Army Intelligence Head Testifies Before Pearl Harbor Committee

Jap Messages Are Studied More Intently

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Sherman Miles said today that army intelligence "very much feared" the Japanese would attack when they delivered their diplomatic note here at 1 p. m., Dec. 7, 1941, but did not know where the attack was coming.

Miles, head of the intelligence division at the time of the Pearl Harbor disaster, told a senate-house inquiry committee today that war with Japan had become a strong probability in the minds of army leaders early in December, 1941.

"PEACE" ENVOYS He said that interception of Tokyo's direction to its "peace" envoys to deliver their note on the fateful Sunday caused him to call the attention of Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, to the critical situation.

"We didn't know where it was coming," the general testified, "but we very much feared that the attack was coming coincident with the 1 p. m. delivery of the Japanese reply."

COUNTER PROPOSALS Earlier in the diplomatic negotiations leading up to the outbreak of war, Secretary of State Hull had given the Japanese a set of counter-proposals.

Gerhard Gesell, committee counsel, asked Miles what the intelligence division had thought about the possibilities of war with Japan in mid-November of 1941.

"One thing I felt sure was that Japan faced a crisis that would almost certainly result in radical action on her part," Miles replied.

POSSIBLE ATTACKS He added that this action could have taken one or more of several forms such as an attack on Russia, expansion to the south, an assault on Hongkong, increased efforts to crush China and "lastly, Japan might add to her enormous burdens and the strain of her military establishment by attacking the two great naval powers, the United States and Great Britain."

A republican pushed the search today for the reportedly missing record of Japan's "winds" broadcast as the Pearl Harbor committee ploughed deeply into other intercepted messages.

BROADCAST RECORDING Rep. Koeke (R-Wis) told a reporter he intends to ask Maj. Gen. Sherman Miles, former army intelligence chief, what he knows about the broadcast.

Sale of Christmas Seals Is Progressing

The sale of Christmas seals in Gray county is making splendid progress, reports Huey Laycock, chairman of the county tuberculosis committee.

Recipients of seals who have not already sent a dollar to the committee in payment for the seals are urged to send in a report on the seals they received.

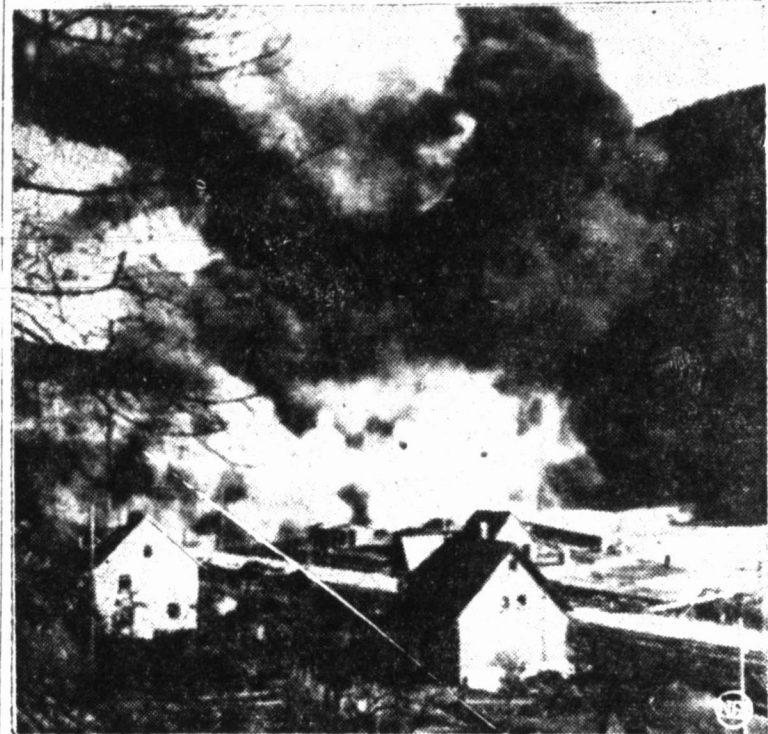

REPORTS UNBASED TOKYO, Nov. 30—(AP)—Allied headquarters said today that its public health section has found no basis for widespread reports of malnutrition and starvation among Japanese in metropolitan areas.

WAR FACTORY BLASTED

Clouds of smoke and debris fill the air as an underground war material factory near Geislingen, Germany, is destroyed by dynamite placed under the supervision of United States engineers.

The Pampa Ministerial Alliance today passed out small envelopes among the pupils and students of the Pampa schools. These envelopes are to be taken home, and are to contain contributions Sunday at the various churches for the Wheat for Holland campaign, it was announced.

The ministers, who have been conducting in this county a drive for at least one load of first class wheat for the starving people of Holland, today made another appeal for small donations—any amount will be accepted.

Fala 'Licked' by Blaze—Plane Dog Pays With Life

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 30—(AP)—Blaze, Elliott Roosevelt's bull mastiff of transcontinental plane ride fame, licked the late President's Scottie, Fala, but paid for the victory with his life.

The state health department said today Blaze was destroyed as a precaution, by Dr. Thomas Sheldon, Rhinebeck veterinarian, but that examination of Blaze's head showed the dog did not have rabies.

The department received Blaze's head Tuesday from Dr. Sheldon. Fala was admitted to Dr. Sheldon's hospital Saturday. Several stitches were needed to close Fala's wounds and he was weak from loss of blood, Dr. Sheldon said.

Fala, a visitor Saturday at the Roosevelt Hyde Park estate, while playing across a lawn met the 133-pound Blaze. Fala began to fly—on the Scottie—but the mastiff was unhurt.

Blaze broke into the news last January when three service men were "bumped off" a transport plane because the mastiff had a higher priority. The dog was enroute to Elliott Roosevelt's wife, actress Faye Emerson, in California. Roosevelt, then an officer in the army air forces, sent Blaze from England.

In New York, the Herald Tribune said Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt gave short answers when asked about the fight between the dogs.

"I don't see that this is anyone's business except the family's," she said. "Furthermore, I don't know what you're talking about."

Told the Associated Press had revealed the facts, Mrs. Roosevelt said: "Go back to your office and telephone the Associated Press and tell them to mind their own business."

Lions Honor Pampa Grid Team, Coaches

Coaches and players of the Pampa high school football team were honored by the local Lions club at that organization's regular weekly luncheon yesterday.

Athletic Director Otis Coffey made a short talk and introduced D. V. Biggers, Gorilla football coach, and Jack Davis, Pampa Junior high coach.

Assistant Coach Jiggs Whittington introduced the entire Harvester football squad.

Younger and Older GOP's Are at Odds

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30—(AP)—Danger signals for any early agreement on a mid-term republican policy program were raised today by a group of first and second term house republicans.

LEADERS WARNED As senate and house GOP steering committees continued meetings in an effort to present an affirmative policy statement to the party's national committee meeting Dec. 7, in Chicago, 39 house members whose service started with the last congress joined today in this warning to the leadership.

They intend to express their own views on major matters and not let party leaders speak for them.

FORMAL STATEMENT The group issued a formal statement which contained no reference to any rift. But several members said privately that one has developed between the younger and older republicans.

Made public by Rep. Augustus W. Behne of New York, the statement called for non-partisanship in the current Pearl Harbor investigation and in consideration of universal training proposals now under study.

"Some press and radio comments have attributed to the republican party certain positions on current controversial issues," the declaration read. "These comments are based upon views expressed by individual members."

The only purpose of the Pearl Harbor inquiry, the group said, "is to bring all the facts to light so that, on the basis of full knowledge, we may be in a position to avoid a repetition of this awful disaster. We emphatically reject any suggestion that our government should be questioned in Japan's program of aggression."

School Arranges Plan for Parking Here Tomorrow

Glenn Allison, high school assistant principal, has announced several parking regulations to be in effect tomorrow for the Pampa-Amarillo football game.

Decatur street, the street running directly in front of the football field, will be blocked off from the cemetery to the southwest corner of the field, Allison said.

Members of the Texas state guard, city police officers and several patrolmen from Amarillo will be on duty at the field.

Cars will be parked either directly behind the high school or to the west of the playing field. This provides over four city blocks of parking space, making it unnecessary for fans to block the street in front of the field.

Allison has asked that all fans allow wardens and patrolmen to direct parking so as to avoid congestion and so that any car can be moved if necessary.

Motorists driving to the field on Charles street are asked to stop at the southwest corner of Harvester park from where they will be directed by officials.

Allison said there was plenty of parking space available if motorists would only abide by the regulations.

Legion Convenes Here for 2 Days

Registration for the meeting of the 18th district, American Legion, will open tomorrow afternoon at 10 o'clock in the Legion building, corner of Foster and Russell streets.

Over 300 Legionnaires from 20 Panhandle counties are expected to attend the Pampa meeting, which will continue through Sunday closing with a special service for soldiers who have died in action.

Among the features on the program are the election of 40 et 8 officers at a dinner at 8 o'clock Saturday night and a dance that night at 10 o'clock.

Chinese Communists, Aided By Japanese, Opening New Attack

CHUNGKING, Nov. 30—(AP)—Chinese communists, aided by Japanese artillery, have opened a new attack against Kweisi, capital of Suiyuan in Inner Mongolia, a Chinese nationalist dispatch reported tonight.

The dispatch quoted Chinese farmers as saying 20 Japanese commanded by a Japanese officer manned two big guns in the assault.

Meanwhile the Chinese press and Moscow radio reported an agreement by which Russian forces would remain in Manchuria long enough for the Chinese government to bring in troops.

A communist statement here meanwhile charged that 52 civilians were killed or wounded Nov. 24 when two P-51 fighter planes with unidentified markings strafed villagers going to a fair in a town 80 miles from Kweisi.

Top German Spy Set Plot Against Hitler

NUERNBERG, Nov. 30—(AP)—The German army's leading spy expert plotted for years against Hitler and finally was executed in 1944 after the failure of a bomb plot against the fuhrer's life, a surprise witness testified today at the war crimes trial of 20 Nazi leaders.

Adm. Walter Wilhelm Canaris, mysterious Greek-blooded chief of the German army's counter-espionage section, was named as a leader of the anti-Hitler military clique by Maj. Gen. Erwin Lahusen, Canaris' aide. Lahusen was the first witness called by the prosecution to relate the grim inside story of German scheming and aggression.

