Nazi Labor Leader Kills Self While Waiting Trial as War Criminal

Change in Plan For Trial May Be Necessary

NUERNBERG, Oct. 26—(AP)—Bull-necked, lugubrious Dr. Robert Ley, one-time luxury loving chief of Hitler's labor front, hanged himself in his cell last night when he was awaiting trial as a war criminal.

His suicide may mean major changes in preparations for the trial of the 22 other leading nazis incarcerated there. With the opening of the trial just 24 days away, Ley's death was believed to exclude the use of certain documents with high value as evidence, pertaining only to the ex-labor boss.

Ley was pronounced dead at 8:10 p. m. (1:10 p. m. CST) last night after efforts to revive him failed. The official announcement, issued by prison Commandant Col. C. S. Andrus of Denver, Colo., said the body was discovered by a sentinel who became suspicious when Ley remained seated motionless in his cell for more than 20 minutes.

"The sentinel called the prisoner by name and received no answer," the announcement said. "They (the guard and the corporal of the guard) entered the cell and discovered Ley was on the toilet seat. His mouth was stuffed with rags torn from his underwear. Around his neck was the hemmed edge of a towel, fastened to the top of the flush pipe of the toilet. The guard called the prisoner officer, Lt. Paul H. Graven, Madison, Wis., who cut the prisoner down."

Ley had wet the towel to make sure that the knot would not slip, and had drawn the noose tight when he seated himself. The guard, who looked into the cell every 30

Jobs Are Open in Additional Civil Service Branches

Opportunities in two additional civil service branches are now open to civilians as well as veterans, it was announced by W. McPhillips, local civil service representative. Positions are available for clinical psychologists in veterans administration hospitals and out-patient clinics and in the public health service clinics throughout the United States. Basic pay for the standard federal workweek of 40 hours ranges from $2,980 to $5,180, supplemented by additional compensation for all authorized time worked in excess of 40 hours.

Appointees to these positions apply psychological principles and techniques to the diagnosis and treatment of maladjusted individuals. Suitable college courses are required of applicants. Preference is given to veterans.

Pharmacists are also needed by the government, at $2,320 and $2,980 a year, to act as pharmacists or assist the pharmacist in charge at a hospital or dispensary. Duties range in type and responsibility depending on the salary and requirements.

At least three years of progressive technical skill in the practice of pharmacy, the major portion of which was in filling and compounding doctors' prescriptions, dispensing medicines, and performing other pertinent work connected with the operation of a pharmacy, are among the minimum requirements for this position. As in all civil service positions, veterans are preferred.

Further information may be obtained from McPhillips, whose office is located in the basement of the post office.

Ekern Indicted by County Grand Jury

Lincoln Ekern was indicted by the Gray county grand jury Wednesday on a charge with assault with intent to murder in connection with the shooting of his former step-son, Clarence Arnold, October 17.

Ekern has been released from county jail after posting $5,000 bond.

Arnold, a staff sergeant in the air forces, is recovering in the military hospital at Amarillo army air field.

A negro woman, Elizabeth Jones, was indicted by the grand jury on a charge of assault with intent to disfigure, the charge growing out of an altercation in the Flats at which time she allegedly threw lye on another woman.

Nips Reluctant To Obey M'Arthur Isolation Order

TOKYO, Oct. 26—(AP)—The Japanese foreign office today showed reluctance to obey General MacArthur's unprecedented orders for the diplomatic isolation of Japan.

Domel agency quoted unnamed informed sources as reporting that the government would "exercise great care" in following the order, but that foreign office officials "would sound out" Allied authorities on whether the directive "conforms to the Potsdam declaration."

MacArthur yesterday ordered Japan to transfer all of her diplomatic and consular properties and archives everywhere in the world to the Allied powers, to cease relations with foreign governments, and to recall her diplomatic and consular representatives from abroad. The directive was prepared by the joint chiefs of staff in Washington.

The Allies, immediately after the cessation of hostilities, had requested Japan to cease relations with neutral powers. At that time some quarters of the government expressed the opinion that the request was inconsistent with the Potsdam pact.

Since the surrender, Japan has maintained relations with Switzerland, Sweden, Portugal, Eire, Afghanistan and the Holy See.

On the occupation front, MacArthur's headquarters said that plans for fitting out Allied troops into the setup await the conclusion of policy discussions among the big powers. Then the receipt of orders from Washington. To date, no one

Waco Planning for President's Visit

WACO, Oct. 26—(AP)—Waco went ahead today with plans for a colorful celebration Dec. 5, the day President Truman is expected to pay a visit.

The county war finance committee promised "the biggest parade the city has ever seen" and was stated that Mr. Truman will be honored in every way his time schedule will permit.

President Pat M. Neff of Baylor university announced yesterday that the chief executive has tentatively accepted an invitation to receive honorary Doctor of Laws degree at Baylor, Dec. 5.

Neff said he had received a letter from the President acknowledging receipt of the invitation and saying that Mr. Truman expected to be present "if nothing unforeseen takes place."

At Washington the President stated that his plan to visit Waco was tentative but that he was inclined to go.

Mr. Truman is expected to address the annual session of the Texas Masonic grand lodge if he comes to Waco. He first visited this city several years ago as a member of the Missouri grand lodge, of which he is a past grand master.

The war finance committee said it hopes to close the victory loan campaign three days early, to be able to "tell the President, 'here's our $5,100,000 quota'."

UNEMPLOYMENT IS CHIEF MENACE: 500,000 NEW JOB OPPORTUNITIES ARE NEEDED IN TEXAS BY FALL OF 1946

AUSTIN, Oct. 26—(AP)—Texas needs 500,000 new job opportunities by the fall of 1946. J. H. Bond, regional director of the United States employment service, said in a prepared address today.

"The problem of potential unemployment must be licked at the grass roots," Bond said in the address, prepared for delivery by E. R. Speer, chief of the placement division of the regional USES office at Dallas. The speech opened the Texas personnel conference at the University of Texas. Bond was absent in Washington.

Republicans Protest Truman Order; U.S.-Russian Relations Are Improving

Settlement of Occupation Problems Near

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—(AP)—Relations between the United States and Russia seemed on the mend today in an atmosphere of better understanding.

These were the heartening developments:

1. State department disclosure that the two governments were discussing the Soviet proposal for a four-power council (U. S., Russia, Britain, China) to govern Japan.

2. Indications Russia would agree that when differences arose in the council, the U. S. position should govern.

3. Timely delivery of Russia's United Nations ratification documents, which permitted the world security organization to become a fact Wednesday.

Analysts officials hoped the weekend might bring at least one more air-clearing event, an announcement that Russia has decided to participate in the Allied Far Eastern advisory commission, which will meet here for the first time Tuesday.

An announcement yesterday of the continuing four-power council dis-

Further Trouble Threatened for Montgomery Ward

By The Associated Press
Further labor trouble for Montgomery Ward and company was threatened today.

A nationwide strike by some 75,000 employees of the huge mail order house, which in the last few years has been involved in numerous labor disputes, was authorized yesterday by the general executive board of the CIO united retail, wholesale and department store employees.

The time for calling the strike, the board said, at a meeting in New York, will be decided by President Samuel Wolchok. He announced he would call it "at the most opportune time."

First, however, Wolchok said the union, acting in the public interest would "exhaust the processes of negotiation and mediation as we are willing and offer to submit all issues to arbitration."

Elsewhere along the country's labor front, major disputes concerned the prolonged strike of movie workers in Hollywood and the CIO united automobile workers fight to gain a 30 per cent wage rate increase for a half million motor industry workers.

