Ledrick Accuses Three . . . Charges Hurlled In Charter Arguments

Charges of trying to run the city and illegal voting were fired as the campaign to change the city charter rounded the curve to come down the home stretch.

The accusations were aimed at Frank Carter, Mitchell Hill and City Commissioner W. B. (A) Neel by Mickey Ledrick in a speech before the Kiwanis Club supporting the proposed amendment up for election Oct. 4.

Ledrick charged the trio with trying to run the city government, and later accused Hill and Carter with illegal voting.

He said city election records showed each used one address for voting while actually residing somewhere else. He said all evidence shows Carter lives at 1324 Frederic outside the city limits.

He said Carter voted in Ward 15, Talley Addition, for voting purposes, which is in Ward 1.

The speaker said Hill resides at 820 E. Browning, Ward 2, and voted in Ward 4 in one election and later reverted to Ward 2 for another election.

Carter defended the charge declaring they helped get men elected — "Their neighbors" and "good men." However, he said, he had never asked a favor from any of the commissioners.

He cited an example of a previous election when Pampa was on a commission-at-large basis when all commissioners came from "the 1300 block North." "Naturally," he said "all improvements went that way."

Since a group of citizens got the government changed to the present ward system, Carter stated, the city had seen greater improvements "in all sections" than ever before.

Ledrick based his arguments on a comparative population and tax basis. He pointed out that while Wards 3 and 4 carry only 3.8 per cent of the population and 31.58 percent of the taxable property, they are represented by the same number of commissioners as Wards 1 and 2, to Dallas to Timberlawn, a with the rest of the population and taxable property.

Ledrick cited Chicago as an example of the corruption brought about by ward systems and mentioned that all larger and older cities in Texas had discarded the system.

He stressed again that floats may be built by any group after confirmation from the committee has been received. Almost any idea may be used to convey some historical aspect of the county, he pointed out, and the most important thing is to play down the commercial angle.

Hickman Services Scheduled Monday

Funeral services for Harley S. (Bob) Hickman, 61, are scheduled for 10 a. m. Monday in the Duengel-Carmichael Funeral Chapel. Rev. Lyle Albright, pastor of the Church of Brethren, will officiate.

Mr. Hickman died unexpectedly in a Borger hospital Friday morning. He was employed by Hickman and Son in Simiterr at the time of his death.

Await FCC Approval Of Purchase

The sale of Radio Station KPDN to Coy Palmer and Warren L. Hasse was announced Saturday by E. Roy Smith, publisher of The Pampa Daily News and representative of Freedom Newspapers, Inc., seller.

The purchase price was not announced.

Completion of the sale is contingent upon the approval of Federal Communications Commission, which is considered routine.

The two new owners have been associated with the station for the past three years. Palmer has served as station manager for the past two years while Hasse has served as play-by-play sports-caster along with his duties of sports editor of The Pampa News.

Palmer joined the KPDN announcing staff three years ago and was promoted to station manager in September, 1950. A native of the Texas Panhandle, Palmer is married, has two sons, and resides at 533 Lowry. He is a World War II Navy veteran and is active in the Elks Lodge and Rotary Club as well as a great civic affairs booster.

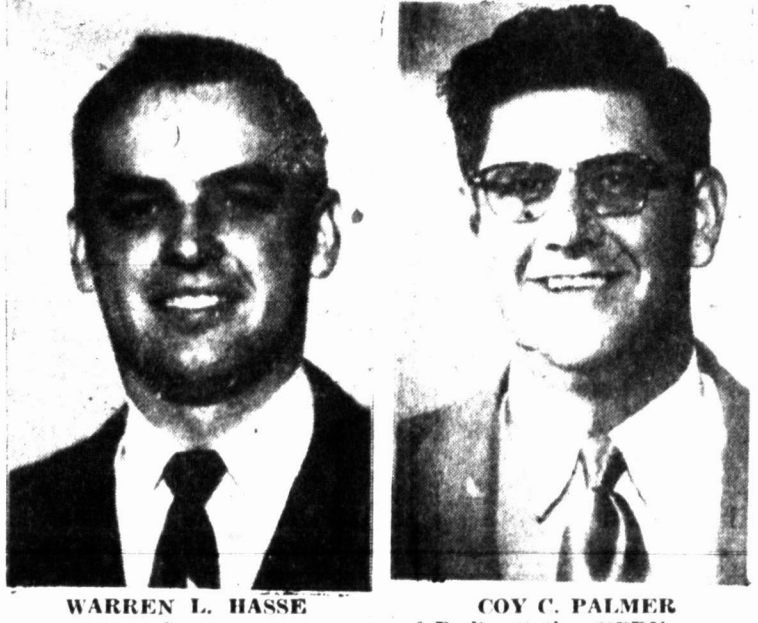

Hasse came to The News as sports editor in November, 1948, serving in that capacity as well as managing editor until the present time. Hasse is a native of Wisconsin, having attended the University of Wisconsin before enlisting in the Air Force and leaving with the Eighth Air Force in England. He is married, has two children, a son and a daughter, and lives at 825 Donette. He is a member of the Kiwanis Club and was recently named chairman of the Gray County March of Dimes drive this year.

KPDN, now in its seventeenth year of broadcasting, was purchased by the R. C. Holles newspaper chain along with The Pampa News and until Saturday's sale was operated in connection with the newpaper. The station is affiliated with the Mutual Broadcasting System.

"We plan to continue to operate the station with the high integrity which has made it Pampa's lead radio station," Palmer said Saturday. "We plan to continue giving the people of Pampa and surrounding areas the finest in sports, news and music as KPDN has always done in the past."

"We also no immediate personal changes or programming policies," Hasse said. "I believe the radio audience has been satisfied with the operation of KPDN, but we will welcome any suggestions or ideas to improve our service to the community."

Beginning Monday a daily five minute devotional by Rev. Edwin L. Hall, pastor, St. Paul Methodist Church, will be heard M day through Friday over Radio Station KPDN.

Three NATO Bases Are Found Defective

PARIS (AP) — Defects in three new runways at French-built NATO airbases in France, to which American taxpayers contributed funds, have prevented their use by U. S. jet planes.

This was learned Saturday from official American sources in Paris who said repairs are underway on two of the runways. These informants said they did not know when the air strips would be ready for the American Air Force jet units assigned to the bases under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's defense plan.

The three defective strips were built with NATO funds into which the United States paid a share. The concrete runways were laid by French contractors, workmen, engineers and supervisors using French materials. It is the usual practice for nations of the

Denied Bond In Assault

Earl D. Hilton, Pampa, was temporarily denied bond Saturday after an assault with intent to murder charge was lodged against him by Dist. Atty. Tom Bray in the slugging of Corbett Moore, local insurance adjuster.

The assault occurred in the offices of 150 Ethridge Saturday morning where Hilton is alleged to have struck Moore with "some instrument opening a hole in his head. Moore was knocked unconscious by the blow and taken to Highland General Hospital where he later regained consciousness.

According to investigating officers, there was no fight. Apparently only a few words were spoken over a minor automobile accident which happened some time ago.

Hilton was arraigned before Justice of the Peace John V. Andrews who denied bond until 10 a. m. Monday.

Officers said Hilton voluntarily surrendered in police headquarters and was later transferred to the county. He told investigators he hit Moore with his fist, but officers indicated Moore was hit with something "more solid." However, they admitted they did not know what caused the hole in his injured

Hilton being held in the county jail pending a further hearing before Judge Andrews Monday morning.

Charges Foes Lay Barrage Of Distortions

Gov. Adlai Stevenson made public last night details of the fund he said he used to supplement the salaries of eight Illinois state officials by $18,150, and then went on to counter-attack the Republicans on foreign policy.

"The opposition is not taking sense to the American people," the Democratic presidential nominee said in Louisville, Ky. "It is laying down a barrage of ugly, twisted, demagogic distortions."

Stevenson accused his Republican opponent, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, of trying to make "a vote-getting issue out of our order" in Korea.

Eisenhower rested from his campaign rigors yesterday, spending the day quietly in New York. He returned there early yesterday from Richmond, Va., and the windup of an intensive whistle stop swing through the Midwest and South.

President Truman, embarking on an 8,500-mile 24-state campaign tour on behalf of Stevenson and Sen. John J. Sparkman, left for Chicago today with no political speeches planned for the day. Tomorrow he will hit the Mustangs in North Dakota.

Stevenson had been under heavy pressure from Republicans to make public details of the "Illinois fund," especially since the GOP vice presidential nominee, Sen. Richard M. Nixon, explained to the nation last week the $18,225 expense fund raised in his behalf by wealthy Californians.

Stevenson at first declined to do so, saying such a course would be a breach of faith with those who contributed. Under continued pressure, he reversed his stand and late yesterday made public lengthy lists of donors (See STEVENSON, Page 2)

Pampa Air Service Resumed Tuesday

Scheduled airline operation at Perry LeFors Field is slated to be approved Tuesday by the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

According to Bill Mail, official in charge of airports from Central Airlines, arrangements are being completed to reopen service in Pampa for his company. Mail is now in Pampa.

Mail said the company office and personnel are ready at the field for the resumption of the four daily flights through Pampa as soon as certification has been made.

All telephone lines were scheduled to be connected Saturday by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. Only four-hour work remains to be done Monday, Mail said.

Wayland Merriman, who is supervising construction work for the county, made the flat statement that the field was ready for CAA. After CAA approves the field, however, some time will elapse before the final official OK comes through from Washington.

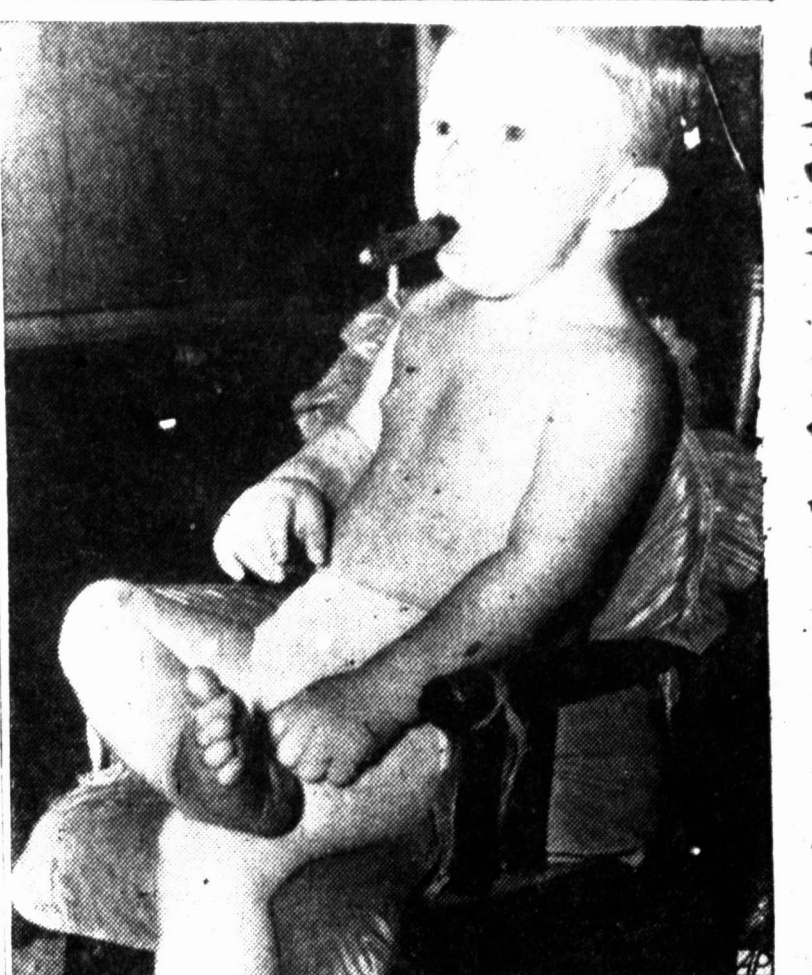

Dedication is scheduled for Oct. 14 as part of the Gray County 50th Birthday Celebration. But it is hoped, Mail said, that airline service will be resumed before that time.

McCarthy Talks In Tyler Oct. 17

TYLER (AP) — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) will come to Tyler Oct. 17 to speak on "Communism and Corruption in Washington."

B. G. Byars, Tyler businessman, announced today McCarthy had accepted an invitation extended by a non-partisan committee of Tyler and East Texas citizens.

McCarthy gained wide publicity by his charges of Communists in government.

Russia Rejects Bid For Big 4 Meeting

LONDON (AP) — Russia has rejected the latest Western bid for a Big Four meeting to draw up a treaty to restore independence to occupied Austria, Moscow radio announced early today.

The U. S., Britain and France submitted to Russia Sept. 5 proposals for an Austrian independence treaty which they said met previous Soviet objections to the long-delayed pact.

The three Western Powers asked for four-power talks in London beginning Monday to draft the treaty.

To meet Russian objections, the Western Allies said they would agree reluctantly to limit Austria's future armed forces. They said they would be willing to demand that an independent Austria guarantee free elections basic freedoms and anti-Nazi measures.

Russia's reply as heard by the radio brushed aside the Western proposal for a London meeting. "It was to be on the level of the deputy foreign ministers," it said.

The Russian rejection of a Western proposed abridged Austrian treaty was in the form of identical notes delivered yesterday to the French, U. S., and British Embassies in Moscow.

The Soviet notes, said the Kremlin would stand pat on its Aug. 14 demand that the whole Western idea for an abridged or shortened treaty be scrapped.

Youngsters Admit Piling Lumber On Railroad Tracks

"I put some of 'em on there, but I didn't think I would." That's what one of three small youngsters told H. A. Doggett, county juvenile officer, Friday afternoon at the scene of the near-mishap the day before when a pile of lumber was flung from the track by sheriff's officials just before a high-balling freight train got to the spot.

Three small boys — 6, 8 and 9 — admitted to Doggett that they were the ones who piled wood on the Santa Fe track twice within an hour Thursday afternoon. After one train had plowed through a small pile of wood, the boys had proceeded to build a larger pile of bigger wood.

And it was that pile that Deputy Sheriff Shirley Nickols and Buck Haggard had got out of the way just in time. The incident had occurred about 100 yards west of the Hobart crossing.

Also on the scene at the interrogation besides Doggett, were Nickols and L. E. Sankey, Santa Fe's division special agent. While the question was under way, six or eight other youngsters playing in or near the tracks had to be chased off.

But the Santa Fe was not alone with this problem. Nickols caught three other boys, Saturday about the same age, piling lumber and rocks on the Fort Worth & Denver line — at the LeFors Highway underpass, just inside the city limits.

The sheriff's office had received a call early Saturday morning and Nickols, racing out there, had caught them in the act. All three boys were brothers. No further action is contemplated against any of the six.

Georg Santayana Succumbs At 88

ROME (AP) — George Santayana, world renowned philosopher and writer of the best-selling novel "The Last Puritan," died last Friday night in a Catholic convent in which he had lived in solitude for 25 years. He was 88. Ranked as one of the 20th century's greatest thinkers, Santayana, a Spaniard by birth, was known and loved by thousands of Americans, many of whom were his students when he was a professor of philosophy at Harvard University from 1889 to 1911.

His philosopher's mind stayed sharp and alert to the end, although age had enfeebled and shriveled him. His final book, "Dominations and Powers," a philosophical summation, was completed and published only a last year.

Surrounded by the books he loved, Santayana died in his last room at the clinic of the Little Company of Mary, a British order of nuns known as the Blue Sisters, because of the pale blue habits they wear.

The famed philosopher was born in Madrid, Dec. 16, 1863. Although a Spaniard subject to the end, he was considered by many to be an American since he lived in the United States from the time he was 9 until 1911.

Santayana was probably the only philosopher to write a best-selling novel. He did this in 1935 when he turned out "The Last Puritan." It was perhaps this book, about life in New England, rather than his many poems and philosophical works, that brought his name to the mass of American readers.

up, the chairman stated, so that the best possible parade may be staged.

Members of the clearing committee are C. P. Buckler, DeLea Vicars and Weathered. Entries may also be made at celebration headquarters in the chamber of commerce office of the city hall, phone 283.

Walter Eller, contest chairman for old-time fiddlers, has announced rules governing the event as follows:

Contestants must have lived in the Panhandle area for at least 85 years. Each contestant will be required to play two tunes during the preliminaries. Finals will be scheduled if enough entries justify them.

Cash awards of $25, $15 and $10 prizes justify them.

Cash awards of $25, $15 and $10 will be given to the top three musicians.

