Allies Close To Agreement On POW Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The Western Allies moved closer to agreement today on changes they hoped would bring full support — including that of the U. S. — behind India's compromise plan for ending the Korean War prisoner deadlock.

An eighteen-nation group headed by the U. S., Britain and France planned to meet behind closed doors in the U. N. this morning to work over amendments to a plan submitted Wednesday by India's V. K. Krishna Menon. Other nations in the group are Canada, Australia, Turkey, Denmark and Colombia.

POW Problem They have as a working basis changes suggested yesterday by British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, who said the Indian plan brings the U. N. nearer to agreement on the one outstanding issue holding up an armistice in Korea—the prisoner of war problem. Strong American objections to the original Indian resolution—(See ALLIES, Page 2)

FIVE NEVER SEEN THE LIKE said Joe Tooley, Elks Club Grand Exalted Ruler, as he surveyed piles of clothing collected in the club sponsored old-clothing drive. Gohman Bids $260,638 . . . Borger Firm Wins School Contract

J. T. Gohman Construction Co., Borger, has been awarded the contract for construction of the new elementary school in the southwest part of town.

Winning bid was $260,638 — slightly less than $10 per square foot. Approved unanimously by the Pampa School Board Thursday night, this action came just four days shy of six months after a $350,000 bond issue for the school had been voted.

Deadline for completion had been set at an earlier meeting for Aug. 1, 1953, in order to provide time for equipping and furnishing the school. A penalty of $50 a day for each day overtime is part of the contract.

The successful figure was composed of a base bid of $263,263 minus $2,625 which the company agreed to deduct if the board decided to use lightweight portland gypsum on the roof deck in place of lightweight concrete. This the board decided to do.

Taylor Close Close on the heels of Gohman's was a bid—including the deduction of $282,929 from James T. Taylor and Son, Ft. Worth. Third lowest was a bid of $270,289 from Ramey Construction Co., Amarillo.

The remaining five offers (deduction included) were far behind, C. S. Lambie and Co., Amarillo, $294,027; Walter E. Wirtz, Amarillo, $290,433; Wedding and Cochran, Amarillo, $295,129; Timmons Construction Co., Amarillo, $301,685; and D. C. Bass, Enid Okla., $291,781.

The board tackled a proviso on its approval, however, insisting that the school architect must pass on all sub-contractors. B. R. Cantrell, Pampa, is architect. Additional proposed deductions — turned down by the board — included omission of the ceiling in the auditorium and gymnasium and omission of glazed tile wainscoting in the corridors.

May Have Balance Final architectural plans for the new school had been approved by the board Oct. 27. The interim had been used by prospective bidders to elect material. (See CONTRACT, Page 2)

Wanted Car For Girl Friend . . . Witness Testifies Attorney Asked Motor Number Filed

HOUSTON (AP) Attorney James Mias Mary Wainwright are on trial under charges of conspiracy testified, once asked if he knew how to change engine numbers on automobiles.

Michael Lynch, who like Shown, is a defendant in a motor theft case here, said the lawyer asked him if he could change the motor number on an Oldsmobile so it could not be identified. Lynch said he had told the lawyer he could and quoted the attorney as saying he wanted the car for a girl friend.

Final Count Shows Kentucky For Adlai

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Gov. Adlai Stevenson won Kentucky's 10 electoral votes in the Nov. 4 election by only 700 votes, the complete official figures showed today. Kentucky is traditionally Democratic.

The official compilation gave Stevenson 465,729 votes to 465,000 for President-elect Eisenhower.

'Heartening Note . . . Clothing Drive Exceeds Goal

It's over the mark—way over—in the Elks Club old-clothing drive for needy area families. From all indications, an advance goal of 5,000 pieces of clothing, set by the club, will be doubled.

"I've never seen anything like it!" Joe Tooley, Elks Club Exalted Grand Ruler, commented concerning the drive which got underway at 7 p. m. Thursday.

Approximately 20 cars were answering long distance and local calls in response to special marathon radio programs over local radio stations. Many persons donated service and transportation, Tooley said, but there were so many calls they couldn't be handled in one evening.

Out of town donations and those that couldn't be taken care of Thursday may be brought to the Elks Hall or Richard's Drug. "We received pieces of clothing of all sizes and types, shoes up to size 14 — even a fur coat," Tooley said.

"It's a heartening note" he said. "A lot of kids and adults are going to be clothed."

Foundations Given Credit For U.S. Lead in Research

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress had the assurance of a famous scientist today that the United States has taken world leadership in fundamental research. The witness, Dr. Vannevar Bush, said a lot of credit is due to private, tax-exempt research foundations.

Bush, president of the Carnegie Institute of Washington, made a statement yesterday to a special House committee investigating such organizations to determine whether any of them are promoting anti-American or subversive activities.

He and others who have testified in the past three days said they are unaware of any such trends among the foundations. Dr. Henry M. Wriston, president of Brown University, was called for testimony today.

Bush told the committee that one of the greatest achievements of the foundations has been to give us the seeds of a strong, effective system of medical training.

Two Are Injured In Auto Accident

Two persons have been injured, neither seriously, in a 3 1/2 tonable collision on the Lefors Highway one mile south of town. Raymond N. Cyper, 45, of Lefors was driving south on the Lefors Highway and Clyde J. Hall, 21, of Amarillo, was heading north off the Flowers City type and over the Lefors Highway road when the accident occurred at 9 p. m. Thursday, according to Chief Deputy Sheriff Shirley Nickols.

Mrs. Cyper, passenger in the Cyper vehicle, and Ray Stone, Amarillo owner of the car Hall was operating, were taken to Highland General Hospital. Stone suffered head and neck injuries, hospital authorities said, and was transferred to Clovis (N.M.) Memorial Hospital today. Mrs. Cyper, suffering a bruised knee and nose, was released Thursday night.

The collision occurred 40-50 feet north of the stop sign situated where the Bowers road meets the Lefors Highway, Nickols said. Damages were calculated at $500 to the Cyper car and $800 to Hall's vehicle.

Heart Attack Fatal To AFL's William Green

WASHINGTON (AP) — William Green, president of the AFL, died today at his home in Coshocton, O., the AFL announced. Green was 81.

An official said death came at 1:22 p. m. (EST). He said Green died of a heart attack.

It was the second death of a major labor leader within a month. Philip Murray, head of the rival CIO, collapsed and died at San Francisco Nov. 9.

Green was born in Coshocton March 3, 1873, the son of a coal miner. Worked In Mines

He was working in the Ohio mines before he was out of grade school and was a full-fledged miner by the time he was 18.

Green first turned to politics and served a term in the Ohio state senate then he went into union activity, pioneering in the field of nation-wide organization.

At 35, he had become president of the Ohio District Mine Workers Union.

He advanced to secretary-treasurer of the American Federation of Labor in 1912 and became president of the union when Samuel Gompers died in 1924.

The AFL chief had been in failing health for years but he directed the AFL at its convention in New York in September. Green's widow, Jennie, 82, has been ill for four or five years. They had five daughters and one son.

Humphrey, Brownell Join Cabinet; Stassen To MSA

NEW YORK (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower today designated George M. Humphrey, of Cleveland, secretary of the treasury. He named Herbert Brownell Jr., of New York, attorney general, and Harold Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, director of the Mutual Security Agency.

Brownell, New York lawyer, was a leader of Eisenhower's campaign for the GOP nomination, and he directed strategy in the election campaign.

Stassen now is president of the University of Pennsylvania. He also was a key figure in Eisenhower's nomination.

Humphrey, 62, is president of the M. A. Hanna Co., Cleveland. He is a director of nu-

It was the second day in a row that Eisenhower had handed out a new list of appointees who will take over key posts in his administration.

James Hagerly, the general's press secretary, announced the new designations. The announcement came after Eisenhower had worked his way through a heavy schedule of callers today in a foretaste of the burdens of public office.

Meanwhile, he appeared to be hastening his plans to leave for Korea. He announced three cabinet appointments yesterday, two of them for offices that deal directly with the Korean situation. They are John Foster Dulles, veteran foreign policy advisor, for secretary of state, and Charles E. Wilson, president of General Motors, for secretary of defense.

Oregon's Gov. Douglas McKay was named for secretary of the interior.

At the same time, Eisenhower's office and the Department of Defense announced there will be no news reports about his Korean trip while he is outside the United States—and only one news writer will go with him.

Secretary of Defense Robert Lovett announced earlier that no news reports of the President-designate's activities will be cleared through the Korean Theater of Operations until after the President-designate leaves Korea.

Lovett also said there will be no published schedule, relating to Eisenhower's departure, return, or whereabouts, at any time.

Eisenhower's aides gave no indication whether he will attempt to complete his cabinet before heading into the war zone.

He scheduled conferences today with Senators William Knowland of California, Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey and James Duff of Pennsylvania.

Hobby On Calling List Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, editor and co-publisher of the Houston (Tex.) Post, was on his calling list. She has been mentioned frequently as a possibility for a cabinet position or some other high office in government.

Glaring Meteor Excites Residents In Four States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS A glowing meteor flashed across the southwestern sky last night and suddenly disappeared in a blaze of white light. It was seen by competent observers in four states.

