OPA Moves to Smash Western Lumber Racket

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Pacific coast lumbermen lashed back today at office of price administration officials who pressed forward a move to smash what they called "artificially increasing 'rackets' that have caused 'artificial lumber shortages' all over the country.

The OPA yesterday filed suit against 40 lumber companies in federal courts of California, Oregon, Washington and Arizona, seeking to collect a total of $9,048,530 in treble damages. The alleged violations involved some 65,649,123 board feet of lumber.

'POLITICAL MOVE'

At Aberdeen, Wash., Henry W. Anderson, president of the Twin Harbors Lumber Co., called the suits a "political move."

"I think it a crime that the OPA should pick on the northwest operators while southern operators are running rampant on the black market," he declared. The Twin Harbors Lumber company was named defendant in suit seeking an estimated $25,000 in damages.

OPINION DIFFERENCES

"These suits are based on differences of opinion in interpreting OPA ceilings," R. G. Robbins, president of the R. G. Robbins Lumber Co., of Portland, said.

VIOLATIONS LISTED

Anticipating that the OPA would be accused of "interfering with recognized business practices," lumber men filed suits.

Texas' Would-Be Governors Are Out Vote-Chasing

Texas would-be governors are scrambling to work on the home front as they vie for the vote-chasing circuit "passing" legislation at every stop.

"This is a law to give the veteran a 1-1/2 cent a week to work on the home front as was done to send him to the battle front," is John Lee Smith's solution to the problems facing ex-GIs.

Jerry Sadler proposed a law requiring state officials to make a public accounting of their earthly possessions when they take the oath of office and at the end of each six-month period.

Yesterday in Amarillo, Sadler said Grover Sellers was a little lax in his inventory of worldly goods—"a 350-acre farm in Hopkins county."

"I promise you I'll keep my first legislature at work until every cent needed to pay the full $40 is appropriated," Beauford H. Jester told voters in Pampa in reference to full payment of the old age pension.

Dr. Homer P. Rainey thinks there will have to be some changes made in the state legislature. He predicted a heavy turnover in the members.

The candidate told Brownsville voters that the senate was a bottleneck on liberal legislation because "some of the members of the senate are employed by large corporations."

In Snyder, Grover Sellers met a first cousin he had never seen—Mrs. T. J. Peterson, 46-year resident of the city.

State Senator Allan Shivers opens his campaign for lieutenant governor tonight in Fort Arthur, his hometown.

Boye House, candidate for lieutenant governor, winds up a South and East Texas tour today. Next week he plans to invade West Texas, opening with two speeches Wednesday in El Paso.

Where they are today: Homer P. Rainey—Weslaco, Kingsville, Corpus Christi, Grover Sellers—Sterling City, San Angelo, Balinger, Coleman, Brownwood, Beauford H. Jester—Pampa, Panhandle, Borger, Claude, Amarillo, Jerry Sadler—Borger, Pampa, Wellington, Childress, John Lee Smith—Gainesville, Whitesboro, Sherman.

Western Allies Reject Two Russian Proposals

PARIS (AP)—The Western Allies rejected last night two Russian counter proposals for the disposition of disputed Trieste, leaving the foreign ministers council still deadlocked today on the most difficult phase of the Italian peace treaty.

The Russian suggestions, offered by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov as a compromise following his rejection of a French plan to internationalize the Adriatic port, proposed (1) that Trieste be made an autonomous district under Yugoslav sovereignty, or (2) that the city be placed under the joint sovereignty of Italy and Yugoslavia.

Both plans were turned down by the United States, British and French foreign ministers on the grounds that they were unworkable, that they ignored the fact that Trieste is ethnologically Italian and that the ethnic principle was accepted as a yardstick by the ministers in London last September.

While the outcome apparently left the council as far from agreement as ever, some British circles indicated they were heartened by Molotov's maneuver, which they interpreted as a sign of Russia's unwillingness to bargain.

Molotov's proposals were presented at a special night session which was held in an atmosphere of expectancy, heightened by French reports that Molotov was looking for arrival of an important message from Moscow.

Molotov offered his proposals with the double edged assertion that they were concessions to show French willingness to compromise but that his government would never agree to any settlement which was incompatible with Yugoslavia's desire for sovereignty over Trieste.

Molotov first proposed that Trieste be made an autonomous district under Yugoslav sovereignty but administered under a status approved by the four big powers. The autonomous district would have a house of representatives elected by universal suffrage and a governor appointed by the Yugoslavs. The western frontier of the district would be along the Soviet-described boundary, with minor corrections in favor of the Italians.

Contract Let on Roberts Highway
A low bid of $95,229.06 for construction of two Roberts county farm-to-market projects involving 13 miles of road has been received. The News was informed by the state highway commission today.

The projects are on farm-market highway 282 from Miami to 9.5 miles west and farm-market 283 from near Miami to a point 3.7 miles north.

John P. Buckner, of Cleburne, Texas, was low bidder on the proposal calling for grading, drainage structures, flexible base and asphalt surface.

Work is expected to begin within 30 to 60 days, and the project is to be finished within 100 days after work begins.

Bids have been asked on 123 similar projects during June by the department, it was said. The department has instituted a 3-year program for feeder road, calling for an outlay of $60 million.

Ladies Night Banquet Is Scheduled Tonight

Army Lists Its Dead, Missing in WW Two

Gray's Price in Army Officially Set At 60 by Department

The first consolidated listing of army dead and missing in World War II—a compilation of the names of nearly 310,000 men and women who gave their lives in the nation's service—was released today by the war department.

The list was made up of fifty booklets, one for each state, one for the District of Columbia, and one for the territories and possessions of the United States. Each booklet contained a foreword explanatory of the methods of listing, a breakdown by counties and types of casualty, and an alphabetical listing by county of the name, serial number and grade of each individual and the manner in which he met his death. The Philippine Commonwealth was not included in the study.

The department says the lists may contain errors, and there may be names left out.

Killingsworth, Dan L. Lane, Eniel M. Leatherman, David S. Lovvick, Robert C. McCoy, John T. Miles, Harry L. Mills, Leonard D. Mitchell, Edward F. Morse, Samuel B. Nelson, Kenneth C. Nelson, Roy J. Olin, Harold E. Olin, Grant O. Olin, Robertson, Curtis E. Sandy, Stanley H. Sells, William W. Showers, Roy E. Jr. Stram, Thomas L. Sullivan, James W. Sutton, Bob H. Toler, Paul W. Troxell, George W. Turner, Bertie M. Jr. Walker, Ernest A. Whitsett, Chel F. Barnard, James F. Bradford, Billy W. Brownson, Marvin V. Bryant, James W. Coomer, Jennings B. Frazer, John H. Daugherty, Bruce B. Davis, John D. Deskin, Jimmie D. Dobson, Charles E. Ellison, Coy E. Egan, Claude A. Everett, Elmer W. Finley, Warren H. Folsom, Kenneth M. Frazer, James M. Freeman, Thomas H. Gibson, Ladd M. Fredrick, Okla., and Vernon, Electric, Wichita Falls, Graham and Mineral Wells, Texas.

Of the total, 57.1 per cent, numbering 176,432, were listed as killed in action. Other casualty breakdowns showed that 25,493 (8.25 per cent) died of wounds suffered in combat; 85,219 (27.6 per cent) died of other than in battle, and 19,481 (6.3 per cent) died of combat; 929 (0.3 per cent) were administratively determined to have died. The missing figure of 1,424 represented 0.45 per cent of the total.

Most of the persons who were determined to have died were carried for periods of at least one year in a missing status, and were determined to be dead.

Official Comments Local Red Cross

Mrs. Waunita Hutchison, general field representative from the area Red Cross office in St. Louis, has been interviewing various committees of the local chapter this week.