Canaris executed Lahusen said that Canaris, who ran the German spy service disguised as a commercial agency during the days of the German republic, hated Hitler and headed a military clique which plotted against the Nazi leader from the time he rose to power. Canaris was among scores of military leaders executed after Hitler escaped death in the 1944 assassination attempt.

Lahusen said Canaris unsuccessfully protested against mass murder and ill-treatment of Russian prisoners of war.

At yesterday's meeting, the first since the conference split up into committees November 7, the 36 labor and management delegates unanimously adopted reports of three committees.

One called for the strengthening of the labor department, with additional funds to be requested from congress.

The other two ruled out strikes or lockouts until all other practices were eliminated.

Fall From Car Is Fatal To Child, 4

SHAMROCK, Nov. 30—(Special)—Myrna Ruebner, 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl A. Ruebner of Chicago, was killed 10 miles west of here about 11 a. m. yesterday morning when she accidentally opened the door and fell from the moving car to the pavement.

The Ruebners were enroute to Arizona when the accident occurred. The child was taken to St. Mary's hospital here. The body has been shipped to Chicago by Womack-Nix funeral home.

County 4-H Boys To Meet Here Tomorrow

Gray county 4-H club boys and their fathers will meet in the county court rooms tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock to elect officers for the coming year and to plan the 1946 program.

In addition the 1945 Achievement award will be made by County Agent J. P. Smith.

'Illegal Picketing' Questioned by GM

DETROIT, Nov. 30—(AP)—While awaiting conferences next week with federal conciliators, General Motors Corp. today took up with the CIO United Auto Workers union what it considers one of the knottiest problems in the ten-day strike—"illegal picketing" at the struck plants.

The corporation agreed to meet with Chief U. S. Conciliator Edgar L. Warren in Washington next Tuesday but told him negotiations with the union, as recommended yesterday by President Truman, would not be resumed until the latter modifies its picketing practices and its "30 per cent or else" wage demands.

Representing the UAW-CIO at today's discussion—the first meeting of the two parties since the strike which has idled 225,000 workers began—was Vice President Walter P. Reuther, who has denied the company charge of illegality on the picket lines.

CONFERENCE ARRANGED The Washington conference was arranged by Warren after President C. E. Wilson expressed GM's willingness to meet with government officials and offered the services of Harry W. Anderson, GM vice president in charge of personnel.

Warren said he would attempt to get negotiations resumed "as soon as possible," but Wilson, at a press conference after receiving the government invitation, was emphatic in the company's refusal to continue on trial with his fellow Nazis.

Nippon Supreme Commander in Asia Surrenders

RANGOON, Nov. 30—(AP)—Field Marshal Count Jichi Terachi, invalid supreme commander of Japanese expeditionary forces in the southern regions of Asia, formally surrendered to Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten today.

Terachi turned over his long and short swords, dating back to the 13th and the 15th centuries, in the ceremony held outside the portico of the palace of the governor-general of Cochin-China.

Continued illness of Japanese field marshal, 67, forestalled efforts to move him to Singapore, to yield his weapons, symbols of authority, from Emperor Hirohito to the supreme commander in southeast Asia. The physical surrender of the troops, however, was made in the period after Tokyo capitulated.

Leaning heavily on a cane, Terachi walked with his chief of staff, Lt. Gen. Takao Numata, about 50 feet to the surrender site. Aides carried the blades in wooden boxes.

"I am now going to accept the sword of Field Marshal Count Terachi is a symbol of the final act of surrender of the Japanese expeditionary forces of the southern regions to the supreme commander of the southeast Asia command," Mountbatten said.

They exchanged salutes and Terachi trudged away.

Prisoner of War Is Sought in Territory

Local police have been warned to be on the lookout for an escaped Italian prisoner of war, Kaster Tostini, 21, who escaped while on a work detail near Shamrock yesterday.

The Amarillo office of the FBI informed Chief of Police Lottie Allen this morning that Tostini was believed to be in this vicinity.

He was described as being about 5 feet, 7 inches in height and weighing 134 pounds. He has grey eyes, light complexion and brown hair. The FBI report said that he speaks German, French and Italian but no English.

Yamashita Makes Address Before Military Court

MANILA, Nov. 30—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita told his trial court today that he not only never authorized his subordinates to commit atrocities in the Philippines, but "if the present situation will permit, I will punish them to the fullest extent of military law."

His declaration was made in a 45-minute address to the U. S. military commission trying him on war-crimes charges. He added that he had inferior troops who badly needed training and discipline— which, under pressure of attack by superior American forces, he had no time to administer.

Earlier he had denied ever stating that he refused to declare Manila an open city because it would be a dishonor to Japanese arms.

The erstwhile "Tiger of Malaya," retaining his poise despite relentless cross-examination, emphatically denied having made such a statement to Jose Laurel, puppet president of the Philippines.

Prosecution witnesses have testified that mass rape and other horrors were committed by Japanese troops last February in the battle for Manila.

In contrast with the conduct of the Nipponese, General MacArthur had declared the Philippine capital an open city when the enemy attacked the outnumbered American and Filipino defenders in December, 1941.

Earlier today Yamashita denied that he had received an order from Field Marshal Count Terachi, supreme commander, to hold Manila its fields and its sea front—without costs, and upon request—open to the city, to destroy them completely.

High School Students To Hold Pep Meeting

Pampa Senior high students will go "all out" for their football team at a huge bonfire pep rally directly behind the high school tonight at 7 o'clock.

The 80-piece Harvester band will furnish music for the occasion and yells will be led by the five high school cheer leaders.

The public has been invited to attend the rally.

16 Harvester 11's Have Won 101, Lost 52

Maybe they haven't won any state championships but the Pampa Harvesters, since entering AA football in 1930, have established a record to be proud of.

Since playing in the upper brackets, the Harvesters have won 101 games, lost 52, tied three, scored 3,107 points and have had 1,113 scored against them in nearly 16 years of football, lacking only one game—the battle with Amarillo tomorrow—being 16 years.

In 13 of those wins, the Harvesters have scored over 50 points per game. In seven of the 13 games in which the Harvesters scored over 50 points, they ran up over 70 and in one of the seven, 83 points were scored. The 83 points were scored against Clovis last year.

HARVESTER MENTORS

Otis Coffey

Claude Whittington

Otis Coffey and Claude "Jiggs" Whittington have guided the Pampa Harvesters through one of the most successful seasons ever played here. Coffey came here from Robstown in 1932 after having established an enviable record in the South Texas city. Since then, his teams have won one district championship, placed second another season and can do no worse than a tie for second this year. Whittington, former star player for Oklahoma University and the Tulsa professional Oilers came here this fall after several years of successful coaching in Oklahoma schools. The line he has trained this year is one of the best ever boasted by a Pampa team.

District 1 Championship Hinges on Result of Tilt

Pampa's Harvesters versus the Amarillo Golden Sandstorm!

The long-awaited day is just around the clock and thousands of fans will jam Harvester park tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 to see two of West Texas' greatest high school football teams battle for a chance at the District 1-AA football title.

The Pampa-Amarillo game is more than just a game—it's an "institution" among thousands of friendly Texans, who, as far as football goes, will be rivals tomorrow.

In this case, the game takes on more importance—especially for Pampa fans, players and coaches, because, should the Harvesters win from the power-laden Sandies, the district race would be tied and officials of Plainview, Amarillo and Pampa would toss a coin to see which of the three teams would represent the district in the bi-district game against Wichita Falls.

An Amarillo victory would, of course, clinch the crown for the Golden Sandies, place Plainview second and Pampa third in the district.

Here's the way it all came about.

Pampa, Amarillo and Plainview each entered conference play undefeated and untied.

Pampa won over Brownfield, Lubbock and Borger but dropped a 14-7 verdict to Plainview. In the meantime, Plainview finished its schedule by losing only to Amarillo, leaving the Bulldogs with four wins and one loss in conference play.

Amarillo swept through Brownfield, Borger, Plainview and Lubbock and has only to win from Pampa to clinch the championship. A Pampa victory would thus leave Pampa, Amarillo and Plainview tied with four wins and a loss each.

The two teams have met 15 times on the gridiron since Pampa has been in Class AA football.

Amarillo has taken 12 of these contests and the Harvesters three but only twice have the Sandies been able to beat Pampa by more than 14 points—27-0 in 1940 and 39-7 in 1942.

There will be no difference in the average weights of the two starting lineups Saturday. Amarillo's probable starters present a combined total of 1,854 pounds while the Harvesters total only two pounds less than that.

The Pampa line will outweigh the Sandie forward wall by about five pounds per man while the Sandie backs average 10 pounds heavier than the Harvester secondary.

Both teams have been badly crippled by the flu during the past few weeks. One Amarillo regular, Bill Attebury, blocking back, definitely will not start. Only doubtful in the Pampa starting lineup is Jack Dunham, regular right end, who still has the flu.

Should Dunham not start, either Bernie Brown or Leon Gooch would be given the assignment.

Both teams have suffered only one defeat this year and both have been rated among the top 15 teams of the state throughout the season.

Pampa opened the season by beating the Electra Tigers, a team rated the "team to beat" in District 2, by a 14-7 score. Electra had its entire 1944 team intact to start the year but couldn't edge the powerful Harvesters.

The following week, Pampa gained revenge for last year's 18-13 defeat by handing the Midland Bulldogs a 25-6 setback in a game played in the South Plains city.

Phillips' powerful Blackhaws, top-rated team of Panhandle Class A football, fell before the Harvesters the following week by a 27-6 count on a rain-soaked field. Phillips has not lost a game since and will play Hereford in a bi-district contest next week.

Going from one extreme to the other, the Harvesters played the Vernon Lions on a fog-shrouded field at Vernon and won 14-0 for their fourth consecutive victory. It was the win over Vernon, always a strong team, that caused the Harvesters to begin to get state-wide recognition.

Norman's Tigers, the first team ever to beat Amarillo at Butler field, were the next victims of the local radio station this year. In addition, KPND brings a major college football game each week.

Missouri, Texas To Play in Cotton Bowl

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Nov. 30.—(AP)—A Texas team that is the living motto of its coach, D. X. Bible, who says "it's the finest that counts," holds the Southwest conference football championship and the position of host team in the Cotton Bowl for the third time in four years.

Five times this season, the Longhorns have been called upon to come from behind; only once did they fail. But yesterday wasn't that time as the Orange swarmed to two touchdowns in the final period to beat Texas A. and M. 20-10 in the fifty-second revival of this bitter rivalry.