All entries are to be sent to Eller, 1004 Charles, Pampa, or phone 1545. J. Eller also requests names of anyone in the Panhandle who might be interested in entering the contest. Special invitations will be sent to them.

A dedication ceremony will follow pilot fly-in breakfast. Both events are to be in connection with the celebration.

Awards of 25 gallons of gasoline will be given to the youngest pilot, oldest pilot, the one coming the longest distance and the pilot landing nearest the special alarm clock signal.

Exhibits are to include new type airplanes, helicopters and jets.

Chairman of the dedication committee is Frank Culbertson and serving with him are Ed Myatt, Henry Reynolds, Charles Duendie, Leo Fain, Ham Linnis, Earl McConnell, Jim Nalton, Bert Howell, Joe Gordon, Wesley Lewis, Ralph Brock and Cap Jolly.

League To Sponsor Debate On Charter

Travis C. Lively will speak for proponents and Frank Carter for the opponents of the proposed changes in the city charter at an open meeting in the county court room at 8 p.m. Monday.

The meeting is sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Pampa as a public service "in accord with the league's policy of providing information on both sides of a question," according to Mrs. W. B. Herr, league service chairman.

Both speakers have agreed to abide by a policy of the organization by confining all remarks to issues without reference to personalities.

Mrs. H. H. Hahn will serve as chairman and Mrs. Herr as time-keeper for the speakers.

Every qualified voter is urged to attend the meeting.

WAFD Party May Go Underground

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — The powerful Wafdist party which waged the fight for Egyptian independence refused today to submit to government regulations and thereby scuttled itself as a legal political organization.

The Wafdist party was organized in 1919, soon after World War I, to fight for independence and has been in office six times since 1922 when Egypt was established as a sovereign kingdom.

Abraham Farag, former cabinet minister, in announcing the decision said the party would "continue its activities" — a hint after 33 years of dominant activity.

This was the first serious defiance of the strong man Premier, Maj. Gen. Mohammed Naguib, whose government has given Egypt's political parties 30 days to purge themselves of grafters and corrupters and present a reorganized slate of officers for a clean bill of health from the Interior Department.

Triple Amputee Awarded Today

AUSTIN (AP) — A triple amputee, Ernest S. Turpin, Comanche, will be named "Handicapped person of the year in Texas" today.

Gov. Shivers will present him with the title and a distinguished service award at a meeting of the Texas Committee for the Employment of the Physically Handicapped.

Turpin, 49, is a watch repairman. He has trained 18 handicapped civilians and 41 veterans of World War II. Many of them now have their own watch repair shops.

Turpin became a victim of Burger's disease in 1923. It necessitated removal of both his legs and his right arm above the elbow.

Despite his handicap, Turpin drives his own automobile, walks with the aid of a cane and two artificial legs and operates the watch repair shop in connection with his jewelry store in Comanche.

system in favor of a commission elected at large.

He said dissension and conflict had hampered the commission ever since the ward system had been adopted and that prior to the change the government worked in harmony.

The proposed system is "more democratic and more equitable," Ludwick said, and "keeps down sectionalism and ward bosses."

Carter cited an election prior to the ward system when the "South Side" received only 77 votes.

He said regardless of how a commission was elected there would always be "special interest" to contend with.

Carter called attention to one of the proposed amendments stating that the commission would retain the right to qualify its members. He called this an "unjust" ruling, saying even after a group had worked to get a good man elected, he might still not get to serve.

Sen. Nixon Appeals To Texans On Tidelands and FEPC

Music Colony Needs Angel

DENISON, Texas (AP) — The Rader Music Colony on Lake Texoma may turn from light opera to a hearts and flowers melodrama unless an "angel" with between $75,000 and $100,000 puts in an early appearance.

Not that any villain holds a mortgage on this unique musical endeavor which is flourishing through its second season. But the Texoma Yacht Club which has been loaned to the colony for the opera workshop has been up for sale and a new owner may not approve of the virtual loan of the club during the height of the summer season.

The colony is not freeloading 100 per cent, since under a lease arrangement, a portion of the tuition paid by pupils goes to the club owners as "rent."

So far, the colony's founder, Miss Ethel Rader, has only one prospect — a Texas woman who has manifested interest in the possibility of ending the Rader Colony as a memorial.

"The recreational value of Texoma would be enhanced by bringing to its shores outstanding vocal talent," explained Kenneth L. Ballenger hopefully. He is of Stetson College, Deland, Fla., and is director of the workshop.

Forty pupils are enrolled this year, a sharp gain over the 12 of a year ago. They are principally collegians from Texas, Oklahoma and Florida. The school, incidentally, is accredited by Austin College in Sherman, where Miss Rader is professor of voice. Under a permanent program, a full-blown colony could accommodate 100 pupils, Mrs. Rader said. And it might some day, if some patron of the arts comes to the rescue.

High grade asbestos fibers can be spun and woven almost as well as silk or cotton.

Candidate Rides Crest Of Victory

A lot of Texans may vote Nov. 4 just to elect Sen. Richard Nixon to the vice-presidency of the United States.

This became apparent during the youthful vesp candidate's stop in Amarillo Friday when he made no bones on his stand favoring state ownership of tidelands and his disbelief in a compulsory FEPC law.

During his press conference we asked him how he stood on a punitive Fair Employment Practices Commission.

His response was quick and to the point — "Neither General Eisenhower nor I believe in a federal compulsory fair employment practices commission act."

The highly elated candidate stole Texas hearts when he told 5,000 persons to vote for Stevenson if they wanted to lose their tidelands. Nixon's victory in the $18,000 gift seal stuck out like a sore thumb. He was in a high state of elation and the state increased with the rebel yells and cheers that egged him on in his state-wide broadcast from the Tri-State Fair Grounds.

The roos and catcalls from the crowd at the mere mention of the names of Alger Hiss, Dean Acheson, Harry Truman, and others in the Fair Deal hierarchy was a good indication of whose side this part of Texas is on.

He charged the administration with failing to adopt a foreign policy that would have prevented Korea and blamed directly the act of the State Department in bringing it on.

"The North Koreans would never attacked South Korea unless they had known they had a friendly government (Communist China) in back of them. He recalled Secretary of State Acheson's talk to a press group when Acheson pronounced Korea and Formosa outside of the United States defense perimeter.

Nixon declared the Truman Democrats made a mess of the corruption in government investigations and reminded his audience that Truman's investigator — Newbold Morris — had "hardly stepped off the train when the committee I was on found we had to investigate him and a surplus ship transfer sale in which he was the attorney."

He pictured Stevenson as an unwilling rider of the Truman horse, saying, "You know, Stevenson first thought he could ride his own horse and later found out that the Truman horse was the key mount in the stable, and he couldn't keep him in the corral, so now, he is trying to ride it side-saddle and his feet are having to hang pretty well to the left."

The smiling Nixon won the heart of his audience from his first sentence when he told the crowd he liked Democrats and he liked Texas and could prove it. "Pat (his wife) was a Democrat and I married her," he added.

Still later, he remarked that neither he nor any of his family was Texas born, but that his dog was born in Texas.

The GOP hopeful promised that Eisenhower's election would call an abrupt halt to any policies laid down by Dean Acheson, because Acheson wouldn't be there any more.

Coming back to the tidelands, Nixon said, "Let's take that song of theirs, 'Don't Let Them Take It Away,' and turn it against them. Let's elect Ike and we won't let them take the tidelands away."

The crowd went wild at that juncture, but cooperated quickly when he signaled for silence and quieted down immediately.

Nixon was introduced by Wes Izzard, publisher of the Amarillo Daily News after his plane was more than 30 minutes late in arriving. A police escort led the caravan of two cars and two large Continental Trailways buses from the airport to the fair grounds.

Before answering questions at the press conference, Nixon paid tribute to Pampa's Ben Guill who he said, "is doing a wonderful job here in Texas for Eisenhower."

Guill and Nixon became fast friends during the former Pampa congressman's stay in Washington as the first Republican representative from Texas in more than 20 years.

Most of the questions asked him at the press conference had previously been answered in his speech. However, he told reporters in answer to a written query, of whether Russia would be handed any ultimatum on her behavior by Eisenhower, that Ike would have to answer that after he is president. Nixon said, "in the next war, we will all be losers. Russia can be handled with other and firmer measures without going to war. Eisenhower is the one man who can mould the countries of the world together spiritually and morally which the present administration hasn't been able to do."

GOP Coffee Could Have Turned Into A Big Session

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Mrs. H. J. Schaefer almost got into coffee business in a big way. She invited 12 members of her district Republican Finance Committee to her home for coffee.

Some of the members misunderstood the invitation and thought it was to be a "progressive coffee."

At a progressive coffee, each person invites eight more persons, those invite six, those invite six and these invite two.

Mrs. Schaefer thought it odd when she started receiving letters of regret from people not on the committee.

Checking up, she was astounded to learn that 7,600 Republicans could have shown up to help her drink 12 cups of coffee. Luckily, she got word around that it was only a committee meeting, but even so 25 showed up.

Filipinos Want Their Own Fish

MANILA (AP) — The Philippines government wants Filipino fishermen to go in for deep-sea fishing so the country can stop importing fish.

Dr. D. Villalobid, head of the Bureau of Fisheries, says Filipinos confine their operations to Philippine waters, which "are poor in fish."

"There is practically no limit to where we can go to fish in international waters," he said. "Some of the international fishing grounds are surprisingly close to our home ports."

ON THE BALL—Some photographers will go to any height to get a picture. The cameraman sitting atop this distorted ball tank was snapped as he adjusted his camera to take an overall shot of the Sheaffer Pen Co. plant in Fort Madison, Iowa. He got there by climbing a ladder through a tube in the center of the tank.

Shipbuilding Decline

NEW YORK (AP) — Shipbuilding throughout the world declined slightly during the second quarter of 1952, according to Lloyd's Register of Shipping. It reported 1,190 steam and motor ships totaling 5,614,183 tons on the ways compared with 1,224 totaling 5,680,568 in the first three months of the year.

Month Of September Healthiest Of Year

September is the healthiest month of the year, judging from the way life insurance death claims are distributed across the calendar.

But it used to be one of the worst months. A century ago, September registered nearly the greatest death toll of the year. The best available statistics for 1850 showed September to be one of the two highest mortality months of the year in this country with a death rate nearly twice that of winter months.

Today, September shows the smallest death toll of any month. This is shown in U. S. mortality statistics for the population as a whole and is borne out by the experience among the nation's 86,000,000 life insurance policy-holders. Analyzing the monthly distribution of death benefits over the past decade, adjusted to the different number of days per month, the Institute of Life Insurance found that September death payments averaged 10 per cent below the yearly figure and 20 per cent under the peak March figure.

The September improvement over the past 100 years has been doubly impressive. Not only has the month's relative position changed, but the death rate has dropped materially from that of 1850.

In 1850, the death rate in the United States was estimated to be nearly 20 per 1000. The population death rate today is less than 10 per 1000. The death rate among life insurance policy holders is only 6 per 1000.

There have been major changes in the principal causes of death over the century. A large share of the 1850 death causes have been almost entirely eliminated. For instance about a tenth of all deaths in 1850 were reported due to cholera, a disease now eliminated in the United States as a cause of death.

Tuberculosis, then labeled consumption, was the leading cause of 1850 deaths. It accounted for more than a tenth of all deaths then but has since become a minor cause totaling only two per cent of all deaths today.

More than 40 per cent of the 1850 deaths resulted from contagious diseases, including cholera, dysentery, diarrhea, general fever, typhoid fever and scarlet fever. Today, these same diseases represent only one per cent of total deaths in this country.

On the contrary, some of the present chief causes of death were relatively unimportant in 1850. Heart diseases, now the No. 1 killer in the United States, causing more than half of all deaths, was a minor listing in 1850. Cancer, today the second ranking cause of death, was not recognized as among the leading causes a century ago. The relatively low death rates in 1850 for both heart disease and cancer were due, among other things, to lack of knowledge concerning these diseases and to the higher death rates at younger ages.

While September appears to be the healthiest month of the year, the months following it are less healthy, the Institute warns, pointing to the need for health conservation efforts wherever possible. The index of life policy death benefits shows a steady rise after September, until the year's peak is reached in March.

The Freedom We Are Losing --- Fast

The Saturday Evening Post recently ran an editorial called "The America We Lost," by Dr. Mario A. Pei, who emigrated to this country from Italy in 1908 and is now an associate professor of romance philology at Columbia University.

Dr. Pei's theme is one that should be pondered by every American who loves this country, its traditions, and what it has stood for. He writes, "When I first came to America, 44 years ago, I learned a new meaning of the word 'Liberty' — freedom from government." He had come from a country which was dominated by an octopus-like bureaucracy. The simplest activity resulted in government intervention. In his words, "America in those days made you open your lungs wide and inhale great gulps of freedom-laden air, for here was one additional freedom — freedom from government."

This, Dr. Pei finds with sorrow, is the America we have lost. To quote him once more, "Foreign-born citizens have been watching with alarm the gradual Europeanization of America over the past 20 years. They have seen the growth of the familiar European-style government octopus, along with the vanishing of the American spirit of freedom, and opportunity and its replacement by a breathless search for 'security' that is doomed to defeat in advance in a world where nothing, not even life itself, is secure.

"Far more than the native-born, they are in a position to make comparisons. They see that America is fast becoming a nineteenth-century-model European country. They are asked to believe that this is progress. But they know from bitter experience that it just isn't so."

Those who, like Dr. Pei, came to us from across the seas in search of opportunity and freedom and the right and the chance to be their own-masters, are far wiser than many of us whose roots go back to the very beginnings of America. We were given the most glorious heritage that any people can have — the heritage of freedom. We have been losing it — through inertia, blindness, the spineless seeking for an impossible security, the following of false prophets. We can only save it by turning our backs squarely on political philosophies which have made much of the world into a vast slave camp.

The Solution Of Our Money Problem Is Freedom

I never realized that the solution of our money problem and sound money was freedom until I read an address made by Frank Chodorov before the Gold Standard League Convention at Washington, D.C.

The reason we have money that is constantly buying less, and less is that it is enforced by a police club. It is the opposite from money based on freedom. If all people were free to help establish the value of money, and there was no police club about it, we would have no trouble about having sound money. But for most of the time in the United States our money has been under control of the police club. That is the reason it fluctuates in value so much.

Mr. Chodorov in this address explains it in this manner:

Freedom Is The Answer

"There is nothing wrong with money that freedom will not cure. This is another way of saying that the Good Society which many reformers have sought by way of monetary reform cannot be achieved that way. If it is ever to be achieved, it will be done by freedom. So, then the fight for sound money to have meaning, must be related to the broader fight for freedom. It is only one of the several battles that must be fought."

"Yes, we must insist on the return to convertibility. But, what does convertibility mean in fact? It means a restraint on the powers of the government. It does not mean an improvement in our money standard only; that is only one of its consequences. Far more important is the consequence of preventing the government from exercising its counterfeiting proclivities, from using the money it issues periodically of our property."

"It is not enough to put shackles of gold on those who would deprive us of our freedom. If we would save our civilization from the fate of other civilizations, we must restore — besides convertibility, every restriction of the powers of government the founding fathers thought of, and perhaps a few more."

Governments Want Gold

"It is interesting to note that while most of the governments of the world have perpetrated similar frauds on their own subjects, they still insist on payments in gold from foreigners. Their faith in gold is unshakable, despite their reputation of internally. And that points up the fact that the abrogation or suspension of gold standard is not an act of reason, but an act of force. If the government of the United States, for example, France or Guatemala to accept its unbacked paper in settlement of its debts, it would be called a legal tender it cannot exercise police power."

"That puts the money question into the field of politics and not economics — and makes the inter-inevitable quarrels among money theorists just so much play-acting. Their debates as to whether these could be substituted for gold, or how much gold the dollar should contain, or whether gold should be allowed to find its value in the world market — all their word battles over these questions are as futile as they are interminable. The fact is that money is a reliable medium of exchange, and measure of value when the government takes a hand in its management; money then becomes an instrument for regulating, controlling, and dominating the lives of the people. It is a police club."

"When one thinks the matter through, freedom is not only the answer to having sound money, but it is the answer to having a better education, better government, a higher standard of living and an answer to all our economic and moral problems. And by freedom we mean self-control, no more, no less and that no individual or no government or subdivision of the government has a moral right to initiate force against any individual or any group to get something from him against his will."

"Truth," London Eng.

