Dulles In Rebuttal . . . Secretary Brands Force Disastrous

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson has slapped a "prescription-for-disaster" label on using force as a means of aiding countries under Russia's domination. Assailing critics of the administration's foreign policy as men with "their hands on the horn and their feet on the brakes," Acheson declared Thursday night: "Our position in the world calls for responsibility, not only by officials, but by all of us."

Ex-Indianian Faces Charges On Tax Counts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lawrence P. Bardin, former Indiana brewer whose name has brought in Congressional critics of government tax irregularities, was indicted today on charges of trying to evade his 1946 income taxes.

The two-count indictment, at Indianapolis, was announced by Attorney General McGranery. Bardin's name figured prominently in charges by Sen. Williams (Del.) in Williams' recitation of alleged irregularities in the Internal Revenue Bureau. McGranery's announcement described Bardin as a former manager of the Indianapolis Brewing Company.

The two counts charged that Bardin reported an income of $228,824 and a tax thereon of $26,382 for 1946, but should have reported $759,827 and paid a tax of $629,841.

Williams told the Senate Feb. 1 that Bardin settled a big tax claim for a small amount after Joseph D. Numan Jr., former commissioner of Internal Revenue, obtained a special permit to represent the brewing firm.

Nunan said, however, that he never represented the brewing company, never spoke to anyone in its behalf and never received a fee from the company.

Williams contended, nevertheless, that he had a photograph of a waiver Numan obtained from the Treasury to represent the firm. Such a waiver would be required because of Numan's recent connection with the Internal Revenue Bureau.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Virginia LeTourneau, 28, described in a probation report as having the evil habits of a teenager, was jailed Thursday for four months for her part in a 10,000-mile tour with a 17-year-old boy who lived across the street from her.

The blonde divorcee, who wept when she heard Superior Judge William R. Neeley sentence her, was given the same sentence in addition of three years' probation for contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Mrs. LeTourneau and Jimmy Sherwin were picked up in Phoenix, Ariz., several weeks after vanishing from their neighboring homes in Burbank. Judge Neeley said he was considering "society's right to protection" in deciding against letting her go free.

Methodists Select Holt For Board Job
CHICAGO (AP) — The new president of the Methodist Church's board of pensions is Bishop Ivan Lee Holt of St. Louis.

Bishop Holt was elected Thursday as 17 church agencies endorsed a four-day organizing session in Chicago.

The pensions board, which administers more than 30 million dollars in church pension funds, has two divisions, one headquartered in Chicago and one in St. Louis.

Wrong Man Goes Free By Switch

EASTON, Pa. (AP) — A switch in clothes, a switch in prison cells and a switch in jail guards resulted in the wrong man getting his freedom from Northampton County prison here.

Here's the story as Warden E. C. Gackenback tells it: State police arrested Lewis Rosico, 19, of Detroit, his wife, Irene, 18, and a friend, Robert Van Valen, 21, Scranton, Pa., in nearby Fortland Tuesday on charges of stealing $30 from a gas station cash drawer while the attendant filled their car with gasoline.

After a hearing, Justice of the Peace Clifford Sebring said he'd free the trio if they reimbursed the gas station and paid court costs. However, he added that Rosico would have to remain in custody because he was reported AWOL from the Lackland Tex. Air Force Base.

The $30 and costs were paid Wednesday night and Van Valen and Mrs. Rosico were released. Last night, 24 hours later, the warden disclosed that the two men had changed clothes and switched cells shortly after they were placed in the jail Wednesday afternoon. The cell doors are not locked until evening. Guards, who came on in the evening, did not know the identity of the two men except as to which cell each was in.

Van Valen is being held without bail on a charge of aiding and abetting a prison break.

Wilkinson Services Set For Saturday
Funeral services for Ward P. Wilkinson, former area resident, will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. in Duengel armistice Chapel with Dr. Douglas Nelson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church officiating.

Mr. Wilkinson died in Wichita Falls Wednesday. He is to be buried in the Miami Cemetery at the side of his wife.

Among his survivors is a brother, C. V. Wilkinson, of Pampa. Pallbearers are to be W. D. Allen, Horace Smith, Sam Bowser, Spurg Moore, Dan Graham and Newton Cox.

Cute Kid, Eh?
NEW YORK (AP) — A mother was found guilty of neglect in Bronx Children's Court Thursday after neighbors testified her 5-year-old son:

Pushed a 3-year-old boy out a third-floor window.
Burned the eyelids of a 4-year-old child.
Used a baseball bat on another boy's head.
Threatened other children with an icepick and hammer.

The child himself was ordered committed to Bellevue Hospital for "careful psychiatric study."

Isn't She Helpful?
HOUSTON (AP) — An angry woman called Mayor Oscar Holcombe at 1 a. m. Thursday to ask, "When are you going to move this dead dog from in front of my house?"

"Where do you live, lady," the mayor asked.
"I'm not going to tell you," she replied. "I'm just going to leave it there and see how long it takes for you to find it."

THAT'S WATER, PARDNER—The long Central Texas drought came to a sudden end when cloud-burst rains sent almost dry creeks bursting from their banks flooding several Texas cities. At Blanco an early rising citizen views the swirling waters of the Blanco River that washed away scenic bridge and damaged several homes after 12 inches of rain fell in the area. (NEA Telephoto)

Flash Floods Leave Five Dead In Texas

By The Associated Press
Flooding rivers and creeks in South Central and Southwest Texas slid back toward their channels Friday. Only a few "die-hard" showers continued to feed the swollen streams that had killed at least five persons. Heavy rains hit the Brownsville-Corpus Christi area Friday, but the weather bureau said these stopped by mid-morning.

The forecast said widely scattered thunderstorms were forecast for West Texas and near the coast Friday afternoon and Saturday.

Landlords Discover A Way Out
LONDON (AP) — Some landlords — caught between Britain's low rent ceilings and high housing repair standards — are bringing bums to take over their property.

Alex Ling, who presided at a meeting yesterday of the Executive Committee of the National Federation of Property Owners, said he knew of about 30 such cases. A. G. Anderson told the committee he had used the method of dumping several run-down houses for their owners.

By paying a tramp a few pounds to accept title to an old house, Anderson explained, "future liability is thus escaped, and the property is abandoned, leaving the local council either to take it over or let it fall down." The property owners association is asking the government to review laws which have kept rents on unfurnished houses and apartments in Britain frozen at virtually the pre-war level. Much of these meager returns are eaten up as a result of strict laws requiring landlords to keep their houses in repair.

Allied Artillery Slams Red Targets
SEOUL, Korea (AP) — U. N. artillerymen today raked the valleys north of Capitol Hill with a barrage that kept the Communists from launching new assaults on the scarred Central Front Ridge.

South Korean scouts reported at dawn that the valleys were covered with Chinese bodies. Allied big guns had scattered Red units varying in size from a few squads to a battalion of about 750 men.

North of Chorwon on the Central Front, South Korean patrol killed 35 Communists and wounded 72 in a four-hour battle, the U. S. Eighth Army reported.

U. N. fighter-bombers helped artillerymen knock out Red guns which had been harassing the South Korean defenders of Capitol Hill. Four Allied planes poured explosives on the Communist-held crest of nearby Finger Ridge.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said its Sabre jet pilots shot down one Communist MIG jet and damaged two when 24 Sabres ran into 29 extremely aggressive MIGs. Casualties were not estimated for the searing artillery barrage near Capitol Hill.

Tax Chief Is Fired By McGranery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Attorney General McGranery today relieved Ellis N. Slack as head of the Justice Department's tax division and replaced him with Charles F. Lyon, who has been chief counsel of the House Committee investigating tax scandals.

Slack has been under fire of a Congressional committee recently in connection with a St. Louis grand jury's investigation last year of the handling of tax cases in that area.

Slack was acting chief of the tax division since November 16, 1950, when President Truman fired T. Lamar Caudle for "outside activity."

