Tito Says Red Push Would Start War III

SPLIT. Yugoslavia (AP) — Premier Marshal Tito said he is convinced the Soviets are not planning an attack on Yugoslavia in the near future. If it does come, he warns, it will spark World War III.

In an interview with a group of visiting Norwegian newspapermen, released last night, the Yugoslav leader emphasized his nation would resist any attack.

"We are ready," he said. "Our people cannot be bluffed."

Tito described the chances of such a Soviet move as a "constant and latent" but not "imminent" danger.

He said that Soviet aggression would bring on a third world war because, he said, the West was aware that Russian conquest of his country would mean Russian domination of the Mediterranean littoral to the East.

In his answers, Tito showed confidence in the strength of his regime despite the hostility of his Communist neighbors and economic troubles stemming from one drought in 1950 and another this year. He also made clear his reasons for believing the West would continue to send him military equipment.

The question of defense of Western Europe depends to a very large degree on Yugoslavia, he said, no matter what the propagandists say.

"We are very conscious of this and know very well that it is not a matter of indifference to the West whether Yugoslavia or the Soviet Union is sitting on the loose, Yugoslav's river boundary with Italy and the Adriatic.

"If such a collusion Russia was on the Adriatic the Mediterranean would not belong to Western countries any more. That is the least of what would happen. I am convinced the West is aware of this."

Rain Brings Cooler Air

First rain of the month — .33 of an inch — brought along some cooler weather.

Mercury only got up as far as 73 degrees; the low last night was a comfortable 61. At 11 a. m. today the temperature was 71.

Maryland 'Miracle' Finally Uncensored

BALTIMORE (AP) — It's all right for theaters in Maryland to show the Italian film "The Miracle."

The State Board of Censors reluctantly cleared the film on the basis of a recent Supreme Court decision which held that censorship was no basis for state censorship of films.

However, the board called "The Miracle," an obvious indignity to religious persons and beliefs. The film depicts the seduction of a feeble-minded girl by a stranger whom she confuses with a saint. It previously was banned in the state.

Says 'Isolationists' Won't Bring Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman said today Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower proposes an "isolationist Congress" and that won't bring peace.

In a news conference, Truman ripped into the Republican presidential nominee's call for election of a Republican Congress while saying that peace is the big issue of the times.

If we elect a Republican Congress, it will be isolationist, Truman declared.

By way of emphasis, he gave permission for direct quotes around the words "isolationist Congress."

Press conference rules ordinarily forbid direct quotation of the President.

Truman opened his meeting prepared statement in which he attacked what he called the "one party press" for its predominate support of the Republican ticket.

But, he declared, he did not think it mattered too much "what they do" when viewed on past performances of the press.

He said the metropolitan press in this country, as well as the big magazines, have become "big business" which has traditionally been Republican.

Truman said that only 10.2 per cent of the 1,769 daily newspapers in the United States supported the Democratic ticket in 1948 and that almost all the big circulation magazines preferred the Republican party that year.

The situation "hasn't changed much," he added.

In taking this tack, Truman was echoing statements made recently by Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee.

Stevenson spoke similarly at a meeting of editors last week.

Stevenson said he considered, however, that he had been given good treatment in the news columns although the editorials (See TRUMAN, Page 5)

Tax Collector Faces Income Tax Indictment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Danie A. Bolich, formerly the government's No. 2 tax collector, was indicted Thursday on charges of evading his own income taxes.

The Justice Department announced the indictment, by a grand jury in Brooklyn.

Attorney General McGranery said the grand jury had returned a five-count indictment against Bolich, covering the years 1946, 47, 48 and 49.

Bolich was the second ranking official of the Internal Revenue Bureau before he retired. Congressional investigators have also been looking into his activities.

The jury will continue its investigation, McGranery said.

Bolich, if convicted on all five counts, could face a maximum penalty of 25 years in prison and a fine of $50,000 or both, however, convictions seldom result in the maximum punishment.

Bolich stepped out as assistant revenue commissioner in the midst of a House subcommittee investigation of tax scandal. He figured importantly in the investigation.

The testimony brought out, among other things, that Bolich once lived for 18 months in a hotel room paid for by Henry Grunwald, Washington mystery man. Grunwald, who refused to answer questions of House investigators, twice appeared before the grand jury in Brooklyn which returned the indictment.

Commissioners Recess Till Friday

Failing to complete their work on the 1953 budget Wednesday, the county commissioners recessed until Friday morning.

Only a few loose strings remained to be tied up; county officials indicated this morning, before the budget is assembled and totaled. After the commissioners finally arrived at a total amount of expenditures for each department a day for a public hearing can be set. Commissioners hope to get that job done Friday during the continued meeting.

43,500 Persons Work For State

DALLAS (AP) — It takes 43,500 people to run the state government of Texas. And they get paid a total of $8,946,000.

These Census Bureau figures for April were disclosed by Dallas officials of the Department of Commerce.

Last year at the same time, there were 43,000 employes and the payroll was $8,543,000.

Work of state employes ranges all the way from police duty to conserving Texas' natural resources. The largest single group, some 16,783, are employed to teach state schools and colleges.

Gray County Birthday Parade Will Be Staged Here Oct. 13

All organizations and commercial concerns in the area will be asked to provide a float in keeping with a historical theme for Gray County for the parade to be staged in Pampa at 2:30 p.m. Oct. 13 during the Gray County 50th Birthday Celebration.

The parade committee, which met this morning to complete details, has asked that all chuck wagons, surries, buggies, hacks, antique automobiles, anything connected with the past 50 years in this area be made available for use on floats.

A representative from the H. C. Worth Enterprises, Fort Worth morning to work out a plan for staging the parade. Offices for the company have been set up in the warehouse of the Magnolia Company, east of Pampa, and services to help local people build floats or to build them will be available by next Monday.

Materials may be bought from the company, according to Worth. The real Mrs. Jones showed up at the reception after tracking him through a bank loan application.

Congressmen Will Leave For Home

TOKYO (AP) — Ten U. S. Congressmen are scheduled to leave for home Friday after a three week's swing tour of U. S. Far Eastern Military bases.

At a meeting with newsmen, Rep. O. Clark Fisher, (D-Tex.), acting spokesman, said the group had nothing to add to its statement yesterday in which it said it had found no basis for rumors of critical ammunition shortages in Korea.

Perry Lefors Field Scheduled To Have Dedication Oct. 14

Dedication and formal opening of Perry Lefors Field has been definitely tied in with Gray County's 50th anniversary celebration and will be held Oct. 14 beginning at 9 a.m.

Major portion of the programs have been "roughed in" by the aviation committee of the Chamber of Commerce, Chairman Frank Culbertson said.

Rep. Walter Rogers has been asked to make the dedicatory speech and pilots over Texas have been invited to take part in a pilots' breakfast at the field. Officials of CAA, CAB, Pioneer and Central Airlines and airport managers over Texas have been invited to attend the ceremonies.

Ceremonies for officially naming the airport will also be held and will be awarded the $25 prize given by the Pampa Daily News for selecting the name, Perry Lefors Field. Four prizes of 25 gallons of aviation gasoline will be given to the oldest pilot, the youngest pilot, the pilot traveling the greatest distance for the breakfast, and the pilot landing nearest the time an alarm clock at the field goes off.

Details of the program have yet to be ironed out, Culbertson said, adding that they should be completed in 10 days.

Bric-a-Brac Dealer Proves Point With Tribal Legend

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Old Jones the bric-a-brac dealer had noticed the two young friends for years. They had made a habit of pausing during their lunch hour stroll to look at the curios in his window. When Jones first had noticed them they looked like young men skipping to make both ends meet. But lately they had a prosperous air. One day they entered his shop and the short thin young man said brusquely: "Those two little stone statues in the window — let's see them." Old Jones immediately took a strong dislike to him and decided he like the other taller young man who stood in silence half smiling. Jones lifted the two objects from the window and held them out one in each palm. Love And Hate The first was incredibly ugly with a face contorted in mad rage. The second was of a girl incredibly fair and innocent. "They are forgotten tribal idols," explained Jones. "The one with the grouch on is Hrad, the goddess of vengeance. The legend is that if you pray to Hrad he will destroy anyone you want put out of the way. The girl is Hioma, goddess of love. Pray to her and you can win any woman's heart — so those who worshiped her believed." The tall young man picked up Hioma. The thin young man picked up Hrad and a speculative look came into his eyes. "I like him," he said. "He fascinates me." "You ought to go more for Hioma, George," said his friend. "I'm married and don't need her — but as a bachelor she might be able to help you. What would you want Hrad for anyway? You don't hate anybody." "Everybody has a reason for hating somebody," John said the short man. They handed back the statues. John thanked old Jones and they left. Just before the store closed that evening the thin young man entered alone. He asked the price of that little statue we saw today. "It's $35," said the dealer reaching for Hioma. "No — not her! The other one!" exclaimed George impatiently. "Hrad?" hesitated old Jones. "He's $50." "Why?" bristled the young man. "Hate is always more expensive than love," said Jones. "I don't really want to sell Hrad. I don't believe in legends but I am old enough to know that bad thoughts always bring bad luck to someone. Hrad does no harm here where I can watch him." "Nonsense!" said the young man. An expression of utter evil came over his face as the old man reluctantly bent to wrap his purchase. Jones glanced up and saw it and shook his head. Summer passed and then the winter and Jones saw no more of the two young friends. Then on a spring day the thin young man came in again alone. Smiling, he untied a little parcel and put the small ugly god of hate on the counter. "I don't need Hrad anymore," he said. "I want to trade him back to you for Hioma." "I'm glad of that," said the old dealer. "Will Hioma melt the heart of a young widow?" asked the young man cheerfully. "They say she will!" Jones said. "But I don't guarantee it." Hrad Never Leaves As he wrapped the tiny goddess he asked: "By the way where is your friend — the one you called John? I haven't seen him for months." "You mean my former partner?" said the thin young man and paused. "He's well he died. Quite unexpected." The old man looked at the young man and the young man's eyes shifted under his stare. Silently Jones unwrapped Hioma and put her back in the window. "What are you doing?" cried the young man flushing. "The goddess of love isn't for sale," said Old Jones. "You wanted Hrad and now you will have to live with him. Hrad never leaves a heart he enters."