The murderous gang at the Kremlin, which, for over 30 years, has been maintained in magnificent pomp and circumstance by the 200,000,000 wretches whom it still oppresses and enslaves, now proposes to find another name for those malodorous roses, the Politburo and the Orgburo. These bodies henceforward are to be called the Presidium, but the change will in no way affect the reality, which is not that a dozen men are masters of Russia, as superficial observers suppose, but that the dictatorship of the proletariat is — and, as long as it lasts, must always be — the dictatorship of one man, aided and abetted by an inner cabinet of ruthless functionaries whose only mildness is to fawn upon him.

There is probably no more important news than that after 13 years a congress of the Russian Communist Party will be held in October. The congress will not pass any amendments on Mr. Stalin's conduct of affairs, or on his plans for the future. It is more likely to be used as a political stimulus, perhaps preparing the way for another purge. Neither should too much be read into Mr. Malenkov's prominent role at the impending conference. A man of 50, he is one of the youngest members of the Stalinist priesthood, and it is by no means improbable that the Kremlin looks upon him as the eventual leader of a continuing Bolshevik conspiracy against the Russian people. What is improbable is that he has been chosen as Mr. Stalin's immediate successor. Commentators have consistently undervalued the importance of Mr. Molotov, as they did that of his chief, while Lenin was still alive.

National Whirligig... Bi-Partisan Group Proposed To Examine Foreign Expenses

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — An entirely new system for supervising and policing the economic and military use of billions of government funds given to foreign nations will be submitted to the next Administration. It is believed that President Truman's successor will look favorably on the proposal whether he be Governor Stevenson or General Eisenhower.

The plan under consideration by a bi-partisan group on and off Capitol Hill is the appointment of a presidential committee that would be the manner in which NATO, ECA and MSA beneficiaries spend the money advanced by our government. It has exceeded $50 billion since 1945.

IMPORTANCE — The names of the men tentatively mentioned as members of such a commission suggest the importance and the extent of its assignment.

Although advanced largely as the type of man required for the task, and not as actual choices, the list includes Bernard M. Baruch, Herbert Hoover, former Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson, Paul Hoffman, General Douglas MacArthur, Murray Lincoln of House-Senate committees dealing with foreign affairs. Its permanent secretary would be selected by the President, presumably from the State Department.

In addition to keeping an eye on the handling of the taxpayers' billions, the overseas overseers would be able to make helpful suggestions when and if they found that our contributions were being used unwisely. Numerous members of Congress have frequently criticized wasteful employment of these funds by our own representatives and by the agencies of foreign governments. Similar confidential reports have been filed by State and MSA experts.

INFLUENCE — Presidential approval of the scheme is anticipated because an underlying purpose is to remove the problem of continued foreign aid from the field of partisan politics. The current Eisenhower — Stevenson campaign shows that both parties are willing to confuse and capitalize on the issue of our international dealings both before and since World War II.

It is certain that such a commission of distinguished Americans of the "elder statesman" kind would command more influence with Congressional committees than Secretary Acheson and Mutual Security Administrator Harriman, or their successors.

The latter's presidential candidacy and active participation in the political contest has virtually destroyed his usefulness on Capitol Hill. And Mr. Acheson never enjoyed any popularity among Republicans and conservative Democrats.

IMPARTIAL — The new setup would also give Congress and the taxpayers a more frank and impartial picture of our costly foreign operations. As it is now, whenever Acheson or Harriman or General Bradley talk about their respective overseas activities, they usually present an optimistic report that frequently contradicts the facts. Fair Enough... Chaplin Refused To Entertain Soldiers During World War II

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1952, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Among my Souvenirs I have a copy of a letter inviting Miss Jeannette MacDonald, the singer and actress, who showed patriotism under pressure on the Communist left, to join the letterhead list of "sponsors" of the pro-Soviet demonstration at Carnegie Hall arranged by one of those ephemeral things called "Artists' Front to Win the War," in October, 1942.

The American Way REACTIONARIES

To the Committee for Constitutional Government, Inc., I am indebted for sending me a short article written by Mr. Edwin L. Wiegand, Chairman of the L. Wiegand Company, Pittsburgh, Pa.

It struck a responsive cord because, even as is the case with Mr. Wiegand constantly I am being labeled a "reactionary" by those who do not look with favor upon the gospel of fundamental, constitutional Americanism that I preach in my column. I pass on Mr. Wiegand's sage comments with a second opinion: "Amend." He asks a question and proceeds to give it an answer that cannot be successfully challenged:

WHAT IS A REACTIONARY? I have recently been called a "reactionary" in connection with my efforts, in conjunction with others, to prevent taxes becoming excessively high.

The term "Reactionary" is standard equipment in Communist and Left Wing propaganda in which it is used extensively and with nauseating repetition as a term of opprobrium to be applied to those who resist Communist and Socialist propaganda.

I am proud to admit that I react violently against Communism, Socialism or any other form of Collectivism, from any source, in any degree of dilution, and under any disguise, whether promulgated by the Communist conspirators or by their "dupes," who put forward any part of the Leftist plans, ostensibly for the benefit of "Labor" or the "Masses" generally.

Did not the original Communist planners say that "The Communist World must be built by non-Communist hands?"

In the beginning (1848) there were obviously only a few zealots and they were therefore instructing their emissaries to secure "dupes" to do their work, more or less innocently or consciously, to cover their ostentation that they were looking after "Labor," the "Worker," the "Common Man," the "Masses," etc. All to bring on the "Brave New World," the "Century of the Future," the "New Order," and other such vague metaphors and euphemisms and veiled utterances, and such as to make tasty bait for the Government, for the Marxist Revolution and its concomitant violence which they did not dare to advocate openly and plainly. Had they done so, it would have warranted the label "dupes" so needed to extend the foul plot against freedom of the working man, of private enterprise and our political freedom itself.

Doubtless, Left Wing propagandists and their Marxist sources regard efforts to keep Government expenses and taxes from rising as "Conspiracy." Perhaps they mean "Counter-Conspiracy" or "Counter Revolution," which is so severely punishable in Communist dominated lands. Such punishment would like to impose here by perversion of our legislative processes, as has been so recently witnessed in the United States in the case of people selling books which threaten the Communist Government, or Communist newspapers. Since we are to be the least, is it not?

Communists, Fellow Travelers and Left Wingers are always enthusiastically behind legislative proposals to keep Government spending and taxes high and to raise them. The higher, the more progressive they hail them to be. Progressive? Yes, in the direction of Government bankruptcy so strongly urged by Marx and Lenin as the simple way to wreck the private capitalist world. Such things can be said to be progressive only in the sense that corrosion or a disease can be said to be progressive.

It seems to me that sincere and consistent opponents to Communists and their fellow travelers are really the seal of patriotism and true loyalty to our Country.

Mr. Wiegand, I believe, you will agree, has stated the case for the "Reactionary" most aptly. Anyone who has any respect for "The American Way" as launched by our Forefathers must share his pride in "Reacting" violently against Communism, Socialism, or any other form of Collectivism.

And if to oppose those "isms" catalogs me as a "Reactionary," I personally plead guilty without throwing myself upon the mercy of informed American opinion.

Most fervently I hope that on April 11, 1952, I and all the other "Reactionaries" will flock to the polling booths to elect representatives who are pledged to "react" violently against the subversive forces that are trying to destroy our free Republic and convert this nation into a slave dictatorship.

and Welles treated Miss MacDonald's letter with the aloof silence that was characteristic of such vicarious warriors.

The American Way

The letter to Miss MacDonald was signed by Sam Jaffe, chairman of the Artists' Front to Win the War. Chaplin's name stood at the top of the list, with the title of honorary chairman. Jaffe told Miss MacDonald that his front was organized to "support the President's stand on the urgency of a second front in 1942."

"Charlie Chaplin, our honorary chairman, will speak," Jaffe wrote, "along with Representative Elmer J. Holland, Jan Struther, Lillian Hellman, Carl van Doren, I. F. Stone, and Margo Orson Welles will preside." The "sponsors" named in the ensuing text included some notorious Communists and the usual tag-along names of fading "celebrities" who warred their old bones in the bleak rays of the Roosevelt smile at some sacrifice of their dignity.

"We beg you to add your name as a sponsor," Jaffe wrote. "The cause is great and the moment is critical. I know that Charles Chaplin, Helmut, Carl van Doren, I. F. Stone, and Margo Orson Welles will preside."

This letter bore at the bottom, left, the trademark of the United Office and Professional Workers of America, then a CIO Communist-front union, which, by the way, had received substantial endorsement from Marshall Field, the silly political pro who was then floundering in his Red paper, called PM, equally well-known as P. M. Identically, William Benton the Connecticut Senator now a candidate for re-election, was another forgoing father of this thing, as he died of his own poison after a loushous career.

Miss MacDonald's reply said: "Don't you think it presumptuous of your group to assume the role of Army leaders and war strategists? My husband, Captain Gene Raymond, is at present on duty in the Army Air Force, 97th Bombardment Group, in England. He participated in the brilliant raid over Dieppe and Rouen, and in all probability, in the most recent raid over Lisse."

"For Mr. Chaplin's son Gene as yet entertainer I have such profound respect that I have not yet given up hope that he will find it in his heart to go to England or even Russia where he could bring joy and laughter to soldiers returning, half-crazed and exhausted. Oh, what power to save lives within his grasp!"

Chaplin, however, did not find this within his heart. Miss MacDonald should have been able to foresee from the vaguest knowledge of the man's nature, which will be scrutinized by an old acquaintance, Rupert Hughes, the author, in a later paragraph.

"As for Mr. Welles, Miss MacDonald continued, "I hope he will find it in his conscience to join our Armed Forces overseas. There he can actively participate in the great second front which he so patriotically advocates, and may God's blessings go with him."

Mr. Welles was informally reported to have been deferred in the draft for physical reasons, although that, of course, is a private matter. However, there were many opportunities for determined men as ferocious as Mr. Welles, in his testimony before the House Committee on Un-American Activities ran on as follows:

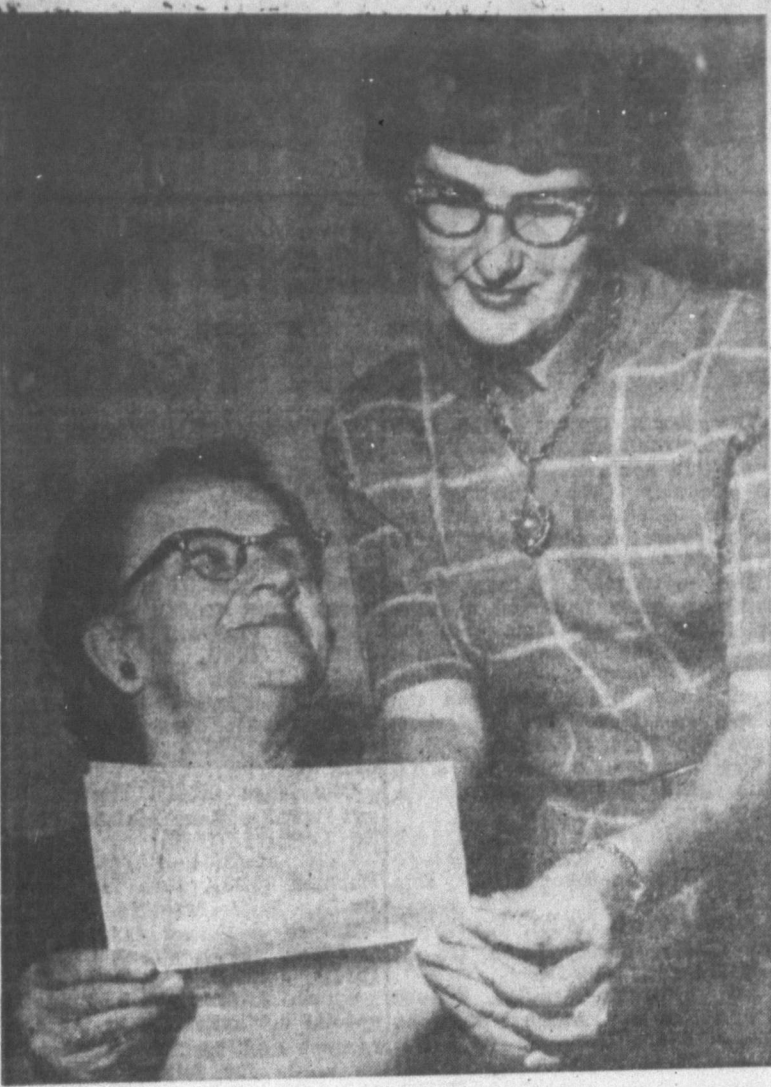

"Charlie Chaplin wouldn't go across the street to a USO entertainment during the war when Bob Hope and everyone was flying all over the country—wouldn't cross the street. I have known him since 1922. He was a Communist then and we fought Communism."

Parnell Thomas, the chairman of the committee, asked how a rich man who owed all his material success to a capitalist nation could become a Communist.

"Charlie was a very poor boy in the slums of London," Hughes replied. "His father apparently deserted his mother. She lost her mind and when Charlie was rich she came over here and died. He said a very pathetic thing: 'My mother went to the insane asylum fearing that I was dying of starvation. Now I am rich and famous but I can't tell her because she won't understand it.' He had great bitterness. Max Eastman, who is an anti-Stalinist and, I think, anti-Communist now, came out to live with Charlie. Charlie picks up culture through his glands. He hasn't read anything. He thought Communism was smart. I fought him for years. He thought it was the smart thing and all of them thought it was the intellectual thing to do. I said one time: 'Charlie, you are rich. The individual poor man can die of starvation on your doleplate and you would kick him off.'

"He said: 'Yes, I have been poor. I hate the dirty unwashed.' He refused to appear on a program that would have brought $25,000 to $50,000 for the relief of starvation in eastern Europe. Forty cents would save a child from dying for one week. I said: 'But, Charlie, if you don't come up, we won't get the money.' He said: 'Oh, if they would only recognize the Soviet government.'"

Hughes wheeled and Chaplin stood just because he said personal appearances "embarrassed him."

More Beef Going To Market But Price Not Likely To Drop

By LAWRENCE N. ELDRED
 CHICAGO (AP) — There are a lot of beef cattle coming to market these days. Farmers are getting less money for them, too. But that doesn't mean the meat on your table is going to be very much cheaper.

The reason for this is that increased population boosts the demand for meat on the one hand. On the other, retail meat men say operating costs in meat processing and distribution are about 20 to 25 per cent higher than a year ago.

For instance, on July 1 farmers had some 1,900,000 beef cattle on feeding programs in the corn belt. That was the most since World War II and about 15 per cent above a year earlier.

Farmers intended to market the smaller nationalities. And they certainly think today that what they conceive to be the general Russian "character" is largely responsible for the excesses of the Soviet government both at home and abroad.

Ask them formally and they will say what Truman said, but it's not what they mutter into their beer mugs or teacups.

As for Mr. Zarubin's statement, in one part of it was technically correct, and in another a blatant lie.

If he had substituted the diplomatic term "correct" for the term "friendly" relations, in that part of his statement, he might have had some ground to stand on. Russia does want to keep the ground clear for whatever twist in international relations which will contribute the greatest momentary benefits to her campaign for ultimate world domination, and that includes lulling the world into a sense of false security, if she could, which would help her on the day when she might decide the benefits could be secured through actual war.

As for the new ambassador's statement that Russia does not conduct a hate campaign against America, it is such a trite lie as hardly is worth discussing. The American ambassador in Moscow has refused to go to a great public celebration because the streets are lined with the outrageous posters designed to make the people fear and hate America. And they are the least weighty factors of the campaign.

By next Wednesday, in the same three months, the biggest numbers of cattle off grass on the ranges and pastures came in to market.

The peak now appears to have been reached the week of Sept. 13, when beef production went to some 15 million pounds, the largest beef bulk in three years.

Almost week for week and month for month all year, cattle runs have been heavier than last year. Not all of it went directly to butcher counters, however. By the end of August, storage stocks of beef totaled nearly 158 million pounds, just about double the five-year average.

This removal of supplies from trade channels, combined with continuing strong public demand for beef, helped maintain prices fairly steady all year, although on a slow decline compared with a year ago.

Starting at the stocker and feeder level, the young cattle off the range which go into corn belt feed lots for fattening for market, prices are averaging about $7 a hundred pounds below a year ago at the Chicago market. The average for the eight principal stocker and feeder markets is down about $9, with western markets like Denver, Fort Worth and Oklahoma City selling more than $19 lower.

