SOME FACE DEATH—Women guerrilla fighters kneel mournfully in a security room facing sentences of from five years to death following their capture behind United Nations lines in Korea by volunteer National Police in the Cholla provinces. The women are judged as harshly as men who are captured. The ROK National Police, aided by U.S. arms and advisers, have killed 13,000 of an estimated 40,000 guerrillas in 13 months of the little-known war behind the lines. Solon Charges Reds Invading U.S. Colleges

Senate Probe Bares Nests Of Commies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.) said Saturday hearings of the Senate internal security subcommittee have made it obvious that "nests of Communists exist not only in the secondary schools but in many colleges." He referred to public hearings of the subcommittee held in New York City earlier this fall in launching a search for any subversive influences in the nation's schools and colleges.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr.

Succeeds Austin . . . Ike Names Lodge To U. N. Mission

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower filled another top post Saturday in the international sphere of his forthcoming administration.

He designated Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge to lead the U. S. mission to the United Nations, Lodge, 50, will succeed Ambassador Warren R. Austin, who is 75 and has said he wishes to retire.

John Foster Dulles, the designated secretary of state, said in announcing the appointment for Eisenhower that Lodge would be "one of the administration's principal advisers and representatives in the formulation and conduct of foreign policy."

Annual Home Decoration Contest Set

Twenty prizes totaling $125 will be awarded in Pampa's annual Christmas decoration contest for homes, scheduled from Dec. 20 to Jan. 1

Sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club, the contest will be judged from Dec. 22 through Christmas Eve. Winners will be announced Christmas Day and will receive photographs of their entries.

Any decorated home is automatically entered in the contest. No entry blanks are required. Installations competing must be illuminated between 7 and 10:30 p.m. — and visible from the street from Dec. 20 to Jan. 1.

The city is divided into five districts and prizes are awarded in four classes for each of the districts. A trophy is granted in each district to the occupant of the best-decorated house, regardless of class.

Classes of decorations are: (1) displays featuring scenes of a religious nature; (2) scenes representing Christmas themes; (3) displays using lights or natural features to harmonize with surroundings; and (4) doorways.

Prizes in each district are $7.50 for winners in (1) and (2) and $5 for winners in (3) and (4). Circulating trophies to be retained one year — will be awarded the best-decorated church and the best-decorated school. Neither of them were awarded last year.

And a Grand Prize will go to the best-decorated home in the entire city, regardless of class or district. Last year's went to Ted and Jack Schroeder, teen-aged sons of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Schroeder, 121 S. Sumner.

Their depiction of a manger scene, using packing crates and cutouts, was chosen because it used material available to anyone and judges thought it demonstrated the true Christmas spirit. Fifteen judges, three in each district, will choose the winners.

Mrs. Ella D. Benner Services Monday

Funeral services for Mrs. Ella D. Benner, 68, who died at 7:45 p. m. Friday in Worley Hospital, will be held at 10 a. m. Monday in the First Methodist Church chapel with Rev. Tom Johnston, pastor, officiating.

Mrs. Benner was born on May 7, 1884 at Buffalo, Pa., and was a member of the First Methodist Church here. She moved to Pampa from Bartlesville, Okla. in 1943.

Survivors are: her husband, L. A. Benner; Pampa; four daughters, Mrs. R. D. Hale, Harrison, Ark.; Mrs. Walter Swanson, Oakland, Neb.; Mrs. Hubert R. O. Oehlata, Okla.; and Mrs. Henry C. Link, Pampa; one sister, Mrs. Mary Mitchell, Bartlesville, Okla.; and 14 grandchildren.

The body will be sent to Bartlesville Monday following services here for graveside service and a burial.

Funeral services for Mrs. Ella D. Benner, 68, who died at 7:45 p. m. Friday in Worley Hospital, will be held at 10 a. m. Monday in the First Methodist Church chapel with Rev. Tom Johnston, pastor, officiating.

New Cold Air Mass Approaching Texas

TEXAS remained a somber and wintry land of muddy prairies, glazed highways and ice-laced trees Saturday. A new cold air mass was billowing into the state from Colorado and the Rockies.

The highway patrol said roads were iced over and dangerous — some of them closed — from Snyder north into Oklahoma and from Wichita Falls west into New Mexico. Wrecked cars blocked bridges near Wichita Falls and Vernon.

C-C Slates Meet Tuesday

A meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors and Board of City Development is scheduled at 12 noon Tuesday in the Pine Room, Schneider Hotel, Lynn Boyd, Chamber of Commerce president, said this is the first monthly meeting for the fiscal year of the new board of directors.

The new work committee is to be presented to the board for approval and plans are to be announced concerning the Texas Junior Livestock Show and Sale scheduled for Feb. 16.

Included also will be details about the Future Farmers of America Livestock Judging Contest and Hereford Breeders Show and Sale which are to be held Feb. 16 and 17, respectively.

Five Automobiles In One Collision

Five Pampa automobiles were involved in a collision at 4:55 p. m. Saturday in the 400-block of South Cuyler, according to city police.

A vehicle operated by Noel G. Wampler, 28 of 1181 Huff, had to stop quickly at a red light, police said, and four others behind it knocked fenders.

Janitor Loses The 'Wrong' Leg

CHICAGO (AP) — A 65-year-old janitor charged Saturday that when he went to a hospital to have a gangrenous leg amputated, doctors cut off the wrong leg. The janitor is Gust Tews of Chicago who filed suit for $800,000 damages in Circuit Court, charging the Evangelical Hospital Association with malpractice. Tews' 41st, 48th, asked $150,000 damages in a separate suit.

RECAPTURED — Winnie Ruth Judd, in-again, out-again trunk slayer, was recaptured Saturday after 46 hours of freedom from Arizona State Hospital where she escaped Thanksgiving day.

Winnie Ruth Judd Recaptured After 46 Hours Of Freedom

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Winnie Ruth Judd, the crafty killer who broke out of the Arizona State Hospital on a chill Thanksgiving Day evening, was captured here Saturday night after 46 hours of freedom.

Wily Winnie, red-haired murderess of 21, years ago, was found hiding in a closet at the home of her guardian, Mrs. Fay Harvey.

Vic Soule and Gene Geiger, Phoenix detectives, found her cowering under a pile of clothes, her leg pulled in under her, her back against the wall.

"Why don't you leave me alone?" she begged as the clothes were snatched away.

"Please let me stay for awhile. I want to get a job and see some people. I'm tired of being locked up."

The fading "Tiger Woman," who was committed to the state hospital in 1933, complained bitterly as the two men helped her off the floor, but accompanied them without resistance.

"I've been locked up long enough," she moaned as the detectives placed her in a car and took her to the city jail. "I should be turned loose and allowed to lead a normal life again."

She was still wearing the same green skirt and green sweater she had on when she was last seen at the hospital Thursday night.

It was the end of the trail for Winnie on her sixth break out of the hospital, where she had been held since cheating the gallows almost two decades ago.

She had been convicted of killing Agnes Ann Le Roi and Hedvig Samuelson on Oct. 16, 1931, dismembering their bodies and sending them to Los Angeles in a trunk and suitcases.

How the salary advance hinges on availability of money is reflected in the reply of Rep. Dolph Briscoe, Uvalde, who rated teacher pay No. 4 in importance.

"From all present indications, I think that taxation will be the big problem of the next session — that is of course, assuming that the teachers receive the higher salaries that they are asking for, Briscoe said, adding:

"I think they should and will receive a cost of living increase."

Opposition is certain to be heard, of course. Sen. Carlos Ashley, Llano, said he would be guided by the wishes of taxpayers.

"If local taxpayers want to raise teachers' salaries, I will favor it. Otherwise, I will not," he declared bluntly.

Death Rides Texas' Ice-Covered Roads

Death rode on Texas' rain and ice slick highways this week end to claim at least 20 lives through late Saturday.

Three other persons died — two from burns and one from suffocation — to send the violent death toll in the state for the Thanksgiving week end to 23.

Six persons died when their car left the highway and crashed into a tree before dawn Saturday south of Palestine. Killed instantly were Eugene Arthurs, 34; his wife, Mrs. Vera Arthurs, 29; Kathy Arthurs, 12; Ricky Arthurs, three months old; and Foster Riddesperger, 26. Eugene Arthurs, 2, died a few hours later.

The Arthurs family and Riddesperger, who lived in Channelview near Houston, were enroute to visit Mrs. Arthurs' parents near Athens. Officers said Arthurs apparently dozed at the wheel as the car veered off the shoulder and traveled in a straight line before hitting the tree. Francisco Sandoval, 55, a construction worker, was killed Friday when hit by a trailer-truck near Houston.

J. R. Tarrant, 42, and Melton Fulton, 35, both of Grand Prairie, were found dead in the wreckage of their car near Fort Worth Friday. Their wives, both critically injured, were found near the car which was plunged 199 feet to the bed of a stream.

James Cunningham, about 20, Oklahoma City, was killed when his truck and a car collided about (See DEATH, Page 3)

Season Opens Monday . . . Prospects For Good Quail Hunting Seen For Panhandle

Quail hunting promises to be better than expected this year in the Gray County area, according to Frank Addington, local sports man.

Season opens Monday and lasts through Jan. 16. Shooting hours are from one half hour before sunrise to one half hour after sunset.

Hunting should be pretty good in Gray, Wheeler, Hemphill and Collingsworth Counties, Addington said, although The Associated Press reported quail prospects over the state as "average."

Limit on quail over a 32-county Panhandle area (Northern district) has been set by the Texas Game Commission at 12-a-day and 24 in possession. Elsewhere in the state, the AP said, the possession limit is as high as 36.

The fall's wildlife harvest has been described as "pretty good," by Howard Dodgen, TGC executive secretary. For that reason, the AP went on, improved moisture conditions from recent rains give promise of the first season in several years for successful use of bird dogs.

Contrary to some opinion, Addington said, the statewide drought has not hurt rabbit-hunting in this area—and the rabbit supply is "awfully good." This is par-(See PROSPECTS, Page 3)

11-Year-Old Hit By Car

William F. O'Laughlin, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill O'Laughlin, Miami, was in serious condition today in Worley Hospital from injuries he suffered when hit by a car Friday afternoon.

Sheriff Cy Carr, Miami, and state highway patrolmen who investigated said the O'Laughlin boy was struck riding down ice-coated Berger street in Miami at 1:20 p.m. and ran in front of a car driven by Eldon S. Johnson, 39, of Amphlett, who was traveling east on U. S. Highway 60. The car, officers said, was unable to stop and ran over the boy, fracturing his leg and skull.

Witnesses were quoted by officers as saying Johnson was going slow at the time and couldn't stop. No charges were filed.

Taken to Worley Hospital by a Duquenois ambulance, physicians learned the boy also suffered a concussion. He had regained consciousness but remained in a serious condition, doctors reported.

A BROKEN RAIL early Friday sent this huge 5000 class Santa Fe locomotive off the track near the old Dauciger Refinery, immobilizing it for almost 24 hours. Workmen at the scene said the engine had just dropped its train of cars and was pulling off the siding when a rail broke, causing it to jump the track. Crews worked around bonfires along the right-of-way from 7:55 a.m. Friday until 12:30 a.m. Saturday before the engine was able to get away under its own power. There were no injuries. (News Photo)

Girl Questioned in Bank Robbery

FORT WORTH (AP) — A 20-year-old brown-haired girl told police last night she "stuck up" a hat filling station and that robbery, but I didn't hold up my bank."

She was Lillie Mae Sawyer who was arrested with two Carwell Air Force Base soldiers last night. The two airmen were released after questioning.

A pistol-shaped cigarette lighter was found in the glove compartment of Lillie Mae's car as he made her statement to police and a Star-Telegram reporter.

She told police she and another woman, both wives of men serving in Korea, had planned to meet their husbands in California soon.

168 This Year . . . Hot Checks Plague County Officials

By ED NASH
Check frauds have become one of the biggest problems — and nuisances — in Gray County and throughout the nation.

A staggering 168 swindling-with-a-worthless check cases have been processed in county court during the past year, according to County Attorney Bill Waters.

And that doesn't include checks made out for $50 or more, Waters said, for those are labeled felonies and handled in district court. Only misdemeanors go through county court.

Most persons don't realize the fines and sentences that "hot checks" entail, he continued. And many merchants "don't take the necessary precautions against those who offer checks in payment for goods purchased."

Of course, Waters went on, there is the additional problem of forgers.

Unlike a swindling charge where a person signs his name to a check and passes it without having sufficient funds in the bank to cover a forgery occurs if a person signs any other name but his own to a check or if a person alters in any way a check that has already been made out by another.

Check frauds can be avoided in two ways, according to John Y. Bealy in a recent "Kiwanis Magazine" article:

(1) Checks can be written so it is impossible to alter them; and

(2) Businessmen can refuse to sell goods and give change for a check offered by a stranger — unless he will give the merchant an opportunity to phone the bank to find out whether the check is good.

"The apprehension of 'hot checks' would be greatly simplified," Waters said, "if Pampa merchants would require identification — social security card, driver's license, car tag number, or something similar."

For Waters' greatest problem is the forgetfulness of merchants in getting that identification — something that would give a lead for the apprehension of the check-giver. "Vast majority of merchants, however, he added, do cooperate in this respect."

Losses from bad checks can be avoided, Bealy reports, if five simple rules are followed:

(1) Start writing at the extreme left. And that goes for both script and numerals. For it is all too easy for a dishonest person to raise both the written amount and the actual figure.

(2) Allow no large spaces between words. As a check made payable to a corporation cannot be cashed by an individual, it is important to make it impossible to change the company's name to that of an individual — however odd the name might seem.

(3) Write numerals clearly. Carelessly written zeros and ones can be changed to eights and sevens.

(4) Make sure the written amount is the same as the numerical amount. According to law, the written amount is the legal one — but if it can't be read, then the numerical one is legal.

(5) Fill the stub with complete information before writing the check.

Differences in the seriousness between swindling — with a worthless check (s-w-c) and forging — in the eyes of the law — can be seen in the fines and sentences for the charges.

According to the Texas Penal Code written by Rep. Waggoner Carr (Lubbock), a former county attorney, and passed in 1951: if a man charged with s-w-c on a check of less than $5, he is liable for a fine not more than $200.

If the check is for an amount between $5 and $49.99, he is liable for a fine of not more than $1,000, a jail sentence of not more than two years, or both.

If a person forges a check and passes it, he is liable for imprisonment of not less than two years and not more than seven years. And if a person knowingly passes a check forged by another, he is liable for not less than two years nor more than five years in jail.

All fines and sentences quoted are for a first offense only. Inmate's evidence of the penalties demanded by law go on drastically.