Boys Think It's Silly To Wear Kilts In Scotch Band

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—The St. Andrew's Scottish Societies of Buffalo ran into trouble recruiting young men as drummers and bag pipe players for a new band.

The boys said they felt silly in kilts.

There was only one solution: girls!

The society now has 10 girls ranging from 13 to 21 years to play the pipes.

Girl pipers learn almost as fast as young men, although 'tis a bit harder for them to get a big enough hunk of air to fill the pigskin bag of the pipes. Girl drummers have their problems, too. They have to work hard to strengthen their wrists to get the roll right on the Scottish drums.

But when they have succeeded, they make a pretty sight. And, as their pipe teacher, Mrs. Lillian Davis of Ft. Erie, Ont., says, "They make bonny music."

Mrs. Davis, an attractive brunette and the mother of a 2-year-old son, is an accomplished piper and was the only pipe major in the Canadian Women's Army Corps in World War II. Her band toured eight countries, including the U. S.

Choosing Home Accessories Exciting And Important Job

A most exciting part in decorating your home comes in the selection of accessories.

When all your furniture pieces are in place and the floors and windows and walls are taken care of to your satisfaction, then comes the problem of the accessories.

The lamps, pictures, vases and bowls, ash trays, cigarette boxes, clocks and toys. These are things which bear the stamp of your own personality and taste.

In choosing accessories, the new theory of Mix and Match may be applied to great decorative advantage. Mix period, design and pattern seems to be the new order of the day.

But by all means be practical. If you have small children, put priceless heirlooms beyond their reach. If you smoke or drink, have pets or serve meals all over the house, select accessories that will stand the gaff.

Trot out your best ornaments of all periods and put them proudly on view. There are wall cabinets and brackets that will protect them from itchy little fingers.

Most lovers of Traditional furniture lean towards classic paintings, fine china and silver; the Modernist emphasizes texture and color; bright pottery, abstract pictures; while those with a preference for Provincial furnishings like pewter, copper, milk glass and samplers.

The News Presents...

The Little Merchants

Virgil McAnnally, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Blackmon, 727 E. Malone, is today's presentation of carrier boys for the Pampa Daily News.

Virgil begins his daily route at 118 E. Tule and covers two blocks on that street. He then proceeds to Gillespie, S. Barnes, and Reid to cover the 500 and 600 blocks on each street; then he gets all of E. Campbell, a rd completes his route on Gordon from the 800 to 1000 block.

This News carrier has delivered newspapers off and on for a number of years, but has served for nearly a year on this route.

He is in the 11th grade at senior high school and has decided he might just as well like school, since he has to go. Math is his least bad subject in school, and, of course, he likes physical education.

Two years ago Virgil started raising banta chickens as a hobby and he now owns 30. He also owns a dog—a black cocker spaniel named Todine.

Baseball is Virgil's favorite sport and books about sports are his favorite reading material.

Virgil has lived in Pampa for the past six years. During this time he has cultivated no special girl; he just talks to girls when he sees them and that's all, he says.

So for any lonesome 11th grade gal or for Virgil's customers who want to contact him, his phone number is 3704-J.

Facts Develop More Intrigue In Floyd Death

ALICE (AP) — Out of a bewildering maze of mystery and intrigue surrounding the murder of Jake Buddy Floyd, Jr., son of a South Texas political leader, stood these startling facts:

1. Nativ Alice attorney charged with murder with malice in the shooting, was revealed as the informer who Monday night—minute before young Floyd was shot—told Jake Floyd, Sr., he was marked for death.
2. Mario Sapi, 45, San Antonio bar owner, charged with assault with intent to murder young Floyd, carried a deputy sheriff's card from Tular County Sheriff George Parr when he was arrested.

"No Comment"

Dean said, "no comment" when asked if he believed the actual "trigger men" in the shooting were still at large.

Halsey Wright, Jim Wells County sheriff, Wednesday night confirmed it was Alaniz who telephoned Floyd, Sr., to "take a taxi cab" and not use "your car" to keep the rendezvous they had.

Young Floyd, 22-year-old University of Texas student, was shot when he went to the garage about 9:30 p. m. to work on the family automobile. He died early Tuesday afternoon.

Alaniz, 39, law partner of District Attorney-elect Raeburn Norris, was arrested Wednesday and charged with murder with malice.

Sapi, known as "El Turko," surrendered to police in San Antonio because, he said, he had heard he was wanted for questioning in the case.

LET'S GO, MOMMY—The Tatum triplets, of Memphis, Tenn., are all set for a ride in their deluxe three-passenger stroller, and wish the photographer would hurry up and go bye-bye. The trio are the children of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Tatum, and have just celebrated their first birthday. At the steering-gear is Helen Jeanette, and the back-seat drivers are George Edwin, Jr., left, and George Eugene.

Mainly About People

Murder By Mistake?

District Judge Sam G. Reams, who said Floyd, Sr., told him an informer had told him that Reams was also marked for death, said he "definitely believed" young Floyd was killed by mistake—that it was Floyd, Sr., the assassin intended to shoot.

The youth was hit twice by bullets from a .38 caliber pistol. A pistol was found near the scene of the shooting and Dean said a report on fingerprints had been received.

Dean refused to comment whether he believed it was a case of mistaken identity and whether politics was behind the shooting.

"Politics Behind Shooting"

But Reams said "The consensus here is that politics was behind the shooting."

Floyd, Sr., was an advisor of Reams, political foe of Parr.

Overcharge For Crude Oil Cited In MSA Documents

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Mutual Security Agency MSA has turned over documents to the Justice Department which may result in government suits against two American oil companies which allegedly overcharged for crude oil paid for by foreign aid funds.

The federal government already has filed charges against four other big American oil companies, accusing them of overcharging the United States by 67 million dollars for oil shipped to Marshall Plan countries.

In today's action, MSA said "possible claims for overcharges" are involved in shipments made also by Gulf Oil Company and the Atlantic Refining Company. These companies and Socony Vacuum Oil Company, which already has been sued in district court here, allegedly overcharged 1.6 million delivered from the tiny sheikdom of Kuwait on the Persian Gulf.

These shipments covered the period from May 3, 1949, to August 31 of this year.

The specific amount these companies allegedly overcharged is left up to the Justice Department. Gulf supplied $13,705,198 worth of the Kuwait oil; Socony Vacuum, $2,011,132 and Atlantic, $355,872.

In announcing the move, acting MSA Deputy Director C. Tyler Wood said the documents he has turned over to the Justice Department "indicate that the prices charged on these shipments of Kuwait crude... have closely approximated those charged by the Arabian crude oil suppliers."

The Arabian crude oil suppliers are the four already accused of overcharges. Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, Standard Oil Company of California, The Texas Company of New York and Socony Vacuum Oil Company Inc. of New York. Four subsidiaries of Standard Oil of California and Texas Company also have been charged in the same case which was filed August 22 in the New York District Court.

All companies involved have denied these charges and have asserted the prices have been competitive and not based on any price-fixing arrangement.

Illness Is Ignored

VIENNA (AP)—"My father suffered a sudden crisis in his kidney ailment. He needed urgent doctor's help," wrote a Socialist worker in Communist controlled Bulgaria to the newspaper "abotnitschesko Delo."

"I went to the 20th Poliklinik. The doctor on night duty said he could not come, because there was no ambulance. After I told him how urgent it was, he said it would do no good anyway, because he had no medical instruments. All the instruments were locked up at night."

In 1950 North Carolina's production of milk was 409 pounds per person.

American Lawyers Take Swipe At Plan To Legalize Gambling

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An official crime study group of the nation's lawyers took a swipe at proposals to legalize gambling. The commission on organized crime of the American Bar Association said in a report issued here that "the evils that flow from tolerated illegal gambling—when the laws are simply not enforced—are precisely the same as those which appear when gambling is legalized."

