is primarily interested in the standards of medical practice.

YOU BENEFIT DIRECTLY The World Medical Association already has had a very real meeting supported, in large part, by financial contributions from individual physicians and drug manufacturers in the United States. Its next meeting will be in October in Athens, Greece, and another will be held in London in the summer of 1953, to be devoted to medical education.

Perhaps readers of this column will not think that these developments have any meaning for them, but in the long run, their chances of avoiding many diseases and receiving the benefits of new discoveries all over the world are greatly increased by cooperation of this kind.

A man about to be electrocuted telephoned his lawyer from the death chamber. "Man—They are about to put me in the electric chair. You are my lawyer—What do I do now?" The lawyer answered helpfully: "Lawyer—Don't sit down."

No Seventh Heaven

Factual reports from retailers of all types and sizes indicate that, as a general rule, sales are running at good levels — but profits are very low, in some cases dangerously so.

Various reasons are given for this — higher wages and taxes, unfair government regulations, and so on. In addition, competition is extremely keen, and on occasion has resulted in excessive price-cutting.

Here is the answer to those who believe that, because prices are high and a vast mass of goods is being funneled through the stores, retailing is in a seventh heaven. The fact is that the retailer's unavoidable operating costs have tended to outrun the rises in prices that have taken place in late years. The consequence is that in thousands of retailing operations, big and little, the owners' net — the money that's left after all the bills and taxes and wages are paid — is less than it was in the days when prices were much lower and the dollar hadn't shrunk to the size of a fifty-cent piece.

Thomas A. Edison never forgot his role as a business man. The profit motive was an essential part of his temperament. Once he said practically to a friend, referring to a newspaper article which discussed him as a scientist: "That's wrong. I am not a scientist. I am an inventor. Patent articles are written for money, he said he hadn't time. But I do measure everything I do by the size of a silver dollar. If it doesn't come up to that standard, then I know it's no good."

Friday Night Looking Like Collegiate All-Stars Year

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — There is a strong feeling in this football mecca that the Collegiate All-Stars denied a victory since 1950, are ready and able to snare one from the Los Angeles Rams Friday night.

The big show in Soldier Field will be seen or heard by millions on television and radio and an estimated 90,000 will attend.

The squad of 50 stalwarts who a year ago made collegiate football headlines has been rolled into a ponderous, terrifying T-formation machine by Head Coach Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech and his staff.

It seems to have batches of everything in the way of gridiron material with the exception of a brace of breakaway runners.

It has such names as Bill Wade of Vanderbilt, Babe Parrill of Kentucky and Darrell Crawford of Georgia Tech; such receivers as Ends Bill Howton of Rice, Bill McCall of Stanford, Bob Carey of Michigan State and Pete Brewster of Purdue; not to mention a fleet of halfback targetmen.

It has such torpedo-like line smashers as Ed "Mighty Mo" Modzelewski of Maryland, Bill Reichardt of Iowa and Ollie Matier, the Olympic quarterback from San Francisco.

But in some of the All-Star's most precious victories over the national football league champions in the past, it has been breakaway, elusive runners who have broken up the game.

Probably the nearest approach to such a weapon is Johnny Kapras of Illinois' fast, deceptive ball carrier who also is a dangerous passcatcher.

There are others who may qualify in the breakaway bracket but not to the spectacular extent of such former stars as Ed "Crazy Legs" Hirsch of Wisconsin in 1946, Illinois' Buddy Young of 1947 and Charlie "Choo-Choo" Justice of North Carolina in 1950.

Hirsch Big Star

Hirsch pumped 68 yards around for one touchdown, a record for the series and scored another on a 62-yard touchdown play in leading the 1946 Collegians to a 16-0 triumph over the Rams.

The Rams, as 1951 NFL champions, return to the All-Star game Friday for the first time since then. And one of their biggest threats is the same Hirsch, who, six years later, is hailed as the greatest pass-snatching end since Green Bay's Don Hutson.

And leading the powerful Rams into Chicago is their head coach Joe Stydahar. Jumbo Joe, who has sliced his weight from 255 pounds to a trim 245, was a 50-minute tackle in 1936 for the All-Star who tied Detroit, 7-7, Stydabar All-Star Grid.

He is the first All-Star graduate to return as head coach of a National League team.

The Ram's party of 45 players, 25 of them last year's veterans and including Bob Waterfield, the only remaining active Ram from the 1946 eleven, will arrive in Chicago by plane tomorrow.

The All-Star, after attending a Junior Association of Commerce luncheon in Chicago yesterday, worked out in game uniforms under the lights at Soldier Field at night. It was a light drill, mainly to acquaint them with the setting and mosquitoes in the big lake front stadium.

The collegians, most of whom have signed pro contracts and will report to their football jobs right after the game, were then hustled back to their training quarters at Delafield, Wis., for final tuneups.