One point not generally known, Waters said, is that a complainant may be fined not less than $100 nor more than $500 if he files a complaint on a "hot check" passer and later requests that it be dismissed. Purpose of this is to keep the county attorney's office from being cluttered up with work that may turn out to be a waste of time.

The Carr Law changed the old law, Waters emphasized, in that it provides a 19-day waiting period, following notification by the receiver, for the passer to make good a check that has bounced. If it is not made good in that time, that fact is considered "pri-son's intent to defraud."

The county attorney's office in this county, Waters continued, makes a practice — it is not required by law — of writing a letter to the check-passer giving him five days to "make good on payment. If he doesn't do so, he is brought to court."

But neither of the waiting periods is mandatory. Waters emphasized, for the moment a complaint is filed in his office, it can be taken to court.

Waters voiced the hope that both merchants and check-passers abide by the law. For it would be easier on them — and the county attorney's office.

CHANGES IN STYLE and power mark the 1953 Lincoln Cosmopolitan pictured above. In addition to a complete restyling of the body, the car has a 265-horsepower engine to drive its overall length of 214.1 inches along the highway. A new name plate style has also been adopted this year: large block letters, spelling "Lincoln" across the front of the hood are placed directly over a large gilded "V" signifying its V-8 engine.

Funeral Rites For Shamrock Citizen Slated Monday

SHAMROCK (Special) — Funeral services for Wes. T. Stevens, who died Friday will be held Monday at Conway, Ark., following services here yesterday.

Mr. Stevens was born on Aug. 12, 1886, in Arkansas, moved to Wheeler County in 1928 and stayed until 1939. In 1949 he returned to Texas and settled at Twitty, where he died at 4:30 p. m., Friday.

Surviving him are: his wife, Donnie, Twitty; two daughters, Mrs. Walter Chambers and Mrs. E. D. Beatty, both of Marshall; two sons, Euren, Twitty; and Dorthard, Hamlin; and 11 grandchildren.

Services here were held at 4 p. m. Saturday in the Richerson Funeral Home Chapel with Keith Beaman, pastor of the Twitty Church of Christ, officiating.

Pallbearers are: Bob George, L. B. George, Cecil Amerson, Dick Gierheart, Gaston Harbour, and Luther Ledbetter.

The body will be sent to Conway, Ark. today.

Death

20 miles southwest of Snyder Friday.

E. H. Weeks, 61, was killed when he was knocked down by one car and then run over by a second car coming from the other direction at Waco.

A charge of murder with a motor vehicle was filed at Temple against Neil Dawson in the death of E. J. Scott, 39, of Belmead. Scott was killed when his car and Dawson's collided 10 miles north of Temple Thursday night.

Paul Hoglund, 39, a civilian employe at Webb Air Force Base, was killed Friday when a car overturned near Big Spring.

Other traffic victims included William King of Kerrville who was killed in his truck near Fredericksburg; Mrs. T.V. McClure, killed in a two-car collision near Lockney; Edward McCann, killed in a car-truck collision near Alto; Earl Bowman, 30, of Odessa killed in a collision at Kermit; Thomas Springer, seven months old, killed in a collision at Texarkana; and Coy Peltum, 14, and Leonard Osborne, 28, both of Long Branch, fatally injured in a truck accident.

Prospect

ticularly true, he continued, of Wheeler County where there is plentiful cover.

"Not too many quail have been maintained, although 'quite a few have had double litters.' Coyotes have not been raising much havoc with small game recently. Addington went on, and a good part of the reason may be due to the purchasing of a 'coyote call,' quite a few of which have been sold.

Mission

nel and was re-elected to the Senate in 1946.

This year, however, he lost the senatorial race to Democratic Rep. John Kennedy in a hotly contested fight.

In a statement from his home in Beverly, Mass. Lodge said he was "glad of this opportunity to serve my country" in the U.N., adding:

"It is a great chance to build a world in which our young men will no longer need to go off to combat."

Magnificent Job

Dulles, who made his announcement at Eisenhower's Commodore Hotel headquarters after a visit to the general's residence, paid high tribute to Austin.

"He has done a magnificent job there as our representative," Dulles said. "He has caught the atmosphere of the United Nations . . . a town meeting of the world . . . and built up the spiritual quality of the United Nations which is its greatest power, in my opinion."

Eisenhower also named Emmet J. Hughes, a Life magazine editor, as his administrative assistant after he takes office Jan. 20.

Hughes said at a news conference at Eisenhower headquarters that he worked on the campaign speech in which the general promised to go to Korea if elected. He added, however, that "all basic policies in the campaign were made by one man—and that man was Gen. Eisenhower."

Mrs. J. M. Allen Of Miami Succumbs In Accident Here

Mrs. J. M. Allen, 57, of Miami, died at 10 a.m. Saturday in Hansford County Hospital, Spearman, where she had been a patient since August.

Mrs. Allen moved to Miami in 1929 from Ashboro, N. C. She was a member of the Methodist Church of Flagg Springs, N.C.

The body will be sent to Flagg Springs today where funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon. She will be buried beside her husband, James Monroe Allen, who died a few months before Mrs. Flagg moved to Texas.

Survivors are: four sons, Homer and Garrett, both of Spearman; W. D. of Miami; and B. C. of Charlotte, N. C.; eight grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Damages $1,350 In Accident Here

Approximately $1,350 in property damage was caused to two trucks and a car in a rear-end collision on State Highway 152 west of the city, highway patrolmen reported.

The patrolmen said an east-bound line of traffic Friday afternoon, was stopped because of a stalled truck when the crash occurred. All of the cars began moving just as a heavy oil field truck, driven by Weldon B. Nolen, 22, Borger, rammed into the rear of a van-type truck, driven by Carlton L. Nance, 43, of 1334 N. Russell, Nance was pushed into rear of a car driven by Elmer Lee Carr, 27, of Elk City, Okla.

The oil truck suffered about $700 damages while the Nance delivery truck suffered about $300 damages and $100 damage to its cargo. The automobile was damaged about $250.

Nolen was charged with driving without a commercial operator's license, patrolmen reported.

was due to natural causes, investigating officers said.

Survivors include: five sons, Albert and Frank, both of Pampa; Ted, Amarillo; Ernest, Clarendon; and Buster Toad, Tahoka; two daughters, Mrs. Ray Singer, Pampa; and Mrs. Mary Virden, Plainview; and one sister, Mrs. W. L. Davis, Pampa.

Rain-slickened streets caused traffic accidents. Houston alone reported 10 wrecks with five people killed when a car went off a wet highway and hit a tree near Pasadena, highway conditions were falling asleep.

have been caused by the driver's mistake, but the accident might have been avoided around Amarillo. While the sun was out Saturday. The highway patrol said Highway 83, 66 and 72 in the Panhandle definitely were closed because of ice. The patrol said "the bridge across Red River north of Wichita Falls and the one north of Vernon are blocked at

Messiah Rehearsal Time Is Changed

Time and place of Monday's rehearsal of "The Messiah" has been changed to 8:30 p.m. in Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church.

It had been scheduled originally for 7:30 p.m. in the church's sanctuary.

All are urged to attend, according to Roy Johnson, minister of music.

$303,618 Suit Filed By Cabot Against Phillips

A suit asking recovery of $303,618 from Phillips Petroleum Co. has been filed in Oklahoma federal court by Cabot Carbo. Co. in a gas price dispute.

The suit arose over a contract in the Guymon-Hugoton oil field of Texas County, Okla., involving state price settings on natural gas.

The allegations said Cabot owned a block of leases in the field and made a contract with Phillips in 1944 to drill and produce gas there, paying Cabot four cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

On Dec. 9, 1946, the Oklahoma Corporation Commission issued an order boosting the minimum price of gas in the field to seven cents per 1,000 cubic feet. The minimum was again raised to a fraction under 10 cents on Aug. 1, 1948.

However, Phillips continued to pay Cabot only four cents until the present time. Cabot entered suit to recover the difference between four and seven cents on gas produced since Dec. 9, 1946, and the additional difference on production since the August increase.

API Makes Final Plans For Banquet

Officials of the Panhandle chapter, American Petroleum Institute, make final arrangements this week for the annual election and installation of officers banquet, scheduled Wednesday.

Principal speaker this year will be Albert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

The banquet is to be held at 7:30 p.m. in Bunavista. A social hour has been slated for 7 p.m. Advance ticket sales for the affair are "moving an end," according to Clayton A. Husted, chapter chairman and "all tickets should be sold by banquet time."

Downing, the major speaker, is considered one of West Texas' "most popular after-dinner speakers and as typically Texas as an oil derrick."

Son of a merchant-farmer, he readily admits that the stories he heard around the pot-bellied stove in his father's store have influenced his philosophy. Defining that philosophy as "largely being able to see two sides of things," he adds, "sorta dangerous during election years."

The chapter incorporates 12 counties in the Top of Texas and three in the Oklahoma Panhandle. In addition to Husted, present officers of the chapter are Joe R. Cronin, Phillips, first vice

A 'Bridge For Torn Germany,' Otto Dibelius Irks Communists

BERLIN (AP) — The man with the "admiral's beard" is stirring German hopes anew for a peaceful future, free from the East West tug of war.

Otto Dibelius, a burning-eyed Prussian, carries 72 years of age with the spry step of youth. His proper title is Doctor of Divinity, Bishop of the Evangelical Church, spiritual leader of 35-million German Protestants.

A thorn to the Nazis, Dibelius has been an equally distressing thorn to the Communists. He is the only man in Germany received with equal respect by President Theodor Heuss of West Germany and President Wilhelm Pieck of East Germany; Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany and Prime Minister Otto Grotewohl of the Soviet zone.

A Bridge For Germany?
If there is a bridge for torn, disrupted Germany, most people believe it is Otto Dibelius, who preaches of peace and honor and of democracy. His weapons are the Commandments and his attitude so rocklike that not even the cranked-up Communist propaganda barrage can shake his solid hold in both East and West.

The bishop is made of stern stuff. The Nazis discovered it the day they took over control of the Reichstag in 1933 and heard this man preach to them.
"The dictatorship of a total state is incompatible with God's will. For the Gospel's sake we need a democratic state."
The Nazis gasped. They appointed a state commissar for church questions. Dibelius ignored him. Thereupon he was removed from all his posts and forbidden to preach or write. He moved from church to church thereafter, organizing the "Professing Church," which prevented the Nazi "German Christians" from dominating the edifice built by Luther.

Arrested By Nazis
Three times he was arrested for outspoken attacks on Nazi philosophy. Finally, on trial, he was chided by the Nazi Minister Hans Kerrl, who asked him why he kept exposing himself when he was in fact retired.
"A Christian, Mr. Minister, is never retired," the bishop shot back tartly. He has been proving it ever since.

The collapse of the Nazi regime restored Dibelius to his office as titular head of the church. One of his first tasks was administering spiritual comfort to these same Nazis, on trial for their lives before the international military tribunal at Nuernberg.

And Now: The Reds
As the East-West political split developed, the bishop found himself on another hot spot. The East-German Reds, imitating Moscow, loosed a steady attack on him. They forced him to establish an Eastern office in Brandenburg rather than direct the area surrounding Berlin (actually, Russian zone) from his West Berlin headquarters. The bishop gave in on this point, saved the state subsidies for his Eastern charges and spiked the Communist guns.

As a politician, Dibelius has done a superb job of keeping his church along the middle path, avoiding open conflict with either East or West, and yet maintaining all his theological principles remaining within his clerical role Dibelius has probably had more political effect on divided Germany than he ever could have accomplished in public office. There is probably no better known face in all Germany, holding but youthful, mustached and goateed, in the style of the Imperial Navy's admirals.

Citizens Begin Military Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — A citizens commission set up to help the armed services find ways to get more fighting power out of their 600,000 men and women in uniform, went to work this week with the blessing of President-elect Eisenhower.
The citizens group, holding its first organizational meeting Tuesday with the full 11-man membership in attendance, is headed by David Sarnoff, chairman of the board of Radio Corporation of America.
Eisenhower has heartily endorsed the commission's objectives, set forth in an act of the last Congress which directed the Defense Department to reduce the number of its dual combat servicemen so that military combat effectiveness could be improved.

Sarnoff actually started work in October, but Secretary of Defense Lovett delayed naming the commission members until mid-November to enable the new administration to have a hand in its development.
Sarnoff has stated that the commission may take one or two years to complete its top-to-bottom study.
Lovett said the first meeting of the commission will have before it for review a number of efficiency recommendations already prepared by the technical staff.
Sarnoff has indicated commission members will undoubtedly go into the field organizations of the services, both at home and abroad, to follow up plans for getting more men away from desks and into combat capacities.

Pvt. Doyle L. Keeton, United States Army, of Pampa, has completed 16 weeks of basic military training with the Fifth Armored Division in Camp Chaffee, Ark., and has been transferred to the Airborne Infantry School, Ft. Benning, Ga.

His wife, Joy Vaneta, lives in Wheeler.

During his training period Keeton received instruction in the basic Army weapons and tactics. At his new station he will be trained to qualify as an Army paratrooper.

Prior to entering the service he was employed by Leeway Motors, Pampa.

Jimmy Cline, HM 3c, United States Marine Corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Cline, 1125 Terrace, is expected home Wednesday—following 15 months of service in the Korean combat area.

Cline arrived in San Francisco Tuesday aboard the USS Gen. General John Pope. He is expected to be in Pampa till Jan. 1.

Formerly in the U. S. Navy, Cline was drafted into the Marine to serve as a hospital corpsman.

Glenn Travis, United States Navy seaman, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thomas, 703 E. Malone, is scheduled for a 10-day leave beginning Dec. 21.

Stationed in the U. S. Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif., Travis has been in the Navy since Oct. 29.

Prior to entering the service, he attended Pampa High School and worked in a local automobile body shop.

Travis has been a Pampa for eight years. Previously, he lived in Borger.

WITH THE 7TH INFANTRY DIV. IN KOREA—Heavier clothing should make the current Korean winter the most comfortable for American soldiers since their arrival in the combat zone.

For example, Pvt. Bobbie J. Keesee, 246 E. Campbell, has been issued these additional items for the winter months:

- Quilted mountain sleeping bag and extra blanket, pile jacket, parka, pile field cap, woolen undergarments, trousers, socks and sweater, gloves, mittens and special below-zero shoe-pacs.

This outfit, the Seventh Infantry is beginning its third winter in Korea. The unit has seen action in every sector of the peninsula since landing at Inchon in September, 1950.

