Plan Here Would Prevent Spread Of Poliomyelitis

Various groups, including the city government officials, are working on plans for a clean-up campaign in Pampa as one preventive against polio.

Garland Franks, city manager, and Red Weathered, as president of the chamber of commerce, next week will name a committee of three women and four men to recommend methods of clean-up.

The movement grew out of recent reports of polio incidence in several Texas cities, and from the report that polio is believed to be spread in some instances through filth. Several cities have instituted clean-up campaigns.

Dr. Roy A. Webb, representing the county health board and the county polio chapter, attended a meeting of representatives of 44 counties at Plainview a few days ago, where it was recommended that a polio clinic be established at Plainview for the Upper Plains country. It is estimated the cost of the equipment needed for the project would be about $12,800, the cost of which would be apportioned to counties on the basis of population.

Dr. Webb discussed polio and its symptoms at Friday's luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club here. He also explained the objectives of the Plainview project, and solicited the support of the Kiwanians in the local effort, both for clean-up and for the Plainview project.

City Manager Franks this week studied a similar project being established at Lubbock.

Dr. Webb stated that plans are being considered to train nurses here to take care of any polio cases that might occur in this area. Such plans would be an adjunct to the Plainview center.

Secretaryship Is Taken by Texan

WASHINGTON—(AP)—E. Hilton Jackson, chairman of the joint public relations committee of Baptists of the United States, disclosed yesterday that Dr. J. M. Dawson, pastor of the First Baptist church, Waco, Texas, had been accepted as executive secretaryship of the committee.

The publicity committee is part of the joint committee of the Baptist churches of America. Jackson said its objective is to formulate policy and to open up channels for the whole church in matters relating to freedom of religion and separation of church and state.

Bowles Is New Victim Of Housing Shortage

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Chester Bowles is a victim of the housing shortage too.

The chief of economic stabilization and his family are "living with friends" in Georgetown (a part of Washington), an associate said yesterday, after having to give up their spacious Virginia residence to a returning veteran, the owner.

But Bowles is getting one break. School is out next week and his family will go to Essex, Conn., as usual, to spend the summer at their home. That gives the former OPA administrator the whole summer to hunt for another house in this jam-packed area.

WORLD WAR II MANEUVER OPPOSED

Atomic Bomb Issue Goes To U. N. Meet

NEW YORK—(AP)—The atom bomb, potentially the most explosive issue in the world today, goes before the United Nations with convening Friday of the commission for control of atomic energy.

Ordered by the U. N. general assembly, "the commission seeks means to channel atomic energy to peaceful ends and eliminate all weapons adaptable to mass destruction."

Bernard M. Baruch, United States representative, will take the floor at the opening session to outline the atomic policy of his government.

The initial meeting, scheduled for 11 a. m. (EDT), will be opened by Secretary-General Trygve Lie, who will propose Baruch as special commissioner.

The commission will draft specific proposals for: 1—Extending between all nations the exchange of basic scientific information for peaceful ends.

2—The elimination of atomic energy to the extent necessary to ensure its use only for peaceful purposes.

3—The elimination from national armaments of atomic weapons and of all major weapons adaptable to mass destruction.

4—Effective safeguards by way of inspection and other means to protect complying states against the hazards of violation and evasion.

Twelve nations sit on the commission: United States, Great Britain, Russia, Egypt, the Netherlands, France, China, Mexico, Poland, Australia, Brazil and Canada.

The first 11 are members of the Security Council and Canada was invited to take part in the development of atomic energy.

New Girl Scouts Attend Training Camp This Week

The first week of the Tenderfoot Girl Scout camp, for girls who have just become scouts, was very successful, according to Miss Marie Stedje, local Girl Scout executive.

The girls were divided into three units and each unit participated in the camp activities, group singing, telling, meetings were held each evening at the Little Scout House.

The first week the scouts were taught the general points in scouting. They learned various methods of outdoor cooking and made "buddy burners" and tin can stoves on which part of their meal was cooked.

According to Miss Stedje, the girls look forward to the story program hour each evening. Guest story tellers last week were Mrs. W. B. Weathered and Mrs. C. P. Alford.

Thursday evening will be guest day for the camp at which time the girls will entertain at the camp fire program.

Friday, the last day of the camp, will be spent at Camp Sullivan, the Girl Scout camp located east of LeFors, 18 miles from Pampa.

An average of 34 girls are attending the camp which will be resumed Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 4:30 p. m.

Blinded Al Schmid Is Named Father of Year

NEW YORK—(AP)—Al Schmid of Philadelphia, blinded U. S. marine hero of Guadalcanal who won the Navy Cross, was named father of the year by the National Father's Day committee.

Schmid, father of a one-year-old son, Al Jr., was wounded on Guadalcanal August 21, 1942, where he and three other marines threw back an enemy landing and killed 200 Japanese.

He is now running for Pennsylvania state secretary on the democratic ticket.

Friday, the last day of the committee said he was a "logical man to be thus honored, since this first peacetime Father's Day in four years is dedicated to honoring our veterans."

Boom Resembling Gold Rush Days Sweeping Through South America

NEW YORK—(AP)—A boom looking in some cases like gold rush days is sweeping Latin America. At the same time immense numbers of people are finding it harder than ever to keep skin and bones together.

This is because prices have soared beyond income. The money isn't circulating. It has created a problem that is causing serious thought.

If other powers who Latin America with any measure of success, smooth and joint action by the Western Hemisphere may hit a snag. In an emergency and especially in case of a war such smooth and joint action, it has been said repeatedly, will be highly desirable and perhaps even vital.

Nip Interest At Moment Is Only in Food

TOKYO—(AP)—Japan wants neither revolution nor reaction, General MacArthur said, and Korea, although enjoying century independence, is interested at the moment only in food.

The supreme commander in his monthly summary of the Allied occupation of Japan and the American military government of Korea reported.

"The present temper of the Japanese electorate does not favor extremes either of the right or of the left."

Koreans, "pessimistic" toward the outcome of the United States-Korea-Soviet negotiations to set up a Korean government, nevertheless remained quiet because their primary interest is "in their own immediate food problems."

Reviewing progress in Japan, the Allied commander stressed that neither the government nor the Allied forces interfered with the April election. For the first time in decades the people could vote as they pleased, and they chose "a wide central course."

He noted a continuing "good" attitude toward occupation troops and said Japan has taken "the first step on the road toward eventual creation of a viable government."

"Now the lid is off and the political pot is boiling furiously. Issues which will dominate the Japanese political life in coming years have only just been defined, nor have party lines been finally drawn."

Of this MacArthur was certain, however: "Checks on Japan's political evolution by the repressive military-economic clique have been largely removed. Japan no longer is a 'police state.'"

The picture was brighter on the Japanese economic front.

Wages and the cost of living remained relatively stable in Japan, but MacArthur said studies indicated that despite continual adjustments "the current earnings of the average worker are less than half of his monthly expenditures."

Employment clung to its high level.

Pepper Proposes Organization of Liberal Council

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) proposed yesterday the formation of a "national liberal democratic council to truly liberalize the democratic party's policy which he said 'even under President Truman is still better than the left Republicans.'"

Pepper recently led the fight against President Truman's emergency labor disputes legislation.

In recent speculation both he and Wallace have been mentioned as possible standardbearers if a new deal group should break away from the parent party organization.

But like Wallace, Pepper said he believes it would be "a waste of energy to start an independent movement outside organization ranks."

Pepper said he had in mind the establishment of a council which would pull all of what he called liberal organizations together so they can fight as a unit. He said a step had been taken in that direction when the CIO political action committee, the national citizens political action committee and the independent citizens committee of the arts, sciences and professions agreed last month to cooperate.

"We have had letters of thanks from the English people, but this is the first document received from the country as a whole," said Mrs. J. B. White, local Red Cross executive, as she showed a large decorative plaque which arrived here yesterday.

The plaque, sent on behalf of war distressed people of England, was addressed to all Pampans who work with the Red Cross during the war. Mrs. White pointed out that thousands and thousands of garments and other services have been sent to the English people during the war years.

In part the plaque read, "tender thanks to you for your generous help given during the long years of battle against Nazi tyranny."

Plans are for the plaque to be mounted and placed in the local Red Cross office.

79-Year-Old Grandmother Is Wed to Youth, 18, by Kentucky Court Judge

LOUISA, Ky.—(AP)—Delbert (Shorty) Sprouse, 18, wearing a two-day growth of beard, and Mrs. Mattie Lovins Large, 79, were married by County Judge J. F. Wellman in the Lawrence county court house yesterday morning.

Although the couple appeared unexpectedly from their home in isolated Gladys, 15 miles west of here, more than one hundred persons crowded the small courtroom and hallway to witness the brief ceremony.