Immediately afterward Coach Bible accepted the automatic invitation to play in the Cotton Bowl and four hours later the University of Missouri, champions of the Big Six, accepted an invitation to be visiting team provided its conference gives permission today.

Inspired A. and M. battled the Longhorns all over the field for three quarters, finally taking a 10-7 lead as the result of a field goal from the 23-yard line by Substitute John Ballentine.

But in that flaming fourth quarter, Texas rolled to two quick touchdowns. One came when Aggie Fullback Preston Smith touched a punt and Texas End Charley Tatom fell on the ball on the two-yard line. Fullback George Graham in one swipe got the score. The second touchdown came after Center Dick Harris intercepted a pass on the Aggie 30-yard line and Tailback Bobby Layne arched a throw to Reserve End R. E. Blount who took it on the seven-yard line and ambled across.

Texas scored late in the first period on an 81-yard run by Ralph Ellsworth but the Aggies tied it up in the second quarter after Gene Johnson, a graduate of the Aggie B. squad, set up a touchdown with a 44-yard dash around end that carried to the Texas 10. A roughing penalty moved the ball to the one-yard line and Rob Goode carried around end for the score.

A crowd of 40,000—the largest ever to see a football game in College Station—jammed Kyle stadium.

Texas finished the campaign with nine victories and one defeat—the 7-6 loss to Rice.

Missouri has a record of six wins.

and three defeats for the season. The Tigers made an amazing comeback after being beaten by Minnesota 34-0 and Ohio State 47-0 to win over Southern Methodist, Iowa State, Kansas State, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Kansas. They lost 14-7 to Michigan State, not a member of the Big Six conference.

"We won from a fighting club," said Coach Bible of A. M. "I was scared plenty for awhile. The boys started off slow but played a great ball game in the last period."

"That fumble by Pewee Smith took the starch out of us," said Coach Homer Norton of the Aggies. "We fought 'em tooth and nail and had the game in our palm—yes, right in our grasp—and then what happens? Why do we have to let the breaks against us whenever we play Texas, but I'm proud of all my boys. They fought hard all the way."

It was the sixth straight loss for a Norton-coached Aggie team to Texas.

In yesterday's game Texas had a wide margin in the statistics rolling up 323 yards on the ground and in the air to 210 for A. and M. In the first downs Texas led 12-10.

Three Stations To Air Contest Here Tomorrow

Three stations, serving a large portion of the Panhandle and West Texas area, will broadcast tomorrow's Pampa-Amarillo football game. Radio station KPND, Voice of the Pampa News, will broadcast the game locally under the sponsorship of the Cabot companies with Bob Watson at the microphone.

Other stations to carry the broadcast are Station KGNC in Amarillo and the Clovis, New Mexico station, KTCA.

The broadcast is scheduled to start at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon direct from Harvester park in Pampa. The kickoff is scheduled for 2:30.

Tomorrow's broadcast will be the fourth of its type to be aired through

Navy Is Cool as Cucumber as Tilt With Army Nears

By BUS HAM
PINE VALLEY, N. J., Nov. 30.—(AP)—There were no signs of the jittery today in the camp of Navy Middles over the thought of facing Army's devastating Cadets Saturday in the season's headline attraction.

Instead, the Middles apparently were headstrongly determined and hoping for the breaks against a foe that is a decided favorite. But there was little doubt that Navy's coaches privately admitted to themselves that rare good fortune would have to smile on the Middles, if they are to win.

All season the Middles have been college football's most alert opportunists, capitalizing on almost every break, and this faculty doubtlessly figures prominently in Navy's plans against Army if Army makes any mistakes.

With the possible exception of Jim Carrington, husky guard, who missed Thursday's workout because of a high temperature, the Middles have come up to the big game in excellent physical condition.

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 30.—(AP)—Over-confidence—threat of any football team that has won 17 games in a row—was visibly lacking among the members of Army's squad today as they prepared to depart for Philadelphia to meet Navy in the gridiron spectacle of the season tomorrow.

With them they carried an exhortation from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, new army chief of staff to "beat the Navy" and a warning that it doesn't pay to underestimate your opponent.

That warning against overconfidence was the keynote at last night's gigantic pep rally, during which Eisenhower addressed the corps of Cadets by telephone from his hospital bed in White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

"We are not over-confident," Johnny Green, captain of the Army team, told his classmates in a brief speech. "We know that Navy has one of the finest teams in the country."

A Coach's Idea Of Pretty Fair Football Player

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Mr. Cloverleaf Turn seeks a little information from Mr. Coach concerning a favorite football player.

Q—Is he an excitable player and easily disturbed?
A—He's as cool as a cucumber out there.

Q—Why is he as cool as a cucumber?
A—Because he has ice water in his veins.

Q—Can he placekick?
A—He boots perfect field goals squarely between the uprights.

Q—Is he a good ball carrier?
A—He has swivel hips and runs like a deer.

Q—How does he go through the line, and off tackle and swings around the ends?
A—He splits the line wide open, slices off tackle and swings around the wings.

Q—What kind of a punter is he?
A—He gets off booming punts.

Q—How is he on catching passes?
A—He's the glue fingered.

Q—Does he have a good line in front of him?
A—It's a stone wall line, and opens holes you could drive a wagon through.

Q—How is his spirit?
A—He plays an inspired game.

Q—Does he have any nicknames?
A—They call him Hamperin' Henry or Hurrurrying Hank or Hushin' Helmie.

Q—Is he easily hurt?
A—He's hard as nails and tougher than a boot.

Q—Could he play quarterback?
A—He's sharp as a tack and handles the ball like a magician.

Q—Can he pass?
A—He throws bullseyes and can hit a dime at 30 yards.

Q—What does he do when he scores a touchdown?
A—He lubs the pigskin, over the last chalk stripe.

Q—How is his blocking?
A—He hits 'em like a ton of brick, just mows 'em down.

Q—What is his general effect on the team?
A—He's the sparkplug.

Q—How is he on defense?
A—His tackling is deadly.

Q—When his team holds on the one-foot line what does it do?
A—It puts up a courageous stand.

Q—When it wins a game by one point what does it do?
A—It wins by the skin of its teeth, or by a whisker.

Q—When his team wings by a big score what does it do?
A—It goes to town.

Q—All in all, how would you rate

Miami Warriors Beat Harvesters 100 to 0

Just 36 years ago the 17th of October, Miami's pride and joy, the Warrior football team invaded Pampa and, playing on a field located where the court house now stands, "edged" Pampa about 100 to 0, as near as witnesses could count.

As far as is known, the 1909 de-

RAY SCORES KO
GALVESTON, Nov. 30—(P)—Elmer Ray, 202 pound Florida heavyweight, scored a knockout over Tiger Grant Shadde, 217, in one minute and 25 seconds of the second round here last night.

Some 3,000 fans witnessed the fight.

It was the first high school football game ever played in Pampa, the information coming from a 1931 issue of the Pampa News-Post.

Army Classed in 'Hazy No Man's Land' of Game

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK, Nov. 30—(P)—The Army football team, right now a top topic of sports conversation, was under discussion.

"It's really great," one fellow said admiringly, then added quite seriously: "It's too bad it isn't a college team."

There is was, the core of much of the resentment felt in some quarters concerning the phenomenal success of the West Point eleven.

Just what the army team is he did not say, although it's assumed he placed it somewhere in that hazy football no-man's-land somewhere between amateur and professional.

Well, up to a couple of years ago when the army gridders were taking their lumps pretty regularly in games with college teams, nobody mentioned that the service school was not a college team.

Suddenly the team starts winning, sensationally, and boom, it's no longer a college team.

We are just a little puzzled as to just why it isn't a college team. The students are in the Collegiate age group. They are under-graduates. The scholastic grade is steeper than it probably is at any other school. Annapolis excepted. Athletes are shown no favoritism. If they don't keep up in their studies, they're out, that's all.

The fact that Cadets at West Point receive a modest stipend may have something to do with it. They all receive the same. A boy's athletic inclinations or abilities have nothing to do with it, and we know that if a football player hoped to cash in on his ability at a school, in a purely amateur way, of course, West Point is the last place he would contact.

If efforts are made to get appointments for good athletes, the situation is no different than any school trying to lure such boys. Certainly money is not the lure, and once they get there they know that, even if they can score a touchdown every time they get their hands on the ball, away from the practice field they are simply cadet X with no more privileges than any other Cadet.

We have an idea that when football leaves off, as it is bound to do, and Army and Navy start losing games now and then the same as any other schools, there will be no complaint to the effect they are not college teams.

They have had the man-power edge the last two or three years because there were good athletes there who, if not there, would have been away in the service somewhere. In keeping these boys for two or three years without fear of their being taken away, the coaches have had the opportunity to blend them into cohesive teams. Other schools soon will be doing the same thing. Then watch the tur fly!

TEXAS 11'S OPERATE
Under Penetration
Rule in Tie Games

It's a general rule that touchdowns win a football game but that rule does not necessarily hold true under the plan of the Texas Interscholastic League, the organization governing all inter-school sports in Texas.

Under the penetration rule, all conference games which end with the score tied are to be decided by the number of times each penetrates the other's 20-yard line. Thus, the team that penetrates its opponent's 20-yard line the greatest number of times is declared the winner.

However, should penetrations also be tied, the team making the most first downs is the winner. Although such is seldom the case, should first downs be tied, the winner would be the team making the most yardage.

The penetration rule eliminates the necessity of figuring district standings with tie games.

Local Team Tied Amarillo Twice In '22; 9-9, 3-3

Although complete records date only from 1930, the year Pampa high school entered Class AA football, the two teams met four times before that, two of the games going to Amarillo and two being tied.

The first game between the two elevens resulted in a 9-9 dead-lock and the second that season ended 3-3.

For some reason, however, they played again and this time, Amarillo won a convincing 26-6 victory.

Next contest between the two was in 1927 when "50 loyal Pampa rooters drove through 60 miles of mud to see the Harvesters face the heavy, fast Golden Sandies and lose 26-0."

Verde Dickey coached the Harvesters at that time. Dickey now is athletic director and head coach at Adamson high school in Dallas.

operations of Ward holdings: "Every Ward retail store, mail order house and order office throughout the United States is open and in active operation. All statements to the contrary are false."

Lower stated that the reported strikes in six Ward plants in the nation does not, in any way, affect the Pampa store.

