Wave of Violence Is Spreading Throughout Palestine

Four Officers Kidnapped in New Outbreak

JERUSALEM—(AP)—A reliable informant said four British officers were kidnapped today from an officers club at Tel Aviv by a dozen Jewish extremists armed with tommyguns.

The new outbreak of terrorism spreading throughout Palestine came after a wild night in Haifa when nine Jews were killed in a pitched battle after they attacked the central railroad shops. The deaths during gunfire and 15 explosions at the railway yards raised the toll in recent days to 18 deaths.

TELVAV KIDNAPING

The informant reporting the kidnaping at Tel Aviv said the bandits were believed to be members of the Jewish extremist organization, Irigun Zvai Leumi. The British officers were believed seized as hostages against the impending execution of two Irigun members, sentenced to death last week for participating in a raid last March on a British army camp.

The dozen terrorists raided the hotel Yarkon, which has been a leading officers club in Tel Aviv for several years. Their victims were blindfolded and forced into taxicabs, the informant said.

FLIERS ARE VICTIMS

The British war office in London expressed surprise when informed of the reported kidnaping, asserting that "this is the first we have heard of it."

(Reuters reported from Tel Aviv that the British sixth airborne division was scouring the city for the kidnapers and their victims, reported to be fliers.)

The agency said two British soldiers were seriously wounded in Jerusalem when attackers fired from a passing taxi.

Jet of Molten Metal Is Army's Newest Discovery

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The army lifted the edge of a blueprint today to disclose a fantastic weapon that may develop into a defense against atomic rockets or armored space ships laden with A-bombs.

It is a jet of molten metal which has an initial velocity of almost five miles a second.

Although still in the research and planning stages, the possibility of the new weapon has experts in the army ordnance department enthusiastic. They are studying the possibility of it to robot anti-atomic defense is going to require a bit of doing, however.

The first hint of the molten jet was dropped in a war department announcement which reported that postwar research in skyborne enemy arm is gradually outmoding many standard weapons.

This molten metallic jet would travel at such a high speed that it couldn't be deflected. That is, it would go right through the armor plate of a plane flying at atomic speed. Or it could punch an atomic rocket right on the nose.

If the jet travels at 25,000 feet a second—and that speed is known to be possible—its spurting flash of molten metal could catch up with a V-2, for it travels at only 5,000 feet a second. A bullet takes 3,000 feet a second. Sound drags along at 1,120 feet a second.

The jet-firing mechanism is envisioned as an airplane weapon. First it would hurl out a rocket to be guided by radar or drawn by electronics to its skyborne enemy target. As it closed in, it would let go with a stream of molten metal.

Recommendation by Cit y Electrical Board to City Commission Is Protested by Cabot Co.

The city commission took no action today on a recommendation by the city electrical board that electricians applying for permits as master electricians must first own their own business and pay all of their employees out of their own pockets.

Officials of the Cabot companies here appeared before the commission today and stated that the electrical maintenance man had applied for a permit as a master electrician prior to the time the board passed the resolution.

The Cabot officials contended that they hired their own electrical maintenance men, and that those men abided by the city electrical board's ordinance which required that master electricians must first own their own business and pay all of their employees out of their own pockets.

It was decided that the Cabot electrical man would be allowed to take his master electrician's license under the same conditions and the same fee as any other applicant.

Other business taken up by the commission included a request by Sam Dunn, owner of the Panhandle

Compromise on Italian Reparations in Offing

PARIS—(AP)—A compromise between Russia and the Western powers on the question of Italian reparations appeared in the making today as the Big Four foreign ministers turned their attention to the sum which Italy must pay for joining with the Axis in waging war.

A more lenient Russian attitude toward Italy, apparent in yesterday's discussion of minor economic phases of the Italian peace treaty, gave rise to hopes that the reparations issue might be dropped.

Reparations, along with the future of the Port of Trieste and the disposition of Italian colonies, were a principal stumbling block at the meeting here last month.

American informants quoted Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov as saying during the discussions yesterday that he wanted to make the burden of the Italian people as light as possible.

Sources close to U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes speculated on whether the Western powers might relax some of their objections to Russia's reparations proposals in return for Soviet consent to slice down other economic penalties against Italy.

Molotov had insisted at the last meeting that Italy pay $100,000,000 in reparations to the Soviet and $200,000,000 to Yugoslavia, Greece and Albania. The Western powers, asserting that Italy's economy could not stand such a direct levy, urged that reparations be in the form of Italian warships and other specified materials.

The ministers agreed yesterday to a U. S. proposal that any Allied nation holding Italian property be allowed to use that property to defray claims of its nationals against Italy. At the same time, the conferees voted to require Italy to renounce any claims for damages against Allied nationals arising from the war.

Japanese Reserve Right to Attack Without Warning

TOKYO—(AP)—Japan in her major international commitments always reserved the rights to fight in self defense and this right included attacking without warning. Hideki Tojo, former Japanese premier, said in his prison cell answer to the prosecution's opening statement at his war crimes trial.

Tojo charged the United States was guilty of "planned mass massacre" in its bombing pattern for Japan, and "trampled on treaties" in its conduct of the war.

Tojo's statement indicated that the defense would contend that Japan was forced into the Pacific war in self defense.

The former Japanese leader asserted that even the Kellogg Pact outlawing war permitted war in self defense. He added that Japan was "entering this pact, reserved the right to fight for protection outside of the range of the treaty."

For the same reason, he said, Japan was "not bound by the Hague convention regarding the opening of a war. It follows that even if a final message is to be sent, it is not a violation of treaties if such a message 'fails to confirm to protocol.'

Japan's disputed final message to the United States, delivered to her peace envoy, Saburo Kurosui, and ambassador Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura after the bombs fell on Pearl Harbor, was not a declaration of war. It merely broke off current negotiations and said that Japan "reserved the right to take future action."

The ex-premier said the prosecution made a "grave mistake" in charging that the Pearl Harbor attack violated existing treaties and was murder.

Speaking of atrocities, Tojo said "granting that the facts of alleged violations of war regulations and customs will wait for future judgment, Japan is one of the civilized nations and to its general characteristics tries to respect these regulations."

