Adlai, Ike Swing Into Final Week

By The Associated Press
Gen. Dwight Eisenhower and Gov. Adlai Stevenson swung Monday into the final and decisive week of their battle for the presidency, each concentrating on the vote-rich East.
Stevenson opened the day's effort with a whistle-stop talk in Quincy, Mass., to be followed 10 speeches later with a night address in New York City's Harlem.
Eisenhower, the Republican candidate, plans a full day in Pennsylvania, which has 32 electoral votes. Tuesday and the next two days he has on tap an intensive tour of New York City and suburbs.
Eisenhower's schedule for the closing week is still largely unfulfilled, but it includes another appearance in Chicago, from where he may go to California, and a trip to Boston next Monday, the day before election.
Stevenson was in Boston Sunday, making what he called "political" speeches there and in nearby cities. He drew big, cheering crowds wherever he went.
Korea Stressed
At Boston, Stevenson told a group of veterans he hoped they would help find ways of cutting federal spending.
Eisenhower, when he gets to Pittsburgh late Monday, is expected to reply to the Democrats' accusations that his pledge to go to Korea, if elected, was a "grand stand play." In Philadelphia early Monday, he said he was still working with his Korean trip pledge.
The general sprung the surprise speech at Detroit. If elected, he said, his primary goal would be an honorable peace in Korea and he would visit there in a personal effort to achieve it.
President Truman took off at 3:30 a.m. (CST) on his final whistle stop tour. He has a light day on tap—no talks scheduled until 2:25 p.m. (CST) at Willard, O., and only one more, at Deshler, O., before his train pulls into Gary, Ind., Monday night for the first of six speeches.
The tour will take Truman through seven Midwestern states.

Allies Pushed From Hilltop

SEOUL (AP) — Punishing Red artillery fire tonight drove U. S. Marines off the crest of "The Hook" a few hours after they recaptured the western ridge line in bitter close-quarter fighting.
A marine officer at the front said the Leathernecks pulled back from the crest and forward slopes at 8:55 p. m.
There was no indication whether the Chinese Communists moved up to occupy the high ground.
The Reds earlier had attacked with 2,000 men along a three-mile front.
The officer said "the Communists made only small penetration in our line. It was contained and never got out of hand."
Main target was The Hook and marine outposts along a three-mile sector to the north. The Hook is about 10-12 miles east of Panmunjom, site of the recessed armistice talks.

Wholesale Changes May Be Made . . . Liquor Control Act Due Probe Because Bribery Fell Through

By BOB BRAY
For The Associated Press
AMARILLO (AP) — Dist. Atty. Herman Pipkin says wholesale changes may be made in the state liquor control act because a proposed bribery deal fell through.
At least, he says, members of the state House "Crime Investigating Committee" will likely be looking for ways to tighten up the control act when they meet in Amarillo, Nov. 6-7, to give Texas bootlegging a public going over.
The bribery deal which collapsed without the exchange of so much as a pint of whiskey already has been discussed at meetings here.
Among those attending were a couple of Texas' better-known bootleggers and three agents for the State Liquor Control Board, who said they went to the sessions to "make cases."
Grand Juries Interested
Though the attempted bribe didn't result in the $1,500 monthly pay-off discussed, it did interest members of two Potter County Grand Juries and Pipkin. They dug up background for the full-scale investigation planned by the crime committee.
The committee, spearheaded by Rep. Waggoner Carr of Lubbock, will seek answers to a number of rainer intimate questions on the booze business.
First, the crime committee is expected to question a score of "dry area" liquor peddlers on where, how, and from whom they obtain their merchandise? Questions along this line will be aimed at adding weight to reports by Potter and Lubbock Counties grand juries that a sharply organized syndicate helps quench thirst in most "legally dry" West Texas counties.
Roden Expected Witness
One witness is expected to be Tom (Pinkie) Roden, former whiskey dealer from Odessa, Big Spring and San Angelo. He appeared at the state legislature in August. (See WHOLESALE, Page 2)

State Sets Date On Car Inspection

State required automobile inspection for 1953 will probably start sometime in January or early February, according to the Department of Public Safety.
Reasons given by the department for the inspections being conducted later than last year was that more time is needed with station managers to develop a uniform procedure and, also, the proximity to the '52 inspections which were concluded in late August.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — John L. Lewis today ordered striking soft coal miners to go back to work at once.
The chief of the United Mine workers messaged all union district officers that it was his opinion work should be resumed pending government reconsideration of whether the miners may have a $1.90 a day pay increase which the industry has agreed to.

Conservatives Caustic . . . Demo Chairman On Airwaves For Ike

Four prominent Pampa men, including the county Democratic chairman, a county commissioner and a former city commissioner have come out openly for Dwight D. Eisenhower and are making transcribed broadcasts over radio station KPND.
The men, County Democratic Chairman Aaron Sturgeon, County Commissioner Fred Vanderburg, and former City Commissioner Bill Ballard, and John O. Pitts, local rancher and businessman, have made short-talk transcriptions that will be repeated at intervals over the air.
Sturgeon's talk — first played late last week — voiced the wrath of conservative Democrats on the tideland issue.
"I suggest to the voters of Gray County that you support General Eisenhower with your vote," Sturgeon said after indicting the Truman administration for confiscating "lands that belong to Texas and our school children."
Vanderburg, whose second term as county commissioner expires Jan. 1, 1953, used his one minute to talk as a private citizen and told the radio audience he is supporting Ike because the general will definitely throw out Dean Acheson.
Ballard, who has been a member of the House Sam Rayburn committee in Texas for Gov. Adlai Stevenson.
Sturgeon told Rayburn he would not attend any Democratic meetings nor vote for Stevenson.
Besides Ballard and Pitts, four Gray County housewives, Mrs. M. L. Cooper, Mrs. Jay Meador, Mrs. Forest Taylor, and Mrs. Earl O'Brien, also made transcriptions in behalf of the general.
In the meantime the switching of conservative Democrats to the Eisenhower cause was not without local comment. Sam- old-line Democrats have voiced strong sentiment against Gov. Allan Shivers and Sen. - elect Bruce Lister Hargett for the state they have taken in the presidential race.
One conservative, who will remain with the party, said of Shivers recently:

FOUND AT THE SCENE of today's early morning shooting were a .38 calibre pistol, a billfold, and an oil rag with a hole in it and powder marks on it. Police Chief Jim Conner dusts off the gun in search of fingerprints, none of which were found. A. D. Silvey, 72, of 211 W. Foster, was found shot between 5 and 6 a.m. today on the floor of his home. Taken to a local hospital, he is not considered in serious condition. (News Photo)

By ED NASH
A 72-year-old Pampa man, owner of a local service station, was found shot through the left lung early this morning on the floor of his home.
A. D. Silvey, 71 W. Foster, was taken to Worley Hospital shortly after 5 a. m. today by ambulance. His condition was not considered serious by Dr. Malcolm Brown.
Silvey was conscious when the ambulance arrived on the scene, but he remembered nothing of the shooting. He said he was asleep in his chair when the shot was fired.
According to the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home (which sent the ambulance), a woman made the call. But her identity has not been established. Mrs. Silvey is reported to be in Dallas.
Silvey was found lying on his right side with a .38 calibre pistol at his side. Nearby on the floor were a billfold and some red oil rags, one of them with a hole through it and powder marks on it.
The injured man, owner of Sportsman service station, claims that he was robbed of $400 — $300 from his wallet and $100 from the cash register. Police report that $27 was left in the register.
Three bullets were missing from the pistol's cylinder. Police Chief Jim Conner said. But two of them, he added, were probably fired some time ago.
The bullet which hit Silvey, Conner thought, went through his left side, hit the back of his chair and ricocheted off the wall behind to the floor.
The shell of the bullet was badly mangled, caused, Conner figured, by its impact with the floor. One of the oil rags found on the floor had two powder marks on it, one a good hole through which the bullet is assumed to have traveled, the other at a spot coinciding with the place where the pistol's cylinder could have been.
Evidence was substantial. Conner maintained, that the rag was held over the gun as it was fired.
The pistol, Conner went on, looked like one that Silvey is known to have owned. No prints were found on the gun but the pistol and the bullet are being sent to Austin to be checked.
Roadblocks were set up on highways leading from Pampa to Sogor and Dumas by request of the Pampa Police Department, but they were abandoned shortly after 8:30 a.m.
All cars were stopped. It was reported, but investigating officers had absolutely no description to go by in their search.
On the scene of the shooting, beside the ambulance driver, were Conner; J. O. Dumas, assistant police chief; and F. D. (Denny) Roan Jr., sergeant in charge of fingerprinting.