The tax investigating committee is headed by Rep. King (D-Calif.).

Fire Burns, Park As Prevention Talks Proceed
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The "big show" went on as scheduled Friday despite the fire and did an estimated $80,000 damage to the state fair grounds grandstand Thursday.

A late summer wind fed the hungry sparks from a burning cigarette lodged between plans and the dry timbers of the 50-year-old structure, and caused the onlookers of a free water carnival to scramble for safety.

When the fire began, the State Fair Board was in session discussing fireproofing plans for the new fairgrounds.

Before the Hill Country streams started their return to their banks, five persons were killed, two were missing and hundreds were made homeless by the rampaging waters.

Downstream, outside the hill country, Luling on the San Marcos River was reported to be in trouble. The Department of Public Safety said an undetermined number of people were in danger in the area and dispatched amphibious equipment to the scene.

Downpours that measured up to 23 inches in 24 hours had sent roaring torrents down river and creek beds that had been dusty and cracked. Highway and railroad bridges were washed out, trains and buses stalled, livestock drowned, low-lying areas flooded, communications downed and residents were sent scurrying for roof tops and high ground.

There was no estimate of damage from official sources but it was expected to be high. The rains were beneficial to grazing lands but too late to help drought-ridden cotton and grain.

At least five towns in the Southwest and South Central Texas areas had been isolated by the flood waters. Department of Public Safety officials said disrupted communications made it uncertain whether there were still towns in danger of further damage.

Candidate, Senator Confer At Breakfast

By The Associated Press
Sen. Robert A. Taft said Friday he'll campaign for Dwight Eisenhower "to the limit of my ability." And he said he and the general are in substantial agreement on the major issues.

The Ohio senator who lost out to Eisenhower in a bitterly-fought convention in July noted, however, that he and Eisenhower do not see eye to eye on everything, particularly foreign policy. There appeared also to be some disagreement on what is the major issue of the campaign.

Two days ago Eisenhower said the big issue was peace and that the people seem most interested in effecting a change in Washington. Taft said today the principal issue is "liberty versus creeping Socialization."

Taft broke his long silence on the presidential campaign after a dramatic breakfast conference with Eisenhower, their first face-to-face meeting since the Chicago convention two months ago.

Meanwhile, Eisenhower's foe for the presidency, Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois was setting off on the final swing of a western tour.

Stevenson hit back at the Republican charge of corruption in government in a speech at Los Angeles last night. He said Eisenhower referred to corruption as "the only issue" in the campaign and asserted that Democrats are not the only ones responsible for corruption in government.

He said public apathy is partly to blame for corruption — he said corruption has been confined to "a minute fraction" of government employees — and added that neither political party has a monopoly on virtue or rascality.

But the big political news of the day came from New York where Taft got together with Eisenhower. Taft is a symbol to many party leaders — they call him "Mr. Republican" — and many were waiting to see what Taft would take in the campaign before reaching their own decisions.

WHEREAS, The balmy summer months are slipping rapidly away and somewhat cooler months are just outside the door . . .

WHEREAS, The male of the species will need more warmth for his cranium which the porous straw toppers do not provide, and . . .

WHEREAS, It is the accustomed mode of the day that straw hats are relegated to the family closet for the ensuing nine months by being replaced by those of a somewhat heavier variety, namely . . .

WHEREAS, I hereby declare tomorrow, Saturday, Sept. 13, as felt hat day for Pampa, Texas, in the hope that all males donning fedoras will break them out and duly place them on the top of their anatomy in place of the now outdated straw hat. CRAWFORD ATKINSON Acting Mayor

In Pampa Today . . .
At 11 a. m. the temperature was 76 degrees, one point below the high for Thursday. Last night the mercury dropped to an even 60 degrees. No rain in the area was reported.

FELT HAT TIME AGAIN — Among local men getting ready for felt hat day, proclaimed by acting mayor Crawford Atkinson for Saturday, is H. E. Crocker, pictured as he swaps his old summer straw for a new felt "topper." This scene is typical of all local men's stores since the proclamation. (News Photo)

Ike On 'Texas Democratic Party' Ballot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Texas Democrats who are remaining loyal to the party nominee had assurance today that Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson would bring his presidential campaign to Texas this fall.

Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell said in New York yesterday that Stevenson would invade Texas during the presidential campaign in a drive for the state's 24 electoral votes.

He did not specify details of the Stevenson Texas campaign, but he added that he has urged the Democratic nominee to go into other areas of the normally solid Democratic South.

He explained, however, that such a tour "is a question on the limits of time."

He comes from a hardware store on Lane St. Louis, Missouri.

Democracy Is Not Easy, Indian Learns

NEW DELHI (AP)—The story of Munchhi Kosa is a striking case of India's democratic learning process.

The story began in the months before the 1951 general elections. The former Maharajah of Bastar, a princely state in the British Indian days, told Kosa he must stand for election to Parliament in the Bastar tribal constituency.

Although this is independent democratic India, the power of princes remains great in the areas of their one-time rule. Kosa entered the elections as an independent against the candidate of Prime Minister Nehru's Congress party.

Kosa won the election. The Maharajah assigned an underling, Gopal Das, who had learned the Bastar dialect to serve as Kosa's translator and adviser in the new life ahead. Kosa had never experienced an auto or train ride until he came down from the hills to take his seat in Parliament.

Though Kosa couldn't understand a word of the proceedings, he felt honored and seldom missed a session. He simply voted in the same way as the member who happened to be next to him at any given time.

Congress party officials say Gopal Das launched forth on his duties with a vengeance, accompanying Kosa to the Parliament office when the daily 40 rupees ($8.40) allowance was drawn and taking possession of the money. Kosa applied is thumb-print to all necessary documents.

Gradually, however, the secretary's superior attitude together with Kosa's growing sense of his own importance as a member of India's highest political body wrought a change. At the first signs of self-assertion on the part of his charge, Gopal Das grew furious and decided to show who held the whip hand.

Writing in "The National Herald," Congress Parliamentary secretary H. K. Mahabadi recounts that Gopal Das denied food to Kosa for an entire day, then scolded him rudely when he protested such treatment. The upshot was that Kosa broke down in Parliament the next day and gladly accepted the offer of accommodations with another member.

"His Parliament acquaintances couldn't understand his lang-

It Takes Brave Men

ODENTON, Md. (AP)—Three thieves entered a tavern in an isolated spot near here Wednesday and robbed the owner, 61-year-old Bill Dodd, of $256.

There was no one around to help and Dodd couldn't do much about it. He's legless and can't see out of only one eye.

Australia Sets Defense Plans

SYDNEY (AP)—Australia soon should have armed forces of some 125,000 men enlisted for overseas service ready to go anywhere to any part of the world in event of war.

This is the manpower objective of Australia's three-year defense program, now in its third year. Provisions by the federal government that all permanently enlisted servicemen, all volunteers for the citizen forces of any of the services, and all national service trainees in the Navy and the Air Force should enroll for service anywhere in the world in times of war, have given Australia a bigger standing force of men available for overseas service than the nation has ever had before.

When the three-year program is completed next year, Australia should have in the three services the numerical equivalent of 10 infantry divisions, vol-united to serve overseas. The defense program provides the following target forces enlisted for service abroad:

Navy—17,000 permanent officers and men and 10,000 citizen force and national service personnel, a total of 27,000.

Army—33,000 regular soldiers and 30,000 citizen force volunteers enrolled for overseas service—a total of 63,000.

Air Force—16,794 permanent personnel, 1,843 citizen force personnel, 10,000 active reservists and 5,000 national service trainees.

In addition there will be a general reserve for the air force already authorized.

and a reserve of officers and men for the army who could be drafted for overseas service after training.

There also will be 67,500 national service trainees completing training or on reserve, who, although not enlisted for overseas service, would be available for home defense call-up.

Latest surveys of the three force indicate that about 90,000 men enlisted for overseas service are already available.