Fed beef steers at Chicago, however, are only $4.00 or $5.00 lower on the average than a year ago and even some of that decline can be attributed to a falling off in average quality.

In August last year, the best grade beef steers accounted for nearly 43 per cent of the number sold for slaughter. Choice grade, the second best, was under 44 per cent.

This proportion has settled back somewhat this month. Prime grade last week averaged 28 per cent compared with 36 per cent a year ago while choice grade was 58 per cent compared with less than 52 per cent a year ago.

In the wholesale beef trade, when the steers have been slaughtered and tinned into beef carcasses, prices continued a little under a year ago. Choice, and $56.40 to $61 while in the last two weeks they have been running around $53 to $56.50 a hundred pounds.

Diplomats Say Many Things They Cannot Mean, Defend

By J. M. ROBERTS JR., Associated Press News Analyst

Why do diplomats say so many things they don't mean? When the new Russian ambassador arrives in Washington he says "his country is striving to maintain friendly relations with the United States. He flatly denies that his government is waging a "hate campaign" against America.

Coldly unbending, but applying the technique which is common to foreign offices at sewing circles, President Truman replies that the people of the United States have only the friendliest feelings for the peoples of the Soviet Union.

The President, of course, can defend his statement better than can Mr. Zarubin. Americans frequently express a certain sympathy for the Russian people, trying to make a distinction between them and the hated Soviet government. Actually, unless this sentiment is expressed by the well-traveled or better educated, it usually has a hollow sound. The people, as politicians think of them en masse, usually display suspicion, of all foreign peoples except maybe Canadians, Australians and a few other of BEAUTIFUL DAM SITE—Scenic beauty surrounds Montana's newest lake—a man-made body of water slowly rising behind newly finished Hungry Horse dam in the northwestern part of the state. This aerial view shows the dam and the reservoir behind it. When filled the reservoir will extend 34 miles up the south fork of the Flathead River. It will be approximately 500 feet deep at the dam, up to three and a half miles wide and will store about 3,500,000 acre-feet of water.

Canadian Bridge Is Stalled Again

CANADIAN (Special)—With the huge steel I-beams in place on 16 of the 36 spans, work on the highway bridge over the Canadian River is again threatened with a shutdown.

Welding crews of the Atsugi Bridge Company still have about 30 days of work welding in braces and tie beams, but unless more steel arrives there will be nothing more they can do.

Although the remainder of this steel was promised for delivery in time to prevent any further delays in construction, no actual shipping date has been set. The mild weather of last winter got the big construction job off to a good start and the new bridge might even now be in use had no difficulty in obtaining steel arisen.

The new bridge when completed will remove a rather serious bottleneck on U. S. Highways 60 and 83. However the old bridge is still serving the traffic and fewer tieups have occurred this fall than usual because the flow of combines over these highways is much less than usual.

Gilbert And Sullivan Opera Expands In American Theater

NEW YORK (AP) — The field of Gilbert and Sullivan operas is being considerably expanded on Broadway and on tour this season. Two national companies and scores of local troupes are beginning preparations for engagements which will extend well into next spring.

New singers in the savoyard operas are finding opportunities to be heard professionally as established companies are dividing and new companies are appearing.

Both the freshmen and the veteran Gilbert and Sullivan singers are reporting to producers with the eager mien of the character of Sir Joseph Porter in "H.M.S. Pinafore" when, in that role, Marilyn Green chanted:

"I wore clean collars and a brand - new suit.
 "For the pass examination at the institute."

The first of the national companies to be heard will be S.M. Chartock's American Gilbert and Sullivan Company, which will include Marilyn Green, Ella Halman and several other singers from the British D'Oyly Carte Opera Company in its cast.

Except for these, the principals and singing ensemble will be American singers.

"The first tour of this company," Chartock said as he started rehearsals, "has been booked for 40 weeks.

"We will do 'The Mikado' 'The Pirates of Penzance,' 'Iolanthe,' and a double bill of 'Pinafore' and 'The Pirates of Penzance.'

"We will come back and repeat those bills in some of the key cities. Right now this troupe is booked 40 weeks a year for the next four years. During those years, we will play in at least 44 states. The tours are being planned under an arrangement with the American Heart Association, which will share in the profits."

Dumas Pounds Irishmen 26-0

SHAMROCK — A near capacity crowd of 3,000 fans watched the Shamrock Irishmen absorb their third loss in four starts this season here Friday night as the powerful Dumas Demons steamed to a 26-0 victory.

Powered by hard hitting Pat Mowrey, the Demons led from the first quarter. Although Mowrey did most of the leather-lugging, it was halfback Keith Nixon who got the scoring glory as he countered three touchdowns and booted two extra points.

Mixon opened the scoring in the first quarter, ramming over from 18 yards out and then booting the extra point. A short while later he punched over from the three and converted. Mowrey set up the second scoring spree with a lot of hard ball.

In the second quarter Nixon again scored, this time bulging across from the 1-yard line but failed to convert.

The final touchdown for the Demons came in the last period when Joel Lummus going 10 yards.

The Irish appeared to have one touchdown in the third period on a pass from Jack York to Norvel Perkins, but a penalty nullified the score. Never again was the Green and White able to do any good.

A desperate aerial attack by the Irish, with York doing the passing, failed to do much good despite the fact that the Irish completed about 33 percent of the aerials.

White Sox Sew Up Third Place

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox Saturday defeated the St. Louis Browns, 8-4, to clinch third place in the American League, their highest ranking since 1941, when they also finished third.

Minnie Minoso, the Sox left fielder, stole three bases to tie in Rivera, Sox center fielder, for the league lead at 21.

Joe Dobson went to the rescue of starter Merv Grissom in the eighth when the first three threatened an uprising. Jim Dyck clouted Dobson for a double to score two runs but Dobson got the next three hitters out.

Kiner Ties Homer Race With Sauer

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ralph Kiner moved into the fifth with Hank Sauer for the National League home run leadership Saturday as the Pittsburgh Pirates rallied for five runs behind to beat the Cincinnati Reds, 9-6.

Just before the game Manager Billy Meyer of the Pirates announced he was resigning after this season. Kiner's 37th homer came in the seventh when he, Joe Garagiola and Gus Bell hit successive circuit blows.

Cyclones Top Lefors Pirates

MEMPHIS — The Memphis Cyclones, truly one of the AA powerhouses of the 1952 season, rolled over the strong Lefors Pirates of District 1-A here Friday night, 27-0.

The Cyclones, scoring in every quarter, displayed tremendous ground power for their 2,500 partisan fans who saw Memphis rack up its third straight victory. For the Pirates it was the first loss after defeating Sunnett last week end.

The Pirates made but one serious scoring threat, that in the third period when they pushed to the Memphis 5-yard line but were halted there.

The Cyclones scored in the first quarter with Harvey Kennedy going left tackle for nine yards and then converting. The Cyclones continued their every-period scoring with Duane Miller drove over from the two and Kennedy again converted.

In the third quarter it was Davey Corley who went over from the two and in the fourth quarter Miller again showed the ball across from the two and Kennedy converted.

Next week end the Pirates move to Clarendon to face the potent Bronchos.

Phillies Whip Giants, 7-3

NEW YORK (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies snapped New York's four game winning streak as Paul Stuffel and Kent Peterson teamed up and pitched the Quakers to a five-hit, 7-3 triumph over the Giants Saturday.

Home runs by Del Emsis and Bill Nicholson featured the Phil attack. Emsis whacked his 20th with one on and Nicholson banged his fifth with the bases empty in the ninth. Ralph Caballero drove in the winning runs.

Stuffel, a promising righthander, worked the first five innings and granted four hits and seven walks. Peterson, former Cincinnati left-hander, blanked the Giants over four hits to preserve Stuffel's first major league victory.

Rookie Mario Picone started for the Giants and was tagged with the loss. Hoyt Wilhelm's 71st appearance, breaking a Giant pitching record set by Ace Adams in 1943.

Senators Nip Red Sox, 3-2

BOSTON (AP) — A two run, base-loaded single by Jim Busby in the second inning gave the Washington Senators a 3-2 win over the Boston Red Sox and sole possession of fifth place, dropping the Sox to sixth.

Bob Porterfield went all the way for his 13th win although he allowed 11 hits and gave up eight walks. The Red Sox left 13 runners stranded.

The Senators collected their three runs and five of their eight hits off starter and loser Dizzy Trout.

Washington had two injuries during the game with second baseman Baker retiring in the second with a spike wound and catcher Klutz leaving in the ninth with an injury to his left hand.

Faye Thorneberry was forced to withdraw in the Boston third with a pulled leg muscle and was replaced by Clyde Vollmer.

A crowd of 25,000 to 35,000 is expected.

Texans Open Up Season Today

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Texans, this state's first major professional football team, open the National League season here Sunday, meeting the club that's favored to win the American Conference but the game with the Giants counts in the championship standings.

A look at the Giants' roster might indicate that the club was not aptly named — it has almost as many Texans as the Texans' roster. Among them are a couple of Southern Methodist immortals, the great Kyle Rote and that passin' man of Southwest Conference history, Freddie Benner.

A crowd of 25,000 to 35,000 is expected.

Duncan Demons To Offer One Of Stiffest Tests To PHS

DUNCAN (Special) — It's difficult for a team to repeat an all-victorious season, but another all-winning year is the theme in the Duncan camp after the Demons of Coach Earl Presley rolled up 103 points in its first two 1952 outings for the highest mark in the state.

Chock full of outstanding backfield material, Duncan rolled to 38-0 and 65-13 victories over Waurika and Comanche respectively in the first two games. Both are class B schools and the first string hardly drew a second breath in each game.

The Demons beat Seminole 26-0 Friday night.

After the 1951 season, in which the Duncan won 11 games in a row and were picked as top team in Oklahoma by the Daily Oklahoman of Oklahoma City, fondest dreams were for another unbeaten year.

Since the 1952 season got underway that dream has become one of a reality.

With Dick Wilkins, a hard-running 172-pound senior fullback leading the powerful offense, even Duncan Coach Presley will admit that he has one of the best running machines he has ever coached.

The Demon bossman, now in his 10th season, has started his fourth year here and previously, he coached Frederick, Okla., to the state finals in 1947. That Frederick club was led by Bob Griffin and Bob Rhinehart, both of whom later starred for the University of Arkansas.

Duncan has scored 16 touchdowns in two games and only two have come via the air.

The touchdown passes were thrown by substitutes in the Comanche rout.

Co-captain Harold Howard and Billy Dean, two breakaway speedsters will be at the half-back posts and Johnny Harold Lowry, one of the better three-sport athletes in Oklahoma, will be the quarterback.

Green's Gossip

By HOGAN O'SNEAD

The Celanese boys are really ripping up the course. Martin Lantau rolled around with his best round this past week, a most 74. Bill Lemmons was playing with him and scored a one under par 70 while lanky Johnny Clark came in with eight pars on the last nine holes and really got sacked. B. T. Atkins also got into that foursome, too.

Today should really be a busy day at the country club. It's the day for the annual civic club tournament and about 30 fellows have indicated that they will participate this year. Last year we had more than that, but only about half of them finally showed up. Let's all get out to play. And even if you didn't register the first time, you can still play today if you're a civic clubber. Lots of fellows have made their first appearance in a year on the course this week.

Harvester golf Coach Weldon Trice threw in a double-bagle on No. 9 last week end, the first in the history of the course on that hole. And only one other has been shot here that we know about that in 1934 by Ben Farris, former shift foreman for Bell Refinery. He made his on the No. 5 hole on the Red Deer course.

Had several golfers go to Hereford this week. Floy Heath and C. F. McGinnis were on the program winning team while Johnny Forman and Orpha Mitchell's team tied for second and Grover Austin Jr. and Fern Parker tied for third; Forman, Mac Austin, Bulch Austin, Tommy Cox, James Sarber, Blister Carter and John Ramsay.

Heard that Ben Fallon had obtained a new putting weapon. That should be enough of a warning to a couple of his regular golfing buddies like Shorty Heiskell and Doc Kelley.

Ralph Gardner is out playing again. Glad to see you out and around.

Arid a final note to the anonymous letter writer: sorry, but Johnny Austin doesn't write this column.

Skellytown Wins Season's Opener

SKELLYTOWN — The Skellytown Junior High school opened its 1952 football season here last Thursday afternoon with a 27-0 victory over the Lefors Junior High gridders.

Coach Bert Isbell's youngsters, showing good ground power, scored in the first quarter and never were headed.

Gary Gosnell opened the scoring with a two yard plunge and Jody Willis ran the extra point across. Willis then pushed over from the three - yards out for the second touchdown and C. Noble drove over with the extra point.

In the second quarter Don Jones romped 35 yards to score the third Skellytown touchdown. The best run of the game came in the second half as Willis took the opening kickoff and raced 80 yards through the Lefors defense to score. Gosnell ran the extra point over to complete the scoring.

Gosnell, Willis, Jones and Noble all looked very good on offense while defensive guards Bobby Johnson and Lloyd Marlar and the linebacking of Gosnell and Noble stood out.

The Skellys' next game is Oct. 9 when they play the White Deer Junior High in the first conference game at 7:30 at White Deer.

McLean, Wheeler Battle To Draw

WHEELER — The McLean Tigers came roaring back here Friday night to gain a 13-13 tie with the Wheeler Mustangs.

The Mustangs, members of district 2-B, scored twice in first quarter and then held still while the Tigers tied the count in second half.

Elmer Clements score the first touchdown on a first quarter pass play and Clarence Whittenburg converted. Later in the first quarter Clements scored again on a running play but Whittenburg failed to convert.

In the third quarter the Tigers found paydirt as Farrin went off tackle for a touchdown and Smith converted. The Tigers tied it in the fourth quarter when Farris scored again, but Smith missed the all-important extra point.

FORT WORTH — In one of the upsets of the schoolboy week end, the Paschal Panthers upset the Amarillo Sandies here Friday night, 6-0. The favored Sandies were unable to penetrate the Panther line to score. The best threat was in the first quarter when they moved to the Paschal 10 before the Panthers threw up an unpenetrable line.

The lone score of the game came in the final period.

Paschal dominated the offense throughout, piling up 11 first downs to four for the Sandies, 145 yards rushing to 75 for Amarillo and 15 yards passing to two for the Sandies, who have yet to win their first game of the season.

Tech Stadium Due Enlargement

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas Tech's directors, in Houston to meet "business with pleasure," met Saturday for the first time since Dr. E. N. Jones took over as president.

Members, with last night's football game against Rice very much on their minds, brushed through minor business in 40 minutes with Leon Ince, Houston, as acting chairman. Chairman Charles G. Thompson, Colorado City, failed to appear.

Dr. Jones, who took over the presidential reins Sept. 1, asked newsmen to leave midway in the session.