New Hwy. 60 Post Created

A part-time professional public relations man for the National U. S. Highway 60 Assn. was appointed Sunday by the group's executive committee, meeting in Amarillo, Howard Buckingham, Pampa, member of the committee, reported this morning.
At the same time Oklahoma delegates on the committee reported U. S. Highway 60 as fully paved from coast to coast.
H. W. McGinness, manager of the Tonkawa, Okla. Chamber of Commerce, was named to the part-time public relations post. However, he declined to definitely accept the appointment and asked for time to consider it. McGinness is also secretary of the association.
Under the plan, McGinness would devote alternate weeks to the job until the next annual convention of the association. The decision to name a part-time man is an experiment to determine whether a full-time man would be practical in building up travel along the coast to coast route.
The last unpaved gap was located near Grand Lake in eastern Oklahoma. It is now open to traffic.
The group discussed preliminary plans for its 1953 annual convention at Show Low, Ariz., setting May 23 as the tentative date.
Besides Buckingham, E. O. (Red) Wedgeworth, manager of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, also attended the meeting.

From 9 to 9:30 p.m., Sen. McCarty of Wisconsin has scheduled a nationwide radio & television talk.

Election Judges Are Briefed On Reporting Returns

County Judge Bruce Parker today was preparing a letter of instruction to election judges on reporting their returns for the general election, Nov. 4.
The counting will be complicated this year because of the cross-filing by Republicans of all but one of the Democratic nominees for state offices.
Provisions in the state election laws covering delegates to county and state conventions and the holding of primaries are the principal factors in complicating the official report of returns.
Votes cast for Allan Shivers for governor in the Republican column must be reported separately from those cast for him under the Democratic column. The state total for Shivers on the Republican side of the ledger will determine whether the GOP must hold primaries in 1954.
Votes for Eisenhower under the Republican column will determine how many delegates each precinct is allowed to its county convention for presidential nominations in 1956 — the same provision affects the allowable delegates to the state convention from each county.
The ballot has eight columns, two of which are blank, allowing for write-in votes. Eisenhower can also be given a vote by scratching the Democratic nominees for president and vice-president and writing in the names of Eisenhower and Nixon. Those votes will have to be reported separately by the judges rather than a lump total for the general.
This is expected to slow up the counting in heavier boxes, especially those where split-ticket voting is heavy.

Bodyguard Called Out For Nixon On Anon ym ous Tip

A special bodyguard awaited Sen. Richard Nixon at Beaumont Monday as the Republican vice presidential nominee swung into Texas in quest of votes for himself and Dwight Eisenhower.

Nixon's first scheduled speech was at Texarkana airport at noon. Then he was to make the Gregg County airport before speaking at Beaumont. Next in line were Corpus Christi, Abilene and Midland before Nixon reached El Paso at 9:05 p. m. (MST)

Raging Typhoon Plows Trail Of Destruction In Philippines

MANILA (AP) — A raging typhoon — the second in six days — puffed a trail of destruction across the Central Philippines today.
Fath of the new storm was south of the populous great leveled by the typhoon which last week took nearly 450 lives.
As the storm lashed Samar, Northern Leyte and Masbate Islands this morning an' headed over the Sibuyan Sea, its center velocity slackened from 150 to 100 miles an hour.
A U. S. B-29 weather plane from Clark Air Force base, north of Manila, was missing after it flew into the typhoon 350 miles east of Samar yesterday. There were 15 aboard.
The big blow caused extensive crop damage but early reports mentioned no casualties.
It was expected to cross Southern Mindoro Island tonight and blow into the South China Sea.
Planes and ships are searching an area about 200 miles east of Samar in the Central Philippines for the B-29.
The storm hit Samar last night. It was from that area the plane made its last radio report.
An Air Force spokesman said there still was hope the plane might have crash-landed safely. The crew had survival equipment.

closed hearings in Austin, then announced he was selling his chain of stores.

The committee firmly established operation of the liquor syndicate, it probably will turn its attention toward trying to learn how it is possible for a ring to exist under the present Liquor Control Act.

For answers to this question, the committee will call a number of witnesses, including Coke Stevenson Jr., administrator for the State Liquor Control Board.

Both the Potter and Lubbock counties grand juries reported that the syndicate apparently paid better wages to some employees of the State Liquor Control Board than did the board. The Lubbock grand jury said bootleggers there not only got their whiskey from the syndicate, but were furnished detailed information on whereabouts of liquor undercover men working the area.

Control Act Bill
The Potter County jury didn't simply complain of bootleggers bribing liquor agents. It roundly attacked the State Liquor Control Act as principal contributor to the trouble banding it "a hotbed for corruption." The jury also charged "iniquities" under administration of the present act and asked for amendments limiting the administrative provisions of the law.

Car, and other members of the committee which include Reps. Fred Meredith of Terrell, chairman, and Charles Murphy of Houston, Horace Houston of Dallas and Bill Woods of Tyler, will hear a number of requests for changes in the liquor act.

Accident Toll Reaches One Daily

Pampa's automobile wreck toll has reached a pace of one-a-day for the current year.

Three accidents were reported over the week end, raising the year toll to 300. Sunday was the 300th day of the year.

Two persons were cited in the accidents, one of them for driving while intoxicated.

Tommie T. Owen, 40, of 815 S. Russell, stopped quickly in a traffic line on W. Foster about 9 p. m. Saturday, police report to avoid hitting a little girl who had run out into the street.

Jesse G. Shelton, 45, of 1108 Terrace, following behind Owen, did not have time to stop to avoid a collision.

Damage to the Shelton car was calculated at $100. No one was cited.

At 7:10 p. m. Sunday Thelma B. Darnell, 38, of 938 Campbell, was forced to stop at Foster and Russell, police said, to permit a jaywalking pedestrian to clear the roadway. Reggie Mayo, 17, of 509 E. Foster, following behind, was unable to stop in time to avoid a collision with Darnell's car.

Mayo was cited for following another car too closely. Damages to the two cars were estimated at $405.

James M. West, 50, of Plain Dealing, La., was headed north on Hubart, near Oklahoma, at 11:55 p. m. Sunday, police said, when his car collided with a parked car owned by George W. Young, White Deer.

According to officers, West left the scene of the accident, was caught by Young and held for police. West was charged with driving while intoxicated and turned over to county authorities. West was sentenced to 30 days in county jail this morning by County Judge Bruce Parker.

Several conservative Democrats declare Sturgeon should resign as county chairman, but at the same time voice the fear that a pro-Fair Dealer might be elected in Sturgeon's place in the 1954 primaries.

Although most of the local political activity has come from the Eisenhower camp, Stevenson supporters have also been at work — quietly, and without any balloons.

One cynic said: "When the smoke has cleared you will find Stevenson leading Eisenhower over the state and in Gray County. Yet, just as in the case of Truman and W. E. Lee (Pappy) O'Daniel, who never find anybody that voted for them, but they always managed to be elected."