The federal government estimates the total cost of this program will be at least $125,216,000, more than half of which has already been authorized.

Two Suspects In Alice Killing Behind Bars

Sheriff Halsey Wright, meanwhile, declined comment on a search for a third man whose identity officers refused to divulge.

Young Floyd 22, was killed late Monday night when he entered the darkened garage of the family. The two slugs from a .38 caliber pistol that fatally injured him were fired after his father, prominent South Texas attorney and political leader, had been warned that there was a plot against his life.

The elder Floyd has been a political opponent of South Texas political leader George Parr for 20 years. He was the reputed adviser of Judge Reams who met defeat at the hands of a Parr-backed candidate in this summer's Democratic primaries.

Parr, sheriff of adjoining Duval County, told the Corpus Christi Caller-Times Thursday night in a prepared statement that he was not connected with the slaying.

"I'll say he's a speedy efficiency expert—in two days he has dated three secretaries!"

Factory Workers' Average Wage Up

DALLAS (AP) — The average pay of factory production workers in Texas reached $64.83 a week during July — up $1.11 from June, the Texas Employment Commission reported.

Individual plant wage increases plus overtime pay accounted for the increase, said TEC.

Average hourly earnings jumped 8 cents in the transportation equipment industry to reach $11.83, the state's largest increase. It was based on a 14 cent hourly boost at one time of the state's huge aircraft plants plus considerable overtime pay at a large shipyard.

Chemical workers' and public utilities workers' average hourly earnings increased 5 cents each, while those in the paper and allied products industry dropped 5 cents.

Workers producing crude petroleum products continued to receive the highest average weekly pay — $84 — among factory employees. They were working an average of 47 hours a week.

The TEC report said that among factory employees apparel and fabric products workers received the smallest average weekly pay — $36.19.

1952 May Be The Worst For Polio

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis said Thursday night that 1952 may be this country's worst polio year.

The foundation said the incidence rate so far was 76 per cent above last year and 4 per cent above that for the same period in 1949, the year of this country's worst polio epidemic.

By the end of last week, the foundation said, the number of

Dental Decay On Way Out

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A Michigan dentist believes that within 30 years a whole generation of young people may be relatively free of dental decay because of the widespread fluoridation of community water supplies.

Dr. W. N. Miller of Flint, Mich., told delegates to the American Dental Association convention today increased fluoridation could revolutionize the practice of dentistry.

His prediction of a decay-free generation, however, is based on a fluoridated water supply in the nation's major cities within the next 10 years.

Extended fluoridation, Dr. Miller said would leave the nation's dentists free of time-consuming restoration and replacement treatment and give them more time for treatment of other diseases.

cases this year had climbed to 27,359, the highest ever reached by this date.

Big Selling Job

Enterprises of all kinds and sizes in every line of activity are pursuing a wide range of projects whose ultimate goal, in plain English, is to make more of us understand what keeps our country ticking and why we have become a great nation in a little more than a century, and how we can continue to be a great nation.

Corporations are endeavoring as never before to show the common interest of consumers, employees, stockholders, management — and taxpayers — in the profitable operation of industry. Annual reports are becoming documents that mean something to laymen. The traditional gulf between farmer and city dweller is being rapidly bridged by a policy of "enlightened selfishness" which has inspired industrial leaders to roll up their sleeves and help with the job of promoting increased agricultural production and conservation.

One of the most encouraging developments is the growing trend toward wider ownership, by people in all walks of life, of shares of stock in American industrial concerns. The proprietary interest in productive enterprise is spreading on a voluntary basis. This is the kind of public ownership that makes a strong country. The trend is being helped along by such organizations as The New York Stock Exchange which lists the securities of hundreds of corporations and furnishes a ready market place where shares of stock owned by people all over the country are bought and sold at posted prices.

The "public relations" of The Exchange is much like that of many other enterprises nowadays. It is directed toward long-range understanding and appreciation of the magnificent system that has grown up in a land where people are allowed to own property, work and worship as they please, and where elected representatives of the people are still known as public servants.

Tomorrow Larder

For thousands of years hay and forage, man's oldest crop, have been taken for granted. Grass, like Topsy, "just grew." But now with a steadily increasing population and the national appetite accounting for about 60,000,000 pounds of meat a day, it's time to put into practice some of the things that have been learned about pasturage in order to meet this country's vast future needs for livestock products.

Research in this important branch of agriculture has been going on for less than 20 years — a relatively short time. Yet with what has been learned, the productivity of our billion-plus acres of grassland could be boosted by two to six times. According to a recent article in Country Gentleman, cattle and sheep could be increased in the West about 50 per cent, in the North Central and Northeast 240 per cent, and in the Southeast 475 per cent.

The farm implement industry has made a tremendous contribution to grassland farming through the development of ingenious machines which save labor and make possible higher yields at the same time. Much of the back-breaking work has been taken out of getting in the hay with the development of field pickups, balers, choppers and blowers. Expensive $1,000 a pound ladino seed can now be harvested with an amazing self-propelled thresher which picks the clover up off the field, threshes it, cleans the seed, and saves straw for a second run. To top it off, a huge vacuum attachment goes along behind to pick up any seed that may be left on the ground. Use of such machinery has boosted output by as much as one-third.

The problem of feeding America's millions in the future years is being solved ahead of time. A climate of freedom is the best tonic for individual achievement. This is the spark plug of any business enterprise and agriculture is no exception.

Welcome Mat Out

Population growth is like the weather — there doesn't seem to be much that anybody can do about it.

The world's human population is soaring. There were fewer than one and three-quarter billion people on earth in 1912. Today there are nearly two and a half billion, and by the end of this century there will probably be over four billion. The world is currently adding to its population at the rate of 60,000 to 70,000 new human beings each day, and the rate is increasing. No expert is needed to tell us that, so far as the foreseeable future is concerned, feeding, clothing and keeping so many people reasonably happy is going to be a problem. Our own country has shown how it can best be met.

A century or more ago a large percentage of people labored in agriculture. If theoretical planners had stepped in in those days and forced the productivity progress into a fixed "orderly" pattern, we would probably have been struggling with famine by now. Fortunately we were free to invent, devise and scheme new ways. We were free to leave our farms and get jobs in the cities where some of us figured out unheard-of machines to do the work of ten men on the farm. Tractors, trucks, reapers, combines, gangplows, cultivators — implements began to roll off the assembly lines by the tens of thousands. American agriculture took on a new look. For the first time in history farmers could raise their heads above sheer drudgery.

Farming has become a scientific competitive business. Because of the machines, constantly better farming practices and rising production are inevitable. Upland flood control, contour or strip farming, and soil conservation are routine practices to the modern farmer.

This American agricultural revolution is our welcome to the new people who will be crowding into this old globe in the years to come. Others nations that fear the way of free markets, open competition and a maximum of individual liberty, will do well to heed our example.

Ike, When Do We Start

(Rocky Mountain News)

We trust Dwight Eisenhower doesn't think that what he has been doing and saying this last month can classify as campaigning for office.

For those little milk-and-water remarks he has been uttering at press conferences and in informal talks have made him no votes. As our readers know, the Scripps-Howard newspapers have taken more than a general interest in Ike's candidacy. Before the conventions, we endorsed him as the man best qualified for the presidency and the Republican who had the best chance of overthrowing a party which had grown all too corrupt and contented in its 20 years in power.

We are continuing our support, unshaken in our faith in Gen. Eisenhower's qualifications, but we must admit Ike has not done anything lately to fortify our belief that he can win. We still cling to the hope that when he does start campaigning, he might as well concede defeat and go back to the cloisters of Columbia University or the tranquility of his Pennsylvania farm. Our 19 newspapers are published in cities from the East Coast to the West and an exchange of correspondence in the last couple of weeks with men who work on these papers tell a story which is nationwide and can be summed up in one sentence:

Ike is running like a dry creek. Meeting with Western Republican governors in Idaho, Ike came out with a statement of middle-road political philosophy which, considered in the abstract, was a noble pronouncement of principles to which most Americans can adhere.