Mrs. Hutchison commended the local chapter for its activity and timely reports. She pointed out that the history of the local Red Cross chapter during World War II was the first booklet received in the area office.

The following reports are up to date in the Pampa chapter as pointed out by Mrs. Hutchison: chapter by-laws, financial and audit, fund raising campaign, written disaster plan, special service and statistical home service.

Mrs. Hutchison is visiting in Gray county this week. After a conference in Dallas, she will visit other chapters in this area, Mrs. White said.

Showdown on Veto Question Is in Offing

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Herbert V. Ewart, Australian foreign minister and delegate to the United Nations security council was reported today to have decided to demand a showdown on the veto question in the coming session of the general assembly.

Sources close to Ewart said the Australian had made that decision after last night's confused and acrimonious debate over the Spanish question in which Soviet Russia invoked the veto three times.

Ewart has served as chairman of the United Nations since the start of the United Nations. His latest move indicates he will fight for removal of the veto from the charter of the U.N.

Delegates to the Security council were agreed that the Spanish issue remains on the agenda and that the veto has become an over-powering weapon in their deliberations.

Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko demonstrated that any question brought before the council can be blocked out by the single vote of any one of the Big Five permanent members. He wielded the veto three times last night on British-Australian proposals concerning the Spanish question.

After the council's longest and bitterest session adjourned, Australian Foreign Minister Herbert V. Ewart, who served as chairman of the council subcommittee which investigated Spain, challenged the validity of the method by which the veto was exposed in unprecedented fashion by Gromyko, and declared the debate lasting five hours and 49 minutes constituted a "scandal."

British Delegate Sir Alexander Cadogan in a United Nations "charter day" speech broadcast to the empire last night, criticized the veto power and said it would force the U.N. into an "all or nothing policy."

Throughout the protracted argument the details of the Spanish issue were almost completely overshadowed.

The Soviet delegate engaged in running arguments with Ewart and Castro Nalera and used the veto to kill a resolution and a separate amendment on which he had been outvoted by the majority.

It developed like this: The delegates of Australia, Britain and Poland were named as a committee on Monday to compose the

30 Members of Underground Are Given Sentences

JERUSALEM (AP)—A military court today sentenced 30 members of the militant Jewish underground organization Irgun Zvai Leumi to 15 years imprisonment for carrying firearms and explosives.

Another member of the organization, Benjamin Kaplan, was sentenced to prison for life for shooting at a British soldier.

After the sentences were pronounced, the 31 defendants stood at attention on the command of a leader and sang loud voices the first stanza of Hatikvah, the Zionist national song. Relatives of the defendants who jammed the courtroom participated in the singing.

The court president and the two military judges had previously left the room.

After the singing, the leader of the group, 20-year-old red-bearded Haim Lust, ordered his fellow defendants to "stand at ease" and was obeyed with military precision.

An exciting scene followed when several of the prisoners tried to throw the dock to say goodbye to their families in the courtroom. Police and soldiers tried to intervene, but several succeeded in kissing and embracing their parents or girlfriends.

Many shouts in Hebrew of "Long Live Irgun Zvai" and "our struggle continues" rang out. The lone girl among the defendants, 21-year-old Deborah Bathe Moshe Kallus, started up a second patriotic song which was taken up by many of those around her.

The sentences still are subject to confirmation by Gen. Sir Evelyn Barker, British commander-in-chief in Palestine.

The defendants were convicted yesterday after a three-day trial during which they refused to take any part in the proceedings. Captured, they contended they were "prisoners of war" and not subject to the jurisdiction of the court.

Chester Bowles Will Remain at Federal Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman told his news conference today he is trying to persuade Chester Bowles to remain at his post as economic stabilizer.

Bowles' retirement as a result of restrictions on OPA powers contemplated in pending extension legislation has long been talked.

The President said Bowles has been trying to quit ever since he took office and that he, Mr. Truman, had been successful so far in keeping him on the job.

Bowles conferred with the President yesterday but refused to discuss the meeting with reporters.

NO DISCUSSION
Mr. Truman declined to discuss the watered-down price extension bill now before the senate, other than to say it was unfortunate that it has been debated so long.

He said he would decide after the measure reaches him whether to make a radio address outlining his position on it.

This was his reply when asked whether he would speak to the people in connection with signing or vetoing of the bill.

TALK THROUGH SUNDAY
On Capitol Hill, Senator O'Daniel (D-Texas) sought to get and hold the senate floor for a chance to talk OPA to death.

If he could talk steadily until Sunday midnight, for call up vocal reinforcements, he could succeed—in theory at least. The present OPA law expires June 30.

However, there is no present indication that any colleague will team up with O'Daniel. See OPA FIGHT, Page 4

Coffee Price Is Going Up 3 to 4 Cents Per Pound

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today added an increase of 3 to 4 cents a pound for coffee to a steadily growing list of price boosts for dinner table necessities.

Stabilization Director Chester Bowles approved the higher prices, and OPA said they will go into effect within a week—as soon as the exact amount of the detail increase is calculated.

In authorizing the price hike last night, Bowles said the purpose was to encourage importation of green coffee from Latin America. To this end, exporters will get two cents more a pound. Importers' ceilings are being 2.075 cents a pound.

For housewives, the coffee price boost comes close on the heels of increases in the price of milk, butter, these and breakfast cereals. And meat prices went up not long ago.

Bowles also announced that the present subsidy of three cents a pound paid to domestic importers will be continued, provided the OPA extension bill now pending in congress maintains authority to make such payments.

If it becomes necessary to eliminate the coffee subsidy, retail prices will go up another four or five cents, officials estimated.

Bowles' decision is in return for the principal source of this country's coffee supply—has given assurance "to maintain a satisfactory volume of coffee exports" to the United States.

One in Hospital After Auto Wreck

One person was taken to the hospital yesterday as a result of an auto collision at the corner of Scott and Finley streets.

The accident occurred when a 1941 Ford pickup, driven by Clyde Pegram, was in collision with a 1934 Ford coach, driven by Mrs. G. W. Shelton. Pegram was going south on Finley and Mrs. Matheny was going west on Scott, according to police officers who investigated the accident.

Mrs. Matheny, 806 E. Brunow, was taken to the hospital yesterday. She was reported to be doing fine this morning, suffering with slight bruises. Mrs. Matheny's sister and a small child were also in the car.

Pegram, who lives 7 1/2 miles east of Pampa, was uninjured, but a man identified as G. W. Shelton, who was riding in the pickup, suffered slight facial injuries.

The accident occurred about 4:30 yesterday afternoon. Police estimated a damage of $250 to the cars.

Juan Antonio Rios

CHILE CHIEF DIES—Juan Antonio Rios, president of Chile since 1942, died here today after a prolonged illness. He was 58 years old.

Rios had been on leave of absence since last January because of ill health.

He was elected president on Feb. 1, 1942 in a sweeping victory of the leftist popular front.

He succeeded Pedro Aguirre Cerda, Chile's first popular front candidate and fellow-member of Rios' radical party, who had died several months earlier.

Rios previously had held the posts of prime minister, minister of justice and president of the Chilean Agriculture bank.

Rat-Proofing Unit Begins Work Here

The state unit which will rat-proof all downtown stores and perform other typhus preventive operations, arrived in Pampa today to begin the far-reaching city health and sanitation campaign according to a statement by City Manager Garland Franks.

Franks has outlined a full program which, he said, will require the cooperation of every resident of the city if it is to be successful.

A city ordinance has already been passed which will require merchants to have their places of business rat-proofed. This work will be done by this unit, which is operated by a ment of public health, with specially trained city employees assisting him.

