Ike Strives To Smash Democratic Hold On Texas

Operation Trojan Horse . . . Reds Plastered In Faked UN Landing

WITH U. S. JOINT AMPHIBIOUS TASK FORCE off Northeast Korea (AP) — The Army, Navy and Air Force combined today to stage a mock invasion of Communist Northeast Korea and drew thousands of Red troops out into the open where they were plastered by Allied warplanes.

Nearly 100 ships, including a battleship, six aircraft carriers and four cruisers — the greatest concentration of U. N. naval vessels since the Inchon landing in 1950 — participated. So did thousands of well-trained American troops.

Allied warplanes strafed and bombed the beaches. The troops took only a short ride. They clambered down cargo nets in full view of the Communist shore. Then the landing craft took them around to the other side of their mother ships and the soldiers, in full invasion gear, clambered back aboard.

No Plan To Land

The landing ships, with only Navy crews aboard, then dashed toward the beach — but pulled up 4,000 yards from shore and returned to the huge fleet.

The operation was the culmination of months of realistic training and planning. There was no plan to land but the operation was completely realistic in every other way.

The mock forces gathered off Koho, south of the Red port of Wolsan and 33 miles north of the battle line on the east coast.

The sight of the great, gray fleet must have given the Reds the jitters.

Shore Softened Up

One purpose of the mock invasion — dubbed "Operation Trojan Horse" — was to draw the Reds toward the coast so air could strike them.

Three days before, Allied ships and warplanes had moved in to soften the Koho area, exactly as in a real returning bombardment.

The Reds retained the fire. Meanwhile, the troops practiced landings at Kangung to the south in full view of friendly South Koreans.

Beaten Child Describes Two Killers

CHESTER, Calif. (AP) — Sondra Gay Young, 3 1/2, yesterday described two men as the killers of her father, two sisters and a little playmate in a $7,128 robbery-massacre.

Sondra herself was brutally bludgeoned and left for dead—thrown across the bodies of the four victims in the trunk of her father's automobile.

Reviving for a time from the coma and shock of a fractured skull, Sondra said one of the assailants was bald and masked; the other unmasked and carrying a gun. She said both wore green shirts, blue jeans and black shoes, and drove a big blue car.

Dist. Atty. Bertrand Jones talked with her in a hospital. Her mother and her mother-to-be took her to a home on logging road, she said. Sondra related.

Her father, Guard Young, 43, owned money ($7,128) from a Westwood bank last Friday to cash loggers' checks at his grocery store here Saturday. He bought the children poppicles and candy, then started home.

The trip was a treat for the children: Sondra's sisters Jean, 7, and Judy, 5, and a neighbor, (See BEATEN CHILD, Page 3)

John Rodwisch, an employee who worked in the wrecked unit, told newsmen he left the building 20 minutes earlier to eat at another building a half mile away.

As he stepped outside to return, he was snatched with broken glass and plaster. He was unable to explain the cause of the blast.

The unit was built two years ago. It housed a process man, featuring nitro mix, a by-product of TNT used in ore mining.

During the luncheon session there will be an election of district officers for the coming year.

Speakers for the program will include Leonard M. Gunderson, Amarillo, district layman; Mrs. V. O. Hennen Herford, district lay woman; Dr. H. H. Latson, Amarillo, district medical advisor; Hubert Cole, Amarillo, Dr. M. C. Overton, Jr., Pampa; Mrs. E. Mc Nutt, Pampa, and Miss Margaret Snaap, District 3-N field representative of Midland.

The opinion, requested by Gov. Allan Shivers, also said the names of the Republican candidates for president and vice president also may be written in the ballot's written column.

The entire cause, the vote will be counted for the Republican Eisenhower - Nixon presidential electors.

The opinion was written by former Texas Supreme Court Justice that Atty. - Gen. Price Daniel called in to assist. They were Richard Critz, Austin; Gordon Simpson, Dallas; and A. J. Felber, Amarillo.

"A voter must write in the names of both the candidate for president and the candidate for vice president nominated by the same party in order for his ballot to be counted," the opinion elaborated.

"However, only the last name of the candidates is sufficient and minor names do not need to be spelled correctly if the intention of the voter can be ascertained from the names as they are written on the ballot."

Stevenson will be in Texas Friday and Saturday.

Stevenson and John Nance (a c a t u s Jack) Garner, ex - vice president, plan to have breakfast together Saturday morning in Uvalde.

The get - together between the Democratic candidate and the 83 - year - old Garner was announced today by state Stevenson - Sparkman headquarters here.

No Depression With The GOP, General Vows

FORT WORTH (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower strove mightily today to smash the Democratic hold on the Solid South while promising a Republican administration would use "the full power of government" to prevent another depression.

For the second straight day he rapped through his home state of Texas blasting the Truman administration with scorn and sarcasm.

The GOP candidate told a wind-chilled, cheering crowd that the Democrats were trying to frighten the people with scare talk about another depression — and he declared such a thing would never happen.

Eisenhower touched off a raucous cheer today when he called for an administration that will get this country "on the right track once again."

He lashed the Truman administration's record as a "sorry one" and the crowd whooped it up when he called for "the kind of government American citizens should have and can have."

Porter Predicts Victory

The GOP candidate jibed at the Democratic "big guns and little guns" going around the country "trying to sell fear." And he denied that a GOP leadership would destroy the social gains that have been made. He called such charges "just plain bunk."

W. H. (Jack) Porter, Texas oil man and leader of the Texas Eisenhower campaign, predicted the general will get at least 54 per cent of the state's popular vote and perhaps 58 per cent.

"A New Deal candidate has never been able to beat the more conservative candidate in Texas," he said. "And with men like Gov. Allan Shivers and Atty.-Gen. Price Daniel on our side, that is going to put Ike over."

Porter was asked about the rural vote and said: "It's begun. (See NO DEPRESSION, Page 3)

Ike Write-In Ruled Legal

AUSTIN (AP) — An attorney general's opinion said today Texas voters may legally write in the names of Dwight Eisenhower and Richard Nixon on the general election ballot in the Democratic column and scratch the names of the Democratic nominees.

The opinion, requested by Gov. Allan Shivers, also said the names of the Republican candidates for president and vice president also may be written in the ballot's written column.

The entire cause, the vote will be counted for the Republican Eisenhower - Nixon presidential electors.

Stone Takes Vital Role In Murder Case

BALTIMORE (AP) — A small pebble, probably a little larger than Johnny would use in a slingshot, took on boulder significance today in the Grammer murder trial.

An oblong quartz stone was introduced yesterday as the one found jammed under the base of the accelerator on a car which hurtled into an embankment and overturned in view of two policemen in prow car.

The officers found the body of Mrs. Dorothy May Grammer inside the upset automobile. Several deep gashes were on her head. Blood matted her hair and was spilled on the seat.

Her husband, George Edward Grammer, 35, manager for a New York metals firm, is accused of killing her with a blunt instrument and trying to make her death appear to be an accident.