Sports Round-up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30—(P)—Looks like the only real argument at the winter minor league baseball meetings next week may be generated by the effort of the "AA" leagues to move into a new "AA" classification—and there isn't much point to that one—What they'd gain in higher draft prices would be offset by higher salaries and other increased expenses, so the only advance would be to keep the prestige of being a step ahead of the Southern association, which is going into class "AA."

International league prey Shag Shaughnessy, while insisting that four cities in his circuit could qualify for the majors, figures it would be better for all hands to stay where they are—"If the Southern moves up and we don't," says Shag, "they'll be the sorriest bunch of guys you ever saw."

SCOUTING REPORT
When Jack Venable, Oklahoma U. fullback, overhauled the Oklahoma 'Aggies' speedy Bob Penimore after a 57-yard runback of the opening kickoff in their recent tea party, Jack Jacobs, Sooner track coach, began to look at the records—He found that Venable once had scored 18 1/2 points in the Arkansas state high school track meet. A few days later Jack signed up Jack for the indoor track team.

SPORTS BEFORE YOUR EYES
Looks like Roy Hamey is a cinch to be elected American association president with Parke Carroll taking over Roy's job with the Kansas City Blues. Larry MacPhail, who hired Carroll with "no definite assignment," likes to have his minor league clubs bossed by men from their "home" territory—Look for Gene (chicken) Roberts, quarterback of the undefeated Camp Hood, Texas, football team, to turn up on the Louisiana state squad next fall.

One reason why the grid Giants are getting their bumps this season, Coach Steve Owen points out, is that they have played only one club—Pittsburgh—which wasn't in first place when it hit the New Yorkers. That likely will hold true right to the end of the season.

Army Demands Report On Return by Air of 54 Football Players

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30—(P)—The army has asked its commander in Hawaii for a report on the asserted return of 54 football players to the United States by air although they had too few points to be discharged.

An editorial in Stars and Stripes, army newspaper, said only 13 of the 54, all of whom were members of the army air force Hawaiian flyers team, would qualify for release even under the reduced score of 55 points which will go into effect soon.

Three of the former members of the Hawaii air force team have gone back to playing with their old national professional football league clubs. One of them, Jack Jacobs, said at Cleveland: "The players were flown to the United States for re-assignment, not discharge. I am on 54-day leave and will report at California at the end of my leave for new orders."

Bruins Jinxed In Quest for Win Over USC

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30.—(AP)—One of the west coast's most persistent jinxes makes the Southern California Trojans strong favorites to whip the UCLA Bruins in Saturday's Rose Bowl trial.

Since their series began in 1929, the Trojans have won nine times, the Bruins but once, and four games were tied.

Four times before, the USC-UCLA closer has decided the coast's Rose representative. In 1932 the Trojans walked the Bruins, 42-7, to earn the bid over California.

UCLA's big moment came in 1942, when a 14-7 victory sent the Bruins bowlward the only time in their athletic career.

Last year, the Trojans romped to a 40-13 win in the "crucial."

With the background and last Saturday's impressive 34-7 count over Oregon State, the experts have unhesitatingly installed the Trojans favorites by at least seven points, with some predictions scaling up to 14.

But, others point out, bogged by mud, the Bruin speed and spirit are dangerous factors.

A win or a tie puts the Trojans in the bowl for the third straight year. A Bruin victory would give Washington State the inside track, with the Bruins themselves a long shot possibility if they should trounce the Trojans, say by two touchdowns.

Harvester machine, dropping a thrilling 6-0 verdict at Norman.

In their first conference game, they easily took the measure of the Brownfield Cubs 25-0.

The game marked Pampa's fourth straight victory over the Cubs, who have yet to win from Pampa.

Lubbock's Westerners rose up the following week to hold a fighting Harvester team to a scoreless tie but Pampa won the game by virtue of getting four penetrations to Lubbock's one.

In perhaps their best game of the season, the Harvesters wrapped up a 33-0 victory over Borger's Bulldogs for their eighth straight triumph of the season.

Fans were heard to remark that it seemed that the local eleven could do nothing wrong against a fighting Bulldog eleven that put up a marvelous goal-line stand four times during the game.

In their ninth game of the season, the Pampans found themselves behind the Plainview Bulldogs 14-0 at the half and couldn't quite make it up as they suffered their first loss of the season 14-7.

Coaches Howard Lynx and T. G. Hull have come up with another great team at Amarillo.

The Sandies opened the season against the Childress Bobcats and barely squeaked out a 12-8 victory in a game that was marred by many fumbles and penalties.

However, Amarillo began to speed up the next week trouncing the Abilene Eagles 33-12.

They followed with an 18-0 win over Vernon and a 21-6 triumph over San Angelo.

In their first conference game, the Sandies took the measure of the Brownfield Cubs by administering them a sound 42-6 beating for the Sandies' fifth straight victory.

Odessa's Broncs proved too much for the Standstorm the following week-end, edging the Amarilloans 20-13 in a thrilling gridiron battle.

The Sandies got back in their winning ways with a 21-0 win over a fighting Borger Bulldog team for Amarillo's second conference win.

Plainview was Amarillo's next victim, the Bulldogs falling before the Sandie powerhouse 7-0 and Amarillo pulled up last week with a convincing 33-6 triumph over Lubbock.

2 District Titles On Block Tonight

By The Associated Press
Thirteen district championships have been determined and two more go on the line tonight in Texas schoolboy football.

Tomorrow the first round bracket of the state play-off will be completed as Amarillo battles Pampa at Pampa with the district I crown on the block.

Tonight Highland Park entertains Sulphur Springs at Dallas with the district 6 title in the balance. Highland Park needs no more than a tie to win the championship. Defeat would throw Highland Park, Sulphur Springs and Denton into a deadlock for the lead.

At Temple waco's Tigers battle the Temple Wildcats for the title in district 10.

Odessa blasted Midland 48-0 yesterday to win district 3 honors and immediately afterward arranged to play its bi-district game with El Paso high at El Paso Dec. 8. El Paso is district 4 champion.

Other district titlists already determined are: 2-Wichita Falls, 5-Paris, 7-North Side (Fort Worth), 8-Crozier Tech (Dallas), 9-Breckenridge, 11-Marshall, 12-Lufkin, 13-Milly (Houston), 14-Goose Creek, 15-Jefferson (San Antonio), 16-Brownsville.

Six-Star Admiral Commands Chinese Fleet Composed of Six War Ships

By RICHARD CUSHING

SHANGHAI, Nov. 30—China's top admiral, Chen Shao-Kwan, wears six stars, one more than any other admiral in the world. And right now the Chinese navy is down to six ships, one for each star.

It wasn't always that way. Hundreds of years ago the Chinese navy had so many ships—wooden junks, of course—that they could be chained together to form a sea blockade 200 miles long. That was back in the Han dynasty and the three-kingdom dynasty, when three war lords were fighting one another on sea and land. They fought a close-quarter war in those days. They set junks afire with flaming arrows, boarded, and beat in enemy heads with spiked clubs.

The modern Chinese navy began to take shape after the opium war of 1942. China built dockyards and a naval training station.

After the 1911 Chinese revolution the navy obtained ships from Japan. Britain and Germany and eventually floated a fleet of 20 vessels, including several cruisers. In 1937 the navy had 53 ships, including five cruisers: total tonnage, 44,000 tons. The fleet was destroyed—except for six small vessels—in three blockade operations on the Yangtze river in late 1937 and early 1938. These blockades were more or less delaying actions, and were costly in men and ships, but prevented the Japanese from sending invasion forces into the interior aboard transport ships. These three blockades cost seven-eighths of the Chinese navy. The few ships that survived were taken up river to Chungking after their guns had been removed and emplaced as shore batteries.

British Study New Helicopter

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30—A 16-ton helicopter to lift five tons, and a Blohm & Voss airplane with variable-incidence wing control were in development by the Germans in France at the war's end, Aviation News, McGraw-Hill publication, reveals in an article in the current news.

The helicopter and the plane, the magazine says, are described in reports by a British intelligence mission just released by the U. S. commerce department's office by the publication board.

"The Focke-Achgens 284 helicopter," Aviation News states, "was intended to lift tanks, trucks and the like across river and to hoist such loads as bridge girders into place. Paper design work at Breguet design office at Toulouse was destroyed when the plant was bombed, but detail was given from memory by staff members. It has twin rotors, 55.5 feet in diameter, counter-rotating and mounted at the tips of a transverse beam consisting of a center portion and inclined outriggers built of tubular struts. Original power was two BMW 801 engines of 1,600 hp. each, later increased to 2,000 hp.

"Staff members said the machine was designed to lift two tons, but later was increased to 16 tons operating weight by the addition of power. "The British mission inspected two prototypes of the Blohm & Voss plane at the Bayonne Breguet factory. One of them had been assembled, then dismantled and was awaiting transportation to Toulouse for test flight; the other was almost complete. Neither had been flown. Each had two 14-cylinder BMW engines, giving 1,600 hp. at 2,400 rpm. There was very little data on control of the variable-incidence wings, or on their performance. It was learned that Breguet expected trouble with the actuating jacks. Design is said to combine low drag in cruising, with short landing gear, keeping fuselage floor horizontal and low for convenient loading. The plane is an all-metal, high-wing type, with retractable tricycle landing gear, carrying 18 passengers and crew of three, with 1,100 pounds of cargo, over 930 miles range. A rear compartment is adaptable for five more passengers, displacing freight. Fuel and oil, 420 and 40 gallons

Estimated Yields Texas Grain Crops Made by Bureau

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 30—Texas' 1945 grain crops took a beating from drought and harvest-time rains, and cotton production fell to a half-century low. The bureau of agricultural economics, Austin, quotes the latest survey by the crop reporting board of the U. S. department of agriculture that early fall estimates of cotton, corn and peanut yields declined materially during October. At the same time, however, rice showed an increase, and the earlier estimate of grain sorghum yields remained unchanged.

Giving production totals, the BAE said that the present estimate of 1,880,000 bales for the 1945 cotton harvest represented a decline of 120,000 bales during October. This estimate compared with 2,646,000 bales in 1944 and 3,112,000 the average for the 1934-1943 period. Early October rains reduced the rate of harvest and lowered both the quality and quantity of production. The corn crops was estimated at 66,048,000 bushels, a drop of about 2,000,000 bushels from the October 1 estimate. There was some damage from heavy rains during October. The 1944 crop was 69,622,000 bushels and the 10-year average 77,427,000 bushels.

