Ready To Loaf . . . Butch Happy To Get Back Home Again

By ED NASH
"I didn't go for Ohio much — it sure was good to get back to Texas."
That's what Robert (Butch) Langford, Pampa's Soap Box Derby champion, said this morning. Butch had just arrived home from the All-American Soap Box Derby at Akron, Ohio. The big race was held Sunday. Surrounded by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Minor Langford, 1415 E. Francis, and other members of the family, Butch talked very enthusiastically about his week-long trip made possible by The Pampa Daily News. There is obviously little wrong with his appetite, for the first thing he said was "Boy, they really fed us a lot up there at Akron." And his mother nodded in agreement. "Barbecued beef 'n' everything," he continued, smacking his lips in remembrance.
Pampa's 12-year-old champion brought home a whole suitcase of items he had collected during his stay. Included were a 6 X 4-foot pennant, a red, white and blue affair that had the derby emblem and "Pampa, Texas" on it; the racing helmet and racing shirt he had worn. (See HOME AGAIN, Page 2)

Long Fight Seen For Chinese General

MEXICO CITY (AP) — All hands settled down today for a long extradition fight in the case of a Chinese general, five to 25 million dollars and a blonde secretary.
Nationalist China hired a former President of Mexico as attorney to help it get back either Lt. Gen. Pang Tsu Mow or millions it claimed he grabbed after having been given them to buy arms.
Mow was formerly chief of a Chinese Air Force purchasing mission in Washington. In an earlier suit filed there, the Chiang Kai-shek government claimed he failed to account for $25,890,599 of Air Force procurement funds, including an unexplained cash balance of some seven million.
Mow was held in the Department of Justice Building here while the Nationalist Chinese regime prepared formal demands for him. Also held was his tall, blonde American secretary, Arlene Kelly, a former high school sweetheart.
With them in jail were Oliver M. Kissick, an American who has been living here, and Pedro Casar Acha, a Mexican. They were nabbed Saturday in Cuernavaca, where Mow has been in U. S. courts.
living since he left the U. S. earlier this year.
Atty. Gen. Luis Felipe Canudas said Mow has been accused by the Chinese nationalists of "improperly abstracting documents, defrauding the government and the robbery of more than five million dollars." The others are charged as accomplices, Canudas added.
Mow told reporters he was innocent of any wrong doing. His arrest, he said, was due to a "political row." He claimed his government had brought the Washington suit because "I was beginning to show up too many irregularities." He gave no further explanations.
The Chinese general also said he considered himself safe from any legal action at present because that suit still is pending in U. S. courts.

Changes To Confront Pupils On Their Return To School

Students enrolling in schools throughout the county Sept. 1 or 2, according to the date set by various administrators, will find new faculty members and remodeled buildings and new superintendents in two cases.
Grandview will open its doors Sept. 1 to approximately 98 students. Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Hendricks are returning as teachers in this county school. Extensive remodeling on the school building and the teachers has been completed during the summer at Grandview and a new school bus exchanged for one of the three operating during past years.
At Hopkins, Claude Zevilly returns as principal, with three new teachers on the staff to replace Mrs. Zevilly, Mrs. Mary Cross, and Mrs. Lois Morrison. School opens at Hopkins Sept. 2 for about 130 students.

Eisenhower Turns Down Invitation To White House

President Vows His Cooperation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adlai Stevenson's hand-picked Democratic national chairman called on President Truman today and then told reporters there will be "complete cooperation" between Truman and Stevenson in the Democratic presidential campaign.
The new party chairman, Stephen A. Mitchell, spent 25 minutes conferring with the President. It was his first call on Truman since his appointment was announced Friday.
After conferring with Truman, Mitchell spent nearly an hour with various members of Truman's staff and told reporters afterwards on the subject of cooperation during the campaign.
"There is no question about it in my mind. Of course, there will be complete cooperation."

Urgent Tax Bill Pending

New Chief Confronted With Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The next President faces an urgent five-billion-dollar tax decision as soon as he takes his oath of office.
The rather vague talk about possible future tax reductions, coming out of both the Eisenhower and Stevenson presidential campaign camps, strikes practical tax men here as interesting but somewhat beside the point.
That's because a lot of taxes are due to go down sharply, starting at the end of next year, unless the President and the 83rd Congress act affirmatively to keep them up. It will be up to the new chief executive to tell the law-makers what he wants — which may or may not be what he gets.
It will be to the President's advantage to submit his tax recommendations promptly because it takes a long time to grind a tax bill through the congressional mill. The last one required almost nine months.
In drafting that increase, which went into effect last fall, Congress set definite cutoff dates for (See TAX BILL, Page 2)

Picture Mystery Cleared Up

FORT WORTH (AP) — The mystery of the missing picture-taking couple reported at Carswell Air Force Base last week was cleared up today with identification of the "R. L. Latham" involved as an aviator from Shepard Air Force Base at Wichita Falls.
Entries on the visitor's log at the main gate to the base recording the reporting of a major for duty and Airman Latham for a visit with A. J. C. K. F. Renny were confused by the Air Force secretary on duty last Thursday afternoon, a statement by Maj. Gen. Samuel E. Anderson revealed.
Latham, driving a New York-licensed sedan, attempted to photograph a B-36 as it landed, while he was waiting for Renny near the flight line. The camera and film were surrendered to flight well authorities, but the camera will be returned to Latham.

Rejects Offer For 'Briefing' By President

DENVER (AP) — Gen. Eisenhower, the GOP presidential nominee, today rejected an invitation from President Truman to go to Washington for a confidential "briefing" on the international situation.
The general sent a telegram to the President saying "It is my duty to remain free" to analyze Truman administration policies publicly and that it would be unwise and result in confusion in the public mind if he accepted the bid.
Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, the Democratic candidate for the presidency, was given a briefing on international affairs at the White House Tuesday. He met with Truman and his cabinet and with defense and intelligence officials.
The same day, Eisenhower sharply criticized the move. He said it signified the present administration is determined to hand down through its hand-picked successors every detail of the doctrines and policies that have brought us to the present situation of bewilderment, indecision and fear for the future.

Texans Urge Showdown On Tidelands From Stevenson

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Atty. Gen. Price Daniel, Democratic nominee for U. S. Senator from Texas, has joined Gov. Allan Shivers in asking Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois his views on the tidelands controversy.
Gov. Stevenson is the Democratic nominee for the Presidency.
As the Texans demanded a showdown decision from the Presidential nominee, it appeared that only three — perhaps just 2 — of the state's 21 Congressional districts would have Republican candidates for the national house.
Daniel Wednesday sent a letter to the Illinois governor asking for his views on three questions:
1. Do you favor restoration and confirmation of the ownership of lands beneath navigable waters within original state boundaries to the respective states?
2. Regardless of your answer to the above question, as President of the United States would you permit the controversy to be settled by an act of Congress in favor of the states without interposing a Presidential veto?
3. If your position should be against the states to the extent of vetoing state ownership legislation, would you proceed to have lawsuits filed against the remaining 25 coastal and Great Lakes states the same as has been done against Texas, California and Louisiana?
Daniel sent along with his letter a lengthy brief supporting state ownership of the tidelands. He pointed out that Illinois, claiming ownership of thousands of acres of submerged land under Lake Michigan, has not yet been sued.
"But there is no escape from the fact," Daniel wrote, "that 956,640 acres claimed by your state beneath the waters of Lake Michigan are in the same position as the submerged lands with the seaward boundaries of the coastal states."
Illinois as well as Texas, Daniel pointed out, can lose a lot of land if the issue of "paramount rights" is adhered to.
Shivers already has said he will not support Stevenson for the Presidency unless the Democratic nominee declares he favors state tidelands ownership.

Commission Studies Station Wagon Bids For Local Hospital

County Commissioners' Court by 11:15 a.m. was still waiting for bids on a station wagon for Highland General Hospital.
Bids were to be opened at 10 a.m. However, by 10:30 only one bid had been entered.
County Judge Bruce Parker held off opening the bid after he learned another bid was on its way.
In the meantime, the court signed the tax roll for 1952-53 as prepared by the tax office. Other minor items are also scheduled to come before the court this afternoon.
A group of men representing the aviation committee, including Frank Culbertson, Hugh Burdette and Ed Myrland, appeared before the court to discuss the road leading to Perry Lefora Field.
But the conference was not held because the county, Judge Parker said, does not have sufficient amount of funds on hand at this time for either rights of way over the two shorter routes or for an estimated $18,000 structure that would have to be built along the route leading from Four Corners to the airport gate.

Attractive Brunette Held In Murder; Police Can't Find Body

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Police today held an attractive brunette for investigation of murder although an intensive search has failed to turn up the body of the man she is alleged to have killed.
The woman, who identified herself as Paul Duval, 22, an itinerant artist, walked into police headquarters yesterday and said she shot Lee Larkin, 52, Detroit, after an argument over a 20-year-old Dallas stenographer.
Miss Duval said Larkin was the station but she never returned, said Miss Duval. Miss Duval said she spent the night in the bus station.
Police searched the area outside Oakland where Miss Duval said she shot Larkin, but failed to dispose of the body and failed to find any clue to verify the gun and then come back to her story.

Pampa's city-wide summer recreation program, under the direction of Otto Magold, officially closes Friday at 11:30 a.m. with cleaning-up activities on schedule during the morning.
Daily average attendance of youth during the program has been approximately 200 with the greatest interest in swimming apparent, said Magold.

At Baker School were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Tripp, physical education instructors, and Mrs. Lois Moore directed activities at Carswell Park and crafts. Rev. W. B. Byer School.
As a climax to the program four softball teams from Pampa were taken to Amarillo Aug. 1 for a match with city recreation participants there and Amarillo. The match at Hobart Street Park Monday.
Midget, Pee-Wee, Junior and Intermediate teams were entered in the midgets. Amarillo teams came out on the long end of all games except two. In the first match Pampa Midgets won 35-5 and local Juniors 13-11. In return match, Pampa champs were defeated in all games, but the Junior team made Amarillo work 10 innings to finally win 7-4 in a game set for five innings.