Yet, evaluated in the content of this campaign, it was such a statement that his adversary, Gov. Stevenson — a shrewd and seasoned politician — used it conveniently and happily to label Ike as just another "me-too" candidate. If Ike permits that label to stick, he's a goner. We hope, therefore, that he will not — yet as independent newspapers we can only report and appraise his progress, or lack thereof.

At his Kansas City, Kan., conference with Midwest and South-West Republicans, some of his supporters suggested to Gen. Eisenhower that the Pendergastism in Kansas City, Mo., had become Trumanism in Washington and that he had a great campaign issue. But Ike said he wanted to wage his campaign without indulging in personalities.

In a press conference, Gen. Eisenhower was interrogated in regard to the nasty things Sen. McCarthy of Wisconsin had said about Gen. Marshall.

Ike rushed to the defense of Gen. Marshall, saying that he had been a honest, sincere, patriotic public servant, and had made a great record as chief of staff in World War II. All of which is true, and most Americans will applaud Ike's support of Gen. Marshall.

Certainly, we do. We cannot think of another American who had better intentions, or who tried harder to do his duty, than Gen. Marshall.

But Gen. Marshall's record as special ambassador to China and secretary of state is one of the dark pages in the history of American diplomacy. It is the key to the outbreak of war in Korea.

Gen. Eisenhower said at Kansas City: "Maybe he (Gen. Marshall) made some mistakes. I do not know about that." If Ike doesn't know, he had better find out. For that is one of the big issues of this campaign.

Ask any mother, father or wife of a soldier now in Korea. Speaking of Gen. Marshall, Ike said: "I have no patience with anyone who can find in his record of service to this country anything to criticize."

In our opinion, no man is entitled to the immunity — not even Gen. Marshall.

Never in our memory has there been a presidential campaign which offered to the opposition so many good issues.

Because of bad management, our nation is involved in a war which the administration has not shown the will or capacity to win.

Because of bad management, the cost of living and high prices and high taxes are eating away the substance of all who labor for a livelihood, and devouring the savings of all who have tried to provide for their own old age.

People want a change. They expect the candidate of the opposition to tell how he will bring about a change.

Ike will win if he does that. He will lose if he doesn't. It's that simple.

The answer is "Sizzle Selling." The boys at Encyclopedia Britannica realize that high grade wood pulp and print and fine bindings are incidental sales features. Those are the things you see, like the steak on your plate. The "Sizzle" in an encyclopedia is education, knowledge at your finger tips, conversational prestige, pleasure, your children's advanced standing in school, hundreds of intangibles you and I take a pride in. Those are the appetizers that convert "no's" to "yes's" . . . that clinch sales with one out of every five people approached.

But if you don't give potential customers a chance to see "Sizzle," you'll never have the opportunity to change their minds. In short, you have to go out after the business. Here again the encyclopedia publishers have scored with stepped up door-to-door canvassing.

The solution to your sales problem may be contained in this example of successful selling. One thing is certain. Combine "Sizzle Selling" with concentrated contact work, and you won't have to worry

The Answer

National Whirligig... Presidential Campaign A Race Between Men, Not Principals

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — The nation's leading politicians and pollsters are more puzzled than ever by the various freakish and unorthodox aspects of Stevenson-Eisenhower struggle than they have been in modern political history. Their bewilderment includes the 1948 campaign because there was general expectation that Governor Dewey would win in a cakewalk.

The Democratic strategists are supremely confident as a result of the comparative campaigning so far that the Illinois Governor has leaped into the lead, and they believe that he can maintain it. He has displayed a better presence and delivery than his opponent. He has wit and polish, as relative unknown before his nomination, he is making a good impression on the skeptical, independent.

Nevertheless Ike has registered definite gains in all canvasses of the labor form and veteran blocks. Since he needs an increase of only about five percent over the 1948 tally in electorally strategic states, this improvement enhances his chances. Recent tests of sentiment in the "Deep South" register Democratic defection of grave proportions.

Always a slow starter, Eisenhower seems to be accommodating himself to the "clim" of politics. His organization is still creaking and lumbering. Senator Taft's standoffishness and his today's sales depression . . . even in a buyer's market.

Stevenson is making capital — and quiet fun — of his "most distinguished opponent's" inexperience in governmental affairs, and his supposed subservience to the reactionary and isolation elements of the GOP. In recasting the Republican's Capitol Hill record on foreign and domestic questions, he seeks to warn against any "change" to a "two-headed elephant."

Democratic candidate also eulogizes his party's contribution to present, day prosperity. Ike, of course, points out that it is based solely on "war and rearmament." He will develop this theory more fully on the basis of statistics (debt, taxes, prices, etc.) his researchers are digging up for him.

Nevertheless, although farm audiences gave Ike a respectful hearing, at the Kasson playing contest they were blowing $3,000 tractors like hotcakes — and for cash.

In the face of these demonstrations of dollars on hand, cold statistics on the rise in general farm debt and a decline in purchasing power may not be re-emphasized in November votes.

EXPLANATION — A audience sympathy underlies the politicians' uneasiness and doubt over the voters' reaction. Although the crowds have been relatively large for such an early-bird campaign, and have given both candidates an attentive large crowd for such an early-bird campaign, and have given both candidates an attentive hearing, they do not indicate their preferences by the customary demonstrations. Most frequent description is that "they sat on their hands."

The most plausible and satisfying explanation is that the times are out of joint for political circuses and listeners' hysteria. Children, relatives and friends of the voters are fighting and dying in Korea, only a few years after similar sacrifices in World War II. The dark menace of another global conflict threatens this or the next generation. Despite peak production and national income, an unprecedented level of taxes and high prices is occurring wearying and disheartening burden. There is a heavier price tag on everything from the cradle to the grave. Millions of pensioners and aged beneficiaries of federal bounty are suffering and struggling.

UNPREDICTABLE — There are other less lurid reasons. Despite natural exhibitions of partisanship, the American people seem to agree, consciously or subconsciously, with Churchill that the major parties have nominated the ablest and least-rammed in many years.

Finally, it is practical, there is television. It has made us so familiar with the faces of the candidates and the thoughts of all great men that we no longer cross the street for a glimpse of them.

All these factors explain why this is, perhaps, the least exciting and joyous campaign in many years, as well as the most unpredictable.

LOOKING SIDWAYS

By WHITNEY BOLTON

REMAINERS: Note from Della Rigal, young, humbly born South American soprano who made her debut at the Metropolitan Opera last season and gathered 43 curtain calls for herself before the season ended. . . . Case of a girl with no money at all, but a determination, starting at 12 years of age, to sing, to sing importantly . . . Her father worked himself night and day to pay for lessons, they did without food sometimes, but Della made it: first the Met and right now a sensation at the Teatro Colon in Buenos Aires, the same Brazilian opera house she used to creep by as a hungry girl muttering: "I'll sing in your some day, I will, I will, I will." Her "Thais" is considered one of the best of all time . . . The note: "Which you could be here to hear me. And if you should come down, and approve, don't for heaven's sake whistle—to show your approval in a South American way just stomp your feet on the theatre floor. Whistling is like a boo in New York." Why, Della, honey, I never whistled at a girl in my life!

I go into these pieces about writers and singers and actors because my mail, like the mail of everyone who writes, is cluttered with appalling mail from, presumably, talented youngsters who obviously believe that the world must come to them. They don't want to work, skip a day's work, and then come home blessed thing to earn the success they believe is rightfully theirs. . . . Here is a simple sentence: "I can sing the birds off the tree branches. Who do you want to hear from you at the Met?" Sweetie, you don't see anyone with a note from me at the Met or anywhere else. What do I owe you? You get in here and scuffle with the other kids, and if you arrive they'll see you.