The November 1 estimated production of 68,130,000 bushels of grain sorghums represented an acreage field of 15 bushels. This, the BAE said was "only average." Continuing, the BAE said that the season was unfavorable on the high plains but "favorite enough elsewhere."

Harvesting on November 1 was about complete except on the high plains. The rice crop was indicated at 17,600,000 bushels, an increase of 400,000 bushels over the October 1 estimate. Heavy rains caused widespread losses in the peanut crop. The current estimate of 358,200,000 pounds, although about 10 per cent below the October 1 estimate, tops the 1944 yield of 325,800,000 pounds in 1944.

ria. Giraud for a time was the Allied-recognized French leader in North Africa.
The prosecution's surprise witness declared former Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop once asserted that "all farms of Poles must be burned to the ground and all Jews killed" in the invasion of Poland.
Hitler was responsible for the policy of starvation that led to cannibalism among Russian prisoners, Lahousen declared. He said preparations were made to take Russian prisoners to Germany "but this was countermanded, we heard, on Hitler's personal orders."
"This meant there was great confusion at the front," he commented. "People could not be fed nor clothed and cannibalism ensued. x x x During repeated trips I un-

ILLEGAL PICKETING
The "illegal picketing," Wilson said, has prevented supervisory employees from entering and leaving GM plants at will, has led to a "situation of lawlessness" at the plants.
If present methods of picketing are continued, he said he "supposed" the company would resort to court injunctions.
TERMS ANNOUNCED
Wilson declined to say on what terms the company would settle the wage controversy.
"The way I feel at the moment," he declared, "it is something less than we offered to avoid the strike," the difference representing "the loss to us." The company's last offer was for a cost of living increase estimated to average about 10 percent.
Reuther repeated his statement that the union would be willing to accept less than a 30 percent increase if the "arithmetic" disclosed by an impartial investigation of the corporation's books showed that amount could not be granted without price increases.

Pearl Harbor

...chief, what he knows about the purported recording of a Tokyo radio broadcast which Keefe said meant the war was on.
The Japanese prepared a code to signal their diplomats that a break with the United States was near.
Committee members said there is dispute in official records of previous Pearl Harbor inquiries as to whether the message ever was broadcast, whether it was recorded by American monitoring stations and whether copies of it were filed.
Senator Brewster (R-Me) attempted unsuccessfully earlier to get the committee's permission to look at what he said he suspects may be a vacant war department file that might once have contained a copy of the message.
Keefe told reporter he thinks "General Miles can play an important part in giving us what knowledge he has of the disappearance of that message."
The Japanese had arranged in a document decoded and translated by the navy Nov. 28, 1941, to insert in the middle of the daily Tokyo short wave radio news broadcast the words "east wind rain." They instructed their diplomats this was to be the signal that "Japan-U. S. relations in danger" and for them to destroy their codes.
Gesell pressed Miles with questions yesterday which brought out these points:
1. Looking now at a Tokyo message to a Honolulu agent, decoded Oct. 9, 1941, it appears that the Japanese were seeking information to plan a bombing attack on Pearl Harbor.
2. Army and navy commanders in Hawaii weren't told about the breaking of the Japanese code—although some of the information thus obtained was sent on to them—because General Marshall wanted the operation "magic" kept highly secret. Operation "magic" was the code named applied to the reading of intercepted messages.
3. The army and navy didn't have the personnel and equipment necessary to make swift decodings and translations in all cases.
Miles insisted that the message concerning Pearl Harbor didn't look particularly significant at the time it was received.

Officers Appeal For Revision of State Parole Law

By MARY L. KENNEDY
AUSTIN, Nov. 29—(P)—District and county attorneys of Texas have joined with police and sheriffs in calling for revision of the laws under which prisoners are pardoned or paroled from the penitentiary system.
E. A. Gormley of Dallas, president of the Police Chiefs association, appointed a committee to study the effects of pardons and paroles on the apparent increase on crime being experienced in Texas.
The district and county attorneys noting that "it has never been hard to get signatures to a petition for a pardon," released a committee report suggesting the law be made more stringent. This was sent to the governor and members of the legislature.
One recommendation was that a prisoner be required to notify prosecuting witnesses or injured parties of his intention to obtain a pardon, so they would have an opportunity to present their views.
Chairman Elster Haile of the board of pardons and paroles says he welcomes any investigation of the system, and believes "co-operation of all branches of law enforcement is needed to strengthen the parole system."
He disagrees with the police association criticism that both paroles and convictions are increasing. He cites these figures: Convictions dropped from 2,683 in 1940 to 1,611 in 1944; paroles dropped from 1,942 in 1940 to 1,680 last year, and both these factors served to lower the entire prison population. The rise in parole violations from six per cent five years ago to 10 per cent last year, he attributed to the unsettled conditions brought on by the war.
Homer Garrison, director of the department of public safety, believes some of the trouble lies in the provision of law under which a prisoner comes up for parole automatically, with "good time" subtracted from the minimum end of his sentence.
"A 'wise convict' often plays good," says Garrison, "because he knows it will get him out of the pen in a hurry."
"Therefore, before a man can be safely recommended for parole, we need a thorough study of his past social history and present disposition of crime as analyzed by a trained psychiatrist."
Garrison also noted that "every law passed during the past few years has made it harder to convict a man, but easier to get him out of the pen."
It is becoming evident that the next legislature will face a strong demand for revision of the pardon and parole laws. Gov. Coke Stevenson says he has the situation under constant study, and make some recommendations himself.
(Tomorrow: what those who name members of the parole board think should be done.)

General Favors Marshall for Post

CHUNGKING, Nov. 30—(P)—Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, U. S. commander in China, told newsmen yesterday that he thought General Marshall was being sent to China "to make a survey of the situation and make appropriate recommendations to the President concerning future U. S. assistance—or military aid—to China."
Few men in the United States, either military or civilian, are better equipped to evaluate a situation than General Marshall. He has a fund of experience in international affairs, and enjoys the respect of the President, congress and the people of the United States," Wedemeyer added.
Chinese press dispatches meanwhile reported nationalists have halted their fighting advance toward Mukden, Manchuria, because Russians allegedly agreed to their peaceful entry later into that historic, industrially-rich city.
The dispatches said that nationalists now are mopping up Chinese communist resistance in the area between Shanhaiwan, great-wall gateway of Manchuria, and Kowangtze, a rail junction 90 miles below Mukden.

The tall, bald general said Von Ribbentrop's statement was made Sept. 12, 1939, at a meeting on Hitler's train attended by the Fuehrer, Canaris, Ribbentrop, Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel and Col. Gen. Alfred Jodl.
A tentative plan to assassinate French Marshal Maxime Weygand after the fall of France was discussed by German military leaders but was not carried out, General Lahousen said. The assassination was suggested by Field Marshal Keitel, one of the defendants, to prevent the possibility of formation of a resistance movement around the French military leader, he said.
Polish uniforms were provided by the counter-intelligence section to outfit Germans for a make attack on a German radio station at Gleiwitz, thus providing an "incident" which Hitler used as one of the excuses for invading Poland, Lahousen testified.

Former Borgan Heads Legion Publication

CORPUS CHRISTI, Nov. 30—(AP)—Herschel Hunt, reporter for the Corpus Christi Caller-Times, plans to leave here tomorrow for Austin, where he has accepted the editorship of the Texas Legion News, American Legion state publication. Hunt, former managing editor of the Laredo Times, has worked in newspapers at Waco, Wichita Falls, Port Arthur and San Antonio. He is a native of Borger, Texas.

AUSTIN, Nov. 30—(AP)—The most pressing need for improving parole in Texas is to have the legislature clarify the laws governing it, agree the three men who appoint members of the board of pardons and paroles.

"We need to strengthen the statutes," says Gov. Coke R. Stevenson.

"We have a good parole board but they are handicapped by indefinite laws," says F. L. Hawkins, presiding judge of the court of criminal appeals.

"We need to re-write the laws, that's certain," says James P. Alexander, chief justice of the supreme court.

Alexander goes a step further and says one of the parole board members should be a trained sociologist or psychiatrist. "Not one of the long-haired kind, you understand," says Alexander, "but a sound man that knows his business."

Beyond these comments the appointing body will not go. Bruce Bryant, now an assistant to the attorney general, and the first chairman of the board of pardons and paroles, steps out forthrightly.

"Loose legislation," says Bryant, "is the trouble."

"We have the disgraceful situation of constitutional officers being required to administer parole laws which legally apply to the abolished statutory board."

"Furthermore, while the original aim of removing the parole power from the governor and placing it in the hands of a board, was sound, in practice it has not worked out that way. Parole board members are still tied to politics inasmuch as they look to the senate for confirmation of their appointment and to the house for fixing up their salary."

"You cannot have a courageous, non-political, and unembarrassed parole board until you correct this situation."

He believes further the salary should be raised to $6,000 annually, in keeping with the "dignity and importance of the office." (Originally was fixed at $3,600; raised last session to $4,200).

Until the legislature obeys the mandate of the 1936 constitutional amendment which requires re-writing of the parole laws and putting them on a constitutional basis, Bryant thinks the parole board should adhere to and more strictly interpret the present statutes.

Elster M. Haile, parole board chairman, has stated, "in the absence of definite laws, we construe the statutes as we see fit."

Bryant also believes there is too great a disparity in sentences. Two men, committing similar crimes in different counties, are given different sentences.

And generally, says Bryant, sentences are for the minimum not the maximum.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29—(AP)—A Victory loan statement from John E. Bantyne, president of the Philco corporation:

"Every American has a chance to contribute to his own as well as his country's post-war financial stability by buying an extra bond in the 'Victory loan.' When you buy a bond you are building a backlog of security for yourself that at some future date may be very valuable. What is more, you can do this in the full knowledge that you will always be able to get back your original investment plus interest."

New Official of General Atlas

Carl J. Wright

Carl J. Wright, general manager, General Atlas Carbon Co., has been elected an officer of the corporation and will now serve as vice president and general manager.

The General Atlas Properties, for which Wright was general manager and agent, were acquired from the previous owners April 1, 1945, by the General Atlas Carbon Co., a Massachusetts corporation in which Godfrey L. Cabot, Inc., Boston, holds controlling interest. Wright continued as general manager under the new corporation.