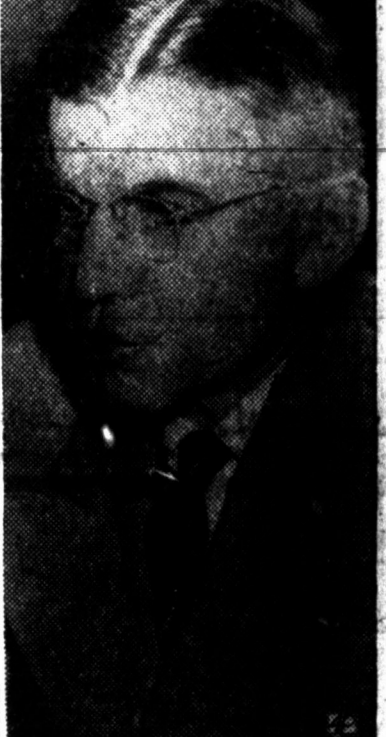

The Oklahoma City weather bureau said from the varied reports it had received there was no doubt the fireball was a meteor.

Reports of the celestial phenomenon came from cities in Oklahoma, Texas, Kansas and Colorado.

Vivid Description Windel Maynard, Civil Aeronautics Administration air traffic controller at Oklahoma City, called it the "brightest meteor I have ever seen." Others described it as a "bolt of sheet lightning" and a "red ball of flame."

Pampans To Attend Municipal Meeting

At least four city officials plan to attend the annual Texas League of Municipalities convention starting Sunday in Dallas.

They are City Manager B. H. Cruce, City Commissioner W. B. (A) Neel, City Secretary Ed Vickers and Tax Assessor-Collector Aubrey Jones. Jones is president of the tax assessors' branch of the organization.

City Hall sources this morning said City Atty. Bob Gordon and Mayor C. A. Huff may attend but there was nothing definite on their plans by 11:30 a. m. today. The convention lasts until noon Wednesday.

In the meantime the city commission was meeting this afternoon to continue several discussions left over from Tuesday's meeting when the commission recessed instead of adjourning.

Dulles Plans Super Council To Gain Cold War Offensive

WASHINGTON (AP) — Creation of a super council in the Eisenhower administration to mastermind a cold war offensive against the Kremlin seemed assured today by the announcement that John Foster Dulles will be the next secretary of state.

Dulles, like President-elect Eisenhower who announced his selection for the post yesterday, has made clear that his first major new goal in foreign policy will be to wrest the initiative in the global conflict from Russia.

Dulles has declared that one way to go about this is to set up a cabinet council, including only some regular cabinet members but also "ministers without portfolio" charged only with high-level cold war planning.

Well Received Word that the veteran diplomat, recently a Truman ambassador in the negotiation of the Japanese Peace Treaty, would get the number one cabinet post next Jan. 20 was generally well received by State Department officials here despite some bitterness toward him resulting from his attacks on Truman foreign policies during the presidential campaign.

In the course of this campaign he broadly supported all efforts to unify and strengthen the Allies, but sharply criticized what he considered to be the administration's failure to develop a truly offensive global strategy in the cold war.

To accomplish such an objective and put Russia on the defensive Dulles advocated not only the creation of a super cabinet council — perhaps through revision of the present National Security Council — but also:

1. A psychological campaign by "peaceful means" to make Russia uncertain of its hold over its satellite nations in Eastern Europe and over China. A Kremlin worried by the desire for liberty in those lands, he contended, would have less time to devote to making trouble this side of the Iron Curtain.

2. Development of means to defeat the Russian satellite. (See DULLES, Page 2)

Sentenced 5 Years In Traffic Death

HOUSTON (AP) — Charles Laughlin McKinnon, 30, was under a five-year prison sentence today after being found guilty of murder by automobile in the death of a Houston civil engineer.

A jury returned the verdict yesterday. McKinnon had been indicted in the death of Charles W. Atkinson, 37, who was killed Oct. 3 while working with a survey team.

Three Wilsons Can Be Confused

NEW YORK (AP) — Just to put matters straight on industry's three Charles E. Wilsons —

1. Charles Erwin Wilson is the General Motors Corp. president who President-elect Eisenhower announced yesterday as his secretary of defense.

2. Charles Edward Wilson is the former president of the general Electric Company and former director of the Office of Defense Mobilization.

3. Charles Eben Wilson is the former chairman of the board of Washington Pump and Machinery Corp. They are not related.

Byrnes Will Reject Federal Position

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP) — Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina says he would "under no circumstances accept any appointment" in the federal government.

Byrnes made the statement to answer to reports he might get a cabinet post under Republican President-elect Eisenhower.

Byrnes, a Democrat, was an Eisenhower-supporter during the presidential campaign.

The governor said he had not been asked by Gen. Eisenhower to accept any cabinet appointment. He told the conference he planned to finish his four-year term as governor in accordance with a promise made to the people of South Carolina when he was elected.

Bishop Says Nation Must Improve Morals

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — A Methodist bishop says this country must rise above what he called its lax morality in order to be an effective force for world peace.

"We must purge our national life," said Bishop Richard C. Raines of Indianapolis in a report to the semi-annual meeting of the Council of Bishops of the Methodist Church.

Citing gambling, drinking, divorce and civic corruption in the U. S., Bishop Raines said there was "no precedent in history for thinking such a nation can be used of God to bring peace and good will to earth."

Other activities scheduled include a sneak preview showing of the film, "Thunderbirds," tonight after the last regular show for all local Guardsmen and an open house in the armory Monday night when citizens may see an actual unit drill.

Group Wants To Beautify Falls

TORONTO, Ont. (AP) — A joint U. S. - Canadian commission proposes to give Niagara Falls a facelift. It wants the famous waterfall to look more beautiful with less water.

Details of the project were disclosed yesterday to Canadian and U. S. parks and power officials by the International Joint Commission. The plans will be submitted to the two governments. If approved quickly, work could be started early next year and completed in 1956.

The commission's plans, developed after two years study by engineers, call for a control dam, 1,550 feet long built from the Canadian side a mile above the falls. They also propose dredging the Niagara River bottom just above the brink of the horseshoe falls.

Ward Explains Lion Ideologies

Lions International ideologies, functions and committee charges were explained by Rusty Ward at a noon luncheon meeting Thursday of the Pampa Lions club.

Ward said Lions International is organizing in 29 countries embracing five continents. There are 5,300 Lions groups with 415,000 members.

"A Lion could go to any of these countries and find a friend," the speaker stated.

Concerning Lions' purposes, he asserted, the organization was an active and integrated part of local, national and international relationships.

"It is the cooperation of all committees doing individual work that makes Lions' accomplishments possible," Ward said. He listed the numerous committees and gave a detailed explanation of each.

Ward said the letters comprising the name Lions stand for its complete ideology — liberty, intelligence, our nation's safety, Communist forces tried to open up the displacement of Americans by South Koreans, Dulles said, should speed an end to the Korean War because (1) Russia would then lack the incentive of continuing the war to keep American troops tied up there, (2) it would deny the Communists their propaganda charge that the Korean struggle is really a white man's war against native peoples of Asia.

Says Business Can Be Better

CINCINNATI (AP) — Laurence F. Lee, president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, said today business can expect friendlier treatment from President-elect Eisenhower's administration than it got from the Democrats.

"The outgoing administration chose business as a political whipping boy—and the whole economy has suffered as a result," Lee said. "For the time being, that era is over."

Lee warned, however, against looking on the Republican election triumph as a victory for business.

"On balance, it appears to me that no economic group can claim a victory," he said, "and that is as it should be."

1st Baptist Adopts Its Largest Budget

Pampa's First Baptist Church has adopted the largest budget for the coming year that it has ever voted.

A figure of $100,261 was approved by an estimated 300 persons present Wednesday night at the annual banquet, express purpose of which was to discuss and pass on the church's budget.

According to J. R. Strohle, director of education, an attempt will be made Dec. 7 to obtain subscriptions to the budget in that one day.

Pledge cards will be handed out during a special Sunday school service beginning at 9:45 a.m., Strohle said.

All organizations of the church were represented at the banquet, he continued.

The book, which is prefaced by Winston Churchill, records the circumstances in which this tribute to the people of Britain as a whole was planned and conceived.

The book is introduced by the account of the war-time life and custom of the American soldier, sailor and airman among the British.

Address the card to Col. the Hon. J. J. Astor, The Times, London, Inc., 45, East 51st St., New York, N. Y.

Putnam Postpones Coal Raise Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Economic Stabilizer Roger Putnam may postpone until next week his decision on whether a $1.50 daily pay raise for soft coal miners is inflationary.

Putnam was reported today to have about decided to put off the ruling until next Monday or Tuesday. He had promised earlier to do everything possible to reach a decision this week.

The case came to Putnam on an appeal from a Wage Stabilization Board decision holding that only $1.50 of the miners' negotiated pay raise was approvable under the nation's wage controls. The board held that the extra 40 cents, if paid, would be inflationary.

There was no indication of how Putnam would rule. If he upholds the WSB and rules that the extra 40 cents per day can't be paid the miners, they may walk out in protest.

A ruling reversing the WSB, on the other hand, would damage that agency's prestige and might lead to some resignations.