The various labor troubles in industry and business kept 224,000 workers away from their jobs, 2,000 less than reported idle yesterday.

While tabulations of yesterday's strike vote among some 125,000 Chrysler Corp. employees in 22 plants were not announced, CIO united automobile workers officials interpreted the results of a similar poll on Wednesday among General Motors workers as a "mandate" to press UAW wage demands. They said that although only 83,654 of GM's 225,000 eligible employees voted, the nearly 6 to 1 majority favoring a

Synthetics To Lead Tire Production

AKRON, O., Oct. 26—(AP)—Inside story of the automobile tire industry is that the motorists may be riding on 100 percent synthetic rubber which can be produced for as low as ten cents a pound.

This won't come about tomorrow or the next day and the 70,000,000 passenger car tires that leaders of the tire business expect to produce in 1946 and again in 1947 will vary anywhere from 50 to 85 percent synthetic with the rest natural. Production is expected to drop back to 62,000,000 in 1943 in line with demand.

These figures are bigger than the industry has ever known. In 1941 the output reached 53,000,000 against a previous all time high in 1929 of 61,000,000.

As much as 300,000 tons of crude rubber have been found in one time Japan occupied areas in the Far East, most of it in Indo China. Investigation into the big raw rubber areas reported that not over two percent of the trees had been damaged and that due to a long rest they probably would produce more than ever before.

These facts came from top executives of the four biggest tire manufacturers in the rubber capital of the world. The statements were made to 16 newspaper reporters who have inspected industrial concerns in 15 cities in the last 26 days in an effort to learn about the progress of reconversion.

E. B. Babcock, a Firestone executive who was an assistant director of the rubber division for W.P.B. said improvements in the making of synthetic rubber would make it possible to make 100 percent synthetic tires. Another official said it could be produced for ten cents a pound.

John Thomas, chairman of the board at Firestone which has been taking 36,000,000 pounds of crude rubber out of private holdings in Liberia, said his company and others were willing to take over government owned synthetic rubber plants at a reasonable price in order to get the best possible material for tires.

E. J. Thomas, president of Good-year told reporters that synthetic is here to stay and it is only a matter of percentage.

Mao Is Charged With Provoking China Civil War

CHUNGKING, Oct. 26—(AP)—A charge of provoking civil war in China was flung today at Mao Tse Tung, the Chinese communist leader who recently reached broad peace agreements at the conference with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

"The responsibility rests entirely with your side," declared Gen. Fu Tso-yi, commanding China's 12th war zone, in making the charge. He said:

Chinese communist soldiers have attacked central government troops at points between 150 and 250 miles west of Peiping.

The communists are sending more than 100,000 reinforcements into the area.

"The approach of invading forces" has necessitated the evacuation by government troops of five cities "to avert civil war."

"There's a limit to our patience," General Fu Messaged Mao. "Further armed assaults by communist troops will place us with our backs to the wall. Communist forces must be responsible for any crisis that may result."

He added "I must make it crystal clear I have received no order from Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek to return fire."

General Fu told Mao the attacks were occurring in Suifu province in inner Mongolia.

Meanwhile, the government reported progress in plans for central government troops to relieve United States Marines in northern China. Some troops have arrived at Tzschin in southern Hopei, the province in which Peiping is situated.

Scouts Entertained By Pampa Lions Club

Dr. Douglas Nelson was the principal speaker at a banquet given for scouts of Troop 16 and their parents by the Pampa Lions club in the First Methodist church last night.

The members of the troop, which is sponsored by the local Lions organization, were urged by Dr. Nelson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, to dedicate their lives to God their fellow man, to liberty and to the country.

Each year the Lions club fetes the troop members and their parents. Last night's banquet was in lieu of the regular Thursday noon meeting of the club.

Rule Would Block Action by Minority

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—(AP)—President Truman has signed an order which republicans said today gives democratic members of the Pearl Harbor committee a stranglehold on the investigation's course.

The order provides that witnesses and records may be summoned only by majority action of the ten-member senate-house group. Six members are democrats.

At the same time the President rejected a proposal that individual committee members be permitted to interview prospective army and navy witnesses and to look over official records.

Republican protests may explode in the senate and house unless some compromise is reached.

They are keeping silent now in the hope they may force approval of procedure similar to that of the senate war investigating committee.

When Mr. Truman headed that committee as a senator, each member was free to poke into any government records he wanted to see.

He could talk to anybody who might have information on the war program.

Then he could report to other members and if they decided an investigation was warranted, it was ordered.

Senators said this system produced many worthwhile leads. It has continued under the chairmanship of Senator Head ID-NY.

Republicans helped draft an order they hoped would permit its use by the Pearl Harbor committee.

But when William D. Mitchell, counsel for the Pearl Harbor group, took the order to the White House, Mr. Truman didn't sign it.

Now the republicans say the democrats, with a six to four majority, will be able to dictate not only which witnesses shall be called but what records are opened.

Democrats retort that the whole committee, not any individual has the responsibility for the investigation and the whole committee should decide its course.

The house heard charges yesterday that a bill to protect military secrets might prevent a full investigation of the Pearl Harbor attack. It delayed action on the measure, previously voted by the senate.

Rep. Halleck (R-Ind) charged that the bill would "seal the lips" of Rear Adm. Husband E. Kimmel and Lt. Gen. Walter Short, Pearl Harbor commanders in 1941, as well as persons who have information about Pearl Harbor contained in coded messages.

Republican members have been particularly anxious that the inquiry committee take a look at an unpublished portion of the naval inquiry board's report dealing with Japanese messages intercepted after the navy broke the Japanese diplomatic code in November, 1941.

Military Training Decision Date Set

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—(AP)—House leaders have decided to take the membership off a political hot spot by disposing of the universal military training issue before Christmas and before the 1946 congressional elections.

Present plans, it was learned today, call for a showdown late in November or early in December. The outcome is presently regarded as a toss-up.

The house military committee opens public hearings, expected to last two weeks, on Nov. 8.

Thereafter probably a bill embodying President Truman's request that every able-bodied youth be required to take one year of training.

An informal poll of the committee showed that the President's request for the legislation probably will be approved there.

The members may tack on requirements that trainees be given regular army disability payments if injured and an opportunity to go to college with government aid if they demonstrate military proficiency.

Some favor an amendment providing that West Point and Annapolis appointees be chosen from among youths who have demonstrated officer caliber during their training.

As to the bill's chances in the senate, even its opponents admit it might be passed.

National Official Speaks to Patrons Of Girl Scouting

Some 352 persons—Girl Scouts, parents and other interested patrons of scouting here—last night attended a banquet at the Senior high school cafeteria which featured as guest speaker Mrs. Gretchen Kidd, member of the national Girl Scout staff and coordinator of Girl Scouting in West Texas.

Speaking on the subject, "Why Girl Scouting?" she made a short address on the reasons for the movement in America, both from the standpoint of the young girls and from that of the parents.

There are now about 1,600,000 members in this nation, she said. Linking her subject with world affairs she said there is too much "talk" democracy in the world—including that in our own country. Most parents, she explained, practice either "talk" or "consent" democracy in regard to Girl Scouting for their children. We need "do" democracy both in government, and in scouting, she explained.

Scouting is a laboratory in which to learn democracy, and it, like democracy, has as its main objective development of personality, she added.

The banquet is held just prior to observation of Girl Scout week in America, Oct. 26-Nov. 3. Training council for board members of the

SCOUT TRAINING VALUABLE TO NAVY

James Forrestal, Secretary of the Navy

Present and former Boy Scouts throughout the nation will join in the observance of Navy Day, Saturday, Oct. 27. The value of Boy Scout training to the men of America's naval forces is told in messages received by the Boy Scouts of America.