Brief Ceremony . . . Eden Weds Boss's Niece

LONDON (AP) — British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden married his boss's niece, 32-year-old Clarissa Churchill, today in a brief civil ceremony. The handsome groom was 54.
Prime Minister Winston Churchill was a witness as the 32-year-old daughter of his dead brother and his 55-year-old political heir apparent were united in London's Caxton Hall.
It was Eden's second marriage and his bride's first. Because of his divorce two years ago from the former Beatrice Rockett, now living in New York City, today's ceremony could not be performed in the Church of England.
Eden drove to the hall with his elder brother, Sir Timothy Eden, through a cheering crowd estimated at some 2,000.
Ten minutes later the bride arrived with Randolph Churchill, the Prime Minister's son. She wore a lilac tulle dress with a dark, close-fitting hat and veiling.
The 77-year-old Prime Minister arrived with his wife and walked slowly up the steps of the hall. Mrs. Churchill wore mauve.
None of the royal family was present. British royalty doesn't attend the weddings of divorced persons.

Wounded Tell Story Of Bunker Hill

WESTERN FRONT, Korea (AP) — The wounded Marine screamed: "They're all dead, but we've got to get them! We can't leave these guys for the Goonies!"
The husky leatherneck almost lunged out of the upper berth on the hospital train. Two doctors and two litter bearers struggled to keep the writhing body down on the sheets.
The other wounded men were silent. The scream, the scuffling and the doctor's patient words were the only sounds in the steaming car.
"Where's my helmet?" the Marine yelled, swinging his arms wildly at the doctors. "We can't let the Goonies get them."
He was using the Marine nickname for Chinese soldiers.
"Let's go kill those Goonies!" he yelled, crying. "We'll choke them to death!"
The Marine called out a buddy's name. An unshaved, skinny youth with a shattered foot looked up from a lower berth.
"I'm right here. Now calm down!" he said.
But the husky Marine kept calling his name.
The Marine with the bad foot cazed out of his berth and hopped over to the upper bunk. The husky Marine kept crying. He couldn't recognize his buddy.
"Four bunks away, a pair of blue eyes looked up. "You can take just so much," this Marine said. He was 19 years old. He couldn't keep still; his leg, peppered with grenade fragments, was throbbing.
Across the aisle, another Marine moaned softly. Blood soaked the bandages wrapped around both hands, horribly mangled by mortar fragments. A bandage had slipped off a gaping wound in his neck.
Nearby, a Marine lay on his stomach, naked. He was buried from feet to waist.
The wounded man had fought four miles east of the truce-talk village of Panmunjom. They came by helicopter and ambulance on Bunker Hill when a battlefront, then moved by a hospital train to larger better-equipped hospitals in the rear.
Four days and four nights the flow of wounded has poured down from Bunker Hill. Lt. (jg) Edgar Hansen, a Navy doctor from Mansfield, Wash., said one doctor hadn't slept once in those four days. Others have worked steadily for 48 hours.
On the train, the 19-year-old Marine slumped on his bunk. His eyes were bleary from pain, nightmarish fighting and lack of sleep. The boy said he and his buddy were manning a machine gun on Bunker Hill when a (See WOUNDED, Page 3)

HOME AGAIN

In his try for the national championship, a kangaroo dollar given him by a Lubbock resident, a card of 10 fishhooks; a set of two pens and a pencil; games and a stack of program paraphernalia.

One of his favored articles was the plaque given him at the Sunday banquet in Akron for all Derby contestants. It attested him as one of the 154 Soap Box Derby champions who competed in Sunday's race and was signed by Myron E. Scott, originator of the All-American Soap Box Derby.

Asked about his opinion of the Northern girls, Butch said he "didn't see much of 'em." But he readily admitted that they did hound him for autographs, and he allowed as how "it didn't bother" him too much. However, he insisted, he didn't have time for such things.

For Butch was in Akron on business. He said he spent all Saturday getting his racer tuned up. And he was quick to maintain that he "liked the races best" of anything else there.

The Top of Texas champion came within a whisker of winning his first heat the 48th. He was beaten by John E. McKibbin, Salem, O., whose ambition and Butch said this with a certain degree of triumph — is to come to Texas and live on a ranch. Indeed, young McKibbin has already built a model of what he wants his ranch to be, evidently in the belief that every Texan HAS to live on one.

Wherever Butch went he was asked why he hadn't brought his horse along with him and how many oil wells his father owned. And in true Texas fashion, Butch let them believe all they would.

Mrs. Langford pointed out that Butch and his racer made "the perfect" team, for together they weighed in at 250 pounds right on the nose. But Butch isn't discouraged about dropping out in the first heat.

He likes to remember his experiences. One of his favorites is the time his police escort got away from him at a red light on the way into Akron. The convertible — a "fire plug red one" — in which he was riding beat the light, but the policemen did not. And he liked the explosion he saw at the B. F. Goodrich laboratory, where two substances were frictionized.

But he is mighty glad to get home again. And what does he plan to do between now and the opening of school?

"Just loaf" was his brief and unenthusiastic reply.

Woman's Touch Changes Some Parts Of Rail Business

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

A woman's touch is transforming some aspects of the railroad business.

She is Ann Elgar Stevenson, assistant to the vice president of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company, who spends about half of her time these days riding the various trains of the system, keeping a weather eye out for possible improvements in comfort, cleanliness and service.

Mrs. Stevenson believes her fragile, feminine appearance, her big blue eyes can spot a speck of dust at 10 paces, and dining room stewards snap to attention at her approach. She describes her job thus:

"I'm kind of a nagging wife to the operating department. Much of my work seems to be minding other people's business. Wherever I see something amiss in any department of the system, my job is to try to correct it. This requires a great amount of diplomacy. It sounds like an unpopular sort of a job, but really it's fun. And I think I've made more friends than enemies."

Mrs. Stevenson is one of a growing group of women holding executive jobs with the nation's railroads, and their influence is to be seen on many of the country's trains. If you find chintz drapes in the club car, flowers on the table, pretty upholstery in the coaches, new colors in your roomette, you can be sure that these are the results of a woman executive's touch.

entails housekeeping know-how. One of the first things she did was to institute improvements in car cleaning systems, suggest new and more efficient methods, try out new cleaning materials, and show stewards how to keep dining cars neater.

Waitresses on one of the line's divisions now wear smart yellow uniforms with white pique puritan collars and coronet caps. And experiments are under way to snap up the waiters' uniforms with a touch of color and better fit.

Whenever she rides as a passenger on one of the C & O trains, Mrs. Stevenson suggests diplomatically it would give a nice personal touch if the steward met each passenger entering the dining car, giving off with courtesy and friendliness in the best headwaiter manner.

Details such as piles of loose silver left on the tables, clogged salt shakers or slovenliness in the appearance of waiters all come under her eagle eye. It's the same kind of job done by every good housewife every day—and nobody but a woman could do it, says Mrs. Stevenson.

"You have to go slowly so as not to offend anyone. But little by little we're getting things done. Little things such as providing free reading material in coaches and seeing that all headrests in a coach are the same color can make a lot of difference in a passenger's impressions.

"We try to stress friendliness among the employees of the line, and this is one effort that is reflected in comments of passengers. They appreciate and remember any little added courtesy of a porter or a steward."

Among projects Mrs. Stevenson has in mind are: removing the bars from ticket windows in stations, amending up the dress of ticket salesmen and getting additional coat hangers, with skirt and trouser clips, in sleeper bedrooms.

Texas Auto 'Way Behind Inspection

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas has an estimated 1.2 million cars and trucks yet to be checked with a safety certificate and their drivers subject to a fine of $1 to $200 after Sept. 6.

Bushy said the one million figure might be high because Texas may not have the estimated 3.2 million vehicles that needed inspection at the start of the year. Also, the rate of inspection may be stepped up as the deadline the Sept. 6 safety inspection deadline only a month away.

At the present rate of inspection, amending up the dress of ticket salesmen and getting additional coat hangers, with skirt and trouser clips, in sleeper bedrooms.

That would leave nearly one million cars and trucks without nears.

Right now, some 3500 inspection stations are checking out 75,000 to 100,000 cars per week.

"We could make a big dent in the number of uninspected cars if the public will co-operate," Bushy said.

While operation of an uninspected car will be a misdemeanor or offense 30 days after today, Gov. Shivers does not believe a justice of the peace or jury would impose the maximum fine allowed by law.

"Can you imagine a justice of the peace or jury giving a $200 fine for not having one of those stickers on your windshield?" the governor asked at a press conference.

He repeated his previous statement at the Legislature meeting in January should re-examine the safety inspection law and modify it to make it a real safety measure. If this proves impossible, the law should be repealed, Shivers said.

"Remember, pet, how we used to complain about the drip, drip, drip of that leaky water faucet?"

Attractive Lady Marine Says Service Good For Women

NEW YORK (AP) — Katherine Towle is one of those women who make you look twice, even when the bride is hanging on your arm.

She is tall, slim, grey-haired and handsome. Her eyes are a cool blue, cool and appraising. Being feminine to her, she seldom mentions her several university degrees, nor what she has been doing the past seven or eight years.

In large part, this has been to act as a walking advertisement for the Marines.

She is a colonel in the corps, director of the women marines. They announced the other day that she will retire next year to become the dean of women at the University of California.

That's her alma mater. She comes from Towle, Calif., a town founded by her grandfather.

"Ray," as they call her out there, was up to her eyebrows in literature 10 years ago when our share of the war was getting under way.

The Marines needed women, and she went in.

Five years later, they pulled eagles on her shoulders. The new colonel was feeling pretty good about those chicken wings until a certain day in an elevator. A dear little old lady peered at the emblems and said:

"I suppose that means you're a member of one of the bird-watcher societies. How nice! I just love birds, myself."