"No one has ever been able to come forward with positive arguments in favor of professional gambling in terms of intrinsic worth or social utility," the report asserted.

The report, the product of two years research was presented to the national Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws, which opened a week-long meeting here.

If the conference and the American Bar Association, meeting here next week, okay suggested laws proposed by the crime commission, they will be presented to the 48 state legislatures.

"This will effectively defeat the traditional efforts of the gambling profession to make trifling innovations in current practices so as to keep outside the letter of the law," he said.

This model law, which the commission urges be adopted in all states, would deal severely with the professional gambler who is the foundation of the national underworld syndicates which the Kefauver Senate Crime Committee probed, said the commission.

Another model act would create a state department of justice to supervise enforcement—a practice already in use in many states, set up a police council in each state for supervision and assistance to local police departments.

immunity act, the report said. "If a prosecutor believed the testimony of a witness would lead to the conviction of an important figure in organized or other crime, he could, by obtaining court order free that witness from any fear of prosecution himself and compel him to talk under contempt of court if he refused or a charge of perjury if he lied."

The Greek word for music included all audies intended to cultivate the mind rather than the body.

Flying Saucer, Cup And A Pot Of Tea Interviewed By Hank

By HENRY McLEMORE
 CUENAVACA Mexico — Not long ago the best way to make a fast buck was to admit that you were a reformed Communist.

Editors would practically knock down your door to get you to do a story on how for many years you betrayed the United States.

The worse you betrayed it the better. If you could prove that you carried a hand grenade and had your pockets filled with maps of strategic areas you were in.

Americans who went about being Americans day after day were lucky to get their names in the "also present" section.

The easiest way to make a buck these days, the easiest way is to be hit by a flying saucer.

I have in mind the West Palm Beach scoutmaster one D. S. "Sonny" Desvergers. His story has reached as far as Mexico and people are wondering whether or not he really had his merit badges scorched off.

Mr. Desvergers says he is going to write the story of his experience; that he isn't going to give away his flying saucer information for free. Mum's the word and he is going to stick to it.

"That's all right by me but I don't see what is going to keep me from writing my flying saucer adventure. The West Palm Beach scoutmaster doesn't have any proof that he was struck by a ball of fire from the heavens. He didn't return with a souvenir."

But I am more free with my knowledge than brother Desvergers. I am going to give away my experience tell all I know in the hope that it will aid the government.

Here goes:

My experience closely parallels that of scoutmaster Desvergers. I am paving my way in Mexico by trapping chipmunks and was leaning over to release a chipmunk when I heard a roaring sound.

"Flying saucers" I said to myself without ever looking up.

I was right but only half right.

Light over my hood was a saucer, a cup and a pot of tea.

Then a voice spoke.

"Lemon or cream" the voice said. "And if you want sugar how many lumps?"

The voice spoke again before I could answer.

"Observe what you see very closely. You have the makings of a good magazine story here. Got a camera?"

I told the voice I didn't have a camera.

"That's a shame. The story would be twice as effective if you could take some pictures."

"Search me" I told the saucer, cup and pot. "scorch me good. And tell me what you look like."

"Well" the saucer said (it was doing all the talking) "I come from another planet or from Russia or from the United States Air Force. Frankly I don't know what the devil I am myself. Not much fun being a flying saucer though."

I asked the saucer if it could leave me a bit of itself for proof that I had seen a flying saucer.

"Oh heavens no" it answered. "That would spoil everything. I've ever seen a picture of a flying saucer."

"No" I answered.

"You probably never will but you'll have to admit that we have given man a good and working racket."

"Agreed" I said. "But you don't mind me writing about you do you?"

"That's my story."

Reds Raise Havoc
 SINGAPORE (AP) — Eighteen persons were killed and 63 injured in 442 attacks by Communist guerrillas on Malayan rail way trains last year, the government's annual report stated.

Guerrillas tore up the tracks on 118 occasions, caused 81 derailments and fired on trains 56 times.

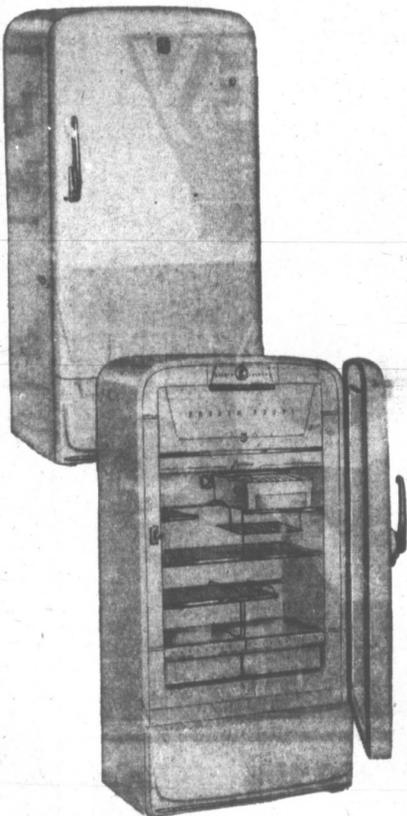

They burned down six railway stations throughout the country, and damaged locomotives 52 times.

JACOBY On Bridge Complaining Will Cause You Trouble

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

I have heard people complain about being too rich, but I must admit I have never suffered from this complaint. I have seen other people who have suffered from this rare complaint in the hand shown today.

West opened the jack of hearts, East put up the queen, and South won with the ace. South could see lots of pleasant finesse to take in the black suits, so he entered dummy with the king of diamonds to try with spade finesse.

West won with the king of spades and promptly returned a diamond since his partner had dropped the queen of diamonds on dummy's king. This forced out dummy's ace of diamonds, a left the contract dependent on the club finesse. When this failed the opponents took a trick in each suit, setting the contract. South's trouble was that he was too rich for his own good.

Take the two black aces out of the South hand, and give them to West in exchange for the two black kings. With this change, South is poorer, but he will never dream of losing his contract.

South's natural play after winning the ace of hearts is to lead a low trump in order to force out West's ace (assuming West has both black aces). West can cash a heart and switch to diamonds, but dummy wins with the king of diamonds, draws trumps and knocks out the ace of clubs. Dummy's ace of diamonds remains as an entry would establish clubs.

A really fine declarer would not be bothered by having aces instead of kings. The correct play in the original hand is to win with the ace of hearts, cash the ace of spades, and then lead a low spade. It is a fatal error to use up a top diamond to try a finesse in either black suit.

There is evidence that bagpipes were brought to the British Isles by Roman legionnaires, says the National Geographic Society.

Monroe's Figure New Norm For Fashion's Buxom Era

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—U. S. women are entering a new buxom era with Marilyn Monroe's figure being the norm, a fashion expert declared today.

"If the Monroe chassis is the norm, this may be the beginning of the wonderful postwar era we were promised but never got. Anyway, that is the prediction of Bill Thomas, fashion designer at Universal International.

"Monroe's figure is a sign of the times," said the handsome young designer. "American women are realizing there is nothing wrong with flesh, as long as it is in the right places. It is certainly in the right places on Monroe."

"I think we are seeing an end to the thin, emaciated look that has been the height of fashion ever since the '20s. In those days, women went for the straight, pencil-like form that denied the normal contours of the body. That look was sustained for years by the designers of Paris and New York. The hope of femininity were the lean, hollow-cheeked models.

"But now we are going right back to the '30s. The hour-glass figure is coming back. Fashion is finally returning to what men like best—women with meat on their bones."

Thomas pointed out that American men have expressed their tastes in the film stars who have found the most favor. Among the masculine favorites, none of these could be considered thin. Rita Hayworth, Lana Turner, Jane Russell, Judy Garland, Shelley Winters, Elizabeth Taylor, Betty Grable.

"By past standards, some of these girls would be considered overweight," he said. "I remember when I was working with Lana on 'The Three Musketeers,'

After she returned from a week end, we had to let out the seams of her costumes and keep them together with pins.

"But you don't hear men complaining about the buxomness of Lana and the others. They like women that way."

He mentioned other stars who have dieted themselves so painfully that they have to be padded for their film roles. One particular recently modeled a show-girl costume with tight neck to ankles, all padded.

Thomas remarked that the new upholstered era was made possible by the introduction of cinches and other gadgets for slimming the waist. "With these devices women can let themselves go," he said. "As long as their waistlines can be cut down, they will look fashionable."

"This will mean an emancipation for women who have been suffering with diets for years. They can eat those potatoes and desserts now. Well, a little more, anyway. But here's a note of caution: Although they can eat more, they also have to exercise more. That's to keep the weight well distributed."

Among the screen newcomers, Thomas cited Piper Laurie and Susan Ball as good examples of the new buxom look. "By previous standards, they might have been considered fat," he said. "But they're not. They're just ample, that's all."

And No Movies!

CENTRALIA, ILL. (AP)—One hour behind bars for nine small Centralia boys was part of the penalty fixed for a wave of thefts.

