Many Miners Remain Idle

WASHINGTON—(AP)—With more than a third of the soft coal miners idle despite government seizure of the mines, a White House conference sought today to work out a wage contract acceptable to both John L. Lewis and coal operators.

Among the conferees at the early morning meeting were Secretary of Interior Krug, federal mine boss, Secretary of Labor Schweitzer, Dr. John R. Steelman, President Truman's labor adviser, and Reconstruction Director John W. Snyder. Vice Admiral Ben Moreell, Krug's lieutenant as government operator of the pits, also joined the talks.

STEPS NOT REPORTED

Assistant Press Secretary Eben Ayers told reporters of the meeting, but did not say what steps had been taken toward drafting a settlement. The picture was not rosy. The best that Secretary of Interior Krug could offer as government mine boss was a guarded "hope" that the end of the current two-week truce Saturday would not plunge all the pits back into idleness.

GOVERNMENT SEIZURE

The first 24 hours of government seizure produced discouraging results from the administration point of view. Thousands of miners, who had gone back to work under the truce, quit their pits.

This return to idleness closed down an additional 243 mines, increasing the number immobilized by the bituminous dispute to more than 2,900 out of 4,500, total. The latest federal estimates are that more than

County Agent and USES Working To Get Men on Farms

Measures have been taken by the United States Employment Service and State Extension Service to help experienced agricultural workers get back to the farms it was announced this morning by L. P. Fort, USES local office manager, and Ralph R. Thomas, county agent.

A plan has been worked out whereby the county agent's office will furnish the local USES office with a list of current agricultural job openings taken from orders on file with the county agent.

The list will include the number of workers needed, their occupational classifications and sufficient information concerning employer specifications to enable USES interviewers to make proper selection and referral.

"Under previous arrangements," said Fort, "the placement opportunities for agricultural employment was not adequately known to the USES. Workers interested in agricultural openings were merely referred to the office of Thomas for further information without knowing whether or not specific jobs were available for them when they got there."

The plan has been worked out to help the Extension Service replace

Baby Death Toll Mounts One More

NEW YORK—(AP)—The death toll of babies stricken ill aboard GI brideships mounted to six today when a five-month-old girl, in this country only four days, died in Pittsburgh.

The child, Vivian Smith, arrived here with her mother, Mrs. Howard Smith whose husband lives in Burbank, Calif., on the S. S. Brazil last Sunday.

The death, which physicians diagnosed temporarily as acute diarrhea and malnutrition, was the first reported among the Brazil's passengers.

Five infants who traveled on the brideship Zebulon Vance have died from a mysterious ailment which struck them as they crossed the Atlantic.

MASCOT SEES AGAIN—Little Gianfranco Cabbia, "General Cloverleaf," center, chats with a Swiss guardsman, left, and an unidentified GI while visiting Vatican City's first activity since his return to Rome. Mascot of the eighty-eighth division, the boy was brought to the United States by American soldiers who financed an operation at Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, to restore the youth's sight.

U. N. Group Studies Franco Spain Report

NEW YORK—(AP)—Jose Giral, premier of the exiled Spanish republic government, told a United Nations sub-committee investigating Franco Spain today that the Franco regime had told every Spaniard he could arm himself to defend Spain "against an attack by Russia."

Giral said the 1941 rate is achieved and maintained for three months. OPA will take another look at prices and grant any additional increases for which manufacturers may qualify under the agency's peacetime pricing standards.

The increases announced yesterday range from $33 to $167, averaging about $75 for 16 makes of cars built by Chrysler, Ford, General Motors, Hudson, Nash, Packard and Studebaker.

For the latter two companies the increases compensate for both wage boosts and higher prices for materials, principally steel, and parts. The other five firms received increases

Republicans See 'Control on Way'

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Republicans insisted today that the gain of a house seat in key Pennsylvania townships the election of a GOP congressman in November, but Democrats discounted the results as entirely local.

The victory of Carl H. Hoffman, republican, over Mrs. Marian B. Snyder in a 23rd district special election was tabbed by GOP national chairman Carroll Reece as "another proof that the voters of the nation this year have decided to vote republican to clean up the mess created by our present do-nothing administration."

But Senator Myers (D-Pa) said there was nothing significant about the defeat of the widow of Rep. J. Buell Snyder in what Myers said has been a close district for years.

If the democratic national committee got little solace out of the Pennsylvania results, Chairman Robert E. Hannegan apparently was comforted somewhat by what Speaker Rayburn (D-Texas) described as a "very harmonious and pleasant meeting" with house members on Capitol Hill yesterday.

Put on the grill about contentions of CIO influence and kindred matters, Hannegan reportedly pledged the members anew that there would be no "purge" conducted by national headquarters.

"We went over the position of the national committee and it was made clear that historically we do not take part in primary elections," Hannegan said, adding, "That has and will be our position."

Rayburn chimed in with the observation that "the CIO-PAC doesn't say who we support."

Further Auto Price Boosts Are Expected

WASHINGTON—(AP)—OPA, slapping four to eight percent price hikes on top of previous increases for new automobiles, kept the door open today for a possible further boost.

At the same time changes virtually disappeared for any OPA-ordered cut in ceiling prices when the industry achieves full scale production.

A high OPA official who asked to remain anonymous said the agency "does not plan to try to reduce prices" after cars begin to roll from assembly lines at the pre-war rate. Manufacturing costs usually decline as production goes up.

The official asserted that car makers "have had a pretty tough time of it" and that a price cut by OPA would be out of the question.

But he added there could be another increase. Three already have been piled on 1942 auto prices.

Present ceilings will stand, the official said, until the industry has been operating at the 1941 production rate for three months. It may take some time to hit that stride.

The civilian production administration reported last week that, due mainly to strikes, only 433,766 passenger cars were produced in the 10 months through April. It said this was just about a normal pre-war figure for one month.

When the 1941 rate is achieved and maintained for three months, OPA will take another look at prices and grant any additional increases for which manufacturers may qualify under the agency's peacetime pricing standards.

The increases announced yesterday range from $33 to $167, averaging about $75 for 16 makes of cars built by Chrysler, Ford, General Motors, Hudson, Nash, Packard and Studebaker.

Senators Against Service Merger

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Democratic whips of both the house and senate said today it was "presumptuous" of the two naval committee chairmen to advise Secretary of the Navy Forrestal against a merger "compromise."

Senator Hill and Rep. Sparkman the party deputies from Alaska, declared the in effect, "Senator Walsh (D-Mass.) and Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.) were telling Forrestal to disregard President Truman's views on army-navy unification."

And they added to a reporter that the two chairmen were presumptuous, too, in their assertion that congress will pass no merger bill.

Both Hill and Sparkman expressed emphatic belief that unification legislation will be enacted this year. They are members of the military committees of their respective chambers.

The congressional tempest was touched off by the letter, made public last Sunday, which Walsh and Vinson sent Forrestal on the merger issue. The letter asserted no such legislation will be passed by congress, first served, with the Navy to avoid "any compromise" on the subject with Secretary of War Robert Patterson.

Local Bathing Beauty To Be Chosen In Contest Tomorrow; Dance Follows

Beauty, represented by 26 bathing suit-clad girls of this area, will parade tomorrow night at 8:30 p.m. in the Junior high gymnasium in the Junior chamber of commerce bathing beauty contest.

The object—a trip to Vernon's Santa Rosa Roundup to compete for the grand prize of $500 cash and a trip to Hollywood, all being offered by the Vernon chamber of commerce, May 31.

As if the trip were not enough, local Jaycees are offering $15 to the second place winner and $5 to the third place contestant, and, hold your breaths, a pair of nylon stockings.

Every Effort Made To Reach Agreement in Rail Situation

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The White House announced at 2 p.m., just two hours before a strike deadline, "every effort is being made to settle the rail labor dispute."

Charles G. Ross, presidential press secretary, gave reporters this picture of the situation at that hour:

"I have very little to report. Mr. Whitney and Mr. Johnston (heads of the trainmen and engineer brotherhoods) are here. They have not yet seen the President.

"The operators, headed by Mr. Pelley and his group, are also here. They came in at the invitation of Mr. Steelman. They have not seen the President.

"The President went to lunch at his usual hour of 1 o'clock and has just returned to his office. Every effort is being made to settle the rail labor dispute."

Alvanley Johnston of the engineers, and A. F. Whitney of the trainmen, told reporters:

"We'll have a statement after we see the President."

Mr. Truman had set a noon deadline for their reply.

A general embargo on railroad freight was readied meanwhile by the Office of Defense Transportation for prompt use if necessary.

This information came from an ODT official.

At the White House, Eben Ayers, the assistant press secretary, told reporters that he had no idea what

National Troops Drive Communists From Changchun

MUKDEN—(AP)—The government today announced that national troops formally recaptured Changchun at 11 a. m. after having engaged "communist remnants remaining in the city of sporadic fighting."