The wedding originally had been scheduled for late yesterday afternoon.

A former Louisa police court judge, D. M. Curnette, and E. A. Kirk, served as witnesses.

The bride wore a somber black hat over her grey hair, and striped print, ankle-length dress.

Recovered Jewels Placed on Display

WASHINGTON—(AP)—With military police standing watchfully by the war department yesterday displayed the $1,500,000 in recovered loot from Germany's historic Kronberg castle.

Handful of diamonds, emeralds and other gems, which had been removed from their original settings, were included in the display in the office of Gen. Floyd L. Parks, chief of the bureau of public relations.

Many of the gems were recovered only last night from a check-room locker in the Illinois Central railway station at Chicago, which army investigators said was opened with a key supplied by Col. Jack W. Durant, who has been detained in the case with his WAC bride.

Three Bibles, one German prayer book and one copy of the "Imitation of Christ" by Thomas a Kempis. One Bible had been given to Britain's Queen Victoria by an aunt and another had been presented by Victoria to a German princess.

Two handsome silver encrusted with gold. Several silver goblets, snuff and platters, and several painted tinware.

One diamond-encrusted bracelet watch, and one very large diamond-encrusted ring to match.

A red plush-bound autograph book dated to 1893 containing paintings and exits of arms.

The other jewels and valuables had been found earlier at the Houston, Wis. home of Captain Durant, the army official said.

Col. Pierce said "presumably" the jewels recovered in Chicago had been brought back by Durant. They were in a cardboard package wrapped up in white paper.

Pierce, who directed the investigation, said he thought some of the other valuables had been shipped from Germany in a wooden package by parcel post by Capt. Durant.

Pierce, disclosing additional details of the case to reporters at the war department, said:

A major and a technical sergeant who, officials had said earlier were implicated, have not yet been taken into custody.

A polygraph, or "lie detector" apparatus, "very definitely" played a part in obtaining confessions from the Durants, who were flown here this morning.

The Durants were married May 28 by a justice of the peace at Chicago.

161,070,000 Pairs Of Nylons Produced

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Production of nylons is soaring, four senators noted yesterday in a report expressing their views on continuation of basic price control.

"Since Jan. 1, 1946, the total output of nylon hosiery is estimated to average more than three pairs apiece for the 53,690,000 women and girls in America who are 14 years old or older," the senators said.

The four were Senators Wagner (D-N.Y.), Downey (D-Calif.), Taylor (D-Ill.) and Mitchell (D-Wash.).

AV Committee Bidding for Million Strong

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Bidding for 1,000,000 new members, sponsors of the Federal American Veterans committee of World War II keynoted their proposed platform yesterday, on a plan for world government.

The three-pronged program, divided into international, national and war veterans' affairs, will be offered at the first national convention of AVC opening in Des Moines, Ia., next Thursday.

There Charles G. Boite, the 26-year old national chairman, will tell about 1,500 delegates the time has come for AVC to make its bid for peace, numerically beside other major veterans organizations.

That happened in San Francisco. Apparently it scuttled a possibility that both AI, and CIO seamen might try to strike simultaneously on all coasts by mid-July.

In Washington government conciliators stepped up efforts to dissolve the CIO end of the maritime crisis. They suggested retention of the present 15-hour week at sea and a day off with pay for every five days at home.

PROPOSAL DROPPED—The mediators dropped the proposal into negotiations between east coast ship operators and the committee for maritime unity, which is bargaining for the big CIO national maritime and six allied unions.

Neither the men who operate the ships nor those who man them showed any inclination to accept the plan as a complete solution to the crisis.

Quarter Horse Event Declared 'An Open Show'

The quarter horse show to be held August 16, 17 and 18 in conjunction with the Top of Texas Rodeo, Horse Show and Fair association, Inc., was declared an open show when the associations' board of directors met in the City hall.

This action rescinded an action taken several months ago by the board to have this an official American Quarter Horse show, Quentin Williams, superintendent of the horse show, said.

Williams pointed out the only restriction of the open show is being that all animals entered must be registered in one of the recognized quarter horse show associations or eligible to registration.

There will probably not be enough stalls for all entries," Williams said, "therefore, reservations will be made in the order received with special consideration in furnishing stalls for aged stallions."

Williams is completing details and drawing up the rules and regulations which will be announced in the immediate future.

The board also voted the service of three judges for this year's show. It is understood that the judges' tabulations are to be made without consultation on their part.

The following directors attended the meeting: Wade Thomasson, president; Crawford Atkinson, vice-president; Ralph M. Juillard, Floyd Inel, Siler Hopkins, Orville Christopher, Roy Barrett, P. B. Wright, Arlie Carpenter, and E. O. Wedgeworth.

Others who attended, although not directors, were Quentin Williams, Homer Lively, and H. C. Coffey.

Definite Progress Reported

WASHINGTON—(AP) The immediate threat of an AFL seamen's strike blew over yesterday but a new government maneuver to stop CIO sailors from walking off ships June 15 began generating union opposition.

The AFL Sailors Union of the Pacific halted a strike vote and began talking wage-hour issues with West Coast shipowners. A spokesman for the owners reported "definite progress."

SUGGESTION MADE—That happened in San Francisco. Apparently it scuttled a possibility that both AI, and CIO seamen might try to strike simultaneously on all coasts by mid-July.

In Washington government conciliators stepped up efforts to dissolve the CIO end of the maritime crisis. They suggested retention of the present 15-hour week at sea and a day off with pay for every five days at home.

Four Dissenting Solons Estimate Revision Costs

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Four dissenting senators estimated yesterday that revisions in the price control law recommended by a majority of the senate banking committee would cost consumers nearly $8,000,000 the first year.

And indirect costs, they contended, would dwarf that figure.

They declared that a year's spiral of inflation could easily result in a 50 percent general price rise which would cut in half the value of $145,000,000 in wartime savings of individuals and businesses.

In a tart minority report on the price control extension bill Banking Committee Chairman Wagner (D-N.Y.) and Senators Downey (D-Calif.), Taylor (D-Ill.) and Mitchell (D-Wash.) declared that changes voted by a majority of the 19-member group write a "death sentence for effective price wage and rent stabilization."

It is our considered judgment, they said, that adoption of the bill as reported would be as dangerous to the economic safety of the country as the immediate expiration of the existing laws.

The bill, which provides for extending price control a year past its June 30 expiration, dates as to be called up in the senate Monday. Majority Leader Barkley, who has announced his "strong disagreement" with several of the amendments curtailing CPA powers, told reporters he hopes to bring it to a vote by Thursday.

A strong message from King Umberto to his followers in Naples urging them to refrain from public displays was credited with having helped pacify that southern stronghold of the Savoys.

In an apparent move to discourage Rome demonstrators, the king left the uptown quirinal palace, goal of Friday's marchers here, for a villa outside Rome to await the end of his brief reign.

The delay of the provincial prefects in getting their returns to Rome served also to delay Umberto's departure for Portugal to join Queen Marie Jose and their four children in exile.

the issue of working hours — the biggest barrier in the way of an agreement.

FUNDAMENTAL DEMAND
But union spokesman said the proposal ignores their fundamental demand for a cut in the 55-hour week at sea.

Assistant Secretary of Labor John W. Gibson told a news conference both sides in the dispute are giving "thorough discussion" to the plan for time off with pay in port. Additional conferences between mediators, operators and union negotiators were set for today.

So far there has been no agreement on anything in the negotiations to ward off a strike, now only seven days away. The national maritime union has held out for a 44-hour week for men on sea duty. It started out demanding a 40-hour week with overtime after that.

Operators have not budged from the present 55-hour week. The government conciliators have proposed that sailors keep on working 56 hours a week at sea. But in view of the standard 40-hour work week in most industries, they would get some time off with pay when they reach port.

How much time off still is under consideration. One plan contemplates a day on land with pay for every two weeks at sea.

The government has been aiming a settling first the differences between Atlantic and Gulf operators and the NMU so it could apply the results to disputes involving guarantee of the irregularity of the election.

The high court might call for another plebiscite, but this was regarded by political and judicial circles as highly unlikely.

A strong message from King Umberto to his followers in Naples urging them to refrain from public displays was credited with having helped pacify that southern stronghold of the Savoys.

In an apparent move to discourage Rome demonstrators, the king left the uptown quirinal palace, goal of Friday's marchers here, for a villa outside Rome to await the end of his brief reign.

The delay of the provincial prefects in getting their returns to Rome served also to delay Umberto's departure for Portugal to join Queen Marie Jose and their four children in exile.

Maritime

the issue of working hours — the biggest barrier in the way of an agreement.

FUNDAMENTAL DEMAND
But union spokesman said the proposal ignores their fundamental demand for a cut in the 55-hour week at sea.