Damages to the cars were estimated at $55.

The board decided to sponsor Dec. 2 a book review, to be given by Mrs. Lyle Holmes in the country club. It will be a silver tea with the proceeds going to books.

Mrs. Joe Harlan, Amario, was designated to investigate the Library Society of Texas and the requirements of the local library.

Eleven women, including the librarian, were present.

DULLES

Dulles' lines on Korea has been exactly the same as that of President-elect Eisenhower. In a speech at Boston Oct. 11 he estimated that 20 million South Koreans should be able to provide an army which "could gradually replace the estimated 250,000 U.S. troops now in front line positions."

The displacement of Americans by South Koreans, Dulles said, should speed an end to the Korean War because (1) Russia would then lack the incentive of continuing the war to keep American troops tied up there, (2) it would deny the Communists their propaganda charge that the Korean struggle is really a white man's war against native peoples of Asia.

and sub-contracting costs and to submit final figures.

The board may have some money left over from constructing and equipping the new school, for Cantrell told the Nov. 10 meeting that as much as 50,000 of the original $350,000 may be saved.

"The successful bidder for the construction job is known in the Pampa area. Gohman built both the B. M. Baker School and the east football stands in Harvester Park."

Gohman and Taylor, the top contenders, recently had a go-round in Burger for the construction of the 22-room West Ward Elementary School. Taylor got the job.

Gohman is engaged presently in building a $100,000 fire station in Burger.

The Americans reportedly insist that Henon's resolution be clarified before they can accept it. The resolution calls for a four-nation commission, with an umpire to settle deadlocks, to handle the repatriation of all war prisoners and take care of those who don't want to return to Red-ruled homes until a political conference decides their fate.

The U. S. reservations apparently have been ironed out to some degree in private talks among the allies.

WASHINGTON COLUMN
Tough Task Of New President
Is To Learn 350 War Powers

By PETER EDSON
 (Eighth of a Series)
 WASHINGTON (NEA) — When Harry S. Truman first became President after the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt, he realized almost immediately how little he had been prepared for it. He said then, and he still sticks to the idea, that he would do everything he could to help his successor learn the White House job.

Perhaps the most complicated lesson which new President will have to learn will be what his powers are now subject to numerous changes. This is due to the signing of the peace treaty with Japan and the making of a peace contract with western Germany last fall.

By these acts, many of the so-called war powers were due to come to an end automatically. Congress has renewed many of these powers in three omnibus extension bills. But the most recent of extensions runs out on April 30, 1953. Before that time these powers will have to be renewed again, or the new President will lose them.

There were over 600 of these emergency powers during war-time. Some 250 have been repealed by Congress, but the other 350 are still on the books. Many of them are considered necessary as long as the Korean war emergency continues. But it will be up to the new President to decide if he wants to keep these powers or let them ride.

What they show now is how complicated the President's job really is and why it will take any new man time to break in.

Can Be Delegated

Here are some examples of powers which the President can delegate to subordinates:

One presidential power is to make exceptions to the law banning the sale of Tennessee products to allied nations. Another gives the President power to order inspection of war plants and auditing of their books. Another permits the destruction of official records abroad in time of emergency.

The President may order provisions for entertainment and education of members of the U.S. armed forces. He may order the operation of farms for the lowlands to dependents of service men missing in action. He may prohibit photographing and sketching of military installations.

In time of emergency the President may also order additional restrictions on movement of aliens into or out of the U. S. He may suspend the peacetime provisions for purchase or discharge from the armed services. He may seize foreign vessels in U. S. waters.

In time of emergency the President may also order additional restrictions on movement of aliens into or out of the U. S. He may suspend the peacetime provisions for purchase or discharge from the armed services. He may seize foreign vessels in U. S. waters.

What the above partial list of presidential powers indicates more than anything else is the need for reorganization and simplification of the Executive branch of government. But here the new President is faced with another headache.

The 1949 act authorizing the President to recommend reorganization plans for congressional approval or veto expires Dec. 31, 1952. Unless this act is renewed, the new President will have to do all his reorganizing during his first year in office.

Plenty Of Reorganizing

There is still plenty of reorganizing for the new President to do, although a great deal has been done in the last four years. Ex-President Hoover's commission on reorganization, after 18 months' study of 65 federal agencies, made 281 recommendations.

There is some dispute about how many of these recommendations have been put into effect. The Senate Committee on Government Operations say 99 per cent of them have been acted upon. The Citizen's Committee for the Hoover Report says only 70 per cent of the 281 recommendations were acted upon favorably. Savings effected to date are estimated at from a minimum of $33 million a year to a maximum of $1.24 billion.

President Truman submitted 41 general reorganization plans to Congress. These plans covered numerous Hoover recommendations. Thirty of these reorganization plans were allowed to go into effect. Two more were changed to meet congressional objections and went into effect later.

Nine of the reorganization plans were disapproved by Congress — eight vetoed by the Senate and one vetoed by the House.

Those plans rejected involved a proposed new Department of Welfare; the present Department of the Treasury, Agriculture and Post Office; Interstate Commerce Commission, Federal Communications Commission, National Labor Relations Board, Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The new Presidential might rerecommend these organizations as well as many others.

Radar's 'Big Eye'
Guards Northwest

AP Newsfeatures
 NEAH BAY, Wash. — Up on a mountain peak overlooking this northwestern corner of the United States sits a million-dollar giant eye which keeps a sweeping watch for danger from the north Pacific Ocean.

More than 200 men of the 75th Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron see to it that the Big Eye keeps awake around the clock, constantly on the alert for possible enemy aircraft.

The Big Eye is 78 miles from Port Angeles, Wash., nearest U.S. Coast Guard station, and just south of Vancouver, B.C., Island, where the Strait of Juan De Fuca enters the Pacific. It is one of the latest radar mechanisms developed, responsible for alerting Northwest air-defense pilots at the slightest hint of danger from the sky.

The Big Eye is inside a silver "radome." It looks exactly like a small observatory from the outside. Its pressurized insides are secret.

Any planes not reported by military or civil officials to Commanding Officer Maj. Albert Sporer's men are subject to immediate investigation by U.S. Air Force jet interceptors based nearby. The men consider their small base "one of the finest" in the Air Force, says that officer from Des Moines, Ia.

The men compete to make themselves keener at sighting aircraft. They're tucked away from most signs of civilization with only the Big Eye to make them realize that things may not be so peaceful in other parts of the globe.

It's a lonely assignment, says Maj. Sporer, but the men of the 75th are proud of their job.

Bullfighters Put Their Lives
On Line When Entering Arena

By HENRY McLEMORE
 MEXICO CITY — The American conception of a bullfight is completely wrong.

I have yet to see as much blood spilled in a bull ring as I have in ten rounds in Madison Square Garden.

The matador never was the butcher that a prize fighter is. The prize fighter cuts to ribbons a human opponent. He cuts him until he bleeds from the eyes, the mouth, and the nose. That's called bravery in the United States.

Here and in Spain, the matador dances with death every Sunday afternoon. One false move and the referee doesn't pick him up to rub off his gloves. Let the matador slip and his wife is a widow, his mother has lost an idol. Once down, the bull will pick the matador up and either kill him or maim him forever.

I watched a bullfight last Sunday, and though I was close up, I kept binoculars on the bull and the matador throughout. When the matador had finished, he could barely make his way to the ring. His face was as white as the paper you're reading this on. For five minutes he had faced a completely wild animal, almost as heavy as a light car.

For four of those five minutes he had dared the bull to kill him. He had knelt within one inch of the wicked horns, trusting to his own skill to master the bull. The bull is completely undomesticated. He is as wild as an Indian tiger. His desire is to kill and his wild blood comes down through the centuries. He wants no quarter and gives none. One wrong move by the matador, one bad pass of the cape, and an eighteen-inch horn, sharp as a razor, and driven by a thousand or more pounds, will finish him off.

I am not writing this story on bullfighting as an expert, but as an average American citizen. The technicalities I'll leave to Mr. Hemingway, Mr. Rex Smith, Mr. Tom Lea, and Mr. Barnaby Conrad. I'm writing about courage, and I have yet to see any man make his living by as much of it as does a matador.

When the bull comes out the matador knows nothing about him. He doesn't know whether he hooks to the right or to the left or if he hooks up and down. All he has to do is walk out before 65,000 people and handle the bull as he and I would a kitten. If he shot the bull with a gun no one would fuss about it, but he does it with such infinite grace. Every move the matador makes is to move the bull toward the kill.

He brings the bull in so close that you hold your breath when the horns brush his golden suit, and he makes passes with his cape that make you close your eyes.

I have heard so many people say that the fight between the bull and the man is no contest. I have yet to meet a man who has enough courage to walk in there against a bull. Englishmen, Frenchmen, Italians, and Americans say it is no sport.

They can get ten thousand dollars any time they want to go in against a Miura bull. They don't even have to do any decent cape work, if they'll stay in there ten minutes with him. Their chances of getting out if the Miura comes out charging, his aim is but one thing, and that is to kill anything in his way.

Why, I wonder, do millions of people worry about a fighting bull, when if he weren't a fighting bull, he would have been a sirloin steak long before he ever had a chance to exercise his bulldog?