A case in point is Walter Cassel, young baritone who is to sing Baron Scarpia in "Tosca" when the City Center opera season opens here in New York this month. . . . Cassel didn't just in Council Bluffs, Iowa, where he was born, nor did he wait scornfully in Omaha, Neb., where he was educated, for the world to come to him. . . . He worked in a hot flour mill, he did sign painting out in the sun, he painted wagon wheels for farm wagons, he-slaved in a dental laboratory and did a few other menial jobs. . . . I like Walter for a variety of reasons, but I admire him because he bent his back to a job of work when he had to and to get somewhere. . . . He is the only operatic baritone I know, incidentally, who received every bit of his training in this country. . . . He didn't have to forgo his name. . . . He was born here, worked here, studied here, and reached success here, all as Walter Cassel and not as Walter Cassel or some such nonsense. . . . He has sung leading roles with the Philadelphia La Scala opera, the Pittsburgh opera, the Cincinnati opera and in the San Antonio opera festivals.

Ralph R. Lounsbury, Montclair, New Jersey: Grateful, thanks to you, we seem to be strangely alone in our beliefs. . . . Note from Maurice Wilk, Brooklyn-born concert violinist, recently back from a European tour: "You once asked me what a concert musician would do if the lights suddenly went out in the middle of a concert. Now I can tell you: it happened to me in Amsterdam in this country. . . . I was stunned by the darkness, I thought I had died and went into an unconscious Bach sonata, remembering that there was one and that I once had learned it. The audience was wonderful — but I weighed three pounds less at the end of the concert. Seriously, I did. . . . People Who I Wonder Where They Are: Gitano, Spanish Gypsy turned bullfighter, slim, wiry, taut and magnificent at his job. . . . Hemingway had him in "Death in the Afternoon," under another name. . . . He showed me facets of Mexico City I never knew existed and was a charming, witty and absorbing companion.

Fair Enough . . . Political Mystery Is Back Of Ford Foundation Operations

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

(Copyright, 1952, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

There is a very important and sinister political mystery concealed in the mixed activities of the Ford Foundation. . . . Under Paul Hoff-I may mail it around, but I man and Robert think I can lick the problem. M. Hutchins; the Hoffman, was the head of the great squanderbund known as the Economic Cooperation Administration. He built up a vast machine and the po-Roosevelt time parasitic scattered far over the world. Of resigning to become president of the Ford Foundation, he took on Robert M. Hutchins, the chancellor of the University of Chicago, as his assistant and vice president. The resources, activities and political principles of this foundation will be investigated in the next Congress by a House Committee under Gene Cox, of Georgia. A great mass of money was put away in foundations during Roosevelt's time by large business firms, which otherwise would have faced sudden dissolution on the death of their founders.

Hutchins was a president and chancellor of the University during a 20-year period when the school's fine old name fell into disrepute. . . . Benton put in a term as vice president in charge of public relations at the end of which the U. of C.'s reputation was simply awful.

Benton is a part-owner of the Encyclopedia Britannica. He also produces films which are to be "educational" under the same title, some of which were sold to the State Department in which he served a term as assistant secretary of information, and cut-up affairs in other words propaganda. Benton, Luce and Hutchins are members of the Britannica Board.

The senatorial "contest" in Connecticut between the mock-Republican Luce and their crony, Bill Benton, left the natives puzzled but faintly aroused at last. Luce planted Benton in the State Department under the Roosevelt reign and his wife had waged a regular campaign by dining with Sen. Arthur Vandenberg when he was still a true American while her husband's conversion to her husband's so-called bipartisan foreign policy. This was deliberate and artful and Vandenberg fell as other well known men had fallen for Mrs. Luce's baby stare. Still other men had found her charm easy to resist.

In this year's Eisenhower development, Luce took up Eisenhower and the Connecticut Republican machine delivered the delegation to him at Chicago after a state convention which far exceeded the actions of the Taft machine in Texas which evoked such high praise from Luce's people and Tom Dewey. Taft's people got the bum's rye, but most of them have yielded to the plea of "solidarity" and will go along for Ike in the election.

The situation here is more a complex than a political development. It extends into Dartmouth College which has come on and days under John Sloan Dickey, a State Department pal of Benton, who took over as president of Dartmouth without a day's experience as a teacher. Dartmouth is imitating the University of Chicago in the first steps of the decline which Hutchins presided over. Football has become a juvenile fable of the immature and the athletes are ridiculed by the young intellectual.

There are other distinct resemblances, notable in the hearing and social conduct of the students. Although Dickey and Benton were together in the State Department, Dickey's appointment to the Dartmouth job was attributed to the influence of Nelson Rockefeller and the money-power of the Rockefeller foundation. Rockefeller is a member of the cut and a Dartmouth alumnus.

There will be further discussions in this attempt to disclose the facts of this ominous unarranged political distortion carried off by a few men of towering ambition, but highly questionable ethics and motives, with great money power behind them.

Whether you like it or not, Kitten, this is yourself... just as you are. The mirror is true. It neither flatters, nor fails to do you justice. It is good to know the facts.

The Apostle Paul said that men are disposed to look into a mirror, and immediately forget what manner of men they are. One needs often to look at himself, to remember his condition. The Springtime of the Soul is called Lent. During the weeks leading up to Easter, we are asked to let our consciences reveal to us just how noble we are living. They who accept the challenge of Lent will take time to pray and to attend the Church, so they may know where they stand.

We have the glorious opportunity of accepting human and divine help, that we shall become better than we are. In fact, the whole purpose of education, patriotism, and religion is to make us better. We can improve. Tomorrow we can be better than today... it is God's gift.

OUR TOWN

Wanda Campbell

The American Association of University Women will hold its first meeting of the year Tuesday evening in the City Club room. The organization's first program is designed to present a complete picture of AAUW, including its history, purpose and eligibility rules. Mrs. Ray Salmon has planned a discussion, "What AAUW Offers You," with the hope of clarifying many misunderstandings concerning membership. Since the group was organized back in the 1800s by nine women from seven colleges, it has grown to a membership of 100,000 in 1,200 branches in this country. AAUW is a member of the International Federation of University Women which unites university women's groups in 33 countries. But the Pampa Branch of the AAUW has not experienced the growth of the association as a whole. Many local women graduates have not joined AAUW because of misunderstandings concerning eligibility. Miss Evelyn Nilam, local president, explains that "The association limits membership, not to be exclusive, but rather to make its influence felt in behalf of higher standards of education for women." In the past some Pampa graduates have not joined because their college was not on the AAUW approved list. Universities and colleges are being added to the approved list every year, and Miss Nilam points out that when a school is added to the approved list, all alumnae holding degrees are eligible for AAUW regardless of what date the degree was conferred. Another recent ruling allows women who are not graduates but have 60 credit hours from an approved college or university to enter as associate members. Associate members must not exceed 20 percent of the membership. Some women have not joined AAUW because they consider it a social group, and others have not joined because it seems too intellectual. Actually, the AAUW is neither. It's a well-balanced organization offering current, informative programs that stimulate thought and discussion, and also offering rec-

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The tangible substantiality of spirit, and the consequent fleeting changeableness and unreality of matter will be set forth in the Lesson-Sermon titled "Substance" to be read at Christian Science services next Sunday. The Golden Text is from Hebrews: "Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen" (11:1). This verse from Psalms will be among the selections read from the Holy Bible: "Thy kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and thy dominion endureth throughout all generations" (145:12). The following citation will be among those read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Substance is that which is eternal and incapable of discord and decay. Truth, Life, and Love are substance, as the Scriptures use this word in Hebrews: The substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen" (page 468).

Government Still Retains Secrecy Veil On Tax Deals

WASHINGTON (AP) — How wide the government opened its eyes to tax compromise settlements? And how is it that some people do not have to pay all their tax debt?