Well, the colonel doesn't take herself very seriously, but even though she is returning to her own cloistered field, she is still sold on the armed services as a career for women.

There are 2,600 women marines now. Their equivalent of "boot camp" lasts six weeks, and then they go on to greener fields. They have some latitude of choice.

It's amazing what those six weeks do for a girl.

Their day starts at 5 a. m., and brother, for the next 14 hours, they labor! They get discipline and they learn manners. You may have noticed that the average woman in uniform is at home in almost any company. They learn how to walk, and talk, and how to be as completely self-reliant as any of us ever can be.

The Marines lay before them a future, in terms of education and ever a career if that's what they want.

As you probably know, there are four general reasons why women enlist. For some, it is purely a question of patriotism. For many, it is a matter of financial security. Others, who have not been able to afford a college education, go into uniform in order to get it.

Still others, frankly, are looking for a husband. And why not? A great many girls, even working girls, complain they don't meet any men. Or the kind they want.

That problem, generally speaking, doesn't exist for the women in the services. They are in a position to look over the boys, and throw the inedible types back in the sea.

Does a tour in the services demoralize a girl? — Nothing makes 'em more angry than that question. Definitely not, any officer in any branch — WACS, WAFS, WAVES or Marines — will tell you. They say that if you put 1,000 women in a factory, or any place where they work with men, the percentage of personal disasters would be larger than it is in the services.

Job Situation Here Is Said Up Slightly

The Pampa job situation is "slightly up," according to Bill Ragsdale, head of the local Texas Employment Commission office.

Eagles Prey On Antelope

DEER LODGE, Mont. (AP) — Golden eagles have been haunting a herd of antelope in Deer Lodge Valley, high in the Rockies.

"One entire herd of 135 antelope is spooked," says Deputy Game Warden Les Barton. "The animals are afraid of their own shadows."

One doe was seen steering her two fawns out of a grassy meadow and up a mountain side, where pine trees hide them from the beady-eyed "king of the air."

But now and then man helps the harassed antelope.

Marvin Peace of Deer Lodge was out in the valley with his rifle recently when he saw an eagle circling in the sky.

Suddenly, the bird folded its wings and plunged to earth in one swift swoop. A few feet from the ground the eagle threw out its wings, braked the dive, and stabbed its sharp talons into the back of an antelope fawn.

Peace ran to his jeep and bounced away to the scene of the attack.

He said he was 450 yards from the eagle when the bird took off. Despite the extreme range, Peace took sight and fired.

With a flutter of feathers, the eagle fell.

Peace brought both eagle and antelope home to show friends.

English Teacher Finds Turkeys And Children Are A Lot Alike

By BRUCE HENDERSON
MIDLANDIAN, Tex. (AP) — Combining two such unlikely endeavors as Shakespeare and poultry husbandry means a 40-mile roundtrip to Dallas each week day for this woman who was born a banker's daughter. She frequently puts in 16 and shouldered bespectacled woman behind her desk in a Dallas junior high school, striving valiantly to convince a roomfull of fidgety youngsters that literature and grammar are worth the effort. As prim a schoolma'am as you'll ever see.

Yet on early mornings, late evenings and week ends Mina Lee Mitchell rolls up her sleeves and goes to work as one of the top turkey breeders in Texas and the nation.

In her spare time Miss Mitchell manages the Lee and Smith Turkey Ranch, which annually breeds thousands of broad breast bronze turkeys. The ranch takes in 244 acres of rolling countryside five miles south of here in Northwest Ellis County.

It's an exhausting dual role, even Miss Mitchell admits. But she gets a kick out of both gobblers and children. She says they're a lot alike.

BONES OF COLUMBUS—Next month the Dominican Republic will celebrate the 75th anniversary of the discovery of this leader. A casket containing the remains of Christopher Columbus. It was found beneath the Cathedral of Santo Domingo on Sept. 10, 1877. Elaborate ceremonies will be led by President Rafael Trujillo, whose government is urging the completion of a half-mile-long lighthouse memorial to the great navigator pledged by the 21 American republics.

Average Age Of Senators Due To Drop In January

WASHINGTON (AP) — The average age of senators—which is 58 years and three months now—should drop a few notches about Jan. 3 when the new Congress meets.

Every two years a group of younger men usually replaces a few of the older senators. This reduces the average age.

Already two veteran senators are out—one by defeat in a primary and the other by his own choice of not seeking re-election.

Primaries and nominating conventions are about half completed for the 35 Senate seats at stake and the final November election should produce additional changes.

Defeat of 83-year-old Sen. Kenneth D. McKellar last week in the Tennessee Democratic primary by Rep. Albert Gore, who will be 45 before the year ends, is an example.

That knocks 38 years off the total age of the 96 senators and several months from the average age.

Voluntary retirement of Sen. Tom Connally (D-Tex.) who will be 75 on Aug. 19 is another example.

Unlike other government officials and workers under Civil Service, who must retire at 70 unless given special permission to continue, members of Congress can stay on as long as the voters permit.

The founding fathers in the Constitution fixed minimum ages for Senators at 30 years and for House members at 25. But there is no maximum.

Oldest senator is Theodore Francis Green (D-R.I.) who will be 85 Oct. 2 and still has two years to serve of a six-year term.

Green and McKellar are the only Senate octogenarians, but there are 13 senators above 70; 24 from 60 to 69 years; 37 from 50 to 59; 17 from 40 to 49; and only three below 40.

The trio includes Russell B. Long (D-La.), the "Senate baby" who will be 34 on Nov. 3; George

A. Smathers (D-Fla.), who will be 39 on Nov. 14; and Richard M. Nixon (R-Calif.), who is 39. Nixon is the Republican vice-presidential nominee and, if elected, would be retired a senator before he is 40.

Sen. John Sparkman of Ala-bama, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee, also is below average age. He will be 52 on Dec. 20.

Business Highlights

Assets of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States increased $200,000,000 to $8,200,000,000 as of June 30, according to a report received here by Frank Fata, local representative.

This report, announced by Thomas I. Parkinson, president, appeared in a recent edition of The New York Times. Announcing that the first half of 1952 was an outstanding life insurance sales production period, Parkinson observed that insurance in force rose $1,150,000,000 to $18,226,000,000.

Net paid for ordinary life insurance amounted to $456,000,000 increase of $63,000,000 or 17.3 per cent, and new paid-for group life insurance climbed $207,000,000, or 79 per cent, to $468,000,000.

As of June 30, policy reserves totaled $5,631,000,000, up $180,000,000. Surplus and dividend funds advanced $33,800,000 to $484,000,000. After all expenses, including claims, the excess of receipts over expenditures, including provision for policy reserves, was $70,400,000.

In his report Parkinson disclosed that Equitable had 170 death claims due to the Korean war for a total of $789,000.

Payments to policyholders and beneficiaries in the first six months amounted to $228,147,903, of which 68 per cent was paid to living policy holders in the form of dividends, matured endowments, annuities, surrender values, disability claims and other payments. The amount paid in death claims, including accidental-death benefits, was $72,221,935.

Ned Garver Reported On Way To Detroit In Wertz Deal

DETROIT (AP) — Boyish-faced Ned Garver, who won 20 games for the eighth-place St. Louis Browns last year, may be shipped to the Detroit Tigers in exchange for Tiger home run hitter Vic Wertz.

Sources close to the Tiger front office predict pitcher Garver will be involved in the waiver deal. They predict it will be announced tonight at the expiration of an agreed upon 72-hour waiting period.

Owner Bill Veeck of the Browns and General Manager Charlie Gehringer of the Tigers have known for nearly three days who the players are but they aren't saying openly.

The trading deadline has long since passed but the two clubs can negotiate with each other at will via the waiver route. The Browns are seventh and the Tigers eighth—no other clubs could get a crack at any players they wanted to deal each other.

The Tigers already have sent three players—outfielder Don Lenhardt, pitcher Martin Stuart and pitcher Dick Littlefield—to the Browns this week to set up the deal.

All Coaches But One Have Signed

With the exception of Reeper football coach Marvin Bowman, all Pampa school system coaches have reportedly signed their contracts according to Supt. Knox Kinard.

Bowman, who entered private business last spring, was undecided about returning to his teaching post. "Until he definitely says 'no,' we will assume he is returning," Kinard said.

Kinard also added that "we are dickering with two or three fellows as possible additions to the coaching staff." Two weeks ago it appeared that Johnny "Model T" Ford, would be added to the staff. But higher salaries of Forth Worth schools lured him away. It is expected that the new coach, when hired, will serve as assistant basketball coach to Clifton McNeely, who has carried the burden of the "A" and "B" team basketball coaching since he came to Pampa. He has never had a regular assistant, schooled in basketball.

Coaches who have signed contracts are: Tom Tipps, head football and classroom, $550; A.K. Nomonster, assistant football and classroom, $495; Dvain Lyon, assistant football and physical education, $442; Clifton McNeely, head basketball and classroom, $560; Weldon Trise, assistant football and classroom, $380; Pernal Scoggin, junior high football and physical education, $490.

Eustace Frizzell, who has had been head coach of the Guelias, will devote his duties to physical education instruction and will not coach this year.

Kinard said Wayne Tripp, who aided with Reeper football last season, gets no special remuneration for coaching, but is on a straight teacher's salary.

Bowlers To Meet On Friday Night

The annual meeting of the Pampa Bowling Association has been called by President Ted Evans for 8 o'clock Friday night, Aug. 15. The meeting will be held on the fifth floor of the Higgins Building.

Purpose of the meeting is to elect a new president, vice president, secretary and board of directors. "It is imperative that everyone attend this meeting to accomplish this work," Evans said, "and I want to urge all club members to be present."

Evans also said that there would be a meeting of the City League in the same place at the same hour on Aug. 21. Election of a president, vice president and secretary for that league will be the business undertaken.