A good matador kills bulls much easier than they are ever killed in a stockyard and he puts his life on the line, which is more than you can say about the slaughterers in Chicago.

There were about a million teachers in public schools from first grade through high school in 1951.

New Harbor For India
 CORONATION, Canada (AP) — BOMBAY (AP) — A German engineer who ruled the French Atlantic and Mediterranean ports during World War II is directing the construction of a new $27,300,000 harbor in India's Gulf of Cutch.

He is 54-year-old Dr. H. A. Gerdes. His job is to build tiny Kandla, an almost unknown town in far Western India into a harbor center which will cut 200 miles off the transfer distances from the sea to New Delhi and other northern cities.

There were about two million college students in the United States in 1951.

Tomorrow At Dallas . . . Baylor Could Hand Title To Texas By Beating SMU

1-A Title On Line Tonight At Lefors

With the championship hanging in the balance, the Lefors Pirates and White Deer Bucks clash tonight at Lefors in the Panhandle's top game of the year in the Class A ranks.

Starting time has been set for 7:30 p.m.

Winners of tonight's game will qualify for a spot in the state Class A playoffs. The two arch-rivals are tied for the District 1-A lead with three wins and one loss.

Lefors' lone loss was to McLean, 20-0, while White Deer lost only to Canadian on penetrations of a 6-6 tie.

One of the largest crowds of the year in Lefors is due for the clash. The game is annually a drawing card regardless of the records of the two teams and with the championship angle tacked on to this year's tilt, the game will almost sure be a complete sellout.

Radio Station KPDN will broadcast the game.

Following are the District 1-A standings:

TEAM	W	L	PCT.
Lefors	3	1	.750
White Deer	3	1	.750
Canadian	2	2	.500
McLean	2	2	.500
Panhandle	1	3	.250
Clarendon	1	3	.250

Tonight's games: White Deer at Lefors; McLean at Clarendon; Panhandle at Canadian.

Astounding Upsets Have Maj. Hoople Staying Close To Smearcase System

By MAJOR AMOS A. HOOPLE
All-Time Champion Upset Man
Haw! Down through the ages, who stands before you modestly as the greatest selector of football upsets ever to throw away his chalk?

Though I loathe to say it myself, that man is Major Hoople!

That is the only logical assumption I can reach after giving you Notre Dame to defeat Oklahoma, a prognostication unmatched by any other forecaster the length and breadth of the land.

And who but Hoople, on the same Saturday, gave you Navy to topple mighty Duke? Also Pitt to beat Ohio State for the first time in many years—har-rump!

If you'll recall, that was the week I used Prof. Angelo Smearcase's system of astute redundancy as it is controlled by universal curvature.

I am clinging to that astute method again this week, but alas! 'I yields not a single upset, according to all my labored figures.

That is unless you regard Ohio State's victory over Michigan as an upset.

Purdue, of course, will win the Western Conference championship and go to the Rose Bowl. I'll have more on the Bowls later—watch for it.

H-SU Back Aims At Punt Record

ABILENE — Jerry Jeffries, freshman back from Childress, is apparently headed for an all-time Hardin-Simmons University punting record.

Jeffries, a six foot, 190 pound blond, has zoomed 39 punts so far this season for 1,617 yards, an average of about 41.4 yards per boot.

Al Johnson, head football coach at New Mexico Western, established the present Cowboy mark in 1947 when he punted 39 times for 1,608 yards, an average of about 38.6 yards per kick.

Jeffries erased one all-time H-SU record last Saturday against Texas Tech when he got his foot into a ball for 75 yards. The old punting mark was a 71 yard punt by Nolan Harvey against the University of Arizona in 1947. Jeffries has had one punt blocked.

The Cowboys have one more game remaining this season. They meet West Texas State in a Border Conference game in Abilene Saturday afternoon.

Bobcats Stronger Than Record Shows

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

If yesterday's Harvesters workout is any indication, they aren't taking their battle with the San Angelo Bobcats here tomorrow lightly. Coach Tom Tipps sent the Green and Gold through one of their toughest workouts in recent weeks with darkness halting yesterday's session.

A good portion of yesterday's drill was spent on defense against San Angelo's spread formation.

Comparative scores give the Harvesters a distinct edge against the Bobcats who will come to town winless in their last 16 games.

Bobcats Strong In Passing

San Angelo's main offensive weapon is passing. They rank fourth in the aerial department in district play with Billy Walker as the principal passer. The Bobcats have averaged 4.9 yards through the air and Walker has accounted for 21 yards on 16 completions in 49 attempts. Walker has had only one pass intercepted.

Lon Slaughter is the leading Bobcat ball carrier with 250 yards gained, nearly half of the total 603 yards gained by the entire Bobcat team in 1-A play. Slaughter has averaged 4.9 yards per carry.

Another lad the Harvesters will be keeping an eye on in the ball totting department is Stuart Vaughn. Vaughn last week streaked 89 yards with a kickoff for one of the Bobcats' two touchdowns against Borger.

2 Schoolboy Champs Crowned Last Night; More Due Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two district champions were crowned in Texas schoolboy football Thursday night and many more will be Friday night as the campaign rolls through its final week for two classes.

John Reagan of Houston became the District 7 champion in Class AAAA by beating Milby of Houston, 41-14. Reagan was the first team to win an undisputed title in the top division.

The defending champions of Wichita Falls has qualified for the state playoff but still can be mathematically tied for the District 5 championship.

In Class AAA Denison occupies the same position as Wichita Falls—it has qualified for the state playoffs but still can be tied for first place in the district.

McAllen is the outright winner of District 8.

Hondo blasted Sam Felipe of Del Rio, 41-0, to set up the District 29 championship in Class A, leaving only seven district titles to be determined in this division.

The defending champions of Class AAAA and AA can win their way back into the state playoffs this week end. Lubbock, kingly of Class AAAA, has only to beat Midland Saturday to make it. Arlington, which won the Class AA championship, can return to the playoffs by beating Mineral Wells Friday night.

Class AAA champion, Breckinridge, must wait until next week for a possible return to the playoffs. It then plays Brownwood for the district championship.

Giddings Eliminated

Class A will have a new champion. Giddings, the 1951 winner, already has been eliminated.

The state's feature game comes Friday when Phillips plays at Dumas in Class AA. Not only is the District 1 title in the balance but this game matches undefeated, united teams—the only such contest in Texas.

In class AAAA Austin (El Paso) and El Paso High play Friday night for the District 2 title and Baytown and Port Arthur clash for the District 8 crown.

Ray of Corpus Christi can clinch the District 6 title by beating Austin.

Black, Byrd Named Rookies Of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Blacktop from Duke University, tied for third with Ed Matthews, Boston's third baseman, with one vote each. Groat joined the Pirates from Duke June 16 and finished with 285 after a slow start. Matthews hit only 23 but he slammed 25 homers, three on Sept. 27 to set a record for a freshman.

The 1951 winners were Willie Mays of the Giants, now in service, and Gil McDougald of the New York Yankees.

Byrd, a late blooming hot shot, nosed out two catchers, Clint Courtney of the St. Louis Browns and Sam White of the Boston Red Sox in a three-man race.

Byrd got nine votes, Courtney eight, and White seven.

Black Leads Bums To Flag

The feats of Black are known because his relief work was largely responsible for the Dodger pennant. An also-ran in spring training, Black appeared in only six games up to June 1. Then he started to work.

At stretch, Manager Charley Dressen had the Negro ace working every day. He wound up with 56 games, a 15-4 won and lost record and a low earned run average of 2.15. That earned run mark was best in the league but it won't be recognized because he did not pitch 19 complete games or work at least 154 innings. He started only two games, one the last Saturday of the season as a tune-up for the World Series opener.

Hoyt Wilhelm, appearing in 71 games on relief for the New York Giants, was second to Black with three votes. Wilhelm had a 15-3 record and his 2.43 earned run mark won the title. He didn't start once but he did work 159 innings, five over the minimum.

Borger Furnishes 3 Offense Leaders

The Borger Bulldogs, despite only one win in district play, furnishes half of the individual leaders in the District 1-AAAA statistics through last week's games.

According to figures released by Cliff Wright of Amarillo, District 1-4A statistician, a Bulldog player leads in three of the six offense departments carried in the district averages.

The Bulldog leaders are Royce Hillman in passing and punting; and Loyd Reynolds in pass receiving. The other individual leaders of the district are Charlie Ward in rushing and scoring; and Jesse Hatfield of Midland in total offense.

Odessa's Ward has gained 468 yards rushing on 50 attempts for a healthy 9.4 average to pace the ball carriers. His 36 points is also the best mark in 1-4A. Hatfield's total offense is 690 yards—426 rushing and 264 passing.

Borger's Hillman has completed 25 out of 57 passes for 413 yards and has averaged 36.4 yards on 20 punts to lead the district in each department. His ace passing target, Reynolds, has snared 14 aerials for 211 yards to lead by six catches and 37 yards over Mike Brady of Lubbock who is in second place.

Several Harvesters are listed among the leaders. They are David Enloe, fourth in rushing; Ed Dudley, eventh in rushing; J. N. Wright, fourth in passing; Jimmy Martindale, fifth in pass receiving; Harold Lewis, tied for third in scoring; and Enloe tied for fourth in scoring.