After the state introduced the pebble, Defense Atty. Anthony S. Federico attempted to establish doubt that the pebble was located in a way to depress the accelerator, as the prosecution implied, at the time her car crashed.

Police Sgt. Paul Hardesty acknowledged that the death car was left unguarded for about two hours between the time he noticed a "whitish object" under the accelerator base while removing Mrs. Grammer's body and the time the pebble was removed by himself and another officer 1 1/2 hours later.

Saek's Atty. Anselm Sodaro told the court yesterday at the opening of the trial — expected to last about two weeks — that Grammer was "hopelessly in love" with a 28-year-old Canadian employee at the United Nations headquarters in New York.

Sodaro said the motive for the crime was Grammer's intention of marrying the Hamilton, Ont., secretary, Mathilda Mizbrovsky.

Mrs. Grammer, 33-year-old mother of three daughters, had been staying with her mother in suburban North Baltimore after the death of her father.

Grammer commuted from New York on week ends to visit her.

Officials to be present for the meeting include the state librarian, Thomas J. Gibson, Austin; Mrs. Joan Jones, president of the Friends of Texas Library, and Mrs. Lucille Wilson, extension director of the association.

Pampa will be represented in the public library board at a meeting in Borger this week-end of 44 counties in District I of the Texas Library Association.

A tea Friday night to honor state officials will be attended by Mrs. Lillian Snow, Pampa librarian, and Mrs. C. P. Buckler, chairman of the local board.

The two ladies will be joined Saturday by Mrs. Aubrey Steele and Mrs. Dick Hughes, both board members. Mrs. Steele has been named to serve as county chairman of the Library Friends or organization.

No Trick To End Fighting In Korea

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson said today that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower knows full well "there is no trick that can end the Korean War."

Democratic presidential nominee, encouraged by reports of mounting strength in Utah — it is not Wyoming — pushed his campaign to the Pacific Northwest with a sharp attack on his Republican opponent's stand on Korea, foreign policy and public power development.

Saying "that Eisenhower has implied that we could bring our men home from Korea soon if we would only train some South Korean soldiers to take their places," Stevenson declared in a speech prepared for a street-corner rally.

"I will not play politics with war and peace. Our men are fighting in Korea so they will not have to fight in Alaska or Spokane or Omaha."

Two Indictments In Alice Killing

ALICE (AP) — Two indictments were returned as a result of a grand jury investigation of the Sept. 8 slaying of Jacob S. (Shady) Floyd Jr.

Officers have called the slaying a bungled attempt at political assassination.

The indictments, reported yesterday, were against Nago Alaniz, dapper Alice lawyer, and Mario Sapp, San Delgo bar owner. They were indicted on charges of murder with malice and conspiracy to murder.

Guests Return Home As Gray Birthday Party Comes To End

Gray County's birthday party is over and hundreds of guests are returning home today. Old-timers and guests in the area have relived the past 50 years this week through shades of gaiety and sobriety.

Former residents were greeted by warm and sunny Top of Texas weather, but left today on a note of winter ushered in the last day of the celebration. They were given a sample of winds familiar to all Panhandle residents.

The three-day celebration ended Tuesday night with a story of early Gray County told in fireworks.

The first train, an oil gusher, the first court house, an Indian buffalo hunt and the United States flag were all depicted in fireworks staged by the Paramount Company of Tulsa, Okla., in Harvester Football Stadium.

Proceeding the display, Mayor C. A. Huff addressed the group. Bud Lucas acrobatic troupe of Wichita Falls presented a group of acts and authentic Kawahwi Indian ceremonial were portrayed by a group of Amarillo Boy and Girl Scouts. Art Teed served as master of ceremonies and Kay Fancher narrated during the fireworks display.

Prior to the fireworks display and the final celebration dance were the old-timers barbecue at noon and the unweaving and dedication of Gray County's Pioneer Memorial erected at the south entrance of the court house.

Approximately 2,800 attended the old-timers' barbecue in the Hobart Street park at noon Tuesday. A message from Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican presidential nominee, was read prior to the meal. Of this group, nearly 1,200 had registered as residents of the Panhandle for 35 or more years.

Divers Battle 'Witch' For Gold

LEWES, Del. (AP) — Six salvagers are ready to battle a tremendous ocean current and a "bad weather witch" in an effort to locate the British sloop of war Debraak, which sank in 1798 with a treasure reported worth 10 million dollars.

Leading the search for the ship, believed to have gone down off Cape Henlopen at the mouth of the Delaware Bay about 100 miles southeast of Wilmington, Del., are two young Lewes dairymen, Archie and Weldon W. Brittingham.

Providing the salvage know-how are veteran Capt. Charles T. Johnson and his partner, J. Rodney King. The salvage boat is owned by Henry Buckaloo, a Lewes oysterman.

Harry Morgan, a man who has worked on previous salvage attempts for the sloop Debraak, will handle the diving chores.

There are the six men tackling a job which has defied four previous efforts to unloose the sea's secret. The salvage firm of Merritt, Chapman and Scott of Baltimore gave up in the summer of 1932.

In the years from 1934 to 1946 the Colstad Corp. of Providence, R. I., made three vain attempts to reach the sunken ship.

The first attempt brought up perhaps the only solid clue obtained to date. The Baltimore firm salvaged a piece of wood it said came from the Debraak's teakwood superstructure. The expedition was abandoned that fall after numerous mishaps to its salvaging equipment.

When folks around this area talk about the Debraak and the jinx which seems to stalk salvage attempts, the logical reasons offered for failure are a treacherous current which swirls around the breakwater at Cape Henlopen and the poor weather which persistently dogs such expeditions.

The Debraak was capsized by a sudden squall, the records books, say, and its captain, James Drew, was lost with 35 officers, crew members and 30 Spanish prisoners.

The old records say the ship had just returned from a sortie in which it captured a Spanish vessel headed from South America to Spain.

If it came from a hardware store, we have it. Lewis Harwood, who

Two men in a car overhauled them. The unmasked gunman got in the front seat, between Young and Saffie, and forced the grocer to drive onto the lonely road and stop. Jean, Judy and Michael were ordered to lie on the floor in the rear of the car. Here, Saffie began faltering under the strain of trying to remember.

But she did recall seeing her father forced to lie on the road while the men tied his hands behind his back. And that little Michael darted from the car, only to be caught by one of the men.

That's as far as Saffie could go yesterday. Meanwhile, in Reno — 120 miles to the southeast — Washoe County, Nev., officers arrested Louis Edmond Blair, 37, for questioning Blair, who operates a movie theater next door to Young's grocery, told Washoe Sheriff George Lothrop: "I had a feud with Young a while back over property, but it was unimportant. But if I did it (the killings) I hope they tar and feather me."

Numberwise, Democracy Tops Totalitarianism Since 1936

WASHINGTON (AP) — On the simple basis of numbers of persons democracy seems to have defeated totalitarianism up to now in the battle that flared with the Spanish Civil War in 1936.