Marion County Judge J. E. McMackin Jr. also ordered them to stay home each night unless taken out by parents to make good school grades, keep good company and obey all laws.

GETS THE BLUES—Lady Marines now wear their own dress blues for the first time in Marine Corps history. Designed by Mainbocher, the snappy two-piece dark blue uniform jacket nips in at the waist, has traditional scarlet piping on collar and shoulders. Three gold buttons decorate cuffs, gold and scarlet sleeve insignia designate rank. Ascot tie and blue cap complete the outfit which will only be worn on dress occasions.

Japanese Will Assume Greater Burden In Hokkaido Defense

By VIC TAKAHASHI

TOKYO (AP)—Japan intends to shoulder a greater burden of the defense of Hokkaido the northernmost island separated only by a narrow strait from the glow-halin.

The veteran U. S. First Cavalry Division now stands guard on Hokkaido, in whose coastal waters the Russians rattle the sabre by seizing Japanese fishing boats.

The Japanese press is full of accounts of plans to put more muscle into the National Police Reserve—American muscle of tanks and howitzers.

The National Security Board says that a regional corps of 25,000 men will be organized and mechanized and sent to Hokkaido.

Some press reports say that under this plan, the Japanese gradually will replace the U. S. cavalrymen as a defense force on that northern outpost.

The Japanese defense force for Hokkaido will be laid out along the lines of the U. S. Army, which has been training the National Police Reserve.

The Japanese corps will be equipped with 105-mm artillery, 155mm tractor howitzers, anti-aircraft guns and 30-ton Sherman tanks of World War II, all from the U. S. Army.

Press accounts report that some tanks and 105s already have been turned over to Japan and more heavy equipment will be supplied this month and in October.

There has been no announced target date for the establishment of the Japanese defense force on Hokkaido. However, the National Security Board says it will come some time after the police reserve is changed to the "security forces" Oct. 15.

The board hopes to create a force strong enough on Hokkaido to cope with any emergency.

While the emphasis seems to be on Hokkaido, the Japanese government hopes to expand the police reserve to 110,000 men. Its present strength is about 55,000.

The Japanese Communists, who oppose any rearmament and demand that the reserve be disbanded, boat that the recruiting campaign for the reserve is running into rough sledding.

This is conceded. The word "army" is unpopular in Japan just now. The memory of the war is still fresh, and politicians on the left insist that Japan's economy cannot stand rearmament.

The Japanese government, however, has undertaken in its security agreement with the United States to assure gradually the task of defending itself in tumultuous Asia.

COLD OUTLOOK FOR PEACE—Looks as if the Chinese and North Korean truce negotiators at Panmunjom take a dim view of any early agreement, judging by the scene above. It shows Chinese carpenters putting up a new meeting house there, covered with materials heavy enough to keep out the coming winter winds.

ARE YOU SAFE FROM THIS HIDDEN MENACE TO HEALTH

Chances are you don't even know what it is. Yet it's a condition so prevalent... and so serious... that it has become a major topic in national magazines.

If Vitamin Deficiency Caused Pain (instead of negative symptoms like fatigue, nervousness, irritability) people wouldn't have to be warned to do something about it!

The real danger of malnutrition catches up with its victim when sickness strikes. A person may be getting enough vitamins and minerals from the food he eats to give him "passable" health, but may not be getting enough to keep him in the most favorable condition to withstand the strain of sickness. In certain infectious diseases, nutritional instability becomes a contributing factor to physical breakdown.

The need for adequate daily vitamin and mineral intake couldn't be made plainer!

Oilers Split To Close '52 Season

BORGER (AP) — Manager Lloyd Brown wrapped up a playoff race here last night for the Oilers as the Oilers and the Oilers split the Pampa Oilers won on a 2-0 regular West Texas-New Mexico schedule with a double header. Brown, the oldest active player inside the league, blanked the Oilers 5-0 in the twelfth over. He drove in all the cushion he needed when he doubled in the first run of the game in the bottom of the fifth.

Brown, however, Max Miller, Perk in that first game but Pampa salvaged a split when Cliff Swenson outstayed veteran Eddie Carnett in the night cap with the Oilers showing over three runs in the fifth to break a 2-2 tie. Pampa had taken the lead in the first inning on three hits and two walks. After Borger kno-

Lions, Texans Set For Dallas Battle

DALLAS (AP) — The Detroit Lions and Dallas Texans have set for their exhibition football game at the Cotton Bowl tomorrow night.

Detroit, winner of all its exhibition games thus far and one of the championship favorites in the National Football League, arrived yesterday. The Texans, winners of three of their four exhibitions and coming here to make their first Dallas appearance, arrived this morning from Kerrville where they have been training.

Both clubs will be guests at a luncheon. This afternoon the Lions work out at Southern Methodist University while the Texans will drill in the Cotton Bowl tonight.

"The Texans are going to be a good football team," said Parker, "and I think this will be a good football game."

SWC Squads Increase Tempo Of Pre-Season Grid Drills

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southwest Conference football squads increased the tempo of their pre-season grid drills today as they prepared for the opening games of the seven conference members neared.

All except Rice and Southern Methodist open the season Sept. 26 with non-conference opposition. Texas A&M plays the University of Houston at Houston. Baylor takes on Wake Forest at Waco, Texas, on Wake Forest at Law, and Arkansas meets Oklahoma A&M at Little Rock, and Texas plays Louisiana State at Abilene.

And you could tell the boys were thinking about it as mid-week drills continued today.

Aggies Work Hard

The Texas Aggies held their morning workouts with dummy squads today as opening games for five of the seven conference members neared.

All except Rice and Southern Methodist open the season Sept. 26 with non-conference opposition. Texas A&M plays the University of Houston at Houston. Baylor takes on Wake Forest at Waco, Texas, on Wake Forest at Law, and Arkansas meets Oklahoma A&M at Little Rock, and Texas plays Louisiana State at Abilene.

Texas League Signs 3 Managers

DALLAS (AP) — Three Texas League managers have been given new contracts for 1953, but the status of the other five hasn't been revealed.

L. D. "Little Dutch" Meyer, manager of Dallas, was rehired for a second year at an increase in salary. Joe Schultz, Tulsa manager, was given a new contract shortly afterward, also with a hike in pay. Now Mickey Livingston of Silverport has been awarded a new one year contract at $10,000.

The managerial situation at Beaumont, Houston, San Antonio, Fort Worth and Oklahoma City isn't known but Bobby Bragan is expected to return to Fort Worth and Tommy Tatum to Oklahoma City.

Loyner White, manager of San Antonio, has said he doesn't know whether he wants to return there even if offered a contract.

Harry Craft, manager of Beaumont, had no knowledge of what his future held for him. Beaumont may not be in the Texas League next season. Owner Guy Airey of the Beaumont franchise said he was open for any kind of offer but that as yet he had received none for the franchise, or stadium.

Indians, Giants Hanging On

By RALPH RODEN

AP Sports Writer

Luke Easter, former target for Cleveland's "boo birds," is top man on the hit parade of Indians fans today.

Big Luke's blazing bat is spearheading the Indians' bid for the American League pennant, a drive that finds them only one game behind the New York Yankees.

Both combatants have 14 games up for lost time since he got back into the lineup on July 15, following a sojourn with Indianapolis of the American Association.

The 240-pound first baseman departed unaccompanied with a 208 average. Since his recall he has been banging away at a .340 clip and has driven in 55 runs in 52 games.

The Indians were playing .583 ball and trailed the Yankees by 1-2 games when Easter left.

Since his return they have won 16 and lost 23, a 610 pace. Easter, who has hit safely in 17 straight games, singled home the Indians' first run in the opening inning. Bob Lemon blanked the Athletics on three suddenly wilted. The A's loaded the bases with one out and Lemon issued two walks to force home two runs. Ted Wilk, the old National League fireman, came on and saved Lemon's 19th victory.

Reynolds Sharp

Reynolds was in top form against the Browns. The right-hander allowed only five hits and fanned 13 in racking up his 18th conquest. The Yanks collected 15 hits against Duane Pillette and two relief pitchers.

Johnny Rutherford, with assistance from Joe Black and Carl Erskine, turned back the Cubs at Ebbets Field. Rutherford bowed out for a pinch-hitter during a game-winning, four-run rally in the seventh of the opener. Black retired the Cubs in order the rest of the way.

Erskine coasted to his 12th victory in the second game.

Mueller's homer for the Giants sent game Murrey Dickson down to his 20th defeat. Dickson, who won 30 games in 1951, is the first Pirate pitcher in modern history to be tagged with a score of defeats.

The Giant engaged three pitchers to stem the Pirates with Hoyt Wilhelm gaining credit for his 13th victory.

In other games, the Philadelphia Phils defeated St. Louis, 6-3, and Cincinnati nosed out Boston, 6-5, in 10 innings in the National League, and Chicago turned back Washington, 6-3, and Detroit upset Boston, 6-2, in the American.