The resistance soon was overcome," said the communique, from the headquarters of Gen. Tu Li-Ming, government commander for northeast China (Manchuria).

It reported that advance elements of Gen. Cheng Ting-Kuo's new first army entered Changchun, capital of Manchuria, at 7 a. m.

Earlier government dispatches said communists were seen withdrawing from Changchun yesterday, presumably headed for Yungki (Kirin) 60 miles to the east.

In contrast to the mild skirmishing which preceded Cheng's entry into Changchun today, the communists were forced to wage a stubborn, four-day battle to seize the city in mid-April from a far inferior government force, made up chiefly of ill-equipped volunteers.

Although Tu on Tuesday had appealed to the communists, through General Marshall's truce commission at Nanking, to evacuate Changchun to prevent further destruction of the city, there was no immediate indication why the Reds had left.

Previously, the communists had reported they were prepared to heavily defend both Kungchuling, 35 miles to the south, and Changchun, but government forces easily took both places—Kungchuling fell Tuesday—after having overcome considerable resistance.

Food Board May Be Enlarged Soon

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The international food conference veered today in the direction of enlarging the combined food board and then keeping it alive an extra year to battle hunger throughout the world.

That has been proposed by America, Britain and Canada—the countries which founded the board and are its only members.

Up to now the plan has gone no farther than the discussion stage in a conference committee. It is subject to change there and in the entire conference later on. But many delegates have said they liked it.

As the United States, Britain and Canada see things, the board should keep operating only as long as the present famine emergency exists. After that, as it was intended to do, the United Nations food and agriculture organization would provide the long range machinery for handling the world's food problem.

Chief Sloan Attempts To End Loggers' Strike

VANCOUVER, B. C.—(AP)—Chief Justice Gordon Sloan, acting as federal conciliator, scheduled a negotiation meeting for today in a renewed attempt to bring an early end to the loggers strike which has shut down mills and woods camps and menaced the province's newsprint industry.

The first meeting of operators and representatives of the 35,000 idle members of the International Woodworkers of America (IWO) with the conciliator was held yesterday behind closed doors.

Congress Ends Lengthy Pearl Harbor Probe

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The congressional Pearl Harbor investigation ended today with a statement by former Secretary of War Stimson that President Roosevelt "was undoubtedly considering" an attack on Japanese forces, threatening South Asia late in 1941.

NO ANNOUNCEMENT

But to his recollection, Stimson advised the senate-house inquiry committee in written responses to a series of questions submitted by Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich), the late President never formally announced any decision of this kind to top military advisers. Nor would he have acted without the consent of congress, the former cabinet member added.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Stimson's answers went into the committee's record along with replies by former Secretary of State Hull to 169 additional questions, mostly about "reputed agreements with the British for parallel action" before the Dec. 7, 1941 attack. Hull denied knowledge of any such agreements.

Also included in the record, now closed to further evidence, was a copy of the memoirs of Prince Konoye, Japanese premier whose cabinet fell in October, 1941.

By Konoye's account, he pressed peace negotiations with the United States in good faith. However, the price quoted for foreign minister Matsukata of his second cabinet as expressing conviction in May, 1941, that President Roosevelt "was appa-

Homer P. Rainey Announces for Governor's Race

AUSTIN—(AP)—Dr. Homer P. Rainey today announced he was a candidate for governor.

He called on the electorate to join him in a "crusade to unshackle Texas" from the chains in which it is held by "powerful business interests which dominate our government, our industries, our natural resources."

The former president of the University of Texas today formally opened his campaign for the night of June 4 to re-establish "free government for free Texans."

Until Texas gets a free government, he said, "we are not going to have first-class schools, adequately paid teachers, a good public health program, good farm-to-market roads, an adequate pension system."

Dr. Rainey, one time professional baseball player and Baptist minister whose conflict with the board of regents of the University of Texas led to his discharge as president in 1944, said his ambition as president had been to tackle the "great fundamental problems facing Texas—to find the answer to the difficulties which keep us from having the high standard of living to which our people are entitled."

He added that he soon found there

Jap Royal Family Loses Privileges

TOKYO—(AP)—Japan's top royalty lost by allied decree today its tax immunity, its special privileges and its customary 2,000,000 (M) yen ($133,333) a year from public funds. Only Emperor Hirohito and his immediate family were exempt.

The 14 families hit by the drastic new order included those of Hirohito's three brothers, the Princes Chichibu, Takamatsu and Mikasa; and Prince Higashi-Kuni, former premier whose son married Hirohito's eldest daughter.

General MacArthur's decree barred the imperial household from providing any further grants or loans of money or property to the 14 princes and princesses or their households, and prohibited imperial household employes from working for them.

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — Jackie Coogan, the nearly bald 31-year-old "Kid," is back in Hollywood for a new radio show after warbling on a personal appearance tour. "Oh, again to be the actor, with the help of Mr. Factor. Look what he did for Charles Boyer."

Although he says he's not sensitive about his baldness, Jackie wears a toupee for his radio show and personal appearances. "The Kid" without any hair is too much of a shock."

At one time he tried all the anti-bald remedies he could find, but now, he says, "I don't worry about it." Even his kid brother, Robert, 21, just out of the army, is starting to lose his hair.

"It's in the family," Jackie explained. Next to show business—he's been in it all his life—Jackie's hobby is airplanes. It's more than a hobby, though. He's in the business of re-converting and selling surplus army planes. He learned to fly at 15, was a glider pilot in Burma during the war.

Jackie and the money he earned as one of Hollywood's greatest kid stars have been parted for some time (everyone knows the story), but he has one reminder of those lush days—a $30,000 16-cylinder Rolls-Royce convertible, vintage 1932. Jackie still drives it around Hollywood, getting something like 2 miles to a gallon of gasoline. He likes it, he says, because it brings back memories.

And that's all he has left of a $50,000 fortune.

Bridal Shower Is Given For Miss Gladene Farmer

Mrs. Fritz Waechter complimented Gladene Farmer, bride-elect of Carl Hartzog, with a bridal shower given Sunday.

Bouquets of mock orange blossoms decorated the entertaining rooms. The table was centered with a doll dressed as a bride in a white gown and veil. The centerpiece was flanked with arrangements of red roses.

Miss Cecelia Edwards presided at the register. In the receiving line were Mrs. C. E. Farmer, Mrs. A. C. Hartzog and the hostess.

Dorothy Drescher Is Candidate for Degree

DENTON—Miss Dorothy Lynn Drescher, daughter of Mrs. Blanche D. Chapman, Pampa, is among 275 seniors applying for bachelor degrees to be awarded June 3 at Texas State College for Women, Dean E. V. White has announced.

Graduation exercises, climaxing the three-day commencement program, will be held June 3 at 9 a. m. in the college auditorium.

Miss Drescher is a candidate for the B. S. degree in Costume Design and Fashion Illustration. An honor student, Miss Drescher has been listed on the Dean's Honor Roll for outstanding scholastic achievement all four years at TSCW, and is a member of the Art Club, Delta Phi Delta, national honorary art fraternity, and the Student Advisory Council.

Hawaiian Theme Is Used at Dance By Sub Deb Club

Graduating seniors were entertained Friday evening by the Sub Deb club with a Hawaiian dance in the Country club.

Garlands of colorful tropical flowers decorated the walls of the dance hall. Palm trees also made up the tropical background. Colorful leis were given to each guest as a souvenir.

Nicki Fraser and Margaret Price attended the guest register, which also carried out a Hawaiian theme. Pictures were taken during the evening of the various groups.

Presidents of Clubs Entertained by Beta Gamma Kappa Sorority

Presidents of women's organizations of Pampa were honored at a book review given last night in the City club room by Beta Gamma Kappa sorority.

Mrs. Howard Lynch of Amarillo reviewed "This Side of Innocence," by Taylor Caldwell, the Literary Guild selection for this month.

Refreshments were served at a table centered with an arrangement of pink and white carnations flanked by lighted candles.

Mrs. Melvin Watkins was seated at the guest register and Mrs. Vester Smith and Betty Hastings presided at the refreshment table.

Guests and members present included Mesdames N. L. Nicholl, R. H. Grammer, Mohon Hilburn, E. C. Thompson, Robert Brown, J. W. Garman III, Felix J. Stalls of Twentieth Century, Mrs. C. W. Henry of Beta Sigma Phi, Mrs. Tommie Stone of Business and Professional Women's club, Mrs. Bob Triplehorn, Mrs. R. E. McKernan, Mrs. W. P. Bridges, Mrs. Jeanne Duket, Mrs. Jean Haw, Mrs. Melvin Watkins, Mrs. Josephine Blacklock of VFW, Mrs. W. E. Melton, Home Demonstration Council and Miss Beth Mullinax and Miss Peggy Stephens.