In team figures, Midland is the leader with a total offense of 1,589 yards. Lubbock is the total defense leader, the Westerners being charged with only 857 yards via passing and rushing against their five district opponents. Odessa has the top defense on rushing with 535 yards, an average of 107 yards given up on the ground in their five district games.

New Coiffures Do Away And Cropped Looks With Animal Kingdom

"Face Framing" with coiffures in the "normal kingdom" novelties are a thing of the past. — says the Official Hair Fashion Committee of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association.

Winter hair fashions move swiftly into a new era of elegance that fastidious simplicity is more appropriate to the coming season's more graceful costumes and to the personality and individual characteristics of the wearer.

The new season marks an end to the various animal tail arrangements in back and to the doggy cropped look. In its place, say the top coiffure designers of OHFC of NHCA, emphasis will be about the face, and the back hair will be simple and close to the head. In the front and at the sides will be a little fuller and longer, but the close, small head look stays in and keeps the hair in back as short as ever, or even shorter than it has been.

A modified revival of the Gibson Girl Pompadour will be seen frequently, often with "lucky streaks" of lighter or brighter hair to "turn on the lights" and spark up the personality.

The graceful, full lines of the Gibson Girl Pompadour smoothly complement hats sitting back on the head by providing the flattering frame of hair so vital to facial beauty.

The lines of close fitting hats, yielding to the average woman's features, will be softened by the new and elegant swing of the hair which brings soft curls and curved waves toward the face where they suitably balance the features.

The OHFC has worked out a practical translation of this new mode, which will be an important part of the hair style creative service of hairdressers everywhere. It follows this three step procedure:

First, there is a "Swing Out." This means that the hair will be tapered and blended so it artfully falls . . . and stays . . . in arc formations.

Second, the permanent wave is professionally enlisted to provide soft firmness to the arc formations in the hair, and to maintain a natural-wave appearance.

Third, the finished coiffure is designed and set to carry out the new soft elegance. There will be waves and pomms and bangs with a soft flaring swing . . . tendrils that curl toward the face and over the ears. Each interpretation will be varied to best enhance the personality of the woman and complement her millin and clothes.

All this elegance and personality emphasis will be a part of the 1953 fashion . . . and will be held within the season's demand for simplicity and the propriety of the small head look. The new note for the year is colorfulness . . . but with a charming restraint and grace.

Grace Friend

Dear Grace Friend:
Your column has been a help and inspiration to many. I am wondering if there might be a reader who would be willing to spend a couple of hours weekly with a writer who is confined to her chair with arthritis.

Her remuneration would be the satisfaction of helping a brave woman succeed in spite of discouraging difficulties.

With sincere good wishes,
Mrs. R.

Dear Mrs. R.,
I will be glad to forward you the letters of those who might be interested in helping the woman.

CHRISTMAS CARD
Dear Mrs. Friend:
I hesitate to write you this question because I know you answered it once before. But I have forgotten what you wrote last year about the correct way to have names printed on Christmas cards.

"Would my husband's and mine be inscribed 'Mr. and Mrs. John Smith' or 'John and Dorothy Smith'?"
Dot

Dear Dot:
Have your cards printed "Dorothy and John Smith."
The reason for having your husband's name second is that you both are known by that name as the John Smiths. So it is more easily recognizable if the two names people are used to seeing are placed together.

"Mr. and Mrs. John Smith" would be used only on formal Christmas cards sent out to acquaintances rather than to friends.

SOCIAL CLUBS
Dear Mrs. Friend:
Do you know of any social clubs in my vicinity where middle-aged people can meet for a social game of cards or most any kind of amusement once or twice a week.

Dear Julia:
If you like to play bridge there is a duplicate bridge club in your vicinity which meets twice a week, once at night and once in the afternoon. If you are interested I will send you more detailed information.

Cook's Nook

Try Corn Bread Stuffing this year in the Thanksgiving turkey or roast chicken and you'll be serving your family food that's truly traditional. Cooking with corn meal is one of America's oldest customs.

At Thanksgiving time, more than any other season of the year, we are mindful of our country's early settlers. Their struggles were legion, with survival depending in large measure on their food supply. While the men went in search of bird, game and fish, the early homemaker concerned herself with the precious corn friendly Indians had taught them to live by.

Today, it is an easy matter to select a fine turkey or roasting chicken at the local market and to mix up a batch of corn bread for stuffing the bird. Corn meal still is a staple food in the American kitchen — and today, as yesterday, good cooks herald corn bread

Young Wives Better Cooks Than Mother According To Recently-Taken Survey

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Today's bride is a better cook than her mother — or even her husband's mother. So says a woman who has spent her life teaching other women how to cook and trying to lift American culinary standards.

She is a brisk, smiling Clara Snyder, consumer service consultant for the National Association of Margarine Manufacturers and wife of Dr. Lloyd Snyder, professor of farm economics at the University of Nebraska.

Says Mrs. Snyder:

"Young brides needn't stand for that nonsense about the pies 'like mother used to make' any longer. Husband's who continue the old refrain should be forced to supply proof, and compare one of mom's mythical pies with a product of his bride's modern kitchen. Ten-to-one the younger generation wins."

Mrs. Snyder has been in New York getting the results of a recent cook-book-recipe survey to determine what happens to the millions of recipes poured forth upon the U.S. public each year.

The research specialists came up with the disconcerting report that 24 per cent of U.S. housewives have no recipes at all in their homes; that older, experienced housewives rarely use recipes, and that the most enthusiastic clippers and collectors of this form of literature are the younger, well-educated housewives in the upper-income brackets.

Mrs. Snyder claims this is the reason the younger girls are better cooks — they're not above taking whatever new tips come along, and aren't too set in their ways to see the virtues of such short cut as frozen foods and cake mixes.

That age-old problem of three-a-day is a constant challenge to the housewife, says Mrs. Snyder, and she can either be crushed by it or have a whole of a good time getting the best of it. Says she:

"Menu planning seems to be the greatest problem of housewives everywhere. They get a good recipe, but then they want to know what goes with it. The smart ones accumulate a file of quick-easy-to-serve meals, try them out on the family, throw away the ones that don't click and save the ones that do."

"Then they add their own individual touches of flavoring and garnishing, and they have combined the best traits of the old-fashioned housewife, who cooked 'by ear,' and modern science, which turns out nutritious test-kitchen recipes."

MATURE PARENT

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

A mother writes me that she has failed as a parent.

"This afternoon," says her letter, "my only child — a daughter, 10 years old — called me an 'ugly old hag' and said she wished I was dead. How can I go on, knowing that she feels like this about me? My mother tells me that I have spoiled her and that what she needs is a good sound thrashing. But somehow I cannot believe that this is the answer. . . ."

My reader is right. Thrashing is not the answer. She is wrong, too. She has not failed with her child.

We cannot be said to have failed as parents when our youngsters, despite our shock and alarm, still trust us enough to tell us that they hate us.

My reader's problem is not her little girl's hate of her, but her own reactions to it. Why the shock and alarm?

What kind of little girl was my reader? Did she always think her mother was gentle and beautiful? Really? Always? What was her secret wish when she was thrashed without being given time to explain herself? What was the word she scribbled on the wall beside her bed when she was bundled off to her room? Why did she erase it quickly at the sound of a step on the stairs? Why did she shed a tear of "I'm sorry" for doing wrong? Was she really sorry, or was the "I'm sorry" trade she had to make to be loved again?

Probably.

It is because our own childish hate was shocking and alarming to us that we are now shocked and alarmed when we see the same thing in our children.

What should my reader do? She should reconstruct her own childhood and remember her own moments of normal, growing-up-type hatred.

stuffing as more than a tradition. They like its texture, its taste, and its resistance to sog-giness.

Your Thanksgiving bird will be "well-dressed" with its corn bread stuffing.

CORN BREAD STUFFING
1-3 cup chopped onion
2-4 cup bacon fat or melted butter
6 cups stale corn bread
1 1-2 teaspoons salt
2-4 teaspoon poultry seasoning
1-8 teaspoon pepper

3 to 4 1-2 lb. young chicken, ready to-cook weight
1-2 teaspoon salt.

Brown onion in fat. Crumble corn bread coarsely and combine with remaining dry ingredients. Add egg, fat, and onion. Toss together until well mixed. Season cavity of chicken with 1-2 teaspoon salt. Stuff chicken, skewer, brush skin with melted fat, and place on a rack, breast down, in open roasting pan. Roast at low temperature (325 degrees F.) 3 to 3 1-2 hours. Turn breast up after 2 1-2 hours of roasting. Baste occasionally with melted fat. Yield: 6 servings.

Universities Ask Business For Part Of Annual Income

DALLAS (AP) — A luncheon Supported Colleges and Universities is to be held here next week to explain to business men of the area plans for a group of privately sponsored schools and universities to seek financial aid from major industries in the state.

The industries will be asked to assign one per cent of their income to the institutions as part of the five per cent tax allowable granted industry for such contributions.