Assistant Secretary of Labor John W. Gibson told a news conference both sides in the dispute are giving "thorough discussion" to the plan for time off with pay in port. Additional conferences between mediators, operators and union negotiators were set for today.

So far there has been no agreement on anything in the negotiations to ward off a strike, now only seven days away. The national maritime union has held out for a 44-hour week for men on sea duty. It started out demanding a 40-hour week with overtime after that.

Operators have not budged from the present 55-hour week. The government conciliators have proposed that sailors keep on working 56 hours a week at sea. But in view of the standard 40-hour work week in most industries, they would get some time off with pay when they reach port.

How much time off still is under consideration. One plan contemplates a day on land with pay for every two weeks at sea.

The government has been aiming a settling first the differences between Atlantic and Gulf operators and the NMU so it could apply the results to disputes involving Discussions were in progress here among federal experts, west coast operators and three of the member unions in the CIO-dominated committee for maritime union.

And in San Francisco, negotiations were started between AFL seamen and ship operators.

Up to now, the AFL sailors have been complaining that they have been neglected while the government and operators tried to settle here with the CIO unions.

While taking no immediate stand on the proposals, the committee for maritime unity announced that its co-chairman, Joseph Curran and Harry Bridges, along with President Joseph P. Selly of the CIO Radio Operators union, will meet Monday with CIO President Philip Murray.

Murray will be brought up to date on negotiations.

Inefficient union ranked third as a cause for rejection in the U. S. armed forces.

Strike Seen-- Disney Hiring Live Talent

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—The day may come when Mickey Mouse, Donald Duck, Goofy and other cartoon characters will be picketing Disney studios. Reason: The cartoon wizard is hiring live talent.

Walt has used live action before, but now he is going all-out, or almost. Added to his stable of pen-and-ink actors are three very much alive individuals—wry-faced Bobby Driscoll, seven-year-old cover girl Luana Patten and the Negro actor, James Baskett.

They are appearing in Disney's first postwar feature, "Song of the South." The film will be 70 percent live action; the remainder will be a treatment of the uncle Remus stories. Studio workers assure that you will hardly be able to tell where the human talent ends and animation begins.

The two children will also appear in "How Dear to My Heart," which will star Beulah Bondi and Burl Ives. This one will be 80 percent live action.

But rest assured, Mickey, Donald and Goofy, your old man has no plan for 100 percent live action films. Not yet.

Low Priced Homes
Now Hard To Find

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The home loan bank administration declared yesterday that inflation since 1940 "has all but eliminated low cost homes from the present market." It made public the results of a check of newspaper advertisements of houses for sale in six metropolitan areas, which showed that offerings for $5,000 or less had declined as much as 81 per cent.

The veterans administration reported also 60 per cent of a sample 3,000 married ex-soldiers were still looking vainly for homes or apartments three and four months after they were discharged. In the meanwhile, they either were living doubled up with relatives or Louise Burt, of the circulation staff.

tives or friends, in rooming and boarding houses, or in other overcrowded and poorly equipped quarters, the survey showed. The administration's report said many of those who were lucky enough to find suitable, separate living quarters had to pay more than they thought they could afford. When questioned at the separation centers, only eight per cent were prepared to pay more than $50 a month, but the survey disclosed 16 per cent were forced to go above that figure. At the other end of the scale, 42 per cent said they needed housing at $30 a month or less. Only 25 per cent were able to get it. Before military orders increased production, an average of 715,000 trucks valued at $445,000,000 were sold each year from 1935 to 1939.

Amendment of 'Hot Oil' Act May Be Asked

According to news from the Independent Natural Gas Association of America, the department of interior probably will recommend to congress next year that the Connally "Hot Oil" act be amended so as to include natural gas.

Testimony to this effect was given to the house appropriations subcommittee on the interior department appropriation bill recently by Edward B. Swanson, acting director, petroleum conservation division.

Asked by Representative Michael J. Kirwan of Ohio, whether natural gas now under the Connally "Hot Oil" act, Mr. Swanson said:

"That is a hard question to answer because it is a point that has never been finally determined. My own view is it does not come under the act. Also, it should come under the act—I think it is possible that maybe by the time we come up again next year we may have some recommendations for an amendment to the act, to broaden it so as to include natural gas."

No. 1, gas, section 31, township 1-N, range 17-E, total depth 2865 feet, plugged back to 2859 feet, treated with 13,000 gallons of acid and produced 15 million cubic feet of gas with a rock pressure of 413 and lime pay of 2715-2859 feet.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Notebook

By DUANE HENNESSY
HIROSHIMA, Japan—(AP)—Americanized Tom Satoshi Yoshiyama has decided that life in Nippon isn't going to be as hard as he thought.

Six months after he repatriated because he renounced his American citizenship, Tom is a different person from the dejected man who arrived at Uraga. Then, he did not know where he would live or whether his family was alive. He vehemently protested the sacrifices and dirty quarters allotted him by the Japanese government.

Although he renounced his citizenship in the United States, Tom is an ardent advocate of democracy. He longs to run for political office. He said the occupation should continue "fifty years at least. It will take that time to teach the Japanese how to make their own democracy."

Yoshiyama was luckier than a lot of the repatriates who were returned to their homes in California, Calif., relocation camp. He found his family home still standing on the outskirts of atom-bomb-levelled Hiroshima. He lives there with his marriage partner.

His oldest son, he owns the family home, which is spacious for a Japanese house; several other houses and some farming land. He is employed as an interpreter for a United States military government company in nearby Kusatsu.

And he is completely resigned to the fact he never again will be permitted to see the United States, where he attended San Francisco State college.

Tom apparently is happy and is determined to make a career in Japan. He found his brothers in Hiroshima uninjured, but has not heard from a brother who was in the Japanese army in the Philippines.

His wife, Hisoka, was not repatriated until January. Tom explains frankly that theirs was not a marriage of love.

"While I was at the Tule Lake relocation center, I decided I wanted to get married," he explained. "So I went to a match-maker and he introduced Hisoka to me. We were married. We Japanese feel that love is not necessary for marriage—it develops later."

Life for the Yoshiyamas is a strange mixture of Japanese and American ways. Apparently love is developing, but Hisoka is by no means an American wife. She is definitely a servant. She does not eat with her husband when he entertains guests unless they insist and he orders her to do so.

Yet both wear modern American clothes and their home is well furnished, including a radio and western plumbing.

In their modern wall, however, is recessed a miniature buddhist shrine where Hisoka and her sister-in-law worship and give offerings from their limited rice rations to the departed souls of Tom's mother and father.

Alexander Dumas the elder, author of "The Count of Monte Cristo" and other novels, was of part Negro blood.

FPC Authorizes Construction of Gas Pipeline

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The federal power commission has authorized construction of a 970,000-mile pipeline system from Texas to the Los Angeles area to supply natural gas.

The 1,200-mile pipeline is planned to "meet a developing shortage in local natural gas supply for 3,500,000 persons in southern California," the commission said.

Authorization for construction and operation was granted by the El Paso Texas Natural Gas company and the Southern California Gas company, of California. The latter two with main offices in Los Angeles.

Gas is to be delivered by El Paso to the California-Arizona border beginning June, 1947, according to plans. The supply is to be given for 30 years.

Minimum contracted volumes to be delivered are 125,000,000 cubic feet daily the first year, 175,000,000 daily for the next three years and 305,000,000 daily for succeeding years.

Final stage of construction and operation is conditioned upon an election by the California companies prior to Sept. 1, 1949, the commission said.

El Paso construction authorized includes 737 miles of 24-inch pipeline from Lea county, Texas, to near Elythe, Calif., and a 251-mile extension of a 24-inch line from Dumas, Texas, to the Dunbar plant in New Mexico. The El Paso lines will cost $53,800,000, the commission said. Cost to the two California companies of various extensions and lateral lines will be $16,225,000.

State Candidate Is Visitor in Pampa

Price Daniel, Liberty county, and candidate for attorney general of Texas, visited Pampa Saturday in the interest of his campaign. Daniel was speaker of the house before entering service in 1943.

He opened his campaign in Amarillo Friday night, during which he charged that the government, both state and national, is being run by "pressure groups which now seek to dominate public affairs."

Britain and Italy To Sign Agreement

ROME—(AP)—British and Italian government officials were reported ready to sign a 10-year agreement for the operation of Italian airlines.

The agreement, which Ansa-Italian news agency said would be signed this morning at the Italian air ministry, is similar to that which the Italian government stipulated recently with American trans-world airways.

University Sells Oil, Gas Leases

AUSTIN—(AP)—Cash bonuses totalling $3,319,500 for oil and gas leases on 16,527 acres of University of Texas land were submitted Friday.