"It is blind judgment," said Tojo, "to hold up barbaric facts—if these were facts, they should of course not have been permitted—carried out by some persons on the battlefield and hold that this is a part of Japan's military action."

Bi-Partisan Drive Looms for Early Passage of Bill

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Republican and Democratic backers counted today on overwhelming approval already voted by both houses to force early senate action on the Hobbs "anti-racketeering" labor bill.

Senator Hatch (D-NM), who unexpectedly jockeyed the measure out of the senate judiciary committee yesterday, told a reporter he will move soon to bring it up for a final vote.

He added that he will resist any attempts to amend the measure, despite the objections President Truman raised to its wording when it was presented to him as part of the Case labor disputes legislation he vetoed.

The bill, originally offered by Rep. Hobbs (D-Ala.) and passed by a wide house margin, would declare it a felony to interfere by robbery or extortion or by threats of violence with movement of funds in interstate commerce.

The spokesman, Wong Peng-Nan, said the government memorandum was handed to General Marshall, special U. S. envoy, who turned it over "without comment" to Gen. H. H. Ladd, chief communist negotiator.

The government's new proposal, reportedly laid down as the price of peace, was described by communist sources as "most unsatisfactory."

Other than Shantung, where the communists have been closing in on the great U. S. marine-held port of Tsing-an, the areas to be given up were not detailed by the spokesman.

These developments came shortly after the commander of all Chinese communist forces in Manchuria said further civil warfare could "only bring catastrophe" to China and spoke out for peace.

Hopes Dimmed for Peace in China

NANKING—(AP)—A Chinese communist spokesman charged today the government had dimmed hopes for peace by demanding that the communists yield a number of strongholds in North China, including all the coastline of Shantung province.

The spokesman, Wong Peng-Nan, said the government memorandum was handed to General Marshall, special U. S. envoy, who turned it over "without comment" to Gen. H. H. Ladd, chief communist negotiator.

Jury Panel Completed For Louis Nutt Trial

The jury panel had been completed this morning and trial was to get underway at 1:30 this afternoon, in the case of Louis T. Nutt versus the state.

The court spent all of yesterday selecting a jury to try Nutt who is charged in the assault of a four-year-old girl, Warda Payne Porter, here May 3. At 9:30 p. m. the men had been named, and selection was resumed at nine today for the remaining three.

Body of Missing Boy Found in Park Lake

EUTLER, N. J.—(AP)—The body of seven-year-old Larry Blossfeld, who disappeared Saturday from a Sunday school picnic at Forest Hill park, was found today by state police in the artificial lake of the picnic grove.

Larry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. Blossfeld of Teaneck, had been the object of three days of wide search. This morning more than 300 state and local police, firemen, Boy Scouts and neighbors had been ready to take up again their combing of the thick woodlands of Northwood, N. J.

Americans In For Slimmer Diet This Year

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Americans are in for a slimmer diet during the next 12 months compared with amounts they ate in the past year.

This advance picture of the nation's food supply was announced today by Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson in a report which said nevertheless that "on an over-all basis, civilian per capita consumption is expected to continue at a high level considerably above pre-war levels."

Taking into account present production prospects and military and foreign demands, Anderson said there will be less meat, poultry and eggs, wheat products, dried fruits and dry peas, but more canned fruits and juices and more canned vegetables and vegetable juices.

The supply of food fats and oils—now far short of demand—is expected to be about the same.

The secretary looked only six months ahead in forecasting supplies of dairy products. He predicts a vegetable oil supply of 1.9 billion and about the same amounts of cheese, canned milk and dried milk as were available in the same period last year.

The per capita meat supply is expected to drop to between 135 and 140 pounds for the next 12 months, compared with an estimated 145 to 150 pounds in the current 12-month period. The secretary said meat production is expected to decline at least 9 per cent because of the short feed grain supply.

Looking beyond the coming winter, he said this year's corn crop will greatly influence future meat production.

Anderson said his preview of the food supply situation was prepared as the basis for discussion at a conference of state and federal agricultural department officials in Chicago this week to plan government buying programs for military and export needs.

Anderson said the government will buy smaller quantities of virtually all classes of food except rice. A "substantial portion" of the domestic crop will be exported to meet acute shortages abroad. Government meat buying, he added, will be strictly less than one-half the amount purchased in the 1945-46 years.

Missing Senator Ties Draft Snarl

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Lawmakers caught in the teen-age draft snarl looked today to a colleague en route to the atomic bomb tests for a way out of the tangle.

He is Rep. Walter G. Andrews (R-NY), a member of the deadlocked senate-house conference committee assigned the task of writing a compromise bill to keep selective service alive after July 1.

Andrews was reported somewhere in the Pacific yesterday when the conferees failed for a second time to reach agreement. At issue was whether and how to draft 18 and 19 year olds exempt from induction under the expiring stoppage extension act.

Members said Andrews left behind a proxy vote calling for restoring these two age brackets to the draft rolls without restrictions.

But yesterday's voting behind closed doors was on two alternate proposals.

1. House members of the committee offered to provide for the induction of 19 year olds and exempt those 18. But the senators rejected this, 4 to 3.

2. By the same vote, the house members rejected a senate suggestion to limit any draft of 18 year olds by a series of conditions. This is the vote Andrews could change by existing his proxy.

Hence, the conference session was recessed until Thursday to permit an exchange of messages between Washington and the Bikini-bombardment Andrews.

Australians Seeks Help In Opposing British

NEW YORK—(AP)—Australia turned to Russia and the United States today for support in opposing a British effort to knock out a majority-approved recommendation of the United Nations security council for a collective diplomatic break with Franco Spain.

The British urged yesterday that the council send a report on Spain without recommendation to the general assembly in September and suggested that the court of international justice be consulted on the legality of any action against the Franco regime.

The proposal laid before the council by British Delegate Sir Alexander Cadogan met immediate opposition from Australia, France and Mexico. When the council reconvenes at 1 p.m. CST today, U. S. Delegate Herschel V. Johnson is expected to add his voice to those who already have already committed to British plan. His position was affirmed by an American spokesman.