Pvt. Keesee, who holds the Combat Infantryman Badge and the Korean Service Ribbon with one campaign star, arrived in Korea in July and has been serving as an assistant machine gunner in Company 1 of the division's 32d Infantry Regiment.

He entered the Army in December, 1951.

Kentucky Colonel's Card Helps Hank Outwit Mexican Guards

By HENRY McEMORE

CUERNAVACA, Mexico — If there is anything in the world that gives me fun it is outwitting an entire government. Everyone who works for a government thinks he is extra special, has law, authority, and power on his side, and the humble citizen voter must almost kneel before the glory and the pomp of the national payroll.

I am laughing extra hard today because I have outwitted the Mexican government and it doesn't know it. And I outwitted the Mexican government with a card showing that I am a Kentucky colonel.

I have never had any great use for this card, Kentucky colonels being about as scarce as leaves on trees in July, but it paid off today and I am grateful to the governor of Kentucky, who gave it to me. The next time I am in Kentucky I shall pay a visit to the governor's mansion and thank him.

There is a brand new road between Cuernavaca and Mexico City. It is a four-lane highway that cuts off all the high mountain trails, and an hour off the time between our little town and Mexico's capital, but it isn't open as yet.

The only ones privileged to travel the new road are those who have letters from Gen. Salinas. Having no letter from Gen. Salinas, but wanting to drive on the road, Mary and I decided that the Kentucky colonel card would get us there.

The Kentucky colonel card is done in blue and gold and has a gold seal with blue ribbons running from it, and emblazoned across the front in gold letters is the word "Colonel." When we reached the new highway two soldiers with guns stopped us. I handed the first soldier my Kentucky colonel card. Mary, who speaks Spanish, said, "Vamonos a pasar."

The soldier looked at my card for almost twenty seconds, then he saluted, and said, "Pasa."

We breezed down the highway as if we owned it. No one halted us even at the toll gates. We worried a little, lest we run into a soldier who knew English very well and on reading the card would either arrest us or send us all the way back to where we started from.

Mary kept telling me that if anybody stopped us, to put an authoritative tone in my voice. That's a little tough when you don't speak the language and you are working on a fake pass. I told her that if any soldier stopped us who spoke English and could read the card, I would desert her and take to the tall timber, and let her get out of the mess. We didn't have one bit of trouble. It was even easier coming home from Mexico City. Mary and the card having built up my confidence I was fearless. Nothing like a brave woman to bring out the braveness in a man. We came from Mexico City in an hour flat, and the one time we were stopped, I poked the Kentucky colonel card out the window and spoke with the authority of a three-star angel.

I would like to thank Gen. Fred Miles for issuing me this card. I shall always be indebted to him. I got the card, incidentally, the same day Shirley Temple was made a Kentucky colonel. It's practically the only thing Shirley and I have in common. Shirley was able to retire at 7 or 8, to me a fine age to retire, but I must work until my late nineties before I can get myself a little cabin with a porch that faces the sun.

Shirley might even come out and visit me, and rock in the sun with me. After all, she won't be a pullet then.

We might even cackle together.

Operation Kills Pain

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

AP Science Reporter

ST. LOUIS (AP) — New discoveries about how nerves telegraph pain have led to a surer operation to kill incessant pain from cancer or other causes.

The operation cuts into the spinal cord, at a point just below the brain. This surgery, chordotomy, is not new. But the new findings show how to do it more efficiently, how far to cut into the spinal cord, safely, to end pain originating in the arms, legs, trunk, or face.

The operation is done under anesthetic. The patient remains conscious. The patient tells the surgeon whether he can feel pinpricks when a pin is jabbed lightly into the skin of his body. When the patient no longer can feel the pin's applied to a certain area, it also means that he will no longer feel pain from cancer in that area.

There are two main kinds of pain. One is prickling pain, which is telegraphed along the nerves at a speed of 20 yards a second. The other is slow-moving, burning pain, telegraphed at only two yards a second. Cancer causes the slow-moving type of pain.

SNOWMAN GETS DRESSED but with no place to go until he slowly melts away. Raised from a snowball by Hilton King, left, and his brother, Robert, of 715 E. Kingsmill, the winter representative was decked out in cap, necktie and buttons, but was not given any flame by his "adopted parents." The bashful cat in foreground (with back to camera) cast a critical eye on the proceedings but refused to tell the cameraman its name. (News Photo)

Carson County Wages War Against Predatory Animals

WHITE DEER (Special) — The Carson County Commissioners Court has held two recent meetings with livestock men of the county to find ways of ridding the county of predatory animals which have been killing livestock. The court voted to work with the owners of livestock and poultry in this work. Men in the Texas Predatory Animal Control Commission believe it will take about six months for a government trapper to accomplish the job. Total cost will be about $1,800. Farmers' and ranchers' share will be $600. At a meeting recently, it was voted to collect this portion by charging each farmer and rancher served, $5 for each section of land making up his property in the county. Men on the county line with land in Carson and an adjoining county can receive this assistance on the same basis including all land served. It was further agreed that if more money was secured than needed, the unneeded portion would be prorated back to those furnishing it. The state and county have signed the work agreement. All that is needed now is to make the collections from the farmers and ranchers of Carson County.

Wheeler Doctor To Mayo Clinic

SHAMROCK (Special) — Dr. Mary Lou McIlhenny, daughter of Mrs. Mort McIlhenny of Wheeler, has returned to Mayo Clinic after a visit with her family. She spent six months in Hawaii at Queen's Hospital. There her work was with children. After returning from Hawaii in March 1952, she was given a three-year fellowship at Mayo clinic. At present she will work in the cancer ward and study internal medicine.

Dancers Entertain Local Kiwanis Club

Seven Pampa tap dancers from 5 to 16 performed to the tune of old favorites at the weekly meeting of the Pampa Kiwanis Club. Jan Dyer, Maynetta Loftus, Bonnie Glaxner, Rhona Finkelstein and Susie Fillman did solo numbers. Duets were performed by two teams—Jan Hall and Dottie Thompson, and Misses Dyer and Finkelstein. The entire troupe, all of them students of Jeanne Willingham, local dancing teacher, ran through "Sidewalks of New York" as the grand finale. Prior to the dancing, two new members—Mack Hiatt and Creel Grady—were introduced by L. V. Atchison, who took a liberal and amusing 15-20 minutes to do the honors. Later he said he thought there had been no formal program planned.

Unanimous approval was given by those attending for a raise in the yearly dues from $20 to $24 after Ralph McKinney gave a detailed account of the reason for the increase.

Shamrock Firemen Hold Annual Ball

SHAMROCK (Special) — Shamrock firemen held their annual ball in the American Legion Home Nov. 28. Leon Howell and his Music Men from Pampa are sponsoring the music. This is an orchestra made up from the members of the Pampa National Guard unit. The dance included a waltzing contest with prizes for the winners. It is believed that the first libraries of the world were located in temples.

Who should be baptized? Those who have been taught. "Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost." Mt. 28:19. One is not a fit subject for baptism until he has been taught. Also, to be a subject for baptism, one must believe. "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned." Mk. 16:16. To those who had heard and believed, Peter said, "Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost." Acts 2:38. The Eunuch said to Philip, "See, here is water; what doth hinder me to be baptized? And Philip said, If thou believest with all thine heart, thou mayest. And he answered and said, I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God. And he commanded the chariot to stand still; and they went down both into the water, both Philip and the eunuch; and he baptized him." Acts 8:36-38. Men and women who have been taught, believe, repent and confess their faith are fit subjects for baptism. But what about infants? They are not subjects for baptism. They are fit for heaven without baptism, Mt. 18:3. The baptism (so called) of infants teaches salvation by water alone. There is no faith, repentance, confession—nothing but water.

Is Baptism essential to Salvation? The names associated with baptism, indicate its importance, Mt. 28:19. The apostles preached and practiced baptism for the remission of sins, Acts 2:38. It is plainly commanded, Acts 10:48. Salvation is promised to the baptized believer, Mk. 16:16. Baptism is necessary to enter the Kingdom of God, Jno. 3:5. Baptism is in order to receive the benefits of Christ's death, Rom. 6:3,4. We are baptized into Christ, Gal. 3:27. Baptism washes away sins, Acts 22:16. This is no more "water salvation" than was Naaman's cleansing, 2 Kings 5:14; or the healing of the blind man, Jno. 9:7. The Bible is plain on this subject; it teaches that baptism saves us. "The like figure whereunto even baptism doth also now save us." 1 Pet. 3:21.

Notre Dame Spoils Trojans Perfect Season, 9-0

ND Defense Beats USC At Own Game

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Notre Dame's spoils humiliated Southern California Saturday with "sucker shift" to score in second period and sent the Rose bowl-bound Trojans crashing from the undefeated ranks, 9-0.

The Fighting Irish, ending USC's nine-game winning streak, beat the great defensive team at its own game. It was the Trojan's first loss since the Irish won 19-12 a year ago at Los Angeles.

Notre Dame scored in the first five minutes of the second period with its demon-like punt-patrol setting it up.

Johnny Lattner punted and the Trojan's safetymen, Jim Sears, received it on the USC 20. Sears looked up and saw Menil Mavriades and the bone-jarring Dan Shannon roaring down on him like a pair of wild bulls.

That was enough for Sears. He looked over his shoulder for help and then, for the only time in the game, lost his pulse. He tried to lateral to Al Carmichael, Carmichael didn't foresee the maneuver and the ball bounced in back of him. Mavriades fell on it on the 19.

From there, the inspired Irish banged through USC's tight line the 9 in three plays. Then came that "sucker shift." Notre Dame went into its regular split T alignment then shifted out in a box formation. Three Trojans jumped across the line of scrimmage and USC was ruled offside. The 5-yard penalty gave Notre Dame the ball on the 5 and a first down.

It took four plays to score from there, but Lattner finally stabbed across the last inches.

Bob Arrix' try for the extra point failed when Bob Joseph, holding the ball for the place kick, bobbed it.

Field Goal Hikes Lead

This same pair, however, made amends in the third quarter. Arrix booted a perfect 17-yard field goal at a difficult angle to give

Tulsa Outlasts Raiders, 26-20

LUBBOCK (AP)—Tulsa's Gold-Hurricanes eked out a 26-20 victory over stubborn Texas Tech Saturday when halfback Ed Johnson, his second was on a one-yard plunge over tackle, Johnson accounted for the first Tech touchdown on a sneak.

Tulsa staged marches of 64, 83, 85, and 65 yards for its four touchdowns, while Tech moved 44-, 47-, and 37 yards for its scores.

The Hurricanes, rolling to 403 yards on the ground, and 403 through the air, wound up with 526 yards total offense. Tech gained 259 on the ground and 77 through the air.

A pass interception by Kercher in the first quarter broke up a Tech drive and paved the way for the winning tally. Later, linebacker Gary Boyer intercepted a pass by Morris to set up Tech's third touchdown.

It was the eighth victory and seventh straight for Tulsa, which lost to Houston and was tied by Cincinnati.

Dudley, after intercepting the pass on the Berger 40, returned it 35 yards to the 15 to set up a Harvester touchdown. The pass was intended for Bob Covington, No. 68, star Bulldog end. Coming in to form interference for Dudley is Harold Lewis (No. 44), Jimmy Kieel (No. 36) and Travis Taylor (No. 82). The Harvesters won the game, 34-26. (News Photo)

Clinkscale Sparks Frogs Past Southern Methodist, 14 To 7

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS (AP)—Ronald Clinkscale, a flaming sophomore, ran through SMU like a purple ghost Saturday to carry TCU to a 14-7 victory in the season finale.

The tall and handsome quarterback, a track man who uses his speed on the gridiron, scored both TCU touchdowns, one a 35-yard dash and the other on a 12-yard jaunt.

Clinkscale romped to 152 yards in one of the finest individual shows this storied game ever saw. He also miked in some adept passing in general, the Christians to their upset triumph.

If the field hadn't been muddy Clinkscale would have made more yards. Several times he slipped and fell when obviously on the loose.

A crowd of 32,000 saw Southern Methodist fail to win for the sixth straight time. The last SMU victory was in 1948 but there have been two ties in between.

SMU made a hefty fight of it. The Methodists got to the TCU 21 and the 27 in first period drives but lost the ball on a pass interception the first time and on a fumble the next. Early in the second period Frank Edmon fumbled a punt to set TCU up for a touchdown.

Carlton McCormack, ponderous Christian center fell on the ball on the Methodist 40. Jack Ray picked up four in a box at right guard then Clinkscale circled left end for the score. Only Val Joe Walker, SMU safety man, could get to Clinkscale against terrific TCU blocking and he was barely able to touch the flying Christian quarterback, giving him a pat on the arm as he swirled by.

TCU rolled to the SMU 22 the next time it got the ball despite a 15-yard roughing penalty. Mal showing the drive 23 yards to the SMU 48 and Clinkscale making the remainder of it with two runs. But SMU braced and took over on its 24. SMU drove to the Frog 41 but the march petered out as the half ended.

TCU Drive Bogs

TCU took the second half kickoff and paraded from its 18 to the Methodist 36 before losing the ball, a 38-yard run by Clinkscale the big punch of this drive.

Getting the ball on their 20 after Ray McKown kicked over the goal line, the Methodists, with sophomore Don Kilgore leading the way, rumbled to the Christian 13. But Kilgore fumbled and Hal Lambert, Christian guard, recovered on the 15.

As soon as SMU got the ball again it stonewalled a touchdown with Kilgore again the man of the moment. The drive stretched 54 yards and Kilgore made 35 of it with bull-like rushes over guard. He scored the touchdown from the Christian one-foot mark.

Late Surge Gives Ga. Tech 23-9 Win

ATHENS, Ga. (AP)—Georgia Tech came alive in the last quarter Saturday and whipped Georgia, 23-9, but not until after Zeke Bratkowski's passes had run the undefeated Engineers ragged for most of the game.

Two touchdowns in the last 10 minutes broke open a hard-fought game which could have gone either way until that time. It was the Engineers' 18th straight victory.

Tech, completing its first perfect season in 24 years, was so scared and didn't care who knew it. In the last quarter, leading 10-7, Tech stopped a Georgia drive at the 2. After two quarterback sneaks without success, Tech sub signal-caller Pepper Rodgers deliberately grounded the ball in the end zone, making it 10-9 Tech. The safety enabled Tech to get a free kick from the 20.

Sugar Bowl-bound Engineers, the nation's third-ranked eleven, simply were afraid to risk a blocked kick so near the goal at that stage of the game. A little later a pass interception gave Tech another touchdown and the pressure was off.

Southeastern Champs

The victory gave Tech the Southeastern Conference title for the first time since Bobby De- became head coach in 1945. Tech and Tennessee shared the crown in 1951.