"We have three big bowling tournaments scheduled for Amarillo this year," Evans said, "and we want to map out our season around these meets so that all of our bowlers can attend them without disrupting play in our own leagues."

Oilers Home For Twin Bill Tonight

The weatherman's misbehaving manner earlier this year has brought a lot of baseball to Pampa fans for the next six days. The Oilers return home tonight to open a six-day stand that starts the fourth and final round of the 1952 season. And they open with a doubleheader, the first of two such bargain bills to confront them during the stay. The doubleheader tonight is with the Berger Gassers and the Borgans pay their final visit to the park tomorrow night with a single game.

Saturday night the Clovis Packers, probably the best Class C ball club in professional baseball today, come in for a two-day stand that will be started off with a doubleheader on that night. The series closes with a single game on Sunday night and then the Amarillo Gold Sox come in for their final visit of the year, single games on Monday and Tuesday nights.

The doubleheaders, which will cause a strain on the pitching staff, start at 7 p.m. All single aided with Reeper football last season, gets no special remuneration for coaching, but is on a straight teacher's salary.

Gold Sox Capture Final, 5-4; Play Berger In Pair Tonight

Dukes Bow, 6-1, As Clovis Loses

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Albuquerque Dukes missed a chance to gain a game of league leading Clovis in the West Texas-New Mexico League last night.

Albuquerque bowed 6-1 to Lamesa at Albuquerque while Clovis was going down 3-1 to Abilene at Clovis.

In the other games, Amarillo edged Pampa 5-4 and Berger beat Lubbock 5-3.

The teams switch around tonight. Albuquerque and Lamesa shift to Lamesa. Clovis visits Lubbock, Amarillo goes to Abilene and Berger to Pampa.

Ed Arthur came on in relief in the ninth to save the win for starter Ralph Carrier and Lamesa at Albuquerque. Carrier had loaded the bases with none out but Arthur put down the rally with no damage. Jesse Priest was the loser, giving eight hits to five for carrier.

Larry Cummins, huffed the Clovis with slow stuff at Clovis. He weakened only in the sixth when a walk and a double produced the Clovis tally. The Abilene batters got to losing pitcher Bill Hair for three hits in the first inning for two runs. They added the other tally in the third on a homer by George Corong.

Amarillo got six hits off Connie Swenson and five of them produced runs at Amarillo. Swenson walked 10, with five of the runners scoring. Darin Jimenez got 11 hits, but kept them scattered and walked only two.

Juan Montero weakened in the middle three innings at Berger and the Gassers scored five runs to down Lubbock. Eddie Carnett needed ninth-inning aid from Melvin Miller to huffed the win, Lamesa 10, 9th 9th 8th 8th 2. Albuquerque 10, 9th 9th 1 5 2. Carrier, Arthur (9) and Marti, Pjrek and Obit.

McShain Keeps Crown Away From Clements

Depper Danny McShain, a California lawyer who holds the championship of the world in addition to his law degree, successfully defended that title at Oiler Park last night against the challenge of Ray "Big Train" Clements. A crowd of nearly 1,500 fans witnessed the first world championship match ever staged in Pampa.

He was the champion before we started wrestling and he still is the champion," challenger Clements, a Lubbock promoter in his own right, said after the Association Championship Tournament. He added that McShain was the toughest foe he had ever encountered.

The champion said that the huffing and puffing, Big Train was far better than the average man he meets now days as he goes about defending his title on the average of 10 times per month.

The champion said his newly developed "atomic drop", a wrestler-killing hold he has manufactured, to gain the best two out of three falls. He took the first fall with the drop and lost the second to the challenger's rugged double surr board stomp.

With the Big Train again threatening to apply the same hold to wrestle the title away from the champion, McShain twisted the match into a grapple into position for another atomic drop and held onto his title. It was the second appearance in Pampa for McShain, who was carded in Pampa the first year he worked professionally.

In the semi-final event, Billy Weirns defeated Dale Haddock in two straight falls in 22 minutes. The one-fall preliminary between Johnny James and Gene Blackley ran out of time before either boy could gain a fall.

Blue Sox Swap Selbo To Midland

ABILENE (AP) — Blue Sox officials Wednesday announced the trade of versatile Glenn Selbo from regular shortstop, to Midland of the Longhorn League for slugger Pat O'Keefe.

The one-for-one barter depended upon O'Keefe's willingness to join the Abilene club and vice versa.

Selbo was acquired by Abilene in an outright purchase from Lamesa last winter. Usually a .340 hitter, Selbo has failed to attain the .300 mark this season for the Blue Sox. At Lamesa in former seasons Selbo was considered one of the better players of the league and this year was voted shortstop for the southern team in the league's all-star game.

O'Keefe was hitting .346 when he left Midland to report to the Blue Sox.

Rookie Joe Black Is Keeping Brooklyn Dodgers In Lead

By RALPH RODEN
AP Sports Writer

Joe Black is one rookie who is living up to his spring press clippings.

Back in March Black was hailed as another Don Newcombe in Brooklyn's Vero Beach, Fla., training camp. He was in great shape as he had spent the off-season pitching in the Cuban Winter League. He was tabbed as the best bet to take up the slack caused by Newcombe's entry into the Army.

Black was the first to admit that he wasn't in the same class as Newcombe but the 28-year-old righthander has contributed as much to the Dodger cause as big Newk did in the past.

It's doubtful if the Dodgers would be leading the National League by 10 games today if it weren't for Black. Used entirely in relief roles, the Dodger recruit has appeared in 37 games, winning nine, losing two and saving several others. His record is even more impressive as he appeared in only six games until the beginning of June. Since then he has worked in 31 of Brooklyn's 69 games.

Appears In Both

Black took part in both ends of yesterday's day-night doubleheader against the runnerup New York Giants. He gained credit for the 5-4 day game triumph and was tapped for two unearned runs in the 8-4 night game defeat.

Chicago and Cincinnati and Philadelphia and Boston also split doubleheaders. The Cubs dropped the opener to the Reds, 11-3 but won the second game, 7-0. Philadelphia whipped the Braves, 3-0, but bowed, 9-3, in the night portion of the twin-bill. St. Louis and Pittsburgh were idle.

The New York Yankees retained their 2 1/2-game lead over Cleveland in the American League chase, dividing a bargain bill with Washington while Cleveland halved a pair with the St. Louis Browns.

Washington drubbed the Yanks, 12-4, in the opener but lost the second game, 10-9 in 13 innings.

The Browns tripped Bobby Feller and the Indians, 5-2, but Cleveland bounced back to grab the second game, 9-1. In other games, the Boston Red Sox turned back Philadelphia, 4-0, and the Chicago White Sox crushed Detroit, 7-1.

Black took over in the eighth inning of the see-saw opener at Ebbets Field with the score tied at 4-4. He halted a Giant rally in the eighth and got out of another jam in the ninth when he induced Hank Thompson to hit into a force play with the bases loaded and two out.

Pee Wee Reese singled home Gil Hodges in the bottom of the eighth with the deciding run. Bubba Church cruised to victory in the opener at Chicago as the Reds socked Johnny Klippstein and Dick Marville for 14 hits. Bob Kelly blanked the Reds on six hits in the second game.

Veteran Karl Drews turned in his fifth shutout in beating the Braves in the first of two at Philadelphia. Sam Jethroe slammed two homers and Ed Mathews one to lead the Braves to victory in the second game.

Bob Porterfield enjoyed a rare treat in the first game at the Yankee Stadium. The Senators supported his pitching with a 17-hit attack that included a grand-slam homer by former Yank Jackie Jensen. The loss snapped Vic Raschi's 11-game winning streak.

The twin bill, which lasted almost eight hours, was completed under the lights. Billy Martin squeezed hom Yogi Berra to climax a game-winning three-run rally in the 18th. Mickey Vernon put the Senators out in front, 9-7, with a two-run homer off Tom Gorman in the top of the 18th.

Home runs also highlighted the doubleheader at Cleveland. Bobby Young decided the opener in favor of St. Louis with a three-run homer in the sixth early in the second game, scoring four runs in the first inning against Cliff Fermín. Al Rosen sparked the uprising with a three-run homer, his 20th. Lefty Mel Parnell and Clyde Volmer teamed up to lead the Red Sox to victory over the A's. Parnell yielded only three hits while Volmer drove in three runs on a homer and two singles.

BEACH COMBER — The sandman has a big seashell grin — and who wouldn't? — for beach beauty Louise Graser as she combs his seaweed hair at Miami Beach, Fla.

Summer Weather Great Boon To Air Conditioner Makers

NEW YORK (AP) — Weather showed money this summer into the pockets of makers of air conditioners. Now they are raising their production sights for next year by 30 to 100 per cent.

Sizzling days brought such a rush of customers for room coolers that most manufacturers were quickly sold out for the rest of the season. Had they guessed how hot it was to be, they would have made more room air conditioners and doubtless would have sold them, and made still more money.

A cool summer next year could spoil their plans. But most of them insist the market for air conditioning of homes is a growing one and they will sell more next year than this, no matter what kind of summer it turns out to be.

Sales of room air conditioners in 1951 are put at 250,000. This year's sales are estimated at 350,000. Harold B. Donley, general manager of General Electric's room cooler department, predicts that next year industry sales will reach 400,000 units, an increase of 14 per cent. Some others think his figure too low.

Million A Year

He says General Electric itself plans to boost production by 3 per cent next year. And he believes that by 1951, one million room air conditioners a year will be sold, mostly or home use.

Donley stresses that manufacturer of a relatively short selling season during hot weather while production plans must be made far in advance by using a "crystal ball to anticipate summer temperatures."

Briton Says Conventions 'Too Rowdy'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — How do our political conventions look to foreigners?

Through what is usually referred to as the miracle of television, some 60 million Americans this year got to see what goes on at presidential nominating conventions. It was an eye-opener to many citizens, but even more so to those not familiar with our political tradition.