Since 1922, Wright, as a member of the staff of Henry L. Doherty and Co., Inc., had been in charge of the development of the General Atlas Process for producing Semi-Reinforcing Furnace Blacks. After graduation from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in 1913 with a degree of Electrical Engineer, Wright was employed as an engineer by the Denver Gas and Electric Co., a subsidiary of Cities Service Co.

After 20 years at the New York headquarters of General Atlas, Wright moved to Pampa, the site of the first General Atlas Furnace Black plant.

University Has Housing Problem

AUSTIN, Nov. 30—(AP)—The pressing problem of where to put all the students who want to go to the University of Texas, but who can not find any place to live, today faced the university's board of regents.

The regents were expected at their meeting today to award contracts for movement to Austin of hundreds purchased to serve temporarily for some housing. But it was also anticipated that long-term and permanent plans for more student housing would be discussed.

The university at the beginning of the current term lost approximately 500 students because they could find no place to live. Many of these were World War II veterans.

CAP Cadets To Try Life of Army Airmen

DALLAS, Nov. 30—(AP)—Life as regular army air force cadets will be tried tomorrow and Sunday by some 75 civil air patrol cadets from Dallas, Waco, Temple and Wichita Falls.

The boys, all between 15 and 17, will be under the supervision of Flying Squadron Two at Fort Worth army air field.

House-Less Veterans Demand Housing Units

FORT WORTH, Nov. 30—(AP)—A group of house-less veterans has demanded that congress "at once provide the sum necessary to relocate at least 50,000 vacant temporary war housing units."

At a mass meeting here last night, the veterans, in a resolution, said that congress should appropriate $150,000,000 to relieve the nation's housing shortage and "give it priority over relief to foreign countries."

Contralto To Present Community Concert at Junior High Tonight

Belying the old-time conception of the concert singer, Joan Watson fully meets the standards of "glamor." Tall, slim, attractive, the singer who appears here this evening impresses her audience with her sophisticated appearance as well as with her true contralto voice of three octave range, coloratura flexibility, warmth and fullness.

Turning her graphic abilities, which at the age of 17 won her first prize in an art contest, to practical use, Miss Watson generally designs her own clothes which are executed for her by Helen Fredericks of New York. Believing that the correct costume is an important element in the artistic perfection of a performance, Miss Watson chooses deep, flowing colors and graceful draped lines for her recital dresses while her gowns for oratorio appearance are either black or white and of classic simplicity. Velvet, long gloves and trains are typical items in the Watson wardrobe.

The contralto's jewelry tastes are consistent... garnets for her favorite, and her collection includes both new and old stones in both modern and antique settings. Her favorite ornament is a jewel of brilliant set in the shape of a maple leaf. This pin, a replica of the diamond leaf presented to Queen Elizabeth by Canada, was given to Miss Watson by the New York chapter of the Maple Leaf club after she sang a solid-out benefit for this organization at the Town Hall. The funds raised by this benefit enabled the organization to open a new recreation room at the Maple Leaf Canteen for service men.

Miss Watson is appearing in Pampa tonight at the Junior high school auditorium for the second number of the present series of the Pampa Community Concert association. Admission is by membership card only, except to the servicemen or discharged servicemen who may purchase admissions at the door. The concert will start promptly at 8:30 p. m.

Shamrock Methodist Women Meet in Homes, Plan Annual Parties

SHAMROCK, Nov. 30—(Special)—Northside Circle of the W. S. C. S. of the First Methodist church met in the home of Mrs. S. L. Draper Monday afternoon.

Mrs. H. T. Fields presided over the business session, during which time plans were completed for the annual Christmas party to be held at the church, Dec. 17. All women of the church are invited, and each person will bring a gift for the exchange.

Mrs. Chester Furdall gave the devotional, and for the lesson, Mrs. J. H. Caperton gave, "They Made a Christian of Me," written by Stanley W. Tefft of the U. S. navy.

The meeting was dismissed with prayer led by Mrs. Hubert Tindall. During the social hour, refreshments were served to Mesdames W. L. Orrick, T. E. Burkhalter, R. T. Hill, Ed R. Wallace, Hubert Tindall, J. H. Caperton, J. R. Benson, L. S. Griffin, Matt Clay, L. E. DePew, and H. T. Fields.

The Southside Circle met in the home of Mrs. Albert Ryan, and the meeting opened with group singing of, "Savior Like a Shepherd Lead Me."

Connie Kay Lewis favored the group with a reading entitled, "My Shadow." Mrs. Ryan read a poem, "Going Home," by Jan Struther, after which the Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison.

Mrs. Royce Lewis gave the story, "Through the Cross."

Plans were made by the group for the group for the annual Christmas party to be held at the church, Dec. 17, at which time the two circles of the W. S. C. S. will entertain all the women of the church.

The meeting was dismissed with group singing of, "This Is God's World."

Refreshments were served to the following members: Mesdames J. T. Weems, O. T. Glascock, M. M. Baxter, O. B. Harvey, J. B. Christner, Royce Lewis, William Kyle, and Connie Kay Lewis.

The Eastern Hemisphere to date has produced more than 10 billion barrels of oil.

Sisters Are Complimented at Party Given To Entertain Group Friends

Ages of the guests totaled 876 years, when C. P. Pursley entertained Wednesday afternoon honoring his aunts, Miss Lizzie Pursley and Mrs. H. H. Harris, with a party in their home, 718 Banks.

The two sisters moved to Pampa two years ago from Athens, Tenn., where they had always made their homes.

Average age of the guests was 73 years, with the oldest 84 and the youngest 64. Five of the number were over 75, and pictures were made of this group, and also of all the guests.

Each guest was presented with a pink rosebush corsage.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to Mesdames T. J. Lomax, M. F. Blair, W. N. Perkins, R. A. McCrate, N. A. Cobb, J. E. Corson, Fannie Ledrick, A. Converse, L. D. Davis, and Mrs. Ivy Pursley, Miami, mother of C. P. Pursley.

Assisting in the party arrangements were: Mesdames C. P. Pursley, Harvey Waters, R. B. Dial, Tommie Hill, Ervin Pursley, Billie Pursley and Frank Pursley.

Woman's Missionary Society Meets for Royal Service Study

MIAMI, Nov. 30—(Special)—The Woman's Missionary society of the First Baptist church met in the home of Mrs. W. F. Locke Monday afternoon for the regular Royal Service and social meeting. Mesdames Howard Mulkey, Alfred Cowan, E. C. Meador and Homer Ratliff were hostesses.

After a short business session with the president in charge, the meeting was turned to the leader, Mrs. W. F. Locke, who gave a resume of the progress made in missionary activities by Southern Baptists in the last 100 years.

During the social hour, the younger women were honored in a special tea, featuring the Centennial theme, as this year marks the one-hundredth year since mission work was begun by Southern Baptists.

The table was laid with a lace cloth and appointments of crystal and silverware were used. Mesdames Graham and Meador poured. The next Royal Service meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Moore.

Mrs. Blaine Puckett Is Shamrock Hostess

SHAMROCK, Nov. 30—(Special)—The Presbyterian Auxiliary met in the home of Mrs. Blaine Puckett Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Bill Doty was in charge of the program which was a Thanksgiving Prayer Retreat with each member present taking part.

At the close of the program, refreshments were served. Members attending were: Mesdames Bill Doty, Tom Brown, Rufus Dodgen, T. H. Sonnenburg and J. L. Hartsfield.

Tea and Bridal Shower Is Given In Shamrock for Zena Gierhart

SHAMROCK, Nov. 30—(Special)—Miss Zena Gierhart of Pampa was complimented with a formal tea and bridal shower at the home of Miss Re Lummus Tuesday evening of last week.

Other hostesses who assisted Miss Lummus were Mrs. Nadine Nichols, Miss Fannie Mae Hanning and Miss Cora Lummus.

Pink carnations and snapdragons were used throughout the entertaining rooms to decorate for the occasion.

In the receiving line were: Miss Re Lummus, Mrs. E. B. Gierhart, mother of the honoree, and Miss Gierhart.

Miss Fannie Mae Hanning had charge of the guest register and Miss Cora Lummus, the gift room, where many attractive gifts were displayed.

In the dining room, the table was laid with a cloth of Italian cutwork. Centering the table was a miniature bride and bridegroom standing on a pedestal of rosepoint crystal, encircled with pink carnations and fern. Blue tapers burned in crystal holders.

Punch was served from an antique cutglass punch bowl, with Mrs. Nadine Nichols presiding, assisted in the dining room by Miss Paula Bledsoe, of Kelton.

Other members of the house party were Mrs. Louis Bledsoe of Kelton, and Mrs. Carl P. Bong of Corpus Christi, a sister of the honoree.

During the receiving hours, Barbara Scott and Miss Rosea Hilton played piano numbers, and Miss Arnell Sorenson sang two selections, accompanied by Miss Hilton.

About 40 guests called during the evening.

If Skin Is Oily Avoid Rich Foods

By ALICIA HART NEA Staff Writer

When dormitory discussions turn to beauty problems, there's bound to be several co-eds who list oily skins as their major burden. Oil glands working overtime can raise red with make-up, and a too-oily face certainly rates zero on glamor. But oil output may be harnessed by proper skin care and strict attention to diet. When the crowd gathers at the college hangout, skip the gooey sundaes and sodas and drink fruit juice instead. Eat company with chocolate cream pie, doughnuts and rice gravies for awhile. Fatty foods are not for the girl with too-oily skin.

Using thick suds of bland soap and water for cleansing the skin night and morning is the basis of skin care. Witch hazel and rosewater patted on the specially oily places will stimulate the normal carrying off of excess oil. But for lubricant-hungry areas—the corners of the eyes and the throat—a cream should be used at night.

Infants are not able to focus their eyes accurately until about three months after birth.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture: Deuteronomy 8:17-18; Psalms 90:7-11; Malachi 3:8-10; Luke 12:13-21; Acts 2:41-47.

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.
Perhaps the most important of the many Scripture passages suggested for this lesson is the first, the two verses from the eighth chapter of Deuteronomy.

It was this fact—that no matter how great, successful and seemingly all-powerful and self-sufficient a man becomes, he depends upon something outside of himself and beyond his control—that Jesus emphasized so pointedly in the parable of the successful farmer, whose relationship, and were "rich toward God" in this way? A world torn by the strife of war is still torn by economic strife, class against class, man against man.