"The strength of democracy is shown in no better way than in the work of the Boy Scouts of America. The personnel of our Navy consists to a considerable degree of former Scouts. It has been shown again and again among the men who make up the United States Navy. The qualities of leadership, patriotism, self-discipline and eagerness to learn which are instilled into every Scout have paid dividends in efficiency in our fleet. Together with the Boy Scouts of America and the United States Navy are turning out good citizens—the future leaders of our peacetime world."

Twigg Family in Service

Billy Twigg, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Twigg, formerly of LeFors, now of Seattle, arrived at San Francisco Oct. 18 after leaving Japan Sept. 23. Billy was one of the first from Gray county to enlist in the service.

He too enlisted before Pearl Harbor. He has been awarded the Bronze Star medal and citation for meritorious actions on Iwo Jima. While his company was advancing on the island March 12, they were stopped by a barrage from Japanese machine guns. Twigg volunteered to go ahead with a 40 pound demolition bomb, carried it, dropped it on the Japanese pill box, wiping out the entire crew. His company was thus able to go on.

Twigg says he is still mad because of a severe wound received Feb. 21. Mr. and Mrs. Twigg have been steadily employed at the ship yards for the last two years. Mrs. Twigg resigned from her position at the end of the war. The family will continue to make their home in Washington. The Alaska highway is 1,592 miles long.

"The Price of Enduring Peace" will be the subject when the Pampa Council of Church Women meet Friday, Nov. 2, at 2:30 p. m. in the Church of the Brethren to observe the World Community day. Special emphasis will be placed on the world charter, the world community and the world church.

Something New in Soft Suits

Pannier Pockets 'Royal Orders' Trim Two-Piece Outfits

By EPSIE KINARD NEA Staff Writer

Fancy fall suits step out with "Royal Order" ribbons strung across their chests, necklaces of rank suspended from their yokes, and Left Bank artists' ties lodged between their collars.

These attention-getters, plus highlight size jeweled motifs, emplaced on fronts, and diplomatic touches of black braid edging their jackets—are only details. More magnets for the eye are trick closures, puffed-peplums, pannier pockets, and seamless armholes that make the Dolman silhouette

By EPSIE KINARD NEA Staff Writer

Combine this new silhouette excitement with arresting detail and you've got something—as, for instance, the Stefan-designed suit, left, which combines an Appollo blue tweed jacket with a black tweed skirt pen-lined by matching blue. What sums up this suit's new "full dress" look are winged sleeves—achieved by eliminating armhole seams at the front—and applied cord sticks of the striped tweed, which pass for pockets on the jacket.

The soft black suit, right—example of the season's razzle-dazzle detail—is chest-strung with a "Royal Order" ribbon of heavenly blue zietze, jet-embroidered with rain-drop beads.

The tunic suit, center—a Fox Brown-designed coat and dress—owes its silhouette interest to pannier pockets, deep armholes and flared cuffs. The detail that catches the eye is a portrait painter's bow tie of satin which extends from the blouse of a forsmann-wool dress that's topped by a cinched-in tunic coat.

TO THOSE WHO MAKE UP THE NAVY

Tomorrow is Navy day. It will be celebrated exultantly throughout America. This year we can be even more proud of our navy than in the last four years. The job has been done, and the laurels or many that should be handed out.

America has been a peaceful nation. But, in order to preserve its integrity as a great power—even to exist—it has had to pour untold millions into the hulls and guns of great ships—the best ships that the world has ever seen.

America was faced with the soul-trying task of rising from the awful mud of the Hawaiian harbor, repair what ships that could be repaired and set them on the high seas to hold the line until we could build more ships, better ships.

The job was done. It was done in the most colossal fashion that the world has ever seen. It was a job that has seen our nation breaking water on every sea on the face of the earth—and in most cases holding complete sway.

The navy did a great job—a job that could not have been done by any other arm of our defense. We can rightly be proud of it.

We can think of no better tribute than could have been paid it than to have the peace signed aboard the U.S.S. Missouri in Tokyo bay. It too like marines in the beaches, to them. And then it brought the army in to clinch the victory.

With a great job to do all over the world, it turned in a good record. We salute our mighty fleet, and the men who "go down to the sea in ships."

THE MOUNTAIN AND THE HOUSE

(Truth, London England)
By Sir Ernest Bevan

I hope that every Cabinet Minister, in his nightly devotions, thanks God for the absence of a public memory. Always short, it has now been almost obliterated—perhaps thanks to science—the politicians and the B.B.C. can stuff the ether with one story after another and blot out not only memory but sense.

More than three months ago we elected a Government pledged to deliver a long catalogue of delights. Mr. Herbert Morrison was emphatic: he told us to disbelieve all the others, for the Socialists were the only people who could really deliver the goods. Having thus gained Office, Mr. Emanuel Shinwell promptly introduced the new technique, and turned on the massive powers of propaganda to fill our empty minds with 8,000 tons of coal; whether or not he is able to get coal from the pits, he does know how to get political credit from the abysmal depths of public thoughtlessness. He started at once to expect ten times the output, we should make a small contribution to the most urgent of national problems. His 8,000,000 tons amounts to 3 1/2 cwt. for each of us, whereas we ought to know that every one of us the legal owner of 3,260 tons of unproved national coal now available. Shinwell will be a hero in another six months, if he produces figures to show that he has exceeded his target by a million hundredweights.

The new technique—that, I believe is the word—is exposed even more clearly by the perspicacious Aneurin Bevan now posing as the solver of the housing problem. He has won our hearts by producing a regular report on progress, and the first of them gives us the figures from some unspecified date up to August 25. He does not disguise his pride in the achievement of 35 houses "ready for occupation" in Birmingham. Note carefully—not planned, passed, permitted, allocated, approved or developed—these are other categories—no fewer than 35 that are actually ready for occupation in Birmingham. They are "ready," which does not necessarily mean that they are occupied, for there remains the task of finding 35 tenants who, by the completion of sufficient, have qualified for consideration who have been able to secure the necessary licenses for such details as furniture and who, furthermore, have had the good fortune to get the permission of the Exchange to accept employment within reasonable distance of these precious 35 houses.

Turning over the records of this matter, I jotted down a few details to get into proper perspective the Herculean struggles of the politicians which, at long last, have produced less than three dozen houses ready for occupation in Birmingham. In 1940 a Parliamentary group was formed to promote a national policy and local groups were established in every county to plan the housing of the people on a national scale. A little later Sir John Anderson hinted at a plan for the conscription of labour to tackle the task; that was five years ago, 1941. Mr. Greenwood, Minister (Without Portfolio), was commissioned to direct and co-ordinate the national building plans so that there might be no difficulty about living accommodation when the war was over. Lord Reith made his contribution by appointing a committee to decide what new cement works should be established, having regard to financial, geographical and economic considerations. How splendid is the language of these great planners; none of them said anything about 35 houses in Birmingham. By March, 1941, all building operation were brought under license, and appropriate officials with licensing offices set up in each of the Defense regions. By way of a finishing touch to ensure perfection, the Director of Bricks announced the organization of the brick industry on a national basis. The following year ministers were talking freely of the need for 4,000,000 houses. On December 8, 1942, the Birmingham Reconstruction Committee reported that it wanted 100,000 houses, and outlined a programme to cost 95,230,000, pounds to be provided either by Government loan free of interest or by Government grants up to 90 per cent, or even 100 per cent. These are just samples, for every day for years past someone has

News Behind the News

The National Whirligig

WASHINGTON—By ALBERT LEMAN

UNIFICATION—The hydra-headed problem of future security—bound up in the atomic bomb, peace draft and unification of the armed forces—has been thrust on Congress because our national leaders are convinced that prompt action is necessary. Advocates of the consolidation of the war and navy departments hope for favorable legislation now while the public is still close to war experiences; major military reforms are rarely made in times of peace when bureaus can lobby effectively. Even insiders say, the merger will probably be blocked if the old-line professionals can put enough pressure on Congress. The solemn advice of General Marshall and the recent support of integration by General MacArthur may not outweigh the arguments and buttonholing by army and navy opponents of unification.