One of these is Richard Burton, brilliant young (26) British actor who was imported to play opposite Olivia De Havilland in "My Cousin Rachel." Like most everybody else in a TV area, he was glued to his set during the Chicago confabs. So I asked him for his impressions of these peculiarly American rituals.

"Well, it was quite an eye-opener to me," he began, "my guess I expected some very solemn men in dark suits to sit around and discuss important issues on a very lofty plane. Instead, I saw a hullabaloo with people running around wildly. It was an amazing show."

"The oratory, I thought, was old-fashioned. Most of the speakers shouted at the audience and pounded their fists. It was refreshing when a young lawyer got up in the Republican convention and merely conversed with the audience. Suddenly everybody started listening to his speech. I think television will make that kind of delivery necessary in future political contests."

I would think there would be a change in the demonstrations for the candidates. Nearly all of them were obviously staged. Only once in a great while would there be a really spontaneous reaction from the crowd."

Burton remarked that there was nothing in the English political scene that matched the hoopla of the national conventions.

"The two major parties have their meetings," he said, "but they are rather quiet affairs. Of course, our Parliament was pretty lively when the Irish were in it. They were always making demonstrations and threatening to hang the King and so forth. Things have quieted down since the Irish got their independence and left Parliament."

The actor added that television has not made much impact on British politics.

"Not enough people have sets," he explained. "Whenever Churchill wants to talk, he has to ask Attlee, who is allowed equal time on the air. That is, unless Churchill is going to talk on some non-controversial matter such as the history of Marlborough, which he hasn't as yet."

"I suppose the Laborites would just as soon keep the Conservatives off the air, because the Conservatives are such better talkers. Churchill is superb, of course, and Eden is very good. The other side has no one to compare. I might add that I'm a Socialist myself."

Burton was born in the coal mining region of South Wales. He was one of 13 children, and his father and six brothers worked in the mines. All except two brothers have gone on to other walks of life. The actor's father became a school teacher saying,

Oklahoma Stars Named To Bowl

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — Fifteen top Oklahoma players have been named to meet Texas footballers in the annual Oil Bowl game at Wichita falls, Aug. 22.

The Oklahoma Coaches Association, meeting in Oklahoma City yesterday, made the selections shortly after Texas' Gov. Allan Shivers said he would attend the game to make pre-kickoff letter-jacket presentations.

Midwestern University and the Maskat Shrine Temple sponsor the Oil Bowl, splitting proceeds between Wichita Falls charity groups and the Oklahoma City Crippled Children's Hospital.

Queen Juliana has authorized the Netherlands Baseball League to use the prefix "Royal," thereby giving regal recognition to the sport.

The most triple plays by one team in the majors in one year was three. The Tigers did it in 1911 and the Red Sox pulled the trick in 1924.

and has taught drama every summer since 1939 at Waitfield, Vt.

Trained by his father, Burton fell into acting easily. He quickly rose to fame and scored in London and New York in "The Lady Is Not for Burning." An outspoken fellow, he has been hailed as the British Marion Brando.

"That's not true," he protested. "You can understand what I'm saying."

A RIBBON STARTS — A first few feet of what will be an 11.9 miles of a four-lane divided highway between the Wheeler County line and Alameda is laid on the ground. The huge project — largest of its kind in the Panhandle — will take about 10 months working time to complete and will consume more than 5,000 freight carloads of raw materials, and cost more than one and

Deer Seen With Fangs; Tell It To The Marines

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Korean reports that Leathernecks had encountered "sabertoothed" or "fanged" deer had Marine Corps Headquarters here worried for a bit.

But Dr. Henry W. Setzer at the U.S. National Museum confirmed that the long-toothed deer were found in Korea as well as in the Yangtze River Valley of China. And Ernest P. Walker, assistant director of the National Zoological Park in Washington, showed five specimens to Marines to prove the stories from the fighting front.

The toothy deer — Hydropotes inermis — is known as a water deer or swamp deer. It grows as large as a big sheep dog, and glad to be forewarned of any deer the buck bears tusks curving downward from the upper jaw in lieu of antlers.

Capt. Richard W. Cline, of Orange, Calif., reported bagging one of the deer while stalking pheasants in the Po-Hang area of Korea. When the animal sprang out of the underbrush, Cline, an avid hunter, dropped it at 30 feet with a load of number eight shot.

He and other Marine fliers were urged by Korean farmers to kill the deer. The animals are great crop destroyers and the Koreans have a superstition that the deer's bite is fatal.

In any event, the Marines were

Paving Gets Into Full Swing On New Two-Lane Highway

By J. M. PAYNE
McLEAN — The first 1,000 feet of a double concrete ribbon linking Wheeler County with Alameda in Gray County was hardening today as workmen for the Austin Road Co. were getting into full swing on paving U. S. Highway 66.

The project — biggest of its kind in North Plains history — started Monday and should be completed in about 10 months.

When completed it will stretch for 11.9 miles from the Wheeler County line to a point .6 mile west of Alameda. The new two-lane highway will have a 24-foot driving surface going east and a similar road going west, separated by a boulevard. Flanking each of the two concrete ribbons will be a 10-foot outside asphalt shoulder and a four-foot inside asphalt shoulder.

After three delays — lack of construction equipment; lack of funds; and then lack of steel because of the recent strike — the $1,580,000 paving job got underway just two months less than two years after completion of dirt work along the route.

The contractors started at Alameda and will work east to complete one lane; they will come west from the county line to Alameda on the other, keeping one lane open at all times for traffic.

Estimated cost of construction averages around $143,000 per mile — or roughly $3 per linear foot. The freight cost alone, to bring in the raw materials, will run approximately $250,000.

To handle the huge amount of raw material extra truckage had to be laid near Alameda to unload the sand and gravel and cement — shipped in bulk instead of sacks.

It will take 4,250 cars of sand and gravel — in addition to that being mined five miles northwest of McLean — and 700 cars of cement to complete the project. The raw material is beginning to arrive at the rate of 40 cars per day.

Yesterday 83 freight cars were parked along one-half mile of loading track and will need the use of a switch engine out of Amarillo to move them in the unloading process.

Materials are being unloaded on the ground at Alameda; picked up and dropped into a hopper where the sand, gravel and raw cement are mixed together and weighed out into trucks. Two concrete mixers where the material is turned into concrete 50 seconds after dumping. Twenty-five trucks must be in continuous running to keep the two mixers in full operation. Each of giant machines is capable of turning out 40.8 cubic feet of cement every 50 seconds.

McKinley Cheated, Explorer Declares
BOSTON (AP) — Explorer Bradford Washburn says that for 28 years Alaska's Mt. McKinley has been short-changed.

It's really 50 feet or more higher than the 29,270-foot altitude shown in a 1924 government survey, he says.

Washburn, director of the Boston Museum of Science, reported that preliminary computations of a five-year survey of the peak by the museum give a "tentative altitude" for McKinley's south peak of 29,320 feet.

U.S., France Disagree On Buying Plan

PARIS (AP) — A ruckus has broken out between France and the United States over O.S.P., which officially means "Off-Shore Procurement" but which to American defense authorities also stands for "Our shopping problems."

The tempest arose recently when the U.S. turned down a French request for $25 million dollars to pay for arms for France, made in France. The French said it would bolster their industries as well as help them meet the military goals set by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The U.S. looked over French Defense Minister Rene Pleven's list of military needs and offered to pay for 185 million dollars worth of French-made ammunition and Mystery jet fighter planes. The Americans said other items on Pleven's list weren't high enough priority to justify expenditures now from the limited money available.

The Franco-American disagreement is only one of many problems arising from the complicated Off-Shore Procurement program which set Uncle Sam up as a shopper for arms in Europe. O.S.P. works like this:

Basically, the United States is like a well-off housewife going out to buy groceries for a worthy needy family down the street.

But like most American husbands, Congress only gives so much money for the shopping. And like a thrifty housewife, the American defense buyer wants to make the limited money go as far as possible and do the most good for the most people.

For the fiscal year which began July 1, about one billion dollars weight into the project; about one-third of them hired from the Pampa and Gray County area. What the contractors are looking for most at present are more trucks to feed the two giant mixers with sand, gravel and cement. Additional men will have to be hired in a few days as the job gets into high gear.

Whether the U.S. shoppers settle for trucks in Turin or airplanes in Bordeaux or ships in Lorint, before they close the deal they ask:

Is there manpower in the country available to produce these goods?

Are the needed materials available?

To what degree does the general economy of the country need a hypodermic of dollars? In other words, is there a chance to do two things at once: (1) buy arms and (2) boost a friendly nation's power to feed and clothe its people?

Will it relieve a United States industry that is overloaded, or will it take business away from a U.S. industry needing the income?

After answering these questions and after some "horse trading" on prices, the contract is signed. The shopper usually pays across the counter when the goods are delivered. Title to these defense tools goes to the U.S., which turns them over to whatever ally it names to receive them.

Now, in view of the American refusal to promise $25 million in new purchases from France, Defense Minister Pleven has criticized this whole shopping program and asked that it be debated at the next meeting of NATO in September.

Nurses' aids, who made exemplary service records during World War II when Registered Nurses were scarce, have won recognition at last. Tonight at 7:30 in the basement of Highland General Hospital, 12 nurse aids will participate in special capping ceremonies. The fight for recognition of nurse aids was begun in 1948 by the State Medical Assn. They worked in conjunction with the State Registered Nurses Assn. and in 1949 the Texas Hospital Assn. began backing the proposed plan. In 1950, a bill was introduced in the state legislature and there was quite a lot of talk about it. Many suggestions made, but it didn't pass. Backers re-made the bill and in September, 1951, the bill was introduced and passed. There's a provision which says in part, "any nurse aid who worked a year prior to September, 1951, that nurse is eligible for registration without examination if a hospital superintendent, superintendent of nurses or licensed doctor recognizes her as being eligible." Nurse aids at Highland General (there are 36) have had from three to 20 years of service in the public health field. Among the aids who will receive caps and pins are Mrs. Billie Kvesich, Mrs. Ruby Parr, Verta McCowen, Mrs. Belva Vance, Mrs. Susie Guinn, Miss V. Millard, Mrs. Maudie Davis, Mrs. Grace Johnson, Mrs. Violet Thompson, Miss Grace NeCase, Mrs. Harry Dean, Mrs. Essie Epps. Members of the medical profession will be special guests at the ceremony, but the program is open to the public. Nobody is prouder of his staff of 112 than Chet Lander, Highland General superintendent, but maybe just for today he's proudest of these 12 nurse aids who are now licensed vocational nurses.