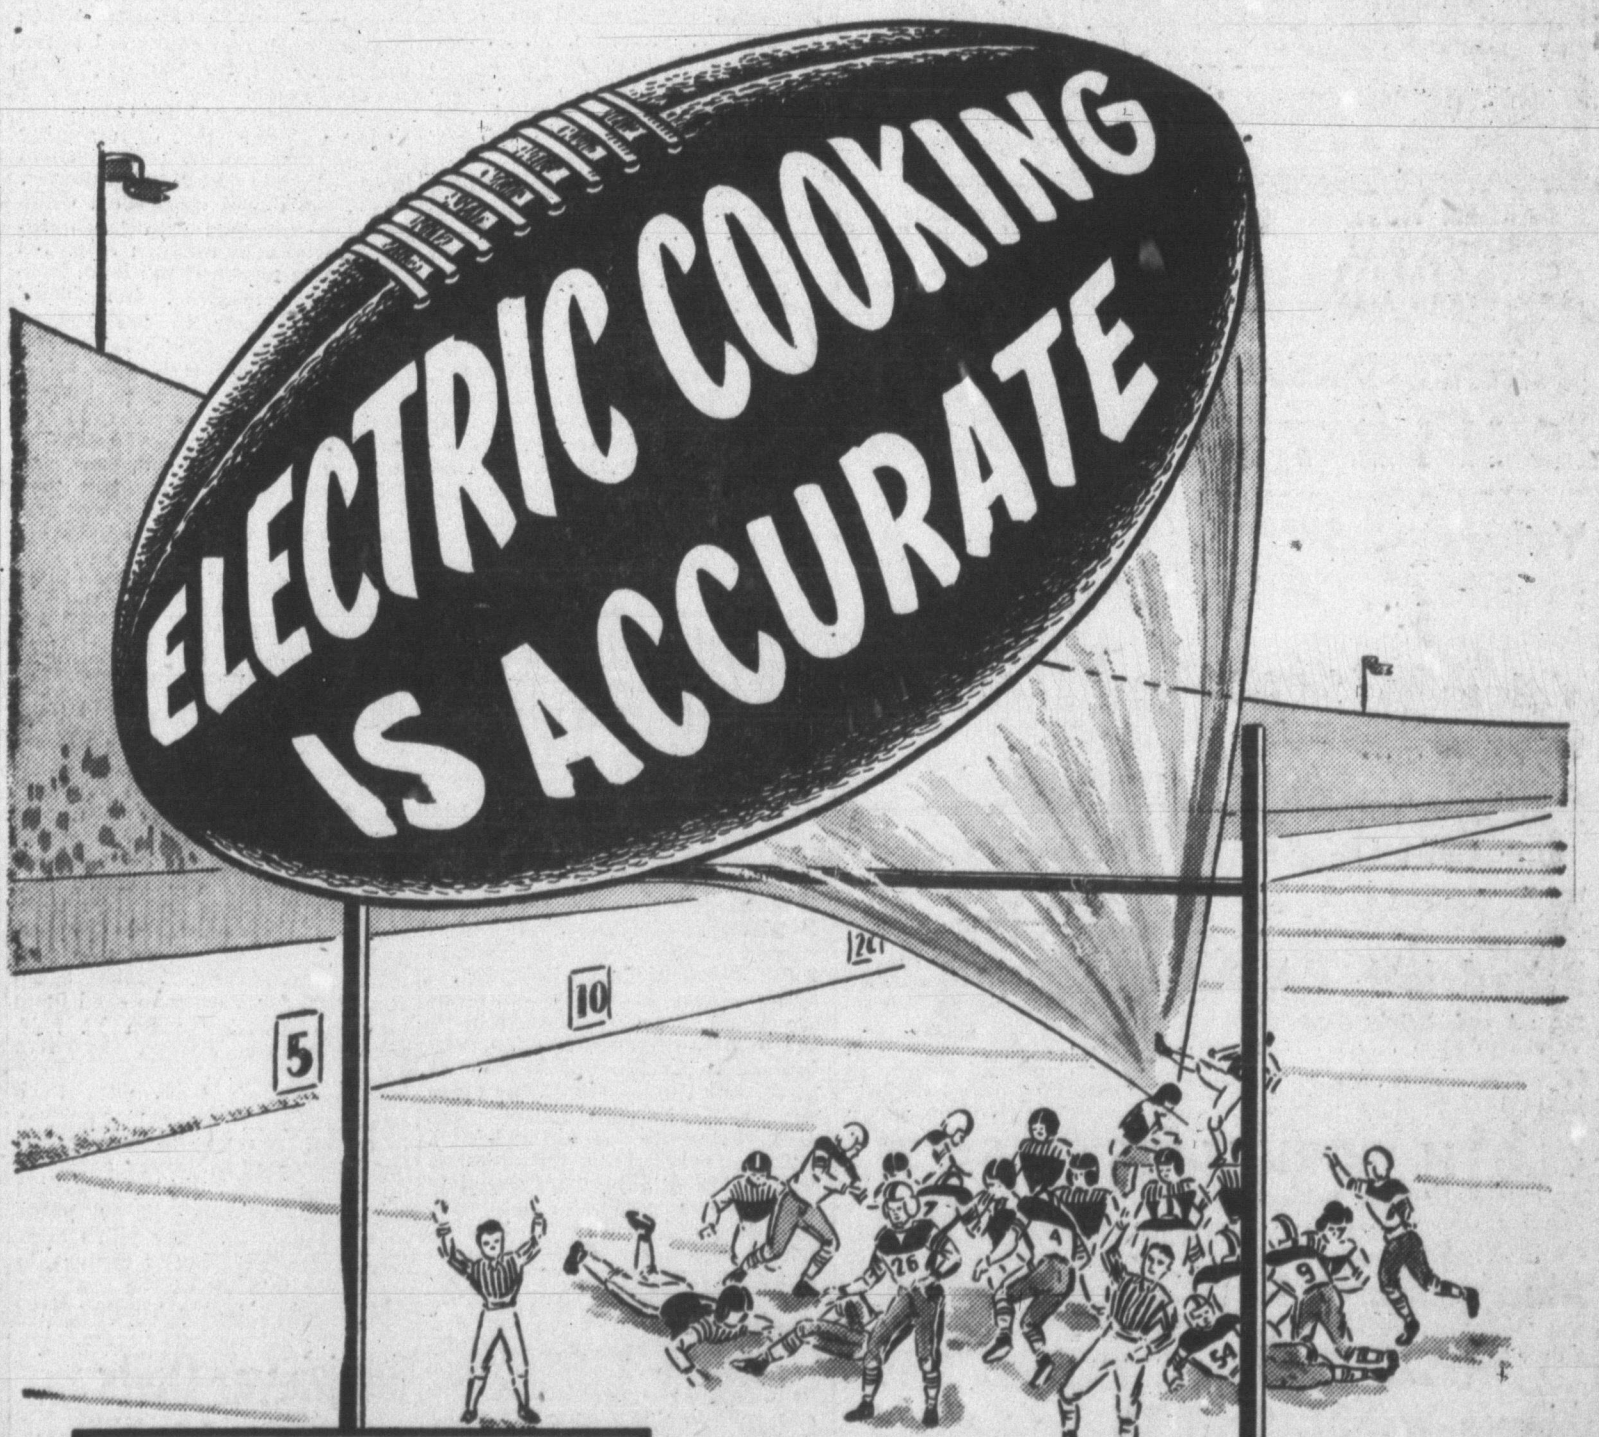

"I'm still new at this job," he explained. "There are certain things I want to discuss with the board in private."

Before going into closed session, board members heard a statement by Marshall Pennington, vice president and comptroller, that the Red Raiders' stadium may not be enlarged from 22,000 to 30,000 seats as planned. He said it was doubtful that necessary approval by the National Production Authority can be obtained.

Dr. Jones reported enrollment for the fall term will exceed 5,000, compared with 4,906 last fall.

Statistics Used By Methodist Group To Boost Donations

Approximately 20 per cent of the church membership carries 80 per cent of the financial load, since about 80 per cent have no record of payment to the church, it was revealed in a study made recently by the financial committee of St. Paul's Methodist Church.

The committee, now launching a financial campaign to build a complete new unit, has made an intensive study of the budget and pledges during the past three weeks.

A new site for the church has been bought at Hobart and Buckler, a new parsonage is now under construction, and plans for a new educational building and fellowship hall to be under construction by next July are being made.

The building, formerly at 1810 Alcock, was to be moved this week, and is to be remodeled for use until the building program can get underway.

A Sand Chemical Used In Apparel

Silicones — a new family of chemicals based on silica, the primary component of sand — are now being applied to acetate fabrics by the textile chemist as a possible answer to the consumer's demand for useful as well as decorative properties in apparel.

This was the theme of a paper presented Friday to the annual convention of the American Chemical Society. Organized by Norman Van Gorder and Marshall Duke, research chemists at the Summit, N.J., central research laboratories of Celanese Corporation of America.

In addition to properties like durability, non-shrinkage and stability, the paper said, "the consumer also expects recovery from wrinkling and crushing, drapability and hands ranging from billowy, and a rich variety of a light crisp rustle in a taffeta, a soft pliant fullness in a satin to a full crisp body in a suiting."

Russ Appear To Be Digging In Feverishly For Economic Siege

With its fifth five-year plan, the Soviet Union gives the impression of digging in for an economic siege, building feverishly for a day of reckoning perhaps still far away.

In outlining the measures to be accomplished in the 1950-55 period, the Russian text of the five-year plan uses the words "to insure the country against any accident." It seems a meaningful phrase.

The five-year plan, published recently for approval by the All-Union Communist Party congress next week, actually has been under way almost a year and a half. The party congress, meeting Oct. 5, simply will rubber stamp the plan.

Its major aims already are known to the non-Soviet world: ambitious goals for heavy industry, coal, steel, cast iron, oil, electric energy and the like. These goals are looked upon as a Soviet effort to reach economic equality with the United States.

Lesser-known aspects of the plan contain a detailed story of the drive in all sections of the population to expend the utmost strength for the might of Moscow. The plan goes into detail, even to the amount of milk a cow must yield, the amount of wool a sheep must produce, the number of piglets expected from a sow — all in given areas.

McLean To Be Host For Area Masons

McLean (Special)—The McLean High School Press Club has chosen LaVerne Williams as editor of the school yearbook, The Turnblue.

To complete the staff Donna Stubbfield will serve as assistant editor; Gale Plummer, business manager; and Roy Norvell, staff photographer.

Miss Betty Lynch, business administration teacher, will sponsor the group, and she and the staff will attend a yearbook conference in marillo Saturday. The conference will be held in the Amarillo Junior College and is one of several such conferences conducted by representatives of the News Photo Publishing Company of San Angelo for schools under contract with them.

Town Is Moved For New Diggings

RUTH, Nev. (AP)—This little Eastern Nevada copper town is to be moved so miners can dig beneath it.

John C. Kinnear Jr., manager for Kennecott Copper Corp., here, said half the town will be shifted to a new site not far away by next summer.

The other half will be moved the following year.

The town of "New Ruth" will be modern in every respect, he said, with wide streets, ample landscaping, a theater, hospital and other facilities.

Sixty-nine buildings are marked for immediate removal and several new buildings are to be constructed.

But the transition is farther away than ever. There is no sign whatsoever of the promised "withering away of the state." The state gets more powerful daily, but the workers will be told great strides have been made and the speed of transition depends on them.

The five-year plan also is to be a "patriotic" undertaking to guard the state against enemies but the workers will be told abroad and at home. Fear of a new war is being used to whip the people uncomplainingly into great production efforts.

Abroad, the five-year plan will be a keystone in a renewed Soviet trade offensive. In the words of the text, it will "contribute to further securing a developing collaboration of the Soviet Union and countries of People's Democracy (Communist satellites) with all countries wishing to develop trade on the basis of equality and mutual advantage."

There will be no equality for the satellite countries, however. The captive countries, too, are to be whipped into this production campaign with great vigor, for the advantage of the Soviet Union, while Moscow propaganda insists it is bent only on "peaceful development of the Soviet economy."

What is this peaceful development? There will be expansion of hard-surface roads, but hardly for civilian traffic, since that is held deliberately to a low level not relish taking such chances.

Danny Thomas Talks A Lot But Not Like A Movie Star

By JAMES BACON
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Danny Thomas is one of the town's most glib personalities but he still doesn't sound like a movie star.

In fact, I never thought I'd ever hear any actor admit that his co-star was responsible for the box office success of a movie. But then Thomas is still new to this business of movie stardom.

Danny recently teamed with Doris Day in "I'll See You in My Dreams," a movie which rated the industry's supreme accolade — socko box office.

The picture, in which Danny played song writer Gus Kahn, grossed $182,000 one week, reportedly the record for a week's business any place, any picture. How does Danny explain this?

"Doris Day brought in 60 per cent of the business. The other 40 per cent came from word of mouth."

Danny also hinted his relatives and friends all saw the picture several times.

"For some reason," he said, "the people who like me keep coming to see me over and over again. A couple of years ago, I opened my nightclub act in Chicago with $18,000 worth of new material. I spoke one line — about two licks worth — and the customers all started hollering for 'The Walling Syrian' and all the other routines I had been doing for years."

About the word of mouth business of "dreams," Danny expounded.

"Here was a musical picture that was successful because it was believable."

Take that scene where my wife goes to the hospital for the birth of our baby. I'm not there when I should be because I run across another song writer in a restaurant. I stay out all night writing a song and don't get to the hospital till after the baby is born.

"I come to the hospital room. I want to tell my wife how much I love her. But what audience would go for tender love words coming from a song writer with an ugly puss like mine?"

"So what do I do? I tell her I love her by singing the song

"It Had to Be You" in the little hospital room.

"When I start, does a 60-piece symphony orchestra suddenly break out of nowhere to accompany me? Do I sing like this?"

Danny then broke out into a bellowing imitation of some tenor who never quite made the Met.

"No," Danny answered himself. "I sing it just like any other ordinary guy who's alone with his wife in a hospital room and who's been out all night."

"Don't forget, even Lanza doesn't sound so hot when he's been up all night."

Danny even waived the traditional movie practice of pre-recording the song for this particular scene.

"I wanted this to sound absolutely real," he said, "and it did."

Although the comedian may not think too highly of his box office appeal, the Warner Brothers apparently disagree. Else, they wouldn't have starred him in the remake of "The Jazz Singer," a movie dear to the collective hearts and pocketbooks of the brothers.

Fifteen Elected By Moose Lodge

Members of the Pampa Lodge of Moose Tuesday night elected 15 candidates to the order who will be initiated in special ceremonies at Borger on Sept. 29.

The special ceremonies will be held on a Panhandle-wide level with candidates from Borger, Pampa, Amarillo, Dumas and Clarendon being accepted into the fraternity.

Earl F. Miller, governor of the Pampa lodge, said all candidates are being asked to report to the local lodge rooms, 401 E. Brown, by 7:30 p.m., Monday when transportation to Borger will be provided for them.

It was announced that weekly lodge meetings have been resumed for the winter season and will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the lodge auditorium.

Cobalt Disk Nearly Ready For Texas

HOUSTON (AP)—A cobalt disk, about the size of a silver dollar, for two years has been absorbing energy in Canada's atomic stockpile.

Early next year, that disk will be placed in a vault in the basement of the new building of the University of Texas M. D. Anderson Hospital for Cancer Research in the Texas Medical Center.

Since the cobalt 60 unit throws out rays of 1.25 million volts, the concrete walls of the vault are four feet thick. The "60" refers to the place of cobalt in the atomic elements and describes the nucleus of cobalt.

The Canadian government has advised the American Atomic Energy Commission the cobalt disk is now ready for shipment to Oak Ridge. The disk will be shipped here early next year.

The cobalt 60 unit at Anderson Hospital will be the third in the world, Director R. Lee Clark said. Dr. Clark pointed out:

"In radio-activity, the cobalt 60 is equivalent to 30 million dollars worth of radium. The Anderson unit was designed by Dr. Gilbert Fletcher, head of the department of radiotherapy at Anderson Hospital, and the late Dr. Leonard Grimmett, an English physicist who was at Anderson. Their design won a competition sponsored by the Atomic Energy Commission."

Dr. Clark pointed out cobalt is one of the "hottest" metals in absorbing radio-activity. The cobalt disk energy source of the cobalt 60 will retain its strength five years.

The cobalt 60 will be used to treat lesions of the head, neck and breast, but in addition will have the equivalent use to that of a multi-million volt X-ray machine.

"Its principal benefit will be in the economy of its operation and in the maneuverability of the machine," Dr. Clark said.

The cobalt 60 unit cost around $150,000. Main contributors, other than the Anderson Hospital, were the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund, the American Cancer Society and the first Shamrock Charity Bowl Game here.

The cobalt 60 will be a boon to Texas cancer sufferers, Dr. Clark predicted.

"The new Anderson Hospital will have some of the most modern radiation equipment in the world," Dr. Clark said. "Obviously, the anti-radiation safeguards also are outstanding."

"Once we are in our new hospital building, with all its modern equipment, we should be able to benefit materially at least one-half of our patients, provided we get them in early stages of cancer," Dr. Clark said.

City Building Sets Fast Pace Over '51

With only three days remaining in the third quarter of 1952, Pampa has almost doubled its amount of building permits over the full three-quarter period of 1951.

As of today 718 building permits have been issued by the engineering department, 368 of them new homes. By Sept. 29, 1951, only 445 building permits were issued.

The total value of the permits issued this year to date stands at $4,007,946. For the full period last year the value stood at $2,169,020.

The new residence record for any previous year came in 1950 and 1951 with 219 each — and, that was for the full 12 months period.

In 1950 the city hit 596 building permits totaling $4,208,993 in value. The previous year, 1949, saw 590 permits issued for a grand total of $3,934,837. Those two years were helped by such new structures as Highland General Hospital, The Hughes Building, Pampa's two banks, The Pampa Daily News, and several churches.

This year's permits were mostly small structures, mostly new homes and remodeling.

McLean Press Club Names Paper Staff

McLEAN (Special) — Don Alexander, master of the McLean Masonic Lodge, has announced that the Association of Masters and Wardens will hold its fall meeting at McLean Sept. 29.