Friday Night Looking Like Collegiate All-Stars Year

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — There is a strong feeling in this football mecca that the Collegiate All-Stars denied a victory since 1950, are ready and able to snare one from the Los Angeles Rams Friday night.

The big show in Soldier Field will be seen or heard by millions on television and radio and an estimated 90,000 will attend.

The squad of 50 stalwarts who a year ago made collegiate football headlines has been rolled into a ponderous, terrifying T-formation machine by Head Coach Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech and his staff.

It seems to have batches of everything in the way of gridiron material with the exception of a brace of breakaway runners.

It has such names as Bill Wade of Vanderbilt, Babe Parrill of Kentucky and Darrell Crawford of Georgia Tech; such receivers as Ends Bill Howton of Rice, Bill McCall of Stanford, Bob Carey of Michigan State and Pete Brewster of Purdue; not to mention a fleet of halfback targetmen.

It has such torpedo-like line smashers as Ed "Mighty Mo" Modzelewski of Maryland, Bill Reichardt of Iowa and Ollie Matier, the Olympic quarterback from San Francisco.

But in some of the All-Star's most precious victories over the national football league champions in the past, it has been breakaway, elusive runners who have broken up the game.

Probably the nearest approach to such a weapon is Johnny Kapras of Illinois' fast, deceptive ball carrier who also is a dangerous passcatcher.

There are others who may qualify in the breakaway bracket but not to the spectacular extent of such former stars as Ed "Crazy Legs" Hirsch of Wisconsin in 1946, Illinois' Buddy Young of 1947 and Charlie "Choo-Choo" Justice of North Carolina in 1950.

Hirsch Big Star

Hirsch pumped 68 yards around for one touchdown, a record for the series and scored another on a 62-yard touchdown play in leading the 1946 Collegians to a 16-0 triumph over the Rams.

The Rams, as 1951 NFL champions, return to the All-Star game Friday for the first time since then. And one of their biggest threats is the same Hirsch, who, six years later, is hailed as the greatest pass-snatching end since Green Bay's Don Hutson.

And leading the powerful Rams into Chicago is their head coach Joe Stydahar. Jumbo Joe, who has sliced his weight from 255 pounds to a trim 245, was a 50-minute tackle in 1936 for the All-Star who tied Detroit, 7-7, Stydabar All-Star Grid.

He is the first All-Star graduate to return as head coach of a National League team.

I HAVE FOUND TODAY
 I've shut the door on Yesterday, its sorrows and mistakes, I've locked within its gloomy walls Past failures and heartaches; And now I throw the key away To seek another room. And furnish it with hope and smiles And every spring-time bloom.

No thought shall enter this abode That has a hint of pain, And every malice and distrust Shall never therein reign; I've shut the door on Yesterday, I throw the key away from Tomorrow holds no doubt for me Since I have found today.

The News Presents... The Little Merchants

Small introduction of Pampa Daily News Carrier boys is Gary Lester, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester of 130 5th St.

This carrier delivers the News to 97 customers on Hughes, Pitts, Graham and Barnard Streets and has been on this route since before last Christmas. Before that he delivered an Amarillo paper to local residents.

Gary has lived in Pampa for 9 years, moving here from Lawton, Okla., and he will be in the 9th grade this fall.

He definitely doesn't like school, but since he has to go, math is his least bad subject. This Western movie, comic book fan raises pigeons as a hobby.

He now owns about 35-40 pigeons and he keeps them, part of the time, in a coop. However, he lets the pigeons maintain all the freedom they want and some fly away, but they always come back, he says.

Gary got his start in this hobby by catching pigeons in granaries and in an oil plant and by buying a few. He would like to be able to afford rare varieties, but has to stick to the common kind found in the area. He doesn't profit from this hobby by selling pigeons or by raising the young squabs, he just raises them "cause he likes them and he says "they're too cute to kill."

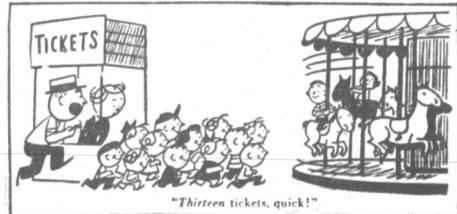

Gray wants to be a forest ranger in Yellowstone National Park some day. He has visited there with his parents and he thinks he'd like that better than anything.

Right now his favorite sport is softball and he played in the Church League this summer as third baseman for the Church of the Brethren team.

Texaco Denies Participation In International Oil Cartel

The Texas Company has denied investigation by the Department of Justice into alleged cartel arrangements by international oil companies.

The complete text of Texaco's statement follows: "The press has recently been making references to charges by certain public officials of an 'international oil cartel' which are based upon a report of the Federal Trade Commission. We have not seen the report and therefore do not know what it contains, but, as our company has been linked with the charges that have been made our millions of customers as well as our employees and stockholders are entitled to some statement from the company upon the matter.