In the face of continuing Russian impatience with any move which would delay action against the Franco regime, Australian Delegate Herbert V. Evatt appeared a Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko to go along with the council's "democratic majority" and withhold his power of veto.

The Russian made no reply, but last week he had criticized the council's procedure on Spain as grossly inadequate.

Either Britain or Russia—for reasons at opposite extremes—could knock out further consideration of Spain by exercising the big power veto against a unanimous majority. Evatt already committed to approval of a United States compromise proposal for submitting the Spanish issue to the general assembly with a conditional recommendation for a break with Madrid.

Britain had declared that the Franco issue appeared to be an internal matter for the Spanish people to settle rather than a case for the United Nations.

The British position was sharply attacked by Dr. Evatt, the Australian foreign minister and chairman of the council subcommittee which investigated Spain.

Gracie Reports

NEW YORK—(AP)—My goodness, the letters have been simply pouring in from all over the country asking me who I think will win the big fight. Why, one lovely gentleman in Pittsburgh wrote that he has a hundred dollars to bet on Joe Louis but won't agree to the wager until he finds out whether I pick Billy Conn. In which case he'll make it two hundred. Isn't that sweet?

I think it's just marvelous to be accepted as a boxing expert by the public. I've never fought in an even one professional prize fight and today I'm going to repay the public's faith in me by backing, and explaining, the outcome of the fight and you can bet anything I'm right. If Joe Louis don't knock Billy Conn out, you will get the decision, unless, of course, he knocks Joe out, which can't possibly happen if Louis outkicks Billy.

There are many things to consider when trying to pick the winner of a boxing match. First and most important, they tell me is the condition in which each man enters the ring.

Well, both Joe and Billy are wearing white satin robes with green trim, so there's no choice there. Next we take up speed. Now, here Joe Louis has a decided edge. He noticed my new hat right away. While Billy took quite a few seconds to get his little things that tell the tale, you know. As to their respective ages, I asked my sister Bessie and she says there's no difference between a man 28 and a man 32, especially if they both have money.

So there is my prediction on the outcome of the fight and you can bet anything I'm right. If Joe Louis don't knock Billy Conn out, you will get the decision, unless, of course, he knocks Joe out, which can't possibly happen if Louis outkicks Billy.

Anyhow, it should be a marvelous contest and I'm tickled to death George isn't fighting either of them.

Devastation Hits Canada And Michigan

DETROIT—(AP)—A freak June tornado struck viciously Monday night into southern Michigan and adjacent Ontario, Canada, and left behind today a death toll of at least 17 and more than 100 injured.

Searching parties hunted through a one-hundred yard path of devastation in Canada for possible additional victims. The identified dead totaled 13, but hospitals in the Windsor area reported at least "seven or eight" other victims critically injured and near death.

The search through the debris began at the first streak of dawn less than 12 hours after the twister roared across the Detroit river and into a sparsely settled rural area near Windsor.

At noon no additional bodies had been reported found in the wreckage of the twister. The search in the Windsor area continued. About 50 persons were reported still in hospitals on the Canadian side. In all, it was estimated the injury toll approximated 200, including those only slightly hurt.

River Rouge, Mich., a Detroit suburb and home of the huge Ford Motor company Rouge plant, sustained the first shock of the tornado shortly after 6 p. m., but tiny Sandwich, Ont., bore the full fury of the blast.

PROPERTY DAMAGE HEAVY

Property damage was expected to run into the millions of dollars.

Hundreds of persons were homeless as the wind toppled houses like so many straws.

Business establishments were wrecked, autos and bodies of the tornado reached its zenith.

Gracie Reports

NEW YORK—(AP)—My goodness, the letters have been simply pouring in from all over the country asking me who I think will win the big fight. Why, one lovely gentleman in Pittsburgh wrote that he has a hundred dollars to bet on Joe Louis but won't agree to the wager until he finds out whether I pick Billy Conn. In which case he'll make it two hundred. Isn't that sweet?

I think it's just marvelous to be accepted as a boxing expert by the public. I've never fought in an even one professional prize fight and today I'm going to repay the public's faith in me by backing, and explaining, the outcome of the fight and you can bet anything I'm right. If Joe Louis don't knock Billy Conn out, you will get the decision, unless, of course, he knocks Joe out, which can't possibly happen if Louis outkicks Billy.

There are many things to consider when trying to pick the winner of a boxing match. First and most important, they tell me is the condition in which each man enters the ring.

Well, both Joe and Billy are wearing white satin robes with green trim, so there's no choice there. Next we take up speed. Now, here Joe Louis has a decided edge. He noticed my new hat right away. While Billy took quite a few seconds to get his little things that tell the tale, you know. As to their respective ages, I asked my sister Bessie and she says there's no difference between a man 28 and a man 32, especially if they both have money.

So there is my prediction on the outcome of the fight and you can bet anything I'm right. If Joe Louis don't knock Billy Conn out, you will get the decision, unless, of course, he knocks Joe out, which can't possibly happen if Louis outkicks Billy.

Anyhow, it should be a marvelous contest and I'm tickled to death George isn't fighting either of them.

Philadelphia Prexy Burns Cellar Door In Solemn Ceremony

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—The guys who pay the bills for the Philadelphia Phillies have burned the National League "cellar door"—and the obliging Blue Jays promptly won another game to push them within 100 percentage points of seventh place.

Phil's prexy Bob Carpenter, in a mock ceremony yesterday put the match to the "barrier" that kept the Phillies in the cellar for the greater part of 29 years.

And the Blue Jays showed last night—at the expense of the hapless Pittsburgh Pirates—that they meant to make the jinx breaker work.

The Phils defeated the Pirates 4 to 1 to sweep the current series three games to one and run their win percentage to 13 out of the last 18 contests.

Fighters Take Final Workouts In Camps Today

By GAYLE TAUBOT NEW YORK—(AP)—The long weeks of sweaty, monotonous training behind them, heavyweight champion Joe Louis and his collared challenger Billy Conn of Pittsburgh, took final workouts today, just sufficient to keep their red boxing strings stirring.

Conn, the 28-year-old former light heavyweight king, will balance the tier at around 137 pounds. Louis is expected to weigh around 205 or 206.