It was a record-breaking sale compared to the acreage involved, being topped only once by sale of $3,665,900 for 37,603 acres in a previous auction.

Highest bid Friday was the Gulf Oil corporation's $422,000 for Tract 34, comprising 1,600 acres in Crane county. The lease carries an obligation to drill 10,000 feet in search of the Ellenberger pay, which already has been located in nearby Block 31 field.

Two other tracts offered carried drilling obligations, one of which was sold. Tract 25 in Andrews county was sold to Texas Gulf Producing Co., requiring drilling to a depth of 4,500 feet. The other tract, 51, in Union county, failed to receive a bid.

The common bond sheds its outer skin several times a year, and jwallows the loose skin.

Adams Hotel Maintains Distinctive, Yet Friendly, Service at All Times

Distinction plus friendliness—that's the aim of one of the Panhandle's most well-known hotels, the Adams in Pampa.

For over 20 years, the Adams has been the regular stopping place of those who want the quiet-restful atmosphere of a hotel that is as near like home as any place could be.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Killen, owners of the hotel, have made good their promise to maintain the high standard of excellence set by the Adams.

Coming here from El Paso almost two years ago, after 25 years in the hotel business, they have established their residence here and are constantly endeavoring to improve their service so the name "Adams" will be synonymous with the name Pampa—exemplifying genuine, Texas hospitality and comfort.

Besides its comfort and quietness, the Adams is centrally located near the post office, banks, good places to eat, rail and bus stations and the downtown shopping area.

For the benefit of those Pampans who expect weekend visitors—too many to accommodate in their homes—Mr. and Mrs. Killen remind them that the peak of the hotel reservations comes on Monday through Thursday, leaving Friday through Sunday for weekend visitors.

They ask that reservations not be made too far in advance and that cancellations be made quickly.

Since taking over the operation of the Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Killen have had it repainted inside and out and are installing new interspring mattresses as fast as they can be obtained.

Rooms are cleaned regularly and thoroughly and the hotel does its own laundering of sheets and towels, assuring a plentiful supply at all times. Guests' laundry is sent out to the place of their choice and delivery is made as quickly as possible.

The owners wish to emphasize that they greatly enjoy accommodating visiting baseball teams.

"We have found them all to be quiet, orderly young men, as anxious to please as we are. We want to thank all those who recommended us to them, Mrs. Killen said.

Travelers are urged to inquire about the Adams when selecting a place to stay in Pampa. The hotel is located at 110 N. Ballard. The telephone number is 285.

Russians-Mexicans Skirmish at Docks

VERA CRUZ, Mexico.—(AP)—The Soviet ship Vyvov has ascended from this port for Russia after a brief skirmish between its crew and Mexican stevedores.

A dispute started when the Russian crew began loading fruit. The longshoremen contended they should do the work. Dock guards intervened to prevent a fight.

Members of the Vyvov's crew, men and women working side by side, finished the loading of the ship, which sailed yesterday.

The Mexican longshoremen served notice on the terminal company that they expect pay for the day's work. Russian officials said the loading costs were too high and their own crew did the work.

Nazi Youth Leader Repudiates Hitler

NUERNBERG.—(AP)—Youth Leader Baldur von Schirach's belated condemnation of his one-time idol—Adolf Hitler—may become a text book for the new generation of German youth, American officials said yesterday.

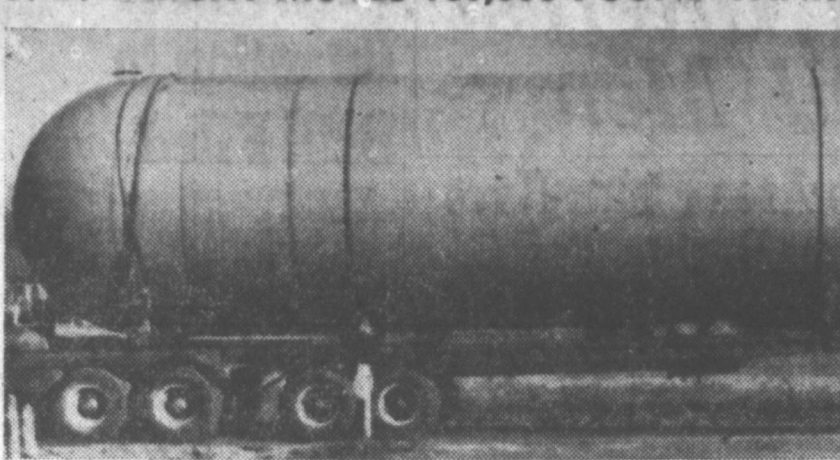

They said the builder of the Hitler Jugend asked that his courtroom reputation of Hitler—before the international military tribunal—be circulated among young Germans in an effort to right some of the wrongs he said he committed in teaching them to follow the fuhrer's Nazi ideas.

Prime Minister In Office 6,938th Day

OTTAWA.—(AP)—William Lyon Mackenzie King yesterday marked his 6,938th day as Canada's prime minister, thus achieving the distinction of having served longer in that post than any other man in Dominion history.

F. A. HUKILL AND SON, 522 West Foster, has specialized for 16 years in EVERYTHING electrical about an automobile—ignition, starters, battery, distributor, etc.—in other words all automotive electrical work can be entrusted to this concern and the work will receive the attention of experts.

J. D. WRIGHT MOVES 160,000 POUND TANK

Probably one of the largest equipment-moving jobs ever attempted in or near Pampa was the moving of this 160,000 pound butane tank from the Santa Fe siding near the Skelly gasoline plant, 108 miles west of the city. The truck, a huge Diesel-powered vehicle, is owned by J. D. Wright and Son trucking contractors, 109 S. Starkweather. The tandem truck and trailer has a total of 26 wheels. Call the J. D. Wright firm at 988 for estimates on your oil field trucking jobs—large or small.

Dixie Radio Is Fully Equipped For All Repairs

"No new radios yet but I can do any kind of repair job and can replace practically every type of radio part."

That's the promise made by Charles Koenig, owner and operator of the Dixie Radio shop, located at 112 E. Francis, just off the downtown shopping section.

When Koenig took over the shop about a year ago, he made arrangements to stock the new Sonora and Mack radios, but like everything else, new radios are just a "little hard" for dealers to get, so he is doing his "utmost" to do the finest type of repair job on every radio.

The Dixie Radio shop has been stocked with a complete line of the finest parts, including speakers and scarce tubes, so that Pampans need not let their sets remain silent. Koenig has a modern tube-testing board and will thoroughly test every one before replacements are made.

Perhaps one of the most important phases of Koenig's work, is his work in changing battery sets to electricity.

This type of work is of special significance to farmers, many of whom have their homes wired with electricity in the near future.

For the information of those who would like to know of Koenig's training, he has satisfactorily completed the courses in four top radio schools and has had seven years' actual experience, both here, in his native Little Rock, Arkansas, and in Fayetteville, Arkansas. He places a 30-day guarantee on all work.

Besides radio work, he also makes repairs on phonographs, public address systems and all types of amplifiers, specializing in the repair of amplifiers on musical instruments.

Mr. Koenig maintains a 24-hour service policy, although that doesn't mean that he is open all night. His service may take a little longer occasionally, but the quality of the work makes up for any negligible loss of time.

Mr. Koenig invites you to bring your radio by his shop for a free estimate on the cost of its repair. Remember the name—Dixie Radio Shop, 112 E. Francis, Phone 968.

Texas Today

By JACK RUTLEDGE Associated Press Staff

More vacation vignettes: We have just completed a 3,500-mile automobile drive to New York and one thing stands out sharper than the Empire State building—you can't get away from Texas.

You find Texas or Texans everywhere. You'll stop in a service station, for instance, and a drawing Virginian will look at your license plate and grin and say he was stationed at Camp Hood during the war. His native pride will force him to try to smother his nostalgia, but he'll invariably ask how things are down here.

You'll find Texas vegetables or fruit on sale—at prices cheaper than you can get them a couple of hundred yards from where they were grown. We couldn't figure that one out.

Driving along, no matter where, you'll run through a town named "Texas City" or something like that.

You'll also find a flock of towns with the same names found in Texas. The Lone Star State towns may have been named for them, or it may have been vice versa. We didn't have time to check.

But the duplications are numerous. Take Brownsville. We either went through or passed within harking distance of five Brownsvilles. In Illinois we whizzed by a whistle stop named Brownsville, and before we could slow down a sign pointing to the left said "Herald—4 miles." Brownsville Herald. The name of a Texas paper.

In the Associated Press office in New York, you'll find a Texan in almost every department—Gayle Talbot, Jimmie Payne, Ledgerwood Sloan, Taylor Henry, etc. etc.