Mrs. Wallace Fields of Shamrock Plans Trip To England To Join Her Husband

By LOUISE COFFMAN
News Correspondent

SHAMROCK (Special) — Mrs. Wallace Fields will leave Shamrock August 19 on the first leg of her trip to England to join her husband Lt. Col. Fields, in England. Kenneth, her two-year-old son, will accompany his mother when she boards the liner in Amarillo bound for New York City.

They will be met in New York by Mrs. Charles Ferguson, sister of Mrs. H.T. Fields of Shamrock, and plan to spend two days at the Ferguson farm, Meadowbrook, near New York before reporting to Fort Hamilton for processing.

Processing and physicals at Fort Hamilton are the last requirement made of dependents before passage overseas. Soon after August 22 Mrs. Fields will board an air plane, secured by the Armed Services for flights overseas to the European Theatre, enroute to Burtonwood England via Granders, Newfoundland and Sheron, Ireland. Lt. Col. Fields hopes to meet his family in Burtonwood and accompany them to Chevely, England, a village 13 miles from Mildenhall R.A.F. Base where he is stationed.

Lt. Col. Fields is Director of Operation at the base now being used by personnel of the United States Air Force. He is in charge of the training and rotation of squadrons sent from the States on a three-month rotation schedule. Col. Fields has spent the last five months in Ireland. He was recalled to active duty in April 1951. During World War II he served in Australia and New Guinea.

England is "opening her arms" to the Fields family through the person of a Mrs. Britton. Mrs. Britton, a widow, has moved out of her home and will turn it over to the Fields completely furnished. The house is a comparative rarity in England. It was completed only last January. Most of the houses in the village of four hundred persons are at least a hundred years old and most of the houses are two or three times that old. Woodlands Cottage, as it is

Washable Petticoats Important Summer Fashion Accessory

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty editor

Don't look now—but your petticoat is showing. It's all right, though, for this season fashion is pointing to tiny waistlines and billowing skirts puffed out with pretty underpinnings.

A variety of colors and materials allow you much more leeway than great grandmothers ever had, plus the wonderful advantage of completely washable fabrics.

Nylon nets and tricot are petticoat favorites permanently finished to retain their stiffness after countless soapy dunkings. You can eliminate all ironing if you fingerpress close gathers or tucks. Simply draw the material through your fingers slowly and firmly.

Batiste, organdy, plisse or dotted swiss make ideal underskirts and, with their delicate rows of lace and ribbon, look delightfully gay peeking out from under a glazed chintz or taffeta overskirt.

An exciting bit of fashion news is the indoor-outdoor petticoat, to be worn either as a skirt or under your summer frocks to perk them out.

For a good versatile, take-anywhere petticoat wardrobe, the first thing to consider is the washability of all the fabrics—especially the stiff ones.

Always make sure that the hemlines of your petticoats are spanking clean, too. Use a small, stiff brush dipped in soapuds and go over the edgings carefully before laundering the entire garment.

Can't-soups were named after the Italian town of Cantalupo near Rome.

HERE'S A QUESTIONNAIRE

How long since —

You've bought a new cook book, or tried some of the new recipes women are forever clipping out of newspapers and magazines and tucking away to use "some day"?

You've made the first move toward friendship with a newcomer to your town or neighborhood?

You've decided to rejuvenate a room, spending more energy than money on the project?

You've felt really caught up with all the entertaining you know you should do?

You've had a session with your mirror, trying to figure out just what you could do to improve your looks?

You've read, not just to pass the time, but to study up on a subject that interests you?

You've tackled a job you knew others could do, but thought was beyond you, whether that job was making a speech, or painting or papering a room?

You've managed to get on good terms with someone you felt didn't like you?

You've planned a day just for your own or for your own and your family's enjoyment?

You've added something for a friend in spite of the fact that it was actually inconvenient to you?

You've made a telephone call or written a letter to a friend with whom you were out of touch?

You've given your life a thorough house-cleaning, trying to weed out as many non-essentials as possible to leave more time for the things you know are important?

If the answer to several of those questions is "too long" — you can always do one of those things today.

Stars Express Individual Taste In Dressing Room Design

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — In the movie business, a star's room is judged by the size of his role or salary. It's how big and elaborate the dressing room is.

When unknown players are signed at a studio, they have virtually no place to hang their hats. If they succeed in becoming featured players, they are assigned rooms in a building with their colleagues. If they make the dizzy climb to stardom, they are moved into a swank building with other stars and given fancy suites.

Dressing rooms at the MGM star factory are the particular headache of Miss Eli Benneche. She has been decorating interiors at the studio for over two decades.

"I have to take care of 750 dressing rooms and offices," she reported. "Most of them have to be designed and decorated individually. The actors aren't the only ones who have certain desires in color and decoration; the directors and producers can be just as particular, or more so. I suppose that's true of all people in show business, in which color and design play such an important part."

Times have changed, she added, remarking that the economy wave in Hollywood has cut down the lavishness of stars' dressing

Hank Cracks Down On Public Schools In The United States

By HENRY McLEMORE

Oh, I forgot. I took journalism in college. A whale of a teacher. He got the job by personality, not by education. The days when States has improved since I was being educated.

It hasn't. I'll be the first to advocate knocking a dean's head against Mt. Rushmore, and rapping high school principals and teachers smartly in the mastoid region with a rusty tire tool.

It's hard to believe, but I took a year of blacksmithing when I was a senior in high school. A required subject, so help me! I learned all about a forge, bellows, the tempering of steel, and the proper manner in which to put a horse's foot in your lap so that he won't bite you more than two or three times while you're nailing a shoe on him.

You'd be amazed how little this course has helped me. It will be of help to the FBI, if they ever want to put out a poster regarding my "capture," because I burned my chest, there to stay for the rest of my life, in a horseshoe. The horseshoe, red hot, jumped on me one day, near the pulley bone, and left a mark more scarlet than Hawthorne ever wrote about.

In college I was forced to learn how to make sulphuric acid. Nice stuff, sulphuric acid, if you aim to make your living robbing banks by threatening to throw it in the face of a teller reluctant to hand over the dough.

I cut a lot of frogs, too. Know almost everything there is to know about the innards of them. But there is little or no money to be made with such information. Can you imagine trying to support a family by going to a town and hanging out a shingle "Frog Authority, Office Hours 9 to 5."

I had to learn about flowers, also. Not how to grow them, or how to arrange them, but what makes a girl flower a girl flower and what makes a boy flower a boy flower. I still remember some of the flower terms. Stamen. Statten. Stuttgart and Stutz Bearcat.

This insensible curriculum has been brought home to me many times, but never any sharper than on my arrival in Cuernavaca.

look at, but hard to eat. I'm not complaining. Not much. Why wasn't I taught a little Spanish or German or Italian when I was in school? Why did I have to study subjects that never had any chance to do me any good? I have to complain bitterly after I order dinner to-night. It's even money that I shoot for pork chops and a ham served a hand-knit shirt. With no Tabasco sauce, either.

Car Insurance For Young Servicemen Vexes Underwriters

WASHINGTON (AP) — The problem of car insurance for young servicemen is causing at least some underwriters "unmitigated distress," says the National Underwriter magazine.

The current issue says a division of the military risk "would produce a very favorable insurance rate for officers and non-commissioned officers, and an astounding and prohibitive rate for the single serviceman under age 25."

It gives these reasons for the high accident rate among the younger servicemen:

1. Residence away from home and beyond parental restraint.
2. An "almost universal practice, especially on the part of buck privates, of renting their cars out so that these automobiles are getting the hardest kind of treatment."
3. Formation in groups which go off on an 800-mile or 900-mile week end jaunt and try to come back Sunday night.

Drouth Causing Slump In Schools

DALLAS (AP) — The current drouth is causing enrollment in all Texas colleges and universities, a Dallas schoolman says.

R. L. Thomas, Dallas School District president and member of the Board of Regents of the State Teachers Colleges of Texas, said the drouth, combined with draft, military recruiting and the end of the World War II GI bill program is causing a general enrollment slump.

TALL CORN—Seven-year-old Bill Jim Marshall has to stand on the shoulder of his uncle, Joe Marshall, to look out over the Marshall brothers' 300 acres of corn near Koping, Mo. They're seeking a bumper corn crop to compete in the Missouri Farmers' Association's annual corn yield contest. In 1949 they averaged 114.4 bushels per acre; in 1950, 123 bushels and in 1951, 126.6 bushels.

Ole Bull's America

Few younger generation Americans are familiar with the name of the great Norwegian violinist, Ole Bull. His love of American ideals of freedom which inspired a mass migration of his countrymen to the United States, won him a place in history that may be remembered longer than his musical genius.