Broncho Hopes Dim; Lose Schlemeyer With Injury

ODESSA (Special) — Odessa Broncho football stock, relatively high as drills opened, took a drastic drop over the weekend as ace quarterback Carl Schlemeyer was sidelined with a fractured collarbone.

Schlemeyer's passing, expected to be the best Odessa long range weapon in years, will be sorely missed as the Bronchos prepare for perhaps their roughest season in history.

The lanky junior will be out of action at least four to six weeks and perhaps longer.

Replacing him at the important man-under-stitch on the T and split-T of coach Julius Johnson will likely be veteran Tommy Harris. Harris, a tall 186-pounder, was originally ticketed for the fullback post in '52 after lettering as a quarterback last year. His passing leaves something to be desired, however, although he may prove better on the split-T option plays than Schlemeyer.

Moving up at fullback will be young Troy Moody, a jet fast 174-pound junior who was out all last season following an operation.

The halfbacks are well-taken-care-of with Charley Ward, 169-pounds and Odessa's to ground gainer of 1951 at one side and small but swift Swain Adams on the other side. Adams, a two-year vet, weighs only 152. Youngsters Dale Sherrod, Johnny Crain and Bobby Gormley, all long on talent but short on experience from the second line halfback corps.

Forty-eight new coal mines with a daily capacity of 1,200 tons were opened in Kentucky from 1944 through 1950.

The bagpipe "drones," or tubes, are capable of only one note.

In Britain the automobile glove compartment is called a "cubby locker."

Where Are The West Point Cribbers? - 5 Civilian Life Has Pitfalls, Too, Ousted Cadets Discover

By MURRAY OLDERMAN

NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA) — The wanderlust has seized several of the dismissed West Point football cribbers. Five have flitted from one school to another since leaving the Academy.

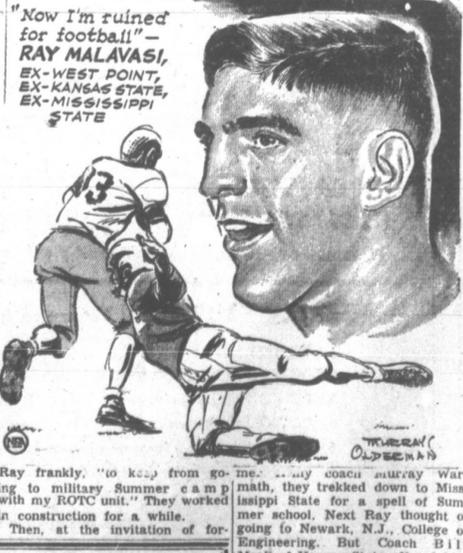

Civilian life has its pitfalls, too, they've found out.

A case in point is Ray Malavasi, who typified the football fever that pervaded West Point. He was an all-New York metropolitan area guard at Clifton, N. J., high school and was set to attend Virginia when a visit by Army assistant Johnny Green deloused him to the citadel on the Hudson.

The squat 190-pounder was called the best line prospect to enter West Point during the Blaik regime and in his one season proved it. He also picked up a bad knee.

With his buddy, Gerry Hart, a cackles from Brooklyn, Ray emigrated to Kansas State after the cribbing blowup. His first semester in civil engineering he made three C's and a D. He also reinjured the knee.

"Just horsing around," explained Ray. "Now I'm ruined for football." "Now I'm ruined for my ROTC unit," they worked in construction for a while. Then, at the invitation of for-

We Could Use Anti-Red POWs

On Cheju Island, just south of Korea, are located all the Korean prisoners taken by the United Nations in the Korean War.

Of the total number, 15,000 — off in a group by themselves — are the anti-Communists. Whether they should be compelled to return to Communist territory, in event of peace, is a question now holding up the truce talks at Panmunjom.

The North Korean and Chinese Communist leaders say the 15,000 should be forced to return. The United Nations says no.

The UN says no because it believes the 15,000 would be returning to almost certain death, due simply to the fact that they are anti-Communist.

That feeling certainly seems to be shared by the 15,000 themselves.

A New York Herald-Tribune correspondent, the first newspaperman to visit Cheju since all the Chinese POWs were relocated there, reports the anti-Communists' fear of being returned to their own soil is almost pathological.

Although the correspondent was not allowed to talk to the prisoners themselves, he was told of their attitude by UN personnel running the camp.

He was told that as an indelible proof of their feelings, the anti-Communists point to tattoos on their arms which read "Anti-Communists, Against Russia."

The assumption here would be that the tattooing was done as a security measure by the Communist forces. But even if the men tattooed themselves, in hope of getting favored treatment as prisoners, the damning words would go with them if they returned to their own country.

But the UN officers and men at the camp declare there is no doubt that the anti-Communists are what they are and are read and anxious to go into battle against the Chinese and North Koreans, if the UN will only furnish them with arms.

Prisoners have been used in that way in wars past, but not by us. And we certainly are not going to start now.

However, there would seem to be some way their unique qualifications could be put to use to help win the propaganda battle to us in the Far East.

Here is a large group of men who for the most part have deserted the enemy to come over to our side. Nearly all say they were not captured fighting but surrendered voluntarily.

They've lived under the Communists and, as prisoners, they've lived under us. From actual experience they know and could surely explain with considerable conviction to other Orientals why they fled from the Communists and why they don't want to go back.

Our fight for the men's minds throughout the Far East has by no means yet resulted in a victory for us, one great handicap being that we are Westerners. Another is the destitution and misery existent among the civilian population of South Korea.

Fighting a war and caring adequately for a civilian population is a difficult thing, but nevertheless the civilian suffering in South Korea is not only a hard thing to explain away to other Orientals but is a fertile source of Communist propaganda.

We could well use the voices of 15,000 anti-Communists who know what they're talking about to tell the people of that part of the world just what anti-Communism means.

Trade Restrictions

Recent events give us another quick peek at international trade, that mysterious, complicated and little understood power source that helps make the world go round.

In recent actions in which he refused to raise import levies on certain foreign goods, President Truman let it be known that world trade is a two-way street.

If we want to export, which we certainly do, we've got to import. In other words, if we want other countries to buy our goods, we've got to buy theirs. Otherwise they won't have the money to pay us for what we sell them.

However, another and more complicated factor has arisen in our trade relations since the end of World War II. It affects directly our trade with Europe and it magnifies greatly the good or bad effects of that trade.

The new and disrupting factor is that drastic reduction of the normal flow of trade between Western Europe and the Iron Curtain countries. Generally speaking, that trade has consisted of raw materials being sold by the East to the West, and manufactured products sold to the East by the West.

As a result of the East-West trade restrictions, many Western European countries are feeling a severe economic pinch. Austria, for instance, which before the war sold 40 per cent of all its exports to Eastern Europe, now sells only from 15 to 20 per cent. A further drop would endanger the country's economy.

Ordinarily, when one big market dries up, a country will look for alternate markets. Right now, the countries of Western Europe are looking at the United States, but they don't exactly like what they see.

The feeling of a number of these countries is voiced by Giscard d'Estaing, chairman of the French National Committee of the International Chamber of Commerce: "... (The United States) has set up barriers within the free world which are incompatible with the will to expand trade. The difficulty of obtaining supplies of certain relatively rare raw materials in Western Europe is due much less to the stoppage of East-West trade than to the paradoxical fact that the dollar zone does not wish to buy from Europe the articles which would give Europe the means of payment for raw materials from the dollar zone."

The United States Council of the International Chamber of Commerce has recently completed an analysis of the present trade situation.

It criticizes the U. S. government as having "failed to provide a solution to this vexing problem of trade between the free nations and the countries behind the Iron Curtain." And it urges that "the basic assumptions on which current United States policies on East-West trade need to be re-examined and revised."

"How Sick Is Socialized Medicine?"

I want to quote further from an article by Dr. Meichner Palyi as reproduced from the Freeman magazine on "How Sick Is Socialized Medicine?"

Dr. Palyi points out how the demand for doctors is increased by socialized medicine in this manner: "While medical practice degenerates under socialism, medical science continues to progress (especially in countries where medical care is a matter of private initiative). The people benefit not because of socialization but in spite of it. For at once the prevention of curative care results in too little preventive care—and in the need to do more curing."

"This is so, in the first place, because of the strain on the personnel. It is a fundamental tenet of Socialist medicine that patients relieved of financial inhibitions will go to their physicians in time to permit the discovery of ailments in their early stages. In practice, the overuse of medical services reduces the doctors' time and interest. Early symptoms remain unnoticed. The primary function of the general practitioner—the prevention of disease or to nip it in the bud—tends to become obliterated. In Britain, the situation is further aggravated by the virtual exclusion of the general practitioner from the hospital."

"Enlightening in this respect is Germany's experience with her 80-year-old compulsory care scheme, which has been gradually expanded to cover at least 75 per cent of the population. In Germany, an insurance set-up with one-third (originally one-half) of the total cost deducted from employee payrolls, and no government subsidies. It is administered in a far more self-restrained fashion than Western counterparts, and on a comparatively decentralized pattern. Moreover, the country suffers from a surplus of physicians, not a deficiency. The same contracts for one panel doctor per 600 'insured.' And yet the medical result is much the same as in Britain under Bevan's system."