PERIL—Although the Pacific commander appears to back a permanent team of the three fighting branches, he did not always believe in amalgamation. Representative Carl Vinson of Georgia has in his possession a letter written by the general when he was chief of staff in 1932. At that time MacArthur attacked a bill for a single department of national defense in these words: "No measure proposed in recent years seems to me to be fraught with such potential possibilities of disaster for the United States as this one. The proven agencies which have successfully conducted this country through six wars are now under the apparent dictation of a measure of economy to be launched on an adventure which, under certain conditions, might involve the very life of the nation."

DOUBLE—The navy is secretly afraid that a single security head would cut down the size of the fleet, the one arm, it says, that can keep the integral control of the two great branches of national defense—the army and the navy. Each must be free to perform its mission unhindered by any centralized and ponderous bureaucratic control. I know of no responsible soldier or sailor in the whole gamut of history who has advocated such a plan as now proposed. In discussing the reorganization details, he warned of the "instability, uncertainty, the loss of momentum among the combat forces that would be entailed by acrimonious discussions fraught with peril."

AUTONOMY—Congressmen hostile to the fusion think that if experts reverse their opinions or take opposite sides—as certain generals and

DAY-BY-DAY COUNT ON WASHINGTON'S ACTIVITIES GIVEN

By DAVID LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON—Youthful and realistic-minded James Forrestal, secretary of the navy who is soon to resign his post and hence has no nest to feather in the government service, has come forth with about the most practical and statesman-like plan yet suggested for the national defense. Instead of advocating a merger of the war and navy departments and creation of what he calls a "government colossus" he proposes a national security council which means that the top men of the men of the war, navy and state departments as well as the national security resources board will work together to formulate American policy in respect to defense.

This goes right to the root of the difficulty which was in large part responsible for the Pearl Harbor tragedy. It places the responsibility for defense policy not on one department or another, but upon a four-man council. This is in keeping with the American tradition and means that the President of the United States, as commander in chief, will have the benefit of a continuing body which will have statutory responsibility for defense.

Mr. Forrestal points out wisely that in the industrial as well as in the military field the assumption is wrong that "merger in and of itself compels either efficiency or economy" and he adds that a certain rivalry or competition is healthy. "That has never been said officially heretofore on this point," he says, "and it is a fact that the United States would yet have had the bases from which an atomic bomb could be dropped."

Mr. Forrestal praises the U. S. joint chiefs of staff but thinks it should continue to serve as heretofore as a means for expression by each of the heads of the armed services with the coordination by the commander in chief, namely the President. Mr. Forrestal favors the keeping of authority in the hands of the commander in chief and not setting up a military dictatorship of armed services by one man under the President. The Secretary says: "The plan advanced by certain proponents of unification in effect amounts to an isolation and derogation of the civil authority."

This is something which might well awaken the liberals of the nation and the church groups which have always fought militarism in America. In the proposed plan for a single chief of armed services lies the germ of such a militaristic set-up and Secretary Forrestal uses tactful language in denouncing it. "What is back of the persistent propaganda for the one-man control of all armed services," Forrestal points out that nobody is disputing unified command in the field but consolidation of departments at home for the purpose of controlling what happens in the field is something else again. The U. S. joint chiefs of staff was not a one-man affair but a four-man set-up in which the army, the navy, and the air forces were represented, together with the President's own chief of staff. But it was not a committee governed by majority vote. Each member spoke for a given service and in case of disagreement the President made the decision. The final power and authority of the commander in chief under our constitution cannot be delegated.

HEAD—Atomic weapons are the costliest of arms. One of the scientists who developed it seriously advocated that vital war installations be placed underground for protection. A sea level canal is proposed for Panama by engineers who fear the loss of "summit water" should the Madden dam or the locks be destroyed by bombs. Studies have been made of a second canal across the Isthmus of Tehuantepec so that a plug in the big ditch would not block the route between our Atlantic and Pacific fleets. Billions of dollars are involved. But even more important to our existence, contend the pro-merger group, is a streamlined policy-making administrative head to integrate all elements of protection in this new atomic era of military science.

One of the most dangerous of the many crises which are threatening international peace is that growing out of the dispute over whether unrestricted Jewish immigration should be permitted into Palestine.

This of course involves the historic question of the establishment of a Jewish national home in the Holy Land. A host of homeless Jews in Europe—refugees from the Hitlerian storm—are crying for a raising of the barriers. Arabs in Palestine and in neighboring countries are offering bitter opposition—and threats of armed strife are in the air.

The situation demands quick adjustment, but it bristles with complications. The British government, which holds the mandate for Palestine, is trying to handle this hot potato, and the matter has been the subject of conversations between London and Washington. There has been a growing feeling in England that the United States should share in the responsibility of trying to reach a solution. Well-informed circles are expecting the British government to make a statement in the immediate future. Whether this will relate to the exchanges with Washington remains to be seen.

This column yesterday suggested that the Javanese revolt against Dutch rule, and the native rebellion in French-Indo China, might well be taken up by the new security organization for settlement. The question of self-determination is a logical one to come before all the United Nations. These natural fight in the Pacific and that for the greater part of the time is as America's job all alone.

If it had not been for the unremitting pressure exerted by the navy in connection with supplies for the Pacific—a need which on more than one occasion was emphasized also by General MacArthur—it is a serious question whether Japan might have been defeated as quickly or whether the United States would yet have had the bases from which an atomic bomb could be dropped.

Mr. Forrestal praises the U. S. joint chiefs of staff but thinks it should continue to serve as heretofore as a means for expression by each of the heads of the armed services with the coordination by the commander in chief, namely the President. REPRODUCTION RIGHTS RESERVED

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
HOLLYWOOD—As an old connoisseur of stories about Hollywood's uckle producers, we thought we knew all the better ones. Like the glib king who, to save money, shot a Sahara desert scene in a sand trap at the Lakeside Country club. And the one who called his home Sleeves End because everything in it was on the cuff.

But a young lady named Gale Storm (she won the name in a contest and hasn't been able to lose it) told us one that topped them all. Gale was once starred in a quickie movie with a six-day shooting schedule. At the end of six days the picture still was not completed. There were 18 unfilmed scenes.

"But," said Gale, knocking us right off our chair "they stopped shooting anyway. The producer would have to be mediation by some country, to halt the fighting and preserve the status quo pending the time when the security organization gets into full action.

Why shouldn't a similar program be applied to the Palestine difficulty? Certainly there could be no better jury before which to lay the case than the full assembly of the new League of Nations. As a matter of fact, any matter affecting the Palestine mandate naturally would fall to the security organization as successor to the League of Nations, which originally granted the mandate to Britain.

This idea doesn't involve any suggestion that Britain be asked to surrender the mandate. The point is that the problem of the Jewish national home has got too big and complicated for any one country to handle. Indeed, it is doubtful if the decision of any single country would be accepted by both sides to the controversy.