"The policy of the Texas Company is to obey the law. The Texas Company is not a party, either directly or indirectly through any subsidiary or affiliated company, to any international oil cartel or any price-fixing arrangement of any kind, or any monopoly, whether international or domestic, nor do we believe that other oil companies are involved in any such cartel.

This was made known in Pampa today in a statement delivered to District Superintendent Dan Gribbon from W. S. S. Rodgers, chairman of the board of directors, and J. Saules Leach, Texaco president.

Texaco, along with 20 other oil companies, has been subpoenaed to appear before a United States District Court in Washington, D. C., Sept. 3 for an investigation by the Department of Justice into alleged cartel arrangements by international oil companies.

IT'S YOUR DEAL Deception Will Help You Win

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Every week or so I get a letter from some outraged Canasta player: "Why don't you say something strong about trickiness and dishonesty" these letters usually ask. "One of my opponents discarded four sevens in a row into a frozen pack."

"When a seven was then discarded to her, she had the nerve to produce a pair of sevens and pick up an enormous discard pile. Oh, and so on.

It would be very easy for me to sigh "Ah, the ladies" and let it go at that. But the truth is that a tricky play of this nature always tires me to admiration and envy. The only strong words I could use would be words of strong praise.

I realize that some people are opposed to deception in any form whatever. They remind me of the classic (if ungrammatical) definition of a bore—a guy who, when you ask him how he is, he tells you "I would bore me to play any game without ever making a deceptive move. I'd rather win any game by deception than by brute force—and so would every good player of every game that I have ever known.

Mind you, there is a point at which deception really does become dishonest. You may play any card at all if the card itself is to do the job of deceiving your opponents. You must not help the card, however, by acting or by saying anything. In canasta you are not supposed to say or do anything misleading, except by the cards that you play.

While we're on the subject of tricky plays, I can't resist relating one of my own favorite traps. It happened in the first hand of the last game of the match I played against Fry and Lightner a couple of years ago. Nobody minded for the first few rounds, and I then melted from my hand by putting down ace-ace-deuce.

After my discard, Fry promptly froze the pack. This was sound play, especially since his only hope was to pile up a really big score. Lightner, at my right, decided that I couldn't have an ace in my hand since I would have melded three aces instead of ace-ace-deuce. Hence he discarded an ace. I then produced a pair of aces from my hand to take the discard pile. Incidentally, the opponents groaned, but they also laughed.

Even a pair of experts can be fooled by a deceptive play, and the experts are sporting enough to enjoy it in a rueful sort of way.

One advantage of invariably leading the fourth best card from a broken suit is that your partner has a chance to use his judgment. He may be able to read the entire hand and make the killing play.

One advantage of invariably leading the fourth best card from a broken suit is that your partner has a chance to use his judgment. He may be able to read the entire hand and make the killing play.

In today's hand, West led the five of diamonds—the fourth best card of his very much broken diamond suit. East won with the ace of diamonds and South dropped the king.

Without considering the full implications of South's play, East decided that there was no further nourishment in diamonds. He therefore shifted to the eight of spades.

South grunted with satisfaction and hastily put up the ace of spades to win the second trick. He then cashed the queen of diamonds, entered dummy with the queen of hearts, and discarded his losing club on the jack of diamonds.

At this point, of course, South was sure to win ten tricks—with seven trumps, two diamonds, and the ace of spades. He tried for an extra trick by leading a spade from dummy, but was not greatly disappointed to find that West had both the king and the jack.

One reason for South's satisfaction was that he had been handed the contract by East's careless play. East could have made the killing return if he had simply remembered that West's

Nation Prepares Blood Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP)—An intensive drive for blood donations throughout the country is getting under way.

The Office of Defense Mobilization, designated by President Truman as co-ordinator of the campaign, has announced it will be supported by the National Advertising Council.

The ODM statement said cooperation will be sought among the press, radio, television, labor unions and business groups. The American Red Cross has been named official collecting agency.

The blood is needed for men wounded in Korea and for plasma to be stored for use in any atomic attack.

opening lead was almost undoubtedly the fourth best diamond.

What does East know about the diamonds after he has won the first trick? East can see the four of diamonds in his own hand, and the three of diamonds in dummy. Hence West may have the deuce of diamonds, lower than the five. In other words, West cannot have more than a five-card diamond suit.

This reveals an important fact about the South hand. South is bound to have at least two diamonds. Why did South play the king of diamonds at the first trick if he also held at least one other diamond? The obvious conclusion is that South must also hold the queen of diamonds.

East should therefore see the danger that South will eventually get a discard on dummy's jack of diamonds. The surest way to prevent this is to use up dummy's queen of hearts before South has the chance to unblock the diamonds.

East should therefore return a trump at the second trick, and now South will not make the contract.