The Shamrock lodge will be special guests at this meeting. The guest speaker will be Garland (Cotton John) Smith of Amarillo. Alexander urges all local Masons to be present and invite members of other communities to be present. The meeting is due to be convened at 7 p.m. in the Masonic Lodge Hall.

Evans said he believed the city would exceed $5,000,000 in new building by the end of the year. This would be an all-time record for new building here.

LOST 33 POUNDS WITH THIS HOME RECIPE

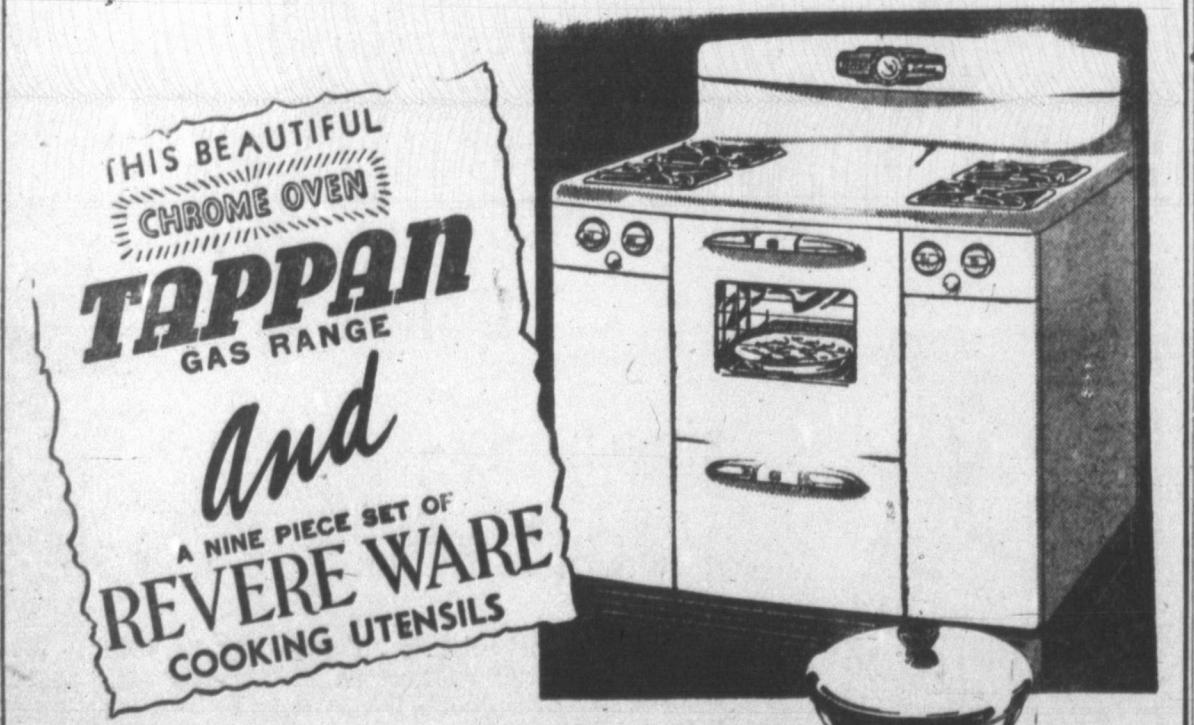

Barcetrane is the original grapefruit juice recipe for taking off ugly fat. It's simple. Just go to your drugstore and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcetrane. Pour into a pint bottle. Add 12 ounces of grapefruit juice. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves—if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. No starvation diet the Barcetrane way.

LOST 33 POUNDS
"I cannot praise Barcetrane enough," writes Mrs. Lela Butler, 218 Washington Ave., Waco, Texas. "It has done wonders for me. I don't have that tired, worn-out feeling any more. I weighed 110 pounds when I started to take Barcetrane. I now weigh 127."

PROCLAMATION

By virtue of my office, I hereby proclaim the week September 28 - October 4, National Business Women's Week. I urge citizens of Pampa to cooperate with the Pampa Business and Professional Women's Club in its plans to observe this week.

Theme of the special week is "The Ramparts We Build." Professional women have shown us many times before their capabilities. Their pioneer qualities are not just something we would like to have; it is a quality we must all have if America is to continue as a great, free and democratic country.

The work of this organization — to help build an ever progressing, ever improving country, with both men and women doing their part, should have the support of all. During this coming week, let's all hold to "The Ramparts We Build" so thoroughly that it will carry forward all year and every year.

MISS JUNE MCGINNIS

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. McGinnis announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, June, and Mr. Donald A. Stone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Stone of St. Francis, Kans. The double-ring ceremony is to be solemnized November 26 in the First Baptist Church with Rev. E. Douglas Carver officiating. The bride-elect attended Pampa schools, and Mr. Stone is a graduate of St. Francis High school and Kansas State College. The couple is to reside in Amarillo.

MRS. FRED WILLIAM CULLON

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Cullon At Home Here Following Home Wedding In Lefors

LEFORS (Special) — In a single-ring ceremony solemnized September 22 in the home of her parents, Miss Barbara Ann Gee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gee of Lefors, became the bride of Mr. Fred William Cullon, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Cullon of Lamesa.

Rev. D. C. Lawrence, minister of the Lefors Church of Christ, officiated at the single-ring ceremony read before an altar decorated with bouquets of garden flowers.

Miss Betty Jo Rallins attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore a pink gabardine suit with navy accessories, and wore a baby blue carnation corsage.

The bridegroom's brother, Johnny Cullon of Lamesa, was best man.

The bride selected for her wedding a blue-check-suit of gabardine. She wore black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

She carried out wedding traditions of something old, new, borrowed and blue.

For the wedding, Mrs. Gee wore a navy blue nylon dress with white accessories. Bridegroom's mother wore an orchid sheer nylon dress with white accessories. Both wore white carnation corsages.

A reception followed the wedding. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Mark Johnson assisted at the reception.

The couple is now at home at 315 S. Ballard.

Mrs. Cullon attended the Lefors High school where she was a member of the FHA and pep squad.

Out-of-town guests from Vernon included the bride's grandmother, Mrs. W. R. Moore, an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Moore. Guests from Lamesa include the bridegroom's parents and brother, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Cullon and Donald.

Mrs. Bob Robertson Feted With Shower At Auxiliary Meeting

Mrs. Bob Robertson was complimented with a pink and blue shower following a recent meeting of the Episcopal Women's Auxiliary.

The meeting in the Robertson home was opened with a prayer by Mrs. Forrest Taylor, who later presided at a short business meeting and presented the program.

Mrs. Robert Futrell gave the devotional.

Participating in the courtesy for the hostesses were Mmes. Futrell Taylor, Paul Hinton, Bob Plummer, Edgar Henshaw, Walter Patzig, Clem Followell, Ken Baumgardner, G. F. Richmond, G. E. Neson, Carl Johnson and Ralph Hamilton.

Miss Jane Branson Feted At Luncheon

The Pine Room of the Schneider Hotel was the setting recently for a luncheon honoring Miss Jane Branson, who is to become the bride of Robert Frank Ward this afternoon. Hostesses were Mmes. J. Wade Duncan, Ivy B. Duncan, Frank F. Fata, J. Kirk Duncan, Ewert R. Duncan, and Miss Angela Duncan.

Miss Branson's chosen colors of rose-beige and toast were predominant in table decorations.

Wide toast satin ribbon, sprinkled with cut flowers, centered the length of the white cloth. Individual silver candleholders containing rose-beige and toast candles were used on the table and silver candelabra were used at the head of the table.

Two large silver bells, tied with toast satin ribbon, formed the nucleus for the centerpiece. Bells were filled with pink carnations. Individual pink flowers were attached to place cards, and a picture of Miss Branson was placed in each flower.

The honoree's corsage was of pink carnations and baby roses, and her mother, Mrs. G. F. Branson, wore a pink carnation corsage. Miss Branson was presented a gift by the hostesses.

Guests included Mmes. Fred H. Sloan, Luther Pierson, Lee W. Moore, Jr., Bob Curry, Dick Stowers, Roy Johnson, W. J. Haley, Harold Wright, H. J. Haslam, E. L. Campbell, T. A. Parkins, H. Rayburn Thompson, and Misses Elsa Plants, Joyce Warner, Albert Rader, Sara Parker and

Renewal Of Faith

Tomorrow is Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement. Judaism is a religion. Millions of followers of Judaism are scattered over the world. While they rejoice in the creation of the State of Israel, they are not and have no wish to be, its political citizens.

There are those of the Jewish faith who are Americans; there are those who are British, who are French, who are Belgians, and who are a great many other nationalities. They are loyal citizens. They are useful and valued members of their communities, just as are their neighbors of other faiths.

And on the occasion of Yom Kippur, these citizens of many lands will renew their allegiance to the faith of their fathers — to Judaism, which arose as a protest against ancient forms of idolatry — a protest against the cynicism and materialism which was denounced in the thunder of God from Sinai.

Yom Kippur marks the enth day of a new spiritual life for each individual among us — a renewal of faith. It is a personal experience. On this day we remind ourselves of the great commands handed down from the mount by Moses:

"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soul, and with all thy might."
"Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

This renewal of spiritual life will be the experience of the followers of Judaism everywhere. Millions of Americans will observe Yom Kippur. And there are followers of Judaism in every land on earth who will mark the day as holy.

So today, we here in Pampa, rededicate ourselves to the faith that never wavers; the faith that has stood for countless generations; the faith of Israel.

THE TIME HAS ROLLED AROUND again to say "Tis Autumn" and with autumn comes school and the starting of the club year. The Varietas Study Club opened its new year of club work with a buffet luncheon in the Jess Kirchman home with Mrs. Lee Harrah and Mrs. Otis Nace as co-hostesses. This year marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of the club and that seems to Peg to be some sort of record for a study club in Pampa. Of the original twenty-eight members, Mrs. Lee Harrah is the only one still a member of the club.

AND SPEAKING OF MRS. KIRCHMAN, reminds Peg that Bill Baldwin, (she's the former Marguerite Kirchman,) and their four and one-half-year old son, Scott, have been touring various countries in Europe on their vacation. Bill is a captain in the Air Force and is stationed at Bawington, England. They visited Frankfurt and Wiesbaden, Germany; Geneva, Switzerland; Brussels, Belgium; the French Riviera; and Paris, France. It must be wonderful to see all of these countries where so much history has been made in centuries past. The J. W. Garmans, who live on Charles, have been touring Europe also. Peg knows that both the Baldwins and the Garmans will have seeds of things to tell about their trips.

BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN staged an old-fashioned picnic at their "back to club" party Tuesday night in City Hall. The women went all-out in dressing up in old-fashioned costumes. Some of them wore bonnets with their long dresses, and some of them dressed in men's costumes and wore derbies. A trading post was set up with each member bringing an article to trade. You know, of course, that the B&PW is sponsoring the sale of derbies, top hats, and bonnets for Gray County's 50th Birthday Celebration, October 12-14. So-o.

Come on, come on, you citizens
And join the celebration,
Let's make this one of the finest
In the nation.
Come on you men and ladies fair
Buy your derbies and bonnets to wear.
There'll be three big days that we'll celebrate
So don't forget to remember that date!
OCTOBER 12-14

Over in Amarillo at the Tri-State Fair parade, a float sponsored by the Gray County 50th Anniversary Association, won first place in the non-commercial division. The float very cleverly consisted of oxen and cart in which "grandma, ma, pa, and all the kids" were riding. They all dressed in frontier style clothes. The Wade Thomassons and daughter, Wadene; Mrs. Gladys Robinson and daughter, Nina Ruth; and Mrs. Margaret Payne and children, Doug and Penny, rode on the float.

UNDERSTAND TOO that M. K. Brown, chairman of the Birthday Association, is arranging to have a few of the members of the first band in Gray County, known as "Snyder's Band," present for the celebration. They are C. P. Buckley, on the baritone; DeLea Vickers, on the clarinet; Tom Eller, on the snare drum; M. K. Brown, who plays the bass drum; Lee Newman of Shamrock, who plays the trombone; and John G. Hamilton, who is coming from Los Angeles, Calif., to play tuba. There were originally seventeen members of the band. Peg certainly would like to be in on their "jam session!"

SEEN AROUND TOWN: Mrs. Jimmy (Margaret) Thompson in a gray taffeta with a bolero and "beep" bow on the left side on the jacket. Of course, she was wearing that beautiful smile! Mrs. Farris (Dorothy) Oden, who now lives in Amarillo, driving down main street one day last week. Mrs. Dorothy Stalton talking to someone (didn't see who) in front of Creney's Wednesday.

FASHION EXPERTS REPORT a diversity of exciting new styles in sweaters this fall. Formal or informal, the sweaters will all be heavier and more coarsely knit. France and Italy favor the torso length in sweaters, with cat's paws and other decorative patterns providing surface interest. The open-necked look is popular, in both sweaters and blouses. For a quick and easy freshening in laundering your sweaters use a mild soap or detergent. Do take time to do a "spotting" job on badly soiled parts of collars and cuffs. Dampen the grubby spots first. Then apply a little soap or detergent, and rub gently with a nailbrush, so that the dirt will whisk away in the suds when you wash the whole garment.

PEG CONGRATULATES Mrs. Beverly Brandt Ross, daughter of the Stanley Brandts, for being granted a $100 speech scholarship at Texas Tech. Beverly, who lives in Lubbock and was a '49 graduate of PHS, was one of seven upper-classmen and five freshmen to share a $1,200 speech scholarship fund sponsored by nine individuals in Lubbock and the Texas Society for Crippled Children. She is a charter member of the National Thespian Society's Troop 1010, and was selected wing sweetheart of the Air Force ROTC in 1951.

HEARD THAT Minerva (who's "Tiny" to her home town) Hobart, daughter of the Fred Hobarts, has enrolled at Katharine Gibbs School in New York City. "Tiny" is a graduate of St. Mary's School at Raleigh, N. C., and received her degree from the University of Texas this summer. The only other Pampian that Peg knows of that attended Katharine Gibbs is Jeanne Chisholm, the Russell Chisholms' daughter. Jeanne, an efficient secretary, works for the Cabot Company.

HAVE RECEIVED some of the names of the ones pledging at Texas University. Jackie Gene Weathered, ACACIA; William Rex Campbell, Phi Kappa Alpha; James Warren Baldridge, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Marsha Anne Hopkins, Zeta Tau Alpha.

SEEMS THAT with fall here, weddings have slowed down somewhat. Quite a few pre-nuptial showers have been given recently for Janie Branson, who is marrying Bob Ward today, and Donna Washington of Lefors, who became the bride of Wayne Sims Friday. Peg has best wishes for these two and also Miss Elise Donaldson who became the bride of Mr. W. D. Waters, Thursday night.

MRS. PAUL LACY, the former Agnes Cunningham of Dallas, and her daughter, Bette, have been visiting in the home of their aunt, Mrs. W. D. Kelley, Agnes's brother, Benny, who has visited here in the past, is married now and is living in Wichita Falls. The Bob Campbells (Marilyn Hobart) and the Jon Leaks (Katheryn Homer) are also living in Wichita Falls.

SWIPED FROM The Ladies Home Journal: Couldn't resist copying this poem contributed to the Journal by Mrs. G. M. Comegys of Bethlehem, Pa. She stated that her grandmother's cookbook carried this original recipe, which Peg knows you will like.

Recipe for a Home
1/2 cup of friendship
Add a cup of thoughtfulness
Cream together with a
Pinch of powdered tenderness
Very lightly beaten
In a bowl of loyalty
With a cup of faith, one of hope
And one of charity.
Be sure to add a spoonful each
Of gaiety that sings
And also the ability to laugh
At little things.
Moisten with the sudden tears
Of heartfelt sympathy
Bake in a good-natured pan
And serve repeatedly.

Peg bets that this is one dish that she could serve every day that Mr. Peg and the little Indians would never tire of.
To wit, to wat, to who
I wonder if you can guess who, is

Skellytown Group Hostess To Panhandle Rebekah Lodge

SKELLYTOWN (Special) — Mrs. Edith Beighle presented entertainment at a recent meeting of the Skellytown Rebekah Lodge and Panhandle lodge group. Participating in the program were Russell Veal, Vernette Rose, Jan Albert, Annie Watt, Ann Lindley and Jean Jarvis. Fruit pie, ice cream and coffee were served to about 30 guests. The next Panhandle circle meeting is to be held in Pampa October 28.

