

SENATORS FIGHT OVER OPA EXTENSION BILL

Virtual Famine In Fresh Meat Being Reported

By the Associated Press
A virtual famine in fresh meat for most of the nation was reported today—with no indications of immediate relief—as the senate prepared to act on the house-approved compromise OPA bill retaining meat price controls.

Some packer industry spokesmen said should the bill become law, keeping the lids on livestock and meat prices, the country's meat supply "will get even worse."

SCARCITY TO CONTINUE

Others asserted the scarcity would continue for several months. One large packer said the shortage would continue "until the fate of OPA is determined." There were threats of a complete shutdown of facilities from packing houses to retail markets in Los Angeles because of expressed dissatisfaction over the OPA bill provisions.

Fish and fowl and eggs replaced the main meat dish on the country's dinner tables as hundreds of butcher shops across the country closed. Operations in packing plants dropped to new all time low levels.

LOWEST OUTPUT

The abnormally low volume of livestock at markets during the last two weeks has resulted in the lowest output in history at many plants.

An increase in livestock receipts, however, was expected next week by some industry stockmen who said many farmers would release cattle which they have been holding back pending settlement of the OPA issue.

Forrestal Will Cooperate 'Fully' In Service Merger

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Navy Secretary Forrestal has notified President Truman of his desire to cooperate "fully" to achieve the goals of the President's army-navy merger program.

Forrestal's attitude toward the merger proposal was expressed in a letter to Mr. Truman. The letter was released by the White House.

The navy chief said he considered the objectives recently outlined by the President as "attainable." He added that he believed it possible to overcome difficulties in drafting the necessary legislation.

"I wish to thank you for the patience with which you have listened to the navy's views on the reorganization of our national defense and for the time which you have devoted to the subject," Forrestal wrote.

"I am sure you may be assured of my desire and that of Admiral Nimitz to cooperate with you fully in the effort to achieve the objectives in your program."

Admiral Charles W. Nimitz is navy chief of staff.

Secretary of War Patterson recently wrote the President expressing wholehearted approval and pledging support of Mr. Truman's recommendations on unification.

While Forrestal's language was more carefully worded, he referred to the subject of land-based planes for naval reconnaissance, anti-submarine warfare and shipping protection and added:

"I am glad to state that the navy is to have a continuing part of the future development of these operations so that full advantage may be taken of its existence in this field and of the lessons learned in the late war. Admiral Nimitz joins me in this expression."

The Forrestal letter was released amid reports from Capitol Hill that the navy still hoped to get a better deal out of any merger than Mr. Truman proposed for it.

Elephant Lighter Stepper Than Any

SCHENECTADY, N. Y.—(AP)—Toby, the Ringling brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus elephant, is a lighter stepper than his more stealthy jungle cousins, despite his 10,500 pounds.

A general electric vibration meter yesterday recorded that, with the exception of the python, the only member of the circus who could match Toby's lightness of foot was the 500-pound fat lady.

GE used the meter, a sensitive electronic instrument able to measure small shocks or vibrations, to test the walk of most of the animals during the appearance of the circus here.

The meter recorded only three mils per second vibration as Toby walked. The fat lady registered the same score. The lion measured 12 mils per second, the hippopotamus, 14, the tiger, 9, and the polar bear, 6.

The meter picked up a vibration of only 1.5 mils per second as the python slithered by.

Opposition by U. S. Holds Up Wheat Proposal

OTTAWA, Ont.—(AP)—A proposed long-term wheat agreement between Canada and Britain was founded on the rocks of U. S. opposition in what may be regarded as an important test case of the post-war international trade structure, it was learned today.

British food minister John Strachey is returning to London without an agreement after talks in Washington and Ottawa. He had hoped to take a pact back with him.

The British and Canadians, it is understood, were about to enter a 10-year agreement under which Britain would buy Canadian wheat at $1.25 Canadian per bushel, or $1.13 U. S. The current Canadian price is $1.55, and the American and world price is approximately $2.00 Canadian, or about $1.80 U. S. Hence the proposed contract would have been at a little more than half the American price.

Perhaps more important than American opposition to this particular deal, is the firm American stand favoring multi-lateral trade agreements for the post-war world.

Canada found herself caught between Britain and the United States in their conflicting views. Britain, with Russia, has shown a frequent preference for bi-lateral trade pacts, and in the wheat case certainly preferred it.

Canada's announced policy has been all-out for the multi-lateral plan, her economic well-being depending on a strong general world trade, but in the case of wheat, one of her top exports and a chief money-maker, a strong stand was attempted to assure herself of a long-range market to cushion against sharp reverses such as she has suffered in the past.

There seems to be no reason to believe that some sort of an agreement eventually will be reached, but it probably will be on terms far more favorable from the American point of view, than those which almost were agreed to.

Because of the size of the proposed contract—Britain is ready to take over 200,000,000 bushels of wheat a year from Canada—and because of its timing at this juncture in the formation of a post-war trade structure, the projected deal is regarded on all sides as an important test case in the conflicting philosophies.

Plan to Bomb Jap Diet Is Revealed

TOKYO—(AP)—A witness in the war crimes trial of 28 fallen Japanese leaders testified today that military planners in 1945 planned to bomb the Diet and seize power, but said under cross-examination the bombs actually were "firecrackers" designed only to scare the law-makers.

The prosecution witness, Konosuke Shimizu, in whose home the "bombs" were hidden, told the international war crimes tribunal they would "make a loud noise and not hurt anyone."

Another witness, Marquis Yoshikazu Tokugawa, a pacifist, said he helped avert the incident by persuading Dr. Shumei Okawa, a plot leader now on trial, to give up the conspiracy.

Tokugawa declared he then induced Shimizu to return the "bombs" to the army because it was "too early" to seize the government.

In direct testimony, Shimizu asserted Dszjwio was designed as a forerunner for the Japanese army's grab in Manchuria, but it was abandoned and the infamous Mukden incident was substituted.

POLISH PAPER CHARGES CORRUPTION

WARSAW—(AP)—The Polish newspaper Rzeczpospolita charged in a recent editorial that "it is a fact that in many fields of our national economy corruption continues and graft continues."

It added: "The state treasury is being cheated, not once, but a hundred times."

'But Fan Dancing Must Go On' Says Sally Rand, Fan and Bubble Dancer

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—Sally Rand told her night club audience today that, with police waiting to arrest her for the third time in 24 hours, she had quite a bit to bare.

"Police car rides are dull," the fan and bubble dancer said, "and getting pretty silly."