"To make a living, the German panel doctor must become a 'panel lion,' attending as many as 100 patients a day. What was once the world's most highly reputed medical set-up has sunk so low as to be a deterrent to the medical public debate. The most insistent charges center around the fact that the underpaid practitioner tends to give his patients what they want instead of what is in their best interests; consequently the doctor's chief function—check illness at the outset—gets lost in a maze of bureaucratic red tape and medical malpractice in which he often participates. It is generally understood that, for example, 'deals' between drug producers and panel doctors are a widespread practice."

"Dr. Palyi points out that only 7 per cent of the astronomical sum spent on socialized medicine goes for medical research."

Utopia In a Straitjacket — It takes time for the most serious results of socialized medicine—deterioration of medical standards and of the doctor's social and professional status—to become a political issue. But the immediately visible result in mounting costs whenever the Welfare State is confronted with a financial crisis. During the Great Depression the compulsory medical schemes had to retreat, led by the Weimar Republic under Chancellor Brüning. Even the moderately subsidized and completely decentralized Swiss system had to trim its sails. Today the dollar crisis is forcing both France and Britain to attempt deflation of their giveaway programs.

The underlying problem is the same; the inherently communistic and bureaucratic nature of Medical Socialism raises its operational costs even in a depression, and well ahead of prices in an inflation. Unless it is stripped of its Utopian glamour and put in a straitjacket—a critical stage threatens when budgetary deficits must be stopped and taxes cannot be raised further."

"Police controls are the last refuge of all self-bankrupting, socialist planning. We have seen what happens to the British hospitals. The druggists are under scrutiny. Significantly, the Bevan system relies on stripping the doctors of their 'power.' With the clarity of collectivist logic, Bevan recognized—as did Stalin—that Utopia, to work economically—must be thoroughly regimented. The medical profession in particular must be nationalized so as to make it dependent on and responsible to the Minister, not the patient. This is a complete perversion of its role in material. What matters is that the voters are convinced of the politicians' magnanimity and the costs kept to manageable size—while the doctors and hospitals taking the blame for the unsatisfactory results."

Every person who reads this article should realize what will take place in America if America adopts socialized medicine.

Will There Be A Christmas This Year, Daddy?

National Whirligig... U. S. Not Going To Poorhouse But Tobin May Be In Doghouse

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — The American people are not spending themselves into a trip to the White House woods shed for Secretary Maurice J. Tobin, was issued by his Bureau of Labor Statistics last month. It created a sensation in government circles for fear of its politico-economic implications. It declared that the average family in 1950 spent $300 more than it received in income.

It flatly contradicted current pronouncements by economic experts in Secretary Charles F. Sawyer's Commerce Department and the Federal Reserve Board. Their statistics showed that savings were reaching new highs. It created doubts about Democratic orator's favorite theme that "The American people never had it so good."

EXPENDITURES — Indeed it provoked General Eisenhower to ridicule his opponent's contention that Administration policies had produced unprecedented good times. The Republican presidential nominee used it to support his declaration that his aim was to create a "prosperity not based on them."

Discussing the high cost of living at Little Rock Ark. He referred to the official study of consumers' expenditures in 1950. "Now," he said, "$400 isn't much in Washington, but for people like me — I tell you that is still some bucks."

He also used to embellish the story which reporters have labeled "The egg and Ike." One reason for the discrepancy between income and outgo Ike continued is that one egg carried 100 concealed eggs.

RECHECK — Now it develops that a belated recheck of the Tobin tables reduces the $400 total of supposed overspending to a mere $62. BLS's crafty "experts" will soon issue a formal correction in its August estimate to the satisfaction of Democratic politicians and their labor allies.

But even this figure becomes questionable and the red ink dissolves into black if other economic factors are taken into consideration. In fact a careful analysis of this official annual study raises the collateral question of whether this and similar government activities justify the millions of taxpayers' money lavished on them.

ABNORMAL — The BLS's original report failed to make clear that in the outbreak of the "Korea police action" touched off a rash of buying in the wholesale and retail markets. Consumers were guarding against prospective shortages remembering World War II days.

In the months before and after the invasion of Southern Korea department store sales showed a similar demand for goods late in the year. The consumers were hysterical rather than normal. They also stored up with durable goods — automobiles, televisions sets, radios, washing machines, household equipment etc.

Since there were no credit restrictions then most of these purchases were made on the installment plan. It is obviously untrue and inaccurate to list as 1950 expenditures the bills which would not be paid for any where from 18 to 24 months. Only the amount discharged in 1950 should have been itemized in the survey for that year.

DUBIOUS — The Tobin statisticians also treated insurance premium payments as disbursements. Most people figure that a fairly large proportion of their insurance investments represents savings and they should be figured as such in any overall estimates.

A quick glance at the behavior of consumers in 1951 supports this theory that the 1950 figures are highly dubious guides to the economic status of the average American family. It suggests that they are not wastrels or thoughtless of the future of themselves and their families.

Retail declined sharply after 1950 for reasons which Secretary Tobin may not care to admit. Prices became so inflated due to the six months' delay in imposing controls that the public trimmed its budgets. The 1951 boom in taxes which hit so many in the low income brackets reduced their purchasing power. Finally they had satisfied their sharpest and most immediate wants by their 1950 marketing.

GUESS-WORK — BLS researchers also concede that certain curious psychological twists tend to prevent them from obtaining accurate figures on consumer expenditures. They try to allow for these personal idiosyncrasies by "adjusting" their findings but it is admittedly guess-work.

People in the job brackets are inclined to boast of their expenditures even to exaggerate them. Those with incomes above $10,000 are extremely reticent, perhaps underestimating for fear of the income tax collector. They are less likely to be at home when a Tobin calls and the higher bracketed wives are generally less informed on family finances. When both the husband and wife work it is almost impossible to find presumably earning a good income them at home.

Thus the individual porridge as Hoover insists he did not say about "prosperity" is still "around the corner" and a distant corner at that.

A certain mad logic is discernible in two recent news stories. A man in Montgomery, Alabama, who was kept awake by his neighbor's dog, was fined $10 for sitting on his porch at night, howling back.

In Pittsburgh, when police nabbed Clara Hahlgren, they found her knitting bag, crammed with jewelry, also contained a neatly typewritten Christmas shopping list.

Fair Enough... Piece By Irving Brown In Digest Discussed By Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1952, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

In the current issue of the Reader's Digest pulled a fast one on customer although it is possible that someone pulled it fast one in the Digest. I, Hoffman, ECA corps of some 8,000 parasites got actual money subsidies from the American taxpayers in the form of big discounts on groceries, booze, cigarettes, Donald, perfume and cameras sold for below cost at Irving Brown, an American commissaries. Publicly in these dispatches last winter of David Dubinsky of the Garment Workers' Union and operator of a vest-pocket Socialist Party in the City of New York. Brown is a radical socialist. His intrusion in the domestic politics of the nations on the near side of the Iron Curtain is a violation of the conditions in the passport of every American abroad.

Robinson is not the first magazine writer to attempt to make him a hero but the vast circulation of the Digest makes his piece an important coup for the Socialist conspiracy both here and abroad. Robinson attributes great physical courage to a fellow with no proven record of bravery and repeats a hackneyed old story of the unloading of American arms in Marseilles by anti-Communist stevedores under Brown's influence after his agents had cowed the Communists by threats. This story is true to the extent that the arms really were unloaded in Marseilles by Communist threats. But an American general said overtime pay provided by American taxpayers turned the trick. It is not unusual practice of American union agents about acting in cooperation with the Mutual Security Administration to get things done by paying sluggish European labor premium wages out of the American treasury.

Last winter, George Meenley, of the Washington office of the AF of L, came back from Europe with a dismal report that Brown's attempt to clamp the Communist version of socialism on all Europe in collusion with our State Department had been a flop. He was half-dead with grief over the whole business. That would have cancelled the soft jobs of the whole corps of parasites and

LOOKING SIDWAYS

By WHITNEY BOLTON

There is no point in spreading the tanglefoot of mathematics around on the floor, but a recent piece about how an OPA man became a successful writer has resulted in another writer getting hot under the collar with the claim that it isn't as easy as all that. He cites the 5,000,000 as a rugged example.

Let us take a hardy gander at David Karp, who has just brushed his way to the front, with resulting abrasions and disillusion. Mr. Karp, safe at last, thinks it is just fine that Roy Higgins is making a fancy dollar with a typewriter, but he personally also thinks that the job public, perhaps lured to trying to write by the saga of Mr. Higgins, ought to know that it's a bitter scrimmage all the way.

"There are 5,000,000 people trying to write," Karp complains. "Of that 5,000,000 about 500 manage to earn a shoe clerk's wages—and of that 500 about 50 get all the cream. The rest eat sand. I've still got sand betwixt my teeth, even though I've recently crating through and am now eating my meals at the table with the grown folks."