MRS. WILLIAM DANIEL WATERS

Miss Elise Donaldson And W. D. Waters Wed In First Methodist Church Ceremony

An impressive ceremony read Thursday evening at 7 o'clock in the First Methodist Church chapel united Miss Elise Thomas Donaldson and Mr. William Daniel Waters in marriage. Rev. Tom M. Johnston officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Mrs. Roy Johnson presented an organ prelude which included "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach and "Vve Maria" by Schubert. "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life" was sung by Mr. Roy Johnson with Mrs. Johnson as accompanist. "The Lords Prayer" was played during the exchange of vows.

Baskets of orchid chrysanthemums tied with white ribbon were used against a background of palms. The altar was flanked by candelabra with white tapers. Miss Sharon Cook and Miss Carol Paxson were candlelighters. Miss Cook was dressed in a pink nylon net dress over pink taffeta, and Miss Paxson wore champagne nylon net dress over taffeta and both wore deep pink carnation corsages.

She and Tommy Thompson were ring bearers. She wore a pink nylon net dress over taffeta and wore a white carnation corsage. Rings were carried on satin-covered pillows outlined in lace.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of mist blue nylon net over blue taffeta. The fitted bodice featured shirring across the shoulders, and the shirring was duplicated in the three-quarter sleeves. The dress featuring a full skirt, was trimmed in blue net applied medallions, blue beads and cut-steel beads.

The bride wore a small blue velvet hat with side accent and with a sprinkling of rhinestones. Her only jewelry was a diamond wrist watch, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid surrounded by lily-of-the-valley and stephanotis. Immediately following the ceremony, the couple left for Colorado Springs where they are to spend 10 days at the Broadmoor. For traveling, Mrs. Waters wore a gray blue imported English tweed suit, styled in simple lines and featuring self-tone buttons. She wore brown accessories. After October 5, Mr. and Mrs. Waters will be at home at 1224 Christine.

Mrs. Waters is a piano teacher in Pampa and was educated at Tennessee Tech, Louisville Conservatory of Music and Peabody College in Nashville. She has taught in Tennessee and Kentucky schools. She is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas Donaldson, of Celina, Tenn., and is a descendant of Col. John Donaldson, who was the first settler of Nashville and who was the father of Mrs. Andrew Jackson.

Mr. Waters is a Pampa accountant and is formerly of Texarkana, Texas.

Council Of Europe Approaches One Of Its Most Delicate Issues

By J. M. ROBERTS JR., Associated Press News Analyst

The Council of Europe has now taken up one of the most delicate issues faced by the Atlantic community.

The General Affairs Committee of the Consultative Assembly has adopted a report criticizing the military concept that some territory of NATO members may have to be sacrificed at the beginning of a Russian offensive. The committee asked that NATO make regular reports to the council and give assurances that all members of the alliance would be fully defended.

Feeling over the issue has been intensified in recent days by remarks of Marshal Juin, the Frenchman who is commander of NATO ground forces under Gen. Ridgway. Juin, discussing Allied war games in Germany, said forces would eventually have to be extricated from delaying action there to be available for the main battle farther back, with the Rhine line obviously being considered the real front.

Newspaper commentators further complicated the issue by suggesting that under Juin's idea, North-western Germany, Northern Hol-

Polio Sets Record For Fifth Week

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis says for the fifth consecutive week the number of reported new polio cases has set a record.

The foundation in a statement yesterday said the U.S. Public Health Service recorded 4,180 new cases in the week ended Sept. 20, bringing to 35,601 the nationwide total for this year.

Last year, at a corresponding time, there had been 16,501 fewer cases.

It also was reported that this year's total already had made 1952 the second highest polio year on record and that the current incidence exceeded by 4,377 cases the number reported for a comparable period in the record 1949 epidemic.

As for any current extension of guarantees, the pact says an attack on one will be considered an attack on all. Strength, not policy, will determine whether and where an attack can be stopped.

Canadian Gets Paving

CANADIAN (Special) — After two years of delay, a street paving derivate within the next few days.

A $30,000 paving bond issue program is expected to get underway in June 1953, but delay in getting property owners agreed to solidly occasioned the postponement of the work.

Stuckey Construction Company of Wichita Falls, contractor on the street work as well as on the job of paving the approaches to the new Canadian River highway bridge, plan to start grading for the street work not later than next week. The company has just completed pouring of concrete roadway approaching the new bridge.

Several blocks of paving in the vicinity of the Baker School and the Hemphill County Hospital seem assured, and the plan is to pave wherever the property owners will sign up solidly for paving that will connect up with existing paving.

Bird Migration Doesn't Follow A Set Pattern

NEW YORK (AP) — A lot of moonlight will be shed this fall on the age-old mysteries of bird migration.

The trick will be accomplished by amateur and professional bird watchers who answer an appeal from experts at the Museum of Zoology, Louisiana State University, to train telescopes at the full moon and report the birds seen crossing its face during the fall migration period now underway.

A telescope of 19 power or more must be used, and one that shows the whole face of the moon.

Moon watching for this purpose, done widely for the first time in the last few years, already has yielded a amazing information.

George H. Lowrey Jr., curator of the museum, expects the observation of over 300 volunteers this fall to provide still further details. Sightings will be taken from Northern Canada to Southern Mexico and in 46 states of the union.

Writing in Audubon Magazine, Robert J. Newman, assistant curator at the museum, relates that Dr. Lowrey started the project in 1946.

Here are some of the things learned already:

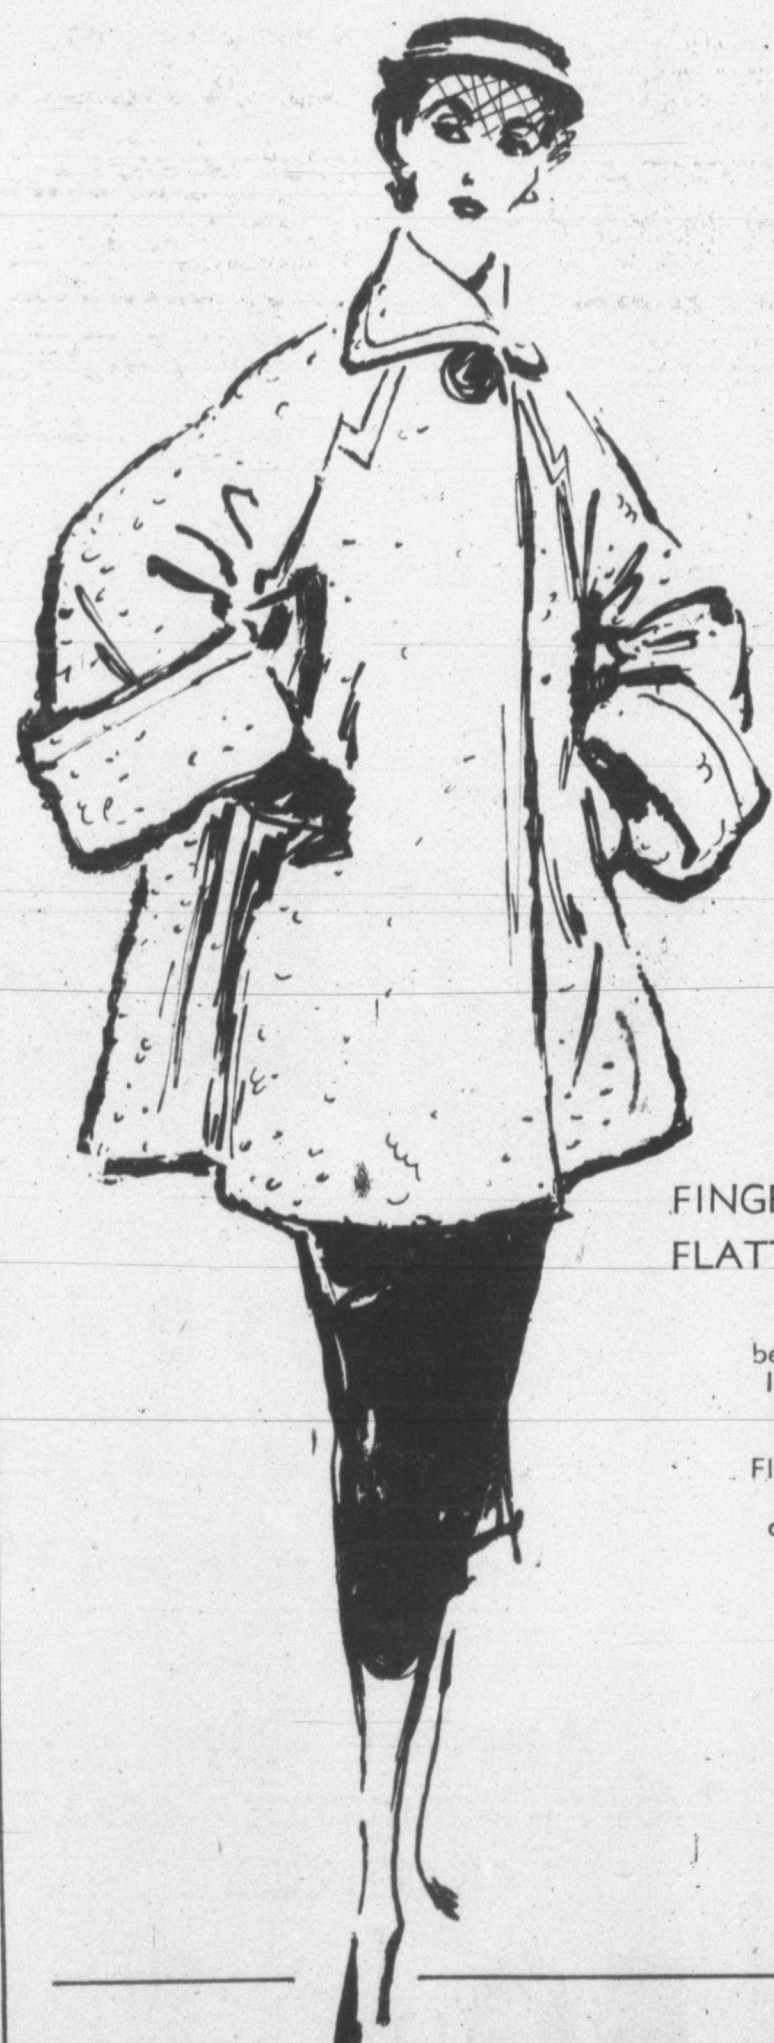

Florida is not the popular migration path supposed.

Rarely do birds fly in flocks at night.

Instead of migrating all night, or migrating just after sunset and before sunrise, birds seem to rest in early evening and before dawn, and fly the most around midnight.

Birds sometimes fly southward in spring, and tend to ride prevailing winds to their destination.

Dr. Lowrey's first objective was to determine whether birds actually cross the Gulf of Mexico on migration as long supposed or

Red Envoy Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Georgi Zarubin, new Soviet envoy to the United States, lost no time joining the Washington social whirl.

A few hours after he presented his credentials to President Truman Thursday, Zarubin attended a party at the Norwegian Embassy honoring Prime Minister Oscar Torp of Norway.

Zarubin impressed other partygoers as a more affable diplomat than his predecessor, Alexander S. Panyushkin. He chatted about such matters as his previous visits to the United States, his study of the English language, his previous assignments in Canada and England and non-controversial subjects.

Red Propaganda Permeates Burma

RANGOON (AP) — This "neutral" capital of Burma is the hottest spot of Communist propaganda in Southeast Asia. Two out of every three book-stalls splash extensively printed magazines extolling the glories of Stalin and Mao Tze-tung. Queues line up at the downtown King Theater, leased by the Soviet Embassy, to see Russian-made motion pictures. The Communist "peace dove" decorates the Rangson University magazine, published by students who recently elected a Red-dominated "Progressive party" slate in university elections. You can buy—and lots of Burmese are doing so—the special issue of "China Pictorial" featuring "irrefutable evidence concerning the use of bacteriological warfare by the American aggressors."

The United States so far has allocated 31 million dollars for economic aid to Burma in the form of machinery, materials and services of technicians. The United States Information Service library is fairly well attended and USIS technical training films are in demand. Much of this has been effective, particularly in winning the appreciation of some government officials, but in the streets among the masses, the Communists are far ahead of America in this propaganda battle.

Tons of literature, given away or sold, for a few cents, pour into Burma from Red China and the Soviet Union. The propagan-

Debbie Reynolds Just Loves Her Work AND Her Play

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Youth is a wonderful thing, and Debbie Reynolds is not wasting it. What other movie star spends a whole day on arduous dance routines for the movies and then spends her evenings jitterbugging at the Hollywood Palladium? Or averages three bananas splits a week? Or munches popcorn at swank Hollywood premieres? Jitterbugging was just about the extent of Debbie's dancing until she scored in "Singin' in the Rain."

She recalls how the front office told her to learn how to tap dance, that MGM was putting her in a picture with a couple of dancers. "Who are they," she asked. "Donald O'Connor and Gene Kelly."

"See you later," said Debbie. She studied and learned so well that she is now listed as one of the studio's most promising musical stars. Only two years out of high school, Debbie's previous musical background was blowing the French horn and twirling batons at the prep football games. Her "Singin' in the Rain" success got her another job dancing with O'Connor in "I Love Melvin" and with Marge and Gower Champion in "Give a Girl a Break."

So far, she has been pretty busy for romance, but it looks as if young Bob Wagner is No. 1 boy friend. She hinted that indirectly. "I think Gregory Peck is the greatest," she confided, extolling the various entertainers who "send her." Others: singer Billy Daniels and Les Brown's band. "I saw that man make love to Ann Blyth in a movie last night," enthused Debbie. "I just wilted. What a divine, gentle way he has of handling women!"

Then came her opinion of Wagner. "R. J. — her pet name for him — has the same way with women," she said, and then added: "On the screen, I mean."

Reds Splash Paint Around

By TOM REEDY

LEIPZIG (AP) — The Soviet zone sign painters have gone cuckoo at this year's Leipzig Fair. There's enough paint splashed around to make a paint manufacturer's dream of getting the concession rights.

This is "peoples' owned" paint, however, and the painters are Communist activists bombarding the fair visitor with their slogans. If he isn't blind he's likely to wind up with a glazed look after his encounter with the fresh paint display.

Top motif this year is the "build socialism" theme adopted by the rulers of East Germany early this summer, with Soviet approval. It is an all-out drive to turn the soviet zone into a purely Communist state in every respect.

The "build socialism" line is twisted around to fit all the propaganda of communism. Huge posters show brawny workers standing before their factories and the message is: "Workers, protect your factories from spies and saboteurs."

Other posters call on the workers to "defend socialism" in the spirit of Lenin and Stalin. The bossman of the paint crew devotes some time and thought toward making the real rulers—the police—seem more popular. Everywhere one sees posters showing the people's police and the civilian public "arm in arm" in "defense of the home land."

The fair itself tries to pretend it is a place for both East and West to get together. The paint brush crew lets the cat out of the bag, however, by devoting all its slogans to the East. In fact, the last sign one sees on the highway as he leaves Leipzig to return to Berlin, is that old favorite of propaganda chief Gerhard Eiseler: "Ami (American) go home."

The effort to impress the fair visitor with paint is directed largely at the people who are already supposed to be converted — the Easterners — and may be that itself is a sign of something or other.

There is a spate of posters showing the Chinese, North Koreans and Russians in friendly groups. The inscriptions are entirely in German. This is a departure from other years when there were many signs in English. The one big exception to the pattern of directing messages eastward is the collection of "peace and unity" slogans posted all over the place. These are aimed at West German visitors in an apparent effort to implant the idea that the East, and the Russians, want to unite the divided German nation, get foreigners out and rock along quietly into communism. As a selling point—the exhibition halls which do show some good machinery, tools and consumer goods, have signs bragging about this being the "first socialist fair" in Leipzig's 300-year history.

MODERN "BETSY ROSS"—Revered as the "Betsy Ross" of Puerto Rico is 79-year-old Manuela "Mimi" Besosa, who designed and sewed the first Puerto Rican flag 57 years ago. Now she's still on the job, getting a kick out of finally seeing the banner of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico flying side-by-side with the Stars and Stripes. The flag was officially raised on July 25 when the island celebrated the granting of its own constitution.

KOREAN CASUALTIES TOP POPULATION OF BIG CITIES—Korean casualties, as reported up to Sept. 19, amount to more than the entire population of each of the cities shown on map above. Total casualties of 117,973 included 18,374 killed in action, 86,756 wounded, and 12,843 missing. Population figures, from World Almanac, are based on 1950 census.