Judging radishes by the condition of the leaves is a rather doubtful guide. The leaves may be fresh, bright and green but the vegetable itself may be spongy and pungent. Radishes should be well formed, smooth, firm and crisp.

Dorothy Kratzer, Bride-Elect, Honored at Shower

Dorothy Kratzer, bride-elect of Olin Riley, was honored with a miscellaneous shower given in the home of Mrs. P. B. Wright Friday evening. Mrs. S. B. Black was co-hostess.

Miss Kratzer, who will be married June 9, her mother, Mrs. P. B. Kratzer, and Mrs. Jessie Riley were presented with pink and white carnation corsages.

The house was decorated with snapdragons and iris. A card table covered with a hand-painted silk cloth covering, which was a gift the groom-to-be sent Miss Kratzer while he was in Hawaii, held the gifts.

Each guest wrote a favorite recipe as they registered. Plate favors were pink and white sweet peas.

Refreshments of old-fashioned pound cake and hot spiced tea were served to the following: Mesdames H. A. Morris, Lanora Riley, Herman Dees, Bob Bowerman, E. C. Kilpatrick, Jess Bowerman, Charles Madeira, Kenneth Meyers, Howard Sims, Fern Hogsett, Miss Pat Gossett and Miss Bernice Riley.

Sending gifts were Mesdames Mildred Hazle, Gordon, Thelma Bailey, Alvin Eay, Preston Wind, E. R. Reeves, Emmitt Forrester, Alexander, J. A. Meeks, J. D. Parkinson, Eva Mae Miller, Vivian Ward, S. program on the theme "Christ Comes to Africa." Mrs. D. D. Burton, leader, gave an interpretation of the picture, "Repose in Egypt," by Melrose.

Mrs. D. C. Houk told a story, "Simon of Cyrene." "Shepherd of Tender Youth" was sung by the entire group. A biographical sketch of James Aggrui was given by Mrs. C. H. Darling.

The nominating committee gave the following report of officers for the coming year: Mrs. C. T. Hightower, president; Mrs. W. O. Prewitt, first vice president; Mrs. B. C. Fahy, second vice president; Mrs. Philip Zomora, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Fred Whipple, welfare chairman, and Mrs. Frank Meers, card chairman.

Group Four presented their outgoing leader, Mrs. W. O. Prewitt, with a gift. Their leader that is coming into office, Mrs. Ollie Allston, was presented with a corsage. Mrs. C. L. Shearer, who is leaving town, was also presented with a gift.

The groups paid tribute to the late C. L. Thomas.

Forty-four members and guests were present.

Nostradamus, noted astrologer and predictor of things to come, also operated a beauty parlor with Catherine de Medici as one of his patrons.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcenate (formerly called Barcol Concentrate). Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves, if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloated disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

No. 1—HOUSE OF DRACULA

No. 2—PILLOW OF DEATH

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Notebook

By GODFREY ANDERSON
LEIPZIG, Germany—(AP)—The rich merchant city of Leipzig is but a shadow of its former self.

The hundred-year-old fur trade virtually is dead; the extensive book-publishing and printing trade which employed a third of the city's population is just beginning to revive. Leipzig's 69 millionaires—there were more millionaires here before the war than in Berlin—have scattered. Some are dead, some have emigrated, some have moved to the Western zones to escape the Russians; some have lost everything.

Once millions of marks used to change hands in Leipzig. Furs were imported from Russia, Poland, Canada, Alaska, Norway, Czechoslovakia, Persia and Afghanistan. Leipzig prepared them for the markets of the world. Thirty thousand men worked in 4,500 firms. Few of these firms remain. Bombs hit Bruhl, the fur trade section, especially hard. The only furs coming to Leipzig now are the rabbit furs from local breeders.

The publishing trade is in slightly better shape. Thirty percent of it survived the war, but so far only 12 have been licensed to operate where hundreds worked before.

Volk and Buch, a new cooperative firm printing books for children, novels and popular science books, claimed to have taken orders for 100,000 books on the first day of Leipzig fair.

Most of the firms now working have Russian orders. Three million schoolbooks and 100,000 technical books in Russian have been turned out in three months.

State Newspapers Thanked for Help To Returned Vets

Herman G. Nami, state commander of the American Legion, in a written endorsement commended the newspapers of Texas for their part in extending health protection to the returning veteran through the newspaper's May 10-to-June 10 unrestricted enrollment campaign for World War II veterans in the Blue Cross Plan.

"The veteran, after having served his country on the world's battlefields, is now attempting to readjust himself to normal civilian pursuits, and he is entitled to every possible consideration," Nami writes. "Enrollment in a Blue Cross non-profit hospital plan will provide for the veteran, and his family as well, assurance that an unexpected illness will not retard his readjustment financially."

The enrollment campaign is a national program sponsored by the newspapers of America through cooperation with the Blue Cross Plans of the nation.

The two factors which Nami stresses as making this program particularly necessary are the fact that government facilities will not be fully available to the veteran for some time to come and that this health protection plan not only cares for the veteran but for his family as well.

"It is particularly significant," Nami adds, "that two non-government agencies—the newspapers and Blue Cross—have undertaken this public service on behalf of the veteran and, as state commander of the American Legion, it is with considerable pleasure that I endorse this project and recommend to all veterans that they enroll themselves and their families during the special enrollment campaign open from May 10 through June 10.

This health protection campaign is a special enrollment privilege for veterans, open to World War II veterans and their families. Membership will be extended to those veterans who request membership prior to June 10, and veterans desiring further information should complete the accompanying coupon now.

 were "selfish and powerful" interests opposing him.
 "I had to make a choice—a choice to knuckle under, to abandon my dreams that our university could help Texas people develop a better state, or stand and fight," he said.
 "I chose to stand and fight."
 "The result you all know—I was fired."
 Dr. Rainey said he then had another choice: To "tuck my tail like a whipped dog and sneak off from my native state to take another job, or I could stand and fight and take the issues to the people."

 "I choose to stand and fight," he reiterated.
 He said his third choice—whether to run for governor—was the most difficult of his life.
 "I have become a candidate because we need a free government for free Texans," he said.
 "We need a government run by real democrats for the benefit of all the people. Too long our state government has been run by Texas regulars and their fellow-travelers, all posing as democrats, but actually as reactionaries as any republicans in our natural life."
 "These men—the eager servants of powerful vested interests—have had full sway in our state capital too long."

 Communist forces at Szepingkai, 70 miles south of Changchun, in a 32-day battle.
 Tui's communique today reported that despite the fighting in the city, the people of Changchun lined the streets to welcome Cheng's troops.
 It further reported that an order of Gen. Lin Piao, commander of the communists' northeast democratic union army, found on captured Red soldiers, demanded that the Reds hold both Kuochiatien 20 miles of Szepingkai, and Kun-huling at any cost. The order said it was vital that those cities be held to prevent government troops from reaching Changchun.

Complex Order

 working conditions—in addition to 45 by the unions, the railroads made 29 of their own—were too complicated to decide in 30 days.
 So the board made recommendations on a few changes but said the unions and railroads should work out the rest between themselves.
 The unions called a strike because of this report and last night the President, to pacify them, suggested:
 The unions should get 18 1/2 cents an hour more in pay, which would be $1.48 a day, and they should postpone their demands for changes in working conditions for a year.
 The union leaders said this was "unfavorable" and added that the recommendations of the board—which did approve some working condition changes—were more generous.

STATEMENT MADE
 The ODT official, who asked not to be identified by name, told a reporter:
 "The (freight) embargo will be ordered within a few minutes after the men strike, if they strike, to insure the movement of essential supplies by as many trains as may be running."
 He also said the ODT will set up a list of commodities to which other freight carriers must give preference. These orders will affect water and motor freight carriers.
 Additional orders probably will be issued to insure movement of essential passenger traffic by motor and air carriers, he said.
 Leaders of the trainmen and engineers brotherhoods said the 18 1/2 cents an hour increase suggested by Mr. Truman last night was unfavorable. They said it would rule out any changes in present working conditions.
 But they declined to say immediately what their final decision would be.

Texas Today

 AP Staff Writer
 It's safety first at Brooke army medical center, Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio. In fact, it's safety first in more ways than one.
 Participating in the safety drive there is First Lt. Safety R. First, of Oklahoma City.
 Lt. First is enrolled in the army medical department schools, which gives army doctors their basic military training. He received his M. D. degree from the University of Oklahoma's medical school, and served his internship and junior residence at Hillcrest Hospital, Tulsa, Okla.
 He is the son of Dr. Francis R. First and Mrs. Ina First, Checotah, Okla.