Walter Winchell recently said the man who named the Stork club is a Texan—Carl P. Henninger of Tyler, Texas.

And along the highways, you'll find hundreds of second-hand cars being towed to Texas. We stopped one group and asked where they were going. To the southwest, they said. The car owners may get our vegetables cheap, but we pay through the nose for cars. One man told us he had sold his 1941 Ford for $300 in New York. The same car in Texas would bring—well, you answer that one.

Even Texas gasoline is cheaper in some other states.

In the museums you run into Texas, too. In the American Museum of Natural Science we were being properly awed by prehistoric monsters. A particularly large one attracted our attention. We read the placard describing it, and telling where it was found.

The placard said it was the largest known animal of its type ever found. And it went on to say it was discovered in Texas.

The United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration was established in November, 1943.

Matthews, Payne Are Anxious To Improve Service at Your Laundry

Don't say laundry—say Your Laundry and Dry Cleaners, because it is your laundry, giving you the type of service you want, when you want it.

Steve Matthews and Oran Payne want Pampans to remember that at all times.

Matthews, formerly city manager here and more recently a naval officer, purchased the establishment about the first of May and went into partnership with Payne, a marine corps veteran and well-known Pampans, about two weeks ago and they are anxious to renew old acquaintances and make new friends.

Ever since the war began, laundries have been the object of many jokes made by those who did not understand the problems operators of these laundries had to cope with. Equipment and experienced help has long been scarce and much of it still is, so the partners would appreciate it greatly if Pampans would bear with them a while longer, and they promise it won't be long before service is back to normal.

The laundry department strives to take care of both its regular customers and all new ones, but seven-day service on finish work must remain for the present. This will be cut down as rapidly as possible.

Meanwhile, Matthews and Payne invite you to patronize their cleaning and pressing department, where the work is done just as you want it done. Besides cleaning and pressing, the department takes care of alterations and mending, all under the supervision of Cecil Diest who has had many years experience in this type of work.

consumed. There is no place left for parking and the streets are clogged with cars. People go around with fortunes on their backs in the way of clothing.

This is all right for the people who have the money. But they are the small minority. The great masses of the people find their bread, their tortillas, their onions and potatoes have risen so much in price they either can't eat as they used to or they have to worry themselves sick to make ends meet. Their rents have gone up steeply. Clothing has mounted maybe more than anything else.

Isn't that salaries have remained where they were. The trouble is prices have gone up much more than salaries. In some countries ceilings have not properly enforced. The person with money can find a way to get what he wants. The person without cannot.

In a way this looks familiar. But to get an idea of the Latin American you must realize the masses already lived at the lowest subsistence level. Whatever the loaf leaves them hungry or without a roof. People in that condition can't be happy and they want a change. At times they get desperate.

So it has caused no general surprise that in foreign lands has backed for political action or supported policies that promised at least something better. There has been some bitterness against even those governments that have tried but haven't been able to solve the problem. Good intentions aren't enough. The people who need results look elsewhere when results are not forthcoming.

These people also look at the armies that keep the governments in power and they see tanks and airplanes that come from the U. S. A. They don't always stop to take into account a lot of perhaps very good reasons. They think they are being oppressed and they can't get out from under because of these planes and tanks. They think evil thoughts about the U. S. A. An apparent danger is that if and when they are running things they may feel kindly toward that fellow from outside who sympathized with them and not at all kindly toward the fellow who they think ground them down.

You will find in a study of what has been happening in Latin America that Juan Domingo Peron, the army colonel who was elected president of Argentina in February, stirred up the so-called "desarrollistas" or shirtless ones and there gained shortly his decisive support. The shirtless ones are the neediest class and Peron won after being lambasted in the American state department's blue book.

Cross the Andes from Argentina and you will find, in Chile, that one of the strongest political parties is composed of the people who consider themselves underprivileged.

Go up the west coast to Peru and you will see that the party in power is of the same class. It came out tops in an election last year.

You will find tanks protecting the government palace in Venezuela, unrest in Cuba, a clamor that will come to a head in Mexico in presidential elections next July. Anywhere you go you will find mounting prices and public grumbling.

It is always safe to say you can expect explosions in Latin America. They always have occurred at one place or another. But the problem this time has a peculiar twist. People who are concerned about hemisphere unity say it will be ad-

The Sons of the Pioneers will accompany a group of square dancers the "Hayfoot Hoofers" with Earl Easton acting as caller.

A special feature of each program will be Irma Francis billed as "The Headliner." She will be spotlighted in blues numbers.

A Children's Story Hour scene will consist of a group of children from the first five grades who will present such characters as Cinderella, Prince Charming and Santa Claus.

Children will also be used to impersonate the Quiz Kids. They will be chosen from the audience and a different group of children will be used each night.

A popularity contest for Pampa boys and girls under six years is being held as a side feature of the show. Votes for the contest are a penny each and the winning boy and girl will receive silver cups on the stage of the Pampa Saturday, June 15.

Anyone interested in the "Contest Tiny Tot" contest is urged to contact Vera Dixon, acting chairman, by calling 103, until 5 p.m. and after that time, 2499J.

March answered a questionnaire by the women's committee for academic freedom with a blast charging the group was a "front" for Dr. Ralphy's campaign. He opened headquarters at Waco and will campaign next week in West Texas.

Beauford H. Jester added a plank to his gubernatorial platform, calling for a "modern and enforceable parole and probation law."

Workers To Present New Wage Demands

MONTREAL—The United Packinghouse Workers of America (U.P.W.A.) will present to American and Canadian meat packers next month demands that the basic wage for all union members be hiked to $1 an hour.

The union's annual convention approved a resolution last night to present its wage demands to American packers on July 11—about a month before the present contract expires—and to Canadian packers on July 23. The present basic wage for American packing house workers is 89 cents an hour, while in Canada it ranges from 62 to 69 1/2 cents.

National AAU Dress Rehearsal Slated for San Antonio Friday

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—A dress rehearsal for the National A. A. U. outdoor championships that will be staged here June 28-29 comes off in Alamo stadium Friday night when 300 of Texas' outstanding scantly clad athletes compete in the second annual Texas State A. A. U. Cinderpath carnival.

Five of the 1945 champions who won titles in seven of the 13 events are entered in Friday's meet. New records will be established in 11 running events, however, as metric distances will be used for the first time. Relay events have also been stricken off the program and three new events added—the 5,000-meter run, the 400-meter hurdles and the hop, step and jump.

The timber-topping events are expected to produce most of the fireworks with such outstanding hurdlers as August Erfurth and Bill Cummins of Rice; John Rowland and R. E. McCaslin of Southern Methodist; Pete Owens, ex-Howard Payne star, and Lee Miller, state schoolboy champion from San Antonio Burbank, matching strides over the barriers.

The sprints will feature such well known speedsters as Allen Lauer of Texas U., Bill Martenson of Baylor, Stoney Cotton of Baylor, Bill Adams of North Texas State Teachers' college, Des Kidd of Texas U. and Henry Adam of Kingsville.

Three 1945 champions in the field events will be on hand to defend their laurels. Ted Halse of Southwestern State Teachers' college won the high jump last year; George Raborn of Texas U. the shotput, and John Donaldson of Rice, the discus.

Randall Clay, Pampa, twice winner of the state schoolboy discus championship, will also be on hand. Clay plans to enter the University of Texas this fall.

Chicago Beats Dodgers Again

CHICAGO—(AP)—The Chicago Cubs stretched their winning streak to six in a row yesterday when they defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers by 36-29 in a game that was a 10-inning slugfest.

Bob Chipman, an ex-Dodger, pitched the shutout for the Cubs, holding his former mates to five hits.

Rex Barney pitched the first six innings and yielded both Cub tallies. The first run came in the second inning when Barney passed Ed Watkins and gave up singles to Clyde McCullough and Bob Sturgeon. In the fourth Marvin Rickett connected for a home run.

GIANTS 5, BEGS 3
PITTSBURGH—(AP)—Johnny Mize's double with the bases loaded in the fifth inning scored two mates and gave the New York Giants a 5-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday.

REDS 4, BRAVES 2
CINCINNATI—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds defeated the Boston Braves, 4-2, here yesterday as Ed Heppner, who gave up only five hits, registered his fifth win. Chuck Workman's homer with a mate aboard in the eighth accounted for the Boston runs.

Oilers Chalk Up 8th Straight In Friday Win Over Pioneers

Legion Game To Follow Tilt With Dukes at 2:30

Second baseman R. C. Otey got a bigger "hand" each time he came to bat Friday night as the Pampa Oilers' "got even" with Lefty Knowles Piercey, host of the Clovis Pioneers 9-3 for their eighth straight win.