The outlined program includes the spraying of all garbage cans and the city dump, and the possible passage of a city ordinance which would require that each city resident have at least one garbage barrel, and that all garbage barrels be covered.

The public is asked to cooperate by complying with health and sanitation ordinances, by keeping their present garbage barrels covered and avoid leaving wet garbage exposed.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD. (NEA) — Jane Wyman can cover more ground, com- versationally, in 40 minutes flat than any other female we ever listened to. And that includes Eleanor Roosevelt and that gal Fortia who faces life every day on the radio.

Jane went from golf to politics, to kids, to wigs, to movies, to horses, to religion so fast that we haven't stopped spinning yet.

We've frequently cried into our beer over inarticulate movie queens. From now on we stop crying and look up Jane. She's our girl.

Anytime we need a few thousand words, we can get 'em from Jane before lunch. She's a walkie-talkie with skin.

Seriously, Jane is a swell guy. She takes a lot because she's busy. She's raising two children.

The North Hollywood Women's Professional club recently voted her the ideal working mother. And THAT was a surprise, she said.

"The publicity department didn't have anything to do with it," JANE'S A GOLDER.

She plays golf. "Mary Beamy borrowed my sand blaster last week."

and I've got to pick it up on the way home tonight."

She owns a couple of jumping horses. One of them, a bay named "Shella," did all the jumping in "National Velvet." Another is in "Stallion Road."

Her husband, Ronnie Reagan, is busy. "They wanted him to run for congress. He's very politically-minded. I'm not. I'm not very bright."

She recently worked in two pictures, "Cheyenne" and "The Yearling," at the same time. "I'm a blonde in 'The Yearling' and a brunette in 'Cheyenne.' After I went back to brunette, there were re- takes on 'The Yearling.' I had to dig up a blonde wig for them."

She recently joined the church when her six-year-old daughter started going to Sunday school.

"A DRINK FOR THE PREACHER" One night the preacher came to call. "I asked him if he would like a drink," Jane blushed. "I'm not very bright—and I'll stand on that."

Jane's role of Ma Baxter in "The Yearling" is the greatest role of her film career. "I took a chance. It could have been awful. When M-G-M and Clarence Brown called me about the role, I said I had never heard of 'The Yearling.' That's how bright I am."

But Jane is pretty smart about raising her children. No over-priviledged Hollywood children for her. Her six-year-old, Maureen, gets an allowance of 25 cents a week only after picking up all her toys every day and keeping her room clean.

Maureen, by the way, held a car- dinal in her mother's nose. Irving Hoffman reported the other day, and asked if it smelted sweet. "Yes," Jane said. "Can't you smell it?"

"No," replied Maureen. "I have a cold and my nose is dead."

THE GREATEST BAKING POWDER IMPROVEMENT IN 50 YEARS!

1. BAKINGS LOOK BETTER!
THE FOOD CALCIUM in the new KC permits more even distribution of the fine, active ingredients throughout the baking powder. This promotes more uniform action—gives bakings the light, smooth texture and inviting rich appearance everyone enjoys.

2. BETTER TASTE!
FOOD CALCIUM in KC prevents the "overpowering" of the rich natural flavor of other ingredients in your bakings. There's no bitterness or "Soda Taste" when you use the new KC.

3. BETTER FOR YOU, TOO!
KC makes everything you bake with it a valuable source of FOOD CALCIUM—adding 2 to 5 times more FOOD CALCIUM than the fresh milk used in a baking, depending on the recipe. Thus KC joins milk as a fine source of this vital food element.

U. S. Possessions Is Program Topic

"Our Possessions Outside the United States" was the program topic with Mrs. Vern Savage as leader when the Hopkins Home Demonstration club met with Mrs. S. T. Redus in its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Savage gave name and location of each foreign possession then introduced Mrs. A. V. Jones who gave the education, religion and customs of each possession. The nationalities and forms of government were discussed by Mrs. G. H. Brickley and economics and industries by Mrs. Paul Rice.

Answering roll call, each member presented some article from a foreign country. Included in this display were a hand tooled leather bill from India, silk scarves, handkerchiefs, piece material and a kimono from Japan, good-luck pieces from England, a woven yard hand carved wood vase and a calan from Africa, a small tin metal tub and linen hand towel from Ireland, a silk handkerchief from China and a lace one from Alaska.

Plans were made for the Food Preservation Exhibit to be June 29 in Pampa Hardware window. The entry from Hopkins club will include display and information for home drying of food.

The hostess served cake and punch to the following members: Mesdames W. E. Melton, R. A. Irwin, Homer Seawright, C. F. Jones, Robert Orr, George Reeve, A. L. Kube, and members on the program.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Irwin July 9. At this meeting the leader will test pressure cookers and answer any questions on canning. Those who may not be club members but would like this information or to test their cooker are welcome.

Kit Kat Klub Elects Officers at Meeting

Officers for the Kit Kat Klub were elected when the club members met in the home of Joan Sawyer, 321 N. Gray Tuesday evening.

Miss Sawyer was selected as president to succeed Joyce Pratt. Zita Kennedy was re-elected vice-president; Jean Pratt was elected secretary; Helen Kiser will succeed Barbara Morrison as treasurer; Naneen Campbell will serve as secretary; Virginia McNaughton was chosen as parliamentarian; Gloria Jay will serve as historian.

Cake and punch were served to those named above and the following: Donna Nensiel, Ann Mosley, Hilda Burden and Pat O'Rourke.

OPA Fight

up with O'Daniel in his projected talkation. And the leadership is determined to keep the senate in long-hour sessions if necessary to bring the compromise price control extension bill to a final vote.

NON-STOP SPEECH

As a matter of practical legislation, even a now-till-Sunday non-stop speech would cover no more than a brief lapse in price control regulation. A majority of the senate obviously is in a mood to approve the measure worked out by a joint conference committee. And the extension bill would be effective if passed a few hours or even a few days past the deadline.

O'Daniel, a former flour salesman who campaigned for office with a hill-billy band and a "pass the biscuit" party, thenceforth maintained an appearance of bright optimism.

"I'm against this OPA and I want to do away with it. I introduced a resolution right after the shooting was over to abolish it, but I guess they must have stuck it under the rug."

"If I can talk until Monday morning the American people will wake up under an American form of government, and I think that will be refreshing. We've been under this communistic form long enough."

"CPA is all unconstitutional, un-American, communistic and unnecessary. I'm against it as a wartime measure and I think the war is over."

O'Daniel said he didn't expect rent controls from his general condemnation of the price agency.

O'Daniel's filibuster threat very seriously, although the Texan had his desk piled a foot or more high with documents, notes and other speaking material.

Majority Leader Barkley (Ky.) called on the senators to come to work early (10 a. m. Central Standard Time) and be prepared to vote. He said he thought the roll could be called within two or three hours.

Although the measure extends price control a full year, it cuts deeply into the agency's powers, and transfers final authority over the price of foodstuffs to the secretary of agriculture. A decontrol board could override either the agriculture secretary or the price administrator for failing to take ceilings off specific items.

Veto Question

differences between a Polish resolution calling for council action on Spain by Sept. 1 and a British amendment to keep the Spanish question on the agenda until the general assembly meets Sept. 3 and to recognize the assembly's right to act in Spain.

There is no veto power in the assembly.

Russia and Poland have attacked majority-approved proposals on Spain as "too weak."

Unable to agree with Polish Delegate Oscar Lange on a compromise resolution, Evatt and Cadogan yesterday offered their own committee majority proposal to keep the Spanish issue indefinitely in the council "without prejudice to the rights of the general assembly."

The British-Australian resolution was approved by a majority vote of 9 to 28, with Russia and Poland against it. President Castillo Najera declared it was adopted.