It's not a young man's army as far as the band is concerned at Brooke medical center.
 The 21 men who make up the combined band have a total of 446 years in service, with an average of 21 years each in the army.
 The five French horn players have an average of 25 years each.
 Oldest member is 65-year-old Sgt. George W. Hastings, of Lancaster, Pennsylvania, who plays the drums.
 He enlisted in the army at the age of 47. Since he's been in the army, he estimates that he's walked in parades a distance equalling twice the world's circumference.

Sgt. Alvis O. Loveless, Mount Vernon, Texas, is convalescing at Brooke medical center, and tells with a grin how a Jap officer once snapped at him: "Loveless, you are well named—you have no love for the Japanese people."
 Loveless evaded capture on Bataan, and fought with Filipino guerrilla for 14 months, but an infected foot led to his capture and imprisonment in 1943.
 He said the Jap officer was right.

Health Officer Issues Suggestions Concerning Poliomyelitis Control

AUSTIN—Dr. George W. Cox, State health officer, has issued the following statements and suggestions concerning the control and prevention of poliomyelitis which is now occurring in certain sections of the state.

Until recently it was generally believed that this infection is transmitted by means of discharges from the respiratory tract. It is now believed that poliomyelitis may be another of the several gastrointestinal infections. Therefore, control measures must include clean-up campaigns and improvements in sanitation.

Strict sanitary measures must be observed in all communities. Stringent efforts should be made to eliminate the house-fly and to destroy its breeding places. All mosquitoes and mosquito breeding places must be eliminated at once. Every effort should be made to institute approved garbage collection systems immediately. Safe water supplies must be assured. Where adequate municipal sewage disposal systems are not in operation, it is vitally important to promote and maintain sanitary septic tanks and outdoor privies.

All swimming pools should, under rigid supervision, maintain those standards approved by the Texas State department of health. This necessarily includes maintenance of proper chlorine level. Where such standards are not maintained, those pools should be closed immediately.

All raw foods and vegetables should be washed thoroughly before use and protected from flies, filth and insects. All eating and food handling establishments should adhere strictly to the State law concerning the sterilization of dishes and utensils. Those restaurants with insufficient personnel to maintain approved sanitation should close one or two hours a day so that employees can assist in maintaining cleanliness and high sanitary standards.

Every effort should be made to secure approved milk. Rats and mice should be eliminated. Maintain in the home the same sanitary standards that are necessary in community life. Particular attention should be paid to personal hygiene. Excreta from cases and contacts should be handled and disinfected with the same scrupulous care as in typhoid fever or bacillary dysentery.

Over-exertion in children should be avoided. Children should not visit homes where there is illness. Police cases should be quarantined for 14 days and adults who work in food establishments should be particularly instructed in personal hygiene. It is advisable to reduce to a minimum all human contacts, especially in children during an outbreak of this disease. It is not advocated that schools, churches, and theaters be closed.

Early symptoms of infantile paralysis are headache, fever, vomiting, drowsiness, followed by stiffness in the neck and back. When suspicious symptoms appear, a physician should be called immediately.

War Criminal Hanged By Czech's in Prague

LONDON—(AP)—The Prague radio announced today that Karl Hermann Frank, former reichs protector for Bohemia and Moravia, had been publicly hanged today as a war criminal.

Frank was convicted by a Czech people's court yesterday on charges of responsibility for the massacre of Lidice—a village of about 500 population 18 miles from Prague which was obliterated by the nazis in June, 1942, in revenge for the slaying of Reinhard Heydrich, Frank's predecessor.

8th Service Command Leads World in Drive

The Eighth Service command, enlisting 2239 men during the week of April 21-28, led the world in the drive for recruits, latest available statistics indicate.

Fourth Service command, however, with 115, 153 enlistments reported through 21 April 1946 continues to lead the 24 enlistment units competing in the recruiting campaign. During the week of April 21-28, Fourth Service command garnered 2219 enlistments to score a close second place for that period.

Reporting 103,457 enlistments on 4 May 1946, Eighth Service command appears well on the way to regain first place position.

Swiss Allowed To Keep German Gold

WASHINGTON—(AP)—French officials registered sharp dissatisfaction today over an Allied agreement which will permit neutral Switzerland to keep about $88,000,000 in German gold.

France was a party to the agreement, along with the United States and Britain, but the French officials emphasized that they concurred only for the sake of inter-Allied harmony, and because the American and British negotiators desired a quick settlement.

Under the agreement, Switzerland will turn over about $58,140,000 in Swiss money to the Allies, who in return waive claims to the remainder of Switzerland-cached gold which the Germans allegedly looted from conquered nations dur-

'Air Corps Nursery' Set Up at Army Base

WASHINGTON—(AP)—An "air corps nursery" was advanced by the army air forces today as one answer when there is a shortage of baby sitters.

Army wives of the AAF training command base at Goodfellow field, San Angelo, Texas, have set up such a nursery on a cooperative basis so as to get an evening or afternoon off.

For a fee of 15 cents an hour, 675 children were parked there in April.

Switzerland also will keep 50 per cent of all other German assets there, valued by Allied experts at upwards of $750,000,000.

Texas U. Studies State Zoning Acts

AUSTIN—Texas needs an airport zoning act, a municipal and county planning act and a revision of the municipal subdivision control laws to reenstate extraterritorial control. This is the conclusion drawn in a digest of the state's planning, zoning, housing, park and airport laws just published by the bureau of municipal research of the University of Texas.

A restatement and extension of the planning and zoning laws by the state legislature also would be an "important contribution" to the continued development of local government in Texas, the bureau added.

"The various state acts which collectively serve as the legal basis for planning and zoning by local units of government in Texas have been enacted by the legislature from time to time in response to particular demands," the booklet pointed out. "They provide, at best, a sketchy basis for urban planning and almost no basis for county or joint city-county action."

Only legislation of a general nature is included in the booklet, Dr. Stuart A. MacCorkle, director of the bureau, explained. The publication is the first of its kind since 1938.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 million of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood—and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent urination passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't notice this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 million of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Good Care Will Keep Nylons New

With attention and good care these precious improved no-seam nylons of yours will look as brand new in September as they do now! Not only because of their gossamer sheerness but because of their scarcity, your no-seam nylon hose deserves as careful treatment as white gloves, lingerie and the rest of your summer wardrobe.

New style no-seam nylons should be handled with care to prevent snagging, but there is no longer any need to worry that they will lose their shape through laundering! Besides being durable, the fit of the new improved nylons is knit right in, guaranteeing a permanent shape no amount of washing can destroy! Launder your improved seam-free nylons in a solution of mild soap and lukewarm water. Rinse in clear water of the same temperature. To dry, place them on a towel, never over direct heat.

A little extra care lavished on your improved no-seam nylons will bring forth while results—not only in service and long wear, but in sheer beauty as well.

Soldier Shot After Quarrel Over Girl

BAD NAUHEIM, Germany—(AP)—The army confirmed today that a negro soldier who is a prosecution witness in the Lichfield trials was shot May 17 by a second witness in a quarrel over German girls.

The army said Pvt. Joseph Malory, Rt. 1, Eendleton, Va., wounded Pvt. Albert J. Rose, 25, Dallas, Tex. The army said the shooting took place at Rose's quarters after an evening of drinking.

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN
Well, I see a Chicago firm has started a service so businessmen won't even have to go to their offices any more. They can just lie in bed, call this firm, and dictate their letters over the telephone.

The firm has the letters typed and when it's time to sign them they send someone to wake up the businessman.

Goodness, I don't see why a businessman has to call up another firm to handle all his correspondence for him. I should think he'd lie in bed and call the OPA direct.

Anyway, with the transportation troubles and all our other current difficulties, maybe it would be just as well if science found a way for all of us to spend all our time in bed. Not using our feet and legs would solve the nylon problem anyhow.

Flying Farmers 'Coming of Age'

TOPEKA, Kan.—Private flying is rapidly "coming of age" on farms and in rural communities of the Middle West, according to Ray Yarnell, editor of transportation, but as a machine that has many uses in agricultural production," he writes in the June issue of the farm magazine.

"During recent months farmers who own planes or who have pilot's licenses and are waiting for delivery of new planes, have been forming associations in many states. A surprising number of farmers show up at these organization meetings. Many of them fly in. All of them are enthusiastic about aviation."

Mr. Yarnell points out that one result of the rapid extension of private flying and the quality and safety built into small planes, has been the liberalization in issuing policies on the lives of private aviation enthusiasts by life insurance companies.

"The Institute of Life Insurance reports that owner operators of planes now can obtain policies with about three-fourths of the companies writing insurance, at an extra premium of about $5 per $1,000 of insurance," he writes. "Six years ago only 42 percent of the companies would insure such persons and the extra premium was about $12 per $1,000."