Communists In The Process Of Annexing Another Writer

PARIS (AP) — The Communists today are in the process of annexing their second great French writer within the year — both of them long dead.

Emile Zola is the Reds' latest literary captive. The Communists are pulling him into their camp as France observes the 50th anniversary of the author's death.

Last spring they took over Victor Hugo. They found his novel "Les Miserables" right down their alley. The Reds used France's celebration of the 150th anniversary of his birth to give him the honor.

How It Is Done
How do the Communists annex these writers who died long before the Russian Revolution? The job is done chiefly by Communist newspapers.

The technique is simple: Start with a writer's times and ours, stress the period of the writer's lives when they were in the minority opposition, forget about the fact they did not take orders from Moscow, and that they died respectable, honored and rich.

It is true that when their moment came, both writers were ardent partisans.

What the Communists particularly like about Zola is his defense of Alfred Dreyfus, the French artillery captain who was railroaded to Devil's Island in 1894 after being erroneously convicted of furnishing secrets to the German military attaché in Paris.

Praised Movie
The Communist zeal for Zola is so great that it has led them to praise an American movie, a very rare thing indeed. The movie is the 15-year-old film "The Life of Zola" with Paul Muni in the title role.

The French government has just lifted its ban on the film, indicating that after half a century "l'affaire Dreyfus" is still touchy. Previously, French officials objected to the picture as a reflection on the French Army.

The picture has not yet appeared in theaters, however.

The Communists are just getting warmed up on Zola. As the autumn progresses various French ceremonies commemorating the anniversary of his death will give the Red press other opportunities to embrace him. Meantime the non-Communist press is publishing thousands of words of praise for Zola, so the tug-of-war is getting hot.

Dabbled In Politics
The Communist press must feel they took Victor Hugo into camp last spring and need not worry any more about him for he seldom mentioned these days.

Hugo, like some of his fellow writers in the literary romantic movement, dabbled in politics.

He made speeches in favor of a republic — including one from a wagon in the Place de la Bastille — during the French Revolution of 1848 and in following political upheavals. Hugely pursued by the authorities, he once escaped to Brussels in the disguise of a workman.

In the midst of last spring's anniversary celebration a French cinema director planned to render homage to Hugo by a long film. Hollywood producers were interested and planned to participate in the making of the movie.

Then the word drifted back to Hollywood that the Communist press was making Hugo its literary hero No. 1. The Americans cooled off and postponed any action indefinitely.

This caused the Conservative Le Figaro to remark: "Let us reassure America: to 'annex' is not to convert — even less so when it deals with a writer who is dead."

The executive branch of the government for approval of the industry agreement is pending. It will require a reasonable time for review of attendant facts and re-reading of the decision.

"It is my opinion that our industry should be operating during that period and then that the best interests of the mine workers and the public will thus be served.

"I am therefore requesting an immediate resumption of operation at all mines in all districts and I am urging each member of our union to return to work at once.

Even before the Lewis telegram was made public here, its receipt had been made known by one district union leader, John Busarello, at Pittsburgh.

Busarello said he expected some miners to go back to work on the shift ordinarily reporting at 4 p. m.

"We're trying to get word to the miners as fast as possible," he said. "We'll do everything to comply with the orders of the boss."

Aged Texas Research Chemist Still Seeks Best Use Of Gas

By BO BYERS
AUSTIN (AP) — E. F. Schoch, a research chemical engineer who has been commended for his work on a waste of Texas natural gas, is now to harness the electrical discharge of natural gas, the tall thin-eyed man with wavy white hair was in a philosophical and slightly melancholy mood as he talked.

"I realize my days on this earth won't be many. I may not live to see my findings pay out much, but maybe they will justify my having lived," he mused.

A look at Dr. Schoch's record would make most people feel he has justified his existence long ago. His outstanding achievement has been development of a commercially feasible method for producing acetylene from natural gas by a low temperature "glow" electrical discharge.

Aside from his work as a teacher and director of the University of Texas Bureau of Industrial Chemistry, he has designed and supervised the building of eight municipal waterworks systems and has perfected a method of utilizing Texas lignite as an industrial fuel.

The 100-million-dollar Alcoa plant at Rockdale, Tex., will rely on lignite for its fuel supply.

But these accomplishments have not satisfied Dr. Schoch's scientific curiosity. He wants to find products other than acetylene which can be made from the combination of natural gas and an electrical discharge.

The main problem in this search is getting involved in such secondary issues.

"Alcoa (Aluminum Company of America) is going to get its power a lot cheaper from lignite than it would from gas at its new plant at Rockdale. They don't have to tell me I know."

"The gas industry holds the price of gas just low enough to make it economically unfeasible to bring in lignite in other parts of the country. If we can do something to make the value of gas greater in Texas, supply and demand will take care of the situation without resorting to legislation."

"The solutions for the use of gas for chemicals are many. There are said to be many cheaper than the one I am attempting, but let's not haggle. They wouldn't have found atomic energy if they hadn't set out deliberately to do it."

Two Battles Top SWC Schedule

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor
Texas battles Southern Methodist and Baylor marches against Texas Christian in the biggest week of Southwest Conference football. A clear-cut favorite and leader is due to emerge from these games.

These are the leaders — Texas and Southern Methodist undefeated and untied, TCU unbeaten but once tied, Baylor with one victory and one loss.

The three other members of the league — Arkansas, Texas A&M and Rice — can be considered out of the running.

Texas will be a resounding favorite over stumbling Southern Methodist, which beat Rice in its only conference start but last week was blasted all over the Cotton Bowl by Kansas. Texas was whipping Rice 20-7, and doing probably a more thorough job than last SMU, which won 21-14, over the Owls.

The Texas Christian-Baylor game can only be regarded as a toss-up. Last week Baylor beat A & M, 21-20. TCU previously had tied A & M, 7-7. The Texas-SMU game will be at Austin white Baylor and Texas Christian tangle at Fort Worth. At College Station, Arkansas and Texas A & M will be fighting for little more than a place.

Rice, loser of both its conference games, will be mixing in an inter-sectional affair with Wisconsin. The conference had rather not talk about its inter-sectional record. It's the worst this league ever compiled in a season since it became a major conference and was ranked alongside the best in the country.

While Southern Methodist was being licked, 26-0, by Kansas last week Arkansas was absorbing a 34-7 humiliation at the hands of Mississippi. The Texas Christian-Baylor game can be counted out of the running. Either Texas or SMU can take the undisputed lead unless the teams play to a tie.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Fumbles played a big part in three of the low-scoring games in which the Border Conference teams participated Saturday night.

The University of Arizona recovered a Hardin-Simmons fumble on Arizona's three-yard line with 40 seconds to go to save a 13-12 lead.

Houston grabbed an Arizona State College fumble on the Sun Devil five in the second period and on the next play Cougar Halfback S. M. Meeks plunged over four yards for the only score in the contest.

The West Texas State Buffaloes nabbed an Abilene Christian fumble early in the third period, marched 48 yards in 10 plays and tied the score at 12-all when Bob Whelchel went into the end zone.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP)—The American Basketball League, oldest of the professional cage groups, has been disbanded because two of its member teams insisted upon playing men who were involved in last year's "dumping" scandals.

This has stirred up a quite lively debate between those who feel that the erring athletes should be given every chance to rehabilitate themselves and a larger segment which contends that there is no place in sports for a player who once has been caught defrauding the public.

"We made a mistake," one of the boys was quoted. "Do we have to go on paying for it for the rest of our lives?"

Not necessarily. A man who takes samples from a bank and seizes his time can find a job when he gets out, but they don't put him in the teller's cage again. It's a rule.

We have just heard, courtesy of Umpire Larry Goetz, of the time Casey Stengel, then playing with Brooklyn, ran afoul of the one and only Bill Klem.

Casey, ordered by Uncle Witter Robinson to punt, laid one down the first base line. Almost immediately it rolled outside and the old arbitrator clarified "Foul!" before Stengel could even start to run.