The plan was first announced several weeks ago after a meeting of the participating schools in Dallas. Announcement of the drive in Houston was made this week at a luncheon given the Texas Foundation of Voluntarily

Houston business and industrial leaders attended the luncheon. Co-presidents of the foundation are Dr. William C. Finch of Southwestern University, Georgetown, and Dr. John McMahon of Our Lady of the Lake College, San Antonio.

Solicitations for contributions will be made by trustees of the foundations. The president of each member school is a trustee-at-large.

The foundation's constitution provides that all funds contributed will be distributed as follows:

1. Sixty per cent is to be divided equally among the member institutions.
 2. The remaining 40 per cent will be divided among member institutions in accordance with the number of regular full-time students, as computed on a 12-month basis.
- Institutions represented by the foundations are Austin College, Baylor University, East Texas

If South failed to draw the rest of the trumps, the opponents could punch out one of his trumps by leading spades whenever South knocked out the ace of diamonds. Ingenuity Results In Bird Crates

AP Newsfeatures
UNION, Me. — Bob Heald made a better poultry crate, rather than a mousetrap, to get the world to beat a path to his door in this Downeast village.

He discovered that truckers carrying live Maine birds to the New York market were going all the way to Virginia for their crates. That didn't make sense to Bob.

To a little know-how acquired by visiting several crate manufacturing plants he added a lot of Yankee ingenuity and came up with a factory here that turns out crates on a production line basis.

Instead of hand-drilling — one at a time — holes in the top and bottom rails, for the dowels that make up the crate sides and ends, Heald rigged up a battery of nine drills driven by a single electric motor that does the drilling in one operation.

Another gadget he designed turns the ends of the square corner posts so they'll fit the round dowel holes.

He also has a jig for assembling the rails and dowels into side and end sections. Another speeds assembly of the sections.

North is right. South should fear a bad trump break far more than a bad diamond break.

If West held a singleton diamond, there is a fair chance that he would have led this suit to begin with. If East held a singleton diamond, there is a very good chance that he would lead the suit on winning the first trick with the jack of spades. What, however, actually took place? Nobody led diamonds, but East did lead trumps.

When East makes this strange return at the second trick, South should give East credit for having something in mind. There is some reason to believe, that the trumps will break badly, and no reason at all to be worried about diamonds.

Drunk Driver Fined

Rheuben M. Moore, 37, of 418 W. Crawford, was fined $100 and costs today in county court on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Moore was arrested at 6:35 p.m. Wednesday by city police, kept in city jail overnight and handed over to county authorities this morning.

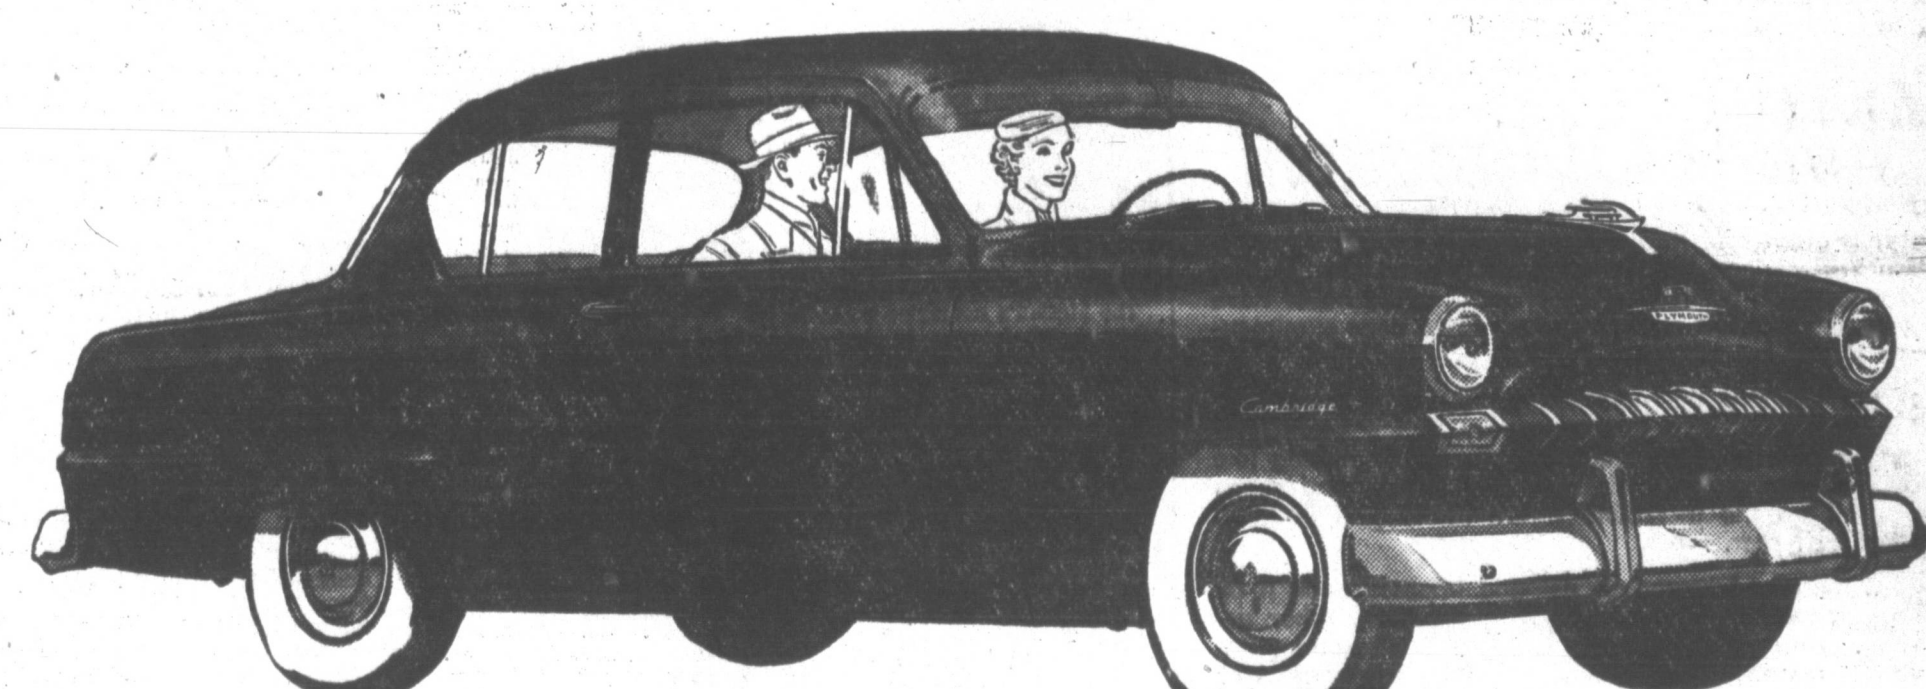

The volcano Solfatara, a small one at Pozzuoli near Naples, has not erupted since the year 1198, says the National Geographic Society.

A Good Start

A recent survey which developed the fact that there are 6,500,000 stockholders in this country — one for every 16 adults — was greeted with mixed reactions.

A great many commentators thought this was a splendid development — particularly as the number of stockholders has been growing at an accelerated rate in late years. A typical observation came from the New York Daily News, which said that the report "seems certain to encourage believers in U. S. capitalism and spread further gloom and hatred for our economic system among the Reds and Pinks."

Others leaned to the idea that the number of shareholders is much too small — and that by now many more millions of average Americans should have invested part of their savings in the enterprises which provide us with our incredible wealth of goods and services, and create and maintain our living and working standards.

In this, a good case may be made for a middle-of-the-road point of view. There is certainly room for gratification in the fact that 6,500,000 individuals, of whom most have moderate incomes, are part-owners of our industrial system. And it is equally certain that a very big job remains to be done. What has been accomplished so far, in other words, can be regarded as an excellent start — but we're a long way from the finish of the race.

A man who owns a share of stock is a man who has both faith and a direct personal interest in maintaining and strengthening the free enterprise system. He is a man who will turn a deaf ear to the phony arguments of the socialists, communists and other advocates of the total state in which government decides everything and owns almost everything. We need all such men we can get in these days of hot and cold internal and external conflict between the defenders of freedom and the forces of slavery.

Climate Of Freedom

It is often said that the automobile caused a revolution in American life. What is easily overlooked is that transportation by car, as we know it, could never have come about unless another industry had done a miraculous job of expanding its services and facilities.

That industry, of course, is oil. By 1914 there were a mere 500,000 cars in this country. A few years later there were more than 3,000,000. Today something like 53,000,000 motor vehicles use our streets and roads and roll up the incredible figure of 490,000,000,000 miles each year.

Oil met the tremendous demand imposed upon it by the automobile — just as it has met every other demand, civilian and military. It did that in several ways. For one thing, it went all-out in seeking new sources of oil — so successfully that, despite the record consumption of recent years, our known reserves are at a new high. It went to work on the task of making each barrel of oil provide more heat, power and lubricating value. As an example, in their natural state only about 18 percent of the molecules in crude oil are of a kind suitable for making gasoline. But special processes are now used to break down or build up many of these molecules so that they can produce gasoline of the highest grade. Today two gallons of gas are as efficient as three gallons of the 1925 quality.