Ole Bull was born in Norway in 1810. He first came to America in 1843 and was so enraptured with the new land of freedom that he soon became an American citizen. He returned repeatedly to Norway, which was subject to the Swedish king, in an attempt to inspire his homeland with the spirit of freedom that pervaded his newly adopted country. Finally, discouraged with the possibility of reviving his own native land, he conceived the idea of moving Norwegians to America, and he purchased 11,400 acres in Potter County, Pennsylvania, for New Norway. His address of welcome to arriving Norwegian settlers 100 years ago is a stirring message from a freedom-loving individual that may well be taken to heart today. He recalled for his listeners early Norwegian expeditions to the shores of America nearly a thousand years before, and said:

"But since then we learned . . . one of the greatest notions of the earth had been successful in planting colonies there. That these colonies had grown and flourished, and that, when the mother country had endeavored to impose tyrannical laws upon them, they had rebelled, and standing up boldly in the presence of mankind and declared before Almighty God, that they were free and independent — that they had been successful and had established a government with a written constitution, based upon the principles of justice and the eternal rights of humanity, that they had spread over almost the entire continent, and had become one of the leading nations of the earth, and that there a home could be found for all who sought it, that the right to labor for ourselves would not be denied us, and that our 'inalienable rights' of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness would be secured to us.

"Overjoyed with the light and hope which this news gave us, we have sought this country to be partakers in this liberty, to enjoy this freedom, and here in this beautiful valley we have selected our home."

Can we honestly say we are preserving Ole Bull's America today?

Stars Penalized

The Truman Administration has gone global in its favorite exercise of business-baiting!

Employing such phrases as "monopolistic practices" and "restraint of trade," the newest hatchet-man, Attorney General McGranery, accused seven of the world's largest oil companies — five American and two British — of criminally conspiring to establish an international cartel.

The incredible aspect of the matter lies in the paradox that the badgered firms have simply and plainly, on the record, been carrying out the objectives of the Administration's cherished Point 4 policy of rehabilitating the economies of free peoples over the planet.

The purpose of Point 4 is to encourage U. S. industrialists to invest money, machinery and brains in the economies of foreign countries. Thus private investment dollars, instead of U. S. loans, are put to work, under U. S. business know-how, to help other countries help themselves to grow strong and independent. To encourage this, our government guarantees to reimburse U. S. investors for any losses in foreign risk ventures.

The oil industry — which is, by its very nature, a highly competitive industry — has made good in a most impressive way. It has helped materially in post-war development of Venezuela, of Indo-China, of the Middle East. Even more important, it has increased oil production to an extent that offsets the loss from the Iranian debacle. And all this has been accomplished without a cent of government subsidy or reimbursement for loss.

The federal action seems precisely parallel to that of a baseball manager who would penalize a star player for hitting a home run!

Not Good Enough

If the Administration has its way, the Federal government will spend $85,400,000,000 of our money this year. The Treasury anticipates an income of $71,000,000,000 which would leave a deficit of $14,400,000,000. Even that picture is probably over-bright — the Joint Congressional Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation believes that the Treasury's revenue estimates are too high by about $4,000,000,000.

Luckily for the present and future strength and security of this country, Congress seems to be finally opening its eyes to the fact that the budget can be cut — and must be cut. Many requested appropriations have been sharply pared, and more will reduce the President's budget by a total of something like $9,000,000,000.

This is good news — but it isn't good enough. A great many experts on government administration and policy are convinced that, so far, Congress has only dealt with what of the more flagrant wastes and extravagances. They are convinced that many more billions can be saved without impairing any necessary government activity — including an adequate national defense and a reasonable amount of foreign aid.

The ordinary American family is undoubtedly giving more thought to the tax burden than it ever did in the past. That family must contribute about $1,500 a year to meet the current tax bill. It is the people of modest means who must carry most of the load now — for the rich have long been taxed to the point of confiscation. Waste can destroy a nation just as it can destroy a business or a family. We're no exception to that grim rule.

SPOTLIGHT FOR THE NATION

DOES SHARING CRIME MAKE IT LESS CRIMINAL.

By WILLFORD L. KING

When a hold-up man robs an individual citizen of $100, everyone recognizes that he is a criminal and sentencing him to the penitentiary is almost universally approved. But, when a man whose car is damaged in a collision, conspires with a mechanic to charge the insurance company $200 for a $100 repair job, the robbery is likely to be attributed by most people as a mere peccadillo.

The difference in viewpoint apparently originates from the fact that the average person does not visualize the insurance company stockholder as being a real living individual like himself. Furthermore, in his mind, robbing ten thousand individuals of ten cents each seems far less criminal than the stealing of $100 from one man. And apparently, it is partly this same inability to picture clearly to one's self abstract situations that causes the typical voter of Congressmen, who would never dream of stealing a dime from a neighbor, to support income-tax legislation which robs the upright and highly successful business man of eighty or ninety percent of his earnings.

But an influence which is perhaps even more important is the fact that the voter is only one of millions of persons responsible for the legislation and hence for the robbery. If a crime has been committed, his share of responsibility therefore seems infinitesimal. And do not advocates of democracy commonly assume that the majority can do no wrong?

This same feeling that mass participation in a crime minimizes the guilt of the individual taking part therein probably accounts for the lenient treatment of the convicts in various prisons who have recently engaged in riots and destroyed millions of dollars worth of property. The punishment meted out to the vandals has been so mild that others have been encouraged to follow their example. Indeed, the prison officials seem, in most cases to have been more concerned with appeasing the rioters than with punishing the bullies, so the convicts are presumably convinced that, if they all hang together, there is little danger that any of them will hang separately.

The State of New York has recently furnished an excellent example of how divided responsibility changes the views of legislators concerning crime. Lederle Laboratories, a division of the American Cyanamid Company, operates near the town of Pearl River, a large plant which produces various serums and all of the aureomycin produced in the world. This last-mentioned antibiotic is said to be the most versatile of the wonder drugs, a drug which often effects cures when all other remedies have failed. Moreover, unlike many other wonder medicines, it rarely produces any serious undesirable side effects. Therefore, it is proving a boon to great numbers of victims of infections.

Now it is safe to say that practically none of the employees of the Lederle Laboratories would, of his own accord, injure a fellow citizen who had done him no harm, and nearly everyone would look with horror upon the thought of committing murder. Yet, in the face of the sentiments, this is what actually happened.

The union to which a large number of these employees belonged called a strike, and ordered a picket line thrown around the plant. The scientists in charge of the vital processes of producing the serums and the aureomycin refused to abandon their posts; hence they were besieged in the plant. Thus their basic right as American citizens to go freely from place to place was interfered with. The pickets refused to allow food or other supplies for either the beleaguered scientists or the animals in their charge to be brought into the plant. If the mold was left unattended or the experimental animals had died, the results of months of effort would have been lost, and hence hundreds of needless deaths of humans and life saving vaccines and antitoxins might have occurred.

Fortunately, the American Cyanamid Company was able, by use of a helicopter, to fly in basic supplies for the scientists and the animals. Yet, doubtless, the reduction in the supply of aureomycin will result in a considerable number of unnecessary deaths. These victims will be just as dead as if they had been shot down by bandits. But those responsible for their deaths will feel little or no remorse; first because they are unacquainted with the victims; and second, because responsibility for the deaths can be spread over the entire group of pickets instead of impinging upon any one individual.

And, what was the excuse for this criminal action? Primary responsibility is placed on the wage rates were too low. But, obviously, if the company was paying less than going rates for its employees, the workers would, one by one, take positions elsewhere and the Lederle Laboratories would be forced either to pay more or to close up. Striking was entirely unnecessary.

And when the picket line was shutting out supplies from the plant, why was the Governor of New York taking no action? He is the man primarily responsible for maintaining law and order in the State and protecting the liberties of its citizens. So, if he failed to take action, must he not share also in the responsibility for any deaths resulting from a shortage of aureomycin and serums?

And last, but by no means least, what about the men who called the strike and ordered the picket line set up? Are they not the most guilty of all?

Among the Ten Commandments, we find the injunctions: "Thou shalt not steal!" "Thou shalt not kill!" Do we find anywhere in connection with them a statement that the guilt of the individual violating these commandments is reduced in proportion to the number of persons participating in the crime? Is such a principle commonly accepted in our statutes promulgated for the punishment of misdeeds? If not, on what basis can we justify the assumption that majorities are never wrong and that the participant in a crime committed by a mob is less guilty, morally and legally, than if he had committed the crime individually? This questions seems worthy of serious consideration.

Fair Enough . . . Ike Will Have To Shed A Lot Of Associates To Suit Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1952, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

I wish we Republicans had a candidate in this year's election, but there seems to be only a faint possibility that General Eisenhower will qualify. To do so he must brush off Paul Hoffman, repent of the arrogant fraud which delivered the Connecticut delegation from the hands of a gang who had the gall to parade "Hoffman's steal" in Chicago, and get hot on unionism, withholding and the duplication of Texas in several overlapping fields.

He will also have to explain why he took Joe Barnes of the Herald Tribune, a notorious liar, to ghost his war book.

Hoffman is an adventurer with an alarming record developed clandestinely in cooperation with a thoroughly corrupt State Department. Some of Ike's rapturous but illogical advocates insist that Hoffman and a number of gyp-joint and television trash in New York just latched onto the general and bear no genuine credentials from him. I hope this is true but it is up to Ike to remove himself from a doubtful situation which would cost him votes. He should weigh such possible loss against the votes that he really will not get from real Republicans who will have no truck with a candidate satisfactory to the scalawag Republicans and New Dealers in his present following.

There are many other Americans in my gloomy condition. I have had a large mail from conservative Republicans who have seen the development of a dominant socialist influence in our party. I note that the Southern Democrats who were so full of fire a few weeks ago curled up and quit to the Marxist Yankees after Chicago. The true Republicans and the few genuine Democrats of the Southern tier need a new party to represent us, but we all realize that this is not the year for it. We are sunk save only the puny possibility that Ike will do right by us.

Russell, Byrd and Byrnes have been a sorry lot in the crisis and, as usual, funked it in a depressing surrender to the union racket and New York letter-head societies more European than American. Had these honey-suckle statesmen walked out with the Dixiees in 1948 they would have brought the decision four or five years closer. But they were short on principle and courage and they confirmed this lack again beyond any hope this summer.