But as the sphere neared first base it struck a pebble, or something, and veered back into fair territory. The opposing first baseman picked it up, stepped on the bag, and Klem yelled "Out." He then stroled over a few steps to speak to Robinson.

"Go back to the bench and sit down!"

The full extent of the outrage didn't occur to Casey until he was back in the dugout. Then he proceeded to demolish his catcher.

Time Limit Off Grudge Battle

Tommy Martindale and Senae Oyama figured that 90 minutes wasn't enough for them to settle their grudge match this coming Wednesday night, and consequently they had promoter Howard Vinyard lift the time limit and make it unlimited. So the two bitter enemies will resume their bloody battle of last week on a winner-take-all, no time limit basis in the main event of next Wednesday night's card.

To round out the program, blonde and beautiful Art Nelson of Canada will go against another boy down from the north woods, Herb Parks, in a 48-minute, two-out-of-three fall struggle and Buck Weaver of Terre Haute, Ind., will face Gus Johnson of Seattle in a 20-minute, one-fall opener.

A capacity crowd is anticipated for the rematch of Martindale and Oyama after the near-riot during their last week's bout. Reserved seat tickets will be placed on sale at noon Wednesday at the Sportsman's Store or earlier reservations may be made by phoning 2035.

Quarterbacks Hold Meeting Tonight
Pampa Quarterback Club members will get a chance tonight to see how the Fighting Pampa Harvesters pulled the Abilene game out of the fire in the final 16 seconds of play. The film will be shown at the regular weekly meeting of the Quarterback Club which will be held at 8 p. m. in the Sam Houston grade school auditorium.

The Harvesters coaches will be on hand to review Friday night's game with Midland and also to preview this week end's contest with the Lubbock Westerners.

Abilene Hub Of Texas Conference
By the Associated Press
Action of the Texas Conference football race will be concentrated in Abilene this week. Saturday two championship games will be played in that city—the elite schedule of the league for the week-end.

In the afternoon, Texas A&I opens the conference race against Abilene Christian in what will be the second game of the Wildcats, who hold a 28-0 shutout over McMurry. At night, Austin College clashes with McMurry. These two schools, both idle last week, lost their only conference game.

The league didn't do very well last week, dropping two of its three games. Texas A&I was the only winner. The Jayelinas won their first game of the season, beating Sul Ross of the Lone Star Conference, 27-13, before 8,000 homecoming fans. A&I had been plagued by injuries.

Southwest Texas State and East Texas are tied for the lead with two victories and no losses each. All other teams in the six-member conference have lost at least once.

Pampa-Lubbock Clash Headlines Schoolboy Card

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor
Five clashes of unbeaten teams highlight a busy week of conference play in Texas schoolboy football.

For the second straight week the spotlight falls on District 1 of Class AAAA where Lubbock and Pampa battle for what is likely to be the title. Last week it was Midland vs Pampa with the latter coming through 34-20, to nullify the issue squarely in to Lubbock defender state champion.

The reason there are so many important games in District 1 is because of its overall strength — there are more strong teams in this area than any other district save possibly one.

Both Pampa and Lubbock are undefeated. The other team in the state with a perfect record — Wichita Falls — meets Waco in the opening of conference warfare at District 5. This will indicate strongly whether Wichita Falls deserves a rating of No. 1 in the state as accorded in several quarters. Waco has lost a game but it was to night Temple of Class AAA and the Trojans still must be reckoned as one of the top eleven of their class.

Corianna-Temple Feature
The fight of Corianna and Temple in District 5 headlines Class AAA. Corianna isn't undefeated but it is one of the two big stumbling blocks ahead of Temple. Lufkin, unbeat and untied, is the other. Rowwood, Lufkin, Temple, Edison, San Antonio and McAllen are the teams with perfect records in AAA.

Three games between unbeaten teams are scheduled in Class AA. The headlines are Quannah at Burkburnett in District 4 and Burkburnett at Anson in District 5. Down in District 30 Huntville, unbeaten and untied, plays Humble, undefeated but once tied. Teams with perfect records in this class are Phillips, Dumas, Floydada, Burkburnett, Quannah, Anson, Stamford, Terrell, Mt. Pleasant, Paul Hewitt Center, Killen, Huntville, Gonzales and Uvalde.

Inasca Plays Clifton
Class A features the battle of Inasca and Clifton in District 11. This brings together two undefeated and untied teams. There are nine more teams without defeat. Jefferson, Troup, Fairfield, Mineola or in Class A: Dublin, southern City, Palacios, Floresville, Hebbronville and Benavides.

There are only 21 games in Class AAAA but all except one is a conference affair this week. The schedule by district:

1 — Friday: Odessa at Borger; Abilene at Midland; Saturday: San Angelo at Amarillo; Lubbock at Pampa.

Week End's Football Results Keep Bowl Contestants Dark

By ED CORRIGAN
NEW YORK (AP)—This is the time of year that the titans of college football usually begin looking forward to the gold of bowl games or the glory of conference titles. Not this time.

The muscle-men, noting the trend of things, are quaking as they come to each game. The upsets haven't been starting but each week some of the big boys are biting the dust.

If Iowa, the punching bag of the Big Ten can whip Ohio State, and Southern California can shut out California — a feat that hadn't been accomplished in 50 games — nothing should be a surprise.

Perhaps the only certainty, and that's going out on the limb, is that Michigan State and Maryland are the class of the country insofar as the records are concerned. Neither has a stumbled even once, and each has shown a wealth of power and an ability to stop the enemy when it counts.

California slips
Right behind are one-tided Oklahoma and two Eastern powers, Georgia Tech and Duke. The unbeaten list should be reduced by one come Saturday when Tech and Duke collide head-on at Durham, N. C.

Until this week, California was high up on the list. Then Southern California whipped the Golden Bears, 30-0.

Now the Pacific Coast race is up in the air. Cal still can win it, but Southern Cal and UCLA, which like the Trojans is undefeated, will have plenty to say UCLA meets the Golden Bears this Saturday and if they can

Refuse Two Clubs Permission To Move

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Applications from Fort Arthur and Lake Charles, La., to withdraw from the Gulf Coast Baseball League have been refused.

But league president Howard Green yesterday said he thought the subject would come up again soon. The two cities want to join the Evangeline League in Louisiana so their travel distances from other towns in their baseball loop will not be so great.

Representatives from Matamoros, Mex., and McAllen were at the league meeting. Green said they and Victoria wanted in the Gulf Coast circuit.

Ochoa Romping Off With Rushing Lead
DALLAS (AP)—Dick Ochoa, the University of Texas, is making it "no contest" in Southwest Conference ball carrying.

Ochoa plugged for 116 yards against Rice last week to bring his total for the season to 472 yards on 112 runs. It gave him a huge lead of 162 yards over second-place Gib Dawson, also of Texas.

T. Jones of Texas increased his passing lead materially over idle Ray McKown of Texas Christian. Jones got 125 yards against Rice to make his total 714 on 42 completions in 82 throws. He now is 125 yards ahead of McKown who has 580 yards on 45 connections in 88 attempts.

But McKown could skip a week and still hold his lead in total offense. McKown has rolled up 834 yards on 187 plays. Ray Graves of Texas A&M is second with 706 yards on 164 plays.

Bob St. Pierre of Arkansas replaced Jerry Norton of Southern Methodist as the punting leader. St. Pierre has kicked 16 times for an average of 40.2. Norton has done 40.96 on 21 booga.

Joe Borling of A & M has the top average in punt returns, showing 18.1 on seven runs. Jerry Coody of Baylor is second with 14.9 on eight.