GETTING AHEAD—President Truman's daughter, Margaret, seems to enjoy her role as she watches artist Victor Trives put the finishing touches on a huge portrait of Gov. Adlai Stevenson. She took part in the formal opening of the Stevenson headquarters in Hollywood, Calif.

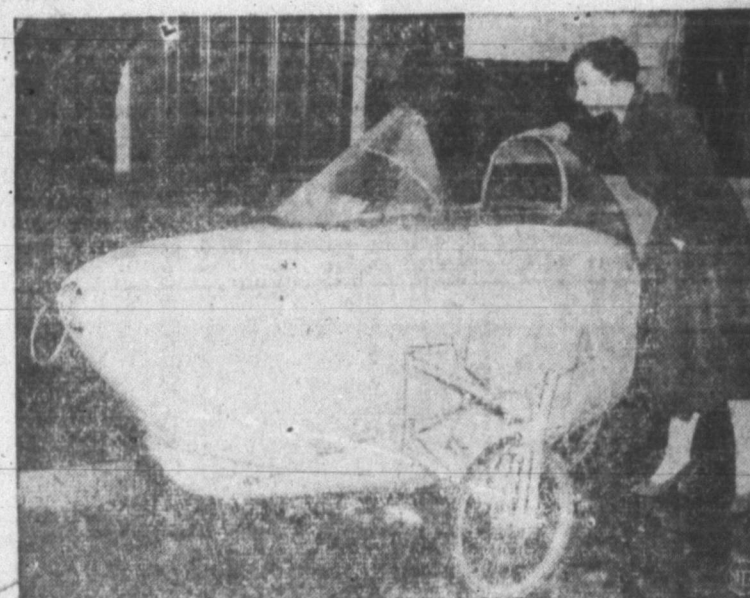

TWINS IN NAME ONLY—Mary Lou Deal, left, of La Grange, Ill., and Mary Lou Deal, right, of Topeka, Kans., are among the freshmen to enroll at Kansas State College for the fall semester. They've decided to room together to solve the problem of mixed mail, but can't think of any solution to the problem of mixed-up males who telephone for dates.

SEATS OF LEARNING—The shortage of classrooms in Topeka, Kans., has forced the seventh grade class of the Avondale School to take over the school's bus. Here Mrs. Mary Pennekamp, the teacher, watches her students as one stands in the rear, reciting a lesson. The headroom is so low that pupils more than five feet tall have to recite from their seats.

CHEFS GENERAL'S CHOW—Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower gives food for her husband a quick once-over in the galley of the Republican candidate's dining car. Conferring with her about the menu is Chef William Maze of New York City.

Two New Wildcats Staked In Area As Field Activity Slow

Two new wildcats were staked in the Panhandle last week, one in Hartley and the other in Hansford County. There were only two new locations in the regular field, making the total four for the week.

There were three oil-completions for 76 barrels of new oil and four gassers for 3,654 MCF gas. Operators plugged six wells, two of which were wildcats. Standard plugged its No. 1-A Palm in Armstrong County and H. L. Hunt plugged his Richtie test in Briscoe County.

Crude Output Sets A Record

TULSA (AP)—A big boost in Kansas production led crude oil and condensate production to an all-time high daily average of 6,508,850 barrels during the week ended Sept. 20, the Oil and Gas Journal has reported. Cumulative production for the year, the Journal said, now stands at 1,618,506,076 barrels compared with 1,611,071,100 at the time in 1951.

Kansas jumped 49,000 barrels to 356,700 daily to reach its highest output of the year and account for nearly all the 50,700-barrel net gain for the week.

The next best advances were in Indiana, up 2,300 barrels to 34,200; Colorado, up 2,100 to 87,200; the eastern fields, 10,000 to 58,000; Oklahoma, 1,300 to 534,200; and Wyoming, 2,000 to 190,000.

Michigan headed the losing list dropping 4,500 barrels to 33,100. California lost 2,100 to 985,900 and Illinois fell 1,700 to 165,200.

Other declines were in Mississippi, down 400 barrels, to 95,750; Arkansas and Louisiana, each off 250 to 75,450 and 670,175 respectively; and Kentucky, 100 to 32,100, and New Mexico, 100 to 184,650.

Texas was unchanged at 2,973,350.

Watermelons Paying Off

ANSON, Tex. (AP)—When people around here decide to have a party, they often think of watermelon. When they think of watermelon they usually think of Leslie Cory.

Cory, who farms in the Boyd Chapel Community west of here, is considered an expert at raising and selling watermelon.

Recently he furnished 176 black diamond watermelons for a farmer-oliman jamboree and about the same number for a political rally.

Although the drought has knocked the props from under his cotton and feed crops, Cory is making money from his melons.

He has 75 acres of the "big reds." His gross income from the melon crop since he started selling July 15 now totals $1,500. He has done it all on a one-half inch rain.

Cory says what kept the melons going was the 30 pounds of fertilizer he applied to each acre. His Jones County farm is sandy land.

If the crop gets another rain, he expects his melons to last until the first frost. The largest melon he has grown so far this year was one weighing 76 pounds.

Although he is making money now, his present record does not compare with last year's. Last season he had only seven acres of melons and grossed $1,400, compared with the 75 acres this year that have brought him $1,500.

The West Central Texas farmer sells all his melons at his patch, and they are trucked away. Some even have been going as far west as California, but most are being consumed in this area.

Cory says he is finding melons to be a good cash crop. "It's from melons while feed and especially good to have money cotton are burning to a crisp," he said.

Man May Lose Job For Refusing To Join Labor Union

NEW-YORK (AP)—A railroad worker is seeking a federal injunction, on religious grounds to prevent his discharge for not joining a labor union.

Theodore F. Otten, 46, said officers of the Staten Island Rapid Transit Corporation had told him he must join the union by Sept. 29 or lose the maintenance job.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers have a union shop agreement.

STAMP STARS NEWSPAPERBOYS—This postage stamp honoring America's newspaperboys, will go on first-day sale Oct. 4 in Philadelphia, Pa. The commemorative was issued in Philadelphia to honor Benjamin Franklin, as first newspaper, and Philadelphia newspaper boys who were first to carry U.S. Treasury Savings Stamps on a door-to-door sales campaign during World War II.

If GOP Wins, Congressional Employe Force Will Change

WASHINGTON (AP)—If the Republican gain control of Congress in the November elections, there are going to be new faces out there in the Senate and House doors as well as inside the chambers.

Fact is, there'll be lots of new people all over Capitol Hill.

The reason: patronage. Many of the jobs on the hill—doormen, pages, police — are patronage.

And the party in power gets them. Whichever party has a majority in the House or Senate Controls the patronage on that side.

One Capitol veteran familiar with the system told a reporter: "If the Republicans gain a majority in the House, I look for at least a 75 per cent turnover. It won't be quite as drastic on the Senate side."

Take the House: There are some pretty well-paying patronage jobs — approaching $9,000 a year. The journal clerk, tally clerk and bill clerk get close to this. These are probably the juiciest patronage plums.

The Capitol police draw $2,900. There are 73 on the House and 87 on the Senate side. They work around the clock in three shifts.

The pages, in their white shirts and blue serge trousers get a $2700. Pretty good for youngsters.

Patronage is doled out by a three - man committee, named by the speaker. Right now Rep. Francis Walter of Pennsylvania is chairman. The others are Reps. Brooks Hays of Arkansas and Harry Sheppard of California.

Each member of the majority party is entitled to patronage. Some members have several jobs. But seniority counts heavily and Some prefer one of the better-paying jobs to apportion out. A member finds out from the patronage committee what job he's entitled to. He then selects his man and the committee makes the appointment.

A few employees are so capable and well - liked that they continue under Democratic and Republican majorities. Elmer Lewis, for instance, has been superintendent of the House Document Room for more than a quarter-century.

Some jobs are elective by the Senate and House rather than appointive through patronage. These include the clerk of the House and the secretary of the Senate, the sergeants at arms, the doorkeepers and the postmasters.

Patronage is handled in the same general fashion on the Senate side. There are fewer numbers of senators and each probably has more jobs to assign than a House member. Some Senate jobs pay a bit higher than those in the House.

POWER-PACKED LINEUP IN "OPERATION MAINBEACE"—Led by Britain's aircraft carrier Illustrious, mighty units of the NATO fleet move through the North Atlantic in "Operation Mainbeace," the 13-day maneuvers of huge air and sea fleets of the Allied nations in Scandinavian waters. Directly behind the Illustrious is the U.S. carrier Wright. The Wright is followed by the battleship Vanguard, a British ship and another British war wagon. Planes on the deck of the Illustrious are being readied for a strike. (AP Wirephoto)

Woman Keeps Busy

ROME (AP)—An Italian woman police she picked the pockets of 35 religious pilgrims in one morning. She is now serving a jail term.

She was arrested in Northern Italy when a policeman saw her at in her provision bag a wallet she had stolen in a sanctuary. She searched her bag and found another 34 wallets. She confessed she had picked them up during the morning religious ceremonies.

 It's a pleasure . . .
 for us to serve you at Tex Evans Buick Co. for a great many reasons. Naturally, we are interested in satisfying you in a better car. Satisfaction means we can sell more cars. Honesty is important to us. When we sell our friends what they can expect out of a car, it is a pleasure to know that Tex Evans will back us up. In fact, Mr. Evans insists that the only kind of salesman he needs is a man he can back up.

There are many other reasons . . .
 like better cars and a better guarantee, but it is nice to have a good selection of cars for you to choose from. For instance, here is a list of just a few of the cars we have right now:

LOCAL MEN ATTEND BRIDGE DEDICATION— Among the representatives from six counties attending dedication services of a new bridge on S. 1st, Highway 70 near Clarendon this week were Gray County Sheriff Rufe Jordan (third from left) and J. B. (Bud) Maguire, county judge-elect (second from right). The bridge will serve as a crossing for two cross-country highways, 70 and 236. It is in Hall County, about 20 miles south of Clarendon. Others pictured, left to right, are W. S. Shaley, Fort Worth, John Mayfield, Perryton, T. W. Harrison, Memphis, and Ben Parks, Memphis. Other Pampans attending the ceremony were Art Hankin, E. O. Wedgeworth and Robin Tibbets.

Idol Of A Nation . . . Hank Finds Pathos In Comedy Scenes Of Mexican Film Star

By HENRY McEMORE
MEXICO CITY — I don't mean to suggest that you are not well informed, but I'd lay six to five that you are unfamiliar with the name Cantinflas.
Certainly I was until a little while ago.
The name meant no more to me than the Sanskrit word which peculiarly does now. I didn't know whether Cantinflas was a new type of foundation garment that enables you to leap through the air with both feet off the ground, or a patented process for extracting personal pronouns from pronouncements, or a trade name for a detergent which would make black garments bleaker than black.
But I know now.
And I'm very happy about it.
Cantinflas (pronounced Kohn-TREEN-Hoss) is unquestionably the best known and the most beloved man in the Republic of Mexico. He is a 38-year-old movie actor, and the very mention of his name to a Mexican puts a warm smile on his face and makes him start laughing. Cantinflas is undoubtedly one of the great comedians and pantomimists in the world today. We saw him in a picture yesterday, "The Atomic Fireman," and our lack of Spanish did not matter one bit. His eyes, his mouth, his shoulders, his hands, spoke more eloquently than words ever could. It was one of his lesser pictures, we were told by Mexican friends who have seen him from the days when he first began making a name for himself, but he makes the average American screen comedian seem a shoddy gangster full of man-made tricks, that spring from a writers' conference and not from any inborn art.

Like Chaplin, there is pathos in his funniest scenes. You suffer with him while you're doubled up laughing at him. You find yourself praying that the fool will do the right thing, which he never does.
I haven't laughed as much in years as during the scene in the firehouse when Cantinflas, aroused from sleep by an alarm clock, puts on every known piece of fire-fighting equipment and leaps down the pole to the amazement and amusement of his fire-fighting comrades.
He comes back to bed embarrassed, shy, and hurt that he has made such a fool of himself. He goes back to sleep.
A real alarm sounds. His fellows leap into immediate action and to watch the face of Cantinflas as he rolls over to continue his nap, is to watch magnificence. With a minimum of pantomime, he tells you what fools his comrades be. You read

Russ Building Up Television

By EDDY GILMORE
MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union is in the midst of a large and varied program of television expansion and experimentation.
The biggest station is in Moscow, but others are being installed around the country.
The Moscow station has one channel presently, but plans three by next year. This channel operates six days a week.
On an average the programs begin just before 8 p.m. when a pretty blonde with a sweet voice says, "Greetings, comrades!" She then announces the program for the evening and the next few days.
Then comes the first offering of the evening. It may be a news-reel, a documentary about some part of the Soviet Union, or a group of people from a nearby collective farm who relate their activities.
The big feature follows:
This may be a film, full-length feature, or a show televised directly from the Bolshoi Theater, home of the ballet, or from Moscow's two dramatic theatres.
Between the acts there are newsreels or music. Some of these programs are quite long. A recent one was an operetta direct from a theater and running from 8 p.m. to 12:15 a.m.
The long summer evenings here provide plenty of light for television outside sports events. The most popular of all is football, or soccer.
I am seeing television here under interesting, but different circumstances, for I have an American set converted to the Russian system. Up to now it works well.
The Soviets are very careful what they show children and all Sunday afternoon is devoted to their programs.
The children's day starts with an animated cartoon based on old Russian fairy tales put to music.
The cartoons are followed by documentaries and movies. One of these — shown the day before the Soviet schools opened — was a full-length feature of a girl's first year in school.
Sets are licensed here and registered. I registered mine and paid a fee of 40 rubles (nominally $10) for four months. This money goes toward the upkeep and expansion of the television system.

Violence Flares In Japan Strike

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP) — Violence flared today between 500 strikers and 300 Japanese police after pickets tried to stop 80 trucks hired by the U.S. - Japan Logistical Command motor pool here, Kyodo News Agency reported.
Twenty-three strikers were hurt, Kyodo said. The fights broke out after pickets tried to stop 80 trucks hired by the U.S. - Japan Logistical Command motor pool to carry on operations during the over wages.
A knot fell out of a board in their kitchen annex during the summer, a queen bee entered the hole, thousands of worker bees followed, and now the walls are full of honey.
The Morrisons want to know how to get rid of the bees and salvage the honey without tearing down the annex.

Wood In Metal Ship

NEW YORK (AP) — Nearly three million board feet of lumber and wood was used in connection with the construction of the new passenger liner SS United States, reports the National Lumber Manufacturers Association.
More wood was used in the construction of the liner, considered an all-metal ship, than is normally used in the construction of large all-wood vessels.
The wood was used for patterns, crates, scaffolds and launching equipment. The United States is an all-metal ship.

Suit Filed In Court

A civil suit, arising from an automobile accident, has been filed in justice of the peace court.
Paul Crossman has filed against Leo and R. N. Rhoten for damages to Crossman's car, caused by the "fault and negligence" of the defendants. According to the suit, the accident occurred Sept. 2.
Invention of the Bessemer converter in 1856 made cheap steel possible.
Largest living kangaroos are about 8 feet tall and have heads about the size of a sheep.

Mexican Cattle Comes To U. S.

EL PASO (AP) — About 500 head of Mexican cattle are expected to enter the U. S. here soon. But they won't stay long.
The first large contingent of cattle to reach the U. S. since the lifting of the foot and mouth disease embargo, Sept. 1, the stock will be exported to Lower California.
Shipments of fresh meat are increasing sharply. All the meat has come from Juarez, Mex., from the interior of Chihuahua are expected to reach here next week.
About 250,000 pounds of beef have entered since Sept. 1. At least 70,000 pounds will reach El Paso today for shipment east.
Some Mexican cattlemen say it is more profitable to slaughter their animals below the border and send the meat to U.S. markets than to bring live animals here for pasture and feeding.

his heart and know how happy he is to see that he is not the only fireman who can make a mistake. There is smugness written all over his face and while you're laughing you feel like saying, "Cantinflas, get up! This is real! You'll be fired if you don't get up!"
The background of Cantinflas has much to do with the pathos he is able to project. For years and years he was a gamin of the streets, eating what he could hustle, sleeping in the biggest box he could find, or the warmest doorway.
Today his major interest is the foundation of an organization to help the Mexican boys who are now living as he once did. He is many times a millionaire, and he launched the foundation with a sizeable check.
I was told that when the Lions International met here in mid-summer, they generously offered to contribute. But Cantinflas said no. He thanked the Lions, but said that Mexico should care enough for its half-lost youngsters to do the job alone.