Those on hand saw an impressive Joe Louis. Seemingly almost light-hearted, the champion danced around and jabbed his partners as though he might have been copying Conn.

Sitting around his dressing room beforehand, during the long ritual of having his hands bandaged, Louis was a model of composure.

There was no reported change in the betting odds, although up in Harlem they were laying even money that Louis would win by a knockout.

Phil Ragland, Lubbock shortstop, stepped up to the plate and slapped a home run over the left field fence.

McAlexander, the next man up, hit a group ball to Tony Range at third. Ed Leiker singled to score in the second, Lubbock added another in the third and Pampa got two more in the third, coming on singles by Riley and Richardson and a triple by Fulemwidier.

Dallas .004 Point Ahead of Padres In Texas League

By The Associated Press Dallas hung on to a scant .004 advantage over San Antonio for second place in the Texas league last night as both teams eked out wins by one-run margins.

Kramer Pitches Browns to 7-1 Win Over Bosox

By JACK HAND (Associated Press Sports Writer) Throwing the ball over the grandstand is hereby suggested as healthy exercise for all American league pitchers.

After shutting out Washington in an extra-inning game and downing the Yankees in a relief chout, Kramer took the hill last night to prolong the Boston Red Sox' "slump" with a 7-1 triumph.

Kramer, a 28-year-old righthander from New Orleans, smothered Joe Cronin's gang with only five hits for his seventh triumph against one defeat.

It's much too early to start worrying about the Red Sox who still lead by 7 1/2 games, but Skipper Joe must be spending some anxious evenings—particularly over the pitching department.

Only one of the last eight Boston starters has gone the route while the club has been losing five of its last six starts.

Luke Sewell's Brownies didn't give the Boston Sox much chance to breathe deeply last night, belting Mickey Harris for five runs in the fourth inning with the help of homers by Johnny Berarding and Vern Stephens. Harris, trying for his 10th win, suffered his second loss.

With the rest of the league unscheduled, the Sox lost a half game to the other contenders.

It was a great day for St. Louis with the Cardinals picking up a full game on the idle Dodgers by beating the Boston Braves twice, 9-6, and 1-0.

Ben Chapman's Phillies are knocking on the out-of-the-cellar door again, only .006 behind the seventh-place New York Giants and in a virtual won-and-lost tie for seventh.

A four-run cluster in the second inning doomed Pittsburgh, 7-3, although Dick Mauney had to come to the relief of Charley Schanz, the Phil Starter.

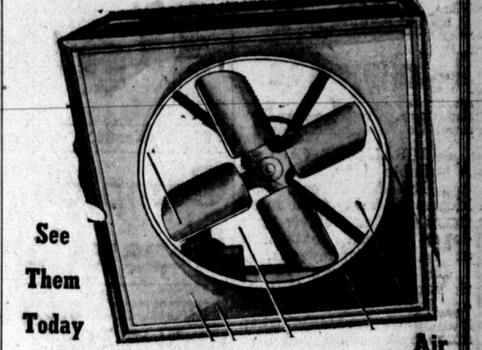

All other clubs were not scheduled.

Homemade Home

DANVILLE, Ill.—Mrs. Minnie B. Smart solved the housing problem with hammer and saw. She and her husband, Ross, had to move. So they bought the materials and built a five-room home. In the last three years the carpentering couple constructed two other residences.

One of the earliest hat factories in America was established at Foxboro, Mass., in 1835, when Oliver Carpenter bought straw, braided, washed it in a brook near his home, and made it into hats, and bonnets.

PAMPA Business News...

Harry Johnson, Owner of Square Deal Paint Store, Wants Business Dealings To Coincide With Firm Name

Conducting his business in such a manner that it will live up to the name of the store is the aim of L. H. "Harry" Johnson, owner and manager of the Square Deal Paint company, 514 South Cuyler in Pampa.

Although he established the business here only a few months ago, Mr. Johnson believes he has made many friends by his honesty and sincere attempts to sell his customers what they really need.

In the paint and wallpaper business for over 20 years, Mr. Johnson feels he is well-qualified to discuss all painting and wallpapering needs, whether the problem is large or small.

Quality of products is one of the things on which Mr. Johnson insists and he stocks more but the best and sells these products at no more than the established ceiling prices.

The Square Deal store is the sole distributing firm of the famous line of Acme paints and varnishes for all uses. These famous products have been firmly established all over the nation as some of the most reliable and economical paint products now on the market for home and commercial use.

In addition, Mr. Johnson has added a complete line of Anthony paints and varnishes for home, business or farm usage. Anthony products are guaranteed to be gas proof, making them especially valuable in this territory.

For the housewife who wishes to do her own painting with a minimum of effort, the Square Deal store also stocks a large supply of the famous Ken-Tone paints, which can be applied to almost any type of wall material. Ken-Tone, introduced to the nation several years ago, made an instant hit and is one of the nation's largest selling, quick-drying paint materials.

For varnish and waxing, Mr. Johnson has purchased a large stock of Lin-X varnishes and wax, easily applied, quick-drying and longer wearing.

In the way of wallpaper, the store has a large supply with a great variety of patterns and borders in stock at the present time.

Mr. Johnson offers free estimates, with no obligation to buy, on the amount of wallpaper needed to paper a room or an entire house. He invites Pampans to bring figures showing the dimensions of the surface to be papered and as accurate an estimate as possible will be made.

In addition to paints and wallpapers, Mr. Johnson has also stocked a supply of high quality household appliances, although some are not too plentiful.

Included among these are electric hot plates, plastic clothes pins and clothes lines, paint brushes of all sizes and other painters and painter's supplies.

The store's phone number is 1850.

City Shoe Shop Is Headquarters for Pampa's Finest Varieties of Leathers

Nothing pleases a native Texan so much as the sight of a well-made pair of leather boots, a saddle, bridle, harness or almost any conceivable type of leather article and the City Shoe Shop, 319 West Foster, is just the place to go for the finest in leather goods.

The shop, Pampa's oldest establishment specializing in both shoe repair and fine leather goods, is owned by Grant H. Anderson, who established the business here 17 years ago. He recently moved to his present location from a site in the 100 block on West Foster.