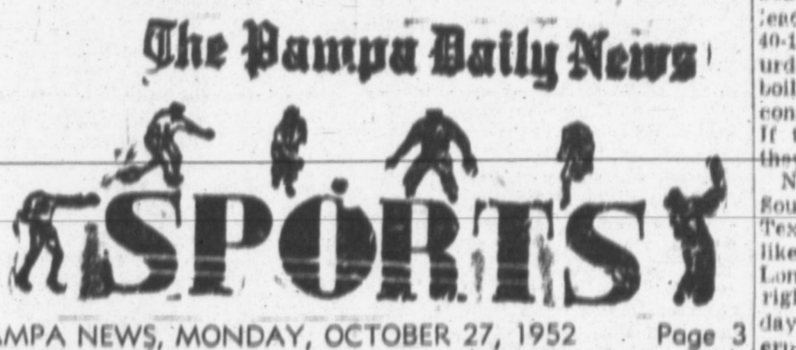

Keep Bowl Contestants Dark

Now in anything, settling in the Southwest Conference. However, Texas is looking more and more like the class of the league. The Longhorns suggested Arkansas right out of the running Saturday, 34-7, and now take on Southern Methodist. Both are undefeated in league play.

In the Ivy League, Yale, which currently is tied with Penn for the lead, each with 3-0 marks, faces Dartmouth, which should be a set-up for the Elis. Penn must play Penn State, no cinch, in a non-league encounter. Princeton, the defending champion, entertains Brown after whomping Cornell 27-0.

In the Big Seven, championship-bound Oklahoma figures to run through a workout if the expense of Iowa State and Kansas, the turnover should have no trouble with Kansas State. Missouri and Nebraska play the top game from a competitive standpoint.

Oklahoma A and M and Tulsa go to each other in what could be a game to decide the championship of the Missouri Valley. In the Skyline Conference Utah and Colorado A and M probably will fight it out for the title when they meet Nov. 8. The Aggies will rest up this week, but Utah will entertain Colorado of the Big Seven. Idaho State is expected to clinch a share of the Rocky Mountain crown by defeating Colorado Mines Saturday.

Big Six Boasts Unbeaten Clubs

By the Associated Press
The Big Six Conference has no more undefeated teams. The Cameron Aggies dropped their first game of the season last week, tumbling before Sheppard Field, 15-8.

Also Tyler won its first conference game of the season, beating Little Rock Junior College, the only teams undefeated in conference play.

Kilgore played a 19-19 tie with Victoria of the South Texas Conference in the other game for the week.

North Texas State returned to the victory column last week with a 28-14 triumph over Memphis State at Memphis. Trinity won its second game in a row, whipping Lamar Tech of the Lone Star Conference, 66-7.

Reds In UN?

Recent "revelations" that Communist agents infest many of the delegations to the United Nations and that they are operating huge spy centers there should be no surprise to anybody.

The idea upon which the United Nations is based—that peoples of the world can achieve permanent peace by joint action—is wonderful. But any time a bunch of politicians get together—whether they are Democrat or Republican, ward or international—somebody is going to get it in the neck.

At San Francisco back in 1945 dear old Uncle Sam was the fall guy. The whole hassle over the formation of the UN involved how to fleece the richest character in the house.

The result was that the UN charter contained a lot of platitudes, but when it came down to the working arrangements they were all loaded against the U. S. and against the chance that the organization would produce anything but war.

The fellow with the sharpest skinning-knife in the Opera House was John Bull, but the one who got the choicest part of the pelt was Ivan.

The delegates talked of peace, but they gave Russia the veto.

If you doubt that the UN is rigged to take away the cash, future and rights of the American people you just haven't been reading your newspapers over the past decade. If you had, you would have seen a lot of guff about raising the living standard of backward nations and about gaining the American standard of civil rights for all the down-trodden peoples of the earth.

But every time there has been any action toward these ends it has been on some scheme which would involve free gifts of cash from the American treasury—thus improving the taxpayers here by just that much—or some covenant having the force of law which would restrict the rights of the American people.

If you require an example, remember the one Eleanor the Great got mixed up in which would have put hobbles on your right to read the news of the world without any government-imposed blackouts.

That was a Moscow deal. It would have hurt you without helping anybody in the world.

Remember Korea. Perhaps you think the UN took quick, decisive action there. Sure, it did. And five minutes later half the gang was wishing they had stayed at home. When we called on them to back up their play with men and money, look what happened. We got a few British, a company of Canadians, some Australians, a platoon of Turks, a squad of Greeks and a few assorted replacements. Uncle Sam is still paying the bills and doing most of the dying.

And in all of this, who is profiting? Nobody at all but the masters of the Kremlin, who are using the UN as well as the Korean war to further their plans for conquest by world revolution.

Of course they have their agents in the United States. And where better to hide them than in the delegations of that great humanitarian institution, the UN.

We have been asked to comment on the charges made during the past few days that there are Reds in the UN. It would be much more remarkable if there were none.

Phony Cure

It is now evident that price control is on its way out, though the framework of a control system will be kept on the books for some time to come. More and more commodities are being completely decontrolled. The rules and regulations affecting manufacturers and merchants are being relaxed and modified. The whole OPS organization is drawing in its horns, and its staff has been much reduced in size.

A number of reasons are responsible for this. For one thing, many commodity prices are below-ceiling now, which makes controls meaningless. For another, the sentiment in Congress is obviously one of distaste for the whole control idea. For still another, even some of the bureaucrats are beginning to understand that you can't get maximum production and efficiency out of enterprise by throttling it with red tape and ever-changing orders and amendments to orders. Finally, and most important, public thinking on the whole control idea has obviously undergone some important changes. More and more people have become convinced that free, competitive business, as contrasted with politically-dominated business, is what this country needs.

And more and more people have also learned that controls deal not with the disease we call inflation but only with some of its symptoms. The farmer, the manufacturer and the retailer did not create inflation, and most of them have suffered rather than benefited from it. They, like the consumer, have been among its victims. The primary stimulant to inflation has been the insane, drunken-sailor fiscal policy of our government. The controls were a phony cure, and the sooner all of them are allowed to die the better off we will be.

Our National Wealth—Is It Increasing?

I am continuing to quote from an article appearing in the Commercial and Financial Chronicle by William Chamberlain on the subject of "Our National Wealth—Is It Increasing?"

In business accounting the property of an individual or corporation is not entered upon the books in kind, item by item. On the contrary books of account are kept in terms of value. Although property may be broadly classified as to kind and character, upon ledgers and balance sheets each classification appears only in terms of value. These values are of necessity listed in terms of a common yardstick or unit of value established by government for the measurement of value. I have stated this, not because I presume you to be unaware of it, but merely that you may be more readily follow the sequence of that which follows:

The United States the standard unit of value called the "dollar" was established by specific act of Congress which for many years prior to midnight of Jan. 31, 1935, read as follows:

"Section 314 Standard Unit of Value. The dollar consists of 25 8/10ths grains of gold, 9/10ths fine shall be the Standard Unit of Value and all forms of money issued or coined by the United States shall be maintained at a parity of value with the standard, and it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Treasury to maintain such parity." (See U. S. Code Annotated, Money and Finance, Title 31 Section 314 Page 276.)

This dollar of gold or of paper convertible into gold constituted both the standard unit of value and the lawful medium of exchange. It was money in the age long and true sense of that word. Each unit of such money was a thing or represented a thing of intrinsic value. Because of this it was acceptable in trade in any part of the world. Using this standard unit of intrinsic value a price structure developed. Intrinsic value was measured in terms of a thing of intrinsic value. Those who rendered services or parties with property received for a thing of intrinsic value. Those who loaned money loaned a thing of intrinsic value and were repaid with a thing of intrinsic value. The thing capable of performing the all important function of money was used as money. All bookkeeping entries were made in terms of this standard unit of value. The dollar was the unit for the measurement of value. All obligations payable in money were made in terms of it. Once established, the importance of adhering to a standard unit of value, and the difficulties which would arise when the unit is changed are apparent.