Georgia battled the highly favored Engineers on even terms or better until the closing minutes. Bratkowski's passes were particularly effective. His favorite target, Harry Babcock, suffered a broken cheek bone in the second quarter but Bratkowski had no trouble hitting John Carson and Art DeCarlo as alternates.

Tech missed badly the only budding ability of its star halfback, Leon Hardeman. Hardeman re-injured an ankle sprain the second time he carried the ball and was out for the rest of the game.

Georgia's running backs—Bobby Dellinger, Charlie Madison and Bob (Foot) Clemens—were primed for Tech and balanced off the Brat's passing neatly. Bratkowski completed 15 of 26 passes for 134 yards.

Glenn Turner, Dick Pretz and Billy Teas spearheaded Tech's ground game.

Georgia Scores First

The game was less than three minutes old when Georgia surprised an overflow crowd of 50,000 by scoring first. Bill Brigman, Tech's on-again, off-again sophomore quarterback, hobbled a pass from center and Bulldog end Jim Locke recovered on Tech's 21. Clemens swept right end and tackled over, carrying half the Tech line with him.

Tech's Rodgers set a new SEC field goal record when he booted one after a 50-yard march stalled. It gave him four for the season. The old mark of three was set by Paul Eller of Florida in 1940.

Tech's first touchdown came on a beautiful razzle-dazzle play, capping a 67-yard drive in the third quarter. Brigman faked to the fullback, pitched out to sub halfback Champell Rhino, who threw a 30-yard pass to Buck Martin in the end zone.

With about 10 minutes remaining, Dave Davis punted dead at Georgia's 3. Seconds later Bobby Moorhead intercepted a desperation Bratkowski pass and carried it 17 yards to the one. Rodgers sneaked it over. After the ensuing kickoff, Tech bottled up Georgia's passing and took over at the 20. Two plays later Turner bulldozed over from the 17. Rodgers kicked his second of three conversion attempts.

Sooners Win Easily Over Ags, 54-7

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—The Oklahoma Aggies' Bill Bredde returned the first kickoff 98 yards for a touchdown, but that just made the Oklahoma Sooners mad and they pounded their cross-state rivals unmercifully through the rest of the 59 minutes for a 54-7 decision.

Oklahoma, the nation's No. 4 team, was unrelenting as it rolled its season's total of points to 407 in 10 games—the best scoring record in the nation.

The Aggies were no match for the powerful Sooners and their own mistakes helped build up Oklahoma's final total.

Oklahoma's Billy Vessels and Merrill Green each scored two touchdowns while Max Boydston, Roger Nelson, Buck McPhail and Gene Calame each contributed one.

The game was played before 25,000 persons sitting in 36-degree weather but the sun broke through heavy clouds at game time.

That kickoff was the only chance the Aggie fans had to cheer. Bredde scooped up the ball, cut through the entire Oklahoma team, side-stepping expertly to cross the goal with speed to spare.

Oklahoma then took over. McPhail scored the Sooners' first touchdown from the five yard line after Oklahoma took the ball on the Aggies' 20 after a partially blocked punt half-way through the first quarter.

Green, with two seconds left in the quarter, put the Sooners ahead 13-7 with an eight-yard romp to end a 72-yard drive.

The rest of the touchdowns came easily.

Tennessee Crushes Vanderbilt, 46-0

NASHVILLE (AP)—Tennessee's alert Volunteers converted Vanderbilt miscues into an easy 46-0 Southeastern Conference victory Saturday on a snow-covered field.

It was the widest margin Tennessee has scored in this rivalry which started in 1892.

The Vols, headed for the Cotton Bowl game with Texas on New Year's Day, wasted little time breaking into the scoring column and kept up a steady stream of touchdowns.

Intercepted passes and Vanderbilt fumbles set up Tennessee's first five touchdowns and the Volunteer defensive platoon kept the Commodores pushed back into their own territory throughout.

Big Doug Atkins, Tennessee tackle and All-America candidate, cut out the game pattern about midway of the first period when he intercepted a Bill Krietemeyer pass and ran it 36 yards for the first touchdown.

The Vol passing attack, seldom used in early season games, was brought into play for the next time in the second quarter. Lamar Leachman pounced on a Commodore fumble at the Vanderbilt 28 to set up the score. The pass from Pat Shires to end Vic Kolenik, netted 13 yards.

MCM 5 To Open Against Wayland

ABILENE—McMurry College Indian Cagers will launch their '52-'53 season against Wayland College in Abilene, Dec. 2.

Coach Mel Jowell has 20 men on the squad this year, including five lettermen who were members of last year's team which tied for first place in the Texas Conference with Abilene Christian and Howard Payne.

Four squadmen, ten freshmen and one junior college transfer make up the rest of the team.

Carl Jowell, who racked up 833 points to lead the Texas Conference all last year, will be back as the Indian's outstanding warrior. A unanimous choice for all-conference, he averaged 19.1 per game during the '51-'52 season.

102,000 Watch Navy Win Third Straight From Army

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Fred Franco, a churning workhorse of a fullback, and a defense that held like stanchions of steel gave Navy its third straight football victory over Army Saturday, 7-0, in a fierce, fumbling battle before President Truman and a crowd of 102,000 at Municipal Stadium.

The hard-hitting Midshipmen were denied the satisfaction of a larger margin of victory when Army's best and battered forward ward stopped Franco on the Army half-yard line as the gun ended the game.

Franco, a 185-pounder from Newport, R. I. set up the day's only score with a spectacular 45-yard burst in the opening period which launched a 69-yard lightning sortie.

With the ball on the Navy 34 Franco slashed outside his own left tackle and broke into the clear, storming to the Army 21 before he was brought down from behind by Army's John Krobeck.

Franco's running mate, sophomore Phil Monahan of Burlingame Calif., smashed 19 yards to the 2 and on the third try bulldozed across for the score. New Styler of Lafayette, Ind., kicked the conversion and that was the day's ball game, although opportunities like loose footballs—few thick and fast thereafter.

Franco Busy Man

Franco, playing his last game for the Midshipmen, carried the ball 34 times and rolled up 144 yards on the ground in one of this ancient spectacle's greatest offensive displays.

Army, still feeling the effects of the scabbing scandal which wrecked its mighty squad some 18 months ago, brought its supporters to their feet with two brilliant goal-line stands in the opening period and one brief offensive flurry in the fading minutes of the game.

But it was a hopeless cause for the Cadets this cold, raw day.

Navy's fierce defensive platoon rushed Army's Pete Vann with such force that the young Hamburg, N. Y., passer was constantly overhauling his target.

The third period was 13 minutes old before Army was able to muster a first down under its own steam. In all, the Cadets were limited to four first downs only one by rushing, and to 85 yards rushing and 51 yards passing.

Navy, on the other hand, with Franco, Monahan and Don Fisher of Middletown, Pa. carrying most of the load, smashed through Army's reeling defense for 258 yards on the ground. Navy had only 65 yards passing, going in to the air only nine times and completing six.

Tackling was of such a bone-rattling nature that there were 11 fumbles, eight of them by Navy. Navy lost five balls by fumbles and Army lost three.

Early in the first period, Joe Gattuso, Navy's sophomore safety man, picked up a dying Army kick on the Army 28 and raced to the Army 2. Four times Franco and Monahan slammed into the middle of the Army line but these stout ball-carriers just hit and fell back.

In the game's fading minutes, Franco sparked a 50-yard march to the Army 3-yard line where the Midshipmen had first down. Franco bulldozed into the line three times and could only get to the half-yard line.

Navy tried desperately to get a time-out to stop the clock but they had used the limit of five in the half and the gun ended

Harvester Cagers Open Season Tuesday At Stratford

Jimmy Bond Only Returning Regular

Coach Clifton McNeeley's Pampa Harvesters will blast the lid off their 1952-53 basketball schedule Tuesday night when they invade Stratford to meet the Stratford Elks.

The Harvesters runnerup to Berger for the District I-AAAA title last year, lost four of its regulars, all-district Jimmy Bond being the lone returning starter. The only other lettermen back is Jon Oden. Besides Bond and Oden, three others who were on the squad last year are back. They are Fred Woods, Bill Webb and Buddy Cockrell. Cockrell, of course, won't be able to play for awhile as he is still recuperating from an ankle injury he received in football.

Coach McNeeley and assistant, Terry Culley, will carry 12 boys to Stratford Tuesday. These 12 boys plus Cockrell, will carry the load for the Green and Gold this season.

In addition to the aforementioned, the remainder of the squad will be made up of Ray Cooper, Dwayne Kuntz, Douglas Randolph, Dale Hensell, Larry Larsen, Gavle Tollinger, George Depee and Don Fagan. All played for the Guerrillas last season. Tuesday's game will be the first of a 22-game slate for the Harvesters. Possibly one or two more will be added, McNeeley said. The first home game will be Dec. 9 against Stratford.

Pass Up Tourney

The Harvesters will be unable to defend their title at the Howard Payne tournament this year. The tournament, usually held the weekend following Christmas, will be held the first three days of the week after Christmas this year and this move interferes with the Harvesters' district schedule.

The Harvesters open their district schedule the weekend after the Howard Payne tournament, this being too close together and too much travel for one week. The Green and Gold cagers go to Midland, Jan. 2, for their opening District I-AAAA contest. The next night they take on Odessa at Odessa.

With the addition of Midland to the district, 14 conference games will be played by each I-AAA member.

Seeks Games

McNeeley is seeking games for the week after Christmas to ready his charges for the district openers at Midland and Odessa. The Harvesters, under the watchful eye of McNeeley and Culley, have been working out since Oct. 15.

Bond, the Harvesters' leading scorer last year as a sophomore, makes the Harvesters a threat for the title this year. But McNeeley must find replacements to fill the shoes of the other starters who graduated last spring.

Probable starting quint against Stratford Tuesday will be Woods, Webb, Oden, Fagan and Bond. A "B" game will also be played prior to the Harvester-Stratford tilt Tuesday night.

The Pampa B teamers, the Guerrillas, are made up of the following boys: Harold Lewis, E. Jay McVain, Gary Griffin, Buster Carter, Bennie Cartwright, Charles Carroll, Bill Culpepper, Ken Hinkle, Gene Doggett, Jerry Green and Doug Thompson.

While the Harvesters will not be participating in any pre-season tournaments this year, the Guerrillas are expected to take part in two tourneys, at Shamrock and Wheeler.

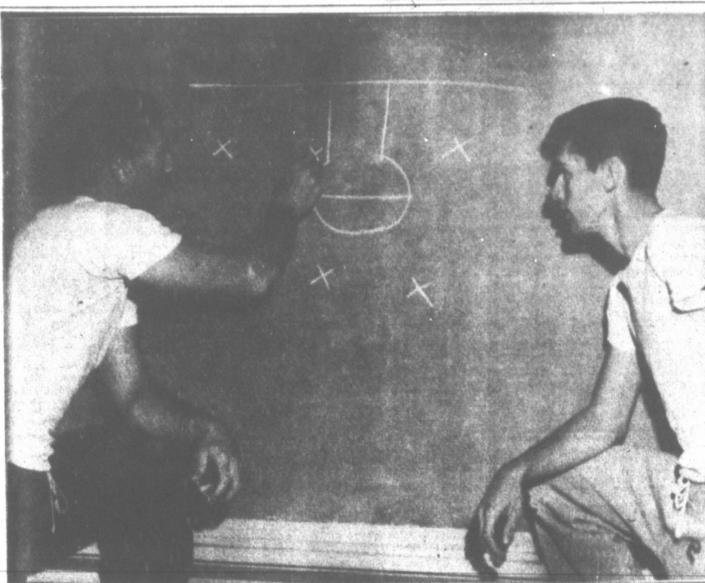

Following is the Harvester schedule:

- Dec. 2—Stratford, here.
- Dec. 9—Stratford, here.
- Dec. 11—Hoswell, N. M., here.
- Dec. 13—Odessa, here.
- Dec. 16—Phillips, here.
- Dec. 19—Snyder, here.
- Dec. 22—Phillips, here.
- Jan. 2—Midland, there.
- Jan. 3—Odessa, there.

- Jan. 10—Abilene, here.
- Jan. 16—Lubbock, here.
- Jan. 17—Amarillo, here.
- Jan. 22—Borger, here.
- Jan. 26—Midland, here.
- Jan. 31—Odessa, here.
- Feb. 6—San Angelo, there.
- Feb. 7—Abilene, there.
- Feb. 13—Lubbock, here.
- Feb. 14—Amarillo, here.
- Feb. 17—Borger, here.
- Nov. All games in "A" and "B" after District I-AAA games.

'Big Boys' Start Playoffs This Week

By the Associated Press

Play-offs for the big prizes in Texas schoolboy athletics begin this week with Lubbock and Wichita Falls favored to meet in the Class AAAA football finals and Breckenridge and Temple expected to clash for the championship of Class AAA.

With the play-off brackets filled, there are only five undefeated, untied teams left in the upper classes of the gridiron campaign. In Class AAAA they are Lubbock and Wichita Falls, which are in opposite brackets and can meet only in the finals. In Class AA they are Temple, Edison, San Antonio and McAllen. But Breckenridge, although it has lost a game, still is favored to repeat as Class AAA king.

Breck Strong

Breckenridge hasn't lost to anybody in its own class in two years and Thursday it showed even more power than last year in swarming over Brownwood to knock the latter from the unbeaten ranks. The 34-6 score threw fear into the other aspiring teams.

Temple apparently isn't the club today that it was several weeks ago when it beat Baytown, one of the powers of Class AAAA. However, the Wildcats may just be coasting. They are living only for the day they'll play Breckenridge—the team that upset them in the finals last season.

Lubbock plays a mediocre Austin (El Paso) eleven in the first round this week, is due to win and then to battle the winner to the Dallas-Fort Worth districts.

Miss. Wins Again 20-14

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — Sugar Bowl-bound Mississippi preserved its unbeaten record by beating Mississippi State, 20-14, yesterday as fullback Pete Mangum stopped a desperate late period State drive with a pass interception.

A numb crowd of 28,000 sat in an intermittent drizzle and chill 33 degree temperature to watch the brilliant battle between the two Mississippi rivals.

Quarterback Jimmy Lear called flawless ball but he and his team mates were hard pressed to break up a determined fourth period drive by Mississippi State.

Jumping Jack Parker, State's brilliant quarterback, was a star even in defeat and for personal laurels tied the Southeastern Conference touchdown record by making his 15th and 16th yesterday.