"But fan dancing must go on," she said. A police squad of six stood on the wings of the stage and waited. Early yesterday and again last night they had booked her on charges of indecent exposure. She rushed back from jail for her post-midnight show.

Sally, wrapped in ermine, danced, waiting feathers. The coat came off and Sally danced in a flowing gown which might have sailed to cling through the show.

The finale brought the gown down over her ankles, but instead of just Miss Rand there were long-handle drawers and a gilded corset lid. The policemen silently strode away.

Said Sally after the show: "I just decided to tease 'em a little."

Draft Extension, Pay Boost Bills Face HST

Crimean States In Soviet Union Are Liquidated

WASHINGTON—(AP)—With more than $50,000,000 at stake, the nation's men in uniform riveted their attention on the White House today to learn when the draft extension compromise and its companion pay-increase measure became law.

The twin bills cleared final congressional hurdles yesterday.

Public interest centered on the nine-month extension of the war-time draft beyond June 30 with non-laters between 19 and 45 drafted. Neither service, however, has indicated any desire to draft anyone over 26.

Other prime provisions of the measure include:

- 1. An 18-inch limit on compulsory service.
- 2. No further indications of fathers.
- 3. A clause that fathers now in service may apply for release after August 1.

But the men of the army, navy, marines and other armed services—from gold braded officers down to private and apprentice seamen—were more interested in the time of the pay boost signing.

The increases—ranging from $25 a month for the privates up to $1867 for the upper bracket generals and admirals—will become effective on the first day of the month following the presidential signature.

In all, congressional committees estimated the pay increases will total something over $632,000,000 for the next year.

The war department plans no inductions during July and August so that a pool of some 52,000 men between 19 and 30 will be available for the draft at the end of that period.

About 13,000 are expected to be called in September, and an average of 7,000 each month thereafter until voluntary enlistments fill all needs.

While the compromise legislation bans induction of anyone under 19, youths still will have to register for the draft and be on the military registration card in the present selective service law not altered.

Service of any men inducted under the extension will be limited to 18 months, excluding time spent in schools while in uniform, and all fathers now inducted may be released upon request, starting August 1.

All men who have served 18 consecutive months or longer, with school time not counted, also may apply for release starting October 1.

Dozier Man Drowns In Tank on Farm

Robert Alta Harvey, 33 years old, was drowned while swimming in a tank on the farm of Pat Bradley, three miles west of Dozier, yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock. Mr. Harvey was a farmer in the Dozier community.

He is survived by his wife, and his four children, Ray, Robert, Raymond, and Ethel.

The body is in the Womack-Nix funeral home in Shamrock where funeral arrangements are pending.

CUFF STUFF
PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—The United States marines sped to the aid of a damsel in distress but it took two plumbers to get the situation well in hand.

A youngster clamped a pair of handcuffs marked "U. S. Marine Corps" on the wrists of Miss Lee Rapaport, 20, after he had found them in a job. Police tried to open the rusty cuffs with all available keys but had no luck.

The marines then were summoned from a nearby post—no results, either.

Two plumbers, with a hacksaw, came to the rescue.

Veto Issue on Atom Deadlocked In U. N. Council

NEW YORK—(AP)—The United Nations atomic conference left the veto issue deadlocked between the opposite views of the United States and Russia today and headed for an amicable start on a plan aimed at ultimate world control and development of atomic energy.

When the last members of the U. N. energy commission had been polled yesterday for their views on separate control programs advanced by the United States and Russia, all but those two great powers were agreed there were broad measures of merit in both plans.

The United States has offered no comment in the commission sessions since the initial presentation of her program and Russia made no reference to the American ideas in offering her counter-proposals.

Only Poland gave unqualified endorsement of the Russian plan, but it was generally agreed that the two proposals might be welded into a single strategic program to end the terrible threat of atomic warfare.

The commission chairman, Foreign Minister Herbert V. Eviatt of Australia, set up for their views on separate control programs advanced by the United States and Russia, all but those two great powers were agreed there were broad measures of merit in both plans.

The committee represents all the 12 nations on the commission and will hold its first meeting at 8:30 a. m. (CST), Friday.

The security council will assemble at 1 p. m. (CST) today to dispose of the Spanish issue on a resolution prepared by a committee composed of Eviatt, Britain's Sir Alexander Cadogan and Polish Delegate Oscar Lange.

Worley Will Attend Philippine Ceremonies

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Rep Eugene Worley of Texas is due in San Francisco today to join other congressional members en route to Manila to participate in Philippine independence ceremonies.

Worley was named to a special house committee to attend the ceremonies after Rep. Domenguez (D-Ala) was unable to make the trip.

The representative said he planned to investigate Texas complaints that marines stationed in the Pacific have been threatened with courts martial if found writing to congressmen or senators.

Kangaroo Court Returns Verdict of Guilty in Case of Joseph Fischer

A verdict of guilty was returned against Joseph Fischer yesterday in the 131st district court of Kangaroo court. Red "Dusty" Weathered, honorable Jaycee judge, reported today.

Fischer was charged for property damaged by J. C. Junior alias Millicent Millififers alias the goat while in his (Fischer's) custody. He was also held in connection with the disappearance of the Jaycee member.

On hand when the guilty verdict was delivered were Fischer's wife and small son.

The first state witness brought forth was R. B. Wright, a citizen of Pampa two years. The defense attorney, Red "Dusty" Wedgeworth, objected to all statements Wright made about the defendant, Fischer.

Wright recounted one experience in connection with the missing goat. He said he saw the mascot behind the Hughes-Pitman Insurance agency and it remained there during one afternoon, creating quite a disturbance. When he discovered the goat was gone he notified Fischer, who, according to Wright, droned, "Well, which way did it go?"

When asked to give his description of the "missing party," Wright said, "Well, he had four legs, a

OPA Would Expire Next Sunday Night

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A drive by republican senators to send the OPA extension bill back to conference with the house gave indications of folding up today.

Senators who earlier had expressed interest in the idea told reporters privately that the big margin by which the house rejected a similar move made defeat almost certain.

The house vote was 221 to 150 against returning the already-limited compromise legislation to committee for elimination of meat ceilings.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the republican whip, still held to his plan to ask return of the bill to a conference committee, however.

Administration leaders expressed confidence they had enough votes to defeat Wherry's motion and to send the bill on to the White House. It was approved 265 to 105 by the house yesterday.

'New Order' Is Launched for U. S. Military

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The army announced military "new order" experiments today, narrowing social and other distinctions between officers and enlisted men without wiping them out.