In the way of shoe repair, Anderson uses the most modern equipment available and handles only the most reliable types of repair material for both men's and women's shoes.

Now that some shortages have disappeared, the shop is equipped to supply residents of this area with the finest quality shop-made boots, made in almost every conceivable design, both plain and fancy.

Besides boots, other leather goods made or distributed at the City Shoe Shop are saddles, bridles, harness, bullfolds, belts, card cases and many other articles.

Also included among the many services offered there, is the monogramming of leather articles, adding a distinctive, personal note to fine leather goods.

Anderson has only recently secured a number of high-quality, western style rodeo jackets for men or women. The jackets are some of the most beautiful ever offered in Pampa and will be fit for any special occasion or for everyday wear.

For any type of leather work, shoe repair and for one of the best 15-cent shines in Pampa, stop in at the City Shoe Shop, 319 West Foster, just across the street from the Rex theatre.

Oh yes, those shoe strings, and that bottle of shoe polish you've been intending to get for a long time. City Shoe Shop has all the sizes or colors you need.

Brazil was discovered and settled by the Portuguese, who gave the country its language.

Motto Is 'Any Place or Time'

An unusual feature of the Qualls Pampa Studio is that its owner, L. C. Qualls, offers service any time, day or night, that is available by merely picking up the telephone and calling 307 or 294-W.

If there is some activity in the evening, on Sunday or on any holiday, Qualls assures Pampans that he will be glad to do any photography work for any occasion.

Right now, some of the most important jobs for first-class photographers are for weddings, family reunions, picnics and many other special occasions and Qualls is ready any time to do this type of work.

The studio, located at 110 W. Foster, conveniently located in the downtown shopping district, is ready any time to take care of all types of portraits, commercial work, Kodak finishing, copying and tinting. A sufficient supply of paper, one of the most scarce items in photography work, is on hand at the studio so those who have been keeping those negatives can bring them down for prompt and efficient developing and copying.

Mr. Qualls opened his first studio in Pampa in the Duncan building eight years ago. He has had over 20 years experience in the photography field.

In addition, two other expert photographers are ready to serve you. So, if you want a photographer who can go any where, any time, just call or drop by the Qualls Pampa Studio, 110 West Foster.

"There is NOTHING too big for us to move," stated J. D. Wright, Sr., of the firm of J. D. Wright and Son, 119 South Starkweather. . . certainly this seems to be the case because some of the recent jobs handled are so immense they almost defy belief—but the fact remains that anyone who has a real big, mean job of moving can get fixed up quickly by calling 788.

Success of India's New Independence Periled by Uprisings, Strikes, Hunger

By JOHN FISHER
McClure Syndicate Writer
Friends of India are knocking on wood.

Gandhi and Jinnah have buried the hatchet, ending not only their long fight against the British Raj but also the local feud which hitherto has kept Hindus and Moslems from accepting the British plan for an independent federated India.

The prospect is that representatives of the Congress Party, Moslem League, Indian Princes and other groups will frame a new constitution. In the meantime an all-India interim government is expected to be announced in the next few weeks to run the country under Lord Wavell, the viceroy.

Hopeful as the future appears, many whirlpools must yet be navigated before the new ship of state is out of dangerous waters. Nothing ever is predictable in India.

Latest hazards, according to officials just arrived in America from New Delhi, are a wave of uprisings by Untouchable castes against the Hindus, fear of their fellow Indians by the native princes, a threatened national railroad strike and the inevitable famine.

Storm Signals for New Government
Any new government launched at such an unpropitious moment would have tough sailing. Troubles are aggravated in India because her four hundred million inhabitants speak twenty-four tongues—as many as the main languages in Europe—and use one dozen different alphabets. Political education in this Tower of Babel will not be easy, especially on eighty-five per cent of the population is illiterate.

A savage row has burst out between the Hindus and the scheduled Caste. The Untouchables, infused with the spirit of independence in the air, are out to better conditions for themselves. They fear a worse fate under the new government, a relationship called "paramountcy."

At first the two groups were content to shout catcalls and hurl stones at one another. Then riots grew and hospitals were soon filled with wounded suffering from dagger stabs. Indian police fired on the crowds and killed several. Martial law and a curfew were imposed.

In India the caste is the poor man's trade union, social club and benevolent society. It gives him security. But as this joint-family system requires the pooling of earnings, lazy relatives eat up the income of the smart, hard-working. Caste may have its compensations for highborn Hindus. But it puts a shameful brand on the Depressed Classes. There can never be democracy in India while these innocent victims of unfortunate birth are barred by religion from economic and social advantages and in most ways are treated outrageously.

Fighting for Political Rights
Yet these parish groups number fifty million—more people than there are in the United Kingdom. Their party, the All-White Suppressed Classes League, is fighting for political rights in the new government. The Congress Party and the Moslem League have agreed to an uneasy partnership but the rabid all-

Peter Edson's Column: BACKGROUND OF MEMBERS OF SUPREME COURT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The records of present supreme court justices reveal a surprising lack of judicial experience before appointment to the highest tribunal. Confirmation of Fred M. Vinson as chief justice will make him the man with most lower court background.

It is a mere five years. Four of them were spent as associate justice of the District of Columbia Court of Appeals. The fifth year was spent as chief judge of the emergency court of appeals for price control.

Vinson apparently did all right. There were no complaints. But there was nothing about his record that was in any way distinguished.

The only other justice with any experience on the bench prior to his supreme court appointment is Wiley Rutledge. He also served four years on the D. C. Court of Appeals.

But that's the sum total—nine years of judicial experience—an average of one year per member.

Maybe that isn't quite accurate either. Justice Hugo L. Black served 18 months as a police court judge in Birmingham back around 1910. It would make even a Philadelphia lawyer sweat, however, to prove that saying "30 days"

There has been no indication that any of the Indian leaders have given recognition to the provisional cabinet really doesn't matter, since the next step would be in which the British would draw up a constitution.

Any way, faced by this new stalemate, Lord Wavell and the British government mission issued a statement which served notice that the British would be a provisional government irrespective of hold-outs.