Should it be decided that the question should come before the general assembly of the United Nations as soon as that body is established, then the urgent need now would be for mediation to preserve the status quo until the assembly could function. Who would mediate? Perhaps we shall have an answer to that when we get the expected British statement.

SHE'S DOING BETTER
Since this unhappy experience, Gale Storm has been doing much better as the one-girl stock company of Monogram studio. She has been starred in everything but a remake of "The Birth of a Nation"—South Sea island pictures, westerns, horror stories, musicals, the juvenile delinquency story, "Where Are Your Children?" sophisticated comedies and psychological dramas.

Gale—then Josephine Cottle of Houston, Texas—won Jesse Lasky's "Gateway to Hollywood" radio contest in 1940. The boy who shared the honor with her was a South Bend, Ind., fellow named Lee Bonnell. Making it sound like a movie plot they were married shortly thereafter, now have a 2 1/2-year-old son.

The name "Gale Storm" was one of the awards, plus a contract at the RKO studio. The RKO contract lasted only a year but the name stuck. However, when calling the studio, Gale always identifies herself as "State Comm."

So They Say

The public should have an opportunity to know all that is going on and interpret the facts on that basis. There have been too many executive sessions on Pearl Harbor already—Sen. Kenneth S. Wherry of Nebraska.

Some of these days we are going to have to agree on a peaceable, orderly method of settling disputes over who gets how much for what work. Or else we'll all have to knock off and go fishing—and hope we catch enough fish to keep from starving—Piqua, O. Call.

The war manpower commission was one of the outstanding flops among the temporary agencies. The U. S. employment service is not much better—Sen. Clyde M. Reed of Kansas.

Peter Edson's Column: PRESIDENT STUDIES THE TRAFFIC TOLL

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NE Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON—President Truman is becoming increasingly concerned over the problems of traffic safety.

During the first 15 days after gas rationing went off, the traffic toll jumped 27 per cent over the same period last year. After the President heard this he called on the National Safety Council to intensify its studies of auto accidents. He was impressed with the job the council had done on industrial safety during the war.

Since then, friends who have driven from Missouri and other parts of the country to see him have remarked that driving seems to be more hazardous than before the war. Another circumstance that set the President to thinking seriously about this problem was a report that there were more than three times as many traffic casualties in the U. S. during the war than there were battle casualties on all fronts.

To speed up a national program aimed at nipping the growing traffic toll in the bud, as desired by the President, the National Committee for Traffic Safety has been organized. It is composed of experts from the National Safety Council, Automotive Safety Foundation, AAA and other interested organizations. One of the first aims of the committee is to try to get uniform traffic laws established throughout the nation. In one state the driver must stick his hand up to signify one kind of a turn and straight out to signal something else. In another

RECOMMEND HIGHWAY-BUILDING PROGRAM

Second most important item on the agenda of the committee is the recommendation of a highway-building program. The safest highways are four lanes wide, divided in the middle. Cross roads are eliminated by underpasses, with clover leaf turns. It is hoped that any national program will specify this type of road.

But many other problems are worrying traffic experts. Donald S. Berry, official of the National Safety Council, points out that thousands of youngsters who normally would have already learned to drive, haven't been able to get behind a wheel because of gas and tire restrictions. As soon as cars are available, about four times as many new, inexperienced drivers will hit the road than there would be normally. On top of that, he points out, the average driver has gotten rusty. He either hasn't driven at all during the war, or very little and at slow speeds. It takes a lot of practice and the conditioning of reflexes as much as for any other skill to be a good driver, Berry says.

ESME OF PARIS

by Esme Davis

APARTMENT IN PARIS

XIX
AFTER stopping in Paris, I crossed again to Buenos Aires. The season with Michalovitch was successful but not as exciting as the one before in which I had founded my own company. After eight months I began to feel a little disgusted with the type of show it was doing—it had been "hot-bolled" and I knew it and wanted to work at something for my own satisfaction. So I headed back to Paris.

I had long dreamed of taking an apartment with mother, and had even written to her from South America about it—explaining how I proposed to rent and keep it up, providing she would live there with me and share expenses. She had agreed to do anything I had suggested, and I now set out to look for one.

After searching the entire city in the company of an impressive personage from "Agence d'Immobilier," with a silky black beard, a briefcase, and an umbrella, at last found what I wanted on the Avenue de Bois de Boulogne, now called the Avenue de Marechal Foch, a stone's throw from the Bois and the Port Dauphin. It was a large apartment opening on its own tiny garden with a gate leading into the street behind, and next to a garage. There was a dining room, a room for mother and her piano, with another enormous salon for my own work. The whole place was ideal. Mother wrote from Vienna that the place sounded wonderful in every respect, and she would be looking forward to living there. I immediately signed the lease and started looking for furniture. Then, without warning, came a letter from my brother that worried me very much. He begged me to come at once restfully, and the apartment looked lovely. I filled every corner with mother's favorite flowers—lilies of the valley and bowls of big pink roses. Then I went flying to the hotel to fetch her.

Everything was packed when I got there, and Marie was just closing her trunks—but not to come to the Avenue du Bois! Mother was leaving for London on the 2 o'clock plane from Le Bourget, to commence rehearsals with the Swedish Opera. Before leaving Salzburg she had signed a contract with them to tour the United States.

I WALKED slowly back to the Avenue du Bois, trying to formulate plans. There was no clause in the lease I had signed permitting me to sublet, and anyway it was not completely finished as yet, so this possibility was out of the question.

I would have to get back to work as soon as possible. I had a letter from the dancer Marcel Idzikowski, recommending that I get in touch with the agents Howell and Baud on the Rue de la Paix. They were reputed to be the best agents in Paris at the moment, taking only acts that they were satisfied could keep working steadily and that would up to their standards. I found them to be an interesting study in contrast. Howell was a little English cockney who looked like a jockey, and Monsieur Georges Baud was a replica of the miniatures of the Cardinal de Rohan in the Hotel de Sevres. I had never seen such dignity and old-world courtesy; I very nearly expected him to whip out a lace handkerchief and take a pinch of snuff as we talked. Almost apologetically he asked for an audition, and after seeing me work, offered to procure my engagements if I would build some dances in the acrobatic style so much sought after at the moment.

Two days later he called me to his office to sign a contract with the big German Circus Busche playing a three-month route through Budapest, Vienna, Munich, Zurich, Frankfurt, Breslau, Hamburg, and Stockholm. (To Be Continued)

Radford Grocery Concern Is Sold To Serman Men

Announcement of the sale of the J. M. Radford wholesale grocery branch of which is in Pampa, was made by Mrs. Radford, president, in Abilene yesterday.
The firm, which operates stores in 26 Southwest cities, was sold to James A. Fant and W. S. Dorset of Sherman at an unannounced price.
The local establishment, of which A. E. Berry is manager, was opened here about the time of the oil boom, when Pampa started its first real growth.

In addition to the Pampa store, the firm maintains establishments in Abilene, Alpine, Marfa, Big Spring, Brownwood, Childress, Cisco, Coleman, Graham, Pecos, Plainview, Quanah, San Angelo, Stamford, Sweetwater, Wichita Falls, Lubbock and McCombe, Texas, Clovis, Carlsbad and Roswell, New Mexico, and Elk City, Oklahoma.

Housing Needs

Federal loan structures must be adjusted to present day values.
Drawing a picture of the returned GI and his family being turned out of Pampa due to lack of living quarters, going to other towns where he will meet the same problem, Tracy and members of the discussion group left solution of the question to the public of Pampa, with no other present solution on hand.