This was promptly disputed by Gromyko, who contended that the resolution involved "substantive" matters which were subject to his veto. Najera held the question was procedural, and thus did not require the seven affirmative votes including all those of the Big Five holding the veto power, and then asked the council to vote on his ruling.

Russia and France voted against it, with Poland abstaining, and Najera declared the veto had been invoked.

Lumber Racket

enforcement Chief Ralph Golub, as the suits were filed, listed as violations the following:

1. The division of lumber, consisting of the shipment of lumber to the shipper himself at Dummy addresses, to be held for bargaining.

2. Re-sawing of lumber without regrading.

3. Refusing to produce standard size lumber such as 2x4s and turning out exclusively 2x4 1/4s, which must then be remilled at the cost of the building contractor.

4. Upgrading of materials.

5. Charging customer for more lumber than was actually received.

6. Marking retail sales without having licenses.

7. Flagrant overpricing sales.

8. Cutting short lengths.

The OPA said it started the actions under urging by U. S. Attorney General Tom Clark and with funds appropriated by congress three months ago.

Former Jap Minister Dies With 'Regrets'

TOKYO—(AP)—Yosuke Matsuoka, the one time foreign minister who formally linked Japan with the Axis, died early today, with great regrets that he could not defend himself in the international war crimes court.

The disease-wasted University of Oregon graduate realized for days that his death was near, and frequently told his eldest son, Kenichiro, that he had many things to say to the court—a defense that probably never will be told in full. War crimes charges against him were officially withdrawn after his death.

Six-Year-Old Boy Injured, Saves Girl

DETROIT—(AP)—Heroic little Peter Seaton, aged six, was suffering from serious injuries today, received when he saved a two-year-old girl from being hit by a car yesterday.

The frail boy, victim of a rare type of anemia, was in Ford hospital with a fractured collar bone and severe facial lacerations.

Peter, Martha Jane Wild, 2, and her sister Carol, 5, were crossing a busy street yesterday on their way home from an ice cream store.

Peter and Carol reached a center parkway, but Martha Jane lagged behind. Peter turned around in time to see two streams of cars converge on the child as a signal light changed.

He dashed across three lanes of traffic, dived for her and pushed her out of the path of a car driven by Stewart H. Green, 55.

The car struck Peter instead, merely brushing Martha Jane. Police exonerated Green.

The boy's father, L. G. Seaton, said his son has been receiving blood transfusions every five weeks.

Farm Machinery Surplus on Sale

Surplus sales of construction and farm machinery have been announced for the coming months, lasting through August 12. The fixed price sales began Tuesday, June 25.

Information concerning the sales may be had by writing War Assets Administration, Office of Consumer Goods Disposal, Texas & Pacific Bldg., Fort Worth.

The local chamber of commerce has pamphlets with descriptions of the machinery.

Well Completions Up Over 1945 Period

AUSTIN—(AP)—Texas oil well completions last week numbered 97, bringing the total for the year to 2,189, the railroad commission has announced.

In the same period last year, 1,915 oil wells had been completed.

Completion of eight gas wells brought the year's total to 324, a decline of 26 from last year's figure for the same period.

Wildcat drillers brought in two oil wells and one gas well during the week, making wildcat oil total for the year 64, and wildcat gas total 22. In the same period last year 63 wildcat oil wells and 35 wildcat gas wells had been completed.

Bread Rationing Set for Britain

LONDON—(AP)—Bread will be rationed throughout Great Britain beginning July 21. Food Minister John Strachey announced this in the house of commons today.

The British did not ration bread in either of the last two wars. Strachey said flour also would be rationed.

The basic bread ration will be nine ounces daily for adults. Manual workers will receive 15 ounces and expectant mothers will get 11.

Women engaged in manual labor also will receive 11 ounces a day, instead of 15 that male laborers were allotted.

Ration books good for a year from July 21 now are being distributed.

President Appoints Naval Aide, Counsel

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman today appointed Capt. Clark Clifford his special counsel and named Capt. James H. Foskett as his new naval aide.

Clifford, a St. Louis lawyer, who has been serving as naval aide, takes over the post formerly held by Samuel I. Rosenman, now practicing law in New York.

Foskett, a resident of Stratford, Pa., was the skipper of the cruiser "Augusta," which took the President to and from the "Big Three" conference at Potsdam.

Juniors Will Open Assault on AAU Track, Field Records Tomorrow

3 New Diamonds Being Erected for Softball Leagues

The Kiwanis club is constructing three new softball diamonds west of Harvester Park for the benefit of the Sunday school league. The diamonds will have lighting and as soon as materials can be obtained, bleachers will be erected for the people who want to watch the games.

The work on these diamonds is for the purpose of convenience to the players and umpires. Since there are no lights on present fields, the games have to start at an early hour to be able to be played before dark. There will be two games played on each diamond each night, the first beginning at about 7:30 and the other immediately after the first.

The girls will occupy the south diamond; the senior boys will have the center and the junior boys will play on the north diamond.

During the winter months, the school will use the diamonds for the physical education department, but while the church leagues are playing it will be used for that purpose exclusively.

When the stands are erected by each diamond crowds will be expected to increase. Leib Langston reported, but no admission will be charged.

The second half of play will begin sometime within the next two weeks, with the completion of the schedule.

Playoffs will be held between the first and second place winners of each half sometime in the latter part of August.

Annual State Junior Golf Tourney Slated

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—Numerous entries are being received for the annual state junior golf championship tournament at Brackenridge park, July 8-12. Murray Brooks, director of the tourney said.

Murray listed recent entries from Beaumont, Houston, Austin and Abilene.

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—Junior contestants open a two-day assault on track and field records in the National A. A. U. 58th classic tomorrow night with Harrison Dillard, Baldwin-Wallace's "Ebony Streak," set for his first of four cracks at the hurdles marks.

Dillard is expected to make his strongest bid for the 200 meter hurdle record after a brilliant season of collegiate campaigning.

The Cleveland Negro duplicated the world's record for the 200 meter and 220-yard low hurdles 2.25, in the all-Ohio meet earlier this month. His 14.2 seconds job for the 120-yard high was topped this spring only by Ralph Tate of Oklahoma A. and M., a senior entry.

Bayler University's Wilmar "Bill" Martinson, who racked up the fastest 100-yard dash of the year, 9.5 seconds, in the Southwest conference meet, is an odds-on favorite to snap the tape in the junior 100 meter run. He's like to get hot chase from Melvin Patton, Los Angeles A. C., another junior-senior entry, who has stepped the distance in 9.7.

Patton, who owns a 21-foot 220 yard mark this spring, heads the junior 200 meter field that has other speed agents in Desmond Kidd, Texas university, Stonie Cotten, Baylor, both credited with 21.3's, and Tom Elickey, Louisiana state, and Southeastern conference dash king.

Dwight Eddleman, Illinois, is favored in both the junior and senior high jumps. The Western conference champion has a 6-foot 6 7/8 inch leap to his credit and has been gearing himself for a shot at the meet mark of 6-9 3/4 inches.

While approximately 50 contestants were scheduled for warmup trials today, the bulk of the 290-man field, including Lennox Strand, Sweden's middle distance sensation, were expected to arrive tonight.

PAMPA

AMARILLO (Special)—The Pampa Oilers, behind the pitching of big Ed Leiker, edged past the Amarillo Gold Sox 8-5 last night in the final of a three game series played here.

Virgil Richardson, first baseman, led the Pampa hitters with three hits, one a homer in the fifth with two on base. Joe Bauman was the Gold Sox hitter as he knocked a grand slam homer for four of the five Amarillo scores.