Secretary of War Patterson put the new formula into army life when he gave carefully qualified approval last night to all but two of the 14 recommendations submitted by the "Doublet" group, a board which investigated postwar GI complaints and the much craved in the service.

Patterson announced that the war department is ordering:

- 1. Abolition of saluting except on military posts, in overseas occupied areas and on ceremonial occasions.
- 2. Elimination of an existing requirement that officers wear distinctive uniforms, live apart from their men in garrison, and confine their social contacts to other officers.

3. Granting enlisted men the same privilege as officers, effective July 1, in accumulating unused leave time, currently 30 days a year.

4. Stripes looking to a possible upward revision of pay schedules along with allowances for food, quarters and travel.

5. Measures to train officers better for leadership, assign them "in the best interests of the service," and to overhaul the present system of promotions.

6. Rewriting of regulations to define the "essential" privileges of officers and to prohibit or minimize "possible abuses of authority and prestige."

7. Efforts to improve the social facilities available to enlisted men.

Announcing the war department's action on recommendations made by the Doublet board a month ago, Patterson rejected outright a proposal that "officers and enlisted men" be eliminated entirely, and stressed there must be no weakening of discipline in the army.

There is no official indication of any change in the army's support of the social association which Patterson See NEW ORDER, Page 8

Texas Candidates For Governor Hit Wide Open Spaces

By Associated Press
As Texas candidates for governor strike for the wide open spaces today, their campaign issues are expanding with their travels.

Dr. Homer P. Rainey, swinging down the Rio Grande valley to the coast, varied from the usual pattern of his speeches. He promised voters at McAllen last night a special session of the legislature, if he is elected, for the specific purpose of legislative redistricting.

On the courthouse lawn at Wichita Falls, Beauford H. Jester condemned Chester Bowles' attempt to get a one-year strike truce from labor in exchange for stabilized prices.

"There may be some millionaires in this campaign but Grover Sellers is not one of them," Grover Sellers said in Weatherford, "and I don't have to put my hand behind me. I can get by on my salary."

A handsaker had asked the attorney-general if he were a millionaire.

Jerry Sadler's Hillbilly musicians softly strum "What Would You Give in Exchange For Your Soul?" when the candidate mounts the platform of his sound truck to speak.

Sadler's musicians—Lew, String Beans, Dusty, and Rusty—know 500 tunes and could stage 10 days of programs without repeating.

Price Daniel, candidate for attorney general, told Brownsville voters:

"No single public official of Texas can do too toward fighting for a solid front to the state problems than a militant and hard-fighting attorney general. That is what I want to be."

Caseo March, candidate for governor, announced that he has mounted a sound truck to finance a July 4th radio address over WBAP, Fort Worth.

Where they are today: Beauford H. Jester—Wichita Falls, Electra; Vernon Quannah Childers—Wellington; Shamrock, McLean, Pampa; Homer P. Rainey—Baytownville, Harlingen, San Benito, Brownsville; Jerry Sadler—Plainview, Thalia Canyon, Amarillo; Grover Sellers—Merkl, Sweetwater, Snyder, Colorado City, Big Spring; John Lee Smith—Hillsboro, Denton.

Round-Trip Service For Foreign Brides?

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

What are we going to do about these foreign brides who come to America, take a look at the living conditions their husbands have to offer them, then turn up their noses and walk out?

Take, for example, the case of the British bride who spent one day with her husband in his home in North Carolina, decided she didn't like the house he expected her to live in, and left him flat.

After paying her way over here, do we just keep her—and keep, too, the other foreign girls who decide after they get to America they don't want the men they married overseas?

Job competition is going to be hard enough on American women in the next few years without turning a lot of foreign girls loose to compete with them for the positions available.

And, certainly, husband competition is so keen these days that we don't need a bunch of foreign women flooding the market, looking for husband number two after refusing the first husband number one.

ROUND-TRIP SERVICE
How about asking foreign countries—in a nice neighborly way, of course—to oblige us, please, by running "bridal ships" back to their own lands, returning all the new arrivals who decide they don't want to live with their GI husbands after all?

We brought these women to America because our fighting men married them and we felt we owed it to the servicemen to bring their women to them. But if they aren't going to stick to the bargain they made, why shouldn't they go back where they belong?

We haven't enough eligible jobs, men, or housing facilities to welcome with open arms the disillusioned girls who came to America to join their husbands only to find they guessed they'd rather strike out for themselves.

AUTOMOBILES OLD STUFF UP IN NEW HAMPSHIRE
MANCHESTER, N. H.—(AP)—Detroiters celebrating the automobile's golden jubilee year are just Johnny-Come-Latelies so far as this city is concerned.

Two horseless men built and drove a horseless carriage around town in 1898, local residents claim—a steam powered one. Amoskang Machine Shop Employees James S. Batchelder and William H. Writner built the engine—a steam boiler—in the rear of a heavy Democrat wagon.

With chain and sprocket drive on the rear axle, the contraction took only 15 minutes to fire and start. After the first two-hour trial

July 9, 1868, the Manchester Union said, "We don't see exactly who has use and need for a carriage of this sort in New England."

He Says "Give Me Another Term"

Some interesting—without always being clean—politics is taking place over in Mississippi these days. It is the fight that Senator Bilbo is making to be elected for a third term to that Washington post.

In case our readers do not know Sen. Bilbo, who hoped to win the election on the first primary next Tuesday, is the man who would uphold "our true southern womanhood," and he would do this by denying the "niggers" the voting privilege the Constitution says they shall have.

A sample of this pedagogy: At Laurel, Miss., last Saturday night he exhorted "every red-blooded Anglo-Saxon man in Mississippi" (which is about 50 per cent Negro)—to resort to any means to keep Negroes from the polls July 2. "And," he added significantly "if you don't know what that means, you are just not up on persuasive measures."

Then he continued: "The white people of Mississippi are sleeping on a volcano, and it is up to you red-blooded men to do something about it. The white men of this state have a right to resort to any means at their command to stop it."

This is one of two men who have been representing that state in the senate of the United States. This is the same man who a few months ago joined with other so-called "good Southerners" in condemning, in a blanket statement, all Negro soldiers on the battlefields of Europe. The War Department acted on individual cases of heroism above and beyond the line of duty among Negroes, but that didn't stop Bilbo.

This is the man who believes that the only way to solve the racial problem in America is to keep down the minority; keep them down so low they can never rise; keep them down so far that they actually would hamper the progress of all Americans, regardless of color or creed.