But the margin is small, only a little over a half million persons around the world. Population figures in the cases of some nations are only official estimates by their governments, but the best available data indicate that nations with a total population of about 645 million have lost the basic democratic right of free ballot.

For the most part these are people behind the Iron Curtain, controlled directly or indirectly by Moscow, but the figure does not include the Russian people themselves.

On the democratic side, nations with a total of about 700 million people have gained increased—but varying — political rights.

In some nations women citizens have gained the right to vote. Several former colonies have gained independence and subsequently increased the rights of their citizens.

The story of the dictatorships is much the simplest to tell. Millions in Middle Europe and the Far East had varying voting privileges before the Communists grabbed their governments. The Communists claim they still do—but the voters get a single list of candidates and are expected to vote an enthusiastic "yes."

The nations in which the people have lost all but the Communist "yes" vote include Lithuania, Estonia, Latvia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Hungary, North Korea, Albania and Yugoslavia.

The total is confused by the 16-14 million people in Yugoslavia, where before World War II a constitutional monarchy permitted all men over 21 to vote. Yugoslavia came out of the war with Marshal Tito as a Communist Dictator. The free vote is gone.

In other nations the right of the individual citizen to vote has been at least abridged for other reasons. Those nations include Spain, the Union of South Africa and Egypt.

The list of peoples who have rights is much more complicated. It includes the peoples of Israel, Siam, Somaliland, the Sudan the

U.N. Agenda Filled With Bitter Topics

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The Steering Committee of the United Nations General Assembly headed into an agenda loaded with bitter world problems today as postponement of an expected U. S. pronouncement on Korea

India's millions are the biggest democratic balance against the Chinese millions that were lost to the Communists in 1949. Old India, a British dominion, broke up into two nations, India and Pakistan. Both portions became republics. Men and women were given the right to vote in the general elections.

Indonesia's 78 million and another large bloc to those who have come closer to self rule. It was a Dutch colony until after World War II. The law now says that everyone over 18 years of age may vote for the National Assembly.

The list of peoples who have rights is much more complicated. It includes the peoples of Israel, Siam, Somaliland, the Sudan the

Law Enforcement Has Taken Great Strides in 50 Years

Law enforcement is "nothing but common sense and the Ten Commandments," according to Sheriff R. H. (Rufe) Jordan. And that is just about what the citizens of Gray County in its early days had for use in law enforcement. A sheriff, a Texas Ranger and some folks who were willing to help out in catching a cattle rustler or a burglar—that was about the extent of it.

Nowadays the county has a highway patrol, a sheriff's office, a police department, a city marshal, some constables and a Texas Ranger or two—and even a county juvenile officer—plus the equipment and the courts to help them out.

A great deal of technical advancement, organization, personnel and foresight has come to the fore in the field of law enforcement over the past 50 years in this county—and in the others of the state as well.

From the day Gray County was organized—June 9, 1802—to the present time, there has been a variety of law enforcement quality and quantity.

Fifty-five days after the organization of the county, the first sheriff was elected—Tom Crawford. He was the first law officer recorded. When the first city marshal for Pampa was elected has been lost in the haze of history.

At that same time, of course, there was likely to be a Texas Ranger in the area. But there have been so relatively few of them to cover so large an area that it is impossible to say when there was one in the county.

In the first half of Gray County's half-century life span, there was a sheriff for the county and city marshals in Pampa and McLean—plus whatever deputies they saw fit to hire. In those days, though—history books and old-timers tell us—the residents of the area served as their own law officers, too.

But sometimes that was not enough. Those early days were witness to bloody fights, cattle rustlings and even murders. Public morals were so poor at a point that some of the city fathers saw fit to hire a couple of armed gunmen out of Amarillo to come up north and help clean up the town of Pampa.

One reason, of course, for this move was probably caused by the fact that the sheriff lived so far away—in Lefors, for that was the county seat until 1928.

Sheriffs for the years prior to the change of Pampa government from aldermanic to city form were: Tom Crawford (1802-05); Jeff Reeves (1806-10); Sid Denton (1811-15); and Ernest S. Graves (1815-18); and Ernest S. Graves (1819-30). Pampa changed its government in 1828.

City marshals for Pampa in this period included Ben Lippold and John V. Andrews, present city justice of the peace, and John Sparks, the present city marshal for McLean, was elected to office about 1815.

But with the establishment of Pampa's city form of government came the organization of a police department in this city. And today it is still the only police department in the county.

First police chief for Pampa was the same John Andrews who had been the last city marshal. Since Andrews took over the reins of justice in 1828—the year of the oil boom—there have been six other different police chiefs.

Three of the seven, however, served two terms each—Andrews, J. L. Downs and John B. Wilkinson. The others and their terms of office were: Andrews (1928-28); Downs (1928-32); Andrews (1932-36); Art Hurst (1936-38); Downs (1938-39); Wilkinson (1939-41); Ray Dudley (1941-43); Louis Allen (1943-49); Wilkinson (1949-52); and the present chief, James B. Conner, who took office in April.

The Pampa police department has taken great strides in its 26-year history. From practically a one-man operation in 1828, it has been expanded to the point where it is a 19-person outfit. Even when Conner joined the force in 1943 there were but five patrolmen—now there are 14.

The sheriff's office—the county agency for law enforcement—has kept pace with the police department in its expansion and improvement. From the point where the sheriff did the whole job himself—or perhaps had a part-time deputy to help him—the department has reached the extent of the sheriff, four deputies (another one is authorized and a court bailiff)—all full-time jobs.

To fill in the historical picture, the sheriffs for Gray County following Graves were: Lon L. Blinnett (1831-32); C. C. (Tiny) Pipes (1832-34); Earl Talley (1835-38); Cal Rogers (1839-42); G. H. (Skinner) Kyle (1843-50); and the present sheriff, Rufe Jordan, who took office January 1, 1951.

Incidentally, this county is distinguished in that it has had two female sheriffs. For the wives of Tiny Pipes and Earl Talley have filled out the terms of their husbands who died in office.

Although the Highway Patrol—the state law enforcement vehicle operating in the county—had a belated beginning in 1937, it too has helped immeasurably in the 22 years it has been in operation. For only the sheriff's office was responsible for highway safety prior to the patrol's advent.

What makes the enforcement of law so thorough and effective throughout the county today, however, is the inter-cooperation among these agencies—the police, the sheriff's office and the highway patrol. And cooperating with them are the various other city and county peace officers. That goes for personnel, equipment and modern laboratory techniques of crime detection.

To go off on a tangent for a spell, though, the development of the highway patrol and its connection with the Texas Rangers should be recorded.

The Texas Rangers date back to 1823 with a small body of them being used to protect the frontier colonies against blood-thirsty Karankawas and other tribes. On the eve of the Texas War of Independence in 1835 the revolutionists formally authorized the employment of a corps of Rangers to guard the frontiers. Since that time—and to the present day—the Rangers have been a component of state law enforcement.