For two weeks the Bureau of Internal Revenue has been making current compromise settlements available for inspection. But a few may now be examined if a reporter or some other responsible person asks for them, giving the taxpayers name and address. Cases so far made public include:

1. The new policy does not open all cases where the government accepts less than its original bill.
2. In most compromises, the taxpayer gets off for less than the government says he owes.
3. But compromises also include cases which the government gets every penny assessed, or even more.
4. Most compromises are with little taxpayers but there are some pretty big settlements.
5. The most successful way to avoid paying taxes appears to be the underworld method — don't keep records, don't talk and don't let anyone talk who knows about your affairs.

Some Cases Still Closed

What cases are now open to inspection?

On Aug. 20, President Truman ordered the Revenue Bureau to make available for inspection, subject to treasury regulations, "any accepted offer in compromise dealing with income, excess profits, estate, gift and capital gain taxes. The order provided accepted compromise settlements on those taxes and those only."

What compromises are still secret?

1. The law gives the government authority to compromise with taxpayers on any kind of tax. The President's order named only taxes in the income field. Compromises in the other big fields were not affected. They still are secret.
2. The Internal Revenue Bureau can lighten a tax debt if it so desires. A taxpayer who thinks avoid paying taxes appears to be the underworld method — don't keep records, don't talk and don't let anyone talk who knows about your affairs.

IT'S YOUR DEAL Study To Win At Gin Rummy

By OSWALD JACOBY and ALFRED SHEINWOLF
Written for NEA Service

"We play fan tan as a family game," writes a St. Paul correspondent. "We don't bother to keep score or use chips but we all play pretty hard to win just the same. Grandpa manages to win most of the time, and he won't say how he does it. Can you let us in on the secrets of good play?"

There isn't a great deal to know about good play in fan tan. But one good player will win surprisingly often from three beginners.

For the benefit of novices, fan tan is the game in which you build up and down from the four and sevens. It's all right for three, four, or five players, but four players make the best game. Deal out all the cards, and the first player begins by playing a seven (if he has one) into the middle of the table. If he has no seven, he passes.

When a seven is played, the next player may play either the eight or the six of the same suit; or he may put down a new seven. When the eight of spades has been played, for example, the next player may play the nine of spades.

This process is continued, building down to the ace or up to the king in each suit. A player must put out a card at his turn if he is able to do so. The player who gets rid of all of his cards first wins.

If you're not playing with the family, it's customary to put a chip in the kitty everything you're unable to play. The winner collects five chips from each player plus one chip for every card left in a loser's hand.

The chief principle of good play is to get busy as early as possible on the suits in which you have end cards. You'll never have any trouble getting rid of middle cards, such as eights, nines, and tens, or sixes, fives, and fours. But you'll have trouble with end cards, such as aces and deuces, or kings and queens.

If you hold up your middle

First Hydrogen 'Hell' Bomb May Be Detonated This Fall

WASHINGTON (AP) — A test of the world's first hydrogen "hell" bomb may be made during the next two months to the United States' remote and carefully guarded nuclear weapons proving ground in mid-Pacific.

A joint Atomic Energy Commission — Defense Department announcement says a task force will "conduct tests in the autumn months of this year looking toward development of atomic weapons."

The announcement left open the question of the specific type of atomic weapons, but earlier official statements had pointed to progress in developing the hydrogen bomb, which may be a thousand times more powerful than the A-bomb.

There were indications of unusually tight secrecy around the forthcoming experiments at Eniwetok, in the Marshall Island group.

The announcement specified that "only official observers of the United States government and members of the task force" would be present. This suggested that quasi-official observers, such as civilian defense experts who have witnessed other nuclear weapons tests, might not be invited.

It definitely leaves out foreign observers.

At least some preliminary tests toward producing a full-scale hydrogen bomb have already been made. When you have a choice, towards the end of a hand, block the end card of the opponent who is closest to out. You may win the hand, or in any case pay out a smaller number of chips.

It has been assumed that millions of degrees of heat will be needed to trigger the fusion of explosion. The only apparently readily available man-made source for such heat is in the core of an exploding atomic bomb.

A first test of a hydrogen bomb probably will be made from a tower instead of an airplane. Among other reasons is the size of the device, far too big and perhaps too heavy for present aircraft. In addition to other equipment, the bomb probably will require a refrigerating system to keep the readily charge under control until the moment of detonation.

It is doubtful observers of a hydrogen bomb explosion would remain on other islands of the Eniwetok Atoll, even though some of them are more than 20 miles from the "shot" islands where conventional atomic explosions have been set off.

In addition to the vastly increased area of blast and heat from a hydrogen bomb explosion, other factors might have to be considered.

Some scientists think that the terrific explosion and the creation of intense heat might produce highly dangerous air turbulence after the blast—perhaps brief but deadly winds of superhurricane force. Even standard A-bomb explosions produce turbulence for a few minutes after the blast.

Moreover, the immense force of a hydrogen explosion only 200 or 300 feet above the level of one of the small coral islands might blast away the islands and create submarine land-slides which could set off a tidal wave, local in range but still a menace to other islands in the lagoon.

Task Force 132, which will conduct the tests, started to organize a few months after the last series of Eniwetok tests in 1951. Its headquarters, pending departure for Eniwetok, has been in the Pentagon.

Oklahoma City and Shreveport, the Texas League's slugging team, bludgeoned their way into the playoffs, are having their finer moments now.

Fourth place Oklahoma City went ahead in its series with the champion Dallas Eagles Thursday night, winning 3-1 and needing only six hits. Oklahoma City has a two-to-one advantage in wins.

Meanwhile, Fort Worth's play-off hopes were dimmed by the surprising mound work of Shreveport's staff. The Cats bowled 7-2 to Hugh Sooter's seven-hit performance.

That made it 3-0 in the series for Shreveport.

After two nights of collecting 28 runs, Oklahoma City settled down to make just two long clubs pay off against Dallas pitcher Jose Santiago, the Indians trailed 1-0 into the sixth inning when Joe Fraziers' home run tied it up.

Then, in the seventh, Frank Shafter homered with Tommy Lind on base to provide the margin.

Dallas scored in the fifth inning on Harry Scherting's double and a fly-out by Dick Aylward. The Eagles' routed winner, Ernie Groh and put two runners on in the ninth, only to find themselves hapless against Vern Kennedy's relief pitching.

Battlelines Drawn For Playoff Tilts

AMARILLO (AP) — Manager Ted Claviter of the Amarillo Gold Sox said Thursday he was undecided whether to start Don Turner 7-7 or Howard Waters 6-7 in Friday night's opening playoff game in Clovis, but it will be one of the two.

Both are veterans. Turner, a right-hander, pitched a 1-0 shutout in the first game of the series on Monday night, but might choose Waters or Jack Venable instead, depending on circumstances of the opener, he added.

Don Turner, whose 11-4 record is the Amarillo staff's top number of victories, will be reserved for relief duty. Venable (1-1) is scheduled tentatively to pitch Sunday afternoon's game in Amarillo. The Gold Sox lineup will be the one which hoisted the club from eighth place on July 19 to a third-place tie at the finish.

It includes five regulars who batted above .300 over the season and Turner is a .388 swinger.

First baseman Merv Comors, who is the only man on the roster who started the season with the Sox, and who has played every inning of every game, has a batting average of .279 but led the league in homers with 47. Les Mulcahy hit 45 homers.

The only pitcher who has hit more than one home run is Bobby Hobbs 27 and Johnny Bruzga 17.

The starting lineup with batting averages:

Clyde Perry, ss, .324
Stan Maschinsky, 1b, .327
Johnny Bruzga, 3b, .326
Merv Comors, 1b, .379

Three Tie In Eastern Open

BALTIMORE (AP) — Everybody talks about the big size of Mt. Pleasant's golf course, but the 132 players in the Eastern Open today worried as much about the comparatively dinky 17th hole.

More visions of victory dissipate on this 201-yard hole in sight of the clubhouse than on any other of the 13 stretched over 6,895 yards.