If the unit is changed true comparisons of recorded values and true calculations of profit, loss and return become impossible except through necessary and often difficult accounting adjustments.

In respect to weights and measures of land or area dimensions this seems more easily understood than in respect to the unit of value. Yet the principle is the same. It differs only in the complexities of its application. Should the area known as an acre be reduced by law by one-half no farmer would say he now has twice as much land and hurry to equip himself with additional machinery for its cultivation. And he would deride the suggestion that his production could now be doubled. If the lawful unit, the foot, were reduced by one-half, no merchant or warehouseman would presume that twice as many square feet of space, calculated in terms of the new unit, would double his area of operations. Nor would a manufacturer assume that another unit of production of the new-foot would double his capacity. And it is plain that no one capable of elementary reasoning would accept as plausible a suggestion by government that his property taxes should be doubled because the government had reduced the units of weights and measures or areas by one-half. These things admit of visible calculation and are readily comprehended.

Comprehension comes more slowly where a change occurs in the standard unit for the measurement of value. Where the change in the unit is brought about gradually by abandonment of long established metallic standard and the substitution of a paper unit followed by the form of currency which is known as paper money, inflation, a subtle usage plays its part in obscuring the true nature of that which is happening.

Thus, under cover of custom and usage and a temporary sense of prosperity, great frauds are possible of perpetration by governments against the unsuspecting and helpless masses of the people. Leaving the name and form of the paper medium unchanged, its worth is reduced by dilution. In this manner a portion of the substance of all savings in money or obligations payable in money as well as of wages, salaries, annuities and pensions quietly taken and consumed by governments. The force applied is both invisible and inevitable. For a time the loss in purchasing power is attributed to natural forces. Governments encourage this belief by measures against "profiteers." But in time, as the practice continues, the inexorable force of truth renders the great imposture apparent even to the least observant.

Both Demos And GOP Count On New York's Electoral Vote

WASHINGTON — Although the electoral vote of every state may be a key factor in the November 4 choice between Governor Stevenson and General Eisenhower, a list of most every politician regards New York's 45 ballots as highly critical.

Truman and Wilson won in 1948 and 1952, respectively, without the Empire State's support, but they were unusual years.

The Democrats figure that they have New York "in the bag." The basis of their confidence is that Governor Dewey carried it by only about 61,000, while Henry A. Wallace, running as a Progressive, polled 40,559 votes.

Wallace supporters will swing the Wallace vote to Stevenson, giving him a safe majority over Ike.

N. Y. VOTE — Recent canvasses, however, dispute this theory. The GOP now argues that New York, together with Pennsylvania and Illinois, as almost certain to go for Eisenhower.

These three states have a total of 104 electoral votes. Assuming that Eisenhower carries normally Republican areas where Dewey would approach the necessary 26 figure, even without the doubtful state of California.

Republican pollsters have taken special pains to check on the Wallace group. Their findings indicate that only a small percentage of his 60,559 turnout will shift automatically to Stevenson. Their inquiries show that Vincent Hallinan, the Progressive entry, will get about 200,000 of these votes. Thousands who voted for the Roosevelt vice president are now disillusioned because of Russia's anti-American belligerence. So is "Hank" himself.

WALLACE SILENT — Finally, Wallace has taken no stand as of today. He is a close friend of Milton Eisenhower, Ike's younger brother, who served for many years as a key figure in Agriculture during the Wallace regime. And, of course, the Iowa corn expert has no love for the man who succeeded him, and then fired him from the Cabinet—namely, Harry S. Truman.

Thus, according to these Republican surveys, which have not been released, the GOP expects to carry New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois.

DEM REGISTRATION OFF — As another indication of an Eisenhower turnout, the Democratic registration in large industrial centers has dropped from the 1948 figures. Wards which gave Truman

Demanding that Texas support his candidate this year—or else, Sam Rayburn said this Thursday night in Dallas:

"Texas oilmen have the advantage of the 27 1/2 per cent depletion allowance for income taxes because the Democrats gained a majority in Congress during the Hoover administration.

That is the sober and honest truth. The Democrats had a majority in the Seventy-second Congress for almost all of its life, 1931-32. As the Seventy-second was elected the Republicans led Democrats in the Senate 48-47 with one independent. In the House, the GOP stood 218-216 with one independent. But within a few weeks' time, death had reduced the bare Republican lead and the Democrats, then seldom divided, controlled Congress.

Sam Rayburn is right. The depletion allowance on income tax is due to that fact. You said it! ... please! On this current vote-by-threat tour in Texas, you have been leaving the old Democratic lie of a Hoover depression.

That's the story? "Nope. It took me time to get it all together; I'll take my time telling it. That is head-turning country, back there, and this big alfalfa field joined with them. They loved him right away. They didn't want his head. He was big and easy-to-kill and solemn. Their idea of a god. He taught them to build their houses on foundations. He taught them ditches and water and pipes and sanitation. He got together groups of three or four and raided medical stores at night and they stole medical books for him. He had sulfa and plasma and penicillin and other stuff. He pulled teeth and kept the people washed and gave them lectures on health every Sunday morning he preached a sermon—in English. In time he fell in love with one of the girls. Later, in their bed, he acted as a Christian minister and married himself to her by Christian rites. In time they had a baby and, in time, the baby became desperately ill. He tried everything he knew but nothing worked. The witch doctors tried, but they couldn't help. Here he was, a one-man untrained doctor—missionary—guide—counselor—sanitation officer and ethical consultant, a man who single-handedly had transformed a crude native village into a symbol of human dignity. And nothing helped.

Finally, there is the fact that Senator Dirksen, a staunch Taft man at Chicago, defeated Scott Lucas, Truman's corrupt and inefficient administration. They are now in Ike's corner, according to all reports.

Stevenson's 1948 showing was no miracle at all. Conservative Republican businessmen supported him, a political newcomer, because of their disgust with Gov. Dewey's corrupt and inefficient administration. They are now in Ike's corner, according to all reports.

KEFAUVER SIDETRACKED — Although Governor Stevenson may or may not realize it, there is another Democratic presidential candidate on the stump. He is Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, who has never forgiven President Truman and the political frontals for side-tracking him at Chicago.

At Stevenson's personal request, the Capitol Hill crime chaser is campaigning in areas where he won primary victories over Truman and other rivals. But he has been rerouted around the large cities, where his expose of corrupt links between politicians and criminals reacted against the Democrats in municipal and state elections—New York and Chicago. Voicing Is Man's Responsibility To Himself And To Fellowmen

By THURMAN SENSING Southern States Industrial Council Nashville, Tennessee

Back in the early days of our nation, when the people were interested in their future and what the future held for their children and their children's children; they crowded around Benjamin Franklin one day as he came out of the Constitutional Convention, and asked, "Mr. Franklin, what do we have?"

Franklin replied, "You have a Republic, if you can keep it." There was some doubt in the minds of those wise men who founded our government as to whether people were actually capable of governing themselves. They knew only too well that something that is everybody's business may easily become nobody's business.

There is one thing for sure — government in a free nation is everybody's business and the nation will remain free only so long as it is everybody's business. The only way people can prove they are capable of self-government is by retaining the responsibility for that government in their own hands.

Do you ever complain about the thing or about the individual holding public office? You have a right to do so — unless you take an active part in politics yourself, unless you register and vote at election time, unless you keep yourself informed on matters of government. We

LOOKING SIDWAYS By WHITNEY BOLTON

You are sitting there on the bar stool having nothing more powerful than your usual and innocuous negation and you are taking stray looks at a new book of war stories that has just come out and this little fellow walks in, hunches up on the next stool and takes a glance around the room. Some other guy who can write is going to tell the Untold Stories of a war and that will be the time, I know right fast off that never have seen print. The kind that start your hair on end. And they won't see print, either. Because writers are mopes and don't know a good yarn when they see one.

