EXEMPTION FOR ATHLETES

Recently the WORDS column of The NEWS commented in part as follows:

Many student loan funds are so poorly administered that they do more harm than good. An unpaid loan, when the borrower could pay, paves the way to a laxness in meeting obligations which often is disastrous. A student loan is no less an obligation than any other kind. A loan made to an athlete ought to be as good as that made to a debater, but unfortunately many of those with experience in such matters would choose the debater as the better risk. There's a reason, and the athletic system we have is it.

And "State Press" of the Dallas NEWS re-printed the statement and added the following comment:

The athlete in the supposititious case is disposed to look upon the loan as a gift, a token of admiration for his physical prowess. And is it not so? The debater realizes from the start that he is not going to cut much of a figure. He knows that whole pages in the newspapers will never be devoted to reports of debating matches and gossip concerning debaters. He knows that tens of thousands will never pay $2 a piece to sit on a hard plank in a great stadium and listen to debating teams matching words and gestures. The athlete, on the other hand, knows that athletes are important. He can look at the newspapers, at the crowds, and understand that. So he as an athlete is important, therefore to be exempted from some of the penalties justly laid upon those who have only brain rather than brawn to offer. The champion wrestler makes more money than the president of a college, so let the collegian be held to strict accountability for his debt to the State.

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—In one of the capital's better interior decorating shops works an upholsterer who served on the jury which several years ago convicted Albert B. Fall of bribe-taking in the oil cases.

Mrs. Owen J. Roberts, wife of the supreme court justice who won fame in prosecution of E. L. Doheny, Harry Sinclair, and Fall—Fall alone being convicted—went into the shop the other day.

The upholsterer told her how he had been one of a minority on the Fall jury standing for conviction and how he had helped swing the others around.

"Lady," he announced, "if it hadn't been for me, your husband wouldn't amount to a damn!" (Mrs. Roberts took it and liked it.)

Your government and mine which always is pulling quaint little surprises on us, has opened up some shop windows and is displaying its wares behind plate glass in the downtown shopping section.

That's a result of the policy under which your government and mine is grabbing every inch of office, store, hotel, and other space on which it can get its hands, even to the point of taking over big apartment houses and ordering all the tenants out so government executives and clerks can move it.

When it takes over a store with a lot of window glass on a busy street, it naturally figures it should stick something in the window.

Thus, now that the FERA-WPA Educational Division has moved into an abandoned sporting goods store at 1340 G street, it has filled the windows with a display of pamphlets about workers' education, emergency education, vocational education, and so on.

On top of this display are some little stuffed bunnies, little stuffed elephants, and little dresses which parents on relief were taught to make while undergoing FERA education. To say nothing of an autographed photograph of Mrs. Roosevelt.

Down at 1423 F. street the United States Information Service has a gaudier layout for window-shoppers, behind about 14 feet of glass. There's a big chart of the government with dozens of strips of red tape pinned on it and the strips run from names of federal agencies on the charts down to corresponding pages on a lot of opened copies of the United States Government Manual strewn around. (The Manual is the official National Emergency Council book which tells you what the federal agencies are, what they're for, what they do, how they're organized—with charts and pages of questions and answers. It's come to be quite a big book.)

The backdrop of this window has some gaily painted pictures of the White House, the supreme court building and the Capitol and it looks pretty swell at night when a big searchlight is turned on.

There's also a printed quotation from Mr. Roosevelt to the effect that people should know more about their government.

Naturally, a lot of people are lured inside, where you can buy the manual for $2. You can also get all the free service you want and if your questions about your government and mine can't be answered orally at once you can write them down on a special blank and the USIS will tell you later.

BARBS

Statistics reveal that federal employees, if laid end to end, would reach halfway across the country. As it is, however, they reach only to Washington.

What businessmen are trying to figure out is whether this is really a "breathing spell" or just a second wind.

"For two weeks, President Roosevelt has been fussing with the budget." It's only a question of time until G. O. P. adherents dub him a fuss-budget.

A current screen lover says, "Sometimes I wonder how I even stand myself." That's easy; he probably doesn't go to the movies.

Selassie's troops march to the front to the strains of "St. Louis Blues." The German goose-step may have a rival in the Ethiopian shuffle.