That 217 married GIs will return to Pampa by next September is a fact derived from Gray county statistics. Already 500 of the 1793 Gray county men in service have been discharged, leaving 1293 in service, 60 per cent of which will be discharged by September, according to present army and navy rates of discharge.
Of the 775 men to receive discharges, it has been estimated that 80 per cent, or 620 men will return to Gray county, 248 of whom are married. It is also estimated that half of the married men have already established living quarters, leaving 124 without homes. In addition 93 men have been married since entering service and will be married when discharged, giving a total of 217 GI families to house.

The question of housing surplus citizens is not new to Pampa. At present Pampa's growing industries are short of labor because of the lack of houses for laborers. Shortage of material and manpower prohibits the building of homes. Prior to the lifting of restrictions, "persons wanting to build were denied the privilege of a house while they had the money," Poore said.

As for the workability of the housing provisions of the GI Bill of Rights, private enterprise is able to give the GI a better deal, and without the red tape, it was brought out in the discussion.

Poore briefly summarized a concrete solution to the problem advocating a means by which it would be possible for the average man to buy a house for less than $6,000. (On the present basis of FHA loans, the GI must put up $3,000 in cash on a $9,000 house, receiving a loan of $5,400. Poore's assumption that the average GI does not have the necessary $3,000 in cash is based on direct contact with the already returned GI.)

Because of the inflation in building some form of a federal liberalized loan is required, Poore stated. Restrictions during wartime enabled 250 housing units to be built in Pampa during four years, whereas the pre-war rate of building units was 200 a year. Building must surpass that average because of the current demand and growth of the industries of Pampa, as well as the returning of the veteran, Poore said. He estimated that Pampa is 500 houses short.

Because of the above facts Poore urged the support of a bill providing liberalized loans which recognizes current costs of production to both the GI and the warworker—active support, including the proverbial means of writing to congressmen.

Veterans have been and will continue to be given a preference when vacancies occur, but simultaneously as Poore stated, the laborers required in the industries of Pampa cannot be ignored. Economic unsoundness of exclusive preference to the GI under present conditions, was mentioned.
Today's housing problems in Pampa might be ascertained from rentals in the Hughes-Pitts, Inc., housing project of 107 units. The 65th frame went up this week; the builders average five houses a week, a rate which could be increased if laborers could be supplied; all except 12 of the 107 units are rental, have been reserved at least two months in advance. The corporation expects to run out of all possible vacancies this week.

Or the acuteness of the situation might be grasped by methods reported by Eajl D. Hill, representative of the Veterans Service of Pampa. Over 50 men have inquired of houses at the office within the last two months. Having no list of vacancies, Hill listens to the local grapevine of families who are moving, send house-hunters to such prospective houses.
The people of Pampa themselves must solve the housing shortage now. Future relief is seen in probable acts of congress, and in the supply of materials and man power. Present at the discussion other than those mentioned above were: Lt. Danzaro, Mrs. J. B. White, representative of the Red Cross; Sherman White, county judge; E. J. Dunigan, American Legion commander; Jimmy McCune, representative of the Cabot company; Garland Franks, city manager, and Red Wedgworth, manager of the chamber of commerce.

The 22 other top-ranking Nazi defendants were not informed of Ley's death. His body was removed to the prison morgue.

Ley was indicted Oct. 18 with 23 other defendants.

The indictment charged him on three counts—promoting the accession to power of the Nazi conspirators; war crimes, and crimes against humanity.

A thousand feet of film, part of which showed his activities as labor boss, had been prepared for the trial, and the value of the film as evidence now was in doubt.

New Jobs

that endanger that objective.
"The chief menace is unemployment."

Viewing the national picture, Bond said a return to prewar business activity and employment is not enough.
"Insofar as manpower is concerned, estimates have been made indicating that we could now produce as much in a year as was produced in 1940 and still have 19 billion persons unemployed."

Unemployment will probably rise from about 1,000,000 just before V-J Day to about 8,000,000 by the first of 1946, he declared. "The probability is that a year from now we will have from six to eight million unemployed."

Dallas, he said, experienced the greatest impact from war contract cancellations, with an estimated 12,000 persons there currently available for employment. Fort Worth was second with 8,000 employment reductions.

Of Houston he said: "During a time when the civilian population was being increased by 110,000 persons, aggressive community and industrial leaders were planning for postwar and were lining up definite programs which would be ready to go as soon as the war ended. As a result, well over $300,000,000 in industrial expansion was backlogged on V-J Day. If plans, as laid out, can be translated into construction and production action programs without delay, there will be no problem of providing adequate job opportunities for the citizens of Houston."

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh
"There ought to be a law!"

Every now and then, when I run out of news for the Clarion, I print items about what happened Fifty Years Ago in Our Town. May be a lazy man's way of filling space, but it often makes mighty interesting reading.
Seems like human nature is always repeating itself. Same old prejudices, bickering, and mistakes. Here's an 1895 politician trying to restrict free speech ... a demagogue crying out against women's rights ... a local committee raising the bugaboo of Prohibition.
Same old cry down through the years: "There ought to be a law!" Same old desire of one group to force its opinions on another.
From where I sit, it's not more laws we need—nor more restrictions of our right to think, and choose, and live as we see fit. But more tolerance and understanding—more "live-and-let-live" among human kind.

Harvesters, Cubs Battle in Conference Game Tonite

3 Elevens Fight for Survival in Southwest Conference Contest

McLean Is Host To Shamrock 11

SHAMROCK, Oct. 25—Coach Bob Clark stated today that he expected one of the hardest games of the season tonight when his Irish lads clash with the McLean Tigers.

The whistle starting the play in the conference game will sound at 7:30 o'clock on Tiger field in McLean.

Coach John L. Hansard has a better football team than he has been given credit for, the Irish mentor declared. "We are not going to be thrown off guard by McLean record so far this year. We know that we must have a good record on the field in order to defeat them," Coach Clark declared.

McLean has won only two games out of six starts this season. They whipped the Wheeler Mustangs 24 to 6, and defeated the Lakeview Eagles 19 to 0. The teams that have won are Panhandle 38 to 6, Wellington 61 to 0, Clarendon 10 to 6, and Canyon 12 to 0.

Shamrock and McLean have met two common foes. McLean beat Wheeler 24 to 6, while Shamrock won over the same crew by the score of 33 to 0. The Tigers defeated the Lakeview Eagles 19 to 0, and Shamrock took them last Friday night, 28 to 0.

The two coaches have announced the following probable starters:

Shamrock	Pos.	McLean
Henry	I. e.	Newton
Briggs	I. t.	Andrews
Johnston	I. g.	Smith
Brooks	C.	R. Grigsby

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Oct. 26—Navy Lieut. Hank Luisetti, the former Stanford cage star is headed for Annapolis as assistant basketball coach. Miami University of Oxford, Ohio, which plays the University of Miami (Fla) in tonight's "confusion bowl" game, is the alma mammy of Earl (Red) Blaik, Army coach, and of Paul Brown of Ohio state and Great Lakes fame. . . . Charlie "Choo Choo" Justice, who jumped up the gridiron for the Bainbridge navy team last season, has enough points to get out of uniform before long. Duke's Eddie Cameron is supposed to have first call on him.

PIGSKIN PICKINGS
Miami, O., vs. Miami, Fla., Friday.
It's easy to pick this either way. But I'll string along with Miami—Fla.

(Duke vs. Army)
While Army has Blanchard and Davis.

(Georgia vs. Alabama)

From Alabama.

(Purdue vs. Northwestern)
Purdue, which Stagg no longer fears.
Likely will twist the Wildcats' ears.