"Such as?" you say, frankly annoyed at this banter. "Such as the 'Chute Hills,'" he said. "Tucked back in these by India. We were ironing out a road across the backs of the Himalayas. All rocks and sweat on your face and 3,000 feet of this air right your neck. Take either way. The bulldozers grunted and growled in the heat, but the road was making progress. There was a second lieutenant, a real meaty mesquite, a good little Hitler with a bull whip in his voice. He was standing on the edge of that nothing one day chewing away at a big Nebraska farmer and, finally, the farmer boy blew his top; he pointed the bulldozer at the lieutenant and bawled him off the edge for a 3,000 foot fall to the rocks below. The bulldozer went over the edge, too, but the farmer jumped safe and began to run. Our captain halted out his iron and began pegging .45's at the boy but in a second he was lost in the jungle. The lad's name, picture and number went up in every M. P. but from the Chad to Jersey City, but they never got him. Not right away. Not for two and a half years, actually.

"That's the story?" "Nope. It took me time to get it all together; I'll take my time telling it. That is head-turning country, back there, and this big alfalfa field joined with them. They loved him right away. They didn't want his head. He was big and easy-to-kill and solemn. Their idea of a god. He taught them to build their houses on foundations. He taught them ditches and water and pipes and sanitation. He got together groups of three or four and raided medical stores at night and they stole medical books for him. He had sulfa and plasma and penicillin and other stuff. He pulled teeth and kept the people washed and gave them lectures on health every Sunday morning he preached a sermon—in English. In time he fell in love with one of the girls. Later, in their bed, he acted as a Christian minister and married himself to her by Christian rites. In time they had a baby and, in time, the baby became desperately ill. He tried everything he knew but nothing worked. The witch doctors tried, but they couldn't help. Here he was, a one-man untrained doctor—missionary—guide—counselor—sanitation officer and ethical consultant, a man who single-handedly had transformed a crude native village into a symbol of human dignity. And nothing helped.

can be quite sure that in the long run free people in free country get just the kind of government they deserve.

We often hear it said, by entirely respectable people, "Why I wouldn't have anything to do with politics for anything in the world. It's a dirty business and I just wouldn't get mixed up in it."

That is the most dangerous attitude a person could take who expects to continue to live in a free nation. It is the surest way to destroy freedom. That is not the attitude that Washington and Jefferson and Jackson and Lincoln and all the other great patriots took! They believed that every man can have a voice in his government. It is a responsibility and a duty that no free man can shirk if he wants to remain free.

It is at the voting booth in a free nation that every man is equal to every other man — where every man's voice is heard, where every man's vote is counted alike, where every man makes his choice as to who shall serve him in public office.

A man who doesn't exercise his right to vote is exercising his right better than the corruption and despotism in government which he will eventually get.

Countless years and lives have been spent in striving for us the freedom in which we now live in the United States of America. Shall all that sacrifice have been wasted because we are just not interested enough in our government to go to the polls on election day?

Vote! Vote because it is your priceless heritage. Vote because it is your responsibility to yourself and to your fellowman. Vote because it is your duty to future generations.

And don't vote blindly — vote intelligently. Inform yourself as to the fundamental issues at stake. Make up your own mind as to which candidates are best equipped to meet these issues.

Remember — when you are in the voting booth, no one can tell you how to vote. You vote as a free man and not as a slave.

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M.D.

Few things play a more important part in the health of growing children than what they eat. They must have enough calcium for their bones and teeth, enough iron for their blood, enough calories so that they will have some left over for growth after vigorous exercise, and enough vitamins.

Children first begin to get away from the dietary control of their homes, and yet as much attention should be given to food at this time as at any other.

Breakfast and supper are usually still taken at home, but lunch is often another matter, and yet this is just as important as the other meals.

Many schools have cafeterias where the youngsters choose their own food. Some children do poorly at this, and should be carefully instructed by the mother as to what they should have each day, and how much to pay for it. A bottle of pop and a piece of pie is a mode is hardly a balanced meal.

Of course, the lunch should be considered in relation to what foods are given at other meals. If, for example, milk is not taken at breakfast and supper, then it should certainly be obtained at noon. In addition to milk, lunch should include some protein food, such as meat, eggs, cheese or fish, some bread and butter or potato, and some green vegetable or fruit.

OPULENT OCTOBER . . . Nature turns on the color in this harvest month, with fallen leaves unsurpassed in varied colors. . . Course Gray County's 50th anniversary celebration was the highlight here on the Plains. . . and the World Series occupied Pampa along with the rest of the nation. . . the presidential election fever is climbing to a peak and here in our country even the youngsters are getting political minded. . . the high school student body is holding a mock election for president and vice-president of the nation, along with state, county, district and precinct officers on October 30, and a "Junior Ike Club," with boys and girls ranging in age from 9 to 15, has been formed to work with the local Citizens-for-Eisenhower organization. . . The junior politics plan weekly meetings and have named delegates to the adult meetings; later they will deliver campaign literature and mark sample ballots for prospective voters. . . The annual membership meeting and installation banquet of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce is scheduled for Tuesday. . . And a Halloween "Trick or Treat" will echo throughout neighborhoods in October's last hours.

DAFNYITIONS — Reckless driver: man of extinction. . . Gossip: without report. . . Hay: grass a la moved. . . Children's play-pen: "wreck"-creation room. . . Noisy blonde: bleaches and scream type. . . Circulating Library: flying chaucer. . . Old-timer: Anybody who can remember when taxes were low. . . Tattletale: school pigeon. . . Millennium: centennial with more legs.

OUT OF THE MAILBAG: Saw Mildred (Mrs. Sam B. Cook) and Jewell (Mrs. Carlton Nance) enjoying their favorite food, hamburgers. Those girls are workers in Methodist circles. Jewell is an officer in the local Women's Society of Christian Service; has been district WSCS president and treasurer, and is now the treasurer of the conference which includes almost 300 societies. Mildred has been President of the local society; a district officer twice and is now holding her second conference office. She is on the executive committee of the Texas Council of Methodist Women and is on the Board of Control of Kirby Hall, a dormitory at Texas University. Both are on the finance committee of the conference and the committee of the School of Missions held by the WSCS in Lubbock at Texas Tech each summer.

Besides this, they both take an active part in local affairs. They belong to a study club and help with community projects, such as TB X-ray, Bloodmobile and March of Dimes. Jewell has two children, Judy and Raymond, and Mildred has a daughter, Sami Sue. . . They both have outside jobs. . . Jewell is bookkeeper for her husband's business and Mildred manages the apartments her husband owns. Two busy gals, but they are never too busy to do something else and always accept duties with a smile. This is a thumbnail sketch of two women who are workers in Northwest Texas Methodist circles sent in by an anonymous reader. . . and, as the writer went on to say, there are a lot of people in Pampa who are doing jobs benefiting a large number of people. Peg hopes others will send in sketches of men and women who are doing jobs that we don't know about.

ONE-SECOND SERMONS: The best level to live at is your level best. . . The beaten path can easily become the path of the beaten. . . Hardly anything can overtake an untruth if it has a moment's head-start. . . People who attempt to dodge their obligations often find the detour much rougher than the highway of plain duty. . . A noted minister recently observed: "We place less and less emphasis on the job of achievement—and more and more on the achievement of joy. This is a social problem which we cannot evade much longer." Martin Luther once said concerning being "too busy": "I have so much to do today that I must pray several hours."