"The institute also reports that more than 60 percent of the companies surveyed will issue policies of individuals contemplating travel as passengers in private planes at standard rates, when the applicant does not plan more than normal pleasure flying, usually considered as from 5,000 to 7,500 miles a year. In 1940 only a third of the companies wrote policies at standard rates, when the applicant does not plan more than normal pleasure flying, usually considered as from 5,000 to 7,500 miles a year. In 1940 only a third of the companies wrote policies at standard rates, when the applicant does not plan more than normal pleasure flying, usually considered as from 5,000 to 7,500 miles a year. In 1940 only a third of the companies wrote policies at standard rates and the limit then was 2,000 miles."

At Seattle—Miscellaneous on following: USS Caelum from Guam, 79 navy; USS Beaver from Yokosuka, 79 navy; Henry Failing from Alaska, 208 army.

Oran J. Payne Buys Interest in Laundry

Oran J. Payne, who spent more than three years with the marines, part time in the South Pacific, has purchased an interest in Your Laundry, which was recently bought by Steve Matthews, also an ex-service-man.

Payne, who has a wife and five-year-old son, is a former city engineer and water superintendent here. Payne will be in charge of the plant, and Matthews will be office and business manager, it was stated.

The owners said they plan to increase production and to improve further the quality of their work.

Defense of Richland Farmer Begins Today

BALLINGER—(AP)—Defense of Carl Sofge, Richland Springs stock farmer charged with murder in connection with the slaying of his brother, Clem, 43, in Eldorado last Oct. 22 was scheduled to begin today.

The state rested last night. Jack Ratliff, insurance salesman and mail carrier at Eldorado, who quoted Carl as telling him in a conversation three years ago that "Clem threatened to kill me."

Mrs. Sally Sofge, mother of Clem and Carl, also testified for the state, saying she had asked Carl to sign papers needed in clearing the title so her husband's $50,000 estate could be sold but that he refused, saying "another I am doing it to protect you." Mrs. Sofge said she replied "that is not the reason."

"Yes, he liberated me in Paris, and I'm here because he told me this was a night club with two bands!"

The Texas State Teachers association has just completed a survey among city and county school superintendents to determine the condition of the teacher personnel in Texas. Replies were received from 945 superintendents representing 36,067 teaching positions or about 80 per cent of the total in September. 3,533 teachers have resigned their positions which represents about 10 per cent of the total. Of the teachers included in the survey, 5,546 were listed with sub-standard qualifications which represents approximately 15 per cent of the total.

Local districts are exerting every effort possible to keep teachers in the classrooms but many superintendents report that it appears impossible to fill all of their positions this coming year because of the low salaries paid and the number of resignations which are anticipated at the close of the current school year. Practically all of the cities in Texas report resignations averaging 13 per cent. Many local school districts are voting to increase their tax rate or will increase property valuations in order to secure more revenue for teachers' salaries. 110 independent school districts have voted a tax increase above the rates they levied a year ago and 143 report that they plan to hold elections for tax rate increases soon. 40 counties or more common school districts have increased their tax rates and 10 counties report that they plan to hold elections for this purpose soon.

It is estimated that 8,500 Texas teachers entered the armed forces and industry from September, 1941 through 1945. However, only 1,277 have returned to teaching.

In looking over the results of the survey, Elizabeth Koch of San Antonio, president of the Texas State Teachers association, said: "If we are to keep a staff of well trained teachers in the public schools of Texas, we must materially increase salaries. There is no other solution to the problem. The continued exodus of our teachers from the classrooms presents an alarming condition. We must give our attention to this problem immediately with the hope that local communities and the next session of the legislature will provide greatly increased support for the public schools."

Home Accidents May Be Prevented

Home may be a castle, but it is also the most dangerous spot in the daily lives of most Gray county residents. H. M. Cone, first aid and accident prevention chairman of the Pampa Red Cross chapter pointed out today. Urging housewives to "accident-proof" their homes while spring cleaning them, the chairman quoted National Safety council statistics to show that 33 1/3 per cent of fatal accidents occur in homes.

"Trailing lightcords, overwaxed floors, dark stairways and high ladderless storage spaces are potential ingredients of tragedy," the chairman said. "Now that spring housecleaning time has arrived, it's a natural task for the housewife, poking into corners that remain dark most of the year, to ferret out these trouble spots and improve them."

Housecleaning itself involves special hazards that the homemaker should take care to avoid, Cone said. High spots should be reached by a step ladder, or a chair or table well balanced and strong enough to bear considerable weight. Elderly members of the family and children should not undertake jobs that involve reaching or lifting cumbersome objects, the accident prevention spokesman said. If possible, nonflammable, nonpoisonous and nonexplosive cleaning fluids should be used. Rags or cotton waste used to apply wax, oil, or cleaning mixtures should be promptly destroyed to avoid fire hazards, the chairman warned. Poisonous cleaners should be labeled and kept far out of reach of children.

Paralysis Foundation Appropriates $278,400 for Training Personnel

NEW YORK—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has appropriated $278,400 from March of Dimes funds for the training of much-needed public health personnel, it was announced today by Dr. Thomas Parran, surgeon-general of the U. S. Public Health Service and Foundation President Basil O'Connor.

Funds given for the training were divided into two grants: of $228,400 and $50,000 to supplement previously allotted to the U. S. public health service. The two grants bring to $1,071,962.34 the nationwide total given by the foundation for research and education in the field of poliomyelitis since its founding by the late Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1938.

Dr. Parran said the $228,400 grant would be available over a two-year period to provide fellowships for physicians and sanitary engineers, adding:

"There are 1,200 vacancies for physicians and engineers in state and local health departments over the country. Most of the people to fill these positions will not have had and will need public health training. This period of demobilization is the opportune time to recruit personnel."

"Fellowships are needed to supplement the GI Bill of Rights allowances and to attract men who are not eligible under federal grants-in-aid to states. We believe that the conduct of successful programs of control and alleviation of poliomyelitis will be aided materially by the presence in health departments of well-trained health officers and sanitary engineers."

Funds for the fellowships will be disbursed by the National Foundation directly to the fellows on recommendation of the surgeon-general.

Applicants for the awards must be under 45 years of age.

The $50,000 grant will be expended under direction of Dr. Parran for training of health educators at a cost not to exceed $2,000 each. Dr. Parran said the grant would help meet an urgent need for trained workers and would place health education training on a firm basis of public health.

He added that the fellowships would stimulate recruiting of promising men in a field "where they are badly needed" and would provide an opportunity for veterans to complete for fellowship awards from which they were excluded during the war.

WT Summer Term Opening June 4

CANYON—West Texas State's summer session opening June 4 will be limited to a single term of ten weeks and will feature one-hour classes and a five-day week.

The current long session will close May 30.

The percentage of World War II veterans likely will continue to rise, and for the summer session will be merely a continuation of their work. Summer students will be permitted to earn credit amounting to twelve semester hours.

Two large fields of graduate study will be open to summer students. One of these leads to careers in education; the other to careers in business and industry. Degrees offered are the Master of Arts and the Master of Business Administration.

Undergraduate work will include terminal courses for those wishing to take employment as soon as possible, pre-professional work and courses leading to the B. A., B. S., and B. B. A. degrees. Many courses of particular interest to veterans will be available. Guidance will be stressed at all levels.

Workshop courses will be stressed in the coming summer term. Supervised teaching will be available in the demonstration school and West Texas high school.

Recreation and supervised play will be stressed in the summer activity program. Also scheduled are lyceum numbers, lectures, picnics, forums, educational movies, dances, swimming, reception, and book reviews.

Ammunition Output May Be Cut in Half

NEW YORK—Output of civilian ammunition is scheduled to be cut 50 percent as a result of the lead shortage, Business Week reports, but industry protests have killed off OPA's original plan to reserve the limited output for farmers, ranchers and police.

Lead allocations, (7,500 tons in the first quarter) will simply be cut out in half, according to the publication, and it'll be up to the producers to distribute the shells.

Modesty Good in Its Place but Can Be Overdone

Modesty is all very well in its place but it can be overdone. At least, that's the contention of Dr. Louis E. Bish, New York psychiatrist, who in an article in Your Life Magazine, urges the reader not to hide his genius under a bushel.

"Don't tell me there's nothing winning or attractive about you, or that you possess no fine qualities," Dr. Bish writes. "You know better. But you must not wait for someone to use a blowtorch to blast them out."