Double plays were the excitement of the evening as there were five. The Gold Sox made two of those while the Oilers chalked up three. The Pampa team will go to Lubbock tonight for the first of a three-game series there after which they will return to Pampa Sunday for a series with Abilene.

When certain pressure groups, in our nation openly boast of the huge sums they will spend in an effort to elect public officials who will do their bidding, it is time that we call their hands.—Rep. James D. Mingeaux (D) of Louisiana.

Third Round Matches Set in Tennis Meet

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Third round matches are scheduled today in the Texas sectional tennis tournament at the Colonial Country club here.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Marton Rank, Scheel, Houston, and Julian Cates, Waco, advanced into the third round with victories over top favorites.

Mrs. Scheel trimmed second-seeded Mary Cunningham of El Paso in the women's singles division, 7-5. Oates defeated Dallas' second-seeded Jack Turpin, 9-7, 4-6, 7-5 in junior boys singles.

In men's singles yesterday Gerald Huff, Bernard Clinton and Winston Decker survived for third round positions. Gus Craig of Paris won straight sets, 6-0, 6-0 over Frank Grimland of Fort Worth for the third round. James Schuitze of Waco eliminated Jimmie Paterson of Austin.

There is evidence behind the iron curtain (of the Soviet) that not only are prisoners of war being held to forced work, but considerable able-bodied persons are being dragged from the civil population to swell this labor force. —Prof. Kimball Young, Smith College sociologist.

PAMPA Business News...

OWNER OF STATION HAS 25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

Shown here is a scene at the H. H. Williams filling station which is located at 623 West Foster St. Mr. Williams has been in this sort of business for the past 25 years.

qualifying him to furnish auto-owners with the things that are necessary for successful motoring. Standard gas, oil and greases are offered. Firestone and Atlas tires, batteries and automotive repair parts are also products sold at the station.

H. H. Williams Service Station Is Headquarters for Standard Products

Friendly service plus high-quality products make the H. H. Williams Service Station one of the most popular stopping places for motorists in Pampa.

Located at 623 W. Foster, the station is headquarters in Pampa for Standard gas, oils and greases, Firestone and Atlas tires, tubes and batteries and a large stock of automotive replacement parts. H. H. Williams is owner and operator of the station. Twenty-five years in the service station business qualifies him to know your car and needs from bumper to bumper whether its oil change, refilling your tank with gas or complete lubrication.

If the old bus begins to develop a few squeaks and rattles, Mr. Williams urges Pampanos to drop by his station, where a complete washing and greasing job, a tank full of good Standard gasoline and a change of oil should make it run and look like new.

Mr. Williams urges motorists to "set a course" for their car by using the same type of gasoline and oil at all times. Uniform quality in the products used will make a car last much longer and this is an important point as cars are not as plentiful as it was thought they would be after the war was over.

For those little services too, such as cleaning the windshield, checking air-in-the-tires, refilling the radiator and many others, motorists are invited to stop by the H. H. Williams service station, 623 West Foster.

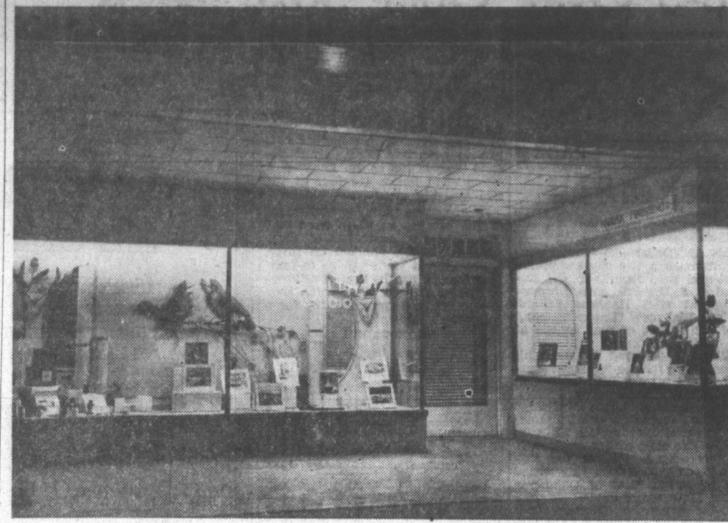

Pampa's 24-hour cafe, THE K C WAFFLE HOUSE, 108 West Foster, renders the community a useful purpose in being "always ready to serve you," day or night. It is also rumored that the steaks served there are really good.

There is no need to sweeter in summer heat when DES MOORE TIN SHOP, 111 East Kingsmill, can air condition your home or business—you don't have to have leaky gutting either because by phoning 102, you can get quick action on this.

Seasons may come and Seasons may go but the modern dry cleaner must clean and renew your clothing in ALL seasons—therefore call 38 and get the advantage of the expert, seasonal experience of the PAMPA DRY CLEANERS, 204 North Cuyler—this firm will call for and deliver your suits, dresses, etc.

F. A. HUKILL AND SON, 522 West Foster, has specialized for 16 years in EVERYTHING electrical about an automobile—ignition, starters, battery, distributor, etc.—in other words all automotive electrical work can be entrusted to this concern and the work will receive the attention of experts.

SMITH STUDIO, 122 WEST FOSTER

The Smith Studio, located at 122 West Foster St., is pictured above. Irl Smith, owner and operator, has been in photographic business for 20 years. The concern was established here in 1929. Portrait, commercial development work, albums and equipment are offered by the Smith Studio. An appointment for a portrait, much in demand, can be obtained by calling 1516. Mr. Smith keeps himself and his staff informed on the latest developments in the photographic

Smith Studio To Continue To Expand Its Services as Conditions Permit

Specializing in "commercial and portrait photography," the Smith Studio, 122 West Foster, continues to give Pampanos outstanding service in every phase of the business and will continue to expand its services as conditions permit.

Owned and operated by Irl Smith, the firm was established here in 1929 and is Pampa's largest studio, carrying a full line of picture frames and albums and a constantly expanding line of camera supplies.

Mr. Smith has been in the photography business in Pampa for nearly 20 years and purchased Fred's Studio in 1939, moving to the present location soon after.

At the present time, the studio wishes to emphasize to the public its fine portrait work, examples of which may be seen at the studio at any time. No appointment is needed for portrait photography and the quickest possible service is given at all times.

Another specialty of the studio is wedding pictures and family or other groups.

In this line, Mr. Smith said it is preferred that appointment be made and that the pictures be made at the studio if possible. Better pictures with better background can be taken at the studio, he said.

In the way of commercial photography, Mr. Smith has the equipment to take any type of commercial picture. Pictures are many times very valuable in recording progress of construction work or in commemorating special events in business. In addition, good pictures of sports events such as football and basketball games, track meets, rodeos and other events are sometimes wanted.

Mr. Smith will make these at any time. In order to "catch up" with new ideas in photography, the staff of the studio will attend the convention of the National Association of Professional Photographers in Chicago in August, where many revolutionary ideas in the field will be discussed.

On their return from Chicago, the photographers and staff workers business. He made a trip to Chicago in August of last year, when he studied latest methods in taking and developing pictures. He plans new lighting equipment at the studio when it becomes available.

PEG'S CABs will "get you there and bring you back" in a hurry so let the old man have the car and do your shopping by cab—phone 94 and "count the minutes."

THE CITY CAB COMPANY, phone 441 is putting on new cabs just as rapidly as these units can be bought—in fact everything possible is being done to constantly improve the service.

"There is NOTHING too big for us to move," stated J. D. Wright, Sr., of the firm of J. D. Wright and Son, 119 South Starkweather. . . . certainly this seems to be the case because some of the recent jobs handled are so immense they almost defy belief—but the fact remains that anyone who has a real big, mean job of moving can get fixed up quickly by calling 788.