Ole Miss' victory gave the Sugar Bowl two unbeaten teams, the only major bowl with such a contest. Mississippi's New Year's Day opponent in New Orleans, Georgia Tech, defeated Georgia 23-9 to end its season with a perfect record of 11 victories. Mississippi was twice tied, by Kentucky, 13-13, and by Vanderbilt, 21-21.

Houston Trips Detroit For Title, 33-19

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston wrapped up the Missouri Valley Conference championship in mud and rain Saturday by powering its way to a 33 to 19 victory over Detroit.

The scoring rampage by the normally defensive minded Cougars included single touchdowns in each of the first three periods and two in the fourth.

Detroit's offensive attack was being carried primarily by quarterback Ted Marchbroda and fullback Ray Zambiasi. Marchbroda passed for "one touchdown and set up another while gaining a net of 147 yards rushing and passing. This gave him a season total offense record of 1813 yards, 89 better than Illinois' Tommy O'Connell, the nation's leader last week.

1st Title

The victory gave Houston its first championship since starting football in 1946. The Cougars finished the season with eight victories against losses only to Texas A&M and Mississippi. They were undefeated in three conference games.

Houston scored on short gains by quarterback Newton Shows and halfbacks Ken Pridgeon and Wendell Collier, on a 40-yard scamper by halfback S. M. Meeks, and a 23-yard run by fullback Tom Bailes.

Zambiasi scored the first two Detroit tallies, plunging over from the two in the first quarter and breaking off right tackle for 59 yards in the third.

The final period, Marchbroda connected with end Ed Beirne for 44 yards and the final Titan touchdown.

A crowd of less than 5,000 sat through rain in the low 40s.

Detroit 7 0 6 19
Houston 7 7 6 33-33

Detroit scoring: Touchdowns: Zambiasi 2, Beirne. Conversions: Zambiasi.

Houston scoring: Touchdowns: Shows, Pridgeon, Collier, Meeks, Bailes. Conversions: Howton 2.

Owls Nip Baylor; Gain 2nd In SWC

By WILBUR MARTIN

WACO (AP) — Rice used two intercepted passes and a magnificent 61-yard punt return to beat Baylor, 20-14, and clinch a comeback that brought it from a woebegone football team to runnerup in the Southwest Conference.

The intercepted passes set up touchdowns in the first and final periods and gave the Owls their fourth straight November victory after five straight licks.

Nearstar's touchdown run—made with Francis Davidson hanging all over him for what seemed an eternity—apparently made him the nation's top man at returning punts. His 61-yard punt yesterday of 536 yards showed him past USC's Jimmy Sears.

Dupre Scores

L. G. Dupre, Baylor's sophomore flash, romped 30 yards for a second period tally and then cracked Rice's line for two yards and another score to run his touchdown total for the season to nine.

Leroy Fenstermaker, who came off the bench to engineer Rice's November surge, kicked the first two extra points for the Owls. C. O. Brocato kicked two for Baylor.

A crowd of 10,000 shivered in 42 degree weather and watched Rice roll up an impressive 264 yards rushing to 216 for Baylor and 123 yards passing to six for Baylor.

Big Leo Rucka grabbed Francis Davidson's pass in the first period to set Rice up for its first touchdown on Baylor's 40. Then Fenstermaker went to work, heaving a long, high pass to Blois Bridges, good for 35 yards. Bob Garbrecht made four yards in two tries and then Fenstermaker scored from the one yard line.

Fumble Numerous

A fumble by David Johnson gave Baylor the ball on Rice's 38, but the Bears had to wait for a better opportunity to score. They got it in the second quarter when Billy Sherman returned Johnson's punt 25 yards to midfield. In just four plays, the Bears had their touchdown. L. G. Dupre accounted for 45 of the 50 yards, including the last 30 on a twisting run through the entire Rice team.

Fumbled and intercepted passes came with regularity in the first half and Baylor's success in recovering was the better. But the Bears couldn't do too much with the advantage, bogging down when reaching Rice's 11 after Ronnie Black pounced on Johnson's fumble in the second period. They reached Rice's 38 again this same period before Jack Day intercepted Davidson's pass. A 62 yard punt by Johnson to Baylor's one ended any chance of Baylor breaking the tie before the half ended.

Alabama Nips Auburn, 21-0

BIRMINGHAM (AP) — A merciless first-half running attack, paced by backs Bobby Marlow and Tommy Lewis, brought Alabama a 21-0 victory over Auburn Saturday on a cold and muddy field before 40,000 chilled fans.

It was Marlow's final regular season game, and he racked up 132 yards on rushes for a season's net of 950 and a three-year figure of 2,560.

Bama showed its superiority quickly. With Lewis and Marlow doing the running, Alabama went 60 yards in six plays in the opening four minutes. Lewis drove 13 for the score.

Another Bama score followed on an 84-yard march before the first period ended. Lewis again rumbled over, this time from 8 yards away.

Halfback Bobby Luna went 4 for the final marker early in the second.

SHOES TO FILL—There are plenty of shoes to fill among Kansas University's Olympic basketball representatives as the cage season nears. Only two regulars from the seven-man Kansas team that journeyed to Helsinki are left as a nucleus for this year's quintet, out to defend Kansas' NCAA national championships. P'view Drive Still Short PLAINVIEW — The drive by Plainview baseball fans for purchasing the Pampa Oiler franchise was still several thousand dollars short of the goal here today but drive chairman Ernie Brock was still optimistic the goal of $80,000 would be reached.

Brock refused to give the exact total funds that had already been purchased but did say they were several thousand dollars away yet.

Although the deadline for raising the remainder has been set for Dec. 1, Brock expressed optimism that the drive would go over. Oiler owner Doug Mills in Phoenix said he plans to meet six Monday to further discuss the purchase of the franchise.

Approximately 200 stockholders had purchased stock in the club. Brock reports that most of the would-be stock holders are farmers and they will have to wait until after the first of the year before knowing for sure what amount of stock they could buy.

The Plainview boosters may ask Mills for more time in raising the money.

Murdock Brothers To Meet Funk-Overhuls In Feature

It's a double feature for Pampa wrestling fans Wednesday, with one of the roughest tag teams ever assembled taking the main event spot.

Dory Funk, one of the most rugged wrestlers ever to come to Pampa, will be back and bring with him for his partner, George Overhuls, who is fast proving to be one of the roughest and unriest wrestlers. Funk has heard that the Pampa arena is getting famous for fights with shoes, and he knows that Overhuls can use a shoe with the best of them, as he so ably demonstrated last Wednesday against Jesse James.

These "uncrowned" champions for tag-team wrestling, Funk and Overhuls feel confident that they can get rough enough to upset the long string of victories of the Murdockos, so Pampa fans will really see a rough match.

Tommy Martindale and Gust Johnson have been re-matched for a one-hour, two out of three fall match to complete the card. These two men had one of the fastest, scientific matches ever seen in the local arena last Wednesday when they went 45 minutes and only had one fall, Martindale taking that one, Johnson asked for rematch, and Promoter Howard Vineyard agreed, since he knew that Pampa fans would enjoy seeing these two boys settle the feud.

Tickets may be had by calling 2025, and will be on sale at the Sportsman's Store Wednesday afternoon till 5:00, then will be on sale at the Southern Club. The Murdockos have been rolling Wednesday evening at 7:00.

Baseball Meeting Convenes Monday

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Baseball, comparatively quiet since last October's World Series, sounds off again Monday with the opening of the annual convention of the minor and major leagues here, probably the most important conclave in the modern history of the game.

Even as the magnates club and league officials are discussing vital changes in the legislative structure of organized baseball, there will be endless trade talks as managers, general managers and sundry others try to pry things loose in the player market.

29 Amendments On Agenda

Twenty-nine amendments to the major-minor league rules and 18 to the National Association agreement are on the agenda for the Dec. 14 convention of the minors with President George M. Trautman presiding. The following day, Friday, Dec. 15, and continuing through the next day, the big fellows will take over with the National and American League owners holding their separate meetings. On Sunday Dec. 17, the convention will come to a close with the joint session before Commissioner Ford Frick.

Top billing doubtless will go to such controversial subjects as the bonus law, the waiver rule, high school rule, player recall rule and television, radio and night baseball.

TV To Be Discussed

Television, especially, is expected to become the focal point of a sizzling battle when an effort is made to jam through a proposal to pool all revenues from TV for equal distribution among all the clubs. Fred Saigh of the St. Louis Cardinals, Ell Veeck of the St. Louis Browns and Frank Lane of the Chicago White Sox are expected to lead this share-the-wealth move.

Two new bonus rules have been submitted, one by the executive council, the other by the New York Yankees through their Kansas City farm. The chief differences between the two proposals are:

The executive council designates $4,000 for the majors and minors above Class B and $3,000 for lower classifications as the amounts that can be paid a free agent in salary and bonus without making him a bonus player, with a special provision of $5,000 if the player is retained in the majors. The Kansas City plan makes the bonus basis $6,000 for the majors and minors above Class A, $4,000 for A and B and $3,000 for C and D, with the right to include in the contract an additional $2,500 by the majors, open classification and AAA if the player is retained 60 days.

The bonus status is lifted on a major league player after two years and on a minor league player after passing through a selection period, according to the executive council's recommendation.

"Something hit me in the chest and it was a second or two before I realized what it was," (AP Wirephoto).

NEAR-SIGHTED TIGER TACKLE—Bill Turbeaugh ("Blind Bill" to his teammates), 265-pound tackle for the Auburn Tigers at Auburn, Ala., is so near-sighted his own hand at arm's length is just a blur. Coach Ralph Jordan says "Blind Bill" does a lot by feel and touch, this being demonstrated last Saturday when Bill intercepted a Clemson pass to set up a game-winning field goal. Bill's comment on the interception, "Something hit me in the chest and it was a second or two before I realized what it was," (AP Wirephoto).

Sports Shots Tyson Had Better Record Than Cherry, Says Railiff

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Editor

There's nothing else in the world like the Texas high school football race. In the first place it's the biggest. In the second place it is a most complicated affair.

We have been reporting Texas high school football for 30 years but it was child's play until it became a four-way proposition. That started last year when the little schools went through into state championship races. There are four state titles.

Getting the bare scores of the games played by the 40-odd teams each week is a monumental project. There are places that do not have telephone switchboards and the calls are made through the large towns. If you don't know the name of the coach you're likely to be out of luck.

There are some areas that are not covered by daily newspapers and you have to get the news by telephone—if you can get the call through.

Cowboy Quintet Opens Tomorrow

ABILENE — The Hardin-Simmons University football season was ended but the Baptists will continue their athletic program in a big way beginning Monday night when the Cowboys open their 1952-1953 basketball season against Brooks Medical center in San Antonio, Tuesday the Pokes play Houston U. at Houston.

The Cowboy squad consisting of five two year lettermen, four one year lettermen, one squadman, and ten highly regarded freshmen, has one of the toughest basketball schedules in the history of H-SU confronting them.

Freshmen will be allowed to participate in varsity competition in the Border Conference again this season.

The Cowboys, coached by Bill Scott who is starting his second year as head of the H-SU basketball corral, will play a card calling for 27 games — 14 conference tilts, and 13 non-conference games. The non-conference card includes SMU and TCU.

will be at center and 6 foot 5 Virgil Johnson of Lubbock will be at a guard when the Red Raiders defend their Wayland College tournament title. They are Full Robinson's only returning starters. With Tech in the tourney, scheduled for Plainview Dec. 4 and 5, are East Central Oklahoma State, Wayland, and North Texas State.

It's a pretty sure bet that 6 foot 10 Paul Nolan of Alvarado

And it's surprising how many wives of coaches don't know who's playing and if they do don't remember the scores.

I tried to get the "score of football game at one little town. The coach and the superintendent of schools didn't have telephones and the telephone operator was new there so she couldn't recommend anybody who might know the score.

We called the other town—the visiting team—and got the coach of that team. He reluctantly gave the score since his team had been defeated.

And keeping up with the schedules! You get them from the coach at Texas coaching school.

Some of them don't give you the right day of the week or give you the schedule from memory and don't list the teams in order of appearance. Then, after you have the schedule you don't know it but the week of a game the schools are likely to change the day, like playing Thursday instead of Friday.

Of course, you're not informed of that and you go on looking for the score Friday and when it doesn't come in telephone and find it was played the night before.

Yes sir, there's nothing like Texas high school football. The trouble is that you can't chuck it and let the score go, and give up when you've made five telephone calls and can't find anybody who knows who won. You have to keep plugging. Because the public is vitally interested in it and it's the biggest news of the fall.

Getting these school people to conduct it in a systematic way, however, is too big a project to hope to attain.

Speaking of Texas high school football, we note that Putt Powell of the Amarillo Globe-News says Blair Cherry compiled a coaching record in Texas high schools that has never been surpassed and never will. Paul Tyson at Waco made the outstanding record. He won four State championships in a period of six years and had his teams in the finals the other two years. Waco won the championships in 1922, 1925, 1928, and 1927. Tyson not only won three titles in a row to equal Cherry's feat but he won more championships than did Cherry. Incidentally, Tyson had a most unusual record—he won two state Championships in a single year. It happened like this: The 1925 finals were played on Jan. 3, 1926, and the 1926 finals were played in December, 1925. Two titles in one year.

Tech Meets NC State In Grid Finale

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech's Red Raiders will try to keep alive a perfect record against Southern Conference teams in a football game with North Carolina State here Saturday (Dec. 6) afternoon.

First grid meeting between the Wolfpack and the Raiders, the game will close out the 1952 football schedule for both schools.

Twice before on the gridiron and once on the basketball court, Tech has emerged victor over SC teams. The Red Raiders won over Wake Forest in football by 12-7 in 1940 and by a 35-6 count in 1941. Last December the Raiders upset North Carolina State in basketball, 63-62.

Both Tech and NC State have young teams utilizing the split-T. A freshman, Eddie West of Alexandria, Va., quarterbacked the Wolfpack, and a sophomore, Jerry Johnson of Hale Center, directs the Raiders.

Cocher Horace Hendrickson, former Duke University star, is coaching NC State for the first year, and De Witt Weaver, who used to play for Tennessee, is in his second season at the helm of the Raiders.

Spinning Mice Helping Find New Bug Killer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A whole generation of mice have become dizzy riding miniature merry-go-rounds trying to help scientists solve a problem.

The problem: to find an insecticide that will kill tough flies and mosquitoes. A lot of these insects have become immune to DDT and other bug killers.

Government scientists have several thousand chemicals out of which they believe some new and more powerful insecticides may be manufactured. An infinite number of mixtures can be made from the chemicals by combining one with another. The job is to test the killing power of each until a super-killer is developed. So the mice ride the merry-go-round, manufactured from an old phonograph turntable, one at a time, and are sprayed by a carefully measured puff of chemical each time they go around.