He wants another term "to save the institutions of the South."

This world might be saved a lot of worry and possibly more serious trouble if Stalin would hire and take the advice of a good American newspaper editor, nationally-experienced politician, or public relations man.

I hear through Central European diplomatic circles that:

1—Moscow was much surprised and taken aback by the extent of American reaction to Russia activities in Iran; that Stalin couldn't understand what difference it made to us, and if he had anticipated the results, would not have been so late in the project while the ensuing row.

2—Stalin said some time ago that Russia did not need "much more" to complete her "security" campaign; and that whatever this may have been delayed in the hope that first America and be convinced that it is proper.

3—The Soviet actually decides to establish greater accord with the United States, that Stalin has said it must be done; that he would like if any hope of a real accord with the British empire and faced by the solidarity between Britain and America, has not been able to discover a practical means of combating the former while collaborating with the latter.

If these reports are true, the tragedy of the present state of relations between the United States and Russia is greater than was previously apparent.

Anyone trained to appraise public opinion in the United States could have predicted the result of such a campaign as Russia has been waging since Germany surrendered.

The question of intent always has been of prime importance to Americans. Russia could have stumbled around considerably among her own neighbors, just as America did years ago, and still have kept the sympathy of the United States if Soviet actions had not aroused fear—fear that all of her neighbors faced the fate of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania; the fear that Russia puts her program for spreading her own power and ideology ahead of the United Nations program for universal peace. But for these things, the United States might have remained the mediator she was last year, seeking to bring about a settlement.

NEW YORK—Well, New York girls are as stunning as you'll find anywhere, but I have it on the authority of an expert that they don't make the best wives. The expert is Joe Howard, a former New Yorker and five-time winner of Who's Kissing Her Now? fame, who has been married to three New Yorkers and lives in New York.

Mr. Howard claims the best wives come from Denver, Helena, and Fort Worth, but I think he means that's where his best wives come from. Anyway, he said that the best wives for couples who want to stay happily married, first, he says, allow the woman to control the purse strings; they're more sensible than men. The other fifteen rules I won't bother with. Not that I don't control the purse strings in my house at least I control the fellow who controls them.

Come to think of it, I don't know whether anyone should pay any attention to Mr. Howard's advice, because he hardly qualifies as a marital expert. After all, he's never sat through a feature attraction—only eight short subjects!

LODZIA OVERCOMES EXPLOSIVE SITUATION

EOZECIN, Poland—(AP)—Pretty Lodzia Sanowka, 18, often had watched sappers destroy mines. She also seen peasants killed trying to de-mine their farmsteads because they couldn't afford to pay a professional sapper.

There were 400 land mines in a 14-acre tract her father proposed to farm. But de-mining would cost more than he would earn in a year.

So Lodzia went to work on her own, tackling mine by mine, while Polish soldiers looked on and warned her she was heading for death. Lodzia laughed off their warnings, completed the entire de-mining operation alone, 400 mines, and proudly handed over their fuses or detonators to the Polish soldiers.

IN the big gymnasium, Sally encountered Dora Bronson, and the two had a strenuous bout with the medicine ball after which they hung themselves side by side on an exercise mat. They were panting a little and lay for a few minutes relaxed and quiet.

"Did you hear about Marion Phillips in 315, Sally?" Dora who was never silent long, asked.

"No, Marion Phillips—the actress? Is she here in Lanton, Dora?"

"She sure is—in 315. Stomach ulcer. Pretty bad, I guess. Ruptured. They've had to give her three transfusions already. Imagine dieting the rest of your life. Some fun!"

Sally laughed and rolled over on her stomach. "To hear you talk one would imagine you were a glutton."

"Which I am, darling." Dora said, kicking up her heels. "I'm lusciously plebeian in my tastes, Sally. I quite frankly like to eat. After all, it's one of the few pleasures I can enjoy without comment. If I dance there are dozens who do it better. If I sing—and heavens knows I can't—people stop their ears. I'm a fair nurse but there are hundreds better. I'm certainly not ornamental but can I eat! Oh, brother!"

Sally laughed again as she flung an arm about the younger girl. "You're a darling, Dora Bronson," she said, drawing the other close to her. "You're sweet and wholesome and lovely and I don't share who disagrees. And to some lucky man you will one day be the loveliest creature in the world."

WASHINGTON
BY RAY TUCKER

CONTRIVERSY — "Chief Justice" Fred M. Vinson is not deeply disturbed by the specific charges which Robert H. Jackson has hurled against his supreme court associate, Hugo L. Black, because a between-the-lines study of the Jacksonian indictment convinces the level-headed Kentuckian that they have only aim factuality or ethical foundation.

Superficially, the judicial skies look dark for the Alabama member because such a sensational washing of the highest tribunal's lower drier linen is unprecedented since Adams-Jefferson-Hamilton-Marshall days. But his consensus at the Capital is that the Nuremberg prosecutor has not made a strong case against the first Rooseveltian appointee to the S. C.

What really worries Mr. Vinson is the revelation of the bitter difference in philosophy between the Black-Douglas faction and the school represented by Justices Jackson and Frankfurter by a four-to-four division which the new boss must resolve somehow without dragging the court into the dust of personal, political and ideological controversy.

FACTS—Mr. Jackson's second—and more serious—charge is that Justice Black wanted to make known the Jewell Ridge decision immediately by a vehicle to informally opinions had been written and delivered in the courtroom. The man at Nuremberg intimates that the purpose behind this proposal was to use the court as a vehicle to influence pending negotiations for inclusion of travel time payment in a nation-wide contract.

The chronological facts upset this contention. It was accepted by the court on March 9, 1945, and the decision in favor of the miners came down on May 7, 1945. But the court voted for the Lewis-Harris litigants on Saturday morning sessions should override congress when it took Justice Murphy, as well as the dissenters, who included Mr. Jackson, only about five weeks to prepare their written opinions, John I. L. Harris, and apply congressional customs, and that they should not indulge in the business of reform.

Aligned with the Alabama member are Justices Douglas, Murphy and Rutledge. The angry New Yorker has on his side Justices Frankfurter, Reed and Burton. These lines do not always hold, but they represent the contending factions in a general way.

BLACK—The first concrete charge against Justice Black is that he deliberated and voted in a case in which the victorious litigants were represented by his former law partner, Crompton Harris of Birmingham. Mr. Jackson holds that his associate jurist should have retired because of the former association. Here is the inside story:

The Nuremberg prosecutor implies that Mr. Harris was retained by United Mine Workers after their legal dispute had headed for the supreme court, apparently hoping that his presence would influence his old partner. The fact is that Mr. Black had no connection with the Harris firm when he entered the senate in 1926, or fifteen years before the origin of this legal quarrel.