Panhandle War Dead Are Listed

 cleared dead under Public Law 490, 77th Congress, after thorough investigation of each case.
 In the foreword to the booklets, it was pointed out that the war department is extremely reluctant to hold out hope of next of kin that any missing persons will be found alive. It is expected that after a reasonable lapse of time and after due investigation, most of these missing cases will be closed with findings of death.
 The "death rate" in various states (which also includes missing) followed closely the proportions of their contributions to army strength, although some discrepancies were noted, especially in the case of New Mexico, which early in the war suffered heavy casualties in a National Guard unit in the Philippines. New Mexico, with four-tenths of one per cent of the nation's population, contributed 4.5 of one per cent of the army's strength and suffered 86 of one per cent of the army's total deaths. The state's death rate in the army was 4.77 per cent, as compared to the national average of 2.98 per cent.
 The highest death rate was 5.05 per cent for the District of Columbia but this figure included numerous regular army personnel who gave their home address as The Adjutant General, Washington, although they did not actually live in the nation's capital. Other high death rates were noted in Montana, with 4.53 per cent; North Dakota, 4.14 per cent, and Arizona, 0.01 per cent. The lowest death rate was in the case of the territories, which lost only 1.18 per cent of their strength.

Among the states, Maryland, with 2.20 per cent, had the lowest rate. Other states with low death ratios were Mississippi, 2.32 per cent; Louisiana, 2.36 per cent; Alabama, 2.34 per cent, and Florida, 2.63 per cent.
 New York state, with the largest population and the largest contribution to the army's strength, lost 31,215 persons, the greatest number of any state. Others high death totals were found in the more populous states: Pennsylvania, 26,554; Illinois, 18,601; California, 17,022; Ohio, 16,827; and Texas, 15,764. The least populous states generally had the smallest number of deaths: Nevada, 349; Delaware, 579; Wyoming, 652; and Vermont, 874.

Palomino Show Is Planned Here

Preliminary to the Top o' Texas quarter horse show, will be the Palomino horse show, Thursday night, August 15, it was announced today by Dr. Malcolm Brown, chairman of the Palomino event.
 Judging the Palominos will be J. T. Boothman, of Fort Worth and secretary-treasurer of the Texas Palomino Exhibitors' association.
 Brown printed out that the rules of the local show will follow the regulations set by the Texas association as nearly as possible. "However," he said, "the event is not limited to registered Palominos. It is an open show and Palominos of any breed may be entered."
 Tentative classifications for the show are as follows: Aged mares and stallions, one and two year old mares and stallions, colts under one year (filly and stud) and a class of aged geldings.
 Other members of the Palomino committee are Ralph Thomas, Douglas Garner and G. W. Hampton.
 The Kid Pony Party show will also be held August 15, according to Crawford Atkinson, chairman of the pony committee.
 Both these events are held in connection with the Top o' Texas-Rodeo, Horse Show and Fair Association, Inc., set for August 16, 17 and 18.

MORE POWER to MORE PEOPLE

at a Lower Cost Than Ever Before

Our way of contributing to the prosperity of the territory we serve is through our vast expansion program. This was begun nearly two years ago. Now it includes new generating capacity at several locations, and miles of line to bring additional power to more people. And, of course, low rates so that you may enjoy more of the efficiencies and economies of electric service.

There's plenty of cheap power for better manufacturing, better business, better living.

Yes, we're helping to develop a better, more prosperous territory.

Science Scratches

Poison Ivy Off List

Science has happy tidings this summer for American vacationists allergic to that "Dracula" of summer vegetation known as poison ivy. The good news comes in the form of a new-born chemical called 2,4-D (Dinitrophenoxyacetic acid), now

CHICKENS — TURKEYS STAR SULPHUROUS COMPOUND
Given in water or feed destroys intestinal germs and worms that cause most all diseases and loss of egg production as they enter fowls in feed. Keep them free of blood-sucking insects. Appetite, health and egg production good. Costs very little. Money back if not satisfactory. CRETNEY'S.

available to operators of vacation playgrounds and owners of summer homes and camps. When sprayed on poison ivy plants, this new running mate of the other new chemical wonder, DDT, will render the obnoxious weed totally harmless. The nasty stuff collapses soon after spraying, as the chemical penetrates to the very roots of the plant and the plant actually strangles to death. Experiments conducted by Sherwin-Williams scientists show that 1,600 square feet of a weed-infested area can be covered with approximately $1.00 worth of the chemical 2-4-D, or Weed-No-More. Each year additional thousands who have never contracted the malady before find themselves no longer immune; therefore cutting or pulling the plants and roots out by hand is a chance not worth risking. It has also been proved that ivy poisoning may be contracted merely by getting smoke on the body from fires in which the plants are being burned; therefore the method of killing them by spraying not only is simple and effective today, but eliminates any danger of a person becoming sensitized.

Some mushrooms produce a brighter light than fireflies.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Notebook

By HAL BOYLE
BERLIN—(AP)—American housewife dependents in Germany, better off in most ways than their sisters at home, are facing a bobby pin crisis.

Bobby pins are one of several small shortages that have developed in recent weeks, since army wives arrived to undertake the strange adventure of housekeeping in a foreign land.
"I have a thousand dollar rug on my floor and a $600 set of China in my cupboard," said one wife, "but I'd give by eye teeth for some waxed paper and a good old fashioned American mop."
"And for some real cleansing powder—I don't know what I wouldn't give for that."

She and other wives have found their new life full of unaccustomed luxury and minor but annoying shortages.
They come into requisitioned German homes full of expensive furniture, but bare of curtains and sometimes empty of table lamps. Usually there is much to be done in the way of plumbing and window pane repair. Most families have to share their residence during day-light hours with crews of German painters and plasterers.
Battered Berlin has been a source of much amazement to young American children. One mother said that when she and her small son first arrived, he kept gazing in wonder and exclaiming: "Look at all that damage, mummy!"
"Now," she said, "when he sees a house in good condition, he asks: 'Why isn't that one blown down?'"
In terms of food these dependents are one of the best off in the world.
"We can buy all the fresh bread, butter and steak we can possible eat at the army commissary," said one wife "we are really better off in that way than we were in America."
The wives have also gained additional leisure, since most households have two or three German servants—normally a housekeeper, a scrub woman and a gardener.

Plenty of fresh milk is available for children at the army commissary, which does a first million dollar business a month. Fresh vegetables from Polish and neutral countries will be stocked shortly. At another store wives can buy luxury items such as radios, electric irons, and tinned lobster, shrimp, sandwich spreads and olives.
"For three cartons of cheese I got a pig-greed German shepherd that would have cost me $500 in the states," said one young wife.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your drugist and ask for four ounces of liquid Baracrate (formerly called Barcol Concentrate). Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoons twice a day. That's all there is to it.
If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves, if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

THE STATE OF TEXAS
To: J. L. Parks and the unknown heirs and legal representatives of J. L. Parks, deceased.
You are commanded to appear and answer the plaintiff's petition at or before 10 o'clock a.m. of the first Monday after the expiration of 42 days from the date of issuance of this Citation, the same being Monday the 12th day of August, A. D., 1946, at or before 10 o'clock a.m., before the Hon. the District Court of Gray County, at the Court House in Pampa, Texas.
Said plaintiff's petition was filed on the 25th day of June, 1946.
The file number of said suit being No. 3232.
The names of the parties in said suit are: C. A. Hamrick as Plaintiff, and J. L. Parks and the unknown heirs and legal representatives of J. L. Parks, deceased, as Defendants.
The nature of said suit being substantially as follows, to-wit:
Plaintiff alleges that on or about the 1st day of January, 1946, he was lawfully seized and possessed of Lots Nos. 1 and 2, Block 8, of Kelsters Addition to the City of Pampa, Gray County, Texas, and defendant unlawfully entered upon said premises, ejected plaintiff therefrom, and withholds such possession to his damage in the sum of $1000.00. Plaintiff further pleads that Chester Moore and wife conveyed said property to defendant J. L. Parks on May 31, 1929, retaining a vendor's lien and superior legal title to secure the payment of one $800.00 note; that defendant J. L. Parks abandoned said property, made default in payment of said note; that Chester Moore and wife elected to rescind and did rescind said sale, went into possession of said property and became the fee simple owners thereof. Plaintiff further pleads title under the ten year statute of limitation, and that he has succeeded to the title of Chester Moore and wife.
If this Citation is not served within 90 days after the date of its issuance, it shall be returned unserved.
Issued this 25th day of June, A. D., 1946.
Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Pampa, Texas, this 25th day of June A. D., 1946.