Not till 1930, however, was the Texas Highway Motor Patrol organized by state law under the state highway department. Fifty men formed the nucleus of this body, of which the present director was one. Before that time there was absolutely no state group specifically authorized to protect lives and property on Texas highways.

Five years later—1935—the Texas Department of Public Safety was organized, incorporated under that department were both Texas Rangers and the motor patrol, which changed its name to state highway patrol. And from that time the highway patrol has had the same authority of arrest and law enforcement as the Rangers had had beforehand.

First director of DPS was Col. L. G. Phares. Before he took office, the Texas Rangers were under the state adjutant general— but the law of 1935 put them under DPS, along with the highway patrol. Second director of DPS was Col. H. H. Carmichael who died in 1937. And the third and present director is Col. Homer Garrison Jr. S. Copeland.

Since 1940 Garrison has revamped the entire DPS setup. Of such calibre has been his work, incidentally, that he was offered the job of handling law enforcement for all of Japan after the end of World War II. But he turned it down.

Today Gray County—50 years after its organization—is well covered by law enforcement officers and adequate equipment for the pursuit of their duties. Still, the various law officers would be the first to admit that it is not a perfect set-up.

A pertinent example of the cooperation among city, county and state officials within the 937-acre area of the county is the three-level office in the transmitter stop the Pampa city hall, which has been in use less than a year.

The sheriff's office has six men today—Rufe Jordan, sheriff; Shirley Nickols, chief deputy sheriff; Buck Haggard, Jimmy Shelton and Rufe Thompson, deputies; and Ed Swafford, court bailiff. Shelton lives in McLean and also covers the Alanreed area. The others handle the rest of the county, including the Pampa and Lefors sectors. Thompson does the clerking duties in the office.

All sheriff's officers but Thompson and Swafford have their own cars equipped with a three-way radio when they are appointed or elected to office. Equipment includes firearms, fine fingerprint and photo facilities (even a self-developing camera) and a jail that can house 55.

It is an established policy at the present time for the sheriff's office to have a jacket on every man processed by county authorities—including the warrant, fingerprints, "dope sheet," "wrap sheet" from Austin and Washington (past record), indictment and commitment (the sentence, if any).

There are additional law officers in the county. H. A. Doggett, county juvenile officer, is charged with handling all juveniles (males under 17 years, females under 18). He works hand in hand with County Judge Bruce Parker, who also serves as juvenile judge.

There are three constables elected in the county. Bill Langley covers the Pct. 2 area; he will be replaced by Doggett Jan. 1. Charlie Clendennen is constable in Lefors district (pct. 1). In the McLean sector is Luke Haney (pct. 3), and also in McLean is the only city marshal in the county—John Sparks, who has been on the job at least 25 years. The highway patrol has four men who have Gray County as part of their beat. But two of them—P. C. Wynne and E. J.

Industrialists Prepare For Day They'll Work On Atom

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—The atom still wears a military uniform. But industrialists are getting ready for the day they may be able to put it in civvies.

"An aggressive company ought to be allied to atomic development," says E. J. Thomas, president of Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.

His company will run for the government a new atomic plant now in its first stages in Pike County, Ohio.

Already the by-products of atomic bomb making are being used in peacetime pursuits. Medicine has benefited. And so have laboratories, notably those doing agricultural chemistry research, using some of the spawn of the A-bomb to make better plants and more nutritious food.

Cheaper Power Seen
Steps are well under way to hitch atomic energy to engines running submarines, airplanes and air carriers. Scientists say much cheaper and more efficient atomic-powered engines could be developed with more study.

Atoms also might—some day not too far off—be used to produce electric power at an economical cost for the nation's industries.

Thomas, however, shies clear of predictions along this line. "We don't know how far reaching will be the effects of atomic energy on industry, or just how industry may ultimately make use of it," he admits. "But we feel that this is a development we should be in on from the start."

Key men in Goodyear are already being trained for their new jobs in the 1.4 million dollar plant which will be completed within four years in Southern Ohio.

Training Underway
They're getting their training from another industrial company already a veteran in the field—Union Carbide & Carbon, which plays the same role for the government at the Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Paducah, Ky., atomic plants.

When the Goodyear key technicians have learned their lessons from the chemical company men, they in turn will teach another group of rubber company men, and so on, until about 700 technicians, many of the highest skills, are trained for their top-secret chores.

In full operation the Ohio atomic plant will employ 4,000 persons. Thomas says the majority will be hired from outside his company. But the key men will be chosen from its many wide-spread plants.

Although creating an A-bomb and making a tire are entirely different operations, Thomas says his men have all the basic knowledge and background in chemistry and physics, and all the general technical skill needed.

Many are eager to get into the new field.

Changes Not New
"Every employe we have approached with the idea of transferring to the atomic plant has accepted without reservation," he says.

Thomas sees nothing odd in a tire-making company getting into the atomic development field.

Chief of the highway patrol now is W. J. Elliott. Second in command is the inspector—C. G. Conner, brother of J. C. Conner, Pampa's police chief. The patrol is divided into 16 districts, each of which has a captain and one or two sergeants.

Wynne and Robertson use the office of the license examiner—Walter Roberts—in the county courthouse for their necessary paper work, which has become more and more extensive in recent years.

Nearest Texas Rangers are Frank Probst and Kelly Rogers who operate out of Amarillo. Their home base is Company "C" (Lubbock), which is headed by Capt. Raymond Waters. Probst and Rogers work the entire Panhandle area.

The Rangers are organized into six districts throughout the state. Each district has a captain and 10-12 men.

From all the aforementioned, it can be seen that Gray County has made many strides—sometimes wayward, usually forward—in its short 50-years history.

From practically no law enforcement whatsoever it has progressed and expanded to the point where every area of criminal conduct now can be—and is—handled by a law official.