Most important of all, the oil industry's material progress was achieved in a climate of freedom — freedom which allows and encourages every man to take risks and to follow his own star. It is the climate in which every form of human endeavor flowers to the utmost.

The Big Question

Ed Lipscomb, public relations director of the National Cotton Council, recently made a speech before the annual convention of the Farm Equipment Institute, in which he discussed what he regards as the greatest question this nation faces.

The question, he said, is "whether we are going to accept in our national life the pagan principle of a dominant state and secondary citizen in place of the Biblical concept on which America was founded and by which it has grown — the concept that the single function and purpose of government is to protect the inalienable God-given rights and sovereignty of each individual man as the temporary, personal, physical embodiment of an immortal soul."

Then he went on to detail some of the steps we have taken down the road to paternalism and the super-state. One of the worst sources of discouragement, he observed, "is the fact that almost nobody is 100 per cent opposed to the trend that threatens to engulf us. If you will ask around, you will find that practically everybody is against Communism and Socialism and even welfare statism. Practically everybody is also against the government extravagance and inflation which can so easily bring them to us. At least practically everybody says he is, and the chances are he really is — except the part that may be putting a few temporary extra dollars into his own particular personal pocket."

In other words, short-sighted personal selfishness has contributed mightily to a trend which has destroyed freedom and independence and the dignity of the individual in nation after nation — and is destroying them here. It has been subtly aided and abetted by politicians who want nothing so much as more and more power over our lives and our purse-strings. Have we the strength and the courage to change a course whose end is certain and disaster?

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

"Dangers Ahead In The Public Schools"

George Sokolsky in his syndicated article commented on the article in McCall's magazine under the heading of "Dangers Ahead in the Public Schools." He quotes John Bainbridge, author of the article, as saying:

"If somebody is attacking your child's teachers and textbooks, find out what he's after. It may be the ruination of public education.

"A bewildering disease that threatens to reach epidemic proportions has infected the public schools in America. It has already struck in scores of communities from coast to coast. It is spreading at a gallop. It contaminates the rich and poor community alike, and its effects are malignant.

"It produces unreasoning fear and hysteria. It causes distrust and animosities among the citizens and toward the schools. It impairs the morals of teachers and administrators. It creates in students a paralyzing apathy toward exploring complex subjects. Its over-all effect is to induce conformity and rigidity of thought."

Attacking Anti-Communists

Then Mr. Sokolsky goes on to say that this article is an attack on anti-Communists. He says it warns parents to beware of patriots who give their time and energy to the exposure of left wing efforts to corrupt our children. Then he points out that some of the "educators" seem to think that the textbooks on economics should be changed with the change in administrations and that they should teach the ethics or lack of ethics of the administration.

And that is exactly what they are doing. Public schools, as far as civics or economics is concerned, are becoming nothing but propaganda for the powers that be in office.

The Mr. Sokolsky says:

"But what is the truth? Is education to be banded to the political needs of the state? Is that doctrine of Hitler and Stalin to be preached in American schools? Are we to teach biology to prove that Michurin, a Russian, was right and that Mendel, a Roman Catholic priest, was wrong, or vice versa, depending upon our politics?"

"Are courses in the social sciences to be revised depending upon which political party is in control in Washington? Are our children to be taught essential patriotism now after having grounded them in abject internationalism because the times have changed?"

"More fundamental than these questions is the matter of morals and ethics. Are Marxists to start our children's careers with their environmentalist doctrine which exclude religion as superstition, patriotism as chauvinism, morals as comparative and ethics as a bourgeois notion?"

"Is it fair to our children to permit Marxists at public expense to corrupt them early in life? The answer to that is the increase in juvenile delinquency during the past 20 years since the Marxists have had such a strict influence upon education in our country."

Smear Their Only Defense

The above pretty much says what this column has been preaching in season and out of season. The McCall's magazine made no attempt whatsoever to tell the truth. As an illustration of their guilt with the idea of smearing everyone who helps in their education, they made the statement that the newspapers controlled by Freedom Newspapers, Inc. didn't support any movement to promote the writers of this column. They were advised with documented evidence as proof that the Register in Santa Ana was the largest contributor in Santa Ana to the Chamber of Commerce. The largest to the Community Chest and the fourth largest to the Community Hospital. They of course made no effort to retract their smear.

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JOHNSON, M.D.

"Is any special diet recommended when there is suspicion of kidney stones?" asks Mr. C.

This question is difficult to answer since the word, "suspicion," does not make it clear as to whether kidney stones are really present or whether there are symptoms which could come from stones but might also come from something else.

At any rate, the question of diet and kidney stones is an important one, and if a stone or gravel has been passed it should be studied in a laboratory to find out about its chemical composition.

If the kidney stone is made up of crystals of oxalic or phosphoric acid, for example, the urine is usually kept acid by diet. On the other hand, if the stone is made up of the less common uric acid, then the urine should be kept alkaline by diet.

For these reasons, one cannot possibly give any single diet which is suitable for all people who suffer from kidney stones. The doctor can advise about the diet only after he knows the chemistry of the stone.

In addition to diet the presence of kidney stones usually requires the search for some chronic infection elsewhere in the body and treatment for this if infection is found. Sometimes vitamins added to the diet are also helpful, but so far the search for food or medicine which will dissolve stones once they have been formed has been unsuccessful.

Kidney stones are most common between the ages of 25 and 40, though they may appear at almost any time. Numerous possible causes have been suggested, including chronic infection, deficiencies of certain vitamins, and slowing of the circulation in the kidney.

The most likely explanation, however, is that there is some kind of disturbance in the excretion of

Fair Enough... Lawyer Takes Pegler To Task For Use Of Descriptive Titles

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1952, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

William J. Gaffney, a lawyer at Moses Lake, Wash., takes me pleasantry to task for resorting to descriptive titles in my commentaries on persons of consequence in times of political turbulence.

"If you were a lawyer," he says, "and used the same tactics of name-calling, practically any honest judge would charge you with tactics of abuse in a hurry or fine or imprison you for contempt of court."

I know this and rejoice with Mr. Gaffney. In paragraphs of the noblest standing invitation to justice when driven from all other temples to make her abode in the Denver Post, I pray that decorum, kicked bodily out of the White House and Congress, will ever find refuge in the courts.

The difference is, however, that the rule of practice by politics and jurisprudence have nothing in common. Having no dignity themselves, the people resent dignity in candidates and advocates and actually compel them to deal in abuse, lies and epithets. They put such a heavy penalty on those who venture to treat them as intelligent citizens above the social grade of skid-row bums that the Republican President-makers rejected Sen. Taft two years ago and plumped for Ike because, knowing nothing else about him, they knew he did at least have a trademark smile.

May I say that I have never been tempted by the depths that Roosevelt and Truman and the Communist, Socialist and non-descript riff-raff of their party established as the political level as long ago as 1932?

Roosevelt called American citizens copperheads, a vile insult that would have earned him a clip on the chin in any group of self-respecting men if he had ever had the nerve to use it in the days when he was a rising man, six feet three and weighing 200 pounds. His resort to this filthy term was an act of cowardice on a number of counts. First, he was President and thus protected by his bodyguards no different in men or function from Huey Long's vaunted thug-men.

vicious, treasonous conduct to all who had the intelligence to detect his foul purposes and the courage to risk his vindictive, unconstitutional anger.

A copperhead is not only a snake which is a loathsome creature in our language and psychology but a traitor against the United States. Roosevelt knew all this and used the term adroitly.

Roosevelt sneered at well-fed clubmen with intent to say that a man who belonged to a club and was well-nourished was a scoundrel. At that very hour, Roosevelt himself belonged to the exclusive New York clubs. The next year his biography in Who's Who, by negative process, disclosed that he had caught his own hypocritical error and resigned from the Knickerbocker and the Racquet and Tennis.

Roosevelt himself never was well-to-do in the pleasant sense implied by the term. But the reason was that his gadabout wife wouldn't stay home long enough or exert her pestiferous zeal to provide her husband a decent diet. He was richer by far than the most of the wealthy clubmen of any recent time in New York, he had been born rich, had never in his life earned enough to support his family and had qualified for his clubs notwithstanding an offensive personality.

National Whirligig... Democrats Are Committed To Government Ownership - HST

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Former defense mobilizer Charles E. Wilson disclosed his radical proposal that the government reduce the public debt and cut taxes by selling its $7 billion power system to private interests. President Truman was rejected by the Democratic Party is "committed to government ownership."

Wilson disclosed this radical sidelight on Truman's policies in a letter to the writer, who had asked him to elaborate on his idea for getting the government out of competition with private business and industry in this and other fields.

It is probable that the plan will be pressed when the Republicans assume control of Congress in January.

DEBT REDUCTION — In a statement after he resigned his defense job here, the former head of General Electric advocated the eventual sale to private interests of to individuals of all federal holdings, including tin, rubber, power and atomic plants, bridges, barge lines, etc. He figures that this would reduce the national debt by about $25 billion and taxes annually.

"The general idea of lightening the government debt through projects and other properties," wrote Wilson, "is by no means a new one."

It was early in 1946 when the national debt was mounting dangerously, that I discussed the possibility, even at that time advancing the further idea of having those who were disposed to buy securities in the new companies, for private operation of previously owned government properties, pay for their securities in the new companies by turning in their government bonds.