Moreover, Mr. Harris had handled labor troubles for the miners since 1915 days in the present case. He also advised Alabama unions at Blue Eagle hearings involving bituminous coal contracts. His successes led the United Mine Workers to engage and retain him long before Mr. Black was named to his present post.

RECORD—The record also reveals that Mr. Harris was brought into the two disputes mentioned by Justice Jackson by an automobile accident. Had it not been for a crack-up on the road from Texarkana, Texas to Birmingham, Ala., Mr. Black's former associate would not have involved in the present case.

In 1940 Alabama miners of iron ore started a suit against the Tennessee Iron and Coal company to force it to pay them for the time they had spent in the mine pit to underground points of operation. Their lawyer was Yelverton Cowherd, regional legal representative for C. I. O., which was then headed by John L. Lewis.

Three days before scheduled pleadings in Birmingham, Mr. Cowherd suffered twenty-six broken bones while driving from Texarkana to Birmingham and could not appear. Lee Pressman, C. I. O.'s general counsel at Washington, called in Mr. Harris as substitute because of his NRA triumphs. Another reason for his employment was that he was almost the only big-time lawyer

THE GOOD SAMARITAN (1946)
(The Daily Oklahoman)

Not long ago a certain trucker went down from Detroit to say Gallipolis. And a band of men who found that he was trucking produce with grace of a union card wrecked his truck, confiscated his produce, slugged him into insensibility, and threw him into a ditch.

And behold a priest who was passing on his way to the scene and looked upon him with great compassion. But in examining his wounds the priest discovered that the victim was without a union card. So the priest exclaimed, "A plague on all sects," and cranking up his T-model he drove away.

Then came a Levite, who when he saw the trucker's predicament was exceedingly moved. He hastened into the ditch with his emergency kit, spread out all his remedial paraphernalia, and made ready for a speedy job of succor. But when he saw that the sufferer carried no union card he said to him, "Unless you pay me a union initiation fee of $50, I will not help you. No money, no treatment." So the penniless trucker was left in the ditch untreated.

In the course of time the maimed trucker recovered sufficiently to file his petition for a redress of grievances, according to what he thought was the law of the land. Eventually his case reached the highest court in the country, which quickly ruled in a learned opinion that since maiming truckers is the accustomed pastime of picketers, no law had been violated, and the victim was therefore without any remedy at law.

Whereupon Claude Pepper arose in the United States senate and proclaimed the court's decision as a magnificent addition to labor's magna carta.

So They Say

There is need for definite, constructive, liberal and early intervention by government in labor disputes for the purpose of mediation and conciliation, with a required period of time in which this is to be carried on prior to stoppage.—Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota.

The war taught us we could not live without one another. It taught us we could survive the most terrible ordeals by co-operating with one another.—Trygve Lie, UN secretary General.

Only excuse I find for keeping three or four times as many employees as are needed? That the administration wants to use them for propaganda purposes.—Rep. Earl Wilson (R) of Indiana.

World domination is a fatuous dream. The people of the world will not stand for it.—Sen. Tom Connally (D) of Texas.

AGE OF WOMAN IS ONLY RELATIVE

MT. VERNON, Ill.—(AP)—Marlin Rich, Mt. Vernon banker, met a feminine voter at a local election.

Said Rich, "Didn't I know you when you were young?"

In hurt tones the woman replied, "But, Mr. Rich—I'm not old yet."

Laughter of bystanders subsided long enough for Rich to explain: "I meant to say, when she was younger. She was one of my pupils when I taught school."

Wells Completed At Lower Rate In Month of May

Wells were completed at a lower rate during the month of May than in the preceding month, but total completions for the year still maintained almost a 12 percent lead over those of the comparable period of last year.

During May, there were 2583 wells of all classes completed, an average of 517 weekly, representing a decrease from the 553 weekly during April, but topping the 465 averaged during May, 1945.

Well completions for the first five months of the current year total 11,173, an increase of 11.9 percent over 9900 recorded during last year's five months. A major part of this increase over the preceding year is accredited to Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana and Ohio.

Texas completions for the five months totaled 3338 against 3002 for last year, an increase of 11.2 percent, while Oklahoma was up 9.7 percent from 954 to 1046 wells.

On May 31 there were 3886 rigs drilling or rigging up in the U. S., slightly less than the 3991 reported active one month before, and considerably less than the 4165 rigs that

The Amarillo News says that the war is over, the security regulations have been relaxed, the story can be told.

Pat didn't have a glamorous job. While his buddies joined the K-9 corps and grabbed a hairful of glory, old Pat did his bit on the home front.

He was—and is—dogwatchman of the mails.

Pat, a dog of unknown but perhaps illustrious heritage, wandered into the Rock Island depot three years ago. He was hungry and broke.

A. T. Swan, then baggage clerk, was having a hard time. The draft were working at the end of May of last year. The number of rigs that were shut down at the end of May totaled 513, which is considerably larger than the 478 reported one year ago. Oklahoma has slightly less rigs working, the comparative figure being 470 against 497. Texas' active rig figure decreased from 1170 a year ago to 963, a drop of 201, the largest decreases in working rigs among the Texas districts were reported from the Upper and Lower Coast, the Panhandle, and Southwestern Districts.

'Building for the Future' Is Study

AUSTIN—(AP)—"Building for the Future" in school construction to meet postwar needs of Texas is the theme of the school plant conference and suppliers exhibition beginning today at the University of Texas.

The conference, said Dr. A. L. Chapman, program chairman, is aimed "to bring the latest and best available school-building information, ideas and practices" into construction and remodeling of Texas educational facilities.

"Program topics were determined largely by suggestions from 37 public school systems in Texas," Dr. Chapman added.

Discussing school buildings from the standpoints of school administrator, suppliers, architects, planners and teachers, the meeting is jointly sponsored by the university, the state department of education, the state health department, the Texas Association of School Administrators and the Texas study of secondary education.

Golf Clubs, Tennis Racquets Are Among Hard-to-Get Items

By DOROTHY CAREW
NEW YORK—(AP)—Sports enthusiasts will have little chance to pick and choose in buying equipment for their favorite games this summer. Unprecedented demand, rather than lack of production is the cause of shortages in most sporting goods fields. In some lines production is up to prewar levels. Others have been held up by lack of raw materials.