What Price Production?
(FROM THE DAILY OKLAHOMAN)

In the labor controversy which has forced the Quick Charge company into voluntary bankruptcy proceedings the right of workers to join a union is not at all involved. Neither is the right of workers to collective bargaining involved. Both the right to join the union and the right to bargain collectively are universally conceded. The single issue that is involved is the right of a union to force workers to join a union even when a pronounced majority of the workers are unwilling to join the union.

What the union is fighting for in this controversy is the privilege of forcing a majority of workers in a given plant to yield to the wishes of a mere minority and to accept a union status to which they are bitterly opposed. And because a majority voted against unionization the plant is picketed, the company unable to obtain supplies and to deliver its products and the innocent bystander is forced to file a petition in bankruptcy. Evidently the right to join a union is not accompanied by the right to stay out of a union. Evidently no worker has the right to stay out of the union no matter how bitterly he may be opposed to joining. Under the laws and decisions of the court the non-union worker has no rights at all. He must accept the union card that is thrust upon him and pay whatever initiation fee that may be imposed, or the plant in which he works will be forced into bankruptcy and he will have no job at all.

What has been done to the Quick Charge company can be done to any other business in America. Organizers can go to any plant or business and say to the 100 or 1,000 non-union workers employed there, "Pay us the initiation fee that we demand and join the union, or we will picket your plant, bankrupt your employer, and deprive you of the right to earn your daily bread. And if we beat you to a pulp, we will be protected from punishment under the supreme court's decision in the trucker's case."

Under the precedent established in the Quick Charge case, no worker in America has any right that the employer is required to respect. No business in America has any protection if the employees refuse to pay tribute. The worker may be robbed or slugged, but he dare not protest. The employer, however innocent he may be, may be ruined without recourse. The bankrupted business man cannot sue for damages and the slugged worker has no cause of action against his assailant. For Congress has exempted unions from suits for damages and the supreme court has afforded complete protection to thuggee.

There are peculiarities in the situation, however, which prevent the United States from seeking a complete revision, or elimination, of the veto power.

The United States is the possessor of something which every other nation on the globe lacks but would like to have—the know-how of the atomic bomb.

Pending establishment of arms controls which now appear far in the future, the veto power in the United Nations is chief among America's political weapons of defense.

Great Britain and the United States supported the veto idea in the beginning because they were not in position to submit their policies to the complete control of a mere majority of an organization which they wholeheartedly supported but which was yet to crystallize.

They had no idea—and agreement on this point was stressed in a statement of policy—that the veto would ever be used as a means of control by one power of every step in the councils procedure. It was hoped—that the veto would be only a last ditch insurance that no power would be used to force a decision against its best interests or against the opinion of its people in truly vital matters, such as use of armed force.

What has developed, apparently, is a procedure by which a veto can be exercised during council deliberations on whether the subject in hand is, in its substance, subject to the veto. In this stands, it means that any member of the Big Five can veto anything—can even prevent discussion of any subject.

The Russians seem to be intent, above everything, on establishing precedents in the council which, when applied to whatever develops later, will give them a freedom of action superior to all previous commitments.

This is a serious problem. Use of the veto in this fashion can completely hamstring the peace organization and nullify the entire weight

A Comma, Not a Period
There is one sentence in the Declaration of Independence that seems to be a stumbling block to many people. At least it is a stumbling block to those people who want to be a law unto themselves and do not want to respect the inalienable rights that belong to others.

The punctuation in many of the reprints of the Declaration of Independence has changed from the original copy as shown by photographs of the original. Many of the commas in the original have been changed to semi-colons and at least one to a colon.

The statement that people who do not want to abide by the principles set forth in the Declaration like to take exception to, is that all men are created equal. The text of this part reads:

"We hold these Truths to be self-evident, That all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness."

Now those people who like to tear the Declaration of Independence to pieces like to put a period after the phrase "all men are created equal." This, of course, does not make sense. Nor do they have a right to put a period in place of the comma and end the statement at this point.

The preceding phrase is, "We hold these Truths to be self-evident." Then the truths are enumerated and the comma after "equal" means that what follows is necessary to explain the word "equal."

It means that men are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, and that among these equal unalienable rights are the equal right to life, the equal right to liberty, and the equal right to pursue happiness.

It did not say that men are endowed with an equal right to happiness because happiness would be relative and unequal. Men are endowed with the equal right to pursue happiness.

Of course it is a pity that this one paragraph was not made a little clearer although at that time the punctuation might have meant a closer relation among the different phrases than the semi-colon or the comma expresses today.

But whether or not the Declaration of Independence sets forth these truths clearly, they are truths just the same. The truths because they are God's law or natural law. They are truths because they were made by no man and cannot be unmade by any man. They are truths because if we violate these principles man suffers. They are the guide to human relations—the equality of man in his rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

The word "equal" is mathematical. It cannot be changed by man. The principles are there whether they are clearly expressed or not, and the principles were not made by the writers of the Declaration of Independence; they were made by God or by nature.

LEAP FOR LIFE
BUFFALO, Wyo.—(AP)—Roy Willson recognized a wheel he saw rolling down a steep canyon road in front of his truck and jumped. It was a front wheel from his own truck. A split second later, his load of logs shifted and crushed the driver's cab.

A large elephant consumes 800 pounds of green fodder in 18 hours. Use paper doilies and napkins and save on laundry.

Maynard for a moment before the girl hastily turned to search for something in her desk. She had been avoiding Doctor Hallock since the day he had taken such unfair advantage of her.

"I hadn't noticed," Dora said, in reply to Margaret's remarks. "Maybe it's Holden. You know she's mad about him and somehow I can't see him falling for her. Can you?"

MARGARET shook her head. Sally made no comment and continued her search. At last she said, her face still averted: "Run along. I'll be with you just as soon as I find that letter."

Instantly alert, Dora asked, "It couldn't be any chance from Blair, could it, Sally?"

"Blair is dead," Sally replied and thought: Now I suppose I'll have to tell more lies.

"You're not sure," Dora pointed out. "Missing doesn't necessarily mean dead. He may be a prisoner somewhere."

"And who is this Blair, if I may be so bold without offense?" Margaret demanded, looking from Dora's inquisitive face to Sally's brief figure.

Dora clapped her hand to her mouth. "Gosh, Sally!" she cried. "I'm sorry. But why don't you tell Maggie, too?"

"There's really nothing to tell," Sally replied, coming up for air and minus the letter for which she had been, ostensibly, searching. "A man I know was lost in the Pacific area at the beginning of the war. Nothing has been heard of him since. That's all."

"All?" cried Dora. "You left out the best part—the only part that counts. They were lovers, Maggie. She was practically engaged to this Blair—something or other. Anyway, he went to war and never came back. And in consequence, our Sally intends despoiling her bruised and broken life to good words."