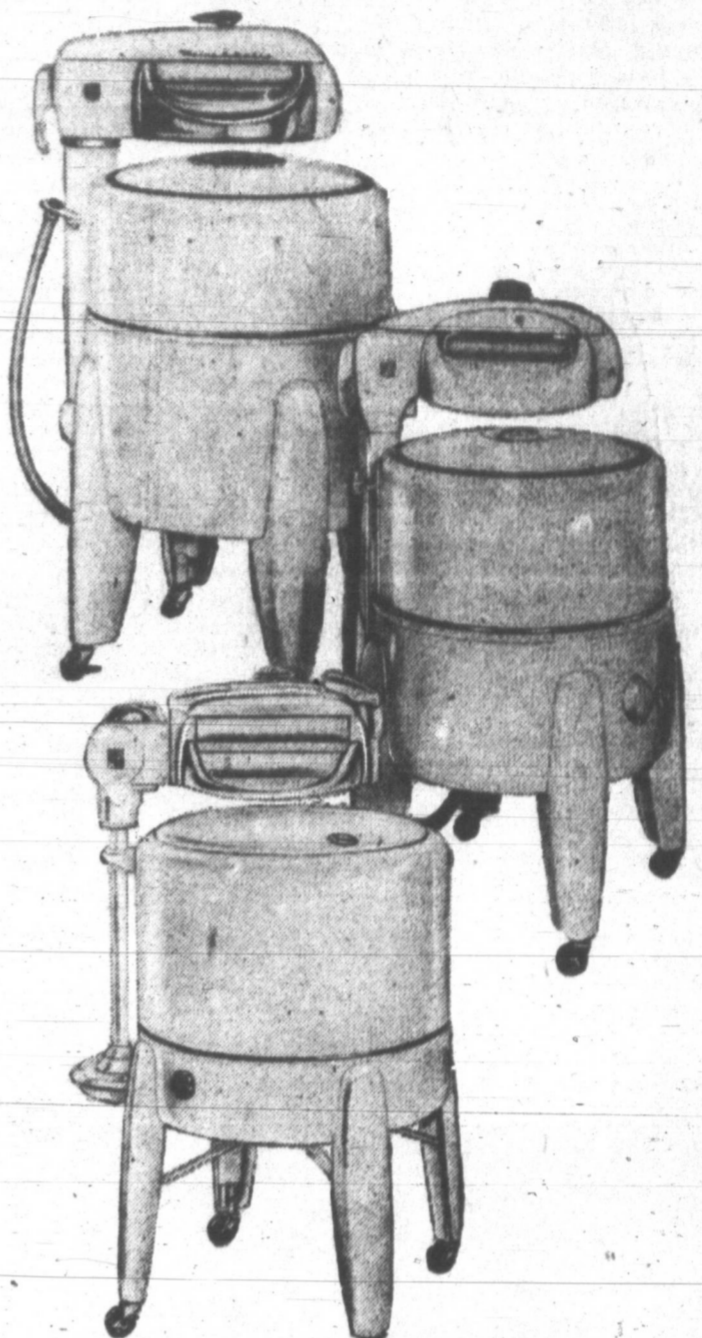

But it took action on the part of many individuals in the county to bring law enforcement to where it is today.

Perhaps a prime example of the type of man who has brought law and order to Gray County is John V. Andrews.

During his life in the county, Andrews has been—among other things—city marshal, police chief, deputy sheriff, head of city street department—and city park superintendent. At present, he is a justice of the peace.

Grace Friend:

(Readers of The News are invited to send their problems to Grace Friend. Letters not published will be answered personally if stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Writers must sign their names, although they will not be printed without the writer's permission.)

Dear Grace Friend: I've got a problem I'd like your advice on. I've always been a lady who trusted my husband and we've been a very happy couple. We have five children.

But here's what I want to know. How can a husband and wife get rid of another lady who is always going to my husband with her troubles and asking for money. She knows about our family but my husband says she just won't take no for an answer.

It's embarrassing to him for her to come out on his job and say "I've got to have $10 for this or that." He met her while I was away from home, thinking it was all for fun but she doesn't seem to think that I'm back now and he doesn't care for her company.

ALWAYS FAIR
We've always been fair and honest with each other and have treated her cold and done everything we could know to stop her. He's told her to come to our house if she just has to see him but she won't. She's even written me letters trying to upset me but she found that was no good so now she's started in on him again.

I know my husband doesn't care for her but she's too good to us and I'm the one with him when he goes out. He says he will just have to quit his job and leave the country if things don't change and we'll be the ones to suffer for that. But I'm getting so nervous by just trying to think how and what I can do to help him. We've always worked things out together but this one thing we don't seem to solve.

Please advise me what we should do.

WMU Circle Meets

The First Baptist Church WMU Circle met recently in the home of Mrs. R. L. Moore for Bible Study directed by Mrs. Ray Baker and for election of officers. Mrs. Mickey Dunivan is to preside as chairman this year.

Other leaders include Mrs. W. F. Adams, secretary; Mrs. Baker, Bible study; Mrs. Buford McGee, mission study; Mrs. J. H. Johnson, benevolence; Mrs. R. L. Moore, stewardship; Mrs. A. L. Lee, program and Mrs. Eugene Brand, young people.

Attending the circle meeting were Mrs. Adams, Brand, W. W. Black, A. I. Lee, Baker, Dunivan, McGee and Moore.

RUTH MILLETT

When a Mississippi couple who have been married 63 years, were asked their recipe for a happy marriage the wife thought the matter over and then confided: "When we were married I said, 'I'm not going to let him be better to me than I am to him.' I've always tried to remember that promise to myself."

That is about as sensible a promise as a bride could make herself. It's down to earth and it's practical. It isn't impossible, or even too difficult, to keep.

And it puts the emphasis where it belongs. Not on "Am I getting what I want out of this marriage?" But on "Am I giving as much as I get out of this marriage?"

If a husband does his best at his job, that means the wife has to do her best to manage the home well and live within their income.

If the husband lets his wife have her way in a matter that is important to her then she must be just as generous in letting him have his way in some matter that is important to him.

If the husband treats her family with courtesy and consideration, then she must treat his family in the same way.

If the husband is willing to take criticism from his wife, then she should be willing to take criticism from him.

If the husband does everything he can to make her life easier, she should try to make things easier for him, too.

No wife is going to lose step with her husband if she makes up her mind that she isn't going to let him do more for her than she does for him.

don't cast a SHADOW ON HIS FUTURE

The school work your boy does today, will go a long way towards determining his future tomorrow. Don't cast a shadow on that future by giving him a study lamp that casts a shadow on his work.

A study lamp should be tall, have a sloping shade and a diffusing bowl (not drum-shaped like the one shown here), so that it provides a wide area of usable light.

Your children's future is bright if their study light is right. Don't cast a shadow on their work.

Brain Surgery Gives New Life To People With Shaking Palsy

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
NEW YORK (AP) — Brain surgery is giving new life to many people with a shaking palsy, or Parkinson's disease.

The surgery removes some nerve cells in the brain to halt the uncontrollable shaking of arms or legs or muscles of the face and neck, or overcome speech troubles.

Operation has benefited 95 per cent of 600 patients to date, Dr. Roland Klemme of St. Louis University School of medicine writes in the Journal Post-graduate Medicine. It's not done on persons past 50, unless they are in exceptionally good physical condition.

Shaking palsy is caused by destruction or damage to certain nerve cells at the base of the brain. Infections that hit these cells are one cause of the disease.

The great flu epidemic of 1918 is often blamed for causing many cases in people now living. It is estimated the disease has increased 500 to 900 per cent since 1918, Dr. Klemme reports.

The disease can start at any age, from 10 to 50. Slater Elizabeth Kenny, the famed polio worker, has disclosed she is suffering from it.

Shaking palsy is almost never fatal. But it can cause paralysis and incapacitate people so much they are easy prey to infectious diseases.

One operation sometimes brings good results, by removing nerve cells responsible for uncontrolled movements. Other people need repeated operations.

About 3 per cent of persons die during or after the operation, 18 per cent aren't helped at all, and another 10 per cent just think they've benefited, the surgeon said.