HE KNEW THE RULES
During the recent Jacksonville Filers-Port Pierce Amphis football game, Leo Akin, former Bears tackle who plays for the Jacksonville navy outfit, walked over to the bench, handed a tooth to one of the coaches. He returned and told his opposing lineman, "if you want to play rough, I'm going to kick the stuffing out of you." . . . Later Akin wondered why the referee hadn't called a time out against Jacksonville. . . . "That's easy," explained Wait Dubzinski, team captain. "I told the referee it was a time out for faulty equipment."

After serving as head statistician at 66 consecutive home football games for the U. of Iowa since 1929, Jim Bettie missed last week's Indiana tussle because of illness.

Unbeaten Locals Could Meet Waterloo in Brownfield '11'

Against a team that has lost only to Amarillo, the Pampa Harvesters will open their conference football warfare against the Brownfield Cubs here tonight at Harvester park at 8 o'clock.

One of the largest turnouts of the past few seasons is expected to see an undefeated Harvester eleven try to make it four straight over the potent Cubs and six straight for the season.

The Harvesters' defenses will be out to stop Jack Eicke, star of the Brownfield eleven, while the Cubs will be up against Randall Clays' ball-carrying, George Johnson's passing and the Harvester line that has allowed the last two opponents a combined total of 12 yards on the ground.

Both the Harvesters and the Cubs opened the season victoriously—Brownfield beating Slaton 44-0 and Pampa taking Electra's Tigers 14-7.

In successive games, Pampa beat Midland 25 to 6, Phillips 27 to 6, Vernon 14 to 0 and Norman, Okla., 6 to 0. The Cubs followed up their Slaton victory with a 12-9 win over Leeland, a 32 to 18 win over Levelland, dropped a 42 to 6 decision to Amarillo and came back to beat beat New Mexico's No. 1 team, Hobbs, 12-6.

One new face will appear in the Harvester line-up when the two teams take the field tonight. Bernie Brown, formerly a reserve end, will start at quarterback. George Johnson will be at fullback and Randall Clay and Russell Neef round out the rear echelon at halfbacks.

Lennie Williams will be at his regular left end post, replacing the ailing Co-Captain Charlie Beard. Jack Dunham, who alternates at center and end, will be at right end tonight.

Tackles Stan Simpson and Jim Terrell will start at their usual positions. These two boys have started every game at the same positions. Guards will be Virgil Fish, left guard, and Jack Hood, right guard. Both of these players have also started nearly every game.

Maurice Lockhart will be back at his regular post at center. Lockhart has been bothered by a cold the past few weeks and has not seen a great amount of action but his aggressiveness has not been affected.

Co-Captain Randall Clay and Russell Neef, right and left halfbacks, respectively, will be starting their sixth consecutive game tonight.

Brown, quarterback, and Johnson, fullback, round out the backfield. Tonight's Pampa-Brownfield game is being watched with interest all over the state. Amarillo slapped the Cubs 42-6 and the final outcome tonight will be a definite comparison between fifth-ranked Amarillo and the ninth-ranked Harvesters.

Amarillo meets Borger tonight in one of the top games of the state. Borger's Bulldogs upset Lubbock two weeks ago for their conference title.

Lubbock meets the unscored-on Plainview Bulldogs in Plainview tonight. Tonight's starting Harvester backfield will average barely 150 pounds.

Navy, Army, Tulsa, Minnesota Picked in Week's Top Contests

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK, Oct. 26—(AP)—There's nothing like an upset to thrill the football spectator and some 73,000 fans will jam Philadelphia's Franklin field tomorrow for Pennsylvania's clash with Navy in hopes of viewing a twist in form similar to the ones which sent Ohio State and Georgia down to defeat a week ago.

Both the Quakers and Middies are undefeated and each holds a berth among the country's top ten teams as determined by the weekly Associated Press poll. The only Penn casualty is Coach George Munger, suffering from influenza.

Navy's hospital roll is longer than a child's Christmas list but the Middies get this corner's very hesitant vote to triumph.

Other selections:
Ohio State-Minnesota: The pressure of their winning streak is off the Buckeyes and they may be content and hunk Minnesota's hope of gaining the big ten crown. But the Gophers' all-around attack is so much Minnesota.

Duke-Army: A year ago Duke led Army at the half, 7 to 6, and may repeat that experience this year but by the end of the game the Cadets definitely will be out in front.

Georgia-Alabama: Charlie Trippi has had another week to work his talents into the Georgia setup. The Bulldogs will need more than that to stop the losses of hurting Harry Gilmer, Alabama.

Purdue-Northwestern: Purdue's reaction to its triumph over Ohio State a week ago may make this close.

Southern California-Washington: The Trojans haven't been beaten by a college club this year—and don't intend to ruin that record this week.

Southern California: Stan Koslovski, Holy Cross's great back, may not play because of a knee injury. His absence would make it a tight affair, Holy Cross.

Iowa-Notre Dame: This contest ends the Hawkeyes' record of never having lost a football game to Notre Dame. Notre Dame.

Cornell-Yale: Naval transfers and Highland Park meets Wichita Falls tonight in the headline game of a busy week-end in schoolboy football.

It will bring together two of the state's undefeated, united teams each of which has been ranked around the top all season.

Other than the Highland Park-Wichita Falls tilt, the schedule is made up mostly of conference games involving all except one of the sixteen districts.

The Japanese will have to learn that aggressive war does not pay.

Canadian Plays At White Deer

WHITE DEER, Oct. 26—The Bucks will tangle with the Canadian Wildcats, tonight at 7:30 o'clock on Bucks field for the third conference game for each team.

The Wildcats have conquered Perryton and Panhandle, while the Bucks down Spearman and were defeated by Perryton.

In the past two years the Bucks and Wildcats have split the games. The Wildcats were victorious in 1943 by a score of 25-0, and the Bucks won last year, 13-0.

Canadian is now the only undefeated team in District 2-A. They have two all-district men on their team, Hopkins in the backfield, and Burnett at end. Bill Cross is also a standout for the Wildcats.

Probable starters for the Bucks will be: I. c., Barnard; I. t., Jones; I. g., Dickens; e., Osborn; r. g., Shurley; r. t., Weatherall; r. c., Click; I. b. b., Harvey; r. h. b., Ayers; f. b., Taylor; and t. b., Thornburg.

Human Nature Is Not To Ever Let Go of Anything

The world's Moslem belt lies from Egypt and Palestine eastward to Java and the Sulu archipelago of the Philippines, with a fan-out in India and in West China. There exists acute discomfort at both ends of this long Moslem belt, namely, in Palestine and Java. And there is chronic trouble at its center, namely, in India.

This Moslem belt has succeeded Pacific Asia as the most active and restless area of Asia opposed to western man's empire. If you look at Pacific Asia now, you see Japan, until last August the "unconquered" among all nations during all time, now the most conquered of all retaining any national shape. You see China under the sponsorship of the United States, and wherever U. S. troops and navy rather than Russian force and influence is dominant, it is now able to decide who shall and who shall not reside and do business in her borders. And China is busy making laws which are not going to please foreign capitalists and traders. Only Hongkong and the little mainland peninsula behind Hongkong island, called Kowloon, remain as monuments of the impact of western empires on China.

For extra territoriality is gone. The Chinese government has moved into the Portuguese relic of opium-dispensing Macao, the Ferns have given up their concession of Kwang-chowai (south of Hongkong). China has repossessed Tsingtao (first German and then Japanese), and the international and French concessions in Shanghai city, which for long flouted Chinese authority now exist on paper only. The Chinese authorities will wait until Britain is as ineffectual in Pacific Asia as Portugal or France now. Then they will enter and settle on the white mans "peak" of Hongkong.