PANORAMA DE PAMPA: Peg's proud of the merry-go-round at Hobart Park that the Kiwanis Club recently installed. . . J. H. Lamb, happy over that birthday dinner given him recently. . . Louisa Grace Erdman, autographing one of her books at the senior high school special assembly Wednesday morning. . . County School Superintendent B. R. Nuckols back from New York City where he attended a national convention of county school superintendents. . . Mrs. Jim Edminister and Mrs. Robert Futtrell attending the League of Women Voters luncheon last week. Such good attendance there! . . Many Pampans getting their Community Concert tickets in the mail, with the first presentation featuring Ana Maria's Spanish Ballet scheduled for Saturday night. . . Mrs. Joe (Gloria) Black and sons off to spend a week with her family in Oklahoma City. . . Bonnie and Agnes Robinson, attending the Wentworth Military Academy's annual Dad's Day celebration there. . . Mrs. Bill Clements wearing an adorable gray suit with a red turtle-neck sweater. . . Mrs. Otis Nace happy over being named president of the Panhandle Pen Women at a meeting in Amarillo this week. . . Mrs. E. A. (Bobbie) McLennan looking and feeling wonderful after the birth of her daughter, Toni Jeanne. . . Mrs. Bob (Beth) Karr working on decorations for her club's Husbands Night. . . Rufe Jordan, tired after standing up during most of the program at the Lions Club Ladies night. . . Peg also heard about the good job Dorothy Tooley did as Tail Twister.

AND SPEAKING OF HOW DRY it has been here on the plains, can't help thinking about this poem written by Leona Mae Austin of Childrens.

Where you can go farther and see less,
Where there are more creeks and less water,
Where there are more cooks and less milk,
Where there is more climate and less rain,
Where there is more horizon and fewer trees,
Than any other place in the Union,
Of course it gets drier they say, so dry sometimes that the cattle starve down and climb through the holes in the chicken wire and hide among the chickens, and that's annoying. . .

Local LWV Official Talks In Wheeler

WHEELER (Special) — Mrs. Frank C. Culbertson, president League of Women Voters, Pampa, was guest speaker of Thursday Review Club October 23.

Members and guests met at 7:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Cecil Laflin, with Mrs. Carroll Pettit, hostess.

Mrs. J. C. Howell introduced Mrs. Culbertson following the business session.

Mrs. Culbertson brought forth reasons why each person should vote and influence others to vote. Her timely talk stressed a need for women to take a more active part in community affairs.

"Imported" Touch In Fashion World For American Women

To give American women that "imported" feeling more and more European countries are exporting everything from shoes to handkerchiefs to jewelry, and judging from the enormous increase in sales of imported finery, we love it.

The well-dressed woman in almost any city or town in the United States might be seen in gloves or handbags from Italy, sweaters of cashmere or fine wool from Scotland or England, and handkerchiefs from Belgium or Ireland, all bearing the coveted "imported" label.

France, of course, leads the parade of imports with jewelry, leather goods and fine French nylon laces. French lace has a particular appeal for American women, but in the past it was used to trim only very expensive lingerie sold at exclusive shops. All that has been changed in this day of popular imports, so that now lingerie trimmed with French lace and net is within reach of everyone.

The good spicy flavor of this pumpkin pie filling is further enhanced by orange juice. The method of making this fine pumpkin filling is different. After the filling is put together, it is heated to steaming hotness before being berthed in the pastry shell for baking. This simplifies and considerably reduces the baking time. The rich flavor and creamy smooth texture of the filling is assured by the use of undiluted evaporated milk.

"Must" ingredient in good pumpkin pie.
PUMPKIN PIE
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1-4 cup boiling water
2 eggs
1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1-2 teaspoon salt
1 cup evaporated milk
1-4 cups canned pumpkin
3 tablespoons orange juice
1 8-inch unbaked pastry shell
Mix spices and add water slowly stirring to keep smooth. Beat eggs slightly in top of double boiler. Add spice mixture, sugar, salt and pumpkin. Stir to blend thoroughly, then add milk. Heat over boiling water until mixture begins to steam, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and stir in orange juice. Pour immediately into unbaked pastry shell. Bake in hot oven (425 F.) 15 minutes, then turn off heat and let pie remain in closed oven until set, about 15 minutes longer. Makes 1 8-inch pie (6 servings).

October meetings for the 4-H clubs throughout the county have just been completed. Demonstrations were given on salads stressing the importance of fresh, green, vegetables in the daily diet. Each girl has been asked to prepare salads before the November meeting and to have some member of her family write comments on them.

Pamphlets were distributed with recipe and suggestions for combinations to be used in salads as appetizers, main courses, accompaniments or desserts.

The 4-H Council met Thursday night and elected officers for the next year. Reuben Baerman was elected chairman; Dayne Carruth and Margaret Baggerman, vice-chairmen; and Janice Crozier, secretary-treasurer. The Council consists of a delegate and the president from each club.

A countywide party is sponsored each month by the council for all of the 4-H members. This month they have planned an achievement party for the night of Nov. 7. A pie supper and square dance is scheduled. The achievement medals will be awarded to climax the entertainment. November 8 is National Achievement Day for the 4-H clubs and their accomplishments for the year should be recognized.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department says assets of American farmers still are going up—but at a slower rate than during the last two years. The department said their total assets—valued at current prices and including the financial assets—are expected to reach $172,100,000,000 by next Jan. 1.

Man, 103, Leaves A Giant Family

STUART, Fla. (AP) — If Noel E. Faulstich, who died recently at 103, didn't have a record number of descendants, he must have been close to the mark.

Thirteen of his 17 children survived him. In addition there were 110 grandchildren, 165 great-grandchildren and 34 great-great-grandchildren.

A lifelong Florida resident, Faulstich was born in 1848 when the state had been in the Union only 3 1/2 years and was mostly a vast wilderness. Married in 1869, he was an ardent church worker, cattleman and farmer.

Polio Dwindles With Help Of Anti-Rabies

By the Associated Press.

Texas' steadily dwindling polio spread struck only 30 persons last week and a Central Texas doctor Thursday pointed to results of an anti-rabies treatment against polio, which looked promising.

Dr. Herbert E. Higgs, Waco, said persons who received anti-rabies shots at the Navarro County town of Frost have so far escaped falling victim of polio.

Dr. Higgs, along with Dr. Will Miller, Corsicana, conducted the experiments in the summer of 1951 to see whether the anti-rabies vaccine would prevent poliomyelitis.

The Waco doctor has said not a single case has developed among Frost citizens who received the experimental shots. But he added that it was still too early to draw conclusions.

"Some other towns didn't have polio this year, either," Higgs said. "But if no cases occur next year at Frost we will be greatly encouraged."

Meanwhile, State Health Officer George W. Cox in Austin renewed his warning that the decline in polio cases should not lull Texans into failure to put on sanitation campaigns.

The year's record-breaking polio total stood at 3,815 cases compared with 1,584 in 1951.

Tarrant County had five cases last week; Harris and Nueces Counties, three each; Bexar, El Paso and Jefferson, two each; Austin, Brazoria, Dallas, Dickens, Grayson, Lubbock, Martin, Runnels, Taylor and Upton one each and the Armed Forces reported one case.

Pasturage Dwindles As Drought Remains

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas' drought intensified last week.

The Agriculture Department has reported winter range and pasture food reserves dwindled further and were critically short in all areas. Stock water was exhausted on many farms.

In the plains country, growth of early-germinated wheat was at a standstill. A large acreage of dry planted wheat had not germinated. In the Northwest, prospects for wheat pasture were fading.

Satisfactory development of commercial vegetables in the Lower Valley continued to be confined to fields that had access to water from private wells.

Robbers Miss $150

MUNCIE, Ind. (AP) — Robert Antrim had to take off his pants for a frisking when he told two holdup men he didn't have any money. After they gave him his pants back and went away, Antrim found his $150 still safely in the pants.

ANCIENT CHURCH ART — This representation of the crucifixion of Christ is believed to be one of the oldest wooden sculptures in Italy. The work, executed by an unknown sculptor, dates back to the 13th Century, and is on display during Rome's quadrennial art exhibit.