"We get results in about 65 per cent of our patients. From the patients' point of view, when they say repeatedly, 'If I have one chance in a million I will take that chance — a 65 per cent result is not bad.'"

NEW YORK (AP) — A woman whose fever soared to 114 degrees is reported by Drs. Alexander Brunschwig and Alfred A. Franca of Memorial Hospital, New York.

The fever shot up after she received a drug treatment for a cancerous condition. Ice packs and other aids soon brought her temperature down, and she recovered without ill effects.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE Figure Your Hands Before Play Begins

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When you begin to play a hand, you make some sort of plan and when the hand is not a lousy down, you probably have to hope that a certain opponent holds a key card or that a certain suit breaks in a particular way.

The plan and your hopes may change as you continue to play the hand, and if your plan is a good one you don't have to hope for very much.

The point is illustrated in the hand shown today, played by Larry Hirsch, who would be a famous bridge expert if he didn't waste so much time attending to his business as a dress manufacturer.

Larry began by hoping that East held the king of clubs and that the suit would break 3-2. After a few plays he didn't care about the break of the clubs, but just hoped that East held the king. And after a few more plays he didn't care how the suit broke led a low club from his hand, prepared to play low from the dummy. If East won the trick, he would have to give declarer a ruff and a discard. If West won the trick, he would then have to lead away from his king of clubs and give declarer a free finesse for the rest of the tricks.

West opened the three of diamonds, and declarer ruffed. It was at this moment that he wanted East to have two or three clubs headed by the king.

Instead of barging ahead blindly on this assumption, Hirsch drew two rounds of trumps, cashed the top spades, and ruffed a spade in the dummy. This set up the ten of spades, so that declarer no longer needed a club break; he just needed two club tricks.

Declarer returned to his hand by ruffing dummy's remaining diamond and cashed the ten of spades, discarding a low club from dummy. And now it didn't matter who held the king of clubs, since declarer could be sure that East held a singleton club at most.

West had opened the three of diamonds, Hirsch remembered, which meant that West might have started with either four or five diamonds. (The lead was obviously fourth — best, and West might or might not have the deuce of diamonds as a fifth card in the suit.) Hence East had started with the rest of the diamond suit, either six or seven of them.

East had already followed to four spades and two trumps. Hence there was room in his hand for one club if he had only six diamonds and for no clubs at all if he held seven diamonds.

After working this out, Hirsch through power projects at Chute du Diabre and Chute a la Savanne, each of 270,000 horsepower, on the Perinobka River.

The newest expansion is in Central British Columbia, where the first stages of construction are proceeding on what may become a $60-million-dollar project. There the gigantic task has been started of building a 330-foot-high dam to reverse the normal eastern flow of water, pouring it through a 10-mile tunnel through solid rock of the Coast Range. From there the water will plunge on, still controlled, to the power site of Kemano, 125 miles west of the dam.

The electricity generated eventually 1,000,000 firm horsepower will be carried by transmission lines 50 miles to Kitimat, sit of what is expected to be the world's largest aluminum smelter.

The huge smelter, to begin producing in 1954, will have an initial annual output of 90,000 short tons. When other phases of the planned development are completed, ultimate production of 350,000 production is already under way, some a year is looked for.

MONTEAL (AP) — Canada's production of aluminum in the next two years will be stepped up nearly one third and is expected ultimately to approach figures that will be more than one half of the present world output.

This swift rise comes through huge development operations of the Aluminum Company of Canada, subsidiary of Canada's Aluminum Ltd., only producer of aluminum in this country.

More Americans Than Ever On The Move, 36 Million In '52

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — More Americans than ever are on the move. Some 36 million will cart their possessions from one city to another this year.

This will be 20 per cent more than the record breaking number of migrants last year, according to members of the Movers Conference of America.

And another observer of the trend — the National Industrial Conference Board — comes up today with some reasons for it.

Part of this shifting about will be due to the natural restlessness of Americans. But a large part will be due to the record breaking expansion of industry, which is building new plants and expanding old ones, and in many cases spreading them widely.

The Movers Conference notes that most of the people its members' vans tote are bound for the South, the Southwest or the West.

It sees the defense expansion program as a principal cause but also notes that since the war there has been a decentralization trend in industry. Higher freight rates have led companies to put branches closer to their customers or source of supplies, the conference believes.

In a study of trends in plant location, the National Industrial Conference Board queried 138 companies, which together operate 1,446 separate plants.

In the period 1946-51, they made 614 additions to their capacity at an average of four expansion projects per company in six years. Before the war, 60 per cent of their plants were east of the Mississippi and north of the Mason-Dixon Line.

During the war, new plants were built in the South and West. Since the war the pattern of industrial growth has changed again somewhat.

South Levels Off
The West is still growing more rapidly than any other portion of the country, the conference reports. "And the New England-Middle Atlantic area is still losing out."

While the South appears to have dropped in national importance, as far as new or acquired facilities are concerned, the North Central States have increased their rates of growth appreciably. And the trend toward the smaller or towns, which was established during the war, has leveled off.

Since the war, the top rankers in number of plant expansions have been California, Ohio, New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Texas and Michigan, according to

Town Treasure Found By Relieved Officials

PRESCOTT, Ark. (AP) — A "treasure trove" of $84 has been found, much to the relief of town fathers.

The money was hidden by radio station WKAR as a publicity stunt. Since that day about a month and a half ago, the town has been topsy-turvy. People had searched in the town clock and the Prescott high school football stadium among other places. At one point, high school officials had to padlock the stadium to keep the field from being almost completely denuded of grass.

When the treasure was found in the city park by Mrs. Gus McCaskill, station manager L. B. Tooley said more than 500 persons were milling around the area.

Japs Plan Airline

TOKYO (AP) — Three Japanese airline officials plan to buy planes in the United States for a trans-Pacific air service Japan hopes to inaugurate in the fall.

The three executive of Japan's only civilian airline will confer with the U. S. Civil Aviation Board and buy planes from Douglas and Lockheed Aircraft Companies.

The Conference Board's survey of the 38 companies.

It finds that 40 per cent of the expansions were made in cities of more than 100,000, one-third in cities of 10,000 to 100,000; and about one-fourth in cities under 10,000.

New plant construction however, was most in evidence in the smaller cities. Large city activity was dominated by additions to existing plants.

WD Students At Wayland Serving On Dorm Council

WHITE DEER (Special) — Two Wayland students from White Deer are serving on the council of the new Agnes Mays Dormitory at the Plainview College.

They are Misses Carolyn Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Evans and Violet Thornburg, daughter of Mrs. Alma Thornburg. Miss Evans, sophomore education major, is' devotional chairman. Her other campus activities include the Wayland Words Speech Choir, Thespians, Baptist Student Union social chairman and community missions chairman for the Young Women's Auxiliary. Miss Thornburg, senior business major, was elected wing representative. She is editor of the yearbook, The Traveler, is a member of the Mike and Mask Club and the Young Women's Auxiliary.