While China is pushing western empire out she is yielding again to Slav (Russian) empire in the north—reconstituting the situation which gave Britain, France and Germany the excuse to push into China at the end of the last century. It was late Manchu dynasty's gift to Russia (through chief minister Li Hung-chang) of what is now the seaboard of Siberia, on which Vladivostok now stands, plus the later concession to build the trans-Siberian railway across Chinese soil and the cession to Russia of the Manchurian base of Port Arthur which spurred Britain and the other western European imperial powers, who were jealous of Russia, to approach the baffled Manchu emperor with mailed fists extended and the demand: "Me, too."

Today China is giving once more to Russia, and her hope of saving herself by following the familiar pattern of balancing one great outside power against another (this time, United States against Soviet Russia), is all part of the story, whose current chapter is the end of western European empire in Asia.

But to return to the belt which currently itches most under the blanket of western rule: The Moslem belt. Frightened, temporizing and desperate imperial western governments—specifically those of Holland, France and Britain—are trying to convince the Asiatic peoples of their "colonies" that the blanket of imperialism lies very lightly now, and that they really need that blanket for comfort and protection. But the more lightly it lies, the more it irks the inhabitants of the Moslem belt.

Beginning at its western end, we have Egypt, which got saved from the Germans and Italians without the cost of a man or an Egyptian pound (and thus showed how to take advantage of a boss-power) but the Egyptian ruling nobility, which, like that of Siam, is pretty much all one family, had the opportunity to see how weak the British really are, and how nearly they came to being done in, and how necessary was the night of the United States to save them. Now, Egypt—meaning the Egyptian nobles—not only demands complete riddance of British garrisons and advisors in Egypt but the addition of part of the old Italian empire to Egypt—plus of course the Sudan, promised them long ago.

You probably have a fair understanding of the Palestine situation now, where the Arabs from Egypt to India stand adamant against admission of more Jews, claiming that Arabs who are Semites, too, were in Palestine before and between, and after the Jews, who, in comparison, are, say the Arabs, comparative transients in the Holy Land.

After making the big political play of demanding that Britain admit and protect a controlling majority of Jews to Palestine whether the Arabs agree or not, President Truman has suddenly been stopped in his pro-Zionist tracks by revelation of the latter Truman's guide and mentor, F. D. R. wrote to Arab King Ibn Saud that America would do nothing without consulting both Arabs and Jews.

In India, which contains more Moslems than all the rest of the belt, the Moslem leaders—so long relied upon by Britain to help hold down the nationalist Hindus—have now become more nationalist than Gandhi, and openly proclaims that if Britain does not let India go completely she will take her freedom with violent revolution within five years. And they dare Britain to give Palestine to the Jews.

Britain will not take the dare. And at the extreme eastern end of the Moslem belt you have British troops hesitant to go into Java and Sumatra—where the ruined Dutch are helpless but are hoping, never-

Russians

cussions climaxed a day in which government officials and newsmen debated this question. When Foreign Commissar Molotov first proposed the council for Japan, did he mean one like that set up to govern Germany, or one like those established to administer former German satellite nations such as Hungary and Romania? It made a lot of difference.

On the Berlin council, four Allies have equal authority. The chairmanship alternates among General Eisenhower; British Field Marshal Montgomery; Russian Marshal Zhukov; and French Gen. de Lattre de Tassigny. All decisions must be unanimous.

On the Balkan commissions, the U. S. and Britain have equal representation with Russia, but in the event, these prize plums of empire will drop like ripe fruit into the British lap.

The truth is that empire plums will no longer do Britain any good—only make her cup of trouble run over. The fruit of empire in our day is not ripe, but rotten. You'd think socialists would know it. But it is human nature never to let anything go until it is torn out of the hand. Russia is making hay out of this—as you will see later. (Copyright) event of conflicting views the soviet position governs.

The U. S. would not agree to a Berlin-type council for Japan. Officials say the problem of governing the Japanese home islands is entirely different.

They also say the Berlin council has been hamstrung by the unanimous military rule, under which one dissenting nation can block action favored by the other three. On his return from the London meeting of foreign ministers three weeks ago, Secretary of State Byrnes said he believed Molotov wanted a Berlin-type council. He reiterated this at his Wednesday news conference.

Russian newspapers disagreed. They said all Molotov wanted was a Balkan-type commission.

Last night's state department announcement reiterated that the "original" soviet proposal "appeared to propose a control council for Japan which, in its important aspects, would closely resemble the control council for Germany."

It added that recent diplomatic exchanges indicated Russia "is not now insisting upon this position."

BETLES FELL TREES

Huge trees in Brazilian forests are felled by beetles, which dig a furrow around the trunk, going deeper and deeper until the three falls. These insects destroy much valuable timber each year.

local troops was held yesterday morning by Mrs. Kidd at the city hall. Council for leaders was to be held this afternoon. One of the highlights of last night's program was the presentation of the title to the Little Scout House here to the Girl Scouts by the Kiwanis club of Pampa. The deed was presented by the club president, Ed Weiss.

The program was emceed by W. B. Weathered, scouting patron. The group was led in songs by Marie Stedje, scout executive secretary. Mrs. K. E. Thornton, association president, conducted a brief business meeting. Past presidents were introduced, as well as other workers in scouting.

Occupation

official word has come through. MacArthur, meanwhile, indicated impatience at silence from the Japanese government concerning his pointed suggestion two weeks ago that Nipponese big family monopolies be "democratized."

A brusque headquarters statement said the Allied commander had received "no official communication from the imperial Japanese government on any phase of the Zaibatsu (big families) question." American occupation officials probing into hidden resources within the conquered nation reported confiscation of $2,500,000 worth of radium from vaults of the German consulate at Osaka. The radium, from Czechoslovakia, had been intended for sale to Japanese hospital, the report said.

Authorities questioned concerning joint Allied occupation plans said they had no idea when troops of the British commonwealth, China and Russia would arrive, nor what would be done with them after they reach Japan.

Maj. Gen. Richard Marshall, deputy chief of staff to MacArthur, said the joint occupation policy still was being discussed by representatives of the Allied powers, and that MacArthur had received no directive governing their military participation in policing the conquered nation.

Labor Trouble

work stoppage was indicative of the workers' sentiments.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW vice president, however, reassured that no strike would be called until "every possible effort to reach a peaceful settlement" has been exhausted and then not without approval of the union's international executive board. The union and corporation officials continued their wage dispute conference today. Other major strike developments were: Motion pictures—AFL union leaders and screen producers agreed to attempt settlement of prolonged film strike as all pickets withdrawn from all studios; strike issues may be settled by courts.

Transportation—Federal mediators meet with CIO union and American Airlines company officials in efforts to end strike which had disrupted plane service between New York, Chicago, and Detroit; 2,000 CIO Pan American airways employees in Miami, Fla., end three-day walk-out; 100,000 passengers inconvenienced as bus strikes in Jersey City, N. J., extended to a third independent line; AFL Greyhound drivers and maintenance and terminal workers vote to strike Oct. 31 in Midwest, South and East.

"I GOT 90,300 MILES on these RIVERSIDES"

"... and they're good for a couple of thousand more!"

That's what Mr. H. B. Lovett of 22046 Negaunee, Detroit, Mich. thinks of Riversides. That's what he wrote to Wards Dearborn Store in a completely unsolicited letter. Needless to say, Mr. Lovett has never regretted the day that he switched to Riverside Tires.

Every time you see Riversides on a car, just remember this; those Riversides did not come on that car when it was new. They were deliberately chosen to replace some other brand of tire! (It couldn't happen so often... without a mighty good reason!).