Otey collected four hits in five trips to the plate, including a double, as Pampa outplayed Piercey, who had limited them to only two hits several weeks ago, for a total of 13 hits. Pampa, however, won the previous game 1-0, when Foster White pitched a three-hitter.

With the victory, Pampa went into a tie with the Abilene Blue Sox for first place, not including games last night.

The Oilers will meet the Albuquerque Dukes here this afternoon at 2:30 in the first of a two-game series. The second game will be played Monday night.

As a special added attraction, the Pampa Junior Oilers will meet the Berger Junior Oilers in an American Legion baseball game immediately after Pampa and Albuquerque finish their game.

Ray Solomon, coach of the Pampa Legion team, yesterday asked that the fans stay to see the Junior Oilers and Junior Gasers.

This is the first Legion baseball team to be organized here since before the war.

Earl Harriman and Jack Riley also came in for hitting honors Friday night. Harriman getting three hits in four trips with two runs batted in and Riley collecting two for five with one RBI.

Two possible blowouts runs were possible in limiting the Pioneers to six hits, one of them a double by Novotny with the bases loaded in the fourth inning.

Daniels, however, failed to touch second and was put out for the third out of the inning, although both he and Novotny crossed home plate.

Father of Joe Dobson Dies; Son Hurls Win

EASTON—(AP)—Slugging in lusty fashion behind Joe Dobson, whose father died Friday night, the red hot Red Sox yesterday vanquished prince Hal Newhouser for the second time this season as they trounced the Detroit Tigers 15-4.

The victory lengthened the Boston clubs league lead to seven full games over the Yankees.

Newhouser was found for four hits and five runs in the first inning, the only frame he was allowed to work.

Dobson pitched in fine fashion, scattering most of 11 hits, until the eighth inning when the excessive heat and the emotional strain told on him and Bob Klinger replaced him.

Dobson pitched after a phone conversation with his brother, who notified him of their parent's death.

"You go ahead and work," the brother said. "That's the way Pa'd want it."

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics made it two in a row over the St. Louis Browns, blasting three Brown pitchers yesterday for a 9-3 victory before about 6,000. Sam Chapman and Buddy Rosar hit homers for the Mackmen.

Fultz Frowns on Baseball Union

NEW YORK—(AP)—Dave Fultz, the man who organized the 1913-17 baseball union, frowned deeply at the news from Pittsburgh and firmly stated, "I don't believe in strikes."

Now well up in the high 60's and retired to his Flatbush home as a semi-invalid, Fultz refused to take sides in the current American Baseball guild-club owners controversy other than to issue a calm but definite objection to all strikes.

"I think they are shooting too high in their reported $7,500 minimum wage demands," observed the former major leaguer.

"Baseball is a strange business," he recalled. "I don't see how you can set a definite minimum standard. And $7,500—my that's terribly high. I remember when I broke in with the Philadelphia Athletics in 1896, they paid me $2,400. Next year they cut me to $1,200. I thought the players were well paid today."

Fultz pointed out that present labor laws make it much easier for the union movement to get a foothold than 33 years ago when there was no commissioner and club owners weren't the high type they are today.

Market Briefs

WALL STREET
NEW YORK—(AP)—After a week of irregular lower trends, the stock market steadied selectively in the concluding session Friday, although many leaders continued the downward drift. Some buying cropped up on the idea that recent declines had bettered the market's technical health. Through-out the week the cloudy labor situation received most of the blame for such selling as appeared.

From Monday on dealings were relatively sluggish and volumes would have been exceptionally meager had it not been for the liveliness of low-priced utilities which remained popular on the idea of enhanced break-up values for these issues in addition to mounting profits due partly to elimination of excess profits taxes. The best turnovers of the week were 1,210,000 shares on Monday and Tuesday. The total dropped to 780,000 Thursday, a low since May 20.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was off 1.1 points at 81.1 on the week. It recovered 1.1 Friday, first advance since May 29.

Trading continued at the slowest rate in more than five years. The week's total of $12,165,500 topped the preceding week's $11,927,500 but that period was shortened by the Memorial day recess.

Overcharges in Rents or Prices To Be Returned

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A lot of people may be able to get their money back—if they're being overcharged in rents or prices—by taking advantage of a supreme court decision this week.

If you're one of those, you can do this:

Complain to the OPA area office. If OPA can't settle the problem out of court, it has the right to go into federal court and get a refund—for you—of the money overcharged.

And OPA lawyers say that, under the decision, people who have been illegally thrown out by their landlords can force their landlords to take them back.

All this may seem that there isn't very much new in the supreme court decision. Not quite.

Here's the story, using a tenant for example:

Under the law a tenant can sue his landlord in federal court—if he's been overcharged in rent—and get up to three times the amount charged over the legal ceiling.

But, and this is still according to law, there's a difference if OPA goes into federal court to sue a landlord for overcharging his tenant.

In that case, if OPA wins, the amount of money which the court orders the landlord to pay goes to OPA, not to the tenant, and OPA turns the money into the U. S. treasury.

That sort of thing had this result: In many cases a tenant who was overcharged—say only a small amount like $5—might not think it worthwhile to sue the landlord, if it had to be done by OPA.

To keep down the number of law violations and let an overcharged tenant benefit by any court-ordered refund, OPA figured the law was elastic enough to do this:

OPA could go into federal court and ask that the tenant, not OPA, be given back the money overcharged.

OPA did this in a number of cases. And some federal courts did what OPA asked.

Then came a snag. In the summer of 1943 several tenants in Minneapolis were overcharged by their landlords.

OPA went to federal court. That particular federal court said it had no authority under the law to order such a refund to a tenant where OPA was doing the suing.

The case went to the federal court of appeals. That court ruled the same way.

So from that time—until the supreme court could decide, which it did Monday—OPA did not generally try this method.

The court decision said, in effect, what was outlined above: OPA can go into federal court and sue a landlord to get a refund for a tenant whom that landlord has overcharged.

The same can happen in the case of a man who had paid over-ceiling prices for goods he bought, for instance, an automobile.

Some of us could even move right in and give the people who are living there a chance to rent a house again.

Oh boy, I can just see those real estate ads now: "For rent, furnished; wind-conditioned cave, dark but not dank. Running water during rainy season. Inner spring granite slabs. No dinosaurs or other pets. Phone Neanderthal 5-5555."

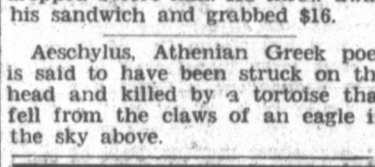

Dear me, girls, do you suppose this means the cave man is on his way back? Wouldn't it be thrilling to be dragged off by some masterful suitor with a club in one hand and your hair in the other? And if he ruined your permanent he'd have to marry you, or else.

$12,000 Is Pledged Toward Polio Center

PLAINVIEW—(AP)—Forty-four West Texas counties have pledged $12,000 toward the establishment of a West Texas polio center in Plainview.

At a meeting yesterday representatives of county polio committees worked out plans with officials of the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis.

The establishment will have a normal capacity of 12 beds for acute cases, with facilities for expansion. Patients will be admitted from any county in Texas and from other states as long as there is space available.

CHICAGO—(AP)—Among the survivors of the La Salle hotel fire who escaped without injury was Miss Anita Blair, 23, El Paso, Texas, a blind girl lecturer.

Miss Blair said her seeing eye dog, Fawn, led her to a window and down 11 floors of an outside fire escape to safety. She said a man helped her and the dog over a window sill and onto a fire escape landing. Another man, who refused to identify himself, took her to the home of a friend and provided her with clothing.

Safety Authority Explains Ways to Reduce Accidents

Calm down and live! That's the advice offered during the national accident reduction campaign by Herbert J. Stack, Ph. D., director of New York university's safety education center, to motorists whose chances of remaining alive and unharmed during the last half of 1946, he says, will be the worst in history.

In an article in the July issue of The American Magazine the professor states that "nine out of ten smashups would be prevented if we could wipe out their underlying psychological causes" which he lists as anxiety, anger, daydreaming, impatience, timidity, bravado and the closely related habit of taking risks. Dr. Stack urges motorists to "correct your driving habits; improve your driving attitudes; and mount guard over your emotion." He offers this formula for safe driving:

- 1—Don't let impatience get the better of your common sense.
- 2—Don't let daydreaming, worry, or resentment trap you into foolish tricks.
- 3—Don't let boorish drivers get your goat.
- 4—Remember that use of the highway is a co-operative, not a competitive, activity.
- 5—Make courtesy, as well as safety, your goal and give the pedestrian consideration.