Centennial Rose Bushes On Jaunt Around The World

DALLAS, Nov. 23 (AP)—Five rose bushes, traveling first class, started on a globe-grinding trip that will touch the four corners of the world. At selected spots the bushes, bearing the Texas Centennial rose, will be planted.

R. W. Fair, oil man-horticulturist of Tyler, Texas, said the bushes should be in bloom before the Centennial formally opens here on June 8, 1936.

One bush will be planted in the Imperial Gardens at Tokyo; one on the Luneta in the municipality of Manila; one in the Gardens of Buiteny at Batavia, Java, where the governor general of the Dutch East Indies will supervise the planting; one in the modern gardens of the Taj Mahal, at Agra, by British authorities, and the last in Jerusalem, at some spot in the Holy Land, by church authorities.

The Texas rose will end its world tour on Easter Sunday, two months before the Centennial opens.

A party, headed by Frank Reedy of Dallas, will leave on a world tour Jan. 1 to gather photographs, programs and news clippings of the rose-planting ceremonies for a centennial exhibit.

CHILD STUDY CLUB ENTERTAINS HUSBANDS WITH BANQUET

TALKS BY TWO GUESTS HEARD ON PROGRAM

AUTUMN COLORS USED IN THANKSGIVING SETTING

With their husbands as guests, members of Child Study club enjoyed their annual Thanksgiving banquet at Schneider hotel last evening in a colorful autumn setting. Bronze chrysanthemums centered the tables, which were each lighted with four orange colored candles. Place cards and nut cups were in deep tones of yellow, and autumn leaves of brown, yellow, and red completed the decoration. Mrs. Lee Harrah, club president, welcomed the guests. Answering roll call, each member introduced her husband. Music during the dinner was furnished by the high school's Little Orchestra. An amusing skit, Listening In, was presented by Mrs. Herman Jones and Mrs. Frank McAfee. Mrs. Horace McBee introduced the speakers, John B. Hesse, and Travis Lively, who discussed the good and bad influences of motion pictures on children of today. The entire group joined in singing Eyes of Texas to close the evening. Decorations and menu for the dinner were in charge of Mmes. J. M. Smoot, McAfee, A. L. Patrick, and Luther Pierson. The program was planned by Mmes. Jones, Bob McCoy, and Hesse. Places were laid for Messrs. and Mmes. S. C. Evans, W. J. Foster, Lee Harrah, John Hesse, Herman Jones, Travis Lively, Frank McAfee, Horace McBee, Harry Nelson, T. C. Shaw, J. M. Smoot, Roy Tinsley, Earle Scheig, A. L. Patrick, and Mrs. Pierson.

Fifth Grades of Woodrow Wilson Take Train Ride

A train trip to White Deer and back was enjoyed by fifth grades at Woodrow Wilson school yesterday. The pupils, some of whom had never traveled by train, were shown through the train. Pupils of Loye Luckman's room, winners of attendance contest of Woodrow Wilson Parent-Teacher association, were given the trip as a reward, and invited the other fifth grade, taught by Miss Mannie Abbott, as their guests. Refreshments were served by a committee from the Parent-Teacher association to complete the afternoon. Ending the school week for the holiday, Woodrow Wilson pupils are giving a Thanksgiving program this afternoon. All grades are taking part. Pupils are enjoying the use of new bulletin boards placed in each room by the Parent-Teacher association, and curtains bought by room mothers.

Fletcher, Dieffendorf, McDowell, Fred Hayes, Jack Danner, Pickett Jackson, Harry Watts, Miller, Anna Dawson, J. F. Hill, and Miss Merle Snuggs.

QUILTING IS ENJOYED A group of friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Bill Fienken recently for a quilting party. Late in the afternoon, work ended and cake and coffee were served by the hostess. The guests presented Mrs. Fienken with a bed lamp.