If you possess an exceptional voice, how can you expect it to be recognized unless people hear you sing? If you believe you can write and want to become a professional, do you suppose you ever will fulfill your ambition unless you actually produce manuscripts and submit them to editors? If you have taken lessons and know you can dance, by all means prove what you can do in public. It doesn't help you any to be a good conversationalist if you won't talk. It is foolish to learn card tricks if you don't show them off. "Whatever your assets may be—talents, good looks, personality, ability to wear clothes effectively, an alluring figure, lovely eyes, skin or hair, gaily optimism, quick-wittedness—what you need is an audience. Don't blame anyone but yourself if your good points are not recognized. Don't expect people to come to you to find out what you have to offer; you must go to them."

"It pays dividends to advertise what you really are in the same way that it pays a business firm to advertise its products and emphasize their merits.

Take stock of yourself, therefore, and make an honest appraisal of your true worth. Then ask yourself if the world at large is giving you what you think you deserve. If not, figure out what the best possible way is, in your particular case, of letting the world know what you have to offer. The real success—automatically takes care of itself."

The British are skilled in world affairs—if they would only stop worrying about their empire. It is my opinion they could better raise standards of living on their own little island by working with other peoples—Commerce Secretary Henry A. Wallace.

Time Short For Entries In Speedway

INDIANAPOLIS—Time was running short today for filling the lineup for the 30th running of the Indianapolis motor speedway's 500-mile race May 30, but the weather was improving and mechanics gradually were getting the bugs out of cars that had been idle five years.

Only 14 cars have qualified for the grind in four days of qualifications and trials will be run only Saturday, Sunday and Tuesday for the 19 other positions.

Five drivers made the grade yesterday in a spurt of activity brought on by the first full day of sunshine since the trials began last weekend. Mauri Rose of South Bend, Ind., co-winner with Floyd Davis of the 1941 race, grabbed the inside position in the fourth row by a twilight run at 124.065 miles an hour.

36 Leading Bowling Teams Will Compete

CHICAGO—Thirty-six of the country's leading doubles bowling teams will compete in the national championship tournament beginning tomorrow.

Paul Krumsiek and Joe Sinker of Chicago, national doubles champion, and Wally Reppenhagen and Bill Kenet of Detroit and Buddy Bomar and Bill Flesch of Chicago, both former titleholders, have been seeded into the final round Sunday.

Plans Made for New Sanitation Program

AUSTIN—Plans for a cooperative program of sanitation along the Texas-Mexican border were being discussed at a series of conferences here between health officials of Mexico and Texas.

The conference with Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, also concerned the possible effect of the polio outbreak on travel and a steady means of preventing polio.

Dr. Cox said that the relations between the Mexican and Texas public health workers was excellent and their work would benefit both countries.

Pampa Still in First Place As Abilene Falls to Clovis

Pans leaving Oiler park last night were heard to remark, "there goes our first place lead," but they were due for the surprise of their lives today as the news came in that the Abilene Blue Sox and the Amarillo Gold Sox were each one-half a game behind the Oilers.

Abilene, which pulled up to within a half-game of the Oilers before yesterday, had only to beat the cellar-dwelling Clovis Pioneers last night to go into first, but Clovis won 15-14.

The Oilers, meanwhile, lost to the Amarillo Gold Sox in a wild 15-10 contest here last night. It was a game that saw a total of 28 hits and took 3 hours and 20 minutes to play.

The two teams will meet again tonight at 8:15 in—to use a well-worn expression, "for the victory."

Cards Offer Three Stars for Purchase

NEW YORK—(AP)—Outfielder Danny Littler and Pitchers Charley (Red) Barrett and Fred Schmidt of the St. Louis Cardinals are reported on the block, ready for any National league club, with the right kind of a cash offer.

Although the Red Birds officially have no comment to make on further trading reports it has been learned that any one of the three and possibly all of them can be had before the June 15 cutdown date.

Ohio tops the nation with 27 of Corp. affiliates, followed by New York with 19 and California with 14.

Missions Down Rebs
With Late Comeback;
Fort Worth Wins 2-0

By The Associated Press
The San Antonio Missions, breaking loose in the ninth, defeated the Dallas Rebels, 2-1, last night to drop the league-leading Fort Worth Cats, who pushed over a 2-0 victory against the Houston Buffs. Only two games were scheduled.

ins at the end of the first inning as the Fort Worth pitcher and allowed only four hits. Jay Haney and Jake Phillips batted in Fort Worth's two runs off George Sumei.
Dallas was leading going into the ninth, but Missions pitcher John Marcum drilled a single to drive in Rube Naranjo and Harry Hatch came through with another single that scored Dominique Casaro.
The Underwriters Laboratories have tested the safety characteristics of more than 200,000 devices since the organization was set up in 1893.

Lefties Lanier, Pollett May Be 20-Game Winners in '46

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Barring unforeseen developments, the St. Louis Cardinals, knee-deep in southpaw strength on the mound, may turn up with a pair of 20-game winners this year, each pitching from the left side. Only once since the turn of the century has a National League club boasted two left-handed 20-game winners in one season.

In Max Lanier (6-0) and Howie Pollett (4-2) the Cards have two of the most accomplished pitchers in the league. Having already won more than half the team's total between them, the pair stand a good chance to emulate lefties Carl Hubbell and Cliff Melton, each of whom gained 20 or more triumphs for the New York Giants in 1937.
Pollett's fourth victory last night, a 7-1 win over his pet "cousins," the New York Giants, came at a most opportune time. Since it enabled the Cards to regain their first place National League headlock with the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Brooks had moved a half game ahead by shading the Chicago Cubs 2-1 in 13 innings earlier in the day.

The lean left-hander from New Orleans, who had beaten the Giants eight times in nine previous starts before he went off to war in 1943, narrowly missed getting his second straight shutout before a paid attendance of 45,755 at the polo grounds. The lone Giant's run came in the seventh inning on a home run by Bib Jawn Mize, his eighth of the campaign. A three-run homer by Enos Slaughter followed immediately by another round tripper by White Kuroski, sewed up Pollett's victory in the first frame.

Dixie Walker, Brooklyn's idol, gave his worshippers plenty to cheer about when he belted a long double off the right field wall to score Dick Whitman in the 13th inning and give the Dodgers a 2-1 edge over the Cubs. The blow broke up a tight pitching duel between Chicago's Johnny Schmitz and Brooklyn's Joe Hatten and Kirby Higbe. Hatten worked the first 12 innings and gave up only four hits.
Boston's American league leading Red Sox retained their six game margin over the New York Yankees by winning a 12-inning game from the Cleveland Indians 7-1. A home run by Ted Williams with one in the 12th broke a 4-4 deadlock. Johnny Lazor, starting at right field in place of Dom Dimaggio, who was benched with a pulled leg muscle, sent the game into extra innings with a ninth inning home run.
The Yankees overcame a 3-0 deficit as a result of Hank Greenberg's first inning home run, to defeat the Detroit Tigers 5-3 and hand Fred Hutchinson his first loss. A triple play, with everybody in the Yankee infield taking part, helped the New Yorkers out of a big hole in the eighth.
In third place for a few hours as a result of Detroit's loss, the Washington Senators fell back to fourth when they dropped a night tussle to the St. Louis Browns 3-1.
Johnny Sain pitched the Boston Braves into a virtual third place tie with the Cubs by trouncing the Cincinnati Reds 5-1 for his fifth triumph.

A double by First Baseman Murrell Jones in the ninth scored Don Kollaway with the run that gave the Chicago White Sox a 5-4 verdict over the Philadelphia Athletics.
With Schoolboy Rowe starring both at bat and on the mound, the Philadelphia Phils upset Pittsburgh, 6-2 for the Quakers' second straight.
Rowe drove in two runs with a pair of doubles and scored twice himself.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
NEW YORK—(P)—While the Yankees were raising all that fuss about the "snatching" of their players by the Mexican league, did anyone think that it was incongruous in view of the way the Yankees (football branch) have grabbed off National League players? . . . Lawson Little, 1940 national open champion and a golf pro since 1946, is joining the Professional Golfers' association this year. . . . The Red Sox are complaining that their hitting slump is due to lack of batting practice. They had so many men in camp this spring that no one got much time at the plate.

WHO CAUGHT?
When the Seton Hall college baseball team played Cornell recently the leadoff man for Seton Hall was Centerfielder John Connelly, who had spent ten months in a German prison camp. . . . He walked on first base for Cornell he found Arnold Kelly, who had been in the same POW camp. . . . Connelly promptly stole second and the guy who tried to tag him was Shortstop Bob Gleason, who had been his lieutenant during training at Atlantic City.

SPORTS BEFORE YOUR EYES
If you've wondered about the Notre Dame football prospects, the word is out that the Irish aren't especially interested in Big George Connor's reported switch from Holy Cross because they're plentifully supplied with good tackles. . . . George Nicholson, who has survived more rounds in the ring with Joe Louis than any other boxer, has been promoted to Joe's assistant trainer and probably gets a lot of pleasure out of picking the champ's sparring partners.