In yesterday's opening round of the 72-hole tourney, 56 of the players went over par three there. By contrast, the three leaders with scores of four — un-der par 88. Skee Riegel of Tulsa, Bob Dutton of Portland, Ore., and Johnny Eulla of Verona, Pa., took the regulation number of strokes.

Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla., would have been in the first place tie if it weren't for the 17th. He was four strokes ahead of par with only two holes to go. He lost a stroke to the devilish 17th to wind up tied for second with Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N. C.

The 17th tee is on top of a hill looking down on a peanut-shaped green on a plateau and nestled against another hill. The tee shot has to go between two clumps of trees and over a creek to the green which is surrounded by traps.

The $15,000 tournament goes into its second round with the race wide open. Twenty players are only three strokes apart between the leading 68 and 71 scores.

Cockrell, Sells, Phippen Are 1952 Harvester Tri-Captains

As far as their teammates are concerned, the linemen have it on the Pampa Harvesters. The boy who does the hardest work and get the least glory got it yesterday from their teammates as the Harvesters named tri-captains for the 1952 football season, all linemen.

Buddy Cockrell, Tommy Sells and Bill Phippen were the three huskies so honored by their mates. All are seniors.

Cockrell, a 210-pound tackle, was all-district last season and is expected to be a bulwark in the line this year. He underwent a knee operation during the winter that appears to have corrected and strengthened a bad leg that bothered his play all last year. This is Cockrell's third year on the Green and Gold. He became a regular starter in the middle of the 1950 season.

Sells, a 200-pound center, is playing his second season of Harvesters football. He also was named on all-district teams last year and should provide the Harvesters with the best center in the district this season.

Phippen is a fighting guard, weighs 175 pounds, and is playing his first year of Harvesters football. He transferred to Pampa last year and, along with his brother James, played on the Guerrillas and was one of the outstanding players on the B squad team. His fight and drive appear to have earned him a starting spot this year on the A squad as well as the respect of his teammates.

The Harvesters went through another lengthy practice session yesterday. With two of the District 1-AAAA teams opening the season tonight, the Harvesters still must wait until next week to end their first game.

On the 18th, Thursday, they go to El Paso to play Austin High's Panthers. Last year the Green and Gold ran over the Border boys.

Dallas Texans Make Home Debut With Lions Tonight

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Texans make their home debut tonight against the Detroit Lions in the first professional football game of the season in Dallas, expected to attract 30,000 of the Texans.

Membership cards and announcements of the first meeting of the year of the Pampa Quarter-back Club will be held tonight at 8 p.m. at the Pampa Hotel. The membership fee for the organization is again $2.50 the same as last year.

The first meeting of the year will be next Monday night, Sept. 15. The exact time and place will be announced Sunday.

Ivan Noblitt is the 1952 president, Ralph McKinney is vice president, and Warren Hasse is secretary-treasurer.

Monday's meeting will probably be devoted to a talk by the coaches about what lies ahead for 1952's football fans.

Darkhorses Lead Field In Western Open Quarterfinals

CHICAGO (AP) — Three dark-horses were named today's quarterfinal field of the Western Amateur Golf Tournament, each lumping into championship-style competition.

Foremost among the rank outsiders was Jim Crisina Jr., 42-year-old Taylorville, Ill., movie actor, who is a professional who was re-chained owner. Crisina, two-time winner of the Illinois state title after a five-year wait, eliminated comediand Don Cheney, the New York promoter and a 1952 Western Open. Yesterday he finished in the recent National Amateur, in yesterday's second round two up.

The third darkhorse is Tom Stephenson, 35-year-old Kan-sas City, Mo., photo engraver, and took a one up victory with a 90-foot eagle putt on the 19th hole.

Frisina tangles today with British Amateur Champion Harold Grier.

Giants, Indians Closing In On Lead

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
Cleveland's pennant drive and the Mike Garcia boom for swinging along hand in hand.

With "The Bear" boasting a string of 28 consecutive scoreless innings, the onrushing Indians yesterday crept within one half game of the idle New York Yankees.

Cleveland's eighth straight win, longest streak of the year in the American League, was a 4-0 job by Garcia who allowed only two Philadelphia singles. It was his seventh shutout since he pitched for the Philadelphia A's in 1947.

Six weeks ago Bobby Shantz of the Philadelphia A's seemed to have a lock on the American League MVP award. He still is the favorite but Garcia is lining up a torchlight parade of supporters.

While little Bobby failed five times in a row, reaching for win No. 23, Garcia has produced five straight wins to make the 20-grade. He is the third 20-game winner in the league, joining teammate Early Wynn and Shantz.

Al Dark and Sal Yvars hit homers for the Giants and Bob Elliott delivered two with a pinch single but they needed an error by catcher Joe Garagiola to get the winning run in the seventh.

Hoyt Wilhelm turned in another splendid relief job in his 62nd game to save Sal Maglie's 16th win. He allowed only one hit — a homer by Sonny Senerchia — in 2-2-3 innings. Maglie was nipped

Relievers Keeping Bums, Giants Alive

NEW YORK (AP) — Who will run out of gas first — Joe Black or Hoyt Wilhelm? It's a tough spot. Dressen calls for Black. Whenever he needs to get out of a jam, Leo phones for Wilhelm.

Both the Dodgers' Black and the Giants' Wilhelm boast shiny 15-3 records. Either can become "brookie of the year" if his club wins. But both must be getting tired.

Black went almost eight full innings against the giants Monday afternoon. He had to help out Wednesday night. Wilhelm goes almost every day and sometimes twice a day. So far it's 62 games for Wilhelm, 49 for Black as compared to Jim Cantasty's modern record of 74 appearances for the Phils in 1950.

Black shows no signs of tiring. The other day he came to Dressen with this story: "Don't believe what you read in the papers. They say I'm tired. I'm not. I want to pitch whenever you need me."

Wilhelm is just as willing although his arm is a little heavy after all that steady work. He has been in the bullpen almost every day all season.

With only 3 1-2 games separating the leading Dodgers from the chasing Giants, the pressure will be on the relief men more than ever.

Wilhelm is a sure thing to see action today when the Giants meet Cincinnati in a day double-header at the Polo Grounds.

Durocher can't afford to hold back a thing. Two day wins would clip the Dodger lead to 2 1-2 games, then if the Brooks should lose their Ebbets Field night game to St. Louis, it would be down to two games.

But whether the race cracks open soon or goes down to the wire in another photo finish, it is likely to be decided on this question: Who will run out of gas first — Joe Black or Hoyt Wilhelm?

White Deer To Start Tonight

WHITE DEER — The White Deer Bucks open their 1952 football season tonight on foreign ground, meeting the Groom Tigers at Groom in a non-conference game due to start at 8 p.m.

The game will be broadcast by radio station KPDN directly from Groom.

Coach James Love, fielding his first team since his return to the District 1-A conference after a temporary leave, will be put on the spot this season with a team of good returning lettermen. Heading this list are fullback Cordell Pugh, halfbacks Don Cabner and Gerald Hunt and quarterback Ronald Mills.

The probable starting line will have Bill Wilkinson and Don Denham at ends, Mortland Sherman and Gene Hoskins at tackles, Jack Hood and Dick Shipley at guards, and Glen Satterwhite at tackle. Most of the line has had to be rebuilt after graduation last fall, but the veteran backfield promises to do a lot of scoring and make the Bucks a formidable foe at all times.

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK (AP) — If Rocky Marciano takes the heavyweight crown from Jersey Joe Walcott in Philadelphia, Sept. 23, he will earn a unique position in boxing history.

No heavyweight king since the days of John L. Sullivan ever has ascended the throne without a defeat or draw to mark his record. The 28-year-old Brockton, Mass., blaster not only has a spotless record but he never has been floored in his 42 pro bouts.

Carmine Vingo came close to upsetting everything for Rocky in a wild preliminary scrap at Madison Square Garden Dec. 30, 1949. But Vingo and Marciano were rated as outstanding punching prospects at the time.