The British government thus has established a precedent, so far as its memory goes, by thrusting independence onto the mighty prize of the empire. But while the action is a precedent, the idea for it is new. As I've previously reported in this column, when I was in India in 1943 I raised the question of whether just such strong-arm methods weren't called for, and got an affirmative response from prominent Indian leaders.

This precipitated a fresh deadlock. The Congress followers, who outnumber the Moslems three to one, weren't willing to concede parity to their rivals, and the Moslems wouldn't take less.

Indian troops have been ordered to Burma to harvest rice. The entire Australian wheat surplus earmarked for the sufferers. British missions are in Egypt and Ethiopia negotiating for wheat. Nehru has the promise of half a million tons of rice from Indonesia in exchange for textiles and farm tools.

But the supplies from all these sources may not be adequate. Herbert Hoover, after an on-the-spot check, estimated that 2,336,000 tons of food must arrive between May and September of next year will be on a colossal scale.

It would be grim irony if Indians won independence only to perish from hunger.

Observing the Princes' loyalty during the Sepoy Mutiny in 1857, London decided by means of treaties to maintain them in their independent thrones. As a result the maharajahs and nawabs have been grateful to the English crown and have furnished troops in every war. The second British soldier in this war to win the Victoria Cross was from an Indian state.

Mysore is one of the progressive states with modern hospitals where the poor receive free medical treatment. Bundi and others are backward and are ruled by absolute, irresponsible autocrats.

Strange as it seems, the writer has found a great many high ranking Indians in America—throughout the country—who retain a friendly feeling for these native despots, which they sentimentally view as the true repositories of India's traditional culture.

Self-Rule May Oust Rajahs
But most diplomats believe that these autocrats will totter when the British pull out. It is extremely doubtful that Indian nationalists, building a new democracy, nation, will tolerate within its borders a hodgepodge of feudal principalities in which the subjects have no voice in the government and live as the serfs be moved and I'll come for her myself." "It's better that she remain right here at present, Mr. Hutchinson," Sally told her. "Her blood pressure is still running high and we are keeping her on a diet."

"Good heavens!" he exclaimed in horror. "That's punishment! Why, Prunella eats all the time—" "I can believe that," Sally said.

SALLY went back to Prunella and was surprised to see the change in her appearance. She was humming softly to herself, her hands moving in time to the music. She grinned broadly when she saw the nurse.

"Ain't Massa Johnny th' nicest man you ever see, Miss? I jes' love that man. He goin' make ever'thin' all right. Mis' Angela goin' come round an' they'll be jes' like a pair o' turtle doves."

Later the resident stopped her as she was busy at the other end of the ward. "What happened to our fat lady in the last bed?" he asked. "She has certainly recovered rapidly. Do you use magic in your nursing, Maynard? Her pressure is nearly normal this morning and P. R. entirely so."

"She had a call, Doctor," Sally told him. "The poor soul was lonesome and unhappy. She felt every one had deserted her. After Massa Johnny came she perked right up. All's right with her world. It's certainly wonderful with a little love and attention can do for some people, ain't it?"

"Love therapy is very potent, Maynard," the resident agreed. "It very often works where everything else fails. It certainly has in her case. As far as I can see there is no reason for her remaining here much longer. Why not get it touch with her people and have them take her home?"

"Fine!" Sally said. "Mr. Hutchinson promised to come for her any time she could leave. I'll get in touch with him at once. Prunella will be happy to go. She doesn't like dieting."

The doctor smiled. "So she said. Well, we can use the space she has so amply filled."

MACKENZIE'S Column

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Foreign Affairs Analyst

India's progress towards absolute independence from England has taken a turn which is without parallel and one worth watching.

There have been the strange spectacle of the mother country notifying the warring Indian political factions that if they can't reconcile their differences enough to work together in a provisional government, then she will set up an interim regime arbitrarily.

What has happened is this: The two major political parties—the all-India Congress, made up largely of Hindus, and the Moslem League—decided after much burning of midnight oil that the British government's new offer of full sovereignty was worthy of provisional trial.

Thereupon the viceroy, Field Marshal Lord Wavell, proposed that the interim government, that is, cabinet—be composed of five representatives from the all-India Congress, five from the Moslem League and four from the smaller sections of India's four hundred millions, including the lowly "Untouchables."

That's the Indian leaders have given recognition to the provisional cabinet really doesn't matter, since the next step would be in which the British would draw up a constitution.

Any way, faced by this new stalemate, Lord Wavell and the British government mission issued a statement which served notice that the British would be a provisional government irrespective of hold-outs.

Self-Rule May Oust Rajahs
But most diplomats believe that these autocrats will totter when the British pull out. It is extremely doubtful that Indian nationalists, building a new democracy, nation, will tolerate within its borders a hodgepodge of feudal principalities in which the subjects have no voice in the government and live as the serfs be moved and I'll come for her myself." "It's better that she remain right here at present, Mr. Hutchinson," Sally told her. "Her blood pressure is still running high and we are keeping her on a diet."

"Good heavens!" he exclaimed in horror. "That's punishment! Why, Prunella eats all the time—" "I can believe that," Sally said.

SALLY went back to Prunella and was surprised to see the change in her appearance. She was humming softly to herself, her hands moving in time to the music. She grinned broadly when she saw the nurse.

"Ain't Massa Johnny th' nicest man you ever see, Miss? I jes' love that man. He goin' make ever'thin' all right. Mis' Angela goin' come round an' they'll be jes' like a pair o' turtle doves."

Later the resident stopped her as she was busy at the other end of the ward. "What happened to our fat lady in the last bed?" he asked. "She has certainly recovered rapidly. Do you use magic in your nursing, Maynard? Her pressure is nearly normal this morning and P. R. entirely so."

"She had a call, Doctor," Sally told him. "The poor soul was lonesome and unhappy. She felt every one had deserted her. After Massa Johnny came she perked right up. All's right with her world. It's certainly wonderful with a little love and attention can do for some people, ain't it?"

"Love therapy is very potent, Maynard," the resident agreed. "It very often works where everything else fails. It certainly has in her case. As far as I can see there is no reason for her remaining here much longer. Why not get it touch with her people and have them take her home?"