Army Air Forces To Train Reserve Pilots

WASHINGTON—(P)—Wartime airmen from the University of Texas were told yesterday that the army air forces would start training reserve pilots and ground crews in July at 40 bases.

General Carl Spaatz, AAF commander, said training would be started progressively at 90 more bases before mid-1947.
Each reservist will be given 15 days annual active duty in addition to periods of training throughout the year, he said. AAF plans call for ground and flight training for 50,000 reserve officers and 120,000 enlisted reservists.
The University of Texas students made the trip to seek information on the reserve plans.

Los Angeles Will Fight To Retain Angelo Bertelli

BOSTON—(P)—Angelo Bertelli, for whose great quarterbacking Frank Leahy dropped the Notre Dame box formation for the "T," has signed a "special" four year contract with owner Ted Collins of the Boston Yanks of the National Football league, and the Los Angeles Dons of the All America conference say they'll go to court to keep Bertelli's services.
Terms of the agreement, signed after inspection by Bertelli's attorney at Collins' suggestion, were not revealed but a source close to Collins explains that "it's a different kind of contract, a personal affair between Collins and Bertelli—one that will stand up in court."

Lumberman Says Black Market Operates Here

"The public is finally becoming aware of the fact that OPA created black market lumber in green lumber, and it isn't worth using in home building," stated Gene Ebersole, executive vice-president of the Lumberman's Association of Texas this week.

Recently returned to Houston from a swing through north and west Texas, Ebersole talked to retail lumber dealers from Pampa, Abilene, Amarillo, San Angelo, Dallas and Fort Worth. He declares that it's the opinion of these men that real estate transfers have dropped off during the past thirty days because people are finally coming to see that homes built with green lumber are not worth the price now being asked.

"One lumber dealer told about some acquaintances of his," Ebersole said, "they bought lumber to build their home from a trucker who had gotten it green off the saw from a small mill, and they paid prices high above legal ceilings. Shortly after this house was completed, the doors started to stick, the window frames warped badly, shelves curled up, and the entire house sagged out of line. Those people realized they weren't so smart after all to patronize the black market. They had a house, all right, but what kind of a house? They are now trying to unload it on some one else."

FASCISM AND BIG BUSINESS

Perhaps a tip-off on Juan D. Peron's course as president of Argentina can be found in the nationalization of that country's banking system—decreed by President Farrell, but obviously dictated by the president-elect.

This nationalization move can give Peron a powerful hold on credits and personal deposits, and thus put in the new president's hands control of the nation's business, and, very largely, its whole economy.

It will be recalled that Mussolini and Hitler achieved that result by similar methods. Yet many people continue to speak of "fascism" and "big business" as if they were synonymous. If these people have forgotten what happened to "big business" in Italy and Germany, perhaps the most certain fate of Argentine business will refresh their memories and point up the inaccuracy of their conclusions.

Common Ground

Beliefs in Origin of Private Property Most Important

There are few things that are more important than one's belief as to whether private property is a natural, God given right or whether it is an artificial right created by the state. It was brought to mind by a reader of Common Ground who wrote:

"Private ownership of property is not a God-given right but is provided us by wise human law."

Since many people undoubtedly believe as this reader believes, I shall try to show that this concept of the origin of ownership of property is wrong.

Even the birds are owners of their nests. They will fight to defend their nests. Primitive man, before there was a government, knew that he owned the fruits of his labor; he knew that if he picked berries or caught game, that food belonged to him. It was intuitive in his nature to believe in ownership. The ownership of what one produces is necessary in order to sustain life. Government is only a man-made institution and its primary purpose is not to give people rights to life or property but to defend these God-given rights.

Of course, if government gives people the right to own property, the government can take it away. Then there would be no such thing as private ownership of property. That is just what the communists and socialists teach and want people to believe. The author of this definition of private property can not tell any difference between this belief and that of Stalin other than in degree.

To declare that the government provides this right to own property by wise laws is to put man above God. It is to deny that there are any eternal principles or any natural laws. It is to deny the Declaration of Independence; that all men are created with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; that government is instituted, whether there be or not, to secure these rights deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. People have a God given right to overthrow or abolish a government that does not defend this God given right to own property.

Of course, man's concept of the right of ownership has changed with the ages, but the right of ownership has not changed. It has been created by government. It is eternal.

What does the reader mean by "wise human law"? The only possible definition of wise laws are those that are in harmony with eternal principles, the natural law, with God-given law.

The fact that each man is by nature or God's laws owner of himself and all he produces, is substantiated by all the moral teachers of the ages.

Moses recognized this right to own property when he said, "Thou shalt not covet" and "Thou shalt not steal." Jesus recognized it when He said, "Who made me a divider over you?" and "It is not lawful for thee to take from the poor, as I will." By law He meant natural law or divine law. He also said, "To him that hath shall be given, and to him that hath not shall be taken away even that which he hath," and "Whosoever shall give to the poor, he shall receive a hundred fold more, and his reward shall not fail." He also said, "I will give unto him that will, and he will give him as much as he will." He also said, "I will give unto him that will, and he will give him as much as he will." He also said, "I will give unto him that will, and he will give him as much as he will."

Property is the result of labor. It is a part of the man who produces it. Man has ownership of what he produces whether there be a government or not. Government should be only the instrumentality to secure to each man his person and his property—the things that he produces.

Of course, when one defines property as being a gift from the state, there can be no such thing as collective robbery. Then might makes right. Then the end justifies the means. Then the state can do no wrong. Then there is

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON BY RAY TUCKER

ISOLATION—The almost childlike trust which foreign nations, large and small, were led to place in the United States as a rock of post-war world recovery and rehabilitation has begun to vanish in London, Paris, Chungking and elsewhere.

The great fear of official and unofficial visitors to Washington from abroad is that the United States, sooner or later, will make an economic exit from the world stage, as this country did a political walkout when it refused to join the league of nations after World War I.

Surprisingly stubborn opposition to approval of the British loan on Capitol Hill has shocked the British, who had relied on Franklin D. Roosevelt's promises even more fully than they had on Woodrow Wilson's.

Even if the house eventually okays the deal at the present session, the delay may prevent its beneficial operation until too late to aid England.

If so, she will make other financial and commercial arrangements that may shut out the U. S. from its proportionate share of world trade. So will Moscow, Paris and many small nations which begin to suspect that Uncle Sam suffers—again—from a severe attack of intense isolationism.

SACRIFICE—Resentment against the political strings which Washington attaches to its promises of prospective assistance also accounts for a large part of the disillusionment reported to the state department by our diplomatic scouts.

Foreign applicants suspect that the U. S. has become an "Indian giver," and they are looking down the throat of the American gift horse.

A large section of the English public, as well as the Churchill opposition, blames us for the Attlee government's partial "liquidation" of the empire, including military withdrawal from Egypt, in offer of a great measure of independence to India and the possible surrender to us of British holdings in the South Pacific.

Whoever was responsible for the decision to include social dancing and personality training seems to have been lacking in discretion. To be sure, dancing schools and personality courses do not necessarily fall in the categories of "rackets." But it is hard to see by what standards they qualify as legitimate veterans' training activities—unless to equip gigolos or banana oil salesmen.

Text thing we know something of, the operator will have slipped in a pool-room course on how to be a career billiard player.

no law superior to the state. Then any form of taxation, whether it be discriminatory or not, is right.

Would this reader contend that the state has a right to take from any man as much as it gives to another man? The answer probably would be that this would not be a wise government or wise human law. Of course, it would not be. But what is wise human law other than that which is in harmony with God's law? Divine Providence certainly sanctions voluntary agreements rather than one man using force or a group of men calling themselves a state or a government using force, to take from some individuals the fruits of their labor without their consent to give to another in the form of a book or a teacher's attention.

But if this reader's definition of the right of owning property be rational, then the whole scheme of society, the whole plan of creation, is based on human wisdom rather than on Divine wisdom. Then there are no eternal principles that man need obey. He can write his own definition of wisdom. Then wisdom is whatever the bare majority decides is wise.

But all history and reason is evidence that there is a law superior to the will of the majority. To the degree that men follow God's laws, instead of man-made laws, to that degree do they develop spiritually, intellectually and materially. To that degree do they have wise man made laws.

Our troubles are largely because people have exalted themselves into the belief that men, through the state, give individuals the right to own property. "He that exalteth himself shall be abased." "Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth." Men are certainly not meek when they say that the state provided the right to own property. The state can only defend the individual's God-given right to own property.

MACKENZIE'S Column

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The thing which impresses me most about the latest developments in the Russo-Iranian imbroglio before the security council of the United Nations is that Iranian Ambassador Hussein Ala is either a very brave and wise man or he is mightily misguided in his handling of this explosive case.