After his ride the mouse is placed in a cage with flies or mosquitoes. If one bites a sprayed mouse and dies within 24 hours the scientists figure they have a chemical combination worth checking on more carefully.

Dr. Edward F. Knipping, head of the Agriculture Department's division of insects affecting man and animals, says several dozen combinations of chemicals have seemed promising but that not one has proved to be outstandingly better than ones already in use.

The project has been operating several years.

The bug experts believed they had the answer to the fly and mosquito problem when DDT was developed. It seemed to be the best killer of all time. But within a few years flies and mosquitoes were observed that could live in a DDT "environment."

Automotive Buying Leading In Pampa

(Special to The News)
NEW YORK — President Truman's call for a study by the Federal Trade Commission to determine how the consumers' dollar is being spent, draws attention to the current copyrighted survey by Sales Management, which shows that, in Pampa, sales of cars and other automotive equipment take one of the biggest bites out of the retail dollar.

In the city in 1951, in places selling new and used autos and trucks, tires, batteries and accessories, and in outlets handling farm machinery, motorcycles, boats and the like, expenditures were equivalent to $1,745 per family when divided arithmetically among the local population.

Percentage Leads Nation
This represented 27 per cent of all the money spent in the city's retail stores in the year. It was more than the proportion spent for automotive equipment elsewhere in the United States. The national average was 18 per cent of the retail dollar. In the West South Central States it was 21 per cent and in Texas, also 21 per cent.

The automotive group of stores in Pampa did business in the amount of $9,416,000 in 1951. This high activity is attributable in the main to better earnings. With larger incomes, people spend more on luxury items. As a result the per family purchases of autos and the like have come to be an index of economic well-being.

Other Business Healthy
The local sales of automotive supplies and equipment, $1,745 per family were more than was recorded throughout the country generally. The national average was $556 per family. In the West South Central States it was $670 and, in Texas, $770 per family.

Healthy conditions were also found in Pampa in the other classes of retail business covered by the survey. The local purchases of food of all sorts came to $7,341,000, accounting for 21 per cent of each retail dollar.

Eight Civil Suits Slated

Eight civil suits, five of them workmen's compensation cases, are scheduled to be tried before a 31st District Court jury this week. Goodrich had 12 of the civil cases on his docket slated for trial the week of Dec. 1, but continuations were granted out of court on four.

This left the five compensation and three damage suits left, including the damage suit of Culbertson Chevrolet vs Earl Densmore which resulted from a freak airplane collision on the ground.

Others set for trial are: Charles C. O'Kelley vs Myrtle M. Austin, damages; Ben F. Dumas vs Texas Employers Insurance Association, compensation; Willie Joe Slatis vs American General Insurance Co., compensation; Charlie Jordan vs Texas Employers Insurance Association, compensation; C. E. Brodchurst vs Phillips Petroleum Co., damages; Robert Fewell vs Texas Employers Insurance Association, damages; James R. Cook vs American General Insurance Co., compensation.

RUTH MILLETT

Here's a wife who wants to know what she can do to keep her husband from placing bets around town on ball games, etc. She says: "We live comfortably but we could certainly use the money my husband loses on bets. It seems so silly to me, but what I think doesn't seem to influence my husband in the least. I will admit that he hasn't any other personal extravagances."

Maybe it isn't worth fighting about. Most men have some extravagances, and if betting is your husband's only one and he doesn't bet large sums, perhaps you had better just try to be tolerant of it.

It naturally seems like a waste of money to you, for it is a waste to lose money betting. But there are limits beyond which a wife should not go in trying to tell her husband how he can and can't spend the money he earns.

After all, he does earn it. And he spends the biggest share of it seeing to it that his family lives comfortably. If he wants to waste some of it, there isn't much you can do without creating a great deal of unpleasantness and perhaps even making your husband feel henpecked.

So stop thinking of what you could buy with the money your husband loses. That will just make you unhappy and it won't get you anywhere, either.

In marriage you have to make allowances for faults and frailties and differences of opinion. You can't expect a man to agree with you and please you in everything.

Accept the fact that you've married a man who likes to make a bet now and then and who

'Contributions Of American Home' Is Program Subject

Mrs. Joe Gordon presented a talk on the American home and its contributions to the resuscitation of Americanism at a meeting at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday of the Twentieth Century Club.

The club met in the home of Mrs. J. W. Garman Jr. Mrs. Gordon opened the meeting with the litany read in response with members. Mrs. Garman, Jr., hostess, presented members with hand-painted handkerchiefs gathered while she was abroad the last summer.

In her talk, Mrs. Gordon commented on the American home saying that for 200 years there has been a steady flow of ancestry from across the seas, strains intermingling, none predominant, emerging wholly American. She said Uncle Sam's child today has in his character, part of the adventurer, trader, buccaneer, political patriot, defender of the faiths and seeker after freedom in his character.

"It is in the child that we place our hopes for a better tomorrow," she continued. The speaker warned, that we should shake off the apathy we have fallen into and revive the spirit of our forefathers in order to preserve the American way of life.

She told her audience that no institution has been extolled so extensively and at the same time been the subject of more discussion than the American home during the past 25 years and that it has changed less through the centuries than any other institution.

Mrs. Gordon said, "A home should be economically sound, physically beautiful, socially responsible, mentally stimulating, spiritually inspiring. By striving for these qualities we make the whole world a better place in which to live."

Speaking on the preservation of the American way of life she consequently is going to lose some money occasionally. Unless he is really depriving his family of the necessities of life by his betting, and you make it clear that he isn't keeping peace in the family is certainly more important than anything you could buy with the money he loses.

form of government; no matter how productive and how powerful we may become. Mrs. Gordon asserted that "God grants liberty only to those who cherish it and are always ready to guard and defend it." Posing a question to the members she concluded, "How can we make the rest of the world believe in our way of life, unless we believe in it ourselves?" Attending were Meses. E. L. Campbell, W. R. Campbell, Graman Jr., Gordon, Raymond Harrah, Clifton High, George Scott, H. R. Thompson and George Vineyard. Want your rice to be a delicious-looking golden color? Boil a pinch of saffron in the water for a minute before adding the rice. Mix sliced leftover cooked potatoes with sliced hard-cooked eggs and a cream sauce; bake in a moderate oven until heated through. Serve with a cooked green vegetable and a tart salad. Apple pie and cheese makes a hearty and delicious dessert for this meal.

The Civic Culture Club Hears Program About India Given By Mrs. W. C. Scott

A program on India and its economic conditions and progress problems, was presented by Mrs. W. C. Scott at a meeting of the Civic Culture Club at 2:30 p.m. Friday in the home of Mrs. A. D. Hills.

Mrs. Scott said, "India can neither feed nor defend itself as it has an annual income of only $80 per person."

She explained that one of India's primary problems is the lack of a common patriotism due to its many different races and languages. There are no real "Indians." There are many untouchables and persons cannot rise out of their designated east.

"India's ills cannot be cured quickly," she said. Pumpkin pie and coffee were served to Meses. W. J. Kinzer, W. C. Scott, Kay Vincent, Lloyd Kuntz, M. M. Moyer, J. D. Townsend, Willis White, and two visitors, Mrs. Ed Fritchlee and child, Rogena Thompson.

Scoop wedge-shaped pieces out of the top of chocolate cupcakes; fill the hollows with ice cream and top with the cut-out portions of the cake, flat side down. Serve with hot chocolate sauce.

Europe Wonders If GOP Will Revert On Tariffs

By J. M. ROBERTS Jr., AP Staff Writer

European businessmen and economic experts have been expressing fear that the Republican party, out of office for 20 years and therefore, some of them feel, out of touch with changed world trade conditions, may revert to its oldtime position on protective tariffs.

That's one of the shadows in the background of the British Commonwealth Economic Conference in London.

The conference has several prime objectives. Ultimate goals are currency stabilization, returning the pound to free convertibility, and a concentrated effort on production for an expanding world market.

The first goal, however, is to determine the Commonwealth position in relation to Europe and America as the basis for future negotiations. This meeting, therefore, is not expected to produce any new program, as such.

The New Cabinet . . . Dulles: Lawyer, Diplomat

By WARD CANNEL, NEA Staff Correspondent

JOHN FOSTER DULLES: "Nothing is unforgivable . . ."

NEW YORK (NEA)—The John Foster Dulles most people see at first glance is a combination of lawyer, churchman and diplomat whose austerity flitters through steel-rimmed spectacles.

Behind that somewhat formidable exterior, however, is a new Secretary of State who may possibly bring forth a unique approach to international affairs: forgiveness.

That approach stands out in his greatest achievement thus far in a peacemaking career begun when he was 19. In the Fall of 1951, the "peace treaty with honor" between the world and Japan was being hewn, and an associate of Dulles described Japan's actions in World War II as "unforgivable."

"Christ teaches us that nothing is unforgivable," replied Dulles.

That was the year America got its first close-up of Dulles simultaneously with its first view of coast-to-coast television. The tall, solid, silver-haired diplomat had gone to San Francisco with the revolutionary treaty he had drafted after five years of hard work and he hoped everything would go according to schedule.

After all, he wanted to get up to Main Duck Island in Lake Ontario for fishing. He hadn't had a good rest in a long time.

From the record, it looked like Dulles hadn't had a rest since 1907 when he first embarked on a career of statesmanship. In that year he had gone to the Hague peace conference with his grandfather, John Watson Foster, former Secretary of State under President Harrison.

With a Bachelor of Laws degree and a hero-worship for his grandfather, Dulles joined a Wall Street law firm in 1911. From that moment he began to pile up championships, memberships, titles and ranks that made it easy for punsters to quip: "Dull, duller, Dulles."

But the televisioners at home saw something else. They watched a self-assured diplomat defend the American foreign policy on which he is an expert—a man who was one of the original partners of the UN, an adviser to three Secretaries of State, a paricipant in the peace treaties of two world wars.

This was also the man who had gained the respect of Japanese as he went about the business of determining their future. He had, for example, dined with the defeated in Japanese style—sitting cross-legged on the floor.

Dulles will tell you that he once played a good game of tennis. Now, however, at 64 he finds his "competitive instincts" lead him to play the game too hard.

He has limited himself to sailing, fishing and work. He usually rises at 6:30 in the morning and works for an hour before breakfast. He's at his desk by 8:45. He eats a light lunch, an early dinner and he's in bed by midnight.

His library, perhaps, gives the best picture of his interests. There are framed documents issued by his grandfather. There are sailing pictures. And there are ceiling-high shelves of books on diplomacy, law, history, and religion.

Born in Watertown, N. Y., in 1888, Dulles is the son of a Presbyterian minister. And religion has played an important role in his life. Seldom does he write or speak on international affairs without acknowledging that man proposes and God disposes.

Although he has never had an elective office, Dulles showed a love of campaigning and whistleblowing in his 1919 fight for a U.S. Senate seat against Sen. Herbert Lehman in New York.

The campaign surprised Republicans and Democrats alike. How could a Wall Street banker, they asked, get out and talk to the people? He could. He did. And the Senate race turned into a violent clash.

Quotes came down on him like hot coals.

"A demagogue," the New Republic magazine called him.

"The world's greatest statesman," said New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

"A hard-fisted money-clencher," stormed Marold L. Ickes.

But men of both parties called Dulles an expert on the foreign affairs over which he will watch as Secretary of State in the Eisenhower cabinet.

Dulles, a U.S. Army officer in World War I, and since then chairman of the Rockefeller Foundation and trustee of Union Theological Seminary, among other roles, has made his personal life secure in the world of diplomatic insecurity. Between peacemaking assignments, he has made a fortune as an international lawyer.

His wife, the former Janet Pomeroy Avery, goes everywhere with him. Since their marriage in 1912—the year he doubled his salary from $50 to $100 per month—they fished together, camped together and attended most of the century's important conferences together.

He has two sons and a daughter, and the only personal rift in his life has been with his son, Avery. The question was religion. Avery left Presbyterianism to become a Jesuit.

8 Airmen Killed As RCAF Bomber Crashes

COMOX, B.C. (AP)—A Royal Canadian Air Force four-engine Lancaster bomber on a leisurely supply flight crashed and burned here late yesterday. Eight of the 10 airmen aboard died.

Hours after the crash the wreckage still was afire, and investigators waited today for it to cool so they could probe for unrecovered bodies.

The dead included three crewmen and the five passengers. The pilot and co-pilot survived but were badly hurt.

Names of the 10 men were not made public.

Cause of the crash has not been determined.

Woman Can Keep A Secret, Mrs. John Foster Dulles Proves

By ADELAIDE KERR, NEW YORK (AP)—

Anybody who thinks a woman can't keep a secret should meet the wife of the next secretary of state.

A chat with Mrs. John Foster Dulles reveals that in the 29 years of their marriage she has accompanied her husband on many of his trips as a representative of Uncle Sam, as adviser at councils of foreign ministers in Europe, as delegate to U.N. Assemblies, as special representative of state loves to hunt and fish, they revel in doing their own cooking. Mrs. Dulles makes the desserts.

What desserts does her husband like best?

"Oh, just desserts," says Mrs. Dulles.

The Dulles family will take up headquarters in Washington this month.

"We have taken an apartment at the Shoreham Hotel," she said, "and will look around. We have no plans beyond that at present." Much of the official entertaining of the secretary of state is now done at Blair House or Anderson House.

The wife of the next secretary of state is an attractive woman with a trim figure and a fluff of silvery hair framing blue eyes. She dresses simply, often in black or navy blue, accented with pearls and a diamond brooch.

"I'm just a plain person," she said. "I love my friends, enjoy music and the theater, love to play bridge, when I have time. I used to play golf, but there has not been much time for it lately."

When John Foster Dulles and his wife were youngsters, they shared the same home town—Auburn, N. Y.—and their families were long-time friends; but they did not meet until they went to Paris. Dulles' father, a minister and professor at the Auburn Theological Seminary, was on sabbatical leave and had taken an apartment there with his family.

Pretty Jane Avery was there with her mother for two years' schooling in France.

Met At A Tea

The two youngsters met at a family tea. Young Dulles, a Princeton graduate preparing for a career at the bar, did not take much notice of the pretty girl who was his mother's friend. He was pleasant, but distant.

Back at Auburn cramming for his bar exams, he suddenly saw things in a different light. His family began to be afraid he would flunk his exams. A year later, after he had passed them, he and Jane Avery were married and moved to New York. Dulles began his law practice with Sullivan and Cromwell. Three children were born—two boys and a girl.