Storage Is Planned

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — A program for enlarging and modernizing Turkey's grain storage and transport facilities, the first step in increasing the country's foreign exchange earnings through grain exports, has been announced here by M. L. Dayton, chief of the Mutual Security Agency's special economic mission to Turkey.

He said part of the plan calls for expenditure of $2,500,000 in MSA funds to buy about 600 portable steel grain hangars.

 I'M SORRY, POP.
 NOW, DON'T SCOLD HIM— I REMEMBER WHEN WE WENT TO SCHOOL, YOU USED TO LEAVE YOUR SCHOOLBOOKS ALL OVER TOWN!
 WELL, I DON'T WANT MY CHILDREN TO GROW UP TO BE A DUMBBELL LIKE I AM.
 WHO CALLED ME A DUMBBELL?

Alley Oop

IT HAPPENED JUST AS YOU GOT THE TIME-MACHINE SET TO BRING ALLEY BACK FROM WHERE EVER IT IS HE IS!
 UMM! I'LL HAVE TO LOOK INTO THIS RIGHT AWAY.
 CAN'T YOU LOOK INTO IT AFTER YOU BRING ALLEY HOME?
 OH, HE'LL KEEP FOR A WHILE LONGER!
 SAY, Y'KNOW, WICH, I HAVEN'T HAD A SMOKE SINCE I BEEN HERE... HOW 'BOUT GIVIN' ME A FEW DRAGS OFFN YOUR PIPE?
 EHP OH YEH... HERE

Bo

LOOK! A COUPLE OF KIDS ROASTING NICE JUICY WIENERS OVER A BONFIRE. JUST OUR DISH!
 THEY'RE NOT QUITE DONE, I'LL STIR UP THE FIRE.
 WOW... THE SMOKE IS BLINDING ME.
 NOW'S OUR CHANCE. WHEN THOSE KIDS OPEN THEIR EYES, AND SEE THAT UGLY PAN ON BRUTUS... THEY'LL BEAT IT, AND WE'LL GET THE WIENERS.

Ozark Ike

WHERE, OH WHERE IS OZARK IKE? WITH TH' PLANE RESERVATIONS I ARRANGED, HE AND DINAH SHOULD HAVE BEEN HERE DAYS AGO!
 AND TOMORROW WE PLAY TH' DEMONS!
 MY LAST GAME AS TH' WILDCAT COACH, SO IT LOOKS LIKE I'LL BE GONE BEFORE TH' OZARK KID EVEN SHOWS UP!
 IF IN OUR HITCH-HIKIN' LUCK HOLDS OUT DINAH, WE OUGHTA GIT THAR ANY DAY NOW!
 BUT I'WORRIN' TH' DAY WHUT COUNTS, OZARK?

Chris Welkin

I'M GETTING A CALL, DOC, BUT IT'S NOT AMAIZA!
 TURN UP THE VOLUME CONTROL...
 ...CALLING WELKIN...
 ABOARD AMAIZA'S FREIGHTER...
 YOUR PLAN TO DUMP OUR FUEL DIDN'T WORK, AMAIZA... NOW I'M GOING OUTSIDE TO FETCH IT!
 THIS OF MARS CALLING WELKIN! CAN YOU HEAR ME?

Mutt & Jeff

ONE, TWO, THREE, FOUR...
 HEY, WHAT ARE YOU DOIN'?
 I'M COUNTING POLICEMEN! GOSH, THERE'S AN AWFUL LOT IN NEW YORK!
 DON'T YOU KNOW IT'S ILLEGAL TO COUNT POLICE IN NEW YORK?
 -ER- NO, SIR!
 HOW MANY DID YOU COUNT?
 FIVE!
 ALL RIGHT! I'LL FINE YOU ONE DOLLAR EACH AND I'LL SEE THAT YOU DON'T GET HAULED INTO COURT!
 HAI! I PUT ONE OVER ON YOU! I COUNTED FOURTEEN COPS!

Bugs Bunny

HIYA, EL-MER, OL' SOCKEROO! WHERE YA HEADED?
 TO THE BARBERSHOP!
 YER KIDDIN'! WHAT ON A BARBER DO WITH THAT BOO HEAD?
 WE PLACE MY HAT, YOU WASSIT!
 THIS I GOTTA SEE!
 LINCOUTH WUFFIAN!
 SHINE, PLEASE!
 YES, SIR!

Priscilla's Pop

THIS IS THE NIGHT WHEN WE ALWAYS HAVE HAMBURGS AND FRIED POTATOES!
 YOU SHOULDN'T LET YOUR WIFE GET IN A RUT WHEN IT COMES TO COOKING!
 I'LL SAY THIS FOR MRS. POTTS! SHE KNOWS WHAT TO EXPECT FOR SUPPER!
 VARIES HER MENU! EH?
 YEP! ONE DAY IT'S GOOD! NEXT DAY PUNK!

GREASED LIGHTNIN'

IT'S A SHAME TO LET HIM GET AWAY WITH YOUR ROPE ON HIM! HIS PALS WON'T COME NEAR HIM TILL HE GETS SHED O' THAT!
 IT'S THEIR OWN DANG FAULT! ANTELOPE ARE SO FAST EVERYBODY WANTS TO ROPE ONE-- AN' WHEN THAT HAPPENS YOU CAN'T KETCH 'EM TO GIT TH' ROPE OFF!
 HOLD STILL WHILE I RUN A REEL ON YOUR BROTHER JAKE'S BUSINESS CAREER! HE'S SHEARING CAMPAIGN FUNDS FROM THE LOCAL SHEEP--AND HE'S GOT EVERY JOB IN THE CABINET PROMISED TWICE!
 GREAT CAESAR, TWIGGS! WHAT MOMENTAL CHICANERY! WE MUST APPREHEND HIM!... EGAD! FATHER WAS RIGHT WHEN HE SAID JAKE WOULD WIND UP EITHER WITH A LEASE ON THE TAZ MAHAL OR WEARING A HEMP FOUR-IN-HAND!

Vic Flint

WE'VE GOT TO FIND THAT POSTMAN'S UNIFORM. I'LL GET IN TOUCH WITH INSPECTOR GROW... HE CAN FIND OUT IF AN EXCEPTIONAL LARGE LETTER CARRIER IS WITH THE POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT HERE.
 YOU CAN CHECK THE DRY CLEANERS AND COSTUME RENTAL AGENCIES IN THIS DISTRICT.
 OKE! BUT--ER, UM, IN FACT I'M A FRESH CLUTA CARBAGE. IN FLATION CAUGHT UP WIT ME!
 WHOEVER THOUGHT THE DRY WOULD COME WHEN LOUIE TH' LETTERBOX WOULD GO LOOKIN' FER A POSTMAN!

Little Doc

HI YA THERE OL' BOY, OL' BOY, OL' BOY... HOW ARE YOU?
 WHAT'S THE IDEA OF GREETING HIM LIKE THAT?
 BECAUSE...
 -THE ONLY TIME HE CAN SEE ME IS WHEN HE SNEEZES!