Prices on an overall basis for the industry are said to be up 12 to 20 percent, although some items remain as in 1941. Low price lines have been dropped entirely in some types of equipment.

Industry sources summarize supplies of various types of equipment this way:

Tennis—Racquets are being produced at the same rate as before the war, but demand is far higher; balls are in about adequate supply.

Golf—Club production has not yet reached the 1941 level; balls are scarce; golf bag output is low because of leather and textile shortages; some low-grade bags are being made, but prices are higher.

Baseball—Output of baseballs and soft balls is higher than prewar, but demand is considerably greater; bat production is held up by lack of seasoned lumber; textile shortage limits uniform production; more gloves and mitts are being made than before the war, but the leather scarcity prevents further increase in production.

Fishing—Bamboo rods are scarce; steel rods and reels are in slightly better supply; there is a pretty good supply of nylon lines, but few silk ones; reels are scarce; imported hooks are few, but lower grade domestic hooks are plentiful; rubber boots and waders are very scarce; artificial lures are available but higher priced than before the war.

Hunting—Some industry spokesmen indicate the supply of sporting firearms may be adequate by fall; ammunition production is below normal and supplies are not expected to be adequate by fall.

Boating—Outboard motors will take two to three years to catch up with demand; canoes and rowboats are a little more plentiful, and cruiser type motor boats are in production but have not reached prewar levels because of lack of materials.

Other sports—Archery equipment is in fairly good supply with prices slightly higher than prewar; bicycles are becoming more readily available with production at about 100,000 a month and prices up 10 percent; croquet sets are being held up by lumber shortages.

Solon Seeks State Control of USES

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Tamm (D-De) yesterday urged the senate to give speedy approval to legislation calling for return of the United States employment service to state operation at the end of this year.

Opening debate on the proposed transfer of the agency, Tamm spoke for the bill drafted by the senate labor committee as a compromise to house-approved legislation which would shift USES to the states on June 30.

Tamm said he personally favored permanent federal operation of unemployment services to attain "maximum employment and eliminate wasteful turnover" but he was supporting the compromise as probably the best that congress would approve.

The controversial USES proposal is one of two measures involving state rights which are slated for senate consideration.

The other provides for settlement of a longstanding dispute by guaranteeing state ownership of Tidelands, sources of rich oil deposits.

Hobbs Bill Has Best Chance of Becoming Law

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Of all the legislation batted around by congress this year to restrict certain union activities, the Hobbs bill has the best chance of becoming law.

This bill—called an anti-racketeering bill—has had a strange history. It is an amendment to an old law.

The supreme court several years ago pointed out a loophole in that old law and now congress has decided to plug the hole.

The bill now is on President Truman's desk for him to sign into law or to veto.

The Hobbs bill doesn't apply only to racketeering attempts by unions but to anyone making such a try.

There's talk that Mr. Truman will let the Hobbs bill become law. But this is not certain.

In 1934 congress passed anti-racketeering law meant as a crime for anyone to obtain money from anyone by robbery or extortion, that is, through threats of force or violence.

This applied only to goods in interstate commerce. For example: Jones, a New Jersey farmer, used to drive his truckload of vegetables to the New York market across the state line, that put him in interstate commerce.

But a group of New York union truck drivers stopped Jones.

They told him: "All the New York truck drivers belong to our union. If you want to drive into New York with your truck, you'll have to do this:

"Give us $10 every time you come in. One of our drivers will drive your truck into New York and drive it out again. Or, if you want to drive it yourself, you can, if you give us the $10 anyway."

If Jones didn't come across with his $10, he might be beaten up or his truck might be dumped into the river. Eventually, something like that happened. And a number of New York union truck drivers were arrested.

They were convicted in federal court of violating the 1934 anti-racketeering act. When the men appealed to the supreme court in 1942 that court freed them because of a technicality in the law.

In 1943 Rep. Sam Hobbs, Alabama democrat, got the house to pass a bill to tighten up the 1934 law.

But the bill went to the senate which let it die without voting on it. A few weeks ago, any because of the strikers, congress passed the Case bill. The Hobbs amendment to the 1934 anti-racketeering law was made part of the Case bill.

President Truman killed the Case bill with his veto. He told why, point by point, in a long veto message.

In effect, he said: At some future time some federal judge, trying an anti-racketeering case, might decide the Hobbs amendment meant something different from what congress apparently intended.

In other words, Mr. Truman raised the possibility that some federal judge might decide that a strike or picketing was an attempt to extort money from an employer by force and therefore violated the law.

That seemed to finish off the Case amendment. But congress pulled the amendment out of the vetoed Case bill and passed it as an independent bill.

But the bill as it lies on Mr. Truman's desk now is not changed in any way or wording from the Hobbs amendment which Mr. Truman vetoed with his veto.

But Rep. Hobbs says his bill points out that none of the rights guaranteed labor under existing laws shall be interfered with by his bill. There the argument lies, waiting for Mr. Truman's decision.

Cactus Ordnance May Be Reactivated Soon

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Rep. Eugene Worley (D-Texas) today said he understood the war department's cactus ordnance plant at Elter, Texas, north of Amarillo, is to be reactivated for fertilizer production.

He said the fertilizer would be used to help increase food production for war-torn countries.

The Texas Panhandle industrial plant was recently withdrawn by the war department from the war assets administration surplus property list.

49 per cent of American families had gardens in 1945.

Army Tries New System to Halt GI Black Market

By HAL BOYLE
BERLIN—(AP)—The golden era when an American soldier could translate a carton of cigarettes in Germany into a $150 bank deposit back home is over.

New currency restrictions in occupied Europe are sounding the death knell to one of the greatest military markets in history. The introduction of serial numbers currency control books is ending a 13-month ride at the taxpayers' expense.

The racket in its simplest form was based on the sale of cigarettes, army food and candy to hungry Germans for exorbitant sums in Allied currency marks, most of which were printed by the Russians.

Soldiers found that they could get $100 to $200 for a carton of cigarettes, $5 to $10 for a bar of chocolate. They could then take the marks to the nearest army postoffice, convert them into money orders and mail them to relatives or banks in the United States.

The racket spread like a prairie fire throughout the army of occupation. It kept no rank. Colonels and corporals played the game together, sometimes standing for hours at the postoffice windows. A new group of big-time operators arose known as "the Berlin millionaires."

Instead of relying on the peddling of extra army cigarette rations, they imported their own cartons from the states by the hundreds.