Cut-Throat Canasta Is Fun

INS 2-34 CUT-THROAT
By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"I notice that you occasionally write an article on Three-Handed Cut-Throat Canasta," observes a Chicago correspondent. "Are there any published rules on the game? There are some points that still puzzle us here."

"For example, can a concealed hand be played after the discard pile has been taken? Two or three times one of the partners could have gone out with a concealed hand, but when he asked permission to go out his partner refused him. Each time the 'lone eagle' could have been caught with a big count still in his hand."

"I have followed your advice about taking the discard pile, but one of the other players will take the pile regardless of whether or not he can lay down a good meld immediately. Is this sound play?"

the stock pile as the lone eagle can. Therefore, the longer the hand goes on, the more cards they get and the better chance they have to outscore the lone eagle.

For this reason, the lone eagle should try to meld out quickly, whether or not he has a good hand.

Therefore, the longer the hand goes on, the more cards they get and the better chance they have to outscore the lone eagle.

For this reason, the lone eagle should try to meld out quickly. He should aim for a big fast score. The partners should aim for a big, slow score. It seldom pays them to meld out quickly whether concealed or not. And it doesn't pay the lone eagle to pick up a small pile.

Shamrock Church Group Organized

SHAMROCK (Special) — A Christian Men's Fellowship has been organized at the First Christian Church with Glenn White the first president.

Shelby Gantz of Pampa, governor of the Christian Men's Fellowship of the Panhandle district, gave the address in which he stressed the need of such an organization. He helped organize the group.

J. A. Winchester was elected vice president and Walter Jett secretary-treasurer.

Invalid Pinned Under Dresser For Four Days

NEW YORK (AP) — A man calling to take his aunt out to Thanksgiving dinner found her pinned under a five-drawer dresser, where she apparently had been trapped for four days.

Miss Emma Benson, 65, a semi-invalid who has lived alone for 10 years, suffered multiple fractures of the spine. Hospital officials said she was in critical condition.

Her nephew, John A. Benson, called police to help him break down the door to her apartment when there was no answer to his knock yesterday. Neighbors hadn't seen her since Sunday.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Sound Logic Helped Win Tourney Hand

Written for NEA Service
Hundreds of bridge experts will take part in the week-long National Tournament that began yesterday in Miami, and thousands of bridge fans will read about the exploits of the experts' with a cheer or perhaps a snicker.

Practically nobody will give a thought, naturally enough, to the handful of men who give up so much of their leisure time to make these tournaments possible.

My friend, Jerome Scheuer, the hero of today's hand, is a typical example of these public-spirited men. Jerome is a conservative Boston businessman for eight hours a day, but he probably devotes most of his leisure time, like other members of the American Contract Bridge League's board of directors, discussing and deciding what the League ought to do about this or that.

In today's hand Scheuer won the opening lead with the ace of spades, drew trumps with the king and ace of hearts, and then successfully finessed the nine of diamonds, when West dropped the eight of diamonds on this trick. It was clear that East held the missing three cards in the suit.

Declarer continued with the ace and a low club, East winning with the king of clubs. East returned a spade, and declarer ruffed.

South continued by ruffing a club in dummy and returned to his hand with the queen of hearts. On this trick East was caught in a very unusual squeeze position.

If East discarded a diamond, South could take the ace of diamonds and give up a diamond, after which dummy would be good. Hence East discarded a club in order to save all of his diamonds.

Scheuer, reading the situation, then ruffed a club in dummy, thus reducing the North, East, and South hands to three diamonds each. Dummy next returned a low diamond, and declarer allowed East to hold the trick with the seven of diamonds. East then had to lead away from his king of Diamonds, giving Scheuer a free finesse for the last two tricks.

Shamrock Pastor In Washington

SHAMROCK (Special) — Rev. Frank Meaucamp, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Shamrock, is one of 400 ministers in the United States now in Washington, D. C., to help conduct a new experiment in evangelism.

Program director, Rev. Dr. G. Ernest Thomas, staff member of the Nashville board said, "Our goal is not the acquisition of new members, but how to reclaim inactive and indifferent members." This meeting he says, will serve as a test pattern for Methodist churches across the nation.

After a training school each morning the group will preach and associate with the laymen and ministers of the 317 churches of the area.

Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, resident bishop of the area, will give the opening address of the mission.

The Pampa Daily News

One of Texas' Five Most Consistent Newspapers

We believe that one truth is always consistent with another truth. We endeavor to be consistent with truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, the Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

Should we, at any time, be inconsistent with these truths, we would appreciate anyone pointing out to us how we are inconsistent with these moral guides.

Equality

With such a din of constant rhetoric pouring forth from the camp of the collectivists concerning "equality," it is refreshing to run across an exposition which treats the word in its logical intent with reference to human relations.

"Hence, we submit for your reading the observations of Richard L. Evans from his book, 'The Spoken Word':

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness." Thus wrote the patriots of America in 1776.

And now the question arises, and has often arisen: What is the meaning of equality as applied to men? Does it mean that all men shall be alike? Does it mean that all men shall be leveled arbitrarily to a common plane? Does it mean that those who have endowments beyond the average shall be restrained from making a better place for themselves and for others? Does it mean that those who are content with idleness and indolence shall be lifted artificially to an estate beyond what they deserve or could enjoy?

Surely it does not—and cannot mean any of these things. For if it did, there would be no reward for the man who looks beyond the present. There must be equality, yes; equality in the right to voice our views; equality in the right to worship according to the dictates of conscience; equality before the law; equality at the ballot box; equality in the right to work without paying tribute to anyone for the privilege — an equality not circumscribed by political pressure, not denied to minority groups, not withheld from the humble, the friendless, or the needy—but not that warped and mistaken "equality" which pushes down the able and push up the indolent; not the kind of "equality" that would retard willing men to the pace of the unwilling, or that puts unsteady props beneath backsliders; not that "equality" which would reward them who "toil not, neither do they spin."

"No doubt all the trees in the forest fundamentally have equal rights and privileges. But they don't all grow to the same height, and it would seem rather foolish to cut the tall trees down to the level of the lesser ones to satisfy the theoretical demands of an unnatural formula. And it would seem just as preposterous ruthlessly to pull the short trees up to the height of the tall ones. If we did, it would mean their uprooting — they would wither and die, as all things do unless they grow up by themselves from their own roots.

"And so, to those who would like to eliminate the differences among men, it should be said that if it were possible to do so, progress would cease. Equality cannot therefore mean to bring all men low. It must mean opportunity for each man to rise to those heights to which his energies and abilities will take him — and allow all men the same privilege" — to the end that progress may continue, and that thereby all will find benefit. Equality which means less than this is not equality at all—it is slavery."

—Amen.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

The Effects Of Profit Sharing

I recently attended a conference at Riverside Calif. sponsored by Spiritual Mobilization. In this conference some 15 of 20 ministers were present and about the same number laymen. The purpose of the conference was to attempt to gain a better understanding as to how moral laws govern good economics. The conferees had their meals together and discussed with each other various questions.

At one of the dining tables I sat opposite a minister who expressed the opinion that employers who share their large profits should share them with their employees. He seemed to think, as do many people, that large profits are immoral and that they should be shared with the workers. He contended that the workers helped make the profit and therefore they should get part of the profits.

In rebuttal I pointed out that there are not always profits—sometimes there are losses. I wonder if the believers in profit sharing would contend that the workers should also share the losses. Quite often they are not in a financial position to share losses. And why should they share profits and not losses?

I explained to the minister that if a man paid me as a wage earner as much as anyone else would pay me, it would make no difference to me how many millions he made — it did not belong to me as long as I was paid as much as anyone else would pay me for what I produced.

Those people who believe in profit sharing do not seem to realize that profits are just the wage for efficiency and that they are part of the cost of production as all other costs.

I explained to this minister that I lost $36,000 one year in one business and none of my employees needed that to live. They would share my loss — nor did I believe that they should share my loss.

The trouble with sharing profits is that it both injures the worker and retards the accumulation of capital that makes it possible for workers to produce more and thus to earn more.

How It Harms The Worker
And when the workers feel that they are to receive part of the profits they are inclined to fawn on and toady to the employer rather than to devote their energies to learning how to produce more and thus compel the employer to increase their wages. It gives the worker the wrong understanding of profits. It makes him think that part of it belongs to him.

When the employee receives a wage that is more than he produces — more than he could get for the same production from any other employer — he is inclined to be satisfied with his job. If he has accepted a gift wage from his employer, it would not be fair to let him to the employer to hire and take another job until — he had worked for less than he produced to pay back the gifts that he received from his employer. So he that he is always free to take the best job he can get from anyone. If he is not free to take another job he tends to stop developing. He does not look around for a more employer or how he could produce more for his present employer. An employee should never be satisfied with his job. He should always want a better job than the one he is producing more and thus serve humanity better and thus earn more. When a man is satisfied with his job there is little chance for his developing and growing. He should be satisfied with the wages he gets for the job he has, but he should not be satisfied with the amount he is producing.

One of our troubles is that people do not understand the necessity of and benefits of profits and that if there were no profits there would be no business and no jobs and no progress.

Each man of course should get all he produces and the only way to tell what he produces is on an unhindered market. Let every employer bid against every other employer. Let the employee sell his services to the world's highest bidder and the employer buy the services of the man who will sell for the most for the money. Then we have a rule to measure wages and profits.

Incentive Wage
Of course, every successful employer tries to give an incentive wage. He tries to pay employees in proportion to what they produce. If he does not he loses his best producers. But an incentive wage is entirely different from profit sharing.

Sometimes it is difficult to tell the exact part that each worker produces — especially when it comes to management, and quite often results — but that is not a profit sharing proposition but is an incentive wage. Incentive wages are good, but profit sharing is not because, as stated above, it tends to weaken the character of the employee and not make him self-reliant and it retards the accumulation of capital. And increased capital is the only way that real wages can be raised for all.

Guess Who's Here Again

Fair Enough....

British Writer Lowers Boom On Yanks Suspicious Of UN

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1952, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Don Iddon, of the London Daily Mail, writes a department in which he carries on more or less as some of us American pundits do, whooping up his emotions, abusing all who disagree with him and, most important to this discussion, revealing a fierce hatred of America for our ignorance and suspicion of the United Nations.

The United Nations lives in a colossal glass house of an ice-berg shade down on the East River at midtown New York on a site formerly held by an old slaughterhouse and some dirty tenements. Few New Yorkers have paid it a visit.

It grew and grew into a strange something. The neighborhood is changing and that change is making itself felt like a change in temperature for a dozen blocks to the north and as far west as Park Avenue. Creaky old walk-ups have vanished and a number of expensive new apartments have gone up, but the difference most striking to the casual eye is seen in the growth in the "antique" trade for the furnishings of these beehive or hornet cells and the development of a row of expensive steak-houses along 45th St.

The prices in the restaurants, all of them in old buildings, slightly remodeled, are the highest in my experience in all the world except only the Chambord on Third Ave. The Chambord does business right in the midst of a cluster of sordid row saloons where spectacular stew, women and men, both go spinning into the traffic in a way to make you cover your eyes. Even rich people dodge the Chambord whose clientele is composed largely of Latins, apparently from South America, although many foreigners speak French as their common tongue.

I would doubt that many of these guests at the Chambord were Frenchmen however, because, for better or worse, Frenchmen are not spendthrifts. The 45th St. Steak-houses are cheap joints by comparison with the Chambord, but $11 is average for a broiled two-passenger steak and they never show you a price-list. That will give you an idea.

Like some American correspondents in European capitals, this Iddon of the Daily Mail gets around in company which few of the native journalists wot of, and I am quoting from a recent piece of his, running very long for British journalism with its asstringent style these days, to let you in on something that goes on in our midst unknown to most of us.

Iddon is a passionate partisan of the United Nations as you will guess from his lead, which is: "The hoodlums are hurling bricks at the UN. They are breaking windows and causing damage, but they will need more powerful ammunition to shatter the entire structure which is apparently their intention."

My first impression was that he meant that a mob of hoodlums, which in our term for hoodlums, had been literally throwing dirt at the UN, but I soon gathered that this was a political metaphor. It would take a canon to leave a brick halfway up that cold, mysterious heap. Oddly, English feature writers are the sloppiest SOB-sisters on earth and Iddon is running a terrific ruse on the UN and a corresponding ruse

LOOKING SIDeways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

There is no city, but no city, in the world as teeming with excellent, high-grade singers as New York. London has them hub-dub, and Paris swarms with them and London can count them in hundreds. But for real crowded conditions in the canary line you have to come to New York where just about every fourth citizen can sing something and about every tenth one is first-rate or better. And that brings things to what I thought was a pretty pass, except that a girl canary I know put me onto the fact that there is even a first-rate, driving home in the fog late the other night, was that I knew literally hundreds of the best singers who were having it rough.

"Where," I keened to myself, "can these fine voices go? After the Met says 'no' and the City Center says 'no,' what can they do but starve? They haven't names big enough to command a concert tour and that leaves them nothing."

I didn't sob myself to sleep with this, but I did lie awake for three hours thinking about it, which shows you how daffy a man can get when imbued, as the fellow said, with an idea. Next noon I telephoned one singer. It was like smiling a rock and finding a river. Her name is Mary Black Wilson and she is known at Mitz to those who know her. Mitz is the Mezzo, and Mitz gave me the answer to the grievous problem in one word: "Where."

The churches of New York and environs not only are soaking up the unemployed and magnificent voices of New York, but the evictions, like White Plains, gives them work. And at good fees. A splendid voice can earn as much as $300 a month singing in churches. Mitz was even thinking of running for a train to White Plains where she was to sing an oratorio with three other artists.

The larger churches now have Sunday afternoon musical programs, and sometimes they have them both in the afternoon and evening. And they go in for the best in ecclesiastical music. All of the Bach masses, the B. Minor, the St. John's, St. Matthew's Passion, and so on; rich, heady and wonderful music which soars when the choirs and soloists are of the best.

The Marble Collegiate Church, for example, has a large budget for music and Temple Emanuel, in which female singers are permitted to participate, also has built up a stunning musical program. One of the great items is Benjamin Britten's "The St. Nicholas Oratorio."