CLUB TO GIVE THE COLORED SCHOOL BOOKS

CULTURE CLUB PLANS START OF NEEDED LIBRARY

A start toward a library for the colored school will be made by Twentieth Century Culture club as its main project this year, members decided at their meeting yesterday afternoon. Mrs. N. W. Gault was hostess. Mrs. Clyde Gold presided over a lengthy business session when the project was adopted and several issues of interest to the club were discussed. Members decided to donate five dollars to purchase dolls for the Christmas tree to be held by Twentieth Century club, and to contribute a dollar to the Will Rogers memorial fund in the name of the club. Mrs. Bruce Pait, leader of the program on current events, introduced Mrs. L. N. McCulloch, who in an interesting resume of the news named people prominent in education, politics, and music, and noted their influence on national trends. Mrs. C. W. Briscoe chose as her topic the rehabilitation of Williamsburg, Va. She told of the founding of that city, its history in the early days of America, and the work restoring it to its colonial aspect. A vivid presentation of the United States naval academy at Annapolis was given by Mrs. Pratt, who told of its operation and its value as a part of the national defense system. Refreshments were served to those on program and Mmes. Crawford Atkinson, C. S. Boston, Joe Burrow, Jim Collins, Clyde Gold, O. R. Hinkle, H. D. Keys, R. S. Lawrence, Marvin Lewis, and J. P. Wehrung.

BPW CLUB ENJOYS SOCIAL MEETING WITH SCHOOLDAYS PROGRAM TUESDAY EVENING

Merry Mixers Entertained at Meskimen Home

Mrs. F. H. Meskimen entertained Merry Mixers club at her home yesterday afternoon with a Thanksgiving bridge party. Three tables were arranged for the games. Guests of the club were Mmes. D. C. Houk, L. C. McMahan, Raymond Harris, H. E. Brady, W. M. McWright, and R. A. Meyers. Members present were Mmes. Roy West, Walter Hill, B. C. Fahy, Joe Skeri, and H. O. Simmons. Mrs. Skeri made high score and Mrs. Hill low for members. Mrs. Brady high and Mrs. McWright low for guests. A traveling prize went to Mrs. Meyers, and out favors to Mmes. Houk, McMahan, and Simmons.

Friends Entertain At Pretty Shower

Mrs. R. S. Mitchell was complimented with a dainty shower at the home of Mrs. Bill Fienken recently. After inspecting the gifts, the guests were served sandwiches and coffee. Tiny pink shoes filled with mints were favors. Guests were Mmes. O. L. Bell, E. Johnson, G. P. Allen, Pat Haley, Homer Smith, J. D. Smithee, R. D. Kenemer, Joe Kenemer, J. M. Tillery, O. Mitchell, F. C. Kemp, Oia Truman, Myrtle Livingstone, John Schrantz, Louise Kenemer, Jake Woolen, Harry Miller, F. P. Hayes, and Mitchell. Gifts were sent by Mmes. June

Musical Number by Guests Adds to Entertainment

Conducted in classroom fashion, a program was enjoyed by members of Business and Professional Women's club at city club room last evening. It opened when the members, each wearing a pink bow in her hair, sang "Good Morning, Dear Teacher." A drill on current events, local, national, and international, revealed that club members are keeping up with present events. Talks on "My Most Embarrassing Moment" proved an amusing feature of the program. Misses Willie Reece Taylor and Ann Sweatman, guests, played a violin and piano duet. Thelma Jackson, health chairman in the club, passed out papers reminding members that one point on the club's program this year is a health examination for everyone before the year ends. Apples and cookies were served "after school" by Irene Irvine, hostess for the evening. Present were Lola Carroll, Alta Lagow, LaVena Woolley, Frances Stark Sturgeon, Lotie Schneider, Gladys Robinson, Lillian Jordan, Geneva Groom, Mabel Gee, Orce Brock, Mildred Overall, Hildred Brake, Marie Sturgeon, Clara Lee Shewmaker, Thelma Jackson, Grace Pool, Dee Polson, Ruba McConnell, Mary Lou Downs, Gertie Arnold, and Irene Irvine. CLUB REVIEWS NOVEL SET IN TEXAS LOCALE

Twentieth Century's Program Given in Duncan Home

Review of the novel, Whatsoever, which created a stir in Texas at its publication, made up the program for Twentieth Century club at its meeting yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Ivy E. Duncan was hostess at her home. Mrs. Ben Williams reviewed the book, which had its setting in East Texas. A brief biographical sketch of the author, Daniel Scott, was presented by Mrs. J. M. Fitzgerald. Roll call was answered with names of good books. Tea was served after the program to Mmes. Clifford Brady, W. A. Bratton, W. R. Campbell, F. M. Culbertson, A. H. Doucette, Fitzgerald, W. T. Fraser, I. B. Hughey, B. C. Low, Roger McConnell, R. Earl O'Keefe, Tom Rose, Edwin Vicars, and Williams.