Stevenson was a minor lightweight bureaucrat in the circle of playboys and females who had such a wonderful time in Washington during the war. He has no record of performance or character and in giving Harry Truman the foot he made no obeisance to morals or principle. He only put his little back-room character in his place so that if he should win, he would owe Truman nothing. On matters of the dissolution of the Constitution through the civil rights scheme, Stevenson has been siding for the punishment of misdeeds? If not, on what basis can we justify the assumption that majorities are never wrong and that the participant in a crime committed by a mob is less guilty, morally and legally, than if he had committed the crime individually? This questions seems worthy of serious consideration.

"personalities" isn't gentle; he is afraid. There is a great mine of pay-dirt in the personal conduct of Harry S. Truman. Chicago was seething with "personality" stuff about Stevenson which may have been circulated in malice by other Democrats who know him.

We are hell-bent for socialism because both candidates are captives of forces which they haven't the power, if they have the will, to resist. I hear that if Ike is elected he will rear back and turn Republican. I don't expect it. Senator Taft is our rear-guard and he is sick at heart. If he ever agrees to forgive and forget, he will end the contempt of all who had faith in him.

National Whirligig. Stevenson Will Be Aided By Democratic Senate Candidates

By RAY TUCKER
 WASHINGTON

The Democrats' election of popular and formidable candidates for the United States Senate in several definite areas may prove to be of great aid to Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson when the electoral roll is tabulated next January. They may carry him to victory in these areas on their community coat-tails.

This local reinforcement is especially valuable—in fact, essential—to the Democratic presidential nominee because he is relatively unknown outside his own state of Illinois.

How to overcome this handicap in a short campaign is one of the chief concerns at Springfield. Stevenson must depend on the home-state talent to make him known to their constituents as they stump their respective states.

It is a lucky break for him that so many states have named first-rate men to run on the same ticket with him.

VOTE-GETTERS—This situation is exemplified most strikingly in the Middle West, where isolationist sentiment may react adversely against Stevenson's plan to defend the general foreign policy enunciated and executed by President Truman and Secretary Acheson.

There has been a tremendous shift of public opinion since 1948, the Democratic nominee is expected to carry Illinois. He swept it by 572,000 only four years ago, and it is generally admitted that he ruled the state well. The Ardy's machine in Cook County will outdo itself to place him in the White House.

In Indiana the Democrats have nominated Gov. Henry F. Schrickler, who placed Stevenson in nomination at Chicago. Schrickler is one of the best Democratic vote-getters in Hoosier state. He has produced in many years. It is generally believed that he will defeat Sen. William E. Jenner who is regarded as a second-rate senator in Capitol Hill.

GAIN—W. Stuart Symington's defeat of the presidential favorite, Atty. Gen. J. E. Taylor, in Missouri can be chalked up as a gain for Stevenson. Symington's tremendous primary vote, as well as his prestige and personality, save the Ardy's machine in the Republican incumbent, Sen. James P. Kem. Taylor would have been only a so-so candidate.

Although Tennessee is normally a Democratic state, Representative Albert Gore's trimming of the Senate edge by dropping Kenneth McKellar, should make sure that it will not waver. As one of the youngest and ablest members of the House, Gore should sweep Tennessee into the Democratic column for himself and Stevenson.

STRONG—In another section of the country — Massachusetts — the Democrats have named a strong man to oppose Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge. He is Representative John Kennedy, son of the former SEC chairman and ambassador to England.

Lodge is not the sure winner he is supposed to be. His servile support of the Truman-Acheson foreign policy has antagonized certain Bay State elements, as did his leading role in the Eisenhower camp.

Like his father, Kennedy has not hesitated to criticize certain aspects of the administration's foreign policy in a state which has many anti-British voters.

OPPOSED—Ironically, President Truman has opposed, publicly or privately, almost all of these men whose nomination should promote Stevenson's chances.

He has recently revealed that Barkley was his choice over Stevenson and that "Hiram" was forced to withdraw because of labor's opposition. He backed Taylor against Symington in Missouri. He favored McKellar over Gore, a Kefauver type of insurgent. He has no love for Schrickler, who has not been too friendly with the McKinney - McHale faction.

faulted. He said that the question of repealing rules permitting southern filibusters was on for the Senate, not the President, to decide. This was eminently satisfactory to Dixie.

But now that the threat of a Southern rebellion seems to have vanished, the candidate has changed his mind. He is wakening on both questions. It looks as if Stevenson, sure that the South will not break away, is making a play for the Negro vote that is as important in so CHANGED—General Eisenhower has also changed the direction of his attack. When it appeared that he might carry several southern states, he was down against a compulsory FEPC. But as soon as the South seemed to rally behind Stevenson, he wavered. Sixteen Republican governors and senators, as well as prominent Negro spokesmen, insist that fair employment legislation will be enacted in an "Eisenhower Administration."

The Nation's Press

SHED SOME COLLARS, ADLAI (New York Daily News)

Senator Richard M. Nixon, Republican candidate for Vice President, made his first major campaign speech Thursday evening at Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. Nixon lost no time in tearing into Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, the Democratic candidate for President.

Adlai, said Nixon, is a "captive candidate"—meaning he's a prisoner of Jack Kroll, head of the CIO Political Action Committee; of Jacob Arvey, chief of the Chicago Democratic machine, and of President Truman.

Stevenson, on the other hand, said in a press conference this week that he's as independent as the Statue of Liberty. He wears no man's collar, to hear him tell it, and will run his own campaign and be his own boss if elected.

The fact remains that Stevenson got the nomination only because Arvey, the CIO political leader and Truman were willing to let him have it. Up to now, therefore, he wears these genteel collars, no matter how loudly he denies the fact. He can best disprove Senator Nixon's charges by taking off those collars promptly, publicly, and in actual fact. Mere gestures at collar shedding won't do, because the public (which isn't as dumb as the Fair Dealers suppose) will see through them.

Let's get started ripping off those collars, Adlai. The crowd is waiting with interest if not with impatience.

SENATOR NIXON'S ("Truth," London Eng.)

General Eisenhower—or, more probably, the powerful group behind him—revealed a flash of genius in nominating Senator Nixon as Republican candidate for the Vice Presidency. Although, of recent months, the Democratic Party has been trying desperately to scrape off its flanks the slime thrown up by the Hill case, the revelation about Eisenhower's White and the now generally accepted fact that official wartime America resembled a vast Communist conspiracy, much of the mud still sticks. Eisenhower would be thought of the Churchill Administration if, let us say, Mr. Eden had professed a firm friendship for Alan Nunn May, and refused to retract that statement after the man had been exposed as a traitor to his country? That is the precise situation created by Mr. Dean Acheson's reaffirmed friendship with Alger Hiss. Why would we have been led to believe that the proceedings against May or Fuchs were a "red herring"? That is what President Truman said about the proceedings against Hiss.

Had it not been for the courage, tenacity and patriotism of one man, influential persons and some of the great interests in the United States would have prevented Hiss from being brought to trial. That man was Senator Richard Nixon. Should he become Vice President, traitors — a fellow-traveler will look to him in vain for the protection which they have found in the Democratic regime. That, of course, has nothing to do with the country's financial, economic and foreign policies. General Eisenhower's nomination makes certain that whoever becomes President, Mr. Baruch will remain in domination.

 DO YOU HAVE A "GET SICK" CARD FOR A TALL BLONDE?

OUTSMARTED—Southern politicians may be pardoned if they begin to think that they have been outsmarted by both the presidential nominees on the question of Civil Rights legislation. They may decide to string along with Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, who says he wants to hear the campaign arguments before deciding how to vote.

At first Stevenson seemed to side with the Southerners on this question. He opposed a compulsory FEPC unless the states de-

TUNNEL OF TOMORROW—MAYBE—English and French committees are discussing plans for a tunnel under the English Channel from Folkestone, England, to Cap Gris-Nez, France. The miniature model pictured above gives an idea of how it may look. Two railway sections and two motor vehicle roads will take up most of the space. Such a tunnel was proposed in 1880, but opposition by the British War Office stymied the project.

HELPS NEGROES—Banks and business houses throughout New York have begun the sale, at a premium, of the new Carver-Washington commemorative half-dollar pictured above. The half-dollar, okayed by Congress for premium sale at $2.00, honors George Washington Carver and Booker T. Washington. The face shows heads of the two great Negro leaders. On the reverse side is a map of the U. S. with the slogan "Freedom and Opportunity for All—Americanism." Proceeds will go to aid underprivileged Negroes.

DEATH WAS THE UNSEEN WEDDING GUEST—Like any mother, Mrs. C. G. Bisbee, of Dodge City, Kans., looked forward for years to the happy day when her daughter, Pamela, would be married. But when the wedding day came it had to be held in Trinity Hospital chapel because Mrs. Bisbee was a bed-and-chair-bound patient there. She's in the wheelchair, right, in the wedding picture above. The minister is Rev. Clarence R. Gerig. Before him are the bride and Max D. Ames, the bridegroom. Attendants, in dark outfits, are Jack Hess of Dodge City and Gloria Jo Igou of Liberal, Kans. Mrs. Bisbee had her happy day. She had seen her daughter get married. Two days later she died.

DROUGHT PARCHES CORN—Farmer Estis L. Milam stands in his Fairburn, Ga., cornfield and searches vainly for corn he can market. Farmers all over the southeast have seen their crops wilt and die in the drought which has scorched the area.

NINE AND DANDY—Nine finalists in New York City's "Miss America" competition line up on the roof of a New York hotel so that lucky local judges can get a look at the array of pretty faces and figures. One will be chosen to represent the big city at the annual contest in Atlantic City.

KREMLIN BOASTS OF DOWNING U. S. PLANES—During the recent celebration of Red Air Force Day in Moscow, the poster above was plastered all over the city. COME GLASS TO THIS—Prime problem of designers of supersonic-speed jet planes is to find a metal that will not melt under the searing friction developed by ultra-high-speed flight. Thomas E. Above is an artist's conception of such a plane, which would employ a type of glass fiber laminate for friction-sensitive parts.