If you are a stranger in New York and cannot buy a ticket to the Metropolitan Opera, don't despair. Try the big churches, where for the modest price of your donation to the collection you can hear the best music and hear the best voices in existence. You can hear choirs from the huge ecclesiastical library of Verdi, Beethoven, Rossini, Mozart, Haydn, Brahms and many others. Rossini's beautiful "Stabat Mater" is a popular favorite to be heard somewhere almost every Sunday. The Riverside Memorial Church and the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian are two others which engage top singers and only top singers. Virgil Fox, the organist there, has an ear which demands the very best there is. Special oratorios are to be heard throughout the winter season, which ends with Easter. The First Presbyterian, at 12th Street and Fifth Avenue, is an aptly named church in Manhattan where great voices can be heard. Singers receive from $10 to $100 for each appearance, depending on voice, size of role and how many times he or she has appeared in a certain church. Some churches have great voices can be heard where every single member of his chorus is actually a soloist and can sing solo with his orchestra if called upon to do so. The old Mezzo is a lover of the Verdi "Requiem," and if you can sing that one for him you have a job. A singer can do three jobs a week.

International Whirligig... Prague Trials Show Russians Kill Two Birds With One Stone

The Nation's Press

(Chicago Daily Tribune)

John Foster Dulles is not likely to be a better secretary of state than we have in Mr. Acheson. In all probability, Mr. Dulles will be almost the same kind of secretary of state that Mr. Acheson is. The thinking of the two men has been so much alike that Mr. Acheson has used Mr. Dulles time and again as his agent and Mr. Dulles has been glad to serve as Acheson's man.

Like Acheson, Dulles is a Wall Street lawyer. Both believe that the security of the United States is to be found in alliances with countries which expect us to do most of their fighting for them should war come and, meanwhile, to pay much of the bill. Both men have participated in the organization of U. N. and both profess to regard it highly.

On the fundamentals of foreign policy, there is little to distinguish their viewpoints. During the electoral campaign, Mr. Dulles' proposal to make trouble for Russia by appealing to the nationalist sentiments of the satellite countries drew a good deal of attention. The Europeans professed alarm when Gen. Eisenhower adopted this idea as his own. The Democrats likewise proclaimed that Gen. Eisenhower and Dulles might get a European war going. In fact, Mr. Dulles had merely advocated out loud what Mr. Acheson was already going thru his Voice of America and other agencies of propaganda in all their full fury.

Possibly Mr. Dulles will be inclined to accept some of Gen. MacArthur's suggestions for the Korean war. Mr. Dulles might get around to using the Chinese nationalists in one way or another as allies, or he might find it expedient to blockade the China coast. If so, he will go considerably beyond anything to which Gen. Eisenhower committed himself in his campaign speeches.

Even in their relations with Alger Hiss, the resemblances between Acheson and Dulles are far more striking than their differences. Hiss had the confidence of both. He was Acheson's right hand man in the department of state and it was when Dulles was chairman of the Carnegie peace organization that Hiss was made its president at $25,000 a year.

The appointment of Mr. Dulles was not a great surprise, but it was nevertheless a disappointment to the country. Some day — we hope before it is too late — Gen. Eisenhower will realize that his election was the result in a large part of popular resentment of the Korean involvement. Mr. Dulles did not oppose American entrance into the war in Korea. His sponsor, Gov. Dewey, was swept by the hundreds of American divisions to show that we meant business. Mr. Dulles presumes to agree.

Certainly Mr. Dulles has never said anything which would suggest that either before or after the Korean war began, he had any doubts at all about the theory of collective security which the war was supposed to translate into standard international practice. It did it in the anti-American propaganda injected in Europe's friendship for the United States.

The Hungarian Szabad Nep printed that "employees of the American Legation in Budapest took an active part in the (Carson) case and the general who, since the 1920 Treaty of Rapallo, had cooperated with German generals in moves toward a Russo-German alliance.

Hitler's Tactics
Hitler saw a chance to weaken Stalin's army, so he planted forged documents which purported to be a treasonable correspondence by Russian Gen. Tukhachevsky with German marshals.

The flower of the Red army was liquidated in the giant purge that lasted a year and was carried out by the notorious butcher Yezhov. All sorts of correspondence charges of liaison with Americans were made scapegoats for technical failures. The Bucharest papers wrote, "To slander the reputation of Soviet equipment, the dirty servants of American capitalists replaced original parts with used parts." Several of the accused were sentenced to death.

In Poland, eight persons, including two women, were charged with slaying a Communist radio announcer. Radio Warsaw said, "They were implicated in a plot of criminal activity by the Voice of America and its agents who put guns in the hands of the murderers." Five victims were sentenced to death.

One need not shed tears for Slnsky and his ilk. When they were in power they were as ruthless and unfair to the wretched that fell into their clutches.

But a civilized world shudders at courts of justice instituted at courts of justice shudders at sounding boards of nation-mongering against an upright man like the United States and a fair and square statesman like Dulles.

It is that foolish creature who acquires his life by working hard to acquire things that shorten his life.

By JOHN FISHER

Czechoslovakia's greatest purge trial of bigwigs is much more than a horrible farce with its phony confessions and fake charges involving Americans.

It demonstrates the way the Reds kill more than one bird with a stone.

The Prague regime blots out Rudolf Slansky, former secretary general of the Communist Party, Vladimir Clementis, former foreign minister, and other discredited rivals. In addition, it attempts to arouse anti-Semitism, blacken Tito, smear the United States and tar and feather John Foster Dulles, President-elect Eisenhower's secretary of state appointee.

In normal times it would be ludicrous for the Czech slanders to brand the American statesman a "notorious spy." Moscow knows him well. The Politburo fears that he will be highly successful in uncovering Communist trickery, in bolstering the free world and in arousing fresh dislike of Russian imperialism among satellites.

Hence, from now on, Red propagandists will use every means to benighten him and to cause all Europeans to be afraid of his leadership. The Kremlin is aware that the recent months the American diplomat has urged a new imaginative attempt by peaceful means to wear slave governments from their Soviet masters and to give hope to imprisoned peoples.

Stalinists live in deadly fear that from such positive policies may come a new campaign to help Czech President Klement Gottwald or even Mao Tse-tung. An irony is that Gottwald has been under suspicion several times for some of the offenses he now accuses his once close friend Clementis of committing.

The so-called confessions of intrigue with Tito, which the wretched victims of the Prague trial poured out, are in-keeping with the steady stream of charges against Yugoslavia that started the day the sky fell from the top flight Communist alleged traitors with the Balkan rebel is merely new emphasis on the old theme.

Stalin had warned all other stooges — that Tito's deviation would bring economic ruin and rebellion. When the sky failed to fall on Tito, the Kremlin had to smear him against lest the remaining satellites should yearn to follow his example.

The trial's canards on American espionage, plots, sabotage and other crimes of intervention also are part of the long campaign to undermine Europe's friendship for the United States.

The Hungarian Szabad Nep printed that "employees of the American Legation in Budapest took an active part in the (Carson) case and the general who, since the 1920 Treaty of Rapallo, had cooperated with German generals in moves toward a Russo-German alliance.

MEANWHILE HOLY SMOKE, A SHOT INSIDE TH' BAKIN' EASY MUSTA BEEN DISCOVERED, ALL I MAY NEED MY HELP! WUP... ANOTHER CAR! AN' A FOREIGN LOOKIN' BIRD IN A TURBAN! HERE'S WHERE EASY GOT IN. I HAFTA SEE IF HE'S OKAY!

Boots

HELLO, BUSTER! IS CATHY IN? MY NAME'S DAVEY AN' CATHY IS UPSTAIRS AN' I BET YOU'RE TH' GUY ALL TH' FUSS IS ABOUT! I'VE CALLED BUT SHE'S ALWAYS BEEN OUT! HAH-H, SHE JUS' HAIN'T WANTED-- I MEND, I THINK SHE'S STUCK ON YOU AN' - Y'WANNNA FORK OVER ANOTHER TWO BITS, I'LL-- COME IN, MR. STRANGLER-- I'LL TELL MISS CATHY IT'S YOU!

Mickey Finn

I'M CERTAINLY GLAD I WENT OVER TO THANK BLIME! IT WAS A VERY ENJOYABLE VISIT! YES, HE'S A VERY NICE MAN! WHAT DID YOU THINK OF HIS GRANDDAUGHTER? ISN'T SHE A HONEY? YEAR! SHE'S A VERY BEAUTIFUL GIRL! WELL, NOW THAT I'VE TAKEN CARE OF THAT OBLIGATION, I CAN SETTLE DOWN-- AND GET BACK IN THE OLD ROUTINE! I SURE HOPE SO, UNCLE PHIL! GRAMPS-- COULD I SPEAK TO YOU FOR A MINUTE? WHY SURE, PAM! WHAT IS IT?

Penny

FATHER? NO! WHATEVER IT IS YOU'RE ABOUT TO ASK ME FOR, THE ANSWER IS NO! YOU SIMPLY HAVE TO STOP ASKING FOR THINGS ALL THE TIME, PRINCESS. YOU MUST LEARN THAT REAL HAPPINESS IS IN GIVING, NOT RECEIVING. THEN YOU SHOULD BE REAL HAPPY, FATHER... WHEN YOU SEE THE GORGEOUS WINNER'S COAT, FROM STACY'S DEPARTMENT STORE, THAT YOU GAVE ME TODAY!

Freckles

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, MAY I OPEN MY SPEECH WITH A BELL-RINGING STATEMENT! IN A DEBATE TRUTH SHALL RING OUT! FRIENDS, THERE IS CAUSE FOR ALARM! GET TO THE POINT, YOU HAM! GO HOME!

Gulf Completes No. 1 Haggard For 125 Bbls.

New locations lagged during the past week in the Pando oil field, but completions held near the previous week's total.

Wildcat activity centered about a new location, and a completion, Phillips Pet. Co. staked its No. 1 Locke in Roberts County and Gulf Oil Corp. completed its No. 1 Haggard for a potential of 125 barrels. Pay zone is from 6,736 to 6,743 feet. Sinclair O&G Co. plugged its No. 1 Isaacs venture in Hemphill County at 3,500 feet.

Card of Thanks

I wonder, O I wonder, where the little faces go,
That come to smile and stay while, and pass like flakes of snow—
The joy we have faces that the world has never known
But hearts are given, so far-eyed, deep in their hearts alone.

I love to think that somewhere, in the country we call heaven,
That most fair of anywhere will unto them be given
A land of little faces — very little,
And every one shall know their own and cleave unto it there.

Grant O. L. Winder, to the broken hearts that plead, "Oh, to rest in perfect faith indeed!"
To know that we shall find them, even them, the weep white dead,
At Thy right hand, Thy bright hand, by Thy waters led.

Brenda Joyce Todd
We take this means to express our sincere appreciation to all those who so kindly assisted us at the time of our sorrow in the loss of our darling baby, who had just come to bloom in the beautiful garden of Heaven. We are grateful for the words of comfort of our dear friends and neighbors, the consoling message of Rev. D. C. Lawrence of the Church of Christ, Lefors, and for the music to those who prepared our meals and who sent flowers and to the membership of the church who did so many kind deeds in our behalf. May God bless you all.
Mr. & Mrs. W. O. Todd and son, Walter Roy
Mr. & Mrs. Roy Jeffrey.

In my Father's house are many mansions; if I were not so, I would have told you, so to prepare a place for you. And I'll go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself. — John 14:2,3

Mrs. Ella Stewart
We take this means to express our appreciation to each of you who assisted us in our time of sorrow in the loss of our loved one. We are very grateful for the expressions of sympathy, floral offerings, meals prepared and the many other kindnesses extended us.
The brothers, sisters and other relatives of Mrs. Ella Stewart

Womenfolk Bristle When Hubby's Mustache Kidded

By HAL BOYLE
 NEW YORK (AP) — When you kid men who wear mustaches, they can take the ribbing in high good nature, but not when you womenfolk. There is something about a mustache on the lip of the man she loves that brings out the maternal lioness in a gal.
 Her creed is simple: "Love that man — adore his mustache." And if you refer ever so slightly to the fuzz under his nostrils she leaps to its defense jealousy had influenced my thinking. The only time I ever tried to grow a mustache it drooped like limp hay.

 Well, most of my friends with mustaches were quite tolerant about the whole thing, twirling their small fur forests as they sneered tauntingly: "Snobs are we? Don't you wish you could be a snob, too, Junior?"
 But the women got angry. They said a mustache is downright lovable.
 "Being a woman I would ten times rather be kissed by a mustache than all the smooth-faced yokels like you or some other men I could think of," wrote a riled lady from Ann Arbor, Mich.
 Before I could brood my way out of the inferiority complex this note gave me, another one came from an Akron, Ohio, lass: "Believe me, being kissed by a man with a mustache isn't at all like being hit in the face with a dry toothbrush. It's more like having the warmth of nature close to you — cavenianish. Warmth is a nice necessity in a kiss."

 Well, yes. But you could argue on those grounds that rubber hot water bag is even more romantic than a mustache.
 A gentleman sailor from Boston wired me pityingly: "Haven't you heard the old saying of Scottish lassies, that kissing a man without mustache is like eating an egg without salt?"
 Another man said: "I grew a mustache because my wife likes Robert Taylor, and he has a mustache. Now my wife likes me, too — Think I hope."
 Still another fellow threatened to bring me before Gov. Dewey of New York, who has packed a mustache for years, and added: "That'll mean Sing Sing prison for you — so better take care."
 There also was a perfect torrent of feminine mail that can be summed up this way:
 "I love my husband and am proud of his mustache. And your wife would probably like you better if you grew a mustache too — on top of your head."
 Well, okay, so I was wrong. A mustache can be more than a mouse cover. Behind every manly mustache lurks a tender woman's bristly pride.
 A balding man needs every romantic crutch he can lean upon. So it's a pair of sweeping mustaches for me right away. The kind I grow myself make women weep with laughter instead of sigh with love. So I'm buying myself today the grandest set of rare old walrus mustaches on the market.
 I just hope my new falcons don't break too many girlish hearts.

Revenue Officers Are Told To Be Easy On The Taxpayers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Bureau has instructed its field offices to make things easier for taxpayers when taxpaying time comes around next year.
 Outlining a new program to go into effect from Jan. 1 to March 7, Assistant Commissioner of Internal Revenue Justin Winkle told field officers in a letter that taxpayers must find a "new and improved service" this time.
 Winkle emphasized that by tax time an eight-month reorganization of the bureau will have been completed, and taxpayers seeking help with their return queries in the evenings, during lunch hours and on Saturdays, and over again.

All offices to stay open until midnight the last night before returns are due.
 3. Put out some chairs and benches for those who have been standing in line and make sure there are chairs for all the aged and infirm.
 4. Monitors should be on hand to question puzzled taxpayers before they join a queue and to divert them into lines for different categories of information, so that no one waits in line only to learn his question is being answered elsewhere.
 5. As nearly as possible, personnel assigned to information booths and as monitors should be "female revenue agents" and they should be rotated frequently to avoid the risk of normal irritation stemming from having to answer similar questions over and over again.