Wash Tubbs

HOW WOULD ANYBODY LOSE A BRIEFCASE OUT OF AN AIRPLANE?
 HMM... INITIALS M.M. ON TH' FLAP... AND TH' LOCK IS BROKEN!
 WELL, WHAT'D YOU KNOW... A CARVED JEWEL BOX! CAN-GOOD NIGHT!!
 RUBIES, MR. OLSEN! A BIG BLOOD-RED STONE... AND SIX SMALLER ONES!
 WE LAND EEM ONE MOMENT... EVER! ONE KEEP THEIR SEAT TILL MY COMRADE AND I ARE OUT!

Boots

SH-HH! REMEMBER, DORY, NOT A WORD TO THE FAMILY ABOUT THE DIET!
 NO!
 A NEW DIET LIST: ONE FOR EACH DAY: HMPH: AS IF HAMBURGER CARED WHICH DAY IT WAS!
 NO BUTTER, BOOTS?
 NO! AND NO OIL DRESSING FOR MY SALAD EITHER, THANK YOU!
 ANYONE WOULD THINK YOU'D ALREADY STARTED ON YOUR DIET, HON!

Mickey Finn

I THINK YOU'RE SAFE, PHIL! IF THE FELLOW HAD TAKEN THE PICTURE, GILHOOLEY WOULD HAVE GIVEN IT TO EVERY PAPER IN TOWN IMMEDIATELY!
 YEAH! I GUESS MIFUDOLE WOKE UP IN TIME! THANK, GOODNESS!
 A PICTURE LIKE THAT SURE WOULD'VE RUINED THE "WIDE-AWAKE ORGANIZATION", MICKEY!
 YOU SAID IT! THAT'S WHY I WANTED TO WARN ALL THE OTHER CONSTABLES, RIGHT AWAY!
 SO KEEP ON YOUR TOES, MIGHTY!
 DON'T WORRY, MICKEY! WHEN I DO ANY SLEEPIN' ON THE JOB, I DO IT WHERE NOBODY WILL SEE ME--AND I MEAN NOBODY!
 WE'VE SURE GOT A PRIZE COLLECTION OF CONSTABLES, MICKEY! I THINK THAT ONE IS EVEN DUMBER THAN ME FUDOLE!
 I'M AFRAID HE IS, TOO, TOM! WE'LL HAVE TO CHECK ON THEM ALL AGAIN TONIGHT!

Penny

ISN'T IT A BEAUTIFUL NIGHT, PRINCESS? LOOK AT THOSE STARS. BREATH TAKING!
 UNCOUNTED MILLIONS OF STARS! UNENDING SPACE! INFINITY!
 DOESN'T THE MAGNITUDE OF IT MAKE YOU FEEL HUMBLE AND INSIGNIFICANT?
 WEEPERS, NO!
 IT MAKES ME FEEL BIG AND IMPORTANT! TO BE IN ON A TERRIFIC DEAL LIKE THIS!

Freckles

THE DOUBLE-HEADS OF TWIRP SEASON AND LEAP YEAR HAS GONE TO THE BOYS' HEADS! THE GIRLS HAVE CALLED AN EMERGENCY MEETING!
 JUST FIVE SIMPLE LETTERS, GIRLS, BUT GUARANTEED TO KEEP THE BOYS IN CHECK-- P-R-I-W-T! AND YOU KNOW WHAT THAT STANDS FOR!
 YOU'RE A GENIUS, JUNE!
 I'M A TWIRP!
 P-R-I-W-T
 GIRLS SIGN HERE!

Donald Duck

AND OUR ECONOMY MODEL JUST $82, INSTALLED!
 THAT'S ROBBERY! I WON'T PAY IT!
 ANTIQUES
 HOW MUCH FOR THAT THING IN THE WINDOW?
 OH, SAY, TEN DOLLARS!
 THERE! AND BUILT TO LAST!

To Sell A Mousetrap Now You Have To Wrap It Pretty

By HAL BOYLE
 NEW YORK (AP) — The world up to the industrial designer to know her own mind better than eye is the one they buy. The door of the man who makes she does herself.
 "A large percentage of sales attention — getter is the one she better mousetrap."
 The world is too busy. The man who wants to peddle a better mousetrap now has to give an alluring shape, an attractive color, a catchy name. He has to make it so irresistible that a customer, on seeing it, says to himself:
 "I have to have that very mousetrap or die. My life won't be complete without it."
 Now in this supermarket era in which clerks act merely as change-agents, a product has to be its own sales agent — it has to sell itself to the customer by the way it looks or the eye appeal of its package.

Art Into Science
 This has given rise to a little-known but highly important figure in modern sales engineering — the industrial designer. One of the most successful is a young Army veteran who supervised the modification of the B-29 airplane that dropped the atom bomb on Hiroshima.

At 32 Gerald Stahl is head of one of the nation's top industrial designing firms, and all but two members of his staff of 13 are war veterans.

"We are a new breed in a new field," he said. "Industrial designing is a specialized profession, not just about 30 years old. But it is now being turned from an art into a science."
 "We are trained now not only to think in terms of selling, but how a product should look and how it can be made more attractive and how it can be made to last. That requires a knowledge of psychology, color schemes, market research and sales promotion techniques."

"This field, for the housewife's dealer has become so competitive. Stahl said, "there's just a razor-sharp manufacturing firm today that doesn't use an industrial designer either on its staff or on a retainer basis."
 "The job has been a real revolution in this respect in the last quarter century."

A housewife shopping in a supermarket usually doesn't know why she selects one package of soap from a shelf containing a half dozen brands. The reason is usually subconscious, and it is now are impulse sales," Stahl said. "The product that catches their eye is the one they buy. The package that is the greatest attraction — getter is the one she puts in her market basket."

 Red, Orange and Yellow have been found to be the best eye-grabbing colors. Greens and Blues are fine for feminine cosmetics.

Stahl started dreaming of his own firm in war days as an engineering officer in charge of the Project to refit the B-29 so it could handle the first huge A-bomb.
 "I didn't want to work for anyone else," he said. "I wanted to sink or swim on my own."
 His firm, one of only about two dozen in the country, has al-products. They convey a feeling of coolness. But purple, black and muddy reds repel, because they are associated with death.

 "You'd never put a hand soap in a black or purple package if you wanted mass appeal," said Stahl. "The industrial designer grabs colors. Greens and Blues Avenue."

 His firm, one of only about two dozen in the country, has always had more business than he could handle. He has designed dozens of new products, ranging from safety razors and ice cream dispensers to automatic washing machines and portable refrigerators.

 His wartime knowledge helped in turning out a new line of futuristic toys of tomorrow—including jet cars, interplanetary rockets, ray guns and space ships. "It was a lot of fun," Stahl said. "Our job was to forecast in terms of toys what the world in 1950 would be like. It was purely blue sky stuff out of our own heads, as a result we are strictly foot-candy ground designers. But it looks like the world is already catching up with our toys."