MORE SCHOOL SUPPLY FUNDS ARE ON HAND

AID EXTENDED WITH PROJECT FUND OF FORUM

Extension of their welfare project, purchase of school supplies for needy pupils, was planned by Twentieth Century Forum at a meeting yesterday, when the project committee reported that supplies sufficient to furnish one school during the winter had been purchased, without depleting the fund. Needs in other schools will be investigated and other supplies bought where they are most wanted. Another project discussed was that of dressing dolls for a community Christmas tree sponsored by the Twentieth Century club. Each member has agreed to buy and dress one doll. Mrs. M. C. Overton was hostess at her home, and Mrs. Arthur Swanson was in charge of the discussion on modern engineering feats. She spoke of Boulder dam, describing it as she saw it on a trip there, and giving some of the history of its construction. Those present for the business program, and informal social period were Mmes. William Finley, Dick Walker, Arthur Teed, Swanson, Frank Perry, Overton, Gilmore N. Nunn, Max Mahaffey, Arthur Holland, A. B. Goldston, William S. Dixon, Don Conley, Robert Chafin, and Roy Bourland. Attendance of members was reported. Inquire with Road Runner gas.

V. F. W. Auxiliary To Sell Tickets

Ticket sales for the motion picture, The First World War, which the Veterans of Foreign Wars and its Ladies Auxiliary will sponsor next week, were discussed at a business meeting of the Auxiliary last evening at the American Legion hut. Members selling tickets are asked to report to the ticket chairman, Mrs. L. S. Hall, at 803 W. Foster by noon Monday. Mrs. O. K. Gaylor, junior vice-president, presided for the session last evening in the absence of Mrs. H. W. Wuddell, who is ill. A large

THANK YOU, AMERICA,

for more than a Million cars in 1935

Once more, at this Thanksgiving season, Chevrolet wishes to express its hearty appreciation of the friendship which America has given to this company and its products in 1935 and throughout the past quarter-century. This year Chevrolet has two very good reasons for saying, "Thank you, America." One reason is that people have bought so many Chevrolet cars that production for the year will reach 1,040,000. And the other reason is that they have placed a record number of orders for new 1936 Chevrolets during the first few weeks these beautiful new cars have been on display. This is a double gift of friendship, representing, as it does, one of the biggest years in all Chevrolet history, and one of the most enthusiastic welcomes that any new automobile has ever received. Chevrolet is indeed happy to say, "Thank you, America," and to pledge continued adherence to the manufacturing and service policies which have won and held this friendship. Book Week Gifts Made to School

Observing national book week, the Parent-Teacher association of B. M. Baker school has presented to the school library The Book of Life, an eight-volume set, and a subscription to the magazine, Child Activities. Mrs. V. E. Fatheree made a book week gift of two dollars to the school library, an annual custom which has added much good reading material to the shelves. The Parent-Teacher association hopes that other gifts will be received for the library during the week.

Mrs Cashman Is Contract Hostess

All members of Monday Contract club were present when Mrs. J. L. Cashman entertained at her home for the two bridge games. For the bridge games, tables and score pads were decorated with winter scenes. Pear salad, sandwiches, and fruit cake were served to Mmes. R. K. Eason, Al Schmauer, John Weeks, Earle Scheig, H. C. "You can't say it isn't pretty flattering," she said. "What is it?"

"I don't know," said Larry, adopting a light, bantering tone. "I hear you're so popular that nobody can see you unless they make a date three weeks in advance."

"Having you for a caller, Humble stenographer entertaining the busy business man—what is it, again, that you're doing, Larry?"

"I don't think she was lying," said Larry calmly. "I think she was telling the truth. An' that's what makes it puzzling. Because I can't help thinking that Harkins was the bird who pulled that robbery, too."