Rocky floored Vingo in the first and second rounds and had the Bronxite bleeding from the nose and an eye cut. With defeat facing him, Vingo fought back desperately. He landed a series of swinging rights that drove Rocky to the ropes. Another right staggered the New England contender. He leaned back against the ropes with his eyes glazed.

Then he showed the stuff champions are made of. Refusing to go down, he went on to knock out Vingo in the sixth round. The New Yorker was critically hurt in the bout and, after a long siege in the hospital, retired from the game.

"He hit me harder than I'd ever been hit before or since," said Rocky the other day. "That includes my fights in the ring, in training, and in street fights."

Championship fights, baseball's All-Star game and World Series represent big business not only for the promoters and athletes but for the cities in which they are held. Hotels, restaurants, night clubs and hundreds of other business enterprises share in a heavy flow of gold.

As an example, the pennant race in both leagues are far from settled yet the Hotel Elgin in New York reports that it already has received reservations for 800 rooms from fans throughout the nation for the World Series.

Jake Mintz, the volatile manager of ex-heavyweight Champion Ezzard Charles, is beefing again. What makes it strange is that for once Jake seems to have something on his side.

Mintz screams that Charles promised a rematch with Rex Layne if Ezzard lost to the Rocky Mountain slugger. Now, says Jake, Layne and Manager Marv Jensen are renegeing.

Layne won a close decision over Charles in Ogden, Utah, on Aug. 9. Jack Dempsey, the sole official, gave the nod to Layne, two rounds to one. Dempsey called seven rounds even. On the basis of such an odd card, anyone would be entitled to another chance.

Real Delight Is Beldame Favorite

NEW YORK (AP) — A dozen or more fillies and mares headed by Calumet Farm's Real Delight are expected to battle it out Saturday in the $50,000 — added Beldame Handicap at Aqueduct. Real Delight, top 3-year-old filly in the business right now and one of the leading money winning horses of 1952, has high weight of 128 pounds in the mile and one eighth event.

Ben Jones, the veteran Calumet trainer, hasn't said definitely.

Notre Dame Silent About The Ex-Cadets Enrolled There

By MURRAY OLDERMAN, NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA) — If Notre Dame's Coach Frank Leahy wanted a quick cure for his chronic pessimism, all he'd have to do is reach in his own backyard for five of the finest football specimens in the country.

But he can't touch them. Don Beck, Gene Gribble, Jim Guardino, Ray Bara and Bill Flick — all students at Notre Dame ly the daughter of Bill Leahy would start, but she has been working for the race at Belmont Park and they don't usually pass up the big ones.

The last time Real Delight started in New York was in May when she won the $50,000 Coaching Club American Oaks, and she'd be the favorite in the Beldame.

Louise B. Myer's Princess Lydia, Alfred Vanderbilt's Next Move, Walter M. Jeffords' Kiss Me Kate, and Ogden Phipps' Busanda loom as the main rivals of the Calumet flyer.

Don's college football career is over. He had a knee operation last Fall. From LaJunta, Colo., he first tried to enroll at the University of Colorado but was rejected, so he accepted the Notre Dame offer.

"We had no other choice," nodded Gribble a fine defensive back from New Castle, Pa., who might consider pro ball some day "if the offer is right."

"Our family circumstances weren't such that we could go to college on our own," said Bara, a regular guard from South River, N. J., to whom football was secondary to an education. "That's why we chose Notre Dame."

At Georgia Tech, halfback Bill McGuire actually worked in a week of varsity Spring practice, but was dropped when Tech announced the former West Pointers would not be eligible to participate in athletics. Neither he, center Bill Baise nor guard Ben Erian were on scholarships.

Blackhawks Are New Club

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Blackhawks, long-time rivals of the National Hockey League, go into the 1952-53 season with a shakeup from top to bottom.

The first change was announced recently — that Sid Abel, veteran Detroit center, would replace Ebbie Goodfellow as manager.

Yesterday, at the NHL's annual pre-season meeting, it was disclosed that the club will have new ownership and four new players.

Taking over as proprietors are Arthur M. Wirtz, president of the Chicago Stadium, where the Hawks play; his business associate, James D. Norris, and Norris' younger brother, Bruce.

James Norris is president of the International Boxing Club, which promotes most major fights, and Wirtz is a member of the IBC's board of directors. They and the younger Norris gave up their interest in the Detroit Red Wings in order to make the deal.

William J. Tobin, former president of the Hawks will remain with the organization as a vice president and general manager.

It also was revealed that the Blackhawks had traded their top tight goalie, Harry Lumley, to the Toronto Maple Leafs for four players: Roy Hanigan, right winger; center Cal Gardner; Gus Mortenson, defenseman, and goalie Al Rollins.

Austin, Tyler In Playoff Lead

By The Associated Press

Three pitchers of the Fourth-place Austin Pioneers wound up with 20 or more wins in the Big State league's regular race and refuse to rest on laurels in the playoffs.

Pitching, this time by John Faccasual, Andre, carried Austin Thursday night to its second straight victory over Temple, the regular champ, 2-1.

Counting the triumph Wednesday night, the club will have new ownership and four new players.

Only the Tyler-at-Texas game will be run off Friday night; Temple and Austin take a holiday to avoid a conflict with high school football and re-open the set at Austin Saturday night.

Living Costs Make Phrase 'Going Hollywood' Obsolete

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (P) — Is the phrase "Going Hollywood" becoming obsolete? Not many years ago, everyone knew what it meant to go Hollywood. It immediately brought to mind a starlet who found fame overnight and blossomed out in black - long limousines. But that description phrase seems to be fading from the American language. Janet Leigh gives a hint as to why: New stars can no longer afford to go Hollywood. She talked with Miss Leigh at North Shore Tavern at Lake Arrowhead, where she and a few other free-loaders attended the premiere of "Just For You," the Bing Crosby - Jane Wyman work-out. Above the din of the celebs, we were discussing good old days in Hollywood and the good new ones.

The question arose: How can today's film stars, hampered by lower salaries, higher taxes and bulging expenses, put up a front and appear to live like film stars? "They can," Miss Leigh replied flatly, "because it isn't possible financially."

She went on to describe how she and her husband, Tony Curtis, live. It's a Spartan life, compared to the lavishness of former days in Hollywood.

"We live in a one-bedroom apartment," she remarked. "We never go to night clubs. Only recently have we gotten to the point where we each own a car. 'I don't lavish money on clothes. I bought some dresses in New York last year and I'm still wearing them. The last crosses I bought here in Hollywood were last March. Because clothes are necessary in my business, I can deduct a certain percentage of the expense on my income tax. But they still cost money to buy."

Having two paychecks coming out is no advantage, she added; it nearly means more tax going out. And they have numerous expenses.

"We must have a maid," Miss Leigh remarked. "I can't leave the apartment at 6:30 in the morning, return at 7 at night and go the cooking and housework. We must have a secretary. And we have to hire our own fan mail service. The studio will help us answer letters, but they won't handle postcards. We feel postcards are just as important,

All Work, No Pay Makes Jake --- Rich

PHILADELPHIA (P) — A Philadelphia manufacturer, accused by the government of paying employees as little as 5 cents an hour, has been restrained by court order from further violation of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

Ernest N. Votaw regional attorney for the Wage and Hour Division of the Department of Labor told Federal Judge George A. Welsh Wednesday that Jacob Greenwald, manufacturer of baby clothes paid "as little as 5 cents an hour to employees since Jan. 30, 1950."

Federal law requires a minimum of 75 cents an hour for work produced for interstate commerce. Greenwald sometimes parcelled out knitting and sewing to women to do in their homes. Votaw said, and made the workers pay the parcel post charges in returning the finished materials.

and so we take care of answering them ourselves.

"This year we had serious drains in our finances. Tony's father was very sick. Tony was on suspension from his studio. And he was sued by an agent in New York. To avoid a long and expensive suit, we settled for $5,000. It takes a long time for us to make $5,000 in the clear."