Margaret was watching Sally in wonder. So that was the explanation of her aloofness. A dead lover. Well, it made sense, in a way. "I wonder if that's what ails Hallock," she asked herself. (To Be Continued.)

Peter Edson's Column: HERE'S THE 'WAY THE WIND WAS BLOWING'

WASHINGTON, (NEA)—The unanswered question in the minds of most U. S. consumers today is, "Why did Congress do what it is doing to OPA?" The meaning of the question is that no one in his right mind can understand why the lawmakers—faced with threats of continuing scarcity, rising prices spiraling into inflation, and another round of strikes—would dare vote against continued price control on the eve of election.

Congressmen and the price control experts who have watched this battle through the war years have a realistic political solution to this riddle of why OPA is apparently being killed by mutilation instead of being allowed to die a natural death. In simple political lingo, OPA is being crushed under a lot of logs. It is political log-rolling such as has not been seen in Washington since the good old republican days when sectional bloc made deals that gave everybody something in the way of a high protective tariff. Price control renewal bills emerging from both the House and Senate have a lot of resemblance to the old-fashioned Fordney-McCumber tariff bill. All were designed to keep prices high—and to give the consumers a good squeeze.

REPUBLICANS AND DEMOCRATS 'GANGED UP' ON OPA
The second bloc in this situation comes from the industrial North and East. Office-seekers in this area depend for their campaign expenses on contributions from manufacturers and businessmen. A politician must have campaign money before he can go after votes. If a group of businessmen-campaign contributors and a group of consumer-voters are walking in a congressman's outer office to influence him on price controls, there is no question which will get the congressman's vote.

THIRD BLOC REPRESENTS THE AGRICULTURAL WEST
The third bloc is from the 20 western states. They are largely agricultural. Regardless of party, every farmer and stockman, grain dealer, feeder, and packer in this area sees ahead a great chance to make a killing in meat. The only thing that stands in the way is OPA price control. It shouldn't take a slide rule to figure which way the wind blows in this part of the country, for or against OPA.

The stage being set in this fashion, action was easy. Western and Southern democrats could see much in each other's needs. Mid-western and Eastern republicans could likewise find much in common.

The resulting bills which came out of both houses of congress are just what you'd expect. Everybody got something—just as everyone used to log-roll to get "his" in an old-fashioned tariff bill, or a rivets-and-harbors or public-roads bill. The West got metals-mining subsidies, in spite of the fact that subsidies on meat and milk are wicked, un-American things. The cattle and grain areas got controls removed from meat and dairy products. The auto dealers got protection. The cotton and wool and textile people got protection. And the South "got" Bowles.

Everybody should, therefore, be politically happy. Excepting of course the poor sap consumers. They don't count.

CINDERELLA'S SLIPPER WILL GIVE YOU A FIT
ROCKLAND, Mass.—(AP)—A modern Cinderella's glass slipper has been developed—not to help romance but to aid in fitting youngsters properly with everyday leather shoes.

Designed by Dr. Joseph Lelyveld, chairman of the National Foot Health Council, the transparent and flexible vinylite shoe will show the correct fit around the heel, under the arch, over the instep, at the little toe, at the large toe, and the space over the toes and beyond their end. The method is applicable to men and women also.

MACKENZIE'S Column

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr. AP Foreign Affairs Analyst (Subbing for Mackenzie)

Just as was feared at San Francisco by those who insist that any lasting peace is going to involve surrender of certain sovereign rights by all the nations, the Russian idea of how the veto is to be used in the security council has come to overshadow any other issue before the United Nations.

Great Britain and the United States supported the veto idea in the beginning because they were not in position to submit their policies to the complete control of a mere majority of an organization which they wholeheartedly supported but which was yet to crystallize.

They had no idea—and agreement on this point was stressed in a statement of policy—that the veto would ever be used as a means of control by one power of every step in the councils procedure. where the air is less rarefied. "Bye. See you at dinner." The door closed after her and the remaining three stared silently at each other for a long moment before Dora Bronson spoke.

"Don't mind Holden, girls," she advised evenly. "She's got a bad case of jealousy. She's gone completely goofy over our irresistible Doctor Kidare and I say devoutly: 'God help her!' She hasn't as much chance there as a mushroom in one of Mrs. Billings' rag-cuts or whatever she calls them. And while we're on the subject of food, she went on, 'my stomach is empty. Let's go out somewhere and eat.'"

"LET'S go to Lowe's," Sally said. "We'll have time to make it there and back before 7." "These weekly binges sort of make up for the routine meals we get there, don't they?" Margaret Adams said. "Here I eat because I have to—not because I really enjoy eating. See what I mean?"

NEW YORK—Well, one thing I do enjoy in New York is the night-club life. It's so pleasant to be able to drop into club after he theater and meet all kinds of interesting people. You can't help meet them, because 2 or 3 hundred of them are usually sitting at the same table with you.

And I was amazed to see how inexpensive night clubs are. The minimum in most of them is only $2.50 and for that you can have either a glass of beer or be allowed to smell a glass which formerly contained a bar Scotch. Of course, if there are only two of you, you might have a little trouble getting a good table. I don't know why, but night-club headwaiters always give a party of two a bad table. In fact, if he hasn't got a bad table, he puts one up.

I'm really having a wonderful time here, and the only thing I miss is the California climate. It hasn't rained one day since I've been here, and all this sunshine is becoming monotonous. I'm down-right lonesome for a "low-pressure area," which is Los Angeles chamber of commerce talk meaning moving out to sea.

Target Ships on Bikini Lagoon To Begin Ticking After Bomb Explodes

By HOWARD BLAKESLEE
 AP Science Writer
 ABOARD THE U. S. S. APPALACHIAN—(AP)—The target ships in Bikini lagoon and some of the islands nearby will begin ticking after the atomic bomb explodes above them about July 1.

Even the waters of the lagoon will begin ticking, and ticks will emanate from the huge atomic cloud which at its top is expected to mushroom to 16 miles in diameter.

The ticking will come from radioactive waves of three kinds—all dangerous—that will be emitted by ground, air, water and ships after they have been hit by the great flash of the bomb.

The ticks are not ordinarily audible. The sound will come from the Geiger-Mueller counters, that detect these rays and translate them into sound.

Radio mikes will pick up the ticking areas and transmit the sound to this ship, but especially to the safety officers of the crossroads fleet.

If the sounds are like pouring rain, safety officers will know that the lagoon is still too dangerous even for the few hardy scientists who will enter first for a look-around.

If the ticks sound like a gentle shower, that will mean the lagoon is fairly safe.

The official prediction is that the ticking will die out sufficiently for a re-entry in not more than 24 hours after the bomb goes off. The time may be much shorter.

Bikini probably will continue to tick a little for years. It was announced by the Appalachean that the atomic crater in New Mexico, where the first bomb was exploded last July, is still ticking.

The ticking of the atomic cloud will be picked up by ships following it and by planes. The sound will be heard long before crews are near enough to suffer any harm.

This ticking can always be heard with the counters everywhere on earth. Man always lives in a small amount of these rays, and years of medical study show he can take a small increase, such as the warning zones at Bikini will give, without risk.

Oceanographers' studies made available here show that the radioactive waters in the lagoon will go round and round inside Bikini's ring of islands, carried by natural currents.

Only 2 percent of the lagoon's waters spill out through the estuaries into the ocean each day. By the time much of the lagoon water gets out it will have lost most of the dangerous rays.

In fact, scientists are almost enthusiastic about the ticking water, because it will give them for the first time an accurate method of measuring sea currents.

One radioactive hazard will be falling particles from the bomb cloud. If rain comes, this radioactive shower will become more intense and dangerous.

But all ships of the crossroads operations will be stationed miles beyond the outer-most edges of this dew of earth.