"I think the idea was first advanced to Messrs. Truman, Vice President Barkley, Secretary Snyder and Atty. Gen. Clark, and possibly to a few other government officials."

DEMOCRATS COMMITTED — "Nothing came of the proposition because President reminded me that his Party was committed to what he described as public ownership meaning, of course, outright government ownership."

"I discussed the general proposition with the President a number of times since, but was unable to work up an enthusiasm for it."

"Despite Truman's indifference, the Wilson suggestion has taken root to such an extent that Reclamation Commissioner Michael W. Straus, although a public power apostle, has recently discussed the possible sale of power projects to the state of California. There have also been proposals that Grand Coulee, Bonneville and TVA be taken over by states operating as regional public power authorities."

"As the government debt mounted," continues Wilson, "and when the Wilson suggestion has taken root to such an extent that Reclamation Commissioner Michael W. Straus, although a public power apostle, has recently discussed the possible sale of power projects to the state of California. There have also been proposals that Grand Coulee, Bonneville and TVA be taken over by states operating as regional public power authorities."

"I was not unmindful of the fact that the private operating company would be a big payer of national and state taxes, which is what I happen to think should be. The same thinking applies to many other projects, including the largest of the currently government-owned projects in California and the Northwest."

"I quite frankly admit that, in venture whose utmost ambitions we can never know because she has now obviously been thwarted by events. She was, however, in the known evidence well comparable to Catherine the Great of Russia and her congenial relation with friends of the Soviet enemy lent additional grace to the term."

I thank Mr. Gaffney for his generous thought of my problems.

all consideration of my proposal, one of my principal points of interest was the ownership, by literally millions of people, in such an important field of power generations and distribution.

"We talk so much about adult education in the current economies of our country, but I have had and continue to have a feeling that one of the most potent practical lessons would be to secure five to ten million shareholders in pioneering in typically American industries."

"It would give them a deeper sense of responsibility in and for our American economic system."

LOOKING SIDWAYS

REMAINDERS: There is no great virtue in the fact, but this column lived throughout the election year without making political commentary of any kind: no predictions, no tub-thumpings, no flag waving. And now there is going to be commentary, but it won't be. Every professional poll fell on its face, most of the major pollsters were more than hesitant in committing themselves, most of the us a little bit. And now there is going to be commentary, but it won't be. That fine old Irish restaurant, Cavanaugh's, has a French chef, Ben Cellauno, but he is a terrific hand with stew and praties. The old press agents are the colorful ones. They either had colorful names, like the late A. Toxin worm, or they wore seersucker cutaways, like Ned Alford, or they had special labels woven for their suits, like Joe Flynn, who for a day will tip aside a topcoat label and show you the label inside: "Compliments of The Kickback Printing Company." Alford, still around but not as active, is the Fort Worth back around 1936 with a formal white consisting of blue and white striped seersucker, and with it he wore a white satin club-suit and a stiff white satin Spanish, not Mexican, hat. It was Alford, sitting by a Fort Worth hotel window with me at 4 o'clock one morning in the days before air conditioning, who broke an hour-long silence by sighing: "There ain't a thing between here and the Atlantic Ocean but the Statue of Liberty and a few million dollars worth of oil."

Charlie Washburn is another colorful one who to this day wears a diamond-studded gold watch which once belonged to dead hoodlum Dutch Schultz and who owns the personal plane of the late Everleigh Glavin, who was the chief investigator of the late Alvin Karpis. He once wrote the biography of the then old girls, a historical volume called "Come Into My Parlor, I'll Show you the Best Title Ever Thought Up on the Subject until a retired lady executive of the same kind of business came up with 'A House Is Not a Home.' A man I know named Arthur Maisei owns a slew of New York restaurants which are named after states and which specialize in sizing steaks and scrambling eggs served in the shape of a mound. But his jokes are terrible. On Broadway late the other night he stopped to say: "Had a horrible experience on Long Island Sound, Sunday. There I was three miles from shore with plenty of cigarettes but no matches. But I solved it. I threw one aboard and that made my boat a cigarette lighter."

"Go cook your eggs, Maisei. He has some value, though; he voluntarily teaches a restaurant management one day a week at Fairleigh Dickinson College in Rutherford, New Jersey. And sees to it that gifted students get jobs when they finish the course. How long does it take for a comic fellow to establish himself as a professional comedian earning money on TV and in shows? Ten years is the average. If you think you're funny and want to be the new Bob Hope, you can write in 10 years of struggle, heartbreak, and jeers as the price,

3 Seconds 2 Seconds 1 Second.....!

There is the guided missile of Prayer. Do you have a stockpile of "guided missiles"? Prayer is your most powerful weapon. Prayer closes the switch and releases the power of God. When man has counted 3 seconds, 2 seconds, 1 second and zero hour has come, he prays in earnest. Prayer is the guided missile that went ahead of Livingston, Carey, and Judson. It saved Kraft and his cheese business. It made a success of LeTourneau's bulldozer business. Do you pray? Do you go to church? Do you send up Prayer Missiles to God? God will answer whenever you mean business.

Resembles Henry VII ... Dr. Edith Announces Plans For Her Hollywood Invasion

By MILTON MARMOR
LONDON (AP) — Storm warning to Hollywood:
Acid-tongued poet-historian-lecturer Dr. Edith Sitwell is setting sail for the cinema wilderness to write a film script of her book "Fairfare for Elizabeth."

Dr. Edith gave a tea at Claridges this week to acquaint the literary world with the fact. A group of dazed newspaper writers staggered back into the wet streets of London not certain whether they were here or in the 16th century.

Hero, Bride Get $30,000

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — It's not every young bride and groom who get $30,000 to start housekeeping on. But then, not every bridegroom is a Medal of Honor winner.

The fund has been pledged to San Bernardino's own hero, Army Lt. Joseph Charles (Chuck) Rodriguez, 24, and his sweetheart, Rose Aranda, 22, of Colton, Calif.

They will be married Saturday, with a reception to follow in the high school cafeteria, the only place big enough to accommodate all the townsfolk who wish to come.

The couple will leave on a Mexican honeymoon arranged by Southern California Spanish-language newspapers. In Mexico they will be entertained by President Miguel Aleman.

When they return home Dec. 17, a citizens' committee intends to hand them a check for $30,000. The "House for Chuck" campaign will swing into high gear after the wedding.

Rodriguez, now stationed at Norton Air Force Base here, won the Medal of Honor in Korea as a private first class. He was cited for "an incredible display of valor" in charging up a hill to wipe out five enemy gun positions, killing 15 Communists with hand grenades.

Billings, Mont. (AP) — A 16-year-old boy ran away from a job of plucking chickens for his father. "I just can't stand that smell of hot water and chickens," the boy said later.

Writing until lunchtime, when she dresses. Then a bit of air and back to bed. No work in the afternoon while she waits for tea-time.

"In the evening I hardly ever get up unless there's some party which I think I'll enjoy wildly."

"In any case, I'm in bed again by 10 p. m."

"The studio won't get anything out of me if they try to drag me out of bed."

The film story is about Elizabeth I until the age of 3. It mostly concerns her mama, Anne Boleyn.

Mobeetie High To Stage 1953 Alumni Homecoming

Plans for an annual Mobeetie High School homecoming has been announced with a permanent organization set up to conduct the affair.

Decision to hold an annual alumni gathering is the result of an American Legion Auxiliary-sponsored homecoming held recently to aid a small senior class — six students — make a class contribution to the school.

All alumni registered were named as charter members of the permanent organization and officers elected were Mrs. J. H. Scribner, president; Mrs. John Dunn, vice president; and Mrs. Mamie Peterson, secretary-treasurer.

This was the first time a homecoming has been held in Mobeetie. The gathering was celebrated with a Mobeetie vs. Kelton football game, the crowning of the 1952 football queen, talks on early-day history of the school and a banquet and program.

Miss Maurea Godwin was crowned football queen. Dr. William H. Frye, Wheeler, graduated 84 years ago, spoke briefly of early day Mobeetie school days.

Mrs. J. M. Porter, Wheeler, oldest student, 75, recalled memories of the school prior to the turn of the century.

Mrs. Hattie Dunn Lee, Mobeetie, read the welcoming address she read to the 1917 graduating class. Others appearing on the program were ex-teachers, R.H. Forrester, Wheeler; Mrs. Geo. Oswalt Johnson, Pampa; Miss La. Pool, Pampa; Mrs. Erle Fletcher Ellis, Pampa; Mrs. Fieda Brandon God-

Loser Pays Off Bet; Winner Isn't Happy

DENVER (AP) — When Jack Andersen got a call to pick up a shipment at the railway express office recently, he figured it probably was some lubricant for his gasoline station. It turned out to be a crate containing a full-size racing greyhound.

It seems that Andersen, his wife and Clyde O. Means, who owns a kennel of racing-dogs, had gone to the Colorado Springs track together last summer. One of Means' dogs, Kay Trump was running. Andersen offered to wager his Cadillac car against the dog that Kay Trump wouldn't finish in "the money." Means accepted, the watched his dog wind up far back.

Andersen forgot the incident until he called at the express company to find Kay Trump. An-