Mr. Karp has just seen his first book published, "The Big Feeling," which Lion Books is putting out a quarter in one of those small paperback editions found in drug stores, railway stations, book shops and on barber-shops. Another agent money is sludging his way and he feels nourished enough to talk.

Karp came out of the Army with a new wife. He told her he wanted to be a writer and because new wives will agree to almost anything he didn't have a fight on his hands. She had a job and would keep it. He could try his hand. It liked it. The writer needs money. He got a job with a radio station that paid him the magnificent salary of no cents per week. At the end of 18 months it was without earning a dime. Mr. Karp went on the payroll at $48.50 each Friday afternoon. After another 18 months he resigned to write a television show at $75 a week, which seemed a staggering wage. And exactly six weeks the show folded, leaving Mr. Karp at a nonplus of awesome proportions. He was just where he started; no moles, no job, no prospects. And Manhattan's graveyard season, summer, knocking at the door. Mrs. Karp said she'd go on working and he was to do nothing, but nothing, but write. He wrote June, July, August, September, October, November, December, and accomplished 14 short stories, two novels, 15 radio scripts. All that had to happen was to convert them into cash. And his literary agent was losing faith. Finally, even his agent quit him.

January passed and so did February and March. But April brought a change. Another agent sold a Karp story to Argosy Magazine for $400. David gave the agent the usual 10 per cent and pocketed $360 for 10 months' work. American magazine in May bought another for $750 and CBS bought a TV script for $350—total income for one year: $1,500, or much less than clerks make.

It's better now. He sells regularly. He has effectively proved that if you want to do it—you can. But you'd better not have a large appetite. He did it the hard way, no friends, no backing family, no influence, no extraordinary scholarship. Just a wife in the cheering section to keep him going.

Which is where a wife should be.

Bid For A Smile

he recruit had the habit of parking his soap in a nifty and jolly fashion. The noise was so loud that it was a torment to the company. One day when the offensive sound was at fortissimo, a veteran strode toward the culprit and said: "Veteran—May I help you?"

Recruit—Help! I don't need any help. Jones—Well, I said that before. I thought perhaps you might wish to be dragged to shore.

Jones's suit against Jenkins was interrupted by the Thanksgiving holiday. Jones, a poultry raiser, asked his lawyer if it wasn't a good idea to send the judge a turkey. The judge—Leavens no! That would mean losing the case sure. The judge would think you were trying to influence him.

Jones met his lawyer the next day. Jones—Well, I sent that turkey. Lawyer—You've lost the case, you fool. Jones—Oh, no. I sent the turkey all right, but I put Jenkins' name on it.

Friend—My wife writes me that she's all unstrung. What shall I do? Also—Send her a wire. A personnel manager found himself confronted with a real problem. He had explained to the applicant that he could not place him because the business had no extraordinary scholarship. Job Seeker—That's all right. The little bit of work I would do wouldn't

Hors d'Oeuvre Origin

Hors d'Oeuvre in French means "outside of the work." The first hors d'oeuvre was created in Paris just before the French revolution. Restaurants were being established and waiters received no salaries. They lived on tips. To augment their pay they were allowed to cadge a bit of bread, ham and other foods. The waiters made tiny tidbits which they sold to the patrons. Soon each waiter had his special hors d'oeuvre.

Thoughts

Do this now, my son, and deliver thyself, when thou art called into the hand of thy friend; go, humble thyself, and make sure thy friend. Prov. 6:3.

Humility is like a tree, whose root when it sets deepest in the earth rises higher, and spreads fairer and stands surer, and lasts longer, and every step of its descent is like a rib of iron. —Taylor.

What's RIGHT?

In a crowd sometimes a story and the laugh is at your expense.

WRONG: Insist on telling your version of the story, in order to justify yourself, taking the whole matter seriously.

RIGHT: Laugh with the rest, and then, if you feel you must, make a remark or two that shows your point of view. But don't retell the whole story.

Cadillac

Come On In and Order One... Today!

There are many people in this community who want a Cadillac ever so badly—and who are almost persuaded to order one——but who, for one reason or another, are just holding back and waiting.

To all these people we wish to say: "Come on in and order your Cadillac today!"

Every day you wait is simply postponing, still further, the wonderful time when you can enjoy the many delightful things a Cadillac will bring you.

That is, for instance, the deep feeling of pride which comes from owning a car which is universally acknowledged to be the Standard of the World . . .

. . . the great satisfaction that comes from driving a car so quiet you can "whisper and be heard"; so easy to handle that driving is no conscious effort at all; so comfortable and restful that a day at its wheel is the essence of relaxation . . .

. . . the comforting confidence that comes from knowing your car is so soundly-engineered and so beautifully-built that you can keep it and enjoy it over almost any period you may care to designate . . .

. . . and, finally, the happy knowledge that you probably paid less for your Cadillac than hundreds of thousands of people who are driving other makes of cars—for there are numerous models produced by other manufacturers which actually cost more than the lowest-priced Cadillac!

Isn't all this too much to miss for even one needless day?

Owners of Cadillacs will tell you it is—out of their own experience. Time and again, people who have just moved up to Cadillac have said to us—"Why did I wait so long to enjoy all this?"

That's why we urge you to come in today and start down the happy road to Cadillac ownership. You have already missed too much—too long!

OUR TOWN by Wanda Campbell

Last Spring, 25 or 30 women organized the Marine Mothers Auxiliary, affiliated with the national organization. Their aim was to help their sons or families of other Marines. They wanted to start projects that might in some way help end the Korean conflict, or at least make it easier for the boys who were fighting. The mothers wanted to feel they were doing something—anything—except sitting home and waiting. At first meetings, members shared letters and pictures with some mothers who had gone without hearing from their sons. When they were ready to start a project, they wrote other auxiliaries over the country to find out what they are doing. In coastal cities, Marine Mothers were helping entertain boys at bases. In larger cities they were assisting young war widows with small children, and in some states, Auxiliary helped with USO work. None of these projects would apply to the Pampa area, so Pampa women wrote more letters and made more telephone calls. Finally, the local group was advised to "stand by in case of all out war there would be jobs to do." Once auxiliary members decided to have a big dinner and homecoming party for returning Marines, but as a few started coming home, they learned the boys were too nervous for big parties, and they seemed to prefer being with family and close friends. One of the few who preferred being with family and close friends. One of the things the organization has accomplished was help with the blood bank, so this week, the Marine Mothers, who started with such big hopes, are considering disbandment. Without a project, their group has no meaning. They prefer to spend their time writing letters or packing special boxes of food for overseas. With another Korean winter ahead, mothers will be knitting warm socks, too. There's little else they can do for them. Many Pampa

First Presbyterian Church Members Hold Sub Debs Honor Year's First Family Fellowship Dinner Sponsor At Party

First of the monthly fellowship dinners at the First Presbyterian Church was held Wednesday evening in the church basement with about 125 church members and guests present.

A western theme was carried out in table decorations. Tables were centered with silver and brass. Each brand represented a phase of caucus work. Hosts and Hostesses at tables, and the brands they represented were Mr. and Mrs. E. J. O'Brien, W. F. Brand (Westminster Fellowship); Mr. and Mrs. Howey Nentzel, CS Brand (Church School); Mr. and Mrs. Dick Walker, CC Brand (Church Choir); Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Dixon, MB Brand (Men's Brotherhood); and Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Jolly, WA Brand (Women's Auxiliary).

Following the dinner, Mr. E. D. Wedgeworth led group singing. Kay Fancher served as master of ceremonies during the evening.

Special guests at the dinner were new and prospective members of the church.

Fellowship dinners will be held each month through fall and spring months.

Mrs. Lee Moore, Jr., Sub Deb Club sponsor, was complimented with a pink and blue shower at a recent meeting of the club in the home of Misses Fatsy and Peggy Ward.

The serving table was centered with a colorful arrangement of garden flowers. Favors were miniature baby carriages fashioned from marshmallows and gum drops.

Cookies and punch were served to Misses Barbara Smith, Joe Toepfer, Carol Rankin, Sue Steen, Marlene Leder, Shirley Larson, Connie Kelly, Jo Tooley, Nancy Jamason, Joan Lamy, Lou Nell Waggoner, Meridith Brooks, Nihla Morrison, Leta Hamilton, Lynn Cornelius, Ruth Abernathy, Nelda Smart, Pat Taylor, Marcheta Hall, Marilyn McDonald, Barbara Frye, Charlotte Parker, Carol Waggoner, Sue Cobb, Marlene Cobb, Jean Smith, Donna Crossman, Shirley Biard, Billie Mae Osborne, Marietta Archer, and Beverly Rogers.

Mrs. Bob Triplehorn, the club's other sponsor, was also present.

RUTH MILLETT

You may recall the tragedy teenage baby-sitter strangled her six-year-old charge, after watching a murder by strangulation on television.

In commenting on the tragedy, Edward J. Meeman, editor of the Memphis Press-Scimitar, said: "Television should not picture the physical act of murder, especially murder in such forms as strangulation, which appeals to twisted minds."