I would not have religion become, as it too often has been, "the opiate of the people," making them content with unsound and unsocial conditions. But how much nearer solution would be these deep issues that have thrown our country into economic strife if they were not in a Christian spirit!

What does it mean to be rich toward God? I think it means to be God-like in our relationships and attitude toward others. God does not need anything that we have to give, since all things come from Him; but God does hold us responsible for what He has given us.

It is the Christian investment of all that that we are and have that is being rich toward God; and one finds the practical examples of it in people like Dr. Wilfred Grenfell and Jane Addams, and many others who have lived so nobly and unselfishly.

Can we picture what our world would be if all men, and even all professing Christians, had Christ's conception of economic values and fields brought forth plentifully and who planned to pull down his barns and build greater. He had built up a great heritage, and he thought he had fine times ahead; but he had left out of account the most important thing of all—his own life. God said, "This night thy soul shall be required of thee."

What does it mean to be rich toward God? I think it means to be God-like in our relationships and attitude toward others. God does not need anything that we have to give, since all things come from Him; but God does hold us responsible for what He has given us.

Busy Man's Neglect To Be Heard Sunday At First Baptist

Rev. E. Douglas Carver, pastor of the First Baptist church, will be in the pulpit for both services Sunday.

"A Busy Man's Neglect" is the sermon subject for the 11 o'clock hour. R. Virgil Mott, director of music and education, will direct the music in both services Sunday.

He will be assisted by Mrs. R. Virgil Mott and Miss Eloise Lane at the piano. At the morning hour, Mr. Mott will sing, "Cast Thy Burden on the Lord" for the special music.

For the prelude Mrs. Mott and Miss Lane will play, "Morning" by Greg, and for the offertory, "Melody" by Dawes.

Sunday school meets at 9:45 in twelve departments, and the Training Union at 5:30 in eight departments. There are classes and unions for every age for all who will come.

At the evening hour, Rev. Carver will use as his sermon topic, "Sleeping—Through Riding On A Rough Sea." An invitation awaits all newcomers and residents of Pampa to attend any or all of the services of the First Baptist church.

"Where The Visitor Is Never A Stranger." Those prohibited from attending places of public worship can hear the service which is broadcast each Sunday morning over KPDM.

Church Women Work In Many Countries

By MARY FOWLER

In appealing to young people to consider the Christian ministry, missionary service, and other vocations within the church as their life work, President Hugh C. Stuntz, of Scarriet college for Christian workers, Nashville, Tenn., said recently: "Ten million men and women, our relatives, have cheerfully sacrificed every normal ambition to serve in the destructive phase of this gigantic construction job to build a new world. Many will return maimed, blind, or deranged. It is too much to ask that a few thousand choice young men and women shall undertake the most rewarding tasks impossible in helping to build the religion of Jesus Christ into the structure of tomorrow? Is it too much to ask that they shall prepare for that service? Is it too much to ask that the church support such a project with all of its resources?"

Two graduates of Gingling college, a women's college in China supported by a number of Christian mission agencies, have been honored by important appointments. Miss Dji Yu-bao, who has served as a social worker in factories in Wushiah, and in the labor board division of the municipal council of Shanghai, is en route to Montreal, Canada, where she will be connected with the international labor office meanwhile she is visiting industrial centers in the United States. Dr. Lu Gwei-djen has been appointed on the staff of the British council as adviser for nutritional sciences.

"Education, proper to her sex, of the young girl, and not rarely also of the grown woman, is a necessary condition of her preparation and formation for a life worthy of her," said Pope Pius XII recently to the Catholic women in Italy. "The ideal would evidently be that this education should begin with infancy in the intimacy of the Catholic home under the direction of the mother. It is, unfortunately, not always possible. However, it is possible to supply at least in part for this deficiency by securing for the young girl who of necessity must work outside the home, one of those occupations which are to some extent a training ground and a novitiate for the life for which she is destined. To such a purpose also serve those schools of domestic economy which make of the young girl of today the wife and mother of tomorrow."

Christian Science Sunday Study Topic

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alas Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Dec. 2.

The Golden Text is: "How hath the oppressor ceased!—The Lord hath broken the staff of the wicked, and the scepter of the rulers" (Isaiah 14:4,5).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil" (Ephesians 6:11).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The despot's tendencies, inherent in mortal mind and always germinating in new forms of tyranny, must be rooted out through the action of the divine mind" (page 225).

'The Church' Will Be Sermon Subject At First Methodist

Rev. E. B. Bowen, pastor of the First Methodist church, will preach at both the morning and evening hours of worship Sunday. His subject for the morning hour will be, "The Church." The hymns for the service will be, "The Church's One Foundation," "I Love Thy Church, O God," and "Jesus, Keep Me Near The Cross." Mrs. John Skelly's organ numbers will be "Pastorale," by Sullivan, "Andante Cantabile," by Tours, and "Postlude," by Stern.

The anthem, "They That Trust in The Lord," by Frey, will be sung by the choir under the direction of Mrs. Claudie Gallman.

Church school meets at 9:45, and the morning worship is at 10:55. Youth Fellowship groups will meet at 6:30, and the evening worship service will begin at 7:30.

Miss Mildred Martin is organist for the evening hour, and Hilda Ruth Burden will play the piano accompaniment for the hymns. Horace McBee will direct the congregational singing. Miss Martin's numbers will be "Soprano," by Drdia, and "Murmuring Zephyrs," by Jensen.

The public is invited to attend the services.

The English sparrow, having conquered every climate on earth except the Arctic, is regarded as the most successful songbird.

Revival Services To Begin Next Sunday At Central Baptist

Rev. Rudolph Q. Harvey, pastor of the Central Baptist church, announces the opening of a series of revival services at that church, Sunday morning, Dec. 2. Dr. Kermit Melugin, recently discharged as chaplain will be the visiting evangelist.

Dr. Melugin was pastor of outstanding churches in Texas before entering the service, and has many experiences from his service that will add to his messages. Services will be held daily at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Prayer services and the booster band will meet each evening at 7 o'clock.

W. L. Ayers, music director of the church, will have charge of the music, assisted by Mrs. Ayers at the piano. Special music will be arranged, and gospel singing will be a highlight of the revival.

A Training Union revival is to be conducted in this church Jan. 20-25, under the direction of state workers, Miss Clara May, who will teach the adults and will be in charge of the revival; Miss Louise Villemain, who will be in charge of the Intermediate and Junior departments, and Miss Thurma Dean Miller, who will be in charge of the elementary department.

A similar meeting will be held for the Sunday school, Feb. 10-15, with the names of the workers to be announced at a later date.

An invitation is given to all who do not have a church home to attend the revival and worship with a "neighborly church for a neighborly people," the pastor said.

Honduras is the largest and one of the most mountainous of the central American republics.

You Are Invited to Hear DR. KERMIT C. MELUGIN

DECEMBER 2---16 10 A. M.---7:30 P. M.

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH

AT CORNER FRANCIS AND STARKWEATHER

Dr. Melugin has pastored some outstanding churches in Texas before entering the chaplaincy. He was pastor at Arlington, North Side, Fort Worth, and Polytechnic of Fort Worth. He comes highly recommended as being a dynamic preacher of the old time Gospel and his experience as a chaplain has added many wonderful experiences that you will be the loser if you fail to hear.

W. L. Ayers, music director of the church, will be in charge of the music and old time Gospel singing will be enjoyed by all. Booster band and prayer services each evening at 7:00.

RUDOLPH Q. HARVEY, PASTOR, AND MEMBERSHIP extends to you a warm welcome to this "neighborly church for a neighborly people."

IT WILL BE A BIG DAY—EITHER WAY

Tomorrow afternoon two strong teams will pit their science, their tactics and their strength against each other on Harvester field. It will be the culmination of a year's work—hard work—for the Pampa Harvesters and the Amarillo Sandies.

We have reason to believe there will be a good deal of betting on that game, but that is a minor thing. The important thing about the game is that both teams have worked toward it all the season, and we hope, with a sense of sportsmanship all the way.

True, often football fans—and players—forget the real motive behind such sport as this. They forget that it is for better character, for the achievement of a sense of fair play, for the achievement of ability to accept defeat on the field of friendly competition—it is for these qualities that interscholastic sports were conceived.

Of course, we are going to that game with the assumption that Pampa will win—that is our highest hope, so far as the final score is concerned. But the total score when the last whistle blows will be final—and we will accept that finality. "It does not matter whether we win or lose, but how . . ."

Common Ground

Collective Bargaining and Auto Manufacturers

Both the Republican and Democratic parties and most of the churches have gone on record as favoring collective bargaining. Most of them, however, do not really believe in collective bargaining; they believe in class legislation.

If they really believed in collective bargaining, they would be advocating that all of the automobile manufacturers get together and refuse to employ any labor so long as the labor unions are calling a strike on any one of them. If people really believed in collective bargaining, this would be regarded the proper course of action.

If the automobile manufacturers would do this they would hear the endorsement of collective bargaining proclaimed to high heaven against this collusion. They would brand the automobile manufacturers as being unsocial for doing the very same things they have been endorsing in labor groups.

The results of either manufacturers or labor groups getting together, simultaneously to squeeze the public and get an abnormal reward, would be unethical, un-Christian and uneconomic.

These strikes are an expensive way of becoming educated but if people cannot foresee the results of their inequity, they will have to learn it the hard way, by deprivation.

We Wonder Why

There are some interesting facts that come behind what one reads that the Office of Price Administration has permitted the Studebaker Corp. to raise the price of its automobiles by nine per cent over the January 1942 price and have required General Motors to lower its prices by two and one-half per cent.

By RAY TUCKER
DEFIANCE—The action of the house rules committee in giving the green light to the Smith bill penalizing unions which stage strikes in violation of their contracts was far more than a routine bit of parliamentary business, although it received no more than passing attention except from insiders on Capitol Hill.

It was a bipartisan defiance—four republicans and two democrats voted for the punitive proposal—of the White House leadership and the Fabrum-McCormack-Smith attempt to force President Truman's program through at this session and before Christmas, if possible.

It also represented the end of the gentlemen's agreement under which outright politically embarrassing questions of this kind would be deferred while the administration tried to terminate industrial troubles by the conference-and-appeal technique as embodied in the labor-management powwow.