The council yesterday voted to continue on its agenda indefinitely the question (1) whether Moscow has withdrawn its troops from Azerbaijan province in northwest Iran as promised, and (2) whether Russia is interfering with the internal affairs of the Tehran government.

The vote was unanimous, excepting the Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko again boycotted the session.

The events which immediately preceded this vote are highly interesting, and perhaps also highly significant. Ambassador Hussein Ala appeared before the council and expressed doubt that all Soviet troops had left Iran. He also said that he hadn't been instructed by his government to withdraw the other charge—that Moscow had interfered in Iranian affairs—and he thought it should stay on the agenda.

Now just a few hours before he made this statement, Hussein Ala had notified the council that he had received a telegram from Iranian Premier Qavam, at Tehran, saying a commission had failed to find any trace of Soviet troops on Persian soil. The premier asked that the question of withdrawal of red troops be dropped by the council. At the same time, Prince Firuz, Iranian propaganda minister, let loose a blast at Hussein Ala, declaring that all Russian troops were out of Iran, and that the ambassador spoke for himself and not for the government.

Well, now what's the significance of all this. Is Hussein Ala right or is he wrong? It is so contrary to practice that when an ambassador goes outside the instructions issued by his government on such a highly important matter, it's time to sit up and take notice. But then the query immediately arises, of course, whether he actually is exceeding his instructions.

The very alert Hussein Ala might be serving his country very usefully if, for example, there were differences of opinion among the members of the government in Tehran regarding the Russian question, and some official high in power had advised the ambassador to go outside the instructions.

However, that's all speculative. What is clear is that the security council apparently has no intention of dropping this case until it is ironed out.

THE PROPOSAL XXXIV

THE CCC had made stone fireplaces on a low bluff above Flax Pond in the State Park, and it was beside one of them, in the pine woods, that Shirley had her picnic.

The whole crowd was there, the Mattoons and the Samuels and the Curriers and Ken and Debby. They had the pond all to themselves; there was nobody else in sight anywhere. Ken and Debby went down the path to the beach, to feel of the water, and it felt warm enough for swimming, even if it was October, so she and Ken drove all the way back into town and got bathing suits for everybody.

The water wasn't warm, of course. It was darned cold, but it felt good, anyway, and afterwards they ran on the beach and did standing and running broad jumps, and Debby was glad she had come. The sun was just tipping the trees on the other side of the lake, and the air was getting cool rapidly, but Gordy had got a good fire going in the fireplace before they went in, and they had all brought sweaters and coats, and they had a round of cocktails right away. Gordy started to broil the steaks as soon as everybody was dressed, and there was a big pot of coffee coming to a boil on the back of the grill.

As it got dark the moon came shining through the trees behind them, a bright moon that was only a couple of nights from the full. Debby took her sandwich back away from the fire and lay down on a blanket on the pine needles, with her coat wrapped warmly around her, and she lay there on her side, propping her head up with her hand, so that she could watch the freight flickering on the faces of the other country faced an internal threat as serious as the leftist movement, spearheaded currently by the campaign of Sidney Hillman's Political Action committee to dominate this government. The threat is pointed up by the PAC invasion of the Old South, where Hillman's propaganda boys and ruthless henchmen have gone to spend and spend, elect and elect. Through the medium of organizing southern workers into the CIO, they hope to get the scalps of congressmen who haven't knuckled under to the CIO-PAC.

This drive is part of the world movement of forces versus freedom, which has pulled down the iron curtain across much of Europe and Asia. It has grown strong enough in America that the PAC needs only to win a few house seats to hold a balance of power on many a piece of so-called legislation.

The PAC has beat just one of four Southern members of the house rules committee, that group will no longer be able to resist efforts of the reds to flood the house with socialization schemes.

That the slugging will be below the belt, only the naive could doubt. When William Green went on the radio recently to laud the AF of L drive to compete with the CIO in organizing the South, somebody cut the wires Dixie didn't hear a word he said.

Hillman's friends don't waste their time debating the virtue of issues; they make emotional plays, at which they are super-colossal, having learned from Moscow and New York and Hollywood. The usual technique is to "smear your man." Spread lies, circulate ugly caricatures of him, call him a fascist. Championing racial animosity, they will stir up the most venomous racial hatred.

This is not a regional fight; it is every American's business. It is a fight to control the government—and a controlled government is the opposite of a representative government. Communist leaders for years have had standing instructions to work for regimentation by any means whatever. "Once the government becomes controlled bureaucracy we will find ways to take it over," they say.

What difference does it make whether Hillman himself is or is not a member of the communist party, if he spearheads the red movement?

Here's what the chief investigator for the joint fact-finding committee on un-American activities of the California legislature had to say about Hillman and the communists in its second report—a "copy of which should be in every home in the United States: 'Few persons who are at all informed on the subjects are so naive as to believe that the conception of a Political Action committee originated with the CIO. They are well aware, on the contrary, that it was originated for the CIO by the communist party of America.'"

As pointed out by the same authority, at least eighteen members of the CIO board of forty-nine, who created the PAC, "have records of collaborating with the communist program in the United States, and this minority actually controls the board." Among them are: Ben Gold, Harry Bridges and Joseph Curran, but the report names all eighteen.

Sidney Hillman, a Lithuanian, worked in the underground Bolshevik revolution in his native country, then a part of Russia, before coming to America in 1907. He went back to Russia in 1922 to visit with Comrade Lenin. Sub-

Merchant Seamen Should Keep Jobs

Merchant seamen 18 and 19 years old were urged to stay at their jobs aboard ship until they have obtained releases despite exemption from induction under yesterday's legislation extending the life of selective service. Capt. Granville Conway, acting war shipping administrator, said today.

A merchant seaman must serve thirty-two months under present regulations to obtain a "certificate of substantially continuous service." Without this a teen age youth leaving his job in the merchant marine would become eligible for induction when he reaches 20 it was explained.

Captain Conway appealed to the men to stay on the ships regardless of temporary changes in selective service law only to protect their personal service records, but because there is still a big job ahead for the merchant marine.

"We must continue to supply our occupation troops and keep the flow of essential supplies to food, clothing, and providing human needs to millions of starving and homeless people throughout the world," Captain Conway said.

Although fathers as well as teen agers will not be inducted under present regulations, the law remains unaffected which prohibits teen reemployment rights for merchant seamen successfully completing their period of service. Failure to complete service will also prevent a seaman receiving the discharge emblem authorized by the President and would prohibit him from receiving other benefits which may accrue under the pending merchant seamen's war service bill.

Spring Flight

By WILLIAM MAIER

THE moon was getting around to the south so that they could see its reflection in a little cove beyond a rocky point, when Ken said, "Let's go out in the canoe."

The water was calm, with faint intermittent ripples. "Shall I paddle bow?" Debby asked.

"Lord, no," said Ken. "We're not going to race anybody." He was arranging a back-rest against the forward thwart, and he put a couple of cushions against the back-rest. "There," he said. "Sit there and I'll be able to see your face."

"That ought to be a treat," she said dryly. She got in and reclined in the bottom, leaning back against the cushions and dangling her fingers in the water.

Ken pushed off and paddled along the shore toward the rocky point and the little cove. "It is," he said.

"What?"

"A treat to see your face." She smiled mirthlessly and nodded, as if to say she understood the joke.

"You don't believe me, do you?" She chuckled, closing her eyes listlessly.

"Would you believe me if I told you you had one of the swell faces I ever saw?"

"No," she said without opening her eyes.

"Would you believe me if I told you you were just about the sweetest, dearestest kid I ever met?"

"No."

"Would you believe me if I told you I was nuts about you?"

"No."

"Well, I am."

"Debby said nothing."

"Why don't you believe me?"

"Because I think you've got some ideas in your head."

"Ideas?"

"Yeah. About what we might do before the night's over. And when a man has ideas in his head, he doesn't care what he says to a girl."

"Ken shook his head, smiling sadly. 'Look,' he said, 'you and I have spent a lot of evenings together in the last year. We've driven a lot of places alone together in my car. Did I ever try to hold your hand until tonight?'"

"No."

"Did I ever show any other signs of having ideas?"

"Nope."

"Will you marry me?" he asked abruptly.

"When?"

"Tomorrow."

"She shook her head. 'You can't do this state. You have to file intentions and then wait—three days or five days.'"

"Well, five days from now, then. She turned her head sideways wearily, letting her cheek fall against the cushion. She looked out at the quiet pond and the moonlit shore opposite, with the flickering light from the picnic fire in the trees. Finally she looked back at Ken with a mature, disillusioned smile. "I'll tell you," she said. "You wait until sometime when there isn't any moon, or any canoe, and when you haven't had any cocktails. Then you come around and ask me again, best?"

He looked intensely into her eyes for a long time. Finally he smiled. "All right," he said. "I will."