Embarrassed by the discovery that the army was sending home three times the amount it was being paid, authorities last fall made their first attempt to control the market. They distributed currency exchange control books which listed each soldier's pay. Money transfers to America and sums spent in Germany in excess of ten dollars were deducted. Unfortunately, however, no central records of the books was kept.

Enterprising warriors and civilians attached to the army found little difficulty in obtaining several extra books. By astute private bookkeeping they could make their own entries and purley their earnings several times.

The new books will be serially numbered and a central check made so that no soldier can manipulate with extra books.

Already the steady operators are looking for loopholes. "A smart guy can always find his way through any system," they say.

But finance officers are confident the new books will cut the flood of illegal postal money orders to a dribble by eliminating the "easy money amateurs." They feel the average soldier is unwilling to risk detection on open forgery.

Report on Faculty Resignations Made

DALLAS—(AP)—Dudley K. Woodward, Jr., chairman of the board of regents of the University of Texas, has released a report listing only three members of the faculty who resigned because of "conditions" at the school.

The report said all three also had other reasons for resigning.

The year 1940-41 was compared with the past year. The report showed 22 faculty resignations in the prewar year and 31 up to June 19 of this year.

Woodward's report listed better salaries, private business and de-

Eight-Year-Old Girl Lost Whole Week Said 'Getting Along Swell'

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. — (AP) — Eight-year-old Katherine Van Alst of Kansas City was "getting along swell" today after being the object of a six-day search in the wild terrain of Devil's Den State Park.

The child, who became lost a week ago yesterday when she sought to return to her parents' cabin after playing on a dam on Falls Creek in the mountainous northwest section of Arkansas, was found Saturday afternoon about five miles from the spot where she had disappeared.

Before being brought to a Fayetteville hospital, the child, her body covered with insect bites, was reunited with her mother, Mrs. John Van Alst, at the park cabin where the family was spending a vacation.

Katherine later was greeted by her father, who had been in "protective custody" of Sheriff C. M. Gully since his collapse during the search for his daughter Thursday.

Hospital attendants said the child's condition was "good," and a nurse added that she was "getting along swell."

Katherine related that she had lived on berries and water from a pool and had slept in caves after becoming lost. A war veteran and University of Arkansas student, Porter Chaddick of Pine Bluff, Ark., was the first to reach the barefoot child.

Chaddick said Katherine greeted him with a calm "thank you" when he reached her after she had responded to one of his shouts.

Workmen Probe Debris Seeking Ninth Victim

DALLAS — (AP) — Investigation of the Baker hotel explosion which killed eight persons and injured 36 continues today as workmen probe the debris seeking a ninth victim.

Last night Fire Marshal B. C. Hilton said the explosion was caused by a gas pocket between the top of the refrigerating rooms in the sub-basement and the ceilings of the basement of the hotel.

He said the pocket of collected gas apparently was ignited by an electric arc, a flame of smoldering material.

The type of gas in the pocket had not been determined.

The investigation of the cause of the explosion continues workmen are digging among the tons of shattered concrete and twisted structural steel in search of the body of a Negro hotel employe missing since Friday.

The fire marshal expressed doubt there was another victim.

BERLIN — (AP) — Soviet Russia is beating out America and Britain in the art of winning friends among the German cultural classes.

The Russians are making a powerful and apparently increasingly successful bid for the support of the former reich's top-flight creative and intellectual life by appeals (1) to their vanity and (2) to their belly.

"The Russians never make us feel that we are a beaten nation," said one German intellectual, "but the Americans and British always manage in certain moments to impress on us that they are victors."

They go even further to stimulate cooperation on the artistic level by special materialistic inducements, such as extra monthly rations of butter, cooking oil, flour and winter fuel. They also see that no productive and talented German musician, writer, painter, or singer is thrown out of his home to make room for a Russian officer's family. Until recently American occupation officers made no distinction even between Nazi and non-Nazi, when it came to the question of eviction.

The Russians have on occasion courted rather than punished culturally influential Germans with a record of obedience to the swastika. One German actor, who had been signally recognized by the Nazis, was released from jail and his expropriated estate returned to him after he saw the new Soviet light.

In a time when bread is more scarce and important than money, some German artists point out that in the American zone a waitress gets more in terms of stomach wages than the finest musician. And in Germany today only the stomach wages count.

BERLIN — (AP) — German fraufräulein think American housewives are very democratic and "wear lovely shoes."

And, by and large, the women dependents of the American army of occupation believe the fraufräulein, by and large, are all right, too.

It is a tentative judgment on both sides, subject to further revision. But so far little friction has developed between "the colonel's lady" and the teutonic housekeeper who preceded her in her new home.

Contrary to advance predictions, American women dependents are winning a warm welcome from German fraufräulein and fraufräulein. They are doing it strictly as a result of their own good conduct and horse sense.

No one is more amazed at this perhaps than the German women themselves. They had looked forward to something entirely different.

"We thought your women would try to lord it over us," said a former German banker's wife, now employed as a housekeeper, "but they have instead been extremely considerate—more so probably than were German officers' wives when we occupied France.

"They are very cheerful and smiling and when they want something done, they say 'please,' instead of issuing a command."

Canadian Record Publisher Made Colonel in 36th

CANADIAN (Special) — Announcement has been made in Austin of the appointment of Lieut. Col. Vincent M. Lockhart as assistant chief of staff, G-1, of the new Thirty-Sixth Infantry division of the Texas National Guard.

Colonel Lockhart, editor of the Canadian Record and secretary of the Canadian chamber of commerce, is a veteran of five and a half years of active duty with the 36th division, two and a half years of which was overseas. He served as assistant G-1 in Italy, and as assistant general in France, Germany and Austria. He was awarded the Bronze Star medal for exceptionally meritorious performance of duty in Italy.

Prior to entering active duty with the Texas division in 1940, Colonel Lockhart served eight years in the 132nd Infantry of the Texas National Guard as an enlisted man. He was commissioned as a second lieutenant of infantry two months before the division was assembled at Camp Bowie, and rose to the rank of major during the war.

Beginning his terminal leave on November 14, 1945, he purchased the Canadian Record that month and had relieved from active duty on March 26.

Meat Production Drops During Week

DALLAS — (AP) — Federally inspected meat production for the week ending June 22 dropped 23 percent below the preceding week and 52 percent below the corresponding week a year ago, the U. S. department of agriculture has announced.

Production last week was 139,000,000 pounds, compared to 180,000,000 the previous week and 288,000,000 a year ago.

Compared with last week the slaughter of cattle was down 21 percent; calves, 5 percent down, sheep and lambs 19 percent above, and hogs, 33 percent down.