"Fine!" Sally said. "Mr. Hutchinson promised to come for her any time she could leave. I'll get in touch with him at once. Prunella will be happy to go. She doesn't like dieting."

The doctor smiled. "So she said. Well, we can use the space she has so amply filled."

REED WAS SOLICITOR GENERAL BEFORE APPOINTMENT

Justice Stanley Reed, before appointment to the supreme court in 1938, served as counsel for a couple of alphabet agencies and as U. S. solicitor general for three years.

Justice William O. Douglas served three years on the securities and exchange commission.

Felix Frankfurter and Wiley Rutledge were both professors of law at the former at Harvard, the latter at Colorado, Iowa, and Washington university in St. Louis. Frankfurter even declined Governor Ely's appointment to the Massachusetts supreme court in 1932.

Frank Murphy and Robert H. Jackson were former attorney general. Murphy was in politics as governor of Michigan and the Philippines. Jackson, like Reed, had been U. S. solicitor general.

Harold H. Burton was a lawyer and mayor of Cleveland, then U. S. senator from Ohio for only four years, when President Truman named him to the supreme court last September.

This sad lack of previous experience on the bench presents the opportunity for serious criticism of the American judicial system. It also offers a plausible explanation for the squabbles and dissensions, the five-to-four decisions, the philosophical arguments between conservative and liberal factions which have characterized the supreme court's performance in recent years.

As the late Chief Justice Harlan Stone is reported to have said, his principal trouble with the court was that the Presidents never sent up enough real judges to get out the work.

THE PRESENT COURT
AS LAWYERS, NOT JUDGES
The present court may be made up of entirely capable, and even brilliant, lawyers. But lawyers, not trained judges. The best lawyer in the country would probably make the worst judge.

All right then, what's the matter with the lower federal courts and the state courts, that they aren't producing more rookie judges who can be drafted into the big-league supreme court? The frantic search was by President Truman to find a successor to Chief Justice

Stone is an admission that the judicial talent in the United States and on the supreme court itself is at an extremely low ebb.

Scanning these state and federal courts, the President's scouts could find no one big enough for the supreme court job. Why not?

There's nothing the matter with the pay these judges get. Their salaries have been raised over the years to put them beyond political pressure, to give them security and freedom from bias. Maybe that's the trouble. In their smug aloofness, maybe the judges have become intellectually lazy, fat and fat-headed.

Maybe, also, they realize there's no use trying to be a good or a great and fearless judge. The supreme court jobs in recent years seem to have gone not to the ablest jurists but to the loyal political hacks whom a grateful President wants to reward with social security in the form of a $20,000-a-year pay-check.

GLASS NEST
In Hawaii, a bird's nest was found built of glass. When volcanoes erupt, liquids shot into the air form fine, glassy threads, and these carry great distances over the islands of Hawaii. It was of such threads that the bird had constructed its unusual nest.

Eighty-three percent of man's knowledge is brought to him through vision.

THE STORY: Glorious Angela Hutchinson brings her maid, Prunella, to the hospital for treatment. She is cold-bloodedly describes the woman's symptoms in Prunella's hearing, says she has been notified in case of death, then departs. Dr. Hinkley says there's nothing serious about Prunella, that she is probably pretending illness to punish her employer.

XII

SALLY had been transferred to K. She never quite knew how it had happened. She had been hoping for a change from night work and welcomed the idea of ward duty, especially K which was one of the women's wards and extremely easy. K was given over mostly to minor and convalescent cases. She had forgotten about Prunella Brown until upon walking the length of the long ward she felt the unhappy gaze of a pair of black eyes watching her. There was pleading and a touch of misery in their velvet depths that went straight to Sally's heart. She paused beside the bed and said: "I remember you, Prunella. You're Mrs. Hutchinson's cook. I was in Receiving a week ago when she brought you here. How are you feeling this morning?"

"Not so good, Miss—not so good," the woman muttered, her voice a singing moan. "Is Mis' Angela come to see me or is she phone to know is I worse or is I dead?"

Sally smiled. "I wouldn't know that, Prunella. But you're not from dead. You wouldn't be in this ward if you were either one or the other. You're going to be all right. But tell me just what troubles you? Where do you feel bad?"

The woman closed her eyes for a moment and her face puckered as if she were about to cry. She clasped both hands over her heart and moaned: "Here—right here. I feel as if there's a big lump in

WAA Announces Completion of Plans For Accelerated Selling Program

DALLAS—The War Assets administration has announced that plans have been completed for an accelerated selling program which permits surplus war property in vast quantities to become more accessible to purchasers.

Within the near future WAA will speed the flow of war surplus to the public through a system of disposal to be described as "sales at site." All priority claimants and small business will be adequately taken care of at these sales.

As another important means of making war surplus a part of the nation's reconversion pattern, in addition to existing methods, WAA will schedule these sales at site for areas of the country where major quantities of surplus war property are now located. The sales will be put into action as swiftly as adequate mechanical means and manpower can be mobilized.

Warehouses of military bases, naval establishments and war plants, where war surpluses are now stored, will be the scenes of this method of sales. Sales at site disposal methods will permit prospective purchasers to visit sales sites to inspect merchandise, select what they want to buy, pay their money and depart with their purchases or have them shipped to designated destinations.

This system for extending operations for surplus disposal will not supplant or slacken momentum of current sales practices of WAA.

The sales at site system will entail installation of a complete selling staff at each of the surplus property storage centers. These selling sites will be operated as sub-regional offices of WAA and will be sufficiently staffed to assure their working as self-contained units. The 83 regional offices of WAA, currently the pivotal surplus purchasing points for the public, will shed systematically all selling responsibilities and retain only administrative supervision and accounting operations, ultimately permitting the sub-regional offices to do all selling of war surplus through the come-and-get-it sales at site method.

Dewey Belmont Named Commander of DAV

Dewey Belmont was elected commander of the local chapter, No. 35, when the Disabled American Veterans held their regular monthly meeting last night. Warren King was elected senior vice-commander and Charles D. Riggin, junior vice-commander.

Other officers are B. S. Via, judge advocate; Lew Grapentine, treasurer; Raymond R. Geaves, sergeant at arms; E. E. Edwards, officer of the day; O. M. Griffith, adjutant; and John Studer, service officer.