STALEMATE—It is not generally realized that after eight months of chief executive Mr. Truman has obtained congressional action on only two of his numerous proposals — tax reduction and government reorganization; and although they were noncontroversial questions, both measures as finally enacted were slightly unpalatable to the White House.

The fact is, there has not been such a deadlock between the executive and legislative branches of the government since Herbert Hoover's day. At neither end of Pennsylvania Ave. are there the personal bitterness and wounded feelings that prevailed in that period or during the Roosevelt era, but the courtesies and pleasantries exchanged between Mr. Truman and his former colleagues cannot conceal the existence of a serious stalemate.

BLOCKED—This situation explains why only ten percent of the Truman postwar recovery program has become law as of today. Many people inside and outside of congress question whether the chief executive's suggestions represent a realistic approach to the solution of postbellum difficulties, but he has no doubt about them. They are what he wants.

Major presidential requests killed or blocked by the conservative demagogic republican coalition, which considers Mr. Truman as much of a new dealer as his predecessor, include the following formidable list: Establishment of a permanent and statutory fair employment practices commission, the full employment bill, expanded unemployment compensation bills, extension of the second war powers act, the federal health program, slum clearance, the army-navy merger, universal military training, funds for UNRRA.

REVOLT—At the insistent demand of the White House, the administration's managers in the lower body have strained their influence to rush these bills and to hold back hostile thrusts. They have begged "Joe" Martin, the god-natural minority boss, to calm his sort-

HOLLYWOOD—Studio gatekeepers can tell some of the best stories in Hollywood—but Irving Gibbs, guardian of the portals of the main entrance at 20th Century-Fox, tells the best. One day a girl came up to his desk and said she wanted to see the casting director, said she was the greatest of all strip-teasers. Apparently Gibbs looked doubtful, because the girl went into her routine. She started to roll and grind and bump and with each bump she took off something. Gibbs pressed buzzers madly but no one came to his rescue. The girl kept right on stripping. When she wasn't much else to take off, Gibbs ran down the hall and enlisted the aid of two secretaries who put a stop to the act.

STORMS: When Danny Kaye left Hollywood for a USO tour of the Pacific, his official itinerary included stops at approximately 20 different places. When he returned he had 100 performances. This is how Danny explains it: "Every time we landed at a place, someone always told us there was bad weather ahead and that we would have to lay over for a couple of hours. So we'd go to the officers' club and then someone would suggest doing a show for the men while we were waiting for the weather to clear. We did the show and 10 minutes later the weather had miraculously cleared. By the time we got to Manila we were wise. There was a major waiting at the airport for us. He had bad news. It seemed there was a storm coming up and . . . We didn't even stop at the officers' club. 'Where's the theater?' we asked. He told us. 'The storm didn't last very long.'"

AUCTION: For the scene in his first production assignment, "Three Little Girls in Blue," Mack Gordon hired a seven-place rube" band composed of kids from 14 to 16. When the youngsters finished, one of them asked Mack for a permanent job. "What can you do besides play a harmonica?" asked Gordon. The kid put a cowbell around his neck and began blowing "Sweet Sue" in a series of soft "moo"s on an old gaiter jug. Between moos he'd shake his head to get clunks out of the cowbell. "Well?" barked Mack, "but you'd really be sensational if you could give milk, too."

Well, a British court has fined a woman $40 for chasing a man. If that sets a legal precedent, a lot of girls will have to put aside a little extra pin money. All of us just aren't clever enough to make the man think he did all the chasing.

This particular English woman had a sort of unusual technique: She jumped out at the gentleman of her choice from behind gooseberry bushes! George says he's glad I sapped his nerves and picked him off right out in the open. If I do say it myself, it's more sporting that way.

Fortunately, in America, I believe, such a fine is unconstitutional, and the pursuit of a man is the same thing as happiness. Anyhow, we think so while we're after him.

LONDON, Nov. 30—Former Prime Minister Churchill's all-out attack on the new labor government, as leader of the recently defeated conservative party, represents the sudden thought not unexpected opening of a conservative offensive to discredit the laborites (or socialists, as they frequently designate themselves) and regain public support.

Churchill made a daring challenge—daring because it is one from which there is no retreat, when he defined the issue as that of "the people versus the socialists."

He put it in this grim fashion: "The vote of the electors at the general election was one of the greatest disasters that has smitten this country through its long and checked history. XXXX I foresee with sorrow, but without fear, that in the next few years we shall come to fundamental quarrels in this country. It seems impossible to escape the fact that events are moving and will move toward the issue—the people versus the socialists."

Churchill is a great political strategist, but an impartial observer can only remark that the old maestro is playing a very long shot. The socialist at this writing are holding a strong position.

Britain's wartime premier has employed the political tactics of pushing the laborites onto a position which they themselves not only had not taken but had disavowed. This is, as he puts it, that "socialist doctrine" in carrying out their program for all classes on which we have hitherto built our English and British way of life. Such a claim of course envisages extreme nationalization and regimentation of the individual.

That's strong mustard, and when Mr. Churchill states the position in

Facts FOR THE VETERAN

EDUCATIONAL TRAINING

Loren P. 23, single, had three years of military service. He has a service-connected disability and a vocational handicap. He now receives $34.50 per month pension. Loren has heard of the GI bill and wants to continue his education. He would like to be a lawyer.

Under the GI bill, this veteran is entitled to four years of schooling, all expenses paid by the veterans administration, in an amount not to exceed $500 per school term. In addition, he can be paid a subsistence allowance of $50 per month while attending school. He can choose his school, either in this country or abroad, subject to the entrance requirements of the university. He can retain his $34.50 pension. He could, therefore, receive $84.50 per month while a student attending school. This subsistence allowance and sum for school expenses will continue as long as he remains a satisfactory scholastic standard.

Since Loren has a service-connected disability as well as a handicap he may choose to accept vocational rehabilitation through the veterans administration. This choice involves vocational guidance, a determination of medical feasibility, consideration of employment objectives, and a closer degree of care and supervision by the veterans administration. His own wishes would determine the course of training offered. All expenses for books, matriculation fees, and other fees will be paid by the veterans administration.

In addition, a pension of $92 per month could be paid the veteran for the entire period of his course or until his rehabilitation plan was consummated. He would receive the $92 pension in lieu of his disability pension of $34.50 per month. He would not receive both benefits. Because of the additional service provided for veterans taking training under the federal rehabilitation program and because his monthly subsistence allowance is larger, the veteran is usually better off under this program.

The Pampa chapter of the Red Cross, offices on the top floor of the City hall, is prepared to give you counsel and assistance with reference to benefits available to veterans and their dependents.

OPERATION ANVIL

OPERATION ANVIL, from France's Mediterranean coast up through the Rhone River valley was the southern arm of a continental pincer that eventually squeezed the Germans back across the Rhine.

As the enemy withdrew he had left behind substantial garrisons to defend the critical seaports of Brest, St. Nazaire, Lorient, Dieppe, and LeHavre. In order to prevent the Allies from developing harbor facilities to sustain the advance of the gathering millions, the Germans freely expended thousands of men to make the supply problem difficult if not impossible of accomplishment.

Despite these obstructions by 5 September (D+90) 2,098,000 Allied troops and 3,446,000 tons of stores had been put ashore in France. This was an outstanding logistical achievement, but nevertheless we were still in urgent need of additional ports if we were to support adequately the fast-moving offensive across France where four German divisions were bottled up. Dieppe fell on 31 August; LeHavre on 11 September; Brest on 19 September. The most strenuous efforts were made to put these ports into operating condition. Tonnage began moving through Dieppe on 7 September and through LeHavre on 9 October. Brest was too heavily damaged and too distant from future fields of operations to justify immediate reconstruction.

Germans Retreat
The defeated German armies now were streaming across France, heading for the shelter of the Siegfried Line. They were under constant air attack. On the ground General Bradley's First and Third Armies, driving northward from Melun and Troyes, reached the Aisne and the Marne, which had escaped destruction were forced to abandon the major portion of their equipment.

On 25 August the 21 French Armored Division of the First U. S. Army entered Paris, as the battered remnants of the German army which had defended the Normandy coast fell back north of the Seine. The Germans had suffered at least 400,000 casualties, of which more than 200,000 were prisoners of war. The units which had escaped destruction were forced to abandon the major portion of their equipment.

WHAT IS TO BE THE PRICE OF INFLATION?

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—Those devils out at OPA have gone and taken the price ceilings off canned fish, loit, pretzels, ice cream cones, basket hardware, bullion cubes and imported chutney—and that ain't all, either or neither.

To head the screaming that the trade association representatives do around Washington, you might get the idea that OPA is a bunch of so and sos who are out to wreck the free enterprise system for keeps and see to it that no business man can ever again make a dishonest dollar. The facts seem to be far from such.

What Is To Be The Price Of Inflation?

The point is that any time an industry can come into OPA and show a hardship case, it can get authorization to increase prices. Until the recent authorization of price increases on new automobiles, nobody paid much attention to this price-raising function of OPA's. It was only when OPA tried to force prices down, or refused to allow them to go up, that the loud yelling was heard. The price-raising activities of OPA, however, are well worth a look. They fall roughly into four classifications.

First, OPA can grant reconversion price increases. They're to take care of goods that were out of production during the war but are now going back into production. OPA's general theory has been to have these things sell at 1942 prices. But with increased labor and materials costs, that isn't always possible. So OPA grants the manufacturer a price increase.

Second, OPA is required by law to grant certain price increases which will assure manufacturers as much profit as they made before the war. OPA has knuckled under and authorized price increases for a number of industries in this category, making everything from freight car wheels to English bone china-ware. The building materials and

Relief For Crop-Damaged Growers

Again by law, OPA is required to grant increases to prevent unfairness to certain sellers. That particularly affects foods. If a flood or a bad heling has resulted in a short crop in any locality, OPA can raise the ceiling price to grant the growers relief.

Finally, at its own discretion OPA can grant price increases to encourage production of items in scant supply.

Not only have price increases been granted, but all price controls have since V-J Day been taken off of more than 20 items which do not play a large part in the cost of living. That takes in such things as dehydrated and compressed foods, tin gas meters, punching bags, knitting needles, synthetic jewels and such truck.

The morals of all this is that when the "gimme" boys start yelling, "We was robbed by OPA," they haven't been hurt as bad as they let on. They can get price relief if they have it coming to them. What they haven't learned yet is that unlimited price increases now spell only one thing, I-N-F-L-A-T-I-O-N.