SYDNEY, Australia — (AP) — Fort Morsby, New Guinea, a key point in General MacArthur's campaign in the Southwest Pacific, is to be a key point now in a building program by the ministry of external territories. A model native village costing $385,000 is to be built there, the first of a series.

The barber pole is a relic of the days when barbers were also surgeons.

BERLIN — (AP) — The Seigfried line—Hitler's famous but futile west wall—isn't worth ripping up, allied officers have concluded.

Many of the emplacements now unattended will be ignored, mute reminders to the Germans for whatever they want to make of it.

The anti-aircraft batteries and mine fields of the west wall have all been destroyed however. Lieutenant General Lucius D. Clay, U. S. deputy military governor, said that nothing of any war potential would be allowed to remain intact.

Miller's Sentence On Manslaughter Charge Suspended

NEW YORK—(AP)—Army Capt. Archie Miller, Bellevue, Texas, veteran who pleaded guilty to first degree manslaughter in the fatal shooting of Capt. Eugene Dale last Dec. 28, today received a suspended sentence from General Sessions Judge John A. Mullen.

An army detainer was waiting for Miller and he was taken to Governor's Island.

He was originally indicted for murder after Captain Dale, 27, survivor of the Bataan death march, was shot in the apartment of Miller's estranged wife, a former Powers model from Jonesboro, N. C.

The prosecutor had recommended clemency in the case, telling the court that the shooting took place "under emotional strain" after Miller returned from overseas "to find that his wife belonged to another."

Defense counsel told the court Miller had elected to plead guilty rather than subject his wife—whom he still loved—to the embarrassment of a trial.

Under the court's sentence he will be placed on probation which may extend from one to 20 years.

Miller returned to the United States last winter after two and a half years in the European theater.

During his absence, Assistant District Attorney Jacob Grumet said, Mrs. Miller had met Dale, stationed at Mitchel field after returning from two years in a Japanese prison camp.

When Miller learned that his wife and Dale had spent the Christmas holidays together in North Carolina, he "cracked under the strain," and shot Dale "in the heat of passion" with a souvenir German luger, Grumet said.

The affray took place in Mrs. Miller's Manhattan apartment. Dale died the next day in a hospital, Mrs. Miller at his bedside.

In suspending the sentence Judge Mullen told Miller:

"The problem is whether you need punishment or not. Punishment is to set an example for society. It also is to prevent other acts of violence. I don't think it is necessary to make an example of you for society."

"It is a sad day for a devoted husband with red blood in his veins not to do something about a situation like this when he comes home and finds his home violated. I am going to give you a suspended sentence and place you on probation. I realize the provocation you had."

"Forget this incident took place and go back and take your place in society."

Miller was on terminal leave from the army at the time of the shooting. Army officials explained that the detainer was merely a "precautionary measure to see that everything is in order as far as his military record is concerned." They added there were no army charges filed against Miller.

Ten Killed

Gardens company.

The three persons critically hurt were not identified.

Simon Leal, 38, was tentatively identified by Captain Gordon as the driver of the truck.

Others of the injured identified included:

- Carmela Costilla, Maria De La Luz, 16; Guadalupe Martinez, 24; Manuela Altuelzo, Oralla Fuerta, 17; Manrioso Guerra, Jose Martinez, Lilly Naranjo, Maurio Sanchez, Refugio Arango, and Aracelia Leal.

The wreck scene was gruesome, with broken and crushed bodies of the dead and injured scattered along the right of way," Sam Gerald, Harlingen newspaperman, reported.

Ambulances were busy for two hours bringing the dead and injured to the Valley Baptist hospital here. Every available physician and nurse in the area rushed to the aid of the victims.

Hundreds of persons gathered at the crossing in a few minutes. The crash occurred on State Highway 77, near Brownsville to McAllen.

The truck in which the workers were riding was a one and one-half ton vehicle, open model, of the type commonly used in transporting workers to and from work.

The passenger train, from the upper Rio Grande valley, proceeded on to Harlingen. None of the passengers was injured.

Close Nomination Race Is Reported

FARGO, N. D.—(AP)—U. S. Senator William Langer, and J. B. Bridston of Grand Forks were in a close race for the North Dakota republican senatorial nomination today while Gerald P. Nye joined Bill Lanier in conceding victory to U. S. Senator Milton R. Young (R-ND) in North Dakota's second senatorial fight.

With 611 of 2255 precincts in, Bridston, state senator and insurance man, was leading Langer, who voted against the United Nations charter, 21,494 to 19,308.

Nye, who has been identified, along with Langer, with isolationist policies, issued a statement this morning saying he was "thoroughly surprised by what appears to be so decisive a defeat."

Latest totals from 700 precincts gave Young 31,903 votes, Lanier 17,086 and Nye 8,460.

Later last night, Lanier conceded Young's election in the special shorter m race—as opposed to the Langer-Bridston fight, which is for the GOP nomination in the regular primary election.

Lloyd Watkins, Odessa, came in second with a 71 and Foy Fanning of Big Spring was third with a 74.

New Order

son said "might lead to more dangerous abuses than those which this proposal intends to correct." As a matter of "common sense," he said officers clubs will not be closed and "any thing among personnel of different ranks should not be tolerated."

Patterson rejected also a proposal that reports of "two stars general to the war department should bypass field commanders." His reason was that no change should be made that would give the inspectors "any tinge of 'gestapo' or undercover status."

Baron Expected To Be Liquidated by Hitler

NUERNBERG—(AP)—Baron Constantin Von Neurath told the international military tribunal today that he "always expected" to be liquidated by Hitler for opposing some of the fuhrer's policies, and could not explain why it never happened.

The defendant pictured himself, despite his high ranking positions under Hitler, as a follower of different political thought.

Von Neurath concluded his defense with the declaration that he was unaware of police brutalities under his administration as governor of Czechoslovakia until after they happened. He said he never got reports on them beforehand, nor was he consulted about them.

Rio Grande River Nears 15 Feet Mark

Last night the river had reached 13.75 feet in the largest rise of the year.

VA Hospitals Will Get New Med Officers

DALLAS—(AP)—Eight veterans administration hospitals in the Dallas tri-state branch, badly in need of additional personnel, will receive 105 young medical officers for active duty this Saturday.

Dr. Lee D. Eady, chief of the branch's medical service, said they had been ordered to two years active duty with the VA as a substitute for regular hospital residences.

Hospitals to which they have been assigned include Legion, Tex., Waco, Amarillo and Temple.