According to Post Commander Glenn Hubbard, a call meeting will be held early in July for installation of all officers.

Hubbard reports that the three-day show, sponsored by the DAV, was of great financial aid to the organization. Proceeds of the "Pop Parade" went to the veterans' emergency hospitalization.

Bidault Is Certain Of Winning Election

PARIS—(AP)—Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, a leader of the rightist popular republican movement, appeared certain today of election as provisional president of France and his friends said he was prepared to form a one-party cabinet if necessary to solve the nation's incipient governmental crisis.

Socialist Leader Edouard Depreux said last night that his party would vote for Bidault for President tomorrow when the new constituent assembly ballots on the presidency, bringing from MRP leaders the prediction that Bidault was assured of at least 320 ballots—ample for election.

civilian; throughout Asia were part of a planned pattern ordered from Tokyo.

"On the other hand," Tojo continued, "it is clear that the enemy's massacres of wounded on the battlefield, bombing of hospital ships, indiscriminate bombing of undefended cities and the use of the atomic bomb were clearly trampling on treaties and acts of planned massacre. To treat this lightly, as a natural step from maintenance of civilization, can not be recognized as a fair attitude."

Tojo asserted the tri-partite pact was not intended, as the prosecution contends, to achieve world domination, but to give "each nation in the world its rightful place and thus make this the premise for permanent peace."

He denied knowing anything about a secret military clause in the anti-comintern pact of 1936.

Among the "points out of the question" in his trial, Tojo listed the pre-war military training in Japan's schools. This point has been introduced in the war trials testimony.

He said the model for this part of the Japanese curriculum was taken from America.

The fact this same defense point has been introduced in the trial indicates how closely the defense may follow Tojo's ideas.

The former premier wrote his statement in his prison cell on his own initiative and handed it to his lawyer, Ichiro Kiyose, who gave the Associated Press an exclusive copy.

Hitler's Orders Are Defied by Rommel

NUERNBERG—(AP)—Gen. Kurt Westphal, former chief-of-staff to the late Field Marshal Erwin Rommel, told an Allied commission today that Rommel stood outside the ruins of Sidi Barrani in the North African desert in 1942 and angrily tore to shreds Hitler's orders to slay all British commandos regardless of rules of warfare.

Tornado

of violent rainstorms in the area, struck without warning.

The fisher low cost housing project, which had been the fury of the tornado which leveled 10 of the 546 units and caused severe damage to others.

At least 15 project residents were injured as the wind ripped buildings as if they were made of paper. Several small fires broke out, adding to the panic.

The tornado, which weather bureau officials said traveled more than 250 miles an hour, tore on through the business district of River Rouge, leaving a trail of destruction in its wake.

The terrifying funnel, estimated variously at from 20 to 100 feet at its base, sucked nearly everything in a 100-yard swath into its fatal grip.

Sandwich West, Sandwich East and the outskirts of Windsor were the Canadian communities which recoiled under the full blast of the tornado before it headed for Lake St. Clair, where the weather bureau said it dissipated.

The weatherman said the tornado ran its course in about 10 minutes.

On the American side of the border, all available police, firemen, ambulances, doctors, nurses and Red Cross workers were pressed into service.

Detroit hospitals were hard-pressed to handle seemingly endless streams of injured, many of whom were discharged after first aid treatment.

Canadian police reported that the Sandwich area, largely a rural community, had been almost completely flattened.

Tragic stories were unfolded in quick succession as the bodies of 13 victims were recovered. The scores of injured were rushed to Windsor hospitals.

Windsor hospitals hard hit by loss of electric power struggled to handle the great influx of emergency cases.

Stories of pathos and heroism were intermingled. One man told of seeing a boy lifted off his bicycle and into the air as the tornado hit. The smashed bicycle was found; the body of the boy was not recovered.

A Canadian mother—Mrs. Joan Beaman, 19, injured as the blast hit her home, gave caesarian birth to a daughter but both died.

Her second daughter, two, also was crushed to death as the tornado ripped apart their home.

Several hundred workers of Chrysler Corp. of Canada, who had met at Windsor to take a strike vote, assumed the roles of rescuers when they got word of the tragedy.

They hurried to the area to aid in the task of pulling timbers off the piles that once were homes to search for bodies.

Bus drivers turned their vehicles into emergency ambulances.

FBI agents sped across the river with portable lighting equipment to alleviate the situation.

Telephone and electric light lines on both sides of the border were destroyed by the tornado and the New York Central railroad reported its Windsor area freight yards were turned into shambles.

Freight cars were tossed about as if by some giant hand. Roofs, torn off freight buildings. Some boxcars were smashed into kindling as the freak wind toyed with them.

death sentences imposed on the Irgun members by a military court in Jerusalem.

While the battle of the Halifa rail yards proceeded last night, two unsuccessful attempts were made to bomb trains and halt them.

Palestine police said the engineer of a train between Haifa and Lydda ignored a red flag waved on the tracks two miles north of Lydda. Shots rattled around the cars but no casualties were sustained.

Other reports said a land mine exploded near Khanyunis, between Gaza and the Egyptian border frontier in the south, just after an oil train passed.

Latest advices from Haifa said the railway shops and a powerhouse were destroyed last night. A locomotive was ruined. Police continued to cordon off the area of the battle.

The raiders set off 15 explosions in the rail yards and escaped over heavily mined roads.

The official announcement said five persons, including two women, were injured seriously and that 14 men and a woman were arrested.

Five of the Jews were killed when a civilian truck rushed a road block in the Haifa bay area. No casualties were reported among British army personnel.

DOBBY WINS

SPRINGFIELD, Mass.—(AP)—A railway express truck came off second best in collision with a saddle horse.

The horse bolted from a lawn, where he had been grazing, ran into the side of the truck, reared, and smashed the windshield, crumpled the fenders and dented the top.

The horse and driver of the truck were uninjured.

NINE LIVES SAVED

FEREVILLE, Conn.—(AP)—Members of the newly organized Plymouth volunteer fire department waited impatiently for their first call. Finally, after three weeks, it came. They went to Lake Plymouth where they rescued a cat stranded in the top of a tree.