Professor To Survey Educational Problems

AUSTIN—(AP)—Dr. George I. Sanchez, University of Texas professor of Latin-American education, will conduct a survey of educational problems of the Navajo Indians of New Mexico, Arizona and Utah, during the summer. Reports of this survey will be made available to congress to assist in determining what policies and practices to follow in educating the Navajos and giving them certain other rights and privileges, Dr. Sanchez said. Dr. Sanchez has long been informally associated with the Indian education problem in the United States and in Latin America.

Air National Guard Meets Financial Snag

WASHINGTON—Initial snag in the ambitious AAF plan for an Air National Guard of 2,004 planes, 6,800 officers and 40,000 enlisted men is the reluctance of some states to shoulder the financial burden of this costly program, according to Aviation News.

The AAF wants an air guard of 72 fighter squadrons equipped with 1,000 Mustangs and 800 Thunderbolts, and 12 light bomber squadrons using Invaders to bolster the air defense of the United States. However, at least one state which the AAF assigned two fighters as part of the defense of the vital Washington, D. C. area has indicated that it cannot provide funds sufficient for even a single squadron. UNRRA is staffed by an international civil service comprising about 10,000 persons recruited from 43 nations.

Highway accidents in 1945 increased 20 per cent over the previous year—30,000 dead and more than 1,000,000 injured.

It is estimated that inefficient vision causes five per cent of all industrial accidents, and 15 per cent of all motor accidents.

A Lesson From Germany

Throughout Europe today the popularity of state-controlled industry is growing. The prevalent opinion seems to be that the system is not only just and efficient, but that it offers the quickest route to recovery and general prosperity.

All of which lends added interest to a booklet recently released by the army air forces. It contains the testimony given by Albert Speer, former Nazi minister of armaments, to American intelligence officers in Germany. And a reading leaves one with the conviction that the war in Europe would have been over considerably sooner if Speer had not replaced Germany's tightly nationalized industry with something closely resembling our democratic capitalism.

Speer's efforts are not entirely unknown. The United States Strategic Bombing Survey says of him: "In February, 1942, Speer was appointed minister of armaments production with wide powers. . . . He set about replacing the existing machinery of control with a new organization named by people selected from among the production managers and technicians of industry. They were charged with the task of increasing production and of rationalizing German war industry."

"In the course of two and a half years, the military output of Germany in aircraft, weapons and ammunition was raised more than threefold; in tanks, over sevenfold."

Those two and a half years, of course, saw a steadily growing weight of Allied bombs fall on Germany. That German arms output increased almost to the end speaks clearly enough of the superiority of Speer's system.

The Nazis had carefully worked out all their production problems on paper, long before the invasion of Poland. But the highly nationalized, highly bureaucratized plan didn't work. Finally, in desperation, Hitler called in Speer and gave him a free hand.

The result was a program which Speer called "The Autonomy of Industry." It was a sort of free-enterprise system working in a super-nationalized economy. Speer freed production and production planning from politico-military control, abolished penalties against industrialists for quota failures, and turned to the principle of incentives.

By operating German war industry much as American war industry functioned, he achieved growing efficiency in the midst of growing disaster.

Speer told our officers that he believed the "extended theoretical preparation for our armaments is mainly responsible for our low level of production until 1942." He also said that he had told Hitler that he had been forced to "improve" their war industries program.

The Speer report is an interesting commentary on the theory, put forth here as well as abroad, that government long-range planning will solve all economic problems. But, more than that, the report may be of some immediate and practical value.

Being cited by aircraft industry representatives in hearings on Senator Mitchell's bill to establish a national Air Policy board, Germany's lesson under fire, may give the senators something to think about when they consider the future relationship of government and private industry in terms of our national defense.

Common Ground

By R. C. BOILES

Wages Must Go Up Together Or Not At All

What most people fail to understand who believe that strikes are a moral right of the working man and beneficial to him is that wages must go up together or not at all.

By this I do not mean that all people have to get equal wages. But all people must get wages in proportion as they produce wealth if we are to have wages go up the fastest.

When one group of workers force up their wages by coercion of strikes, they throw things out of balance. They lower other real wages. They give too many workers in that line unless they rigidly limit those who can participate in the artificially high wages.

Of course, to do this is just plain immoral. It is just a few dollars robbery compelling others to pay a price higher than they would be able to do the job themselves for.

This, of course, ruins the character of the souls of those people who get this fictitious reward. It breaks down their morale, their spirit, their whole lives.

And if they are successful in keeping others out, the artificial price reduces the demand for their product. Those people who do not regard the service as a necessity do without or substitute something else.

So the workers with a fictitious wage find themselves working only part time. They then have less purchasing power than they would if all people were working full time and a larger quantity being produced. The result is that every worker has to take a smaller piece of pie because people believe that men have a right to strike, because people believe that some people, like the railroad engineers who are getting probably a higher wage than any other similar class of workers, have a right to force their wages up by intimidation, by threatening to injure not only the employer but the consumer—the real payer of their wages.

If we want wages to go up rapidly and constantly, they must go up together. And the way to let wages go up together is a free market with no combinations or monopolies of labor unions, or employers, or government trying to fix wages or prices.

So we would all be working there. But until veteran war horses quietly decided to kill the reform program through the use of a pressure in their power, it was one of the liveliest domestic questions at the east end of Pennsylvania avenue.

The fact that the reorganization movement received no support from President Truman, who used to be a member of the congressional lodge of odd (and old) fellows, also accounts for the lack of the scheme proposed by the senator from Wisconsin and young Representative "Mike" Monroney of Oklahoma. As of today, it is probable that their proposals haven't the aggressive backing of more than two-score members of senate and house.

EXECUTIONERS—The unofficial executioners of the La Follette-Monroney remodeling plan were headed by some of the stoutest, most stubborn, most individualistic of the influential members of the house, the body which would suffer most violently from any reformation.

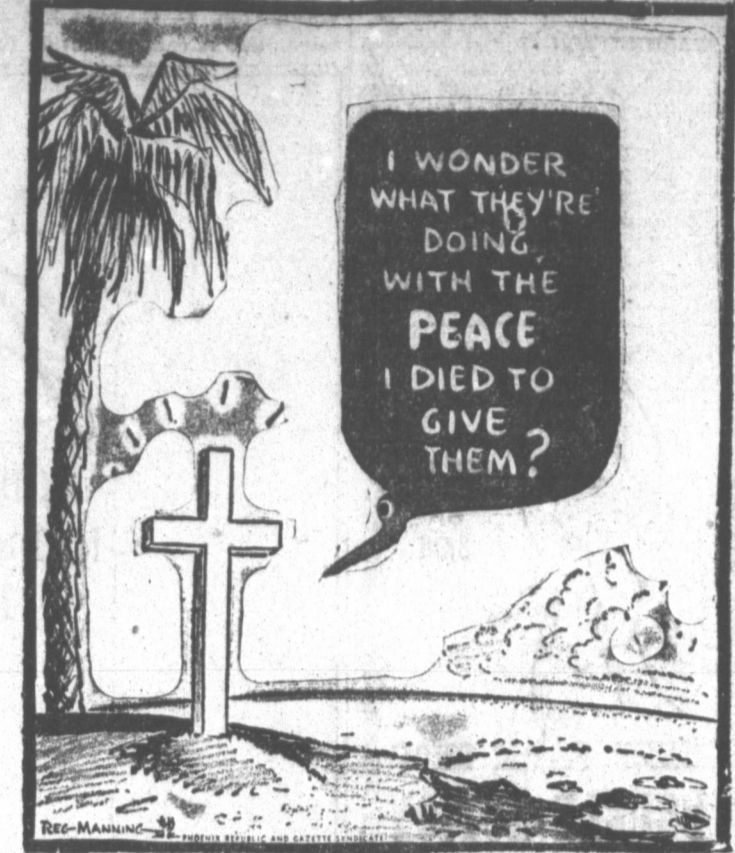

The man who swung the axe included such oldies as Clarence Cannon of Missouri, chairman of the appropriations committee and former parliamentarian of the lower branch; Robert L. Doughton of the Cannon, chairman of the ways and means committee; Adolph J. Sabath of Chicago, chairman of the rules committee; Carl Vinson of Georgia, chairman of the naval affairs committee; and equally influential bosses of other committees whose authority would have been lessened by any change in the present structure of congress.

"Oh, you!" the other cried in exasperation. "You make me sick! What did Sally Maynard ever do for you that you should defend her? I say she's too slick—always managing to get the special jobs—teacher's pet—Johnny-on-the-spot. Know what Jim Hallock calls her?" And as Margaret shook her head, "Blithe Spirit! Bah!"