And then he had a word for parents.

"Parents should be heard from. They should let television stations and television channels know if they do not want these graphic pictures of crime."

"Even more effective is to let sponsors know. True, some dramas require the portrayal of murder, but this can be done so that normal adults can know what has happened without the presentation of detailed pictures which are suggestions to warped minds to go and do likewise."

Parents should heed this advice, and should make themselves heard in quarters where their demands will be effective.

A recent study made in Cincinnati of the television habits of children shows that the average 12- and 13-year-old is likely to spend more hours looking at television than he spends in the classroom.

For whether it be for good or bad, television is one source of their education.

When we bring television into our homes, we bring it for the whole family, and it should be suited to the whole family.

We parents can make sure it is, if we are willing to make this effort to influence the type of programs that are offered.

Jaycee-Ettes Plan Rummage Sale Here

A rummage sale was planned for Saturday at the Jaycee-Ettes board meeting in the home of Mrs. Art Attergut. The sale will be conducted at 512 S. Cuyler.

A party, to be held Sept. 24 in the home of Mrs. Bud Johnson, was planned.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Mmes. Johnson, Clifton McNeely, Creel Grady, Jr., Jim Arndt, Roy Taylor, Tom Tipps, Jack Vaughn, Bob Quick, John Garman, Delton Sanders, and Elmer Francis.

Marines are coming home for short visits. George Whitten son of the A. B. Whittens, is in California after visiting here two weeks ago. With two purple hearts, it isn't likely he'll be sent back to Korea. Andy Tarrant and Jimmy Tucker were here, and Weldon Witcher is due home. But Marine Mothers and wives and mothers of other servicemen long for the boys to come home for good. Auxiliary members are disappointed they can not offer their time and energy toward a goal that might help in some way. Maybe all these mothers can do is lend courage when news from Korea is bad, and spread a little happiness when there's good news. Families of servicemen have to help each other because it seems sometime that the rest of us don't know—or don't care—what's happening over there. . .

In some areas of South America the praying mantis grows so large that it attacks and eats small frogs, lizards and birds.

Glimpses Of Yesteryear

FIVE YEARS AGO. Mrs. Charles Warminski, Mrs. A. French and Mrs. L. R. Spence assisted Mrs. Paul Rice with exhibits at the Gray County Home Demonstration Fair.

Zeke Griffin, right tackle, and Kelly Anderson, right end, were pictured in The News on day before the Harvesters opening game with Electra.

10 YEARS AGO Mrs. W. Purviance, teacher, honored her First Methodist Friendship Class with a social in her home.

Mrs. O. H. Gilstrap was named president of the Central Baptist church TEL class.

15 YEARS AGO This item appeared under "I SAW" in The News: Margorie Buckler was blushing like a 12-year-old at the circus here when a clown plumped down on his knees before her and began proposing marriage. Miss Buckler's escort, Ben Guill, gallantly led her away.

Holy Souls School was dedicated with Bishop Richard E. Lubez of Amarillo and R. E. Fisher, Pampa school superintendent, making dedication addresses.

Official Says Defense Dollar Tide Is Ended

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government economist says the golden tide of defense dollars is leveling off far ahead of schedule—and may wash some of the props from under business in the process.

Robert C. Turner, a new member of President Truman's three-man Council of Economic Advisers gave this surprise appraisal.

In an interview, Turner told of new government studies which he said show that defense spending and production already have virtually reached their peak.

Earlier forecasts, by Truman and his mobilization chiefs, had indicated a steady, continued expansion—had been a big stimulus to business.

Turner, 44-year-old business professor at Indiana University, pictured the nation as standing now at a crossroads where it must choose—either far-reaching effects on business and on the vast program by which the government attempts to guide the economy.

As Turner put it, this means it will be "a difficult and delicate job to maintain our present prosperity." At another point he said continued growth and stability will require "economic order."

IT'S your DEAL Impulsive Playing Is Costly

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

There is an important difference between aces and other cards particularly when both sides need 120 points for the initial meld. Two or three aces will help you reach the count without using up too many cards.

Moreover even if you seem to have no need for aces for your own meld you hate to discard an ace for fear that it may be just what the doctor ordered for the next player. In short aces are practically never discarded before melds have been made.

This fact often has a bearing on the way you play your hand. For example suppose both sides need 120 for the first meld and you have a pair of jokers with three other pairs—kings, queens and fives—with some odd cards to fill out the hand. How should you begin to play the hand?

If you choose to do so you can put down the pair of jokers with the pair of kings or with the pair of queens; or you can put down one joker with each. This would be excessively timid however. Your best course is to meld nothing but to play for the pack.

The hand continues and you eventually acquire a pair of aces in addition to the other pairs you had in the beginning. Now you must change your policy. You must meld the two jokers with the two aces.

This costs practically nothing so far as winning the pack is concerned. Nobody was going to discard aces anyway. You still have to help you win the discard pile; and you partner now has a chance to get the pile even if he is unable to meld 120 points.

Q — In a game of three-handed cut throat canasta, recently I wanted to meld out concealed. After making all possible melds I had left in my hand three black threes and a jack. I tried to meld the three black threes and discard the jack but my opponents said I could not discard

A — No I cannot imagine where people got this notion. In all forms of Canasta you are allowed to make a discard when you meld out with black threes. There never has been any rule against this.

When you meld out with three or four black threes it's exactly the same as any other way of melding out. That is you are allowed either to make a discard or not—just as you please.

Baking Ability May Become Amendment To Screen Test

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Can she bake a chocolate cake, Mr. Goldwyn, Mr. De Mille? Can she bake a chocolate cake, Mr. Mayer?

That may be a new amendment to the Hollywood screen test soon, since sultry Susan Bell broke into the movies by baking a cake. You never know when a talent for cooking may come in handy, says black-eyed Susan, who looks as if she never got closer to a kitchen than the VIP table at Club 21.

There might be this starving producer, see, with whom you'd be shipwrecked on a desert island. And if you could cook up a tasty shark stew with coconut oil—well, you can see where it might get you.

Or a script might call for a real thousand-volt glamor girl who suddenly slips out of her mink and into an apron and whips up a meal fit for a tycoon in a mountain hunting lodge.

Suzan's ascent to the Hollywood firmament, however, came after she baked a "black-eyed Susan" cake for two soldiers stationed at an Army camp near her family's home in Santa Maria, Calif. The boys were so dazed at the sight of a beautiful girl who could really cook that they took a picture of her and the cake and sent it to a Hollywood agent, who promptly got her signed under contract to Universal Pictures.

Suzan has made three pictures so far: "Untamed Frontier," in which she was given introductory billing; "Yankee Buccaneer," soon to be released, in which she co-stars with Jeff Chandler; and "City Beneath the Sea," set for a January premiere, in which she also gets co-star billing.

Suzan wants to make it clear

BRAVE BRIAN AND BRUIN—Brian Temple, 9, of London, isn't a bit afraid of bears—stuffed ones, that is. "Stuffy" is a favorite of children who visit the resort center of Alum Bay, on the Isle of Wight.

that she used no prepared mixes, or ready-to-spread frostings in making her success cake. She started from scratch. And what other glamor girl do you know who could do that?

Suzan's fame as a cook spread fast in Hollywood, and now she is besieged by swarms who came bearing steaks and chops instead of flowers and candy, prepared to stay for dinner at the pretty star's apartment. Says Suzan: "I'm especially popular on Sunday morning, since I started serving my Mexican breakfast to some of the gang."

The Mexican breakfast is one of Suzan's own inventions, made by frying spicy Mexican sausage and diced potatoes in a heavy skillet, adding diced onions, minced red chili peppers, a pinch of oregano or other spice and then breaking eggs on top of all and scrambling the whole thing together. She says: "It takes only a few minutes. You serve it with hot tortillas or toast and Mexican chocolate and—oh boy!"

Suzan also prepares Mexican steaks, when the boys come bear-

US Buys In Asia

TOKYO (AP) — The U. S. Army has bought nearly one billion dollars worth of goods from nations in the Orient during the past two years, the Japan Procurement Agency reports.

The agency says slightly more than 90 per cent of the $982,026,957 was spent in Japan for a variety of items ranging like an all-order catalogue.

"The first United Nation flag to fly over Gen. MacArthur's headquarters in Tokyo was turned out by Japanese seamstresses," said an agency spokesman.

ing sirloins. This is done by broiling the steaks in the usual manner and serving them, with her own Mexican sauce, which she makes thus:

Mince fresh red and green peppers with pimiento and diced onions and cook with butter in a skillet until the onions are a golden color. Then add a can of tomato sauce and spices—oregano, chile powder, salt, pepper and some chili sauce if you like. It's a delicious!

Ironman Behind Iron

HONG KONG (AP) — Lee Hong, a strong but unemployed Chinese, was brought into court for stealing an iron door from an iron works.

"You seem so fond of iron doors," said Magistrate D. Greenfield, "that I shall put you behind one for one month. And he did."