A ripple of laughter came from Margaret as she eyed the speaker's flushed face. "You are in a bad way, Holden," she said. "Tell me what, especially, ails you. Try the button once more. NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON

REFORM—Thumbing their collective and figurative nose at critics who have denounced them as "cowards" and "clowns" since the close of the war, members of the current congress will soon adjourn with the convictions that they achieved a brilliant and constructive record "without parallel in parliamentary history." Which means that the wily, heretofore La Follette-Monroney program for streamlining and reorganizing the national legislature is as dead as Hitler.

The behind-the-scenes quarrelling, maneuvering and conspiracies over the reform program have been obscured by public and political excitement over strikes, the rising cost of living, the black marketing and other reconversion problems.

But until veteran war horses quietly decided to kill the reform program through the use of a pressure in their power, it was one of the liveliest domestic questions at the east end of Pennsylvania avenue.

The fact that the reorganization movement received no support from President Truman, who used to be a member of the congressional lodge of odd (and old) fellows, also accounts for the lack of the scheme proposed by the senator from Wisconsin and young Representative "Mike" Monroney of Oklahoma. As of today, it is probable that their proposals haven't the aggressive backing of more than two-score members of senate and house.

EXECUTIONERS—The unofficial executioners of the La Follette-Monroney remodeling plan were headed by some of the stoutest, most stubborn, most individualistic of the influential members of the house, the body which would suffer most violently from any reformation.

The man who swung the axe included such oldies as Clarence Cannon of Missouri, chairman of the appropriations committee and former parliamentarian of the lower branch; Robert L. Doughton of the Cannon, chairman of the ways and means committee; Adolph J. Sabath of Chicago, chairman of the rules committee; Carl Vinson of Georgia, chairman of the naval affairs committee; and equally influential bosses of other committees whose authority would have been lessened by any change in the present structure of congress.

"Oh, you!" the other cried in exasperation. "You make me sick! What did Sally Maynard ever do for you that you should defend her? I say she's too slick—always managing to get the special jobs—teacher's pet—Johnny-on-the-spot. Know what Jim Hallock calls her?" And as Margaret shook her head, "Blithe Spirit! Bah!"

A ripple of laughter came from Margaret as she eyed the speaker's flushed face. "You are in a bad way, Holden," she said. "Tell me what, especially, ails you. Try the button once more. I wonder if it's stuck again. Now, just what you did practically sewed up. Sunderlin virtually promised it to me. 214 isn't really ill—just tired from her many social duties. She's going to be a cinch to take care of. I got this new hair-do on the strength of it. She's wonderful, Margaret! Has her picture in the Sunday papers—with those two handsome sons of hers—her lovely home and gorgeous clothes. This of associating with a woman like that every night—or day! Gosh! It would certainly be a change from what I've had handed to me lately.

MARGARET gazed at the disgruntled girl, a look of real concern in her usually calm blue eyes. She wondered if there wasn't something else at the bottom of Norma's bitter dejection.

"Is it Jim Hallock, Norma?" Although the other shook her head vigorously, color flooded her face from chin to brow and she punched the elevator button viciously. Margaret nodded understandingly.

"Don't let it get you down, darling," she soothed. "I know, I know and let me tell you something—from my own experience. Don't drop in. Probably he's got a girl back home or if he hasn't he'll choose a wife with money and a social position who will give him a boost up the ladder or at least provide him with food and reinment while he's waiting for patients to drop in. Better leave the breed alone, my dear."

"Why are you telling me all this?" Norma demanded, spitefully. "Better corral Maynard. Every internurse we've ever had here is her slave. She smiles at 'em—hands

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, (NEA) — News Item: Contracts of Doug Fairbanks, Jr., Maureen O'Hara, and Walter Szlezak for "Sinbad the Sailor" provide that in all advertising of the film their names must appear in color. No color specified, but all names must be in the same color. Jealousy green, no doubt.

Shelton Leonard, long-time movie gangster, plays a detective in "Decoy." Moans Shelton: "Imagine me killing a gangster. It's just like moving down my own brother."

Paramount and Paulette Goddard are having words. She wants to do only "arty" pictures. The studio is insisting on comedies. . . . Red Skelton wears a 1918-style auto driver's outfit, with linen duster, goggles, and hood-like cap, for a comedy scene in "Merton of the Movies." Explains Red: "It's Red's riding hood."

Sub-let closet space—Crooner Phil Brito's contribution to the housing shortage jokes is this one. A fellow was ushered into a large room crawling with people and beds. "Isn't the room too crowded?" he complained to the landlady.

"Oh, it just looks that way," she replied, "because the guy in the corner takes in boarders."

Promised and hoped for: Bing Crosby rigged out in an authentic Tyrolean mountaineer's costume for a scene in "The Emperor Waltz." . . . Charley Ruggles' advice to Bette Davis while handling her a potent drink in "A Stolen Life: Drink it and glow up." . . . June Vincent played a love scene with a tough guy Dan Duryea for "The Black Angel." "Did you enjoy it?" he asked her. "Every bruise of it," responded June.

Gene Raymond is Alaska-bound to hunt bears. He'll make a 16-mm. record of the trip. . . . Hollywood is sneaking about the big campaign on Mark Stevens, using the slogan, "Wait till you meet Mark Stevens face to face." Somebody forgot that his first big starring role, opposite Joan Fontaine in "From This Day Forward," is playing all over the country. . . . There's no truth to those baby rumors, says Ann Miller.

Keenan Wynn fluffed his lines for a scene in "Thrill of Brazil." "My tongue," explained Keenan, "got wrapped around my eye tooth, and I couldn't see what I was saying."

Wynn will probably kill me for this, but his full name is Francis Xavier Aloysius James Jeremiah Keenan Wynn.

The Perry Comos bought a 12-room home on Long Island six months ago, but to date they've spent only five weeks in it. Housing shortage? . . . Dave Rose premiered his latest composition this week—"Waukegan Concerto," dedicated to and inspired by Jack Benny. . . . Private Hargrove is now a major. Bob Walker plays a major in "The Beginning or the End."

tions to the nation at the most critical hour in human history, with the taunt: "Yeah, yir gittin' old!" "It is the philosophy of the aborigine—the culture and finesse and good taste of the jungle."

With this appealing address, and with off-the-floor arguments of the same sort, Mr. Cannon has defeated a proposal which, in some respects, has far greater significance than the politico-economic problems which have overshadowed it in recent days.

When the showdown comes—providing the reform program is ever reported out of committee—the eyes of age will be in the majority.

When Norma Holden reappeared, her eyelids were still a bit pink as was the tip of her rather long nose.

"For Pete's sake, don't let anyone know how idiotic I've been, Ma!" she pleaded.

"Oh, we all get our off days, Holden," Margaret assured her. "It takes various forms. Forget it—and Jim Hallock, too."

"Jim Hallock?" Norma asked, wrinkling her forehead. "Who's he? Never heard of the guy."

Officer Awarded

Croix De Guerre

Accompanied by a citation signed by De Gaulle, major general of the French armies, a Croix De Guerre with bronze star was received this week by Lt. Col. Teddy H. Sanford, the commanding officer of the El Paso U. S. Army recruiting district.

The medal, a high French military award, was awarded to Lt. Col. Sanford for his part in the freeing of France from the Nazis. Lt. Col. Sanford commanded a battalion of gliderborne infantry in France, first landing back of the enemy lines in Normandy on D-Day 1944.

An informal presentation of the medal was made by Colonel George Forster, the commanding officer of Ft. Bliss, Texas.

Colonel Sanford commands the recruiting district consisting of West Texas and New Mexico, one of the largest recruiting districts in the United States.

SOME GOOD NEWS ABOUT CANCER

Approximately one in four of the 158,000 lives lost each year in the United States from cancer could be saved if the knowledge already in existence could be made available to all—assuming that the knowledge is acted upon promptly. Here are the danger signals:

1. Any lump or thickening, especially of the breast.
2. Irregular bleeding or discharge from any of the body openings.
3. Any sore that does not heal.
4. Persistent indigestion.
5. Sudden changes in the form or growth of a mole or wart.
6. Hoarseness persisting for two or three weeks.
7. Regional pain.

Only in the early stages can cancer be successfully arrested. At the appearance of suspicious symptoms see your doctor at once. For prompt, expert prescription service, call on us.

1946 WTS Grads Give $100 to Chapel Fund

CANYON—A $100 contribution by the 1946 graduating class and a $314 gift from the Pi Omega sorority were received this week for the West Texas State college chapel building fund.

The sorority also had made several previous contributions to the chapel fund, which now totals more than $20,000. Work on the building likely will start when $30,000 is in hand and when materials are available. President J. A. Hill has received contributions from throughout the Southwest. The project has been widely endorsed by ministers, civic clubs, and other organizations. The chapel would be used for lectures, special religious services, recitals, weddings, meditation, and for conferences between Panhandle ministers and student members of their congregations.
